

Friends of Robert R. Brown, Ann Arbor District Manager of the Detroit Edison Company, will be interested to learn that he has retired after more than 40 years of service with that company. Some years ago, Mr. Brown was district manager in Northville.

Baker University, Kansas City, Missouri, will honor one of its most famous graduates, the late Dr. Merton S. Rice, by erecting a $300,000 memorial auditorium in his name. Dr. Rice, for more than 30 years, pastor of the Detroit Metropolitan Methodist church, is the father of Mrs. V. George Chabot of Sheldon road and his widow, some time ago moved to the Village.

Mrs. Gerald F. Taft, David Ryder, and Mrs. Elmer Semmler are this week's contributors to the tie and sock collection for the Detroit House of Correction Occupational Therapy Department. Leave your cast-off socks and ties at the Northville Record office or with E. J. Willis, 119 Rayson street.

On one of the hottest days last week, we noted one of the local merchants unloading sleds and toboggans for his forthcoming Christmas trade.

Union services which have been conducted by the Methodist and Presbyterian churches during July and August will be discontinued after this Sunday. Rev. Harold F. Fredsell will preach on the "Religious Significance of Work" at the First Methodist church bringing the series to a close.

12 Permits Issued for New Dwellings

Since January, 1951, 12 building permits have been issued in the Village for new dwellings. Three of these permits have been issued for apartment homes.

John Burkman of Baseline road is building two duplex homes on Hutton near Rayson street. Of cement block the four living units consist of four rooms, bath and utility room and he states that he is erecting them for investment purposes.

The newest building permit issued is for a new home on Novi avenue which is being built by Mr. and Mrs. John Domzalski. They are constructing five rooms and bath. Mr. and Mrs. Vern LaVassaur are occupying their two bedroom Gunnison home on Horton street.

Two studio apartments are being built on North Rogers street by Mr. and Mrs. Del Hahn. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Frid are building a five room cinder block home on North Rogers street. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wheaton of Horton street are building a three bedroom frame home which they hope to occupy in the near future.

Northville High School Coach Al Jones and Mrs. Jones and family hope to occupy their new ranch type home on Horton street within the next few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Burnette of Grace street hope to move into their new two bedroom shingled ranch type home late this fall.

Permits have also been issued to Mr. and Mrs. Carle of East Detroit for a home on Baseline and to the Gleasons for a home in Scott suburb.

Waiting approval by the Recreation board, Village Recreation Director Wilson Funk announces the proposed plans for the fall and winter program. The Youth program will commence after school opens with Monday, September 10, set for the change in the Boys club schedule. The adult classes will not begin until October after the desired classes have been selected by popular vote.

Votes for the selection of the one Adult class are to be sent to the Recreation department, Village hall, before the first of October. Your choice may be made from the following: shop, metal etching, oil and charcoal sketching, and typing classes. Funk states that the most popular class will be given in the fall, another during the winter months and the one least in demand in the spring.

Brown To Retire from Edison Co.

Robert R. Brown, 64, manager of Detroit Edison's Ann Arbor District since 1937, is retiring after more than 40 years of service with The Detroit Edison Company.

Granting of the retirement, requested by Brown because of ill health, was announced today by F. A. Compton, Edison vice-president in charge of sales. He commended the retiring District Manager for "a long career which has contributed greatly to our company's high standards of public service."

Compton also announced the appointment of Gage R. Cooper, 45, of Ypsilanti, as acting District Manager. Cooper, staff assistant in Edison's Detroit Sales Department, will until further notice be in charge of all Sales activities in the Ann Arbor District.

Brown, an alumnus of the University of Michigan and also a graduate of the Detroit College of Law, started to work for The Detroit Edison Company in 1911 as a legal clerk, later transferring to the company's Sales Department. In 1919, he was promoted to the position of Grand River District Agent, with offices at Northville, and in 1926 he became manager of Edison's St. Clair District headquarters at Mt. Clemens.

Appointed to the managership of the Ann Arbor offices in 1937, he supervised the district during a period of tremendous wartime and post-war growth. He has been active in service clubs, welfare organizations and civic and municipal groups throughout most of his career in Detroit, Northville, Mt. Clemens and Ann Arbor and is particularly interested in the Society for Crippled Children.

Other officers installed were Conrad Springer, senior vice-commander; Don Severance, junior vice-commander; Bob Corey, sergeant at arms; Harry Terry, historian; Morris Cohen, chaplain; Russell Corbin, adjutant; Fred Walker and George Simmons, assistant adjutants.

Charles Carrington is the retiring commander. Immediately following the installation rites, members of the American Legion Auxiliary served refreshments.

Northville Team in Inter-Co. Playoffs

Northville defeated the Gamble Post 6 to 3 Sunday and remains in the Inter-County baseball league playoffs.

This Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. at Riverside Park, they will play Plymouth who is also undefeated in the play-off series. Other teams who remain in the play-offs are Gamble, Wyandotte, Romulus and Wayne, all with one defeat.

Chief Urges Drivers To Obey Signals

Joseph E. Denton, Chief of the Northville police department, announced today that his department is paying special attention to the observance of the yellow light in "Stop-and-Go" traffic signals at intersections.

He calls motorists attention to a warning issued by State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler that, "It's when the green 'go light' turns to yellow that most accidents happen at intersections of streets or highways where traffic signals exist."

"The temptation of the motorist approaching an intersection to keep on going and 'beat' the red light is strong. The motorist waiting for the green light on the other street is keyed to take off the moment his green light appears."

The time element separating the safe movements of these two motorists is a matter of less than three seconds. Consequently the safety of both motorists is assured only when the approaching motorists does not try to 'beat' the red light."

The August safety campaign, "Stay Alive—Obey Traffic Signals," is being sponsored by the State Safety Commission in cooperation with the State Highway Department, the State Police, county sheriffs, and city and village police.

Village Acquires Blackburn Property

At a special meeting of the Village Council Friday evening, negotiations were consummated for the purchase of the Blackburn property on East Main street.

The land was acquired for the purpose of making an alley way and parking lot. The lot which is 66 feet wide will be divided with the Village taking 56 feet and the First Presbyterian church taking 10 feet to insure their interests. Total cost of the property was $16,000.

The Blackburns expect to move their home to a lot on Orchard Drive opposite Grandview avenue.

Roads To Benefit from Extra Gas Tax

Though most of the additional gas tax money being received by Wayne county has already been used to take the ruts, bumps and rough spots out of the roads surrounding Northville, a few plans are in the offing, according to Mr. Norton of the Wayne Road Commission.

Appropriations have been made for the paving of Six Mile and Baseline roads if the county can get the cooperation of the land owners there.

It is the opinion of the Road Commission, said Norton, that Center street in Northville from Edward Hines drive to Main street should be paved but it is their wish that the Village would assume some of the expense. The County is willing to assume the expense of paving the center of the street but the curbing and any finishing of the street must be paid for by the Village.

Canton Center road is scheduled to be paved soon, from Ann Arbor road to Ford road.

Football Practice Attracts 80 Boys

Junior Police Plan Hike, Picnic Sept. 4

A Junior Police hike and picnic is planned for Tuesday, September 4, states Wilson Funk, Village Recreation director. Each member must be wearing his badge when the group meets at the Scout building at 10 p.m. on that day to be eligible to join in the activities. The boys will return at 4 p.m. from their outing at Groome's beach, Whitmore Lake, where they will be Mr. Groome's guests for the day.

Novi Board Plans Zoning Change

At a recent Novi Township Zoning board meeting those attending from the area maintained that the zoning restrictions of the township are not stringent enough, states George R. Simmons, secretary of the zoning board. A public hearing on the proposed amendments to the Novi zoning ordinance will be held Monday, September 17, at 8:00 p.m. Here the people will be given the opportunity to state their opinions on the present ordinance and the proposed amendments.

The tentative text and map of the proposed amendments, which may be examined at Harry Watson's gas station in Novi, show the board's plans to regulate the size of dwellings and the number of rooms per dwelling in a given district. In this way they are attempting to eliminate substandard and basement dwellings which do not comply with the ruling that after two years the building must either be moved or altered. Another major change will be made by regulating the yardage at the side and the rear of dwellings.

Other minor changes are planned to make the ordinance in compliance with the act, according to Simmons.

Miss Merriam was previously awarded the Doctor's scholarship given to Northville and Plymouth girls embarking upon a nursing career.

She is at present vacationing in West Palm Beach, Florida.

Fredsell-Comin Book Basis for 250th Birthday Pamphlet

The first chapter of the book, "The History of the Presbyterian Church in Michigan," published in the spring of 1950 by authors, the Rev. Dr. Harold F. Fredsell, minister of the Northville Presbyterian Church for the past 11 years, and the late Rev. Dr. John Comin, will be the basis of a new pamphlet.

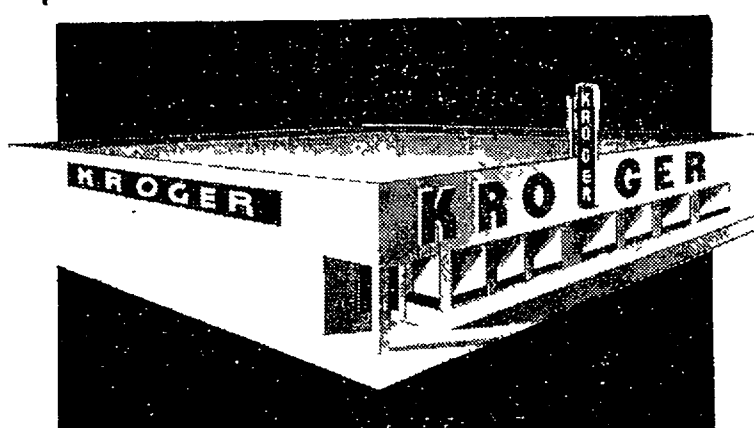

The work, distributed to the 90 churches of the Presbytery, deals with the early history of the Presbyterian Church of Detroit. It is entitled, "John Monteith, Pioneer Presbyterian in Detroit," and is being issued by the churches' Historical committee for Detroit's 250th Birthday Festival.

Church Decorating Plans Progressing

The sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church is being redecorated during the union church services at the First Methodist church. Nelson C. Schrader has been general chairman of the project and reports that most of the work will be completed before Sunday, September 9.

Painting is being done by Arthur and Fred Gotts and sons. The color scheme of the church was decided upon by the women of the decorating committee after consulting a church decorator from Detroit. Plans include a "divinity red" drape or dossal curtain in the chancel and a large carved celtic cross to be hung in front of the drape. Future plans include the re-carpeting of the church and cushions for the pews.

The Editor:
I moved to Northville fifteen years ago and am also a customer to the Record. About six years ago I lost my husband who was a victim of cancer and at that time there were no supplies furnished to cancer patients.
I am up in years but have a daughter who is a victim now and am caring for her but without the help of the Cancer Society in furnishing all the necessary supplies for these cases, I just don't know what we would do. What a grand program it is in the town and the grand people who do the work! A question is never asked about why or what; everything is furnished free of charge.
May God bless Mrs. E. J. Willis for her Christian kindness to all the victims of cancer.

The Service League of the First Methodist church will meet Tuesday, September 4 at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Leslie G. Lee, Fairbrook road. Mrs. William Milne will be the co-hostess.

Defense Rulings Insure Home Bldg.

Home building can continue in Northville without interruption as a result of recent rulings by defense agencies in Washington, according to Harold C. Church, of Nowels Lumber and Coal company, and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"The new regulations insure a minimum but adequate supply of critical materials for us in new housing, although it will be difficult to build large homes after September 30," Mr. Church said.

"Builders will be obliged to economize greatly on steel and copper, and no aluminum can be used, except for certain fabricated house parts, but quality homes of moderate size can be constructed without difficulty by using lumber and other plentiful materials in place of the critical metals.

"If kitchens and bathrooms are placed near each other in one part of the house, the government's steel and copper allowances should be ample. In addition, the number of electrical outlets will have to be held to a minimum to come within the copper wire restrictions.

"Through a self-certifying procedure, builders and contractors will be permitted to obtain allotments of steel and copper without having to apply for special permits, thus eliminating the delays which would arise if priority applications had to be filed.

"Prior to October 1, homes of any size can be started, regardless of the amount of metals required, but no priority assistance will be available to help get those materials until after September 30, and only minimum amounts can be obtained then through the self-allotment procedure."

Estimated 12,500 To Enroll at MSC

An estimated 12,500 students are expected to enroll next month for the fall term at Michigan State College, according to Kermit Smith, assistant registrar. This compares with 14,993 students enrolled in the Fall term of 1950.

Breakdown of enrollment indicates that men will outnumber women 8,600 to 3,900. New students will total 1,800 men and 1,200 women, Smith said.

Freshman orientation and registration week will be September 17-21 and classes will begin September 24.

MURDER IN NEW YORK . . . From a roof at Grand and Attorney streets, we look down on this street scene as police and spectators gather around the body of Arthur "Little Ush" Rubin, lying face down on the sidewalk. The ex-convict bookie was slain in gangland fashion by gunmen in a speeding car.

Borrowed . . . But True

The Editor of the Farmington Enterprise seems to have hit the nail on the head in his recent editorial stressing a new and better tomorrow starting with the coming fall season. His comments pertain not only to our neighboring town but to every small town and big city and particularly to our village. The merchants of Northville have started the ball rolling with their cooperation with the Kroger company in the Parade of Progress. Might be a good idea to look over his comments printed here.

Another Fall Season . . .

is about to begin. What does it mean to you? What does it mean to the community? These are important questions that should not be passed over lightly.

We are not advocating New Year's resolutions in August or anything like that, but the Fall season is a milestone in the life of most communities and deserves some thought. It means increased business activity to the merchants, it means a new school year to the students and teachers, it means a new season for many of the organizations and groups in the area.

It should also mean renewed effort toward better community cooperation and promotion. Great strides have been made in the past few years to meet the challenges of a growing community. We have learned that the ever increasing problems can be solved through working together to build a better community in which to live. But there are still many things yet to do and they will require the cooperative strength and progressive thinking of every organization and individual if they are to be accomplished.

These jobs include selling our community as a progressive trading area, community planning, improved progressive trading area, community planning, improved ment. They are big jobs that can be done only by everyone pulling together. We are in competition with other communities, and what they can do, we can do, too. We are in competition not just in a business way but in service to one another. It is the challenge of progress and to ignore it is to put off at great cost the job that must ultimately be done.

We must develop a plan, set goals and roll up our sleeves. We can do it through cooperative effort on the part of our organizations. We can do it by taking a more active part in the civic, service and governmental affairs of our community. Active organizations and active citizens make an active community. It's a major challenge as another fall season rolls around. —Farmington Enterprise

NORTHVILLE WAKING UP.

The beautiful little village of Northville is just waking up to the fact that it is missing out on some $50,000 to $75,000 a year income from the race meets being held in that community once each year. It is all because Northville is a village instead of a city.

If Northville should become a city, it is entitled to a percentage of the tax money that now goes to the state. It has been figured out that this year's tax return to Northville if it had been a city would have exceeded $60,000. As it now stands the state gets all of it.

So progressive Mayor Conrad Langfield and members of the village commission have decided that the time has arrived to take action. The village at present does get return of something like $25,000 or $30,000 from the race meet, but that is for police, fire, water and other services that are provided by the community. This money all goes into a civic building fund for a combined school and community auditorium that the village hopes some day to build.

The additional income of more than $50,000 the community could get if it was a city, would help solve many of the financial problems of that delightful community. Do not be surprised if you begin to read soon about steps being taken in Northville to become a city.

In addition to getting the additional returns from the annual race meet of the Northville Downs there are many other advantages the community would receive if it became a city. —Plymouth Mail

ON CAPITOL HILL NEWS and COMMENT FROM CONGRESSMAN GEORGE A. DONDERO

When the House of Representatives started last weekend on a series of three-day recesses, to last until September 12, it had become more than ever apparent that President Truman will not get the $10 billion increase in federal taxes which he demanded at the opening of the present session of Congress.

The House passed a bill providing for an increase of $7 billion, after the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee had worked nearly six months to find new and productive sources of tax income. It was said by Chairman Robert L. Doughton of North Carolina, when his committee reported out the tax bill, that it literally exhausted all sources of revenue. He even expressed doubt that it would yield all of the $7 billion.

After several weeks of hearings, the Senate Finance Committee, under the chairmanship of Senator Walter F. George of Georgia, sat down on August 13 to rewrite the House tax bill. It was expected then that it would be Labor Day, at the earliest, before the Senate committee would report out a bill. Last week it was said that no bill would be reported out before September 10.

According to Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, acknowledged to be the best informed on the Senate Finance Committee, the long delay in getting Senate action on a tax bill is due to "hardships and inequities created by the House tax bill, which we must try to do something about."

Senator Byrd indicated that he believes the methods contained in the House bill for increasing individual income taxes involve many severe hardships on those least able to bear them. He said also that the House bill would siphon off a lot of normal profits which corporations might better retain to finance expansions of plant and equipment to meet war mobilization requirements.

The Senator pointed out that the present law provides excess profits levies on all earnings above eighty-five percent of earnings in the base period (best three years, 1946-49). The bill passed by the House would levy excess profits taxes on all such earnings above seventy-five percent of the average of the best three years in the base period.

In addition to these possible changes by the Senate in the House-approved tax bill it was apparent last weekend, too, that the Senate is likely to cut the federal tax increase from the $7 billion adopted by the House. Many Senators were talking about a tax increase of only about $5 billion, just half of what the President asked.

If the Senate should do this, it would seem probable that a compromise on a $6 billion tax increase may be reached next

116 Youth Treated At Novi Clinic

One hundred and sixteen Novi children from the age of four to 16 benefited from the fluorine dental program held at the Farmington High school this summer. Four treatments were given each child. The first one included cleaning of the teeth as well as fluoride application.

The dentist, assistant and supplies for the program were provided by the Children's Fund of Michigan, now in its 25th year.

The Novi Mothers club arranged for the program through the cooperation of Mrs. Smith, the school nurse. Mrs. Fred Loynes assumed the chairmanship of the program and with Mrs. Jack Crawford and Mrs. Jack Eby telephoned each home to complete appointments. Transportation was provided by Mrs. Tom Edwards, Mrs. Carl Leavenworth, Mrs. Leo Harlawood and Mrs. Louis Larson.

1926 Detroit News Publicizes Village's New-Old Combination

While looking through the file marked "Northville" in the clippings of the late editor of the Northville Record, W. H. Cansfield, we discovered among many other records of past village history the following publicity featured in the real estate section of the May 9, 1926 Detroit News. Villagers will remember that the quarter page of pictures was topped with the headline — "Northville: Lovely Combination of New and Old" — a phrase still apt in 1951.

Excerpts from the article are given below. Many of the below mentioned industries have been replaced; many of the names are just memories now but still you'll realize that the phrase "Northville: Combination of New and Old" still holds true.

A Michigan gazetteer of 1839 places Northville 27 miles from Detroit; one of 1864, 26 miles and a automobile speedometer, slightly less than 25. As a matter of fact the easterly limit of Northville is less than 10 miles from Detroit.

8 Mile Super-Highway Proposed
One can get to Northville by a number of routes of the world-famous Wayne county concrete highways. The proposed Eight Mile road super-highway will skirt the northerly edge of the village, according to this 1926 story.

The Ford Motor company has a valve plant here, with 350 employees, and is about to build a dam that will supply extensive water power and also give the town a pretty lake, available for boating. With few exceptions, all the Ford valves in the world are made here. Then there is the Bell Foundry company which at one time made enough of those old farm dinner bells, mounted on posts and gables, to relay the call to roast beef and apple pie clear around the world. They tell you that the Waterbury watch of our fathers' time killed the dinner bell industry, because for $3 the hired man could carry his dinner hour summons in his pocket. But the foundry continues, largely on iron work. Then there is a factory for church and lodge furniture.

The road which leads to the right, under the railway track brings you to an unusual industry, that of bottling water for city consumption. It is a village institution and has made its promoters a lot of money.

Record Building Oldest in Town

In the business section is mingled the old with the new. Mrs. Kate Penniman Allen of Plymouth is building a $140,000 theater. There are two modern bank buildings and back of one of them is the oldest business structure in town, housing the Northville Record. E. E. Brown is the proprietor. Diagonally across the corner is the old hotel, a landmark of pre-Civil War days.

Beyond the business center, the town spreads out into rows and rows of homes, with deep lawns. For instance, there is the beautiful white Colonial style mansion of William Dunlap, one of the pioneers, now owned and occupied by Postmaster Frank Neal. When George B. Yerkes, wealthy Detroit lawyer and former prosecuting attorney, came to replace the country home burned a few years ago, he couldn't find a better or more appropriate style.

A. F. Helfrich is superintendent of the Northville schools. There are 650 pupils of whom 75 are from outside the district. Twenty-five teachers are employed besides athletic instructors for boys and girls and a school nurse.

1951 Mayor Served as Trustee
Noteworthy among the churches is the Methodist Episcopal with its graceful brick building, opposite the old Dunlap home. Northville residents take a pardonable pride in this building for it is a Northville product. The stone foundation came from Northville hills; the brick was burned in Northville. The bell was cast there and both the pews and pipe organ were made there. The Rev. William Richards is pastor.

Kroger Foundation Tests Quality

The Kroger Food Foundation, a laboratory designed to maintain a quality control on Kroger products, performs a unique function in the field of food merchandising.

In the four laboratories and Home Economics Department countless tests are run on nearly every product that finds its way to the shelves of the 2000 Kroger stores in the Midwest and South. George Garnatz, director of the foundation, has been active in Kroger laboratories since 1923.

An average of more than 117,000 routine tests are conducted annually in addition to research on special problems. These tests include sampling of Kroger purchases and inspection of samples from Kroger factory production lines.

One of the most thorough quality checks is maintained on Kroger bakery products. Each of the 14 Kroger bakeries must obtain Foundation approval of each shipment of flour they purchase. Samples of each shipment are subchemically tested the sample chemically and by the practical method of baking small pup loaves of bread. Unless the flour meets Kroger standards, the offering is rejected by the bakery.

Increasing interest in the nutritional aspect of foods and the national program for vitamin enrichment and mineral fortification have added responsibilities to the modern food supplier. The Food Foundation's equipment and facilities for all types of research are rated among the foremost in the country.

Laboratory research is closely co-ordinated with home economics studies and with home research. Practical kitchen tests supplement all stages of study and development of a product. Final tests, under conditions similar to those in the average home, are supervised by Jean Allen, director of the home economics division of the Foundation.

Supplementing the research and testing done in the laboratories, a committee of 750 women, representing a cross-section of homemakers in Kroger's 19-state area, serve as permanent advisors to the Food Foundation and make the final decision on product acceptance. They perform practical kitchen tests on samples sent to them in unlabeled containers.

In addition to quality control, recipes and menus are developed in the home economics kitchen for use on Kroger canned food labels.

A Good Job Well Done

After half a century of work and planning, every farm in the area served by Edison has dependable, low-cost electric service available.

In addition, Edison is always seeking new ways of serving its farm customers: through research and engineering, teamwork with Michigan State College, County Agricultural Agents, community development groups and farm youth organizations.

Throughout the state and nation, investor-owned companies like Edison are providing farm families with the same type of dependable electric service to help them maintain their splendid food production record. There is no need for the federal government to spend your tax money to build more government-owned power projects or to enlarge present ones. It's a good job—well done.

Nat'l Phone Calls Sent by Radio

For the first time, telephone conversations are being sent across the county by radio rather than by wire or cable. A new microwave radio-relay system placed in service recently by the Long Lanes Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company provides this new voice skyway, vital to the civilian and military needs of the nation.

Built in about three years at a cost of $40,000,000, the project is the longest microwave system in the world, relaying calls along a chain of 107 towers, spaced about 30 miles apart.

This radio-relay route is the seventh telephone highway to cross the great western expanse of the country. Telephone engineers point out that the relay system will not replace other types of communications but will be used to supplement those now in operation.

The first transcontinental telephone system was an open wire line which was opened for service January 25, 1915. Since then, three other open wire lines each capable of carrying dozens of calls simultaneously, and two cables, each containing hundreds of circuits, have spanned the continent over diverse routes.

In addition to the thousands of telephone calls which can be handled over the new microwave system, network television shows can also be transmitted. The system is already carrying TV programs as far west as Omaha, Nebraska, midway point in the 3,000-mile New York-San Francisco route. The western half of the route is expected to be equipped to handle coast-to-coast television by the end of the month.

With all of the different types of facilities now available—open wire, cable and radio-relay along different routes—the nation is assured of continuous communication from coast to coast.

Hitting-Pitching Leaders

THERE are two vital physical factors that make baseball what it is, and these two have to be hitting and pitching. In this connection, it might interest you to know that the winning season of 1951, now into August, is offering the best competition in both departments that we have seen in some time.

Who will be the best hitters and the best pitchers in the two big leagues?

The percentage duel in the National League at the moment gives you Stan Musial, Jackie Robinson and Richie Ashburn. Wyrostek and Campanella follow in order. Stan Musial is still the one to beat.

The Cardinals' entry is close to 30 points above his 1950 mark, but Ashburn has crashed the Musial-Robinson party with his best year.

In the American League we have Coan of Washington, Minoso of Chicago, Fain of the Athletics, Kell of the Tigers, Williams of the Red Sox and Avila of the Indians. These have been under a blanket most of the route. There is no way to give you a guess here, although Ted Williams is the best-known name. Ted came from around .215 to move into this company. He then had three hitless games and dropped back, but he is due to be dangerous all the way.

The home-run anteroom is now well filled. In the National League we have Gil Hodges and Ralph Kiner setting the pace, but Musial, Snider, Campanella, Westlake, Pafko, Mays and Thomson are still well grouped.

Kiner, the Pittsburgh Explorer, should get the call. It should be Musial and Kiner again, just as it has been before. Kiner is a natural slugger. There was a time when Hodges was putting on a runaway, until Kiner spotted the interloper and set out in pursuit.

In the A.L. the home-run crown isn't quite up to the older league. A young fellow by the name of Gus Zernial of the Athletics picked up in a trade with the White Sox, is the best-looking man in the group, unless Ted Williams breaks loose later.

Zernial, a 28-year-old Texan, had 29 home runs last season. He is exactly the type the White Sox could use at this moment. Wertz of the Tigers and Robinson of the White Sox are not too far away. Easter, Stephens and Rosen are also in sight and can be dangerous home-run factors in this battle for power.

The Pitching Race

Since pitching is rated from 70 to 75 per cent of winning or losing baseball, the ranking here is of even greater significance. Who will be tops of the two leagues? In the National we have Preacher Roe, Don Newcombe and possibly Ralph Branca of the Dodgers; Sal Maglie of the Giants; Church and Roberts of the Phillies; Staley of the Cardinals; Dickson of the Pirates and Spahn of the Braves.

Big Newcombe is probably the best pitcher in his league, although Roe is right along side. Newcombe started slowly, but he has been moving in a hurry the last six weeks.

Those who still have a chance to win 20 or more games in the N.L. are Roe, Newcombe, Staley, Maglie, Jansen, Roberts—but most of them won't. To top the 20-game mark they must win from eight to ten games in the next two months, which is considerable winning. Roe and Newcombe should be kick-ins, with that Dodger collection supplying the runs.

It makes a heavy difference which team you are pitching for. GERALD Staley of the Cardinals has had a big year. So has Dickson of the Pirates—a poor ball club.

The amazing Bob Feller is still king of American League pitchers. Don't forget that Feller threw his first ball for Cleveland back in 1936, 15 years ago. He is still one of the greats.

On the record, Garver of the Browns is the top man. He is crowding Feller, but Garver is pitching for the Browns, not for the Indians. Just back of these we have Raschi, Reynolds and Lopat of the Yankees; Garcia of the Indians and Parnell of the Red Sox.

The big disappointment so far has been Bob Lemon, who has won 20 or more games his last three seasons.

Comparing the Heavyweights

A New Jersey letter arrives asking us to rank the four top heavyweights in order—including those who are soon to make what is often called pugilistic history.

Hardest puncher—in order—Joe Louis, Rocky Marciano, Joe Walcott, Ezzard Charles.

Best boxer—Ezzard Charles.

Ability to take it—Joe Louis, Joe Walcott, Ezzard Charles, Rocky Marciano (an unknown quantity in this respect).

Anglers Note: Toss First Catch Back To Catch More

Fishermen who believe in "luck" (and what fisherman doesn't?) will be pleased to learn that the editors of The World Book Encyclopedia have gathered together fishing superstitions of the last 2,000 years.

So, if you lucky fayed trousers and battered old hat are letting you down this season, possibly one of these tried and tested old-time do's and don'ts will improve your fish less fishing.

Possibly, you have insulted Neptune by not throwing your first catch back into the water. Assuming, of course, that you have a first catch, it is impossible to have continued luck if you don't toss your first finny wiggler back to King Neptune so that he will grant a good fishing day. Any Roman who ever dangled a fishhook into the Mediterranean will testify to the accuracy of this statement.

The Phoenicians were a bit more material in dealing with sea gods. They reasoned that the king of the sea had all the fish he could handle, so they concealed a coin in the bait. This indicated that they were willing to pay for all the fish taken from his ocean kingdom.

If a fisherman in old Scotland met a stranger or a woman in a white apron, he promptly did an about-face and put his fishing off till another day.

Other ancient taboos forbid baiting the hook with the left hand, and telling anyone the correct number of fish that were caught.

Kroger Plans for Customer's Choice

The wide variety of national brands offered at the new Kroger Food-O-Mat at 215 East Main street is the result of years of careful study of customer preference, according to C. Olaf Talla, Detroit Branch Manager. Every time a shopper selects a food item, she is casting a "vote" for her favorite brand, he said.

Each customer in today's self-service store can and does exercise the privilege of personal selection, continued Talla. This determines what brands will be stocked by the store—what "candidates" will be "erected" by the "votes" of Mrs. Smith, the average customer.

Kroger President Joseph B. Hall has described this process of brand selection as a "merchandising democracy." Says Mr. Hall, "Our public, the customer, votes every day. Every brand is a candidate. And it is elected by being selected. The winning brand is the brand with the most customer choices. And we do not stuff any ballot boxes. Our cash registers are guaranteed to give an honest count."

Kroger calls its policy of carrying the items and brands preferred by most customers, "The People's Choice." As long as Mrs. Smith puts nationally advertised brands at the top of her shopping list, those are the brands that will be featured in Kroger stores.

This does not mean that other brands are not stocked in the 2000 Kroger stores in 19 Middle-western and Southern states. Often a relatively unknown brand will present such a good value to Mrs. Smith that she will become a repeat customer for that brand. The most important consideration, according to Kroger representatives, is to give shoppers a dependable item, one that is a value both in the store and in the home.

Michigan weather, especially in the upper peninsula, hinders the making of good quality field-cured hay. Tests conducted by Michigan State College's Agricultural Experiment Station measured the range of feeding values possible in hays put up at different periods during the haying season, using three curing methods: early hay crop silage, mid-season barn-dried hay and late field-cured hay. Michigan farmers who find it difficult to cure hay in the field will be interested to learn that more milk was produced on hay crop silage than on either field-cured or barn-dried hay. Further information on curing and storing forage is available by calling, writing or visiting your County Agricultural Agent.

Massage Your Molars After Meals to Prevent Decay

The common practice of brushing the teeth in the morning on arising and in the evening before retiring has little effect in combating tooth decay, three dental scientists declared in The Journal of the American Dental Association.

The scientists found that in order to be effective dentifrices must be used immediately after eating—especially after eating refined carbohydrates such as sugar. Even dentifrices containing substances such as ammonia will have no effect when used only in the morning and evening, they reported.

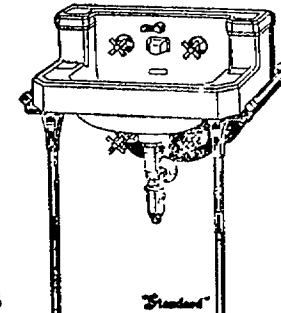

The three researchers were Dr. Leonard S. Fosdick, of Northwestern University Dental School in Chicago, and Comdr. William E. Ludwick and Capt. C. W. Schantz, of the Navy Dental Corps at Great Lakes, Ill.

On the basis of a laboratory study of the length of time that certain antibiotics cling to the film on the teeth, the scientists reported "the only compound that imparts a lasting effect in the mouth is penicillin."

The fact that the other substances did not cling to the film may be "an explanation as to why they are not effective when used morning and night in a dentifrice and why they are effective only when used during or after the ingestion of sugars," the scientists concluded.

Dick Gunsell, Jim Lapham Return From Scout Jamboree

Though the world-wide Boy Scout Jamboree in Bad Ischl, Austria is over and the two Northville Scouts who attended are back in the Village, the letters of the two boys, written during their stay in Austria and their trip back to the States, contain information that helps to grasp the great significance of the event.

The first in four years, the seventh World Boy Scout Jamboree was a "back-to-nature" get-together of between 15,000 and 20,000 Scouts from 40 nations. On the 74 acre camp site near the tiny Salzkammergut village of Aschau, a 5,000 tent city was set up.

The beacons of the Jamboree lit each night atop the surrounding Austrian peaks were a symbol of Western friendship. They were visible 20 miles away in the Soviet zone of Austria, outer fringe of the Iron Curtain. No communist eastern countries sent delegates to the rally.

The Bad Ischl area is famous as a summer resort of Austria's emperors and it was here that Franz Lehár wrote the "Mein Herr" operetta.

With this atmosphere as an inspiration, the accounts taken from the letters of Dick Gunsell about his 10 day stay at the camp become even more interesting.

August 5—
 I've been here since 12:30 a.m. of the 3rd and am simply going out of my wits over this wonderful life. First of all we were held up at the borders (Germany-Austria, American zone) for over three hours. Got through Brenner Pass OK and then stopped at Salzburg for dinner. Saw lots of GI's all over Austria—very strong military around here. From there we came to camp and put up our tents in the dark and rain. Our area is about 80 by 80 feet and a few steps from the B.S.A. Headquarters.

August 6—
 Tonight we had some English chaps over for dinner and each Patrol had some foreign scouts also. I've met three grand fellows from England—really splendid boys. Wonderful spirit and fellowship in this world jamboree. It's one step toward lasting peace. Believe me for once I know the truth about Europe and the people!

The jamboree itself is better in every way than any camp area I've been to. Lots of room, cold showers, cokes, candy, everything you want. The layout is all over a valley enclosed by huge mountains and we're not on a golf course (as was published in the papers). Plenty of hills and two little streams run through our area... Good for swimming or washing. I'd say about 20,000 boys are here altogether. We have one main quartermaster's tent from which all American troops in Section A get their food. They have two or three sub-camps on hillsides for section campfires. One big arena, parade ground and headquarters. The army is playing a big role in little ways... first aid, transportation, camp guard, etc.

August 8—
 I'm in troop four's leader tent. The whole troop has gone on a tour and our troop takes turns watching the camp.
 I had fun in Salzburg yesterday. It's really some place, awful big and the people aren't behind times at all. Dick Kinsley got an Omega watch for $26, just like mine except for the automatic part. We got the seven o'clock train for camp and got back a little after ten. It's only 30 miles and it took almost 3½ hours.

Oberammergau, 85 miles south of Munich
 August 14—

At the Jamboree on Friday, August 10, there was a Patrol Leader's tea by the courtesy of the Provincial government of Austria. Saturday was visitor's day and people by the thousands were there. At night there was a general campfire for all Scouts and visitors... Sunday, August 12, we had Divine Services at the appointed places. The Archbishop of Austria gave the sermon in German and the main parts were translated into English and French. It was very impressive and quite fun to hear a sermon in three languages.

Of the utmost importance was the concluding ceremony on the parade square. They spoke to us (over the P.A. system) of the brotherhood and so on that we had received from this Jamboree, then took down the flag and that was the official end of the Seventh World Jamboree. From there we started to break camp. Here the tale begins... the rain started Friday, August 10 and kept up until Sunday morning. It just poured and you never in your whole life saw such a mess of mud and water. Monday afternoon we started to take down camp and left some to do in the morning. Yes, you guessed it! It started raining about 9:30 p.m. with our troop out in the open. Most of the fellows got into a big tent but about six weren't that lucky; I was one of the six. We grabbed some tent flies and threw them over our gear and over ourselves. How we got through the night I still don't know. The next morning we packed up the tents in a down-pour of rain.

Instead of staying in Munich tonight we are lodging at Oberammergau, Germany. All the fellows were split up and put into private homes—beautiful old German homes.

There is so much going through my head I can't think straight. I'm having so darn much fun, the Jamboree was really something and did I get the swaps... really cleaned up this time.

On the train headed from Salzburg to Paris
 August 15—

I think the area of Munich, Germany is just as beautiful as Austria, most of the gang feel the same way. Germany is by far the most advanced country in Europe. Good four lane highways, big farms with modern equipment. I liked Germany very much; people are forward and up-to-date in life. The food in Germany, has been great.

Time is running short. I'm nearing the end and wish the summer was just starting. I sure have learned a lot in one month. I've seen how the rest of the world lives. Experience is really the best teacher. It's hard to write down how your ideas and outlook on life can take on a new stand. I know when I get home I'll be content with everything.

Hotel Violet, Paris
 August 17—

We reached Paris at 5:45. Germany is really beautiful. Munich is a horrible mess with 55 percent of the city destroyed by the war. Don't let people tell you war isn't awful; I've had my eyes opened!

Paris is big, modern and up-to-date with lots of movies, shops and a good Metro-system (subway). No signs of war here. The people are friendly. The hair and dress styles are way ahead of the States. Money doesn't go far here. Spent $3.00 for lunch and then it wasn't my size. A haircut cost me $1.60.

Took a tour and saw the Arch of Triumph, the Eiffel Tower, Notre Dame, Louvre, Pantheon, Sorbonne and Versailles. The City hall is really beautiful inside. Every room is large with unadorned wood floors and chandeliers. The River Seine looks like any other river to me.

The gang is getting restless and want to get home. The last 24 hours will be tough.

Jimmy Lapham writes from Paris on the 19th of August: I'm at the Hotel Violet here in Paris. I've really had a swell time here. We've seen the Eiffel Tower, Arch of Triumph and the Palace of Versailles. Last night we went to the Cafe' Da La Paix and had a swell dinner. The Cafe' is a real-ritz restaurant. We had French fries and steak cooked on charcoal. We sail at 10 p.m. tonight so this will be my last letter. We're flying home from New York Tuesday afternoon.

The 625 members of the United States Jamboree contingent embarked aboard the Home Lines S. S. "Homeland" at Cherbourg, France, Sunday evening and reached Pier 1, Hoboken, New Jersey, Tuesday morning, August 28, at 8:00 a.m.

September 13, 14 and 15. Plans are being made for a large exhibition tent to be put up on the athletic field grounds where the homecoming will be held.

Farmington — A detailed study of classroom needs in the Clarenceville School District was launched last Friday evening at a special meeting of the Board of Education held in the Clarenceville High School.

Howell — The Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsoring the Turtle Derby to be held Friday evening, August 24, beginning at 7:00 p.m. and Saturday, August 25, beginning at 2:00 p.m., announces that the turtles are in the best possible racing form.

Plymouth — Friends of Harry Irwin were saddened to learn of his death at the Veterans' hospital in Dearborn last Saturday, August 18. Mr. Irwin had been in ill health for the past few weeks.

Rochester — Voters may get their say on the new 1 1/2-cent gasoline tax increase in the 1952 elections if enough sign petitions now being circulated.

Inkster — A realistic approach is being made to the need of handicapped children in Inkster. This year the Board of Education authorized a survey of the needs of this group and appointed a committee, composed of school personnel, specialists, for the purpose of organization and defining its major objectives.

Rochester — W. L. White, writing in the September Reader's Digest of America's opportunity to spread goodwill abroad through the 31,000 foreign students now studying in this country, particularly emphasizes Michigan's efforts to make these students feel at home. Mrs. Louise Carpenter, an assistant professor at Michigan State College, developed the idea for "Adventures in World Understanding." Under this plan, foreign students are shown at firsthand how the average American family lives, educates his children, works, plays and worships. Rochester, Mich., was selected as the first "willing guinea pig." Here, on a typical "adventure," foreign students visited the public schools and a 200-acre farm, took their meals and spent a night in average American homes.

Medical Expert Solves Case Of Swooning King's Army

LONDON, Eng.—The case of the swooning soldiers has finally been solved. A medicine expert came through with an answer to the epidemic of fainting at British Army, Navy, and Air Force formations.

Dr. Edward Sharpey-Schafer, a professor of medicine at St. Thomas hospital, said that the cure is to cease the custom of having parade-ground warriors stand at rigid attention. This, the doctor declares, starts a rush of blood to the feet. "The faint," he said, "is due to a sudden fall of blood pressure which diminishes the supply of blood to the brain."

The doctor told officials that standing at rigid attention causes blood to accumulate in the lower part of the body and is equivalent to a large hemorrhage.

At the height of the epidemic 100 girls hit the ground at a single formation of enlisted Navy women. Climax was reached when a soldier pierced his throat with his bayonet as he fell in a faint.

Kids Hate To Leave School; Wait for it to Burn Down

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Children of P. S. 179, Flatbush, Brooklyn, were not in the usual hurry to get away from the school grounds after receiving their final report cards and concluding class parties in anticipation of a long summer vacation. The reason: they thought that the school was on fire.

Although they might have hoped, the building did not burn down. The students however hung around to cheer the firemen and study the five pieces of apparatus that answered the alarm. The alarm had been turned in by the principal who noticed smoke as the children started to depart.

There was no fire, some smoke had merely seeped into the air vents from the incinerator in the boiler room. For the kiddies, false alarm or no, it was exciting.

Puerto Rican Soldiers Fling Fish at the Enemy in Korea

Puerto Rican soldiers fighting alongside men of the Army's Third Infantry Division have a battle cry that calls for an explanation. The battlecry: "Pescados". It is Spanish for "fish".

They picked it up during a successful attack against Chinese Communist positions. As the Communist machineguns opened up, the Puerto Rican fighters heard the sounds of Chinese bugles. To them, it sounded like the trumpeting of fish peddlers in their native land.

One of the soldiers yelled "Pescados!" His fellow soldiers laughed and picked up the cry. Now, when the Chinese bugles are sounded, the Puerto Rican fighters join in a chorus of "Pescados!"

DEPEND ON YOURSELF
 IT'S UP TO YOU! Don't depend on the car or truck driver's skill. He doesn't want to hit you, but don't expect him to jump over your head. Brakes don't always work.

Michigan's outstate legislators declined to appropriate funds for Southeastern Michigan TB sanatoriums, and went home from the Special Session with the hot breath of reappointment fanning their cheeks.

Detroit's Herman Keifer hospital was granted $300,000. (It asked for $2,000,000) Oakland county hospital receiving nothing (Requested $230,000). Wayne county delegation cried it was "sold down the river," and the drive for reappointment received added impetus.

Senator George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale) sounded the warning when he shouted: "You men (outstates) are bringing about a constitutional amendment re-appportioning the legislature—the shoe will be on the other foot."

Outstate lawmakers, who control both houses, continually have blocked reappointment for fear of losing control to the heavily populated Southeastern area.

However, state lawmakers did boast old age assistance. The state will double any amount given by the federal government (not to exceed $70). It now is $30, but a bill before Congress would increase it to $83 monthly, making a total of $66. Gov. Williams, who had asked a $70 guarantee, expressed his disgust at the "Rube Goldberg arrangement." He also was disgruntled when $5,000 was not appropriated for state flags to be sent to Korea.

School enrollment padding investigation continues. The North Adams board of education has admitted receiving $2,012 in overpayment on the school lunch program and has returned a check in that amount to the state.

Crop progress in the state looks good despite heavy damage in Berrien county from hail. The loss was localized and will not affect the overall picture.

A bumper crop of Michigan babies is expected this year. Already 80,795 babies have been registered in the first six months—an increase of 1,904 over 1947, previous high year. Births for the same period last year was 72,348.

Michigan's Prohibition party this year has started a rehabilitation program. Plans underway would finance the party with from one to five cents per day contributions from party members. Party's executive committee this fall will open a drive for 9,627 petitioners to put the party back on the state ballot.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia—It may cost you your hide if you cross the border from Yugoslavia into Bulgaria in these troubled times, as some sheep can readily testify.

Thirteen sheep thought the Bulgarian grass to be greener and ambled across the border to investigate. The Bulgarian guards, not to be caught napping, noticed the invasion in precise military fashion, they encircled the sheep and opened fire.

Seven sheep became chops for the border guards' mess table. Six wiser ones, scared but unscathed, scrambled for home.

Pessimistic Taxpayer Knows Who Really Foots the Bill

DETROIT, Mich.—It's Papa who pays, all the time. Even on special occasions, as Father's Day, Papa still foots the bill, and he knows it. This fact might help to explain the attitude of a long-time taxpayer recently honored by the city of Detroit.

Sixty-five Detroit residents who have been paying taxes for more than 50 years received fancy certificates at City Hall in the nation's first ceremony honoring the taxpayer.

Mayor Albert E. Cobo presented a small badge, a flower and a certificate to each of the elderly taxpayers. Said one of the honored taxpayers: "We probably paid for this, too."

Mendola, under sentence of 14 years for a jewelry robbery in Memphis, is in Chicago awaiting an appeal of the conviction. His 76th conviction was under violation of a minor city ordinance. "What will they think?" says he. "Me—me—arrested for shooting off firecrackers."

Runner-up in the contest to produce better meat-type chickens was Janyce Seyfred, 20, of Gailen, sister of 1949 state champion Allen Seyfred. Third place was awarded to Curtis Eubank, 15, of Marne.

Top winners will receive a week's trip to Washington and the Eastern Shore broiler area from A & P Food Stores which sponsors the program with the Michigan State College poultry department and the Michigan Allied Poultry Industries.

William Aho, MSC extension poultryman and state C-of-T chairman, said the 76 contestants in the 4-H contest produced 12,642 fryers. "The growth of this contest," he said, "is important because Michigan has been sadly deficient in poultry production. In the Detroit market alone, Michigan producers supply less than 20 percent of the poultry."

Sietsema, second in both 1949 and 1950, earned the championship this year with an entry of 15 birds that averaged 5 pounds each live weight at the contest age of 12 weeks. He showed a profit of $56.36 on his contest flock of 101 chickens.

Youngest finalist in the derby was 10-year-old Mary Nelson of Lapeer. She finished seventh. Others in the first 10 were: fourth, Marjorie Mitchell, 17, Buchanan; fifth, Gerald Wells, 13, Lowell; sixth, Dick Andrus, 14, Reese; eighth, Marilyn Boyne, 14, Marlette; ninth, David Sherman, 17, Fremont; 10th, Dale Johnson, 20, Alto.

Contest judges were E. G. Garlinger, Lake Odessa; Assistant Supervisor Joseph Walznick of the State-Federal Poultry Grading Service, and Dr. Larry E. Dawson of MSC's poultry department.
