

Should Northville Incorporate As A City?

This is the last of a series of articles prepared and published in the public interest. An attempt has been made to keep the subject matter wholly factual and it is offered solely for the purpose of permitting the residents of Northville and the surrounding community to determine for themselves the desirability of incorporating all or a portion of the community as a city. An attempt will be made to answer any specific question which may be submitted to the editor upon this general subject.

Readers Urged To Send Questions To Editor

In this final article on the subject of incorporating Northville as a city, consideration will be given to the best method available for improving the municipal governmental structure and modernizing the charter. In previous articles, reference has been made to the fact that modern day municipal government requires business methods in administration. Every proponent of good government acknowledges that at the municipal level a thorough-going business administration produces for the taxpayers and the residents of a community the most efficient and economic municipal government possible. Local municipal affairs are predominantly administrative in character and this accounts for the fact that students of government contend that there are no basic differences between running a municipal corporation at the local level and running a private corporation. No private corporation could long remain solvent with inefficient management, or with management so burdened with detail that it couldn't get things done. There is an old saying that serves to express the status of a person so overburdened with details that he is unable to accomplish much. It is, "That he can't see the woods because of the trees." The present Village Commission is so heavily burdened with administrative details that much of its efficiency as a supervisory and policy-making body is lost. The only persons who suffer by such a situation are the residents of the community.

THE COUNCIL-MANAGER PLAN

While it is not necessary, and many charters have been modernized without it, one tried and proved method of acquiring efficient municipal administration is through the adoption of the council-manager plan of government. In cities, this form is commonly referred to as the city-manager plan. Such a plan embodies, as a rule, a small elected council of representative citizens and the employment of a professional city manager, who carries out the policies adopted by the council and who performs and supervises the administrative work of the municipality. The manager plan is an application of business principles to municipal government. The council compares favorably with the board of directors of a business enterprise and the municipal manager with the general manager of a business enterprise.

All governmental authority and responsibility is unified in the council. It is elected by the vote of the people and is directly responsible to them for municipal affairs. The council employs a professional manager, who serves at the will of the council and who can be dismissed in case his work is not satisfactory. He is a full-time employee responsible for administering all the affairs of the municipality, but his work is performed subject to council policy and direction. The net result is that all legislative and policy-making powers and functions are centered in the elected city council, but the administrative duties necessary to carry out the adopted policies are delegated by the council to the manager. It is apparent that such a plan frees the members of the council from the day to day problems of administrative duties and permits them more time for legislative policy-making and general supervisory duties. At each council meeting the manager reports upon the conduct of municipal administration since the last council meeting and in this manner a close supervisory check is maintained over all departments of municipal government by the council.

As far as individual residents are concerned, such a plan makes their contact with municipal government more direct and easier to maintain. The manager, being a full-time employee, is available daily for contact by any resident.

Northville's Blood Bank Drive May Surpass Last Year

Registrations Slow; Committee Asks for Walk-In Donors

Northville's 1952 blood bank drive can be an outstanding success if only a few more persons than the 180 who have already signified their intention of "donating" will do so Friday when the Red Cross mobile blood unit comes to town. More than 100 pints already have been collected this week from Ford employees in the Northville and Waterford plants.

This is the word from co-chairmen Philip Ogilvie and Dr. Hugh Godfrey, of the local Red Cross committee, which is striving to better last year's record of 140 pints of blood. Final success of this year's drive will not be known until Friday evening after the mobile unit has taken care of the last donor. Its headquarters for the day will be in the First Methodist church house, from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m.

Postoffice Shows 17 1/2% Gain in '51

Postal receipts at the Northville postoffice for the year 1951 set an all time record, said Postmaster Leland V. Smith. An overall gain of 17 1/2 percent was shown with a total revenue of $50,129.25 as against $42,658.71 in 1950.

Each quarter of the year showed a marked improvement over the same quarter of the preceding year and each succeeding quarter of 1951 showed a larger percentage of gain. The fourth or last quarter of the year showed the largest percentage gain with 39 1/2 percent. The first quarter showed a 2 1/2 percent gain, second quarter 5 percent, and the third quarter 13 percent. The fourth quarter revenue was $19,196.38. This was $5,424.83 more than the revenue in that period in 1950.

With the great increase of Christmas mail, eight extra clerks, seven extra city carriers and two extra rural carriers were added to the regular staff, reports Postmaster Smith. Every piece of mail that arrived in the local postoffice before Christmas was delivered before December 25, he said.

Though the local postoffice authorities have been working for some time to get permission for a new postoffice in Northville, the staff is working in the same building which 20 years ago took in $22,000, Smith commented.

FBI Man To Speak To Auxiliary, Post

A Federal Bureau of Investigation man will be the guest speaker at a program sponsored by the Lloyd H. Green Post 147, American Legion Auxiliary, Tuesday, January 22 at the Veterans' Memorial building. A pot luck supper will precede the meeting at 6:30 p.m.

The Legion Post will be their guests for the evening as will Thomas Roummell, Department Michigan Commander; Burney McLeish, Third Zone Commander; Lawrence Copley, District Commander and Lisle Alexander, State Adjutant. All men are affiliated with the American Legion.

Morris Cohen, past post commander, will give the invocation. Eleanor Peeke will be guest soloist with Mrs. Barton Connors as accompanist.

Members of the post, auxiliary and friends are invited to hear the speaker. They are asked to bring a passing dish, rolls and their own table service.

Book Review Planned for Woman's Club

The Northville Woman's club will meet Friday at 2:30 p.m. at the Village Library.

The program will consist of a book review by Mrs. Frank Beeks of Thayer Blvd. She will review Jesse Stuart's "The Thread That Runs So True." The book tells of Mr. Stuart's experiences while teaching in a one-room school in the mountains of Kentucky. He is also the author of the well-known book, "Taps For Private Tussy."

Wanted: Donors for Blood Bank

Blood donors are being sought by the Northville branch of the American Red Cross.

Once again the people of the community are being asked to donate to the Village Blood Bank on Friday, January 18 from 2 to 8 p.m. at the Methodist Church House.

Appointments are NOT needed to donate tomorrow.

Talks on Income Tax

C. D. HILL

Clifton D. Hill, senior partner in Hill & Ogilvie, attorneys, discussed various aspects of the 1952 income tax law at the Jan. 15 meeting of the Northville Rotary Club.

School Announces Tentative Bus Runs

At the Monday, January 7 meeting of the Northville Board of Education, High School Principal E. V. Ellison and C. T. Pregitzer, principal of the grade school, presented a tentative schedule for the two newly purchased school buses. At this time they explained the problems connected with the scheduling of the runs and asked for an extension of time in preparing a permanent schedule.

Bus No. 1 will make three trips according to the tentative plan as follows: first trip via West Seven Mile road to Napier and the area west of Clement road; second trip to the Oakwood subdivision, and the last run will be a noon trip to take care of the kindergarten pupils. The first trip of Bus No. 2 will be made on East Seven Mile to Haggerty road with the last run to Waterford, Six Mile and Sheldon roads.

Treasurer Robert Coolman presented the following report: Received since last meeting: $1,983.07; Balance in General Fund, $21,324.50, and Balance in Debt Retirement Fund, $24,122.42.

School Board members George Clark, Nelson C. Schrader, Jr., President Eural Clark, Coolman and Superintendent Russell H. Amerman were present at the meeting. Donald Severance was absent. Also in attendance were Shirley Kilps, Gertrude Martin, Richard Kay, Ellison and Pregitzer.

Dimes Drive Enters Closing Stages

The March of Dimes has entered its third week and Nelson C. Schrader, local "Dimes" chairman, today urged citizens to contribute through the use of canisters in local business places.

The tripled polio incidence that has plagued the nation for the last four years has resulted in three-quarters of all March of Dimes funds being spent on the patient care requirements of the children and adults who have fallen victim to the only epidemic disease still on the increase in America.

March of Dimes research has attacked the problem on a wide front. The fields of chemistry, biology, pathology, physiology, bacteriology, virology and others have been enlisted in this most massive people's attack on a single disease ever launched by a voluntary health agency.

March of Dimes funds are under the severe challenge of a rising, widening tide of polio. Only a rising tide of dimes can stem the challenge. Give generously today!

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Miller of Milford were weekend guests of the Stewart H. Robinson family of Grace street.

Dr. Snow Reelected Driving Club Head

Dr. L. W. Snow was re-elected president of the Northville Driving club at a meeting of directors January 11. Other officers also re-elected were G. F. Taft, vice president; Arthur Schulte, treasurer, and C. D. Hill, secretary.

Driving club members held their annual meeting in the Veterans' Memorial building prior to the directors' meeting to receive reports of the officers covering 1951 activities and elect directors for 1952 and 1953. The previous board was re-elected in its entirety, as follows: L. W. Snow, C. D. Hill, Russell H. Walker, Don Yerkes and Carl Ely.

SWEATER TO ASHES: 45 SECONDS

Chief of Police Joseph Denton times the flames which quickly demolished three sweaters owned by Villagers, Fred Lahr and Russell Pomeroy. The white V-necked sleeveless pullover was destroyed in 45 seconds, the brown pullover in a minute while the cardigan took two minutes.

Mrs. Fred Lahr of Carpenter Street states that her son, Ronnie, received the sweater as a gift from relatives in Atlanta, Georgia.

More than 1,000 sweaters made of a dangerous inflammable rayon material have been peddled to citizens in the Detroit area. Chief Denton urges anyone who thinks they may have one of the sweaters to turn it in. Those discovered in Northville either carried an Esquire label or no label at all.

RECORD AMBLINGS

Mrs. Della Mathews and Mrs. Harold Dayton are recent contributors to the tie and sock collection for the Detroit House of Correction occupational therapy department. The institution still needs them. Leave yours today at the Record office.

Last week, E. E. and C. C. Boyd began the addition of a second floor to their commercial building on North Center street. Four apartments consisting of three rooms and a bath each, will have an entrance from the left side door on the ground floor. Unless bad weather conditions hold up the outside work, the Boyds plan to have them ready for occupancy by May 1.

Mrs. Ted Kampf, Lee Eaton, Mrs. William Madigan, William Liebetreu and Mrs. Roy Soule last week left books and magazines at the Record office for use at the Northville State Mental hospital. The reading material will be used by the patients who this week were moved from the Pontiac State hospital to the new institution. Won't you leave yours at the Record Office?

The Wayne County Road Commission, Monday moved their snow removing equipment into the Village and busied themselves clearing away the banks on Main and Rogers street. Many a sidewalk expert watched the proceedings with interest.

The last in the series of articles on the city incorporation question appears in this week's Record. The Record wants to know the readers' reaction to the series. Did you like them? Were they helpful to you in understanding the changes involved? Do you have any questions pertaining to the subject? We will welcome any comments on the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Whipple of West Main street have received a cable from their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Karrell of New York City, announcing their arrival in London, England. The Karrell's are enjoying a combination business and pleasure trip which will also take them to Germany, France and England.

Villagers Take Part in Centennial

The Plymouth Rock Lodge 47, F. & A. M. which originated in Northville in 1852, Tuesday celebrated their 100th anniversary with a centennial celebration at the new Plymouth High school gymnasium.

A dispensation was granted to the Northville Lodge 47 on January 15, 1851 by Grand Master Henry T. Backus and signed by James Fenton, Grand secretary. The petition for dispensation was recommended by the officers and members of Detroit Lodge No. 2. The charter was granted January 15, 1852, and the first Worship Grand Master was B. S. Taylor.

The lodge remained in Northville about five years. After functioning from Plymouth for a time, it was again removed to Northville in 1864. At this time its number was changed from 47 to 186 with Plymouth retaining the charter and Northville taking the rest of the Masonic property. At that time the name of the Plymouth lodge took the name of Plymouth Rock 47.

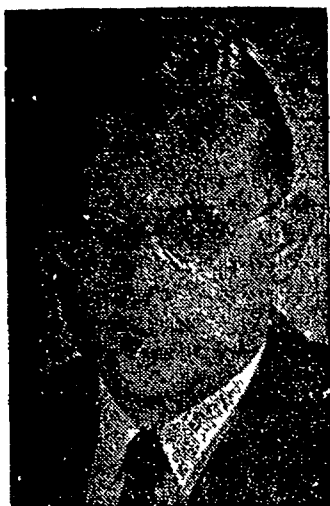

Among the Northville men belonging to the Plymouth lodge and taking part in the celebration are Charles Altman, Jr., Maurice Lapham and Louis Foreman.

Local Phone Users To Share Rebate

The Michigan Bell Telephone company today faces the prospect of having to refund more than $11,600,000 to customers while seeking an increase in rates. Northville two and four party resident phone users will receive a part of that reduction in rates.

The State Supreme Court last week upheld orders issued by the Public Service Commission directing Michigan Bell to refund $3,500,000 a year for the period of January 1, 1946, to October 16, 1948, to customers in 43 exchanges. At the same time, the company was testifying before the Public Service Commission on the need for a rate increase which the Commission had denied in its entirety November 20.

The $11,600,000 in rebates includes Federal excise taxes, but not the amount of interest which has not yet been specified. The case was remanded to the Ingham County Circuit Court for determination of future procedure.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

Fellow we know, dropped in this Studebaker Matt of ours and after admiring the finest car of the '52 season... Studebaker of course... told us that the neighbors in his area, were a bit in doubt as to his mental stability. His small fry, engaged in a bit of 'war in Korea' during the afternoon, had used various guns, planes and tanks. So come evening, his friends were treated to a sight of him pushing a lawn mower through the snow drifts and had no way of knowing that said lawn mower had served, during the day, as a Sherman Tank.

Well things like that happen, but there's absolutely nothing on wheels that can substitute for this ever-so-beautiful, amazingly powerful, style-leading 1952 Studebaker with its miracle V-8 engine. We've a brand new model top—the Studebaker Starliner that is the most graceful of all 'hard-top' convertibles. Then too, if you're in an economical frame of mind, there is the Studebaker Champion with so many extra miles per gallon of gasoline, the average filling station will become part of the scenery instead of a necessary stopping place.

We don't know how we got on the subject, but the matter of washing dishes entered the conversation while we were indulging in a bit of idle chit-chat with a lady whose car was in for a bit of tune-up. She told us that her ten-year-old daughter wouldn't permit some guests to help stack the dishes after a recent dinner. In the daughter's own words, "If you stack them, you've got to wash the backs too!"

Remarkable foresight in a ten-year-old, we figure, and we hope that you good customers will show some of the same in this matter of keeping the oils and other lubricants in your car at a proper degree of freshness. It's most necessary, as we keep reminding you, if you want a car that will give maximum service, no matter what the weather this winter. Maybe a tune-up wouldn't hurt either, if you've neglected that particular phase of good motoring lately.

That's that, but a fellow we know, while reading a magazine recently, paused at a certain ad to tell his Aunt that that was what he would like for his birthday. So the lady, being of a prankish turn of mind, sent him a note reading, "here is what you wanted, dear." Carefully wrapped in a dry-ice carton were four roses, frozen in a cake of ice.

Yours,

BILL and WILL PETZ.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

NON-PARTISAN
NEWS LETTER

Here's a stopper for upstate voters:

How would you like to have your legislature at Lansing controlled by four counties?

It's not so far fetched as it sounds.

Such would be possible legally under a reapportionment plan advocated by Michigan leaders of the American Federation of Labor and the Detroit C.I.O. In fact, petitions are to be circulated soon by the A.F.L. asking that reapportionment of the legislature along lines of the 1950 census be initiated by Michigan voters next November. If voters approve, the bill would go automatically before legislators in 1953.

The Detroit-Flint metropolitan area has more than 51 percent of Michigan's present population. Therefore, under 100 percent reapportionment, four counties could dominate the rest of the state in legislative affairs. By concentrating efforts on the election of pro-labor candidates, labor unions could achieve their goals readily.

It is the belief of several upstate legislators that four counties, even if they do have 51 percent of the state's population, cannot speak for ALL of Michigan. The argument is advanced by State Senator Creighton Coleman of Marshall that the legislature should act on a "fair" reapportionment plan in 1952 rather than let things drift further.

A resolution, sponsored by Senator Coleman, would add two senators and freeze the senatorial districts. This would assure geographical representation whereby such cities as Ann Arbor, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Lansing and Flint could control the Senate.

The house of representatives would be enlarged approximately 10 percent along federal lines. Population consideration would predominate.

Senator Coleman comments: "Where you have a highly industrial, highly agricultural and highly recreational state such as Michigan, with one of the most varied economies of any state in Union, a strictly population-majority control does not seem to be a suitable control."

Coleman pays credit to Senators G. Elwood Bonine and Edward Hutchinson for work done on the compromise reapportionment plan.

The Marshall senator believes it will be unfortunate to simplify the issue of reapportionment by calling it an outstate vs. Detroit fight, or a urban-rural contest.

He explains his viewpoint as follows:

"This question cannot be solved by appeals to emotion. Few issues before the legislature are purely city versus farmer; few purely Detroit versus outstate. If that were true, the rural interests would not survive the legislative process in Michigan today.

"No thinking person can claim the legislature of Michigan is now rural dominated. Actually, 16 of the senatorial districts include population centers in excess of 50,000. A senator from such a district certainly cannot be said to represent purely rural areas or only rural issues and interests! I can certainly testify to that.

"The real issue and the one to which all citizens of Michigan should direct their attention is how best can reapportionment take place in Michigan so that all interests—fruit, fishing, railroad, trucking, city, township, industry (large and small), the professions, tourists, and mining—be given effective representation. "Some of us believe it can best be achieved by a plan which requires balanced consideration of all groups of people, all the areas, all the interests of Michigan. We do not believe it will be achieved by any plan which permits one group or one area to dominate, control, and dictate to the entire state.

"To this let me add: Whether large urban centers like Detroit were not given proper representation in the past is not the issue now, and should not be the consideration in designing the representation basis for the present or the future. If the metropolitan areas were denied proper representation at one time, to reverse the situation now and put all the rest of the state under their control for the future would be no more proper than was the previous situation. Two wrongs do not make a right. The question in Michigan is: What is the best and proper way to reapportion now?"

The belief that youth is the happiest time of life is founded on a fallacy. The happiest person is the person who thinks the most interesting thoughts, and we grow happier as we grow older. —William Lyon Phelps

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO COMEDY SLATED FOR JAN. 20-21 RUN

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello will star in "Abbott and Costello Meet the Invisible Man" Sunday and Monday, January 20 and 21 at the Penniman Allen theatre.

This is a decided improvement over the usual Abbott and Costello movie, for it is a non-sensical farce, which is fast moving and comical. The comedians are cast as newly graduated private detectives, with a boxer client who is wanted by the police for the alleged murder of his manager.

Many hearty laughs are aroused as the result of the boxer who makes himself invisible and then helps them to solve the crime. Nancy Guild, Adele Jergens and William Frawley are the other members of the cast.

The Wednesday night bill of fare is "Wells Fargo Gunmaster" starring Allan "Rocky" Lane and "Secrets of Monte Carlo," starring Warren Douglas.

Yvonne DeCarlo, Edmund O'Brien and Barry Fitzgerald will be seen in "Silver City" which comes to the P-A theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 24, 25 and 26. A western, the movie is in technicolor designed for those who like plenty of action in their screen fare. Although the plot has a familiar ring, the movie will hold one's interest for it is garnished with a sash of romance that does not clutter up the proceedings and it offers a plentitude of rip-snorting action. There are plenty of lusty hand-to-hand brawls, gun fights and a highly thrilling chase at the finish through a lumber mill. The movie is unobjectionable for the whole family.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of my dear son, Terry Thompson, who passed away four years ago, January 21. Not 'til the loom is silent
And the shuttles cease to fly,
Shall God unroll the canvas,
And explain the reason why.
The dark threads are so needful,
In the weaver's skillful hand,
As the threads of gold and silver
In the pattern He has planned.
Mother 33x

RECREATION CLUB TO SPONSOR AMATEUR RADIO OPERATORS CLUB

Two local amateur radio operators, Bob Dixon of W8HGH, and Allen Krafve of W8HAW, are acting as advisers to a group of boys who are interested in becoming operators. The Northville Recreation board is sponsoring a club equipped for training both boys and girls in sending and receiving of the Morse code and in radio theory so that they can qualify for the novice and general class F. C. C. licenses.

The club has invited any boy or girl sincerely interested in obtaining his or her license to attend the next meeting which will be held Saturday at 7:00 p.m. Applicants for the Northville Amateur Radio club must mail a postal card containing your name and address to Wilson Funk, Recreation director, Village Hall, Northville.

Licenses Explained
To qualify for the novice class license, the aspirant must be able to send and receive at least five words or 25 letters per minute and to pass a relatively simple radio theory examination. This license is valid for a period of one year at the end of which the holder must qualify for a higher class license or forfeit his right to operate a radio transmitter.

To qualify for a general class license, the aspirant must be able to send and receive at least 13 words or 65 letters per minute and to pass a theory examination. This license is valid for a period of five years and may be renewed at the end of that time.

To aid the club members toward their procurement of an amateur license, the Recreation board has obtained a set of code practice records, several copies of the Radio Amateur Handbook and many other items essential to the training of prospective amateurs. Clarence Baum and Meredith Kahler, who are SW experts, will be the adult consultants to the club members.

Club To Meet Bi-Monthly
The club plans to have a meeting as a group twice each month. However, the Recreation building will be open every afternoon after school for any members interested in using the code practice records or any of the facilities of the club.

Messages equal to telegrams have been carried to many corners of the earth free of charge by amateur operators. In the recent Kansas flood, amateurs proved essential in the delivery of information when the telephone lines went down and the people were cut-off from each other. At the present time, many amateurs are conducting drills in procedure in the event of disaster.

Youth Photo Club To Reorganize

The Youth Photo club is in the process of being reorganized under the guiding hand of the Northville Recreation board. Any youth in the Village or township who attends Northville High school may join the club by calling Margaret Hartner at 1282.

The club was originally organized four years ago and last year was taken over by Miss Beatrice Lucht, high school science teacher. This school year the equipment has lain dormant for lack of an instructor. Three years ago, the Driving club donated an enlarger to the club. Ten hours have been scheduled so far for the youth to use the photography equipment.

Instruction in photography will begin the first week in February. The youth may sign up by sending a card to the Recreation board at the Village hall.

Urge Farmers To Market Scrap Iron

A. H. Lampi, Industrial Analyst, U. S. Department of Commerce, has made an appeal to farmers in the Plymouth, Livonia, Northville and Farmington areas to turn in their farm scrap iron for higher prices, as the ceiling prices have already been established by the Office of Price Stabilization.

Because it is so badly needed for defense material and for farm machinery, Mr. Lampi urges farmers to get this iron on the market immediately.

Three-fourths of all freight tonnage moved in the U. S. goes by petroleum-powered motor truck.

Scout Leaders Offered Training

Men and women who are working with Cub Scouts and Scouts will be given an opportunity to increase their "know-how" by taking advantage of the Leader Training courses recently announced by Kenneth L. Hulsing, Plymouth, Sunset District Leadership Training chairman. First of the winter courses will open at Garden City High school on January 16 at 7:30 p.m. and will run for six consecutive Wednesday evenings. The course deals with selection of a den meeting place, Den Chief-Den Mother Relationships, Den Meeting programs, Pack meetings and Pack administration. A completely new set of film strips, developed last year by the National Council, will be used.

Training will be under the direction of Glen Heavenridge, Cubmaster of Garden City Pack GC-2. Heavenridge holds the Cubmaster's Training Key, and has had direction of two previous training courses. He will be assisted by John Wright and James Shoemaker of Garden City. All three men took a National Training course last fall in how to put on this course.

Starting on February 28, a similar training course will be conducted at the Bird Elementary school in Plymouth, under the leadership of George Conover of Plymouth. This will be the fourth such course Conover has conducted. All interested in one of these courses should get in touch with one of the above men or phone the Boy Scout Council office at Temple 1-1800, Extension 183.

A Den Mothers' Workshop, which deals with handicraft and ceremonies, will be available to about 300 women for five weeks starting February 28, at the Veterans' Memorial Bldg. These two-hour morning sessions are very popular and admission is always sold out well ahead of the opening course.

Horace Cooke, Garden City School Board president, will open his fourth Scoutmaster Training course at Plymouth High school February 7, and run for seven Thursday evenings, concluding with an overnight camp. All men over 18 are welcome to attend these sessions.

Ice Revue Opens at Olympia Feb. 8

Not one but three feminine stars, Barbara Ann Scott, Carol Lynne and Andrea McLaughlin head the cast of the 1952 Hollywood Ice Revue opening a limited engagement at Olympia stadium, starting Friday, February 8.

Miss Scott, youthful Canadian, has succeeded to the role of queen of the ice, long held by Sonia Henne. The beautiful blonde followed in Sonia's footsteps as Olympic figure skating champion, European and world's titleholder. Now she is taking her place in the 1952 Hollywood Ice Revue.

Sensational new find is Andrea McLaughlin, 17 year old New Yorker, who already has won fame with the Revue in its appearances in Milwaukee, Indianapolis, St. Louis and Chicago.

Lovely Carol Lynne, brunet acrobatic star, featured in the Center Ice Theater in New York, proving ground for many of the greatest stars on ice today.

These lovely, youthful newcomers spark the brilliant cast of the 1952 Hollywood Ice Revue, produced by Arthur M. Wirtz.

Black-haired Michael Kirby, long a favorite of Hollywood Ice Revue fans, is Barbara Ann Scott's partner, making a striking combination. Then there is the inimitable Freddie Trenkler, skating's greatest comedian. The Three Bruises, Geoffrey Stevens, Monty Scott and Sid Spaulding, provide additional comedy relief.

The acrobatic Skippy Baxter and the talented John Walsh, are other luminaries in a great all star cast which is maintaining the Hollywood Ice Revue's reputation of having the most spectacular productions in the history of show business.

There will be Sunday matinees at Olympia of the Revue again this year but no performances on Mondays or Tuesdays. Ticket prices remain unchanged at $3.60, $2.40, $1.80 and $1.20 with mail orders being accepted.

MSC Announces Farmers' Week Dairy Program

Michigan farmers attending the dairy programs during the Farmers' Week at Michigan State college in late January are going to find the programs quite changed from previous years. "We want to give our dairymen a chance to find the answers to the problems bothering them. That's why we're having a more informal type program this year," reports Dr. Earl Weaver, head of the department.

The Monday, January 28 "Dairy Day" program is about as usual, with the general session for dairymen in the morning and breed association meetings in the afternoon and evening. Fred Idste, Beloit, Wisconsin, will be the

REGIONAL COMMISSION AIDS PLANS FOR FUTURE OF NORTHVILLE AREA

In the annual report of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning commission of which Walter L. Couse, West Seven Mile road, and Herman Hartner, Plymouth avenue, are members, great plans for the future of the Northville area are given.

As national president of Associated General Contractors of America, Couse is a commissioner of the group while Hartner, superintendent of public works in the Village of Northville, is a member of the Rouge River basin subcommittee for drainage and pollution.

T. Ledyard Blakeman, executive director, stressed that the objective of the commission has been and will continue to bring people of this area together to solve their problems. The group strives to accomplish this without losing any of the identity of the 129 governmental units within the region.

The major obstacle to effective regional planning is the multiplicity of governmental units operating in an area the size of Detroit. The answer to this problem has been the division of the Region into 19 Development areas. The commission has tried to stimulate local people in the development areas to form councils that will concentrate on working out the details of planning within their boundaries.

Village In Northwest Council

The Northwest-Wayne council of which Northville, Plymouth, Livonia and Canton Center are a part, was the second council to be formed. Representing the Village on this council are Thomas lating growth and economic expansion.

Local Group To Assist

The Northville Planning Commission composed of Thomas Carington, Charles Murphy, E. W. Ebert, Carl Ely, Harry Wagners, Preston Fuller, Joseph Hoehel, George Zerbel and Gerald C. Woodworth, will assist the regional commission with this plan for our area.

In the 1951 annual report, the Northwest area has been given an estimated population increase of 47 percent in the 1950-70 period. The area of which Northville is a part is expected to increase 46 percent. The pattern of industrial growth showed that Northville is earmarked as a wet intensive area which means that water is available for expansion of industry. The manufacturing plants in the area are shown to employ 250-499 persons. In the research program of the commission, studies were made of the population, growth and the growth of decentralization in manufacturing between 1940-50 and a projection of manufacturing employment in 1970 were developed.

Gives Proof of Success

As proof that the program of local planning stimulation is working, the commission reports that 20 new zoning boards of appeal were formed, 14 communities have hired consultants and initiated planning commissions and 18 additional master plans are in process.

Among the list of publications for distribution by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning commission are the following: Comparative Land Measurement; Northwest Wayne Development Area; Generalized Land Use Maps of Development Area 8, Northwest Wayne; Projection of Public School Enrollments; Population Prospectus for Detroit Region and the Manufacturing Economy of the Detroit Region.

Brotherhood To Hear Rev. P. Nieuwkoop

Rev. Peter Nieuwkoop of the Northville First Baptist church will be the speaker at the Washenaw County Brotherhood meeting Sunday, January 20 at 4:00 p.m. at the Salem Federated church.

C. Hamilton, northeast section vice president, will direct the meeting. The evening speaker will be announced at the afternoon session. The February activities will be in charge of the southwest section: R. Tower, chairman; E. W. Quackenbush, secretary; and R. Tower, president.

Modern invention has banished the spinning wheel, and the same law of progress makes the woman of today a different woman from her grandmother.

Should Northville Incorporate As A City?

The council-manager plan is not an experiment. It is the predominant form of government in the largest cities of Michigan and is found in many smaller ones. Of those communities in the State which change from village to city government, the majority revise their charters to provide for the manager form. Presently, it is the only form of municipal government growing in use throughout the United States.

The Michigan Municipal League cites the following as specific advantages of the council-manager form of municipal government:

1. One of the important specific advantages of council-manager government is that the city council will be relieved of much of the detailed administrative work which now burdens it and will be able to concentrate on the broader problems of city government. The city manager will assume the administrative duties, and he will also give the council the benefit of his training and experience in municipal government.

2. Furthermore, the elimination of time-consuming routine work, such as service on committees, now required of the members of a village governing body will permit any citizen to serve his local government as a city councilman without too great an expenditure of personal time.

3. A city manager is a full-time employee with specialized training and experience in municipal government. His entire working time will be devoted to looking after city affairs, guided always by the policies of the city council. A city manager's profession and career is city government.

4. The argument that the council-manager plan vests too much power in one man is entirely groundless as the manager is only the chief servant of the governing body and can be dismissed at any time. His hope of advancement in his chosen profession depends upon his success in his present position.

5. City activities are well-coordinated because the employees of the various city departments have a common executive superior. The result is that city activities progress more smoothly, that services to citizens are improved through better management, and that the cost of such activities can be pared down through over-all planning, purchasing and budgeting.

6. One of the most common arguments against the council-manager form of government is that a small city cannot "afford" a manager. On the contrary, the salary of a professionally-trained manager is saved many times over in a more efficient performance of the functions of government. Some charters in smaller cities provide that the position of city manager may be combined with any administrative office such as the office of city clerk, treasurer, engineer, or superintendent of public works. This will further reduce the cost of a city manager by saving the salary of one or more of these other administrative employees. In a small city where the manager's supervisory duties are not likely to be heavy, this plan is a very feasible method of saving taxpayers' money.

In Michigan, the experience of the City of Birmingham is illustrative of what results might be reasonably expected if Northville were to incorporate as a city.

At the time Birmingham changed from a village to a city its population was approximately 7,000. It adopted a council-manager form of government and provided for the appointment of the clerk, the treasurer and the assessor. Such care was used in drafting the charter and in subsequent amendments thereto that Birmingham has come to be recognized as an outstanding example of model municipal government. Its charter and procedures thereunder are studied by persons interested in municipal affairs from all over the United States. Care was taken to protect capable municipal employees from political pressure and the succeeding councils have carefully refrained from involving employees in political squabbles. The experience has been enlightening to all persons interested in efficient municipal government.

As was said at the beginning of this article, it is not necessary to incorporate as a city in order to adopt a council-manager plan of municipal government and, as has been said in previous articles, it is not necessary to incorporate as a city in order to modernize the Northville Charter, but, experience shows that most villages, where charter modernization was needed, have incorporated as cities.

PROCEDURE TO INCORPORATE AS CITY

The procedure required to accomplish incorporation of a village as a home-rule city is entirely statutory. Briefly, such procedure is as follows:

1. The law requires that such a proposition originate by petition of qualified electors residing within the area to be incorporated.

2. That, upon such petition being approved, the council shall provide for the submission of the question to the electors of the area.

3. That, at such election, the electors shall have the privilege of voting for nine electors who shall constitute a charter commission to serve without pay.

4. That, if incorporation is approved, the charter commissioners shall formulate a new charter and fix an election date for the purpose of voting upon the charter by the electors of the area.

5. If the charter is not approved, a new charter commission must be elected and another charter drafted and submitted to the voters.

6. The new city remains under the control of the township and village from which it was incorporated until a charter has been adopted and officers elected and qualified.

The function of a charter commission is to prepare and present to the voters the best and most forward-looking basic law it can. In particular, this requires the commission:

1. To take an overview of the entire city government such as few if any officials or ordinary citizens can.

2. To probe deeply into the procedures and the interrelations of the different parts of the government so as to discover the weaknesses and defects.

3. To look outside the city to discover the best practices that might be applied and adapted.

4. To learn from all its studies how a better government can be arranged.

5. Having decided upon the major elements, to set them down in clear, logical and consistent form as a proposed charter.

6. To conduct its affairs in such a manner as to win the respect of the citizens and to educate and stimulate citizen groups and leaders to get the charter adopted.

SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS

From this series of articles the following conclusions can be drawn:

The basic difference between a village and a small city is not great. A city is simply a village which has been added the right and responsibility to perform certain functions which the township now performs for its village residents. Therefore, changing from a village to a city — reduced to its simplest terms — is merely withdrawing from the township and adding the necessary township functions to village government.

Incidental to making the change the new city obtains additional powers for increased governmental activity and the opportunity to modernize the framework in which local governmental activities are carried on.

The majority of the township duties which the new city takes over are the legally-required duties in connection with assessing property and collecting taxes for county and school purposes; conducting county, state and national elections; sending representatives to the Board of Supervisors; and providing a primary or justice court system. Each of these services can be provided in a more efficient and more convenient manner by a city than by a township, and each can be done either at a lower cost or at no additional cost to city taxpayers.

Any local services which the township has been providing which the new city wishes to continue may be continued by paying for them out of city taxes instead of township taxes, or on a contractual basis with the township.

From a financial standpoint, the effect of separating from the township results in the saving of virtually the entire township tax. At the time of incorporation, in addition, the new city shares in all township assets in proportion to the assessed value of the city and the township.

When it is realized that village residents are the only citizens in Michigan who must support, and deal with, two local governments, certain other advantages of separation from the township become obvious. First, there is a general simplification of government. Second, there is a complete removal from any partisan element in local affairs. There is no change in the character of the community or in the conduct of schools or social welfare. Simultaneously with the process of incorporation as a city, there is the possibility of expanding boundaries in a much easier and more practical manner than by annexation.

The other major group of advantages, in addition to those of separating from a township, which arise from city incorporation are the modernizing of the form of local government. This modernization takes the form of preparing a tailor-made home rule charter, which charter usually provides for reducing the number of elected administrative officials, for giving greater powers to the municipality, for unifying the responsibility for municipal affairs in the elected council, and frequently in the provision for the council-manager form of government.

There has been a steady trend of Michigan villages to change to the city form of government.

Motion was carried.

Atty. James Littell submitted a written opinion as to the status of monies now in a Village Building Fund, with particular reference as to whether these monies can be used for any purpose other than the construction of a community building; specifically whether or not any portion can be used for the alley and off-street parking program presently under way. After an exhaustive investigation of all facts pertaining to these monies, it is his opinion that if this problem were presented to a Michigan court, it would probably conclude as follows:

1. That the monies presently in the so-called "Building Fund" are in fact in a subdivision of the "General Fund."

2. That these monies can be transferred from this subdivision of the "General Fund" to another subdivision of the "General Fund," such as an Off-Street Parking Fund, and be used for the purpose of acquiring such public improvement.

3. That such monies being subject to transfer within the "General Fund" can likewise be borrowed from another subdivision of the "General Fund."

The following resolution was offered by Comm. Stuebenvoll, supported by Comm. Eaton:

"BE IT RESOLVED that WHEREAS, the Village Planning Commission has recommended to the Village Commission the adoption of an alley and off-street parking program providing for a public alley and off-street parking area servicing business frontage on North Center street, between Main street and Dunlap street, and

WHEREAS, the acquisition of Lot 534 of Assessor's Northville Plat No. 6, Village of Northville, County of Wayne, State of Michigan, by the Village is necessary for such project, and

WHEREAS, the Village Commission has determined that such project is desirable and necessary for the public welfare, convenience and necessity,

NOW, THEREFORE, the Village Commission hereby does declare its intent to acquire Lot 534 of Assessor's Northville Plat No. 6, Village of Northville, Wayne Co., Michigan, together with the ten (10) feet alley adjoining the easterly line thereof, for the purpose of incorporating the

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S FATALISM

We are not given to singling out certain individuals in this column nor do we meddle with politics. However, inasmuch as a public figure chosen to head the United Nations Commission on Human Rights makes certain remarks about the matters which relate to Christianity, we perhaps should say a word or two. The Tidings quote Mrs. Roosevelt as saying, "I don't know whether I believe in a future life. I think I am pretty much a fatalist. You have to accept whatever comes, and the only important thing is that you meet it with courage and with the best that you have to give."

Now it's evident to me that Mrs. Roosevelt either does not know her Bible or she does not believe what the Bible says. If she believed what the Bible says, she would know that God tells us that there is another life. God says there is a heaven and there is a hell. This fact cannot be changed by man's unbelief. Then, if she believed what the Bible says about heaven, she would know that the only way she can be prepared is through faith in the Christ and work of Jesus Christ. That if anyone rejects His offer of salvation, there is no hope of heaven but an eternity in hell forever. There the courage of man will vanish as a mosquito in a flame.
