

BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL OUTLOOK FOR 1951

By ROGER W. BABSON

SPECIAL EXCLUSIVE

The United Nations will withdraw from Korea during 1951. The United States in 1951 will have the largest National Income of its history.

1. Excluding defense orders, the total business volume in 1951 will be less than that for 1950. However, National Income in 1951 will be the highest ever recorded, as war orders take the place of peace production and high prices prevail.

MORE GOVERNMENT CONTROLS COMING

2. The outstanding feature of 1951 will be the ever-increasing interference of the government in the lives of businessmen and consumers.

3. The Administration and its economic advisors are firmly convinced that radical inflation is about to break out next year. But the "brain trusters" are overlooking the fact that the boom is already old and that it is creaking badly when the Korean War broke out. War postponed the downturn which would have taken place much sooner. The date of the slide has only moved ahead.

4. Rushing to catch up on its neglected defense program, the Administration is anxious to shrink business volume to an unnecessary degree. Efforts at first will be along the line of tighter credit curbs, such as restrictions on mortgage and installment loans and increased bank reserve requirements.

5. As 1951 wears on, the effect of credit controls will cause a decline in legitimate business. Civilian production will decline more than armament production will increase. The public may then cry, "This is a government-made slump; let's get rid of the controls!"

6. If in 1951 it becomes evident that business is declining too fast as a result of government curbs, the planners at Washington may rush their patient into an oxygen tent.

LABOR OUTLOOK WILL CONTINUE TIGHT

7. Most labor groups will not be successful in getting a sixth round of wage increases in 1951. Although there may be more strikes in the first part of 1951, there will be fewer for the whole year as compared with 1950.

8. Tightness in the labor supply will be continued as the year wears on, particularly of highly-skilled workers.

9. The Taft-Hartley Law will not be repealed during 1951 but may be amended. The Administrators of the law will continue to wink at some of its clauses.

COMMODITY PRICES WILL REMAIN FIRM

10. Wholesale prices of many commodities will be marked by a mild decline in 1951 when compared with the price level for December 31, 1950. In some lines the drop may be quite steep from the high levels of late 1950. Retail prices for 1951, I do not now forecast.

11. The year 1951 should prove an excellent time to keep a tight grip on inventories. Commodity speculation for the rise will not pay in 1951. Furthermore, our expanding stockpiles of strategic materials present a real price threat in the event of a peace scare. Such stockpiles could then act strongly as a depressant on prices.

12. The cost of living will remain high during 1951. This prediction recognizes that living costs next year may be above the lower levels that existed during the first half of the year now closing.

FARM OUTLOOK GOOD

13. Farmers' income for 1951 should average no less than that for 1950. Since the trend in the first half of 1950 was down, this forecast is not so optimistic as it might otherwise seem, for there is likely to be a weakening of the farmers' income position during the latter part of 1951.

14. Barring crop failures, the total supply of food available should be larger in 1951 than for 1950, since the government will raise planting quotas as part of its attack on inflation. If the weather is extremely favorable, the government will be blamed for farm-price weakness during the latter part of 1951.

15. With prospects good for a rising supply of feed grains, meat should be more plentiful next year than in 1950. Prices for meat, however, will be held up by continued high National Income and by military needs.

TAXES WILL BE HIGHER

16. The burden of federal taxes, both corporate and personal, will be increased again in 1951. State and municipal taxes will remain high.

17. There will be an excess profits tax in 1951. These excess profits taxes will be milder than those in force during World War II, but they will be inflationary and retard efficiency, economy and incentive.

18. There will be heavy pressure for increased federal "sales taxes" to discourage purchasing of luxury and certain nonessential goods. Congress will see the value of some such sales taxes as an inflation road block.

19. States and municipalities will again be under pressure to find adequate sources of revenue. Further increases in such taxes can be looked for next year with additional cities and/or states adopting sales taxes.

20. Despite renewed efforts to increase the long-term capital gains tax above the present 25% figure, rates will remain unchanged.

DOMESTIC TRADE WILL BE LESS

21. Credit curbs will cut into the demand for automobiles and household equipment. Completions of fewer dwellings will also act as a damper on furniture sales.

22. Falling demand for hard goods should mean a stabilization of the public's spending for food and lower-priced soft goods.

23. The trend forecast in No. 22 will mean a decline in department store volume, but I predict a rise in the sales of variety chains and of drug chains.

FOREIGN TRADE OUTLOOK FAIR

24. Barring new war developments, I look for continued shrinkage in our exports during 1951. Imports, however, should rise further. Total foreign trade should not be much changed, but the exporters will be on the short end of this business with the importers gaining.

25. It will become more difficult to convince Congress that additional heavy credits should be granted abroad except for war supplies.

26. As was the case this year, many domestic manufacturers will feel increasing competition from foreign merchandise. The cry for increased tariff protection will be heard again in the land.

27. Business and financial forecasts for next year are NOT based on the thought that World War III will start in 1951. Russia is certainly heading for war, but we do not believe she now wants it in Europe. She will be satisfied to have her satellites continue taking unexpected jabs at us, while the Politburo boys hand out the soothing syrup. But we may see another episode like "Korea" in 1951.

MORE DEFICIT FINANCING AFTER JUNE 30, 1951

28. The first half of 1951 may actually see a budget surplus as a result of high National Income and increased taxation. Later, if Congress goes along with the Administration's plans for huge rearmament, a federal deficit will arise during the last half of the year.

29. As a result of the preceding prediction, money supplies should not begin to rise until after business has turned down. Increases at such a time are not likely to have much effect on prices.

30. Government bonds will be held tightly between the floor of Federal Reserve support purchases and the ceiling of Federal Reserve anti-inflation sales. Under such conditions, price changes should be negligible.

31. A great deal will be heard in 1951 about giving the Federal Reserve Board powerful controls over member bank loaning policies. Congress is not likely to pass such controls, however, unless commodity prices go a lot higher, or World War III comes.

STOCK MARKET AND BOND OUTLOOK UNCERTAIN

32. I see nothing now to indicate that we are entering a period of improved international relations. The danger of war remains. Until it disappears, wise people will move out of large bomb-vulnerable cities and avoid having investments in such areas.

"Letters To Santa" Abundantly Filled

Christmas morning was very merry at the Wm. H. Maybury Sanatorium Children's Unit. Santa Claus, in a bright new suit, greeted as many of the patients as could gather in the auditorium, passing out gifts, and then made rounds from bed to bed, with his pack of presents, enough for all. Following and during the traditional package opening, Dr. Howard described the fun over the new intra-sanatorium radio system, speaking especially for parents in the Main Building, whose children were at the Unit and, when feasible, allowing those youngsters to speak to their parents over the new hookup.

That Santa's pack was full, and that each child had a gift of his choice was possible through the generosity of the Northville residents who accepted Santa letters. The Administration, Doctors and Nurses of the Maybury Sanatorium take this means to thank each one who acted in the capacity of Santa and contributed to the Christmas pleasure of the patients at the Unit. They wish each one of the "Santas" could have attended the Christmas morning party to enjoy with the children these gifts. They wish to extend their gratitude also to the Northville Rotary Club for distributing the letters and to Mrs. George Chabut, loyal organizer of the "Letters to Santa" project.

The Patriotic Club will meet with Mrs. Amelia Ford of West street on Thursday, January 4. Bring your own lunch and table service. Also please bring prizes for games.

Rotarians Invited To Jan. 1 Breakfast

As is the annual custom, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Angove, of West Main street, will open their home on New Year's Day to members of the Rotary Club for their annual breakfast.

Rotarians are invited to the breakfast from 9:00 to 11:00 a. m. Assisting Mrs. Angove in serving the sumptuous breakfast will be her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Edward Angove, and several other ladies from the village.

Methodists To Join in Peace Prayer

Local Methodists will join Sunday (December 31) with the denomination's nearly nine million members in a national mid-century prayer for peace, it was announced today by the Rev. William A. Johnson, pastor of First Methodist Church.

He said the call to special prayer was sounded by the Methodist Council of Bishops and the church's General Board of Evangelism in view of the "exceptionally grave condition of the world today."

In a letter to pastors of 42,000 Methodist Churches, the board urged every congregation to unite in "a chain of prayer on Mid-Century Sunday, beseeching God's guidance in converting a world crisis to a just and lasting peace."

Declaring that "mankind's hope for freedom is in desperate jeopardy," the plea for prayer coincided with a similar request by the president of the new National Council of Churches, Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, of New York. He urged all Protestants to offer prayers on December 31 for "a peace which is the fruit of righteousness."

The letter to pastors, stressing individual and group participation, stemmed from the following call by Methodist bishops: "With a sense of deep urgency we call our fellow Methodists and all others who will join us in special prayer."

"Let us pray daily for the leaders of our country and of the United Nations, that God will give them wisdom and courage to seek and to do His will."

"Let us pray for all who are under the shadow of war; for those who do battle for us... the homeless, the hungry, the children. Let us pray for our enemies that God may lead them in the way of righteousness and peace."

Annual Dad's Night To Offer Recreation

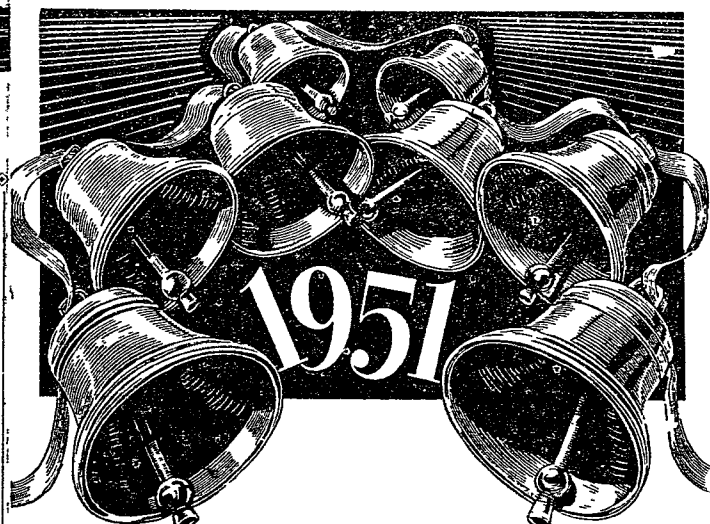

The Northville Recreation Committee is sponsoring a "Dad's Night" to be held Friday, December 29 from 7:00 to 9:30 p. m. in the Recreation Building, corner of Dunlap and Hutton streets. Special guests for the occasion will be chairman of the Recreation Committee, Orson Atchinson and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Willis who will award the prizes.

Highlights of the evening will be Bill Watson and his trick dog, Speigles. This German Shepherd is well known throughout this area for his unusual intelligence, obedience and trick ability. Other features of the evening's activities include several rounds of boxing which will be followed by impromptu exhibitions and the finals of the ping-pong tournament.

The primary purpose of this event is to acquaint fathers with recreational facilities available to Village boys. Progressive billiards, steel darts, BB gun target practice, table tennis and various other games will be open for father-boy participation.

All dads are cordially invited to attend this annual affair. Come, bring your son, and have a good time!

Mrs. Robert Breitner of North Rogers Street was the lucky winner of the Food Basket at the drawing held Friday, December 22. The project was sponsored by the Northville Mother's Club.

Dr. Brown To Head Mental Hospital

Announcement has been made that Dr. Philip N. Brown, now assistant superintendent at the Ypsilanti State Hospital, will be the medical superintendent at the Northville State Hospital.

The announcement was made by Charles F. Wagg, State Mental Health Director and Brown's appointment is effective April 1, 1951. A graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School, Dr. Brown, aged 42, has been on the Ypsilanti staff since 1935. He is certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.

Because of rising construction costs, bids for the staff housing project at the Northville State Mental Hospital exceeded the $200,000 appropriations by $89,307. A. N. Languis, building director, stated that he feels sure that the state won't recommend awarding of a contract on that basis. Low bids for the housing facility for 50 persons were submitted by O. W. Burke Co., Detroit, $219,800 for general construction; James W. Portland, Detroit, $58,720 for mechanical work; Edwin H. Dean, Garden City, $10,787 for electrical installations.

San To Operate New Radio Station

Radio Station WHMS was formally inaugurated at the Wm. H. Maybury Sanatorium Tuesday evening, December 19. This installation is the fulfillment of many years of patient and ex-patient endeavor to provide a good intra-sanatorium radio system. Broadcasting can now be done from several parts of the building, affording opportunity for entertainment, radio educational courses and church services to reach each patient.

The annual Maybury Fair has provided most of the money needed for the purchase of station WHMS. The proceeds of the first Maybury Fair amounted to more than $500.00. When the needs of the Goodfellows Club were taken care of, the balance was put into the bank, under a trusteeship. Each year the Fair has been bigger and better and this year the proceeds were nearly $2000.00.

Broadcasting Tuesday night, as the opening number was the Northville Presbyterian Choir, under the direction of Wm. G. Williams, singing Christmas carols. Al Wistert and Julie Franks participated in a lively discussion of Michigan team and Rose Bowl chances. The appearance of Julie Franks was of interest to all patients as following 1942 when he was a member of the All-American team, he had tuberculosis with a stay at the University Hospital. He progressed well and now is finishing Dental School at the University of Michigan. He expects to graduate in June 1951.

Dr. W. Leonard Howard greeted the patients and gave a resume of the efforts to accomplish the station installation, with credit going to Mr. Donald Nutten and his craftsmen, Samuel Geraci, for electrical work, John Glendenning for liaison work, and Marjorie Owens as director of the Maybury Fair for many years. Richard Lea, of the T.B. and Health Association of Detroit, spoke of the T.B. Seal Sale. The Northville Barbershoppers climaxed the evening's fun, harmonizing until the conclusion of the program.

Mrs. E. B. Cavell of Griswold Avenue plans to leave about January 10 for an extended visit with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Casady in San Diego, Calif.

Aliens Must File Current Address

The local postmaster, Leland Smith, has received a notice from Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, stating that aliens residing in the United States January 1, 1951 must report his current address to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

All aliens residing in the United States on January 1, 1951, except aliens temporarily admitted to the United States who have not overstayed their authorized period of admission and students whose period of admission has not yet expired and who have not violated any of the conditions of their admission, must report. This includes aliens who have begun naturalization proceedings which are not yet completed. McGrath's bulletin states that if you have any doubt concerning your status you should file an address report.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service has prepared a form for submitting the address report, and it may be secured from any post office in the United States. The form must be filled out with alien registration number and other necessary information. The card should then be returned to the post office which will see that it is forwarded to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Aliens should not mail the Address Report Card. They must report ten days after January 1, 1951, and during the same period each year thereafter.

Chevrolet Sponsors Radio, TV Series

K. L. Rathburn announces that one of the most vitally important radio and television features of this mid-century year, with important radio reporters from all over the world participating in person at New York, in a discussion of "The Challenge of the '50s - years of Crisis," will be sponsored at the year's end by the Chevrolet dealers over the nationwide network of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The program is to be for a full hour on both radio and television. On the C.B.S. radio network it will be broadcast from 3:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. on Sunday, December 31. The C.B.S. television network will carry the feature from 1:30 p. m. to 2:30 p. m. on New Year's Day, January 1st.

Ten of Columbia's best known foreign correspondents and news analysts will be in New York, the majority flown from their far-flung posts especially for the broadcast. Heading the group and acting as chairman will be Edward R. Murrow, crack CBS news reporter and analyst.

Recorded interviews with prominent statesmen from all over the world will add dramatic interest. The program will give a roundup of facts and opinions from the entire world concerning the critical condition of civilization today, where we have been during the past year and the outlook for the future.

The radio reporters on the program, in addition to Murrow, and the areas of the world they cover are: Howard K. Smith, European news chief, London; Bill Costello, Korea, Tokyo, Philippines, Indo-China, India; David Schoenbrun, France, Portugal, Spain and North Africa; Richard C. Hottelet, Germany; Winston Burdett, Rome, Greece, Yugoslavia; Ned Palmer, Latin America and Puerto Rico; Eric Severid and Charles Collingwood, Washington; and Harry LeSeuer, United Nations.

Longer Machine Life from Care

Farm machinery will probably become an even more vital part of the farm business in the coming months, say Michigan State College agricultural engineers.

They advise taking good care of your present equipment through regular servicing and lubrication.

On all machines, the bearings are critical parts. Follow the manual in its recommendations for greasing. Replacement of worn parts will help the machine to function better and longer.

ON CAPITOL HILL

NEWS and COMMENT
 FROM CONGRESSMAN
GEORGE A. DONDERO

Everybody knows that nowadays the federal tax burden is heavy. But few, it would seem, have taken the trouble to discover just how burdensome they really are. And most people have but little idea how terrifically heavy they are bound to be, if this country is to arm itself and its allies adequately.

For this reason, some comparative figures are vitally interesting at this time, so that people may know what has been done to them by the Truman administration spending programs, and what will be done as a result of the total failure of the Truman foreign policy.

Prior to World War II, federal taxes took 19.1 per cent of our national income. This was more than twice the percentage taken in the earlier decades of the present century. But it was nowhere near as large as what we have now, and what we must look forward to in months and years to come.

During World War II, federal taxes rose to a point where they took 26.1 per cent of our national income. It was expected that after the war they would recede at least to the prewar percentage total, and perhaps below. But that was far from what actually happened.

The socialistic spending programs, which had their inception in the days of the Roosevelt New Deal, were continued and expanded by the Truman administration, until now Uncle Sam's handout programs extend into almost every corner of the globe. Today federal taxes take 26.6 per cent of our national income, or 0.5 per cent more than they did at the peak of World War II.

At the same time, we see that this global spending has had but small effect in furthering the cause of peace and freedom. Dollars failed to win the cold war. Dollars that might have been spent in arming America were frittered away in attempting to garrison the whole world. More than $50 billion of the taxpayers' money was spent and still we lacked trained men and weapons to win a small war in Korea.

Our allies, as well as Soviet Russia, know these things. As a result our allies are fearful of joining with us in what might become an effective military alliance. They tend to retreat into neutrality, as an oblique method of appeasing the Communist giant. A large part of the deadly peril in which the Republic stands today consists of the fact that we may well be left to fight a third World War alone, against Russia and her hundreds of millions of satellite nationals.

Because of these things, it is almost impossible now even to hazard a guess as to what heights our federal taxes may reach before long. The national debt now exceeds $286 billion, or nearly $2,000 for every man, woman and child in the land. We cannot safely borrow much more. We must pay for rearmament as we go, so far as humanly possible. Federal taxes, in the end, may easily exceed thirty-five or even forty percent of our national income.

In 20 years (1928 through 1947) the bituminous coal mining industry paid Federal income taxes of 343 million dollars.

36. The successful investor next year will be the one who follows a carefully planned investment program. Such a program will emphasize diversification - not only by company and industry, but also by quality. Overconcentration will not pay in 1951.

37. Highest-grade taxable corporate bonds should hold in a narrow price range during 1951, but I see no reason for individual investors buying them. For my forecast for long-term government bonds, see No. 30 above. The only corporation bonds which interest me are CONVERTIBLES.

38. With income taxes slated to increase in 1951, tax-exempt bonds should continue in good demand. There has been some speculation in these, however, and any downward change in the tax outlook might cause a sudden turnabout in prices for municipals. Investors should see to it that their bond maturities are carefully diversified, with some part of their bond funds maturing each year.

REAL ESTATE ACTIVITY WILL DECLINE

39. The real estate outlook for 1951 will be strongly affected by curbs on mortgage credit. Much of the recent boom was the result of easy credit, - almost nothing down and small easy payments for years hence.

40. New home construction will suffer a greater decline than other lines. Nonessential commercial building will also be hit.

41. The coming decline in new building will throw a wet blanket over speculation in vacant suburban lots.

42. The scare caused by the Korean-China War and fears of an early outbreak in other sections will adversely affect the demand for big city real estate. Lower business volumes and the Draft next year will also curtail such demand.

43. Small sustenance farms should hold up well in price as demand will be spurred by those seeking refuge outside the big cities. Demand for large commercial farms, however, should weaken as the year progresses.

44. The swing back toward rent control will act as a further damper on new building. There is no incentive to build homes for rental income.

45. Tighter credit controls will make it more difficult to purchase older residential properties, and the prices for these should weaken.

46. As building volume slackens in 1951, the quality of available materials and workmanship should improve. This will help those who have saved their money and can pay for at least half the cost of a new home.

DEFENSE ORDERS AND POLITICS WILL INCREASE

47. Those who can do so should attempt to get defense orders as a means of holding up production volumes and reducing overhead. Not too much profit from such war business should be expected, however, as these contracts will be subject to tightfisted renegotiations.

48. The political outlook for 1951 will be completely dominated by jockeying for position in the Presidential race for 1952. Most of Congress' time will be spent on International Problems; but either War or Peace could come early in 1951, which could make many of the above forecasts useless.

49. In Domestic Matters, despite recent election changes in party alignment, Congress will still be dominated by a conservative coalition of Northern Republicans and "unregenerated" Southern Democrats. When the heat is on in a tough fight, the North-South coalition will still be able to curb onslaughts by New Dealers.

50. We are gradually headed for a One Party System and finally a Dictatorship. The Republicans will sometimes win with the slogan "HAD ENOUGH?"; but their reign will be short-lived. Too many persons are following the pernicious doctrine of ASKING FOR HIGHER WAGES AND SHORTER HOURS, SPECULATING IN STOCKS AND GOODS, GROWING RICH ON PAPER, VOTING DEMOCRATIC FOR SELFISH REASONS AND LETTING THE COUNTRY GO TO THE DOGS, WAR OR NO WAR!

State Short Course To Start January 6

Registration for Michigan State College short courses, offering training in six different agricultural fields, will begin Monday, January 8 on the Spartan campus, according to Ralph W. Tenny, director.

Short courses are offered during the slack farming season to attract the widest possible number of farm people. They combine practical work problems with class work which offers technical information in condensed form.

Students take part in 30 to 35 hours of class and laboratory activity per week.

Courses to be offered during the winter will be: Agricultural Engineering, Dairy Plant Operation, Dairy Farm Operation, Fruit Production, Poultry Production and Practical Floriculture.

The program will be in session from January 8 to March 2.

Toluol, a derivative of coal, is important in the manufacture of cement, wood stains, and paint.

Electric power utilities use about 20 per cent of all the coal consumed in the United States.

Health Check-up

Although these are apparently healthy people, they are checking the health of their lungs because they know that tuberculosis has no obvious symptoms in an early stage. Case finding is a major project of the voluntary tuberculosis associations which are conducting the 1950 Christmas Seal Sale to raise funds to support their year-round tuberculosis control work.

Nat'l Power Policy Called Inadequate

A leading member of the nation's business-managed electric utility industry today asserted that President Truman's Water Resources Policy Commission "obviously has failed to listen to the people and has written a report ignoring their expressed wishes."

James W. Parker, president of The Detroit Edison Company and chairman of the Electric Companies' Public Information Program, said the report issued today by the Commission was "mainly a re-statement of an unfair federal power and water resource policy favored by 'public power' boosters in government departments and bureaus."

"The report is one more expression of hostile attitude toward independent enterprise," he said, "and the Commission has failed completely in its mission of establishing a workable pattern for an acceptable national power policy."

"This group is headed by Morris L. Cooke and includes ex-Federal Power Commission Chairman Leland Olds," said Parker. "It clings, in its recommendations for development of hydro-electric power, to the false and oft-repeated thesis that the industrial economy of the United States has from the beginning been retarded by insufficient development of the country's power resources."

"The Cooke-Olds group takes little account of the fact that 55 per cent of the nation's hydro-electric power has been developed by private industry and that industry is willing and competent to develop more - without expenditure of public money. Also, the Commission attaches far too little importance to the tremendous program of electric power development which has been and is being carried out by the electric industry - without help from the government."

"Commission findings amount to an extension of government from Washington despite overwhelming testimony - urging water development and supervision by local administrators - which the Commission itself heard in a series of public meetings over the country.

"As far as the summary of recommendations is concerned, the Commission members might just as well not have spent their time and the people's money touring the country. There is very little evidence that the Cooke-Olds group even heard the people."

"When the Commission seeks to extend federal control of the industrial life of whole river basins, it seeks to increase Washington's domination of the economic life of the nation. It should be remembered that a commission of only three men direct the Tennessee Valley Authority, exerting control over all Tennessee. The Cooke-Olds committee obviously has not considered that the establishment of new 'valley authorities' will produce tremendous dislocation of industry - which may someday result in a good many 'ghost towns.'"

"Representatives of millions of people testified before the Cooke committee in support of proper development of water resources. - these developments to be supervised by administrators appointed locally, and made responsible to the people of the region served."

"The theory that state and local governments should be weakened so that only the federal government can plan and control and rule is a fallacy which I cannot believe the American people will accept."

Parker asserted that his industry agrees with the definitions of electric requirements set down in the report, and is more than meeting these requirements.

Referring to the industry's 15-billion-dollar expansion program, he said that "unless we are hampered by excessive and ill-conceived interference, the industry will be more than able to keep pace with the nation's industrial development, both in war and peace."

Do You Ken John Beal?

A book on the American coal industry, written by Howard N. Eavenson, reprints this advertisement addressed to iron manufacturers in 1813: "To Proprietors of Blast Furnaces, John Beal, lately from England, being informed that all the blast furnaces are in the habit of melting iron ore with charcoal, and knowing the great disadvantage to its proprietors, is induced to offer his services to instruct them in the method of converting coal into Coak. The advantage in using Coal will be so great, that it cannot fail becoming general if put into practice."

World-Wide Smog Screen

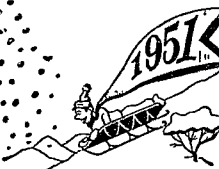

Air purification engineers, who have proved that all fuels can be burned without creating smoke, were particularly interested in the phenomenon which carried a 200-mile blanket of smoke over a wide area of the United States during the Canadian forest fire in September. The resultant smog was mild, however, compared with the pall resulting from eruption of a volcano in the Dutch East Indies in 1883. At that time a fine ash was blown almost around the earth.

is: "When he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak:
and he will shew you things to come."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (John 14:12): "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my

Michigan State Makes Plans for Farmer's Week

Farmers' Week at Michigan State College—the mid-winter educational and entertainment feature for rural Michigan—is being planned to bring 40,000 people a full week of programs.
It will be held at East Lansing,
January 2 through February 3.
E. L. Anthony, dean of the school of agriculture and general chairman of the annual event, says a few new features will be added this year. There will be many of the traditional events that have brought old-timers back for many of the 35 Farmers'
Weeks of the past.

Monday, January 29, will be dairy day and feature a general meeting in the morning and breed association meetings in the afternoon. The agricultural engineering department will hold a farm building day.

General sessions in the afternoon will start on Tuesday and continue for three days. Outstanding speakers are being obtained for auditorium addresses.
All departments will start morning and early afternoon sessions on Tuesday and they will continue through Thursday. Agricultural economics, agricultural engineering, animal husbandry, conservation, dairy, crops and soils, home economics horticulture, poultry, sociology, and other departments are included.

Wednesday will feature banquets, livestock events and the start of muck farmer meetings, which will continue through Saturday.

Many contests will be conducted to pick Michigan's champions in steer and swine feeding and lamb production.
One of the new features will be a series of programs on grassland agriculture to be held throughout the week.

"Even so-called winterized tires, or tires with special deep treads, are of very limited or no help on glare ice," the chief observed, "although good treads on any kind of tire do help on wet or dry pavements".

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

To paraphrase a famous quotation from Shakespeare, food by any other name would taste just as good. Even so, it is sometimes fascinating to know where the names of many of our favorites come from. For example, that divine delicacy, the soufflé. Did you know that its name is derived from the French verb "souffler," meaning to breathe? And breathe it does as it gently puffs up to a proud, plump perfection—delicately brown on top, feathery light inside.

And speaking of soufflés, here is one which you'll want to add to your recipe collection. You'll love its jesty flavor as well as the ease of preparation. And don't worry about a failure, for the recipe has been tested and perfected by Nancy Holmes in the Best Foods Consumer kitchens.

- Tomato-Cheese Soufflé
- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 cup tomato or mixed vegetable juice | 2 tablespoons minced onion |
| 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca | 1/4 teaspoon salt |
| 1 1/2 tablespoons vitaminized margarine | 1/4 teaspoon basil or cayenne |
| 1 cup grated sharp cheese | 2 tablespoons mustard-with horseradish |
| | 4 eggs, separated |
- Heat juice and tapioca in a saucepan; boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Add vitaminized margarine, cheese, onion, and seasonings; stir until cheese is melted. Remove from heat, cool a few minutes. Stir gradually into well beaten egg yolks, blend well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into a greased casserole. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) for 10 minutes, then at 350° F. for 25 to 30 minutes. Bake until a knife inserted comes out clean. Serves 6.

A business meeting was then conducted at which time the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Lawrence LeFevre; vice-president, Mrs. George Lien and Mrs. Marvin Tibble were in charge of the dining room.

Cub Pack N-6 Rises To Tenderfoot Rank

At a formal Investiture Ceremony Thursday evening, Dec. 21, the boys of Cub Pack N-6 advanced to the tenderfoot rank of Boy Scout. Singular honor went to Raymond Hood, who was presented the Waabelo Badge by Arthur Henry, District Commissioner of the Boy Scouts. Raymond is the first boy to receive the tenderfoot rank and the Waabelo Badge at the same ceremony. He has been advanced to Boy Scout Troop 1 of which Monroe Weston is Scoutmaster.

At this ceremony, special awards went to three other boys. Ronald Dethloff received the Lion Badge and two Bobcat pins were presented to Stanley Hicks and Terry Cherne.

One year service stars went to Richard Atchison, Ronald Dethloff and Michael Petz. Raymond Hood received his second year pin.

Buddy Hood of Den 6 received his Waabelo's Badge from Dean Benson of Scout Headquarters, who afterwards gave a brief talk on Scouting.

Robert Hunter, Northville Scout Commander, also gave a talk on Scouting in Northville which was very interesting. There were about 60 parents present. The Explorer Post N-1 of Northville was also present.

Second Class badges were given to Scouts Stratton, Richardson, Rogers, Watson and Cooper. First Class badges were given to Scouts Weston and Atwood.

The meeting closed at 9:15 p. m. and ice cream and cake and pop were served by the Troop.

Blue Signal Deemed Vital for Defense

Local directors of civil defense or their assistants representing 12 key cities in Michigan have urged that the U. S. Air Force, through the new Federal Civil Defense Administration, reinstate the "blue" signal in the air raid warning code.

Meeting with State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, who is also state civil defense director, the group asserted the "blue" signal was the only means of mobilizing civil defense volunteers before a raid. Likewise, it would give the public "greater warning to prepare for an attack."

The code, announced by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, contains only two public signals, the "red alert," which is a notification that a raid is imminent or at hand, and the "all clear," which indicates the danger is past.

The "blue" signal, which preceded the "red," was a public warning that an air raid was probable. It was eliminated last September by the air force without any explanation being given. The signal was intended to give the public more time to get ready for a raid and as a notice to civil defense volunteers to report their stations. The "red alert" cannot be used for mobilization as it is too close to the raid.

The directors discussed extensively the organization of mutual aid in key areas. These areas will be approximately 20 miles in diameter and automatically go into action as a unit in event a bomb falls within. Beyond the perimeter mobile support will be organized to send in equipment and personnel if an area needs outside help.

"Surveys of equipment requirements, fingerprinting of volunteers and signing of loyalty oaths, training programs and other matters also were considered."

Leonard reported that organization work in Michigan is proceeding very satisfactorily and had gotten a head start last July when local civil defense directors were appointed at the governor's request and a basic emergency plan was established because of the start of the Korean war.

Leonard urged that cities open enrollment offices for civilian defense volunteers to speed up their recruitment now that the general program is being expanded.

Our Creed

The word "Customer" has always had a pleasant connotation, but I am afraid that during the past some people have rather lost sight of its full significance. So by way of reminder, I give you a few brief answers to the question . . . "WHAT IS A CUSTOMER?"

A Customer is the most important person ever in this store — in person or by telephone.

A Customer is not dependent on us — we are dependent on him.

A Customer is not an interruption of our work — he is the purpose of it. We are not doing him a favor by serving him — he is doing us a favor by giving us the opportunity to do so.

A Customer is not an outsider to our business — he is part of it.

A Customer is not a cold statistic — he is a flesh and blood human being with feelings and emotions like your own, and with biases and prejudices.

A Customer is not someone to argue or match wits with. Nobody ever won an argument with a customer.

A Customer is a person who brings us his wants. It is our job to handle them profitably to him and to ourselves.

Scanty fertilizer applications are like a shot in the arm a doctor gives his patient. The treatment enables the patient to recover enough to take more nourishment. Egg Production Depends On Well Balanced Ration

Poultry experts report it requires about one pound of balanced feed for every seven eggs produced. To make a well balanced ration the vocational agricultural service of the University of Illinois advises:

Use at least three feeds from the cereal grains and by-products to make up 75 to 90 per cent of the ration.

Five to 10 per cent of the ration should comprise an animal-protein feed.

Use one or more plant-protein feeds, if available at reasonable cost. Not more than 15 per cent of the ration should come from this group.

Include at least one legume roughage, to make up 5 to 10 per cent. Some carrier of calcium should be included if the ration contains no meat scrap, fishmeal or tankage.

One pound of common salt should be added for each 100 pounds of total ration.

Scientific hog raising for highest profits calls for warm, dry, inexpensive housing. The sunlit hog house above is simply constructed. Its dimensions are 7 feet by 6 feet, and 4 feet 10 inches high. Built on skids, it has a one inch rough floor laid on 2 by 4-inch sills. Studding of 2 by three inch lumber supports the masonite quarter-inch tempered hardboard used for siding and roof. This material is durable and weather resistant. Four-inch light strap hinges are used for turning back

State Air Raid Signals Same As New U. S. System

New official air raid warning signals announced in Washington by the Federal Office of Civil Defense are the same as those established by Michigan in July and which will now continue in effect as modified in September by the air force to eliminate the "blue" warning, it is pointed out by State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, who is also State Civil Defense Director.

One change has been made, however, in the dissemination of the signals, and that is the prohibition of the use of radio and television at this time.

Another important departure from previous procedure is a caution to delay the mobilization of civil defense volunteers until immediately after an attack in order to avoid exposing them to such a hazard. Previously civil defense services mobilized on the "blue" signal, which was a warning that an air raid was probable.

Leonard was notified of the official signal system in a telegram received from former Florida Governor Millard Caldwell, who was recently appointed as administrator of the new federal agency. He immediately transmitted the information to local civil defense directors in the state.

The two-stage public warning code will be used to announce imminent attack and the subsequent "all clear". The "red alert", announcing that a raid is imminent, consists of fluctuating or warbling signals of varying pitch by sirens, or a series of short blasts by horns or whistles.

The "all clear" signal will be a series of three steady one-minute blasts by sirens, horns or whistles, interrupted by silent periods of two minutes each.

In sounding these signals, municipalities are free to use any type of siren, horn or whistle in conformity with the code. Sound trucks and public address systems may be used to supplement these warning instruments if desired.

4-H Orators Win in Michigan Program

Eugene D. Hamaker, 18, of Marshall, and Virginia Carson, 18, of Milford, have something to talk about. The ability to say it fluently, convincingly, and clearly, has won for them state honors in the new 4-H Public Speaking program. In public talks about personal 4-H experiences and accomplishments they have been able to inspire others to do things worth while. Eugene's award is a beautiful 17-jewel gold watch, while Virginia received a lovely set of silverware presented by the Pure Oil Company.

"The Menace" is the title of Eugene's prize-winning talk which concerns our country's failure to realize the tremendous importance of soil conservation. "One-fifth of the original area of tillable land in the United States is now ruined, and one-third of the remainder is on the verge of serious damage, he pointed out. 4-H Clubs offer soil conservation projects and strive for more cooperation. "The desire for immediate profit at the expense of America's future must be curbed," stated Eugene.

Virginia has given her speech "Hidden Wealth" before many groups in the county and twice over the radio, as well as for the judges. She feels that to be a farmer is to possess a hidden wealth composed of self-control, self-expression, and self-reliance. His land, buildings and animals reflect the care and treatment which he gives them. "How can a person help but feel a sense of achievement, when his creation of real wealth, real beauty and real security is right before his eyes," said Virginia.

This program is supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Pa Pitt's Inheritance
A national publication made this prediction in 1811: "The rough hills around Pittsburgh are filled with coal, and our rooms in winter feel the effects of its warmth, and cheerfulness. It costs about six cents a bushel at your door, and is said to be equal to any in the world. Wood as an article of fuel costs 2 dollars a cord delivered. — The abundance and cheapness of coal will be peculiarly advantageous to Pittsburgh in her progress in arts and manufactures."

Bees Aid Farmers in Several Ways

Emphasizing the importance of the honeybee to Michigan agriculture, a bulletin by the Michigan State College extension service points out that for each dollar the beekeeper receives, fifteen to twenty dollars worth of crop pollination is returned to the farmer.

The folder points out that 50 percent of the cultivated crops require insect pollination and that clean cultivation practices in orchards hinder operation of the bee. Clean cultivation destroys the meeting places of wild insects, which feed on nectar and pollen.

Because bees seldom get enough nectar from fruit trees, many growers seed nearby orchard areas with sweet clover and other legumes, the bulletin reports. A good stand of alsike carries enough blossoms to produce 10 to 13 bushels of seed per acre, but the average remains at one bushel an acre today. Concentration of bee colonies in a good stand of alsike might increase the seed to four or five bushels an acre.

The bulletin emphasizes the fact intensive farming practices, through the elimination of permanent pasture fields, wood lots, and fence rows, have upset the balance between plants and pollinating insects.

The folder is titled, "The Importance of the Honeybee to Michigan Agriculture." It is numbered F-152 and may be obtained from county agricultural agents or by writing the Bulletin Office, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

WCTS Cows Finish Production Record
Several registered Holstein-Friesian cows in the herd of Wayne County Training School, Northville, Michigan have completed official production tests under Herd Improvement Registry rules.

Testing was supervised by Michigan State College, in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Highest producer among these was Wacots Prince Ruby Maud with 548 pounds of butterfat and 17,565 pounds of milk made on 3 milkings daily in 365 days at the age of 6 years, 6 months.

Another high producer was Wacots Aggie Marathion with 486 pounds of butterfat and 15,027 pounds of milk made on 3 milkings daily in 332 days at the age of 6 years, 7 months.

Snow To Present Driving Hazards

In the wake of the heavy snow, Chief of Police Joe Denton today advised all motorists who possibly can do so to leave their cars at home until driving conditions improve.

As he issued this advice, snow-plows battled rapidly rising drifts swept by high winds, which threatened to block exposed highways.

"If you absolutely must drive, then drive carefully and use every precaution to avoid accident or becoming stalled," said Chief Denton.

"Before you try to move your car over deep snow, hard-packed snow or ice, put on your tire chains. Check your windshield wipers and defroster for proper operation, and be sure your headlights are in good working order, ready for use even in daylight, because blowing snow greatly increases the danger of collision."

Chief Denton said the use of tire chains provides needed traction to keep cars from becoming stalled and blocking other traffic, while at the same time minimizing accidents by reducing braking distance for cars and trucks from 40 to 70 per cent on snow and ice.

Chief Denton also issued a warning against unnecessary parking of automobiles while the present storm continues. Cars so parked, he pointed out, not only obstruct snowplows, but themselves become traffic hazards for other motorists. Also, he said, such cars may get "plowed in" and be unable to move at all.

Seasonal Drops for Farm Products Seen

Here's what Michigan farmers can expect during the next month or so in the way of seasonal price trends for several farm products, according to Michigan State College agricultural economists.

Hog prices will decline in December, probably to set the low point of this hog marketing season. Cattle prices will hold steady. Lamb prices will decline from November's record high, but will still be strong compared to lamb prices of previous years.

Dairy product prices will stay at about present levels for the next month or two. The seasonal price decline will be less than normal this winter and spring.

Egg prices in January will average about 5 cents a dozen below December prices, the M. S. C. economists believe. U. S. Grade A large prices paid to grading stations by first receivers in Detroit will likely average 42-47 cents a dozen.

It has been officially announced that the government egg support program will be discontinued on December 31. The government may buy some shell eggs in local areas in 1951 to prevent unduly low prices probably in connection with the military procurement program.

The economists report that the wholesale price index has reached a new all-time high, and the general trend is upward. Retail prices will move up in months ahead—with food prices expected to be generally higher. Consumer prices already are at an all-time high.

Government Removes Eggs From Price Support List

Many agricultural workers throughout the midwest are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the removal of eggs from the list of government price supported agricultural commodities, scheduled for January 1.

Many poultrymen believe it is probable that egg prices will fluctuate considerably when supports are removed, but will steady in a short time.
