Polio Fund Drive Begins January 16

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has advanced to its Wayne County Chapter $52,000 this week. This emergency appropriation is the second advance to come into Wayne County from The National Foundation in the past three months, and it brings the total received from national headquarters to $155,700 this year.

In announcing receipt of the funds, Mr. Nate S. Shapero, March of Dimes Chairman, recalled the severe polio epidemic of recent months during which more than 800 persons in Wayne County were afflicted with the disease.

"Last summer has clearly shown us that we cannot predict at March of Dimes time the damage to be done by polio in the coming months. 1949, with 244 victims, was considered a bad polio year, but we could not foresee that 1949 would be three times as bad. From now on, the patient load will not be less, even if there were a minimum of cases next year. Even with a mild season in 1950, we still must expect clinical and surgical expenses for the 1949 epidemic victims to be extremely high for the next few years."

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is not affiliated with the United Foundation. The activities planned for the March of Dimes do not duplicate those of the recently completed Torch Drive and they are conducted with the knowledge of the United Foundation.

"The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis must raise twice as much money in the 1950 March of Dimes if all patient needs are to be met," said Shapero. "There is little more than $1,500,000 in The National Foundation treasury for patient aid, and this amount must last the entire country's epidemic areas until after the March of Dimes campaign. In Wayne County we are spending $2,000 a day of funds advanced from national headquarters."

The March of Dimes gets underway January 16 and will continue throughout the country until January 31. National proceeds of the 1949 campaign were approximately $25,000,000. The Wayne County's contributions amounted to $338,000.

Active Year Shown In Church Report

Annual reports presented for the 121st yearly meeting of the First Presbyterian Church showed considerable progress over any other year in the more than century long development of the church.

Attendance, interest, membership and income established new records. Elder C. Ray Van Valkenburgh reported that benevolence giving for others rose from $2200 to over $3000. Thirty-six new members joined the church during the year. With all bills paid, Donald B. Severance, treasurer, reported that local church expenses totalled in excess of $15,000. This represents an income of $2000 over the previous year. Most of the additional expenditures went for Sunday school equipment due to the enlarged enrollment. Amortization of the Manse debt has brought the figure below $6,400.

The annual corporate and congregational meeting will be held Wednesday, January 11 following a fellowship supper at 6:30. Elders, Trustees and Deacons will be elected with reports received from all the boards and organizations of the church.

Social Security Tax Goes Up January 1

Michigan employers are sending out reminders that Social Security tax withholdings will be increased from 1 per cent to 1½ per cent as of January 1.

As in past years the tax will be withheld only on the first $3,000 of an employee's earnings, but will total $45 instead of $30 at the end of the taxable-earning period, unless Congress further amends the present Social Security Law.

The House has approved a bill to make the 1½ per cent tax apply to the first $3,600 of earnings and the Senate will take up the measure at the next session.

If adopted, it will mean increased coverage by the extension of benefits to persons not now eligible, but is not expected to increase the personal benefits of those now covered by Social Security.

Employers also must pay their combined contribution to the fund at the increased rate, making the combined contribution to the federal fund 3 per cent, instead of 2.

As before, there are no withholding exemptions for the "Social Security" tax, and no tax is required on wages in excess of $3,000 paid by an employer in 1950. However, if a person has more than one employer in 1950 and earns more than $3,000 he might overpay his tax because each employer must make deductions.

Thus, an employee who pays Social Security taxes through more than one employer should ask the Collector of Internal Revenue in his district for the necessary forms on which to claim a refund.

The official designation on pay checks for Social Security in 1950 will be FICA, meaning Federal Insurance Contribution Act. Those connected with payrolls now must use prepared tables to compute the tax, whereas before it was a simple matter of glancing at a wage total and computing 1 per cent.

Rate Case Trial Set for January

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company rate case is in adjournment until late January with the company pleading for recognition of its problem of having to replace low-cost with high-cost facilities.

Unless the problem is recognized, the company must continue to apply for rate increases or be unable to meet service demands through new construction, Henry E. Goodman, assistant vice-president, told the Michigan Service Commission.

By the end of 1951, Goodman predicted the company will have $42,000,000 in additional facilities on which it will be unable to earn a return under existing rates. To provide an adequate return, new rates should yield additional revenue of $15,000,000 a year through 1951, he said. Rate increases requested by the company would average about 3.4 cents a day per customer for all types of service.

Raymond Foulkrod, plant extension engineer for the company, said construction projects are being limited to those essential for providing service.

Record Enrollment Ranks MSC No. 11 In United States

History - making enrollment figures placed Michigan State College among the largest colleges and universities in the nation as 1949 ended.

Full-time enrollment reached 15,062 in 1949 to place Michigan State 11th, one notch higher in the national rankings than in 1948, according to a survey conducted by Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati.

Among Michigan institutions, Michigan State ranked 22nd in the nation and third in the state with 16,243 full and part-time students; Michigan seventh with 23,141 and Wayne University 19th with 19,174.

Walters said the year was marked by sustained enrollments though the number of veterans attending college dipped 14 per cent from last year.

As the year ended, wholesale graduation of veterans pushed MSC enrollment downward near the 15,000 mark. Prospects of 259 new student arrivals for the winter term only slightly softened the departure of 586 fall term graduates, according to Registrar Robert S. Linton.

"With the graduation of a large number of veterans this year, total graduates during the school year will approach 4,000," Linton said.

However, short courses will attract 565 new students in early January, according to Ralph Tenny, director of the MSC short course department. Most of these courses will be in agricultural and allied subjects, he said.

Vets' Home Loan Regulations Slap Race Restrictions

Regulations to bar restrictive covenants based on race, creed or color in connection with home loan mortgages guaranteed for veterans under the G. I. Bill will go into effect next February, Veterans Administration announced.

The new regulations will apply to all such covenants created and recorded subsequent to February 15, 1950, and to all G.I. mortgages guaranteed or insured by VA after that date. Loans guaranteed or covenants recorded prior to February 16 will not be affected, VA said.

As applied to mortgage lenders, VA said any guarantee issued for a loan on property subject to a recorded covenant barred by the regulations would be affected in the event of subsequent default and foreclosure. In such cases, the lender's option of transferring the property to VA, which he normally has the right to do, would be nullified if the covenant was still effective of record at the time of the proposed transfer.

Also, with respect to mortgages guaranteed or insured by VA after February 15, the borrower may be declared in default of his loan - - - with the entire unpaid balance immediately due and payable - - - if he thereafter records such a covenant on the property.

The type of covenants referred to are those designed to restrict the occupancy or use of the property as to race, creed or color.

VA said the new regulations are being issued to bring the agency's loan guaranty program into full accord with a recent decision of the United States Supreme Court. The Court held that such covenants are contrary to public policy and are not sustainable by action in the federal courts.

The new regulations have been issued to the various VA field offices which administer the loan guaranty program, and copies will be distributed to builders, lenders and others participating in the program.

Parade of Progress

Introduction of canned fruits and vegetables was a milestone in the progress of food retailing. Since that time many other changes have been made until today we have in America the world's most efficient system of food distribution. And for more than half a century Kroger has been a leader in bringing greater variety in high quality food products to homemakers at close-to-cost prices.

Study of Education Aims Planned at MSC

Research into courses offered, educational aims, and teaching methods has been launched at Michigan State College, according to Dean William H. Combs, administrative assistant to the president in charge of academic affairs.
 An "all-college" committee, headed by a full-time executive director, will coordinate work of school and department committees aimed at evaluating curricula and instructional problems. The plan will seek means to do a more effective educational job at the same or less cost.
 Conferring with Pres. John A. Hannah and Dean Combs in setting up the research program was Dr. Floyd Reeves, who joined the MSC staff in 1944 after playing a major role in the reorganization of the University of Chicago.
 Early projects for the new group will be: the semester versus the quarter system, the problem of too many or too few course offerings, correlation of courses between lower and upper classes, and teaching loads among various departments.

JIM BEARS A RESEMBLANCE
 It's many a paper boy I've had But there's one particular Little Lad—
 For the past two years whose revived a spark That for years seemed dormant within my heart.
 The nearest yet to anyone Who reminds me of our own dear son.
 His manners, character and size, Even to his clear expressive eyes, And with his captivating smile, I dream of other years the while. Saddened when death claimed our only child—
 Time was long 'ere again I smiled. But Jim resembles most my boy, Recalling years so filled with joy. And I ask that God will bless this Lad
 For time has healed the heart made sad. O that the mother of Little Jim Will always put her trust in him. And that her faith will there abide
 To blossom in a man of pride. Dedicated to Jimmy Allen by Jane Rogers Taylor.
 P.S.—Just a little gift in his memory. 31

Michigan home builders are looking forward to another record home construction year in 1950.
 According to Hirtus E. Alles, executive secretary of the Michigan Association of Home Builders, which is sponsoring a conference in Grand Rapids Feb. 1-3, prospects for 1950 are unusually bright.
 "The volume of new homes built in 1949 has far exceeded the earlier expectations of the home building industry," said Alles. "This huge production of lower priced homes for those of modest incomes is in line with the plans laid down by this industry at their meetings of previous years."
 "A relatively higher degree of activity will be found in the usually slower months of winter and spring. While the number of large projects in the big cities are more spectacular and attention getting, it is an interesting fact that the smaller builder still is the back-bone of the industry. Well over three-fourths of the over one million homes built in 1949 in the U.S. can be credited to those who build less than six homes per year."

Builders from every part of Michigan will meet at Grand Rapids to discuss the ways in which they can bring to their own community the newest and best in home construction. This meeting will be open to everyone interested in building of homes. Many manufacturers will have displays of the newest materials and home equipment with experts on hand to give builders every assistance in using the time saving and cost reducing new methods in building the best homes ever offered.
 Residential building in smaller communities has the best prospect of increased volume in the coming several years. Expansion of the industry in this respect is being aided through the activities of the Michigan Association of Home Builders. Use of better materials, better construction methods and more liberal financing is being encouraged through their efforts.
 Mr. Alles states that the smaller builder, who will avail himself of the opportunities offered him to keep up with the latest developments, can always deliver to his customers anywhere in Michigan as good a house and at as low a cost as the biggest big city builder.

and a serious thought!

WHAT A PICTURE she makes — that small blue-denim charmer playing "dress-up" in Mum-my's castoffs.

But one day, not too far off, she's going to want pretty clothes of her own to wear for the beaux she's sure to have. She's going to want other things, too — a nice home where she can entertain, the best education you can buy for her.

Unfortunately — and a serious thought it is — all those things cost money. Are you doing anything constructive about it?

U. S. Savings Bonds offer you a foolproof, almost painless way to accumulate a nest egg.

Danger of Fires Worse on Farms

Suggestions Advanced For Preventing Blaze

Of an estimated fire loss of 11,000 lives and nearly 700 million dollars in property and resources indicated for the year 1949, a great percentage of these losses will be made up of fires on the farm.

Because of lack of fire protection or adequate fire-fighting facilities, farm fires in almost every case are the most disastrous, because of the almost inevitable complete loss which results.

Already the national board of fire underwriters has reported property destruction from fire in the amount of 398 million dollars, 8.9 per cent below the same period for 1948. But even if a downward trend should continue for the remainder of 1949, this year's losses would approach the 1948 all-time high of more than 711 million dollars.

These figures mark 1948-49 as the most disastrous period in a decade that has recorded five billion dollars in fire destruction. Between 1940 and 1948, fire loss soared 132 per cent.

As the "prime cause" of most of the 800,000 fires annually, the Board lists "plain carelessness and misuse of heating and lighting equipment."

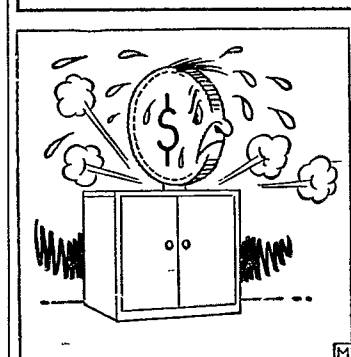

The leading single cause of fire is careless smoking and use of matches, accounting for 16.68 per cent of the total destruction. However, over the past ten years, the combination of defective chimneys and flues, stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipes, and sparks on roofs has been responsible for 20.47 per cent of all fires reported.

Proper safeguards in installation and maintenance of heating equipment, chimneys and flues, safety officials say, will prevent fires of this type. Many communities already protect their citizens with ordinances requiring the installation of flue linings in all new chimneys. One effective means of fireproofing chimneys involves the use of clay flue lining which forms a single, continuous nonflammable unit inside chimneys of all types. The indestructible clay lining prevents weather, heat and corrosive smoke and gases from eating away the mortar between the bricks of the chimney. This eliminates the danger of flames reaching combustible materials through cracks between the bricks.

Authorities urge homeowners to make a careful inspection of chimneys and heating equipment.

Sweat Down Costs

Sweat down your production costs if you want to maintain profits in these days of declining farm prices.

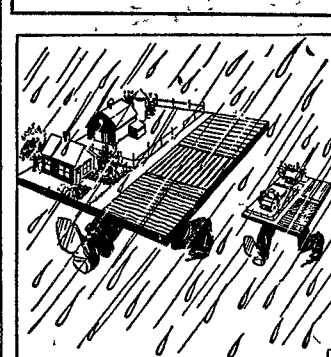

One way to sweat down those costs is to increase your crop yields per acre. More bushels of corn and grain per acre, more pounds of meat, milk, dairy products and poultry mean lower production costs per unit. On such a basis you can make a profit even if prices slacken further.

You can get those higher yields and lower costs with good soil management. Good soil management means giving your soil a fair deal. It means supplying the soil a well-balanced ration of plant foods, so crops will be well nourished. It means building up instead of breaking down soil structure and tilth. It means "recharging" the land with soil-enriching crops at regular intervals, instead of growing soil-draining row crops year after year on the same land.

Measuring Spoon

Grease your measuring spoon or cup with margarine before measuring molasses, honey, or syrup. You will find that the sticky liquids pour more easily.

Making Most of Rain

Whether your farm loses two or 20 tons of topsoil per acre yearly due to erosion, depends on how you handle the water that falls on sloping fields.

Making rain work for instead of against you, is largely a matter of good soil management. Agronomists have found that soils high in organic matter soak up more water quickly and store it for growing crops.

Water "walks" instead of runs off well-managed land that has the benefit of soil-building rotations, deep-rooted legumes, plenty of fertilizer and conservation tillage methods. Water makes a quick getaway on naked, overcropped land that has been mined of its organic matter and plant nutrients.

Tractor Wheels Need Regular Servicing

The front wheels of farm tractors work under dusty conditions and unless they are serviced and adjusted regularly they will need repairs.

Replacement of front wheel bearings will cost approximately $37 per bearing, and there are four of them in the front wheels, says S. L. Vogel, assistant farm engineer of the North Dakota agricultural extension service.

Two methods of lubricating front wheel bearings are used on modern tractors, Vogel said. One is the hand packed method. The wheels should be removed at least once a year, cleaned, and bearings repacked with wheel bearing grease.

Feedlot Meat Tonnage Increased During Year

More meat tonnage produced in feedlots this fall and winter as a result of a generally favorable feeding ratio will provide consumers with a more adequate meat supply in the months ahead, according to H. M. Conway, livestock market analyst.

A near-record 1949 corn crop, added to the heavy carry-over from 1948, plus a generally plentiful supply of roughage helped supplies.

Electric Brooders Nip Fire, Heat Problems

Getting rid of the danger of fire, and maintaining controlled temperatures, are the two big advantages of electric chicken brooders, according to most farm extension service engineers.

Farmers, too, it has been reported, have upheld these experts' findings in agreeing that birds feather over faster under electric heat than other types.

However, some caution must be observed in installing an electric chicken brooder. The brooder-house must be draft tight and, if possible, have a double or insulated floor. Electric brooders do not have enough heat to do a good job of holding an even temperature unless the brooder is free of drafts.

Here Are Timely Tips To Help Dairy Farmers

Three timely tips to help dairymen are passed along by C. S. Rhode of the Illinois college of agriculture. First, he said, the stalls in most barns are not wide or long enough for the larger cows. Second, cows should not be kept outside during cold rains. Third, harm is oftentimes done by the dairyman neglecting the feet of heifers and cows. They should always be trimmed properly.

Non-Partisan News Letter

As a step toward contributing trained physicians to Michigan, President David D. Henry of Wayne University, Detroit, has asked Governor Williams that a request for $3,000,000 be presented at the 1950 special session of the state legislature for construction of a Medical Science building. The structure would make possible an increase in the medical enrollment of approximately 50 per cent.

Harry Henderson, member of the State Liquor Control Commission, is backing a plan for remedial action for alcoholics. Drinkers at bars would be invited to contribute coins for establishment of a clinic for chronic drunkards. George W. Hood, spokesman for the Metropolitan Detroit Committee on Alcoholism, has estimated that 136,700 excessive drinkers reside in Michigan. Hood says there are 40,000 drinkers in Detroit industry. By losing an average of 22 working days a year, they cost the factories nearly $2,250,000 annually.

The Michigan Police Journal recently stated that "the most tragic aspect of the problem of alcoholism in this country is the rapid increase of excessive drinking among those in the lower age bracket." This publication for Michigan Police Chiefs quotes the Reverend Ralph S. Pfau, lecturer who has spent two years working among members of Alcoholics Anonymous. The average incident has dropped from 38 to 33 years in the past five years, states Pfau.

Another quote from the Police Journal: "Meanwhile in Detroit the number of drunks brought into Recorder's Court each day continues at a rapid pace. During the first two weeks of October while Recorder's Judge Paul E. Krause handled the early sessions, he heard an average of 50 drunk cases daily."

Little wonder then that the Michigan Table-Toppers, statewide organization for the beverage industry, has endorsed this program of Commissioner Henderson to do something about the growing problem of alcoholics. Also studying the alcoholic problem is a committee of the legislature headed by Representative T. Jefferson Hoxie, St. Louis. Other members included Reps. Peter J. Kelly, Detroit; Glenn B. Robinson, South Haven; Homer L. Bauer, Charlotte; and Earl Hebert, Ecorse.

Another post-war problem: More classrooms and more teachers — both of which will require more tax money — will be needed by Michigan public schools during the next six years, according to the State Department of Public Instruction, Lansing. Present school enrollment is estimated at approximately 1,000,000; will rise by 1956 to 1,200,000. Needed in 1950: 333 additional classrooms.

Total debt of governments in Michigan — state, counties, cities, school districts, villages and townships — are $850,000 or about $119 for each inhabitant. Interest on the debt is about $45,000,000, all of which are paid by taxpayers.

Taxes of Michigan governments amount to $816,000,000 or a $531 per capita cost to each citizen annually. Michigan citizens and corporations pay to Uncle Sam $2,564,512,168 to the U. S. Treasury, while Michigan received back from Washington $59,170,000.

Who pays for these taxes? One-fourth of the current cost of a Michigan-made automobile is the hidden cost of taxes. It is estimated that each family in the United States last year paid a total of $317.18 in corporate income tax alone. The tax on tobacco averaged $44.63; retail sales, $48.55; gasoline, $49.02; liquor, $68.64. Hidden taxes will be found in the price of nearly everything the wage earner buys today. In the aggregate, the total is far more than income taxes. And yet the illusion exists that only the rich and big corporations pay the major part of federal and state taxes!

Equivalent to an increase in wages will be the 1950 decline of living costs, now forecast by economists. From the all time high of September, 1948, living costs dropped 3 per cent in 1949. A further fall of 2 to 3 per cent is anticipated for 1950. Farm price decline will be limited by federal supports.

What Can The People Believe?

When the anti-trust lawyers in Washington filed their suit to put the A&P out of business, they immediately handed out for all the newspapers of the United States a story giving in detail their "allegations" against this company.

When we published advertisements giving our side of the case, they protested, even though they had made, and have continued to make, in newspapers, in speeches and over the radio these charges that would seriously damage our business, if they were believed by the public.

Every week millions of American housewives patronize A&P stores. Many of them would not want to deal with the kind of people that the anti-trust lawyers represent us to be.

We think we have a right to protect this 90-year old business which has made it possible for millions of American families to get more and better food for their money, which is providing high-wage employment for 110,000 Americans and which is helping millions of farmers to improve the methods of distributing their produce.

No answer by us would be necessary if the anti-trust lawyers were always right.

But they, like all other human beings, can be wrong.

In this case we know they are wrong.

They have been wrong before.

In case after case they made charges against A&P which were proved in court to be utterly without foundation.

We will prove that statement right up to the hilt.

The anti-trust lawyers tell the public that they won a previous anti-trust suit against us at Danville, Illinois. They did.

What they do not tell you is that they brought case after case against the A&P in federal courts all over the United States. Before they won this case they suffered three defeats.

The anti-trust lawyers have told everybody about the time that the courts said they were right. We think you are entitled to know about the three times the courts said they were wrong.

Now we are going to tell you about the first one. In future advertisements we will tell you about all of them.

The Washington Bread Case

In April, 1941, the anti-trust lawyers brought a criminal suit in Washington, D. C.

They charged that the A&P, two grocery chain competitors, two labor unions and other good American citizens had conspired to fix the price of bread.

Can anyone imagine any charge calculated to be more damaging to a retail grocery business? They asked millions of people to believe that we were the kind of grocers who would take bread out of the mouths of poor people and make it harder for a wife and mother to feed her family.

These charges were false.

In that case it developed that the A&P and the two competitors who were charged with conspiring with us to maintain high bread prices actually sold bread cheaper than most of the other stores in Washington.

The anti-trust lawyers presented and argued their case. When they were through, Federal District Judge Allen T. Goldsborough ruled that A&P and the other defendants did not even have to put in a defense. He ordered the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

Judge Goldsborough said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all.

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

So here was a case in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against the A&P, in support of which, in the words of the court, they did not have "any evidence at all."

This was not the only time the anti-trust lawyers made charges against the A&P which the courts said were not true. In future ads we are going to tell you about these other suits. We are not going to duck, either. We are going to tell you about the criminal suit that the anti-trust lawyers won at Danville, Illinois.

The anti-trust lawyers say that they are not attacking "bigness" or efficiency. They have to say that because the courts have decided that "bigness" and efficiency and selling at low prices is not a crime.

But the fact is crystal clear that they only brought their bread suit against the big companies and against companies that sold good bread at the lowest prices; just as in this current suit they are attacking a big company that sells good food cheap.

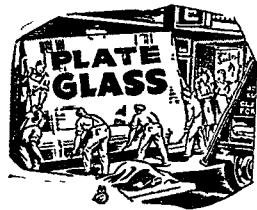

We are going to show the American people that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency and against real competition.

The real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job; or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

No one can make us believe that it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

Howell — An estimated 750 persons attended the Howell Electric Motors Company Christmas party at the armory Friday night, December 23. This was planned for employees and members of their families. There was another Yuletide party at the plant December 19 for the women employees.

WHY IS COFFEE SEVEN CENTS?

Open forum meetings, designed to open better channels of communication between front office executives and the shop floor, have been inaugurated by The Timken Roller Bearing Company, and will be conducted in the eleven plants located in this country.

The meetings were never meant to take the place of collective bargaining, but the forum can make, up, in some measure, the close personal relationship that is often lacking in so large a company.

The forum should give employees a clearer picture of company policies and should, at the same time, give officers more understanding of just what gripes the employees may have — why is coffee 7 cents in the company cafeteria, for instance.

Deputy Sheriff Gerald Smith. Death came as result of suicide, according to Sheriff Clark Marr and Coroner Clyde Davenport.

Chelsea—Chelsea High school got off to a flying start in the Albion College Invitational Tournament recently as they drubbed their football nemesis of last season, Parma High school, by the lopsided score of 52-20.

Birmingham — The Birmingham recreation board will resume all phases of its annual winter program Saturday morning, Jan. 7, at 8:45 a. m. An extensive range of activities will be offered to children of elementary grade ages every Saturday for the next two months.

The conservation department points out to ice fishermen that the law requires all shanties be "properly" marked with owners' names and addresses.

Tacking a board (with the name and address thereon) to the shanty does not comply with the intent of the law, the department's law enforcement division emphasized. The writing must be on an outside wall of the shanty and in letters of insoluble material not less than two inches high.

This year, a shanty must be removed at any time during the ice fishing season when unsafe conditions prevail. Last year, there was a grace period of 30 days before the angler was legally obligated to remove the shanty, after the ice became unsafe or the shanty actually went under.

Under the law, the department may remove and store or destroy such structures and assess the costs of same to owner in addition to penalties which may be assessed for violation.

Johnstown, Pennsylvania

Joseph Jahns, a Swiss, settled on the Conemaugh River in 1791. A few years later a town was laid out there and named in his honor. A forge was in operation at Johnstown as early as 1809, and the town has been noted as an iron center since 1842, when its first furnace was built. A steel works was built eleven years later. The city was almost completely destroyed by a flood in 1889, but made a rapid recovery from the disaster.

standout in styling—dreams to drive—and now there's a Buick beauty for 1950 to fit practically any budget*No, we just couldn't hold back the whole big Buick line for 1950.

They're too good-looking—too much fun to drive—too jam-packed with stepped-up, higher-compression, ready-to-ramble power—to be kept under cover.

So maybe you've already seen some 1950 Buicks on the highway.

Maybe you've noticed the extra "git up and travel" they have—glimpesd the wide, curving windshields (one piece in most models)—noted, approvingly, that the typical Buick taper is now found in all Buick fenders.

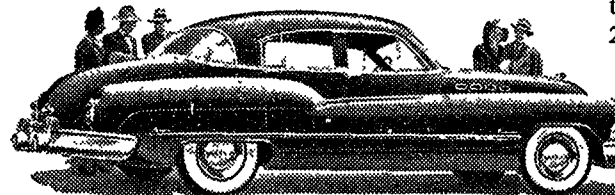

Maybe you've even heard some things...

That there are more than a dozen-and-a-half models to choose from. That there are three power plants in the Buick line—all of higher compression, all stepped up in power.

That all models are big and roomy inside—some rear seats are better than a foot wider than before!—yet in every instance, shorter over-all, so easier to handle, park and garage.

Above all, maybe you've heard of exciting news on price...

That Dynaflo Drive, for instance—standard on ROADMASTER models, optional on all others—now costs 20% less than on 1949 models.

LOTS OF LUGGAGE SPACE, plus a high-fashion rear-end treatment, graces the Buick tourback Sedan models for 1950. This is the ROADMASTER, and above is the SUPER version of this much-wanted 4-door, 6-passenger Sedan.

Basketball NEWS

The Northville Mustangs journey to the New Hudson Gym tomorrow night to take on the Lions of South Lyon. The first game is scheduled for 7 p. m., with the varsity contest to follow.

The NHS cagers practiced daily last week during their Christmas vacation and should be in good form against the Lions.

The long layoff—from December 20 to January 6—without a game has advantages and disadvantages. Teams have a chance to brush up on weak points and pull loose ends together, but the long period without a game provides no opportunity to sharpen up against an opponent. However, all teams are in the same position.

The Mustangs will begin the 1950 part of this season with a 3-1 record. The NHS hoopers clipped Clarenceville, Brighton and Dexter in succession, then lost by a two-point margin to Plymouth. By no stretch of the imagination is a one-basket victory overwhelming. The Mustangs will have another crack at Plymouth February 7 on the Rocks' home floor.

1949 STATE POLICE REPORT SHOWS FEWER TRAFFIC DEATHS

A favorable change in Michigan's traffic death rate is reported by Commissioner Donald S. Leonard in a year-end resume of State Police activities.

The steady upward rise in highway fatalities which began in August was reversed in November, when the death toll of 138 represented a reduction of 16 per cent, or 27 under the same month of 1948. Although final figures are not yet available, it is believed December will reflect the same trend.

There were 3,650 persons injured in November, an increase of 100, or three per cent, over November of 1948. Reported accidents totaled 12,813, a gain of 922, or eight per cent.

As it stands, a net decrease of four per cent in traffic deaths is expected for the year, Leonard said. In 1948 there were 1,512 killed against an estimated 1,450 in 1949. On the other hand, there was a one and one-half per cent increase in both accidents reported and injuries. Accidents in 1948 totaled 140,172, while the estimate for 1949 is 142,250. Injuries increased from 40,892 to 41,500. Travel, however, was much heavier.

The death rate per 100 million miles of travel dropped from 7.9 persons to 7.2, or nine per cent. In 1948 drivers in Michigan traveled 19,119,400,000 miles, while in 1949 the total is estimated at 20 billion, a gain of five per cent. Traffic arrests made by State Police increased 19 per cent, or from 42,561, to 50,482. Roadside assistance was given to 93,298 motorists.

In an effort to further cope with the accident problem, plain patrol cars driven by uniformed officers were placed in service towards the close of the year in the heavier traffic areas of the southern half of the lower peninsula. A survey had shown that officers in plain cars observed about eight times as many traffic violations as those in the familiar marked cars. The latter, however, will continue to be used.

Reporting on other activities of the State Police, Leonard said that arrests other than traffic increased two per cent, or 19,413 as compared with 19,037 in 1948.

In April the murder of a six-year-old Detroit boy and the quick apprehension of the 19-year-old slayer by two troopers who found him walking on a country road aroused public demand for greater measure to control or segregate sex deviates. Later a similar sex murder in Lansing and additional offenses in the Detroit area led to the establishment of the Governor's study commission and appropriations by the "little legislature" to provide more facilities for the care of mental defectives and

Population of Lithuania

The present population of Lithuania within its actual boundaries of 1939, the regions of Vilnius and Klaipeda inclusive, is estimated at 2,700,000. (The population of Lithuania within the same boundaries was 3,032,863 in 1939.) The present population figure includes more than 200,000 Soviet-imported Russian settlers, and units of the Red army, the MVD, and the MGB. Most of the Russian settlers are to be found in the cities, and especially in the regions of Vilnius and Klaipeda.

Reverse Image Mirror

An inventor in Hamburg, Germany, claims he has developed a mirror with a reverse image, permitting the viewer to see himself as others see him. Franz Mueller, the inventor, is a bit nervous about showing the device or allowing it to be photographed, however, he said, it will be placed on exhibition when patented. In this mirror left is really left and right is right as against the "backward" reflection of the conventional mirror.

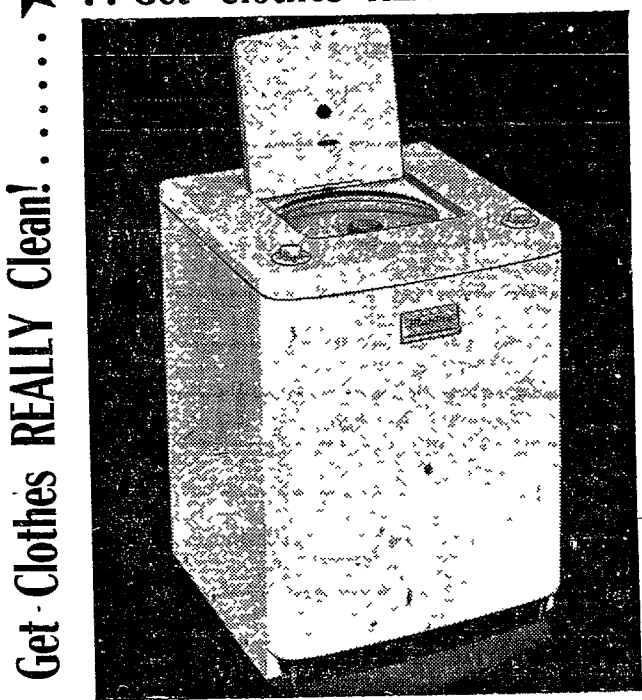

First Cog Railway

Mount Washington's cog railway was the world's first. Completed in 1869, it confounded the "experts" of the time who had said the job couldn't be done. Already there was a carriage, now motor, road extending to the summit. As early as 1899, a pioneering motorist made the first ascent.

Fruit In Roll

To make a wonderful dessert, roll out your favorite biscuit dough and spread it with a thick fruit sauce—rhubarb, strawberry, peach—or any of your favorite summer fruits. Then roll it up jelly roll style and cut the roll into two-inch slices and bake. The clever dessert slices can be topped with more of the fruit sauce or with sweetened whipped cream.

First Invention at 14

Now lost in obscurity, but well known in his day, was Tom Blanchard, who at 14 conceived a handy apple parer that peeled the fruit twice as fast as could be done by hand. Four years later he developed a machine that turned out 500 tacks a minute.

New Hospital Fund Chairman Enlisted

The new campaign chairman for the $19,720,000 Greater Detroit Hospital Fund was announced Thursday, December 29, and the year-end standing of the federated hospital program was made public.

Herbert Trix, civic leader and president of the W. M. Chace Company, has been enlisted as chairman, James B. Webber, Jr., president of the Hospital Fund, disclosed. Trix later revealed that the fund has received subscriptions to date totaling $14,024,165, leaving approximately 5 1/2 million dollars still to be raised.

Webber pointed out that Trix is replacing John R. Davis who has had to relinquish the campaign chairmanship of the fund because of illness.

"Herbert Trix," he said, "has the know-how to carry this vitally important campaign through to a successful conclusion and we are proud to have enlisted him as our campaign chairman."

"We pay tribute to Jack Davis who, for the last year, has guided the destinies of the Hospital Fund to the present high point. Now sickness has forced Mr. Davis off to the sidelines temporarily and we wish him a speedy recovery and many years of good health. We are sure the enlistment of Mr. Trix and the ultimate success of this campaign for 14 hospitals will be good medicine for Mr. Davis and a source of gratification to all connected with or benefitting by the program of the Hospital Fund."

In accepting the campaign chairmanship of the fund, Trix said: "The fact that the fund now stands at $14,024,165 speaks more eloquently than words of the unusual accomplishments of Mr. Davis and his team."

"I pledge to do my best during the remaining months of the program to achieve the full objective so necessary for the construction of additional voluntary hospital facilities adequate to meet the needs of the metropolitan area. I know my job will be a rewarding one, working with such teammates as M. E. Coyle,

A&P Charges Suit Aims To Prevent Real Competition

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company charged today that the current anti-trust suit against the company is really "a suit against efficiency and against real competition."

The company announced its intention of running a series of advertisements telling about previous suits brought against A&P by the anti-trust lawyers in which the charges were proved to be false.

"In case after case they made charges against A&P which were proved in court to be utterly without foundation," the first ad of the series stated.

This week's ad cited one such suit in 1941 in which the company was cleared of charges of conspiracy to fix bread prices. Under the caption "The Washington Bread Case," the decision of Federal Judge Allen T. Goldsborough is quoted:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you there was not any evidence at all. . . . Honestly, I have never in my forty years' experience tried a case that was absolutely devoid of evidence as this. This is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

The food chain declares that while "the anti-trust lawyers say they are not attacking 'big-pluck,' either. We are going to suit against only the big 'company' that sold good bread at the lowest prices, just as in this current suit they are attacking a big company that sells good food cheap."

"The real question involved in this (present) suit," the ad says, "is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job; or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people the most for their money."

The food chain points out that it was forced to carry out its present newspaper campaign to protect its business against the charges which the anti-trust lawyers were making in press releases, in speeches and on the radio.

"Charges," says A&P, "that would seriously damage our business if they were believed by the public."

The ad states that the anti-trust lawyers "have been wrong before," and "in this case we know they are wrong."

The company declares: "The anti-trust lawyers tell the public they won a previous anti-trust suit against us at Danville, Illinois. They did. What they do not tell you is that they brought case after case against the A&P in federal courts all over the United States. Before they won this case they suffered three defeats."

In conclusion the ad states the company will tell about the other suits. "We are not going to 'big-pluck,' either. We are going to tell you about the criminal suit against the anti-trust lawyers won at Danville, Illinois."

Certified Seed Proves Its Value

Farm crops specialist Herbert Pettigrove of Michigan State College has long been advising farmers of the benefits of certified seed. Recently he was able to point out some very definite evidence to a group of 4-H Club and FFA boys that certified seed is a good buy.

Pettigrove was one of the judges at a recent bean show in Sanilac county. After completing the judging, the officials decided to check the origin of the entries to find which ones were from uncertified seed, from certified seed, and those one year removed from certified seed.

In the top or blue ribbon group, 90 per cent of the FFA samples and 80 per cent of the 4-H Club samples were from certified seed. Only 10 per cent of the blue ribbon group in each class were of the one year removed from certified seed origin. Uncertified seed produced no blue ribbons in FFA competition and only 10 per cent in the 4-H Club competition.

Farther down the rating scale in the white ribbon group, there was a different story. Uncertified seed accounted for 53 per cent of the white ribbon winners in FFA competition and 87 per cent in the 4-H Club competition.

These results, Pettigrove believes, show graphically the value of certified seed. Farmers who are interested in getting high quality, good germination, and weed and disease free seed are wise to invest a little more money and buy certified seed, he states.

"Detroit club women" will participate in a broadcast program in a Town Meeting of the Air, with Catherine Curtis of Washington, D. C., on Tuesday, January 10 at 10:30 a.m. at the Women's City Club Auditorium. Miss Curtis, nationally known authority on finance and economics who, more than any other woman in America, has brought to the attention of industry and the public the importance of women's financial stake in the country.
