Events Have Caught Up With The Legion's Foresight

"Sometimes it seems fruitless to be too far ahead of public opinion. Still, leaders of the American Legion must feel a certain sense of vindication at the now clearly demonstrated need for a universal military training program.

For more than two decades the Legion has campaigned relentlessly for adoption of UMT. In a statewide meeting in Lansing last week, the Michigan department of the Legion again stressed the importance of UMT at a time of grave national peril. And it appears as if events have caught up with the foresight of this veterans' organization.

Even though a peacetime draft has been in operation for three months, the nation has been caught short by a military emergency which has—not yet at least—reached world war proportions. Some part of the desperate need of trained manpower now could be met without so much delay had UMT been in operation during the last three years.

It does no good, of course, simply to lament missed opportunities. The draft still is inadequate. Even though the original design of UMT may now have to be altered, the need for a more extensive training program has become apparent. And thank to the Legion's perseverance, the idea has been kept alive."

Home Builders Are Urged to Start Now

Anyone in Northville desiring to build or modernize a home, or other building is advised to start work at an early date, according to Harold Church of the Nowels Lumber and Coal Company, and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"There are three reasons for getting an early start," Mr. Church said. "In the first place, there is no reason to believe that materials prices or building costs will decline in any important extent in the months ahead. In fact, some increases are likely.

"Secondly, some essential building materials, notably those containing strategic metals, such as steel, copper and aluminum, are certain to be less plentiful from now on, owing to the large quantities being set aside for the rearmament program.

"Other materials probably will be in full supply, but some metal is required in building even the most modest new homes.

"In the third place, there always is the possibility that defense officials in Washington will decide to restrict construction of homes still further as a means of conserving materials for defense production. Should that happen, some local families who have good cause to build may face delays in obtaining the necessary approvals and in obtaining all of the required materials.

"Furthermore, there always is the possibility that mortgage credit restrictions will be tightened by the Federal government, in which case some families might find difficulty in meeting the higher down payment requirements.

"Limitations on the use of copper and aluminum for construction and other civilian use already are in effect and the amount of steel for non-defense use also has been reduced, so that supplies of building materials containing those metals will be curtailed at an early date."

The life of farm machinery depends on the type machine and type storage, say Michigan State agricultural economists. They say a storage shed should not cost more than 20 per cent of the value of the machinery being housed.

A single treatment of DDT to the soil around wooden structures gives complete protection against termite attack for at least five years, according to Michigan State College agricultural economists.

Al Hardy, with his youngest son, Duane, from Wayne, spent Thursday afternoon with his mother, Mrs. Walter Rehahn. Freda Ault, who has been ill with a bronchial infection, is slightly improved. Cecil Willet of Mayfield Ave., has been recuperating from a flu attack.

The Jos. Sidelinkers spent New Year's with their daughters in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker, formerly of Hubbard avenue, write that they are comfortably situated in their home near Phoenix, Arizona, and are in good health, but greatly miss their old friends and neighbors in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McVicar of Shady-side avenue visited in Bay City one evening this last week.

Hundreds of toys and dozens of baskets and boxes of food were distributed by local Goodfellows last week-end to needy and unfortunate families. The average contents of a basket of food seems to have been: a ham shoulder, potatoes, rutabagas, celery, cans of corn, baked beans and cranberries, bag flour, coffee, oleo, bread, cookies, jello, navy beans, oranges, candy and nuts. Most recipients were truly grateful. Usually electric and heat bills must be met in December and consequently limited and uncertain incomes cannot be stretched to include Christmas extras.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Griffith of Dearborn, were New Year's guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stange.

MSC To Inaugurate Television System

Michigan State College will begin exploring another educational medium in early February when a closed-circuit television system is put into operation on the Spartan campus.

Believed to be the first campus-wide TV system for educational purposes at any major university, MSC's television station will link several campus buildings through a central control room. Equipment has been purchased, and installation in the Electrical Engineering building is nearly complete.

Should an unused Michigan channel, for which MSC has applied, be assigned, the present equipment will be augmented by a transmitter. Meanwhile, sending and receiving points will be linked by wire. The campus station will be used as a laboratory for teaching and research only.

Students concerned with technical and production phases of TV will use the facilities as a laboratory. The system will also be used for research to determine the value of TV as a teaching aid.

Though costs are great, college officials believe the capacity of TV to spread information to more people simultaneously may actually relieve the financial plight of educational institutions.

The budget implication of educational television—both on and off campus—are summarized by MSC President John A. Hannah as follows:

"Educational television may well be the answer to some of the problems of financing higher education which plague administrators and worry friends of higher education everywhere. The day may well be near when there will be a revolution in teaching methods, which have not changed much since the days of Socrates."

Prairie Chicken Found Near Chelsea

Presence of a prairie chicken near Chelsea, first in southern Michigan since 1945, has been verified by a conservation department game man.

According to Ralph Bailey, the bird was discovered by Donald Erwin in a cornfield on his Washtenaw county farm.

A dead prairie chicken was picked up five years ago in Calhoun county.

The conservation department is interested in getting further reports on the presence of these birds in southern Michigan. The species was abundant throughout this region around the turn of the century. Heart of the state's prairie chicken country now is the northeastern section of the northern lower peninsula.

Presenting the New 1951

Cadillac

Far More Beautiful... Gorgeous New Interiors... and an Even Finer High-Compression Engine!

TODAY, we are privileged to present the new Cadillac for 1951—finer and more wonderful from every conceivable standpoint. . . . Numerous refinements in exterior design have made it more lovely to behold—while wholly new interiors, so rich in fabric and tailoring that they defy description, impart a sense of luxury that is simply beyond compare. . . . And, oh, the things that have been done to make it more gentle to handle—and more comfortable to ride in! The changes in this regard are manifold—and the results are a revelation. The car's quietness is now akin to silence; driving is all but a response to your wish; comfort leaves literally nothing to be desired. To ride or drive is to relax—and to rest. . . . The great master engine has also been refined—down to the smallest details. Its voice is closer to a whisper; its power application is faster; and it's even smoother in operation. . . . And there is an even finer Hydra-Matic Drive—with a new reverse for easier shifting, and for "rocking" the car in sand or snow. . . . There is new steadiness on the road—better balance on turns and curves—easier and softer braking. And throughout the chassis are vital improvements which add to endurance and dependability. . . . All in all, here is new lustre for the Cadillac name—and a far higher standard for the automotive world. . . . There are ten distinctive body types and four individual series—the "Sixty-One," the "Sixty-Two," the "Sixty Special," and the incomparable "Seventy-Five". . . . Why not come in and see them today? We'd be most happy to see you—and we are certain you'd find it an interesting and enlightening experience.

Farmington—The Farmington Post Office was still digging out from under a record holiday avalanche of mail on Tuesday, when postal clerks went back to work after the Christmas holiday.

Howell—Dispatches of Christmas mail were much heavier here this year than in 1949. Postmaster Gerald Hughes reports. In the 10-day period of December 11 through the 21st, a total of 219,532 pieces were registered in the stamp cancelling machine and metered mail for the same period amounted to $1,008.03. An all-time high for a single day's dispatches was set December 18 with 41,272 pieces.

Plymouth—A $2500 budget for the Charter Commission was approved by the city commission besides the $200 which had already been granted the charter group for incidental expenses.

Dearborn—Controversy continues over charges by Attorney General Stephen J. Roth that $13,522 in State aid funds for the Dearborn Public Libraries, had been misappropriated by City officials.

Rochester—A fine of $100 and a suspension of 15 days was given to Bud's Tavern of Rochester, 440 Main street, by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission as the result of a hearing on a charge of selling to a minor.

Plymouth—Wage increases for city employees were approved by the city commission at a special meeting. The proposed increase was brought before the commission by City Manager Albert Glassford.

Birmingham—The newly widened two-mile stretch of pavement on Telegraph road, was opened to traffic recently. This road has been blocked off since summer while construction has been in progress.

Rochester—Blood from the veins of many Rochester volunteers is winging its way to the Korean battlefield today, as a result of hundreds of people giving their share at the blood clinic held in the basement of St. Andrew's church recently.

Brighton—A special meeting of the voters of the Hollister School, Green Oak township, district four, will be held Monday evening, January 8 at the town hall to discuss reorganization of the district. The meeting has been called by Fred Gillham, director.

Ann Arbor—A mobile tuberculosis X-ray unit of the Michigan department of Health will visit Washtenaw County on or about January 15th to X-ray employees in commercial and industrial plants, as well as junior and senior high school students and faculty members.

Birmingham—Another holiday passed with Birmingham coming through with a record of only minor accidents. Police reported heavy weekend traffic, especially during the final shopping hours on Saturday and the scheduled church services Sunday and Monday.

Farmington—Farmington Goodfellows received a record amount of assistance this year with their job of taking care of Farmington's needy families during the holidays. A total of $1584.84 was realized in Good-fellow paper sales, and another 1923 cans of foodstuffs were turned over to the organization.

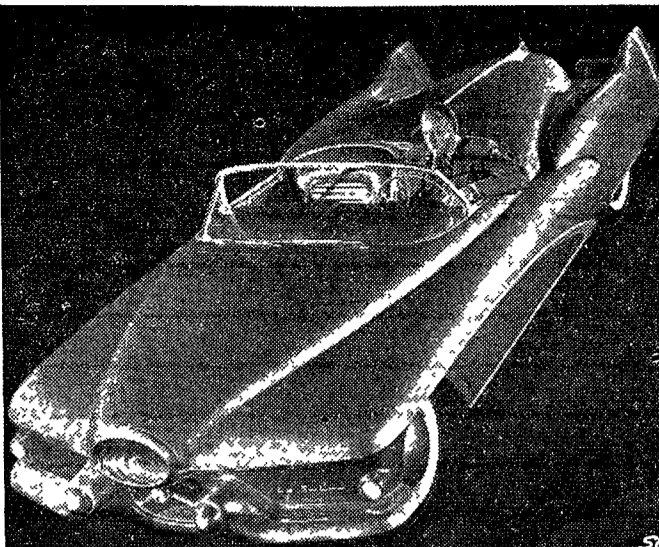

Brighton—A Farmington couple, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burgess, had a narrow escape from drowning recently as they were returning home. Near the bridge on US-16 over the Huron River east of Brighton, Burgess lost control of his car on the icy pavement and it crashed through the guard rail and out on the ice on Kent Lake.

GM Unveils Futuristic Test Car

An experiment in the automotive future is the low, sleek Le Sabre, a custom built sports car General Motors has unveiled in full-size model form. When completed this spring the actual car will be a "laboratory on wheels" to test advanced design and mechanical features for possible future use on production models. Only three-feet high at the cowl, the Le Sabre has a standard 6-inch ground clearance and ample passenger leg and head room. Magnesium and aluminum alloys are substituted for steel on the body and engine of the car, thereby greatly reducing its total weight. Harley J. Earl, GM vice president in charge of styling, shown with the car, said that it has been under development the past four years. The dramatic, sweeping lines of jet aircraft are incorporated in its styling theme.

Firearms Still Needed On Most U. S. Farms

Rifle Is Still Effective Way to Control Varmints
 Even though marauding Indians and bad men have disappeared, farmers and ranchers still need their guns almost as much as ever. Where the rifle was once needed to preserve life, the rifle and shotgun today help preserve the livelihood of those who live on the land. To many, firearms are still necessary agricultural or ranching "tools".
 For pest and varmint control, firearms are often far more effective than traps and less dangerous than poison, and in many cases are the only means to destroy certain birds and animals that damage crops, stored grains and produce and kill poultry.

The farm boy with a .22 caliber rifle is probably the world's champion pest exterminator. For rats, sparrows, rabbits, squirrels, gophers, moles and crows and other small pests that can be shot at close range, he uses .22 short cartridges which are adequate and economical, but long rifle cartridges are much better for longer ranges and far more effective.

One of the best low-priced beginner's .22 that's come out in years is a single-shot bolt action with "an automatic safety that never forgets." This Model 47 is so designed that as the bolt is opened to permit loading, it sets the safety which must be moved manually before the rifle can be fired.

Social Scientists To Study Mental Health

Michigan State College social scientists are going to take a new approach to mental health by studying the healthy instead of the sick.
 The Social Research Service of MSC has been awarded a grant-in-aid of $14,985 by the National Institute of Mental Health, U.S. Public Health Service, for the study.

The grant provides for a pilot study of "social strengths in mental health," according to Dr. Charles R. Hoffer, acting head of the Social Research Service. Dr. Hoffer said the study will begin early in 1951 and probably continue into 1952.

"The project differs from most mental health studies because it will examine normal people to determine what it takes in human resources to make successful adjustments to modern living," Dr. Hoffer said.
 This is one of the first studies in the U. S. to focus on the mental health of average people, the MSC researcher said.

MSC Employees Ask for Pay Adjustment

The State Board of Agriculture will ask the Legislature for a supplemental appropriation with which to adjust wage and salary rates for employees of Michigan State College.
 Under the board's proposal, the cost-of-living adjustment, which would be about 10 per cent, would be effective Jan. 1, but would not be paid until the Legislature voted the necessary funds.

The proposal was voted so that MSC would be in conformity with the action of other state educational institutions and the state Civil Service Commission.

NHS, Lion Squads Resume Basketball Season Tomorrow

Northville High School's basketball squads will go into operation again against South Lyon tomorrow night in away games.

The Mustangs and Colts faced South Lyon aggregations in the cage season opener December 1 and won 40-29 and 57-16, respectively.

Coaches Dick Kay and Al Jones ran their varsity and reserve teams through drills last week and settled down to a rough nine-game grind which will last through February 20.

The next four games will alternate between the home floor and opponents' courts. All of them are Friday night games. Then games against Inkster, Plymouth and Milford will be played on Tuesday nights.

With six games already history in 1950, the Mustangs are on the short end of a two win, four loss tally. The Colts reversed the situation against reserve opponents with four wins.

The greatest fault to be found by spectators at Mustang games is the inability of the NHS squad to move the ball in for close shots, and subsequent loss of the ball on rebounds. The Mustangs seem rooted to the floor at times and fail to come up to meet passes from teammates.

It must be considered, however, that most of the Black and Orange hoopers are playing together for the first time and have not crystallized a style.

The season record is important, but the chips are down come tournament time. The Mustangs have nine games to grow in.

Mrs. Inez Parker of Northville visited the patients at the Convalescent Home New Year's Day.

Bell To Expand Distance Lines

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company today announced it is undertaking a $790,000 project to expand long distance facilities between the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

Carrier systems are telephonic devices which permit several simultaneous conversations to be carried on one pair of wires by passing voice currents along different frequencies.

Large, multi-channel cable already has been placed underground from Petoskey to St. Ignace. This 42-mile portion of the long distance route is an extension of the Grand Rapids-Petoskey cable the company placed into operation in 1948.

To this "backbone" cable of the Lower Peninsula the new cable and open wire will connect the important northern toll centers of Escanaba, Newberry, Marquette, Sault Ste. Marie, and Houghton. The carrier systems will add more channels along the present facilities that connect Grand Rapids, Big Rapids, Reed City, Cadillac, Traverse City, Petoskey, and St. Ignace.

Some of the expenditures included in the estimate of the project's cost were for items like 66 amplifiers, 21,700 feet of aerial cable, 160 miles of aerial wire, 27,500 duct-feet of cable conduit, 189,600 feet of buried cable, and 28 carrier system terminals of varying types.

Michigan Bell has purchased several small parcels of property along the route as sites for buildings that will house the amplification and repeater equipment.

Conservation department game men have started live-trapping, checking and banding the first of some 5,000 or more ducks along the open Trenton channel.

To get more complete information on wintering migratory birds, the survey crew will not attempt to trap 10,000 as last year. The crew will fluoroscope birds for body shot and lead in the gizzard, note species, sex and age, and determine losses due to lack of food and pollution.

Oleo Laws Deemed Public Safeguard

The Michigan Department of Agriculture intends to see that all oleomargarine, white or colored, that is manufactured or offered for sale in Michigan is labeled in compliance with requirements of the State law, and every effort will be made to prevent any fraud or deception in the use or serving of oleomargarine in public eating establishments, states Miles A. Nelson, Chief of the Marketing and Enforcement Bureau.

Yellow colored oleomargarine has been legal for manufacture or sale in the State of Michigan since December 7, 1950. Apparently in preparation for the legality of yellow colored oleomargarine in Michigan, the 1949 session of the legislature amended the oleomargarine labeling and marketing law of Michigan, setting up certain requirements to regulate the manufacture, distribution, display advertising and labeling of colored oleomargarine in order to prevent fraud and deception in its sale. Therefore, the labeling requirements for yellow oleomargarine have been in effect over a year before its manufacture and sale were permissible in Michigan.

The State law requires that every package of oleomargarine, when delivered to the purchaser must have printed, stamped, or stencilled thereon the word "Oleomargarine" in black ink, in ordinary bold-faced capital letters not less than 5-line pica (5/6 inch) in size; and a list of all ingredients not less than pica (1/6 inch) in size in letters of the same size, color and character.

The list of ingredients must include the kinds of oil or fat used, and be designated by the name of the plant or the animal from which such oil or fat is derived. It also must include the origin of the color in the product by stating whether it is "coal tar color" or "vegetable color," and must list the amount of preservative, salt, water, cream, milk, skim milk, or any other ingredients. This information must be printed on the label that is firmly fixed to the package or wrapper.

The State law prohibits the use in any way in connection or association with the sale, or advertisement of oleomargarine the word, "butter" or "milk" except in the list of ingredients, where used, and also prohibits the use of the words "cream," "fresh," "creamery," "dairy,"

"farm" or the name or representation of any breed of dairy cattle, of any combination of such words or representation of any words or symbols commonly used to describe dairy products.

The State law specifically stipulates the requirements that must be adhered to if colored oleomargarine is served at a public eating place, even though no charge is made. A notice that oleomargarine is served must be plainly displayed in such a place, and must also be printed on the menu in type of lettering not smaller than that normally used to designate the serving of other food items, and each separate serving must be triangular in shape.

It might be well for all eating establishment proprietors to bear in mind that the new Federal Oleomargarine Law, that took effect July 7, 1950, of the serving of yellow oleomargarine in eating establishments also requires a sign to be posted where it can be seen by all customers, or there must be a notice on the menu. The Federal law also requires each serving or patty to be triangular in shape, or a notice on the dish or paper in which it is served must bear a conspicuous or prominent display or the word "Oleomargarine" or "Margarine."

The people of Michigan should also be reminded that it continues to be illegal to serve any oleomargarine in the public institutions of the state, including the schools, except the penal institutions.
