Childrens' Unit Proposed for Northville Hospital

The Northville State Hospital took on a new phase of interest this week when word was released in Lansing that a new institution for short-term, intensive treatment of emotionally disturbed children may shortly take form on the grounds of the adult hospital now under construction on East Seven Mile Road.

According to Sunday's Detroit News, the State Mental Health Commission is prepared to present to the legislative appropriations committees a dollar-and-cents argument in an effort to win their approval for the $750,000 which Governor Williams will request for the building.

There is now in existence large numbers of maladjusted children who will respond to early psychotherapy, according to members of the commission. As far as the commission has been able to determine, the application of preventive techniques to early psychic conflicts and behavior problems, on the scale contemplated, has been attempted nowhere else in the United States.

The commission agrees that the ideal spot for the new institution would be at the east end of the tract, two miles long and one-half mile wide, on which the new state hospital is situated, removing it as far as possible from the adult division, but making it possible to share the power plant, laundry, food storage and other services.

The hospital will probably consist of a series of cottages, housing from four to 12 children with a total capacity of 120. Dr. S. W. Hartwell, assistant director of the Department of Mental Health, reporting to the commission, said: "Aside from the humanitarian aspects, this is good business on the part of the state. We would expect to treat at least 200 youngsters in the course of a year, with excellent prospects of restoring all to full social usefulness."

"But if we can salvage only one out of every four, preventing the development of serious mental illness necessitating commitment to an adult mental hospital, we shall save the state about $80,000 a year. When it is considered that many advanced cases must be given custodial care throughout their lives, the savings will run into the millions."

Every effort will be made to make the child's surroundings as near like home as possible, letting him become accustomed to his environment before the necessary treatments are started.

Drive Chairman

GEORGE LOCKE

Solicit Village for Red Cross Funds

Northville, along with the rest of the nation, opened its annual Red Cross Drive, Wednesday, March 1. Although no quota has been set, the drive, as in past years, will be conducted by house to house calls and by direct mail solicitation. George Locke is chairman of the drive.

The Red Cross this year reminds us that "All May Help" in the organization's wide-spread humanitarian work. That slogan is the theme of the 1950 fund campaign. It has a personal meaning to every American.

In announcing the goal of $67,000,000 for the nation for the 1950 campaign to be conducted throughout the month of March, General George C. Marshall, new Red Cross president, pointed out that the estimated cost of the Red Cross program for the 1950-51 fiscal year actually totals $79,000,000.

Last year, General Marshall pointed out, the Red Cross spent more than $35,000,000 for its services to the armed forces and veterans alone. With our record peace-time high and with the veteran population larger than at any previous time in the nation's history, the Red Cross must continue these vital morale and welfare services.

"The Red Cross must also be ready to move quickly and efficiently when disaster strikes in any part of the nation," the General stated. "Last year the organization assisted in 330 domestic disaster relief operations, the highest number in any one year of Red Cross history. It assisted 228,500 persons with emergency and long-term help at a cost of $7,640,200 during the year."

Northville citizens are asked to plan on giving a certain sum when the Red Cross worker knocks at their door asking for funds with which to carry on this needed work.

Watza Heads Novi Red Cross Drive

On March 1, some 1,500,000 American Red Cross volunteers in cities and towns across the nation began the task of raising $67,000,000 for Red Cross services to the American people next year.

Others who will help raise funds for the Red Cross are representatives from the Blue Star Mothers: Mrs. Ward, chairman, Mrs. L. Rix, Mrs. J. Gardella, Mrs. T. Burkemo and Mrs. R. Race; Mothers' Club: Mrs. Signa Mitchell, chairman, Mrs. A. Klammer, Mrs. LaPlante, Mrs. Cheeseman, Mrs. Frisby, Mrs. I. Staman, Mrs. E. Edelman, Mrs. B. Wayne Co. Treasurer Speaks to Rotarians

Harold E. Stoll, Wayne County Treasurer and former register of deeds for the city of Detroit, was the guest speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday noon. He gave a financial report for Wayne County.

Mr. Stoll pointed out that there are around 30,000,000 revenue taxes, 23,000,000 of which are from Detroit. The office of Wayne County Treasurer changes hands on July 1st, instead of January 1st, because of the tax set-up, he said.

Wayne County is in good financial condition, because there is money to pay for the outstanding bonds. The Townships likewise are in good shape due to the sales tax diversion law. This diversion, Mr. Stoll believes is given too much to townships and not enough is given to the school districts.

The welfare department of the county has made heavy demands on the budget in the last five or six years. Last year, the welfare took up sixty percent of the budget, he stated.

Gov'r Discusses Shortage of Doctors

"The problem of getting enough doctors, especially for rural Michigan, is a problem of building additions to medical schools at the University of Michigan and Wayne University," Governor G. Mennen Williams told the state this week, in announcing his proposed 1950-51 state capital outlay budget of almost $28,000,000.

Included in the program is $2,800,000 for increase in the facilities for training doctors of medicine at the University of Michigan, and $2,800,000 for the purpose at Wayne University.

Another major item is the capital outlay budget is $2,000,000 for a new veterinarian science building at Michigan State College.

The greatest single item is $14,311,690 for more than 1500 additional beds for the state's mental institutions, and another $800,000 for fire protection equipment in old mental hospital buildings. The $800,000 will put sprinkler systems in the 4-story buildings and some of the 3-story buildings, and allow for some other steps to be taken to protect the state's mental hospitals in case of fire.

"Most complaints about not being able to get a doctor come to me from rural areas and small towns in Michigan," Governor Williams said, in announcing his medical school outlay program. "I hope that this program will get together the many young men seeking careers as doctors of medicine, and the small cities and villages where the need for physicians is especially pressing."

"A new veterinarian science building at Michigan State College is equally needed to carry on research in diseases of farm animals, and for training veterinarians to protect the livestock investment of Michigan farmers."

"The program for the expansion of our mental health facilities unfortunately will take care of only a small part of the need, because the increase in and improvement of our mental hospitals have not kept pace with our needs. The sum asked for fire protection is absolutely necessary to be sure that Michigan does not suffer a tragedy like that in Davenport, Iowa, when a large

Edison Installs New Turbo-Generator

Michigan's electric power supply was stepped up 100,000 kilowatts with the starting of a giant new turbo-generator recently at the Trenton Channel plant of The Detroit Edison Company.

The throttle of the massive, steam-driven generator—the replica of one installed at the same plant last October—was opened by J. W. Parker, Detroit Edison president.

The amount of electricity produced by the new machine and its twin could satisfy the full demand of Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Pontiac and Port Huron, combined.

Starting of the generator occurred on the 40th anniversary of Parker's service with his company, and incidentally marked a new speed record in heavy machine assembly. The 1,800,000-pound unit was put together by a crack General Electric crew in 26 days—the fastest time ever clocked in setting up a turbine of this kind and size.

Shortly before the new machine was put into operation, Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the board of the Edison Company, presented Parker with a 40-year service emblem.

Michigan members of home demonstration groups made 694 slip covers and saved over $9,000 in the process last year. They also saved more than $8,000 by refinishing more than 1,000 pieces of furniture and $4,000 by repairing innerspring cushions in furniture. County home demonstration agents supervised the projects.

Greater Benefits . . . For More People

In 1949 alone the value of services rendered to subscribers of Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield amounted to over $32,000,000—an increase of 52% over 1948. Since 1940, the total value of services exceeds $128,000,000.

Hundreds of thousands of new members joined Michigan Blue Cross - Blue Shield last year, just as they have every year since it was founded. That's because more and more people are realizing that these plans—commonly known as Blue Cross—offer the most health-care protection at the lowest cost.

Blue Cross - Blue Shield can afford to offer such complete protection because they are voluntary, wholly non-profit organizations, sponsored and run by Michigan's hospitals and doctors themselves. For instance, last year Blue Shield Surgical and Medical-Surgical Plans returned more than 94% of income to subscribers in the form of benefits. Blue Cross returned 89% of income to subscribers in services rendered. No wonder membership grows and grows—and that Blue Cross and Blue Shield are far and away Michigan's most widely used health-care plans.

How about You and Your Family?

Are you protected against unexpected hospital and medical bills—bills that could spell financial disaster? Chances are 1 in 4 that you or one of your dependents will have to go to a hospital this year!

Here's how Blue Cross - Blue Shield protects you in case of accident or illness:

Blue Cross Hospital Plan covers a broad range of hospital services (up to 120 days of care) in any of the 176 participating hospitals in Michigan: NO CASH LIMIT on the benefits covered.

Blue Shield Surgical Plan pays liberal amounts for stated surgical procedures, includes special benefits for emergency (first aid) treatment in doctor's office or hospital.

Blue Shield Medical-Surgical Plan includes all the benefits of the Surgical Plan, plus payments for your doctor's hospital visits in non-surgical cases. And the cost is only a few cents more than the cost of the Surgical Plan alone.

Just knowing payments will be made toward your doctor's bill is worth many times the low cost of the Surgical and Medical-Surgical Plans!

Here's How You Can Join BLUE CROSS - BLUE SHIELD

Blue Cross - Blue Shield is available to employed people without physical examination or health statement. Talk over with your employer how your company can make these plans available to you. Ask him to get all the facts on the Group Enrollment Plans.

Blue Cross - Blue Shield is also available to members of Farm Bureau Groups, Farm Grange Groups and other similar organizations.

CAN DO De-squeak Those Creaking Floors

DO YOUR floors creak? A good many houses that are getting along in years suffer from that affliction, and there are an equal number of standing jokes on that subject—mainly dealing with the "night-errant" husband trying to sneak quietly to bed at an abysmally wee hour of the morning and stepping on a squeaky board, to his considerable sorrow.

This crude humor notwithstanding, the funniest thing about creaky floors is that you need not tolerate them at all. In most cases the situation can be remedied.

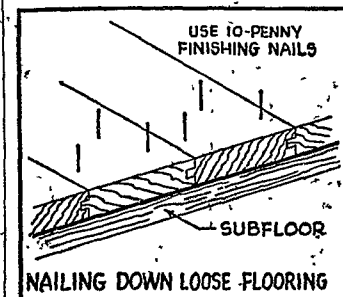

Here are the most common causes of creaking floor boards: Inadequate or improper nailing of the flooring or the subflooring; poor support from the joists, and badly supported openings in the floor for the chimney or stair wells. Generally speaking, in houses that do not have subflooring, the floor boards are more likely to squeak and groan than when good subflooring is present.

At any rate, if your floors are noisy enough you probably will enjoy spending an afternoon or evening working on them. Here's what to do.

Start with the simplest procedure, which calls for nothing more complicated than a hammer, a piece of old carpet or heavy cloth, a wood block and a stout right arm. Check your floors to see whether any boards have warped up or lifted slightly from the sub-floor or joists.

If this is the case, lay the piece of carpet over the bulging spot and put the wood block on the carpet. Then simply drive down the loose members by banging away on the block with a heavy hammer. Very often this is enough to do the trick.

If, however, you can't subdue the shrieking floor on these terms, drive 10-penny finishing nails—three ought to be enough—into the loose section. (If you can't recognize a 10-penny nail, your hardware dealer will help you out. Incidentally, you might ask him to fill you in generally on nail sizes and types. Nails are actually a fascinating subject.)

Don't be too concerned about marring your floor by driving nails into it. Sink the nail heads below the surface of the wood with a nail set and then fill the holes with a wood filler, sand and refinish.

Let us say, for the sake of argument, that neither of these measures has de-squeaked your floor. If the underside of the flooring is accessible from the basement, you can drive a wedge between the flooring and the top of the joist at the loose spot. Or, if you are unable to do this, try nailing a wooden cleat—a 1 x 3 inch piece of board as long as you need—to the joist so that the edge of the cleat protrudes above the top of the joist and supports the flooring at the point where the noise is being produced.

U. S. PROSECUTING ATTORNEYS TO FORM NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

"The Prosecuting Attorneys of the nation will soon have a national association through which to coordinate their activities in stamping out crime . . . and in particular organized crime," Gerald K. O'Brien, Prosecuting Attorney of Wayne County announced today.

"William R. MacDougall, legal counsel of the County Supervisors Association, Sacramento, California; Frank J. Coakley, District Attorney, Alameda County, Oakland, California; Will R. Wilson, County Attorney, Dallas County, Dallas, Texas; Robert O. Brink, President of the District Attorneys Association of New York State and District Attorney at Binghamton, New York, and Gerald K. O'Brien, will be the incorporators and charter members of the new association," O'Brien said.

"The five of us were selected to give representation to prosecuting attorneys at the conference called to combat organized crime by the Federal government in Washington last week," O'Brien continued, "and we found that we were all of one mind, that a national association of prosecuting attorneys was essential if we prosecutors were to do a real job of supporting the program to stamp out nationally organized vice and crime."

"The five of us contributed to pay for the charter fee and we will be incorporated under the laws of California. We plan to establish a national office with a full time executive secretary as a national clearing house for information, ideas and service to prosecuting officials throughout the nation. As soon as the charter is obtained the membership rolls will be open to all prosecutors regardless of political affiliation. We will seek to work closely with one another, with the police, and with the various crime prevention committees established around the nation."

"We are solidly behind the present program to stamp out organized crime in Detroit and Wayne County, and we intend to lend our every effort in making the drive a success," O'Brien concluded, "but we will need the full cooperation of other public agencies. The number of court dispositions in 1949 was increased by 6104 cases over the number disposed of in 1948. Our staff of prosecutors was increased by only one attorney. We shall need additional top-flight trial attorneys and criminal investigators to make our office effective against what appears to be a nationally organized vice and gambling ring. They have unlimited, ill-gotten funds with which to obtain the best legal talent to defend their hirelings and principals in court. The best criminal detection will be fruitless unless it results in ultimate conviction of the wrong-doer in court. We must prepare to meet the challenge of the national gambling syndicate now," O'Brien said.

Reddy Kilowatt
Leads the Parade to HAPPIER
Homemaking

Reddy Kilowatt says:
"For a thrifty '50
... Go Electric!"

Today's accent is on push-button living. So naturally, modern homemakers turn to Reddy Kilowatt (electricity) for time-and-work-saving convenience. For remarkably low wages, Reddy cooks meals, washes dishes, heats water, does the laundry, and polishes off dozens of other household jobs.

Let the appliances you now have be the foundation for a truly modern, all-electric home. Then, step by step, as your budget permits, add other "wife-savers."

Your dealer or the folks at any Edison office will gladly help you. Why not join Reddy Kilowatt's happier homemaking parade?

this passage, (Rom. 8:16, 17):
"The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God: . . . And if children,

For The Easter Parade

You will look no prettier parading in your Easter bonnet than this Easter Glory Cake will look on your dinner table!

The texture of the cake itself is fine and light; and it is covered all over with a fluffy frosting, tinted a soft, sunny yellow. On top are little nests made of green tinted coconut and filled with gay jelly bean eggs. If you prefer, you can toast the coconut lightly instead of tinting it — to give a more natural nest effect.

There are two ways to toast coconut — both simple and easy. (1) To toast in the oven: Spread coconut out thinly in shallow pan. Place in moderate oven (350° F.) and toast until delicately browned. Stir coconut or shake pan often to toast evenly. (2) To saute: Melt 1 tablespoon butter in a skillet. Add 1 cup shredded coconut and saute until coconut is golden brown.

Easter Glory Cake

2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour 1/2 cup shortening
2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder 1 1/2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon salt 2 eggs, unbeaten
1 teaspoon vanilla *Milk (see below for amount)

*With butter, margarine, or lard, use 1 cup milk. With vegetable or any other shortening use 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating very thoroughly after each. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Turn into two deep 9-inch layer pans which have been lined on bottoms with paper, then greased. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

Spread Seven Minute Frosting, tinted a delicate yellow, between layers and on top and sides of cake. Tint shredded coconut a delicate green. Arrange five small coconut nests around top of cake; fill centers with colored jelly beans.

Plywood Economical In Many Farm Uses

Brooder Houses Prove Utility of Material

Farmers are finding that the high strength and light weight of plywood makes it an economical and efficient material to use in portable farm buildings such as brooder houses, hog shelters, and range sheds.

A brooder house, a building magazine reports, should be of adequate size, warm and dry, and properly lighted and ventilated. To

Here is a "turkey feeder" that is easily and economically made from exterior plywood—weather can't harm it and it's easy portability appeals to farmers.

Portability, of course, is of prime importance. Some portable buildings, built by conventional methods, weigh as much as 2 to 3 thousand pounds. Farmers naturally hesitate to move a heavy structure frequently, and so invite exposure to disease. If moved often, particularly over rough ground, heavy buildings soon are loosened at the joints.

be economical, it should be relatively low in first cost, and yet be strongly built to give long life without expensive and troublesome upkeep. For convenience, it must be easy to clean and move.

Ends Poultry Chore

Another poultry chore has been electrified and placed on an automatic basis as shown above. This time it is a feeding job which normally requires considerable time and personal attention.

It is being accomplished on an increasing number of electrified farms by mechanical feeders, operated by small motors. The device illustrated here is fairly common in a number of larger poultry houses. Feed and supplements are placed in the top of the metal cylinder and then mixed by the rotating central shaft which has small paddles attached at the lower end. The shaft is lowered as the feed is ejected from the bottom of the cylinder by the spinning paddles.

Chemical Caponization Held of Limited Value

The question of whether chemical caponization is practical is one which poultry raisers ask most frequently. Many county extension services also receive numerous questions on the subject.

In experimental work, the treatment stopped fighting and crowing among the cockerels.

"All things considered, it would appear that chemical caponization has very limited value at present."

Massachusetts Collegian Is Agricultural Winner

A 20-year-old Massachusetts college student whose two and one-half acre plot of potatoes grossed him $1,300, has been named champion farmer-businessman of the country in competition with thousands of farm youths from more than 40 states.

He is Russell L. Sears, Jr., of Cummington, Mass., who was declared winner of the ninth annual production-marketing contest.

Nation Will Produce More 'Green Pastures'

Grass and Mechanization More Vital in Later Years

Prospects are evident that America's farmlands will grow greener in the second half of the 20th century.

Outstanding in farming's past 50 years and bound to play vital parts in the years to come are the new importance of grass and the mechanization of the farm.

According to experts on the subject, grass is soon to rank as a prime contributor to the health and wealth of the United States. Farmers who will turn to the use of grass as a real crop in itself, will find that it prevents erosion, builds up the soil, improves the land for crops that are to follow and provides greater profit through more economical feed.

Because they can now grow more grass with less work, farmers are planting more and more acres in green pastures. They are using more grass as rotation and cover crops and tests have proved to them that grass in rotation with corn and cotton vastly increases yields.

The making of hay and grass silage is the basis of grassland farming. This is a true product of the 20th century. Experiments started about 25 years ago are just now getting widespread acceptance as farmers find that grass silage is second-only to grazing in a good livestock program.

New Pig-Feeding System Paying Off for Farmers

A pig-feeding device which might be adopted profitably by many swine raisers has been developed in northeastern California.

The "pig strainer," as it is popularly known, was invented by Jess Steiner who lives in Modoc county near Cedarville.

A new kind of creep, the "strainer" sorts pigs out by size at feeding time. Here's how it came about: Steiner purchased buttermilk from a creamery at Alturas which he feeds as part of the ration to his hogs. He figured out that it was necessary to feed the pigs according to size, since the small animals had difficulty in getting their fair share of feed alongside the larger hogs.

Therefore, he arranged his pigs at the trough where the buttermilk and concentrates are fed in such a way that, by using creeps, the hogs naturally arranged themselves according to size.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Wayne—First step forward in solving Garden City's impassable roads was taken by the city planning commission last Friday.

Rochester — An engineering firm has been requested by the village council to recommend action following the state health department order that the 2½ million gallon open reservoir at the Rochester water plant be covered or not used.

Ithaca — Although only one ticket was nominated in each of the four villages of Gratiot County yet a number of changes were made from the present set of officers. Elections to be held shortly will probably be quiet affairs.

Dearborn — An angered Mayor Hubbard launched a verbal attack against the Dearborn Chamber of Commerce in his first public retaliation during the waning minutes of the city council meeting charging that it "was the Chamber of Commerce who should have their books audited and not the city."

Chelsea—Only about 35 people attended the public meeting called by the Board of Education and held in the study hall at the High school recently for the express purpose of affording people an opportunity to air their views on the school needs for the community. The meeting was conducted as previously planned, with those in attendance dividing into small discussion groups after the general opening assembly during which the school problem, as it appears to date, was explained.

Birmingham—Oakland County Prosecutor Clyde D. Underwood said he is taking the preliminary steps leading up to an inquest of the December 11 gas explosion which killed five persons and seriously injured another at the Mother & Son Antique shop on N. Woodward.

Plymouth—Ground was broken for the new George A. Smith elementary school to be located at the end of Simpson street, west of South Harvey street.

Ithaca — The terrifying call "Fire!" resounded in Gratiot county the past week several times with losses ranging from $50 to $33,500. Ravaging flames swept through two homes, and a garage housing three school buses at Riverdale, a rural home in New Haven township, and a World War II veteran's home northwest of Ithaca.

Chelsea — At the regular Village Council meeting held Monday evening, February 20, it was voted that an advisory ballot should be submitted at the regular village election on Monday, March 13, on the question of raising funds for the Pierce Memorial park development project.

Wayne—Decision of the Wayne School Board to ask for bids on their proposed $2,000,000 high school in two weeks was voted Monday, February 20.

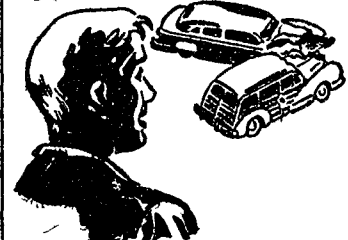

Plymouth—Cheering Plymouth High school students greeted the winning debate team as they returned by train February 21 from Grand Rapids where they won the state quarter final debate tournament. Team members Roger Kidston and Ronald Witt defeated debaters from East Grand Rapids High school three to nothing and are now eligible to compete in the state semi-finals.

Rochester—Floyd Warner, 123 Lysander, Rochester, has joined the hero ranks after rescuing a Pontiac man and a police dog from icy waters at Lake Orion.

The state of Georgia ranks first in the U. S. in the production of marble, second in barite and third in granite. It is also the largest producer of kaolin.

Have you a teen-aged boy or girl in your family? Do they drive the family auto? If so, stop—right now—and ask them to join you in looking at the above sketch.

Ask your son or daughter how they'd feel if they were in the place of the boy in the sketch—looking at two cars which have collided—and knowing that he is responsible for the accident—the damage—and the injury to the passengers riding in these cars?

They don't like the idea, do they? And neither do you. But it could happen to your family—and it will, unless each one of you resolves to drive safely and carefully every day in the year.

Youngsters like to "show off"—they think it's fun to "let'er out" to the fastest possible speed. But the boy in the sketch has learned that actually it's no fun at all. The very first time of showing off might be the last time for anything at all!

Talk it over with your children. Make sure that they understand why driving caution is so necessary. Make sure they realize the need for every driving rule—and obey every rule.

Don't put off a discussion of safe driving with your children. Do it now—it may save a life!

NEWS
and
GEORGE A. DONDERO

Nearly every American is familiar with the warning against foreign entanglements contained in Washington's farewell address to the Congress and people of the United States upon the occasion of his refusal to seek a third term as the nation's Chief Executive.

But most Americans, it must be admitted, are unaware of the fact that the Father of His Country in that same address warned his fellow countrymen of many other dangers to the Republic—dangers from within as well as from without, which this nation faces today in almost exactly the forms envisioned by the first President.

Washington foresaw, among other things, the time when minority groups would organize for the purpose of wielding political power out of all proportion to their numbers and their intelligence. We see such organizations all about us today.

"All obstructions to the execution of the laws," said Washington, "all combinations and associations under whatever plausible character, with the real design to direct, control, counteract, or awe the regular deliberations and action of the constituted authorities, are destructive of this fundamental principle (government by the whole people) and of fatal tendency."

"However combinations or associations of the above description may now and then answer popular ends, they are likely, in the course of time and things, to become potent engines by which cunning, ambitious and unprincipled men will be enabled to subvert the power of the people, and to usurp for themselves the reins of government; thereafter destroying the very engines which have lifted them to unjust dominion."

Washington probably did not foresee the emergence of our present labor monopolies, headed by such men as John L. Lewis, but he did foresee that eventually minority groups would attempt to intimidate the government and the people, flout the laws of the land, and seek their own aggrandizement even at the expense of their neighbors' life and health. Washington warned the people to put down with an iron hand all such groups.

But the dangers already referred to, are far from being the only ones against which Washington warned. The others were brought to mind on Wednesday, February 22, when the House of Representatives again followed its Washington's Birthday custom of having the Farewell address read aloud.

The Father of His Country warned in substance against those men in public office who one day, through a pretended patriotism and tender regard for the welfare of their fellow citizens, would seek to tear down the free institutions of the Republic.

He warned, too, against the importation of Old World political ideas, which he said even then were subversive of the liberties so newly born on the American continent. Washington even went so far as indirectly to warn against the infiltration of our government by those who would serve the interests of foreign enemies.

Furthermore, Washington voiced a solemn warning against needless government expense, and urged that in times of comparative prosperity every effort should be made to pay off whatever debts the Republic had contracted for war or other emergency.

Washington's Birthday was last week, but it is not too late for anyone to get a copy of the Farewell Address from the public library and to read it carefully in order better to understand the perils which we, as a nation and a free people, face today.

SHIRLEY MAY FRANCE

Sport Show Opens in Detroit March 4

Shirley May France, who made a gallant attempt to swim the English Channel last summer, and who will try again this summer; Pierre, the baby seal who swam the Channel in 5 hours and 4 minutes; and "Andrew H. Brown", a sea going turtle who will also try a Channel swim this summer, are only a few of the star attractions at the Detroit Sports and Boat show which opens for a nine day run at Convention hall on Saturday, March 4.

For the real field sportsman, four outstanding sporting dog attractions are offered by the show and include Carl Bradford's sheep and duckherding collies; Lester Nance's champion coon hounds, Charley Frank's great collection of springers and goldens, and Joe Farley's top pointers, setters, labradors and chesapeake.

"One Shot George" O'Neill will present his latest Alaskan salmon fishing movies.

There are ten feature exhibits scattered around large Convention hall and continuous demonstrations and fun at all of them. Approximately 250 boats of all kinds are on display and also all the latest inventions in fishing tackle, guns and numerous items which keep the sportsman spending his money.

The show is open daily from 12 noon to 11 p. m., including Sunday, March 12.

NHS Cagers Lose To Keego Harbor

The Northville Mustangs trailed Keego Harbor all the way in last Friday night's basketball game and lost the season's last scheduled encounter, 55-40.

A small group of spectators nearly outnumbered by the players saw Keego's tight defense keep the Mustangs away from the basket while Ralph Vanderkolk and Earl O'Shaughnessy rapped in 21 and 14 points respectively to lead the scoring. With O'Shaughnessy hitting from in front of the basket and the rangy Vanderkolk pushing in shots from under the mesh, the Mustangs couldn't keep up with the scoring.

Dick Stanley got five field goals and three foul shots to garner 13 points and lead Northville scoring efforts.

Vanderkolk's height was a constant threat because of his ability to take high, looping passes on his fingertips and tip them in. Ron Jennings slowed him down for a while, but went out on fouls too early in the game to keep Vanderkolk's average down.

Coach Harry Smith switched player combinations frequently but something was always missing. Stanley was used to boost the total points and got 13, but Heaton was tied up in the center slot and tallied only seven.

Keego Reserves Trip Colts, 48-32

The Keego Harbor reserves tripped Northville's Colts last Friday night on Keego's home floor, 48-32. The Colts trailed all the way.

Coach Dick Kay ran the Colts roster, using many combinations, as has been done all season. Charlie Rebitzke got five baskets and four free throws to total 14 points and lead scoring for both teams. John Collins and Don Thompson each got 10 for Keego.

Keego's defense was penetrated with no great difficulty by the Colts, but Northville couldn't hold down Keego's attack. The Colts were behind 15-7 at the first quarter mark, and 28-18 at the half.

Simple Rules, Not 'Knack,' Are Secret of Good Cakes

How is your reputation as a cake baker? If it could be improved don't wait around for the "knack" to come to you—instead check yourself on a few simple rules that can make a big difference with that cake.

First, suggests Lois Jackson, foods department, Michigan State College, start heating the oven in advance so that it will be the right temperature by the time the cake is ready to bake. Arrange the racks in the oven so that the cake will be near the center for even heating.

Prepare the pans before mixing the batter and it's very important that you use the size of pan mentioned in the recipe. Do not grease pans for angel food or sponge cakes. For butter cakes, use a pastry brush or piece of waxed paper to spread a thin amount of fat on the bottom of the pan and just part way up the sides.

Cakes are usually baked in a moderate oven and should be tested before removing. Butter cakes begin to shrink away from the sides of the pan when done. If the top of the cake is pressed lightly with the fingers, it should spring back without leaving a mark. A wire tester or toothpick can be inserted into the center of the cake and will come out clean and dry when the cake has been properly baked.

Let butter cakes cool in the pan for about 10 minutes after removing from oven and then loosen the sides with a spatula. Turn the cake on a cake rack or towel right side up to finish cooling. Then the cake won't get soggy from steaming. Fruit cakes should be left in the pan until cold because they are heavy and tender when hot. Turn sponge cakes upside down, pan and all, until the cake is cold. Then loosen the cake from the sides and around the tube. Tilt the pan and draw the cake out gently.

Fruit in Roll

To make a wonderful dessert, roll out your favorite biscuit dough and spread it with a thick fruit sauce—rhubarb, strawberry, peach—or any of your favorite summer time fruits. Then roll it up jelly roll style and cut the roll into two-inch slices and bake. The clever dessert slices can be topped with more of the fruit sauce or with sweetened whipped cream.

BERLIN BACKDOWN . . . J. P. McNulty, chief of United States property branch, removes a requisition from the entrance to the rail directorate building in the U. S. sector of Berlin while two west German police look on. The building was occupied by west German police after the Reds were ousted. The Russians implied that if it were not returned to them the blockade would be resumed. Gen. Maxwell Taylor, U. S. sector commander, gave the order to return the building "in the interest of the peace of the city." The building now is occupied by Red rail authorities but the Russians are continuing a "baby blockade" of Berlin, stopping truck traffic into the city upon the slightest excuse and causing British and American officials many inconveniences in the administering of the affairs of the allied sectors.

Ford Parts Depot To Be Erected

Construction of a new central service parts depot as a major step in an expansion program to constantly maintain Ford service on a par with increasing production and sales was announced today by L. D. Crusoe, Vice-President and General Manager of the Ford Division.

The new building, with almost a million square feet of floor space will be erected at Plymouth and Middle Belt Roads. Construction is to get under way within the next few weeks and is expected to be completed by August 1.

"With our greatly expanded production and a tremendous increase in Ford car and truck ownership, we have developed an advanced-type of quick service to dealers and customers," Mr. Crusoe said. "The new central service parts depot is an important link in our advanced service system to speed up distribution of parts and accessories, making them readily available to our customers where they want them and when they want them."

In addition to the central parts depot, the new building also will house the Central Region and Dearborn District sales offices of the Ford Division. The office portion of the structure, facing Plymouth Road, will be two stories, with 50,000 square feet of space on each floor.

The parts depot section will be one story, and overall the building will be 1,230 feet long and 720 feet wide.

The service parts depot will be equipped with the newest type of material handling equipment and the layout will be a model of modern methods in receiving, filling and shipping orders, according to Earl G. Ward, Manager of Ford Division Parts and Accessories Operations.

The location provides space for 12 freight cars at one time for shipping and receiving by rail. Facilities also will include dock space for 31 trucks for over-the-highway freight.

The new building, in which approximately 1,400 persons will be located, will be the focal point of the advanced parts service system. Approximately 280 Ford dealers in the Michigan Lower Peninsula and in the northeast section of Indiana will be served directly from the depot here.

The other more than 6,000 dealers will receive their requirements direct from nearer depots located in their respective areas. Both depot and dealer stocks thus can be kept constantly in balance with the needs of the customer.

Great savings will be made in

Don't Blame the Michigan Farmer for Spud Surplus

If you're getting that finger ready to point at the Michigan potato farmer in trying to find someone to blame for the current potato surplus problem, you had better look elsewhere. Henry C. Moore, Michigan State College crops extension specialist, who has spent more than 30 years working with Michigan potato growers, thinks so anyway.

If Michigan consumers would eat Michigan potatoes exclusively the state would come very close to handling its own crop. This, of course, is not possible, since Michigan potatoes are not available every month in the year. Here is Moore's analysis, however. Michigan's crop was slightly more than 17,000,000 bushels in 1949, a reduction of two million bushels under the average for the ten years previous. After deductions are made for culls fed livestock, potatoes consumed on farms where produced and for potatoes saved for seed, that leaves 11,000,000 bushels of Michigan potatoes for sale to consumers.

Annual per capita consumption of potatoes in the U. S. in 1948 was about 110 pounds. Excluding those living on farms raising potatoes, there would be 6,000,000 Michigan people to consume the crop. Based on the average, their consumption would exceed 11,000,000 bushels.

The crop specialist pointed to the reduction in acreage from an average of 183,000 acres from 1938 to 1947 down to but 104,000 acres last year as an indication that Michigan farmers are endeavoring to reduce the surplus. Some states have increased acreages during this period of surplus and none of the major producing states show the acreage reduction that has taken place in Michigan, Moore said.

transit time and in ordering and receiving time, Mr. Ward said. All parts and accessories will be available to the customer in any dealership with a minimum of waiting time. Even seldom needed parts and those for model many years old can be obtained quickly through the flexibility and modern dispatching methods of the advanced service system, according to Mr. Ward.
