

The identity of the woman in the interior shot of the Old Opera house Record office has been discovered by Mrs. Fred Fry. She is Mrs. Lyman Evans, sister-in-law of Miss Laura Evans, also shown in the picture. Mrs. Evans worked only a short time in the office, states Mrs. Fry.

Northville seems to be more of an artist's colony than we realized. Miss Verna V. Broad who lives at the J. P. Malley home on Beck road was honored to have two pictures chosen for display at the Michigan Artists Exhibition at the Detroit Art Institute during November. An oil portrait and a charcoal still-life will be on exhibition. As a member of the Palette and Brush club of Detroit, Mrs. Joseph Sands of Napier road also exhibits a still-life painting at the show.

Talk about luck—Dick Ambler of West Dunlap street must have been carrying a four leaf clover and holding onto a rabbit's foot. Men drive hundreds of miles and don't even see a deer, but Dick drove to the neighboring town of Milford and got his.

Wednesday evening, preceding the opening day of deer season, he and Bob Lyke of Thayer Blvd. were preparing to go deer hunting. As they were locating their gear, they remembered the matter of a hunting license. They finally located George L. Clark who came down and opened his store and issued them each a license.

Thursday morning dawned and the boys drove to Milford and started hunting. Dick sighted a buck, aimed, and pulled the trigger. Result, one deer, weighing 160 pounds. He was back home by lunch time proudly displaying his buck.

The Open House at the Northville schools last Thursday gave the Villagers an opportunity to see the modern grade school glowing with lights. Passersby were met by a lovely array of multi-pastel colors reflected from the freshly painted interior. It presented a picture that every Northville should be proud to call "our own."

Several Northville residents were awakened about 3:00 a.m. Friday morning by the sound of the Novi fire whistle. The Novi Fire Department answered a call to Wixom where a grocery store and gas station were completely destroyed. Firemen believe that the fire was caused by a defective oil burner in the gas station.

Socks and ties this week were donated by Mrs. R. E. Bassett and Tim Hoyt. They will be turned over to the Detroit House of Correction Occupational Therapy department for use in making rugs and draperies. To date, Northville people have contributed 3,344 ties, 2,907 hose, 1,429 men's socks, 23 silk dresses, 17 slips and nine blouses.

Open House at the Northville schools was a success judging from the line-up of parents waiting for consultation with the grade and high school teachers. It's good to see parents take an active interest in the community education system.

Council To Print Weekly Calendar

Instead of distributing a community calendar, the Coordinating Council voted at their Thursday meeting to publish a weekly calendar of events in the Northville Record. A clearing house for the activities in the community was established at the home of Mrs. E. J. Willis, 119 Rayson street.

President of the Coordinating Council, F. W. Sterner, states that the secretaries of the many civic, church and social organizations in Northville should notify Mrs. Willis of the regular and special days and times for their activities. Dates for activities for the general public should also be cleared through Mrs. Willis. The council hopes in this way to avoid duplication in dates for similar community functions, said Mr. Sterner.

With the cooperation of the secretaries of the community organizations, Mrs. Willis hopes to have material to start the weekly calendar in the November 29 issue of the Record. The weekly published calendar will cover the activities for the following two weeks.

Since much of the information on the community calendar last year is now inaccurate, organizational secretaries are asked to call Mrs. Willis, phone 99-R, within the next week for publishing of the calendar on November 29. Monday noon is the deadline for notifying the clearing house.

Christmas Letters Ready November 28

Mrs. V. George Chabot of Sheldon road has announced that Christmas letters from the children at Maybury Sanatorium and the Children's Hospital, Farmington, will be ready for distribution by November 28.

Each year the children at Maybury and Children's Hospital write Santa a letter telling him what they want for Christmas. For many their wishes would go unanswered if it were not for the kind hearted response of the community.

As in the past, the Northville Rotary club will assist in distributing the letters to Santa's helpers. Helping on the committee are A. M. Allen, Carl Johnson, Roy Stone, Gary Niece, Leland Smith and Clyde Dethloff. Anyone wishing to be a Santa Claus to some hospitalized child who might otherwise go without a Christmas, should call Mrs. Chabot at Northville 131.

Last year about 300 children were remembered on Christmas morning with packages from generous Villagers. These packages were placed in a large container at the local post office and then taken to the children on Christmas morning.

New Auto Plate Sale To Begin Dec. 1

New 1952 motor vehicle license plates will go on sale in Northville and more than 200 other Michigan cities on December 1. The local branch of the Michigan Secretary of State office, where licenses may be purchased, is the Carrington Agency on North Center street.

Next February 28 is the last day for purchasing plates to operate the 2,500,000 passenger and commercial vehicles in Michigan, said Secretary of State Fred M. Alger.

Inmate workers at the Southern Michigan prison's Michigan State Industries' stamping plant have manufactured the '52 plates, which will feature black numerals on a silver background.

License rates for heavy trucks have been increased though passenger car fees are unchanged. The boosted fees are expected to add $450,000 annually to state highway fund revenues. In addition to the heavy commercial fee increase, all trailers weighing more than 2,500 pounds must have a title certificate in the name of the owner by order of a new state law. Previously trailer units were not required to have titles. In applying for titles under the new act, owners must reweigh trailers to determine proper license fees.

A new permanent type special plate good for display purpose only will be available for antique motor vehicles 25 years old or more. Cars older than 25 years which remain in regular use still will require standard annual license plates.

For Northville's four exchange students, Ingeborg Rothenpieler, Ingrid Haenzel, Ludwig Jagla and Charles Wuerschling the American Thanksgiving on Thursday will not be an entirely new experience for them.

The traditional turkey dinner will be new, but the underlying motivation, the time to pause and acknowledge the many blessings which we enjoy daily, is a part of their German Thanksgiving, "Erntedankfest."

On Thanksgiving Day, the four youngsters will be wishing their

Meeting To Map Blood Bank Plans

Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147, American Legion, is sponsoring a blood bank in the Village January 18.

Blood bank co-chairmen, Philip Ogilvie and Dr. Hugh Godfrey have called an organizational meeting for Monday, December 3 at 8:00 p.m. at the Veterans' Memorial Hall. Every organization in the Village is requested to have a representative at this meeting, as the drive will be of a community nature.

Dr. Earl R. Harris, medical director of the Red Cross Regional Blood Bank Center, states that the donor need have no fears about giving blood which is so desperately needed in Korea. He explained that the fluid portion of the blood is replaced within a matter of hours and the blood cells will be replaced within one or two weeks. No special foods are needed to replace blood cells, and the donation of a pint of blood should not produce any ill effects whatsoever. The Red Cross will not take your blood if it is weak. This is ascertained by taking a few drops first to make a test.

Auto Accident Wednesday Fatal to School Child, 7

Tragedy struck a Northville family last week when an auto accident claimed the life of seven year old Richard Lester Finley of Ridge road. Eight years ago, November 17, 1943, a similar accident claimed the life of William H. Holding, Jr. of Nine Mile road.

Richard, along with several other youngsters, alighted last Wednesday afternoon from a bus driven by Tunis P. Biddle at the corner of Seven Mile and Ridge roads. Members of the sheriff's patrol stated that they believed Richard dashed behind the bus and into the path of the automobile driven by Elmo Huff, 72, of 19203 Clement road.

Casterline's ambulance rushed the little boy to Sessions hospital where he died the next morning. Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon from the Casterline Funeral Home with the Rev. Edwin E. Rossow of St. Paul's Lutheran church officiating.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Finley; and a brother, Gary, of the home; his grandmother, Mrs. Edna M. Dews of Northville; and two grandfathers, Albert Dews of Mio and Lucian Finley of Romulus.

Richard was in Miss Florence Keith's second grade class at Northville Grade school. He had lived in Northville for six years.

More Street Lights Favored by Council

At the regular Village Council meeting Monday evening, the Commissioners voted in favor of installing six street lights in the Oakwood Subdivision on the north side of the Village and one in the middle of Linden street between Dubuar and Randolph streets.

A request was made by property holders that the alley between Carpenter and Grace streets be abandoned. The request was not acted upon.

The Council voted to reinvest the $24,000 certificate of deposit of the building fund at one and one-half percent interest at the Depositors State Bank. Commissioner Claude Ely reported that the water main was being laid on Hill street between Horton and Novi avenues.

The off street parking and alley proposition which has been pending was postponed until the December 3 meeting when it is hoped that the Retail Merchants Association representatives will meet with the Council.

Representatives of the sixth grade were present to observe the Council meeting.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

Now on this Thursday, it will come up Thanksgiving once again and we've heard a bit of grumble here and there about high taxes and high rent and food prices out of sight. So when enough people make remarks like these the Democrats say, "yes, we know they're high, but things are tough all over the world" and the Republicans say, "yes, we know they're high, we got to get that man back in his Missouri homestead!" and in some spots people even ask, "what have we to be thankful for?"

Well we hear these remarks now and again and one of the first things we personally are thankful for, is that a man can make them... and then go home to a warm house... with maybe a big turkey on the table. A man can make these remarks on the street, in a restaurant, at a bar and nowhere in this broad land of ours is there a concentration camp devoted to characters that voiced a personal opinion.

...and where else, but in these United States, will you find drug stores advertising an aid to help those who must lose weight, an aid designed to keep an individual from EATING TOO MUCH!

...and then on Sunday, we notice Protestants and Catholics and Jews going and coming from their respective places of worship and nowhere can we see a man to tell them no, or forbid them their temple of God.

...and in this United States no man is bigger than the ballot of his neighbors and on election day, we can select or reject as we see fit.

Yes, on this Thursday, we are indeed deeply thankful that there is a United States of America and that we have the privilege of being a citizen therein!

Of course, we're thankful too, that we sell the beautiful new Studebaker, the finest, fastest, quickest, most comfortable car on the road. Amazing power too, along with a lot of economy all tucked in one astonishing V-8 engine. We are thankful also, that so many of you fine people have given us your patronage and are today driving Studebakers. But then again, we're sort of glad that some of you aren't driving Studebakers at the moment, because you're the ones we have to convert. Otherwise we'd close up shop and do business by appointment when trade-in time rolls around. Incidentally, why not drop in and let the Studebaker sell itself... all it takes is a demonstration.

That's that for now, but did we tell you of the little neighbor kid that had his first elevator ride recently. Said he didn't like it because it scared his stomach.

Yours,

"Let Us Be Thankful"

A THANKSGIVING MESSAGE, 1951

(Written for the Northville Record by Milton Bloomquist)

On this Thanksgiving, we pause and suddenly consider a few reasons why we are celebrating this day. If we do pause and consider the question, no doubt we will be struck by the fact that in this day of canned food, and modern farming, the original meaning and purpose has been lost to us. No longer do we consider it sufficient to give thanks for a rude dwelling, a few wild fowl and a cellar full of corn and potatoes. If we had no more than that—no more than what the Pilgrims had on the first Thanksgiving Day—we would complain bitterly about our lot, rather than give thanks.

Today, we take many things for granted and complain when we fail to obtain luxuries which we feel that we should have. Most people give half-hearted thanks, while inwardly they are bitter and curse their luck. One day a year, we devote to this pretense of giving thanks and all other days we devote to complaints and sympathy for ourselves.

This is the time when people are expected to give thanks for the many blessings they enjoy. Also, when many indulge in wishful thinking and express regrets because their ambitions have been unfulfilled.

For such people, I will recall the legend about a stone-cutter, who wanted to be rich. After gaining wealth, he found that even the rich bowed to royalty, so he wanted to be a prince, which was granted. But a prince, also, sweated under the burning sun, so he wanted to be a sun, and it was granted. Then, a great cloud fell in rain and was able to move everything before it, except a rock, so he wished to be a rock, when along came a stone-cutter and cut it, so he wished to be a stone-cutter, whereby he found himself right back where he had started. Only, this time, he was satisfied with his position in life.

This legend makes us realize that, regardless of our position in life, we find ourselves inferior to someone else. There is always someone who has more in life. If our heart is filled with envy and jealousy we can never be happy regardless of our circumstance.

Emphasis, therefore, should be that we should be satisfied with what we do have. Everyone of us can find real happiness and thankfulness for the blessings which are ours.

It is customary to urge you to consider the many things you have been thankful for, so I am going to be different. I will not ask that on this day, you will be thankful, avoiding complaints in the future. Instead, I will ask, that you resolve, that in the future you are going to forget about yourself and are going to be kind and helpful to people you meet, so that they may have something to be thankful for when Thanksgiving 1952 rolls around.

Thus, our motto for the day should be, "Inasmuch as ye did it—ye have done it unto Me," by Our Saviour. By showing the true Christian spirit you can give other people something to be thankful for next Thanksgiving Day. A kind deed performed unselfishly and without thought of reward is never forgotten. By doing such things, we make other people happy and make their lives worth living. Adding to the happiness of others serves to make our own life worthwhile.

On this Thanksgiving Day we should also give some thought to the blessings which we received from the form of government under which we live. The Pilgrims had an overflowing quantity of freedom and an affluence of religious rights. In physical comforts and food stocks, they were not so well supplied, and they faced great hardships and suffering from exposure to severe weather and the daily peril of hostile Indians.

Today, we can compare our lot somewhat with that of the Pilgrim fathers... allowing for great changes which have taken place. We have a great abundance of liberty, an overflowing quantity of freedom and an affluence of religious rights. We, too, face many perils and dangers from hostile people and the threat of a full scale war is not too removed from our path.

So, on this day, we can be thankful for those things we have instead of bemoaning our fate for the dangers, the privations and the hardships, which we suffer. These things are as nothing and only temporary, while liberty, freedom and religious rights are the greatest blessings of all and must be preserved by our generation for future generations to come.

So, Thanksgiving Day, 1951, we have a great deal to be thankful for despite our hardships and our individual problems. In the midst of all our troubles and worries let us praise on this day and with the fervor of religious faith say sincerely that we can be thankful.

St. John's Has New Episcopal Rector

The Rev. David T. Davies assumed duties as Rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Plymouth, last Sunday, November 18. Rev. Davies and his family are residing temporarily at 861 Williams street, pending the building of a new rectory next spring.

St. John's is satisfied that they have received the services of one of the outstanding clergymen in the state. The members look forward to a period of solid development along spiritual lines and a corresponding growth in the temporal affairs of the parish.

Mr. Davies comes here from the Trinity church, Bay City, where he has served as rector for the past nine years. During his rectorship at Bay City, there has been a substantial growth in parish membership, as well as increased activity in all departments of the church. Missionary giving in the parish has increased ten-fold.

Mr. Davies is a native of Carmarthen, South Wales and was educated at St. David's college in Lampeter, Wales. He was ordained to the Diaconate by the Most Reverend David Williams, D.D., Archbishop of Ontario, at St. George's church, Walkerville on February 7, 1928 where he served as Curate under the Rev. M. C. Davies, Rector. He was advanced to the priesthood by the Archbishop Williams on September 30, 1928 at the Cronyn Memorial church, London, Ontario.

Mr. Davies joined the staff of the Detroit Episcopal Mission, December 1, 1928 and served as City Missioner in the public institutions, gaining valuable experience in pastoral and social service work. He was appointed Vicar of the Emmanuel church, Detroit, September 1, 1930 where he ministered for 12 years and had the satisfaction of seeing the church assume Parish status in the Convention of the Diocese.

He was called to the Rectorship of Trinity church, Bay City, November 1, 1942. The following January he was appointed Dean of the Saginaw Valley Convocation by the late Bishop Creighton and served in this capacity for three years. Mr. Davies has been active in Diocesan affairs for many years having served on the Department of Missions and the Field Department, now known as the Department of Promotion. He is currently serving as a member of the Executive Council of the Diocese of Michigan.

A good day's work by all hands will cure what's wrong with this country.

"Francis," "Ma and Pa Kettle," "Operation X" To Play at Theatre

Good entertainment is in store for patrons at the Penniman-Alle Theatre this coming week. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 22, 23 and 24, James Mason, Cedric Hardwicke and Jessica Tandy will be featured in "The Desert Fox," the celluloid biography of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel. Packed full of action and drama, showings begin at 7:00 and 9:00 p.m.

"Ma and Pa Kettle Back on the Farm" will be the feature attraction Sunday and Monday, November 25 and 26. Starring Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride, the story is homespun, wacky and good entertainment for all the family. In this movie, Ma and Pa become grandparents. They and their brood of 15 move back to the farm, where they believe they have discovered uranium. Crooks gain control of the land, but finding no uranium, return the deed to Pa. A family quarrel ensues, but the movie ends happily for the Kettle family. This is fine entertainment for young and old alike.

Family night, Wednesday, November 28, will show "Operation X" and "Lightning Guns." "Operation X," starring Edward G. Robinson and Peggy Cummins, is a drama with a story told in flashbacks fashion. "Lightning Guns" with Charles Starrett and Smiley Burnette in the cast, is the latest of the series with Starrett as the Durango Kid. The movie exhibits plenty of horsemanship, gun battles and fist-cuffs and should find favor with the younger set.

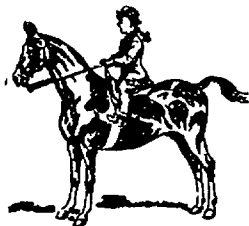

Donald O'Connor and Detroit's Piper Laurie star in another of the Frances movies, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 29, 30 and December 1. "Francis Goes to the Races" is spotlight light entertainment that features the talking mule. This is another comedy which comes highly recommended for the family. It takes place at a racetrack with the mule giving his pal, all the winning horses, baffling all about him. The story is preposterous, but the treatment is clever and well worth seeing.

Why, despite protestations that they ignore radio and television, do these very same people innocently reveal that their weekend has been spent in listening to and viewing same.

Police Chief Says Accident Rate "Up"

H. H. Bliss, a pedestrian struck by an automobile as he helped his woman companion alight from a street car, died of his injuries in Roosevelt hospital. It happened in New York City, and, commonplace as it sounds now, Mr. Bliss thereby made history. He was the first recorded traffic victim in the United States. He was killed in September, 1899.

Another victim of traffic will be distinguished before the end of this year, according to Chief Denton, of the Northville Police Department. This person will be the one-millionth American killed in this country since the automobile came into use.

"It has taken about 50 years to pile up the first million traffic deaths," Chief Denton said. "But at the present rate it will take only 30 years for the second million. They say the second million is easier. Certainly it may be faster—with more cars, more drivers and more mileage every year."

"But we can't spare that second million, not even one individual, to a preventable death. Anyone who has lost a loved one in a traffic accident will agree with safety authorities that traffic deaths can be prevented—if we will all drive and walk with care."

The admonition, "Don't YOU be one in a million!" is used by the National Safety Council in a campaign to postpone that millionth death as long as possible. Another thought should make every driver stop and think: "Will YOU be the driver who causes that millionth death?"

The Michigan State Safety Commission is coupling cautions to drivers with special reminders to pedestrians this month, as the theme of a state-wide continuing traffic safety program, part of a nationwide effort to save lives and prevent injury and loss in traffic.

"More hours of darkness at times of peak traffic increase traffic dangers to pedestrians," Chief Denton said. "Each year in November, pedestrian casualties are at or near their peak."

"When you're on foot, take special care to cross streets with the signals, and always at the marked crosswalks, not in the middle of the block unless there is protection there for pedestrians. Be sure you can see, that you are not blinded by weather, or a stack of packages or an umbrella, and then be sure you do see.

cal power in the state. G.O.P. claims him as a follower

Hunting and fishing licenses thus far this year have netted the state some $2,400,000 in revenue, slightly more than the same period last year.

The Michigan State Bar association again is pushing legislation which would "reform" the state's judicial system. They would nominate judges from a list drawn up by a panel consisting of the chief justice of the Michigan supreme court, three attorneys and three laymen; establish a court administrator to keep tabs on work done by judges, and give the supreme court power to fine, disbar or jail judges found guilty of conduct unbecoming a judge, on or off the bench.

Same legislation was defeated by the lawmakers two years ago.

Michigan State college officials predict their self-liquifying building program will pay for itself within 15 years.

With Christmas nearing again, business in the state has increased in volume. But merchants report that while shoppers are plentiful, buyers are not so numerous. There is plenty of money, yet people just aren't spending freely.

Mental health officials are working over plans for a model state-operated neuro-psychiatric institution at Wayne university patterned after research programs in Indiana and New York.

This year some quarter million ski enthusiasts will flock into Michigan. They will spend 20 million dollars.

Help Fight TB

THE SALE of Christmas seals, which supports research and other work of the voluntary tuberculosis associations, has become a holiday tradition in this country since the first sale in 1907. The first sale was in Wilmington, Del., sponsored by the late Emily P. Bissell to raise funds to help needy patients.

She received the idea of a Christmas seal sale from an article which Jacob A. Riis, Danish-born American wrote for "The Outlook," telling how Christmas seals were helping the fight against tuberculosis in Denmark.

The 1951 Christmas Seal Sale will be conducted from November 19 to December 25. Sheets of Christmas seals will be mailed to residents of the community, who make their returns by mail. Personal solicitation, either at business or at home, is thereby avoided.

RED CROSS BRINGS EARLY THANKSGIVING TO FAMILIES HIT BY FOUR-STATE FLOODS

After last July's floods, 52,275 families in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois were thankful to be alive, but many had lost everything they had worked for. In Wyandotte County, with Kansas City, Kansas, loss was greatest, with 4,725 homes destroyed or damaged. Red Cross, on a basis of individual need, made awards totaling $5,416,550 for assistance in rebuilding and repairing 2,945 homes in that county alone. In the upper photo, a Red Cross worker examines wreckage of a house, typical of damage in the Argentine and surrounding districts of Kansas City, to estimate its replacement cost. In the four states, 32,057 homes were destroyed or damaged.

Thanksgiving came early for Mrs. Hazel Moberly, below, left, whose house was the first Red Cross-built new house completed in Kansas City, one of 2,945 being repaired or built new in Wyandotte County by the Red Cross. On October 6, she received the key to the house, rebuilt on the old foundation in Kansas City's Argentine district. Red Cross also provided $470 worth of essential furniture. After verification of family needs, Red Cross awarded outright gifts, not loans—totaling $9,645,808.11 have been granted to help in building and repairing 4,600 homes in the four-state flood area. For the more than 25,000 families who applied for Red Cross help, Thanksgiving, 1951, came the day a family received notice that a Red Cross award had been granted to help them come back. ## Salem School Children Edit Newspaper, "Chat and Chum"

The Salem school paper, "The Salem Chat and Chum" is out and has proved to be a huge success. This entire paper is edited and written by the children. Its purpose being to let the parents know what goes on at school and to help the children gain experience in writing and bring enjoyment for the school. Below is a write-up taken from the paper written by a seventh grader on their "Self Government" that might be of interest to many.

"SELF GOVERNMENT"

Self Government in our school was started in September and has proved very successful. The pupils listen to all cases and decide on the punishments. Sometimes the sentences are more severe than the teacher would give. The pupils have their own court and court officers. Each week new officers are elected so that everyone in the school will have a chance to serve as a court officer or member. The court has a judge, prosecutor and attorney to represent the defendant. A jury of four, one person from each grade is chosen to listen to the cases and to give their opinion to the judge. Most of the charges so far have been whispering cases.

Under the self government plan the room has improved. The pupils are learning to be much quieter. Some time during the year, the upper grades are going to Ann Arbor and listen to a real court trial. In our court if the defendant is found guilty, he sometimes learns a poem, stays in at recess or is given a sentence to write a certain number of times. If it is the first offense, the pupil is placed on probation. Self Government teaches good citizenship and the person accused is tried by his own friends and it says here, no one likes his friends to think badly of him.

Another item not found in the paper, that will interest every one and a record that has broken every record in the Salem school, is that the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th graders in spelling have missed no words on their final tests in the first semester. Every youngster (32 in all) received a straight "A" in spelling on his or her report card. Every parent is pleased and proud of this accomplishment.

The youngsters are coming out with a special edition of the "Chat and Chum" on "The History of Salem." Salem may not be on the map but the youngsters have uncovered some of its colorful highlights, some of them dating back to the 1820's. If you would like a copy, they are free. We will tell you about a few more items in this month's paper next week.

Natural Curtain Shields Soviet Sinkiang Action

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Behind the highest mountain curtain in the world, rimmed by the wildest deserts, Russia is building a strategic—perhaps even an atomic—outpost inside Red Chinese Sinkiang.

Ever since this remote, far-inland province—"farther than any country from the sea"—fell to Communist control in 1949, shadowy reports have come across the Himalayas of Russian activity in Sinkiang.

There have been persistent rumors of uranium being mined, among a host of strategic materials—tungsten, wolfram, gold, molybdenum, copper, zinc, coal and oil. Russian technicians with Russian machinery are said to be carving underground hangars for radar-screened airfields. A railroad—Sinkiang's first—is being built. An "atomic bomb plant," say Chinese Nationalists, is under construction in Kuldja, caravan city 180 air miles east of Russia's Turkestan (Turkistan-Siberia) Railway.

"New Frontier"

To a polyglot people farming desert oases, occasional river valleys and mountain watersheds, tending herds in fierce nomadic tribes on northern steppes, carrying on trade and ancient crafts, this sort of development would be an industrial revolution.

Sinkiang, although the name means "new frontier" or "new dominion," is a land in the backwash of history. Believed to be the seat of ancient Aryan races, its life has little changed since plodding caravans followed the great silk roads across Inner Asia to Marco Polo's Cathay.

Walled off from Tibet to the south by the Kunlun range, from Jammu and Kashmir by the Karakoram, from Afghanistan's Wakhan corridor and Russia by the Pamirs and Tien Shan, from China proper by 1,000 miles of dusty desert crossed by few roads, its lonely reaches have nevertheless been a traffic crossroads to Asia, an inland meeting ground between China, India and the Soviet Union.

Vast Country

In its trading towns—Kuldja, the capital Urumchi (Tihwa) where the United States has its remotest consulate until 1949, Kashgar, Yarkand, Khotan, Aqsu, Qo-nu—Turki tribesmen of Moslem faith, Chinese, Mongols, White Russians, Manchus, Tajiks and Tibetans mingle. Their dusty domain is no dwarf. Within Sinkiang's borders could be put Texas—twice.

Splitting the country, separating Asia's driest desert, the Takla Maklan, on the south and the northern Dzungari basin approaches to Mongolia and Siberia are the high Tien Shan, the Heavenly Mountains South of Kuldja, heart of the Ili River region of Sinkiang, is the mountain-walled Tokes Valley, one of the most famous nomad paradises on earth.

Sinkiang, known also as Chinese Turkistan, has long offered scientists and explorers all the excitement of a giant grab bag. Ruins of ancient cities lie buried there under the sand seas, and traces of trails are still to be found where they were worn by migrating prehistoric races.

Operations That Straighten Hands Also Help Personality

LONG BEACH, Calif.—When Marshall Morgan, 36, was arrested for forgery last spring, the judge noticed that his hands were strangely gnarled and twisted. They had been that way since 1944, when disease began to knot the tendons.

Until 1944 Morgan had been a respected citizen who made his living with his hands—as a construction worker. The disease, however, robbed him of his work and he began forging checks.

Six arrests later, Dr. Marcus Crahan, county jail physician, became interested and operated on Morgan's twisted hands. The operation restored both the hands and Morgan's personality to normal. Recently a judge granted Morgan three years probation, saying, "This is justice at its finest."

Marine Returns from Urgent Leave in Time to Rotate

WITH THE FIRST MARINE AIRCRAFT WING IN KOREA—Rotation has Master Sgt. James A. Mayhew rotating.

Still spinning from the whirlpool of events, the enlisted fighter pilot was recently ordered aboard a Navy ship sailing to the United States. He returned from emergency leave at Tustin, California, and found himself eligible to return home again under a new rotation plan in the First Marine Aircraft Wing.

The 36-year-old former World War I officer stayed on Korean soil only one hour before he was flown back to a waiting ship in Japan.

Member of an all-weather fighter-bomber squadron which operated from Kimp'o, Wonsan and Yong-po airfields, Mayhew's last official act in this theatre was ferrying to Southern Korea an F4U Corsair from an overhaul and repair base.

Quote: "Thanks!"

"A turkey, is more occult and awful than all the angels and archangels. In so far as God has partly revealed to us an angelic world, He has partly told us what an angel means. But God has never told us what a turkey means."

—G. K. Chesterton.

"It is generally known that the mince pie has an influence on life and conduct not exceeding one month in duration."

—Kebble Howard.

"Men may say that they are too busy, and women may say that they have nothing to wear, circumstances may change and friends may change with them; but there comes the most hospitable day of the year, unchanged in its spirit by any changes of time."

—William Root Bliss.

"Thanksgiving is the winding up of autumn. The leaves are off the trees, except here and there on a beach or an oak; there is nothing left on the boughs but a few nuts and empty birds' nests. The earth looks desolate, and it will be a comfort to have the snow on the ground, and to hear the merry jingle of the sleigh bells."

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

It's "Sweet" News: Fudge Made With Cream Cheese!

It's the sweetest good news of the year! Just imagine... rich, smooth fudge made with cream cheese... by a magic-quick mixing method! Confectioner's sugar is very simply blended with a 3 oz. square of fresh cream cheese along with the flavors of your choice. The result? A rich, but not-too-sweet fudge that keeps marvelously, is always perfectly textured, is sheer heaven to bite into! There's no cooking, no candy-making uncertainty to this new fudge recipe. And whether you prefer rich chocolate fudge, coconut, almond, or peanut butter flavor, the mild delicacy of fresh cream cheese lends smooth new distinction to our favorite of American confections.

Maple Cream Cheese Fudge
1 3-oz. pkg. cream cheese 10 drops maple flavoring
2 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar Dash of salt
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Place the cream cheese in a bowl and cream it until soft and smooth. Slowly blend the sugar into it. Add the flavoring, salt and nuts and mix until well blended. Press into a well greased shallow pan. Place in refrigerator until firm (about 15 minutes). Cut into squares.

"I am a member of the United States Army.

It has been my privilege to share service with your sons in battle in Korea.

You can be very proud of these men. Men from every walk of life and from every corner of America.

I have seen them fight with indomitable courage.

I have known their strength of soul and spirit.

They deserve the best.

If you support and serve them as they, in battle, protect, preserve and defend you, they will have the best.

The best in arms, in clothing, in food, in equipment, the best of everything that will make their task easier by a little, for no one can make it easy in truth.

You can make your support count by purchase of United States Defense Bonds."

Courtroom Vote Gives Man Freedom from Electrocution

GREENVILLE, Miss.—By the lopsided margin of 590-10, Paul Thurmond, 51, was saved from death.

Amid cheers of a packed courtroom, Gov. Fielding Wright commuted the farmer's death sentence to one of life imprisonment. A poll of spectators at a ceremony hearing was responsible for the governor's action.

Thurmond was to have died in Mississippi's portable electric chair for the slaying of an Acola, Miss., town marshal in 1950, but the hearing saved his life. The convicted man's wife rushed up to thank the governor with tears streaming down her cheeks.

Unless you have a tough hide, it's just as well not to struggle for attention in the upper social brackets.

Club Sees Film, Display of Poultry

Ivan N. Cuthbert, Chief Industrial Designer of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, spoke to the Northville Exchange club last week about his lifetime hobby as a poultry fancier. His show birds have taken many prizes, many times winning the majority of first and second places in Michigan and national shows.

He briefly gave background sketches of the American poultry varieties from the "mortgage lifter of the old time farm"—the brown leghorn, to the modern Araucana breed. The Araucana, although originating from the Jungle fowl of India, is a product of improvements and specialization of the American poultry breeder. It does not lay the eggs that are highest in food value or flavor but it does lay the fanciest ones—eggs that are blue, green, gray, or blends of those colors with the ordinary buff or white.

The Araucana is also the most desirable as a food chicken, its flavor being considered the finest of any, with a close similarity to that of game birds.

Mr. Cuthbert concentrates his attention in his Ann Arbor poultry farm on the Araucana and the silver spangled Hamburgs. The last is of European origin and is known to produce the eggs that are most nutritious. It is acknowledged by poultry fanciers to be the most beautiful of domestic fowl.

In addition to showing many pictures of the various breeds, Mr. Cuthbert displayed a variety of the colorful eggs and showed four of his prize fowl, two silver spangled Hamburgs and two Araucanas. He stated that the two utility men who are in it as a business and the fanciers who are primarily interested in improving the breeds as a hobby. Surprisingly, it is not an expensive hobby but one which pays its own way either through prize money won at shows or through the more regular revenues obtained by sale of eggs and chickens for food purposes, he said.

Trifocal Glasses Afford Flexibility For Half-Million

It took the twentieth century to bring us commercially practical trifocal eyeglasses, which provide clear vision at the mid-point as well as at the near and far points. Today about half a million Americans are wearing them, and it is predicted that the number will rise to seven million within the next five years.

The name, "continuous vision lenses," has recently been applied to trifocals, because they make it easy for eyes to focus upon one area after another without any abrupt "jumps." They bring seeing comfort and efficiency to the 40-plus age group, whose powers of changing focus are on the wane, as the crystalline lens and its muscles and ligaments gradually lose elasticity. Bifocals are very helpful to this group, but continuous vision lenses afford additional flexibility by including an extra segment to cover the distance from 18 to 50 inches from the eyes.

Countless people are being enabled to prolong their years of working efficiency by the use of continuous vision lenses. The butcher who had been cutting himself with his cleaver . . . the business executive who couldn't get a clear view of anyone who sat across the desk from him . . . the housewife who couldn't read price marks at the grocer's . . . the accountant who had difficulty constantly changing focus between the reading distance and middle distance . . . all these and many others are finding in trifocals the means of extending their usefulness.

As for the critical question, How hard is it to adjust to trifocals?—a survey on this subject was conducted among visual specialists. Results showed that 60 per cent of the people for whom trifocals had been prescribed thought them easier to adjust to than bifocals. Three-way lenses, they said, did not require so much lowering of the head to see low objects at considerable distance, nor so much head-raising to see such things as meters and thermostats. The remaining 40 per cent of trifocal-wearers thought trifocals were about as difficult to adjust to as bifocals.

What Price Winning?

ONLY a few days ago we ran across one of the best coaches in football I might add he is also a man of high character. We talked about many things connected with football.

"After all," he said, "don't forget the main thing. That's to win. We must make our teams believe that winning is about everything."

The trouble is this philosophy can be overdone. It is more important to any real man to play well and lose, than to play badly and win.

At least that was the philosophy of Devereux Milburn and Tommy Hitchcock, two of the greatest competitors I ever knew. When two teams or two men meet—only one can win. How can both win? It isn't possible.

Look what the overstressed idea of winning has done to football. Protests of a broken jawbone in the Drake - Oklahoma A. and M. game.

Drake says it was done deliberately. Terrible feud between Marquette and Tulsa. Charges made beyond the brutal actions of a dock-side brawl in Texas A. and M. beaten on an illegal play. Southern California accused of deliberately crippling the star California back.

And all over the map hundreds of college football players are imported and paid (one way or another) for the purpose of winning games. What a beautiful picture! How well it speaks for the game!

What thrill can any college get out of winning with hired or rented players, from teams packed with scholarships, free board and, too often, so much under the table? I can't quite get the philosophy of such people. Maybe we live in different worlds.

Naturally it is usually more fun to win than to lose. But when too much of a premium is put on winning above everything, you are heading for cheating or some other form of crookedness. It cannot be escaped.

This is the main trouble with college football today. It is rushing at break-neck speed to disaster, unless a few sane people check the downward rush of what should be the finest game of them all—at least on a par with baseball.

Milburn On Winning
The late Dev Milburn was as fine a competitor as I ever knew. Match him up with Tommy Hitchcock, who feared nothing, including violent death.

"I never think much about winning or losing," he said to me once. "I want a tough contest. (About half his body was held together by wires from polo injuries.) I'd rather lose in a tough polo match than win a setup. That goes for golf. I'd rather be beaten 5 and 4 or 7 and 5 by Hogan or Hagen than beat a dub 9-up."

"What's the score got to do with it? It's the fight on the field—the contest—where you give everything you've got to do the best you can. I never cried when I was beaten. Who am I that I should always win? Let the kids cry—not the men."

"Anyone who can't take defeat gracefully isn't much of a sportsman. It's the game—the playing of the game—that means everything. Why can't these blind people see it?"

I asked Dev one day what he put above winning.
"Many things," he said. "First, conditioning. That means getting ready for any test ahead. It means self-discipline. Second, giving the best you have in you on every play."

"Even if it means breaking your collar bone?" I asked.
"Even if it means breaking your neck," he said with a grin.
Milburn had seven bones broken from waist to neck. But at 57 he was still playing big-time polo. He knew how to play.

"When you have trained and gotten ready—when you have given all you have—the score doesn't matter. At least it never mattered too much to me. The man who won't train and get ready, the man who won't give all he has in him, is not a good competitor—even if he wins."

I'll kick in with Dev Milburn. And a fellow known as Tommy Hitchcock who dived out of an English sky to test a plane as you or I would light a cigarette.

Football's Money Cost

Tim Mara, head of the Mara clan that owns the very able Giants checked us on the march.

"You wrote," he said, "that big time college teams today cost just about as much as the good pros cost. Well, they don't come that high. It cost us around $325,000 to $350,000 a year to run the Giants. Other pro teams cost almost as much. Pay for good players is still high and so is equipment and everything else."

Why is it that so many wealthy men with ugly dispositions have such charming wives?

Basketball Season To Open Dec. 4

Coach Dick Kay began basketball drills for Northville High School cagers last week, pointing to the opening game against Plymouth December 4 on the Rocks' court. Al Jones will coach the Colts, Northville's reserve team. Their drills began Wednesday.

The Mustangs and Colts will play a 16-game schedule this season, one more than usual. Cancellation of the South Lyon football game gave the opportunity to add a basketball game under the high school ruling allowing a 25-game combination of football and basketball contests. The additional game will be against Keego Harbor, probably on February 1.

The schedule.

December—
4—Plymouth, there.
7—Holly, here
18—South Lyon, there
January—
4—Clarkston, there
11—Milford, there
18—Clarenceville, here
23—County Day, here
25—Holly, there
29—South Lyon, here
February—
1—Keego Harbor (tentative)
5—County Day, there
8—Clarkston, here
15—Milford, here
19—Plymouth, here
22—Clarenceville, there
29—Detroit Lutheran, here.

Sunday, November 25, in all Christian Science churches, under the subject of "Soul and Body."

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (3:16): "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?"

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps 63:3): "Because thy loving-kindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee."

"FOOD FAIR"

Dear Friends

Your all-out enthusiasm over our pumpkin spice cakes has encouraged us to continue on the "pumpkin" theme thru this week of "Thanksgiving." And something new has been added — the two-layer pumpkin spice cake put together with an orange cream filling, and then generously frosted with orange butter icing, and topped with a sugary horn of plenty out of which clusters of grapes are tumbling. We're offering this as something a little different for a centerpiece.

We think the horn of plenty is a splendid symbol of the beautiful harvests for which we are so thankful. And may we remind you that nothing but the finest from nature's own bounty is packed into the foods prepared in our kitchens.

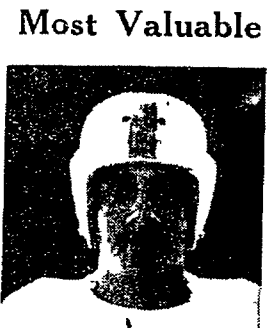

If you didn't get your copy of our pumpkin cake recipe last week, we have additional copies ready now, and also recipes for pumpkin cookies and do-nuts which some friends have shared with us. We'll have some samples ready, too.

Sincerely,
William and Ruth Black of

1952 Captain

AL IVERSEN

Northville Gridders Honor Teammates

Fullback Leon Holman and Guard Al Iversen were honored by football teammates at Northville High school last week. Holman, co-captain of the 1951 season, was voted most valuable player. Iversen was the team's choice for captain next year. Holman is a senior graduating in June. Iversen will be a junior when the 1952 season opens.

The Mustangs grid season was abbreviated by the cancellation of the South Lyon game slated for November 9. South Lyon football officials asked for dismissal of the game after the snow storm rendered South Lyon's playing field hopeless, with no chance of cleaning it up in time for the game.

Coaches traditionally "sing the blues" when graduation time rolls around in June, but Coach Al Jones will have real cause to be unhappy. Eighteen of the 25 varsity players on the Mustang squad will graduate. Some of them were regular starters, but all of them were used in Northville's two-platoon system.

End spots will be vacated by Bob Clark, Jerry Freydl, Tom Stanford and Ken Rowe. Holes will be left at the guard position by Jim Clark, Bob Heard and Howie Meyer. Stan Dahlager, Per Iversen and Dick Sands will be missing from the tackle slots, and Marion Kwasek leaves the center post open.

The backfield posts are hard hit with the loss of Bill Bingley, Bill Gaab and Dennis Curl at halfback, and Leon Holman, Clancy Ely and Tom Mosheimer at fullback. Don Maclean, co-captain with Holman, will leave the quarterback position to fill.

Rams Defeat Kats 7-0 in Snowstorm

Coach Al Jones' Rams defeated Coach Dick Kay's Kats 7 to 0 at Ford Field last Friday night. Bud Bell's pass interception in the fourth quarter on the Kats' 25-yard line and spurt to the goal line provided the winning marker.

The game was an even match throughout, with few fumbles in spite of the nearly blinding snowstorm. Yardage gained was nearly even as both teams fought for a break.

The Rams and Kats play a game each year at the close of the varsity grid season. The two squads are made up of boys in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades divided between the two varsity coaches.

The game was sponsored by the Recreation committee and the High School Junior class. A trophy, now on display in Lapham's Men's Shop window, was presented to the winners by Lynn Sullivan, member of the committee. The portable radio was won at half-time by Weston Fitzpatrick. R. D. Merriam and Robert Coolman had charge of ticket selling and the half-time ceremonies. The game brought in $120 for use by the Recreation committee and the Junior class. Monroe Weston, assisted by Russ Bingley, announced the game.

A dance at the Recreation building followed the contest. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bell chaperoned the 122 students who attended, and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Weston, assisted by Bud Hood, had charge of the snack bar.

Blood types, much like the blood types in man, have been found in cattle, sheep, pigs and horses.

The children also have a Health club, their motto being "Keep the healthy, healthy and make the healthy, healthier." Their health posters show the importance of eating the correct foods. There is a silver dollar for the outstanding citizen each week. So far they have been Bonnie Burnham, Paul Nagy and Dora Griffith.
