A wedding of interest was one which took place March 3 when James W. Kator of Northville and Miss Alice Ellsworth of Stockbridge were united in marriage.

During the past few weeks the lumber yard of C. L. Dubuar has been practically "picked-up" and moved from the location it occupied for many years to a more advantageous one across the Pere Marquette tracks.

Forty Years Ago:

The caucus held Friday night put up a very satisfactory ticket. B. A. Northrop was persuaded to accept renomination for the presidency and W. J. Lanning and Mark Seeley were renominated aldermen.

It might be a good thing for those interested and having children in the grade building to look over the heating plant and see if they would consider it safe. This is simply a suggestion but it seems to us that this should be looked into somewhat.

Children's Dental Health Discussed

With proper care your child's set of 32 permanent teeth should last a lifetime, the Michigan Department of Health says in its revised pamphlet "Dental Health for Children" which is just off the press.

Starting by age three, your child should visit the dentist regularly, the Department advises. It recommends applications of sodium fluoride to the crown surfaces of teeth when the child is three years of age and at intervals of three or four years thereafter until he is about 13 years of age. It also warns against immoderate use of sweets such as candy, chewing gum, pop, sundaes, jams and cookies in the child's diet, saying that they usually result in increased dental decay. As substitutes it suggests fruit, nuts, popcorn and cheese.

The new pamphlet gives a formula for a simple homemade tooth powder, describes the best type of tooth brush, gives a chart showing the time of eruption of permanent teeth, and includes other suggestions for dental health.

Copies of "Dental Health for Children" can be obtained from the local health department or, where there is no local health department, from the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Michigan.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

NON-PARTISAN NEWS LETTER

Gov. G. Mennen Williams' program for the state corporation profits tax is "strictly political", according to John L. Lovett, general manager, Michigan Manufacturers' Association.

"It is the application of the philosophy of the present leaders of the C.I.O.," states Lovett.

"I wish I might say to the business men of Michigan that its state government wants you to stay here. I wish I might say to those young men who want to go in business that Michigan is a friendly state. I wish I might say to those with capital to invest that Michigan welcomes you.

"I wish I might say that in the statehouse there is a governor whose administration wants to make Michigan a better place to work in and better to own a business in.

"I regret that I cannot make that statement truthfully. At every crossroads in the state the governor is telling the people that he wants to make the corporations of Michigan pay a four percent income tax."

It is a characteristic of indirect taxes to pyramid the taxation cost to the consumer, observes Lovett. As the income tax must be added to the cost of the product, the corporation has to add its overhead if it is going to stay in business and arrive at a selling price. Thus the four percent tax may easily become six percent by the time it is added into final selling price paid by the consumer.

As the people of Michigan on four different occasions voted by a large majority against a state income tax, Lovett believes that a corporation income tax would be promptly taken to court for test of constitutionality.

"Corporations in Michigan now pay approximately 50 per cent of the property taxes paid in the state," states Lovett. "This tax cost amounts to about $200 million a year. General Motors Corporation in the city of Pontiac pays 44 percent of the total taxes of that city. In Flint it probably pays a larger proportion, and it would pay a similar proportion in Saginaw, Bay City or Lansing."

Furthermore corporations in Michigan pay a rather high unemployment compensation tax rate, as compared with corporations in adjoining states such as Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Our minimum is one percent, while in these other states the unemployment compensation tax rate goes down as low as four tenths of one percent.

"We used to say that Michigan was a good place to run a factory because we had highly skilled labor which was very productive," continued Lovett. "We paid high wages and got the best workers. Now, however, with the restrictive output theory of the unions you can no longer rely upon the better per man production to meet our competition in other states. Those surrounding states average 20 to 40 cents an hour lower wage rates than Michigan, so the labor advantage today has been entirely removed.

"Utilities in Michigan have spent millions of dollars in bringing natural gas and cheap fuels. That is important to the state. However, the last few years has seen a gradual reduction in the number of industries operating in Michigan. Just in mid-January, two firms which had been in Detroit for 50 years announced they were moving to adjoining states.

"The Chicago Pneumatic Fuel Company came to Detroit with the Burroughs Adding Machine Company. The Diamond Farr Specialty Company was born and developed in Michigan.

"In Muskegon at least five old reliable, substantial industries have closed their doors. There are vacant plants in Jackson and Port Huron."

Large automobile companies are carrying on a widespread decentralization program. Why? There is a general feeling among Michigan corporations that the state is unfriendly, that corporations are confronted with an unfriendly administration, and with other advantages elsewhere, Michigan no longer is inviting," states Lovett.

It is the judgment of Lovett, as spokesman for Michigan corporations, that we should thoroughly investigate the possibilities of economy in state and local governments. Conceding that the sales tax amendment diverts 78 percent of the sales tax revenues back to home governments, Lovett believes "it is embarrassing to some townships and local communities to have so much money they don't know what to do with it." Lovett would either do away with the sales tax and come forward with some other direct form of taxation or he would require local communities to assume many of the burdens the state is now attempting to carry with reduced revenues.

In conclusion let me say that "there is no need for a new tax. If the time ever comes when we need new taxes in Michigan, let's be honest about our proposals.

"Let us not try to say to the people of the state that by an indirect tax they are not paying a tax. Direct taxation is the only honest type of taxation. Then we are not building up a pyramid of concealed charges against the consumer.

A final shot: "I believe any impartial investigation would show that the state does not need any new revenues of any kind," said Mr. Lovett.

This in brief, is the case of the state corporations against the Williams corporation profits tax program.

Falls kill more persons in the home than any other type of accident, according to the National Safety Council. Spring housecleaning tip: Use ladders to wash walls, windows, change from storm windows. Watch your step carrying bedding and clothing out to air.

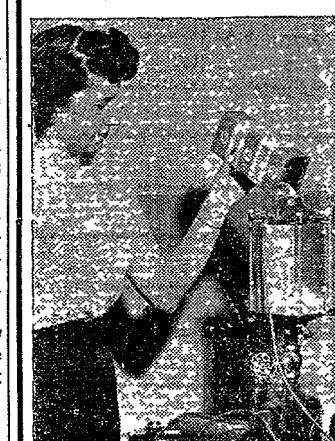

Don't wash white rice before cooking unless necessary and it is less likely to become sticky. Cook it in as little water as possible and it will retain more flavor and a firmer texture, report home economists at Michigan State College.

Officials of 65 real estate boards and state associations have signified that they will work on slum rehabilitation and prevention programs this year, Robert P. Gerholz, Flint, Mich., president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, has announced.

Dairy Producers Oppose A&P Suit

The Midwest Producers Creameries, Inc., opposed government restrictions on distributors of dairy products "such as the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company" during its recent annual meeting at South Bend.

The action was taken in the form of a resolution adopted by the group which includes 21 creamery associations representing more than 8,000 farmers in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Tennessee.

The resolution called for opposition, on the part of the dairy producers, to unjust government attacks on distributors handling their products. It cited the A&P case and emphasized that this company had done much to increase the consumption of dairy products and other foods.

The government anti-trust division currently is seeking through the courts to break up A&P and to divorce the present owners from all of the company's operations.

The resolution further stated that "anything done to hinder such dealers will result in loss of dairy products consumed."

Christian Science Lecture Is March 17
A free lecture on Christian Science will be given in the edifice of Eighth Church of Christ, Scientist, on Friday evening, March 17th, at 8 o'clock.

Undoubtedly there are many people who would be interested to hear an explanation of this religion. They see congregations emerging from Christian Science churches, smiling and happy. They wonder why.

A spokesman for Eighth Church, which is sponsoring this lecture, said, "Christian Science lectures provide a way for people to learn facts about this religion from an authoritative source, not from hearsay. The lecturer who will speak on Friday, Adair Hickman of New York City, is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston."

The church emphasizes that these lectures are free, and that all are invited. A section of seats will be reserved until 7:45 for those who have not previously attended a Christian Science lecture.

PTA Making Plans to Present Carnival

Plans are underway for an evening of fun in the school buildings of Northville on April 21. The Parent Teachers Association is planning a carnival which, they state, will appeal to members of the entire family.

All kinds of amusements, games, refreshments and entertainment will be offered. Movies, a puppet show, a midway, dancing and a side show are a few of the features.

Funds derived from this project will be used toward the following program: to provide the annual P.T.A. Scholarship; to help finance the scoreboard at Ford Field and to help furnish the teachers' room in the new Grade building.

Donald B. Severance is chairman of the affair and R. H. Amernan and Eldon Biery are co-chairmen. George Kohs, P.T.A. president, is also working with them. The service clubs of the community have promised to contribute their efforts to make the evening a success.

TROOP N-5

The last meeting of Troop N-5 was held at the Scout Building with N-1 because of the coal shortage.

"I Find It Pays to Do All My Marketing at A&P Because A&P HAS THE VALUES"

When one of our customers says... as scores of them do... that it pays to market regularly at A&P because A&P has the values, you can be sure she's not talking about a few scattered values.

No indeed! She's talking about the many week-long, store-wide values for which A&P is famous. For only such values add up to the substantial savings that subtract dollars from food bills.

They make it really worthwhile to do all your marketing at A&P. Come and See! We're sure you'll agree.

ON CAPITOL HILL

NEWS and COMMENT

FROM CONGRESSMAN

GEORGE A. DONDERO

A few days ago I was honored to be chosen as one of four members of the House of Representatives, best qualified by study and experience, to confer with members of the Japanese Diet, who came to Capitol Hill to observe the workings of the American Congress.

Our job was to explain to the Japanese the immensely complicated and often tedious legislative activities whereby a member of Congress gets any consideration at all for the needs of his constituents and at the same time makes their opinions felt on the issues of national and international importance.

Those who served with me on this informal conference committee were Congressmen Robert Hale, of Maine, William F. Horrell, of Arkansas, and Arthur L. Miller, of Nebraska, all of them men whose exhaustive studies and long experience have made them highly influential in the Congress of the United States.

One of the members of the Japanese group was Takizo Matsumoto, former Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs and a graduate of Harvard University, who served as interpreter. As a result, the conference was highly interesting to all concerned and had also an amusing side.

After we had explained in some detail the highly technical legislative procedure of the American Congress, the time remaining was devoted to questions and answers.

One of the questions concerned whether American Congressmen are compelled to follow without deviation the ideas and policies expressed in their political party platforms. This was a hard one to answer, it must be confessed, because so many members of Congress at one time or another do vote with the opposition.

It was agreed, however, among the Americans that Congressmen are expected to follow such party policies in a general way, although at the same time they must observe the desires of a majority of their constituents whenever those desires are clearly expressed and do not conflict with the public interest. It was agreed also that, within reasonable limits, the judgment on national and international issues gained by Congressmen through long study and experience may properly be exercised for the benefit of the nation as a whole.

Another question asked by the Japanese related to the committee room arrangements, whereby Congressional committee members sit on a horseshoe-shaped rostrum during public hearings on legislation. "Does this mean that members of Congress hold themselves above the common people?" it was asked.

It was explained, of course, that such an arrangement is merely a matter of convenience, so that witnesses and people who attend in order to listen to the hearings can see the committee members, and vice versa. It was pointed out that often enough the witnesses at a hearing include men and women who are political, social, and economic leaders of the nation—people whose importance is as great, if not greater, than that of the Congressional committee members.

In answer to another question it was necessary to explain, too, that customarily only persons known to be expert on the subjects before the committees are called upon to testify. It was pointed out, also, that any American citizen, if he can show that he has any knowledge of information of the slightest value to the committee in the proper handling of legislation, can arrange to be heard, either in public or in private. As chairman of the important House Public Committee in the 80th Congress, this always was my own policy.

Prepare Woodwork For Repaint Jobs

Proper Preliminaries Make Task Easier

Woodwork in farm homes can be repainted more effectively if proper steps are taken to prepare the surface beforehand.

This conclusion was announced after a study of the subject by the Eagle-Picher company of Cincinnati. Their survey, according to reports, showed that preparing the surface beforehand will always be valuable, whether the work is to be done by a professional, or by the farmer himself.

If the woodwork has been painted before and the paint is in good condition, it should be washed down with a few drops of benzine on a dry cloth. This is done to remove any grease. Care should be taken, however, as benzine is inflammable.

In removing this paint brush from a can of paint, it is always best to scrape off any excess fluid to prevent dripping or streaking.

Should the present paint on the woodwork be in poor condition, then it should be removed entirely, or at least in the bad spots, with a paint remover. This applies especially to areas with blisters, roughness, streaks or looseness. Any paint left on should be cleaned with benzine.

New Farm Wagon

Like modern cars which "float" over the highways, this new, all-steel farm wagon has just been offered the American farmer to help smooth out rough fields and roads. Front and rear axle tilt independently (as shown) to give maximum flexibility and stability, even under capacity loads of 8,000 pounds. Auto-type wheels and steering mechanism are used.

Spring Calving Permits Cheaper Winter Feeding

Spring calving permits use of cheaper lower-grade feed during winter. A cow that calves in the spring will get along nicely on a plain kind of ration. But the cow that calves in the fall must be fed a milk-producing ration during the winter to keep the calf growing rapidly. Such a ration is more expensive.

In a climate where the cow herd must be on a dry feed for five months, a total of about 1,300 to 1,500 pounds of digestible feed is needed in winter.

A 1,100-pound pregnant beef cow can be carried through the winter quite cheaply when fed 1,100 pounds of clover hay, 1,500 pounds of corn stover and 500 pounds of oats straw.

Handling Tips Offered In Hatching Egg Work

Tips on handling hatching eggs have gone out to farmers from several extension service sources. In the main, farmers are urged to pack such eggs in cases with the small end down, and, if these eggs are marketed twice a week, it will not be necessary to turn them.

If hatching eggs are to be stored for a short time, the advice continues, keep the room temperature between 45 and 60 degrees.

Who ever heard of a woman boasting about how well she washed clothes and mopped floors?

U. S. Milk Industry Vastly Transformed

Cost of Product Rises Less Than Other Foods

Since the turn of the century the milk industry has undergone a transformation rivaling that of the airplane, according to dairy scientist and historian Dr. J. Lloyd Henderson.

Dr. Henderson, co-author of "The Market Milk Industry," a standard textbook whose latest edition will be released this spring said "Our research since the war's end points up the fact that although labor and equipment costs have kept pace with rising scales in other industries, the cost of milk and its products has risen less than that of any other food. In fact, milk, from a nutritive point of view, is far and away the housewife's best food buy."

Cost-saving scientific advances in milk processing and startling economies due to improved distribution practices have been responsible for this, Henderson points out.

The industry shed no tears as it buried the familiar 10-gallon milk

This excellent herd of cattle, grazing quietly and contentedly is symbolic of vast milk industry which has undergone such a transformation in the past two decades.

can and converted to huge insulated tank trucks for bringing milk from the larger farms to the processing plant. Savings in handling due to this change have only been matched by the improvement in sanitation and quality of the product, Henderson said. Every-other-day delivery, now practically standard practice in major cities, plus the use of retail trucks of almost double capacity, also helped keep the housewife's milk budget in line.

"The flash pasteurized, once outlawed by health authorities, has been so improved that today every milk company of any size uses it to save expensive man-hours and production space.

MSC'S Cleanest Man Showered with Fame

Fame rests lightly, but immaculately, on Grant A. Kersten, Detroit, a physical education sophomore — who became perhaps the cleanest man at Michigan State College without half trying.

Kersten, in fact, is getting a little weary of taking 15 showers a week after each of his 15 hours a week in gymnasium classes. This is the way it happened, and Kersten is sorry it ever did.

"Because the curriculum is set up in one-hour sessions, you have to take a shower often or you wouldn't be able to live with yourself," Kersten explained. "When Saturday rolls around, of course, I take another one—out of sheer habit."

A visitor at a golf club paid his green fees and fixed up a match. At the first tee he made a wild swing and completely missed the ball.

"By Jove," he said, "it's a good thing I found out right at the start. This course is at least two inches lower than the one I usually play on."

Home ownership can be put within reach of additional millions of American families by long overdue incentives that recognize its obvious social advantages and give it appropriate encouragement, Herbert U. Nelson, executive vice-president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, said recently.

Chemical Weed Control

Chemical weed control is not a substitute for good farming — it is a part of good farming. Losses from weeds and undesirable plant growth are as great in the aggregate and in importance to the individual as those from insects and plant diseases combined. The demand of the farmer for herbicides is second only to his demand for mechanization.

Mustangs Win Two; Bow to Keego In District Tournament Final Game

The Northville High School cage squad was eliminated in the Class "C" District finals at Walled Lake last Saturday when the Mustangs bowed to Keego Harbor after conquering Orchard Lake St. Mary's on March 1 and Hartland on March 3 to get into the final game. Including the tournament games, Northville ended the cage season with an 11 won, seven lost record. The Mustangs were three time losers to powerful Keego Harbor and fell twice before Inkster. Plymouth and Ford Trade were the only other conquerors.

NORTHVILLE 52; ST. MARY'S 48

After a cautious first four minutes in which both teams got only two points each, Northville opened up on a favored St. Mary's of Orchard Lake quintet and ran up a half time score of 28-18. The Mustangs staged a high pressure rally in the second half which pushed them into a three point lead with four minutes left in the final period, but the Mustangs pulled a rally of their own. Sparked by three consecutive baskets by Robinson, Northville played the game the way they wanted it and held St. Mary's to a single field goal in the last four minutes of the game. With 55 seconds left, Stanley put the game on ice with a one hander after Poulos had meshed a free throw.

This was probably Northville's best game of the season in all departments. Ball handling and playmaking were swift and sure and control of the backboards at both ends of the court stopped many St. Mary's scoring drives before they got started. Particularly outstanding was the fact that all Mustangs were hitting the hoop consistently. Poulos' push shot from the edge of the foul circle was working and Stanley's one handers from the side were hitting. Heaton constantly outfaked his tall guard on fade-away shots under the hoop and Robinson chilled the St. Mary's defense with long set shots. Gray took advantage of a pulled out defense by driving in from the side for lay up shots and Jennings popped two buckets in the short time he was in the game.

St. Mary's Dombrowski and Piekarski led the game's scoring with 18 and 17 points respectively. Dombrowski was the big threat, getting 14 points in the first half, but when he was slowed down to 4 in the last two periods, Piekarski netted 14.

NORTHVILLE 38; HARTLAND 36

After upsetting St. Mary's, the Mustangs nearly became upset victims themselves when a determined Hartland squad battled them all the way in the District semi-finals. Northville won the dramatic contest on Heaton's basket, which pushed the Mustangs into a 37-36 lead, with one second left on the clock, and Jennings' free throw. Jennings was fouled as Heaton shot. With Northville in possession of the ball out of bounds and one second left, that was the game.

The starting lineup, consisting of Prom, Jennings, Heaton, Stanley and Heaton, spent most of the game trying to get started. Hartland led 9-5 at the first quarter mark and 16-14 at the half.

Aside from a free throw by Heaton and three by Stanley, Jennings did all the first half hoop hitting, getting five baskets

Coal Lack Causes Boxing Show Delay

The boxing show scheduled for Saturday, March 4 in the Plymouth High school gym had to be postponed at the last minute because of the coal shortage that closed the Wayne Boxing club last week.

The Wayne boys felt at first that they could come anyway, but decided finally that it would be unwise to box without training. This show is re-scheduled for Saturday, March 25 in the Plymouth High gym and the same tickets that were sold for the show on March 4 will be good for the new date, March 25.

Twelve bouts will make up the card and will include boys from Plymouth, Wayne, Ann Arbor, Livonia and Northville. These fights are unusually well matched amateur bouts and good seats in the Plymouth High gym that night will assure you of some good entertainment.

while his teammates got none.

He hit twice in the third stanza with Poulos helping out with two field goals and Stanley adding a pair of free throws, but the Mustangs were behind 26-24 as the last quarter opened. Heaton finally found the range in the last period and hit the net for five baskets and a foul shot. Jennings added three more points for the 38 total.

Lyons tallied 12 points for Hartland, but was outdistanced by Jennings' 17.

Uncle Sam Says

Independence is the cornerstone upon which this country was built. And, thrift is the cornerstone upon which Americans are building future financial independence. That cornerstone provides the slogan for the U. S. Savings Bonds Campaign, May 15-July 4, which is: "Save For Your Independence." Every one has something to save for, whether it be for a home, for retirement, to educate your children, or for a glorious vacation trip. With the determination to "Save in 1950 for 1960" you will be well on the way to financial independence. You will receive $4 for every $3 invested within ten short years. U. S. Treasury Department

Caulkins' 57 Wins Head Pin Tourney

The first Royal Recreation Head Pin tournament was won by Robert Caulkins when he knocked down 57 of a possible 60 pins. The tourney lasted from 7 p. m. March 4 to 10 p. m. March 5. Caulkins' total broke a three way tie at 56 pins held by George Koontz, Lyster Wick and Robert Hay.

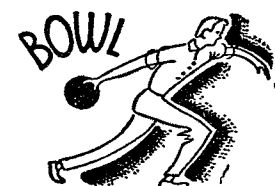

A hard luck loser in the tournament was Millie Swartz, who had 10, 10, 9, 9 and 10 on five balls and missed the head pin on the sixth ball to blow her possible 58.

The tournament will be continued, as was planned, but will operate on a two week basis hereafter, stated Joe Alessi last week. Bowlers will roll seven balls for high score in Head Pin competition, with a percentage of the cost going into a jackpot. At the end of the weeks' period, the winner will take 60 percent of the pot and the second placer will get 40 percent.

The tournament is open to anyone who wishes to enter and there is no limit to the number of lines rolled by bowlers.
