"Land of The Free" Series Ends Monday

The third and final showing of the "Land of the Free" films in the current program of the Northville Optimist Club will be staged Monday night in the Veterans of Foreign Wars club rooms. A national magazine will have a photographer present to take pictures of the group.

To date four films in the series of six that comprise the program have been shown to Northville residents as a public service by the Optimists.

Encouraged by the results obtained thus far, the club's Americanism committee, headed by Fred Hunter, contemplates many additional showings throughout this area.

"We feel," Hunter said, "that this is one way in which the Optimist Club of Northville can carry this message to everyone in the community and surrounding countryside. It is important that the people be told what is happening, what can happen and what can be done about it."

"There are millions of Americans today who must be told the facts about our economic system. They take for granted American freedom and American prosperity. No one has ever told them that this freedom and prosperity is easily lost when any government starts interfering with natural economic laws."

"If you, as a businessman, reject the challenge to show your employees how their freedom can be lost, don't bother to see these films. If you, as a parent, reject the challenge to protect American freedom so that you can pass it along to your children, we're wasting your time and you're wasting yours."

"On the other hand, if you are interested in helping Americans understand the need for economic freedom, we believe you will be interested in these films."

Hunter said there is no admission charge to see the films. Tickets are available without cost from club members and merchants.

On Monday, the first of the two films to be shown is entitled "The Smiths, the Smythes, and the Smithskies." It continues with the story of Tom Smith, the typical American workman and his family. This film, however, gives Tom an idea of the great scope of our achievement under a free economy. Then it takes him into the homes and factories of Britain and Russia and with homely, intimate detail makes a realistic comparison of the different systems of living: socialistic in Britain, communistic in Russia, and capitalistic here. Tom realizes that in America he already enjoys what other people are trying to bring about with state planning and control. Most important, the film points out that to make planned welfare possible, the people of Britain and Russia have had to give up freedoms that we in America enjoy and want to pass along to our children as a priceless heritage.

The second film is entitled "Will You Let It Happen Here?" This film, the final one in the program tells the story of what can happen to Tom Smith and his family if socialism gains ground in America. Tom sees what would happen to such things as jobs, education, property, and individual freedom under government control of the means of production.

As is the case throughout the series of films, Tom learns these things in terms of their direct effect upon him, his wife and children. The film then warns him that subtle promises of security lead to loss, first, of economic freedom and then of other freedoms. Then the film tells him what he can do about it.

Denton Outlines Safety Campaign

"Reckless... Smart Aleck... Irresponsible... Cocky..." Chief Denton said today, "are the words that the public is applying to youthful drivers with ever-increasing frequency and vehemence. And, yet—as in practically all such cases—such descriptions apply only to a small but conspicuous minority."

The State Safety Commission, of which Chief Denton is the "official" spokesman for the September program of traffic safety education, admitted that in view of the harm done by this minority, some of the adjectives applied to its members are apparently justified.

"A study of New York State drivers some time ago," he said, "indicated that drivers between 18 and 24 years old account for only 13 per cent of the drivers on the road, but they were involved in about 27 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents and about 22 per cent of all non-fatal accidents."

"It would appear," he added, "that drivers in this group are having about 50 per cent more accidents than they might be expected to have."

Inexperience coupled with immaturity are blamed by the State Safety Commission and the National Safety Council for this off-balance accident record of the young drivers. Of these two factors, immaturity far out-ranks inexperience as the more dangerous.

Adequate formal training, in correct driving attitudes, behind-the-wheel training, and a good example by older drivers, the State Safety Commission said, is the three-pronged attack on the problem that must be taken.

"Until this three-way approach is universally accepted," Chief Denton said, "all of us—young and old alike—must suffer the penalties. The immature teen-age drivers will continue to kill themselves at a high rate and take a lot of us older folk with them."

"Parents will continue to suffer both emotionally and financially when these drivers are out with the family car. Worst of all, bad youthful drivers seldom improve with age. Their faults are carried on through life and they become, in effect, 'carriers' of bad driving... influencing others around them to indulge in the same unsafe practices."

The State Safety Commission offered the following tips for young drivers and their parents.

Can Atomic Energy Work for Peace?

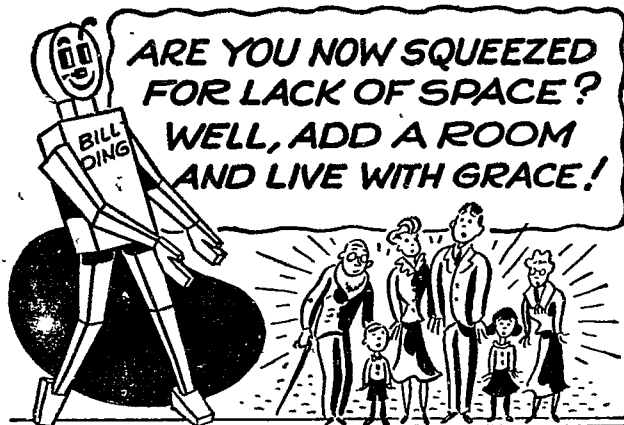

A wise man we once knew said that there were only two kinds of problems people face in going through life — important problems and urgent ones. Success in life, this man maintained, depends on realizing that the important ones are never urgent and the urgent ones never important.

This sage observation came back to us the other day when we read about plans of University of Michigan alumni to hold rallies from coast to coast on October 2nd, which they call "Atom Day." Thousands of these men and women that night will hear talks about and discuss the statesmanlike proposal of their Alma Mater to conduct research into constructive uses of atomic energy.

That makes sense. What Michigan proposes as a memorial to its World War II dead is a three-pronged attack on the problem. First, the University's physicists will conduct "pure" research to provide the raw material. Then engineers, doctors and chemists will apply that new knowledge to put the atom to work for all of us — to make our lives easier, longer, and stronger.

The intriguing part of the Michigan program is that meanwhile on the same campus the lawyers, economists, sociologists, and psychologists will be studying ways to control the effects of atomic energy. America, they believe, has a chance to plot the course of the coming atomic revolution in our ways of life.

Now, all of this seems to us an important problem. Of course the urgent problem is to use atomic energy for defense, but isn't it grand to know that competent scientists are looking beyond the urgency into the future? Mr. James E. Littell is chairman of the local Michigan committee and he would be delighted to talk to anyone who is interested in the project. His phone number is 230.

Mich. State Police Open Ranks to Married Men

For the first time in their history, the Michigan State Police have opened up enlistments to married as well as single men.

Candidates are now being accepted for a training school scheduled to begin about October 1 and from which will be graduated the 60 new troopers recently authorized by the state legislature as part of the state's civil defense program.

"The purpose in enlisting married as well as single men is to obtain personnel least subject to being drafted into military services, but still meeting our physical requirements," Commissioner Donald S. Leonard said. "There are many men in this group, particularly veterans of the last war, who provide excellent material for recruitment. In addition, they now have the opportunity to join a career service which offers permanent tenure and financial security in the future."

Candidates must be between the ages of 21 and 30, in good physical health and good character. Persons interested are advised to write immediately to the State Civil Service Commission or Michigan State Police Headquarters in East Lansing, or to visit their nearest State Police post for full information. Action should be prompt as it is planned to begin organizing the school September 26.

During the eight weeks spent in school candidates will receive their board and lodging and pay at the rate of $100 a month, an increase of $50 over the amount formerly paid. Those who graduate will immediately go on the payroll at the regular scale of pay for troopers. "Inasmuch as the police are a key, essential in home front defense, enlistments will provide a way to serve in an important capacity in the overall security effort," Leonard stated.

Change Made In Air Raid Alert Signal System

State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, who is also state civil defense director, has been notified by the U. S. continental air command of an immediate change in the air raid warning signal sequence.

The new sequence provides that a public warning will be given only when an attack is imminent. It eliminates the preliminary "blue" warning of a steady blast of sirens, horns or whistles which was intended to indicate an air raid was probable. The "yellow", "red" and "white" signals are retained as in the past.

The confidential "yellow" alert warning is given to key civil defense personnel only. This warning is notification that intelligence has been received indicating enemy aircraft are over or enroute toward the North continent. There will be no public announcement of this alert.

The "red" alert is notification to the public that an air raid is imminent and to take shelter. This warning consists of a signal of three minutes duration consisting of either a fluctuating or warbling signal of varying pitch by siren or a succession of intermittent blasts by horn or whistle. The final "white" signal to inform the public that all is clear and the danger past, will continue as formerly. This signal is a blast by siren, horn or whistle series of three one-minute steady separated by periods of two minutes of silence.

Social progress makes the well-being of all more and more the business of each; it binds all closer and closer together in bonds from which none can escape.

BETTER AND BETTER—In the 74 years since the telephone was invented, there have been more than 18,000 additional inventions—an average of more than 240 a year—that have contributed to its development. Many recent ones are playing a part in Michigan Bell's big service improvement program in rural areas.

TIME DOES TELL—Here's an easy way to figure what your telephone is worth to you. On a typical working day, count up the telephone calls you make . . . to the farm implement dealer, lumber mill, veterinary, feed store, repair shop, friends. Think of the hours it would take to visit all of these people—hours of lost work around the farm. And when you consider that one call may save a life, what you pay for telephone service is mighty small compared to the value you receive.

Tesch-Porterfield Vows Read Friday

A trip to Niagara Falls followed the double ring ceremony which united Irene Tesch and Richard Porterfield in marriage Friday evening, September 15. Rev. Ralph Brown of Flint, uncle of the bride, read the nuptials before a setting of palms and gladioli in the home of Irene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Tesch of Rayson street.

A royal blue suit with gray accessories was the bride's choice for her wedding. A pink rosebud shoulder corsage complimented the ensemble. Attending her was Velma Dayton of East Base Line Road, attired in a navy blue suit with red accessories. She wore a red carnation corsage.

Robert Porterfield served his brother as best man. The bride's mother wore a dress of brown crepe and a corsage of pink and white carnations. Black crepe was chosen by the mother of the bridegroom. She wore an identical corsage.

Following the ceremony attended by only the immediate family, there was a quiet reception at the home.

Irene is a graduate of Northville High School and attended the Detroit Business Institute.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Porterfield of Novi Road, is a graduate of Northville High School. He has attended the University of Texas, and George Washington University. John Pullen Wed in Detroit Service

A gown of white satin brocade was the choice of Hilda Anzman, daughter of Mrs. Zeta Anzman of Detroit, for her marriage to John Pullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Pullen of East Eight Mile Road, Saturday morning, September 16 at the Chapel of the Little Flower, in Detroit. A finger-tip veil of illusion was caught to her head by a matching crown and a bouquet of white chrysanthemums completed the ensemble. Traditional wedding music with choral response solemnized the occasion.

Vows were spoken before an altar banked with white gladioli. Maid of honor was Lucille Pullen, sister of the bridegroom. She was attired in a gown of pink silk taffeta styled with a bouffant skirt, and carried a bouquet of pink gladioli and fern. Bridesmaid was Helen's sister, Alma, gowned in orchid taffeta fashioned along similar lines. She carried yellow gladioli.

Richard Pullen assisted his brother as best man. Mrs. Zeta Anzman, mother of the bride, wore a green suit, and the bridegroom's mother chose a black sheer dress with white accessories.

Following the ceremony, there was a dinner at the home of the bride for the immediate family. The table was centered with a tiered bridal cake and bouquets of mums were placed throughout the home.

Pennsylvania was the destination of the young couple, where they will visit relatives of the bride.

Hilda is a graduate of St. Mary's High School in Detroit. John attended Northville High School for three years previous to his induction into the Air Corp where he served four years. He is now attending the Detroit School of Television and Electronics.

Fashions Reflect Styles of Past

Fall fashion news says that the "little boy" look we had on many of our clothes last year has grown up into the "gentleman" look. Designers have found inspiration in Beau Brummell and other dandies of the past.

Such things as waistcoats, scarfs, and wing collars have been adopted for our new styles advises Mrs. Leona McLeod, state home demonstration leader at Michigan State College.

The new 1950 fall silhouette has been described as "narrow as an arrow." It is straight but not skimpy. The narrow skirt is relieved by pleats, panels, slits, and lower waistlines.

Coat styles seem to be more varied than usual, but one of the most popular is the loose casual coat that can be worn anywhere. It varies from last year's in that it has a straight up and down line and does not flare in back. There are many more fitted and belted coats than there were last year. Among the style features of the new coats are deep sleeve facings which make it possible to wear the sleeves long for warmth or to turn them back to three-quarter length with a wide cuff for early fall wear.

Stand-up collars are also a mark of this season. Pockets are an important feature — not quite as large as last year's and placed low down on the garment so you can really get your hands in them.

Suits are always important in the fall. This season they have very little shoulder padding, set-in sleeves, small and neatly curved waistlines, and straight narrow skirts about 13 to 14 inches from the floor. Fabrics may be the old favorite gabardine or the new grey flannel or worsted tweed.

There was a riot in a small Texas town, and some of the excited residents telegraphed the governor to send the Texas Rangers to put down the disturbance. The committee awaiting the arrival of the Rangers was astonished when one lone tall, husky young man stepped off the train.

"What, just one Ranger?" the flabbergasted sheriff asked. "Well," drawled the young man, "there ain't but one riot, is there?"—Cotton Belt News.

Better Vision Means Greater Lamb Gains

Shearing the faces of heavily woolled feeder lambs is a good management practice, according to Graydon Blank, extension animal husbandryman at Michigan State College. The shearing will increase gains in lamb feeding.

Lambs that can see better will find the feed trough readily, are better eaters, and will gain more rapidly than lambs blinded by excessive wool about the eyes.

Tagging lambs before they go on feed will make for cleaner, neater lambs at market time. Dirty lambs may be severely cut in price because of the increased shrink from the manure in the wool.

When done properly by an experienced shearer, the cost is more than offset by the wool received.

Ford Quality Queen

Dark-haired Helen Meyer, 25, of Staten Island, N. Y., has been chosen by Ford Motor Company employees as the 1950 Ford Quality Queen. She's 5'8" tall, a perfect size 12 and says her No. 1 job is to keep house for her husband, Herbert, a Marine veteran, who works in the Metuchen, N. J., Lincoln-Mercury assembly plant. Only hourly employees or members of their families were eligible for the contest.

People argue to win, not to clarify their thinking.

If, in a carefree moment, a man tosses away a dollar, his wife decides that he can afford to buy her a mink wrap.

Egg Production Calls for Water

Keeping plenty of water before the laying flock is important, say extension poultrymen at Michigan State College.

High egg production increases the need for water since eggs have a large water content. Pullets are known to increase their water consumption when the temperature climbs.

Because water is so necessary in a good poultry program and because it adds to the labor when carried to the hen house, the poultrymen advise running water where it is possible. A number of fountains and watering devices are on the market, or the farmer handy with tools can construct his own.

America's first commercial sawmill began operations at Berwick, Maine in 1831.

To the Supervisor of the Township of Redford, Wayne County, Michigan Sir: You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on Thursday, August 10, 1950, decide and determine that the certain portions of streets described in the minutes of said Board, heretofore taken over as County roads, should be absolutely abandoned and discontinued as public highways.

The portion of the minutes of said meeting fully describing said streets are attached hereto and made a part of the notice, which is given under and by virtue of Act 253 of the Public Acts of 1929, as amended.

In testimony whereof we have hereunto set our hand at Detroit, Michigan, this 17th day of August, A.D. 1950.

BOARD OF COUNTY ROAD COMMISSIONERS OF THE COUNTY OF WAYNE, MICHIGAN
Michael J. O'Brien, Chairman
John P. O'Hara, Vice-Chairman
Charles L. Wilson, Commissioner
EDGAR M. BRANIGAN, Clerk
By Carl W. Buschoff, Deputy Clerk

Commissioner O'Hara moved the adoption of the following resolution: WHEREAS, ALL EIGHT AVENUE adjacent to lots 24 to 65, both inclusive, also all of SARASOTA AVENUE, adjacent to lots 68 to 109, both inclusive, as dedicated for public use in Weissman Subdivision of part of the S. 1/2 of Sec. 20, T. 1 S., R. 10 E., Redford Township, Wayne County, Michigan, as recorded in Liber 72 of Plats on Page 5, Wayne County Records, are county roads under the jurisdiction of this Board; and

WHEREAS, there are no buildings of any character located upon or along said above described portions of county roads and

WHEREAS, said portions of county roads are of no use or benefit to the public for highway purposes;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that said portions of county roads, being in all 0.462 mile of county roads, be and the same are hereby absolutely abandoned and discontinued and shall cease to exist as public highways.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this Board hereby determines that it is to the best interests of the public that said portions of county roads should be absolutely abandoned and discontinued.

The motion was supported by Commissioner Wilson and carried by the following vote: Ayes, Commissioners O'Brien, O'Hara and Wilson; Nays, None.

Produce Clean Eggs For Larger Profits

Buyers Will Pay Top Prices for Clean Eggs

Produce clean eggs. Thousands of dollars are lost by poultry raisers every year due to dirty eggs and the resulting deterioration takes place before they are marketed. The prevention of dirty eggs will not only increase the flockowner's income but will build a better market for eggs.

Dirty eggs offers a poor appearance, they cannot be stored successfully and it takes time and money to clean them. Consequently, buyers are willing to pay more for clean eggs which means more profit to the flockowner.

Eggs should be gathered at least three times a day in wire baskets and stored in clean, cool, moist place.

The production of clean eggs and handling them to maintain quality is not difficult. Deep, dry litter, good ventilation and nests well littered with shaving, excelsior, straw, or other nesting material, will keep the birds from getting dirt and stains on the eggs from their feet. Always keep hens in the house on wet, muddy days.

Immediately after gathering eggs should be stored in the cleanest, coolest and most moist place on the farm. A cellar with a temperature of 45 to 60 degrees is very good.

Home Canning Resumes On Near Wartime Scale

The upward surge of food prices, reflecting troubled events in the far east, finds housewives everywhere mobilizing home canning brigades reminiscent of World War II.

"Veterans of the last home front stand are dusting off their pressure cookers and preparing to lay up record 'peacetime' supplies of fruits and vegetables," says Mary Ann March, chief home economist of Chicago's Ekco Products company.

"Countless inquiries received by our test kitchen about the new low-pressure method of cooking indicate a revival of home canning on a near wartime scale," she says.

The low pressure cooker, developed since the end of the world war, permits more efficient canning of fruits, berries and tomatoes than was possible in the early 1940's, because its ability to operate at a pressure of only three and three-quarter pounds assures thorough cooking without destruction of these delicate foods.

Praise like gold and diamonds owes its value only to its scarcity.

Fortify yourself with contentment, for this is an impregnable fortress.

Tall men lack leg room in theater seats, but by stretching their necks they can see over the hats of the ladies in front of them.

Edison Establishes No-Accident Record

More than a million man-hours of work without a single disabling injury is the record established by the Overhead Lines Department of The Detroit Edison Company during a six-month period.

Line maintenance and repair crews of the department operate throughout the company's 7,500 square mile southeastern Michigan service area. Much of their emergency work is done under hazardous conditions of rain, snow, or sleet—and often in darkness.

National recognition of the 1,000-man group's safety record came recently with the award of a merit citation sponsored by the Edison Electric Institute, an association of 176 electric utilities.

The presentation ceremony was held in the company's Detroit headquarters and was attended by Edison departmental representatives and officers of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 17.

James W. Parker, Detroit Edison president, commended the linemen for their great progress in the reduction of serious injury accidents.

On behalf of the Edison Electric Institute, Parker presented the E. E. I. Safety Merit Award to J. W. Drummond, superintendent of the company's Overhead Lines Department.

IF YOU ARE A PEPLESS PETE

When people feel like they are tied to a log every time they try to do something, and their pep is gone, the chances are it is due to one thing, namely:

BLOOD POVERTY

Your blood cells may be fagged-out or shrunken, and you might not realize it. Even if you eat the "best" foods you may not be getting all the good out of your meals simply because you have SLOW Digestion, without knowing it (or gassy stomach) and as a result you are a victim of Blood Poverty! In other words, your blood is not getting the fullest good out of what you eat. So your blood-cells become worn-down and you have only half as much energy as you really need, you get up in the mornings still tired, and your nerves become dull.

Hundreds here in Northville suffered with "faded-out" blood and stomach gas until they got CERTA-VIN. This is the new medicine containing 12 Herbs blended with Vitamin B and Iron; you take it before meals and it works with your food. Benefit comes quickly. Your food digests FASTER, with less gasiness, and you get more good out of your meals. In a few days your blood is energized with new red cells and your nerves become stronger. Weak, rundown people tell us they soon feel different all over. And best of all, our price on CERTA-VIN is reasonable. You can actually take this New, modern medicine for only a Few Cents a Day! So don't go on feeling half sick and half-well. Get CERTA-VIN—Northville Drug Co.

The Most Beautiful Thing on Wheels

A Truly Wonderful Car!

If you were to sum up, in one word, the complete story of the new Pontiac, no word would fit so precisely as "wonderful."

It's the most natural thing in the world to describe Pontiac's rare beauty as "wonderful." No other word seems to quite do, either, for the luxurious comfort and appointments in Pontiac's big new Bodies by Fisher.

And on the road, Pontiac just naturally accepts superlatives—because it is such an eager car, such a relaxed, easy-striding performer—for such a long, long time.

Perhaps the most "wonderful" thing of all is Pontiac's price—so low that virtually nobody seriously challenges the idea that dollar for dollar you can't beat a Pontiac!

N.H.S. Mustangs Bounce Ypsilanti 8-0 In Football Opener With TD, Safety

The Northville Mustangs opened the door twice when opportunity knocked last Friday night and turned back the Ypsilanti Roosevelt Rough Riders 8-0 in the season's initial game, under the lights at Ford Field.

Northville's points were the result of a touchdown by Tom Shrake in the last seconds of the first half and a blocked Ypsilanti punt which cost the Rough Riders two points.

After right halfback Dick Gray intercepted a Roosevelt pass on the 35-yard line and ran the ball back to the 14-yard marker, he collaborated with quarterback Tom Shrake on a pass which netted seven yards. A pair of line plays gained little ground, but with only two or three seconds left on the clock in the first half, Don Maclean took a hand-off from Leon Holman and pitched to Shrake, who fought his way around right end seven yards to score. The attempt for the extra point failed.

The safety came midway in the third quarter when most of the Mustang line broke through on the fifteen-yard stripe to smear an attempted Ypsilanti punt. The ball bounded back out of the end zone and added two points to the Northville total.

Shrake left the game in the last quarter with an injury which X-Rays disclosed to be a cracked bone near the knee, which may sideline him for the rest of the season. His loss will probably cause a shift in the Mustang lineup and some revision in plays since he was slated to do much of the passing and punting.

With Chuck Dickinson on the doubtful list with a twisted ankle, much of the passing and kicking duties will fall to Dick Gray and to prospects Coaches Al Jones and Dick Kay have in mind.

This first game was revealing to coaches and players alike. While the offense and defense were not super-smooth in their first encounter — first games rarely are — the team showed that it was head and shoulders above the Mustangs a year ago at this time. Defensive play was very effective. Conclusive evidence: Ypsilanti wound up with either a zero or negative mark for yards gained on the ground and not very much through the air. The Mustangs were on top in both departments.

Dick Gunsell, Del Black and Bob Pullen constantly bullied their way into the Roosevelt backfield to spoil plays and harass passers. Bob Cole effectively blocked his slot and Don Graham, Bob Prom and Howie Meyer let few plays get around them at the ends. Ken Rowe, playing center in his first year of football, paired with Gray.

The first quarter was a feeling-out period for both teams, with punt exchanges and little real activity. In the second quarter, Northville took the ball away from Ypsilanti on the 30-yard line and a Shrake-to-Meyer pass moved it to the 12. Gray picked up five and Dickinson added two, but Holman and Gray were stopped and the Mustangs lost the ball on the seven. Ypsilanti then rallied and staged a drive which netted them three first downs and moved the ball to the 41-yard stripe. It was there that Gray made the interception which set up Northville's TD.

Taking the ball in the second half, the Mustangs drove to the 33 but stalled. Shrake punted to the Roosevelt 23 and Bob Cole recovered a fumble on Ypsilanti's first play at the 20.

Shrake passed to Gray for five yards, but the Mustangs were penalized 15 yards for illegal use of the hands and Roosevelt intercepted a pass on the 35. Roosevelt tried a pass but missed, Black spilled the passer for a five-yard loss on the next play and Roosevelt was assessed 15 yards for illegal use of the hands, the ball coming to rest on the Ypsilanti 15. Then the Mustang line streamed through to stop the punt which resulted in the safety.

Roosevelt resorted to a passing attack in the last period which was successful in that most passes were completed, but unsuccessful in that the passer was chased ten to 20 yards back of the line of scrimmage before he could throw, the pass eventually netting little yardage. At one time Roosevelt had 45 yards to go to make a first down.

The game ended with Roosevelt in possession of the ball on Northville's 25.

Mustangs, Dexter Tangle Tomorrow

When the Northville Mustangs square off against Dexter High School tomorrow night (Friday) at Ford Field, it will be to wipe last year's 6-6 tie off the slate.

The Mustangs will have their work cut out for them, for they will be facing a heavier team than last Friday's opponent, Ypsilanti Roosevelt.

With weight against them, Northville gridders will have to outcharge Dexter linemen to hold their own. Another display of team spirit and the "fight" that was evident in the Roosevelt game will help.

Both touchdowns in last year's encounter were scored by the aerial route, Dexter getting their tally in the first half, and Northville coming back in the second.

NEWS and COMMENT FROM CONGRESSMAN GEORGE A. DONDERO

With the resignation of Louis Johnson, the President has seen fit to propose General George H. Marshall as the new Secretary of Defense.

The present law provides that no member of the Armed Services may head the Department of Defense within ten years after he has left the Service.

This means that General Marshall cannot legally accept the post offered him by the President, unless and until Congress acts to legalize the acceptance by revising the National Defense Act.

Now there is perhaps no other man in America whom I admire and respect more than I do General Marshall, as a good American and a great soldier.

But like most great soldiers, he is inclined to be inept as a politician, and inclined to carry his military ideas over into civilian life.

It should be recalled that General Marshall was sent to China by Secretary of State Dean Acheson. In China, Marshall did his best to carry out the disastrous policy of Communist appeasement initiated by Acheson and his advisors.

General Marshall obeyed orders, like a good soldier, but quite evidently he did not understand the implications of those orders. Either that or he chose to disregard those implications.

Either way, it seems to me that General Marshall then and there disqualified himself for the Defense Department post. This feeling on my part is intensified by the record he made while serving briefly as Secretary of State.

General Marshall did not make the effort that might have been expected of him to rid the State Department of Communists and fellow-travelers.

It is true that in his capacity as State Secretary and adviser to President Truman, Marshall did initiate the Marshall Plan, to fight the cold war by economic means. But the cold war was lost, chiefly because economic weapons were not enough, as we know now that Communism is on the march in Korea.

Louis Johnson lost his job as Secretary of Defense chiefly because he opposed Acheson's catastrophic policies in Asia. But General Marshall has always proved himself co-operative with Acheson, whatever may have been the latter's proposals.

Is there any reason, then, to think that Marshall would not continue to co-operate with Acheson? Would not Acheson then be free, with the President's consent, to continue the policies which have lost Asia to the Communists, and which have made Uncle Sam the laughing-stock of the world?

It strikes me that, in the Defense Department post, General Marshall would be in a position, with the best of intentions in the world, to undo still more of the good he accomplished as World War II chief of the Armed Services.

These are my reasons for joining in the general Republican opposition to the appointment of General Marshall as Secretary of Defense. Moreover, there are many able men available for the job, who could be depended upon to oppose the Acheson policies, which would seem calculated only further to weaken the military power and political prestige of the United States.

Safety Campaign

(Continued from Front Page) dividuals in your bracket (15-24), however, die every year in automobiles. Are you prepared to gamble 40 to 50 years of happiness against an hour of "excitement" in a fast, reckless ride?

2 Parents: Drive as you would have your child drive. Teach him correct attitudes when driving. If it becomes apparent to you that your son's or daughter's driving is immature, reckless, or indicative of an unhealthy attitude, it is your duty to him and to those whom he endangers to deny him use of the family car until he can demonstrate to your satisfaction that he has improved.

The State Safety Commission's traffic safety education program this month, dealing with child safety and the improvement of young drivers is being conducted in cooperation with the National Safety Council and is coordinated in Northville by the Police Department.

Ford To Receive Engine Contract

The U. S. Air Force announced today that a contract is expected to be signed this week with Ford Motor Company to build Pratt and Whitney 28-cylinder engines for B-36 bombers. The approximate 3,500 horsepower engine is known as model 4360.

The engines will be built in a government-owned plant at 7401 South Cicero, Chicago. "It will be known as the Ford Aircraft Engine plant."

Known as the Wasp Major, the Pratt and Whitney engine is the highest powered piston engine in the world and is the same type that powered the non-stop, round-the-world flight of the Lucky Lady II, which circled 23,452 miles around the globe in 94 hours.

In addition to the B-36, the engines are used in the B-50, the Boeing C-97 Stratocruiser, the Douglas C-74 and C-124, the Martin AM-1 Mauler, the P-4-M Mercator, and the Fairchild C-119.

Ford first was licensed to manufacture Pratt and Whitney aircraft engines during World War II. In a plant at the Rouge, it built 57,851 of the 2,000 horsepower Double Wasp engines before hostilities ended.

Industrial mobilization planning for construction of the big Pratt and Whitney engines began late in 1948 when, at the Air Force's suggestion, talks between Pratt and Whitney and several different automanufacturers were opened. Planning has continued steadily since 1949. Much of the preliminary work has been completed.

This is the initial step in a broad licensor - licensee program fostered by the Industrial Planning Division of Air-Material Command. Under the arrangement Pratt and Whitney will provide Ford with technical and manufacturing data as well as technical assistance in preliminaries to production. Ford will have complete responsibility for operating the plant.

Similar licensor - licensee agreements cover every critical aircraft component - such as air frames, power plants, propellers and other parts.

Urge Motorists To Have Car Check-Up

The electrical, lubrication and cooling systems of your automobile must be examined now for the cold weather ahead, and a check-up on the car's safety factors should be made at the same time.

This is the advice of E. L. Harrig, manager of the Chevrolet service and mechanical department, who urges every motorist to visit his dealer or service station in preparation for Fall and Winter.

"The advent of a new season brings new problems to motorists no matter what the climate of their localities is," says Harrig. "In some parts of the country it means coolness and increased rain; in others, below-zero temperatures. No matter what changes are expected, your car must be prepared."

The Fall checkup, as outlined by Harrig, should include: Examination of battery for potency, and of battery terminals and cables for corrosion and proper contact.

A change to winter-grade lubricants in crankcase, transmission and differential. Complete chassis lubrication.

A check on radiators for protection by anti-freeze liquid, whatever type is used, and on all hose connections to guard against leaks in the cooling system.

Inspection of the electrical system, to make sure spark plugs, cables and ignition system are functioning properly, with no loose wires or worn insulation that may cause trouble during cold weather.

"Every driver should contribute to traffic safety by periodic inspections," Harrig adds. "A safety check should include brake and steering gear inspection, and adjustment if necessary, examination of tires for anti-skid properties; and replacement of worn windshield-wiper blades to provide clear vision under all conditions."

Insurance Loans Aid Mich. Housing

Michigan property owners had $460,846,000 of their mortgage financing needs extended to them by the life insurance companies of the country at the start of this year, the Institute of Life Insurance reports. These real estate loans covered 61,070 individual mortgages in the state.

"This mortgage financing extended by the life companies has been an important aid in helping this state and the entire country meet the acute housing and construction need in the years which followed World War II," the Institute commented. "Nationally, the total funds loaned by U. S. life companies to property owners in the U. S. under mortgages nearly doubled in the four years and stood at $12,764,870,000 on 1,364,440 mortgages at the start of this year. That was a net increase of well over $6,000,000,000 in the four years. And of this aggregate, over three-fifths was on housing. Some 85% of the total number of mortgages was for housing, in large part relatively small value individual homes."

Of the total mortgages outstanding in this state with the life companies at the start of the year, $6,169,000 was on 1,080 farms; $159,830,000 was on 25,890 non-farm FHA insured homes; $55,391,000 was on 9,090 non-farm mortgages guaranteed by the Veterans Administration and $239,456,000 was on 25,010 other non-farm properties. The latter included both urban housing directly financed by the companies and commercial properties.

Nationally, the life companies of this country showed $1,131,050,000 extended under 150,850 farm mortgages; $3,449,519,000 under 497,290 non-farm FHA mortgages; $1,222,806,000 under 259,270 non-farm V. A. mortgages; and $6,961,495,000 under 457,030 other non-farm mortgages.

In addition to the real estate loans on these U. S. properties, the life companies of the country had an additional 16,260 mortgages in Canada and other areas where they do business, representing loans of $129,385,000. The aggregate mortgage investment of the life companies at the start of the year was $12,894,255,000 on 1,380,700 mortgages, an average of $9,340.
