To the Editor

May 15 1948

Dear Sir:
 I am a constant reader of your newspaper and I enjoy reading it very much. And maybe there is really no news in what I'm going to tell you about the Northville and Plymouth Theaters. It bests me myself and a lot of other people there is truth in it. When my son was three months old, I had to pay twenty cents admission for him and I still have to. The manager said that Government wanted it. Since then I have not taken him there. I take him to Walled Lake where they have a Cry Room and I don't have to pay for his admission. Can't something be done to stop them from charging everyone admission for an infant? Many of us are getting to the point where we may have to get a pet-bon up and send it to the Government. Thank you.
 Sincerely,
 A Constant Reader.

Then watch the face of the lucky driver. He's got that "Futuramic Feeling." It's more than just the smoothness of a coil-cushioned ride. It's more than just the simplicity of "no-clutch, no-shift" Hydra-Matic Drive. It's even more than the breath-taking thrill of stepping down on the accelerator and feeling that surge of power, as WHIRLAWAY goes into action. That "Futuramic Feeling" is a combination of all these Oldsmobile features—topped off with a goodly measure of pride at driving the best looking of all the new cars on the roads today!

Rural Tele-news

FITS TOGETHER: Did you know that, in addition to Michigan Bell, there are 160 "Independent" telephone companies in Michigan? Their territory is shown in grey on the adjoining map. Thousands of rural folks are served by these companies whose lines connect with Michigan Bell (area in white) for long distance service. Both the "Independents" and Michigan Bell have as their goal more and better rural telephone service.

LINE TIED UP: When a telephone on a party line is left off the hook—or even threw off, like this one—the line is tied up for everyone. You can't receive calls and no one else on the line can make or receive them! Please hang up carefully—for your neighbors' sake... and yours.

SIZE MEANS SERVICE: Michigan Bell's telephone plant is big—but it must grow bigger to supply everyone with the kind of telephone service he wants. Expansion increases the value of your telephone because it provides more telephones that you can call... lets you do more time- and money-saving telephone errands.

Collect Clothes for Overseas Relief

A Save-the-Children "Bundle Day" drive to collect serviceable, used clothing has been launched in the Northville public school this week.

The drive, which is part of the Seventh National Children's Clothing Crusade conducted under the auspices of a national committee of school superintendents, will last for 5 days. Clothing obtained will be distributed by the Save the Children Federation in its program of assistance to children in isolated rural areas of the United States and in four European countries.

Two and a half million pounds of wearable clothing has been set as the national goal for 1943. Last year in the Sixth National Children's Clothing Crusade, three million pounds were distributed in 1,025 bundle days in some 40 states and raised a total 1,700,000 pounds. The goal has been increased this year in order to enable the Federation to meet the clothing needs in its steadily expanding fields of child service.

Clothing collected by the Federation is distributed abroad for the relief of child war victims in England, France, Holland and Greece. Austria will be added to the list during the year.

"The public school Bundle Day", Dr. Pillsbury wrote, "provides a practical and effective means of clothing collection and, at the same time teaches youth in our schools to share with the less fortunate. A sense of brotherhood will be fostered and a foundation laid for international good-will by participation in the 1943 National Children's Clothing Crusade."

Principal Pierce said that wearable clothing of all types, in both baby's, children's and adult sizes; blankets, sheets and other bedding and pairs of outgrown shoes are needed.

He asked that nothing contributed should be clean and tears or ink spots removed if possible. The Federation does not ship clothing requiring repairs to Europe. In the more devastated areas there most families have no spare pieces of cloth for patches, and a needle and thread to attach patches or sew up rips. The children need to be able to get the job done for themselves.

A large number of shipping boxes have been ordered from the Federation, and it is hoped that they will be all filled in the time allowed for the purpose of the drive, and a long the cooperation of the public.

GUERRILLA... This girl, 16 years old, is a guerrilla soldier, captured by Greek troops after having been wounded during fighting on Helikos mountain. Greek army reports women guerrilla fighters have become more numerous.

YOUNGESTER... Refusing to admit she is old, even though she just celebrated her 10 1/2 birthday, Mrs. Emily Richards of San Francisco still delights in receiving gentleman callers and gifts of flowers.

FRP HEAD... Paul G. Hoffman, president of Studebaker corporation, has been appointed to receive directorship of the European recovery program, most important government economic post since the war's end.

Barr-Poulos Exchange Vows Sunday Afternoon in Detroit

Stella Poulos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Poulos of Thayer Boulevard, and James W. Barr of Highland Park, exchanged marriage vows Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. at the Church of Assumption in Detroit. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Barr. Rev. Joakim Doulergakis and Deacon Dionisios Ziatas officiated at the Greek Orthodox double ring service.

"O Promise Me," "Because" the traditional Wedding March and several other selections were rendered by the church organist. The church, which was filled to capacity with relatives and friends, was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli, peonies and stock, palms and candelabra.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in an all-satin wedding dress fashioned with a crushed drape across the shoulder, yoke of net with each gathering inset with beading, fitted bodice and a short bustle back which extended into a long train. Her veil of French illusion fell from a Princess Elizabeth Crown imbedded with beads and also formed a long train. The bridal bouquet consisted of eleven white orchids accented by sprigs of ivy.

Stella Barr of Highland Park, sister of the bridegroom, attended as maid-of-honor. She was dressed in coral and carried an arm bouquet of aqua marine carnations with a coral background. A garland of matching flowers adorned her hair.

Katherine Celos of Redford, Mary Neum of Farmington, Betty Keenan of Northville and Joanne Kitchas of River Rouge, as bridesmaids, wore identical aqua marine dresses similar to the bride's. They carried arm bouquets of coral carnations with aqua marine backgrounds and had matching garlands of flowers in their hair.

Angeline Christopoulos of Detroit, dressed in coral, was the flower girl, and she carried a miniature bouquet of aqua marine carnations. Chris Kovatsis of Northville carried the rings.

John D. Pappas of Detroit, Godfather of the bridegroom, served as best man and Peter Barr, George and Nicholas Toyos, all of Detroit and John Poulos of Northville seated the guests.

New Strain of Corn Withstands Drouth Also Resists Root Rot

Possibility of producing corn that would withstand root rot and other diseases as well as prolonged dry spells appealed to Earl E. May and Iowa State college officials.
Knowing that Guatemala had been producing corn for more than 2,000 years in an isolated region, which had resulted in a highly inbred strain which could withstand dry spells as well as certain diseases and pests, Iowa research workers collected

Jim Moore, KMA, and Enrique Saiz inspecting Guatemalan corn field.

1,200 varieties of corn from Central America.
New Guatemala-U.S. crossbred corn has been tested at Ames, Iowa. The new corn outyielded three commonly used U.S. hybrids as much as 25 bushels to the acre. While the Midwest varieties withered and died during hot weather, the Guatemala-U.S. crossbred remain in full ears. College officials believe that early results give promise of a new strain that will withstand long dry and hot spells on any part of the United States. James Moore, KMA station, reports that work in Guatemala has proven entirely successful and he believes that the new corn soon will be grown on many farms in the United States.

A portable Hog feeder is a piece of labor saving equipment which has a place on every farm where hogs are being raised. The capacity of this feeder is 55 bushels, but it may be made of any size desired. If it is kept well painted it will remain water tight.

Culling Pays Dividends To Poultry Producers

Regular culling pays dividends, but many poultry farmers are unable to carry out the procedure because of pressure of other duties. However, as the moulting season approaches, it will be seen that a percentage of the flock commences to moult earlier than others, and it is these early moulters that should be segregated and sent off to market at first opportunity.

First Sleeping Car
The first sleeping car in the world was operated on the Cumberland Valley railroad, between Harrisburg and Chambersburg, Pa., in the winter of 1836-37. It was a remodeled day coach, and the berths or bunks were very crudely built along one side of the car.

News and Comment from Congress
George A. Dondero

Legislation to curb Communists in the United States: The House of Representatives has just finished consideration of the so-called Mundt Bill (H.R. 5852) to protect the United States against un-American and subversive activities.

Congressman George A. Dondero says: "Congress has passed several other laws directed at controlling the activities of the Communist Party in the United States. The Smith Act made it a crime to advocate the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force and violence. The McCormack Act required registration of agents of foreign principals. The Voorhis Act required registration of organizations which are agents of foreign governments."

The Justice Department, however, has failed to enforce these Acts against the Communist Party of the United States. The Communist Party has, in fact, enjoyed a privileged status, insofar as prosecution under these laws is concerned. During the war, while the Soviet Union was an ally, some justification for this failure might have existed; but, now, when the Soviet Union and its Communist satellites are waging a cold war against the United States, such failure to proceed against Communists is inexcusable.

"The Communist program has been one of conquest through treachery, infiltration, espionage, sabotage, corruption, and terrorism, all of which have been carried out in countries which they have over-run and later taken over."

Congressman Dondero states: "The record of convictions in contempt proceedings has been excellent in recent months. The Justice Department has also begun to proceed recently against alien Communists who perjured themselves in many cases when they entered the United States. It is significant that in some of these cases violations occurred over fifteen years ago, yet only now is the Department seen fit to prosecute. Had the laws been vigorously enforced against Communists in the United States the growth of the movement would have been largely prevented and if it would not have been the serious threat that it is at present to our national security. This attitude and apathy are responsible for the magnitude of the problem with which we are faced today. The FBI has done excellent work in investigating the activities of the Communists in the United States, but investigation without prosecution means little."

The Committee, in preparing the Mundt Bill, bore in mind: (1) That the legislation should be kept within the framework of the Constitution so that it would not penalize innocent people along with the guilty; (2) That, in view of the changeable tactics on the part of the Communist high command, the bill must cover such changes and include all Communist fronts; (3) That the main purpose of the bill is to insure the right of the American form of government to protect itself from those who would destroy it."

Overture on Overture: Overture on overtime is a threat to American business and a suit to determine the method of calculation is pending in the U. S. Supreme Court in the stevedoring industry. If the stevedoring industry's claim is upheld, all industry will be subject to claims for overtime on overtime — not only in the future but for two years back and, in some States, six years. Attorneys filing the suits contend that total earnings should be arrived at by dividing the total hours worked into wages paid for any given week and the rate thus arrived at to be applied to the first 40 hours and that one and one-half times that rate be applied to all hours worked in excess of 40. Assume that a man worked nine hours on each of five days at time and one-half for all hours over eight in each day, and for Saturday, Sunday, and Holidays, at a straight rate of $1.00 per hour. That would give him eight straight-time hours per day and one overtime hour per day. Under present practice he would draw $47.50 but, if the Supreme Court renders an adverse decision, he would receive $50.12, an excess of $2.62. Legislation to define "regular rate" of pay, introduced by Congressman Goodwin (R-Mass.), is pending and, if enacted, would prevent costly litigation and settle this question.

The Baptist Woman's Union will meet at the church parlors next Thursday, May 27, at 2:00 p. m.

An old barn at the Charles E. Harris farm at 1885 S. Haggerty Road caught fire Wednesday evening and the fire department was called. No damage estimate is available.

Insects Launch Early Attack on Vegetables

With the first reasonably warm days, insects will make their attack on the green worms and life on cabbage and the Colorado beetles and black fleas on potatoes.

The cabbage green worm comes shortly in the wake of the familiar white-and-yellow "butterflies" that go bobbing about, dropping eggs as they touch the leaves of the cabbage. This chewing insect is killed by poison; not one of the arsenates, however, but the safe insecticide, to remove the best way is dusting with a strength of three-fourths of 1 per cent of rotenone, as most prepared dusts have. The first application should be made when the "butterflies" first appear, then repeated once or twice ten days apart.

Sugar Beets Considered Good Crop for Dairymen

The sugar beet is an important cash crop, according to University of Wisconsin Extension Service production people that the crop blends in well with dairy farming, makes good use of farm manure and leaves the soil loose and friable.

Beets seldom are damaged by either late spring or early fall frosts. There are few crops that leave the soil in as good condition. The tops are very valuable feed for cattle and sheep. They may be pastured, partially cured and put into trench silos, or used as silage.

Birth Rates: The birth rate of the Soviet Union is more than twice that of the United States. Western Europe has suffered from falling birth rates and a declining population trend.

RESOLVED—That we extend our sincere sympathy to the family and a copy of these resolutions be sent to them.

RESOLVED—That a copy be placed on our records.

RESOLVED—That a copy be published in Northville Record. Respectfully submitted, By Committee Mrs. R. H. Johnson Miss Inez Bryan. 50

HE'S THE LEADER OF THE IRISH... John A. Costello (right), newly elected prime minister of Eire, is presented the seals of his office by Sean T. O'Kelly, president of Eire, in an unobtrusive ceremony in the library of the president's house. A six-party coalition which swept into control of the Irish assembly elected Costello premier and defeated the perennial Eamon de Valera who had been in office for 16 years.

DOUBLE, DOUBLE, TOIL AND TROUBLE... Mr. and Mrs. John Walsh of Quincy, Mass., are shown surrounded by their three famous sets of twins which will go down in the books as a medical rarity. Youngest pair are Kevin and Kathleen, four months; eldest are William and John, 28 months. In the middle came Michael and Maureen, 18 months. This is one of the quickest ways to get a big family.

THROWING NO STONES... This is a transparent example of how attractive living in a farm home can be. The Pina Manor farm home of Milo Miller near Goshen, Ind., has five large picture windows, including this one in the utility room which overlooks the farm yard. Glass is of two-pane construction enclosing dehydrated air space for insulation, eliminating drafts and frosting of windows in winter.

DISPLACED PERSONS PROBLEM... More and more Americans are becoming increasingly aware of the moral responsibility that is theirs—and all humanity's—in finding homes for the displaced persons of Europe. Congressional legislation to permit DPs to enter the U. S. is one possible step toward a partial solution. Here, Sen. Homer Ferguson (Rep., Mich.) discusses such pending legislation with eight DPs.

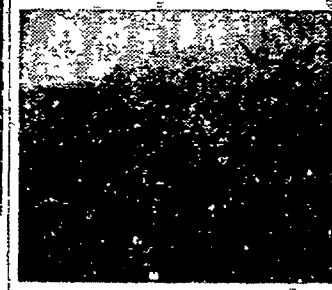

ROYALTY BEGINS AT HOME... King George VI and his Queen Elizabeth appear to eschew domestic contentment as they enjoy coffee in their Buckingham palace apartments while England prepares to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. King George, then Duke of York, married Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon on April 26, 1923. They, as everyone knows, have two daughters, Princess Elizabeth, heiress-apparent to the throne, and Princess Margaret Rose.

Cover Crops Reduce Soil Erosion Losses

Research Tests Show Four Main Advantages

- How cover crops seeded in corn and other row crops could help farmers fight erosion, build up the soil's organic matter and add to the nitrogen supply, is indicated in studies by research men of Iowa agricultural experiment station.
- Four major advantages are cited:
 - Cover crops protect the soil from August to May. One-fourth of the annual soil loss occurs during this period.
 - Well-fertilized legumes add organic matter to the soil that helps resist erosion during the May and June period. This is the time when one-half of the annual soil losses occur.
 - Cover crops add nitrogen to the soil, especially when legumes are a part or all of the mixture.
 - The yield of corn will be slightly increased in the year following the seeding of cover crops.

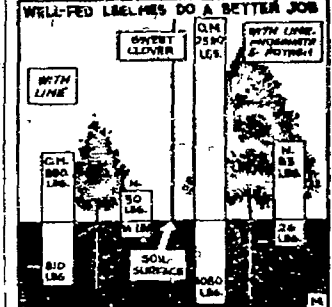

Good field of corn secured from proper plant food.

laying by the corn, they broadcast the seed with an endgate seeder. Weeders are attached to the cultivator to help cover the seed and better growth results.

Clover and Alfalfa Need Limed, Fertilized Soil

Sweet clover and alfalfa will do a good job of increasing the soil's supply of nitrogen and vitally needed organic matter if they are well fed. Legumes are heavy eaters of phosphate and potash. They thrive best in a soil that has been limed to correct acidity and to furnish calcium.

When legumes get a full quota of needed nutrients they will produce top results. That was shown in tests with sweet clover at the Newton soil experiment field in Illinois.

The accompanying chart summarizes results. Sweet clover grown on soil that had been limed and fertilized with phosphate and potash produced 63 pounds more nitrogen and a ton more organic matter per acre than that grown on soil that had received only lime. Another advantage of well-fed legumes comes in improved soil tilth.

The sturdy tap roots of well-fed, sweet clover and alfalfa drive through plow sole compactions and push mineralized organic matter deep into the soil. They open tight soil to air and moisture. The added organic matter and better tilth 18 to 25 inches deep enable crops following in the rotation to make more efficient use of the plant food available in the soil.

Increased Production Of Butterfat Required

Dairy farmers whose average annual production per cow is only 6,000 pounds are operating on a bare subsistence figure, it is pointed out by Howard O. Selby, general manager of the United Farmers of New England. It is not unreasonable to suggest that an annual production per cow of 7,500 pounds would be possible and that it would yield an economic level more nearly in line with other groups in the nation, he adds.

Cleanliness Emphasized In Treating of Wounds

Horses under treatment do much better at pasture than in stables, if the weather is suitable. If sick horses must be stabled, quarters should be clean and well-ventilated. Be gentle in dressing wounds, clip closely or shave the hair around the wound and make sure that no discharge from around the edges is carried into the wound. Proper drainage of the wound must be assured.

Oily Skin Treatment

An oily complexion can be treated by washing the face once a day with fresh, clear water to which the juice of one lemon has been added.

Water Pollution
The two main sources of water pollution in the United States are (1) municipal—sewage and public wastes dumped into streams, lakes and rivers without being put through a modern and effective treatment, and (2) industrial—taxes and injurious fluids and solids of various types discharged into the public waters without adequate treatment to reduce their poisonous effects.
