

Monday, June 14, is Flag Day. Then, every family, every institution, every person perhaps will see and feel something of the universal meaning that is in the American flag. The meaning of strength, of courage, of freedom, of life itself. It was 171 years ago, on June 14, 1777, that the Stars and Stripes, as created by Betsy Ross, was adopted as the official flag by congress. On this June 14 we honor the flag, we salute it proudly and sincerely, we view it fondly as the emblem of everything worthy of preservation—the emblem of America.

Organization of the Northville Junior Police force is expected to get under way next week according to Chief of Police Joseph Denton.

The aims of the group are to eliminate juvenile delinquency by fostering good citizenship, and an awareness of the citizen's responsibilities to the community. The boys will be taught safety, citizenship, alertness, and courtesy. Much enthusiasm on the part of the boys for such a group prompted Joe Denton to start this project.

Regular meetings for the boys will be held at the Village Hall under the auspices of Chief Denton. Plans for the group include a Junior Police force for boys 10 years and older, and a Junior Auxiliary Police Force for boys under 10 years old. The boys will elect their own officers at the first meeting which will be announced at a later date.

Officers of the Junior Police will be tried before a court made up of members of the force. Membership cards will be given the boys which will be signed by both Chief Denton and Mayor Con Lanfield.

The pledge on the cards reads, "I promise to keep clean; to be courteous and friendly; to respect the rights of others; to cooperate with my parents and my teachers in order to become a better citizen and I will attend a church of my own choice regularly and unless accompanied by my parents or guardian, I will be off streets and be home by 10:00 p. m."

Start New Year With This Issue

Beginning with this issue of the Northville Record, Volume 78, No. 1 starts a new year for the oldest paper in Wayne County, which was the first weekly paper published consecutively since 1870.

During its span of life, the Northville Record has experienced many changes both in ownership and plant facilities. One of its most significant changes was the building of its modern printing shop which houses an up-to-date press and all the facilities necessary for assembling the paper.

Last year, the Record enhanced its exterior by remodeling the front office and installing modern furniture.

Aside from the newspaper work, the Record maintains an efficient job printing department where are printed letterheads, business cards, statements, folders, wedding announcements, tickets, invoices, envelopes, circulars, booklets, and many other forms of printing.

Petty Police Charges Assume Serious Air

A breaking and entering attempt and a successful breaking and entering charge were reported to the local police department during the past week.

Tuesday night at 9:45 two boys believed to be teen aged, were seen climbing a ladder and trying to break a window at the Robert Powers home located at 123 W. Cady street. A neighbor lady called and frightened them off, and the police could find no trace of the boys upon their arrival.

At 10:25 that same evening the police were called to the Ancel Felke residence at 113 Randolph street where entry had been made through a window on the east side of the home, which led into the basement. The house was ransacked and a purse containing $3.00 taken from a dresser drawer. The only clue left behind was a hunting knife, which the police are trying to identify.

B. E. Grissom of 318 Randolph St. reported that his automobile had been pushed from the location he had left it upon returning Tuesday night, into some shrubbery near his home. He could give no explanation for such action.

The search is still going on for Hubert Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Black of 423 Beal Avenue, who was reported missing June 1. The boy has disappeared from his home and at the time of this writing no clue had been found as to his whereabouts. The search has now spread over five states.

To Give Concert

ROSEMARIE YOUNG

Concert to Benefit Livonia Invalid

Rosemarie Young, soprano from the University of Michigan, will present a musical program Sunday evening, June 20, at 7:30 at Livonia Methodist Church, located on Seven Mile Road, near Farmington Road.

The program will include selections of Brahms, Mozart and an aria from "The Marriage of Figaro" as well as number of light operettas and popular favorites.

Henry Herrmann, teacher at George Bentley High School, will accompany her and will also render several piano selections.

This musical presentation is being given to benefit Mrs. N. Doss of Farmington Road who has been a shut-in for the past fifteen years. Mrs. Doss developed a multiple sclerosis condition, which with each passing year grew steadily worse, until now at the age of thirty-nine years, she is confined to her bed in a totally helpless state. Treatments for this illness are costly and there are no means of financing it, nor could the expense of a nurse be met; therefore she is dependent on her husband and neighbors.

The musical is being given to raise funds so that Mrs. Doss will be able to be taken to a clinic and given proper treatment.

A fire believed to have had its origin in the chimney incinerator partially destroyed the roof of the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bowland of 340 South Rogers street last Saturday morning.

The Northville Fire Department answered the call and extinguished the blaze in the third floor of the home. Paintings were lost in the blaze.

78 Students Receive Diplomas

Commencement week activities got underway Sunday night at the Presbyterian Church House with the annual Baccalaureate services. The hall was filled to capacity with friends and relatives of the class and even all the standing room was taken as the seniors filed to their honor seats near the front of the church house.

Rev. Walter Ballagh pronounced the invocation and benediction, Rev. E. L. Woods read the scripture lesson and Rev. William Hughes delivered the message to the graduating class. Corne Clark played both professional and recreational music. Senior members of the high school choir joined the choir group as they sang two selections.

"Having a Purpose" was the title of Rev. Hughes' address. He divided life into two roads, the low, easy road and the high, hard but gratifying road. A person gets out of life what he is willing to put into it and he sees only what he wants to see. Defects in disposition and character may damage one's outlook on life. He compared life with a reed, which although insignificant, was woven into a basket which held the infant Moses, who became the Nation's leader. He advised the students to keep the spiritual way in their life as a life apart from God loses its meaning. "Seek God and Honour Him and Life will be Yours."

Class Night Activities
Class night festivities took place Tuesday night in the High school gym. Palms and the High school banners were used as a decorative background for the activities. Members of the class of '48 prepared and presented the entire program themselves.

The twelfth graders marched to their place in the front of the gym to the music of the school song, played by Corne Clark and the large audience was welcomed to the activities by Bob German, president of the class. Senior choir members sang their version of "Memories" written and directed by Dorothy Greger, and the Northville Alma Mater, written by musical director Leslie G. Lee.

Fl. 425 of members of the class were humorously predicted by Delores Black, Barbara Bailey, Norma Dahlgren and Dorothy Stremch and the last will and testament of the class was read by Elaine Vogtin, Kay Perrin, Barbara Stewart and Marie Seer. The boys quartette did not sing as scheduled, because of the death of Hugh Niven's mother. Hugh being a member of the quartette Patricia Johnston and Dorothy Greger played two flute duets.

Bob German presented E. C. Mollen and C. D. Yahnke, class sponsors, with gifts on behalf of the class. Mary Lou Smith, Edward Lanning and June Richardson presented each member of the class with a gift which depicted some humorous incident which occurred during their days at N.H.S. Mac Pierce, vice president of the class, closed the program with the farewell address.

Commencement
The main event of the week, graduation, took place Thursday evening at the High school gym. Again a large crowd of friends and relatives gathered to see Superintendent, R. H. Amerman, present the seventy-eight members of the graduating class with their certificates of promotion.

Rev. E. E. Rossow pronounced the invocation and benediction at the commencement program and Corne Clark played as the seniors, in cap and gown, were ushered to their seats. Harriet Leffler and Robert Campbell furnished the musical numbers, rendering a piano solo and vocal solo respectively. The Seniors were presented by Principal C. E. Pierce.

Rev. Charles W. Hughes, Canon at St. Albans Church at Highland Park, gave the commencement address entitled "Finished to Begin." Addresses were also given by Patricia Johnston and Edward Lanning. Valedictorian and Salutatorian respectively.

The names of students earning special awards will be announced in next week's issue of the Record.

Guests Tuesday at Rotary were Lauren Goodale, Jack Stubenvoll, Warren Bogart and George Locke.

AMERICA'S FIRST BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL. No, they're not giving the country back to the Indians, and anyway the Indians probably wouldn't take it. As part of the Port of Friendship Day celebrations in New York the historic transaction in which Peter Minuit bought the island of Manhattan from the Indians for $24 was re-enacted at city hall. Mayor William O'Dwyer is standing in the background calmly making a speech, oblivious to the characters playing charades in front of him. (That's Peter Minuit shaking hands with an Indian chief after the deal was made.) Dutch and Indian costumes were supposed to give the scene an authentic flavor, but it is doubtful whether the Indians of old Manhattan ever wore shirts.

Various games and stunts were on the program. Well-filled baskets of food had been brought and the Kindergarten Club provided ice cream, coffee and pop.

AULT - COOKE WEDDING
 Quite an event in West Point Park circles was the marriage at 3 p. m. Saturday afternoon in the Farmington Baptist Church of Dolores Jean Ault, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ault, Shadyside avenue and George Cooke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooke, Hugo avenue, Farmington.

The church was filled with relatives and friends. Previous to the ceremony Miss Elsa Nystrum, of Farmington rendered several vocal numbers.

The bride, coming in on the arm of her father, was gownned in traditional white satin, with lace-edged finger-tip veil and carrying white flowers. Mrs. Mary Krueger, in pale blue, served as maid-of-honor. Miss Shirley Ault, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Barbara Harrison, groomed respectively in pink and yellow, with matching picture hats and flowers, were bridesmaids.

Stanley Cooke was his bride's best man. Wayne Ault and Carl Krueger acted as ushers. The double ring ceremony was used, with Rev. Fisher officiating.

Following the rites, members of the bridal party dined together at Devon Gables. Later, a reception was held at the Ault residence on Shadyside avenue, where about three hundred persons dropped in to offer congratulations. An array of gifts were on display. Refreshments were served on tables placed on the well-lighted lawn.

The bride and groom left on a honeymoon to northern Michigan. In about two weeks they will be at home on Hugo Avenue.

British vs. U. S. Workers
 British "working party" committees, sent to the United States to do on-the-job studies comparing American factory methods with those of Britain, agree that productivity per American worker exceeds that of his British counterpart in each of the industries surveyed.

Indians Had Rubber Balls
 When Columbus landed on the island of Santo Domingo on his first voyage he found the young Indians playing with balls made of elastic resin. He took samples of this resin back to Ferdinand and Isabella and it became known in the Spanish language as cauchú. Joseph Priestley, the famous discoverer of oxygen, saw a small ball of this elastic gum in 1770. He found that when it was rubbed over pencil writings it eliminated them; so he called it rubber.

A RESOLUTION

We beg leave to present the following resolution in honor of the memory of our late departed

Brother Jacob Kelner.

We approach this task in a spirit of much humility and with about his work quietly and unassumingly, but accomplished several tasks assigned to him with dignity and master thoroughness.

efforts to attain.

We request that this resolution be spread on the records of Local

Among the more specialized booklets may be found information on canoe trails in Michigan and Ontario, fishing streams, camping, camp cookery, and summer games and sports.

Primarily of value to those planning a trip, many of the handsome brochures with colored illustrations also will be of interest to persons who once traveled or lived in the locality.

Three Diseases Take
High Toll of Turkeys
Heaviest Loss Occurs
During Growing Period

Nearly a third of all turkeys hatched are lost during the growing period. This statement is based on findings of Utah Agricultural college survey.
Of considerable importance to a control program is the fact that the three diseases known to be the greatest killers of poultry—paratyphoid infection, pullorum disease and infectious sinusitis, which may be transmitted through the egg from parent to the offspring—cause 51 per cent of the brooder loss.
If a grower starts with a healthy, vigorous poul, the job of keeping the bird healthy is relatively simple. Thus the first problem for a propective turkey producer is to buy poults from hatcheries that have a reputation for producing healthy poults. As it may be impossible for a single grower to know the poul source, cooperative effort may be helpful in investigating the brooder and hatcher.

Proper housing and proper use of brooding equipment are essential to health of the poults. Basis of sanitary procedures is to prevent healthy individuals from coming in contact with the infectious agents of disease. All weak-looking poults should be kept separate from the healthy fowls and strict sanitary practices must be maintained during the brooding period.

When planning the layout for improving the farmstead include a good evergreen windbreak to provide protection from prevailing winds. Plant the windbreak back about 150 feet from the buildings that are to be protected. As for depth of the windbreak, one row is good, two rows better and three rows will give still more protection. Space the trees about 18 feet apart.

Herds and Flocks

Pond water piped to farm buildings for livestock can be filtered by building a solid housing of soft brick (laid in cement) over the end of the pipe in the bottom of the pond.

Water filters through the pores of the brick.

First treatment for cattle grub should be made early in winter, as soon as the tell-tale bumps appear on the backs of animals. Several treatments a month apart will be necessary. Use a cattle grub dust containing 1 1/2 per cent rotenone.

The current shortage of feed makes it important to do continuous culling in the laying house.

Dairy cows lose a lot of energy pulling through heavy mud in the barn lot. Lost energy means less milk. Paved lots that take cows out of the mud soon pay for themselves.

Modern Stock Barn

War-born quansels have been adapted to many farm uses. Above photo shows how a Brighton, Mich., farmer utilized a quansel. Note the improved window arrangements.

Prompt Action Required
To Relieve Cattle Bloat

Removal of the gages from the rumen is the primary object in treatment of bloat in cattle. If bloat has just started, the animal should be forcibly exercised and the distended abdomen massaged or kneaded with the clenched fist to bring about belching of the gages from the stomach. A wooden gag can be placed in and across the mouth of the bloated animal.

News and Comment from Cong. George A. Dondero

House Passes Omnibus Rivers and Harbors and Flood Control Bill. Congressman George A. Dondero successfully piloted the Omnibus Rivers and Harbors and Flood Control Bill through the House of Representatives a few days ago. In presenting this measure, Congressman Dondero said:

"The bill which the Committee brings to the floor today is an unusual bill in several respects."

"First, it is the smallest Rivers and Harbors and Flood Control bill to come to the House for more than a quarter of a century, small in the number of projects and small in the total amount involved. The bill contains forty-five projects, 32 of which are rivers and harbors and 13 flood control projects. They are distributed among twenty-one States of the Union, and the total amount of money involved is less than $44 million."

"In considering these projects, two things were taken into consideration: First, those projects which were of an emergency character or where conditions were of an acute nature; and second, such projects as yield back to the people of this country, great benefits for the amount of money expended. Certain projects in this bill will return a benefit of five dollars for each dollar to be expended in their construction."

"Having in mind the financial condition of the land, it was thought best that no large Omnibus Rivers and Harbors and Flood Control Bill should be presented. An additional reason is that a backlog of projects already authorized and awaiting appropriations for their construction of such magnitude existed that the absolute necessity of a large bill could not be justified."

Congressman Dondero further said: "I want to call attention to the fact that in the last twenty-five years the commerce of the United States—waterborne commerce—has almost doubled. In 1920 it was 399 million tons; in 1930 it was 520 million tons; in 1940 it was 607 million tons; and in 1945 it was 618 million tons. This indicates the vast increase in the commerce of our country which requires that these rivers and harbors and flood projects not only should be given attention but must be improved to accommodate the deep-draft vessels built during the war. In addition to deepening and widening the channels they must be attended in order to accommodate these ships of a new era in our nation's history."

Michigan projects in the bill provide harbor improvements in Grand Traverse Bay in the vicinity of Traverse City, at an estimated cost of $316,200, and Ch-

This project is one involving protection on Red Run, Oakland County, at an estimated cost to the Federal Government for construction set at $1,018,000.

Congressman Whittington (D-Mich.), ranking Minority Member of the Public Works Committee, discussing the bill in the House, said: "I would like to make public acknowledgment in behalf of the committee to the distinguished Chairman, the Gentleman from Michigan (Mr. Dondero), for his uniform courtesy, patience, and fairness in all hearings and in the consideration of all bills that have come before the committee. The Chairman has familiarized himself with all matters that have been considered by the committee. I pay not only a deserved tribute to his ability, but to his fairness in the conduct of the work of the committee."

The two main sources of water pollution in the United States are (1) municipal—sewage and public wastes dumped into streams, lakes and rivers without being put through a modern and effective treatment; and (2) industrial—toxins and injurious fluids and solids of various types discharged into the water without adequate treatment to reduce their polluting effect.

Buoyant answer to Back Road and Boulevard

REMEMBER that rough patch of road up yonder where the ruts and ridges make a washboard seem smooth?

Recall the tiring tenseness brought on by the drum and hum of road noise and tremor even over smooth concrete highways?

Well, clock away the miles in this stunningly styled Buick - and meet up with the swiftest answer to such matters this side of cloud cruising.

"It's a ride that's soft and smooth as velvet," folks tell us. And we tell them it comes from a host of things.

It comes from the ample road-weight of a two-ton car built low and wide - and so beautifully balanced it handles light as a baton.

It comes from the leveling buoyancy of Buick's all-coil springing which puts a pillow of deeply coiled steel at each wheel to soak up the bumps and ripples.

It comes from the softness of bigger, lower-pressure tires that cushion away road tremors and roughness - from the sure-footed, swerve-free steadiness of Buick's extra wide Safety-Ride rims, widest in the industry.

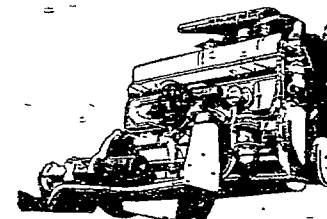

And it comes in special measure from a brand-new engineering gem we call Vibra-Shielding which banishes vibration build-up.

Here for the first time you're freed from the motoring fatigue brought on by tiny tremors piling up into bigger ones. Here your miles are made moss-smooth and quiet - long journeys become mere jaunts.

So why delay knowing the most buoyant answer to any road you ever traveled?

Come visit us now. Know at first hand the distinctive styling, the flashing action, the velvety ride over highway and byway that are Buick's and Buick's alone.

Then follow your heart's desire and get your order in promptly. We'll take it in proper sequence whether or not you have a car to trade.

REASON FOR THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE

Piled with scientific exactness, 3 fat cushions of special composition cradle the engine so as to control its vibration frequency. Engine vibration is thus kept "out of tune" with those that might come from other parts of the car. The result is to shield car occupant's against tiring pulsations, cut road noise, make engine vibration almost imperceptible and motoring practically fatigue free.

Dr. L. W. Snow, representing the Northville Driving Club, stated that efforts were being made to iron out all objectionable features of previous race meets. In an effort to abate trailer nuisance a request was made to construct a trailer camp, according to State requirements, on Lot 227 in the Village of Northville for use during racing season.

In a two-day field trip in southern Michigan recently, we talked with a number of employers about 1948 problems of rising production costs and what their firms were doing to meet them. Invariably the employee attitude on profits was mentioned as a factor. Cost of living has been surging upward with dizzying persistence. While sales remain good, profits are declining. Many retailers are wondering what is ahead.

"I'd like to know the answer to this employee problem," said one employer. "It does not seem possible for the worker to win better wages perpetually without also inflating prices."

"The employee demand for higher wages is stimulated, it now appears by a belief that the average business is rolling in high profits and that wage increases can be granted out of profits alone. This is a fallacy, a misconception. I sometimes think the average American is illiterate when it comes to understanding economics."

His petulant remark prompted us to dig into the record.

We find that from January, 1941, to December, 1947, industrial wages went up 84 per cent, while the cost of living arose 69.1 per cent.

Dividends to stockholders represented about 35 per cent of corporate earnings in 1947. The remainder—65 per cent—went to improve products and services through research and better machines, to replace old plant equipment, and to provide additional working capital sorely needed because of higher wage and material cost.

Did you know that 75 per cent of the nation's post-war plant expansion program was financed out of current and past earnings? Well, such is the case.

Charles F. Kettering, engineer-

GIVE HIM A HOUSE IN THE TOP OF A TREE... Melton Arslanian (inset) of West Orange, N.J., who likes to watch the race of the go by from his treetop residence, says: "It's home to me and I like it... I'll fight any eviction to the highest court, if necessary." He built the one-room affair 100 feet above the ground 16 years ago as a "protest against civilization." Owner of the property on which the tree stands now wants to use the site for an amusement park and he says the tree must go.

General Motors Corporation, a Michigan concern, has the reputation of being the best managed corporation in the world.

And so when GM announced a two-year contract with the CIO United Automobile Workers granting workers an "annual improvement" of 3 cents an hour and 8 cents an hour tied to cost of living, many Michigan employers paid attention. Here was the pace-setter with a new formula for industrial peace.

In England where there is a labor government today, unions have been asked by their own government to heed the following: "It is essential that there should be no further general increase in the level of personal incomes without at least a corresponding increase in the volume of production." (White Paper, Feb. 4, 1948) The same policy could well be adopted over here.
