We were parking the car on Dunlap street Friday noon and watched with amusement a driver park a haulaway truck on Dunlap near the corner at Center street. The haulaway took the space of three parking meters. The driver's companion jumped out of the cab and began putting pennies in the first meter. He looked towards the second one and then to the driver. The two put their heads together and wondered what to do. Finally, I heard one man mutter to the other that he guessed that they paid their just due by putting pennies in the first one. After all, he reasoned, they couldn't help it if the vehicle took up the space of three. And besides, he said, he was hungry and wanted to eat lunch.

Officer Charles Groth has resigned from the Northville Police Department to take a job with the Plymouth Fire Department. At this writing, no one has been named to succeed him to the post.

Sunny, the pet collie of the William F. Weidners of Fairbrook road is a hero in the eyes of his proud owners. A fire raging in the tool shed close to the home was unnoticed by the family until Sunny's persistent, frantic barking brought the danger, by then an immediate threat to the house, to their attention. We rather think Sunny was trying to prove that his last winter's obedience training course wasn't entirely futile.

Sunday Accidents Keep Police Busy

The Northville Police Department was kept busy Sunday evening answering calls to two scenes of accidents within one hour.

At seven-thirty, they were called to Randolph street near Taft road where cars driven by Robert Sabat and Joseph Jakubowski, both of Detroit, crashed. Chief of Police Joseph Denton stated that the car driven by Jakubowski approached the curve too fast, hitting the embankment. Sabat's auto hit the rear of Jakubowski's car, throwing it across the road. The injured were taken to Atchison's Memorial Hospital for treatment.

An hour later, West Seven Mile road near the U.S. Fish Hatchery was the scene of the second crash. An auto driven by Jennings Odean Dyrdaal of Garden City was proceeding west on Seven Mile road and was struck by a car driven by Clarence Abiltz of Detroit. Abiltz was taken to Sessions Hospital for medical care.

The State Police were called to Twelve Mile and Novi Roads Sunday to unscramble a three-way collision. George Sata of Detroit and Mary E. Gardiner of Berkley were driving south on Novi road when a car driven by Robert E. Nelson of Berkley going east on Twelve Mile road collided with the two. The injured were taken to Sessions Hospital.

Governors Cup Trot Renewed Friday

The fifth renewal of the $10,000 Governor's Trot is scheduled for Friday, July 27, at Northville Downs and promises to exceed any of the past four due to the high caliber of the nominees.

Grattan Volo, owned by L. O. Charlesworth of Sarnia, Ontario, won't be back to defend the trophy it won in 1949 and 1950, but Demon Hanover, one of the greatest money winning trotters of all time and winner of the Hamiltonian in 1948, will be one of the favorites.

Grattan Volo finished out of the money in the first heat of the 1950 running as Deanna, owned by Gib White and Charlotte Sheppard of Hanover, Pennsylvania, trotted in first in the excellent time of 2:05 3/5.

But the brilliant Canadian standardbred won the second heat and then beat Deanna in the runoff to capture the honors.

The record for the event is held by Proximity in 1948 when it won the Cup and was clocked in 2:02 4/5 in one of the heats. Proximity originally entered in the Governor's Cup Trot, recently has been retired because of a leg injury. The brown 9 year old mare, harness horse of the year in 1950, earned $252,929 becoming the greatest money winning trotter of all time.

Deanna will be back for another try at the trophy again this year but the greater share of attention will be focussed on Demon Hanover, the 5-year old horse owned and driven by Harrison Heyt, the Eastern Hat manufacturer. Its time for the Hamiltonian was 2:02.

The remainder of the star-studded field with best times and money earnings to date:

Buckie B (2:07 h), $19,656; Buddy Patchen (2:08 1/5h), $10,014; Demon Hanover (1:59 4/5m), $138,959; Full Force (2:06 3/5m), $10,988; Jeffrey Hanover (2:02 3/5m), $33,986; Oh Johnny (2:07 3/5m), $20,873; Red Chuck (2:03 3/5m), $15,331; Royal Comet (2:04 1/5m), $5,920; Sailor Signal (2:07 3/5h), $16,080; Sidney Guy (2:04 1/5m), $17,599.

Past winners of the Governor's Cup Trot are Porter Day, 1947; Proximity, 1948; Grattan Volo, 1949 and 1950.

Community's History Linked to Names of Village Streets

To the casual passer-by, the names of Northville's streets—Dunlap, Yerkes, Rayson, Randolph, and so on, mean little more than the single connotation.

But ask an oldtimer, and chances are his chest will swell with pride as he reflects back to the "good old days" when the Northville Opera House was in its heyday when dancing parties were held by the J. S. Lapham family in their home which is now the Village Hall. If the tree-lined avenues could but speak, they would reveal tales of Villagers who were instrumental in founding the town.

Randolph Street honors the memory of Asa Randolph, who at one time conducted "Northville Academy," a dancing school. His father, Merritt Randolph, will be remembered by oldtimers as the operator of two local hotels, the Park House and the Exchange Hotel. The Randolph homestead is now owned and occupied by John Boyce.

Beautiful Dunlap Street is named for the town's founder, William Dunlap. Together with Asa Randolph and a Mr. Bradley, the gentlemen are purported to have come from Northville, New York, and they handed down the name of their old home town to their new place of residence.

Attorney William P. Yerkes' memory is honored by Yerkes avenue, which is located in the southeast end of the Village. Yerkes was probate judge for Wayne County for several years, and according to legend, he used to walk into Detroit to his job on Monday, returning to the Village on the week-end. Grace street was named for Grace Yerkes, the daughter of Charles Yerkes. She is now Mrs. Ross B. Dusenbury of Tryon, North Carolina, and recently visited the Village.

Cady street honors the late Daniel Cady, who owned much of the land on the north side of the Village. K. H. Babbitt of South Rogers street is a relative of the late Mr. Cady. Watson Rogers, a farmer, worked most of the land in the Orchard Heights area and Rogers street now bears his name.

An outstanding man in Northville's history was Francis R. Beal, who headed the Globe Manufacturing Company. He also was instrumental in the building of the Methodist church and Beal street, on the south side, honors his memory.

Mrs. Carl H. Bryan's father, William Thayer, was for many years superintendent of the U.S. Fish Hatchery. Thayer Boulevard was named for him. Eaton Drive was named for the late Levi F. Eaton, father of Levi M. Eaton. Mr. Eaton for many years owned a farm in the Orchard Heights area.

The pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, James Dubuar, was so beloved by both his congregation and the townspeople, that Dubuar street was named in his memory. Rayson street was so named for George Rayson, an English shoemaker who was active in village affairs. Wing, Hutton and Horton streets carry the names of early settlers here.

Northville streets have recorded for posterity the memory of the community's pioneers.

Additional Parking Areas, Alleys Planned for Village

At the last session of the Village Council, the Commissioners passed a formal resolution authorizing the taking of certain lands to be used for public alleys and parking areas.

It was the consensus of opinion of the Commissioners that added parking areas and more public alley space would be beneficial both to Northville merchants and to the general public. The Village will acquire the property through negotiation and purchase. Village Attorney James Littell has been directed to commence with the necessary proceedings on behalf of the Village to acquire the private property for the public improvements.

NHS Offers New Science Course

A new course in physical science will be taught at Northville High School this fall as a one year elective subject for juniors and seniors.

The course of study is being prepared this summer by Carl Zwinck, instructor. The first unit, covering about four weeks, will deal with astronomy. The solar system and stars will be studied by lectures supplemented by slides used in astronomy classes at the University of Michigan.

Meteorology, the science of weather and weather forecasting, will receive about two weeks of attention. Four weeks will be devoted to geology and minerals. "Measurement, mechanics, machines and aeronautics are the remaining units to be covered during the fall semester. As in other units, principles and their applications will be stressed with little use of mathematics and laboratory work.

Energy transmission will be studied second semester. Units are on sound, heat, light, electricity and communications.

The work of the last 10 weeks deals with the principles of chemistry, atomic structure, nuclear energy, and related topics. An important feature of the course is the integration of information from all of the physical sciences, just as biology courses have integrated material formerly taught in separate courses in such natural sciences as botany and zoology. Unfortunately, no integrated text is yet available, but the text will be supplemented with other materials and class discussions to bring out the interrelationships between physical sciences important now when science is a study of dynamic fields.

Science now deals with the equivalence of matter and energy, relationships between gravity, magnetism, and electricity, similarity of heat, light and electricity—modern knowledge goes beyond superficial studies of separate topics considered as isolated independent effects.

Exchangites Hear Latvian Minister

Members of the Northville Exchange Club last Wednesday afternoon heard Rev. Adolph Bergman, Methodist minister from Carleton, give a stirring talk on "In The Storms of Europe."

A native of Latvia, Rev. Bergman was born within czarist Russia, and was a close observer of the ascendancy to power of Lenin and other Bolsheviks.

Before 1940, Rev. Bergman said, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, had control over their affairs, but then Communist Russia moved in and placed them under military rule. Rev. Bergman was forced to work in a hospital. Then the Nazis invaded and the end of World War II offered him opportunities to flee and he brought his family to the U.S.A.

Rev. Bergman observed that there is widespread discontent among the Russians and he predicts another revolution.

Mrs. G. Hinton of Detroit is a house guest of the Jay Haworth family of Cady street.

NHS Band Plans Concert Series

Village music lovers will again have the opportunity to enjoy the fine music presented by the Northville High School and Community Concert band at the annual summer concert series which will begin Tuesday, July 31. The concert program scheduled to begin at 7:30 o'clock, will be held in the Village Park as has been the custom for the past years.

An innovation this year is an exchange plan with the South Lyon High School band under the baton of Pearson Bailey. The guest musicians will entertain the opening night of the series. The Northville band, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee plans an exchange concert in South Lyon sometime in August.

The South Lyon band has prepared the following selections for the Tuesday performance: "Booster March," a Showboat selection, "Main Event March," "Tea For Two," "Prairie Skies Overture," "Cool Water," "Ramblin' March" and "Dancing In The Dark."

I would like to answer some questions concerning what will be taught and how it will be taught in the new science course to be offered this fall. An article concerning this physical science course will be found elsewhere in this issue.

I am working out the course of study this summer, under the direction of Dr. Dimond and his seminar on the high school curriculum. Although details have not yet been worked out, the basic structure has been established.

The important principles of chemistry and physics will be included, as they are in the separate courses in these two sciences, although the new course does not allow time for much laboratory study or application in industry and other fields.

Units on astronomy, geology, meteorology and aeronautics will deal with fundamental laws of nature and their application to other fields. The treatment of these units will be more intensive than is possible in general science.

In forty weeks, only the most important principles and interrelationships of these sciences can be covered. That information most directly concerned with present and future events in the world which should be understood by all people will be stressed.

Since few students taking this course will themselves work in science fields, mathematics and laboratory skills can largely be omitted, dealing instead with more general topics in modern science and technology.

I am gathering information and materials from many sources to supplement the textbook and lectures, and I hope it will be possible to arrange several field trips for the course. Since the first unit deals with astronomy, I have recently talked with numerous teachers and observers in this field and visited observatories including the new University of Michigan observatory at Portage Lake, where the 24-36 Schmidt telescope has been in operation a few weeks.

In connection with geology and astronomy units, I plan to visit such areas as the Quebec asbestos mines, Vermont granite quarries, and the observatories and planetarium in New York City in August.

Mr. Mollema has already ordered film for use in the new course, and other modern educational aids will be employed. I am subscribing to several periodicals and adding books and pamphlets to my files for student reference.

One important matter in science is the distinction between fact and theory. Much erroneous information is gathered by those who accept theories as facts. Although theories are necessary tools in science, they cannot be accepted as true until proven, and this usually necessitates some modification of the theory. For example, conflicts between science and religion can be found if this distinction is ignored, although actually such conflicts are not real.

I am glad to see that people who will not have children in my class interested in knowing what the course is about. The general public should know and understand all changes in school policy and curriculum, since they affect and are affected by the future citizens of our community. I hope Northville will continue in its great interest in proper education of its youth.

Sincerely,

To The Editor:

Possibly your readers would be interested in the following. Mr. and Mrs. Hamill and niece, Miss Donna Smith of Port Huron (the trip being a graduation present for her) left July 1st for the west coast and returned last Saturday night. The A.T. & S.F. trains were both late some eight hours on account of the floods enroute.

You may have read in the papers about the thousands of acres of farm land submerged, some thirty or more drowned, lost three-fourths of a BILLION dollars, but it doesn't mean as much as when you see some of it yourself. One river normally one-fourth mile wide was eight miles across. Only one good bridge left between Kansas City and St. Louis. A house came floating out of a side river into the Missouri with three people clinging to the roof. The current rolled the house over and all were drowned.

A rescue boat made three trips to bring back a lady about to be confined. She was afraid the boat would capsize and finally they rolled her in a blanket and took her by main force. The house was soon under water. One old man absolutely refused to get in the boat and they left him. He drowned. One old lady refused to go unless they took several cages of canaries. There were miles and miles of water along the track, sometimes on both sides. Many submerged buildings and destruction. Most of the Santa Fe trains detoured via Denver and other rails to Chicago.

Los Angeles is growing rapidly and claims to have nosed out Detroit for third place in population. Rents have jumped sky high. Four room apartments that were $75.00 to $100.00 a month are now $125.00 and up.

Coming home there was a bad storm through Kalamazoo and Jackson. Four inches of rain fell. Streets were like rivers. One man took off his coat, rolled it up, put it under his arm and braved the elements in his shirt sleeves. Water ankle deep.

Was talking with a railroad agent who works at Forest Grove, Oregon, near Portland. I asked him how he liked Oregon. He was from the east. He said only one drawback—It only rained 13 months last year.

We liked the palm trees and a certain amount of mountains, tumble weed and cactus and all but were glad to get home.

What with droughts in most of the west, earthquakes in California, cyclones in Oklahoma, sand storms in Texas, floods in Missouri and bugs in Florida—we think Michigan a pretty good place after all.

MSC Prexy Begins Second Decade at College's Helm

Dr. John A. Hannah began his second decade as president of Michigan State College Monday, July 2.

The past decade under his presidency has been the most significant in the 96-year history of the college. It was a period marked by the emergence of Michigan State College as one of the nation's leading universities, not only in terms of enrollment and physical facilities, but also in terms of over-all academic standards.

When Dr. Hannah became president July 1, 1941, enrollment stood at 6,356. Today, its student body numbers about 15,000 students, ranking MSC as the 10th largest university in the nation.

Particularly noteworthy during 1941-51 was President Hannah's establishment of the Basic College in 1944 and the Continuing Education Service in 1948, the CES being set up for expanded statewide services to the Big Ten in 1949 was another mark of distinction for Michigan State.

The 48-year-old president is generally considered on of the top spokesmen for American education both on the subjects of general guidance and federal government relations and international educational problems.

He served as president of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities during 1949 and as chairman of the executive committee in 1950. When he was elected to serve a second term as executive committee chairman of the ALGU in 1951, he became the first college president ever to be accorded this honor.

ation from individual sellers will be held in strictest confidence, said Philip A. Hart, director of the district office.

A chief purpose of the survey will be to find out if there is enough stability in prices of a number of grocery items to make a community pricing program practicable. Community pricing is a system familiar in World War II under which the country is divided into relatively small market areas and grocery price ceilings set for each area on the basis of local transportation and other costs. These ceilings will be the same for all stores of each size and class and would be printed on charts for posting in retail stores where the customers can see them, the district director said. "OPS is fully aware of the important part that a community pricing program can play in the stabilization program of the necessity of having published ceilings for consumers, and of the great help such a program can be to individual grocers in simplifying their pricing problems," he said.

He explained that the community pricing program during the last war had a lot to do with holding the line on wholesale and retail food prices from the time it was started in May, 1943 to the end of that control program. "Up to now," Philip A. Hart pointed out, "OPS is prohibited by law from controlling the low parity farm prices and has not had sufficient assurance that prices have been made stable enough to meet the printing and posting of ceiling charts practicable."

Safest and easiest stairs for climbing are 10 inches wide with risers seven and one-half inches high. A hand rail or two will add to the safety of dangerous stairs, advises Olevia Meyer, extension specialist at Michigan State College.

Farming has moved up from fourth to third place as the most dangerous way of making a living. About 55 of every 100,000 agricultural workers are killed accidentally every year. Only the construction industry, mining and quarrying had higher occupational death rates.

Christian Science Churches
Pilate's famous question "What is truth?" is answered in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 29.

The Golden Text is from Isaiah (26:1,2): "We have a strong city; salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks. Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truth may enter in."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Ps. 25:5): "Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day."

Kathryn Anne Perrin Chooses Marquisette over Satin Gown

On Saturday evening, July 21, the First Methodist Church was the scene of the marriage of Kathryn Anne Perrin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Perrin of South Center street and Jack Fisk Reinhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reinhardt of Bay City. The altar was flanked with candelabra, palms and white gladioli.

The Rev. William A. Johnson officiated at the ceremony and Beverly Kindig of Chicago, soloist, sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Kay, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white dream marquisette over satin, fashioned with a scalloped Peter Pan collar and cap sleeves and matching gauntlets. Tiny self-covered buttons came down the front to the point of the slim basque bodice. The bouffant skirt, accented by a very full redingote edged in nylon tulle ruching, outlined the scalloped front and the circular train. Her French silk illusion finger-tip veil was secured to a pearl coronet and she carried white roses mounted on a white Bible, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Gene Perrin of Midland, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Mrs. Duane Heath (Dorothy Strenich) and Mrs. John Byron (Marie Searfoss) of Northville, and Mrs. Robert Reinhardt of Bay City were bridesmaids. They chose marquisette over taffeta in contrasting shades ranging from deep orchid to pink and their headpieces were of the same material. All the attendants carried cascade bouquets of deep fuchsia gladioli.

Robert Reinhardt of Bay City served his brother as best man and the ushers were Webb MacKenzie of Bay City, Gene Perrin of Midland, Pat Neering of Bay City, Bob Silvers of Chicago and Stan Sylwestrak of Cincinnati, Ohio.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Perrin wore an orchid shantung dress with white accessories and Mrs. Reinhardt was attired in navy sheer and navy and white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow roses.

Following the service a reception took place in the church house.

For their trip to the Upper Peninsula the new Mrs. Reinhardt wore a light blue nylon cord suit with white accessories. Upon their return they will make their home in Midland where the bridegroom is employed by the Dow Chemical Company.

The bride is a graduate of Cleary Business College and Michigan State College and has been employed as secretary at Evans Products Company. The groom, also a graduate of M.S.C. served for two years in the Navy during World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard LaBour, who recently moved to the Village from Detroit, have taken up residence at 508 Gardner avenue. The LaBours have three children, Judith, aged one, Danny, five, and Bradley, eleven.

School Buildings Being Renovated

Northville school children will return to their classrooms this fall and find them "spic and span," as the result of the work being carried out in both buildings this summer.

Headed by the maintenance staff, and with the assistance of several part-time workers, the grade and high school are being renovated, in readiness for the opening of school in September.

In the high school, a new roof costing about $1,400 has been put on and the furnace has been repaired. In the basement, the chemistry supply room has been remodeled into a broadcasting booth for use by Miss Florence Panattoni's speech pupils. The Parent Teachers Association has donated the money for additional equipment. Many of the rooms will be repainted in cheerful, pastel tones with the remainder of them being washed.

The entire exterior of the grade school has been waterproofed and the windows have been recaulked. Much replastering has had to be done in the building because of the many leaks caused by the spring rains.

The art department has been moved from the grade building into the former Brock house which the school rents from the Village. The driver-training class will also be housed in that building in the fall.

As a further convenience to the children, the front walks leading to the entrances of both buildings will be relaid, and the wide walk running parallel to the high school will be extended past the grade building.

A walk, through the buildings reveals the smell of fresh paint and plaster. Also to be detected is the odor of soap and other cleaning aids. Superintendent Russell H. Amerman states that all the work will be completed for the opening day of school this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Breitmeyer and daughter, Nancy Jean, of Seven Mile road left Tuesday to make their home in Santa Ana, California.

Judy Lynn Lambert of Clement road celebrated her eighth birthday Tuesday by having a picnic in Cass Benton Park. Her guests were 12 little playmates from the Village.

MSC Programs Aid 130,000 Persons

More than 129,000 persons were served by the Michigan State College Continuing Education Service during 1950-51, according to Edgar L. Harden, director. This compares with last year's total of 100,000 persons reached in the program.

The Continuing Education Service organized in 1948, offers Michigan residents a program of special courses, conferences, institutes and workshops to help them improve their vocational abilities and everyday living.

Three divisions of service—special courses and conferences, business and industry, and education and community service—held more than 600 institutes, classes and training courses on campus and around the state.

The special courses and conferences department served more than 70,000 persons in 200 programs including special courses, evening classes, conferences and exhibitions.

Approximately 8,600 persons from 61 Michigan communities took part in 163 programs of the business and industry department. These programs included insurance training, retail training and industrial management development.

Fifty thousand people were served through educational and community services. Michigan residents participated in government workshops, church leader training, school and community leader training, school bus driver workshops and "Adventures in World Understanding."

ON CAPITOL HILL
NEWS
GEORGE A. DONDERO

During the past week I joined with others in the House of Representatives in protesting the campaign of misrepresentation now being carried on by those who would grant to the President the excessive and unreasonable economic control powers he has demanded of the Congress. The whole weight of the administration's huge propaganda machine, comprising the thousands of public relations men scattered through hundreds of government departments and agencies, has been brought to bear in an effort to mislead the American people.

They are being told that those of us who seek to amend the Defense Production Act of 1950, which has been before the House for more than two weeks, are seeking those changes solely for the purpose of sabotaging price, wage, and credit controls.

This simply is not true. It is a falsehood of the most vicious kind imaginable.

By the tremendous outcry they are making, these propagandists are trying to conceal some highly important facts from the American people. Or perhaps they are only trying to make people forget those facts.

As early as August, 1950, Congress gave the President adequate price, wage, and credit control powers. He refused to use them until January 26, 1951. Meanwhile, the cost of living had gone up 7.0 per cent, and food prices had gone up 8.0 per cent.

The partisan political nature of the price and wage control agencies finally set up by the President has rendered them almost powerless. Prices generally have gone up another two per cent in the few weeks in which the price control organization has operated.

When it came time for a renewal of the Defense Production Act of 1950, the White House wrote and presented a new bill. It is one which would regiment the people, go far toward destroying private initiative and private property. It would make the President a virtual dictator over the private lives of the people. It contains a number of socialistic provisions which should be stricken out; it measures like these which are leading Britain to economic ruin.

Perhaps by the time these words reach print the new Defense Production Act will have been passed by the House. But, if so, it will not have been done until after the provisions for a socialistic dictatorship in America have been weeded out of the measure.

According to an official Treasury report, based on government expenditures up to June 30, the end of the fiscal year, the first year of the Korean War cost American taxpayers $8.4 billion. The report said that during the first year military costs were about $7,255,400,000 and non-military expenditures attributable to the war, $1,120,415,524.

Here are some facts which indicate the amount of red tape which those who seek to do business with the Federal Government must have to wrestle.

When a city or local government unit makes a request for an allocation or priority for materials needed to construct schools, pave highways, or build other necessary structures, local officials must deal with 19 different federal units set up under the Economic Stabilization Administration alone. Individual builders, of course, have to go through the same rigmarole.

If you don't know whether it's safe to launder a dress, test the material and trimmings carefully before washing. The material may be colorfast but trimmings, reinforcements, or shoulder pads may not be.

Be sure that your family has two servings of vegetables besides potatoes each day. One large serving of vegetables should be from the green and yellow vegetable group.

A split vote for the Republican nomination of United States senator is indicated at the moment for November, 1952.

Owen J. Cleary, Republican state chairman, is said to be mulling his chances. Another prospective candidate is ex-Gov. Harry F. Kelly who lost his third term bid for the governorship last fall.

Kit Clardy, Lansing attorney who last year opposed William W. Blackney for the sixth district G.O.P. nomination as representative, has hinted to friends in Washington that it wouldn't take much persuading to get him into the senate scramble.

The only announced candidate so far is a Republican from Grand Rapids—John B. Martin, Jr., now state auditor general. Arthur Vandenberg, Jr., also of Grand Rapids, has been mentioned as a possible contender. Young Vandenberg hasn't revealed his intentions.

Speaker of the House Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) long has cherished the job of secretary of state. Also eyeing the position is Rep. Robert M. Montgomery (R-Lansing) who is speaker pro-tem. Fred M. Alger, Jr., who holds the position now, has announced his candidacy for nomination as governor.

Armed with additional funds from the legislature, Dr. Lee M. Thurston, superintendent of public instruction, quietly is investigating several more school districts. They are suspected of padding enrollment lists to gain more state aid funds.

Caution Tourists on Resort Choice

Vacationists and tourists visiting Michigan resorts this summer are advised by the Michigan Association of Master Plumbers (MAMP) to select places which exhibit the "Sanitation Approved" signs issued by the Michigan State Department of Health. Lloyd S. Thornton, Pontiac, MAMP president, stated that vacationists can be assured that places bearing this sign are thoroughly safe from the standpoint of pure drinking water and the proper disposal of wastes.

Thornton asserted that the majority of resort owners in the state are vitally interested in guarding the health of their customers and have installed modern water and sewage treatment facilities.

However, whenever a traveler is unable to secure accommodations where the sign of approval is displayed, Thornton pointed out that the prospective customer, with a little caution, can select a good, clean resort by making certain that the drinking water has no unusual odor, cloudiness or bad flavor, or, if still in doubt, by taking final precautions of asking that the water be boiled. A sparkling glass of water, Thornton said, is no indication of proof that the water is safe for drinking. He urged also, that vacationists make certain that wastes are not being discharged upon the ground and that septic tank drainage and sewage are not discharged into streams, open ditches, or near bathing beaches.

Use softened butter spread to the very edge of the slices for sandwiches to keep the filling from soaking through, advise Michigan State College home economists. Both slices should be buttered—not too thick and not too thin.

Industrial Survey Reveals Complaints

Industry comes to Michigan and stays, declines to come, or moves away, for definite and determinable reasons.

These reasons are set down in a careful study just issued by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan and a task force of the Michigan Economic Development Commission for which the survey was made. Facts and conclusions were compiled from personal interviews with a representative sample of Michigan manufacturers. Of 200 industrialists, interviewed last year, twelve said they have been considering moving all or part of their plant to another state. A dozen more were considering expansion of their plants outside Michigan.

The survey concludes that this indicated no serious threat and says that the loss, if it should occur, would be more than compensated by construction of new plants and the movement of industry into Michigan. However, many industrialists who do not consider moving still have many complaints and, says the report, "One major cause for NOT planning to move a plant is a general state of inertia rather than the advantages of plant location in Michigan over alternative locations."

Advantages of a Michigan location most frequently mentioned by manufacturers are:

1. Nearness to markets; particularly to the automotive plants.
2. The availability of labor personnel with highly specialized skills.
3. The presence of a labor force familiar with production techniques.
4. Nearness to materials; especially semi-fabricated parts.
5. A liking for the state as a "nice place to live."

Disadvantages most often mentioned include:

1. High labor costs — relative to output per man hour.
2. Difficulties with organized labor.
3. High local taxes, traffic congestion, lack of space for expansion.

Considerably more dissatisfaction was found in Detroit than in outstate areas. Many manufacturers saw a need for production of more steel in Michigan.

The survey was made under the direction of Dr. Rensis Likert of the Institute for Social Research, University of Michigan. The Survey Research Center, which made the study is a division of the institute. Chairman of the Michigan Economic Development Commission's task force is Walter L. Cisler, executive vice president of the Detroit Edison Co.

Feeding with antibiotics speeds growth of baby chicks

Aureomycin, a recent antibiotic development, promotes rapid growth in baby chicks, say poultry researchers at Michigan State College Agricultural Experiment Station. Believing that this drug acts on bacteria in the intestine of the baby chick, they fed Aureomycin to one group of chicks, then inoculated another group. They found that while Aureomycin injections had no beneficial effect on growth, including the drug in normal feeding practices substantially improved growth. More recent experiments have added Penicillin, Terramycin and Bacitracin to the list of antibiotics stimulating growth. For further information on the possibilities of antibiotic feedings for your poultry, call, write or visit your County Agricultural Agent.

Operators' atlas places calls promptly

In each of Michigan Bell's 75 toll centers, long distance operators use a complete world communication atlas to speed calls along the highways of speech. The atlas lists 71,000 localities within the U. S. proper (2,214 of them here in Michigan); 16,000 in Canada, Cuba and Mexico; 17,000 vessels; and 330 airplanes. It includes 10,000 cars and trucks equipped with telephones; and 85 overseas countries and territories to which telephone service is available. The atlas is revised from day to day, keeping all these points at your operator's finger tips. It's another example of telephone efficiency working for you.

The Joe Louis Status

It is only natural that a fighter who held the heavyweight championship for over 11 years should still keep his grip on national interest.

We are referring to a fellow known as Joe Louis. Although his recent bout with Lee Savold is several days old, people still stop you to ask how the old-timer really looked.

No one will actually get the answer until he hooks up again with a younger, faster fighter by the name of Ezzard Charles.

As we somewhat dimly understand Einstein's "Theory of Relativity" it amounts to this—a train may be moving a bit slowly, but it appears to be moving faster in passing a stationary telephone pole.

Just after Joe's recent victory, I ran across my old friend Walter "Goodtime Charlie" Friedman, just back from the West. Goodtime Charlie, discoverer of Primo Carnera, has just signed up Max Baer for the wrestling circuit and taken over the management of a new colored heavyweight, Bob Golden, still in the army.

"No old man is going to beat Louis," Friedman said. "But a thing called youth is a different story—quite a different story. Give Louis credit, full credit, for the way he looked against Savold. But please don't forget that Savold is no Charles. Savold has been rusting for three years. Charles has been almost as busy as Joe has been. And Charles is still much younger and faster than either."

"So you don't think this fight has proved anything?" I asked.

"Yes, it has," Goodtime Charlie said. "It has proved that Louis has improved, no matter how bad Savold looked. But just how much I wouldn't know."

That seems to be the answer to the Louis improvement—how much? Weighing as much as he has recently, or even with a little poundage added, the Bomber looked thinner in the body. He seemed to move with more alertness, if not with greater speed. All of this could not be charged to Savold's lack of mobility.

The main thing the Louis-Savold fight did was to more than double interest in the next Louis-Charles meeting, provided, of course, Charles gets safely by Walcott in Pittsburgh in their July show.

Bolstering the Dodgers

There is one detail connected with the recent Cub-Dodger deal that can't be charged against the Cubs. As stupid and as one-sided as the deal was, it didn't slip the pennant to Brooklyn.

With seven members already set for any All-Star National League squad, Chuck Dressen had little to worry about winning a pennant. His N.L. All-Stars are Campanella, Roe, Newcombe, Hodges, Robinson, Reese and Snider.

Against this array of talent, one of the best National League teams in history, Brooklyn faced a league with no particular consistent strength.

For example, there was one first-class ballplayer on the Cubs, above the average. His name was Andy Pafko. So he was traded.

There were two good ballplayers on the Pittsburgh team—Kiner and Westlake. Westlake was traded away, leaving Pittsburgh with but one good ballplayer.

If Brooklyn doesn't win the N.L. pennant by 20 games it will be due to a long run of sleeping sickness, or because Dressen's tender heart has a feeling for suffering souls.

No wonder the Cubs are getting to be perennial last-place battlers. They either keep in their favorite home, the cellar, or they give someone else a sturdy battle for this eighth-place spot.

Pafko was just about worth the rest of the Cub squad. In the old days, the National League always gave you the big pennant race. Now it's the American League that supplies about 90 per cent of pennant interest and pennant action with the White Sox, Yankees, Red Sox, Indians and possibly the Tigers still in the gay and giddy grapple for the so-called gonfalon.

More About Eddie Arcaro

"Your contributor's recent letter about Eddie Arcaro's record was entirely incorrect," writes Irving Phillips. "All you need do is look to the record. This record of the National Jockey Standings from January one to June one, 1951, shows the following averages in order—percentage of winners to total mounts. Arcaro, 23.48 per cent; Borgmenke, 21.7; Knowles, 21.10; Mares, 20.16. The same list shows Atkinson, 15.30; Shoemaker, 19.53.

Kroger Introduces Profit Sharing Plan

An opportunity to share in the profits of the Kroger company, save regularly, and build an estate for themselves and their families was offered employees of the retail food concern by Joseph B. Hall, president, at a meeting of Detroit branch employees at the Book Cadillac Hotel, Monday, July 23.

The meeting was one of a series scheduled to acquaint Kroger employees with the company's new savings and profit sharing plan and to give them an opportunity to join. In charge of the meeting was C. Olaf Talla, Detroit branch manager.

It is estimated that approximately 17,000 are eligible to participate in the plan which is available to all employees 21 years of age or older who have had two or more years of continuous service.

Mr. Hall explained that the program provided an opportunity for employees to save and invest a portion of their earnings in a savings fund and also to participate in the company's profits. Because a portion of the profit sharing fund will be invested in Kroger stock, participating employees as a group will within a few years become important stockholders in the company and have a big stake in its success, he said.

"We believe this plan will

Air Force ROTC Expanded at MSC

Two new options in flight operations and general technical work have been approved for the U. S. Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps unit at MSC. The new course offerings are expected to increase air force help all of us as individuals," he added. It will also strengthen our company still further. Every one of us will take more interest in doing a better job for customers when we are to share in the results accomplished.

Attending the meeting from Northville was Eddie Barnes, local Kroger store manager.

unit enrollment at MSC from 1,000 to 1,400 next fall, according to Lt. Col. George O. Commemorator, air force commandant.

Starting in 1953, the air force unit will graduate 290 second lieutenants annually as compared with this year's class of 98. Col. Commemorator said.

Enrollment in the college's total ROTC program, which also includes seven major branches of the U. S. Army, is not expected to change materially from the 3,300 figure recorded last year, college officials added. All freshmen and sophomores in the ROTC program and those students accepted for advanced training as juniors and seniors are draft exempt.

The new flight operations option is a comprehensive pre-flight program to prepare students for USAF flying schools. Students will study principles of flight, aircraft engineering, navigation, radar and bombing. They must qualify physically for flying duty, and agree to enter flight training upon graduation. The general technical option introduces the student to primary technical fields and related equipment used in the USAF.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Walker, Jr. of East Eight Mile road accompanied by their grand-daughter, Judy Walker of Seven Mile, Tuesday motored to Chicago, Illinois to visit the Walker's daughter, Mrs. Louis C. Eaton and her family, who recently moved to that city from the Village.

How Far Can You Trust A STRANGER?

Every time you make a purchase you're placing trust . . . partly in the merchandise or service, and for the most part, in the person who sells it to you.

So whenever a stranger . . . at your door, on your telephone or in some other way . . . asks you to buy a "bargain," there's risk involved. You have every right to ask yourself "HOW FAR CAN I TRUST A STRANGER?"

Many strangers who come into a town and community "just over night" are reputable . . . but there is no guarantee . . . no way to be certain whether he is or not regardless of his story. After the stranger leaves, what can you do if you discover that you have been "taken in" by a fellow who grabs what he can and leaves before the goods are received or tested in use?

Buy in NORTHVILLE from MERCHANTS You Know

The permanent business men of Northville cannot skip out and leave you with a bad bargain. They have spent years in building up good business reputations that offer you service and satisfaction . . . protection. They know that their future good standing and success depend upon you and your appreciation of their honesty and fairness . . . your satisfaction with their goods and services.

They continue every day to improve their services and product lines and to keep you informed through legitimate, long time advertising and promotion. They can't afford complaints against any of Northville's established businessmen.

Most of the complaints concern unknown houses that send peddlers or representatives into town . . . peddlers who pay no license, no tax, no part of the expense of making your community a better place for you to live. They may even hide behind the reputation of some established business.

The next time some stranger wants to sell you his "bill of goods" ask yourself, "How far can I trust a stranger?" In the long run it's safer and just as easy to find the same product or service among your own local merchants who will back up their sales with their good reputations. It's better to wait and be safe than to buy on impulse and be sorry.
