

CREED OF
OUR WISEST
PATRIOT

Ben Franklin, whose teachings and philosophy are cherished the world over, was first and foremost, a thrifty man. Through lean years, and in times of security, he never failed to remember—and provide for the future.

National Thrift Week is held from January 17 to 23 in commemoration of Benjamin Franklin's birth. Let it serve as a reminder of the wisdom of saving a little each day—that tomorrow may be secure.

West Point To Have
Postal Sub-Station

The West Point Park area will be serviced by a post office sub-station, it was announced recently. Service to the area which takes in the community around Seven Mile and Farmington Roads will begin about the first of February according to the Farmington postmaster, Norman Lee.

The post office sub-station will be located at the Midwest Feed and Supply store at 3316 West Seven Mile Road, just east of Farmington Road. The new sub-station, it is believed, will alleviate the burden now put upon the Farmington post office.

The station itself will handle most of the duties now done by the city post office. It will be available to patrons who wish to buy stamps, send packages, and buy money orders. It will however, not distribute mail.

Arnold Joseph, proprietor of the Midwest Feed and Supply, says he will partition off a separate space for the postal station.

New Adult Leather
Class Forms Monday

A new leather tooling and assembly class is open to all adults interested in the art of tooling fine leathers and will start Monday, January 16 at 7:30 in the basement of the Scout Building. The course will be held for a six weeks period and a small charge will be made to cover the costs of materials and instruction. The projects will be small in size and are designed to give all the basic fundamentals of not only tooling but on how to complete the project.

Those that have had leather tooling and need some help in furthering some project may attend the Tuesday classes from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. in the basement of the Scout Building. The Northville Recreation Committee is sponsoring this event.

Dog Training Class
To Meet Friday

All dog owners who are having trouble teaching their dogs good manners and would like to correct this condition, should make a date now to come to the Northville High school gymnasium Friday, January 13 at 8:00 p. m. On that night, the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club will put on a demonstration of obedience trained dogs, both for the crowd's entertainment and education. The classes are being sponsored by the Recreation committee.

This exhibition will be introductory to a course of 10 lessons in "Owner Dog Obedience Training" which will be conducted by instructors of the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club. This organization is made up of the most prominent obedience people in the Southern Michigan area and their courses of instruction have been over-subscribed for the last two years. I. W. Dickey, the Club's president, says that "owner dog obedience training is growing by leaps and bounds. It is fast becoming a must with dog owners."

The course of instruction which this club offers covers only those exercises which are useful to the dog owner. They do not teach tricks. Among the many elements of the course are lectures on dog psychology, kinds of commands used in dog training and tone of voice. The exercises taught during the 10 week period are "Heel on Leash", "Heel off Leash", "Stand for Examination", "Sit Stay", "Down Stay", and "Recall."

Carl Johnson or J. P. Malley will be glad to answer any questions which may arise about the class. The time and place where the classes will meet will be decided upon at the session Friday night.

Mrs. C. E. Rogers
Claimed By Death

Mrs. Harriet Rogers passed away January 4 at her residence 43180 Nine Mile Road, at the age of 82 years after an extended illness.

Funeral services for Mrs. Rogers were conducted Saturday afternoon from the home under the auspices of Casterline's Funeral Home with Rev. William Hughes of the Methodist church officiating. Burial took place in the family plot in Grand Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Surviving are her four sons, Charles A., E. Donald, and Russell H. Rogers of Detroit and Roger M. Rogers of Birmingham. Also surviving are 15 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Rogers' husband, Charles E. Rogers preceded her in death seven years ago.

Mrs. Rogers was born to Charles Monroe Thornton and Borridell Tobey Thornton August 26, 1867, in the house which stands just east of her present home. Her parents were early pioneer farmers in this vicinity, having taken up some land from the government. After completing her studies, the late Mrs. Rogers for some time taught school in the Hinman school district on East Seven Mile Road.

She was united in marriage September 21, 1887 in her parents' home to Charles E. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Rogers who owned a milk condenser on Seven Mile Road. They continued to maintain the homestead on Nine Mile Road although Mr. Rogers' business took them to Detroit, Pennsylvania and Idaho for several years.

In 1930, Mr. Rogers retired from the business of manufacturing heavy dairy equipment and they built the home at 43180 Nine Mile.

Mrs. Rogers was one of the oldest living members of First Methodist church and she was affiliated with the Northville Woman's Club and the Merry-Go-Round Club.

Legion Organizes
'Tide of Toys' Drive

Recognizing that wars come in cycles of about 20 years, the American Legion is going out of its way to help Europe's children of today, so that they will become tomorrow's friends. Legion posts all over the country are concentrating on Operation "TOT"—the Tide of Toys—urging children in the United States to start their Christmas playthings with the less fortunate youngsters of war-torn Europe.

Legion posts throughout the nation are reporting high enthusiasm and backing by city officials, newspapers, radio, stations and independent organizations. Mayors and governors in several states have issued proclamations designating "TOT" week.

The humanitarian effort has been endorsed by the National Education association, and pastors in churches have issued appeals for cooperation. Conrad Springer is "TOT" chairman in Northville. Toys should be collected from the entire community, not just a few homes. It is asked that toys which are reminders of war, such as guns, should not be contributed. Friendly messages should be attached to each toy. There can be either signed Christmas greetings or letters, for the chief purpose of the "Tide of Toys" is to let the children of Europe—the generation of the future—know that they have real American friends.

Toys should not be fragile or perishable and should be sent in care of the churches of this community, not later than Sunday, January 15. CARE has charge of distribution in Europe.

VFW Movie To Be Shown Sunday

"Joe's Kid" will be shown next Sunday, January 15 at 8:00 p. m. at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, 438 Plymouth Ave.

Claude L. Hair, service officer of the 4th district who was instrumental in securing the picture for the showing will be present as will Mr. Vandenberg and Mr. Prior of the state department. The gentlemen will be ready to answer any questions which the audience may have concerning the picture.

The picture will outline in detail the care of the children at the Eaton Rapids National VFW home and will show the cottage mothers and their way of working with children. Recreation facilities such as the library, playgrounds, auditorium and stables will be shown. The film's running time is 45 minutes and all veterans, their families and the general public are urged to attend as the picture will give a very clear and educational insight regarding the program for veterans' children in the Eaton Rapids home.

NOTICE

Several windows were recently broken in the Scout Building by Village boys. Their antics were climaxed Monday evening by a snowball being thrown through the window, the glass of which splattered on several boys who were playing billiards in the basement.

The Northville Recreation Committee has deemed it wise to close the Boy's Club temporarily. The building will be closed for all activities except those conducted by the Scout leaders until further notice.

Duo-Pianists To Present Recital

Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson, internationally famous duo-pianists, will give a recital January 17, at the Wayne County Training School Auditorium beginning at 8:15. They will be sponsored by the Northville Community Concert Association. This team, through concerts, radio and Columbia Masterwork recordings, have popularized two-piano music throughout the country.

Ethel Bartlett was born on the edge of Epping Forest in the county of Essex, England, but was taken to London when she was ten and educated there. Early in her career, she won the Associated Board Scholarship. She studied chiefly at the Royal Academy of Music and it was there she met Rae Robertson, who she was to marry and with whom she was to begin her real musical career.

Rae Robertson was born in a small Highland village near Inverness in North Scotland. At the age of three he began to pick out tunes on the piano by ear. He was a pupil at Leipzig Conservatory and later he attended Edinburgh University to prepare for his M. A. degree. He began his studies at Royal Academy but his education was interrupted by World War I. He joined the army and served for two years and after the war, he completed his studies at the Academy.

Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson were the first two English artists to play works for two pianos. They have since played all over Europe, the United States, South America, Mexico, South Africa, Canada and Cuba.

Members of the Community Concert Association will hold an informal reception for the concert artists following the recital. All concert members are urged to attend. Reservations are unnecessary. A silver offering will be taken.

Education's Needs
Stressed at Rotary

Mr. Helmer Nelson, superintendent of Plymouth public schools, was the speaker at the Rotary club meeting last Tuesday noon. He was introduced by Tom Rossetti, who has charge of January meetings, which are related to education.

Nelson regretted the fact that education does not have a measuring stick similar to that of industry and business. There is no way to measure profits or losses other than to wait twenty years or so and then to try to determine what effect education had on a man's success in life.

He said that schools must be dynamic and ever-changing and that there is a definite relation between static, run-down communities and their poor schools. Nelson outlined four musts for public schools of today if they are to serve today's students adequately: the need for the three R's; the need for personality adjustment; character and attitude building, and good guidance programs.

Florida Visitors May See Oceanarium

Northville visitors to sunny Florida may now witness the world's only porpoises in captivity as they leap high from the water to snatch morsels of food from attendants' hands, and observe colorful and fascinating phenomena of undersea life in an amazing presentation of live marine life at Marine Studios in Marineland, Florida according to Westerfield Farm Supply local agent for Great Lakes Greyhound Lines.

Marine Studios, the world's only Oceanarium, is located on Florida State Route No. 1, eighteen miles south of St. Augustine and thirty-five miles north of Daytona Beach. More than a million dollars have been expended here to provide vacationists, camera fans and persons scientifically bent with the opportunity to view, film and study sub-sea life as it actually appears "20,000 leagues under the sea."

Through more than 200 giant portholes strategically placed at eye-level, visitors may view 12-foot tiger sharks moving ominously over a seven-ton coral reef that is resplendent with sea fans, intriguing rock grottoes which are startlingly beautiful in color and shape, and caves that provide safe haven for small fish from 1500-pound great manta rays and other denizens of the deep.

At feeding time, the Oceanarium comes alive with fresh activity as divers see that each specie receives its allotted share of favored food. Porpoises arch gracefully as they eat from attendants' hands. Even the small coral fish fight each other for their diet of shrimp and crab.

Woodchuck Nuisance

Woodchucks are nuisances on any farm or pasture. Many a head of livestock has broken its leg by stepping into one of these holes. The mounds of dirt around the holes interfere with farm machinery. These animals destroy a certain amount of grain but their main damage is done in their burrowing.

Lake-Circled Michigan Cited as Refuge From Hay Fever by Wayne U. Medicos

A stretch of sandy Lake Huron beach between Cheboygan and Alpena is one of many Michigan areas found to enjoy an atmosphere soothing to hay fever-sensitive people. At the right an "exposure stand," to test air for its pollen, is inspected by Miss Arlene Buckel, a Wayne coed from Traverse City.

With its three thousand miles of coastline along four of the Great Lakes, Michigan has extensive water-bordered areas which provide refuge from ragweed pollen, one of the chief irritants connected with hay fever.

Rareness of ragweed along the state's shores has brought special comment from two research workers at the Wayne University College of Medicine, in Detroit, who add that one bit of Michigan, Isle Royale, ranks as the best ragweed refuge in any state bordering the Great Lakes.

In general, the Upper Peninsula is in a more fortunate position from the standpoint of pollen than the Lower Peninsula, the researchers say. The Sault Ste. Marie area and the tip of the Houghton Peninsula make especially good showings in pollen tests. But Michigan as a whole, with the longest shoreline of all states in the Union, is given medical preference as a refuge.

Research by the two medical scientists, Drs. Alex and Sidney Friedlaender, has shown that although ragweed is plentiful in the southern part of the state, the two peninsulas have large areas of beachland which are free of the plant. Throughout the central and northern part of the state, lakeside air is free of the pollen except on days when there are strong southerly winds from inland regions.

The doctors, who are engaged in one phase of a nation-wide study, say that two factors give Michigan's beach areas their protective role. First, air loses its pollen in blowing over expanses of water. Second, wide stretches of beach sand, unlike cultivated fields or brushlands, repel growth of the plant.

Ragweed is not the only irritant bringing trouble to people suffering from hay fever, the doctors say. Other irritants are trees, grasses, and molds. Thus, taking refuge in an area free of ragweed pollen does not always bring escape from irritation.

Too Much Emphasis On Heart Disease, U-M Doctor Claims

American people and physicians have become overly heart conscious, according to a University of Michigan heart specialist.

Doctors today are inclined to blame the heart for sudden death when there is no clear evidence that the organ is abnormal, according to Dr. Franklin D. Johnston, professor of internal medicine.

He emphasizes that specialized procedures such as electrocardiograms should be preceded by careful physical examination and study of the patient's past illnesses and complaints in order to make an accurate heart diagnosis.

"Many patients have been told they have heart disease and have even been put to bed for long periods of time purely on the basis of abnormalities in the electrocardiogram, when there is nothing in the patient's history and there are no physical findings to justify such a course," Dr. Johnston contends.

Writing in the Journal of the Michigan State Medical Society, Dr. Johnston declares, "There is reason for optimism relative to most heart problems, and physicians can do a great deal to decrease heart disability and improve the morale of their patients and the public at large."

He cites two ways that many heart patients can be benefited: (1) completion of basic research work regarding causes for hypertension (high blood pressure) and rheumatic fever; and (2) development of physicians with good common sense and adequate training in the diagnosis and management of heart patients.

Regarding research, Dr. Johnston points out that collection and allocation of money is no guarantee that investigation of any value will be done. He stresses the point that individuals with the rare capacity to do important research work need to be relieved of handicapping duties such as routine teaching, clinical and administration work.

Postgraduate medical education is the best way to provide physicians with adequate training for handling heart problems, he states. Unfortunately, some physicians do not take advantage of such opportunities for additional training, he adds.

One of Two Sedans in 1950 Chevrolet Line

The Styleline, one of two individually designed sedans which have achieved immense popularity with Chevrolet owners, will have new beauty in 1950. Improved grille work, sturdier bumper guards and more tasteful ornamentation are some of the exterior improvements. Out of Brine

The value of basic products made from sodium chloride or potassium chloride (brines) is estimated to be about 200 million dollars a year.

Well Fed Heifers

A good heifer, well fed, will mature one to three months sooner than one poorly fed and will be a larger and better producer throughout her life.

The automatic transmission, hailed as the most revolutionary driving aid since the advent of the self-starter, made its first appearance in the low-price automobile field, Saturday, January 7, with the introduction of 1950 Chevrolets at Rathburn's salesroom.

Chevrolet's application is an exclusive development known as Powerglide. A product of company research covering the entire postwar period, it is, the chief element in an optional, extra-cost "power-team." Included is a larger, more powerful engine and many refinements that extend throughout the line of new passenger car models.

Also presented for the first time to the retail automobile market is the Bel Air, a luxurious, six-passenger coupe possessing the swank of the convertible with the practicality of the solid top. With the Bel Air as leader, the latest series contains two individually-styled two-door sedans and two four-door sedans, a sport coupe, business coupe, convertible coupe and all-steel station wagon. As in the 1949 models, when Chevrolet set new volume records to once again lead the industry in sales, most of the bodies are available in "special" and "de luxe" treatments.

Girl Scouts Plan Benefit Card Party

Tuesday, Feb. 7 will mark the first of the annual benefit parties to be given by the Executive Council and adult members of Northville Girl Scouting.

These parties will be held once a year for the sole purpose of securing funds for promoting the year's program of Girl Scouting in Northville. All monies are used exclusively in Northville. This year, 1950, the affair will take the form of a card party, Canasta, bridge, rummy, etc., to be held at the Veterans' Memorial Hall and in the event of an overflow crowd, the high school gym, at 8 o'clock. Dessert and coffee will be served.

Inspiring community response is felt in the volunteer gifts already received from merchants and townspeople to be used as prizes. Mrs. Harold Bloom, ticket chairman, announces that tickets at $1.00 per person, may be purchased at the record office or from Mrs. Charles Batt, Mrs. John W. Clarke, Mrs. Harry Wagenschütz and Mrs. L. C. Stewart.

The community is invited to examine the new interrelated budget for the ensuing year to understand its needs.

The number of girls registered at this writing exceeds 180 and the 1950 budget is set up for $350 which means the budget represents less than $3 per registered member.

The actual goals of Scouting, that of making each girl a reliable and responsible member of society, designates the benefit as a community project.

The direct advantages to be gained through a purposeful budget are evident when it is seen that the money will provide day camp in the summer for those who may not enjoy established camp benefits and many other benefits which will be explained at a later date.

Mrs. Walter Couse is chairman of the benefit with the balance of the council assisting as co-chairmen. Any contributions to the work of Northville Girl Scouting will be appreciated and should be mailed to Mrs. J. P. Malley, Council president, Northville.

Change of Plans Told for BPW District Meeting

A change in plans has been made in regard to the Business and Professional Women's District meeting to be held at Ypsilanti Sunday, Jan. 15. Girl Scout News TROOP 9

Our troop held its last meeting of 1949 at the home of Ellen Stark.

We discussed the selling of calendars which has been such a successful venture by all the Scout troops in the village. We also discussed our camping trip and appointed a committee composed of Marlene Weiss, Ellen Stark, and Gay Brandt, to take care of further details. We then exchanged Christmas refreshments by Ellen and her mother, Mrs. Stark. As it was also Mrs. Claypools' birthday, we sang "Happy Birthday" to her, then we sang taps and the meeting was adjourned.

Our next meeting will be held at the home of Catherine Rambeau some time in the near future.

Scribe, Janis Lazar.

Shrine Circus To Open January 30

This chic-tailored redingote, of cotton and rayon, is only one-fifth of a $45 spring wardrobe. The redingote alone, available in charcoal, navy, gray or red, sells for about $9. Completing the wardrobe, which is pictured in the January Good Housekeeping, are a polka-dot print dress, a frieze print, and a dress-and-jacket team, the dress of sheer rayon crepe and the jacket of cotton and rayon. All are Martha Manning fashions and carry the magazine's Guaranty Seal.

Shrine Circus To Open January 30

Shrine Imperial Potentate and world-famous screen star Harold Lloyd will be in Detroit in person as guest of honor at the opening night of Moslem's Shrine Circus, which gets under way at the State Fair Coliseum on Monday, January 30, at 2 p.m., and continues through February 12 with performances twice daily at 2 and 8 p.m. Lloyd will be present on Monday night, January 30, only. He will extend his greetings to the audience in a brief talk.

The coming Shrine Circus, truly the world's biggest and best indoor circus, promises to be the greatest of all. Only the most famous stars from the "Big Top" have been engaged to create the traditional thrills and daredevil action so characteristic of the great three-ring spectacles. Among the gala aggregation of performers to be seen at the annual event are The Great Wallendas, high wire aerialists; Guts Gorilla Parody; Unus, The Man Who Stands on One Finger; the Hanneford Riding Family; Frances Brunn, Europe's great juggler; Clausen's Bears; The Margers, triple-trapeze daredevils; Paterson's Dogs; the Bokaras, teeterboard acrobats and tumblers; Asia Brothers, skilled acrobats; The Flying Concellos; Joe Walsh's Wild Animal Act, and 50 other big acts in addition to scores of elephants, tigers, lions, horses, dogs, bears and clowns.

Wanted! Volunteers To Make Cancer Pads

An imperative appeal for more finished cancer pads is being made by Mrs. E. J. Willis, chairman of Cancer Patients Aid.

Even with the many organizations, church groups and all societies making cancer pads, it is still necessary to ask for extra help. Supplies are being exhausted each day. Therefore anyone having time to help out with this project is asked to contact Mrs. Willis, phone 99R. All supplies are ready to be sewn and may be obtained at supply headquarters, 119 Rayson.

It is Mrs. Willis' wish that every cancer patient be made comfortable and there are many at this time. She also wishes it understood that all cancer pads are supplied free to those needing them.

Schools Contribute To Seal Sale Drive

A total of $50.43 was collected in the high school and grade school from the sale of Christmas seals. Each pupil was given ten seals and he contributed whatever he was able.

Some of the grade school classes filled twenty Red Cross boxes and the children also made colored tray clothes for the Red Cross. These projects were completed by Junior Red Cross members with Miss Ruth Knapp as their sponsor.

Last year several grade school teachers received letters from children in foreign countries, thanking the Northville children for their remembrances.

Brownie Troop 1 News

Monday afternoon Troop 1 met in the Grade school lunchroom with their leader, Mrs. Maxwell Austin.

We worked on the posters for the card party on Feb. 7 and played games while we were not busy.

Customers' Corner

What do you consider good service in a food store? Do you get it at your A&P?

Of course, we expect all our employees to be friendly and courteous. But we think good service goes beyond that. We train our employees to be prompt, efficient, helpful and accurate as well.

To us, good service means quality food offered at low prices in clean, well-stocked and well-operated stores.

Any time your A&P doesn't measure up to these yardsticks of good service, please let us know about it.

New Plymouth Car To Go On Display

The 1950 Plymouth car, with important styling changes and improvements for safety and riding comfort, will go on display in Atchinson's and G. E. Miller's January 12.

There are new lines in the silhouette which give the new Plymouth a longer, lower, more streamlined appearance. The changes are readily apparent whether viewed from front, rear, or side.

Rear fenders, which are bolted on for economical removal in case repairs are necessary, have been restyled and lengthened. A larger rear window on club coupes and four-door sedans, slightly greater over-all width, and alterations on the rear deck provide a longer, heavier, road-hugging appearance for all models. The grille has been simplified and made more massive. It consists of two large horizontal bars with a curved-down top member and a single vertical bar at the center. Above the grille the Plymouth nameplate appears in larger block letters, and a bigger, more colorful medallion has been placed over the nameplate.

Described as "Packed with value and ready to prove it," the new Plymouth was characterized by D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, as "The greatest car value we have ever offered the public."

Michigan State College swine specialists say that gilts should get exercise in the winter. A good way to do this is to feed the gilt some distance from her sleeping quarters. Pregnant gilts should be kept away from other livestock and hazards such as high door sills should be avoided to prevent injury.

Sheep are often a valuable addition to the farm business, say Michigan State College animal husbandry specialists. They can graze areas that should be kept in sod, require little labor, and returns come quickly. Lambs can be marketed as soon as nine months after the ewes are bred.

If you baked your favorite chocolate cake and found it hard to find time to ice it before dinner time, next time try topping the pieces with scoops of sherbet.

The political theory that Michigan voters are becoming increasingly disillusioned over party promises will have a new test in 1950.

Entry of Harry F. Kelly of Detroit and Eugene Black of Port Huron into the Republican race for nomination as governor.

Dr. Eugene C. Keyes, former lieutenant governor who has thrived as a "lone wolf" against the pack, has astutely built a reputation for himself as an advocate of "good government." He relished the label of an independent and was as likely to be on the opposite side of the governor — whether Kelly or Sigler — as not when issues came to a showdown.

Black's role is parallel to Keyes to a striking extent. Black, as the battling attorney general and "peck's bad boy" of the Sigler administration, jumped into the front page almost daily. He was on the unpredictable side of the political ledger and hence at times was an annoyance to his sponsor, Kim Sigler.

To have Keyes and Black both in the race along with Kelly is a sure sign that the Republican primary will be colorful and exciting.

Howard J. Rugg, capital correspondent for the Lansing State Journal, believes that the risk of independent voters in Michigan has been largely responsible for party upsets about every two years. A quotation:

"The average voter no longer seems to take party politics as seriously as did his father or grandfather. Even though he may consider himself a Republican, it doesn't mean he won't vote for a Democrat if he thinks the Democrat better suited for the office."

"And why the increase of independent voters?"

"Perhaps because they have given up on any one party fulfilling promises to cut governmental costs. They have seen the cost of government and taxes rise continuously administration after administration, regardless of the politics of the man sitting in the front office in Lansing until they have reached the conclusion that it matters very little which party is in control of the state administration."

"They have lost interest in government except insofar as their own communities may benefit from federal or state grants. So long as the state and federal governments take bigger bites each year out of their pockets they are going to do everything they can to get as much back as possible for their own governmental units, thereby holding down their local taxes. "For that reason they are not binding themselves to any one political party, but reserve the right to vote for the candidate they believe will best serve their own interests."

This quest for the so-called "knight on a white horse" who will achieve the political maximum has been responsible, according to Rugg, for the persistent switch of independent voters from Democrat to Republican parties. The 1950 political campaign will be watched with interest as affording a new test of this theory.

Maize and azure blue have been the official colors of the University of Michigan since 1912, although these colors had been in unofficial use as early as 1867. The Board of Regents took action on March 22, 1912 and established the official shade of each color to be used.

NEWS

CONGRESSMAN
GEORGE A. DONDERO

What should be done about the excise taxes on luxuries and some important necessities of life which continue to stifle many lines of business nearly five years after the end of hostilities in World War II? Everyone in Congress agrees that something should be done to take this war-spawned burden off the shoulders of business, so that it may continue to expand, to create more jobs, and to sell many desirable goods and services at prices people can better afford.

But almost everyone disagrees with everyone else as to just what action should be taken. Some want to eliminate such taxes altogether. Others want to eliminate them and regain government tax income which might be lost by boosting income taxes on business and individuals in the higher income brackets. The Democratic administration has intimated that it favors imposing the income tax increases chiefly on those corporations and individuals showing exceptionally high earnings. Thus the administration would penalize success.

Those who favor eliminating excise taxes entirely argue that this would stimulate business to such an extent that everyone would benefit. Many goods and services would be cheaper by twenty per cent, and the increased volume of business would boost government tax income through other channels.

boosts merely transfers the tax burden, insofar as luxury taxes are concerned, from those who are able to buy luxuries to those who have to struggle to buy the necessities. By the very nature of things corporations are not tax payers but are tax collectors, inasmuch as their taxes are passed along to consumers in the form of prices. There is no way to prevent this short of OPA price controls.

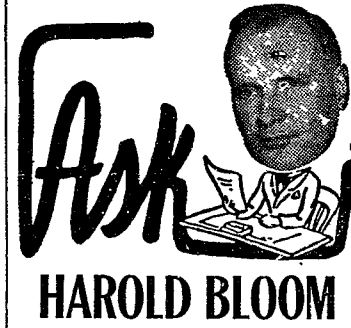

Imposition of income tax increases chiefly on corporations with exceptionally high incomes would hit most people where they would like it the least. This because it would boost the prices of automobiles and similar goods which go so far toward making life more comfortable and pleasant in the United States.

Now it seems to me there is a middle road of common sense which should be taken by Congress with regard to excise taxes. Such taxes, of course, should be lifted from transportation, communications, and such goods as are necessities instead of luxuries, and which bore no excise taxes before the war. Luxury taxes should be reduced to their prewar status.

Thus those able to pay for luxuries would be compelled to pay taxes on those luxuries, but not so heavily as to discourage purchases. Taxes would be taken off goods of everyday necessity, as well as essential services such as passenger fares, telephone messages, and freight shipments. General business would be stimulated, tax income would be increased, and prices of many things people must buy would fall.

Basketball NEWS

The Mustangs journey to Dearborn tomorrow night to encounter the Ford Trade school cagers. Ford Trade is a "big" team and plays ball against more populous schools, which should make the going tough for Northville.

The Mustangs will go into the game with a record of four wins against one loss.

Three days later, on Tuesday, Jan. 17, the NHS cagers move over to Inkster for another game, followed by a tilt with Keego Harbor on the home floor Friday, January 20.

That will complete the list of new opponents this season and the remaining seven games on the schedule will be teams the Mustangs have tangled with earlier:

The Lions and Mustangs were hard at it in the first quarter, with NHS leading 13-9, but in the second period Northville scored 13 points while holding South Lyon to a single basket, by Bishop. The Lions got only one tally in the third quarter.

RESERVES

The Northville reserves staged a third quarter rally and took control of a basketball game which had been a point-for-point race with South Lyon during the first half, winning 29-22.

The end of the first period saw both teams tied at six points, but the Lions were ahead 12-10 at halftime. In the third quarter, Rebitzke dropped in three field goals and Gunnell added a basket and a free throw while the Lions were adding only a point to their total, and the Colts were ahead, 19-13. South Lyon picked up nine points in the final frame but Capt. Pete Spagnuolo's three baskets and a free throw, added to successful free throws by Maclean and Gunnell kept the lead intact to the final whistle.

GMC to Offer More Models, More Power, More Features for '50

GMC dealers across the country will soon be displaying new 1950 models. While few of them have the room to feature exhibits as extensive or elaborate as this special factory showing, it takes only one GMC to demonstrate the rugged good looks, the sturdy truck-built engine and chassis that are characteristic of every one of the wide variety of light, medium and heavy duty models in the GMC 1950 truck line. Additional models this year will include new series in the 1½ and 2½-ton ranges, new middle-weight six-wheelers and new lighter Diesels. In addition, GMC will feature increased horsepower in its light and medium duty engines, as well as many cab, chassis and engine advancements.
