

This week's good samaritans to the Detroit House of Correction cause for old stockings, ties, etc. for the occupational therapy department are Mrs. Clara Dickerson, Mrs. Dirk Groenenberg, Mrs. Mary Wadsworth of Farmington, Mrs. William Rackov of Novi and Mrs. Norman Witt. To date, 1751 ties, 1279 ladies stockings, 1048 men's socks, 12 dresses, 13 slips and 3 blouses have been contributed by kind-hearted Villagers.

In the good old summertime... we wait for the hot weather to come and then when it's here, wait for some relief from it. The younger generation has found a solution to it though, thanks to the Northville Recreation Committee. They have been going swimming at Kensington Lake and at the Rouge Pools.

We were ambling along Main Street the other day and passed the faded, peeled, scorched signboard on one of the Village's "four corners" that once bore the names of Northville's World War I heroes. Its face embraced a tattered sign advertising a dance of several months ago.

The "four corners" is traversed by hundreds daily; probably more people pass that spot than any other in the Village. They are greeted by a weather beaten sign. It occurred to us that it would be a wonderful place to "advertise" the Village... to tell others that Northville is a community of happy people, that its population is 3,221, and what it has to offer newcomers. Perhaps some service club would like to make a project out of it... it's something to think about anyway.

Northville's mayor, Conrad E. Langfield, made the July 30 issue of Time Magazine "Con" is pictured with several other gentlemen at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Northville's newest addition to the police force is Arthur LaMoria of Brighton LaMoria, aged 24, has had some experience in police work as he served briefly with the State Police at the Howell post.

Gerald Taft of West Eight Mile road had three of his Morgan horses in Detroit's 250th anniversary parade Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Appleby (dressed in old fashioned costumes) rode in a surrey drawn by Springbrook Peggy and Quiz Kid Mr. Taft rode his parade horse Springbrook Sam in the silver mounted group.

The Northville Fire Department answered a call Monday evening when the upholstery in a car on Plymouth Avenue caught fire. The blaze was quickly extinguished.

South Lyon Band Opens Concert Series

Many Villagers voiced their approval over the fine concert presented by the South Lyon High School Band in the Village Park last Tuesday evening.

Under the direction of Pearson, Bailey, the South Lyon Band played the opening concert of Northville's summer series which have been a source of entertainment for Village music lovers for many years.

The varied program of the guest musicians included the "Booster March," "Main Even March," a Showboat selection, "Tea For Two," "Prairie Skies Overture," "Cool Water," "Ram-bler March" and the ever-popular, "Dancing In The Dark."

Industrial Firms Plan Open House

A unique opportunity to see Detroit—and Detroiters—at work will form a special attraction of the Motor City's 250th Birthday Festival during the week of August 6 through 11, when 26 local business and industrial establishments will hold "open house."

During specified hours of this open house week local residents and out-of-towners alike will be able to go "backstage" in many of the city's best known firms and factories to see what makes their wheels go 'round. The "Open House of Business and Industry" has been arranged through the cooperation of the 26 companies with the Science and Engineering Committee of Detroit's 250th Birthday Festival. It will be the second phase of that Committee's Festival contribution, the first being the successful Birthday Week showing at the Rackham Memorial Building of exhibits dramatizing the gifts of technical skill to everyday life. The committee is headed by William B. Hurley and Benjamin Linsky. Committee members who worked up the Open House project were J. Lawrence Buell, Jr., John P. Bryant, George Rideout and Pete Shian.

No tickets will be necessary for visits to any of the plants involved; however, children under 16 years of age must be accompanied by adults. Some of the firms participating in the open house are: Burroughs Adding Machine; Chrysler Corp.; Community Chest, Detroit News; DeSoto Plant, Detroit Stock Exchange; Dodge Brothers; Ford Motor Car Co.; Holley Carburetor; Industrial National Bank; Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.; Pfeiffer's Brewing Co.; Plymouth Plant, Reynolds - Shaffer Co.; Stroh Brewery, United States Rubber Co.; Vernor Company; Wabec State Bank and Station WJR.

Downs Officials Give Horsemen's Party

Northville Downs officials were hosts Sunday afternoon at the fifth annual Horsemen's Party.

About 1250 owners, trainers, drivers, grooms and their friends gathered for dinner and then enjoyed square dancing in the afternoon. Roy Rew, Plymouth magician, was also on hand to entertain the throng with his feats of magic.

State Fair Plans Honeybee Exhibit

The honeybee will be queen in the featured Agricultural exhibit at the Michigan State Fair, August 31 through September 9.

Chairman of the exhibit titled "Value of Bees to Michigan Agriculture" is William E. Staack of Dearborn who is being assisted by committeemen including Professor E. C. Martin of Michigan State College and Edwin Smith, of Detroit, State Fair board member.

A large glass hive of bees will be flanked by displays portraying the benefits of bees in pollinating fruits and legume seeds. Also included will be an exhibit of commercial honey extracting equipment and a demonstration of honey extraction from the combs, using hobby beekeeper utensils.

"There was a time when almost every Michigan farm had its own hives of bees and that was good," explains Chairman Staack. "The importance of honeybee pollination to general agriculture has been known for centuries and where farm practices have been handed down from generation to generation there you will find honeybees."

In early Michigan practices, honeybees were maintained in any kind of a box that made a shelter. Bees died in winter, but that made little difference, for with good spring weather replacements could always be made from the stronger remaining colonies.

Increase was often made during the summer, when swarms were captured and put back to work. Many of you can remember grandfather or grandmother excitedly trying to bring down a swarm of bees by pounding tin pans, ringing bells, and shouting. Some even threw sand in the air. The bees always came down somewhere when they got good and ready.

But Michigan agriculture has grown up. The up-to-date farmer has little time to fuss with bees. Fortunately, beekeeping has become big business, too, and honeybee pollination is now available through more beneficial arrangements than ever before.

Farmers, in general, know the valuable service honeybees perform. And the statement by the United States Department of Agriculture that honeybees are worth ten to twenty times more as pollinators than for the value of the honey they produce, is not taken lightly. Each year the USDA asks for increases in the number of hives of bees across the nation, for bees improve the quantity and quality of many valuable farm crops.

Legion Ball Team To Play Royal Oak

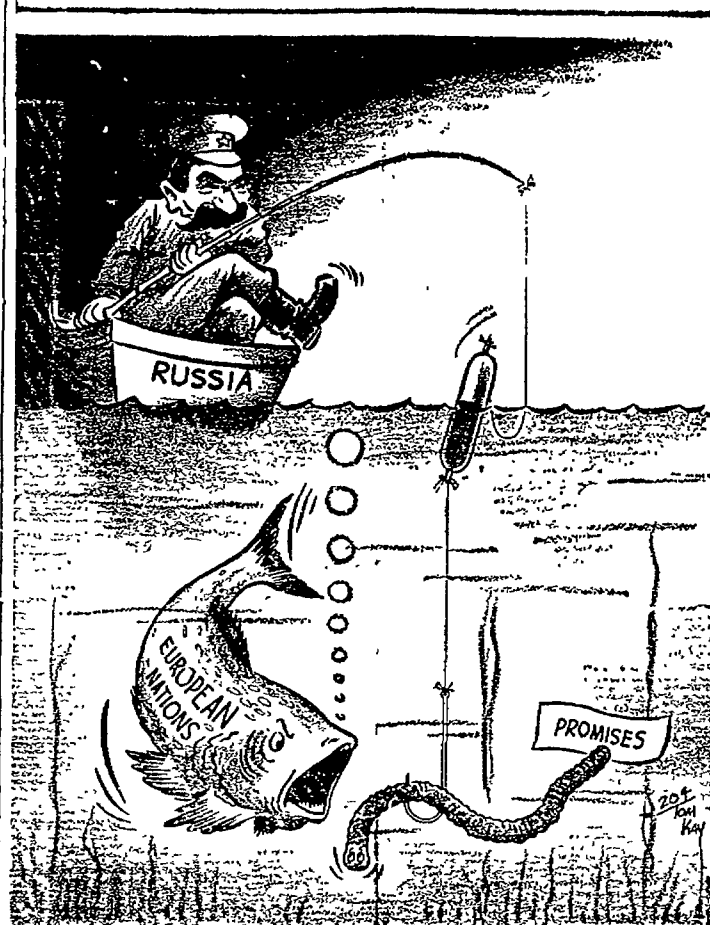

The American Legion Junior baseball team will take the diamond against Royal Oak at Cass Benton Park at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, August 8.

Four representatives from the local team played on the Legion 17th District team at Briggs Stadium last Sunday against the second District and were defeated 7 to 2. Jerry Freydl, Dennis Cull, Lamar Nalley and Don Thomson were the Northville representatives. Nalley pitched 2½ innings and Thomson caught 5 frames.

In the first game, the 16th District edged the Detroit District 2 to 1.

The boys rode down to Briggs Stadium in a truck furnished by Cy Owen, local Ford dealer. Owen also sponsors the Junior Legion team during the summer.

Northville State Hospital Inspected by Legislators

The Northville State Hospital was visited Friday by members of the joint legislative committee on mental health.

The group was headed by Dr. P. N. Brown, who will be the medical superintendent of the institution. They inspected the six story power house and the eight story central unit which is said to be the model of all state institutions. The unit is expected to be ready for occupancy of 600 patients by March 1, 1952.

About $6,500,000 will be spent on the construction of the power house and central unit. A medical unit and administration building are still to be started. An 80 bed admission unit and a 280 bed intensive treatment building at an estimated cost of $5,800,000 is also being planned.

Cost of the completed institution is estimated at more than $40,000,000 according to committee chairman, Senator Elmer R. Porter. This figure includes units not yet authorized but what are required to house a maximum of 3,500 patients.

Tentative plans call for a staff of 1,200 and the institution is situated on property extending half a mile south from Seven Mile and two miles west of Hagerty road.

Comments voiced by the committee members included criticisms of the lavish use of aluminum in window and door frames, plate glass expanse, colorful tile and the modern stainless steel equipment.

Members Voice Objections. Committee members stated that they were dissatisfied over the elapsed time between the letting of contracts and the receipt of first patients. Representatives of the contractors retaliated with the statement that many materials are short in supply.

Dr. Brown expressed the fear that lack of some kitchen equipment might delay the opening of the first patient unit.

Committee members who inspected the unit were Senators G. Elwood Bonine, Don Vanderwerp and Felix Flynn and Representatives Gerald L. Murphy and Joseph Warner of Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Corbin of North Center street attended a friend's wedding in Ann Arbor Saturday.

Chief of Police and Mrs. Joseph Denton of Randolph street left the middle of the week to visit friends in Manitoba and Alberta, Canada. The Dentons expect to be gone about two weeks.

Northville Joins in 250th Festivities

Northville had a part in Saturday's big 250th birthday celebration in Detroit. Through the courtesy of Conrad E. Langfield, Northville entered a float which carried the slogan "The Little Switzerland of Wayne County."

The float beheld a replica of the Northville Spring, and a picnic table with green grass surrounding it. Picnickers who enjoyed nibbling on fried chicken as they moved down Woodward avenue were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carrington, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carrington and daughter, Ruth Ellen, and Neil and Peter Locke.

The Northville High school band under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, also had a part in the day's festivities. They marched ahead of the float and played for the multitudes.

AF Capt. Tells of Korean Air Support

Captain William L. Jackson, brother of Mrs. Lee Prunty of West Main street is furloughing with them this week, after which he will go to his permanent base at Shaw Field, South Carolina. Captain Jackson, now a flight instructor for jet pilots, has been a pilot in the air force since February 1942, and completed 26 B-17 bomber missions over Europe during World War II. He has flown 128 missions over Korea in the present conflict.

The Captain is a "mosquito" pilot in reconnaissance with a tactical air unit. A "mosquito" pilot is one who flies at a very low altitude over enemy lines locating the targets and then informing the jet plane pilots where to direct their fire. He is in contact with a jeep on the ground at all times. This is necessary as the front lines are so close together that our own troops might be strafed without this contact.

The Captain states that the Reds are experts at camouflage, and many times his plane was shot at and he could not locate the artillery from which the fire came. He says the ground forces learned to appreciate the air force much more in this war than in World War II, because they lent a lot of support to them.

Captain Jackson is a graduate of Potomac State and West Virginia University. He is married and has two children. Mr. and Mrs. Drake Older and family of South Rogers returned to their home Monday following a two weeks' visit in Illinois where they divided their time between Mrs. Older's mother, Mrs. I. Dalrymple of Evanston and Mrs. Clifford Older of Wilmette, the mother of Mr. Older. Avis Anderson of Palatine, Illinois returned with them for a two weeks' stay as a guest of Priscilla Older.

Mrs. Richard Harper (Hilda Westfall) and children, Richard and Elizabeth, of Battle Creek are in the Village on an extended visit with Mrs. Harper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westfall of High street.

Golf Pro Discusses Scottish Customs

Melvin "Chick" Harbert, golf professional at Meadowbrook Country Club, was the Wednesday luncheon speaker at the Exchange Club. Harbert discussed the Ryder Cup tournament which he participated in a couple of years ago.

"Chick" visited the St. Andrews course in Scotland and told that the workshop there has hand forged clubs since 1694, and is still in use with very few changes being made over the centuries. He also told the group that golf tournaments have become "big business" with 1951 major tournaments offering approximately $760,000 in prize money.

Packers Outlet Sold To Wrigleys

John E. Lurie, president of Wrigley's Stores, Inc., announced today that Wrigley's Super Markets had acquired the entire chain of Packers Super Markets. The consolidation of these two pioneer food retailing firms under the Wrigley administration will bring together 65 super markets now servicing Detroit, Ferndale, Birmingham, Royal Oak, Pontiac, Grosse Pointe, Mt. Clemens, Monroe, Northville, Ypsilanti, Wayne, and the down river area of Detroit. At this time future plans for the Northville store are unknown, states Morris Pearl, manager.

Nathan W. Lurie, secretary-treasurer, stated that this acquisition culminates years of effort to bring more and better foods at lower cost to more people of Michigan. "This aim," he said, "will be accomplished by the increased distribution efficiency and combined buying power of the larger organization." He added that the expansion will open new vistas of opportunity for the personnel of both organizations.

Since many new executive, supervisory and managerial positions will be created in the expanded operation, Mr. Lurie also stated that all the personnel of both chains will be retained and absorbed in the enlarged chain.

The officers of the new chain, who also comprise the Board of Directors will be: John E. Lurie, president, Nathan W. Lurie, secretary-treasurer, Sam Frankel, executive vice president and Merwyn Grosberg, vice president.

A multi-million dollar expansion and remodeling program will get under way immediately and should result in approximately 70 units by the end of 1951. These 70 markets will all fly the Wrigley banner and will follow the merchandising principles and operational policies of the present Wrigley chain.

New warehouse facilities to service the enlarged operation are already under construction and will be ready for occupancy early in 1952. Upon completion this warehouse will be one of the largest (if not the largest) food distributing structures in the middle west, and will feature the latest innovations of modern material handling techniques.

Horse Crashes Rail, Spectators Injured

There was a bit more excitement at Northville Downs last Friday night—more than that which was conjured over the fifth renewal of the $10,000 Governor's Cup Trot.

In the seventh race, Little Royal driven by Leon Boring crashed into the rail just beyond the finish line, injuring several spectators who were jammed together there. The injured were taken to the first aid station where they were treated for cuts and bruises. One of the injured, Mrs. Bedia Woods of Belleville, was taken to Sessions Hospital where she was treated for neck lacerations. She was discharged Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hammond of North Center street, enjoyed a week's stay in northern Michigan recently. While there they visited in Mio, Mackinac City and Marquette. They returned to the Village Saturday.

Downs Ready for Mich. Pacing Derby

The seventh annual $10,000 Michigan Pacing Derby will be held on the night of Friday, August 3, at Northville Downs. The stake is one of the top events of the year in the Detroit area.

This year's entry list reads like a roll call of the leading pacers in the United States and Canada. The nominees include several which have bettered the magic two-minute time in competition over mile and half-mile tracks. Heading the nominees is Royal Blackstone, winner of the 1950 Derby, which is owned by Auto Dealer Bill Brown of Detroit. Royal Blackstone (4, 1:59 4/5m) has flashed brilliant form in early season races during the Grand Circuit meeting at Toledo. It will be under the guidance of Joe O'Brien who replaced Driver-Trainer Ernie Sworthwood of Northville. Sworthwood suffered a broken leg in a mishap and isn't expected to do any driving during the 1951 campaign.

Royal Blackstone won $28,640 in 1950 and boasts a total earnings of $50,802 in two years of competition.

Other nominees with their best times and money winnings include:

Donkeys Vie for Player Popularity

The funniest game ever played! That's the reputation of the Donkey Ball game to be played at 7:00 p.m., Thursday, August 12 at Ford Field under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012.

To add to the hilarity, the VFW boys are slated to meet the powerful Plymouth Girls' League on the mound—or track?

These trick donkeys are owned and trained by Ralph E. Godfrey of Crescent, Oklahoma and come to Northville promising a performance that is "better than a rodeo and funnier than a circus." A trick mule is scheduled to present a special act between innings.

Preceding the game, the Dearborn Drum and Bugle Corps will entertain the audience as an added feature attraction. A small entrance fee will be charged to cover expenses.

Service Clubs Join Forces for Picnic

Rotarians, Exchangers and Optimists and members of their families combined for a Cass Benton Park picnic Tuesday evening, in spite of the weather break which brought brief and sudden showers.

The picnic has become an annual affair and offers members of Northville's three service clubs another chance to get together.

A softball game was scheduled between the three clubs, but was called off due to wet grounds and too much sweet corn consumed by the would-be players.

Mrs. C. L. Hyde and son, Clifford, of Houston, Texas are visiting Mrs. Grace Stark of Randolph street. The Hydys expect to remain in the Village about a month.

To The Editor:

"History illumines the day which now is—by the afterglow of many yesterdays—and the bright promises of what is still to be." We are indebted to two good citizens of our fine community who this week have reminded us of the history of Northville. Pride in our community is a goodly heritage to pass on to the next generation.

Our generous and public spirited Mayor, Conrad E. Langfield, I understand was the moving spirit behind the erection of the attractive Northville float that took part in the 250th Birthday Celebration parade of the City of Detroit. At considerable expense and time Mr. Langfield had this float built, a replica of the old Northville Spring, a symbol of our community to the City of Detroit. I voice for many in the community our deep appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Langfield for their interest in this project.

Many of us likewise enjoyed the interesting article in last week's paper on the history of the Village Streets. To Miss Eleanor Breitmeyer of The Northville Record staff we say, "well done again, keep up the good work." We have had from her active pen before articles on our industries, our old public buildings and now our streets. The names of the streets recalled those good citizens of old who laid the moral and spiritual foundations of our community. It is good for us to think of them and seek to be worthy of them in our own generation.

Let us acknowledge Mayor Conrad E. Langfield and Miss Eleanor Breitmeyer as "the good citizens of the week."

Sincerely,
 Harold F. Fredsell

Manhole Cover Blows Top; Man Flies Through Air

JANESVILLE, Wis.—There are many stories about people who fell through manhole covers, but Howard Hovland, 79, of this city, is perhaps the first to have one explode beneath his feet.

Hovland had the misfortune to be standing on a downtown manhole cover when a sewer blew its top. He was tossed into the air and came to rest about four feet away. For no explained reason the cover had suddenly lifted into the air in an unexplained explosion followed by a burst of flame. Hovland and eight others waiting for a bus on the street corner were taken to a doctor's office and treated for minor burns.

Power and light officials said that the blast could have resulted from a broken gas main or from sewer gas.

Medical Discoveries Are Public Property

There are no patents on medical discoveries.

Every scientific fact or new drug which may lengthen or save your life, becomes public property as soon as the life-giving qualities have stood the test of exacting research and experimentation.

Announcement of these discoveries offers new hope for millions of persons afflicted by fatal illness, public enemies — polio, heart disease, cancer, tuberculosis.

Often these important discoveries are revealed to the nation and the world by eminent researchers at the Annual Session of the Michigan State Medical Society.

This convention, attended by medical doctors from Michigan, the Midwest and Canada, will be held this year at Grand Rapids, September 23 through September 28. In the medical profession the Michigan meeting is called the "Little A.M.A. Convention."

Because of the wide-spread interest in this convention, nationally famous researchers and clinicians use the Michigan meeting as an outlet for their important medical discoveries that represent years of experimentation, study and research.

Pharmaceutical firms, surgical instrument manufacturers and other scientific and technical organizations, who pioneer with the medical profession in pushing forward horizons of new cures and healing techniques, also regard the Annual Session of the Michigan State Medical Society as an opportunity to present latest advances. This year they have developed exhibits valued at more than half a million dollars for the Michigan medical meeting.

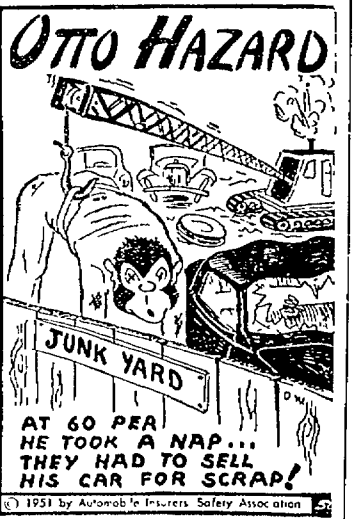

Thus the more than 3,500 doctors of medicine attending the convention will be able to witness demonstrations on recent medical advances in those exhibits which ordinarily they would not have a chance to experience. This constant effort by the medical profession to share knowledge and discoveries and promptly bring them to their patients gives you a better chance for a longer and healthier life.

MSC Establishes New Hotel Course

A new post-graduate course, designed to bridge the college-to-business gap for future employees of the nation's hotel and restaurant industries, will be launched at Michigan State College August 1.

The course, believed the first of its type in the nation, will run for a full year on a non-degree basis. Prof. Donald Greenaway, head of the department of restaurant management at MSC, will direct the program.

Laboratory for the trainees, who must be graduates of an accredited hotel or restaurant management school, will be the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, now nearing completion on the MSC campus. Approximately 15-20 students are expected for the first year's course, with an eventual capacity of about 40 each year.

Asiatic Religious Belief Fostered 'White Elephant'

An ancient Asiatic religious belief, a financially embarrassed king, and an animal's liquor bill, were responsible for bringing to our civilization the term "white elephant" which has come to mean any regrettable and unprofitable possession.

Research experts with the World Book Encyclopedia, examining the customs of mankind, have discovered that in Siam a white elephant was considered to possess the soul of a dead god. Therefore when a white elephant was captured, it immediately became the sacred property of the king—and was baptized, worshipped, and finally buried and mourned like a human being. One King of Siam gave the white elephant saying its probable start when he initiated the custom of giving the elephant to any member of his court who had displeased him. The elephant-god could do no work, could not be ridden, and the huge cost of his upkeep soon meant financial ruin to his new owner.

A British King, Charles the First, in 1629, had the misfortune to receive a white elephant as a gift from Siam. Unfortunately, Charles was financially embarrassed, due to an uncooperative Parliament, and even considered selling the crown jewels to raise funds. The cost of keeping the elephant was so high that the King and Queen had to give up their customary vacation at Bath. The record regarding the elephant's maintenance makes note of the fact that "from the month of September until April, he must drink, not water but Wyne, and from April unto September he must have a gallon of Wyne a day."

It is believed that this old occurrence firmly implanted the saying "white elephant" in the English language.

ON CAPITOL HILL
NEWS
and
GEORGE A. DONDERO

Once more the St. Lawrence Seaway project went down to defeat last Thursday, when the Public Works Committee of the House of Representatives voted 15 to 12 to lay House Joint Resolution 15 on the table, instead of reporting it out for Congressional action.

Strangely enough, the project was turned down by a committee whose Democratic chairman has strongly favored it, as did several of the Democratic committee members. The project was turned down in spite of the fact that it was supported by the Truman Administration.

The Seaway project certainly did not go down to defeat for lack of effort, on the part of myself, as ranking Republican on the Public Works Committee, or on the part of those patriotic members of the committee who saw the project realistically as a necessity for the long-range defense of the nation.

Public hearings on the Seaway proposal were held over a period of many weeks, and committee members spent several days personally inspecting the Seaway construction sites. The members even visited the Minnesota iron mines, where rapidly dwindling ore reserves lend urgent reason for Seaway construction in order to make available the vast new iron ore discoveries in Labrador and Quebec.

Therefore the Seaway project did not fail of approval for lack of merit, any more than it failed for lack of effort on the part of its supporters. The real reason for its defeat lay in the fact that too many members of the Public Works Committee represent Atlantic seaboard and Mississippi River districts, where it is believed that a St. Lawrence Seaway might adversely affect local shipping and seaport interests.

Action by the United States Senate on the Seaway proposal was held up by the fact that the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, strongly opposes it. Significantly, no consideration was given the Senate resolution to authorize the Seaway, pending action by the House committee.

It all adds up to the fact that special interests, involving rail and inland water transportation, and Atlantic and Gulf seaport trade, succeeded once more in defeating what they imagine would prove strong competition. They ignored the fact that Canada stands ready, if necessary, to build the Seaway without American help. Then this country would pay the Seaway through canal tolls, and Canada would own both the Seaway and part of the vast electric power developments which are included in the project.

I shall re-introduce St. Lawrence Seaway enabling legislation in the forthcoming Second Session of the 82nd Congress. It is to be hoped that sometime soon the American people can be brought to realize the crying need for a Seaway, not only as a national defense measure but also as a measure to assure better transportation and hence greater prosperity for every American citizen, particularly in Michigan and other midwestern states. I am convinced that final approval and construction of the Seaway is not too far in the future.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951, the government took $50,386,682,228 in federal taxes, an all-time record. This was 15 percent above the previous high of $43,800,000,000 in fiscal 1945. According to Treasury figures, the Truman administration already has taken $260,000,000,000 from the taxpayers of the United States.

Treasury reports show that through July 16 the government was $887,826,376 in the red for fiscal 1952, although in the first two weeks in July the taxpayers had paid into the Treasury the sum of $1,370,000,000.

Fresh water and some shade is important for high summer egg production, say Michigan State College poultry engineers.

On many farms, more time is spent cleaning eggs by hand than in caring for the flock. Ask your county agricultural agent about ways to help in producing cleaner eggs.

Terraced and grassed waterways need to be maintained from year to year if they are to do their best job of soil and moisture conservation.

That's why FULL FAMILY MEMBERSHIP is an important and valuable feature of Blue Cross-Blue Shield!

CHANCES ARE one in four that you will be faced with hospital and medical bills this year for yourself or a member of your family. And the chances are even greater that, if you are among the one in four, the bill will be for a member of your family. BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD records show that family dependents use two to four times as much medical treatment requiring hospital care as the employed subscriber himself.

That's why the hospitals and doctors who run BLUE CROSS and BLUE SHIELD have provided a program of Full Family protection that offers the subscriber the opportunity to enroll his wife and children for exactly the same comprehensive benefits as he himself receives.

In addition, BLUE CROSS and BLUE SHIELD provide many other family protection features. For example: under the Full Family Contract, the newborn child is covered from birth. In addition, all eligible children under 19 years of age, no matter how many in the family, may be enrolled and receive the same full benefits without additional cost to the subscriber.

Christian Science Churches
When God is understood as Love, much of the discord among men and nations will be healed. This is shown in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in the Christian Science churches Sunday, August 5.
The Golden Text is from Jude (1:21): "Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (1 John 4:7): "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God."

Uncle Sam's Radio Programs Soon May Originate at Sea

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Uncle Sam is attempting to speed up his "campaign of truth" against the Communist world. Newest wrinkle developed by the department of state is a project known as "Operation Vagabond," a powerful medium wave radio station on a fast ocean-going freighter. Approved by both the joint chiefs of staff and the national security council, the project was also authorized by President Truman.

The first floating station is scheduled to be in operation sometime this month. If it proves successful and effective, four more will be added to form a ring of radio relay stations being built around the world.

Although existing funds are being utilized to begin operation of the first seagoing transmitter, the completion of the project will depend upon passage of a $97,500,000 appropriations bill, needed to finance the rest of the program. Stiff opposition, however, has been met in Congress.

The house appropriations committee, in fact, recommended that the figure be cut as low as $9,533,000, despite the appeal by Truman for the adoption of the complete transmitter program. Although the president did not mention the amphibious phase specifically, it is understood that the joint chiefs of staff have fought for it as a potent weapon in the cold war and a nucleus for a world-wide propaganda system in the event of another world conflict.

There are many secret ideas behind the project, as well, the most apparent, however, being that it will complete the ring of U.S. radio relay stations around the world and give more scope to broadcasts everywhere.

Summer in Korea Signals Coming Monsoon Season

Summer, the season of barefoot boys and fishing poles, is winking in, and almost everywhere it is welcome. In Korea, however, the warm season has an ominous note. Approaching Korea summer walks with a sound that armies loathe—squish, squish atop—the sound of clinging, gooey mud. The monsoon season is on the way.

High over the war-devastated peninsula, a giant weather-wheel is swinging. As winds reverse their direction, the warm hand of the Asiatic monsoons breaks the grip of winter.

Mud to suck at combat boots and swamp heavy trucks and guns in gooey mire, fog and solid overcast to ground United Nations planes; torrential rains turning paddy fields and mountain roads into lakes and rushing streams—for ground soldier and airman alike, the dreariest weather of the year is close at hand.

April Battle

April and May are months of transition between dry cold and wet heat. As the pressure patterns shift, a battle is joined above the land. All winter great masses of cold Siberian air have reached south from the steppes of Asia. The ground has been frozen, the skies clear and dry. Now moist air from the southern seas begins to move northward. Over Korea's mountainous spine, the fronts meet.

Whirling cyclonic storms roar down from Manchuria and east from central China. Fog rolls in from the Sea of Japan. It snows one day, rains the next, then snows again. In the air, icing conditions sink to levels below the mountain peaks, the cloud ceiling stays even lower.

Korea's summer monsoons will last through September. The southerly winds normally bring about ten times as much rain in July as in January, wettest and driest months of the year respectively. Rain falls on more than half the days of an average July. The rains are heavy and sometimes last for days at a time. Clouds blanket the drenched landscape 17 to 20 days out of the summer months, only two to three days are completely clear.

Summer Typhoons

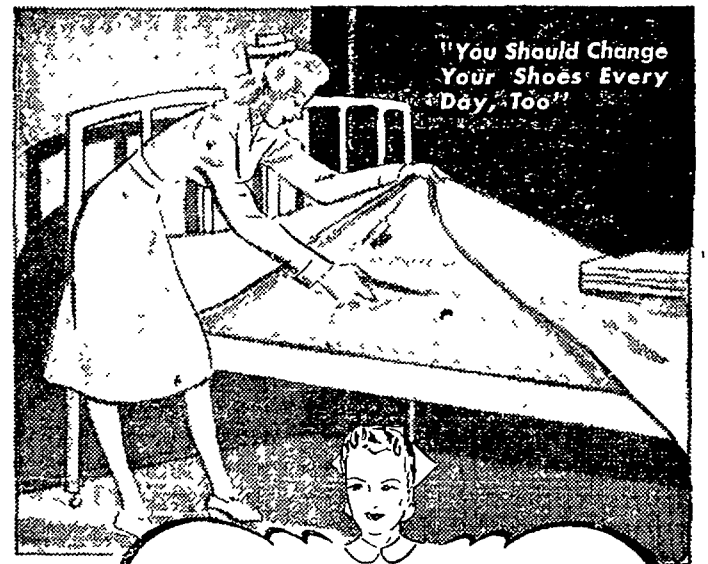

In early June begins the critical season for great tropical typhoons. From the region of the Marianas Islands far out in the Pacific, these storms sweep west-northwest into the China Sea, then sometimes curve northeast to cut across Korea. On an average of every few years, such a storm reaches disaster proportions. The normal year brings Korea one or two tropical storms of typhoon intensity.

Between the monsoon rains, thunderstorms raised by boiling convection currents, and typhoons, heat and humidity settle like a moist quilt over the soggy hills and coasts. In August at Inchon on mid-Korea's Yellow Sea shore, the average humidity is 94 per cent. In the central mountains it may be slightly less—when it isn't raining.

FIRE DESTROYS PAPERS OF GREAT VALUE

All memoranda pertaining to contracts that were to have been completed at the end of this week for the new White Building, were destroyed last night in the one alarm fire at the home of Lars Hensen, builder. A fresh start will have to be made on the deal, it was reported.

Though the fire itself caused but slight damage to the home, the loss of the papers is a serious blow to the builder.

Oldest Public Steno Recalls O. Henry, Other Great Writers

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Elsie Dugg, 40 years a veteran at a trade gradually vanishing from the American scene, is still busy at 80 years of age. She admits, however, that the job is not as glamorous as it used to be.

Miss Duff is said to be the oldest working public stenographer in New York city. And she doesn't know when she will retire. "I can't," she explains. "There's no one to take over my work."

She points out that few stenographers in these modern times are willing to gamble on earning an income on an hourly fee basis.

Miss Duff operates in the same cubbyhole office in the Old Prince George hotel where she started many years ago and she has a memory list of clients that includes many famous and interesting personalities.

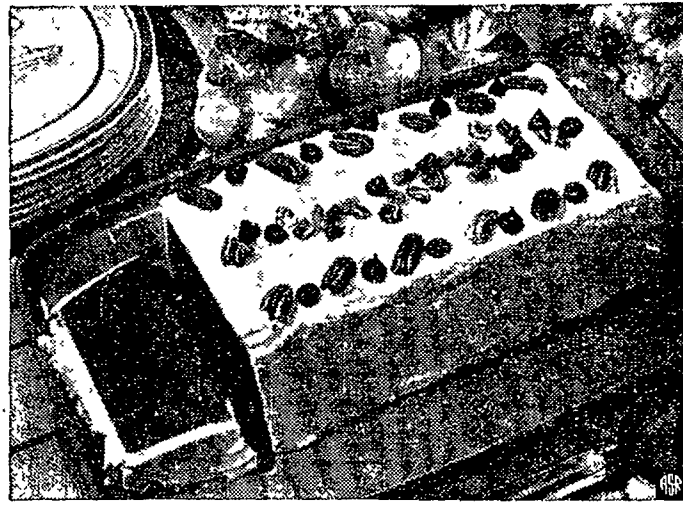

The hotel was at one time a gathering spot for writers, and one she knew well, and served often, was the novelist Emerson Hough. She typed his whole manuscript for "The Magnificent Adventure," a story of the Lewis and Clark expedition.

She was also the first to hear and read the impassioned temperance lectures of John L. Sullivan, boxer turned crusader, for it was to her that he dictated them.

Once, she was even included in a story written by one of her customers. The author, a silent little man, always brought in his stories written on yellow paper in a clean, beautiful hand. Once he handed her a manuscript, remarking, "By the way, I put you in this story."

As she typed the passage in O. Henry's "The Face in the Circle" that told of a public stenographer, she was writing a description of herself.

Make-Believe Cake! No Foolin'

Let the family have their cake and eat it—to find that it's no fake but not cake, instead it's a fluffy chocolate sponge molded in loaf form. Made and decorated with morsels of semi-sweet chocolate, the flavor is rich and texture delightfully light. You can also chill the mixture in custard cups, in a ring mold or pile it in sherbet glasses, but here's the way to make

Make-Believe Cake
1 envelope unflavored gelatin 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk 1/4 cup sugar
1 package semi-sweet chocolate 3 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla

Soften gelatin in milk in top part of double boiler. Add 2/3 of the package of semi-sweet chocolate morsels, salt and 2 tablespoons of the sugar. Cook over hot water, stirring frequently until chocolate is melted and gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Beat with rotary beater until smooth. Beat egg yolks slightly; add hot mixture stirring constantly, and return to double boiler. Cook and stir 3 minutes longer. Remove from heat; chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff; add remaining sugar and continue beating until very stiff; add vanilla. Fold in chocolate mixture. Turn into a 5 cup loaf pan; chill until firm. Unmold; if desired "frost" top and sides with whipped cream; garnish with remaining semi-sweet chocolate morsels and pecans. YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

MR. AND MRS. FRED E. DIETRICH OF CLARKS GREEN, PA.
CAN TELL YOU—IT'S PRACTICAL
AS WELL AS PATRIOTIC TO BUY BONDS FOR DEFENSE

"Retirement with financial security is more than just a dream to me," says Fred Dietrich, route man for the Burschel Dairy. "I've a real start toward it now, with 115 U. S. Savings Bonds bought through Payroll Savings."

"Since I joined the Payroll Savings Plan in 1941," says Mr. Dietrich, "I've saved over $3,000 in bonds out of my $75-a-week salary. If you don't save regularly, you never save at all."

"I'm planning to continue buying bonds till the day of my retirement. They give me that comfortable feeling that I'm on my way to carefree security in the years that follow after I quit working!"

You, too, can save successfully—just as the Dietrichs do!

You, too, may reach your goal, as the Dietrichs are doing, and easily. Start now! It takes only three simple steps.

1. Decide to put saving first, before you even draw your pay.
2. Save a regular amount systematically, week after week or month after month.
3. Sign up today in the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

You'll be providing security for yourself, your family and our free way of life.

Consumer Package Will Dominate in Field of Produce

Within a decade, most fresh fruits and vegetables will be sold in consumer packages instead of in bulk, a produce marketing authority believes.

National marketing director John F. Deegan of the Atlantic Commission Co., A & P Food Stores' produce-buying subsidiary, said today that prepackaged selling will dominate the produce business just as it has in the field of dry groceries where bulk merchandising has become outmoded.

He told the National Marketing Research Workshop that the progress in perishables "has been much slower than in the case of dry groceries for obvious reasons."

But, he added, "the sort of enterprise that has built up the present modern distributing methods in the food field is not going to be discouraged because the prepackaging of perishables involves some problems. The hurdles will be overcome and the problems will be solved."

The workshop at which Deegan spoke is being conducted at Michigan State College under sponsorship of the U.S. Agriculture Department's Agricultural Research Administration. Representatives of the nation's land grant colleges and federal and state agricultural agencies are attending the nine-day program which closes tomorrow.

During the past four years alone, Deegan said, the Atlantic Commission Co. has increased its line of prepackaged items from 26 to 48 and its dollar volume in packaged fruits and vegetables has risen nearly 60 percent.

Deegan listed three major items as essential to success in packaged produce—quality merchandise, product visible in packaging and price conforming closely to that for similar merchandise in bulk.

"You must give the consumer quality merchandise to build up and retain her confidence," he said. "If she gets stuck with a package containing a portion of inferior merchandise, she remembers it longer than if she bought the same merchandise in bulk."

An estimated 10 per cent of the nation's produce is lost by damage, but prepackaging and refrigerated display racks in stores are helping to reduce this rate with ultimate savings for both consumers and producers, he said.

NANCY CHIDES RALPH . . . Tennis Star Nancy Chaffee playfully chides her baseball hero fiancé, Ralph Kiner, about being suspended for talking back to an umpire. Actually, Nancy was very happy that Kiner was not playing at this time, when she arrived in Pittsburgh. "It's the first time he has been able to meet me when I came to town," she said. She arrived by plane. Kiner is still trying to match Babe Ruth's 60-home-runs but is a little off the pace this year.

French Burglar Is Upset When Wife Deserts Him

PARIS—Etienne Lemaitre, a convicted burglar awaiting trial on a murder charge, thought that he had good grounds when his wife ran off with another man, and so complained to the court.

"I'm a burglar, sure," he said, "I have stolen millions. But when a burglar's wife runs off with a policeman, that's really the limit."

The understanding court fined the wife 6,000 francs ($17.16) for adultery and awarded Lemaitre one franc (about 1/4 cents) for damages.

Angler Who Fished Banks Soon Is Netted by FBI

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The FBI recently announced the capture of a unique angler who fished not for fishes, but for greenbacks behind teller's windows in banks.

The "fisherman," Peter Hanson, 51, was captured with one of his favorite rods—a paper-covered ruler with a wad of chewing gum on one end.

Agent Edward Scheidt said the angler "poached" on a bank in Kansas City and one in Weehawken, N. J., by fishing through the teller's window. Fingerprints on a rod he left behind in the Kansas City bank led to his capture.

Many Routine Urban Conveniences Are Major Problems to Farmers

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Ever wonder how many uses there are for hot water in the home? A partial list will show that it's needed for personal cleanliness, washing dishes, laundry, first aid, for shaving, and for washing walls, woodwork, linoleum and hardwood floors. The bigger the family, the larger the quantity required.

On the farm, however, requirements and availability have not always been synonymous. In the past, the hot water problem often represented a pioneering chore. It involved a steady hand on the pump handle and a large kettle on the kitchen range. Summer operations were bad enough, but winter made the job most unpleasant—what with cold water sloshing out of the pail and dousing your ankles, and icy pump-to-kitchen paths to negotiate. Former farm boys are prone to discuss such misadventures with some relish, but few would return willingly to these inconveniences.

Fortunately, few present-day farmers must undergo the rustic hot water worries which plagued their fathers and grandfathers. Electric water pressure systems now are bringing water into their homes, and electric water heaters are providing hot water at the turn of the faucet. Such heaters are "clean as an electric light" and can be installed anywhere in the home or basement nearest to the source of the greatest hot water use.

Statistics record that a family of four will use an average of 510 gallons of hot water per person per month. Electric consumption costs for this quantity—at the hot water faucet—averages about 350 kilowatt hours of power per month.

Farm specialists agree that the availability of hot water in the home is one of the key desires of rural youth. This applies particularly to farm girls. And well it might on the basis of a 13-week test, which showed that 4 1/2 tons of water were required to do an average farm family's laundry during that period. The weight of the laundry in that same time totaled 1,508 pounds. Quite a washing in any case, but considerably more of a chore when the farm wife has to pump, carry and heat the water by the kettleful.

The convenience of having hot water, when and where it is needed, is a boon to farm living. And, working as they do from dawn to dusk, farmers deserve all of the urban comforts which their high line service can make possible in the country.

Dan Cupid Loses Out as a Cause For Jobless Pay

CHICAGO, Ill.—Dan Cupid takes a beating whenever he runs into unemployment compensation laws. He is not considered "good cause for leaving a job," a requirement for jobless pay in most states, according to a commerce clearing house survey.

"When a person quits a job to be married, or to be near a spouse or fiancé, that person is deemed to be withdrawing from the labor market and, therefore, is subject to the disqualification provisions of most unemployment compensation laws," says the CCH report, published in its labor law journal. Recent examples of head-on crashes between Cupid and the compensation boards are cited in the survey.

Claim Is Denied
A Pennsylvania woman quit her job to be married and moved to another state. The state supreme court held that her act was voluntary and added, gloomily, "Marriage is not a surrender to circumstances of the kind and quality that compel a decision to leave one's employment... no legal obligation rests upon a claimant to marry or join her fiancé."

Cupid did a little better in Illinois, but the claimant did not. In this case a married man lost his job in a city and went to live with his parents in a small town. His wife quit her job and went with him. The circuit court, more sympathetic than that of Pennsylvania, held that she had left with good cause. This was an empty victory, however, since the court added that she was not eligible for benefits anyway. She had left a large labor market for one with very limited possibilities for employment.

In far-off Hawaii, a radio announcer's wife left him and returned to the mainland with the intention of getting a divorce. He quit work to follow her and try to talk her out of it. The ruling was that while he may have left for "good cause," it had nothing to do with his employment. He received no benefits.

Married Women Lose
Married women have not fared very well, either, in cases where they wanted to spend more time with their husbands. One woman told a prospective employer that her husband was a municipal fireman who got his time off in forty-eight-hour stretches, and on those days she would not be able to work. The employer did not hire her, and the holding was that she had refused work without good cause.

Another woman whose husband's workday ended at 7 p.m., quit after the first day on a job where she started work at 3 p.m. Her claim was disallowed when it was shown that she knew about the hours before she accepted the job.

"While it is undoubtedly true that love will find a way," says commerce clearing house, "on the record it does not seem that the unemployment compensation laws will be helpful."

Advertising and display lighting are banned in England because of coal shortages there.

Slavs Heckle Soviet Radio From Old German Army Truck

MUNICH, Germany—Three sharp-tongued Slavs, operating from an old German army truck, are heckling Soviet broadcasters to the point of madness. The trio specializes in needling Communism from their mobile transmitter in west Germany over Radio Free Russia facilities.

The hecklers are artists at making use of the pause in a program and delight in cutting in on Radio Volga, a Communist station in east Berlin which beams programs to Soviet occupation troops.

A Radio Volga announcer may have just finished the phrase, "A new people's democracy is being built in east Germany," when Radio Free Russia hecklers break in with, "under the watchful eyes of the Kremlin's secret police."

Radio Free Russia has been operating only four months. London monitors first picked up its broad casts calling for a peoples' revolt in Russia.

The Christian graces are like perfumes, and the more they are pressed the sweeter they smell.
