Bike Registrants To Get Reflectors

This Saturday, October 1 from 1:00 to 3:30 p. m. Village youngsters have been asked to bring their bicycles to Allan & Locke Motors Inc. so that they may be registered and have "Scotchlite" reflector safety strips applied free of charge.

The "Scotchlite" safety program is designed to protect the lives of night-bicycling youngsters. "Scotchlite" safety strips will be applied on bikes, which reflect auto headlights brilliantly at night, due to their coating of 30,000 microscopic glass spheres on a reflective plastic film.

For safety's sake, Village youngsters should bring their bikes to Allan & Lockes have them registered and receive their "Scotchlite" reflective safety strips and safety insignia all free of charge.

Sixth Season Closes

NORTHVILLE DOWNS
6TH
SEASON

Mary Ann Raimon, Plymouth, and her favorite pacer, Carolina, celebrate the end of a successful sixth season for Northville Downs with a cake and carrots.

Downs To Close Saturday Night

Northville Downs closes its 1949 night harness race meeting this weekend with a $5,000 mile and a half hot on Friday night and nine fast "getaway" events on Saturday evening down the curtain.

The Friday night marathon is the ninth and last stake of Northville's season, and appropriately enough it is the longest race of the year. Among the swift trotters that will try their endurance over the three-lap route is Donna, one of the year's outstanding trotting mares and winner of the mile and a sixteenth division of last Saturday night's $3,000 free-for-all.

Others named are dangerous rivals for the speedy mare, however, with Detroit's John H. Toner's Bitty Lu as one threat and the Pennsylvania entry of Porter Day and Volition as another. Also entered in the Friday night stake are Belle Neal, owned by Jim Hunt of Plymouth; Oh Johnny, from Leo Metz' Pontiac stable; Christy Mc and Lady M.

Northville winds up the season with 51 nights of racing completed out of a scheduled 54, barring rain late this week. The mutual handle shows an approximate 18 per cent decline from last year's all-time record, when the Downs handled more than 11 million dollars in 59 nights of racing.

Handicapped Week Set For Oct. 2-8

Because of the support and co-operation being given the local committee for National Employment the Physically Handicapped Week October 2-8, by Northville organizations, the physically handicapped can face the future with a new and better outlook.

Organized by Clarence Jetter, manager of the local office of the Michigan State Employment Service a month ago, the committee directed by Carvel Bentley, of Plymouth, has obtained the assistance of organized community effort and understanding to enable the Employment Service to carry out its basic program of assisting veterans and other handicapped persons in securing suitable employment.

In a statement issued by Rev. E. E. Rossow, it was stated that "hundreds of thousands of workers are unemployed nationally because they have physical handicaps which in no way lessen their ability to do good work at jobs for which they have been prepared. We must assist the Employment Service to find jobs for those who are ready and willing to work, but can't find jobs."

The local Michigan State Employment office is organized to service both applicants and employers. The local committee is urging employers to place their orders with the Employment Service and to have the handicapped file their applications for employment with the local office. The Michigan State Employment Service office located at 585 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth phone Plymouth 1081, requests that any openings for workers be placed with Raymond D. Mitchell, Veterans Employment Representative, and placed in Handicapped Placement.

Troops from the Sunset District were invited and 79 boys from Northville, Plymouth and Rosedale Gardens were present. The scouts began to put up their tents a little before noon Saturday and fires were started shortly after.

Port Creve is named after the Creve family and consists of a few houses, a church, a store and a commercial fishing business run by the elder Mr. Creve and his sons. The accepted bid allows the school district to borrow the $165,000 for 11 years at a cost of $15,467.18. The School Board had received nine sealed bids for the purchase of the bonds for the erection of a nine room addition to the present school building which are priced elsewhere in the paper.

A resolution was adopted by the board setting a levy of 7 mills on the property of the school district for payment of interest and principal on the voted bond issue for the $165,000 Grade school addition.

NHS Meets Holly Here Friday Night

The Mustangs will begin a five-game home stand under the lights at Ford Field tomorrow night at 8 p. m. when they take on the Holly eleven. Northville defeated Holly 24-7 last year.

An improved Mustangs grid squad battled to a 6-6 tie with a determined Dexter eleven in a night game at Dexter last Friday night. Both touchdowns were scored via the pass route.

A 30-yard aerial from half-back Gerry Heaton bounced off the fingertips of the Dexter safety man in the third quarter and left end Lee Holman, judging the direction of the bounce correctly, picked the ball out of the air and stepped over the goal line for the Mustang TD. The score climaxed a 70-yard drive spearheaded by plunges through the center and guards by full-back Dick Gray and half-back Chuck Stephens. The two backs moved the ball from their own 30-yard marker to the Dexter 19 in five plays but a clipping penalty against the Mustangs moved the ball back to the 33-yard line. It was there that the pass was thrown for the touchdown.

The Dexter TD came one play after a Northville pass was intercepted on the Mustang 45-yard line and run back to the 21. Dexter quarterback Gordon Pritchard immediately angled a pass near the end zone to right end Jack Blanchard, who scored standing up.

The Mustangs found it difficult to penetrate the Dexter defense in the first half. Coach Al Jones apparently found the key and dropped a few well-chosen words during half-time, for a different band of Mustangs took the field for the third quarter. The line began to open wide holes through which ball carriers charged on sprint plays and hand offs, and defensive play was much slower and more ineffectual.

A fourth quarter march from the Northville 30 to the Dexter 20 failed to pay off when the Dexter defense got tough and the Mustang drive bogged down. At the end of the game, with one second left to play, center Tom Sutton moved into the backfield to attempt a field goal from 20 yards out, but the boot was wide of the goal posts.

The loss of Lee Holman shortly after the fourth quarter held out nothing to help the Mustangs' chances. Holman, effective as a pass receiver and a quick-thinking defensive end, was injured while breaking up an attempted Dexter pass play.

Optimist Club Hears Sales Executive Speak

Members of the Optimist Club last Wednesday evening heard Fred Kaiger, vice president of the Michigan Stove Company and Past President of the Detroit Sales Executive Group, speak on salesmanship.

Mr. Kaiger stated that the 19th century was an era of invention while the 20th century was one of production. At present, there are about 3,700,000 salesmen in the U. S. and Mr. Kaiger contended that salesmanship hasn't changed. All emotions must be considered, he added, and public opinion controls the success of business.

Guests at the event were Alton Peters, Ed Flaherty and Dexter Horton and new members Fred Hunter and Jim Green were introduced.

Thinking ahead is one of the big jobs of farming and anticipating fertilizer needs is one of the most important.

Michigan State College soils specialists say that planning your order and taking delivery as soon as possible saves time and trouble. If you truck fertilizer to your own farm, you'll avoid long line-ups that sometimes occur in peak seasons.

Why Do They Want to Put A&P Out of Business?

The answer is to be found in the formal complaint "they" have filed with the court. By "they" we mean, of course, the anti-trust lawyers from Washington who are out to destroy A&P.

They say . . . and these are the anti-trust lawyers' own words . . . that we "have regularly undersold competing retailers."

To this charge we plead guilty:

We confess that for the past 90 years we have constantly stepped up the efficiency of our operations in order to give our customers more and more good food for their money.

The American people have seen nothing wrong in this. By their ever-increasing patronage for 90 years they have shown that they like this low-price policy.

Apparently the people still see nothing wrong in this today. All during the past week - since the anti-trust lawyers made their charges - we have been deluged with phone calls and letters from men and women in all walks of life who want us to know they are opposed to this effort to put A&P out of business.

An enormous number of customers are telling our store managers and clerks that they want to continue to enjoy our low prices for quality foods.

Farmers and other suppliers are asking what they can do to preserve this efficient outlet for their products.

Our 110,000 employees are asking us to protect their jobs and pensions.

Labor leaders are wiring us their opposition to this threat to labor's living standards.

If all these people will be hurt, why then do the anti-trust lawyers want to put A&P out of business?

Low Prices Don't Hurt Anyone

The anti-trust lawyers say because we are able to sell food cheaper than other grocers, we make it impossible for those grocers to compete with us.

If this were true, we should have all the food business in the United States by this time.

Just the opposite is true. In 1933 we had 11.6 per cent of the nation's food business. Now, according to the anti-trust lawyers, our share has decreased to 6.4 per cent in 1948. Anyone can see we have nothing even approaching a monopoly.

As a matter of fact, there are about 30,000 more individual grocers in business today than there were ten years ago.

There are about 275 more food chains in business today than there were ten years ago.

In other words, we have more competitors in the food field and do a smaller share of the nation's food business than before.

Where is this alleged destruction of other grocers? Where is there any evidence of their inability to compete with us?

Do You Want Higher Prices?

As anyone can see, the only purpose that would be served by putting A&P out of business would be to raise food prices.

Who would this benefit?

We were the first merchants to set the pattern for low-cost, low-profit distribution. Our example and our competition has led other grocers to keep their prices down.

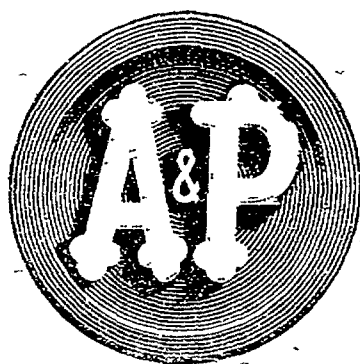

Remove A&P from the picture and food prices are bound to go up.

Remove A&P from the picture and the way will be cleared for the destruction of every other efficient large-scale distributor.

Is this what the American people want?

Is this in the public interest?

Lift-Type Device Used on Tractor Will Aid Materially in Easing Farm Chores
To help with those odd chores about the farm that so often are time-wasting and back-breaking, Pittsburgh forgings company of Coraopolis, Pa., has developed a lift-type utility carrier for use on tractors.
The Pittsburgh carry-lift is attached in a few seconds to tractors through the regular implement suspension points. Made of alloy spring steel and structural steel, it will handle loads as heavy as 700 pounds.
An important feature of this new unit is its quick conversion from a platform lift to a fork lift, making it universal in the types of loads it can both lift and carry. It can be used as a platform lift either with or without a back panel, and, pockets are provided for standard 2" x 4" stakes. The frame is punched to provide easy securing of loads and for the addition of a wooden platform.

The farm carry-lift is attached in seconds through the regular tractor implement suspension points. Heavy containers can be tipped and rolled onto the platform without lifting. The tractor engine raises the carry-lift.

Used as a fork lift, the utility carrier works like a small hay buck, and thus can pick up bulky material without the lift having to be loaded by hand. Heavier loads can be handled in this way by using skid-pallets. Its capacity for light, bulky loads can be extended materially by pulling 2" x 4" fork extensions into the brackets provided.

Lifting of heavy containers like milk cans, drums and barrels is eliminated by the carry-lift because these can be tipped and rolled onto the platform which practically rests on the ground. Small buildings, range shelters, and feeders can be easily and quickly moved by tipping slightly and running the forks beneath them. Heavy bags of feed grain can be taken to the field with a minimum of lifting, and field feeding is made both quicker and easier.

The carry-lift will be found particularly useful because material can be moved over any kind of ground, under any condition where a tractor can operate and in places that might be inaccessible by other means of transportation.

Popular Belting
A victim of the war, the first red rubber agricultural belting has been made available to farmers by a Pennsylvania manufacturer. Available since 1940 only as a higher-priced industrial belting, the red rubber belting was a pre-war favorite with America's farmers. This farmer's smile as he gets his first roll indicates a big welcome on its return to the farm market. This belting is particularly popular because of its added flexibility and toughness.

Value of Bicarbonate Use in Swine Feeding Tested
An experimental feeding program to determine the value of bicarbonate of soda in the feeding of hogs is being conducted this fall at Iowa State college.
Experiments will be aimed at determining whether the feeding of bicarbonate of soda produces observable benefits in the growth of swine and whether the ingestion of amounts equal to 1 per cent of the ration will produce results.

Apple Bruises Can Be Cut With Care
Apple bruising can be reduced in every step of the harvesting and packing process, scientists say, but the greatest opportunity for bruise reduction is in the apple packing house.
Roy E. Marshall, Michigan State College horticulturist, cites a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture study to find ways to cut bruise losses.
Close supervision of picking operations is listed as a necessary beginning. Another important point is the handling of apple boxes on pallets—wooden platforms on which 24 or 30 boxes of apples are placed for mechanized handling. Only one-fifth as much bruising was found when apple boxes were handled on pallets as when the boxes were handled separately. Bruises incurred during storage of loose fruit was also found to be less with apples handled on pallets.
Researchers found bruising damage greater after apples were taken to the packing line than in the combined operations of picking, hauling, and handling. Dumping, dropping from one level to another on conveyor belts, and hitting various parts of moving equipment accounted for the greatest number of bruises. Apples dumped into a water bath showed fewer bruises than those carefully dumped on a canvass belt as it passed over a solid surface.
Studies now under way in Michigan by H. P. Gaston, MSC horticulturist, are showing similar results.
The apple authorities also emphasize the importance of having the various parts of moving equipment accurately timed.

State High School Situation Examined In Nat'l Magazine

Michigan high schools are not meeting the needs of the young people in that state today, says a national woman's magazine in its lead article for the October issue. A shocking number of teenagers are dropping out of schools during the most important time in their lives, points out the Woman's Home Companion in an article "Why Teen-Agers Quit School," in the October issue. This article is based on a survey taken in the public schools of Michigan and four other typical American communities.

"If we didn't have effective compulsory education laws," says Dr. Harold J. Dillon, executive director of the Public Education and Child Labor Association, "who knows, we might not even be holding in school the number that we do!"

Under Dr. Dillon's direction, the National Child Labor Committee recently made an intensive study of the reasons for leaving school. The results of this study and of a similar study made by the U. S. Department of Labor are revealed in the article.

"Why children leave school," says the magazine, "needs serious community consideration if our high school appropriations, our fine high school buildings and the educational goals to which we give lip service are not to be at least fifty percent dust and ashes."

Parents are largely unaware of the problem, added the magazine. But educators are thinking seriously about the high rate of school drop-outs. "And all have come to the same conclusion, the youngsters left school because in one way or another it failed to interest or satisfy them—the teacher didn't pay me any attention," or, "I couldn't see any sense in what I was learning," or, "I could learn more outside."

Another point made clear in this article is that, contrary to the general belief, dissatisfaction with some phase of school life loomed considerably larger than economic reasons.

Pheasant Production Rated High This Year

With a second successive year of good pheasant reproduction, hunters will have close to an average ringneck season next month and are expected to up the harvest about 25 per cent over last years estimated take of 633,000 birds.

With an early nesting season this year, the conservation department's game division reports most hatches were completed by July 1. As a result, hunters should find it easier to distinguish the crop of more colorful ringnecks when the general season begins October 15.

Greatest rate of recovery is in the western part of the pheasant range and least in the eastern, especially the Thumb area. Best pheasant country now centers in Lenawee and Monroe counties. South central Michigan, ordinarily average pheasant range, is recovering satisfactorily. While southwestern Michigan also is making a comeback, it continues as in the past, to be below average pheasant range.

On the basis of small game hunters' report cards, the game division estimates that last fall 352,627 hunters bagged 633,000 pheasants. Compared with the 1947 season, this was a 37 per cent increase in hunters and a 39 per cent increase in the pheasant take.

Beef Cattle

Studies with beef cattle show that rate of growth is largely determined by the parent stock. This means that bulls should be selected not only for pedigree and appearance, but for their own rate of growth under normal feeding conditions.

 The Golden Text (Proverbs 12:5) is: "The thoughts of the righteous are right; but the counsels of the wicked are deceit."
 Among the Bible citations is this passage, Isa. 55:7-8: "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him, and to our God,
 for he will abundantly pardon.
 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways
 my ways, saith the Lord."

Need Care In Harvesting Corn

Mechanical corn pickers are at work harvesting another big corn crop. They can do it in record time if they are operated safely.

Michigan State College agricultural engineers suggest these safety pointers. Stop the picker to make adjustments. Keep guards in place.

Manufacturers provide shields for exposed parts. Watch out for fires—remove trash accumulations. Stop the picker before oiling or making any adjustments.
