February 13 Proves Vexing for Villagers

Mary Humphrey's column in Sunday's Detroit News carries the following item of local interest concerning Mr. and Mrs. Harold Putnam of East Seven Mile Road:

"Mrs. Harold Putnam isn't superstitious. Only 10 days ago, when making an important appointment, Monday, February 13 was suggested — unless you're superstitious and would prefer to come Tuesday." But Mrs. Putnam pooh-poohed the idea. "I'll be there right on the dot," she reassured.

"Monday, you recall, dawned with ice and snow. As the Putnams had to drive in from Northville, the road conditions caused almost an hour's tardiness. On the way in she rediscovered a rib, due to turning too quickly while cleaning snow from the rear window of their car.

"Returning in the afternoon with her husband, the car bogged in the snow-filled driveway of their yard. They waded through to the house, unlocked the door to be greeted by dense waves of smoke. A Mr. Putnam rushed to the telephone, called the fire department. Firemen arrived, raced through the house (it had just been cleaned) soon finding that the motor of their basement home freezer had burned out.

"Later, when they dug their car out from ice-laden branches that had fallen on it, the battery was dead. No towing cars were available until Tuesday noon—so Mr. Putnam got a late start for Detroit, but when he finally reached here his car stalled in the thick of Grand River traffic!

"Mrs. Putnam still says she isn't superstitious—but is beginning to wonder."

Changes Voted by Pre-School Group

The P.T.A. Pre-School Group, at its meeting Thursday night, voted several changes in policy. The age limits were changed so that children from two and one-half to five years old may now enter. Each member is required to attend the monthly business and study meetings. MICHIGAN MIRROR

NON-PARTISAN NEWS LETTER

A state corporation profits tax of 4 per cent, proposed by Governor Williams to raise $60,000,000 annually in additional revenues would cost corporations only $36,000,000 more per year in taxes than they pay now.

This interesting point is made by Robert Steadman, controller, State Department of Administration.

As payment of taxes to the State of Michigan is allowed as a deduction in paying federal income taxes, corporations would pay 24 million a year to the state instead of to the federal government, Steadman contends. Uncle Sam's loss would be Michigan's gain.

One year ago Governor Williams proposed a 4 per cent tax on state corporation profits. This tax was designed to raise approximately $60,000,000 in new revenue.

The Governor recommended to the legislature appropriations totaling 290 million and he estimated 229 million in revenues, general fund and general purpose. Against an estimated shortage of 61 million dollars, Williams proposed a tax on corporation profits to raise 60 million.

The legislature appropriated 278 million dollars, cutting 12 million dollars off the total of appropriations as recommended by Governor Williams.

Controller Steadman observes that revenues for the present fiscal year, ending July 1, 1950, will be 2 or 3 per cent in excess of the estimates made in January 1949. This will amount to another 5 or 6 million dollars but it will still leave Michigan short by more than $40,000,000 in the general fund alone to meet expenditures of state government including state aid to local governments.

The Williams corporation profits tax would be paid by corporations on the pro rata share of business done by each corporation in Michigan. Controller Steadman explains that this pro rata share is figured on three bases. One-third of the share is based on the percentage of wages paid in Michigan as compared with all wages paid by the corporation; one-third by property in Michigan in relation to total property owned; and one-third by sales in Michigan in comparison to total sales.

Controller Steadman explains that such a tax "is essentially like the tax employed already in 32 other states of the Union which raise about 611 million a year."

Miss Durston refuses to answer any questions, or make any comment to newsmen, on the romantic linking of her name with that of the late F. D. R.'s son, Elliott Roosevelt.

For example, New York State increased its corporation profits tax in 1949 from 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 per cent. The increase of 1 per cent was to produce 40 million dollars in additional revenue for state government and state aid to local governments.

"The corporation in distress that is not earning as much as 6 per cent on its investment in Michigan will pay less tax under the Williams corporation profits tax plan than under the existing system of corporate franchise taxation.

"Some people say that corporations cannot afford to pay the tax. All our statistical indicators over the last 10 or 20 years indicate the opposite; that our corporations, especially during the last 2 or 3 years, are fully able to pay.

"I will give you an example of one corporation which is complaining about the 500 and some millions of dollars it pays the United States government in taxes each year. That corporation pays to the general fund of the State of Michigan a total of $50,000 a year in taxes.

"It is paying to the general fund of Michigan $1 for every $10,000 that it pays to the United States government. Yet, about half of its total number of wage earning employees are in Michigan.

"That corporation after paying all taxes, federal, state and local, earned in 1948 440 million dollars. The current reports are that the estimated net income after all taxes in 1949 was $40 million," said Steadman.

When the state legislature convenes at Lansing March 15 for the special session on state finances, the state corporation profits tax will again be pushed by Governor Williams as an effective solution of the financial problem.

According to Steadman, 32 other states in the Union now have such a corporation revenues tax. The Williams plan would hit large corporations, not small corporations. The tax would divert approximately 24 million a year from the federal income tax revenues to the State Treasury, based upon an anticipation of 60 million new revenue per year. Corporations are fully able to pay this tax.

These arguments, as summarized, represent the case of Governor Williams for the state corporation profits tax. They are presented to readers of this column in the spirit of factual information as vouched for by Controller Steadman.

Next week the "Michigan Mirror" will present arguments against the state corporation profits tax as presented recently to newspaper editors by John L. Lovett, general manager, Michigan Manufacturers' Association.

Certified Seed Offers Farmers Many Advantages

Each year more farmers are using certified seed of field crops according to R. E. Decker, head of the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

Reasons he cites for this increase are that certified seed has proven that given equal conditions of moisture and plant food, it will produce thrifter plants, more disease free plants, and better quality in the harvested crop. The difference in cost per acre of certified seed as compared with ordinary seed is small considering the benefits.

Decker advises that certified seed comes from field inspected crops and the seed must meet high standards of purity and germination. The certified tag that has been issued by the certifying agent insures varietal purity.

Much attention is being given to various methods of weed control. However, the farm crops authority points out that the start of any sound weed control program is with the seed to be sown. Certified seed is clean seed.

A report recently came to the MSC farm crops department from a wheat grower in Hillsdale county who used certified seed but lacked enough to plant the entire field. He finished the field with his own seed and stated that a difference was visible to the dividing line between the two kinds of seed and that the certified seed was more thrifty.

County agricultural agents can supply sources of certified seed and can help farmers choose the right variety for their location.

Rural Tele-news

DID YOU KNOW?—About 50% of the farms of America now have telephones—a higher proportion than in any other country in the world. In Michigan Bell territory about 7 out of 10 rural establishments have telephones. That's pretty close to Michigan Bell's city telephone development.

SO MUCH FOR SO LITTLE—Someone described telephone service as a big package filled with the good things of life. Convenience—the telephone saves time and steps. Security—the telephone stands guard 24 hours a day. Comfort—the telephone keeps you in touch with friends and relatives. When you consider all that the telephone does, its small cost makes it one of the best buys on today's market.

BLOWING BUBBLES—To help keep telephone service reliable, thousands of miles of Long Distance cables are filled with harmless nitrogen gas. If a cable is damaged, the gas pressure drops and sets off an alarm indicating the approximate location of the damage. To find the actual break in the cable sheath, if it's so small it can't be seen, the repairman may paint the cable with soapsuds—the exact point of damage being indicated by bubbles blown by the escaping gas.

Students Help DP from Estonia Find New Niche at MSC

Shunted about Europe by the tides of war and the uncertainties of peace, Vernon Orro, 26-year-old Estonian, is finding a niche for himself at Michigan State College.

Orro moved quietly onto the East Lansing campus in February under the sponsorship of the Lutheran Student Association after a three-month delay at an embarkation center in Germany.

The LSA, acting on an offer from the college administration to provide a free tuition to a student-supported displaced person who wished an American education, contacted Orro through overseas church agencies.

The third displaced student at Michigan State arrived too late to register for the winter quarter in January, but Registrar Robert S. Linton and department heads arranged a special "visiting" curriculum for him.

Orro, who speaks five languages fluently, will enroll in the spring quarter in March as a sophomore in the mechanical engineering department. His previous specialized schooling in Germany and Estonia enabled him to by-pass freshman year, Linton said.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 6

The Scout meeting was held at the home of the leader. It was decided that starting on March 3, 1950 meetings would be held weekly instead of every two weeks. Election of officers would be held at our next meeting.

We are going to work on the Junior Citizen Badge as a troop project. Spring hikes were discussed and re-registration of the troop. Meeting was adjourned. Veronica Batt, Scribe.

TROOP 8

February 15, Girl Scout Troop No. 8 met at the Scout Hall. Our leaders called roll and took dues. After that we had a Valentine party. We had cake and cocoa.

Then we divided up into groups. Each group took one Girl Scout Law and we had five or ten minutes to think up a skit on that law. Then we gave the skits, sang taps, and went home. Scribe, Janice Howarth.

TROOP 9

We held our February meeting on Wednesday, 15 at the home of Mrs. Claypool. Our hostess was Carolyn Miller.

There was a discussion on whether we should start paying dues again and it was decided that we would pay 10c each, per meeting. Our troop was granted March for selling cookies and on the first of March we begin taking orders for cookies at 35c a dozen. Orders will be filled within ten days.

The meeting was adjourned and we were served delicious refreshments by Carolyn.

The hayride which we had on February 3 was greatly enjoyed by all.

Janis Lazar, Scribe.

Boy Scout Troop N-5 News

At the last meeting of Troop N-5, we discussed our success on the paper drive and tag day which brought over $550 to our bus fund, also the nice banquet of last week.

The bus is painted now and we are using it to take us swimming every week. Later in the evening we had a movie of the Green Bay Packer-Detroit Lion football game.

We have three patrols now, Panthers, Lions and Co-Coos. —Bruce Felker.

The Northville Mustangs will face Orchard Lake St. Mary in the first game of the Class C District basketball tournament at Walled Lake High school Wednesday, March 1, at 7:30 p. m.

Other Class C teams in the district elimination are Keego Harbor, Brighton and Hartland. Drawings were held at 4:00 p. m. last Tuesday at Walled Lake to determine opponents for the tournament, which will take place Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 1-4.

The winner of the Plymouth-Walled Lake game will face Milford Friday night and the winner of Friday's game will meet the Farmington-Bentley victor in the final game Saturday.

Cranbrook, Waterford and Big Beaver will not participate in the elimination this year.

The winning teams in the two classes will receive trophies emblematic of the District championships, and twelve medals will be awarded the winning team members. The various schools are asked not to bring bands along to support their teams because of lack of seating space, although the Walled Lake school can accommodate a thousand spectators. Admission will be 40 cents for students and 60 cents for adults, with no advance sales and no season tickets available. The ticket office will open at 6:30 p. m. each night of the tournament. Bovine 'Litter'

Here are four of "Brownie's" rare bovine quintuplet "litter" which survived on the farm of Ralph Tauro, at Hillsdale, New York. The calves are shown with their mother, Ralph and his son Michael. Such a birth happens in the bovine world about as rarely as it does among humans.

Hens Not Properly Fed Won't Lay Many Eggs

"Where does the feed go?" That is the question most poultrymen ask, says Kermit Schlamb, North Dakota assistant poultry husbandman. It is a recognized fact, he points out, that unless a hen is fed properly she will eat, but won't lay many eggs.

He stated that "a flock of 100 five-pound hens requires about 125 pounds of well-balanced feed per week just to keep in good shape."

NEWS and COMMENT
FROM
CONGRESSMAN GEORGE A. DONDERO

"SOCIALISM OR FREEDOM"

This is the slogan adopted by the Republican Party for the 1950 Congressional campaigns, which already are getting under way. Some people, particularly those who pursue the chimera of personal and purely selfish social and economic favors at the hands of the Fair Deal's so-called Welfare State, profess to think such a slogan far-fetched and unrealistic.

Nevertheless, the choice between Socialism and Freedom must be made by the American people now. It is later than most people think. So many of our individual liberties already have vanished that it is frightening to anyone who takes stock of the situation. The destruction of those liberties has been so subtly accomplished that those who indulge in wishful thinking, or refuse to think at all, fail to perceive the fact.

That Socialism is a form of slavery to the State cannot be denied. Socialism, like Communism, is a system under which the State owns everything and provides everything for those who live under its bureaucratic iron hand. In England today the people live and work where, and at what they are told. They eat what the government rationers permit them to eat. Recently the British Labor-Socialist Government froze wages while moving through a drastic devaluation of the pound sterling to raise prices.

Thus the choice between Socialism and Freedom is a choice between one form of slavery and individual liberty. Lincoln said that no nation can long survive half slave and half free. This is true also as it pertains to Socialism and Freedom. Within the next few months this country must choose, because it cannot continue half in slavery to the State and half free of socialistic controls. We cannot have just a little Socialism, because Socialism tends to destroy Freedom in order to assure its own survival.

President Truman and his Democratic supporters in Congress do not call their program Socialism. They boldly proclaim it as the Welfare State. It should be called the Poorhouse State. The Welfare State program is one to make free enterprise the football of political power groups. It is a program to pauperize the people through excessive taxation and make them recipients of a universal dole.

paid by Socialist bureaucrats with the people's own money.

Does anyone doubt the cynical deliberation with which the Fair Deal's socialistic Welfare State program is being pushed? Then consider this.

A few months ago, in a public speech before a large audience, President Truman castigated a nationally known columnist. The President said that no S.O.B. was going to tell him who he was going to hire and fire. He spoke thus after the columnist had suggested that Major General Harry H. Vaughan should be removed as Presidential Military Aide because of his admitted dealings with "five percenters."

The President declared before all the world his conviction that nobody has a right to prevent him from hiring and firing his own employees as he sees fit. Yet President Truman advances as one of the major proposals in his legislative program the Fair Employment Practices Commission bill, which would do just exactly that thing to every employer in the United States.

HISTORY OF NOVI

By Alice Waite

Editors Note: This is the third in a series of articles on the history of Novi.

We will now go to the N. W. 1/4 of Sec. 18, T. 1, N. Range 8 E. which was taken up on January 20, 1832 by Adam Aldrich, later sold to J. B. Scott and then to Edwin Scott. The west 80 acres of this tract were bought in 1832 by David Gregory and the balance by Henry Vander Bogart on March 15, 1846.

Henry Vander Bogart was born in Penn., later going to Cherry Valley, N. Y. where he married Jane Swift. He was one of 14 children. He and his wife and five children came to Michigan by boat, and they were shipwrecked on Lake Erie, losing all their possessions, save the clothes they were wearing, an ax and 50 cents.

They landed in Detroit in 1820 taking up a farm at the corner of Grand River and Warren Aves. Later they moved to Greenfield Ave. where a son, Marvin was born on March 17, 1840. Marvin dropped the "Vander" in his surname. He fought with Co. I, 22nd Michigan Volunteers in the Civil War, having joined in 1863. He took part in the battle of Chickamauga and was captured in the battle of Missionary Ridge, being held for 18 months in the Confederate prisons at Andersonville and Libby. His grandson, LaRue Bogart said that he recalls his grandfather telling of how deplorable the food situation was in the prison camps.

The family at one time lived on what is now the Bob-O-Link golf course which was owned by Osmus Kimmis. This farm was given to Marvin Bogart September 29, 1872, who was the husband of Sarah Kimmis. To this union five children were born: Nelson, Harry, Lulu Bogart Wilson and Alta Bogart McGuire, deceased, and LaRue Bogart who now lives on this farm.

He lives in the house which was built by his grandfather in 1856. He sleeps in the room where he was born, July 30, 1884 and where all of his seven children were born. He is married to Floy Mowry of Wixom December 25, 1905. Their children are: Lucille Wagnitz of Wixom, Verna Gaedt of Wixom, Lucile Pashy of Dearborn, Alva Clemens of South Lyon, Mildred of the home, Zella, deceased, and Louis who lives on the same farm.

LaRue Bogart is a member of the Wixom Baptist church, he has been a deacon and mission treasurer for many years. He is a charter member of Wixom Co-Op and is on the board of directors. From 1927 to 1947 he was a director of the West Novi School District and has been a justice of the peace for 25 years.

Old Roman Calendar Began With March

JANUARY has not always been the first month of the year. The old Roman year began with March.

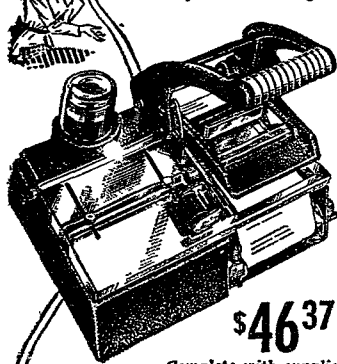

About 251 B. C., the beginning of the year was shifted to January, but it was as recently as the 18th century that this calendar was accepted by the Christian nations. Members of the Jewish religion still observe New Year on March 25.

January took its name from Janus, the Roman god of doors, gates, and all passageways. In art, Janus was portrayed as a deity with two faces, one looking forward and the other backward. The chief festival dedicated to this god became New Year's day. This was the day presents were placed before him.

In war time, Janus' temple in Rome was open. So prevalent were wars, it was closed but three times in a period of 700 years.

The Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Killed Their Own Case!

For ten years the anti-trust lawyers have been attacking the business methods that make it possible to give the public the best quality food at the lowest prices.

In our last ad we told you how Federal Judge W. H. Atwell, at Dallas, threw the anti-trust lawyers and all their inflammatory charges against A&P right out of his court.

But the anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with decisions against them by three federal judges.

They still wanted to destroy A&P.

They Appealed to New Orleans

So they appealed Judge Atwell's decision to the three-judge Circuit Court at New Orleans.

One of the three, Judge Curtis L. Waller, agreed with Judge Atwell that the case should be dismissed.

The other two members of the Circuit Court, Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr., and Judge Allen Cox, although saying the case should be tried, agreed that the indictment was vague and contained many allegations which were inflammatory.

They decided that Judge Atwell at Dallas should protect A&P from these inflammatory allegations and could order the anti-trust lawyers to supply the defendants with a bill of particulars.

So the case was back in Dallas again.

Judge Atwell, carrying out the decision of the Circuit Court, struck out the inflammatory matter.

He said that without this inflammatory and prejudicial matter the Grand Jury might never have returned the indictment.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"There are many statements in the indictment which are not at all in violation, and are highly prejudicial and inflammatory."

The anti-trust lawyers objected. They advanced an amazing argument. They said that the removal of their inflammatory allegations (which all four judges had agreed did not belong in the indictment) destroyed their case.

Judge Atwell instructed the anti-trust lawyers to furnish the court with a bill of particulars. In short, he wanted specific charges instead of vague generalities. He set the deadline for furnishing this material at January 15th, 1944.

When the anti-trust lawyers twice asked for more time, pleading sickness among their staff, Judge Atwell extended the time to February 25th because he believed that they were honestly trying, in good faith, to prepare the material he had requested.

Actually, it developed, they were using the time to get ready to drop the case in Dallas and start it in another court.

They Quit in Dallas

On February 26th, while the judge was still waiting for his answer, and without any previous notice to him, the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers in Washington, announcing that they were dropping the case in Dallas.

They said that it was their intention "to file a substantially similar suit in an appropriate jurisdiction at an early date."

The "early date" turned out to be the same day.

As soon as one anti-trust lawyer killed the case in Dallas, another anti-trust lawyer filed a new case in Danville, Illinois. This new case made most of the same allegations that had been made and dropped in Dallas; and that are being made against us today.

So now, according to the anti-trust lawyers, all four judges who had ruled on the Dallas case were wrong.

Despite defeats in three federal courts in widely separated parts of the country, they continued their campaign to destroy A&P.

When Judge Atwell heard of their action he ordered the anti-trust lawyers to prepare an order for his signature dismissing the Dallas case.

In signing this order he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"This nolle prosequi does not have the sanction or approval of this court. That is not necessary, nor that the government ask for the court's approval."

"It is, however, a matter that may be presented to the other court and may be of interest to the people at large."

So after their efforts to destroy A&P had failed in Washington, D. C., Wilson, North Carolina, and Dallas, Texas, the anti-trust lawyers moved on to Danville, Illinois.

They were still determined to destroy this company which had brought more and better food at lower cost to millions of American families.

They Were Wrong Three Times Before!

Three times the anti-trust lawyers went into federal courts and made serious and damaging charges against A&P.

Three times federal judges said the anti-trust lawyers were wrong and rendered decisions against them.

In previous ads in this series we told you about these other anti-trust "cases" involving us, which the judges said were not cases at all.

We think you should know about these previous cases, because once again the anti-trust lawyers are making damaging "allegations" that could seriously affect our business if they were believed by the public.

There was the time in Washington, D. C., when they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix the price of bread in that city.

This was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough ruled that A&P and the other defendants did not even need to put in a defense. He instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Goldsborough said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

There was the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix prices paid farmers for their potatoes.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

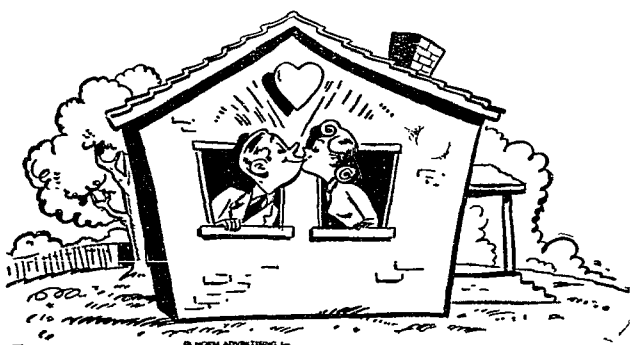

There was the time in Dallas, Texas, when they made practically the same "allegations" they are making today.

This was the time Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

It was the time Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I know of no American rule, and I wish I had the power to underscore the word 'American,' which permits us to try a man because of his size."

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Anti-Trust Lawyers "Killed Own Case" in Court, A&P Says

The anti-trust lawyers, found wrong previously by three courts, "killed their own case" against The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. at Dallas, A&P says in an advertisement appearing in newspapers throughout the country this week. The ad appears on page ten of this week's Northville Record.

The ad is the fourth of a series in which the food chain is telling its story of the background of the present suit by which the anti-trust division is seeking to dissolve the company.

But the Dallas action did not end the 10-year campaign against A&P, the ad says, declaring:

"The anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with decisions against them by three federal judges. They still wanted to destroy A&P."

The advertisement tells how in 1944 the Dallas case, based on allegations similar to those in the current suit, was thrown out of court by Federal Judge W. H. Atwell.

On appeal, the ad continues, the Circuit Court at New Orleans reinstated the indictment but agreed that it was "vague and contained many allegations which were inflammatory. The court decided Judge Atwell 'should protect A&P from these inflammatory allegations by striking them out.'"

After striking these statements, the ad says, Judge Atwell instructed the anti-trust lawyers to furnish him "specific charges instead of vague generalities."

The statement continues: "On February 26th, while the judge was still waiting for his answer in Dallas, and without any previous notice to him, the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers in Washington announcing they were dropping the case in Dallas."

"As soon as one anti-trust lawyer killed the case in Dallas, another anti-trust lawyer filed a new case in Danville, Ill. This new case made most of the same allegations that had been made and dropped in Dallas, and that are being made against us today."

"Despite defeats in three federal courts in widely separated parts of the country, they continued their campaign to destroy A&P."

Citing cases in Washington, D. C., and Wilson, N. C., as preceding the Dallas charges, the ad declares "the anti-trust lawyers moved on to Danville, Ill." and concluded:

"They were still determined to destroy this company which had brought more and better food at lower cost to millions of American families."

Colt Quintet Loses To Inkster, 36-26

The Northville Colts couldn't master the Inkster reserves' attack nor match the slick passing and ball handling and fell 36-26 in last Friday's first game.

Inkster had only an 8-5 lead in the first quarter but exploded in the second frame, using a fast screen attack which allowed the Colts only three points while Inkster was getting fifteen.

The Colts rallied frequently in scoring spurts, but were stymied before getting very far in closing the gap. Don Graham got nine points on four baskets and a free throw to lead Northville scoring, and Holmes, McIntosh and Jacobs tallied 11, 10 and nine, respectively.

The Colts hit 40 percent of their free throws, sinking six of 15. Inkster was successful in two of eight attempts.

Basketball NEWS

The Mustangs will close the current basketball schedule against Keego Harbor tomorrow night on Keego's floor. The game could turn out to be a king size tangle, considering Northville's improvement and the great desire to do mayhem to the last opponent on the schedule—plus the fact that Keego topped Northville in their last encounter, 50-23, not a respectable score. That sort of thing leaves a very bad taste.

Going into the Keego game, the Mustangs have a nine won-five lost record. The Northville cagers have not lost to a team they had previously beaten, and took one game from a team which had previously licked them—Plymouth, by a narrow two-point margin.

The University of San Francisco, victor in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament in Madison Square Garden last March, had never been in the post-season classic before.

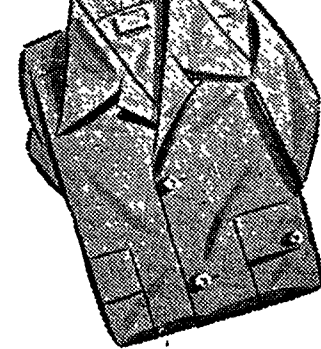

Pittsburg was the only major-league baseball team which did not televise home games in 1949.

Mustangs Lose To Inkster, 33-29, in Final Seconds

Northville's basketball quintet lost to a strong Inkster team last Friday night in the last 40 seconds of play, 33-29. The Mustangs had a 29-28 lead at the breaking point, but Inkster's Steele and Humphrey sandwiched in a free throw to provide the four point margin in the closing seconds.

The contest was a basket for basket struggle deep into the last period, when Inkster pulled ahead by six points with three minutes left. The Mustangs stalled the Inkster attack and narrowed the margin bit by bit on two free throws and a basket by Dick Stanley and a foul throw by Ron Jennings. Dick Gray split the hoop on a one-hander to hoist the Mustangs into the lead, but Inkster broke loose in those last forty seconds to clinch the victory.

The quarter scores are evidence of the close competition. Both teams had five points at the end of the first period, but Northville led 15-13 at the half. Inkster squeezed out a 21-20 margin at the end of the third frame, put on a rally, got caught, then rallied again.

Inkster got 15 baskets and made three of twelve free throws while the Mustangs were tallying ten field goals and nine of 16 chances at the foul line.

Inkster height paid off under the backboards, although there was not one real tip-in during the whole game. Heaton was high for the Mustangs with nine points but Quarts and Steele each rapped in 12 markers for Inkster.

Michigan alumni among its executive personnel, does a general contracting business with emphasis on industrial, commercial and institutional work.

Although much of its work is undertaken on projects in the regional area, the firm's operations have extended also to such distant points as Davenport, Iowa; Redding, California; and Lake Charles, Louisiana. The President-Elect's rise in the affairs of the Associated General Contractors of America dates back about ten years, when he was named President of the organization's local chapter for a two-year period, 1940-41.

He became interested in the activities of the Association nationally and became an ardent worker on numerous committees, which led to his present post as Vice-President of the A.G.C. His wide interests include the Co-Chairmanship of a national committee composed of selected architects and general contractors which has worked out a "Guide to Bidding Procedure" that has gained wide acceptance throughout the country. A similar committee is continuing for the purpose of solving problems that develop between the two groups in the interest of more efficient construction.

Another interest, on which he specifically represents the construction industry nationally, is in connection with a committee of leading businessmen known as the Capehart Committee, advisory in nature, to a Senate Subcommittee, studying and making recommendations relative to the basing point system which is now a major legislative concern in Congress. In addition, Couse is an active member of the Engineering Society of Detroit and the American Society of Civil Engineers. He is a registered professional engineer in the State of Michigan and serves as a member of the Board of Managers of the Detroit Chapter of the American Society of Professional Engineers.

A member of the Board of the Board of Control of the Detroit Board of Commerce, he is also active in his own community of Northville, Michigan, where he resides with his wife, the former Georgianna Mott, '30-'33, and their three children.—Michigan Alumnus Feb. 11, 1950.

RESCUE FROM BARRED WINDOW . . . Firemen carry out one of the victims of the Davenport, Iowa, Mercy hospital's fire. Note the barred window that hampered rescue efforts. It was the psychiatric division, known as the St. Elizabeth ward, that burned. The entire ward was gutted by the flames. Of the 60 persons said by officials to have been lodged in the mental ward of the hospital, only 28 bodies have been recovered. A small number of the patients were rescued. Fire officials are investigating the cause of the flames and the precautions that were taken by hospital officials to make the building less of a fire hazard.

Rotary Club Hears Talk by Angove on Crippled Children

Percy Angove, executive secretary of the Michigan Society of Crippled Children and Adults, spoke about the society's work at the Rotary club's meeting last Tuesday noon.

Angove traced the origin of work with crippled children in 1919, when it was a Rotary sponsored project begun by the Ann Arbor Rotary club, through the origin of the society in 1921 when the project became too big for a small group of men. He said that there are now 36 centers, and that the number of uncared for children in Michigan has been reduced from 28,000 to 14,000.

Angove passed on the society's praise of the Wayne Out-County chapter as an outstanding local unit.

Before his address, Angove, a member of the Northville Rotary club, welcomed his son, Ed Angove, into membership in the club.

Correction: In the Feb. 16 issue of the Record, Clifton Hill was incorrectly reported as saying, in a talk to the Rotary club on "Taxes," that "the dependent's gross income for the year must exceed $500." The sentence should have read: "must not exceed $500." The Record regrets the error.

Roy Stone, chairman of the trustees, is overseeing the program. The Young Adult group of the church has been working for these necessary improvements for some time. It is hoped that these improvements will make it possible to accommodate better increasing church interests.
