We've been watching the street sign at the corner of Hutton and Baseline for some months. It's turned around a bit... labels Baseline as Hutton and vice-versa. It's not a world shattering situation... unless you're a stranger... but interesting to see how long the sign stays that way.

Congratulations to the High school golf team, which won the first Wayne-Oakland League championship last week. We had a picture of the boys and Mr. Merritt Meaker, the coach, but bus transportation confusion lost the engraving temporarily. We'll run the picture next week.

The following letter was received by L. M. Eaton from the Nara Station Hospital and Red Cross Staff:

Dear Mr. Eaton:

On behalf of the patients at Nara Station Hospital and our Red Cross Staff, we want to thank you and the members of the Exchange Club who financed the mailing of magazines to this hospital.

Even though we have quite an adequate library on the Post, it seems that we never have enough magazines or light reading material especially comic books which seem to be a favorite. The patients like to have something that they can pick up and read hurriedly without too much concentration and comic books seem to fill that need.

It is gratifying to the patients to know that they are being thought of by the people at home and to know that they will even go to the trouble of collecting and mailing magazines to them.

Sincerely,

Denton Stresses Safety Education

"Don't bank on chance. Check the condition of your car regularly and have a safety balance for the rest of your life."

This advice was offered today by the State Safety Commission in stressing its May program of traffic safety education.

"Every time a motorist neglects an unsafe condition in his car," said Chief Joseph Denton, "he is making a deposit with death. And the final accounting may come sooner than he expects."

"Saving money is a good habit - but saving a life, perhaps your own, is much more important. Proper maintenance of your car can be a lifesaving investment," Chief Denton said. "Yet, on a purely financial basis, the cost of traffic accidents in 1949 alone is estimated at more than three billion dollars, and in about 8 per cent of these accidents, unsafe car conditions were reported, according to the National Safety Council."

"This means that about 250 million dollars of this cost might have been avoided if all cars had been kept in safe mechanical condition."

"The millions of dollars involved are only a small part of the loss. The 35,000 lives lost in traffic in 1950 can never be replaced from saving. But safety can save lives that need never be spent."

"Correcting unsafe conditions in cars may return a dividend of as much as ten per cent in this lifesaving program. That's certainly a good investment for a few dollars spent in automobile repairs."

Stressing that periodic safety inspections are purely an individual responsibility, the State Safety Commission joins with the National Safety Council this month in reminding all drivers that "Drivers with bad brakes can expect bad breaks in their accident records."

Wilbur Shaw thinks so much of this new Chrysler, he has selected it as Pace Car for the 1951 Indianapolis 500-mile race.

WILBUR SHAW, AMERICA'S MOST FAMOUS DRIVER, DRIVES NEW 1951 CHRYSLER—REPORTS TO YOU ON REVOLUTIONARY FIREPOWER ENGINE AND HYDRAGUIDE POWER STEERING

Here are Wilbur Shaw's reactions—in his own words—as taken down by a recording machine in the car:

"The '51 Chrysler has it! With this new engine and power steering, the first on any U.S. car, it's a whale of an automobile."

"I'm completely bowled over by the ease of steering! This steering combined with the automatic transmission . . . is the nearest thing to an automatic pilot for a car I can possibly imagine."

"This engine . . . I can't get over the amount of power and snap in this engine . . . it's incredible!"

"I drove 111 miles with the feeling I had expended no more effort than in driving around the block."

"When Mrs. Shaw drove, her comments just about squared with mine. Here's what she thinks of the 1951 Chrysler . . ."

Mrs. Shaw: "At first I could hardly believe the ease with which I could turn the wheel. That's important . . . especially in the summertime."

"Often after I have parked a car in the average parking space, I feel I should taxi home, shower and get dressed again. But with Hydraguide Power Steering I parked it with one hand. It practically drives itself."

Wilbur Shaw: "It's hard to describe this new Chrysler without going off the deep end . . . it has it in every department."

"In fact, I think so much of this car, I've selected it as Pace Car of the 1951 Indianapolis 500-mile race!"

*Mr. Shaw refers of course to standard passenger cars—not racing cars or special models.

Red Cross Aids Disaster Victims

In the six months prior to March 6 the American Red Cross participated in 92 disaster relief operations at a cost of $1,807,725 the national office reports.

Largest slice, $585,000, went for the relief of some 20,000 flood sufferers in California, Oregon, and Nevada. The storms and floods that swept the Eastern states last November, taking a toll of 38 lives, cost an estimated $450,000 and enlisted the services of 104 Red Cross chapters in 12 states.

During the hours immediately following the train wrecks at Woodbridge, N. J. (Feb. 6) and Richmond Hill, Long Island (Nov. 22), in which 163 persons were killed and more than 700 injured, Red Cross supplied 472 pints of whole blood and 115 units of plasma. At Woodbridge 1,200 inquiries from friends and relatives were handled in the first 24 hours. At Richmond Hill a Red Cross crew was on the scene within a half-hour with all services functioning. Years of training for just such an emergency made this possible.

Training also paid off in the Florida hurricane of last October, when immediate emergency aid was given to 15,000 persons. A total of 652 families received financial help to rebuild or repair their homes; 223 families were aided in refurbishing their homes and 96 families received medical and nursing assistance.

McClelland-Secord Wedding Read In Plymouth Church

"Ave Marie" and "Oh Lord I Am Not Worthy" were the numbers sung during the ceremony by Mrs. Cylk. Baskets of white snapdragons and palms decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She appeared in a gown of white satin and brocade which was fashioned from a copy of a 1750 apron bride.

The gown was styled with a high neckline, leg - o - mutton sleeves which ended in points over the wrists and the brocade apron, which was tied over the satin skirt, was edged with a pleated ruffle. The skirt extended into a circular train. Her sweetheart headpiece of satin and brocade held in place her fingertip veil. She carried a prayer book with white orchids attached and streamers of stephanotis.

Dolores Sark of Plymouth served as the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Joan Tuck of Northville and Dorothy Irland of Pontiac. The attendants' satin gowns were similar in style to the bride's with Dolores wearing nile green and the bridesmaids wearing orchid. They carried nosegay bouquets of yellow rose buds.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Secord chose a gray lace dinner gown. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose and beige dinner gown and each mother was presented with a corsage of yellow roses.

A reception was held later in the day at Veteran's Memorial Hall with 150 guests in attendance. Out of town guests came from Duluth, Minnesota, Detroit, Pontiac, Fowlerville, Saline, Ypsilanti, Plymouth and Dansville.

Mrs. W. Wagner, Mrs. M. Boring and Mrs. E. Gallow assisted at the reception.

The newlyweds left on a trip through the Ozark mountains for a week. For going away the bride chose a blue and white checked suit with navy blue accessories, complemented by her orchid corsage. Upon their return they will make their home in Detroit.

The bridegroom attended the University of Minnesota and graduated from the University of Detroit. He is employed by the International Business Machine Company.

The bride is a graduate of Northville High School and is employed at Burroughs in Plymouth.

A LARGER local telephone calling area for Northville

MONDAY, June 4, will mark an important improvement in telephone service for Northville... the introduction of extended area service.

On that day, Northville's local calling area will be enlarged. Northville telephone subscribers will be able to reach 11,000 telephones without toll charge... more than five times as many as they can today.

NORTHVILLE telephone customers will be able to call subscribers in the following communities without toll charge:
FARMINGTON PLYMOUTH
SOUTH LYON WALLED LAKE

Through the years, a natural community of interest has been built up between Northville and these towns. Friendships have developed. People buy and sell back and forth. The life of Northville has become closely linked with that of the others.

In communities where extended area service already has been introduced, the number of calls between the towns involved has increased several times over. With Northville's enlarged local calling area, telephone service will be geared to modern telephone needs and will become more valuable and useful than ever.

New monthly rates, based on the increased number of telephones you will be able to call toll-free, will become effective June 4 when telephones in the above communities are included in your local calling area.

Complete information on extended area telephone service, including the new rates, is being sent to all Northville telephone subscribers. Please watch for that material.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

NON-PARTISAN
NEWS LETTER

With the legislature due to adjourn this week after the usual hurried passage of last minute bills, political eyes again focus on Washington and the senatorial seat now being warmed by surprise appointee Blair Moody.

The mill is turning on the G. O. P. side for a likely candidate to contest Moody's popularity. Vandenberg is the name being bandied about most loosely. Arthur Vandenberg, Jr., seriously is considering running for the chair so recently vacated by his famous father. He has established a residence at Grand Rapids. Lt. Gov. William C. Vandenberg of Holland (no relation) also is wondering if his magic name could carry him into the job. And he also is a vote getter in his own right.

John B. Martin of Grand Rapids, auditor general, is highly touted as a candidate — and he also comes from Western Michigan, which traditionally is represented by one senator. Senator Homer Ferguson and Moody both are of Detroit, and Republicans feel this is not good state representation.

Other names popping up in connection with the 1952 senatorial election: Sigler, Kelly, Ford, Brucker, Potter and Shafer — to mention but a few.

Detroit will celebrate its 250th anniversary without state assistance. A bill to give $15,000 toward this event was ruled out of order by a harried house of representatives.

But the legislature was not too busy to whomp up a terrific argument against the old "lien law." The state no longer can file claims against the homesteads of deceased old age assistance recipients.

And, putting the shoe on the other foot, a bill to increase old age assistance maximums from $60 to $70 went down to ignominious defeat.

Interesting interpretation is the decision of the attorney general that instructions by insurance companies to agents not to solicit negroes, Indians, Asiatics or Mexicans do not constitute discrimination. What the companies can not do, however, is to increase rates for these people.

Civil defense in Michigan has taken a back seat in news coverage because of legislative activities but now will again assume its position on the front pages. Most recent announcement is that the U. S. Treasury Department has ruled that contributions by corporations and individuals to civil defense are deductible from federal income tax.

And money is one thing OD director Gen. Lester J. Maitland really needs. Most pressing shortage is fire fighting and communication equipment.

Speaking of money and its source, there now is a new educational movie being shown which has a message to every community in the state. Its theme: Help yourself in your own community before running to the state or federal government for aid. And use the local school system as a focal point for community development.

Arthur H. Vandenberg, Jr., is back in Grand Rapids studying the files of his father, the late G. O. P. and foreign policy leader, preparatory to publishing his memoirs. He has been approach-Conservation department park rangers are racing to get the last of some 8,000 picnic tables ready for their annual task of supporting tons of hot dogs, potato salad and soda pop. Earlier park weather has caused crowds at many of the 60 state parks and recreation areas. Including large and small tables, park rangers can seat over 71,000 picnickers at one time, not including the many who spread blankets for an outdoor feast. Here, James Alby, part time employee of the Waterloo recreation area, goes down a last row of new tables with a final touch of varnish.

The Michigan Farm Bureau has come out in favor of a "proper and permanent home" for the Michigan state library. Although oil never has been discovered in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, the conservation department has a request to offer an exploration lease on nearly 2,000 acres in Chippewa county.

HOME BUILDING DEEMED VICTIM OF "UNNECESSARY RESTRICTIONS"

Local building activity is due for a precipitous drop unless defense agencies in Washington modify their extreme and unnecessary controls affecting construction, according to Harold Church, local lumber and building materials dealer, and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"Restrictions on housing and other building have come so fast, in the effort to conserve critical metals for the defense production program, that surpluses of many building products are developing rapidly," Church said. "Yet these excess inventories cannot be used because of the emergency restrictions."

"The cutbacks in construction are only beginning to be felt, because work planned or started some months ago is not affected. "While the controls are not as severe as in World War II, when the country went into all-out war production, they nevertheless are more restrictive than they need be under the circumstances. For some unexplained reason, the building industry is being singled out for greater sacrifices than any other major industry."

"Under the latest defense regulations, some types of construction are forbidden outright and many others, including stores, large factories, garages, office buildings, and warehouses, cannot be built unless a special permit is received from the National Production Authority."

"The cumbersome permit system in itself is a serious obstacle because many weeks often are required to get the necessary permission to build, even when the government has no objections. NPA already was six weeks behind in handling applications for permits before it expanded the list of buildings for which permits are required."

Bell Files for New Rate Increase

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has filed its formal application with the Public Service Commission for a rate increase sufficient to raise revenues 17 per cent, or $22,000,000 a year.

Included in the application is a proposal to abandon the historic 5-cent pay-station call by doubling that charge.

In the application, J. A. Greene, company president, said Michigan Bell "asks only for enough increased revenues to enable the company to fulfill its function and duty of providing good service at reasonable cost."

Citing the tremendous service demands on the company, both for defense and civilian needs, Greene said substantial capital will have to be raised from investors and pointed out that Michigan Bell's rate of earnings has been less than half that of outside industry.

"When investors purchase securities, they compare values in the securities market just as housewives compare values in supermarkets," he said.

Greene compared telephone rate increases averaging 21 per cent since the war to an increase of nearly 100 per cent in individual purchasing power and more than 84 per cent in the general price level.

The rate increase of a year ago, he said, was based on past operations and a "prediction of relatively stable economy for the future." Instead, he pointed out the country has moved into a war economy with material costs, wages, taxes, and other expenses substantially higher than at the time of the last rate increase.

The term, "naval stores," which has come to mean pine products such as rosin, turpentine, wood tar and pitch, dates back to the time of wooden sailing ships when the products were used to caulk seams, treat rope, prepare paint, etc.

Novi Lodge News

The annual Mother - Daughter banquet of the Novi Rebekah Lodge was held Friday night, May 18 at the dining hall of the lodge building with 125 ladies present.

Thelma Cheeseman, mistress of ceremonies, introduced the members on the program. Nesby Button gave the invocation and Flossie Eno welcomed the guests. The toast to mothers was given by Shirley Snow and the response by her mother, Dorothy Snow.

The speaker of the evening was Anne Campbell of Detroit, who entertained with original poems and stories of earlier days. A song was rendered by Kathryn Bachert, Nesby Button and Clara Putnam and a poem was read by Doris Darling.

Corsages were presented to: Mrs. Rachel Palmer, the oldest mother present; Mrs. Audrey Ortwin, the youngest mother; Irene Wendland, with the most daughters, six, present and Mrs. Cydia Craven of Howell, the mother who came the farthest distance.

Committees in charge of the affair were: Sue Watson, kitchen; Eveline Butters, dining room; Mary Ann Atkinson, tickets; Rowena Salow, printing and Irene Staman, musician. The dinner was served by members of the Odd-fellow lodge.

The Novi Past Noble Grand club will meet at the home of Alice Hopkins, near Wixom Thursday, May 24. Ella Curtis will be co-hostess.

The regular meeting of Novi Rebekah Lodge will occur Thursday night, May 24. There will be initiation ceremonies for two candidates. A lunch in charge of Clara Putnam and social hour will complete the evening.

The Novi Rebekahs and Odd-fellows are planning a Pilgrimage to the Home in Jackson Sunday, June 10.

The Long Hike to Glory

New York—A portly fellow by the name of Bobby Locke is on his way from South Africa to England, and from England to the United States. This is one of the longest invasions that sport has known.

Bobby Locke is a South African golfer that many rate as the greatest of them all. His supporters bar nobody.

He is headed for the Goodall Round Robin at Wykagyl in early June, and later to the U.S. Open in Detroit, two of the major tests that golf has to offer.

Locke is, beyond any argument, the greatest golfer the other side of the Atlantic has developed since the reign of Harry Vardon. Bobby is now British Open Champion.

His showing in our Goodall Round Robin has been a trifle better than sensational. This is a grinding test where every player from a picked field must meet every other player. The total result tells the story.

In three Round Robins, the records we have show that Locke has won two and finished second in the other start. He has won more money, taking a general average of his play on this side of the bunkered pond, than any golfer we can recall at the moment. In any event, he has won a healthy chunk, his full share of doubloons.

Unfortunately Ben Hogan won't be able to stand the long 36-hole march of the Round Robin test. But Hogan will be on hand at Oakland Hills, for the Open, later on. For all that, Locke will have a rather savage test to meet.

He will have such competitors as Lloyd Mangrum, Sammy Snead, Jim Ferrier, Skeel Riegel, Jimmy Demaret, and others from the pick of the big field. Hogan is now Open champion and master of the Masters, two of the highest peaks golf knows today.

But the Round Robin is also a terrific test of both skill and stamina.

What this country and golf in general needs is the arrival of a few new faces. The old guard is wearing out. Hogan, Nelson, Snead, Mangrum, Ferrier, etc., haven't too far to go. They are moving to the borders of the Forty-Year-Old country, where the laurel and the olive begin to fade.

Bobby Locke is no part of a kid, for that matter. Bobby has been around a long time.

The Locke Swing

Bobby Locke's stroke is closest to a completely natural golf swing of any we have seen.

You can see the iron-shod schooling, the hours and years of practice, back of the Hogan groove. This goes for Nelson, Mangrum, and most of the others.

They have hammered themselves into a set style that allows for rare errors. There is the straight left arm, the body turn, the fixed head, the hand and wrist action that controls the club head.

With Ben Hogan, especially, there is rarely the slightest change from this killing routine. Sammy Snead has one of the best-looking swings golf has ever known. But Locke's swing still looks to be a trifle simpler and less complicated. It is more in line with the so-called "St. Andrews Swing" of ancient years.

Another factor of Locke's swing is its consistency or steadiness. You rarely see him wandering too far from the trapped or pitted highway. He is also a sound competitor who rarely gets bothered or upset by any errors or mistakes.

In addition to this, Locke has an extremely short game. There is no one better from just off the green to the bottom of the cup. He can chip and he can putt.

He has his full share of concentration and determination, and he has a swing he trusts implicitly, which is a major help.

Locke's visit will be the shot in the arm which golf needs today because of the lack of younger stars who seem to be in no hurry to report.

His presence on the greens will help the tournament appeal. American golfers, too, will remember the ability of the South African visitor.

Big Money

About one stable in ten makes any real money from a race track—breeding, selling or racing.

The horse player takes quite a healthy beating, year after year, but the horse owner takes an even bigger trimming. For example, Greentree, one of the best, makes money about one year in ten. The Whitneys, Vanderbilts, Wideners, Wrights, Sloanes, Jeffords, Klebergs and a few others support racing.

BOY SCOUT TROOP N-5

The Boy Scouts of Troop N-5 met last Wednesday at the Scout Building.

We made plans for our next camp-out June 1-3 and took the names of the boys going to summer camp.

Our patrols are going to earn points for different things. The patrol with the highest score is going to Chatham on Labor Day.

We then played "Capture the Flag."

The Boy Scouts of Troop N-5 met Wednesday at the Scout hall.

We had our business meeting and went to the Ford Field to drill. After that we saw a movie on patrol method in the troop.

To the Editor

To the editor:

Parents of the Community — We are about to lose a wonderful friend to our youngsters, our Recreational Director, Wilson Funk.

If anyone has helped our boys and girls stay off the streets and thoroughly enjoy their leisure hours it has been Mr. Funk through his intense and untiring interest.

We want our children to enjoy a good recreation program and to keep off the streets. Under Mr. Funk's supervision we know they are in good hands with someone who is genuinely interested in their welfare and at the same time, someone who the children respect and like.

It is necessary that something be done about his leaving—and quick.

There isn't another person available who could begin to take his place—to do the job as well.

Parents who are interested in their children's welfare, let's do something about Mr. Funk's resignation before it is too late!
