

The electric storm last Thursday night kept the Detroit Edison company repairmen busy working on lines, transformers, meters, and major appliances throughout the entire area. Harry Wagenschütz, local Detroit Edison manager, reports that the storm was the worst in recent years with his office receiving hundreds of distress calls. A building in the rear of Allen Monuments, East Main street, was struck by the lightning. Luckily, no fire broke out.

A former Northville High school coach, Charlie Ketterer, is now head football coach at Plymouth High school. Ketterer coached at NHS 1948-1949.

Other editors seem to have clipped the Plymouth Mail editorial entitled "Northville Waking Up." The Livingston County Press, Howell, reprinted the item last week. Could that be a hint that other towns think we need waking up? To get one taxpayer's view, see this week's Letter to the Editor.

The House of Correction Rehabilitation program was aided this week by contributions of ties and socks from Charlene Boyd, Mrs. Arthur Gotts, Mrs. Baskins, J. W. Cheetham and Mrs. A. Smith, chairman of the VFW rehabilitation program.

Looks as if the Ritchie Brothers are planning added service for their customers with the new dryer which we saw moved into their place of business last week.

The Village action to acquire the Blackburn property for downtown parking space should be commended, for without a doubt the convenience of the business district for shoppers will be enhanced by the addition.

Presbyterians Hold Dedication Service

In the newly redecorated sanctuary of the First Presbyterian church last Sunday, the congregation united in dedicating new memorial hymnals.

A committee composed of Elders C. Ray VanValkenburg, William C. Williams and George W. Weiss were instrumental in securing new hymnals. Funds contributed through the Living Memorial program have made hymnals available in memory of Mrs. Estella Stark, Mrs. Ida Hendrix, Mrs. Ed. C. Langfield, C. M. Johnston, Dr. Merton S. Rice and Ward Masters.

Other hymnals were contributed by Ada and Jessie Roe, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Hoeft. The committee is endeavoring to secure additional hymnals needed at the special services of the church year.

In redecorating the sanctuary, acknowledgements will be made of gifts received by Nelson C. Schrader, the chairman of the decorating committee.

A new hymn board has been made by G. Ross Correll of West Ten Mile road, and a large Celtic cross to hang in the chancel has been constructed by Russell W. Bingley of West Main street. The new dorsal curtain is expected from the church supply house in Grand Rapids.

In keeping with the decorating program, the Sexton Charles W. Meyers has refinished the white exterior doors of the church. These doors have been used continuously since 1845 on what is probably the oldest protestant church building in the state of Michigan. The wrought iron door plates and handles have been cleaned and rubbed to their original finish.

Salvation Army Aids Fire Victims

The Salvation Army came to the aid of the John Thairo family whose home on Gerald avenue was completely destroyed by fire last Tuesday morning. The family was away at the time the fire broke out.

The Thairos are temporarily making their home with friends on Gerald avenue. The Salvation Army has given them five chairs, dresser, bed, ice box, cot, dishes, pots and pans, bedding and a kitchen table. Other friends of the community have also come to the aid of the family.

At Rotary club's recent luncheon meeting, Henry Bert, assistant manager of Northwest Detroit's office of Social Security, spoke to the men in regard to "Social Security as Related to the Self Employed." John Wowchuk of the Detroit office was also present.

School Enrollments Show Steady Increase of Pupils

An increase of approximately 40 pupils was seen after last week's pre-registration in the Northville Public schools, states Superintendent Russell H. Amerman. Though this is not a startling amount, the system has had a steady increase year after year.

Charles T. Pregitzer, Grade School Principal, anticipates a total of 600 pupils enrolled after tomorrow's full day of school. Five hundred and ninety-two parents have brought their youngsters to the school on the pre-registration days. This figure includes 32 more pupils than last year's total registration in the Grade School, Mr. Pregitzer commented.

Auto Crash Claims Hazel Park Man

Oliver Swanson, 53, of Hazel Park was the victim of a traffic accident Saturday. Swanson died at Mt. Carmel hospital of injuries received when he failed to make the curve on Randolph street, west of the Village.

Police say he was traveling east on Eight Mile road about 70 miles an hour and failed to see the curve, slamming into the embankment and overturning his Plymouth car.

Unbeaten Northville Out for Ball Title

As the only undefeated squad in the Michigan Inter-County baseball league playoffs, Northville will vie for the league championship Sunday at the Cass Benton park ball diamond.

The game at 3 p.m. will be played against the Gamble Post team of Detroit.

On Monday, Northville eliminated Romulus 2 to 1, and in the previous days play they defeated Plymouth in the 10th inning, 5 to 4. Gamble Post defeated the Plymouth team on Monday.

A spokesman from the Northville team said that crowds at the games have been small and he hopes that Northville will turn out Sunday for this all-important game.

OLV School Plans Waiting Approval

Plans for the proposed Our Lady of Victory school are pending the approval of Detroit headquarters and then the Village Council, states Father Lorenzo Woods.

The school, which will be built on the property in back of the church, will be financed by contributions from the parishioners.

A break-down of the figures for the Grade School is as follows: Kindergarten, 77 (16 new pupils); first grade, 96, second grade, 99; third grade, 80, fourth grade, 81; fifth grade, 79; and sixth grade, 80.

The grade schoolers will begin Friday for a full day of school at 8:30 a.m. Kindergarten and pupils in first, second and third grades are excused at 11 a.m. with the afternoon session beginning at 12:40 p.m. All students are excused at 3:30 p.m. with the school bus leaving at 3:35 p.m.

No hot lunches will be served at the beginning of the school year so grade school children not returning home for lunch should bring their own. Milk will be available for these pupils.

Registration in the high school shows a gain of about ten students over the figures of last spring, but remains the same as last fall's registration, states Elroy Ellison, principal. The total enrollment is 463.

Seventh grade enrollment is 71; eighth grade, 73; ninth grade, 91; tenth grade, 82; eleventh grade, 68, and the senior class will number 78.

Local Girl Wins Fair Honors

Mary Bodnar, 14, of 8595 West Seven Mile road was one of the four Michigan teen-agers to receive special honors at the opening of the State Fair Friday.

Representing farm youth, Mary wrote one of the best letters on the subject: "Why I Think I Would Be a Good Farm (or City) Youth Representative at the State Fair."

The contest was sponsored by the Free Press and the fair management.

The winners spent two days at the fair and each was given $50 in cash. They rode in the fair parade down Woodward last Friday morning.

The second winner representing farm youth was John Walsh, 16, of RFD 1, Stockbridge. "Typical" city youth were Nancy Jean Wimmer, 14, of Highland Park and Jack McNeil, 16, of Lansing.

N.H.S. Band To Play at U.M. Band Day

The Northville High school 65 piece band will participate in the Third Annual Band Day at the University of Michigan stadium October 13, states Leslie G. Lee, director.

The invitation from Dr. William D. Revelli, conductor of the U. of M. band, stated that about 100 Michigan high school bands will mass at the stadium for the Indiana-Michigan football game. Last year only 30 bands took part and in comparison the show should be spectacular.

The bands will perform in mass formations during halves of the game but each band will march onto the field in individual formation.

The local band will travel to Ann Arbor in the morning to rehearse with the other bands before the performance, according to Lee.

The local branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will meet Monday, September 17 at 9:30 a.m. for a field trip to Haven Hill.

Members should meet at the home of Mrs. Harold Tuck, East Dunlap street. Anyone desiring transportation should call Mrs. Tuck, 622-R.

THOUSANDS ATTEND KROGER OPENING

Legion Auxiliary Elects Officers

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147, American Legion, met last Tuesday at the Veterans Memorial Hall and elected officers for the ensuing year.

Elected were Mrs. Don Sevance, president; Mrs. Paul Burnham, secretary; Mrs. Blair Claypool, first vice president; Mrs. Robin Corey, second vice president; Mrs. Oscar Hammond, historian; Mrs. Florence Alexander, chaplain; Mrs. George Risher, sergeant at arms.

The officers will be installed at their next meeting Tuesday, September 11 at Veterans Memorial Hall. Tentative plans call for Mrs. Ada Goers of Farmington to be installing officer.

Police Calls Few This Week

Police Chief Joseph Denton reports that only a few minor calls have been answered by the local police force this last week.

On August 29, five-year-old Mary Pearsall of Gerald avenue, was hit by a car when she dodged from behind a parked car on East Main street about one-half block east of North Center street.

May was taken to Sessions hospital to be treated for minor bruises. The car involved was driven by Mrs. Grace Burton of South Lyon who stated that she was driving only 15 mph at the time the child appeared on the street.

Newsboy Paul Whitehead, 12 years old, of Main street, was a victim of a dog bite while peddling his papers at the Strange residence on Butler avenue. Following this accident on August 25, the dog, who had not been vaccinated, was impounded for a 10 day period. The boy received the bite on the right leg between the knee and the foot.

A larceny case was reported August 27 by Mr. Katzbeck of Dunlap street. From his car parked in Walled Lake, an ornament was stolen. As yet it has not been recovered by the police.

Club To Sponsor Showing of Film

The Couples Club of the First Presbyterian church is sponsoring the showing of a new religious film, entitled, "Fire Upon The Earth." It is a history of the church since the time of Christ. The first showing is to be to the children in the Sunday School at 10 a.m. Sunday, September 9.

In the evening it is to be shown to the adults at 8:00 p.m. in the church house auditorium. Attorney Paul Schulz has been asked to lead a discussion of the film after its showing. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the movie.

New Mental Hospital Supt. Tells of Future Facilities

Dr. Philip N. Brown, superintendent of the new State Mental hospital on Seven Mile road, told the members of the Exchange club at their Wednesday, August 29 meeting that mental illness frequently accompanies the deleterious effects of infectious diseases and injuries, as well as occurring in those individuals in whom no organic changes are demonstrable.

It therefore is necessary to include facilities in the new hospital for the physical care of a great many disorders. About 3,500 patients and approximately 1,000 employees will be necessary at the institution when it reaches its maximum capacity, so that the variations in health will somewhat parallel the similar occurrences in a community of that same population.

Shock therapies of various types are frequently used in modern treatment of mental illness, particularly of a functional nature. Dr. Brown assured that the percentage of cure is high, approximately 80 percent in cases of involuntal melancholia, and somewhat lower—approximately 50 to 60 percent in cases of schizophrenia, when shock treatment is used. Shock treatment is not a panacea for all mental illnesses but must be used in carefully selected cases.

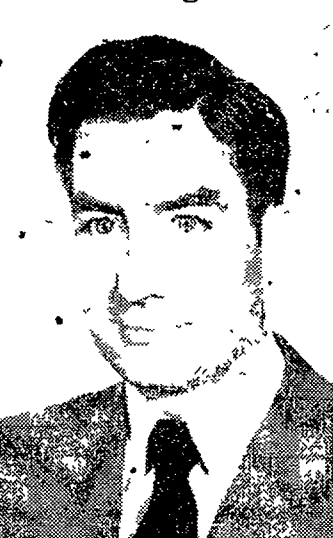

The types of shock treatment most frequently used at the new Northville State hospital will be insulin or electric shock therapy. Electric shock treatment uses ordinary AC current with carefully controlled amperage, voltage and time. Insulin and electric shock produce good results without the possibly harmful or disabling effects of obsolete treatments of former years.

He emphasized that the success of the hospital is measured in the number of cures and releases effected. It is not a "home" or "asylum," but a hospital wherein every effort will be made to rehabilitate in the most modern and effective way all those sent there for treatment.

They plan to begin operation, as far as the treatment of patients is concerned in March, 1952. The staff and attendants will be assembled during the early part of February of that year.

Those considering employment there are directed to communicate with the Civil Service Commission, 220 North Grand Avenue, Lansing, Michigan, who will determine if their capabilities are needed, answer questions concerning employment, and to send applications so that the applicants will be certified by Civil Service. All the positions at the Northville State hospital will be under Michigan State Civil Service regulations.

The council will convene on Thursday, September 20 at 7:15 p.m. at the Village Library, to make plans for the fall program, the American Citizenship banquet, at which prominent state people will be guests.

Northville Coordinating council represents 34 organizations and is looked upon as an outstanding council of its kind in the state of Michigan, states Mrs. Willis. Therefore, the service clubs of Northville will play the major part in the fall banquet plans which will be held sometime during October. The date will be announced in the Record.

The Council thanks the people of the community for their support in the recommendations that have been made and realized in the Village and township, says the retiring president.

Waterford School To Vote Sept. 10

A special election will be held Monday, September 10, in the Waterford school district to decide the question of annexation to either Northville or Plymouth school districts.

Announcements of the election state that polls will be open from 12 noon to 8 p.m. in the Waterford school building.

A meeting of the three districts involving Northville, Waterford and Plymouth, was held with C. E. Brake, deputy superintendent of Wayne county schools and Wayne county board member, Hunter. It was decided at that time that annexation should be to Northville district if the Waterford district votes in its favor.

Under the 1940 state law act, only the primary district, which in this case is Waterford, need hold an approving election, said Russell H. Amerman, superintendent of the Northville schools.

The Northville or Plymouth Board of Education must approve the vote of the Waterford district after the election.

Mr. Amerman announced that the Hinman School district has petitioned the Northville Board of Education to be annexed.

The major changes in the code will eliminate the substandard dwellings in various areas and provide for more stringent restrictions for the township.

Hopkins-Swantek Rites Read Saturday

A wedding of interest to Villagers is the one that took place in Plymouth last Saturday afternoon which united in marriage Anne Hopkins of that city to Thomas Swantek of Grosse Pointe. Anne is the granddaughter of Mrs. Ann Young of North Wing street.

Rev. Henry Walch read the ceremony at the First Presbyterian church in the presence of 125 guests. Baskets of white gladioli and palms flanked the altar. Marilyn Scott, a college roommate of the bride, sang, "I Love Thee" and "Calm is the Night."

Given in marriage by her cousin, Charles M. Young, Anne appeared in a gown of white organdy fashioned with embroidered bodice and skirt ending in a train. A veil of French illusion was attached to an organdy cap adorned with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and ivy.

Her sister, Shirlee Hopkins, was maid of honor. She wore white organdy over aqua taffeta and a picture hat. Her bouquet was composed of daisies.

Bridesmaids were Mary Alice Evans and Marilyn Scott who were gowned in white organdy over aqua taffeta. They also carried daisies and wore picture hats.

Roger Own was best man and seating the guests were George Abraham and Jack Neal.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hopkins chose a toast lace and linen gown. Mrs. Swantek chose navy blue lace.

A reception followed in the Mayflower hotel. For going away, Anne wore a navy suit with white accessories. They are now honeymooning in northern Michigan. The bride was graduated from Plymouth High school and Michigan State College where the bridegroom is a senior. They will be at home in East Lansing.

Woman's Union To Hear Review

A discussion by Paul Schulz of "Crisis Decade" will be given at the September 12 opening meeting of the Presbyterian Woman's Union.

The general theme for the 12:30 p.m. luncheon-meeting will be Latin America. This is also the study topic for the first half of the year for the group. Special music is planned by Mrs. William Williams.

Diverging from previous years, the annual Harvest Festival given by the Woman's Union will be in two sections. October 11 has been set for the turkey dinner and farm and garden sale while the bazaar and luncheon is scheduled for November 15.

Young People Join in Church Work Bee

Senior High young people have a work bee project at the First Presbyterian church. They have been busy painting the small chairs of the nursery, kindergarten and primary departments of the church school.

Those attending the summer conferences have also helped in putting book plates in the new church hymnals. Charles Rogers, Bill Andrews and Dick Willis have volunteered to cut the grass and trim the shrubs in the nursery playground.

Golden Anniversary Honorees

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Stalter who will be feted at September 8 open house.

Fifty years ago September 5, Hulda Thutt and Samuel S. Stalter were united in marriage at the bride's home near Ada, Ohio. Since 1925, the Stalters have resided in Northville where their three children, Waldo, Sam and Mary Catherine were born.

September 8, from 5:00 to 8:00 p.m. in the Methodist church house an Open House is planned by their children in honor of this Fiftieth Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Stalter have been active in the Methodist church in our Village and today their interests center around this institution and their family which now numbers three children and three grandchildren. Mary Virginia is the daughter of the Sam Stalters of Dearborn; Randall and Mary Catherine live with their parents, the H. P. Winstons in Detroit. Waldo and his wife reside in Goshen, Indiana.

To the children and grandchildren, the "family home" is on Randolph street though the couple now live in a Thayer boulevard apartment.

Police Chief Warns School Beginners

"How safe is my child?" The parents of children who are to begin school for the first time this month find this question their biggest worry, Chief Joseph Denton said today.

It is with the beginning of school," he said, "that the child most often breaks away from his parents' round-the-clock supervision for the first time and is exposed to the dangers of the street."

That the parents are justified in their fears is borne out by National Safety Council figures, quoted by Chief Denton, which show that throughout the country more than 1,400 children 5 through 14 years old were killed by motor vehicles as pedestrians and bicycle riders in 1950.

Since September—and the beginning of school—is a crucial month to the safety of youngsters, it has been selected for the State Safety Commission's month long program of traffic safety education concerned with protecting children. The State Safety Commission's September slogan "Watch Out For Kids" is directed at the motorist, upon whose shoulders most of the responsibility for child safety rests.

Other phases of the program, however Chief Denton said, will emphasize the child's own responsibility in traffic, the parents' necessity for wise safety education at home, and ways in which schools can increase their contribution to the students' safety. The Police Department has been assured of the full cooperation of Mr. Russell Amerman, superintendent of schools.

"Safety," Chief Denton said, "is not a subject that can arbitrarily begin with the child's first day in school and end on the completion of his formal education. The child's education along these lines should begin as soon as he can comprehend simple instructions and should continue the rest of his life."

Village, City Government Advantages Discussed

Evidently Northville is not the only village in which the citizens are weighing the advantages or disadvantages of city or village government. The Trenton Times in last week's issue brought forth the following information that may help Northville to decide what their move will be if a vote of the people is asked by our Village Council in the near future.

The following, in brief, is a summary of the differences in village and city government. It primarily concerns the advantages and additional powers available through the adoption of a city charter.

The basic difference between a village and a small city is not great. A city is simply a village with the added right and responsibility to perform certain functions which the township now performs for its village residents. Incidental to making the change, the new city obtains additional powers for increased governmental activity and the opportunity to modernize its framework of government.

The majority duties assumed by the new city are the legally required duties, such as assessing property and collecting taxes for county and school purposes.

Under a city charter, all property would be assessed only once by a city assessor, which obviously is more simple and economical. Paying taxes, difficult under any government, is physically easier under the city form. All taxes are payable to one agency—the city—rather than two separate offices.

Other township duties assumed by the city are conducting county, state and national elections, sending representatives to the County Board of Supervisors and providing a primary or justice court system.

All these services are provided in a more efficient and convenient manner by a city than by a township, and each is done either at a lower cost or at no additional cost to the taxpayers.

Any local service, the township has provided may, if desired by the new governing body, be continued by the city by paying for them out of city instead of township taxes, or on a contractual basis with the township.

From a financial standpoint, the effect of separating from the township results in the saving forever of virtually the entire township tax. In addition, at the time of incorporation the new city shares in all township assets in proportion to the assessed value of the city and the township.

When people realize that village residents are the only residents in Michigan who support and deal with two local governments, certain other advantages of separation from the township become obvious.

First, there is a general simplification of government. Second, there is a complete removal from any partisan element in local affairs. There is no change in the character of the community or in the conduct of schools or social welfare. There also is the possibility of expanding the boundaries in a much easier and more practical manner than by annexation.

In fact, at no other time, either as a village or as a city, is a small or large scale boundary change made so easy as at the time of incorporation as a city.

Modernization of government, in the form of preparing a tailor-made charter, is still another distinct advantage. Such charters usually provide for reducing the number of elected administrative officials—a policy endorsed by most students of efficient government—and give greater powers to the municipality.

A city charter also provides for non-partisan elections and nomination by petition instead of by caucus. It unifies the responsibility for municipal affairs in the elected council, and frequently in the provision for the council-manager form of government.

Local village officials are now and always have been of good calibre. But Trenton is not immune to bad leadership. Trenton's form of government should be changed now while handled by a proven administration.

There has been a steady trend of Michigan villages to change to the city form of government. Municipalities which have made the change have been well satisfied with the resulting progress. The change from village to city government has been endorsed as a sound move by the Michigan Municipal League, lifetime students of municipal government and countless other experts in the field.

Trenton is growing. Recent advancements, particularly the new Chrysler plant, attest to that fact. It obviously would be foolish not to keep governmental organization in step with industrial and civic developments.

Dept. Officials To Attend Meet

Two department of conservation officials will take part in the Rochester, New York meetings of the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners September 10-11 and the American Fisheries Society September 13-14. The two groups will hold a joint meeting September 12.

H. D. Ruhl, game division chief, will appear on the Monday morning program with a report of the federal aid committee, of which he is chairman.

Dr. A. S. Hazzard, director of the conservation department's institute for fisheries research, is president of the American Fisheries Society and will preside at its meeting.

Director Gerald E. Eddy, deputy director Wayland Osgood and other department personnel will also attend the Rochester meetings.

Dept. Recommends Less Timber Cut

Cutting 38 million board feet of saw-timber and 80,000 cords of pole-timber annually for the next decade is the recommendation of conservation department foresters for best management of southwestern Michigan forest lands. This is less than the current annual production.

The recommendation was made after study of wooded areas—14 percent of total land area—in Allegan, Barry, Eaton, Ingham, Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Calhoun, Jackson, Berrien, Cass, St. Joseph, Branch and Hillsdale counties. Nearly half the forest land, mostly farm woodlots, is growing saw-timber, an estimated 1.8 billion board feet. Smaller and interior timber suitable for fuelwood pulpwood and miscellaneous products totals approximately 6,000,000 cords. Annual growth is estimated at 65 million board feet of saw-timber and 41,000 cords of pole size timber.

Raw products cut from these lands are used mostly by local sawmills. A large volume is used on farms for lumber and fuel. Foresters estimate that under good management this area could produce twice the quantity now used locally.

PTA Sponsored Play School Reconvenes September 24

Mothers of pre-school children are cordially invited to attend an open house and tea Monday evening, September 17 at 8:00 p.m. at the First Presbyterian church house.

Sponsored by the Northville Play School, the tea is being given with the hope of acquainting the mothers with the facilities available at the nursery school. All persons who are interested in enrolling their youngsters are urged to attend.

Officers are Mrs. Howard Meyer, president; Mrs. William B. Crump, vice president; Mrs. Richard Nelson, treasurer; Mrs. Patricia Perkins is the teacher and she will be assisted by several of the mothers.

The Play School opening has been set for September 24 and all children, aged two and one-half to five years, are welcome to attend. School meets at the First Presbyterian church house on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9:00 to 11:30 o'clock.

The Play School is sponsored by the Parent Teacher Association and grew out of an interested committee of the PTA nearly five years ago. It operates with a trained teacher in charge and has a planned program including music, painting, story telling, clay modeling as well as active play outdoors and indoors. In addition to this program, the children in the past have enjoyed various sightseeing trips in the Village and to nearby farms where they became acquainted with barnyard animals.

Once a month, the mothers meet to take up the problems connected with child growth and development. The Play School is a non-profit organization and anyone is welcome to join.

New Subscribers Can't Afford To Miss This!

During the Northville Merchants' Parade of Progress, every house on the mail routes of Northville and vicinity will find a paper at their doorstep each week. We hope you find that after the month of September is over you miss the Northville Record's news and advertisements to the extent that you will want a subscription to our paper.

Our special offer for new subscribers for the month of September will save you 50 cents for a year's subscription. Michigan subscribers need to bring in only $1.50 to have 52 issues sent to them. Two dollars takes the paper to new out-of-state readers.

Renewal rates are: $3.50 for two years; $2.00 for one year; $1.25 for six months and 75 cents for four months.

Through an arrangement with the Exchange Club, the Northville Record is sent free of charge to all servicemen. If your soldier son would like to read the hometown paper each week be sure to bring or mail in this complete address to us.

Single copies of the Northville Record may be purchased at Gursell's and Stewart's drug stores and Spagy's grocery in Northville as well as at the Record office. Now single copies are sold at Haenden's Confectionery.

No Blackleg Found In Michigan Deer

Mio—No evidence of the presence of blackleg in Michigan deer has been uncovered in a three-week investigation.

Scattered cases of the infectious disease which attacks young cattle have been reported and vaccination of herds in the area has been widespread.

Because deer in western grazing states have become infected when they have grazed on cattle ranges, John Byelich, conservation department district game manager at Mio, has conducted an exhaustive check.

Byelich believes that Michigan deer, usually grazing in hit-or-miss fashion many inches above the surface of the ground, are unlikely to come in contact with the spores which carry the infection.

The few reported cases of blackleg have occurred in cattle herds brought in from western states.

HIGHER PRICES AHEAD?

Some government economists are forecasting that food prices will rise again in the very near future. Forecasts of this nature must always be taken with a grain of salt—they have often been wrong, and other experts think there will be little or no change in the present price structure.

Time will tell as to that. However, if prices do go up again—for food or anything else in general use—it is probable that the retailers will be blamed, precisely as they have been blamed in the past. In the early days of the postwar inflation, consumer groups actually went so far as to picket stores, armed with placards which urged everyone to refuse to buy this item or that unless the price was heavily cut.

Consumer worry and anger over high prices is certainly understandable. But when the blame is centered on the retailer, the consumer is simply barking up the wrong tree. He has been caught in the bite along with all the rest of us. The wholesale prices he must pay, and over which he has no control, have risen again and again. So have his payroll, his rent, his taxes, his administrative costs, and so on. All of this might be of comparatively small moment if he had a fat margin of profit to fall back on. But, actually, the profit in food retailing is far smaller than most of us realize. The big food chains, for example, earn, as profit, only one to two cents out of each dollar which goes through their tills. And in other types of retailing, the profit usually amounts to less than five cents on each dollar of sales.

Competition holds prices to a minimum, in every field of manufacturing and retailing. When prices go up, it means that the economic forces of the time made this unavoidable.

She's helping to meet an emergency

MRS. RUTH JOHNSON of Grand Rapids, one of the first women to take over a maintenance job at Michigan Bell since World War II.

The little lady on the ladder is doing some of the work normally handled by men. She may look out of place in that maze of wire connections. But you ought to see her use a soldering iron, installing and rearranging part of the wiring that connects subscribers' telephones with the central office equipment.

She's working here because many telephone men who kept Michigan Bell's equipment in top condition are now in uniform, and because communications are the life lines of our armed forces.

During World War II, several hundred Michigan women took over while the men were gone. Today other women are doing the same thing. And they're doing a great job... helping to keep the equipment that handles the nation's calls in good working order.

It's people who make telephone service good!

Ferris Institute Opens Sept. 3

Several young people from Northville and this part of Michigan have returned to Ferris Institute to resume their educational work. Students enrolled September 3 and 4 and classes began September 5. In addition to those returning as sophomores, juniors and seniors there is a large number entering as freshmen. Word comes there are still some openings in all departments.

The fact that Ferris Institute now is a state owned and operated college is said to be another deciding factor as more and more young people decide to study there.

The two new buildings on the Ferris campus in Big Rapids are rapidly nearing completion, a visit to the campus discloses. The new East building, housing classrooms and faculty offices, is to be in at least partial use early in the new school year, while the new West building, housing administrative offices, the library, music and some other departments, is to be ready before the coming school year is ended.

ROLLING DOWN THE RIVER

by the PETZ BROS.

Sometime ago we decided that this Studebaker Mart of ours should receive more publicity than we had been giving it. We decided to advertise in this most popular of newspapers, but the type of advertising to use gave us trouble. We didn't want run-of-the-mill stuff, we wanted something different, so here (we hope) it is. Besides we've heard that a lot of newspapers pay a lot of fellows good money for writing columns.

The man from this family journal appeared, agreed and even went farther than that. He decided to let us do both the writing and the paying. We sincerely hope that guys like Winchell and Pearson won't get panicky now that we're in print...at least not for a while.

We received quite a few suggestions as to what we should call this column, most of which wouldn't bear repeating. However, we selected the name you see way up there at the top. It's a relaxed sort of a name and we've a hunch this will be a relaxed sort of column.

Now of course it's no secret that this Studebaker car we sell, happens to be the finest car on the road today, but we would like to suggest that if you've never driven the '51 Studebaker V-8 Commander you hasten to rectify such a situation at once. The thrilling, surging power of this brand new engine is something you must experience to believe. We suggest that you drive it this week-end...we'll go along for the ride as it's a very comfortable sort of a car and most amazingly economical.

By the way, a fellow was in the garage for a bit of motor tune-up the other day and stopped to inform us that, "While in the olden days a father killed a fatted calf to celebrate the return of a wandering son, today it most likely was the fatted calf that caused the son to wander...especially if it happened to be wrapped in nylon."

Seems that a lot of you good folks have been getting down town sort of late these days and being of the obliging sort at all times we've arranged our hours to fit. You'll find us around the place until nine every night except Saturday. The boys in the shop, however, go home at six so to keep your car mechanically perfect try and get it to us early.

That's all for now, but did we tell you of the bachelor who is spending most of his time at the lake this year—just to see if there's anything worth wading for!!

Yours,
BILL and WILL PETZ.

More than 800,000 ingot tons of stainless steel were produced in the United States in 1950, an all-time peak. TRAIL BLAZER - with plenty on the ball

How long since you lifted the hood of a car, and took a good look at what's beneath? We like to have folks do that with a Buick.

You'll find that broad bonnet isn't put there for show. It's packed with horsepower—high, wide and handsome—more horsepower than normal drivers will ever use in full. And—if you're up to date on modern features—you'll find that this bonnet is packed with these too.

Do you know, for example, that every new engine introduced or previewed in recent years is built on the valve-in-head principle? Score one for Buick. No Buick engine has ever been built in any other way.

Do you know what it takes to make full use of high compression? A valve-in-head engine!

Score two: Buick has been stepping up compression ratios for years.

But Buick has blazed one trail which other engines still haven't followed—don't ask us why.

Every Buick has a Fireball Engine which, as we've said before, is like having a string of comets by the tail.

Fact is, in every flame-packed cylinder there is a comet—rolled into a swirling ball by a special turbo-top piston—touched off by a flashing spark every 5 inches you travel in a Buick.

That's why we're proud to show folks that Buicks have a Fireball Engine—and prouder still to have them take one of these thrilling performers out on the road.

Want to try it? Come in and see us soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

The secret of Fireball Power is in the use of dome-and-dip design of the piston shown above.

Here's the piston inside the cylinder. As it moves down, the fuel charge rushes in—sets up a swirl when it hits the piston top.

The piston moves up—compresses the swirling fuel into the comet shape shown here. "Compression ratios" are simply a measure of how much the fuel is compressed.

The ball of fuel is compressed around the spark plug—lets loose its pent-up charge when the spark is fired—delivering a higher percentage of power from each charge of fuel.

Travel Association Plans Convention

Michigan will be host to the nation's leaders in the travel industry when the convention of the National Association of Travel Organizations is held at Mackinac Island, September 19-22, according to Robert J. Furlong, executive secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council.

girl, August 20; Mr. and Mrs. John Leeds, Farmington, boy, August 22; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tarrow, Plymouth, boy, August 23; Mr. and Mrs. John E. Horn, Farmington girl, August 24; Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Butts, South Lyon, boy, August 24; Mr. and Mrs. John O'Hara, Detroit, boy, August 24; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Newsted, Farmington, boy, August 25.

ed that more than 250 delegates from every section of the country will attend. They will represent transportation companies, the press radio and television, federal and state governments and other agencies actively interested in the travel industry.

The organization has as a principal objective the promotion of recreational travel throughout the nation. The treasurer of the association is a Michigan man, George E. Bishop of Marquette, secretary of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau. Michigan is also represented on the executive committee by Frank Davis of Bay City, secretary of the East Michigan Tourist Association. The president is Joseph A. Bursey, director of the New Mexico State Tourist Bureau.

One of the highlights of the four-day program will be an address by Governor G. Mennen Williams at a Michigan dinner Thursday, September 20. Toastmaster at this special event will be W. S. Woodfill, president of the Grand Hotel, the convention headquarters.

Flowers for the Living

An old friend of mine by the name of George Ade once started a slogan, hooked up with an organization, which he called "Flowers for the Living."

This is not a bad idea. I don't know what flowers ever mean to the dead. Or kind words. Or cheers. Or anything except the peace of eternal sleep.

We feel that it is almost impossible to write too many kind words about an old Georgia friend known as Johnny Mize, the Demorest Destroyer.

Grantland Rice

Johnny has always been a large, powerfully built, rather slow-moving performer destined to be no part of a Ty Cobb, who came from a neighboring Georgia village.

Johnny reported at Greensboro slightly over 21 years ago. He was then 17 years old. Today he is on his way to 40.

Johnny lost three years of baseball in the Navy, 1943, 1944 and 1945, a three-year term which cost his record at least 100 or more home runs. Possibly 150 home runs, since he was hitting at that clip after he had surrendered his Navy cap.

Around 15 years ago, St. Louis tried to pass Mize along to Cincinnati's Reds. Johnny had a bad knee and the Reds turned him back. At that time everyone thought Mize was through—a fine power hitter with a bad leg.

So Mize had to move back to the Cardinals. He began hitting home runs without losing any time. He also began winning a flock of ball games.

The Cardinals, meaning Mr. Rickey, sold Mize to the Giants in 1942, nine years ago. They figured Mize was all through, a washed-up slugger.

Mize gave the Giants 26 home runs that season. But he gave them 51 home runs in 1947 and 40 home runs in 1948. Those were the two years he tied Ralph Kiner, the Pirate slasher, now the best of all the home-run hitters. Mize was sent to Kansas City in 1950. He was brought back to hit 25 home runs that year.

Mize was 35 when he tied Kiner's march the second time; Kiner was 25. That's the type of hitter Johnny Mize happens to be. He could spot 'em 10 years and handle 'em. But you can't spot 'em too many decades. Johnny Mize is one of the great power hitters of all time. And quite a fellow beyond that.

The Greatest Hitters

There are many styles of great hitters. Willie Keeler was one of the great place hitters. I'll have to rank Ty Cobb above the immortal Willie.

Ty was a punch hitter. He elected this role over the slugger's job to get on base. They are paying tribute to hitters who have gotten 2,000 hits. Cobb got over 4,000 hits. He also stole close to 900 bases.

Babe Ruth was the power hitter. Babe might have been a .400 hitter just as Cobb might have been a slugger.

The two next greatest hitters I've ever seen in some 50 years of observation were Rogers Hornsby and Shoeless Joe Jackson.

Cobb — Ruth — Hornsby — Jackson. They are the four tops. After these—George Sisler. Sure anybody can be wrong. But what's the matter with Cobb, Ruth, Hornsby and Jackson?

They are the four tops in the land of the ash, in my book. Jackson was a natural-born hitter, if you'll take the word of Cobb, Ruth and Speaker. Years ago on radio interviews each one told me that Jackson was the greatest hitter he had ever seen.

There is no questioning the fact now that Ralph Kiner is the biggest of the big hitters left. Kiner has averaged 48 home runs a year in the last four seasons.

He may raise this to 50 by the end of the 1951 campaign. Gil Hodges will need another 25 homers to protect his earlier lead.

Yet when Mize was close to 35, he tied Kiner two years running at 51 and 40. Ted Williams is a big hitter, but he isn't a Kiner. No one else is.

The Matter of Class

Several queries have arrived lately along this line: how does the heavyweight division of Sharkey, Carnera, Baer and Braddock compare with the 1951 mixture.

There isn't any big difference except that the modern heavyweights mentioned are more interesting and have more varied personalities. Sharkey and Baer were equipped to be high-class heavyweights, but disliked the game.

Library Resumes All Services

The Michigan State Library has resumed all services, including filling requests for books and information. The number of books loaned to state employees, libraries and state residents without libraries already exceeds ten thousand per month and is increasing rapidly. Reading room facilities for patrons are still lacking, however, in Lansing. An information center on the ground floor of the Capitol Building is the only point of public contact for library materials.

Unusual or urgent requests that cannot be answered by the State Library are being sent over teletypewriter (TWX) service to either Detroit, Grand Rapids public libraries or the University of Michigan General Library. These libraries from the nucleus with the Michigan State Library for the first state-wide library exchange service.

Mrs. Loleta D. Fyan, State Librarian, said that the latest count is 43,600 volumes destroyed and 19,000 volumes rebound as the result of the State Office building fire. The most permanent damage is the loss of the irreplaceable state documents, newspaper and periodical sets and books on special subjects. However, she went on to say, new books and available substitute materials are being received and processed as quickly as possible to make them available for loan.

To receive books and information from the State Library, address a post card or letter to the Michigan State Library, Lansing.

Forest Protection Pays Dividends

Effective forest protection work paid dividends in Michigan during 1950. A summary of the state's forest fire report shows a 50 percent reduction in number of fires and 30 percent reduction in acreage burned over the previous year.

A total of 988 fires burned 6,274 acres of Michigan timberland in 1950. All of the state's 19,703,000 acres of forestland are under organized protection. Careless smokers, who started 385, and debris burners, who started 290, were the worst causes of woods fires in 1950.

Only .03 percent of Michigan's forest area was burned during the year. Only four other states—Montana, Wisconsin, Vermont and Washington—equalled or bettered this mark.

This information is contained in a report distributed by American Forest Products Industries, national sponsor of the Keep Green program underway in 30 states.

Commenting on Michigan's 1950 forest fire control record, J. C. McClellan, chief forester for AFPI stressed the need for greater cooperation by the public in preventing woods fires. Since most woods fires are caused by local residents, the Keep Green program provides a most effective vehicle for grass roots education in forest fire prevention.

"Man's most effective tool in preventing forest fires is education," Chief Forester McClellan declared. "An alert public, aware of its collective responsibility for preventing fire in the woods can keep America's forest green, growing and productive."

The AFPI report, based on U.S. Forest Service figures, emphasizes the continuing need for full public support of federal and state fire control agencies. It points out that continued cooperation between industry, the public agencies and woodland owners in preventing fire is an integral part of the national defense program.

Cones Wanted By State Nurseries

Red pine and white spruce cones are wanted by the conservation department to replenish the supply of seed at the three state nurseries.

Distinct foresters in the northern lower and upper peninsulas will buy all the red pine cones they can get. They want a minimum of 3,000 bushels of red pine cones and 400 bushels of white spruce cones. Only ripe cones will be purchased. Prices to be paid are $5 a bushel for red and $6 a bushel for the spruce. Payment will be made in cash.

The department men caution cone pickers to "Ask the Landowner First" for permission for picking from private land.

Since only ripe, sound cones will be bought, the department suggests contacting the local district forester before starting to pick.

This is the best seed year since 1948 except for white spruce cones.

Upper peninsula district foresters are: Leroy Stevens, Baraga; George Divine, Crystal Falls; H. S. Peterson, Kingsford; Arne Melisa, Gwinn; Clarence Lampert, Escanaba; Ernest Hall, Shingleton; Carl Makel, Manistique; Bernard McTiver, Newberry; James Halbach, Newberry; and Wesley Lehmann, Sault Ste. Marie.

Those in the northern lower peninsula are: James Finley, Boyne City; A. K. Bradwood, Onaway; W. H. Horsell, Gaylord; Merl Prichard, Onaway; Victor Horvath, Alpena; Fred Haskin, Fife Lake; Shirley Gowling, Grayling; Clayton Schooley, Roscommon; Robert Leeson, Baldwin; Anthony Sullivan, at Houghton Lake, and Allen Philbrick, West Branch.

State Fair Exhibits "LeSabre" Car

The first public exhibition in Michigan of General Motors' "LeSabre," the new, low, sleek, sports car of the future, will be at the Michigan State Fair, August 31 through September 9, General Manager James D. Friel announces.

For the first time in Michigan, spectators will be able to actually see the car they have read and heard about.

"LeSabre," with the sweeping lines of a jet aircraft, has been a bit with members of the press and officials who have been lucky to see it first hand.

Harley J. Earl, GM vice president in charge of styling, said "LeSabre," in development for four years, is a laboratory on wheels for testing both mechanical and styling ideas that designers have sketched on drawing boards and discussed in engineering shop talk.

Among the many features are an instrument panel which operates hydraulic jacks so that in event of a blow out or flat tire the driver can jack up the car without leaving his seat.

Besides a warm circulating system there are thermostatically controlled electrical seat warmers. And there is an electrically operated convertible top with a novel feature. If the car is parked with top down, rain falling on a sensitized spot between the seats actuates the top raising mechanism and raises the windows automatically.

There are scores of other similar devices and features which are expected to attract thousands of State Fair visitors.

Taxes Rise To Meet New Federal Budget

A 100 percent tax on all taxable incomes over $4,000 would be required to meet the bill for the additional $10,000,000,000 (b) revenue which the Treasury Department contends is needed under the new Federal budget, says Roswell Magill, former Under-Secretary of the Treasury.

He makes this estimate in an article entitled "How High Can Taxes Go?" in the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post, out today. His observations are made as the Senate finishes its work on a tax bill designed to yield $7,200,000,000 (b) on top of the $60,000,000,000 (b) that taxation already takes from our pockets—which the Treasury insists is inadequate.

Mr. Magill, who is president of the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization, and chairman of the Committee on Federal Tax Policy, points out that corporations, the well-to-do, and the moderately wealthy have already been squeezed pretty dry, taxwise.

Thus, he says, the burden must be passed on to the average citizen taxpayer, the man (or woman) in the lower brackets who already is paying more to Uncle Sam than he realizes because of hidden taxes. The total tax bill on a family with an annual income of $3,500 is estimated at $908. And a sobering note is injected into the picture by a department of Labor survey which shows that the budgets of families across the land contain very little fat from which these extra taxes can be extracted.

Mr. Magill declares the steady rise of taxes to meet the mounting Federal budget is destroying the incentive to earn money because the risk is all with the individual. If his income rises, he makes a larger contribution to the income tax collector. But when a loss results, the burden is entirely upon him.

The issuance of bonds to pay Government bills instead of collecting enough taxes to balance Federal expenditures is held directly responsible for the inflation which makes a dollar now worth slightly more than 50 cents. This has got to stop, Mr. Magill asserts, otherwise the dollar bill will go the way of the franc and the mark.

"One way to keep from going into debt is not to spend so much," Mr. Magill writes. "The Federal Government could try that plan, but it's very hard to do, for we have become used to thinking the other way. Everything ought to grow bigger and bigger—we've got plenty of money. Bigger government departments, with more divisions and bureaus and sections, so that half a dozen or fifty or one hundred people are working on everything anyone can think of."

The only way to cut the budget down to size, he says, is to wipe the slate clean—to wipe off the old lush peacetime authorizations and start over again with a shorter list of items and a smaller total—a total that can be afforded in times like these. "It has been shown," Mr. Magill

Vacuum Cleaners Big Help In Aiding Medicine Intake

ANN ARBOR—Chronic asthma and bronchitis sufferers will find that their vacuum cleaner may be a big help to them in taking their medicine, three University of Michigan doctors have found.

If the vacuum cleaner has a blower exhaust, it can be easily and inexpensively rigged to an atomizer spray device which makes deep work of daily home treatment, the doctors reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Extensive research results with various kinds of nebulizer (spray) equipment are described by Drs. John M. Sheldon, Robert G. Lovell and Kenneth P. Mathews of the Allergy Clinic.

Usually, patients with chronic chest and sinus infections must take mouth sprays of penicillin, streptomycin, adrenalin or other prescribed drugs, about four times a day.

The nebulizer can be hand operated, which is often exhausting for the very sick person, or it can be operated by a tank of compressed oxygen but this is a rather expensive mechanism for many persons the doctors explained.

The doctors discovered that by using about ninety cents of tubing a gallon jug and a vacuum cleaner with a blower exhaust, a very effective arrangement for operating a nebulizer could be provided.

Two strips of rubber tubing are used in the set-up. One tube is connected to the vacuum cleaner's exhaust outlet and a gallon jug half-filled with water. The other tube also connects with the jug while its other end is attached to the nebulizer.

When the vacuum cleaner is turned on, the blower forces air through the tubes and the medicine is contained. The forced air blows the medicine into the respiratory passages in a fine spray. By passing through the water-filled jug, the air is cleaned of the room dust.

Army's Caribbean Command May Take College Courses
Servicemen of the Army's Caribbean Command will be given an opportunity to attend college classes beginning this September due to the establishment of resident centers by Louisiana State University.

Informed of the lack of such facilities, Lt. Gen. Troy Middleton, president of the university, began plans to set up centers similar to those maintained in Europe by the University of Maryland and in the Far East by the University of California in cooperation with the Army's Troop Education Program.

The Louisiana State University staff also is studying the possibility of opening classes in Puerto Rico.

"Good Food and an ELECTRIC Range go together,"

DECLARE THE HUTCHINSONS

"I like my electric range," says Patsy Hutchinson. "I wouldn't want any other."

"Just sample Patsy's salmon," interrupts Fred, "nothing more need be said."

Patsy laughs, "There are three other hungry bears like Fred in our family. Rick, Jack and Patsy Jo. That's why we have a two-oven range."

"If things didn't taste so good, we wouldn't eat so much," adds Fred.

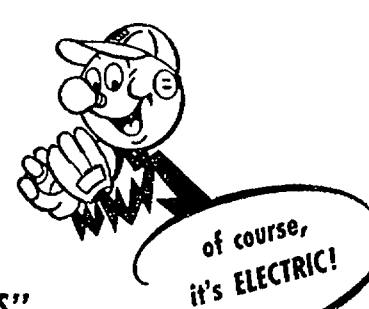

"And if meals weren't so easy to get with an electric range, I wouldn't cook so much," finishes Patsy.

Get an electric range and you'll notice a wonderful difference in your first meal. See your appliance dealer tomorrow.

Lamphrey Preying Rifle System Fish

Rose City—A 26-inch brown trout found floating in Devoe lake, with a deep scar showing death was caused by a lamprey, establishes proof these predators are preying on fish in the Rifle river system, the conservation department reports.

Lampreys have been observed previously in Devoe lake, but it was not known whether they were migrant spawners who could not harm fish or immature adults native to the lake.

Devoe lake is headwaters of the Rifle river system and fishermen believe the lampreys became established in the waters by migrating from Lake Huron through the Rifle river.

Further evidence of lampreys in the lake is a preserved one obtained when a fisherman saw one of the fish predators attached to the side of his boat and hooked it with a casting plug.

Devoe lake is in the Rifle River area, Ogemaw county, where the conservation department is carrying on an experimental program in stream improvement and land use.

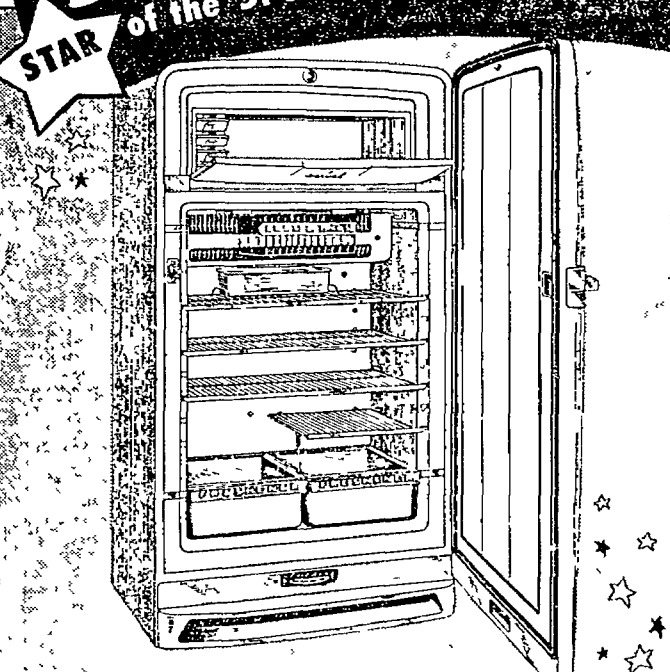

When the owner is at the wheel of a new car we feel perfectly safe, well knowing that he will not take the slightest chance of a smash up.
