1846 Baptist Church Record Found in Center St. Home

Mrs. Frank Michael of 109 1/2 South Center Street presented the Record Office last Thursday with two volumes of records of the Northville Baptist Church dating back to 1846.

The books were discovered between the wall and the clothes press of the old Charles Harrington home on South Center street which is more than a century old. Charles Harrington's wife, Mrs. E. H. Lapham of High street related, was the former Stella Van Valtenburg, a faithful Baptist parishioner. The house was later purchased in 1885 by William Corrin and has been a part of that estate until recently when E. M. Bogart purchased it and sold it to the Masonic Association who hope at a future date to add to their present lodge quarters by building on that property.

Both the books are remarkably well preserved. They both read like diaries, with each Sunday's sermon text copiously written in by pen by the church clerk. Their covers are made of ordinary cardboard, yet they are in fairly good condition.

One of the books holds the records of the Baptist Church from April 25, 1846, to December 31, 1860. Church members are listed, and the pastor at that time was Reverend McCloud.

Various clerks of the church are mentioned. One of them was Winfield Scott, who according to Mrs. E. H. Lapham of High street says she remembers her mother telling that he and his wife were missionaries to China. Mrs. Lapham believes that they resided in the house at the corner of Main and Rogers street.

Another church clerk mentioned was William S. Gregory who was the father of J. S. Lapham, wife of the former Martha Gray. The third church clerk, Mrs. Lapham said, is the present Village Hall. A third church clerk mentioned during this period was Asa Sha, who Mrs. Lapham believes, used to reside in the present Forest Dale home, at the corner of Randolph and High streets.

The second book Mr. Michael gave the Record dated from January 2, 1861 to January 2, 1910. A list of the church members is recorded together with births and baptisms and deaths of the members.

Ministers of the church during this period included the Reverends, Thrasher, Dummock, Musser and Phelps. Clerks of the church at this time were Mrs. Fred Toussay, E. Grant, Fred C. Smith, E. W. Van Zile, Grace Lowden who lived on Rogers street just off Main street, and Clara Judson.

Members of the church heard Warren Bradley, a boy orator at that time, attended prayers and song services, as well as attending the regular Sunday services. The two books have been turned over to Rev. Walter Balogh, pastor of the Baptist Church to be kept with all the church files.

Union Services Start July 4th

The annual union services of the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches will begin on July 4 during the month of July services will be held in the Presbyterian Church with Rev. Wm. Hughes delivering the sermons and through August Rev. H. F. Fredsell will preach at the Methodist church.

Zoning Discussed Before Council

The Village Commission met in regular session Monday evening at the Village Hall.

A committee composed of Commissioners Jack Stubenvoll, Alton Peters, and Charles Scholtz was appointed to investigate the handling of Rural Hill cemetery which the city recently took over the management of.

A motion was made by George Locke to get estimates from local contractors on the cost of repairing the fire hall roof. Bids must be in by July 6. It was also decided to send representatives to the meeting of suburban communities in regard to the recent rate increase put into effect by Michigan Bell Telephone.

D. Harper Britton, local attorney, was appointed by the Commission to investigate whether or not Northville's zoning ordinances were being violated and to render a legal opinion at the next meeting July 6. This action resulted from a letter which Dr. Alred McClung Lee of East Cady street sent Conrau Langfield Village resident. The letter is here published in full.

As you are probably aware, a portion of lot 182 in zoning area R-2 has been used for a year or more for commercial automobile parking purposes. This is a violation of R 2 zoning regulations. I am told that for the present (1948) season Mr. Harley Cole has leased an even larger area to the Northville Trotting Club to operate as a commercial parking lot.

Reliable information has reached me that the size of the area leased by the Club for commercial parking purposes represents a very considerable expansion of the parking area in the R 2 zone. As an adjoining property owner of the owner of lot 177, I protest both the continued violation of R-2 zoning regulations in a section of lot 182 and, even more, the expansion of that violation into a larger area of that lot.

The people of Northville have a very great stake in the maintenance of the integrity of the Village's Zoning Ordinance, and I urge you to maintain this integrity by preserving the rules governing the various zones, especially those having to do with parking in the neighborhood of the track. These existing violations, as I am sure that any attorney would advise you and your fellow citizens, are representing a grave threat to the zoning structure and the property rights of many Northville property owners.

I know that I speak for many of my neighbors as well as myself when I petition you to put an end to these illegal acts.

Village Streets Being Repaired

The Wayne County Road Commissioners' report that work is progressing nicely on the curbing of East Main Street. It is expected that work will begin on the resurfacing of the Main Street business section the first part of next week. Main street will be given a black top surface.

The George Jerome and Co. civil engineers of Detroit, report that work began this week on pouring concrete curbing and gutter, and asphalt concrete surfacing of several streets in the east side of Northville. Construction work will be done on Church street between Cady and Beal streets, on Beal street from Church to Plymouth avenue, on Yerkes, from Beal to Gardner avenue, and on Gardner avenue from Yerkes to Plymouth Ave.

LOW LEVEL AIR MAIL . . . Ever since the days of the pony express ingenious Americans have been looking for new ways to deliver mail. Here is one way. The 135-foot blimp "Wonder Slip" set a precedent by making a low level delivery of a mail pouch with contributions to the Greater New York fund. Conservation Dept. Lists 5 Good Reasons for Going Fishing

The Michigan Department of Health today came forth with at least five good reasons for going fishing.
"Fishing with its anticipation, enthusiasm, fresh air, sunshine, exercise, relaxation and good companionship can help a man live happily and work well."
"A man needs a hobby. He needs pleasure. He needs relaxation and he needs to be out of doors. And then, too, the fish are good for him," the Department said.
The Department enjoined everyone who enjoys the sport to get out on the opening day of week end, but it also added some advice.

Check your boat to be sure it is solid and will not leak and that its motor is in safe working order. Do not overload it with gear or people. Don't stand up in it or change places while on the water. If you fish at night be sure you know the water on which you are fishing. Don't go out when a storm threatens or waves are high. If you can't swim to shore, you might take along a life preserver.

Watch out for sunburn and sunstroke. Wear a hat, long sleeves and long trousers. The sun's rays, reflected from the water, are doubly potent so take along some sunburn lotion. Don't overdo and don't get over-excited.

Take along an insect repellent. Don't drink lake water; carry your own safe water.
Treat fish hooks wounds, blisters and other injuries at once. A first aid kit is well worth the bother.
Don't lean way out of your boat. It is better to lose rod, reel and fish than your life.
If you are going to do any drinking, do it with your fish dinner rather than when you are enroute to the lake or on the lake. If you catch any fish, eat them. With their proteins, fat, calcium, iron and vitamins including A, thiamine, riboflavin and niacin, they're good for you.

The Neals, of Hubbard Avenue are on an extended vacation trip. Johnson Porter and his mother, Mrs. Porter of New London, O., arrived Friday to spend the week end with Mr. Johnson, Porter's parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Ault of Mayfield Avenue. Tractor Features Something New Earl Mastick is shown trying out the new Allis-Chalmers Model G tractor now featured at his farm implement company. Pointing out the features of the tractor is Harry Kulp, Allis-Chalmers blockman.

Something new in tractor design is being featured in the latest model of the Allis-Chalmers farm tractor now on display at the Earl S. Mastick Co., Mr. Mastick announces.

The concern located at the corner of Ann Arbor road and South Main street, is one of the leading farm implement stores in Plymouth. In addition to this, Mr. Mastick is also the Plymouth Packard dealer.

Designated as the Model G, the new tractor is equipped with a rear-mounted engine and the tools have been moved to a position in front of the operator, giving him an unobstructed vision of all rows and the entire cultivator.

This shift in design is no sudden development, Mr. Mastick reports. Rather, it is the result of several years of designing, exhaustive experimentation, and proven performance which has justified its production. He also expressed the belief that it will advance the mechanization of agriculture, lower farm production costs, and place the advantages of mechanization within reach of thousands of farmers who are still using animals and other unprofitable forms of farm power.

Mr. Mastick invites local residents to stop in and inspect the tractor.

One feature of special interest for close work such as cultivating vegetables, plowing out the corners or chore jobs is a special 3/4 mile per hour low gear. The four speeds forward range up to 6 1/2 miles per hour.

Wheel tracts can be adjusted to fit any row spacing. The tractor serves as a portable power unit on belt operated machines like water pumps, elevators, feed grinders and feed mixers.

The Counting Mirror
In colorful days a small hand mirror was used by bashful swains to help them propose. The young man would place the mirror face up on a table before the girl of his choice. The young lady would answer yes by smiling at his image in the mirror. If the answer were "no," she would turn the mirror.

Why Clothes Wrinkle
Chemists have discovered why garments wrinkle. Attributing wrinkles in clothing to the "personality of the individual fiber," a report made to American Chemical society declared that any fabric's resistance to stretching depends on the fineness of its filaments, the ease with which they are able to move in relation to one another and their ability to recover from stretching without being permanently deformed.

News and Comment from Congress

George A. Dondero
Savings in Government Appropriations: Congressman George A. Dondero points out savings by the House of Representatives in appropriations wherever possible while at the same time providing for national defense.

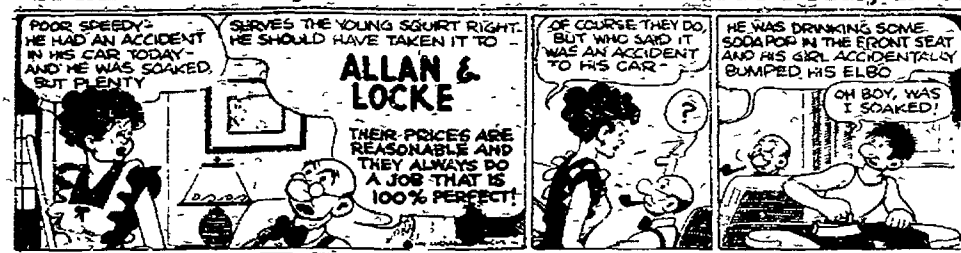

Appropriations Bills were cut materially over the amount asked by the President, namely, State-Commerce-Justice-Judiciary Bill was approved by the House for $79 million less than the President asked; Federal Security Administration Appropriation $11 million less than the President asked; District of Columbia Bill, $3 million less; $24 million less in the Interior Appropriation, although it carried $113 million more than was allowed last year. The Interior Appropriation Bill forbids the President to declare a moratorium on reclamation, flood control, or public works; prohibits the use of any funds for the Jackson Hole National Monument in Wyoming; and forbids the use of any of the money to pay persons who strike against the Government.

The House of Representatives has appropriated large sums to provide real national defense. It allotted $6,510,000,000 to the Army and allotted $3,687,000,000 to the Navy in fiscal 1949, with an additional appropriation of $3,198,000,000 for air power (mostly in fiscal 1949). There have also been provided $26 million for the Army Engineers, which brings the total for direct military purposes to $13,421,000,000. Believing that we should have a strong

Fly Immunity to DDT Is Debatable Question

Some insects develop resistance to DDT after it has been used for a few years? This question arises from the fact that a few fly-control failures on farms where DDT was effective in other years have been hard to account for. The explanation was that the flies probably had become resistant to the chemical.

Uncle Sam's entomologists admit that insects can develop resistance to the insecticides used against them, as in the case of the apple codling moth against which lead arsenate lost its effectiveness. Moreover, Uncle Sam's bug men say they have, in the laboratory, been able to develop a DDT-resistant strain of flies. It is not likely that a DDT-resistant strain would develop naturally in the short time since DDT was first used.

It is more reasonable to believe that the occasional failure on farms where DDT already has been used with good results is due to carelessness or inferior product. One thing in particular that should accompany the use of DDT is the destruction or removal of fly breeding places, such as manure piles, weed piles, old stack bottoms and wet spots in barnyards. One or more such spots may be able to turn out flies faster than DDT can kill them, for DDT is not noted for fast action. A fly may survive for hours after alighting on a surface coated with DDT.

Economic Equality of "Poor" States

Because of the needed expansion of industry during the war, a diversified economy was brought to the so-called "poor" States, which has helped to stabilize their capacity to meet local government and family life. Increases in per capita income in the "poor" States since 1940 have averaged between 120% and 145%, while increases in the "rich" States have been closer to 85% or 100%. This added wealth has enabled these States to meet their governmental obligations, which would also be true of individuals and families in meeting their needs for housing, educational and health facilities. In contrast we find the Federal Government is more than $258 billion in debt. Federal aid on various projects means adding an increase in overhead cost to any project thus promoted.

Why Clothes Wrinkle

Chemists have discovered why garments wrinkle. Attributing wrinkles in clothing to the "personality of the individual fibers," a report made to American Chemical society declared that any fabric's resistance to stretching depends on the fineness of its filaments, the ease with which they are able to move in relation to one another, and their ability to recover from stretching without being permanently deformed.

Herds and Flocks

New insecticide, pyrethron, has proved its effectiveness in control of flies on livestock. Better than some of the old-time fly killing insecticides, the new material is being used now in some livestock fly sprays. Use of protein supplements in rations for shots always has been profitable. Some farmers have failed to use these supplements, though, because of their cost. Now that grain is so high, the cost of protein supplements is relatively low. So, if the use of supplements is more important one time than another, now is that time. It looks now like the farmer who has a flock of good pullets in the laying house next fall will get good prices for eggs. The better care you take of pullets now, the better they will be able to stand up under the strain of heavy laying next fall. Benzene Hexachloride, recommended by some specialists at agricultural colleges for control of hog lice and mites, now is being incorporated in hog ointments that can be used in dipping vats, hog wallows, hog ointments or on rubbing posts.

Reviving Grindstone

This farm grindstone, although badly battered after its entire diameter was worn quite flat in one place, was easily true-up by pressing it with the sharp-pointed tool shown attached to the small board. The dark "cutting tip" of the tool is made of carbide cemented carbide, the hardest metal made by man.

Maybe YOUR automobile is in good mechanical condition.
But how about the "other driver"—the fellow who is driving the automobile you meet on the road?

Secretary of State, Fred M. Alger Jr. believes Michigan could save both money and lives by requiring the other driver to keep his car in safe driving condition.

Aside from the initial investment in testing equipment, the cost of periodic automobile inspections would be made self-supporting through a modest fee—50 cents every six months.

State police report that traffic accidents climbed to a new high in 1947. The accident total climbed 25 per cent over 1946. Not so many people were killed. Property damage was up 29 per cent.

All in all, the highway toll ran into many millions of dollars in property damage and hospital bills, not to mention the tragic snuffing out of human lives and the suffering of survivors.

As shown by a reduction of highway deaths in 1947, much progress has already been made in Michigan. But there is still much left to do, in the opinion of Secretary of State Alger and the newspaper editors committee.

It is significant to note that New Jersey cut highway deaths 40 per cent in one year by requiring the "other driver" to keep his car in safe condition.

There's DAY and NIGHT difference in the old and new gas ranges

A SWITCH FROM THAT INEFFICIENT OLD-FASHIONED RANGE . . . TO A MODERN, ECONOMICAL, AUTOMATIC ROPER

GAS RANGE WILL PROVE THIS FACT

One formidable barrier to periodic mechanical inspection is the initial heavy investment in equipment to check the automobiles. A substantial appropriation of state money would be needed, and the State of Michigan faces a deficit in the new fiscal year.

And yet a rise in the cost of highway accidents, as shown by the 1947 toll, is costing someone—the other driver, now and then—far more in the aggregate than the amount required to buy the inspection equipment.

Here is another problem that affects everybody: Are the savings worth the cost?
