

How Ann Arbor Finances It's Off-Street Parking

This is the first of a series of articles discussing how various cities have financed their municipal parking lots.

Faced with a serious parking problem that threatened to bring decentralization of its downtown and State street business districts, Ann Arbor was among the first Michigan cities to recognize that the establishment of off-street parking facilities is a municipal service that only the city itself can provide on a basis of adequate to meet the need. High property values make it economically impossible for merchants in Ann Arbor and other cities to establish and maintain their own parking lots within a convenient distance from the shopping area.

First Lot Bought in 1941

Ann Arbor's first parking lot, on South Fifth avenue, was purchased by the city from its general fund at a cost of $23,002. It was placed in operation January 2, 1942 and from then until June 30, 1950 only $2,632 was spent for maintenance and improvements of the property. The low cost is due to the city's policy of surfacing its parking lots with gravel, as contrasted with black-top surfacing used in many other cities. While Ann Arbor's lots may be somewhat more difficult to keep clear of snow after severe storms, they are adequately drained and city officials argue that the extra cost of black-topping might better be spent for additional parking facilities. The saving also tends to keep down the amount of money it is necessary to borrow to finance the system.

While street parking meters were placed in operation in 1946, the need for off-street parking facilities adjacent to the State street shopping area and the U. of M. campus was so urgent by 1948 that the city found it advisable to issue revenue bonds to obtain funds with which to acquire the necessary land. An issue of $330,000 of such bonds was sold by the city on January 19, 1948 at an average interest cost of 2 1/2 percent to finance acquisition of property for a lot on Maynard street and one on South University avenue. A schedule of annual maturities over a 13-year period starting in 1949 was set. A second issue of revenue bonds maturing over the same 13-year period was sold in August, 1948 at an average interest rate of 3.295 percent to finance construction of a large municipal carport to house 233 cars in the downtown district. Cost of the carport, including land, building and all other expenses, was $396,329.

Revenue Is Pledged

The Ann Arbor police department is in charge of the street parking meters and makes the collections; the public works department is in charge of the parking lots and the carport. The revenue of the parking meters, the parking lots and the carport is pledged to support the revenue bonds issued. All receipts go into the Automobile Parking System fund for use in defraying current expenses and to provide for retirement of bonds.

Parking fees for all except one lot are 10 cents for the first two hours and 5 cents for each additional two hours. The other lot charges 10 cents for the first two hours and 10 cents for each additional hour on weekdays.

Financial Results Good

How are the lots paying out and what is the margin by which earnings cover bond interest and maturities?

Operating income of the system in the year ended June 30, 1951 after payment of all running expenses was $79,451. Interest on surplus funds brought in an additional $1,425, bringing total income to $80,876. After provision of $16,275 for depreciation, the city had a balance of $72,224, which covered interest requirements approximately 4 1/2 times. After payment of $16,275 in interest and $40,000 on the principal amount outstanding there was a balance of $15,944 available for surplus.

City officials state that the downtown carport was responsible for the construction of a new Woolworth store and enlargement of a Kresge store, both of which are within two blocks of the carport. They point out in a special report on the Ann Arbor parking system that "adequate parking facilities in the downtown area are necessary to preserve the city's central business from decentralization."

7th Anniversary at Clark Hardware

In observance of the store's seventh anniversary, the George Clark Hardware company, 107 North Center street, will hold a clearance sale Thursday, March 6, through Saturday, March 8.

The hardware store is owned and operated by George L. Clark

Parking Agencies Given Green Light

Chicago—The American Municipal association reports that the legislatures of at least 12 states now permit some or all of their cities to establish special parking authorities.

Generally, the circumstances which prompt establishment of special parking agencies are the need to circumvent legal debt limits which are set by the states on their cities and to concentrate all parking programs in one department. Most of the parking authorities have been given the broad powers of planning, financing and acquiring lands for off-street parking facilities.

Typical of the authority given the special parking agencies is that of New Jersey. There, any municipality may create a parking authority with the power to issue revenue bonds at a rate not to exceed 6 percent, to be sold either at public or private sale, and may exercise the power of eminent domain. It may also establish rates or charges for the use of facilities, acquire or sell any property and may operate and maintain or lease the parking facilities.

Mobile Unit Takes 1008 X-Rays Here

Final tabulations from the Wayne County Department of Health show 23 abnormalities in the 1,008 chest X-rays taken by the mobile unit in Northville two weeks ago.

Of the abnormalities, 11 were suspected tuberculosis cases and seven were cardiac conditions. Six hundred and fifty-nine persons were X-rayed at the fire hall and 349 at the high school.

Dr. V. George Chabot, Northville Health Commissioner, pointed out that the 2,847 total shown last week for the 1950 X-rays was inaccurate because it included 929 taken at the Wayne County Training school, 969 taken at the Detroit House of Correction and 51 at Sheldon hall.

The correct total for the village of Northville was 949 or 52 less than were taken this year.

Birthday congratulations to Mrs. Leonard Beasley of Durand on March 1.

Voters to Elect Village Officials at March 10 Election

Northville voters will elect a village president, treasurer, clerk, assessor and three commissioners at the general municipal election Monday, March 10.

Village President Conrad E. Langfield, Clerk Mary Alexander, Treasurer A. Russell Clarke, and Commissioners Claude Ely and F. Alton Peters are unopposed in the election. All are candidates for two year terms, except Ely and Peters, who seek re-election to four-year terms of office.

A. Malcolm Allen will oppose Levi Eaton, incumbent, for the unexpired two-year term. Eaton was appointed to office November 5, 1951, after Commissioner George Locke moved to Marquette.

In opposition for the assessor's office will be Harry Rackham and Edward M. Bogart. Elmer E. Perrin, incumbent, will not run for re-election.

Voters in precinct one will cast their ballots at the Village hall at the corner of Wing and West Main streets. Precinct two ballots will be cast at the Boy Scout building, at the corner of East Dunlap and Hutton streets. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Following are thumbnail sketches of the candidates

PRESIDENT

CONRAD E. LANGFIELD, seeking his third term as village president, is president of Northville Laboratories. A pharmaceutical chemist by profession, he served in World War I, was later affiliated with Parke Davis and American Home Products. He is a past president of the Exchange club, a member of the Rotary and Optimist clubs and a charter member of the local post of the American Legion.

CLERK

MRS. MARY ALEXANDER, unopposed for the office of village clerk, has served in that capacity for 16 years. She has lived in Northville since 1907. A member of the Business and Professional Women's club, she resides at 220 Linden street. She is the mother of Mrs. Edward Angove and Mrs. T. Howard Bray.

TREASURER

A. RUSSELL CLARKE seeking his fifth term as village treasurer, is vice president and cashier at Depositors State Bank and a past president of the Exchange club. A graduate of the University of Michigan, Clarke has lived in the village for 17 years. He is married and the father of two children, Ruth Ann and John. Mr. and Mrs. Clarke reside at 720 Fairbrook road.

COMMISSIONER

A. MALCOLM ALLEN, proprietor of Allen Monuments of Northville and Milford, is married and the father of two children, Sharon and James. He is superintendent of Rural Hill cemetery, a member of the board of directors of the Monument Builders of America and a member of the Northville Rotary club. He resides at 371 East Main street.

COMMISSIONER

LEVI M. EATON was appointed to the Commission in November, 1951, to replace Commissioner George Locke, who moved from town. Eaton has been affiliated since March, 1945, with the Northville Realty. Previous to that he was district manager of the R. R. Perishable Inspection Service for the railroads entering Detroit. He is a member of the First Presbyterian church, in which he has held many offices. He also belongs to the Exchange club and the Western Wayne County Board of Realtors, of which he is a past president. He was a former member of the Village Zoning Board. Married, his home is at 365 Eaton drive.

COMMISSIONER

CLAUDE ELY, who has served 10 years on the village commission, is a sub-station operator for the Detroit Edison company, by which he has been employed for 32 years. He has lived in Northville since birth, except for service in World War I. He resides with Mrs. Ely at 502 Gardner avenue.

COMMISSIONER

F. ALTON PETERS has served on the village commission since 1948. He has been affiliated with the Prudential Insurance company for 25 years, and has lived in Northville for 35 years. Married, he is the father of Gail Ann Peters, now a student at Western Michigan College at Kalamazoo. He resides at 522 Fairbrook.

ASSESSOR

EDWARD M. BOGART has lived almost continuously in Northville since 1909. After his employment by a national chain organization for almost 12 years, he operated the EMB Food Market from 1931 to 1944. At present he is in the real estate business. He is a member of the Rotary club and a director of Depositors State Bank. Married and the father of three sons, he and Mrs. Bogart live at 335 North Center street.

ASSESSOR

HARRY G. RACKHAM served two terms as village assessor from 1946 to 1950. For several years he has regularly attended the week-long study sessions which the Michigan Assessors association holds annually on the University of Michigan campus at Ann Arbor. He has been a Northville taxpayer for 20 years, is married, and the father of two daughters, Joanne and Kathryn. The Rackhams reside at 105 Linden street.

The Record Regrets . . .

its use of the word "oust" last week to describe Harry G. Rackham's defeat as a candidate for re-election to the position of village assessor two years ago. In view of the disrepute of the Washington politicians who have been ousted from office in recent months, we readily agree with Mr. Rackham that our use of the word to describe his defeat was unfortunate. It obviously was inapplicable in his case.

Village Establishes Pedestrian Path

A pedestrian path connecting East Main street with the proposed alley and parking facility south of Main street was established by Village Commission vote Monday night.

The six-foot path, owned by the Village, adjoins the building owned by Clifford B. Cranston, and houses the Northville Drug company.

In return for Cranston's small parcel adjacent to the property owned by the Village, the Commission guaranteed Cranston that buildings will never be constructed on the path. No money consideration was involved.

Malley Dog Judged Best of Breed in Show

As the final judging of Group Winners Sunday evening at the Detroit Kennel club's 35th Annual Dog show, "Ch. Gunfire of Franfield," pointer owned and bred by the J. P. Malleys of Beck road, was declared Best of Breed.

This is the fourth consecutive year that the pointer has been awarded the title. "Gunfire" also placed third in the Sporting group.

"Petunia," owned by Franny Pat Malley, was named Reserve winner.

Among the Best of Breed winners judged in the Toy group was a Toy Manchester Terrier, "Ch. Penelope of Bravure," owned by Dr. H. E. Viergutz of Grand River and shown by his eight-year old daughter, Marie. Marie took third in the group and holds the distinction of being the youngest person ever to place in a group judging at Detroit Kennel club shows.

Dog owners from the Northville area contributed close to a hundred entries to the show.

Firemen to Vote on Choice of Chief

Members of the Northville Fire department will meet next Monday evening to take an advisory vote on their preference for fire chief during the coming year. The result of their vote will be transmitted to the Village Commission for its consideration and approval.

The mothers of servicemen and women of Northville are invited by the Blue Star Mothersto attend their March 10 meeting at the home of Mrs. L. F. Koontz. Those interested call Mrs. Doris Wick at 920-W1.

Teachers Club Committee Requests School Board to Consider Pay Raise

Red Cross Quota Raised to $1,500

March 1 marked the beginning of the American Red Cross annual drive for funds . . . money to be used in aiding those in need, or victims of disaster.

Northville's goal this year is $1,500, four hundred dollars more than in 1951, said C. Harold Bloom, Northville chairman of the drive. Dr. W. Leonard Howard, medical superintendent of Maybury Sanatorium, is the co-chairman.

The quota has been raised, this year from $1,100 to $1,500 because of the continuing Korean war, said Bloom. Northville residents oversubscribed last year's quota by $104.

Contributions will be solicited by volunteers who will visit business and industry places, and conduct a house-to-house canvass.

The Red Cross asks everyone to call "Answer the Call" for funds to carry on its local, national and international humanitarian work.

Police to Enforce Lax Poolroom Law

Chief of Police Joseph E. Denton was instructed by the Village Commission to disregard an "understanding" between the commission in office several years ago and an owner of a local pool room, under which boys under 17 years of age were allowed to enter the pool room for meals.

The present commission when made aware of the "understanding," promptly passed a resolution made by Commissioner Levi Eaton and supported by Commissioner Alton Peters, instructing Chief Denton to enforce the state law which prohibits boys under 17 from loitering in or entering any pool room.

Schools Superintendent Russell A. Amerman commended the Commission for taking an immediate stand. He said that he opposed the "understanding" when it was made about six years ago, but that his advice and that of a school board member was disregarded.

Commission Favors 5-Year Contract For Fire Service

The Northville Village Commission approved a five-year contract between the village and Northville township for housing, operation and maintenance of the township's fire truck and payment of the cost of 24-hour telephone service at the village fire hall.

James E. Littell, village attorney, was instructed to return the contract to township officials and ascertain if they would accept the 5-year term in lieu of a 20-year term which the township had proposed.

The contract provides for payment by the township of $1,872 annually to the village for housing and operation of the fire truck and round-the-clock telephone service.

Low Tax Receipts Reported by Clerk

Collection of the Northville township taxes hit an all-time low this year, states Roy M. Terrill, township treasurer. The percentage is the lowest recorded in 11 years, he said.

Ninety-one percent was collected this year in comparison to the 95 percent remitted for 1950 taxes.

Receipts amounted to approximately $121,000 while bills were sent out totaling $133,000.

Zoning Revision Readied for Review

Northville township's proposed zoning ordinance amendment is ready for review by the Wayne County Zoning Coordinating committee, following a public hearing conducted by the Township Zoning Board in Northville Village hall February 28. The meeting, which some 40 township residents attended, lasted about two hours.

Members of the board answered questions about the working of the ordinance, which it has spent several months in studying and revising.

In deference to the wishes of property holders who felt that a desirable provision of the present ordinance had been omitted from the revision, one section is being re-inserted. It provides that a petition signed by 20 percent of the property holders in a district shall be sufficient to block any proposed change in classification.

After a review by the county coordinating body, the amendment, including any changes which that group may make, will be presented to the Northville Township board with recommendation for adoption.

Methodists to Hold Father-Son Banquet

Thursday evening, March 13, has been set for the Father and Son banquet sponsored by the Young Adult group of the Northville First Methodist church. The dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the church house.

Sidney Moase, as general chairman, will act as master of ceremonies with Roy Stone planning the program for the evening.

Essie Nirider has charge of the publicity for the banquet; with Charles Strautz and Glenn Long managing the selling of tickets.

Northville Paving Problems To Be Studied By Commission

Simultaneous with receiving petitions asking for an opportunity for residents to vote on a bond issue to finance a village-wide paving program, the Northville Village Commission Monday evening discussed at length the need for a definite survey of the Village's unpaved streets to determine probable cost of the program.

The Commission also appointed Commissioners John F. Stubenvoll and Gerald C. Woodworth as a committee to meet with Detroit investment authorities to discuss the advisability of issuing revenue bonds to obtain funds to surface the Village's off-street parking areas. Such bonds would be repaid from receipts of street parking meters and others installed on the lots.

Paving Petitions Presented
The petitions, bearing signatures of 182 Village residents, were presented by Charles R. Ely in behalf of the Northville Retail Merchants association.

The consensus of opinion voiced by members of the Commission was that many streets are badly in need of paving, but that until the Commission has some idea of what a comprehensive paving program would cost it cannot proceed except on the piecemeal basis of previous years.

Commissioners Eaton and Stubenvoll pointed out that the Village can issue general obligation bonds only to the extent of 10 percent of its assessed valuation of $4,000,000, or $400,000. This sum, they declared, might easily be used entirely for paving if all unpaved streets were to be done at once, leaving nothing for sewer and water main extensions and other municipal needs.

Urges Complete Paving Survey
They urged a complete survey by a competent engineer so voters can be informed on the financial aspects of the paving program called for by the Retail Merchants association petitions. Only after a balanced program has been drawn up to cover the Village's immediate needs, and those that will arise some years hence, can the public vote intelligently on financing plans, Eaton pointed out.

Commissioner Claude Ely, presiding in the absence of Village President Conrad E. Langfield, whose plane was grounded by bad weather, stated that most of the north side of the village, including the section east of Center street already has been covered by an engineering survey. No decision to retain engineering assistance to bring this survey up to date, and to include the remainder of the village was voted upon.

Discussion of surfacing village off-street parking areas centered around the revenue bond suggestion made last week by the Record, which received the unanimous approval of commissioners present.

Bird House Contest March 10 at School

Schoolboys in grades seven through twelve are busy putting the finishing touches on bird houses before the deadline of the annual contest sponsored by the Northville Branch, Michigan Division of Woman's National Farm and Garden association.

Judges R. D. Meriam and Edward Mollima will name first, second and third place, and honorable mention, winners at the contest exhibit Monday, March 10, at the Northville grade school. Prizes will be in cash.

The boys are building wren, martin and bluebird houses and feeders. They must follow rules specified by the Detroit News, and are under the supervision of Willard Renard, high school manual training teacher.

Mrs. Orson Atchinson is chairman of the contest for the sponsoring association. The public is encouraged to visit the exhibit and view the craftsmanship of the boys.

Gamble Store Has Grand Opening

Stone's Gamble store on East Main street, will celebrate moving of the store with a grand opening today, Thursday, through Saturday, March 8. Free souvenirs will be given to visitors and customers the opening day.

Roy Stone, proprietor of the store, started in business at his old address, 130 East Main street, in 1949. The new store is in the location of the old Kroger store.

Paving of 2 Streets Planned Tentatively

Portions of Fairbrook and Orchard streets were tentatively marked for paving in 1952 and 1953 by the Northville Village Commission last Monday evening. This action was taken to comply with provisions of the Dykstra act, which calls for submission of street paving plans to the State Highway department by March 15 in order to qualify for reimbursement of a portion of the cost.

The Commission emphasized the tentative nature of its action and indicated that the importance of paving these streets may be balanced against paving needs in other parts of the Village as revealed by a Village-wide survey which may be undertaken.

The three projects tentatively approved would cost approximately $60,000. The portions of the streets to be paved, as recommended by F. R. Hoheisel, consulting engineer, were Fairbrook between First and Center streets at a cost of $23,290; Orchard between Main and Thayer at a cost of $8,807; and Orchard from Thayer to Fairbrook at a cost of $25,644.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

Now it happens that a friend of ours has aspirations to be a great, though amateur chef, with private barbecue pits and many other incidents. Been a bit rugged on personal friends who have sampled some of the stuff and even the Doctors are talking of having special "cease and desist" regulations issued in fact their time is so filled with indignation cases, they worry that if some lug busts a leg, he might have to walk to some other town for service.

This amateur's wife drops into our Studebaker Mart the other day and being a friend of ours, reports that she and her husband attend a special cooking school, where her Scorching of Fine Meats hopes to pick up an idea or two. The instructor, among other things, tells how to cook a three minute egg, without a clock on the premises. "Use three teaspoons water," he instructs, "and when the water has boiled away there is your three minute egg."

The would-be chef listens intently, then asks, "Did you say three teaspoons water?"

"Yes."

"Hmmm'd," our friend, "Level or heaping?"

Well, that's our story and we're stuck with it, but we want to report right here and now, you will never get stuck in any way, shape or form with the new '52 Studebaker. If you haven't been around for a demonstration by all means get over here at once. To really appreciate the car, the thrilling ride, the power-packed performance, the ease of handling, comfort and out of this world economy, you must be behind the wheel, but why take our word for it? Come over. We will let the car do its own selling with you in the driver's seat.

They tell us that a couple of fellows were fixing an electric sign that hung rather high in the air. One of the men steadied the extension ladder while his partner dangled perilously at the top. A little old lady, overcome by curiosity, tapped the ground man on the shoulder and indicating the aerialist asked, "something wrong with the sign?" "No lady," was the answer. "It's just that my friend is very curious and awfully near sighted."

We hope you are curious enough to take a look at the tag on your car's left front door. It will tell you when the car was lubricated last, which no doubt was too long ago. Then hurry right over for new oil, new grease and maybe an all round expert checkup of motor, brakes and other incidents. Your car will operate much better and you will feel a lot safer in the months ahead.

Well, that's that, but did we ever tell you of the guy who walked out of a poker game $50 ahead, saying he couldn't afford to lose that kind of money?

Yours,

BILL and WILL PETZ.

Important Decisions by Village Commission

The Northville Village Commission is to be commended for its forthright action Monday evening in stepping up to three problems that are of major importance to the Village. These are:

1. Completion of off-street parking facilities through a revenue bond issue which could be retired from parking meter receipts without cost to the taxpayers;
2. Development of a long-range public improvement program tailored to fit the Village's financial capacity;
3. Consideration of the feasibility of proceeding this year with construction of a Northville Community Building.

The first of these problems—off-street parking—is a separate matter than can be speedily this spring, and the Commission's action in appointing two of its members to meet with Detroit investment men who are authorities on this subject, indicates that it is anxious to proceed if a feasible financing method can be worked out.

Any consideration of construction of a community building necessarily ties in with the Village's over-all improvement program, because both may involve public financing. That the Commission is alert to the importance of these matters was evident from the remarks of its various members at the Monday evening meeting.

Aside from these broad subjects involving village financial policy, the Commission instructed Chief of Police Joseph E. Denton to disregard an "understanding" between the commission in office several years ago and an owner of a local pool room, under which boys under 17 years of age were permitted to enter the poolroom for meals. This has led to loitering which concerns local school authorities and police. The present commission, when made aware of the unwritten "understanding," promptly passed a resolution made by Commissioner Eaton and supported by Commissioner Peters, instructing Chief Denton to enforce the state law which prohibits boys under 17 from entering or loitering in any local poolroom.

These, and several lesser matters that are covered in the Record's news columns this week, are typical of the problems that come up at every commission meeting. Subjects requiring further study are apportioned out to individual members for investigation between meetings, so it is not just on the evenings that the Commission holds its public meeting that its members work for the Village.

We repeat our statement last week that the Village gets far more from its elected officials than it is entitled to receive for the $100 per year it pays them. Any candidate for the office of Village President, or Village Commissioner, should be endowed with a high sense of civic pride and an understanding of the necessity of devoting a lot of time to the job. Election to office must be regarded by the individual elected, as not only an honor, but also as an obligation to give his best efforts to the performance of his duties. The same is true, of course, in the cases of other elected officers.

After 46 years of standing behind a barber chair, Lee Shipley takes a chair himself for a few minutes. Shipley, popular Northville barber, will observe his 46th anniversary in the business on Wednesday, March 12.

Lee Shipley Still Clippin' and Cuttin' After Forty-Six Years of Barbering

Lee Shipley has barbered and shaved a good many customers in his time. There have been thousands, but he can't recall how many.

The popular Northville barber will celebrate his 46th year in business on Wednesday, March 12. Twenty-one of those years have been in the same shop at 116 North Center street. All but six months in Salem and a year in Detroit have been spent here in Northville, where he first learned the business in 1906. Lee has worked for himself almost all that time.

"There was no apprenticeship when I started," said Lee. "You just got someone to teach you and started cutting hair and shaving customers. After two years, you could apply to the state for a license."

"Elroy Murdock, father of Mrs. Harry Wagenschütz, taught me to barber," Lee continued. "I was 16. I used to make $9.00 for 72 hours of work a week."

Lee, who is an energetic 63, said the working days used to be a lot longer than now. "We'd work all day and all evening, and about 11 on Saturday nights we'd have to shave and barber the merchants and clerks and saloon keepers who stayed open 'til then."

"Most of Saturday was spent shaving farmers who came to town to shop," Lee commented. "We didn't do much hair cutting that day."

Electric clippers came in about 1920, and helped some, although

Detroit Edison Open House March 7 to Demonstrate Good Home Lighting

How good home lighting can literally be tape-measured will be the attraction at an Open House at Detroit Edison's Northville office, all day Friday, March 7. The public is invited.

Typical home activity centers—kitchen, dining room, study desk—will be displayed. How they can be light conditioned will be shown by actually measuring height of portable lamps and their distance from points of attention.

Visitors will be able to study the displays, and will be given a booklet with which they will be able to check their own home lighting to see how it can be improved to meet modern lighting standards.

Probably a light-meter is the most accurate means for measuring correct lighting. But a meter is seldom available to the average homeowner. Most homes do have tape-measure or yardstick, and a practical, rule-of-thumb method of using these common household tools for judging levels of illumination has been devised. The displays and the booklet will show how to use this measuring method in different rooms and for different tasks.

Since good design and construction of portable lamps and permanent fixtures is an important part of light conditioning the home, the Open House displays will also suggest the right types of such units to buy. Many of Detroit's lighting fixture and lamp dealers are cooperating in this program of showing homeowners how to take the guesswork out of home illumination. These retailers have set up their own "Light Conditioning Centers" in which they display fixtures and lamps of good design. They are quickly identified since they usually carry a yellow-and-gray light conditioning seal.

"Modern life, with its never-ending demands on a person's eyes, and these dark winter days, make it doubly necessary to protect eyes from overstrain. The way to do it is to see to it that the right light—placed so as to be glare-free—is in every room in the house."

"We can show anyone a good way to do this just using a tape measure, in our Light Conditioning Center," was the statement of Harry Wagenschütz, manager of Edison's Northville office.

There is, of course, no obligation to buy anything. In fact, Detroit Edison does not sell lighting fixtures or lamps. We are chiefly concerned in helping people conserve eyesight—in helping them to make the most efficient use of the electricity they buy from us," Mr. Wagenschütz concluded.

The Edison Open House at the Northville office will continue from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Edison Home Service Advisors will be ready to talk individual lighting problems with any homeowner who drops in during these hours. There will be free souvenirs for the whole family—Mom, Pop and the Kids. In addition a valuable door prize will be awarded.

Minstrels to Perform Thurs., Fri. Nights

Tonight, Thursday, March 6, the curtain will rise on the first performance of the Minstrel show presented by one of the fifth grade classes of Northville Grade school. The 8 p.m. show by Miss Margaret DeKett's students will be held in the auditorium of the Northville High school.

A second show will be given Friday, March 7, to help add more money to the Lansing trip fund. The class has so far earned $202 of the $300 needed to take the plane trip to Michigan's capital.

Miss Eleanor Peeke is assisting with the music for the production with art work assistance from Mrs. Virginia Black.

Tickets may be purchased from the fifth graders as well as at the door on the night of the show.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Sam Pickard who left us one year ago, March 4:
The shock was sudden,
The pain severe
We little thought such grief was near.
Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our eyes shed many a tear
God alone knows how we miss you,
As this ends the first sad year
Remembered and sadly missed

Northville Artists Give Show, Reception - -

Northville connoisseurs of the arts will have no need to travel to exhibits in New York's Greenwich Village or the eastern seaboard colonies. The nucleus of a Northville artist colony is developing in our own village under the guidance of Mrs. Donald Sober.

On Sunday, a 10-man showing of oil landscapes, still-life and portraits created by the art students of Mrs. Sober was held at the Sober studio on Sheldon road. Following an eight-week course in oil painting, the village guests were invited to a reception to view the works.

The finished products showed not only the individuality of each painter in the interpretation of the subjects and the blending of the oils, but it was evident also in the framing of the canvases. Unfinished frames were treated with a jesso, water and paint mixture to accent or blend with each work.

Novice Artists Display

While many of the students have either taken previous work with Mrs. Sober or other artists, the still-life shown by Mrs. Richard Keen of North Rogers street, presented an excellent example of the ability of a first-time painter. Her interpretation of the red geranium and lemon model brought to life the velvet texture of the leaves and flowers of the plant. Mrs. C. W. Rodgers, who lives on Baseline road, gave her version of the same arrangement for her first showing.

The first attempts of Ingeborg Rothenpieler, one of the German exchange students spending the school year in Northville, brought forth evidence of a natural touch and the color sense characteristic of the French painters, Mrs. Sober commented. Though only her still-life was on exhibit, Ingeborg is interpreting in oil a photograph of a German landscape.

Young-Old Take Course

Harvey Whipple of West Main street, in his still-life painting, bore out the belief of artists that hidden artistic talent can be developed to good avail without regard to the person's age. The younger generation has been taking advantage of the course, also. The tropical fish painted by David Severance of Novi avenue showed the use of unadorned color.

The soft pastel tones of the floral arrangement of iris, snapdragons and carnations was brought out in N. W. Hopkins' interpretation of the subject. Also in the Sunday showing was John Hopkins' version of the same still-life subject along with the oil portrait of his two-year-old niece, Susan.

Portraits, Landscapes Shown

Because of the likeness of Mrs. Carl Johnson's landscape to the works of "Grandma Moses," the name "Grandma Johnson" was in common use before the afternoon reception ended. The scene depicts the logging operations at the Oscoda camp of the artist's father. The density of the northern pine forests was strikingly shown in another of her oil paintings. Contrary to the belief of the reception guests, Mrs. Johnson has had training only for the past year.

The three, and a half-year old daughter of Mrs. W. B. Crump, of Church street, inspired the oil portrait which she exhibited. Not only Connie's portrait but also the still-life painted during the fall class was shown. Mrs. Crump has had previous work in arts as she is the holder of a Bachelor of Arts degree from Wayne university. Also exhibiting her interpretation of the Italian pottery-copper teakettle combination used as a model in the fall session, was Mrs. R. G. Westerstrom. The view of Haller's barn as seen from Cass Benton park which Mrs. Westerstrom exhibited, shows a great deal of feeling, the instructor remarked.

Mrs. McColl to Give Garden Book Talk

Mrs. J. R. McColl will read excerpts from "The Joyful Gardener" at the Friday meeting of the Northville Woman's club. The meeting at the Village library will begin at 2:30 p.m.

As were many of the paintings, this landscape was created in the artists' spare time and brought to the class for criticism. Anita, Karen and Mary Westerstrom sat for their portraits during the last class sessions. In one picture, the two younger girls were painted by their mother while seven year old Mary served as the model for a separate oil portrait.

A beginners class in drawing and painting will be started at request, Mrs. Sober announced, and advanced pupils will be attending another class in April. The April class will deal with the study of the Old Masters and the use of short strokes and pure colors in their works.

Benjamin Franklin's Proposal

When the framers of the American constitution were in a maze of difficulty Franklin said, "How has it happened, sir, that we have not hitherto once thought of applying to the Father of Light to illuminate our understandings? I have lived, sir, a long time, and the longer I live the more convincing proofs I see of this truth, that God governs in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid? We have heard assured, sir, in the Sacred Writings, that 'except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it.' I firmly believe this, and I also believe that without His concurring aid we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel; we shall be divided by our little, partial, local interests, our project will be confounded, and we ourselves shall become a reproach and a by-word down to future ages. And, what is worse, mankind may hereafter from this unfortunate instance, despair of establishing government by human wisdom and leave it to chance, war, conquest. I therefore beg leave to move: That hereafter prayers, imploring the assistance of Heaven and its blessings on our deliberations, be held in this Assembly every morning before we proceed to business."

Michigan Anglers Top License List

Michigan continued to lead all states in issuance of fishing licenses, selling 1,089,864 resident and non-resident permits during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951.

The total represent 39,108 more licenses than were sold the previous year, plus $68,777 more in revenue. Michigan collected $2,077,084 for angling permits, ranking just behind California with a total of $2,516,352.

For an overall picture, the 48 states sold 15,337,753 licenses for a gross revenue of $34,618,323, higher than in any previous year, according to the Fish and Wildlife Service.

States with the largest non-resident fishing crowds were Wisconsin, more than 282,000 permits; Minnesota, more than 280,000; Michigan, more than 269,000, and Tennessee, with more than 189,000.

For the first time, in monthly agent reports, deer licenses ran slightly ahead of those in 1951 comparative periods. Total is 355,524 resident licenses as compared with 355,000 of the 1950 licenses on the books last year at this time. The 1950 final total of 379,375 proved to be a record.

Department pre-season deer hunting forecast last fall indicated possibly a few more hunters would be out, but field reports during the actual November season, and after it, suggested the opposite.

The department was able to report a record 1951 bow hunting force. Latest tabulation has pushed the record up to 18,659 resident bowmen and 1,067 non-resident Robinhoods. The previous high, in 1950, was 14,781 residents and 749 non-residents.

Spring is due for an official arrival earlier than last year. The official date and time is 11:14 a.m. on Thursday, March 20, according to Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan.

This is nearly three-fourths of a day earlier than in 1951 when spring arrived at 5:26 a.m. March 21. The earlier date is due to the extra leap year day in February.

BRIGHTON - Several anglers have licked the access problem by flying in and landing on Bishop lake ice at the conservation department state recreation area here.

William H. Maybury San. Receives Approval of College
William H. Maybury sanatorium, Northville, has been given approval by the American College of Surgeons, according to the March, 1952, Bulletin of the College. The bulletin rating also indicated that Maybury is approved for residences or fellowships by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals, American Medical Association.
The 840-bed tuberculosis sanatorium, which is owned by the city of Detroit, is controlled by the Board of Health with Dr. W. Leonard Howard of Eight Mile road, as head doctor.
The survey list made up as of December 31, 1951, included 4,111 hospitals of 25 or more beds, of which 81.5 percent were approved. Every hospital under survey is reconsidered for approval each year. The point rating system is employed in the surveys to give separate evaluation for each hospital department and service.
The fundamental principles on which the approval is based includes: (1) modern physical plant; (2) clearly defined organization; (3) carefully selected governing board; (4) competent chief executive officer; (5) adequate efficient personnel; (6) organized medical staff; (7) accurate, complete medical records, and (8) regular group conferences of the administrative staff and the medical staff.
As of June 30, 1952, the program of maintaining the standards of the nation's hospitals will be transferred to a joint commission on Hospital Accreditation. This will be composed of representatives from the College, the American College of Physicians, the American Medical Association, the American Hospital Association and the Canadian Medical Association.
With the 1951 survey, the American College of Surgeons completed 35 years of primary responsibility for establishing and maintaining the standards of nation's hospitals.

Call out the Reserves with a touch of your toe!

Most cars lead a double life. A good part of the time, they're running errands, taking children to school, taking women to stores, taking men to work, taking family and friends to clubs and social functions. It doesn't call for a very great output of horsepower for duties like these.

But there are times when you want a car that can do vastly more, and these are the times when you'll want what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

Beneath its proud hood, there's a Fireball 8 Engine—a valve-in-head that can let loose 170 lively horsepower when needed.

And—alongside this engine—there's also an Airpower carburetor which thriflily feeds fuel and air through two smaller-than-usual barrels for normal driving—which means that you now use less gas at 40 than you'd formerly use at 30.

But there are two barrels in reserve—waiting for you to call them into action—and they let loose a soaring rush of power that sinks your shoulders back into the seat cushion, swoops you past a truck—out of a tight spot—up a hill—sets your speedometer needle to registering added miles more than twice as fast as your watch can tick off the seconds.

This is an experience you certainly should know firsthand.

You should also know how Buick's Power Steering* provides a helping hand in slow-motion maneuvers—lets you keep the "feel" of the car in straightaway driving.

And just for good measure, this '52 ROADMASTER also has the biggest brakes of any postwar Buick—the greatest trunk space since spare tires moved off the front fenders—a warning light that glows when the parking brake is set—and to top it all, the smartest interior fabrics that Buick has ever offered.

When are you coming in to look this distinguished performer over? We urge you to make it soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.
*Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER only.
