Final details of the Northville Community Concert membership drive for the 1950-51 season are nearly complete, according to Mrs. Del Hahn, village chairman. The purpose of this year's drive, as in other years, is to accept renewal memberships from past subscribers and to enroll new members for the series of concerts. The drive will begin May 1 and end May 13.

Attendance at the concerts is by membership only and no box-office admissions to any of the concerts will be sold. The association represents the organized-audience plan which presents the concerts on a no-profit, no-loss basis.

Memberships are sold months in advance so that the association will know exactly how much money will be available for hiring artists. In this way, the best performers possible are contracted with the money at hand from memberships and no profit or loss is incurred.

Concert memberships may be used in other communities sponsoring Community Concerts, but home town members have preference if the place of performance is too crowded to admit outside members.

Mrs. Frank Russell is sale secretary in Northville. Headquarters for the drive will be at Allan & Locke, Inc., on West Main Street. The Farmington Enterprise, Farmington's weekly newspaper, has offered to serve as headquarters for sales in that town, and Mrs. Arthur Carlson will be sale secretary in Plymouth. Price of membership is six dollars, which will include all concerts for the season.

A twenty-minute musical film containing excerpts of artists' performances is available to organizations wishing to use it. Mrs. Marian Ross, field representative from Battle Creek, will bring the film here. Several organizations have already requested the film for the week of May 8.

Group leaders in the campaign are Mrs. Frank Russell, Mrs. E. J. Willis, Mrs. Paul Schulz, Mrs. Maxwell Austin, Mrs. W. Leonard Howard, Clara Robinson, Bea Ware and Florence Keith.

Community Concert Workers are Mrs. Frank Broda, Mrs. Iva Tabor, Mrs. Yale Conroy, Mrs. Garrett Barry, Mrs. Raychel Hinman, Mrs. William Clarke, Mrs. Norman Hood, Mrs. Marie McKenna, Mrs. Barton Conroy, Mrs. Ida Cooke, Mrs. Marcella Douglas, Mrs. Hugh Babbitt, Mrs. Arthur Carlson, Mrs. Fran Jennings, Mrs. Clarence Davis, Mrs. Gerald Woodworth, Mrs. George Alexander, Mrs. Harold Fredsell, Mrs. Franklin Beeks, Mrs. Hurd Sutherland, Mrs. Al Vradenburg, Mrs. Emory Mapes, Mrs. Lawrence LeFevre, Mrs. Clifford Rollings, Jr., Mrs. D. ## Keller Named Downs Manager

Edwin T. Keller of Norway, Maine, one of the leading figures in the nation's harness horse circles, is the new general manager of Northville Downs, and is already on the grounds directing the preparations for the coming 54 night meeting which gets underway on May 15.

The well-known official has already started Northville off to a record start, despite the fact that it is still some time before racing actually gets underway. Keller set up the group of 47 stake races that are to feature the meeting, and they met with such response from the leading stables all over the country, that the Downs this year has attracted the greatest list of top trotting stables that will be seen at any harness meet in 1950. The 47 stakes brought in a record-breaking list of 1,915 different nominations, an all-time record for Michigan racing, and tops for the year anywhere.

Keller, though still in his early forties, is one of the real veterans of harness racing, and has a background that is almost unequalled by any other figure in the sport.

Out of college, Keller first went into the field of turf journalism, and he still contributes many interesting stories to the press. Before long he was branching out as a race official, and it wasn't long before he was one of the leading race starters of the country. In this capacity he was the youngest starter ever to send off the famed $60,000 Hambletonian classic at Goshen, N. Y. For years he was one of the recognized stewards of harness racing, and has officiated in one capacity or another at every leading trotting meeting in this country and Canada.

This is not Keller's first appearance at Northville, for the New Englander got Northville started on its way, handling the job during the first couple of years when the going was tough. Keller set up the classic Michigan Pacing Derby, now one of the greatest racing events of each passing year, with this year's blue-ribbon event to be the greatest in the series, having attracted a record entry of 48 pace stars.

With a stake race to be featured during each of the 54 nights, the greatest gathering of top race stables that any harness meet of the year will have, a re-conditioned racing strip for the horsemen, several innovations for the fans; a race card of nine races each night, and a continued increase throughout the country in night harness racing, Keller can see but one thing in store for the Downs, the greatest meeting that this pioneer Michigan track has ever had. It will be a meet that will rank with the tops of the year.

Sunshine Sisters met in the Neighborhood Church Wednesday afternoon. There had been no special topic assigned, but during the devotional period ladies were asked to report helpful thoughts received from sermons heard the previous Sunday. To the astonishment of all and embarrassment of several, it was discovered that less than one-fifth of those present had listened in on a sermon, either in church or by the radio, and Mrs. Charles Armstrong was the only one who could give any substantial account of the sermon she had heard. Half of those in attendance had acquired some knowledge of the International Sunday School lesson for the 16th.

During the latter part of the meeting an article on "Grass Fires" was read to the group and discussed at some length. It appears that by state law the person who starts a grass fire can be fined $100 and spend 90 days besides in the Detroit House of Correction.

Home made layer cake and tea made the social hour more pleasant.

The next Sunshine meeting will be held Wednesday, May 3 at 2 p. m. in the Neighborhood Church. At this time another effort will be made to have an interesting program of sermon-reports.

May Proclaimed
Child Health Month

May is Child Health Month and May Day, Child Health Day.

Use May Day to give serious thought to whether your child is in his best possible physical and mental health, and then use Child Health Month to do what needs to be done about it, the Michigan Department of Health urged parents today.

Take your child to his physician for a complete physical examination, and make sure that he is fully protected against communicable disease. If you feel he has a behavior problem, talk the situation over with your doctor and the people in the community who work with children, and possibly take him to a child guidance clinic.

The physical examination will reveal any defects or handicaps which may be corrected.

The immunization will protect your child against diphtheria, whooping cough, small pox and tetanus (lockjaw). Immunization of each child should be started by the time he is six months of age, but if the older child's immunization program has not been started, this should be done at once. The child who was immunized in infancy needs booster shots at age three and again at age five.

The talk with your doctor and child guidance people about your child's behavior will probably relieve your mind and thus help with your child's sense of security. Many of the trying things about a child's behavior are just a normal part of his growing up and should be treated as such.

As a feature of Michigan's observance of Child Health Month, the April issue of Michigan Public Health, official bulletin of the State Health Department, has been devoted entirely to the mental and physical health of children. It includes articles on hearing, vision, dental health, immunization, nutrition, mental health, "rheumatic fever," childhood accidents, getting the child ready for kindergarten, nursery schools and the qualifications of baby sitters. Michigan parents can get their copy of the Child Health issue or a year's subscription to Michigan Public Health by sending a postal card to the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Michigan. This monthly educational bulletin is a tax-supported service of the Department.

Folino-Guerriero Wedding Performed In Garden City

Mamie D. Guerriero, daughter of Mrs. Faye Guerriero of Garden City, and Paul Folino of Northville were united in marriage at Garden City Saturday morning, April 22. Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Folino of South Center Street.

Rev. Ross performed the single ring service at 10 o'clock. Bouquets of spring flowers were placed on each side of the altar to decorate the church. The church organist provided background music and the choir sang.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Joseph DeGrande. For her wedding she chose a white satin gown styled with long French lace sleeves and yoke, satin bodice and skirt with lace trimming across the front of the skirt. The skirt fell into a long train. Her fingertip veil, which fell from a high crown inserted with rhinestones, was edged with French lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Marcella Folino of Northville was the maid of honor. She wore a pale green gown, fashioned with a net yoke, off the shoulder crushed drape, fitted bodice and hooped skirt. A crownless picture hat adorned her hair.

The bridesmaids wore dresses identical in style to the maid-of-honor's except for the colors. They were: Prudy Guerriero of Garden City and Rose Vetere of Detroit, both wearing yellow; Mary Folino of Dearborn and Anita DeAgostino of Saginaw, both in orchid. Mary Guerriero was the flower girl.

Steve Folino attended his brother as best man and seating the guests were: Charles Guerriero of Garden City, Frank Vetere of Detroit, Leo Daliosio of Dearborn and Frank Ackerman of Saginaw.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Guerriero wore a grey dress. Mrs. Folino wore a teal blue dress and each mother wore a red rose corsage.

A breakfast followed the service at Veterans' Memorial Hall, Northville. A reception was held later in the day with about 150 guests in attendance.

The newlyweds drove East for their trip. For going-away the bride wore a gold colored suit with navy blue accessories. Upon their return from their trip they will make their home in Garden City.

Mrs. Folino is a graduate of Fordson High School and is employed as a secretary by the Ford Motor Company at Ypsilanti. Her husband graduated from Northville High School and is now employed at Meadowbrook Country Club.

Jet's Deliver Huge Power

A hypothetical 10,000-pound-thrust jet engine would deliver more than 20,000 horsepower when travelling at the speed of sound, 760 miles an hour. Engineers explain that jet power is figured in pounds of thrust. This is directly equal to horsepower only at 375 miles an hour. It increases in horsepower value as speed mounts.

CAN DO

Termites Are A Real Menace

TERMITES are a very real menace in many parts of the country. To the homeowner whose dwelling is infested with them, these insects are the most stupidly vicious, blindly destructive pests in creation.

Elimination of termites, once they have begun to make headway in their business of eating up the timbers of a house, is a costly process. It's far better to catch them early.

They are difficult for an inexperienced eye to identify, but if you have any suspicion at all that there is a termite in or near your place, right now—this month—is the time to make an inspection and find out for sure.

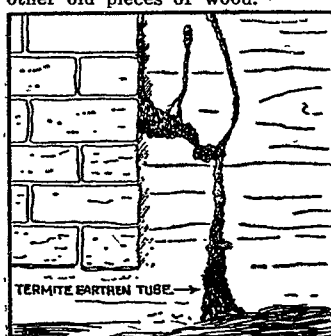

The subterranean type is the most common, and lives and works underground. These are visible only in the spring, during the mating season, at which time they grow wings and swarm in the air. Worker termites are wingless and often are confused with ants, although they are whitish grey in color and their body shape differs from that of ants. Their destructive power lies in their ability, (and desire) to eat and digest wood.

You can determine whether or not termites have taken over your home by (1) watching for dead remains of the winged insects in the spring; (2) by sticking a jack-knife blade into any suspicious piece of wood to see if it penetrates easily; and (3) by searching the sides of your basement walls and piers for earthen tubes which termites build as tunnels along which they can travel to reach any wood members in the structure.

THROUGH the use of good construction practices it is, of course, much easier to keep termites out of a new house than it is to rid an old house of them. But that is water under the bridge, and here is a generally recommended, although laborious, way to exterminate them at the source:

Start outside and remove all dead wood from the surface of the soil around the house. Now (and here the work begins) dig a foot-wide trench, the depth of the footing, all the way around the foundation. Examine the earth you have removed and pick out all tree roots, stumps and other old pieces of wood.

A chemical treatment is next. Mix two gallons of pure creosote, or a 10 per cent solution of sodium arsenate with every five cubic feet of the earth. Caution: Be sure the earth is completely dry before you mix it, and wear rubber gloves. Before you replace the dirt, line the sides of the trench with copper-coated kraft paper to prevent the chemicals from penetrating shrubbery and trees roots. Ask your hardware dealer about these materials.

Finally, seal all cracks in the foundation walls and any gaps around pipes that penetrate outside walls, because these are made-to-order entrances for termites. Use pitch or a rich cement as a sealer. Then brush several coats of 5 per cent pentachlorophenol on all wood in contact with basement walls and floors and paint over this preservative with a coat of white lead.

NEWS and COMMENT FROM CONGRESSMAN GEORGE A. DONDERO

Political prosecutions, undertaken by politicians for political purposes, almost invariably end up by discrediting the prosecutors rather than the prosecuted. A recent glaring example of this political truism is the anti-trust suit started last September by the Justice Department against the A. & P. food chain.

This suit constitutes one of the most colossal political blunders ever made by the Fair Deal Democratic Administration. The President and his advisers now evidently have realized it. Therefore we may expect to see the case dropped quietly somewhere along the line. It is a question, though, whether it can be done before a few million indignant voters who are also satisfied customers of the food chains, become aware of what the Fair Dealers tried to do to them.

Last September 15, the Justice Department went into the federal district court in New York, asking that the A. & P. stores be broken up into seven wholly independent chains. At the same time it was asking that the A. & P. central buying agencies be destroyed; also that A. & P. manufacturing and food processing operations be completely divorced from the retailing operations.

Almost everybody knows, of course, that the A. & P. does not monopolize the food business in the United States. It handles about seven per cent of the total. Neither do all of the food chains come anywhere near monopolizing the food business. In fact, they compete with each other as well as with the thousands of independent food stores. It is almost universally conceded in the food business, too, that A. & P. and other food chain operations long have served to keep wholesale prices in line, to the very great benefit of the independent dealers.

There never has been any public clamor against the A. & P. and the other food chains. People have been well aware that the food chains have been performing a definite service in the public interest. Only a small minority of marginal independent food retailers ever have complained. The majority of them know that when a food chain store moves into their neighborhood, business gets better for everyone, including themselves. Yet the suit was started against the A. & P., and it was indicated that other suits against other chains soon would follow.

It is only natural, in view of many other Fair Deal activities, to assume that the A. & P. suit was started as a means of garnering the votes of the many thousands of independent food dealers. The Fair Deal politicians heard the complaints of a few and jumped to the conclusion that all independents were unhappy. So they were to understand that the former haberdasher had not forgotten them. He would make them secure by weakening their competition.

But the Fair Dealers forgot satisfied chain store customers, the housewives of the nation, who think first of food prices in relation to their household budgets, outnumber the independent food dealers by at least a thousand to one. Moreover, the independent dealers have shown a strange unwillingness to see their chain store competition eliminated. They know too well that the benefits far outweigh the disadvantages.

So the fat is in the fire, so far as concerns the efforts to play off the independent dealers against the chain stores. The answer to the government's complaint filed by the A. & P. is so devastating that the Fair Dealers cannot afford to let it be too well publicized. It demonstrates all too plainly that the Fair Deal puts votes first and the public welfare only a poor second. Here is an issue for the housewives of America.

Society Outlines Mental Program

A comprehensive program to solve the State's mental crisis has been sent to the Legislature by the Michigan Society for Mental Hygiene, a statewide citizens' group. The central provision of the plan is an $88,000,000 bond issue for construction of mental hospitals which will provide 11,000 additional beds for mental patients within three years.

Other phases of the program are preventive facilities designed to correct mental illness before it reaches the hospital stage, Edward I. Baker, State President of the Society pointed out. These phases include child guidance clinics for the treatment of emotional disturbances of children and adult psychiatric clinics which can treat, on an out-patient basis, adult mental disturbances which are not serious enough to require hospitalization.

"The mental health situation in Michigan has reached a point where courageous and immediate action must be taken," Baker said. "There are now more than 29,000 patients shamefully overcrowded into our State mental hospitals, and at least 4,000 more who should be in mental hospitals, but are not receiving treatment because no beds are available for them. Temporarily with this problem now will be a disgraceful shunning of our humane responsibilities to the mentally ill and can only result in more human misery, more disrupted homes, and more children deprived of the opportunity to become well adjusted, self-reliant members of society."

The Society is urging that the Legislature, in the current special session, provide for submitting the bond issue to the voters at the November election.

May 7-14 Declared Nat'l Family Week

World peace and security can best be nurtured in the religious family, President Harry Truman wrote in a letter endorsing National Family Week, to be observed May 7-14.

The letter was released here today by Rev. Richard E. Lentz, chairman of the Interfaith Committee on Family Life, and director of family education of the International Council of Religious Education, one of the Protestant agencies sponsoring the observance.

The letter was addressed also to Rev. Edgar Schmiedeler, O. S. B., of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, and to Rabbi

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been

CONSIDERED TWICE!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were

REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

FEATHER-BEDDING!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1943, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that: "there presently exists no need for an additional fireman . . . upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good

Although the railroads accepted the Board findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good . . .

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding." The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels" is Outstandingly Good . . .

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT
Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results."

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that Diesel-electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation . . ."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's Fact Finding Board which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.

Thinclads Place Second in Meet

The Northville thinclads topped Milford High school but ran second to Clarkston in a triangular track meet held at Clarkston April 19. Clarkston got 53 1/2 points while Northville nudged Milford 40 5/6 to 39 2/3. Dickinson, Holman and Grissom ran 1-2-3 in the 100 yard dash. Holman and Grissom took first and second in the 220 yard event and Dickinson placed first in the high jump, with Black tying for second with three other jumpers. The medley team composed of Westover, Butler, Meyer and Gussell garnered a second place and Brummel came in second in the quarter mile sprint. Brummel, Grissom, Meyer and Holman combined talents to win the 880 yard relay and Freydal and Bernhardt placed third and fourth in the half mile run. Butler placed third in the broadjump and Grissom found himself in a three-way tie for fourth place in the vault to complete Northville scoring.

4-H Club Cagers Win Two Games

The Lucky Leaf 4-H basketball team won two games last Saturday at the Pontiac High school gym, defeating Oxford 4-H club 18-12 and the White Lake club 30-16. The boys who played were Jack Ratliff, Dick Barber, Bill St. Lawrence, Tom and Bob Heslip, and Tom and Dick Measel. Ratliff collected 20 points in the two games to lead scoring. The team had a two win-two loss record for the season. The special occasion was Oakland County's Achievement day, an exhibition and judging of winter projects. The Lucky Leaf club had a soil and water conservation project and exhibited a scrapbook, a model farm and two demonstration exhibits. The exhibit got a grade A blue ribbon and a five dollar award for the best exhibit in the soil conservation class. The award was presented to Jack Applying and Jim Reid, club leaders, by Edmond Alchin, Oakland County agricultural agent. Jack Ratliff, Dale Verran and Tom Heslip will receive gold seals on their certificates for outstanding work in the project.

Baseball Team Beats Milford 9-3

The Mustang baseball squad stopped Milford 9-3 in the first game of the year, at Cass Benton park, April 18. Rowe pitched four innings and allowed one hit and got credit for the win. He struck out nine batters. Rody pitched the fifth and sixth innings and allowed two hits. Shraake held Milford hitless in the one inning he pitched. Northville got the nine runs on six hits, combined with walks, hit batters and errors. Rody got two hits in three off at times at the plate, Rowe got one and Rebitzke got three for three. Hayes, Milford pitcher, was charged with the loss.

LEADING ARTISTS DRAMATIZE POLIO PREPAREDNESS PROGRAM

As part of its program to fight infantile paralysis, the Wayne County Chapter of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis swings into a "polio preparedness program" to continue during the months preceding the summer polio season, to alert the public to the dangers of and precautions against polio.

A feature of the Chapter's preparedness program this year is a group of twenty-three original posters by leading artists dramatizing the fight against infantile paralysis. It will be on display at the Detroit Institute of Art from April 26 through May 17. These posters are the result of unique cooperation between a national health organization and an art museum to produce educational posters of high quality.

The National Foundation and New York's Museum of Modern Art together commissioned posters on the human, scientific and educational program of The Foundation from twenty-three artists, photographers and designers. An interesting variety of themes resulted from the individual approaches of the artists in their different media: some emphasized the possibilities of recovery, others the need for facts to combat fear and ignorance, the courage of polio patients, The National Foundation's equal treatment of all races and creeds, the need for further research.

Three prizes were awarded by a jury of selection at the time these posters were exhibited at the Museum of Modern Art last fall. First prize went to Herbert Matter, for his photomontage "One of Them Had Polio." (The model for the running boy who has recovered from polio is his own son!) Second prize was awarded to the painter Henry Koerner, and third to the designer Herbert Bayer. At the end of the exhibition a fourth prize, determined by popular ballot, went to Leon Karp. As will be seen in this exhibition, the striking effect of all the posters entered in the competition is an indication of the insight and the fresh, unconventional approach the artists can bring to poster design.

The National Foundation and its Wayne County Chapter, which are supported by March of Dimes contributions, invite questions from the public concerning polio and the care available to polio patients. Free literature is available on request from the Chapter offices at 153 East Elizabeth St., Detroit 1.

Clark Hdwe. Features Berry Bros. Wagon

The George Clark Hardware Co. is currently featuring in its windows the 1950 model of the famous Berry Brothers Wagon and a display of Berry Brothers fine paints. Boys and girls, and their mothers and fathers too, have been eyeing the new wagon with uniform expressions of approval. Dads and even granddads who remember the Berry Brothers box-type wagon of their generation are marveling at the streamlined look of this new wagon, its reinforced chassis, roller-bearing wheels and oversized tires.

George Clark, the proprietor, with a twinkle in his eye, insists upon talking about the price. "I feel reasonably sure," he says, "that you will find it difficult to beat the price." They're free! Every purchaser of Berry Brothers fine paint has an opportunity to get one. Full details available at the George Clark Hardware Co. "And for goodness sake," Mr. Clark, "that these wagons are available to us through the courtesy of Berry Brothers."

"Any boy or girl, or the parent of any boy or girl, is invited to come into our store and get the simple explanation sheets showing just how one of these wagons can be had."

MICHIGAN MIRROR NON-PARTISAN NEWS LETTER

Republican leaders are headed for a showdown with Governor Williams on the latter's assertion that the proposed state corporation profits levy is not a "consumer's tax."

Owen J. Cleary, Republican state central committee chairman, has attacked the $112,316,000-tax raising levy as mere groundwork for "New deal socialism." The average Michigan citizen, Cleary said recently, "is tax-ridden almost to the point of desperation now, and resents being hoodwinked by a governor who tells him there is such a thing as a tax he doesn't pay."

In the meanwhile, Governor Williams hammers away at every opportunity on the theme that Michigan corporations should share some of their swollen post-war profits with the consumer. If corporations decline to reduce prices, which seems to be the contention of the governor's staff, then the government should step in and give the poor consumer a break by financing public services. It is another way of sharing the wealth—all at the other person's expense.

In a recent Michigan Mirror column we quoted Don Weeks, acting director of the state department of economic development. This department is seeking to raise $250,000 in contributions to keep Michigan industry in Michigan and to attract new business to our confines.

"Migration of industry" from Michigan is not a supposition; it is a fact. After reviewing the names of corporations which had decided to pull stakes and go elsewhere, the Michigan Mirror raised a pertinent question: What were the conditions here that prompted manufacturers to close doors and move away? We wondered whether the state corporation profits' tax was a contributing factor. Certainly, the issue should be met squarely; an answer should be found, if possible.

Of the 19 industries listed by

Weeks and cited in our column, the governor's staff reports that 12 left the state prior to the time when Governor Williams first advocated the profits levy.

Furthermore, 10 of the 19 industries moved to states which already had corporation profits taxes ranging from 4 to 7 percent, so we are told.

"All of the others moved to states already having a higher total of business taxes than are paid in Michigan. Three nearby states have no corporation profits tax: Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. States with corporation profits levies total 32.

Weeks was prodded by the governor's staff to compile a list of reasons why some Michigan industries had left. His report to Governor Williams is illuminating. Whereas none of the corporations gave the proposed profits levy as a specific reason for abandoning Michigan as a location, many corporations were motivated by an undesirable

"labor situation" and a desire to "retrench" from high operating costs.

Fruehauf Trailer Company, for example, left Detroit for near Cleveland "in apparent resentment over some labor situation and in dissatisfaction with its local tax assessment."

"Crest Industries moved in 1948 from Detroit to Edgefield, South Carolina; to get into a lower priced labor market and to accept substantial local inducements."

Likewise, the Detroit Pneumatic Tool Company left Detroit for Utica, New York "to escape wage pressures of the automobile industry" and to consolidate its Cleveland and Detroit operations at the new Utica plant.

Business Week on April 8 said Michigan manufacturers were concerned over the prospect of rising taxes, state and local, and over the pressure of high labor costs as set by automobile makers in contracts with the UAW-CIO. Non-automotive manufacturers are at a cost disadvantage, said Business Week.

Personal comment: The long costly strike of the UAW-CIO against the Chrysler Corporation is no advertisement for Michigan as an ideal manufacturing state. If automobile costs are increased further through pension agreements and other benefits, will the still higher costs serve to attract new industry to Michigan? Or will the costs tend to encourage Michigan industry to leave?

Governor Williams contends that corporations will pay his proposed $112,000,000 increase in government spending out of their profits. The consumer will not have to pay. The levy would be an added cost absorbed by business.
