

How do you feel about Village or city government? On another page of this week's edition, read how three taxpaying citizens would vote on the subject of incorporation. The Record would like to have you express your opinion. Send a Letter to the Editor today!

Glad to see that the local Penniman Allen Theatre is opening? Then do something besides being glad. Patronize the movie house, and show the management that you're glad it has reopened. Only by Village support can its doors remain open.

The "Trick or Treat" set was out in full force Wednesday evening. Armed with sacks and pails, they yelled "Help the Poor" and begged throughout the Village.

The Detroit House of Correction Occupational Therapy Department this week was enriched by contributions from Mrs. Frank Balden, Mrs. Henry M. Breen, Mrs. Bert Moshier, Mrs. A. McCollough and Mrs. Alvie Jones. Have you left your castoffs at the Northville Record Office?

We've been hearing a lot about petty thievery and vandalism in the Village from the Police Department. What can the Village do to combat the current wave of small thefts?

The Center Street All-Meat Market will re-open for business on Thursday, November 1. "Red" Banks, owner, states that the store will carry only meats and dairy products.

The Northville Fire Department was summoned Friday morning to the Center Street grocery. A blaze caused by a defective furnace was quickly extinguished. Business was conducted as usual although the smoke did some damage to the labels of the merchandise.

We were amused the other day when a resident called up and asked us if we carried sheet music as well as records (of the phonograph variety). We've been told that every so often our neighboring newspaper, the Plymouth Mail, has customers waiting to buy stamps and mail letters at their office.

Optimists Honor J. P. Malley

J. P. Malley of Beck road will receive one of the most important honors which is bestowed on a fellow member by the Northville Optimist club at their November 7 meeting.

Mr. Malley, in recognition of his services, will be given his award of life membership in Optimist International.

"While many hands have made the Northville Junior Horse Show a huge success each year," said Optimist President George Zerbe, "the key to that success has been the expert and untiring energy with which Pat Malley has devoted to seeing that every detail is handled in a satisfactory way."

Mr. Malley has been the chairman of the Northville Junior Horse Show, which for the past two years, has been sponsored by the Northville Optimist club. The proceeds from this undertaking is the way that the Optimists, whose slogan is "Friend of the Boy," obtain the necessary funds to carry on their youth activity.

During the past year, funds have been provided the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the high school band, Wolverine Boys State, and for special baseball game trips. Also they provide the funds to sponsor the Forensic club, and during the past two years, a baseball team.

Northville's 13 Troops Join To Observe Girl Scout Week

The 13 Girl Scout troops in Northville are this week observing National Girl Scout Week. In most every troop recognition is being given to this observance and to their founder, Juliett Low.

Troop 8 with Mrs. Alex Lawrence, Mrs. Joseph Page, Jr. and Mrs. Heinz Hilger as leaders has been divided into three sections: sewing, cooking and dramatics. Every two months the girls will be shifted to another interest group with a meeting of the entire group once a month.

This is the first time this plan has been tried but already the girls are showing their enthusiasm for this type of program, said Mrs. Lawrence.

Troop 9, a Senior Scout troop of eight girls with Mrs. Claypool as leader, is sponsored by the American Legion. The girls are working toward a Senior Service Scout badge by collecting white material for use in making cancer pads. Each girl is also filling a Red Cross box to be sent to an overseas child.

Many of the crafts that the troops have been working on will be exhibited at the Annual Girl Scout fair planned for this year.

At least four troops have new leaders and co-leaders this year and all but one troop have sponsors. Mrs. Howard Atwood is the leader chairman with the following women acting as leaders and co-leaders: Mrs. Blair Claypool, Mrs. George Weiss and Mrs. Norman Ford, Senior leaders; Mesdames Alfred Millington, L. D. Rambeau, Nelson Archer, Alex Lawrence, Joseph Page, Jr., Howard Atwood, Heinz Hilger, Geo. N. Bradford, and Marjorie Johnson, leaders.

Brownie leaders are Mesdames Clyde Dethloff, Arthur Janetke, Alfred Parmenter, William Williams, Kenneth Rathburn, Ray Sheffer, Clifford Rollings, John Kellogg Paul Beard, Clyde Hinman, Cleve Stroh, Harry Sedan, Stanley Waterloo, A. R. Allen and Foster Van Atta.

In addition to these leaders each troop has a troop chairman and four mother members to work with them.

Schools To Observe Education Week

Northville schools will join the rest of the schools in the nation in observance of American Education Week, November 11-17.

During this week the history, aims, achievements, needs and problems of our school system will pass in review. Sponsored nationally by the National Education Association, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, American Legion, and the U. S. Office of Education, the local schools will hold an open house throughout the week when parents and friends are invited to stop in and visit.

Thursday evening, November 15, the Parent Teachers Association will hold their monthly meeting. Preceding the meeting the teachers will be in their classrooms at 7:30 p.m. available for conference. Visitors are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

UNICEF Committee Members Named

In order to respond to the call of the United Nations UNICEF, a committee for Northville and the surrounding towns is being formed to plan for collecting funds.

UNICEF is responding to the needs not only in Europe, but in the Philippines, the Middle and Far East, Central and South America.

Those on the UNICEF committee in this area are Mesdames E. J. Willis, Cy Frid, Howard Meyer, F. Alden Shaw and Lee Shipley. Anyone wishing information about the committee or wishing to add their name to the list should call Mrs. Willis.

Police Record Two Weekend Burglaries

Two more Village burglaries have been added to the records of the Northville police since last week, according to Police Chief Joseph Denton.

The Northville Clinic, 206 West Dunlap street, operated by Dr. V. George Chabut, was broken into Saturday evening. After entering by way of the basement, the burglars got away with two metal boxes. One contained a small amount of money, the other important policies and papers. The State Police are cooperating with the local force on the case.

A small amount of money was stolen from the Northville High school room of Mrs. Ida B. Cooke sometime over the weekend, Chief Denton stated. To gain entrance a window was broken and then the latch unfastened.

Two juveniles of the Village have admitted entering the school bus parked in the Atchinson Used Car lot on North Center street. The boys said they had entered the bus, run down the battery and moved the bus several times. They entered the bus through a broken window.

Ralph McConville, 1216 Windmere, Windsor, was fined $25 and $5 cost by Judge E. M. Bogart for reckless driving on Seven Mile road Sunday, October 28. McConville didn't make the turn from Seven Mile to Plymouth avenue and ran into the car owned by Paul C. Preston of Plymouth avenue. There was no injury to either person but $500 damage to Preston's car and $50 damage to the McConville car.

The car of Marie Stevens of High street was damaged when the car driven by E. Caldwell of Nine Mile road ran into the rear of the car while it was parked on Randolph street at High. About $200 damage was estimated done to the Caldwell car and $10 to the other.

Driver Training Schedule Set

Thirteen adults will begin their driver training during the next week in the dual-control car loaned by Rathburn Chevrolet sales, said Harry E. Smith, driving instructor. The group met Monday at the high school to register and set up the schedule for the coming ten lessons.

The students were divided into three groups with the following dates and time set for each: Group I (3:45-5:15 p.m.) November 2, 7, 9, 13, 16, 20, 27, 30 and December 4 and 7; Group II will meet at 6:15-7:45 p.m. on November 6, 12, 14, 23, 27, 30 and December 3, 7, 11 and 14; Group III which meets on November 1, 8, 12, 15, 19, 26, 29 and December 6, 10 and 13 will begin at 6:15-7:45 p.m. except on November 1 when they will meet at 6:45 p.m.

The car will be parked in the school parking lot where the class will congregate each time. Mr. Smith suggests that each student get a learner's permit to allow for driving practice outside of the regular class periods. No permit is needed when driving in a dual-control car, with a licensed driver, he stated.

P-A Theatre Reopens Sunday: Support of Community Sought

The local Penniman-Allen Theatre will re-open Sunday, November 4 and will remain open if enough patrons support it. The doors will open at 2:45 p.m. with the matinee showing of John Wayne in "Flying Leathernecks" starting at 3:00 p.m. Other showings will be at 5:00, 7:00 and 9:00 p.m.

The theatre has been closed for the past several months because of lack of patronage. Harry Lush, owner, states that he will attempt to keep the theatre open if he can at least meet operating expenses.

For the past several years, the movie has been operating at a tremendous loss, he explained, and during the last two years, the deficit became so great that it was impossible to carry the burden.

However, at the request of several businessmen, residents and local civic groups, Mr. Lush has agreed to open the theatre and keep it open if it can pay its way. It is now up to Northville citizens and others in the surrounding community to support the movie so that its doors will not be closed.

Richard O'Dea, manager of the Plymouth Penn theatre for the past six years, will manage the local show. The theatre will feature Sunday and Monday shows, a Wednesday family night film, and Friday and Saturday showings.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

People have dropped around the garage at various times and said, "Man, oh man, since you've been writing that column, you've certainly been a lyrical character when you talk Studebaker. Do you really mean everything you say about the car?" So it comes to mind that seven or eight years ago, newspapers printed this story about Frank Szymanski, who was pretty much of a football player for Notre Dame. One day Frank was called to court to testify in a civil suit and the Judge asked him if he was a football player.

"Yes, your honor."

"What position?"

"Center, your honor."

"How good a center?" And knowing Frank to be modest and unassuming at all times, Coach Frank Leahy was much surprised to hear Szymanski answer, "Sir, I'm the best center Notre Dame ever had."

Later the coach asked him how come he made such a statement. Frank blushed, "I hated to do it coach, but after all, I was under oath."

Now, while we're not exactly under oath, we feel we should be honest, no matter what the occasion. We're not being lyrical when we talk of the new Studebaker with its powerful V-8 engine, we're just telling the truth. While we're on the subject, let's repeat for amazing and astonishing economy, you can't beat the Studebaker. Come in for a demonstration.

Vacation stories have been a bit slow in reaching our ears, because once these customers of ours take off in their new Studebakers all they want to do is keep driving. Too much car we suppose, as we'd like to get in a service charge now and then. However, one tourist dropped around and told us of talking to a southern mother of ten children with another due in the not too distant future. "Sure tired of having babies," the mother complained, "but it's the only way I know to keep from spoiling the youngest."

You know, it's getting along towards that time of year, you have your car winterized or else. We want to keep you happy and not have to call around some cold morning to thaw out the buggy. We've got all sorts of things here, all designed to give you a protected, easy starting car, no matter what the thermometer reads. See you soon, we hope, and why not get a tune-up too?

This first come, first served hit a new high in a local hospital the other day. Group of expectant fathers were pacing the floor when a nurse came out and told one of them he was now a proud father of a son.

"Hey," yelled another prospective father, "how come he gets all this service when I was here first?"

Yours,

BILL and WILL PETZ.

The Small Town Weekly ...

There's a lot that goes into this newspaper you read. There's a forest of trees chopped into wood pulp to make the paper, a blending of chemical to form the ink, lead and steel to fashion the type and presses.

There's inventive genius too. Decades ago Mergenthaler invented the Linotype machine which makes the letters. There's the press, and the folder too. Then there are the men and women that write the copy, set the type, print the pages and speed the paper into your homes.

But there's more than this in the paper you read. President Harry S. Truman once said, "Newspaper contributions have resulted in better living, not only by providing greater comfort and luxury, but also by providing a greater opportunity for cultural developments."

Through the freedom of the press has come a tradition of truth, a heritage of free thinking and writing. Editors have and will always seek to record a true picture of today's happenings though the passing scene be fluid and changing.

The community weekly tells the ordinary happenings of the town and the surrounding countryside. In a sense, the men and women who write the paper are historians who chronicle the day's happenings.

Paper, ink, type, presses and people go into making a newspaper. That and the tradition of truth and honesty without bias.

Public Letter Box

NOTE: The Record welcomes letters dealing with the good of Northville and community. All letters must have the signature of the writer, which will be withheld upon request. It is also necessary that letters be limited in length.

Dear Editor:

I would like to see Northville a city some day. But first, I would like to see the Village completed before we start a city. Oakwood Subdivision has been the site of many new homes these past five years. We pay Village taxes but do not have conveniences. We have no paved streets, no sidewalks, no street lights, no mail delivery and our "Village" drinking water in the subdivision is terrible. It has ruined all my appliances in just three years because of the unfinished water program that leaves all the iron deposits in our pipes.

I say, finish the Village first, why should we pay city taxes when we don't even have Village privileges yet?

Another thing, my husband has had two streets put through up here. We paid for the Hill avenue block between Horton and Novi streets. We put through the rest of Novi avenue, but that bill is still before the Village and hasn't been paid to my knowledge.

So I say, no, to being a city until we get the Village privileges that we are paying for in Village taxes now.

Mrs. R. C. Parmenter

To The Editor:

In your Ramblings around Northville you expressed concern over the empty buildings in the business district, including the theater.

The theater is to be opened, but it might be well to let our citizens know how close it came to staying closed and may not remain open.

Realizing the need for a theater in our Village the writer made it her business to check with the Plymouth office and found out Northville was not to have shows. After many calls, including one to California to Mr. Lush, the matter was taken up with the school, the Business and Professional Woman's club, the American Legion Auxiliary and many individuals. All realized the need for a theater, and cooperated by expressing their opinions by letters to the management.

Now the reason for closing was a loss of several thousand dollars in the last few years. The fact that Northville money was spent in the Plymouth theaters didn't help. However, the complaint from the Northville patrons was Plymouth had better pictures.

Because of the interest taken by civic minded citizens of Northville, Mr. Lush flew from California to see what could be arranged.

No one expects a business man to take a loss and very few know what a problem it is to deal with the motion picture booking agencies and the union. Pictures have to be purchased in blocks, the bad with the good, and part time help can't be used because of the union, so after much dickering here are the plans.

There are to be two changes a week, plus family night, at a special rate. Whenever possible the two best pictures shown in Plymouth will be used. It all boils down to the fact that Northville will have top productions. If advance information doesn't show good picture combinations the manager will endeavor to secure the best pictures that were shown in Plymouth last summer.

If the Northville theater remains open will depend on the patronage of our citizens. By patronizing the home town theater the money spent for shopping and treats after the show will help local business keep going so Northville won't become a ghost town.

Mrs. A. E. Carlson

To The Editor:

Should Northville become a city has been discussed several times but nothing done about same. Being a city would make administration much simpler. Would have only one assessor, one clerk, one treasurer and only one registration for all elections, and last but not least, a new charter. The one we have now is worn out and not very practical.

By becoming a city and increasing the boundaries to include Maybury San., also the new hospital on Seven Mile road, the city would receive approximately $12 for every patient in same, plus the extra revenue from the race track would place Northville in a most favorable financial position. Comments please

I Remain,
INTERESTED

Dear Editor:

So horse and buggy days are gone and Northville wants to be a city and reap the easy money. So far as accepting the race track money they are losing some business stores and I hear more are leaving.

As to Plymouth, "they are growing by leaps and bounds and put their faith in God." The business men just don't want factories where a man can make an honest living and they had better wake up or they too will go out of business. I'll trade in Plymouth, "The Town That Is Honest"

Eighty-One-Year-Old Record Has Had Ten Editors

Down through the years, the Northville Record has been led by ten editors.

Samuel H. Little, a man termed progressive for his time, was its founder in 1869. He came from Detroit to begin the "Wayne County Record," whose office was located on the corner of Main and Center streets. Mr. Little took the Record to Detroit where it was printed and in 1870 he changed its name to the "Northville Record." For 15 years he was its guiding spirit, and even found time to build the Northville Opera House, which until 1949 stood at the corner of North Center and Dunlap streets.

Record Office Moved
The Record office was then moved to the second floor of the Opera House, and later occupied the first floor. Old Records tell us that at the death of Little's wife, he left Northville and went to Lansing to make his home.

About 1885, George Kator is believed to have served the Record as temporary editor. His successor was J. H. Junkin of Detroit who remained at the Record helm for several years and then went to Detroit where he worked in newspaper work until his death in 1921.

The son of a Methodist preacher who lived to be 101 was the Northville Record's fourth editor. E. Roscoe Reed was the publisher of the paper when the Village was incorporated in 1889. He stayed for a short time and then moved to Grand Rapids where he died.

Neal Buys Paper
His successor was A. C. Waltherhouse who remained at the

ELTON R. EATON

Record for many years. Frank S. Neal bought the Northville Record some 60 years ago from Mr. Waltherhouse and Records described him as "an aggressive newspaperman, taking an active part in all the affairs of the town." He was its owner for 29 years. When Aaron T. Bliss was governor, Neal was elected to the post of representative in the state legislature, where he served as chairman of the ways and means committee. Later he served as personal secretary to Governor Fred Warner and was then appointed state oil inspector. In 1921 he was made Northville postmaster at which post he served until his death in 1927. At the time of his death he was vice president of the Lapham State Savings bank.

In 1920, Neal sold the Record

to E. E. Brown of Ann Arbor who operated the plant for seven years. He sold out to Elton R. Eaton, present publisher of the Plymouth Mail. Mr. Eaton and his son, Sterling Eaton, operated the paper along with the Plymouth Mail until the disastrous fire in December 30 which destroyed the Record building.

Baldwin Becomes Editor
On February 1, 1931, Mr. Eaton sold the Record to the late Richard T. Baldwin, father of Mrs. Russell M. Atchison of South Rogers street. He was a former newspaperman, having been one of the owners of the Albion Evening Recorder for 11 years. A 1905 graduate of Albion College, Mr. Baldwin first edited the Winamac Indiana Republican. He later owned weeklies at Marlette,

WILLIAM H. CANSFIELD

Quincy and Jonesville. Baldwin passed away in the early 1940's in Albion.

In 1939, the late William H. Cansfield of Howell bought the Northville Record from Baldwin who retired because of ill health. Mr. Cansfield was the son of a Methodist minister and was graduated from Albion college. After serving in the Army in World War I, he moved to Howell where he became the youngest postmaster in Michigan. The Livingston County Press next occupied his attention which he edited until he bought the Record. Mr. Cansfield was intensely interested in Village affairs and at the time of his death in July, 1948 he was president of the Northville Board of Education.

When Villagers visit The Northville Record office during their Open House on November 9, examination of the first newspaper published in our town will reveal a great change in newspaper layout and policy.

The first paper was not the 12-page Northville Record of today but a four-page paper called The Wayne County Record edited by Samuel H. Little.

After the December 23, 1870

issue the masthead of the editions read, The Northville Record. The change was made approximately one year after the initial copy of the paper was published.

1869 Issue Displayed

When you examine the original copy of the Wayne County Record which hangs in the present office and which is reproduced on this page, you find advertisements on the front page and very little news. Instead of factual articles about our Village government, the school and organizational functions, a glimpse at the 1869 front page reveals that Miss Carrie Pennell, Miss Ann Shadduck, and Miss Jennie Dunlap were busily engaged in hoop-skirt and dressmaking; Elias Perigo and James VanValkenburgh were painters and Ambler, Terry and Ramsdell ran the local saw mill.

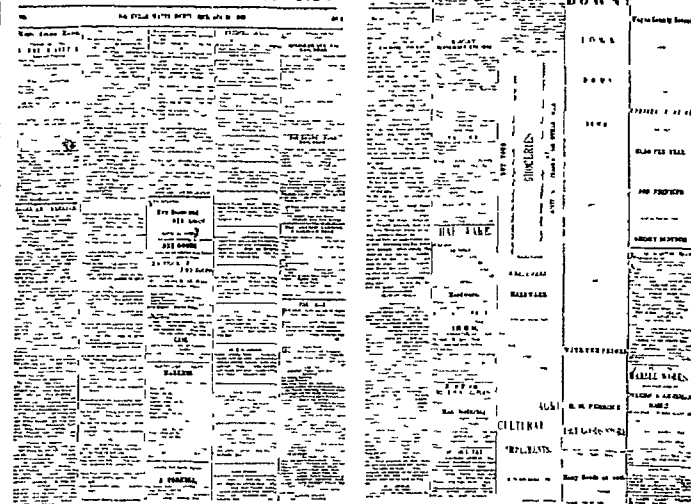

The lack of news in the old-time village was supplemented by running a serial story entitled "Only The Clothes That She Wore," taken from Appleton's Journal, one of the current magazines. Several dissertations on corn planting and one on birds and insects helped the editor to fill in space. National news seemed to get the largest coverage in the Record at that time with jottings from magazines and city newspapers as other features.

Advertising Techniques Change

The advertising men of 82 years ago realized even then that the right side columns of the paper are best for advertising merchandise since the eye naturally falls to that place when the page is turned. But instead of running the ads for a solid column only on the right side, today the inverted pyramid layout has been found to give more reader ease. It also allows for a better presentation of new copy on the same page.

In that day, dry goods and groceries were dispensed by Lapham and Smith, H. M. Perrin and W. P. Hungerford. Their advertisements appear in the Record instead of the familiar layouts for EMB and Bradens. The drug stores were owned by Jackson and Scott and E. S. Horton. Their stores sold far different articles than the advertised sodas, magazines and miscellaneous supplies sold by Leo Mainville and M. C. Gussell in today's drug stores.

1st Paper Smaller Than 1951 Editions

Comparing advertising rates of that early paper with the Northville Record rates of today, we had difficulty in defining the meaning of "one square and two squares" of advertising. Editor Little published his advertising rates as 1/4 column, $2.00; 1/2 column, $3.00 and one column, $5.00. Today when the columns in the Record are 2 1/2 inches long instead of the 1869 columns of 17 inches, our rates are $2.50 for 1/4 column, $5.00 for 1/2 column and $10 for 20 inches of advertising. The Record has set 40 cents as the minimum charge for a classified advertisement while the minimum in the old paper was 75 cents.

Man Consumes Barrel of BAKING SODA

One man told us he took baking soda for years. Claims he has used over a barrel of it for stomach gas, but got only temporary relief.

Recently he quit the soda habit and took CERTA-VIN. This new medicine is bringing REAL, lasting relief to many Northville gas victims because it is taken BEFORE (not after) meals and thus works with your food. It helps digest your meals faster, so your food doesn't lay there and ferment. Besides relieving gas, CERTA-VIN also contains Herbs with Vitamin B-1 and Iron to enrich your blood and make your nerves stronger. Weak, miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get CERTA-VIN — Northville Drug Company.

The coal mined from under the hills and valleys of Pennsylvania in the past 125 years is equal to the bulk of material that would be involved in digging 71 channels as long and as deep as the Panama Canal.

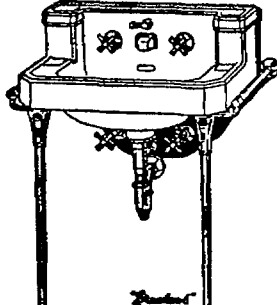

Gardeners, attention: Why not plant dandelions? They're colorful and easy to grow. A bedful in bloom would make quite a sight.

Local Pilots Fly in CAP Maneuver

Five Village pilots who are members of the Plymouth Civil Air Patrol (CAP) took part in Sunday's search maneuver as part of their CAP flight training. First Lt. P. L. Perkins of West street was the commanding officer of the local group with Warrant Officer H. Hilger, Elden Biery and Robert Causley and Staff Sgt. Irving Gaffield working with him.

Planes owned by Mr. Perkins and Mr. Hilger were among the nearly 150 that took part in the search for an Air Force plane that "crashed" some place in Michigan. The "lost" plane was a skeleton of a plane that crashed months ago and is from the Air Rescue Service unit at Selfridge field.

After the wrecked plane was taken to a field for the CAP fliers to spot, reports of the "missing" plane were given to them. Eighty-six ham radio operators and 64 mobile radio stations alerted the CAP pilots for the search. Fictitious hints were given the flyers by the Air Force. A report that a farmer had heard a low-flying plane or the flight plan of the lost plane.

After the plane was located, it was the duty of the group with which the Northville men were connected to locate the four men who had supposedly parachuted from the "wrecked" plane.

Next week officers from the Air Rescue unit will tell the CAP how to improve their search technique.

"When we need help when a plane is down, the CAP is the first organization we ask," said Capt. Carroll Hallerman, of the rescue unit. "Within a few hours we can get 150 such planes into the air for the search."

NEWS
and
GEORGE A. DONDERO

Although President Truman already has made public his dissatisfaction with the achievements of the 82nd Congress, First Session, which adjourned on October 20th, there is reason to believe that those achievements were far greater than he will admit.

Chiefly, in my estimation, they consisted of providing adequately for national defense, while at the same time reducing the federal budget to a point which probably will create a surplus for the 1952 fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

Needless to say that this happy circumstance was brought about by the coalition in Congress of economy-minded Republicans and Southern Conservative Democrats. It should be added that the so-called economy bloc operated largely on a non-partisan basis of concern for the economic welfare of the Republic.

The over-all budget estimates, submitted by President Truman last January, and supplementary estimates submitted later in the session, called for appropriations and reappropriations totaling $109,095,000,000. The public laws enacted call for $99,058,054,395 or $10,037,000,000 below the President's January figures.

Final budget figures submitted by the President totaled $103,610,000,000. Thus appropriations ended up at a point $4,522,000,000 below the President's final estimates.

Largely as a result of the inflation promoted by the Truman administration, it must be admitted, net increase in the government's tax income for the 1952 fiscal year is likely to be somewhere between $16 and $18 billion over receipts for the 1951 fiscal year.

With total net receipts running anywhere from $65 to $67 billion, and with expenditures reduced from the President's estimate of $71,400,000,000 to a probable $65 billion and a possible $63 billion, it becomes obvious that a surplus, even though a small one, is to be expected in the present government fiscal year. The budget will have been balanced.

Great Britain's economic planning has provided free false teeth for those who need them, but almost no meat for them to chew. Their economic planning has caused a coal shortage, when coal is Britain's only real "money crop." Britain is now getting coal from this country.

This should convince the "planners" in this country that a planned economy just does not work. No expert can sit in an ivory tower, measure and weigh all the changes which affect our economy and make wise decisions for everyone.

There are no super-men, endowed with super-intelligence, and the ability to control the lives of all the people better than the people can do it themselves in a free economy.

Motion Picture Industry Looks To Small Towns

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—The motion picture industry has suddenly become small town conscious.

The cause of it all is the fact that television is siphoning off the motion picture audiences in metropolitan areas and dollar shortages abroad is curtailing foreign demand for American films. So, the industry turned to the small towns with the question: what is the prospect of improving the motion picture business in small towns?

A survey to determine how well the small-town exhibitor is succeeding in meeting the entertainment requirement of his public has been made by I. I. Rames of the marketing division of the University of Illinois.

By means of a questionnaire submitted to a sample of adult residents in a single Illinois community, Rames sought to discover the frequency of attendance at motion pictures, program preferences and dislikes, and other factors affecting attendance.

Surveys Small Town

For his sample Rames went to a small (3000 population) independent community—not a suburb or adjacent to another town—where there was but one motion picture theater, open daily and presenting advertising as well as entertainment films. Only persons 15 years of age or over were queried on the assumption that from that age an individual is free from parental authority in selecting the motion picture fare for which he pays admission.

Rames found the local theater audience predominantly young, those between 15 and 20 attending most frequently. Next highest rate of attendance was in the age group from 21 to 25. After 25 attendance drops materially—with the end of the courting period. Married people are more likely to attend motion pictures when the children no longer require baby-sitters and have reached an age to accompany them.

Mystery plays received the greatest number of mentions as first choice; comedy and musical comedy had identical number of second choice listing. Comedy appears to be best received by the younger people, but musicals appeal to all age groups. Men prefer mystery, musical comedy, and westerns—in that order. Among women, the first choice is equally divided between musical comedy and drama, followed by romance and comedy.

Dislikes Stated

As for dislikes of the audience, war, western and operatic musical pictures seemed to be least popular. Single people appeared to dislike romantic films: A prejudice against western films may have existed in this particular sample which included no farm population, because the local movie house showed westerns every Saturday for the benefit of the marketing farmers.

The advertising films shown in connection with the entertainment features appeared to be unpopular, but not to the extent that it would be worth paying more not to have them included. There seemed to be an unsatisfied demand for sports films as well as for short comedies and newsreels. Divergence of interests within such a small group presents an almost unsolvable problem to the small town exhibitor who can not afford to cater to the more discriminating.

New York Village Host To 110 Fire Companies

PENFIELD, N. Y.—The small town of Penfield was host to its first big convention during June. Over three hundred individual members of the Northern Central New York Volunteer Firemen's Association, representing 110 fire companies in eight counties, attended the convention.

Outstanding feature of the two day event was a mutual aid demonstration held by fire companies from Penfield, East Rochester, Fairport, West Walworth, Webster, West Webster, Union Hill, Brighton, Pittsford, Business's Basin, Egypt and a pump company from the city of Rochester.

Thousands of feet of hose were used and over a hundred firemen took part in the demonstration. The convention was topped off with a parade of 80 fire companies and 50 bands.

The Sky Is the Limit; Firemen Chase The Moon

NEWVILLE, Pa.—The town of Newville, population 1,700, including Fire Chief John Bender, recently was startled by a 4 a. m. fire alarm.

By the time Bender got to the fire house the tail lights of the fire truck were disappearing down the highway in answer to an out of town alarm. Bender grabbed a car and saw a brilliant glow in the distance.

"Must be a lulu," he remarked to a fellow fireman. "Step on it." They roared through the night till the glow became a line of flame, then a semicircle and the chief called a halt.

He had been racing toward the moon.

We suspect that people who admire us most don't know us well; at least we know that those who know us best are nastily critical.

Ann Arbor — The Ypsilanti Players met at Gilbert House on October 16 to formulate, promulgate and spout plans.

Inkster — Indicative of the all-out effort made by Inkster's United Foundation campaign workers in the first week of the annual drive, the Inkster group was awarded the campaign "Oscar" at the initial report banquet Tuesday evening.

Plymouth — Blundering by the Truman administration is directly responsible for the death and wounding of over 90,000 American boys in the Korean war, Auditor General John B. Martin, Jr. told members of the Plymouth Republican Women's club at a meeting held recently in the Veteran's Center.

Rochester — Real and personal property taxes for taxpayers in Avon township will be higher this year than last. The increase is due, in part to the Oakland County Equalization Board upping the township's valuation $3,000,000 over last year.

South Lyon — The Michigan Bell Telephone company announced this week that another step in the service improvement program for South Lyon will be taken when the company adds Ann Arbor and Plymouth to the South Lyon local calling area next month.

Plymouth — All-State honors were won for the third consecutive year by the Plymouth High school newspaper "The Pilgrim Prints" when they topped all class "B" school papers at the journalism clinic sponsored by Michigan State college last week.

90% For! 10% Against

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dillying and dallying. It is definitely time to END THIS QUIBBLING!

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act largely fathered by the unions themselves—made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employees and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employees Accept
Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employees—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse
But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employees. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by BLE, BLF&E, or ORC. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employees are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer?
They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?

Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $3.44 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19½ cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?

The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employees covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?

The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employees in yard service. The employees can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower situation is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitration by a referee appointed by the President.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?

The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with so-called "interdivisional service"—runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would bar progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a situation where they can arbitrarily stop a railroad from establishing such interdivisional runs. The carriers propose that if a railroad wishes to set up an interdivisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround its establishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be submitted to arbitration.

Rules Can Be Arbitrated

The railroads have not only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the BRT and covered by the White House Agreement, but have even agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed

With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems fair to suggest that the leaders of BLE, BLF&E, and ORC stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employees.

New Hospital Set To Open March 1

"As far as actual patients at the Northville State hospital are concerned, we are pointing at March 1," Charles F. Wagg, state mental health director, said.

Director of buildings and construction, A. N. Langus, expressed hope that the buildings can be turned over January 1 to the Mental Health Department but there is considerable doubt that kitchen equipment will be ready then.

It will take 30 to 40 days to move in equipment and collect the staff to care for the 600 patients after construction has been completed. "We are already collecting a technical staff," Wagg said, "but the routine workers can't be hired until we are about ready to open and they must receive some training before they start work."

 Is there any hope for the sin-answered in the Lesson—Sermon entitled "Everlasting Punish-shall he also reap."

Planning a new home takes time and thought in working out the best arrangement and design for your individual taste. This is a good time to start working on next year's program. The defense regulations tend to discourage the starting of luxury type homes above the $15,000.00 class but modest five and six room homes are still very much in the building picture.

CARD OF THANKS
 I wish to take this opportunity to thank all my friends who sent such lovely cards and cheering letters and gifts for my birthday.
 Especially do I thank those who gave me such a surprise birthday party by visiting me on October 9.
 As I cannot write to all personally I take this way to show my deep appreciation.

Correct me if I'm wrong, but permit me to say that I regard advice to the lovelorn as wasted space in a newspaper.
 Eggs taken out of the refrigerator and warmed to room temperature will give better volume when beaten. If whites and yolks are to be separated, do that when the eggs are still chilled because the job is easier then.
 Don't beat until you are ready to add the eggs to the recipe,
