The following letter was received by Chief of Police Joseph Denton, from the Northville High School Athletic Board, Harry B. Smith, Director, on behalf of the departments vigilance in keeping order during the night football games played at Ford Field.

"Our coaches, teachers and students want to express appreciation for the fine help given by you and your auxiliary police at our night football games. With spectators kept in proper places, the games were made more enjoyable for everyone."

May Offer Adult Driver Training

The Northville High School is making plans to offer a course in driver-training to adults in the community, providing there are enough individuals interested to make the class practical. Mr. Russell, the driving training instructor, announces that courses can be arranged for beginners and for those who might wish special training.

The course will consist of the study in textbooks, special tests and actual behind-the-wheel driving on the special course. Anyone interested in such a course is invited to meet at the High school Tuesday, Dec. 1st, at 7:30 p.m. in basement room 2-B for registration and discussion.

Birthday Sale at Neil's Hardware

This week Neil Hornsford of Neil's Northville Hardware is announcing a 14th Birthday Special Fall Festival of Sales and Services. A number of local manufacturers, located throughout various towns in town, will witness displays of completed projects. At the Grade school, two, Village Hall, and the Jenny Lind Shop, hosts and instructors were on hand to greet the visitors and offer information or answer questions regarding the work in each setup. Acting in their former capacity were Mabeline Gooch, Robert Colman, L. C. Stevall and Ward Masters. Guiding the visitors were Ward Masters and Wilson Funk. Transportation to each point was furnished through the courtesy of the Jones Floral Co., with Phyllis Jones as driver of that firm's station delivery wagon, the Northville Coach Line with Tunc P. Biddle, owner, at the wheel of one of his new buses and Bob Coolman in his own car.

Beginning at the Grade school gym, visitors were given a demonstration of regular class work. Workers attired in business-like coveralls, were busy refinishing articles of furniture, each project being viewed in various stages of progress, the taking-off of old finishes, making of repairs sanding, shellacking, etc.

C. F. Menese is the instructor of this division which numbers nineteen. Six regular class members worked on shop projects, also under the supervision of Mr. Menese.

The Jenny Lind Shop on Plymouth Ave., was the next port of call. Here Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Winkler, owners, instruct pupils in the complete process of upholstering of small articles of furniture such as ottomans, chairs, etc. Registration for this department shows twenty-one persons. The tying up and covering of springs, placing of webbing, stuffing and stretching materials for outside covers are only a few of the steps involved and workers may do one, a few or all of these repairs.

Hat designing and charcoal sketching at the Village Hall also attracted the touring party. Mrs. E. V. Ellison, teacher of the first mentioned, heads a group of nine regulars who are learning to rip, steam press and reshape felt hats, trim and finish old or new purchased hat shapes or frames which they themselves cover. All the hats on display that evening were remade from old, though an onlooker would never have been aware of the fact, from their fine, up-to-date appearance. Average attendance for the classes in charcoal sketching taught by Mrs. Don Sober, numbers seventeen. Monday evening pupils were busily engaged in sketching Dolly Petrie in the white and gold uniform of a drum major of the Northville P.T.A.

This is the largest known number to turn out for a P.T.A. event, according to authorities. Both grade and junior and senior high pupils were represented by visiting adults.

During the regular meeting of the association, held later that evening, an educational film was shown as a demonstration of visual aid in education.

Attendance contest results were so close that awards were made to both the second and fourth grade rooms. Miss Nelson's grade received the P.T.A. "Pat" with 100% attendance, thirty-two families being represented.

The next meeting of all Cub Scouts will be tonight (Friday), November 21st at 3:30 p.m. Mothers are invited to join with the group.

A pheasant hunter opened the crop of his first bird, found it full of grasshoppers. He gave the grasshoppers to a fisherman friend who used them to catch a mess of bluegills in Sugarloaf lake.

A pheasant without feet shot near Rose Lake living experiment station was in full plumage and good health though smaller than average. The legs were completely healed and now below the knee joint.

Mrs. and Mrs. Don Cunningham returning empty-handed to their cabin at Glenorie after a day's fishing on Alcona pond, had a 2½ pound bass dropped in the road ahead of their car. They picked it up still hopping, while an eagle circled overhead.

Testing a suspicion that a lumberjack's full glass waterjug had started a forest fire in Ogemaw county, fire officer Albert Goodrich focused sun's rays with it, started blazes in two to three minutes.

Regents-Alumni Scholarship Awaits High School Grads

An opportunity to qualify for a Regents-Alumni Scholarship at the University of Michigan awaits one or more graduates this Spring from every accredited high school in the state.

Full information about the necessary qualifications and the application procedure has been placed in the hands of high school administrators by the University scholarship committee February 1, 1948, has been set as the deadline date for receiving applications.

The scholarships are designed to serve two main purposes. One is to help students of ability and promise who would find it difficult or impossible to gain University education without assistance. The other aim is to contribute to the development of leadership and productive citizenship in all parts of the state.

A Regents-Alumni Scholarship carries a stipend equivalent to semester fees for the freshmen year, with provision for renewal through the sophomore, junior and senior years if satisfactory work is maintained.

One scholarship is available for a qualified candidate in each accredited high school in the state. There are 100 additional scholarships for assignment in those high schools where more than one student meets the scholarship qualifications.

Use Care With Insecticides

Benzene hexachloride, the new insecticide, shows promise of controlling pests such as peach curculio, vineworms, poultry and cattle lice, hog mange, and spittle bug. But Ray Jones, extension entomologist at Michigan State College says care should be taken in using it.

Benzene hexachloride has a rusty odor which flavors such foods as potatoes and possibly onions. If applied too close to harvest it flavors peaches and strawberries.

When used on cattle or lambs it will flavor milk and eggs. Jones advises that materials such as sodium fluoride, nicotine sulfate 10 percent and DDT can be used to control lice on poultry and DD-T or talcine for control of beet leafhoppers. These materials do a good job of control if used correctly and if a avoid the danger of flavoring the milk.

Caution is important when benzene hexachloride is used.

Records Disclose Winter Increases Death on Highways

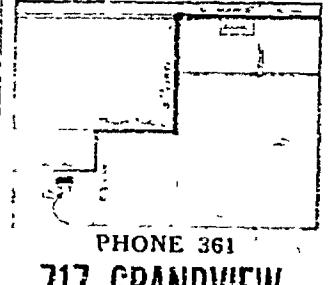

With the arrival of winter driving hazards, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard is appealing to motorists to remember that "ice and snow mean take it slow."

The accident rate per 100 million miles of travel in Michigan was 59 per cent higher last winter than during the last summer, and the death rate was 21 per cent higher, the commissioner said. "Six out of ten fatal accidents occurred on highways which were wet, snowy or icy. Seven out of ten occurred during hours of darkness. All of which means that to be safe you must be more careful and be more cautious."

Leonard listed the following safe driving rules for winter:

1. Adjust speed to the "feel" of the road and weather conditions, and slow down well in advance of intersections. Snow and ice increase the danger of skidding.
2. Drive with the normal flow of traffic and follow cars at a safe distance. It takes 3 to 12 times farther to stop on icy or snowy roadways than when they are dry.
3. Prevent skidding by avoiding quick acceleration or deceleration and sharp turns on slippery roadways. Apply brakes with gentle pumping action. If skid starts, turn front wheels in the direction the rear is skidding.
4. Use anti-skid chains to reduce braking distance 40 to 50 per cent on ice or packed snow.
5. Remember that bad weather conditions and more hours of darkness greatly increase pedestrian hazards. Give special consideration to children.
6. Slow down after sundown.
7. Remember the dangers of carbon monoxide and always provide some fresh air within the car.
8. Observe the golden rule toward the other driver.

Deer Hunters Register for Emergency Calls

With the northward trek to the woods well under way, deer hunters are taking full advantage of the new service offered by the State Conservation Department and Michigan State Police to register their camp locations so that they can be reached if an emergency occurs at home.

The plan provides that hunters register at the Conservation Headquarters or State Police post nearest their camp. Before leaving home they should inform their families or office or both that they will register. Then if an emergency occurs, all that is necessary is for those at home to notify the Conservation headquarters or State Police post nearest to them, and the message will be sent by radio to the station of next station and from there directed by an officer to the individual's camp. There is no charge for the service.

Christmas Seal Sale Opens November 24

The 1947 Christmas seal sale, spearhead of the National Tuberculosis Association's battle against TB, will open on November 24 and continue until Christmas.

This year the Christmas seal, as the symbol of the concerted effort to reduce the disease, pictures a team of oxen drawing a sleighload of Christmas trees. In the upper left-hand corner appears the traditional double-barred cross. Below the picture is a "Merry Christmas" greeting.

Since 1904, when the National Tuberculosis Association was founded, an organized, nation-wide attack has been waged against tuberculosis in this country. The attack today is being carried on by the N.T.A. and its 3,000 affiliated associations, U. S. public health service, and state, county, and city health departments all work in close cooperation.

Progress made in the campaign is revealed in the 80 per cent decline in the TB death rate since 1904. Leading cause of death in the nation then, the disease has dropped to seventh in 1947—a victory which represents a saving of four million lives.

Michigan Veterans have negotiated 2,970 G. I. Loans totaling $8,790,387.00.

Vegetable Dyes

Dyes of vegetable origin were used almost exclusively by primitive man. They were obtained in the vicinity, with the dyer merely collecting dye plants and roots in nearby fields or forests and boiling them in water. The range of color was very narrow, being confined to red, blue, yellow, green, brown and black. Variants in shades were quite limited.

On December 1st each girl will bring to the meeting one article of clothing in good condition suitable for an up-to-date overcoat. On December 6th each girl will furnish one item of food for a Christmas basket.

The meeting was adjourned with tips.

SAIL FROM GERMANY

The Northville Library chess club sent its junior team to Plymouth last Tuesday evening for a match with that city's team. The local group was victorious, winning with a score of 3 to 2. The contest was played in the newly opened Plymouth Veterans Community Center on Starkweather.

Cleen Newton, top man of the Northville team, mated Bently Crane of Plymouth in thirty-four moves. The local second, Edward Lamping, won a game, rendering at Hagedorn for the past year the lieutenant holding out duty in that area. Household goods of the family were sent home previous to their departure for the States.

The Holdsworth family, including Billy, Joanne and Jacqueline, will again take up residence in their home at Plymouth. Mrs. Holdsworth is a daughter of the Arthur Litsenbergs of Randolph street.

Mrs. E. J. Willis of Kaysan Street spent Monday at a meeting of the Patients' Aid Committee of the American Cancer Society. The session was held in the Red Cross building in Detroit.

ENTERTAIN SCOUTS

Belated credit is due the local Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars for the fine Halloween party which they planned and put on for Troop 1 of the Boy Scouts. The affair took place in the Scout Building with Mrs. Esther Dixon and Mrs. Stanley Meyers in charge. Cider and donuts were served to the boys and a special guest for the occasion, Frank Speck of Detroit, district executive.

Allan Buckley, as scoutmaster, has charge of Troop 1.

The Girl Scout Association held its last meeting of the year last week Wednesday, November 12, in the Scout building. At that time a decision was made to hold only one official Court of Awards during the year, and that it will be held during the month of June. It was also decided that there will be only one Flying Up ceremony for Brownies same to also be held in June. All Brownies who shall have attained the age of 10 years by January 1st will "fly up" the preceding June.

The recent Girl Scout bake sale netted over $80. The next meeting will be held in January at which time election of officers will take place.

Medicated Poultry Mash Is Effective

Government Trials Show
Remedies Deworms Flock

Use of a medicated mash containing nicotine-phenoxyphazine has proved effective in deworming poultry. It was shown in trials conducted by the Department of Agriculture.

In the government trials, two kinds of worms (cecal and round) were checked and kept at a low level by using a medicated mash containing nicotine, bentonite (a clay culture).

The project carried out by the 4-H members included home and farm gardens; market gardens; food selection; preparation of baking; food preservation; handicraft; clothing; health; wildflowers; poultry; dairy; beef; sheep; swine; horses; rabbits; conservation activities; flower gardens; electricity; tractor maintenance; school lunch; personal accounts; home management and junior leadership.

"Fifteen grams of 40 per cent nicotine sulfate solution were combined with 151 grams of phenothiazine and 227 grams of nicotine bentonite in 44 pounds of ordinary chicken mash."

This combination of nicotine, bentonite and phenothiazine has been found effective in research carried on by private organizations, and there are products on the market of essentially the same composition as that used by the agricultural department.

4-H Clubs Campaign for 4-H Fair Building

The Wayne County 4-H Council and the 4-H Clubs of Wayne County are out to raise money for a 4-H building to be erected on the 4-H Fair Grounds north of Belleville.

Chairmen from the 4-H Council and from local 4-H leaders are heading the campaign in their township or community.

The campaign is centered around the securing of donations for "I bought a block in the 4-H Building."

The chairmen are — Wm. Forney, Northville; Mrs. John Armer, Plymouth; A. J. West, Plymouth (City); Philip Dingleday, Canton; Mrs. Nick Nafelis, Van Buren; Edmund Legness, Jr., Sunpter; Irvin Glanzman, Huron; Wm. Masterson, Romulus; Mrs. Marvin Spence, Dearborn; Mrs. Louella Sweet, Garden City; Mrs. Lola Moore, Edgewood School; Mrs. Rosella Boucher, Detroit.

The Wayne County 4-H Program is the largest in the state with 244 4-H Clubs and 3,294 boys and girls enrolled. Eighty-eight and six-tenth percent of the members enrolled finished their projects.

The projects carried out by the 4-H members included home and farm gardens; market gardens; food selection; preparation of baking; food preservation; handicraft; clothing; health; wildflowers; poultry; dairy; beef; sheep; swine; horses; rabbits; conservation activities; flower gardens; electricity; tractor maintenance; school lunch; personal accounts; home management and junior leadership.

"Under experimental conditions the treatment expelled approximately 89 per cent of the two kinds of worms. Under field conditions, the feeding of this medicated mash to chickens for three consecutive days, at intervals of three weeks, maintained a low level of parasitism in the treated birds."

"This combination of nicotine, bentonite and phenothiazine has been found effective in research carried on by private organizations, and there are products on the market of essentially the same composition as that used by the agricultural department."

This is a terrible, infectious, protozoan disease that may be chronic or acute. It attacks older animals mostly. Average mortality ranges from 30 to 50 per cent. Clinical signs are similar to tick fever, etc.

This is the first in the experimental stage. The disease probably spread to man by ticks. Many cases coming to the attention of researchers have been attributed to human as too little no attention had been given to disengaging instruments.

If ticks have been bitten removed when possible by means of chemical caustic fluid, the danger of spreading the disease by disengaging tools is minimized.

This Land of Ours Must Now Be Saved

One of the greatest costs of the war, to America, was the depletion of her soil. Demands for increased production, forcing of land without returning necessary food, shortage of fertilizer and the lack of labor to properly plant soil protecting crops has resulted in erosion and barren soil in hundreds of thousands of acres of land.

On the basis of total digestible nutrient content the dried sweet potatoes had 92.8 per cent the value of No. 3 corn. Nitrogen retention by steers and lambs was practically the same.

Kill Poison Ivy by Spraying With Amimate

To kill poison ivy plants use amimate or 2,4-D. When amimate is used, dissolve a pound in a gallon of water and spray until the plants are drenching wet. Keep spray away from desirable plants. If one application is not sufficient and the plants reappear, a second spraying should kill the ivy. When using 2,4-D, follow the manufacturer's instructions on the package as to strength.

Organic Matter Rids Cropland of Bacteria*Viruses Prevent Plant Diseases From SpreadingBy E. C. Thomas
Ohio State College

Few disease-causing bacteria will survive in soil whose organic matter supply has been built up by the use of green manure crops and manure. Those that do live are so changed that they are no longer a menace to crops.

Extracts from soil rich in organic matter contain viruses that defend for their existence upon living bacteria. These viruses are especially numerous in organic matter added

ATOMIC REQUEST Dr. Caleb Greene, New York physicist, told a New York newspaper that the Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground, approached him 18 months ago and asked him to develop synthetically an "atom bomb" for it.

Brightened Homes

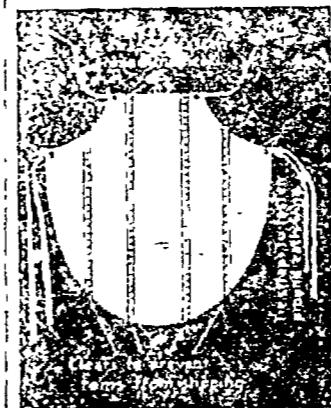

Original water colors or paintings, hand-woven oriental rugs and colorful pottery assist in providing warmth and livability to modern homes.

men have learned that spraying their cattle with DDT will keep down the fly population and allow the cattle to give more milk and to make faster gains.

When grassland is emphasized on farms, the largest amount of the farm income comes from livestock products. MSC specialists say this means that large quantities of high quality hay and pasture must be produced and fed to high quality livestock.

The intensity of competition for food materials and life itself among organisms inhabiting soil particles are indicated by the fact that a single ounce of soil has an estimated living population of 50 million bacterial cells, besides many forms of fungi. Added to these are five million protozoa as well as other forms of organisms. Beneficial bacteria thrive best in soil saturated with organic matter and free from weeds and rocks.

Metal Nipple Bucket

This long-experienced educator advises young men to take advantage of the training opportunities in the Army and Air Force before entering college. Here's what his new book, Son of Tomorrow, says:

Recent high school graduates are handicapped

"The tempo of scholastic life has quickened and most of our recent high school graduates find the pace too fast for them... They become followers, with little opportunity of developing the qualities of leadership which a college should give."

Army experience enables student to go ahead faster

"The average seventeen and eighteen-year-old now planning to attend college would get much more out of college and contribute much more to it, if he first gave himself a chance to broaden his experience by going into service for at least eighteen months."

Questions YOU may be asking about the Food Emergency

a. Why do we have to send so much wheat to Europe? Can't they raise their own food?

A. Western Europe suffered severe crop losses this year. Last Fall, heavy rains and a hard freeze destroyed half of the wheat in some countries. New Spring plantings were largely ruined by drought.

a. Is the situation as bad as some people say?

A. It is worse than most Americans realize. In addition to drought and freeze, Western European farmers lack tractors, horses, farm machinery and seed and fertilizers. The underfed people are weak.

a. But are people in Europe really hungry?

A. It's true that in the better parts of many large cities, a tourist will see little evidence of hunger. But he does not see the average man who is always hungry.

Many people are coming closer and closer to actual starvation. The people's resistance is so low that thousands are dying of pneumonia and tuberculosis.

This winter the suffering will be tragic.

a. Yes, but why is it so necessary for America to help?

A. Because hungry people should be helped — and because it's to our own selfish interest to help them.

Hunger leads to riots and chaos. These things may lead to dictatorships, and dictatorships lead to war.

All authorities agree that if the people of Western Europe are not fed this winter, no one can tell to what extremes despair will drive them.

a. Who in America is being asked to help?

A. Everyone. And they are helping! Every industry that depends on grain is helping.

The distillers, the brewers, the millers, the bakers, the farmers, the meat packers, hotels and restaurants . . . everyone is cooperating.

a. I see so if we eat less meat—will feed less grain to livestock?

A. That's right. And by following the rules below, you will not only help your country through an emergency, and help feed hungry people abroad, but you will help cut down on your own food bills!

1. Use no meat on Tuesdays. Do not serve any cuts of beef, lamb, veal, pork or ham at home, nor ask for them in restaurants. On days you do use meat, buy the cheaper grades.

2. Use no eggs on Thursdays. Do not serve eggs at home and do not order them in restaurants.

WHAT YOU CAN DO . . .

1. Use no meat on Tuesdays. Do not serve any cuts of beef, lamb, veal, pork or ham at home, nor ask for them in restaurants. On days you do use meat, buy the cheaper grades.

2. Use no eggs on Thursdays. Do not serve eggs at home and do not order them in restaurants.

3. Save a slice of bread every day. Every slice of bread, every bun, roll or muffin you save means more wheat to fight hunger abroad.

4. Remember, when eating out, restaurants will serve bread and butter only on your special request.

Waste nothing — clean your plate at every meal!

7th and 8th Graders Meet Under Lights

One of the liveliest football games of the season was staged at Ford Field Wednesday night when the Seventh and Eighth Grade eleves met for a post season game under the lights. Those boys really want to play football," was the comment of some 200 spectators. End runs blocking and tackling are over the line and forward passing is as fine as ever.

No, we didn't say eat, we said cut. In this case, a cut of sirloin steak. Such steaks are often sold with a long, stringy tail. But in the Kroger Beef Cutting Method, this tail is trimmed down before the steak is weighed and priced. Just another example of the money-saving service you get in Kroger stores.
