

1809 - LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY - 1865

Born into the poverty of a frontier family... he rose to the highest position the American people can confer upon a man. And during his years of public service, Abraham Lincoln showed in all of his words and deeds, that he never stopped believing in the greatness... the power... the freedom... and the dignity of the people.

And His Words of Yesterday Hold True Today

"... that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Congressman Introduces Bill To Aid Small Business Men

As of January 31st, the 81st Congress had been in session a total of twenty-eight days and a total of THREE laws had been enacted. 2,833 bills had been introduced in the House of Representatives, and 757 in the Senate.

Last summer the President called the 80th Congress the "Do Nothing Congress" and when he called it in extra-ordinary session he told it that an entire four-term-point legislative program could be enacted in two weeks.

The 81st Congress, with a large majority of the President's party seeking up its number, has been working a month and its only major piece of legislation has been to raise the President's salary.

TAFT-HARTLEY LABOR ACT
Work is under way on the revision of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act by a Senate committee. Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin appeared in behalf of the measure. He told the committee that he and his associates had drawn the bill. This, then, is a clear case of the Executive taking the power and duties of the people's representatives — the Legislative Branch.

Our laboring men, in the election of 1946, demanded protection from the strikes which had deprived them of the right to work and which had eaten up their savings accumulated during the war years. The American Council of Christian Churches has this to say about the Taft-Hartley Act: "For one thing, this Act grants protection to the conscientious worker who desires to turn out an honest day's work."

The President's proposed labor bill abolishes: (1) Freedom of speech by employers, (2) the ban on strikes against the government, (3) the President's power to obtain injunctions against strikes which endanger the national welfare; (4) the ban on union political expenditures (but retains the ban on political contributions by banks and corporations); (5) the ban on mass picketing.

Congressman George A. Dondero states: "President Truman himself used the powers granted under the Taft-Hartley Act to halt strikes which would have caused national disaster." He further states: "There have been fewer strikes and more steady work with better labor relations under the Act than before it was passed. Several polls of the rank and file of labor in the main approve the present Act."

for lack of these certificates." The Dondero Bill grants an additional period of six months from date of its passage to secure these certificates. "There is nothing new in this proposal," Congressman Dondero said, "as such extensions have been granted in the past for filing of elections in internal revenue matters, on a number of occasions. It allows small concerns to do business under the same treatment as large firms."

The ratio of small business to large business is 90.4%, who during 1946 employed 29,384,000 persons or sixty-five per cent of all industrial employees of the country.

Archie Niles Drives Winners in Arizona

With the closing of Northville Downs each fall many of the local drivers move on to other ovals to race during the winter months. From Sportsman's Park at Phoenix, Arizona comes word of Archie Niles, well known driver from Northville.

From the February issue of "The Harness Horse" the following excerpts were taken: "January 17-Archie Niles, Northville, Michigan No. 1 favorite, entered the charmed circle for the first time at Sportsman's Park with his own Bob Hedgewood."

"January 18-The big news of the night was Archie Niles, Jr. breaking his maiden when he neatly handled Dan Wagner to a five length win in a 9-16 dash. The latest addition to the driving Niles, wearing the clan's proud green and white colors, made his first official appearance on the track opening night and finished a good second. To prove that his first win was no fluke, young Archie came right back in the mile."

"January 22-Archie Niles wound up the first six nights of racing over the new Sportsman's park oval in a blaze of glory, when he piloted Cheeky Chief to two track records. The speedy five-year-old Chief Abbe-dale horse set a blistering pace for early January with a 1:07 3-5 performance in the 9-16 and came right back in the mile with another brilliant 2:07 2-5 heat."

"In addition to bringing home Cheeky Chief, Archie made it a triple with his own Halwood, winning a 9-16 in 1:10 2-5."

"January 26-The Morris Robinson-owned Whitney Bars, cleverly handled by Archie Niles, surprised one and all in the final race of the night when the bay horse paced to the top at the half and held on to edge Carroll Dale by a neck."

Concert Ass'n to Present Violinist

The Northville Concert Association will present concert artist Yfrah Neuman, violinist, Monday, February 21 at the Wayne County Training School auditorium. The concert will begin at 8:15.

The young violinist was born twenty-four years ago in Palestine. At nine he studied in Paris at the Conservatory and at fourteen graduated with a Premier Prix.

He began his career on the continent when war broke and "anxious" to "do his bit," Neuman became a factory worker from 1943 to 1945.

He became an overnight sensation when "on short notice," he left his factory job to replace his sick music teacher, Rostal, to play the Beethoven Concerto with the London Symphony.

Since the war Neuman has toured South Africa, Holland, England, and Ireland. His first tour in the states took him to Denver, Colorado, where he played with the Civic Symphony Orchestra.

Motor City Open Dates Announced

From Sunday's Detroit News comes the following article of local interest:

"Just before leaving for Florida Saturday morning Hugh Rader, chairman, announced that the PGA had granted Detroit the dates of June 16, 17, 18 and 19 for the second annual Motor City Open tournament, which again will be held at the Meadowbrook Country Club.

Rader and George Schneider, tournament manager of the Professional Golfers Association, telephoned him from Tucson, Ariz., informing him Detroit could have the dates it desired.

"The tournament will start just five days after the National Open at Midway, Chicago, thus insuring the presence of the 1949 National Open champion in the competition."

The whole Detroit District Golf Association schedule has been held up pending the award of the dates and, in particular, Red Run Golf Club has been delaying the selection of dates for its annual invitational tournament.

Rader explained the "delay." "Tentatively we had dates one week later in June, but these went to the Inverness tournament and we were offered the last week in July. We accepted that assignment and then learned that July's last week would be marked by the holding of the Harmsworth Trophy race."

"What a boat race has to do with golf wasn't readily understandable, but we were advised that 'all of Detroit would be going down to the river to see that race' so we asked the PGA for the mid-June dates we have been given. That meant Schneider had to re-work the entire PGA schedule to accommodate us. He did that but it took time. We are grateful, therefore, to the Detroit District and to Red Run for waiting on us and we apologize to all the golfers in the district for our part in inconveniencing them."

Rader also announced that J. Russell Gnaul again would be assistant chairman and that Charley Escoc, of Olympia, would be in charge of the ticket sale.

Whether the Detroit Automobile Dealers' Association will be a co-sponsor of the tournament, Rader said he did not know. The DADA was last year and was allowed to put its new models on the clubhouse grounds, creating what was, in effect, an outdoor auto show.

"A one-day tournament also was arranged for the dealers, who played with the country's best pros. A Lincoln convertible was the first prize and was won by Marty Furgol, of Hollywood, Calif."

Rader said the DADA probably would make a decision this week. Golf-minded dealers may be solicited individually to participate or motor manufacturers might be approached, he added.

Toxin and vaccinations to prevent Small Pox will be given Tuesday, February 15 in the grade school lunch room.

March of Dimes Returns Reported

Nelson Schaefer, chairman of the local March of Dimes Drive report, that so far $481.77 has been turned in to aid the polio program.

The 1949 figure for Northville will not be complete however until the monies from those residents who sent their contributions directly to Detroit headquarters have been determined.

The money collected from canvassers amounted to $130.00; from the theatre campaign, $35.67; from public school, $143.00; from the Boy Scouts, $71.70; and from individual contributions, $102.00.

Alger, Jr., having informed him that but 270,557 people have obtained the new plates since they were put on sale last December in 1948. Believing the future of the Northville schools to be of the utmost importance to all local residents, I wish to present a few of the pertinent issues involved in considering additions to our present school buildings. Copies of the following letter were also sent the Village Commission and the Northville School Board.

Back in 1916 after considerable study and work by members of the Northville Planning Commission of that period as well as others from the Village of Northville including the school board, village commission and any other individuals that were interested there were developed complete plans and specifications for the Northville Community Building together with a civic auditorium. It was planned that this building could be erected immediately to the east of the high school and could then be made available to the school board for use for certain classes as well as gymnasium, auditorium and cafeteria. It was also planned to put the music room for the band in it as well. At the time the expected cost of the entire structure completely finished was approximately $150,000.00.

Further it was considered that by making available to the school board this additional space and these additional rooms and cafeteria, there would be released in the present high school building almost the entire basement section, which could then be used to relieve the present very overcrowded classes.

It was also planned and agreed that the high school would have to build a new boiler or heating plant in the very near future from that date, in accordance with new State laws would have to build outside of the present high school building, and the plans were that this new unit would be of sufficient size to take care of both buildings and that this could be accomplished without increasing the size of the new boiler room building and would only require boilers of slightly larger capacity than needed for the high school building alone. This would release still additional space in the basement of the present high school building, which could, without too great an expense, go a long way to

Northville's
Yesterdays

ONE YEAR AGO

Ash Wednesday ushered in the pre-Easter season with special services at the Village churches.

Rev. Dr. Horace A. White, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church, Detroit, and one of the outstanding Negro leaders of the United States will be the guest speaker of the Exchange Club Wednesday, February 18th.

Dairy farmers of the county, acting through several farm organizations are promoting a special dairy day program to be held in Pontiac, Monday, February 16.

Smarting under a previous defeat, the Northville Mustangs brought pride to local hearts when they left Plymouth on the small end of a 24-21 score Tuesday night at Plymouth.

FIVE YEARS AGO

If the school children of Northville can make their quota of $50,000 and qualify for the new Mustang P-51 plane, Northville and community will have met its quota on the 4th War Loan Drive.

Tuesday noon the two Northville Scout Troops and their committees were dinner guests of the two luncheon clubs. About 25 Scouts enjoyed a chicken pie dinner served at the clubs.

A unique and dramatic pageant has been prepared for the mortgage burning ceremony at the Methodist church Sunday evening. The Board of Trustees, representatives of the women's societies, youth and children's groups, will lead the Pastor and Bishop Wade in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Willis have retired from their furniture business in Detroit and are now located permanently in their home on Rayson Street.

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Northville Commandery No. 39 Knights Templar, which is to commemorate the enrollment of its one hundredth member March 25 is now closing its thirty-third year.

Our Ed Fuller has again been out capturing honors for Northville in the poultry breeding line. Mr. Fuller's efficient management of the poultry and pet stock department has made that section a big card for Northville's two fairs.

SWEET TIME

On Valentine Day Party Foods Are Hearty, Romantic

By ETTA HALEY

EVEN foods can take on that lacy, heart-shaped, romantic look if you're planning a Valentine's party. The food and color scheme for this special occasion is one of the prettiest of the year, and the food among the tastiest ever planned.

Your color scheme, naturally, is red and white; or, if you prefer, it may be pink and white, but the first is easier to carry out since so few foods are pink.

Set your table with a white cloth which may be cotton, damask, linen or even not bought by the yard. Paste on this red sticker hearts, large or small or assorted sizes. (These will come off easily and leave no worrisome stains.)

Red and white carnations make a pretty centerpiece if you decide on flowers. However, you may have one of those beautiful red, heart-shaped boxes set on a large paper doily. Heart-shaped cookies, candy, little rolls of paper tied with ribbon and lace, and containing romantic sentiments may fill the box.

Now, here's the menu for Valentine's Day supper:

Chilled Cranberry Juice
Creamed Chicken in Party Shells
Heart-Shaped Fruit Salad
Lover's Knot Rolls
Frozen Cherry Torte
Candy Mint

How to Do: Serve the chilled juice as guests arrive. For the chicken, make two cups of medium white sauce and add to this one and one-half cups shredded, cooked or canned chicken. This amount will serve five people. Place hot chicken mixture into party shells made in small pie tins or muffin cups, and top with pastry hearts. These are made by rolling the scraps of pie crust and cutting with cookie cutter, and baking in a hot oven until light brown.

Your Valentine party dessert, Frozen Cherry Torte, is lacy, colorful and deliciously tempting.

Lover's knot rolls are simply yeast dough, at in three or four-inch strips and tied loosely. The salad is made of any red gelatin mixture to which canned fruits are added, and then chilled until firm in a heart mold.

The dessert for this menu is lacy and colorful as well as deliciously tempting, therefore much in keeping with this menu.

Frozen Cherry Torte
(Serves 6-8)

1 No. 2 can sour pitted cherries
3 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
3 egg whites, beaten stiff
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons sugar
18 ladyfingers or angel cake strips
1 cup whipping cream
Strain juice from cherries. Combine juice, one-half cup sugar, slightly beaten egg yolks, in top of double boiler. Cook until slightly thickened. Remove from fire, add cherries and lemon juice. Cool until thick but not firm, then fold in egg whites beaten stiff with the two tablespoons of sugar. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into a mold which has been lined with ladyfingers or cake strips. Cover top of mixture with cake strips, too. Freeze until firm.

Another demonstration party was held at the home of Mrs. Austin Ault, on Brentwood Ave., last Monday evening. About sixteen ladies were present. Additional entertainment was provided by interesting games, during which useful prizes were won by Mrs. Albert Owen, Mrs. Clinton Ault, Shirley Ault and Freda Ault. After the demonstration cake and coffee were served to all guests.

The Slings were Sunday afternoon guests at the Griffiths, in Detroit.

The Sidemiers, who recently moved from West Point Park to Plant City, Florida, write that these nights of heavy frost killed the young strawberry plants. However, for sometime Florida has been the only warm state in the Union.

The Eighth Graders now have a full day instead of half-day sessions.

William Owen, a West Point Park boy, now with the Detroit Police, was a recent visitor at Northville High, from which he graduated some years back.

A favorite subject for discussion among school patrons these days is the manner in which school bus routes are laid out.

Maude Gallagher, who resides with her sister, Mrs. Chas. A. Armstrong on Mayfield Ave., is spending a few weeks at the Riverbank Convalescent Home on Ann Arbor Trail near Plymouth. Mrs. Armstrong was a visitor in the home Friday.

Something unusual in the way of demonstration parties was that held at the home of Mrs. James Simpson on Mayfield Ave., last Thursday afternoon. The demonstrator was the young wife of a blind man and the articles displayed were all made by her husband or some other similarly handicapped person. The showing of handmade rugs and leather goods was exceptionally noteworthy. About fourteen local women were present at the interesting affair. This being February, a couple of mirth-provoking Valentine games were played, thus putting everyone in a good humor, and as prizes, tiny lucky elephants were awarded Mrs. Stanley Charney and Miss Freda Ault.

Mrs. Simpson, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Brugnaff, served tea and cake at the afternoon's close.

Within the next few weeks Mrs. Ernest Tallman and Mrs. Cecil Willet will each give a Blind-Aid party, hoping to arouse greater interest in this community in the handicraft of blind persons.

Mrs. Leslie Grundy was a visitor in Detroit Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stange visited with relatives in Redford Saturday afternoon.

Patty Schult has been home and on the sick list.

Harry Lewis was at the Deaconess Hospital, Detroit Sunday visiting his mother, who has been very ill.

Shirley Sandu and her younger brother, Frank, of Hubbard Ave., are spending a week of two with their grandmother in Detroit.

Early Sunday morning a car was discovered almost turned over on Engle Motor in Hubbard Ave. The driver appeared to have fled. As traffic was being hindered police were requested to move the car.

Mrs. M. E. Ault attended a dinner, arranged for all members of the Borland family at the home of Robert Borland in Redford. Others present besides Mr. and Mrs. Robert Borland and Mrs. Ault were Mr. and Mrs. John Ackerman of Dearborn and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Borland of East Detroit.

The body of Lt. Don Coolman, who was killed over Italy during the war was among Sunday's published list of those bodies which have reached the States. It is expected that the remains will rest at the home of the young man's parents on Shadyside Ave. for the final services, before interment is made.

Christian Science Churches
 "Soul" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 13.
 The Golden Text (Psalms 23:1-3) is "The Lord is my shepherd: I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures. He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul."
 Among the Bible citations is this passage: (Psalms 62:5, 7) "My soul, wait thou only upon God, for my expectation is from him. In God salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge is in God."

Cupid's Cut-Outs

Valentines For School Children 2,000 Years Old

Our familiar school-room "Valentine Box" goes back nearly 2,000 years.

It originated in the ancient Roman "love lotteries." On the Feast of Lupercalia, toga-clad bachelors drew names of blushing maids from an urn in the public square—the world's first "blind dates."

Pope Gaius in 496 A.D. dedicated Feb. 14 to the martyred St. Valentine, Patron Saint of True Lovers. In his memory, Valentine Boxes were set up in church schools and students drew the names of their patron saints for the coming year.

School children began sending friendly, light-hearted Valentines to one another only about 100 years ago.

Crudely-lettered crayon drawings sufficed at first. Today, however, cleverly designed and colorfully printed Valentines are available in wide variety to delight youngsters of all ages. Some picture nursery rhymes and story—book scenes. Others are giant cut-outs, nearly a foot high, that stand by themselves.

Not all juvenile Valentines will be slipped into school Valentine Boxes this year, despite historical precedent. Many greetings are titled for youngsters to send to parents and well-loved relatives. And there's a fad among teen-agers for "kid Vals," like the daisy-plucking Miss above, because of their clever sketches and carefree sentiments.

Youth Group Plans Progressive Supper

The Senior Youth Fellowship, consisting of Methodist and Presbyterian young people, had one of their most successful meetings last Sunday. The meetings are being held at the Presbyterian Church house during February.

The discussion was led by Yvonne North and Sally Merriam. Mrs. Leslie G. Lee is sponsor of the group and she is assisted by Harold Hartley. Hosts for the refreshment period were Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Woodruff and Mrs. Tecla Owen. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Menge assisted at the social period.

A progressive supper is planned for Sunday, February 13, starting at 6:00 p. m. Opening worship will be held in the church house and from there the group will go to the home of Celia Bloom for the first course. The second course will be served at the home of Mary Jean Woodruff on Beck Road and the third course will be eaten at the home of Carl Matzen on Novi Road. Dessert will be served at the home of Nancy Ryder of Randolph Street.

The young people will be transported by sled or wagon, depending on the weather.

Farm Outlook Bright For Coming 5 Years

U. S. Economists Show Optimism in Forecasts

In spite of some recent declines in farm prices, agricultural economists of the U. S. department of agriculture took an optimistic point of view at their recent outlook conference in Washington, D. C. In the past, these economists have confined their estimates of the outlook to the coming 12 months. This time they tried to look five years ahead. And, they decided that things look fairly good for the farmer for that long.

Of course, they made two basic assumptions that some people still are a little doubtful about—that a stable peace will be established and that there will be no serious depression.

hasten to point out that these are assumptions, not predictions. They then go on to point out that the population will increase between one and two million persons a year until 1952; that industrial output per worker will increase, and that yields per acre and per livestock unit probably also will increase.

High incomes for industrial workers will mean a steady market for foodstuffs and clothing. High yield per worker might mean more stable prices for industrial goods. Higher yields per acre and per animal unit will mean more economical production for the farmer.

All in all, this shapes up to just about the kind of five-year period that the farmers themselves would like to enjoy. High production at fair prices means a break for producers and consumers—a square deal for both.

Battle Against Afosa

In a drive to stamp out Afosa (foot and mouth disease) from Mexico in two years, a joint U. S.-Mexico commission has undertaken the job of vaccinating from eight to 10 million cattle in the affected area by the end of 1949.

Trained teams go ahead of the vaccine to preach the benefits of vaccination and convince the sometimes ignorant cattle owners that vaccination is the only alternative to disaster.

By the end of 1949 the program will have cost approximately 50 million dollars. It includes five points: constant inspection, disinfection, eradication, vaccination and quarantine.

The vaccination process itself is simple. A needle of the vaccine is shot into the animal and that's all there is to it. It will take from eight to 10 million shots to complete the job. The vaccine protects for six months.

Expert Urges Milk Cows Be Taught 'Good Habits'

Training your cows in good habits is most important to all dairymen, according to a leading dairy specialist. He lists the following recommendations for more milk, greater profits and reduced losses:

Keep cows undisturbed; stimulate milk letdown one minute before milking begins; operate milking machine according to manufacturer's instructions.

Proper Carburetor Use Cuts Farm Fuel Costs

A heavy tractor operating under a load with the carburetor slightly out of adjustment may burn a half gallon more fuel per hour. In the average 50 days a year that farm tractors operate, the tractor may burn 250 gallons more fuel annually than it should.

Proper carburetor adjustment would save 10 per cent of the total fuel burned in farm tractors annually.

ward easing the present building problems, if not entirely doing so. Further this would be on a permanent basis and would not require abandoning any of the rooms or walls so changed as would be the case if they were done on a temporary basis.

As chairman of the Planning Commission and because I was thoroughly acquainted with all plans and discussions, having been present at every meeting and having worked with the architects very closely on the development of the plans, I visited the Village Commission many times, urging that they appoint a finance committee to consider the erection of this building and to work with a similar group from the school board so that when the time came that this work must proceed, all possible plans of financing would be discussed and arranged thereby not causing delay or possible temporary measures to take care of an emergency that might arise. Likewise I visited the school board at their meetings at intervals and discussed it with the members urging that they also appoint such a committee to consider their financial problems in connection with this improvement so that they in turn would have their financial problems arranged and planned when and if any emergency need for such a structure as this might arise.

I called to their attention the fact that with the increase in classes through the grade schools to the extent that practically two additional class rooms were being required with each year's passage, it would not be very long before such an emergency could arise, and I felt that it was very important that this preliminary work and planning be arranged as soon as possible so that the greatest and most economical use of the funds necessary could be made. I felt this responsibility to these bodies because as chairman of the Planning Commission I felt that it was expected of me to keep placing these facts in front of those who had to make the decisions and who must through committee action and study, arrange the financing to accomplish these results.

It would further be necessary that these committees decide definitely between themselves as to where the efforts and responsibilities of the school board started and ended in the work that they were to do, and where the village commission's responsibilities started and ended, all of which would then have to be finally agreed upon by the village commission and the school board.

As it has now developed the emergency for additional school space is here. If either group has ever had a committee to work on this problem, it is my understanding that there have never been any joint meetings between the committee of the two groups or any effort on the part of the two groups to get together to discuss the problem of financing.

Further I understand that the school board is now considering very seriously the purchasing and erecting of quonset buildings for temporary class rooms. This will involve foundations, adequate and satisfactory flooring, heating, lighting, interior finishing etc. to the end that considerable money will have to be spent for temporary buildings, which when they are later torn down will have very little salvage value to the school board and taxpayers as compensation for the money spent on such a temporary program.

In connection with the community building, it is possible to erect parts of this building this coming summer and have it available for fall to the extent that considerable space can be added.

to the high school building for one penny would be wasted. I am sure the slight additional funds could be made necessary through proper financing. I sincerely trust that before definite commitments are made by the school board for quonset huts or such temporary facilities involving expenditures of goodly amounts of money, consideration be given to accomplishing the permanent possibilities that are available to them.

In the event that such a program as the foregoing is still not possible to be agreed upon, the school board could add on additional rooms, which would be permanent at not too great a cost and could then be sure that every dollar spent is not going toward temporary purposes. It is not too late this year to go into this seriously and positively if done soon, and these facilities would then be available for the next school year.

Very truly yours,
WALTER L. COUSE.

RE. Northville's Future.

Birmingham is known as the best residential suburb in the Detroit area, and at one time Northville was second in desirability. On many occasions it has been called the "Little Switzerland of Michigan."

What Do You Think? In these times there are numerous sources of investments open for good financial returns.

accompanied by the satisfaction of benefits to Northville.

Is our community gradually becoming dependent upon a small group of financiers, much as an addict becomes dependent upon opium, and eventually is destroyed by its use? Is our way of life, so recently fought for, being menaced? Is there any comparison, basically, between our relationship to the group and that of the satellite countries?

We are reminded regularly by radios to be alert to the privileges of our heritage; lest by our indifference we destroy ourselves.

Shall We Keep It So? Many of us are several generations old in this community; our roots are planted deep in its life, which has been simple and good. An atmosphere that has been conducive to good citizenship, in the training of our children.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Ward Masters.

posals as it now pays under the present franchise tax." In other words, big city corporations would be the "fall guy."

What would be the effect of the Williams tax on corporation profits?

According to Harvey Campbell, executive vice-president of the Detroit Board of Commerce, it would encourage flight of capital to other states.

Quoting Campbell: "You cannot estimate the damage that has been done to Michigan by five income tax (franchise) that came out of Lansing before the Governor's oath got cold. Already we have heard from local industrialists who plan plant expansion but figure that they're not wanted here so they're looking at less extravagant state in which to extend their payrolls."

"It has happened before -- and it will happen again, because politicians can't seem to learn that payrolls are sensitive and aren't compelled to stay in one place."

Governor Kim Sigler's solution was to repeal the sales tax diversion amendment. He offered no immediate substitute for needed revenue, pointing out that the status tax system badly needed overhauling and that such could be accomplished through a constitutional convention.

The sales tax amendment added the state treasury to the tune of 78 cents out of each tax dollar. It created the inevitability of a $61,000,000 treasury deficit for the state's fiscal year ending June 30, 1950.

Sigler's opponent, G. Mennen Williams, favored the sales tax amendment which he said was vital for inflation financing of public schools. And when Williams became the beneficiary of several hundred thousand "protest" votes, cast by Republican ticket supporters, the top question at Lansing became this:

What would Governor Williams do about the looming deficit?

His first message to the legislature indicated sympathy with social objectives and a willingness to impose new taxes to finance spending. Later the governor made it clear that curtailment of services could not be done without inflicting hardship on the mentally ill and aged and other citizens already pressed financially to make ends meet.

The final question was narrowed down to WHAT kind of new taxes would the governor advocate -- an income tax, consumer nuisance taxes, real estate tax or one or more other money-raising levies?

Governor Williams' remedy, as submitted to the legislature last week, would be to tax corporation profits. A 4 percent levy on net income, prior to federal taxes, would yield about $67,000,000. And, since the estimated deficit was $61,000,000 the profit tax on corporations would leave a possible $6,000,000 in new revenues to offset a proposed $9,000,000 hike in social benefits. Industry and business, as represented by corporations, would thus foot the bill to avert a deficit and to help finance a better life for low-income workers.

Governor Williams insists that the tax on profits "would actually amount to a reduction" for many corporations. "Except for a few gigantic corporations of $20 millions or more net worth, a corporation would have to make 8 1/2 per cent income on net worth to pay as much under this pro-

Wayne Co. 4-H Safety Record Best in State

Wayne county has been selected by the State Extension Office as reporting the most outstanding 4-H Farm Safety program of 1948 in Michigan. As a reward, the County Extension Office receives a General Motors plaque, appropriately engraved to designate the honor. Purpose of this awards program, it was announced, is to encourage 4-H boys and girls to practice and promote safety at all times.

According to Miss Marie Wolfe, County Club Agent, 400 of the 450 4-H Club members enrolled in the project made safety surveys of their farm homes and communities. Some of the common hazards were loose boards on porches and steps; defective stove pipes; stairways cluttered with miscellaneous articles; oily rags improperly stored; and rubbish left in yards. Parent-Teachers' Associations and mothers' groups cooperated in the county-wide program.

Wayne county medal winners in the National 4-H Farm Safety programs were: Roy Spiceland, Rita Spiceland, John Posgay, all of Bellevue, and Marian Amheim of Plymouth. Forty-two additional county medal winners were named throughout the state.
