Work Progresses On Church Edifice

Scores and scores of villagers have been watching progress being made in the erection of St. Paul's Lutheran church and parish hall, corner Elm and High Streets. The edifice, which is being built by the Walter Couse and Company, General Contractors, seems to be shaping up by leaps and bounds.

Built on semi-gothic architecture already the exterior of the parish hall has been completed. The trusses for the church unit are up, and continued mild weather permitting, it is hoped that the cornerstone laying ceremony can be set for sometime early in the spring.

The cost of the church has been set at $150,000 and it is being financed by first mortgage real estate bonds. About $65,000 in bonds have already been sold and they are $40 available at $35.00, $100.00, $500.00 and $1000.00. The terms of the bonds vary from five to 20 years, and the interest ranges from two and one-half, three, four and one-half and four per cent. Anyone interested in purchasing a bond is asked to contact Rev. E. E. Rosow, the church's pastor.

St. Paul's old steeple and bell will be installed in the new structure's tower and the old cornerstone, bearing the 1897 date of erection will be transplanted into the narthex of the new church.

The old church and school hall will be sold upon completion of the new one and that area will be landscaped. Ample parking space will be provided for the church worshippers so that cars will not have to line the residential streets.

Regular seating capacity for the new church will total 300 with space provided for an overflow congregation of 200. The parish hall's seating capacity will be 300. The building will be radiant heated. Fred Sterner has the plumbing and heating contract and the electrical contract had been let out to Elmer DeKay.

to the Editor

To the Editor

From the pulpit of the Northville Presbyterian Church, last Sunday came a fine answer to the proposition put out by the state of the business men of Northville to the Governor recently.

Important in our way of life and our progress and Democracy is the use of free enterprise, but unfortunately, there has been an increasing tendency to have that this means financial control. Many are lulled in the belief that it is what we get that counts, and that the source matter, not more and not we hear, something subtle, something badly. It's not the thing of the easy money.

How then, in our town, is the question, pertinent to learn those here who on which our country was founded. Especially and they learn the value of hard work, but more important, the happiness and satisfaction which comes from the knowledge of effort expended and fine results achieved. Too long has the principle of do as little as possible and get all you can be practiced. Now is the time for an about face. Our children must not grow up thinking this is the normal way of life.

Congratulations to Harold Fredsell, Sheldon Rahm, and all those others who are so courageously leading us in the effort to get our state out of the gambling business.

Yours very truly,
Gladys L. Weiss

Confused Republican bigwigs, still bewildered from the November election shock, were weighing this week the merits and demerits of a brand new issue for the coming spring election.

The issue is more emotional than rational. It doesn't have much to do with maintenance of state highways, for good or worse, or whether Michigan boys and girls are getting a good deal in education; or all of the other things candidates for office conjure when they're wooing votes. These would be the stuff about which speeches are written.

Being emotional in its substance the issue would be controversial and highly explosive. Some leaders counsel that "sleeping dogs" should not be disturbed so soon; others think that the dogs are far from being in innocent slumber, that they already have Republican legislators up a tree, and so the party might better face the music and get going — to mix the metaphors.

All of this cryptic stuff is preface to the Feb. 5 record of the State Democratic convention at Grand Rapids.

Here it is, as facts readily bear out.

Old-line Democrats, such as those who once loyally followed Murray D. "Pat" Van Wagener, witnessed the "capture" on Feb. 5 of the state Democratic organization by the Congress of Industrial Organizations. The party boss was not the youthful Governor G. Mennen Williams, the Grosse Pointe beneficiary on Nov. 2 of CIO "yes" votes and GOP "no" votes.

The new party boss was August Scholle, president of the CIO state council and chairman of the grand Political Action Committee. It was the astute Scholle who presented a list of candidates to be nominated for the spring election.

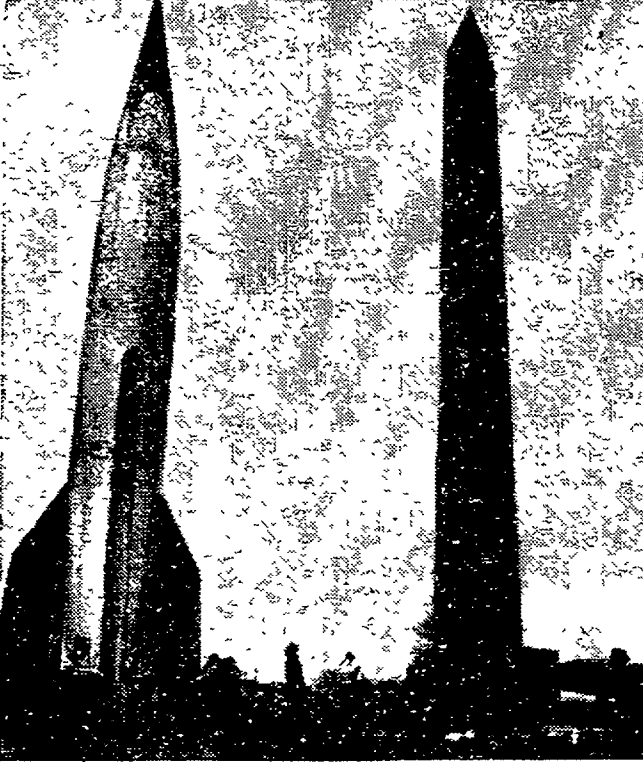

Opponent to his state endorsed Edward F. Scholle, a "lame" Democrat for state highway commissioner, was William H. Harvey of Birmingham, a former opponent for the state highway department. Because of the candidate's capabilities and the well-run campaign directed by C. W. Lucas, secretary to former Governor Van Wagener, the Harvey bandwagon was running smooth. That is — until Scholle took over.

The CIO choice for highway commissioner was John H. McCarthy of Mt. Clemens, for superintendent of public instruction, E. Burr Sherwood of Stambaugh.

The convention was also unorthodox politically in the fact that the state chairman, John R. Franco, was completely ignored. Hicks Griffiths, law partner of Governor Williams, was chosen chairman.

The CIO tried to upset the re-election candidacy of Justice Edward E. Sharpe of Bay City because of Sharpe's record of court decisions, said to have been "reactionary." John B. Legatz, former Muskegon prosecutor, was favored for the Supreme court post. But the party leaders, apparently worried that the CIO might be going too far, finally united on Sharpe. The second nominee, George E. Bushnell of Highland Park, was unopposed.

Since the record shows that the Michigan CIO dictated most of the choices the question before Republican strategists is something like this: Should the GOP make the CIO the spring election issue? Should Michigan let one labor organization "take over" selection of a party ticket?

IT'S ALL IN HOW YOU LOOK AT IT. . . Through a trick of perspective and camera angle, this German V-2 rocket appears to dwarf the 555-foot Washington monument. The rocket, however, is only 55 feet high and is a part of the armed forces exhibit on the monument grounds. The V-2 was powerful enough to be one of the Nazis' most effective weapons in the attacks on Great Britain.

Here might be the potential ingredients of another "protest" vote, much to the liking of those citizens who relish casting their ballot in reverse.

But to stir up the CIO, hush-hush other Republican leaders, would only invite an organized march of union members to the polls. That, runs counter to traditional GOP strategy of concentrating on the rural vote. If this logic were heeded, then the spring campaign would be rationalized by issues of highway and education needs.

However, the Democratic convention attendance — one of the largest in history — does not indicate that the Michigan CIO is going to be disinterested in the spring election outcome. The governor's program to tax "big business" is certain to be kept quiet on the legislative shelf until after the election. No issue there.

If the Michigan CIO in demonstration of its liberal spirit with the rank and file of Michigan voters, by winning the spring election, then perhaps a pattern can be evolved whereby the Democratic party will become the "workers' party" in everything out its name.

There you have it. What will the Republicans do? That is, the $64 question.

SELDOM is there trouble on your telephone line nowadays. But sometimes it does happen! An extra-heavy gale or sleet storm . . . a flood, fire or explosion may temporarily disrupt telephone service for a great many people at one time.

When such serious trouble develops, word is flashed to Michigan Bell "emergency headquarters" in Detroit. Within a matter of minutes, this room becomes a beehive of activity.

At their posts around the table, a General Working Committee assembles and begins a battle against time. Simultaneously, emergency committees in the stricken area swing into action. The object—to knit into one swift-moving team the telephone crews that will restore service at the earliest possible moment.

In rapid-fire succession, telephone calls begin to come in. Reports from the scene give a minute-by-minute account of developments.

Practically the instant the need for men or supplies becomes apparent, the Committeemen arrange to have them dispatched to the trouble spot.

If damages are such that Long Distance calls will have to be rerouted, the Committee works directly with the proper department to establish temporary circuits promptly. If structures and equipment are demolished, the Committee teams up with the engineers to start immediate plans for rebuilding.

No matter how long the emergency may last, the Committee stays right on the job. For these expert trouble-shooters can "be everywhere at once" by telephone . . . saving precious minutes . . . assuring the utmost efficiency in the use of manpower, materials and time.

This is another behind-the-scenes way in which Michigan Bell strives to provide and maintain for you the best possible telephone service at all times.
