Rural Hill Cemetery Hours Announced

D. Harper Britton, Supervisor of Rural Hill Cemetery, announces that the cemetery gates are open daily from 7:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m.

Mr. Britton stated that the cemetery's entrance has been greatly enhanced by the installation of steel pipe gates and white picket fence which flank either side of the entrance.

The cemetery workers now have begun a new system of cemetery lot markings. Hereafter the cemetery exclusively will mark all lot corners. The system will enable anyone to identify a lot by referring to the numbers on the corner stakes.

A new roadway has been built and a larger portion of the cemetery is now under care. Hereafter, no flower beds will be allowed on individual lots so that perpetual care may more easily be maintained. Depressions on the old lots are now being filled in with top soil so that the plots will be level.

NHS Gridders Lose Opener To Brighton

The Northville Mustangs dropped the season grid opener to a fast-charging Brighton eleven by a score of 18-0 on the Brighton field last Friday night. Brighton fullback Charles Carney accounted for all points scored in the game. Both touchdowns were 18-yard runs around the Mustangs' right end. Carney missed on his first attempt at kicking the extra point but clicked on the second conversion.

Northville kicked off to Brighton in the first quarter and took possession of the ball six plays later when Brighton, unable to gain much ground, punted to the Mustangs' 33-yard marker. Northville was also unable to gain ground and kicked the ball a long run and three shorter dashes brought Brighton to scoring territory on the Mustangs' 11-yard line but a fumble in the backfield was recovered by Northville. A short punt by Northville again gave Brighton the ball deep in Northville territory in the first quarter ended.

The Mustangs dug in with their backs to the wall on their own 11 and topped Brighton off. Northville took possession of the ball and Tom Shaker ran with it to the 35-yard line on a sparkling 25-yard dash. Brighton had the ball five plays later and eight plays and two first downs later threw a pass which was intercepted by Northville, the ball winding up almost at midfield. The Mustangs tried three plays and punted. The Brighton receiver was dropped in his tracks on his own 16-yard line by Northville ends. A Brighton pass was intercepted by Mustang fullback Dick Gray just before the half ended.

The second half was primarily a repetition of the first with neither team gaining particular advantage. Brighton finally put together several runs which culminated in Carney's first TD. Left halfback Gerry Heaton tried several passes for the Mustangs but the Brighton defense stopped most of them. Carney scored again in the fourth quarter on a series of plays similar to the first TD.

Chuck Stephens and Dick Gray accounted for most of the yardage gained by the Mustangs while Jennings and Holman performed effectively covering punts.

The deciding factor in the game was probably Brighton's fast, hard-hitting line which more often than not had the jump on Mustang linemen. Brighton tackles and guards moved so fast that they often appeared offides.

Tomorrow night the Mustangs will travel to Dexter and play under the lights there. The next five games will be played under the lights at Ford field.

Derby Draws 11 Pacing Entries

Eleven of America's fastest racing horses are in Northville this week, ready for Friday night's $10,000 Michigan Pacing Derby.

The big stake will be the fifth Michigan Pacing Derby held at Northville Downs, and will be the richest of all. It also has drawn the greatest array of pacing stars in Northville's history.

Leading in the lineup of talent is Jimmy Creed, generally regarded as king of America's pacers on a half-mile track, and Dr. Stanton, who rose from obscurity to become racing fame on Northville's half-mile strip.

The rest of the entries, but a roster of some of the nation's top horses. From the rich Ontario table of Eddie Cobb will come a speed-packed entry of Royal Man and Hadden, or possibly Royal Man and Jerry The First, who split last year's Derby with Jimmy Creed.

From Ontario, in addition to Dr. Stanton, comes The Diplomat and Rosemary Brooke. The Diplomat lost a photo finish to Dr. Stanton in a $3,000 free-for-all last Saturday night, and Rosemary Brooke still holds the mark of 2:00 1/5, fastest mile of the year by a pacing mare. The mare that held that title last year with the identical time, Little Judy, also is entered in the Derby.

Highland Ellen, Howard R. Lintz, fleet mare from Flint, also is entered, as is Brucita's Guy, another Michigan star owned by Perry Williams of Birmingham. Guest Star and Charming Scot, always top performers on the midwestern harness circuit, complete the all-star field.

The Derby will be raced at the divided distances that have become standard for most rich stakes this season — one mile and a mile and a sixteen-h. Jimmy Creed holds the mile track record of 2:03 3/5, set in last year's Derby, and Royal Man holds the Northville mark of 2:12 for a mile and a sixteen-h. Dr. Stanton was only two-fifths of a second off that record in winning last Saturday's free-for-all.

Council Approves New Water Rates

At the Regular Village Commission meeting last Monday evening, the Council approved a new ordinance raising the water rates and they unanimously passed a resolution instructing the Village Clerk to write the Public Service Commission asking that Northville be included in the plan for extended area telephone service.

The Council raised the water rates because the Village was operating at a loss. New rates are $2.00 for the first 6,000 gallons of water or less as compared to $1.50 previously; twenty-five cents for each 1000 gallons of water up to 12,000 gallons of water and ten cents for each 1000 gallons of water thereafter. Factory water rates remain the same at seven cents per thousand gallons of water. A copy of the ordinance which the Council adopted to which Villagers should refer.

The Council then heard from J. R. Saxton, Bell Telephone manager for this area who reported on the impartial survey made among 330 local phone residents as to whether extended area telephone service, Saxton said that the report showed that of those interviewed 87 per cent were in favor of the plan, nine per cent were against it, while four per cent remained neutral. Also present to interpret the findings to the Council were W. K. Prior, Ann Arbor District Commercial Bell Superintendent and J. F. Baly, Division Commercial Superintendent of Detroit.

After discussion the Council unanimously passed a resolution to write to the State Public Service Commission asking that Northville be included in the plan for extended telephone service. It is thought this would be able to call for a month and would save for a month or more. The charges for extended area service would be twenty-five cents a month for party lines, fifty cents for single lines, and one dollar a month for business telephone. Saxton stated that the plan would be in effect before extended service would be in effect.

The Council voted to give the Northville High School band $500.00 for band equipment. They voted to extend tax collection without penalty until November 1. Mary Alexander, Village Clerk, was instructed to write the Public Service Commission requesting that the C and O passenger trains remain on the line. No further business appearing, the meeting was adjourned.

Won Their Way

First Invention at 14

Itchy Pigs Can Rub Off Profit

Itchy pigs soon rub off profit dollars, Michigan State College livestock specialists contend. That's why they believe that hog mangers and hogs can mean the difference between a fair profit and perhaps a loss in the swine raising business.

Entomologists at MSC say it's safe to spray your swine with benzene hexachloride, also called BHC, if you do it at least 30 days before marketing or butchering. The chemical does an effective job of ridding the pigs of the parasites if animals are thoroughly sprayed, underneath as well as on their backs.

Parasite-free pigs spend more time eating and gaining weight and less time scratching — and that's where profit making enters into the picture.

Dissolution Suit Answered By A&P

Describing the suit to dissolve the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company as a threat to the welfare and living standards of every American citizen, officials of the company announced they would oppose it with every legitimate means.

The suit, filed in the Federal Court for the Southern District of New York, asked the court to dispose of the company's manufacturing and processing facilities and to break up the company into smaller chains.

The statement said in full: "This action is a threat to the welfare and living standards of every American citizen. If successful, it will mean less food on every dinner table and fewer dollars in every pay envelope."

"This is not just an effort to destroy A & P but an attack on the entire system of efficient low-cost, low-profit mass distribution which this company pioneered."

"A & P was the first chain store in this country and the methods we developed have been adopted by other grocers, as well as merchants in other lines. There are today literally hundreds of chain stores and voluntary groups of individual merchants operating with the same methods and in the same pattern here under attack."

"If the anti-trust lawyers succeed in destroying A & P, the way will be cleared for the destruction of every other efficient large-scale distributor."

"There is nothing even approaching monopoly here; for as every housewife knows the retail grocery business is the most competitive in the country and we do only a small part of it. Nor was there ever any charge that we raised prices, for the whole basis of this attack is the fact that we sold good food too cheap."

"There is nothing in our operations, or in any previous court decisions involving us, or in the anti-trust laws themselves to justify the dissolution of A & P."

"Obviously, it is the theory of the anti-trust lawyers that the people of America have no right to patronize a company if their patronage will make that company grow, and that any big business must be destroyed simply because it is big, and even if the public gets hurt in the process."

"This action is just opposite to the purpose of the anti-trust laws which were meant to increase competition and keep prices down for if it succeeds, it will drive only to cut down competition and force prices up. The A & P's policy always maintained and kept alive the spirit of competition."

Frankly, the owners of A & P could make enormous amounts of money by making up this company as the anti-trust lawyers wish and selling off the parts."

But we believe this attack is a threat to millions of consumers who rely on us for quality foods at low prices, to hundreds of thousands of farmers who rely on us for fast, low-cost distribution of their products; and to our 110,000 loyal employees."

"There has never been any question in our mind that it is good business and good citizenship to sell good food as cheaply as possible, and we feel that it is our responsibility to our customers, our suppliers and our employees to defend this company and that theory by every legitimate means."

Hauger-Slessor Rites Read At Candlelight Service

Lighted tapers and palms formed the setting at the First Presbyterian Church Friday night for the marriage of Rosemarie Hauger, daughter of the Arlo Haugers of South Wing street, and Douglas H. Slessor, son of Mrs. Mary Slessor of First street.

Rev. Harold F. Fredsell read the double ring service and Corine Clark presided at the organ.

Rosemarie, who was escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father, chose a white slipper gown. The gown was fashioned with a high ruffled neckline, and full skirt which fell from a deep yoke in the bodice into a long train over a hoop. Vennese lace and satin scrolls trimmed the neckline, sleeves and bodice of the gown. The brides' cathedral length veil of illusion fell from a Dutch cap of seed pearls and she carried a prayer book adorned with white orchids and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Joanne Tuck of East Dunlap street and bridesmaids were Mrs. Wilbur Bachelor, sister of the bridegroom of Novi and Betty Schunk of Detroit, sister of the bride. Joanne Pankow of Plymouth, a cousin of the bride was the junior bridesmaid.

The honor maid was gowned in white tulle, the dress having a boat neckline and tight bodice falling into a full skirt over a hoop. The gown was accented with a peacock blue bustle, and her floral headpiece and colonial bouquet matched the bustle. Bridesmaids were gowned in dresses similar to the maid of honor but the bustles on them were accented in American Beauty tulle. They wore floral headpieces and carried matching American Beauty colonial bouquets.

The bridegroom's brother-in-law, Wilbur Bachelor of Novi was best man and guests were seated by George White, Frank Light and Fred Robinson.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hauger chose a navy blue gown, with black accessories. Mrs. Slessor wore a green gown and both mothers wore corsages of white orchids.

A reception for about two hundred guests was given at the Northville, Farmington and Plymouth churches.

RED CROSS FIELD DIRECTORS SOLVE SERVICEMEN'S PROBLEMS

Red Cross services to the armed forces are available wherever U. S. servicemen are stationed. Here a Red Cross field director goes right to a young sailor at work on his ship for the facts he needs to help solve a problem.

The sailor was young. He had finished his home leave in a southern coastal city and was heading back to his California base.

He said goodbye to his parents and to an older brother, a marine veteran just returned from service. Then he left by bus.

A few hours later, the older brother was killed in an automobile accident. The family appealed to the Red Cross to locate the younger son so he could return home.

Within a short while a Red Cross chapter secretary along the route intercepted the bus, broke the news, and helped the lad get started back home. There the chapter got in touch with the field director at the west coast base and verified the facts for the commanding officer who was being asked to extend the sailor's leave.

Once or more every minute, around the clock last year, the Red Cross performed some service for members of the military forces and their families. Among the nearly three quarters of a million cases handled, a large percentage involved supplying verified information concerning home conditions requiring emergency leave or extension of leave. While the Red Cross cannot grant leave to a serviceman, military authorities depend upon

No special session of the state legislature will be called by Governor G. Mennen Williams this fall.

Such is the interpretation which the "Michigan Mirror" deduces from an exchange of letters between the governor and State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, Auditor General Muriel K. Aten and Controller Robert F. Steadman over a 1950 deficit.

An additional observation might be made. The problem of state finances, caused directly by diversion of 78 per cent. of sales tax revenues to public schools and cities and townships, will await the 1950 session of the state legislature.

Here is the record, and you can judge for yourself.

Last May the governor intimated he would call legislators into special session to consider new taxes. Legislators had declined to adopt a levy on corporation profits. A proposed increase in the state gasoline tax had been pigeon-holed in committee. Controller Steadman, who heads the department of administration, said that legislative appropriations were approximately $50,000,000 higher than the state's anticipated tax revenues.

The legislature's attitude as represented by G. O. P. leaders was thus: Wait and see. Many Michigan taxpayers are now confronted with new taxes are necessary.

To bring the matter to a head, Governor Williams recently sent a letter to the state treasurer, auditor general and controller. He asked for advice: What are you going to do in 1950 when the deficit develops?

The controller replied that he would certify whether disbursements were proper in the light of legislative appropriation. The auditor general said he would issue warrants only if cash was on hand. The state treasurer's reply was: We are doing these things. If a deficit develops, the treasury was willing to develop a plan to pay bills, to make certain that the state's credit was not impaired, and to make certain that the state's credit was not impaired.

It is the contention of Controller Steadman that the treasury deficit will develop in March 1950. During February and March the state must divert substantial sums of sales tax revenue to schools, cities and townships. These payments are expected to drain the general fund of its remaining cash.

Thus, history will repeat itself. Eleven years ago the late Frank Murphy was governor. The 1937 session of the legislature had left the state budget $18 millions in the red. By the end of the first fiscal year (June 30, 1937-38) actual deficit was $9,000,000 - about half of what had been anticipated.

The state had met all payrolls on time. The treasurer had merely borrowed from other funds. Unemployment was high in 1938, due to a recession. Governor Murphy called the legislature into special session to appropriate more money for welfare aid. A sum of $10,000,000 was authorized - in the face of an existing deficit. No new taxes were levied.

Frank Fitzgerald campaigned for economy in state government. He assailed a $9,420,000 increase in the state payroll during the Murphy administration. The CIO sit-down strike had evoked strong public resentment. Fitzgerald capitalized on this too. Murphy lost the election and later was sent by President Roosevelt to the Philippines and then to the United States Supreme Court.

If state government could meet payrolls in 1938 with red ink on its books, it seems logical to us that it can do so in 1950.

Why then all this letter writing in September, 1949? President Truman said he opened the 1950 political campaign with his Labor Day speeches at Pittsburgh and Des Moines. The same might be said about Governor Williams' letters.

The Michigan gubernatorial campaign is already under way.

Who is to blame for the big bad deficit at Lansing? Not the voters who want 78 per cent. of state sales tax revenue for schools, cities and townships. No, no! The "villain" will be - take your choice (1) a Republican legislature which declines to tax corporation profits; (2) a Democratic governor who insists on more state aid for everyone especially for members of the CIO.

MSC Party Hunts Moose for Museum

A moose-hunting expedition to Isle Royale, national park in the northwest corner of Lake Superior was launched by Michigan State College museum officials.

A five-member party, headed by Prof. Joseph W. Stack, director of the MSC museum, are seeking five moose with which to compose a habitat group for the college museum. The project, approved by the National Parks Service, is expected to last two weeks.

When freezing peaches a crumpled wad of waxed paper placed under the lid of the container just before closing will help to hold the fruit under the sirup. This will prevent the peaches on top from browning, advises Dr. Pauline Paul, Michigan State College frozen foods researcher.

Experiments show that rats cut late in the afternoon keep longer than those cut in the early morning. Use a sharp knife and make a long slanting cut.

State Has Effective Forest Fire Control

Michigan was one of 17 states in the Nation that held its average fire on protected land in 1948 to less than ten acres. This is considered effective forest fire control.

Michigan recorded an average of 8.6 acres for 1948—less than half the average for 1944 to 1948 inclusive.

This was revealed in a recent survey released by the American Forest Products Industries, a non-profit organization supported by leading lumber, pulp and paper, and plywood industries in the U. S. AFPI's aim is to encourage the best protection, management and utilization of our forests.

The survey, based on latest U. S. Forest Service figures for Nation, is an eight-page leaflet showing comparative effectiveness of forest protection in all timbered states.

Commenting on the state's forest fire record AFPI forester, J. C. McClellan called for intensified forest fire prevention efforts.

"The Keep Green program, active now in 25 states, is a national movement for popular education in forest fire prevention. Backed by our Wood-using industries and the public and private agencies, it is a potent movement to awaken public interest in protecting our forests."

Seek Reasons for Setback in Traffic Record
The Michigan State Police are attempting to determine what happened to cause the tragic Labor Day week-end traffic toll of 34 lives.
Terming the record as indefensible, Commissioner Donald S.

Leonard said a survey had shown that violations or careless acts by drivers and pedestrians were factors in 21 of the 26 accidents in which the 34 died. The cause is not yet known in the five remaining accidents, while a 35th death occurring in a private driveway was not included in the highway statistics.
Paradoxically, Michigan led all the states in Labor Day week-end fatalities, but over the Fourth of July week-end, when traffic was nearly eight per cent heavier, the state had only six deaths, the lowest in the nation.

"What happened between the Fourth of July and Labor Day to make drivers more careless is something not definitely known," Leonard said, "but certainly our Labor Day record was a disgrace. Michigan, however, was not an exception to the general trend throughout the country, particularly in resort states, the total death toll exceeding by 100 the estimates of the National Safety Council."

The State Police survey disclosed that 20 of the 26 fatal accidents and 27 of the 34 deaths occurred during the first two days of the four-day holiday. The sharp reduction thereafter is attributed largely to drivers being shocked into cautiousness as newspapers and radios brought in the fatality reports, and also to the fact that many persons deferred their homeward trips until Tuesday to avoid the heavy traffic flow.

Leonard pointed out that the Labor Day record had reversed a steady decline in the traffic death rate during the last several months.

Safety First

Never swim alone. Always have help at hand, preferably a life-guard with the knowledge and equipment for rescue. Don't swim after dark for the same reason. It is too hard for even an expert to assist you in the dark.

Wind Pressure

A 10-mile wind exerts a pressure of approximately seven pounds per square foot on the side of an automobile. An automobile might have an area on the side of about 30 square feet, so the total pressure of such a wind would be about 210 pounds.

ON CAPITOL HILL
NEWS and COMMENT
FROM CONGRESSMAN
GEORGE A. DONDERO

Back in the Republican 80th Congress, as chairman of the House Public Works Committee, I succeeded in getting through Congress a bill to authorize $900,000,000 as the federal government's share of matching highway construction funds in the states and territories. This money was to be appropriated and paid over to the states in two $450,000,000 installments during the present 1950 government fiscal year and the 1951 year.

The committee originally voted to authorize appropriations for the two year period amounting to $1,000,000,000. The reason for this was that engineers estimate it will take at least $200,000,000 worth of work to put American highways and streets back into the good condition they were in before the war. We thought that the states and federal government should spend together at least $1,000,000,000 a year for the vitally necessary work.

But the House cut the authorization to $900,000,000 for the two years. The Senate wanted at first to cut it to $800,000,000, but was persuaded by myself and others to agree to the $900,000,000 figure. This year the first installment of this amount, with matching state funds is being obligated by state highway departments.

The reason why this year's total is not $450,000,000 is that the Bureau of the Budget, responsive to the Democratic administration, asked only $400,000,000 for distribution to the states and territories. The present Democratic Congress thought this too much and appropriated only $386,000,000. Thus the total amount available is only $772,000,000. Incidentally, the $386,000,000 is but a fraction of the immense amount collected annually by the federal government in gasoline taxes.

According to the Bureau of Public Roads, Michigan's share of the $386,000,000 federal appropriation for the 1950 fiscal year is about $15,000,000. With matching state funds, approximately $30,000,000 is available for letting new highway contracts. Figures issued by the bureau indicate that in the first seven months of the present calendar year, the Michigan Highway Department awarded contracts amounting to $17,240,000, covering construction of 927 miles of highway construction or improvement. This should average up to about $30,000,000 for the 12 months of the fiscal year ending next June 30.

The Michigan figures compare with a total of 25,828 miles of road construction contracts let during the seven month period for the entire country, at a total cost of $647,485,900. Pennsylvania with a total of about $69,255,000, led the states in dollar volume of new contracts during the period; the number of highway miles being 1,129. Texas led the states in mileage of highway construction contracts, with 3,688 miles, costing $57,405,000.

Fat By Veins Gives New Life to Patients

A new grip on life is in store for patients unable to take food by mouth.

Science disclosed today the results of a series of experiments in feeding fat by veins as a means of restoring health to emaciated patients, who responded to the treatment without complications.

In a study sponsored by the National Dairy Council, Chicago, Dr. Frederick Stare of Harvard University reports his success in vein feeding of fat to seven adults and one child. He states all were unable to take food by mouth because of stomach obstruction, cancer, or paralysis.

Feeding proteins and carbohydrates by vein has long been a customary practice but the calories administered have been limited in number. By feeding fat intravenously it is possible to give the patient an amount needed by the body for the gradual return to health.

Butterfat, long recognized as an excellent source of energy, now can be used to provide nourishment by vein. Containing two and a quarter times the caloric value of carbohydrates, the fat must be emulsified or broken up into tiny particles to prevent embolism.

Poultry Standards

Ten years ago we accepted three-pound chickens at 12 weeks of age with 12 pounds of feed as good performance. Today, four pounds at 12 pounds of feed is standard for many poultry growers.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

THE LEADERS of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen and Engineers, Order of Railroad Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad have refused to avail themselves of the peaceful means provided by this Act for settling their disputes. They insist that they be the sole umpire of their own disputes over the meaning of contracts.

There is no Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances.

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

... it is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act...

Obviously the railroads cannot be run efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
- 2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
- 3—Decision by arbitration.
- 4—Decision by neutral referees.
- 5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

Do You Want Your A&P Put Out Of Business?

Last Thursday in New York, the anti-trust lawyers from Washington filed a suit to put A&P out of business.

They asked the court to order us to get rid of most of our stores and also the manufacturing facilities which supply you with A&P coffee, Ann Page products, Jane Parker baked goods, and other quality items we produce.

This would mean higher food prices for you. It would mean less food on every dinner table and fewer dollars in every pay envelope.

It would mean the end of A&P as you know it.

This poses a basic question for the American people: Do they want to continue to enjoy lower prices and better living? Or do they want to break up A&P and pay higher prices, and have lower living standards?

What do you want?

Why Destroy A&P?

This suit was brought under the anti-trust laws. These are good laws. They were passed about fifty years ago to prevent any company, or any group of companies, from getting a monopoly in a field and then raising prices to the public.

A&P has never done any of these things.

Nobody has ever shown that we have anything even approaching a monopoly of the food business anywhere. As every housewife knows, the retail grocery business is the most competitive in the country and we do only a small part of it.

Nobody has ever said we charged too high prices — just the opposite. This whole attack rises out of the fact that we sell good food too cheap. We would not have had any of this trouble if, instead of lowering prices, we had raised them and pocketed the difference.

Nobody has ever said that our profit rate was too high. During the past five years our net profit, after taxes, has averaged about 1½¢ on every dollar of sales, which is less than almost any other business you can think of.

The American people have shown that they like our low-price policy by coming to our stores to do their shopping. If A&P is big, it is because the American people, by their patronage, have made it big.

Obviously, it is the theory of the anti-trust lawyers that the people have no right to patronize a company, if their patronage will make that company grow; and that any big business must be destroyed simply because it is big, and even if the public gets hurt in the process.

Do You Want Higher Prices?

There is much more involved in this case than the future of A&P. The entire American system of efficient, low-cost, low-profit distribution which we pioneered, will face destruction and the public will suffer.

A&P was the first chain store in this country. For more than ninety years we have tried to build a sound business on the simple formula the founder gave us: "Give the people the most good food you can for their money." Year after year we have tried to do a better job, make our business more efficient, and pass the savings on to the consumer in the form of lower prices.

Our efforts along these lines have led other grocers to keep their costs and profits down.

In the old days before A&P, food that cost the grocer 50¢, often sold as high as $1.00 at retail.

Today, food that costs the grocer 50¢ generally sells to the public at less than 60¢. The methods we pioneered have been adopted not only by other grocers, but by merchants in other lines. There are today literally hundreds of chain stores, voluntary groups and individual merchants operating with the same methods and in the same pattern here under attack.

If the anti-trust lawyers succeed in destroying A&P, the way will be clear for the destruction of every other efficient large-scale distributor.

Who Will Be Hurt?

There has never been any question in our mind that it is good business and good citizenship to sell good food as cheaply as possible. As Fortune Magazine said about A&P some time ago, "It is firmly attached to the one great principle — the selling of more for less — that has made the desert bloom and the nation wax great."

We sincerely believe that we have helped the American people eat better and live better.

We believe that the hundreds of thousands of farmers and manufacturers who have voluntarily sought our business have profited by our fast, low-cost distribution of their products.

We know that our 110,000 loyal employees enjoy today, as they always have, the highest wages, shortest hours and best working conditions generally prevailing in the retail food industry; and that these men and women have found in A&P good opportunities for security and progress.

We know that thousands of businessmen — the landlords who rent us our stores, the haulers who operate our trucks, the people who supply us with goods and services — have a big stake in our operations.

Obviously, all these people will suffer if this company is put out of business.

What Shall We Do?

We admit that the interests of the owners of A&P are of little importance.

Frankly, they could make an enormous amount of money by breaking up A&P, as the anti-trust lawyers wish, and selling off the parts.

But is this what the American people want? Do they agree with the anti-trust lawyers that our food prices are too low, and that we should be put out of the picture so other grocers can charge more?

Frankly, if this were the case, we would not want to continue in business.

But we seriously doubt that this is the case. Twelve years ago, an effort was made to tax this company and other chain stores out of business. The public rallied to our support. They said they liked our quality foods and our low prices. As a result of their opposition, the tax was defeated.

Now we are faced with this new attack through the courts. We are faced with the heavy costs and all the trouble that lawsuits involve.

But we believe this attack is a threat to millions of consumers who rely on us for quality foods at low prices; to farmers who rely on us for fast, low-cost distribution of their products; and to our loyal employees.

We feel that it is our responsibility to all these people to defend, by every legitimate means, this company and the low-price policy on which it was built.
