

Margaret Sours Relates Experiences in Germany

Miss Margaret Sours, Northville first grade teacher, spoke to the faculty Thursday on her experiences in Germany. Miss Sours returned to the United States last month following a year's stay in Germany where she taught the children of soldiers in the American occupied zone.

Four hundred teachers are now in the occupied zones of Germany and Austria and the wives of the servicemen instruct the kindergartners. Six high schools have been set up in Vienna, Munich, Berlin, Frankfurt, Heidelberg and Nuremberg. Miss Sours taught first grade at a school converted from a bathhouse near the main air base at Rhein Main. There were 250 children in the lower grades with 70 in the kindergarten alone.

Army buses transport the children to and from the schools which have been organized since 1946. The Americans did not take over any German school building as there is a serious shortage in their own school system.

Miss Sours told the Northville faculty that there is little or no principal supervision in the school system because there is a shortage of principals. At each army base there is a school officer and the school supplies are delegated through the Quartermasters Corps. German is taught the children beginning in the first grade and the Scott Foresman series is used throughout the elementary grades as it is here in the Northville school system.

The German teachers, Miss Sours said, are men who have been de-Nazified and they are being paid on reparations money. She pointed out that the German teachers can't seem to get along with the American children as they don't seem to know how to adjust to their emotions. In the course of the year, the school at which Miss Sours taught had many German teachers because they had so much difficulty in teaching the children.

At the conclusion of her talk, Miss Sours showed slides on her travels throughout Germany.

Hospital Delayed By Mason Shortage

Michigan's first attempt at a scientific treatment of mental illnesses is being delayed due to the shortage of masons in the construction of the Northville State Hospital. The new unit, housing seven hundred patients, will not be ready for occupancy in May 1951 as intended. However the delay is not expected to be long extended.

Contracts for $257,782, for equipment for the administrative section of the hospital has been approved by the State administrative Board.

Governor Williams asked for $80,000 for additional construction at the hospital. After the legislation had made an affirmative vote, the State had an opportunity to claim Percy Jones Hospital in Battle Creek, so the $80,000 was allocated to the "preliminary plans for Percy Jones". Soon after, the Army decided to keep the hospital, and so an amending act was passed returning the money to Northville.

Meanwhile, part of the appropriation had been vetoed by Williams, including the $80,000 transfer and the $10,380 salary of Louis Kunzig, director of the Liquor Control Commission. However, the veto was ignored by the legislature since the original bill had not been returned to the Senate as the Republicans state the Constitution demands.

When the first bill was enacted to return the money to Northville, the legislature was careful to include the fact that all other sections of the law will still be in effect.

Now Williams is presented with the situation that his veto was of no effect and that Kunzig is back in office.

The problem has been delegated to Clark Adams, legal advisor to Williams.

Americanism Films Continue Monday

The second two films in the "Land of the Free" series, being shown in Northville under sponsorship of Northville Optimists, will be viewed Monday, September 18, in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall.

Fred L. Hunter, chairman of the Americanism committee of the Northville Optimists, said the committee was encouraged by the attendance at the showing of the first two films last Monday. Admission, he said, is free and open to all. Tickets can be obtained from club members and local merchants.

Film No. three, which will be one of those shown next Monday, is entitled "The Smiths and the Romans." This film tells the Smiths the powerful story of history's best example of the final results of planned economy and of too much government control. It traces the development, decline, and fall of individual freedom in ancient Rome.

Here Tom Smith sees the effect of price controls and of the taking over by the government of mines, farms, shipping and industry. He sees the effect upon men's characters when personal incentive is removed. As Rome goes from a republic to a dictatorship, Tom Smith sees that freedom is easily lost. He sees that history repeats itself.

"America's Growing Pains" is the title of Film No. four. This film tells the Smith family why and how America became a capitalist country. It shows how each of the first two English settlements in America started as communistic, share-the-wealth enterprises. It accounts for their failure. It then gives reasons for the colonists' choice of individual freedom and individual ownership of the means of production... the beginning of the American Way of Life.

Then it shows how the impetus of personal incentive and human freedom resulted in the great Industrial Revolution. It explains how and why our young republic thrived, with the most phenomenal expansion and achievement that any people had ever known. Hunter said the films tell the (Continued on Back Page)

1000 People Attend Sanatorium Fair

The climax of the best attended and most profitable Maybury Fair to be held in the 14 years of its existence was the awarding of the grand door prize Sunday afternoon. Dr. F. Connelly of Detroit won the television set. There were 41 other beautiful prizes contributed by friends of the institution which were given away.

Mrs. Marjorie Owens, president of the 1950 Maybury Fair Association, announces that the gross proceeds will exceed $2000 when the final tabulation is made. She estimates that at least 1000 people were in attendance.

The day's activities were complicated by the variable weather. All displays were set up on the sanatorium grounds and were moved in and out between showers, eventually remained indoors as the afternoon culminated in the season's only hail storm.

The puppet show and magic show began performances outside and were enjoyed by early arrivals but were rained out early in the afternoon. The chief attraction for the younger set was a pony ring where the young equestrians rode either a pony or a donkey. Bailey Allen and the three Hoper men supervised in western attire. Mary Slessor read cards to foretell the future for all those who crossed her palm with silver. The Rehabilitation Department tempted the gamblers of the crowd with a penny pitching concession.

An unknown newsboy, refugee from the Dead End, hawked his wares and turned over his proceeds for the day.

The Nursing Department and Medical Department dispensed information about tuberculosis care, with Doctors Bradford, Livengood, Klopfenstein and Giel on hand to answer questions.

1854 - 1950

MRS. LEVI FRANK EATON

Death Claims Oldest Resident

Mrs. Levi Frank Eaton, aged 96, died Sunday. She was Northville's oldest resident and had made her home here for 34 years.

Susan Medbury Eaton was born in Pomfret, Conn., July 24, 1854, of parents of early English ancestry, with the traditional type of Puritan religious faith. She was the seventh child of Daniel Medbury and his wife, Sarah. Her early life was spent on a farm occupied for several generations by her Medbury ancestors.

She attended public schools until 15, and there being no public high school at that time, she attended Woodstock Academy of Connecticut, in preparation for her teacher's training at New Britain Normal School. She taught for 8 years, when she was married at Meriden, Connecticut, in 1882 to Levi Frank Eaton.

They moved to Detroit in 1891, and to Northville in 1916 where she has since resided. Her husband preceded her in death, January 1, 1921. She was a life long Baptist and a member of the local church while here. She was an active member of the Baptist Woman's Union, President Emerita of the Parmanes Club of Detroit, a charter member of the Garden Club and the oldest Michigan member of D.A.R.

Surviving her are her sister, Mrs. Frank Miller of Connecticut, her son, Levi Medbury of Eaton Drive, three grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Casterline Funeral Home by Reverend Walter Ballagh and Reverend Harold Fredsell. Burial took place at Middlefield, Connecticut.

Optimist Club Sees Agricultural Film

The new motion picture, "Waves of Green", which brings to the screen in technicolor some of the outstanding success stories of American agriculture was shown Wednesday, September 13 to members of the Northville Optimist Club.

The film was produced by Dearborn Motors Corporation, Detroit, as a tribute to the many contributions of the nation's 52 land-grant colleges to agriculture. A national premiere of the film was held recently in Nashville, N. C., and state premieres have been held at the land-grant colleges.

"Waves of Green" tells a story that has never before been put on film even though it is a story that affects the health and pocketbook of every American. The film shows how an agricultural scientist, Dr. E. S. McFadden of Texas A & M Agricultural Experiment Station drove wheat rust from the Great Plains; how Dr. F. R. Beaudette of Rutgers University found a vaccine to combat Newcastle disease which was striking poultry flocks across the nation; how scientists, working closely with growers, saved the orchard industry of Oregon from slow but certain strangulation. These and many other milestones of Agriculture are shown in the picture.

Actors play some of the roles in the production, but in most scenes the persons who played the parts in real life appear in the picture. A special musical score, outstanding photography, and an approach that is both informative and entertaining add to the effectiveness of "Waves of Green".

The film presentation was made by Jerry Miller, advertising manager, Great Lakes Tractor & Implement Co., Michigan distributor of the Ford Tractor and Dearborn Farm Equipment.

West Street Closed On School Days

The Village Commission Monday evening took action to close West street from Cady to Main street from 8:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. during school days as a safety measure to protect the Village children.

The Council voted that $20,000 from the race meet money be transferred to the community building fund. Art Schnute was appointed for a term of three years to the Zoning Board of Appeals and Ernest Wilsher and Art Carlson were appointed to succeed themselves for terms of three years.

Reports were heard from the treasurer, police and building inspector and bills were voted on to be paid. No further business appearing, the meeting was adjourned.

Gives Plans for Extended Service

ERVIN E. SCHERDT

Northville To Get Extended Phone Use

Engineering is now under way by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company for the introduction of extended-area service between Northville and four of its neighboring communities to become effective next year.

Ervin E. Scherdt, manager for the company, said additional central office trunks and central office facilities will have to be installed to link together the communities to be included in the plan.

New directories containing the numbers of all exchanges included in the plan also will have to be issued.

When extended-area service goes into effect, customers in Northville will be able to make calls without paying toll charges to Farmington, Plymouth, Walled Lake, and South Lyon. Beginning at the same time also, customers in Plymouth, Walled Lake and South Lyon will be able to call Northville without toll charge. In Farmington, people who subscribe to extended area service will have the toll charge eliminated on calls to Northville.

Customers in South Lyon will be able to make calls without paying toll charges to Ann Arbor, Plymouth and Northville. Scherdt expressed confidence that Northville and South Lyon will find extended-area service as "popular here as at other places in Michigan which already have received it."

The new service was designed by Michigan Bell to meet the "community of interest" which has grown up between exchanges. In giving its approval of the plan, the State-Public Service Commission called it a "forward looking step" in telephony.

When it is introduced here, Northville's calling area will be enlarged to include not only the 2100 telephones in its own exchange, but the 10,400 telephones in the other four exchanges as well — a total of 12,500.

South Lyon's calling area will be enlarged to include not only the 1,100 telephones in its own exchange but the 24,000 telephones in the other three exchanges as well — a total of 25,100.

When extended area service goes into effect, Northville and South Lyon customers will pay somewhat higher monthly rates as will Farmington business customers having extended area service.

Denton Explains Child Safety Rules

"Protect our child-life!" Chief Denton urged Northville's drivers today as the State Safety Commission's September program of traffic safety education gained momentum.

"In 1949," Chief Denton said, "the National Safety Council reports that about 3,900 children under 15 years of age were killed in motor vehicle accidents. Even considering that youngsters habitually violate safety rules in their walking, the bulk of the blame for such accidents rests with the drivers."

While most drivers are horrified at the idea of hurting a child, the State Safety Commission nevertheless ranked thoughtlessness on the driver's part as the chief cause of the high annual toll of young traffic accident victims.

The State Safety Commission made an urgent appeal to Northville's drivers to heed the following rules:

1. Regard every child in or near the street with the same caution you would a flashing railroad-crossing sign.
2. Expect the unexpected at all times when driving near schools, in residential areas, or in the neighborhood of playgrounds or vacant lots.
3. Give bicycles a wide berth. While a rider may appear to have his bicycle under perfect control, a slick patch on the street, a chuck-hole, or any of many factors can cause the rider to fall, or lose control and swerve into the path of a car.
4. Particularly in residential areas, the driver should be doubly on the alert for small children playing in driveways or sliding or coasting on incines that might lead them into the street without warning.

This month's program on child safety, under the sponsorship of the State Safety Commission, is being conducted in cooperation with the National Safety Council. In Northville, the work is being coordinated by the Police Department.

MRS. EDWARD CAMPBELL

Edward Campbells Take Northern Mich. Honeymoon

Our Lady of Victory church was the scene Saturday morning of the marriage of June Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Bailey of 118 East Cady street, and Edward Campbell of Detroit. Edward's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Campbell of Heyden avenue.

Sister Cecilia presided at the organ and the church was decorated with baskets of gladioli and white asters. Rev. Lorenzo E. Woods read the single ring service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a Chantilly lace and satin gown which ended in a sweeping train. The lace bodice was fashioned with a small collar and seed pearls trimmed the neckline. Her matching three-quarter length scalloped veil was caught to her head by a lace cap and she carried a white prayer book adorned with a white orchid and Stephanotis. The entire ensemble was fashioned by the bride.

Honor maid was Betty Heintz of Carpenter street and bridesmaids were June's sister, Barbara and Mrs. Donald Bonner (Doris Widmaier) of East Seven Mile Road. Betty's gown was dusty rose taffeta and the bridesmaids were gowned in aqua and yellow taffeta respectively. Their bouquets consisted of gladioli.

Racena Kay Bailey, the bride's sister was flower girl and she wore a pastel blue taffeta gown and carried a basket of daisies.

A cousin of the bridegroom, James Campbell of Detroit was the best man and seating the guests were Emil Tetreut and Norman McGlinnen of Detroit.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bailey chose a taupe dress with beige and brown accessories and Mrs. Campbell was attired in teal blue with gray accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

A wedding breakfast for members of the bridal party took place at the bride's home following the ceremony and in the afternoon a reception was held at the Veterans' Memorial Hall.

The young couple then left on a week's trip, travelling by car to Northern Michigan. For going away, June chose a gray tweed suit with green accessories. The orchid from her bridal bouquet was her corsage. Upon their return, they will make their home in Northville temporarily.

June was graduated from Northville High school and attended Highland Park school of nursing. She is employed in the offices of Drs. Atchison, Wetterstrom and Robinson.

The bridegroom was graduated from Catholic Central High school, Detroit and attended the University of Detroit. He is employed as a mail carrier in Detroit.

Guests were present at the wedding from Detroit, Plymouth, Highland Park, Hazel Park, Monroe, Gagetown, Ferndale, River Rouge, Wayne, Dearborn, Farmington and the Village.

TODAY'S FIRE SAFETY FLASH

Edison Institute Attendance High

The Edison Institute (Greenfield Village and The Edison Institute Museum) is becoming more and more the mecca of thousands of tourists each year. From January 1, 1950, through August 27, 1950, the Edison Institute has had a ten per cent increase in attendance over a corresponding period in 1949.

In 1940 the Institute experienced the largest attendance in recent years by attracting 633,291 visitors. Two years later with the advent of Pearl Harbor and gas rationing, the attendance dropped almost eighty per cent and after another decrease in 1943 has steadily increased until it has almost reached the half-million mark.

Keeping pace with the increase in attendance, the Village reopened three buildings to the public this season which had been closed since World War II. One of these was the Sandwich Glass Plant which formerly produced glass in Sandwich, Mass. over a century ago; the second was the Edison Homestead which was formerly located in Vienna, Western Ontario, Canada, and was the home of Thomas A. Edison's father and grandfather; the third building to be reopened was the Edison Menlo Park Machine Shop, the first central station for incandescent lighting in the world.

Another building, the Magill Jewelry Shop which had previously been closed, was opened to Village visitors for the first time this year. This fascinating and historic shop, in which Henry Ford worked as a boy, formerly stood at 444 Baker street, Detroit, and is filled with hundreds of interesting American-made watches and clocks.

Greenfield Village will remain open this season until November 1, 1950, however, The Edison Institute Museum is open every day in the year with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's Day.

Recent studies show that farmers manage to harvest only about 40 percent of the legume seed actually present on the field at harvest time. Michigan State College farm scientists say losses are due to handling, unfavorable weather, inefficiency of harvesting machinery, and lack of knowledge in operating the machinery.

The church is a religious home, a sanctuary for worship, a school for religious instruction, a fighting unit for the New World that is building. It is a social center of the highest type, since it gathers into relations of mutual helpfulness people of every age and condition. The church is the most broadening and democratic organization among men, since its vision is to the ends of the earth, whither the Gospel is being carried and since its citizenship is in heaven as well as in the earth. And all of this is only possible because Christ is the Cornerstone, the Head of the Church.

If you do not have a regular church home in this community we invite you to any and all of our services.

$75,000 Received for Heart Research

The Michigan Heart Association, through its President, Paul S. Barker, M.D., today announced grants totaling $75,000 to medical institutions in Michigan for research projects into diseases of the heart and circulatory system during the 1950-51 period.

In addition, Dr. Barker added, the Rheumatic Fever Control Program of the Michigan State Medical Society has received approximately $24,000 to continue the thirty Rheumatic Fever Control Centers which assist in the diagnosis and control of rheumatic heart disease in Michigan.

The Michigan Heart Association's Industrial Cardiology and Cardiac Housewife Programs, being conducted by John G. Bieawski, M.D., of Detroit, have also received grants of $10,000 and $6,000 respectively for continuation of studies in these two important fields. The Industrial Cardiology Program is a study being conducted in industry to determine the working capacity of people with heart disease and their proper selective job placement.

The Cardiac Housewife Program is a study of work simplification in the home to learn ways and means of conserving the time and energy of the housewife whose work capacity is limited by heart disease.

"Each project", Dr. Barker said, "is contributing to the prevention of diseases of the heart and circulatory system, and the improving of techniques or the care of the heart patient."

"Dr. Barker also stated that the continuation of these research, education, and community service projects is dependent upon funds received through the United Fund Drive (Torch Drive in Detroit), as the Michigan Heart Association is a member agency of the United Health and Welfare Fund of Michigan.

Research projects which are receiving financial support from the Michigan Heart Association include the Wayne University Medical School ($21,600), Henry Ford Hospital ($11,700), and the Children's Hospital in Detroit ($5,000), the University of Michigan Medical School at Ann Arbor ($28,025), and Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids ($1,000).

The Michigan Heart Association, in addition to the above projects, provides $1,000 toward the financial support of the Michigan Health Council. The Council's chief goal is to improve and extend the effect of existing health services through voluntary cooperative action in each community.

New Ramp

A recent development at the Union Stock Yard in Chicago providing low, wide steps instead of a clear ramp has proved highly successful not only in speedier handling but also in preventing costly bruises. The hogs ascend the steps at least twice as fast as when the old-time ramps were used, and injuries have become rare with this type of equipment.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

ENJOY those peaches; it's later than you think, and there are just a few more weeks that most stores will be able to boast baskets of those delicious pink-cheeked beauties. Here's a wonderful tasting dessert, Peach Whip Cake, that you'll want to make at least once before the fresh peach crop disappears. Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods consumer kitchens suggests that the cake be made in the cool of morning and filled and frosted. Then just before serving at dinner time, garnish with peach slices. Oh! How you will revel in the praises of this light and luscious delicacy.

Peach Whip Cake
1/2 cup vitaminized margarine
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sliced peaches
Cream margarine thoroughly. Add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together three times. Combine milk and vanilla and add alternately with flour to creamed mixture. Pour into two 8-inch layer pans which have been greased, bottoms lined with waxed paper and paper greased. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) 25 minutes or until done. Spread one layer with Peach Whip*, top with sliced peaches. Place second layer over first and top with remaining Peach Whip. Just before serving garnish with sliced peaches.

*Peach Whip
2 whole peaches 1 cup sugar
1 egg white
Peel and wash peaches. Add unbeaten egg white and beat slightly. Add sugar gradually beating well after each addition with a rotary or electric beater. Beat until light and fluffy. Turn into the top of a double boiler and cook over hot water 5 minutes, stirring constantly.

Are you contented with your lot in life or just too lazy to improve it?

Self Serving Barn Great Labor Saver

Device Is Most Useful Developed in Years

One of the strangest, and possibly the most useful, agricultural devices developed in recent years is the cattle cafeteria.

The cafeteria is actually two steel Quonset huts, one built inside the other. Between the two, there is a space of about 10 feet. Hay brought in from the field is chopped and blown into the top of the larger structure. It falls down on the other, settling between the two. When the space is filled, the cafeteria is ready for operation.

A series of gates, hinged at the top, may be raised to feed cattle inside or outside the barn. The slats are spaced just wide enough to admit a steer's nose and are also hinged at the top. As the cattle make pockets in the hay they push against the slats. The constant swinging dislodges more hay from the storage area above and it falls down.

The outside gates provide shelter for feeding animals in cold weather. According to reports from a farm where the "cafeteria" has been used, 44 beef steers have been fed through an entire winter with a total of four man-hours of labor. Once the storage area was filled, the farmer walked off, his job done for months.

The idea seems especially good for the northwest where winter feeding of relatively small herds is a constant, laborious chore.

We strongly favor the perpetuation of any special privileges which we personally enjoy.

Practical Farmers Anticipate Science

Many Fed Milk Product Long Before Vitamin B12

Practical dirt farmers, with little knowledge of nutritional theories, may prove to have again anticipated the latest findings of research scientists who have been turning their attention to hog and poultry rations.

About a year ago, when discovery of the growth promoting vitamin B12 created a stir in feed and farm circles, many farm editors were quick to point out that practical farmers who fed milk and milk products to hogs and poultry had actually anticipated the scientists. Because, after the new vitamin was first isolated from liver extracts, it was found that milk and milk-by-products, like skim milk and buttermilk, are particularly good natural sources of this growth vitamin. Generations of farmers, who had never heard of vitamin B12, had taken advantage of its growth promoting values when they fed milk and milk products.

Many practical dirt farmers in the United States fed skim milk and milk products long before they ever heard of vitamin B12. Above a farmer feeds skim milk.

Now research scientists have been testing the effect of "wonder drugs" in animal feeding. They have reported startling growth gains when streptomycin and aureomycin are added to hog and poultry rations. There are indications that farm editors have another opportunity to point out that practical farmers anticipated the scientists in this case too.

Not that there is any indication that milk or milk-by-products actually contain these wonder drugs, but it appears that to some extent, they have a similar effect.

When making articles from plastics, avoid using pins because they make permanent holes. Any notches, darts, or other markings can be made from an ordinary pencil or tailor's chalk which can be wiped off after using, advise clothing specialists at Michigan State College.

"It is predicted that the Communists in America will go underground. Under six feet of dirt would be the ideal place for them."

CONGRESSMAN
GEORGE A. DONDERO

Those of us who have fought consistently through the years for the St. Lawrence Seaway project are in a position to say "I told you so" to those who have long dashed the hopes of industrial and agricultural producers and shippers in the Midwest.

We are in a position to say that opposition by both states and port cities on the Eastern Seaboard, on the Gulf of Mexico and along the Mississippi River, has prevented construction of a great project which would have cost far less a few years ago; a project that today would be of inestimable value in furtherance of national defense in World War III, which we have reason to believe has started in the Korean conflict.

It is not too much to say that now the waterway, from the Great Lakes to the sea, would speed up war effort tremendously; first, by providing cheap transportation, without transshipment, from the war plants of the Midwest to the ocean ports of all the world; secondly, it would provide cheap transportation of the recently opened iron ore mines in Labrador (Canada) to our smelters in the United States, which ore is going to be lost to us otherwise; and thirdly, by providing vast quantities of electric power for American factories.

My own part in the fight for the Seaway Project started with my service in Congress. Prior to the war, the international project was considered with mostly by the Senate owing to the fact that it involved negotiation of a treaty with Canada. Treaties are solely within the jurisdiction of the Senate.

Prior to Pearl Harbor, through the efforts of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House of Representatives, in which I took an active part, a resolution was adopted to submit the question of completing the St. Lawrence Seaway to the legislative bodies of Canada and the United States. This resolution brought the Seaway under the jurisdiction of the Canadian Parliament and the Congress of the United States. The beginning of World War II stopped all further consideration of this project, because it was felt at the time that the money was needed for armament.

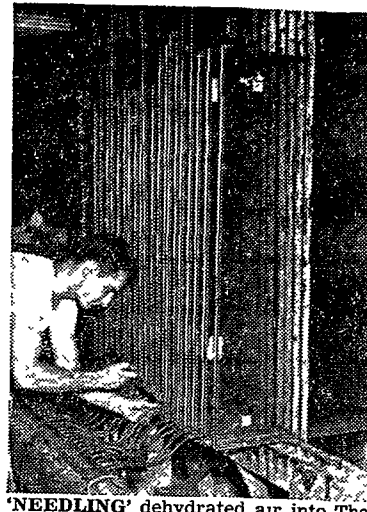

In the 79th Congress (1945-46) I introduced bills to authorize the St. Lawrence Seaway, but the Democratic-dominated House Committee refused to report them out. As Chairman of the new House Public Works Committee at the opening of the Republican 80th Congress in 1947, my opportunity to do something about the Seaway arrived.

With the opening of the 80th Congress, I introduced an authorizing bill, which was a companion bill to that of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. The bill was referred to my committee and hearings were held on it. We were ready to report the bill to the House with almost certain favorable House action in prospect, when it became plainly evident that the Senate would refuse to act on the measure when sent over to that body for action. This was verified by the action of the Senate in recommitting its bill to its Committee for further study - a delaying action on the legislation to kill it for that Congress. To allow an outright defeat of the measure in the Senate would do more harm to the measure than good. For this reason it was not reported from the House Committee.

In the present Congress, the Democratic-dominated Committees have again refused to report out the St. Lawrence Seaway bills introduced by myself and Senator Homer Ferguson.

If the 82nd Congress is controlled by the Republicans, favorable action can be expected on the project, unless war necessities again intervene.

Mustangs Open Football Schedule Tomorrow Night

Coaches Al Jones and Dick Kay ran the Northville Mustangs through intensive drills this week in preparation for the grid opener against the Ypsilanti Roosevelt Rough Riders at Ford Field tomorrow night. Kick-off will be at 8 p. m., the season's first game for both teams.

Jones and Kay have not announced the team they will field against Ypsilanti, and probably the players will not know until just about game time. Competition is heavy for several spots on the Mustang eleven, although some positions seem filled.

The Rouge Riders will come to Northville without the services of their two stand-outs last year, but sixteen lettermen returned from the 1949 squad, six of whom are regulars.

It seems apparent that the Ypsilanti eleven will outweigh the Mustangs, who will hit the field with a team average of about 150 pounds.

The Rough Riders belong to the class "C" Huron league along with Saline, Dundee, Flat Rock, Lincoln, University High, Milan and Chelsea. The Scarlet and Gray squad won three and lost five games last year. The Mustangs won five, lost three and tied one.

When the Mustangs take the field tomorrow night, some players may not be in the same positions they occupied last season. To make the best use of all grid talent, Coaches Jones and Kay have switched several positions looking for the right combination. The greatest handicap Northville faces, besides lack of weight, is lack of depth. There are not enough good substitutes for every position, and more switching may be called for.

The Mustangs seem further ahead at this date than last year, with more poise, more knowhow and more drive. Especially more drive. It is evident that there is more seriousness in blocking and tackling, harder checking by the workhorses in the line and greater finesse and determination on the part of the backs.

Without having seen Ypsilanti, the writer will string along with Northville in this game tomorrow night, and even give the Rouge Riders six points.

4-H Club 'Fencer' Foils Post Decay

Creosote Treated Posts Will Last Thirty Years

Terry Liston, 17-year-old president of South Carolina Four-H Clubs, has "snowballed" one well-known conservation practice into triple savings—savings of timber, money, and his own time and energy.

Thinning a woodlot on his father's farm near Smeaks to allow healthier growth of the trees, Terry ended up with 700 fine fence posts. But he had noticed that pine fence posts rotted out in the ground faster than he could grow new ones.

Presenting his problem to the local county agricultural agent, Terry learned that pressure-treating the posts with creosote would give them a life expectancy of more than 30 years.

Although he realized that he was making an unusual request that normally could not be filled, Terry contacted a nearby Charleston, S. C., wood treating plant and asked to have his posts pressure treated with creosote, along with ties and poles which Koppers treats for railroads and utilities.

Word of Terry's attack on the farm fencing problem spread among the community with the result that other farmers have turned to use of the specially treated posts as a better farming method.

Important points for summer seedlings are having weeds under control, preparation of a good seed bed, lime if needed and adequate fertilizer, report farm crops specialists at Michigan State College.

The real measure of a man's resources, the true test of one's genuine worth, is not the fact that he can be fair and square with those who trust him, but that he can be big enough to rise above those who are unfair to him.

NON-PARTISAN NEWS LETTER

A democracy must take time out, even from war, to govern itself.

Michigan voters went to the polls this Tuesday (Sept. 12) to pick party nominees for Congress and for governor and lieutenant governor. At Washington the House and Senate were busy winding up affairs for a recess. "Politics as usual" is a periodical requirement in a democracy. That's why politics replaced the war headlines for a day this week.

Can Governor Williams, the Democratic nominee, woo enough "protest votes" from disgruntled Republicans to win re-election? That's the new question being asked this week at the Capital City in the wake of primary returns. Remember — Republican protests against Kim Sigler put "Soapy" into office two years ago.

Michigan again has become the nation's No. 1 "hot spot".

General Motors' cost-of-living wage increase set into motion a long chain reaction of pay boosts in the automobile industry. Chrysler, Packard, Ford, Motor Wheel and other firms jumped on the band wagon. Economists call it the "fifth round". After each previous round, prices have gone up. Consumers then paid more. In this case soaring prices preceded the adjustment in pay.

J. A. Livingston, business expert, says: "Inflation, like a forest fire fanned by a favorable wind, has a head start on President Truman, Congress and the Federal Reserve Board—so much so that the problem is not how to put the fire out but where and how to prepare a line beyond which the onrush of rising wages, prices and hoarding shall not pass."

Indicative of the current trend: Consumer credit in July reached an all time peak of $20,340,000, up $660,000,000. Installment credit accounted for $12,600,000, 000 of the total and $500,000,000 of the increase. People just had to get their autos, refrigerators and washing machines — items bought on credit—quickly, before the hoarders did.

Charles F. Brannan, secretary of agriculture, has told Michigan potato growers to accept his new rules or they'll get no price supports. He told Pennsylvanians the same thing. The vote there was 1,091 to 293 against new rules. Michigan farmers will vote on the issue September 20-25.

Michigan legislators went home for a short time (some two weeks) after a three-day session in which they appropriated $362,925 for civilian defense, and promised to return to dig up funds for a living blood bank to combat a possible atomic disaster.

And while Korean casualty lists crowd front pages in Michigan, Donald S. Leonard, acting civilian defense director, says this state has taken the lead in preparations for defense at home. "The money and the laws are now available," he said, and predicted that a special state police squad will be created immediately to spearhead "security activities".

Leonard says that if a bomb were dropped on Detroit tomorrow, "things could be kept fairly well under control — for one thing, the state control center is organized — — —" How do you feel?

"No responsible labor groups" have protested against the legislative plan to curb Communists and other "fellow travelers" in Michigan, so reports Paul Weber, press secretary for Governor Williams. One state group did register a kick: the Michigan Civil Rights Congress. Incidentally, the United States attorney-general listed this outfit as a Communist-front organization, adhering to the Red propaganda line.

If Michigan has a migrant labor problem, so does about every other state. The New York Times recently ran a series of articles on it. Puerto Rican workers have been complaining about wages and housing conditions in Michigan. One variable factor: The weather. What can we do about it? Even the government's long-range forecast for August was badly off.

When Michigan's 1,315,000 school children returned to classes this fall, they found 15,000 will have only half-day classes because of crowded conditions in the buildings.

Bad as war news may seem, things don't look altogether black. Michigan divorce rates have dropped 50 percent since 1946. Marriages dropped too, but now only 5.1 persons of every 1,000 are divorced. It was 10.2 in 1946.

"Horse sense is just stable thinking. There is much horse sense as ever, but it's mostly horses that have it."

Farm property losses from lightning average about $10 million per year. An estimated 400 lives are lost, and from 800 to 1,000 rural people are injured each year by lightning.

Americanism Film

story of man's fight for economic freedom from the prehistoric days to the present. Each film is a complete story in itself — written in an easy-to-understand manner. The films are based on historical fact to sell Americans an appreciation of fundamental economic freedom. History proves that whenever people lose economic freedom, they also lose all human freedoms.

"Many people in this country," Hunter said, "feel that unless a better understanding is developed of the values and responsibilities in our American Way of Life, we all may encounter difficulties in maintaining our liberties in the future. Millions of people in other countries of the world are working and living under a system that is diametrically opposed to our way of life. For that reason alone, we must make an effort to understand the system under which we live, and make a living.

"If we — as Americans — don't understand ourselves and our own system, how can we expect people of other nations to understand us? Yet, if we are to carry on our way of life in the world today — and have more of the good things of life which all of us want — we must understand more about the system that makes all this possible.

"That's why we have undertaken this program. It is an attempt to show all of us what we have in the way of a system for making a living, how we got it, and why it is worth keeping. Also, why, despite certain shortcomings, it is better than others that have been tried time and again in the history of the world, under various names, and have been found wanting every time."

Great is he who enjoys his earthenware as if it were plate, and not less great is the man to whom all his plate is no more than earthenware.

Happiness consists, not in possessing much, but in being content with what we possess. He who wants little always has enough.

A home-made electric fence controller in an invitation to disaster, say agricultural engineers at Michigan State College. The toll of dead animals each year is testimony to the fact that home-made controllers often turn into "booby traps."

KOREAN WAR REVIVES ITALIAN VET GROUP . . . The Korean war has resulted in a revival of the "Associazione Nazionale Arditi D'Italia," association of veterans of two world wars—composed of special shock troop battalions which also helped Benito Mussolini's march on Rome. The movement uses the Roman or Fascist salute, as demonstrated by this group of members greeting one of the banners under an archway in Rome, lettered with one of the mottos used during World War I. The translation of the banner is: "The River Piave murmurs, the foreigner will not pass." To collect money the organization sells postcards containing Mussolini's slogans and writings.

Dairy Farming Future Appears Good for 1951

Prospects for profits from dairy farming next year are "good," farmers attending the second annual Michigan Farm Management Tour in Calhoun and Eaton counties were told by Gerald Quackenbush, Michigan State College milk marketing specialist.

Quackenbush explained that a new all-time record in milk supplies was expected, but that higher demand would mean a ready market. Consumers will have more money to spend and less goods to spend it on as the defense or war program builds up and inflation increases, he said. They will be spending more for milk and other foods.

This is not the time, however, to be switching to dairying, Quackenbush told the farmers. Some of the other farm enterprises will have a profit advantage over milk production, because their prices increase faster during inflationary periods. Beef was given as an example.

The price outlook for next year, according to the M. S. C. economist, calls for slow advances in fluid milk prices and moderate increases for butterfat, with the largest increase due in milk for manufactured products.

Money-making practices suggested for the year ahead included full production with liberal feeding, and doing everything possible to save on labor costs.

Silo Filling Job Needs Extra Care

Silos have come to be important parts of many Michigan farms. Through the year they supply economical and nutritious feed. Silo filling time, however, calls for extra caution, says David Steinicke, Michigan State College farm safety specialist.

"Danger starts long before the silo is filled. Several important points need to be checked before work begins.

One of the first is to keep the silo ladder in repair. Remove or cover the bottom steps to protect young children.

If there is silage in the silo, check it for carbon dioxide by hanging a lantern in the pit. If the light goes out, watch out! Also check the hoops on the silo to see that they are strong, and not rusted.

Once started, be sure to have the shaft for the power take-off on the field cutter.

Be careful around the cutter at the silo. Many a hand and finger has been lost in the rollers of the cutter when the operator tries to work stalks loose. Be safe by always putting the machine out of gear before unclogging.

Never open the housing covering the blower blade to unplug the blower while the machine is running, Steinicke cautions.

If you must be inside the silo—be careful. There is always danger of carbon dioxide, especially if silage has stood overnight or longer. It's a good idea to start the blower a few minutes before feeding the corn. This will circulate the air, removing the gas. Also have as many doors open in the silo as possible to get good circulation.

Humans Susceptible To 80 Animal Diseases

Animal diseases are a constant threat to the health of human beings, two public health physicians declare in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical association.

In one report, Dr. F. S. Leeder of the Michigan department of health, said human beings are susceptible to at least 80 diseases of animals. Many of these diseases are prevalent in the United States, he reported. The danger that foreign maladies may be imported by high speed air travel is also very real, he said.

Most animal diseases to which man is susceptible are spread primarily by livestock and wild game with which human beings come into contact. Work of veterinarians in helping to stamp out or control such diseases is thus an important factor in bettering human health.

In another journal article, Dr. W. P. Dearing, deputy surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service, points to the value of having veterinarians work closely with health departments to protect the public against such dangerous maladies as rabies.

Sale of Farm Churned Butter at New Low

The U. S. department of agriculture reports the dairy farmer and his wife who used to take pride in the fine quality of the butter they churned and retailed to a favored list of discriminating buyers in town—often at a good premium above the price of "store butter"—are vanishing.

In 1947, farm butter produced for sale had dropped below the 50 million pound mark, and for 1949 it had dropped still further to about 41½ million pounds. This is less than one quarter of the 175 million pounds marketed in 1924.

In only eight states in 1949 was the total of farm butter marketed greater than 2 million pounds.

War to Have Strong Influence on Markets

L. H. Simerl of the University of Illinois predicts unsettled markets during the months ahead. He gives four reasons:

First, the all-important corn crop is made largely during July and August. Yield depends mainly on rainfall and borer damage.

Second, military operations always have a strong influence on market activities.

Third, needs for price control and rationing will be discussed by the public and probably debated in congress.

Fourth, even before recent international developments, many people had little confidence in prevailing price levels. Now most people are even more uncertain about probable price behavior.
