

Drove down Grand River Avenue Saturday morning and saw long lines of citizens outside of the Secretary of State branch offices waiting to buy their license plates. Have you got your car plates yet? They can be obtained NOW without delay at the Carrington Agency on North Center Street. And don't forget to bring your car title and application for certificate of registration. It will save you many minutes and the strain of filling out another application.

Got any blood to spare? The Red Cross blood bank will be in the Village Thursday, March 22, seeking at least 200 pints of blood from local citizens. The drive is being spearheaded by Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147, American Legion, and they will be very happy to sign up donors. Volunteer today!

Read the other day that it would take $1,865 from every citizen of the United States, young and old, to get our government out of debt. It seems that at the end of the last fiscal year there was a $281 billion dollar combined debt against Federal, state and local governments.

Heard someone say that near Darwin, Australia, a colony of white ants have devoured two long strips of bitumen-surfaced highway. Now we can't have ants busy at work on our highways in January and February, but something certainly has been tough on our roads. The chuckholes on our main thoroughfares are getting so large and deep that trying to avoid them has become something like a game of "fox and geese".

Bloodmobile To Visit Northville

James Blair, field representative of the Wayne County Red Cross, outlined the urgent need for blood at an organizational meeting Monday evening. Representatives from many local groups met with Charles Carrington, chairman, at the Veterans Memorial Hall, and together they mapped plans for the blood bank drive which will take place Thursday, March 22. The unit will be at the First Methodist Church from 3:00 to 8:00 p. m.

Mr. Blair stated that whole blood is used more extensively today than plasma, as it serves more needs. A donor may choose whether he wants the blood to go to the armed services or to remain for use in the community for accident and injury purposes.

The drive is being headed locally by Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147, American Legion, and it is hoped that at least 200 pints of blood will be obtained. Pledge cards are available at the Carrington Agency or at the Forney Coal Office and donors are asked to sign up now at the Forney Office, 116 East Main Street, phone 353-J.

The local blood bank has been depleted and a small amount should be allocated for use of Northville citizens said Chairman Charles Carrington. Dr. V. George Chabot, George Locke and Mrs. William Forney are the committee which have the authority to release blood to local citizens in need.

Anyone between the ages of 21-60 is eligible to give blood. Those persons between the ages of 18-21 must have written permission from their parents to be eligible to donate a pint of blood. Any person who has undergone major surgery in the last nine months or who has given birth to a child in the same period of time, is also ineligible to give blood. Donors should not have eaten a fatty meal four hours before giving blood nor should they have indulged in fruit juices or alcoholic beverages.

Representatives present at the meeting Monday evening besides Chairman Carrington were Paul Burnham, Dr. Wilbur Johnston, Jack Nulty, Conrad Springer, Oscar Hammond, Mrs. Demar Risher, Mrs. Hazel Severance, Eleanor Breitmeyer, John Hloinec, Phil Ogilvie and Mrs. William Forney.

University Professor Urges America to Send Economic Aid to "Right People"

The time has come when America must decide where her strength and manpower can best be used, said Professor Russell Hunt Fifield at a dinner meeting Friday of the Northville Woman's Club. We must check our friends and send economic aid to the "right people", he stated.

Four Points Outlined
Speaking on "Recent Trends in the Far East", Professor Fifield outlined four points that America can do:

- 1) Sell our American way of life more efficiently. Russian propaganda is full of emotion and untruths and the people "fall for it". We are trying to impress the Orientals with cars and television sets when we should be telling them about America, but in an emotional, appealing way.
- 2) Send economic and military aid to the countries which are teetering between communism and another way of life, but see to it that the aid gets to the "right people".
- 3) Hold on to Japan, Okinawa, the Philippine Islands and For-

School Board Calls Special Election To Renew Millage

The Board of Education at a meeting Monday evening voted to call a special election April 10 for the purpose of levying six mills over a five year period. The electors in 1946 voted to levy eight mills over a five year period, ending in 1951.

This in effect is the renewal of six of the eight mills which were levied in 1946 to take care of rising costs when the state aid became insufficient. Actually there will be no increase in taxes.

Some of the reasons for extra millage are: Low equalized valuation of the district; the sharing of 15 mills with the county and the township, mounting costs of personnel and maintenance supplies and additional teachers salaries.

Registration dates for the voters in Northville and Novi School District No. 2 Fr. are from March 19 through March 31. Registrations will be taken at the Board of Education office on school days from 9:00 to 11:30 a. m. and from 1:00 to 4:00 p. m. The last day, Saturday, March 31, registrations will be taken from 9:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. Those persons who live in the school district and are now registered for the township election are automatically registered for the school election. Inquiries will gladly be received by calling 1130, the Board of Education office.

Easter Seal Drive Begins February 25

Rotary Club members gathered Tuesday for their meeting and the task of stuffing envelopes with Easter Seals which will be mailed to Northville residents, next week, when the annual campaign of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, open, February 25.

Students in the commercial class, at Northville High school, assisted Mr. Angove and his co-chairmen, Preston Fuller, George Chabot M. D. and Chubb Smith, by typing 1500 envelopes for the campaign.

Weeks of work have been spent by these Rotary members who pledge their assistance to aid crippled children. Every year they make it possible for everyone to receive their Easter Seals and share in the great humanitarian work by supporting your local society.

Your Easter Seal agency is a non-profit organization which serves all types of handicapped people. Orthopedic, Rheumatic Fever, Cardiac and Cerebral Palsy conditions.

Rotary To Sponsor Boy to Boys' State

The Northville Rotary Club voted unanimously to sponsor a Northville boy for attendance at Wolverine Boys' State at Michigan State College June 14 to 22.

The vote was taken at the club's Tuesday meeting after-Rotarian George R. Simmons, who is a Boys' State commissioner, reminded members that a selection must be made this spring.

Five boys attended Boys' State last year, sponsored by the Rotary Club, the Exchange Club, the Optimist Club, American Legion Lloyd H. Green Post 147 and the Masonic Blue Lodge. Northville Eagles, in conjunction with the Plymouth Aerie, alternate in sending a Northville boy and a Plymouth boy each year.

Wolverine Boys' State is not a school room activity, but is designed as a practical experience, for the boys who attend, in the problems of self government. It is planned so that the boys may put into actual practice the theories of American Government through the actual control of the city, county and state offices as organized under the plans of the "Mythical 49th State."

158 Citizens Cast Ballots In Northville Township Primary

WARNING!

For the third time in about as many weeks, a Northville merchant's store was "worked" by a pair of shoplifters.

Late Friday afternoon a pair of Negro women entered the Freydl Ladies Store and according to the storekeeper, Mrs. Nellie Barry, made away with a suit and blouse.

Merchants should be on their guard as in the past few weeks the Northville Men's Shop and Ellis Electronics have been invaded by shoplifters.

In what is probably the lightest primary vote ever recorded in Northville Township, a total of 158 ballots were cast in Monday's election. Eighty-five votes were recorded in precinct one at the Village Hall and 73 were cast in precinct two at the Scout Building. There are about 2645 voters registered in Northville Township.

Chairman Doren reported that the housing survey had been completed and should a disaster occur, 1400 persons could be accommodated in private homes and another 1300 in public places. The canteen service is being organized and in a short time (four or five hours) the ladies feel that they could serve a maximum of 1400 persons dinner. Roy Stone has been appointed disaster chairman, he said, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, Veterans' Memorial Hall, Sessions and Atchison Memorial Hospital will be used as medical centers in the event of an emergency.

Doren pointed out that 62 men have volunteered for auxiliary police work and Fred Casterline, transportation chairman, reported to the chairman that 85 vehicles have been listed for emergency use. Warning signals will be the same as those used during World War II. Doren concluded his report by asking that the Village Council appropriate a sum of money to be used for identification badges for the auxiliary policemen.

Other business which came before the Council Monday night was the approving of the renewing of liquor licenses for Shafer's Bar, Northville Hotel and John Poulos' Northville Bar.

A $600 retainers fee was granted to Village Attorney James E. Littell. Bills were allowed to be paid and no further business appearing, the meeting was adjourned.

Lenten Message

By Rev. William A. Johnson, Minister of First Methodist Church

Text: Matt. 4:1 "Then was Jesus Led up of the Spirit in the Wilderness to be Tempted of the Devil."

Much of the story of our Lord's Temptation was determined long before the actual raising of the curtain in the wilderness. For one thing there had been an enormous period of silence for One Who was to be the Saviour of the world. We know it was not an empty period, for it was during that time that "He increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man." The foundations had been laid; the attitudes struck; ideals had been stored up; and convictions had taken deep root into His soul, so that all, His future life, His entire ministry, would be determined by these snags of self-hood. Foundations that are vital cannot be built after the superstructure. It must come first and endure the longest.

Our Saviour, had all these advantages. Moreover He had His Father's assurance; "This is My beloved Son in Whom I am well pleased." Knowing this background, feeling the mettle and courage of the Man we see a foreshadowing of victory over the evil One. And such a battle it was. No faked reality here. They were both mighty contestants; each supreme in his respective kingdom, each endowed with extraordinary strength; either one being capable of shaking thrones and empires. Let us look deeper.

The Master is tired and weary. Just here would be one of the weak points, the opening for an attack, reasoned the evil One. Anguish of soul leaves the physical powers ravished and the mind spent. And this knowledge was part of Satan's equipment, so he would make the most of it, by way of subtle suggestion. Indeed, it is as a submaster in the art of suggestion that Satan dominates not only this scene but in so many places where we have met him in our experiences.

What a glorious opportunity; the stones lying around resembling meal cakes. Who can deny that the physical must be fed? What could be more practical, more reasonable than satisfying the urgent needs of the physical body, especially when the materials lay so close at hand? This appeal to the instinct of self-preservation, the call of the moment, the opportunity of the hour, work as a rule. They are quite sufficient so far as most of us are concerned today.

If the claims of hunger fall upon deaf ears, surely the force of personal pride, the belief in personal superiority, the clamorous urge of self esteem, and the delectable force of family tradition must be reckoned with. Therefore, why not demonstrate the family tradition and advertise the personal qualities? With these tools of mind, Satan did not need further encouragement to use his subtle power of suggestion; and in his designing way he said, "If Thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread."

Jesus knew that man cannot live on bread alone, and that "Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again." The consciousness of the human mind, the yearning of the soul—these are the basic facts which endure. They are not only experiences of the moment; they are the eternal verities. This was the conviction that was uppermost in the mind of our Lord in one of the great crisis of His life.

Second Mood. Matt. 4:5-6. Here we are taken to see the temptation of presumption. Now the sin of presumption is the taking of power or authority not granted to us. It is one easy commitment today. It makes us content to leave the welfare of the Kingdom of Christ to the will and pleasure of God; content to leave the work of the Church to more willing hands; content to let others teach the Sunday School class; to refuse to undertake needy reforms; to dodge our personal responsibility in the hard arduous task of continuous faithful worship of the Lord; it causes us to neglect the habit of prayer, and to fail to thank Him for His mercy and loving kindness. If we fall short it is presumed that God and His angels will take care of everything, even our personal responsibilities.

All the arguments with which we try to confuse the issue are met with the thought "we are here but a short time; but we are dead for eternity." And, after all "God is Love."

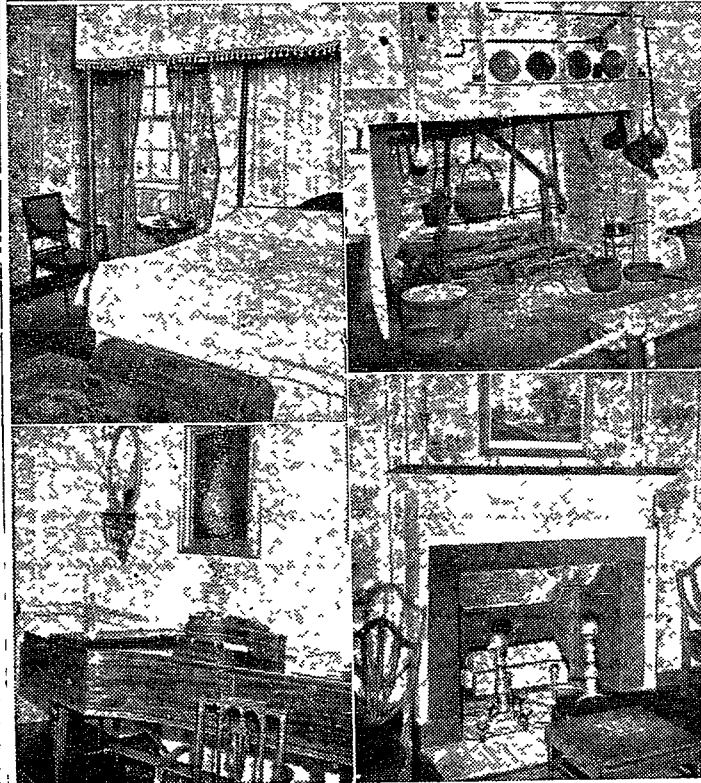

We have a tendency to place ourselves upon the highest eminence of obscurity, away above the clouds of all human activity and social relationships, where we can see and hear nothing. Suddenly from this soaring height of self-pride we throw ourselves with absolute abandon into the empty spaces of indifference, confidently believing, that before we reach the bottom of spiritual extinction God will catch us in His loving arms and bear us up to a state of joy and happiness, giving us the rewards of grace and goodness whether we deserve them or not. Away with presumption! Let me work even as my Father works, that I may deserve the mercy and goodness which He pours out upon all who labor with Him. Let me share my life that I may rightfully have the dignity of soul and the highest estimate of human personality. No, Satan, do not tempt the Lord thy God with such suggestions of presumption. Instead, fall down and worship the Lord thy God, and do it by serving Him faithfully in His kingdom.

Third. My Kingdom is not For Sale. Satan showed Him all the kingdoms of the world and the glory of them; and saith unto Him, "All these things will I give unto Thee if thou wilt fall down and worship me." (Matt. 4:8-9).

Even after we have concluded that we have a soul and are determined not to presume upon the goodness of God, other questions arise. Shall I work for self or for God? Shall my emphasis be personal or social? Shall I use the talents which God has given me, for a purely selfish personal comfort, or shall I use them for the larger purposes of His kingdom? Shall I use my life to seek to relieve all human misery no matter in what form I meet it?

The danger, as pointed out by past events in the world, is that those who receive prestige and power will begin to capitalize upon their assets of mind, body and soul, which have been nourished by former noble impulses. Looking at Jesus through His temptations helps men to see that spiritual strength and the beauty of holiness are not empty phrases. They are choice fruits of hard fought victories. They are glorious assets of the highest form of achievement. They come with the glow of the dawn after a night of wrestling with the powers of evil. They are the glory, the majesty, and the greatness of the Christian discipleship, and they were enshrined in the heart of Christ as He came out of the wilderness of temptation. So it may be for us if we follow as He leads.

They Come to Honor Washington

George Washington wrote: "I have no objection to any sober or orderly persons gratifying their curiosity in viewing the buildings, gardens, etc., about Mt. Vernon." This February pictorial pilgrimage to Mt. Vernon is especially appropriate, as it comes at about the time of the birthday of the first President. Top picture shows central hall looking west. Washington's hunting horn hangs between doors to music room and parlor. Below central hall, at left, is bedstead in which Washington died. Below central hall, at right, is the fireplace in the family kitchen. At bottom, right, is the fireplace in Washington's bedroom. Moving Oil Big Job

During the postwar years, the amount of domestic petroleum transported by pipe lines, tankers, barges, tank cars and tank trucks has been nearly half as great as the total volume of ton-miles handled by our entire railroad system. On the average, during 1950 more than 250,000,000 gallons of petroleum products were delivered to American consumers each day of the year.

South Lyon Band To Perform March 7

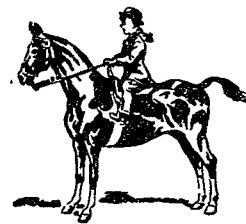

The South Lyon High School band is presenting its annual concert on Wednesday, March 7. An excellent program of new music has been prepared, and some extra attractions promise to make the concert an outstanding one.

Seven year old Douglas McCleary, the mascot of the Arizona State College band will be featured in an exhibition of expert baton twirling. The University of Michigan Male quartet - "The Novelaires" will also sing two groups of numbers.

Tickets for this program will be sold by the band parents and band members. The proceeds will be used for the new uniforms needed to accommodate the larger band expected next fall.

The Band Parent organization decided at its meeting last week that there should be one financial project each year for band equipment. The full program for the concert will be announced later.

DREAM COMES TRUE

Like all small boys, Chuck Richards, of Lemont, Ill., has always dreamed of some day becoming a railroad engineer and driving one of the big locomotives that pass through his town every day. When he was stricken with polio two years ago and had to be placed in an "iron lung," his dream seemed like a lovely impossibility—and so did a lot of ordinary things like walking and playing about with other children. But through the work of the March of Dimes Foundation, Chuck, now five and a half years old, is back on his feet again. He still has to wear arm braces, but that is a small matter to him, especially since he was invited by Mert F. Dodge, of Battle Creek, Mich., engineer of the Grand Trunk Western's International Limited, to come to Chicago and try his hand at the controls of the streamlined steam locomotive. Here Chuck manages to lift his arm up from the brace to fulfill his boyish ambition, sounding a loud blast on the whistle while Engineer Dodge holds him on the edge of the driver's seat.

Mud Aids Oil Drillers

For each of the 138 million feet drilled in 1949, the oil industry spent approximately 25 cents for mud materials. Mud lubricates the drilling bit, helps wash away the rock cuttings and at times shores up the walls of the wells. The total 1949 oil well footage was equivalent to more than three times the earth's diameter.

Brownies, Fathers Have Gala Evening

On Monday, February 12 the girls of Brownie Troop No. 1, which is sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Northville, entertained their fathers at a dinner held at the Presbyterian Church. In spite of the inclement weather the fathers came out in 100% force, and were well rewarded by the spirit and fun they enjoyed during the entire evening.

A delightfully pleasant and tasty dinner was planned, the shopping done and the food served by the girls themselves. A regular meeting was held at the beginning of the activities. Before the dinner the fathers joined with their daughters in games with enthusiasm and somewhat hilarious results.

Mrs. Max Austin is the able leader of the group, and was personally assisted by Miss Ware who represented the Troop sponsors, and by Mrs. Mapes. After the dinner a short play was given by the girls entitled, "Love Conquers All", with great dramatic skill and appropriate sound effects. At the end of the program the fathers were invited to join in the impressive closing ceremony.

All those who attended left with a feeling of having enjoyed themselves immensely, and with a feeling of pride in the accomplishments of the Brownies and their leaders.

The Freydl Ladies Shop is being renovated. Additional dress racks are being provided and a general change in lay-out will accommodate better displays and greater customer convenience.

Because of Washington's birthday which occurs Thursday, February 22, the Northville Records will not be delivered until Friday as the post office will be closed on that day. Depositors State Bank will also be closed as it is a legal holiday.

Bob Kirkey, Bob Lemmon, James Whipple and Earl Hollis, the Village Four, delightfully entertained the members of the Northville Woman's Club and their guests with several musical selections at their dinner meeting Friday evening. The boys are members of the SPBSQSA.

A good crowd of Villagers attended the All League Band concert given Wednesday, February 21 at the high school gymnasium. The band is composed of high school band members from Milford, Holly, Clarkston, Clarenceville and Northville.

Jack Doren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Doren of Randolph street, played the French horn with the Alma College band at their annual winter concert last Sunday. Jack is a music major at Alma College.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Church of Grace street are vacationing in Florida. Mr. Church is on vacation from his duties from the Nowels Lumber Company.

Machinery Life Cut To Half by Exposure

Storage Building Will Reduce Farm Overhead

Since farmers reduce by half the life of machinery left exposed to the weather through the winter months, according to a recent university survey, they will find it in their interest financially to replace old, inadequate and inefficient sheds with modern, well-planned structures.

The survey showed the life of equipment, housed and unhoused, as follows: Walking plows, 20 years or 15; cultivators 20 or eight; gang plows, 20 or 10; mowers, 12 or seven; corn planter, eight or four; binder, 12 or five; wagon, 24 or 19; and disk harrow, 15 or eight.

"No matter what the cost of building, it is always cheaper than machinery," an agricultural engineer reports. "No building on the farm will pay better dividends than the machinery shed."

Typical of the modern type machinery building being used on many farms is the one pictured above. It is located on the Vincent Lilly farm near Rochester, Minn. Its dimensions, 24 by 48 feet, and the absence of inside posts due to the arched roof construction, provide ample room for this farmer's machinery.

Collapsible Oil Tanks Air- and liquid-tight collapsible tanks, drums and small containers have been developed by an oil equipment company. Further experiments will be made before the units are introduced generally. Current plans call for collapsible units ranging in capacity from five-gallon containers to 55-gallon drums and 280 to 10-20,000 gallon bulk storage tanks.

Horse Has Nose For Gas

The oil industry employs some of the most complicated scientific devices known to man, but one Kansas oil man counts on a horse to do a job which no machine seems capable of performing. The horse, an eight year old palomino, is ridden along the route of a pipe line and detects gas leaks so small they cannot be spotted by human patrolers.

Is Habit Buying Costing You Money?

First you compare—quality, price, value—then you buy! That's the way to keep within your food budget! That's the thing to do when you need sugar, too! And don't forget: there is absolutely no difference in sugar—whether it comes from beets or cane—except the price.

Home economists, expert chemists, makers of fine food, two million Michigan homemakers—all say Michigan Made Pure Sugar is the finest money can buy. Yet it costs you less!

So don't buy from habit! The best saves you money.

ON CAPITOL HILL NEWS and COMMENT FROM CONGRESSMAN GEORGE A. DONDERO

Sometime this week it is to be expected that the Republican and Southern Democratic leaders in the House of Representatives will voice a strong protest against what appears to be the recent action of Truman administration leaders in the House to "pack" subcommittees of the Committee on Appropriations.

Just as the New Deal administration, once upon a time, tried to pack the United States Supreme Court, in order to assure decisions favorable to New Deal legislation, so it seems that an attempt has been made to pack the Appropriations subcommittees to protect the socialistic spending program embodied in the 1952 budget recently presented by President Truman.

It will be recalled that the President took occasion, in his message to Congress on The State of the Union, and in his message on the budget, to say that non-essential spending by the federal government must be stopped, and that government economy is necessary because of prospective tremendous costs of rearmament.

Thereafter he presented a budget totaling $72.6 billion, which contained provision for every socialistic spending proposal ever made by the administration, including socialized medicine, the Brannan plan, and many others.

When Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, announced that the budget can and must be cut by at least $9 billion of non-essential spending, the President challenged Congress to do so. He said the budget is a "tight" budget, with every item justified beyond any possibility of eliminating it.

But it appears that the President and his advisers were not so sure of themselves as they wanted people to believe. The plan to pack the Appropriations subcommittees with supporters of spending policies was hatched, in order to make it harder than ever for the Congress to do any substantial budget cutting.

Traditionally the ratio between majority and minority members on Appropriations subcommittees has been 3 to 2. As announced a few days ago, on two of the most important subcommittees the ratio was fixed at 5 to 2, and on three others at 4 to 2.

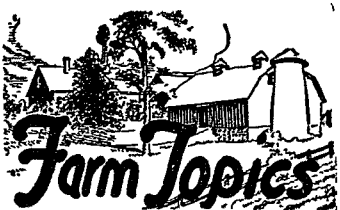

Thus, while the minority party has 46 per cent of House membership, and Southern Democrats hold the balance of power, now the minority party has only 29 per cent representation on two of the Appropriations subcommittees, and only 33-1/3 per cent on three others. And mighty few Southern Conservatives have places on the important subcommittees.

A story is going around in the national capital about the newly appointed Economic Stabilization Administration (price and wage control) official who was interviewing job applicants.

In the midst of this proceeding, his telephone rang. After listening a moment, he wrote down five names on his telephone pad. Then he sent the job applicants away, saying the jobs had been filled.

In this connection it may be recalled that Admiral John H. Hoover resigned as Economic Stabilization Administration enforcement chief, because repeatedly men he never even heard of reported for duty on his staff.

Pasture Renovation Pays Big Dividends

Better Grass, Legumes Build Production Power

"Punch-drunk" pastures can be put back on their feet by a renovating program that will build up their milk and beef producing power. Killing out the old grass and growing alfalfa-ladino-brome grass mixtures doubled yields of forage in Wisconsin tests, the middle west soil improvement committee said. The old grass yielded 1,800 pounds of forage per acre, carrying some 200 pounds protein. The new alfalfa-ladino-brome grass seeding yielded close to two tons and 800 pounds of protein per acre. To get these better grasses and legumes, lime and fertilizers carrying phosphate and potash were needed to build the soil's mineral nutrient content.

Completely killing the old grass involves thorough fall working of the field. On heavy sod, criss-cross the field with disc to cut the sod into chunks. Then dig the field twice, with the field cultivator, working around the slope the second time. Just before freezing, dig the field to leave it rough. Lime and plant food can be broadcast before the field is worked or can be put on at seeding time.

Then, next spring, seed the higher producing deep-rooted legumes and grasses. A field cultivator and spike tooth harrow in tandem will leave a good seed bed.

HIRED FARM WORKERS INCLUDED IN 1951 SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

By Harry Baltuck
(Manager of the Northwest-Detroit Social Security Office).

A farmer came into the Northwest Detroit Social Security office the other day and said: "I've heard that the new social security law covers farmers. I operate a farm in Northwest Wayne County. What's it all about? How does it affect me?"

In answer to these inquiries the law says that some farm people will come under social security in January of 1951 — but not farm owners or operators. They will continue to be excluded because farm self-employment is not covered under the amended Social Security Act. Hired farm workers, however, will come under social security as of the first of this year, if they earn $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter and are regularly employed by one farm operator.

At this point, there will be several questions. First, what is meant by a regularly employed farm worker. Under the new social security law, in general, he is a person employed by one farm operator on a full-time basis for a period of several months. Another question will be, what is a calendar quarter. A calendar quarter is the three-month period beginning on January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1.

But back to the subject of a regularly employed farm worker. Let's take a typical example. We'll call such a farm worker Ed Smith. He is employed by Howard Jones. Ed has heard about the new social security, too. He has a wife and children, and he's looking forward to building toward old-age and survivors insurance. Fortunately for Ed, he is in a position to do just that. He has been working continuously for Jones during the calendar quarter beginning October, 1950. During that time, he established what is known as a "service relationship" with Mr. Jones. It indicates that he is working continuously for this one farm operator and that Jones wants him as a regular employee.

Now let's look to January, 1951, when regular farm work begins to count toward Social Security insurance. Ed is qualified in January to begin building his social security account. However, he must work for Jones on a full-time basis for at least 60 days in the calendar quarter beginning on January first. Moreover, he must earn not less than $50 in cash wages for his work on those 60 or more days. As long as he continues to do this much work for Jones in each calendar quarter, and earns $50 or more in cash wages for his work in that quarter, his earnings will be credited toward old-age and survivors insurance.

But suppose in the calendar quarter beginning April 1, or the one beginning July 1, or in any calendar quarter after that, Ed doesn't work as much as 60 days for Jones, although he is paid $50 or more cash wages for that period. He will be credited toward social security insurance for that quarter but not for the one to follow, regardless of days of work and amount of cash wages. That less-than-60-days of work broke his continuous employment relationship with Mr. Jones. Ed must start over again.

What this all means is that a farm worker, to have his cash wages count toward old-age and survivors insurance, must: first work continuously through a calendar quarter to establish a service relationship, then be continuously employed by the same farm operator, and earn not less than $50 cash wages for 60 or more days of work in each consecutive calendar quarter.

Lube Oil Demand Up

MSC Prof. Issues Request for Nurses

More professional nurses—about 65,000 of them—are needed urgently to care for the civilian health of the nation.

This is revealed by Florence C. Kempf, head of Michigan State College's department of nursing education, who has issued a request for more young women to enter the nursing profession.

The U. S. Army has called up 3,000 nurses to care for war casualties, and the American Nurses Association has set Michigan's quota at 183, according to a report of the joint committee on nursing in national security. The armed forces require one nurse for every 1,000 soldiers.

The nation needs 65,000 more nurses to keep pace with present demands, but the shortage will become more critical in the event of all-out mobilization, Miss Kempf said.

American hospitals, she said, have never recovered from World War II shortages, and now nurses again are being taken away from civilian occupations.

The nursing profession already has been placed on the list of critical occupations by the U. S. Office of Education.

Icebreaker Named for Upper Peninsula

The new ice-breaker state ferry will be known as the "Cloverland Queen". Members of the Senate and House of Representatives from the Upper Peninsula districts met in the office of Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler recently to select the name.

A number of cities in the Upper Peninsula had requested the new ship be named after them, but the legislative group, choosing the name for the vessel now under construction at the Great Lakes Shipbuilding corporation yards in River Rouge, decided "Cloverland Queen" could be shared by the entire Upper Peninsula, which long has been famous as a clover-raising area.

Flash pasteurization spurs Michigan apple juice industry

In 1950, half a million bushels of Michigan apples, which otherwise would have been a loss to their owners, were converted to top-quality apple juice, thanks to efforts of the Michigan State College Agricultural Experiment Station. Flash pasteurization at packing time was found to preserve both color and flavor of the juice, making it available for year-round use. The research workers have also found a way to fortify apple juice with Vitamin C. Improvements in packing have helped reduce costs and speed up operations. As a result, a million bushels of Michigan apples should be profitably converted into juice in 1951. For further information about these new developments, call, write or visit your County Agricultural Agent.

HAPPY'S NEMESIS . . . Fred Salgh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, reportedly has a busy man at the meetings on the vote for renewal of Baseball Commissioner "Happy" Chandler's contract, lining up as many votes against Chandler as he could.

Mapes-Stevens Duo Wins Tournament

The bowling season's first Teen Agers' doubles tournament was won by Robert Mapes and Betty Stevens, who posted a 610 total on the alleys at Royal Recreation. Six teams rolled in the after-school tourney Wednesday, February 14.

The Mapes-Stevens duo had 293 with a 43 handicap at the end of the first line. June King and Carol Lyke were 23 pins in second and Carl Ann Gaffield and Faye Lyke had 263, but Mapes and Stevens jumped the second line to 317 to erase competition.

Only 34 pins separated second-placers Harold Wilson and Betty Newhouse from the bottom pair, Sandra York and James Newhouse.

A trophy will be awarded to each of the winners by the Teen Agers League.

Military Oil Needs High
Military petroleum requirements are an important factor in total demand. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, these requirements were estimated at 101,887,000 barrels. While considerably below those for 1945, they were more than eight times 1941 needs, which amounted to

February's Greats Were Avid Readers Of Good Books

NO ONE DENIES that the long list of February greats, headed by Washington and Lincoln, has exerted a strong influence on the youth of the world.

How Washington might have reacted to the example of Lincoln must be left to speculation. That Lincoln took special note of Washington's achievements is a matter of record. Lincoln is quoted as follows:

"Away back in my childhood, the earliest days of my being able to read, I got hold of a small book, Weem's Life of Washington.

"I remember reading in it about the battlefields and struggles for the liberties of the country. . . . I remember thinking then, boy even though I was, that there must have been something more than common that these men struggled for."

History portrays the youthful Lincoln as an exceedingly bookish fellow. Whether he realized it or not, the very books he read were by courtesy of another February man, Johann Gutenberg, reputed inventor of movable type.

Charles Dickens and Charles Lamb, both born in February, caused the later version of Gutenberg's printing press to set type in some fascinating and enduring sequences.

So, too, did their brother Februaryans, Victor Hugo and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, who were the avowed favorites of Thomas Alva Edison, another February product.

Edison discovered Hugo and Longfellow while attempting to read his way through the Detroit Free Library. He is said to have mused, "Why not read all the books here? Then I will know almost everything in the world." Measuring off the rows of shelves, he then proceeded to read "a foot of books a week."

In so doing he came upon scientific literature. It is safe to assume that the February-born Charles Darwin and Cyrus McCormick may have given him an example to follow in his own career of fact-seeking.

Attention Marksmen!
Who says you can't "shoot" an oil well? In industry terminology, "shooting" means exploding nitroglycerin or some other high explosive in a drill hole to shatter the rock formation and increase the flow of oil.
