Reports of the miracle, cautiously attested in part by the Roman Catholic diocese, attracted thousands of pilgrims to the city and to the Martin home.

Bass-Baritone

GEORGE LONDON

Final Concert To Be Given Tuesday

The Northville Community Concert Association will present their final concert of the season at the Wayne County Training School Auditorium Tuesday, April 11 at 8:15.

The concert will present George London, the gifted young bass-baritone. His musical versatility is illustrated by his concert tour during which engagements included appearances in masterworks ranging from the Verdi Requiem with the Oklahoma State Symphony under Victor Allessandro to the New York Philharmonic Symphony under Stokowski and the Philadelphia Orchestra under Ormandy.

George London was born in Montreal May 30, 1920. His parents moved to California when he was fifteen. He attended Hollywood High School, also Los Angeles City College and Chorus at Hollywood Bowl.

His first chance came in 1940 when the English conductor-composer, Albert Coates, chose him to sing two roles in the concert form of his opera "Gainsborough", followed by his opera debut in the Hollywood Bowl of "Travita" 1943.

During 1943-44 he turned his attention to the theatre, appearing with the Los Angeles and San Francisco Civic Light Opera. The Vienna Opera signed him his biggest role in "Boris Godunov". It was the first full dress performance ever sung in Russian by an American.

In four months young George London has become the rage of Vienna, receiving bravos from the galleries and the critics for his wonderful performances.

The Concert Committee announces that there will not be a public reception for George London following the concert.

Village States Need of Complete Census

According to Norman Marquis, crew leader and supervisor for the Northville, Plymouth and Livonia area, the census, which began Saturday, April 1, is proceeding ahead of schedule and to date the enumerators have met with excellent cooperation.

Enumerators for the Northville area are Mrs. Steve Veresh and Mrs. Florine Smith for the village and Mrs. Laura Morse and Mrs. Doris Herrick, who will work in the township.

Mr. Marquis reminds everyone to request proper identification of the enumerators. Anyone not wishing to divulge income information to an enumerator may ask for a prepared form and send the letter directly to Washington. For expediting the Special Agricultural Farm Census which is taken every five years, it is requested that the form on farm operations previously sent out to farmers be filled in prior to the visit of the enumerator.

The Village Commission urges everyone to be sure to be counted since the amount of tax returned to the village is based on population. Returns to the village for the year '49-'50 amounted to approximately $11.22 per capita and was based on 1940 census figures of 3032 population. The tax returns are broken down as follows: $9,053.16 gas and weight tax; $6,021.63 intangible tax; $18,946.53; total amount returned $34,021.32. This total when divided by the population gives the $11.22 amount returned per capita.

A membership card will then be mailed to each contributor.

Mr. Watz expresses grateful appreciation to all the Novi Red Cross workers who assisted with the campaign and to those citizens who responded so generously to the worthy cause.

Sam Bongiovanni was awarded first for most improvement in the third session of the Dale Carnegie Effective Speaking and Human Relations course at Royal Oak. Bill Eckler, Vern Insland and George E. Miller are also participating in the 17 week course which meets Monday and Wednesday evenings.

Renewed Research of Walleye Pike

Transfer of walleye pike to upper impoundments on the 200-mile Muskegon river system, one of the state's major walleye waters, is not a case of promoting fishing upstream at the expense of the downstream area.

Conservation department's institute for fisheries research says the reported decline of Muskegon lake walleye fishing cannot be attributed to the "Newwaygo transfer" operation since so few of the total would-be migrants are netted even when heavily concentrated below the dam.

Ending a three-year phase of investigation work on the Muskegon river system, the institute believes that the transfer is not sufficient to deplete the downstream fishery and is economically justifiable, there is some walleye movement downstream through the five power dams by both native and transfer fish, and that upstream migrants do originate in Lake Michigan.

Renewed research will commence this spring. Fishery specialists will tag walleyes concentrated below the Newwaygo dam and release upstream to get more definite evidence of the downstream migration. Tagging of upstream native walleyes also will be done to better determine their contribution to downstream fishing.

Technicians further want to find out if walleyes spawn in Muskegon lake and whether other factors such as pollution might be affecting fishing in this lake which joins the river system with Lake Michigan.

An institute lake survey party will be assigned for a general check of Muskegon lake chemistry and a sampling of aquatic vegetation and fish population.

To get variations in broiling temperature in an electric range leave the oven door partly open. This trick also keeps the heating unit on and prevents possible smoking. Or you can place the broiler pan at different distances from the heating element to vary the temperature.

Conservation Dept. To Stock Game Areas

Seventeen southern Michigan state game areas, which mean places to hunt in the fall for many downstate sportsmen, are slated for extensive improvement by the conservation department this spring.

To eventually provide more desirable game habitat, the department's game division will plant 837,000 pieces of stock or over 60 per cent more than last year. On tap for spring planting are 741,000 pine seedlings, 45,000 multiflora rose, 26,000 hardwood trees and other fruit-bearing shrubs, and 25,000 spruce. Except for multiflora rose and spruce, stock will be taken from department nurseries.

Five game areas are not scheduled for game cover improvement this spring.

The 22 state game areas in the southern third of the state offer close to 100,000 acres of public hunting ground.

If your electric range has open units be especially careful to keep salt, soda, soap and sugar off the wires. There's danger of burning out the wires say Michigan State College home economists.

Look how you save with Dynaflow

FIRST thing you notice, of course, is the bother and effort Dynaflow Drive* saves.

Next, that Dynaflow saves you physically—after long trips you're less tense and tired, more relaxed.

But then, as the miles pile up—and this comes from cold, recorded fact after Dynaflow's two years of public operation—you spot savings you hadn't expected . . .

You save on tires—because power application is steady, even. On clutch expense—the usual friction clutch is gone.

You save on transmission maintenance, and the rear-axle expenses likely to go with it. And the way your engine is oil-cushioned against normal shocks and strains shows up in less engine upkeep.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

You may well discover another pleasant surprise, too.

We are getting a steadily mounting number of well-satisfied letters about gasoline mileage with Dynaflow cars.

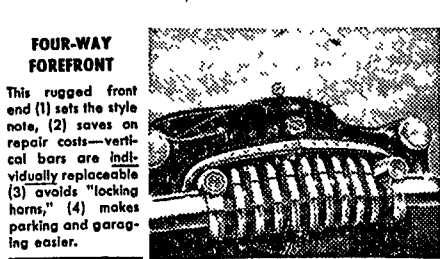

The SPECIAL has shown some records little short of phenomenal. The SUPER is delivering mileage that compares most favorably with gear-shift cars. And the ROADMASTER more than holds its own with cars of its size and bulk.

In short, there's a lot more to please your budget in the 1950 Dynaflow than its new lower price. Refinements over the past two years result in savings that are sizable over the life of the car.

Knowing that, don't you want us to demonstrate the big side of Dynaflow—the utter smoothness of America's first oil-does-it-all drive?

Only Buick has Dynaflow—and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.)
 • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD front-end, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

Matchless Team — DYNALOW and F-263
 In the Buick beauty pictured here you can have both Dynaflow and Buick's very latest in power. For every 1950 SUPER has the F-263 engine, that lively high-compression stepper that's the big power thrill of the season. Dynaflow Drive is optional equipment at extra cost.

Population of Lithuania

The present population of Lithuania within its actual boundaries of 1939, the regions of Vilnius and Klaipeda inclusive, is estimated at 2,700,000. (The population of Lithuania within the same boundaries was 3,032,863 in 1939.) The present population figure includes more than 200,000 Soviet-imported Russian settlers, and units of the Red army, the MVD, and the MGB. Most of the Russian settlers are to be found in the cities, and especially in the regions of Vilnius and Klaipeda.

When a coat of paint is applied to the back of woodwork and exterior siding to prevent moisture from getting into the wood and causing the grain to swell, it is said to be "back primed."

Rules Given for Sewing On Plaids

If the beautiful plaid fabrics appearing in the yard goods departments have given you the urge to make them up, remember that they are not as simple to sew on as plain colors are.

Usually you will need about one-fourth yard of extra material to make a plaid dress or suit for there is often waste in matching the plaids, reminds Mary Gehart, clothing instructor at Michigan State College.

Extra fabric is used because the pattern is laid out so that the plaid design matches at the seams. Fabrics with an up-and-down design as well as a right and left design are most difficult. It is easier to match plaid in a simpler pattern with few seams. A good example of a simple skirt pattern is a four-gore skirt. The plaid mitered down the center front and center back is beautiful in line and design.

It is important to check the notches when laying the pattern pieces on the material. Make sure, for example, that a notch on the sleeve comes at the same place in the plaid as the corresponding notch in the armhole of the blouse front and back.

When making a plaid garment it usually pays to cut each piece singly and match the plaid pattern perfectly as you proceed. Check first to see if you have enough material for the whole garment. There is a great deal of satisfaction in making a plaid garment with the plaids matched perfectly at the seams.

Stainless Steel

Over 100,000 products are made entirely or partly of stainless steel, from jewelry to jet engines.

Back Priming

When a coat of paint is applied to the back of woodwork and exterior siding to prevent moisture from getting into the wood and causing the grain to swell, it is said to be "back primed."

Plymouth—Tires were stolen from automobiles parked on Pacific and Arthur streets recently. Police believe they were stolen by the same thieves who operated in the area two years ago.

Farmington—The poor condition of the roads throughout the Farmington Township area has caused an extension of two weeks in the Farmington Area Red Cross Drive to April 15. Pierre Delmontiere, local chairman, announced last Wednesday.

Brighton—Initiation of Star Mail Routes has improved Brighton mail service, according to Postmaster Pitkin of the Brighton office. All mail service by train has been discontinued, and the mail is carried exclusively by automobile or truck.

Wayne—At least six large contracting firms are interested in putting in bids for Wayne's $2,000,000 high school. They have taken out blue print specifications from the architects, preparatory to offering bids.

Farmington—A near record registration was recorded in the special Farmington Township registration period that closed recently, according to Harry McCracken, Township Clerk. Approximately 359 new registrations were recorded in the Township during the period from March 8 to March 27. According to McCracken this is far above the average, especially for a special election.

Rochester—Earl K. Beatty, of 4421 Collins road, Rochester, has filed a $4,000 damage suit against two Rochester policemen and a bill of complaint against the Village of Rochester and Luther Green, Avon township justice of the peace.

Garden City—Decision was reached at a recent council meeting to hold a special election for funds to fix up Garden City's roads. Although the formal resolution setting the date has not been passed, the Garden City council was in accord on the plan.

Chelsea—Mrs. John Fischer, chairman of the current Red Cross drive for funds, reported that Chelsea had already raised well over a hundred dollars more than its $1,250 quota. With one of the Chelsea plants and a number of block solicitors still to be heard from, the final amount is expected to reach a gratifying figure over and above the stated quota.

his present term. They are John P. McLoughlin of Ithaca and Kenneth D. Plaxton of Alma.

CAN DO Replacing Glass in a Window

RARE AND fortunate indeed is the homeowner who, at one time or another, hasn't had a ball, rock or hailstone come sailing through a window of his house, shattering both a pane of glass and his peace of mind in the same instant.

But there's little need to get excited. Actually, installing a new glass in a window frame is rather an interesting job if you go about it right. Here's how to do it, presupposing that you get your glass already cut to the correct dimensions. You can get all the tools and materials you need in one fast trip to your hardware store.

The first step, naturally, is to remove all broken glass from the frame. Then, using a sharp chisel and being careful not to gouge the edges of the wood in the process, you clean all the old putty from the rabbet. The rabbet, incidentally, is the right-angled inset cut into the window frame to hold the glass.

Now give all the raw wood in the rabbet a coat of paint or linseed oil. This will prevent excessive drying out and weakening of the putty or glazing compound that would result if all the oil in this material were to be absorbed by the wood.

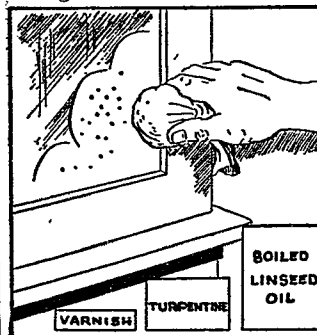

When the paint or linseed oil has dried, apply a thin bed of putty or glazing compound to the back of the rabbet against which the glass will lie. This will serve to make an air-and-weather-tight seal.

Now, with the frame laid flat on a work bench or saw horses, lay the glass in the rabbet. Press it firmly into the bed of putty and tap or push the glazier's points in with the end of a screw driver to hold the glass in place. (Glazier's points are small, flat, triangular nails.) Be very careful at this stage of the operation so as not to crack the glass.

Your next step is to apply the putty or compound to the junction of the glass and sash frame. Press it in firmly, making sure to fill all hollows and to cover the glazier's points.

Finally, when the putty has been applied to one length, hold the putty knife firmly against the glass and the frame at a 45- to 60-degree angle and draw it steadily backwards to level the putty off. Remove the excess. When the putty surface has set, it is ready to be painted.

STILL on the subject of windows, here's a way in which you can give a piece of ordinary glass a frosted effect that will eliminate its transparency but allow plenty of light to pass through.

For the "frothing" use five parts boiled linseed oil, two and a half parts turpentine and one part clear varnish. Mix this well and add powdered whiting to the liquid until it turns very white. Apply the mixture to the glass with a brush. Then, while the coating is still wet, make a pad of cheesecloth and press or tap the entire surface lightly. When the glass is dry it will look as though frost had formed on it. For a finer grain, put a piece of silk stocking over the pad. Twisting the pad as you tap will produce a number of different designs.

Corduroy is a washable fabric. Brush well before laundering. Be sure to wash separately—not only because the color may run just a little, but because lint clings to corduroy. Since corduroy is bulky when wet, it will probably need to be washed in a second fresh suds for best results. When corduroy is dry, brush to bring up the velvety nap.

Nurserymen now have adequate stocks of the Fairhaven peach, first introduced in 1946, say Michigan State College horticulturists. The peach was bred at the South Haven sub-station of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station and has proved popular with growers.

The typical vacation party in Michigan averages approximately three persons, according to a survey conducted by the Michigan Tourist Council.

Open Fire Law To Be Enforced

Rigid enforcement of the revised state open fire law will start with the spring forest fire hazard period, the conservation department warns.

The law now provides that a person who willfully or negligently causes a damaging fire is liable for all expenses incurred by the state in suppressing, over and above services of regular personnel and equipment.

The law still specifies that a person who starts a brush, grass or any other type of open fire, except for domestic purposes, without a permit, is subject to a maximum fine of $100 and/or 90 days in jail. The department's forest fire service also calls attention to the fact that a burner may be sued for damages in event a fire spreads to another person's property.

Permits are required as soon as snow leaves the ground, creating general hazard conditions. Conservation and forest fire officers are required to use their own discretion as to when to issue burning permits in a given area.

Besides reducing the grass and forest fire toll, the service hopes to cut down on needless, expensive fire runs. When an officer is aware of a small, controlled fire under permit, fire fighters will not be rushing out on unnecessary calls and will be available for real emergencies.

Tax-Reverted Lands Net State $21,739

Purchasers of southern Michigan tax-reverted land paid the state $21,739 for 250 platted lots and 173 acres offered by the conservation department at four public auctions. Sales, covering descriptions in 26 counties, were held at Ionia, Allegan, Jackson and Flint.

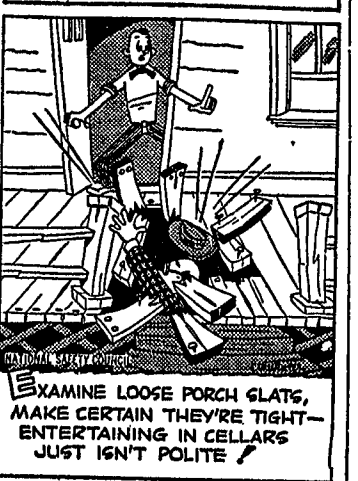

Descriptions offered but not sold at these auctions now can be purchased from the department's lands division for minimum appraisal prices. These parcels consist mainly of platted lots in Allegan and Washtenaw counties.

State law required the conservation department to first offer tax-reverted land at public auction.

For a hamburger deluxe, use hot seasoned hamburger, lettuce, and chili sauce. Add a teaspoon of grated onion to each tablespoon of softened margarine to spread on the split hamburger buns.

For ease and convenience when broiling food, use aluminum foil or parchment on the bottom of your broiler pan. You can slide it off quick as a wink and save cleansing time.

Spring Sport Drills Compete With Rain

Baseball and track drills moved outside to the sand spit behind the high school last Monday while the sun and rain played tag with each other.

Mustang diamond aspirants were conducted in warm-up drills by Coaches Al Jones and Dick Kay while Coach Charles Yahnke ran the thinslads through limbering-up maneuvers. With wet ground everywhere, the sand lot behind the school is probably the only place in the area that is dry enough for any kind of practice.

The baseball squad has only another week to get set for its first encounter against South Lyon on Friday, April 14, there. The game will begin at 3:30 p. m., as will all home or away games this spring.

Baseball Schedule

(All games at 3:30 p. m.)

THAN ANY OTHER CAR IN AMERICA!

FIRST IN RATE OF SALES GAIN
Official 1949 new car registration figures show Ford's sales up 68.1% in Michigan, the greatest increase over the previous year in the entire industry! Here's the proof that Ford's winning friends faster than any other car in America.

Other Ford Firsts!

FIRST IN ECONOMY Ford's economical to buy and to own. It's built to last, and the '50 Ford is thrifter than ever. Here's certified proof of Ford's great gas economy: In the recent 751 mile Mobilgas Grand Canyon Economy Run, supervised by the AAA, a Ford Six with Overdrive won the economy championship of its class—the three full-size cars of the low-price field.

FIRST IN FASHION For the second straight year Ford was awarded the New York Fashion Academy Gold Medal as "Fashion Car of the Year." And Ford is the only car ever to be so honored two years in a row.

FIRST IN VALUE with the quietness and quality you'd expect of the most costly cars. Just listen to the only the quietest cars. Just listen to the solid thud as you close Ford's secure doors. Relax on the new non-sag, foam-rubber cushioned front seat! Then check Ford's easy handling and solid road-smooth and lively power of either of Ford's great engines—the famous 100-h.p. V-8, or the advanced 95-h.p. Six.

There's a Ford in your future...with a future built in

Come in Today and see for yourself...

Boggy Roads No Surprise To Michigan Soil Mechanics

The "boggy" roads in southern Michigan should be no surprise to anybody, according to a University of Michigan soil mechanics expert.

The virtual breakdown of Michigan's rural and suburban road system this Spring might have been expected, according to William S. Housel, associate professor of civil engineering. In fact, he made a prediction last Fall that it would happen.

Professor Housel cited lack of funds leading to neglect of basic maintenance procedures as major factors accounting for the present road problem. Most of the damage has been caused by saturation of gravel bases and subsoils due to poor drainage and water accumulating in ruts and "chuck holes" faster than maintenance crews could repair them, he explained.

He pointed out that present conditions could have been avoided by adequate drainage facilities combined with more continuous maintenance of gravel roads. It is strictly a case of "a stitch in time saves nine," he claimed.

"The abnormal winter weather conditions have clearly shown that drainage provisions and supporting foundations of our secondary roads are inadequate to carry traffic through such critical periods," Professor Housel explained. "The added maintenance required to cope with this situation far exceeded the capacity of present maintenance crews and funds."

He pointed to Washtenaw County as an example where gravel stockpiles, set aside for normal spring maintenance, were exhausted early in the winter, and neither men nor money were available to produce the extra gravel, assuming it could be done under winter conditions.

"The present lack of funds might be traced to the prevailing philosophy that you can get something for nothing," Professor Housel suggested. "Adequate highways and proper maintenance require more money, and nobody wants to foot the bill."

"While people object to any increase in the gas and weight taxes, or other sources of highway revenue, they lose sight of the fact that the economic loss from a breakdown in the road system overshadows the additional funds required to prevent this serious situation from occurring. As it is now, individuals and business suffer the economic loss, and still do not have properly maintained roads."

Another factor of the problem lies in the current fallacious and ineffective practice of building top wearing surfaces in an attempt to avoid the consequences of a weak soil foundation and poor drainage, Professor Housel asserted.

"Such a program is in direct contradiction to well-established road-building principles laid down over 125 years ago by McAdam, founder of the 'macadam' type road surface," he stated.

Getting out of the mud was the big problem in those days and sound fundamental principles were developed to solve the problem, he said. In more recent times, getting out of the dust has been uppermost in the mind of the motorist, and this has led to over emphasis on surfacing and neglect of McAdam's principles.

Professor Housel believed that more attention to drainage and foundation structures, which are relatively unexpensive items compared to surfacing, would result in better roads at less cost.

He said the importance of such factors has been clearly demonstrated in the old Roman roads constructed in England almost 2,000 years ago which are still serving as the foundation for some of that country's best roads.

"Many people try to place the blame for the present difficulties of the road system on excessive vehicle loads, and believe the only remedy is to impose restrictive load limits on highway traffic," Professor Housel remarked.

In regard to this, he cited the logging industry in the northwestern states which carry tremendous loads of 300,000 to 400,000 pounds on "unsurfaced" roads as an example of what can be accomplished by proper attention to good drainage sound foundations and timely maintenance.

PTA Carnival—

Mrs. Helen McCarthy and her committee are busy sorting and wrapping articles for the white elephant sale. Members and friends of P. T. A. are urged to contribute any items suitable for the sale. If they will call 849J arrangements will be made to pick up the articles or they may be left at Mrs. McCarthy's home at 531 W. Main Street.

Ice cream, cake, pop, candy and popcorn will be handled by student and adult groups in convenient locations. There seems to be nothing lacking to make up one of the most complete carnivals Northville has ever staged.

Don Severance heads the program and General chairman and Mrs. Eldon Biery and Russell Amerman are assisting as co-chairmen.

Proceeds will be used to promote advantages for the school children in the community and to offer its annual scholarship to a deserving senior. The proceeds will also be used to help toward the erection of a scoreboard at Ford Field and will assume some responsibility for the new school building.

Mike House Celebrates Ninth Birthday March 31
