Picard To Head '51 Polio Drive

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard, of Detroit, widely-known for his unselfish interest in civic and charitable activities, today was appointed Michigan State Chairman for the 1951 March of Dimes, it was announced by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Word of Judge Picard's appointment came as he presented a trophy bearing his name to Wilfred Devereaux, president of the Howell Junior Chamber of Commerce for winning a statewide Jaycee competition for excellence in fund-raising.

The Howell group won the trophy for its unique program during the 1950 March of Dimes, during which a record amount was raised for the National Foundation to fight Polio.

"I am very proud of the Jaycees of Howell, proud of every other Michigan community which opened its heart and pocketbook to help us in this fight against a dreadful disease," Judge Picard said.

"Paying the bills of Polio victims stricken in the 1949 epidemic and in this year's Polio season has taxed the resources of the National Foundation to the breaking point. It's a job that takes the kind of teamwork demonstrated by Jaycees throughout the state.

"No community can do the job alone as evidenced by the fact the National Foundation has granted more than $500,000 to Michigan chapters this year to give medical and hospital care to every person who needs it."

Judge Picard is a native of Saginaw and was a prominent athlete at the University of Michigan where he took his law degree.

Mustangs Defeat Inkster 12-0

Northville's Mustangs hung another pelt up to dry last Friday afternoon. They turned back a threatening Inkster Carver football team 12 to 0, in a game at Inkster, to register their sixth straight win this season.

Both scores came in the second quarter within minutes of each other. Fullback Leon Holman skirted left end for six yards, scoring behind perfect blocking, and Tom Shrake flipped a 13-yard pass to Dick Sands in the end zone for the second tally. Both conversion tries missed.

Northville's first TD was set up by a blocked kick on the Inkster six, but the second marker was earned the hard way, climbing a mixed passing and running attack that was good for 52 yards and ten more in penalties.

Inkster had four scoring chances in the second half, but on each occasion the Northville defense bristled and smashed the drives. Two of the chances were gifts, the result of low passes from center which nullified Shrake's attempts to punt.

The Mustangs muffed an early scoring opportunity when a fumble on the two-yard line ended a 43 yard march. Holman, Dick Gray and Oakley Shoemaker took turns with short, penetrating jabs which ate up yardage, but, after recovering the fumble on the two, Inkster moved the ball out of danger with two long runs.

After a punt exchange at midfield, Ratliff recovered an Inkster miscue. Three passes failed and Shrake punted 44 yards, to the Inkster three. After getting a first down, Inkster bogged down and elected to kick. The left side of the Northville line crowded through to smother the punt on the six, and Holman cut around left end on the first play to score.

Inkster could do nothing after the kickoff and punted to their 48. Gray picked up three yards and Shrake's aerial to Bob Prom connected, Prom going to the 17. The Mustangs drew a five-yard penalty for backfield in motion, then Shrake passed 16 yards to Sands. From the six, Gray was trapped for a short loss, and Northville drew another five-yard penalty. Then Shrake shot a pass into the end zone which Sands snared for the second score.

Taking the kickoff in the second half, Inkster staged a drive from their own 29 to the Northville 18, but were stopped hard. Northville couldn't go, and Shrake tried to run when a low center pass spoiled his punt attempt. Inkster took over on the 20 but driving tackles by Howie Meyer and Del Black shoved them back ten yards. Inkster punted into the end zone, Northville taking the ball on the 20. Shrake punted, and six plays later Inkster got down to the 10 yard line. This time it was Bob Pullen and Black who drove back the scoring threat. Northville took the ball, made seven yards, and another low pass from center put them in a hole on the 15.

The Northville defense tightened again and forced a fumble on the 12, which Black covered for the Mustangs. Shrake punted out of danger, and in the remaining minutes of the game, Gray intercepted a pass on the 47, and Inkster intercepted a Northville toss on the 27.

Both teams found the going hard on offense, but Northville's line had the defensive edge all the way. It was tough from center to the tackles, and although the speedy Inkster backs got around the ends in the early stages of the game, they soon ran up against ends which floated with the runs, sifting through interference and driving ball carriers out of bounds with small gains.

The Mustang ball carriers played their usual driving game, getting yardage when it was needed, and mixing in a passing attack which clicked when it had to.

Due to the sudden illness of Mrs. E. J. Willis, president of the "Southwestern Deanery", National Council of Catholic Women, Mrs. Owen J. Cleary first vice-president, assumed the duties of president during the National Convention held in Cleveland, October 14 to 20.

Bundle Day Drive Ends This Week

The current Save-The-Children "Bundle Day" clothing collection is turning up unsuspected treasures in bureau drawers, closets and attics here as school pupils carry on their search for little wearable garments for less fortunate children in the Northville community, U. S. A., and Europe. School principals, Elroy Ellison and Charles T. Pregitzer report that this is the final week of the drive which already has netted several bundles of useful clothing.

Although the real value of the clothing can be fully appreciated only by a child whose ragged clothes or need of shoes makes him ashamed to go to school, both principals said that the bundles now being brought in are of importance not only to educators interested in improving school attendance in isolated rural areas of America and overseas. They should be of importance to all persons interested in the health and welfare of the 185,000 children whom the Save the Children Federation will be able to help as a result of the nationwide Bundle Day program.

Clothing contributions should be wrapped in paper and outgrown shoes tied in pairs so that they cannot be separated and sent to the schools this week.

The Northville Citizens League - Non-Partisan points out that one of the major issues in the coming election for state and county officers is whether or not control of state affairs shall be turned over to the group known as Americans for Democratic Action. In order fully to understand this issue, it is necessary to know what the organization called ADA is and what it stands for.

The beginnings of this group can be traced to the swarm of Economic Planners which congregated in Washington in the early days of the New Deal. These men ranged from dark red revolutionary Communists to mild-mannered pink conversationalist reformers, including many well known and frankly admitted Socialists. The burden of their song was that the American system of free enterprise had failed and that only a Planned Economy could supplant it if America were to survive.

By 1936 the Congress of Industrial Organizations had demonstrated that it represented a potent force in political circles and Sidney Hillman was looming large as a political figure. It was around Henry A. Wallace, at first, that this swarm of Socialist Planners gathered, but Hillman soon moved into the picture. This philosophy, coupled with the magical proposals for more taxes and practically endless borrowing, brought the whole school of planning into official favor. From this point on this theory became the rallying point for every kind of left-winger, including the Communists who knew it wouldn't work save for a brief interval but who recognized it as a magnificent means of furthering the Russian brand of Socialism.

The first propaganda outlet for this Economic Planning group was the CIO Political Action Committee, organized in 1944 by Sidney Hillman. In this Committee, Socialists of every description—Planners and Communists by the thousands—were collected together.

In those days, the official propaganda put the OK stamp on the Communists. Russia was "democratic" and "peace-minded". After Roosevelt's death and Russia's stubborn rejection of agreements made during the war, Philip Murray, Walter Reuther and others who had been playing along with the Communists in the Political Action Committee turned their backs on their old colleagues. Henry Wallace was kicked out of the Department of Commerce and formed a third party (Progressive) which became so rabidly red that even he had to desert it, and it failed as a successor to the National Citizens Political Action Committee.

The next stage in this Economic Planning campaign was the formation in 1947 of the Americans for Democratic Action which has now become the propaganda machine for the Socialist plotters in this country. They do not acknowledge themselves as Socialists. But what is their program?

In their statement of policy dated March 2, 1948 they make it clear that there are areas of the economy which cannot be controlled while in private hands. These, they say, must be taken over by cooperatives operating under one of the government agencies or by full public ownership. They propose vigorous use of the power to tax and spend to shape and control the economic system and beyond that they advocate what they call "balanced production targets for the whole economy" through the use of "price, allocation, inventory and credit controls."

They say there must be "bold long range programs for the development of our resources, rebuilding of our cities, elimination of our slums and provision for full and equal opportunity for health, education and security"—by the Federal Government, of course. These are trade words used by the Socialist Planners. What they intend to do here is to "Socialize" America to the fullest possible extent. Their immediate goal is the socialization of medicine.

One of the local leaders (Wayne County) of the ADA is George Edwards who, under the New-Fair Deal set-up, is respected as a Detroit Councilman and who has been a candidate for Mayor of Detroit. This is the same George Edwards, who, in the early nineteen-thirties, showed his utter disrespect for the American way of doing things by openly defying the orders of American courts of justice during the days of the bandit-like sit-down strikes to the point where he was sent to jail for his contempt of the courts orders.

The American system of private enterprise WORKS! The Northville Citizens League knows that the system of tax and spend, tax and spend, control and control, does not and cannot work. Its only effect can be to destroy, to a very large degree, the initiative and the will to win of most of our citizens, so that they become subservient to the government instead of running the government for the real benefit of all of the people.

In an early release, the League will indicate which of the candidates it prefers in the coming election November 7, and will state its reasons for its preferences.

Offer Course for Cardiac Housewives

Housewives whose work capacity is limited by heart conditions are expected to benefit from a new demonstration-lecture course, "Work Simplification for the Cardiac Housewife," to be presented at Wayne University by staff members of the home-economics department beginning October 24.

To be admitted to the course, women should be recommended by their physicians to the Michigan Heart Association, which is sponsoring the course. The Association, located at 4421 Woodward, may be reached for more complete information at TEmple 1-6400. There is no enrollment fee.

The presentation will consist of meetings on two successive Tuesdays from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon. A duplicate course of instruction is planned for the same hours on Thursday, beginning October 26.

Techniques of work simplification to be taught were developed in a "cardiac-housewife" research project now in progress at the University under terms of a grant from the Association. Dr. John G. Bielawski, of Detroit, the Association's director of occupational cardiology, and Mrs. Frances G. Sanderson, associate professor of home-economics at Wayne, are directing the research.

The Michigan Heart Association is a member agency of the United Health and Welfare Fund of Michigan.

New MSC Chapel Is Officially Named

Alumni Memorial Chapel is the official name selected for Michigan State College's all-faith chapel, being built to honor Spartan alumni killed in all United States wars.

The name was chosen by the alumni advisory council at a Homecoming meeting, October 13. Work on the chapel, financed by alumni contributions of $175,000, started last week and is hoped that the structure will be completed by late spring.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

NON-PARTISAN NEWS LETTER

As the first frosts show on the pun'kin, political leaders attempt to tighten ranks for the forthcoming election. Democrats and Republicans are stomping the hunterlands, saving the congested areas until the last minute.

Political issues, as presented by Nominees Williams and Kelly, are along these lines: Democratic — The Republican "Old Guard" at Lansing are reactionary; kick the old fogeys out. Republican — The CIO is trying to take over state government; kick "Soapy" out. If you are in a mood to protest, you have an interesting choice.

Another crow in the pie is the reapportionment issue — being kept alive by Democrats who want a change in the system of representation. The conflict—now on the fire two years — boils around Democrat claims of apportionment by population, not area, which might give them an edge in Detroit.

New war note: although the draft is still the heavy news item so far as the military is concerned, an acute nursing shortage is foreseen by state officials. One spokesman points out: "....the present supply of 300,000 active nurses has been insufficient even for civilian needs...."

At the same time, the state medical society urges "A.S.T.P." doctors to volunteer. Medics in this category are those receiving training during World War II on government funds. "Eager Beavers" have been few.

Since the Korean war has looked better, emphasis has dropped off civilian defense in a typical American way. But Detroiters complain that the National Security Resources Board should have given them an idea of what to do in case of atomic attack. "Certainly," a spokesman said, "they should have told us what not to do."

Michiganites again are beginning to notice the credit curbs of wartime restrictions. While not too tough yet, they are reminded of the almost "no buying" policies their families adopted during those barren days.

But government officials in their battle against inflation still hope to hold the line through credit curbs. Will it work? Truman's new wage-price czar Alan Valentine (professor) may have new ideas — Truman pins his hopes on him, the public awaits his decisions.

But with the announcement of Valentine's appointment came the revelation that new restrictions could be expected, especially on down payments on homes, automobiles, refrigerators, TV sets and other luxury items. An indication of future action?

Meanwhile, one economist still says pay checks are tied directly to the price of bread . . . the big problem being, how to keep workers from feeling cheated when the cost of living is on a soaring spree.

College students may have new hope if the "superior ability" draft test is approved—and it has been accepted by the American council on education. "A properly safeguarded student deferment policy is in the national interest," the group agreed.

The Michigan Air National Guard has received the federal go-ahead to add more than 350 men for a new combat wing.

Driver education now has become of interest to automobile corporations. G.M. has taken a lead and produced a series of motion pictures and slide films for teaching high school pupils how to be good motorists.

You may get relief from that

MSC Coeds Invade Police Ad. Course

For the first time in its history, the Michigan State College department of police administration has opened its doors to women.

A new four-year course in crime prevention has been established which will permit the entrance of women into the department of police administration, Prof. Arthur Brandstatter, head of the department, said.

Although it allows coeds to study police work at MSC for the first time, the course is not designed specifically for women, and an equal number of men and women is expected to enroll.

In the planning stage since 1948, the program was established to fill a growing demand for trained personnel, particularly women, in the field of crime prevention.

"The course combines psychology and sociology with practical police skills such as criminal investigation, traffic, lie detection, forgery, juvenile justice and prison work," according to Robert H. Scott, associate professor of police administration and designer of the course.

"Graduates of the course will be concerned with the positive action of police in preventing crime at its source, and preventing children and youth from the tragedy of criminal careers that destroy themselves and society," he added.

A bachelor of science degree from MSC in police administration will be granted following 11 terms of academic study and two terms of practical training with Michigan law enforcement agencies.

BIBLE AND CONSTITUTION

Constitution Assures Citizen Law Under Bible Fundamentals

RELIGION is a personal and private matter. America, a religious nation, is devoutly grateful that its Constitution recognizes the need of each individual to worship God as his soul dictates and protects religious observance from political pressure.

The Constitution of the United States, universally regarded as the finest expression ever made of the determination of a free people to govern themselves and protect their liberties, was signed September 17, 1787, by the delegates to the convention called to draft it.

Approximately one month after this nation observes September 17, as Constitution Day, it begins an observance to honor another immortal document, or collection of divine law, history and inspiration—the Holy Bible. National Bible Week is October 16-22. Its purpose is to foster a greater study and reading of the Holy scriptures, reestablishing the fundamentals on which this country was founded.

One of these fundamentals, guaranteed by the Constitution, is freedom of religion. According to the first article of the Bill of Rights, congress cannot set up a national church, lay taxes to support one church or all churches. It cannot compel people to attend church or punish them for not attending. Although it appropriates money to support chaplains and rabbis in the armed forces and for a chaplain to say prayers for congress, this is not regarded as an "establishment of religion."

Still the cornerstone of our republic is a religious concept: that "every human being is endowed with a soul that is sacred in the eyes of a sovereign God."

and with the power to distinguish between right and wrong; that the judgement expressed by a majority of such divinely created human beings is likely to be closest to God's will for all of them; and that every mortal soul is endowed by its creator with certain natural inalienable rights that no human agency whatever can justly invade."

This great principle is common to all three of our great religious faiths—Protestantism, Catholicism and Judaism.

The relation of religion to government is expressed not only in the services and activities of our 231,000 places of worship, but in many other ways.

The sessions of both houses of congress, the supreme court, and our state legislatures are opened with prayer.

There are still millions of good American homes where grace before meals is not considered old-fashioned.

The juror swears with his hand on the Holy Bible, which is the world's best selling book. Every oath ends with the words, "So help me, God."

To a great extent, America was colonized by men and women who sought freedom from religious persecution.

The celebrated Mayflower Compact, called by many the forerunner of the Constitution, was signed "in the presence of God and one of another."

World War II gave currency to a great truth—"There are no atheists in foxholes." In the armed forces, the only flag ever raised above the national emblem is the chapel pennant with the cross.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

Special Week Honors Girl Scout Founder In the United States

THIS YEAR the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. are observing Girl Scout week, October 29-November 4, to celebrate the birthday of Juliette Low, founder of girl scouting on October 30 and to demonstrate to the public the various aspects of the Girl Scout program.

Girl scouting got its start in England a year after the founding of the Boy Scout movement. Baden-Powell, Boy Scout founder, formed another group, the Girl Guides, probably at the prompting of his wife. She aided his organization of the Girl Guides.

It was in 1909 that the first Girl Guide troop was organized. In 1910, troops were formed in the Union of South Africa, Australia and Finland.

The idea interested an American woman, Mrs. Juliette Low, while she was in Great Britain, and when she returned to Georgia in 1912, she formed a troop in Savannah. The following year, she opened a national headquarters in Washington, D.C., and hundreds of groups were formed across the United States. The American troops called themselves Girl Scouts.

The ideology of the Girl Scouts is similar to that of the Boy Scouts. They are taught ways of living the outdoor life, and they learn the rules of safety and health. They are expected to be loyal, cheerful, thrifty, truthful, polite and helpful.

Their leaders try to promote good will between nations, and they study the ways of people in other countries. Their ideal is a friendly and peaceful world.

The charities that soothe, and deal, and bless, lie scattered at the feet of men like flowers.

Judge not without knowledge, nor without necessity, and never without charity.

Wouldn't it be swell if the honeymoon never ended?

CARD OF THANKS

Brownie Troops One and Two wish to thank Jones Floral and Rucker's Gardens for the flowers used in the corsages for the Harvest Festival.

Eastern Honeymoon Follows Robinson-Irland Nuptials

Before an altar flanked with white chrysanthemums, nuptial vows were repeated by Dorothy May Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson of Taft Road and Wayne Arthur Irland. Father L. Graven officiated at the 11:00 ceremony solemnized at the St. Williams Church in Walled Lake, October 21.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gownned in a white satin creation fashioned with a cathedral train. The mandarin neckline and flared peplum was accented by a band of seed pearls. A heart shaped head piece of satin held her finger tip veil in place and a sheaf bouquet of white mums completed her ensemble.

The bride was preceded to the altar by Rose Bundoff of Farmington, who performed the duties of maid of honor.

Her satin gown of Nile green was styled with a fitted bodice and the full skirt fell over a hoop. She wore a matching head piece and a bouquet of yellow mums completed her attire.

Mrs. Ralph Bidwell (Madeline Robinson) of Farmington and Agnes Birchmeier, of New Lothrop, cousin of the bridegroom, attended as bridesmaids. They chose identical gowns of American beauty satin, fashioned in a style similar to the maid of honor's. Their hats of American beauty satin matched the gowns in color and lavender mums composed their sheaf bouquets.

Acting as best man was Lawrence R. Irland of New Lothrop, and seating the guests were James J. Bundoff of Farmington and Richard Robinson of Northville.

In the receiving line was Mrs. Frank Robinson, mother of the bride, attired in a dress of aqua crepe with an orchid pinned to her shoulder. Also accepting congratulations was Mrs. Emma Birchmeier, grandmother of the bridegroom.

Methodist Church Is Scene Of Rapson-Wick Nuptials

The First Methodist Church Saturday evening was the scene of the marriage of Jeanette L. Rapson and Fred D. Wick. Jeanette's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rapson of Merriman Court, Farmington, and Fred's mother and father are Mr. and Mrs. F. Wick of 230 Fairbrook Road.

Candelabra and baskets of white and yellow chrysanthemums formed the setting for the single ring service, which was read by Rev. William A. Johnson. Virginia Rapson, aunt of the bride, sang, "Oh Promise Me" and "No Tomorrow."

Escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride wore a white satin brocade gown designed with a yolk of nylon illusion and full skirt which fell into a train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a heart-shaped band and she carried a bouquet of white roses and bebe chrysanthemums.

Martha Rapson of Merriman Court, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Fred's sisters, Joyce and Shirley Wick of Fairbrook Road. They were attired in identical taffeta gowns which were fashioned with boat-necklines, bertha collars and bouffant skirts. Martha's gown was emerald green, Joyce's shrimp pink, and Shirley's was peacock blue. The bridal attendants wore heart-shaped bonnets to match their gowns and carried bouquets of white and yellow chrysanthemums.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Jim Wick, and seating the guests were Charles Flory of Ferndale, Bill Holman of Plymouth and Tom Wick of Fairbrook Road.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rapson chose a wine frock with black accessories. Mrs. Wick wore an aqua dress with black accessories. Both mothers pinned corsages of white chrysanthemums to their shoulders.

A reception for 200 guests followed at the I. O. O. F. Hall in Farmington. Mrs. Bill Holman (Marie Wick) of Plymouth and Mrs. Charles Flory of Ferndale, sisters of the bridegroom and bride, respectively, cut the wedding cake.

Following the reception, the young couple left on a week's wedding trip to northern Michigan. For traveling, the bride changed to a wine suit with black accessories. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends at 515 Novi avenue.

Once Over Seedbed Operation Cuts Cost New Method Eliminates Extra Tillage Steps

Giving the soil a "once-over" seedbed preparation can help cut down crop production costs by eliminating extra tillage steps while still maintaining high yields, according to Michigan State College agronomists.

The agronomists found that plowing, packing and planting in one operation produced as high yields of small grains, sugar beets and corn on soil of good tilth, as did conventional seedbed preparation that included double disking and spike-tooth harrowing.

The "once-over" method permitted quicker planting, because less time was needed to get seed into the ground. It means a saving in time, labor and tractor fuel. Two disking and two harrowing operations were eliminated. Another advantage was that the soil had greater water storage capacity, for the tilth was not broken down by excessive tillage.

Maintaining tilth is vital in crop production, these agronomists say, because loose, grainy soils give a good contact between the soil and the seed. That makes it easier for roots to reach plant nutrients, air and water.

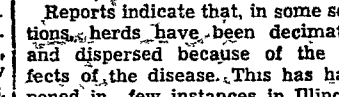

X-Disease Appears Among Illinois Cattle

A comparatively new disease, hyperkeratosis, or x-disease, has been recognized in 37 or more states, the journal of American Veterinary Medical Association reports.

Reports indicate that, in some sections, herds have been decimated and dispersed because of the effects of the disease. This has happened in few instances in Illinois, but in the southern states the disease apparently has assumed a more malignant form and constitutes a more serious problem than elsewhere.

The morbidity, while unpredictable, may be high. Young cattle appear to be more susceptible than older ones and the death rate among them is higher. While in the U. S. bureau of animal industry report, beef cattle were more frequently involved than dairy animals, the disease has been seen almost equally among the two types in Illinois.

The cause, as indicated by the name "x-disease", is unknown.

The U. S. department of agriculture reports a decrease in farm population from 1910 to 1950 of over four million. From 1916 to 1930, the number of persons living on farms decreased each year except during the recession years of the early 1920's and during 1925.

In the depression of the early 30's 11 million left farms, totaling 32.0 million in 1933. The principal reason for this increase was a cutting down of migration away from farms. After 1933, the number of persons on farms decreased yearly through 1945.

During World War II the rate of decrease grew as large numbers of people left farms for the cities or went into the armed forces. By 1945, only 25.2 million persons lived on farms.

After the war, farm population increased substantially for two years, but since then, the changes have been slight. Farm population appears to have leveled off about half-way between its prewar size and the wartime low.

Colonel Rhys Davies Declares "Democracy Needs No Propaganda"

By ALICE NEWTON

Colonel Rhys Davies, who has visited many countries, including those behind the Iron Curtain, told the Northville High school students Tuesday about socialism, communism, and democracy. England's situation and actions arise from conditions we can't begin to realize, said Colonel Davies. Their socialism, socialized medicine and other economic problems are largely the outcome of overcrowding. They have 600 persons per square mile as compared to our 40 persons per square mile. Although they are excellent farmers they can produce only one-third of the food needed by their fifty million people.

In Russia, as in England, situations exist which we know little about. The "Bolshevik" or ruling party have excellent education, enjoy large homes, automobiles, and bank accounts. But the remaining ninety per cent of the people, many of whom are Christians, hate the terrorism under which they live. Human life is held cheap. The speaker reported an incident in which a worker, injured in a fall, was shot by the Soviet doctor who was called to treat him. Epidemics are controlled by killing persons who are infected. Such statements bear little resemblance to the usual Soviet propaganda.

However, said Colonel Davies, democracy needs no propaganda. The truth spreads fast. The news of the Korean victory gave many little countries renewed courage to resist communism, because they know they aren't alone in the fight. Thus the Communists learn the truth is more effective than propaganda. The destiny of the world depends largely on us. We must recapture the spirit of the American pioneers who built a nation, to undertake the biggest job of building a world.

Editor's Note: Alice is a member of the senior class at Northville High school.

Coeds Try New Sport at MSC

Michigan State College coeds will have a chance to combine "mind and muscles" this fall when they take a whirl at world-famous Swedish mass calisthenics.

The new program at MSC is believed to be the only one of its kind being conducted at any U. S. college, according to Dr. Lydia Lightning, head of the department of women's physical education.

One of Sweden's foremost women physical educators, Kirsten Hardenberg, has been appointed for a year to teach the new gymnastics course, European folk dancing, skiing and ice-skating, Dr. Lightening said.

Far from a builder of "muscle-women", the Swedish system is designed to produce mentally and physically fit women—not athletes—who are able to take their places as individuals in a complex society.

"Basically, the Swedish program includes mind-body coordination through rhythmic gymnastics," Miss Hardenberg said, "with naturalness of movement and individual development emphasized rather than regimental precision."

Miss Hardenberg was graduated from the University of Uppsala, Sweden, and received an advanced degree from the Royal Swedish Institute of Gymnastics. She was a member of Sweden's gymnastic team which participated in the 1936 Olympic games at Berlin, Germany.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Birmingham — "Everybody wins" was the kernel of the message given United Foundation volunteers as the local campaign opened with a "kickoff luncheon" at the Community House.

Wayne — Wayne will have the most colorful and widespread celebration of the Christmas season in the community's history—judging plans already being put in the works by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Plymouth — Building plans are underway for the new Plymouth plant of the Barnes-Gibson-Raymond division of the Associated Spring corporation which will be constructed on Plymouth road just east of Whitman-Barnes.

Rochester — Meadowbrook Farm, out on Pontiac road, has loaned the village of Rochester a fire fighting apparatus with which to help defend the village in case of a bombing attack, it was announced today by Village Manager Robert Stone.

Plymouth — Farmers around Plymouth and other sections of western Wayne county are so enraged at so-called Detroit "sportsmen" that there has been hints of organizing a hunting club to hunt hunters—with rock salt shot.

Birmingham — Birmingham Methodists have but to pledge less than $16,000 more to reach their current $120,000 goal for funds for construction of a new church at W. Maple and Pleasant, an analysis of the fund drive shows this week.

Rochester — When the fire siren blows at 7 p. m. on Halloween October 31 several flares will be lighted in front of every home and every business place in the village—as well as the line of March of the Parade of the Celebrants.

Farmington — Farmington's air spotter station will be located at Springbrook Gardens Greenhouse, Powers avenue north of Shiawassee, in the City of Farmington, Thomas Tardy, director of the ground observation post, announced this week.

Howell — At a board of directors meeting of the Livingston county chapter of the American Red Cross it was decided to participate in the nation-wide whole program, set up by the National Civilian Defense, and directed by the Red Cross.

South Lyon — The coming November election should prove to be an interesting one for the people of South Lyon. Four candidates have entered the race for Mayor. They are: the incumbent, James Calhoun, Rex Kinne, E. P. Wynings and Irving DeFree.

Wayne — Continuing the modern trend toward federation, and in order to obtain relief from the multiplicity of campaigns in this area, the Board of Directors of the Wayne Community Chest has combined their annual drive with the United Foundation Campaign.

Farmington — Safety of school youngsters will be included in the study to be made by a Citizens' Committee of the Farmington Township School District when it is organized in the near future, it was announced at a recent meeting of the Board of Education.

Howell — In a series of six week-end automobile accidents, one of which involved six vehicles, three persons were killed and 10 others received injuries, some of which are serious. A Detroit couple and a 10-year-old from San Souci, near Algonac, were those who died.

Brighton — Burglars entered the Douglas hardware store and made off with a quantity of hunting equipment. At Rolison's entrance was made by breaking a window on the west side and using a ladder. Two 12-gauge shotguns and two .22 rifles, a quantity of ammunition, and an archery set were taken.

Chelsea — Work on the storm sewer installation in the southwest part of the village was begun last week at the intersection of Grant and Lincoln streets, where it connects to the trunk-line sewer. The Schaffer Lumber company of Manchester is doing the job under contract which calls for completion in 30 days.

Grand High Priest

FRED W. MOORE
Flint Mason

Flint Man Heads
Royal Arch Masons

The third Flint Mason to serve Michigan Royal Arch Masons, Fred W. Moore, a Buick Motor Company executive, was elevated to the position of Grand High Priest at Detroit, October 21. He will head Michigan's 155 Chapters, and more than 32,000 Royal Arch Masons in the State.

He has been in the Grand Chapter line since 1942 and has been a Mason since May 23, 1913, when he was raised to the Third Degree by Lake City Lodge, No. 408 at Cadillac.

Of a Masonic family, Moore's father, George F. Moore, was active in the Craft, belonging to Lodge, Chapter, Commandery, and Consistory. Born at Cadillac, Michigan, March 22, 1888, the new Grand High Priest is the son of George and Jeannette Murphy Moore.

As a boy he attended high school at Jennings, Michigan, and was later educated at the General Motors Institute and the American School of Technology at Chicago.

A veteran of World War I, Moore has been active in the American Legion since the 20's. Shortly after the Armistice he was married on January 23, 1919, to Gertrude Mary Hillier. They have one daughter, Marjorie Jane Voelker.

Among his Masonic affiliations are Washington Chapter No. 15 at Flint, where he served as High Priest in 1929, Flint Council, No. 56, and Genesee Valley Commandery, No. 15.

Bay City's Scottish Rite claimed his attention in the fall of 1949. Moore also holds affiliation with Elif Knurafah Temple at Saginaw and he received the Order of High Priesthood in 1930. In addition to his Masonic interests he spends leisure hours with the Industrial Executive Club, the Flint Chamber of Commerce and the Old News Boys' Association.

When you go for the annual checkup, why is it that the doc himself weighs and measures you, counts your pulse, takes your blood pressure, and performs other simple rites that any technician could do as well, but sends you to a girl when blood must be drawn, cardiographs made, and metabolism tests taken?

Gossip is like muddy water. Let it stand and it'll settle in a hurry.

If you're homey, why not try soap, fresh air, comfortable shoes, and a long walk?

Detroit Tigers In Dearborn Program

Frontline stars of the 1950 Detroit Tiger baseball team will come to Dearborn on November 10 for a special baseball program in behalf of the Jackie Beadle Benefit Fund.

Led by Harry Heilmann, veteran sports announcer and former Tiger "great" the group will include third baseman George Kell, outfielder Hoot Evers, second basemen Jerry Priddy, pitcher Fred Hutchinson, and outfielder Charlie Keller. They are on a post-season "barnstorming" tour of Michigan cities sponsored by the Goebel Brewing Company of Detroit and Muskegon.

Heilmann and the players will first visit the Veterans Hospital for a noon luncheon program. Later some 800 fans are expected to jam the Knights of Columbus Hall for an 8:00 p. m. meeting to see and hear Heilmann and the players in a baseball show.

A charge will be made for the evening meeting with all proceeds being turned over to the Jackie Beadle Benefit Fund. Tickets are available through the officers of the Beadle Fund.

The committee in charge of the program is headed by Hal Brink, Chairman, assisted by James A. Julian, Co-Chairman, Glen Gilum, Mrs. Mildred Hayden, and Mrs. Charlotte DeWoody. NHS, Clarenceville Battle Tomorrow

The Mustangs will try for their seventh straight football victory when they travel to Clarenceville tomorrow in an afternoon game scheduled for 3:30. Clarenceville High School is located on Middle Belt Road between Seven and Eight Mile Roads.

After Clarenceville comes the game everyone has been waiting for—against the Plymouth Rocks under the lights at Ford Field. The Mustangs will wind up the season the following Friday in another home game against the Lions of South Lyon.

Dick Gussell may see some action in the Plymouth game if his injured knee heals in time, but there is a good chance that he will have to watch the game from the side lines.

Tom Shrake made his first appearance in a game last Friday after being out with a knee injury in the season opener against Ypsilanti Roosevelt.

Teaming with Dick Gray, his return gives Northville a double threat in the punting and passing departments.

Bob Pullen is still wearing the cast on his arm, and Johnny Ratliff, injured in pre-season practice, saw action last week. And many others are carrying their lumps and stitches from game to game.

Reid Is Candidate for State Senator

Clarence A. Reid, 16155 Northlawn, Detroit, is closing his fifth campaign for State Senator in the 18th senatorial district, largest in Michigan in population, representing nearly 750,000 people. His district embraces all of the 16th, 18th and the north tips of the 8th and 12th wards, including the cities of Highland Park, Plymouth, Northville and the townships of Livonia and Redford.
Sen. Reid, always a Republican and a candidate again on that ticket, first served this district in 1940 and continued for a period of eight years. During his prolonged stay in the senate he became a recognized leader whose opinions were constantly sought by colleagues and governors.
Sen. Reid is a veteran of the first World War, is married, and the father of three grown children. He is bitterly opposed to the steady, cancerous growth of communism and socialism in our government and says he will fight these "isms," which have no place here, with all his might and main.
