Effective May 1, however, the price of a one-year subscription will be $2.50, two-years, $4.50 and six months, $1.75. Single copies will sell for 7

Subscriptions outside of Michigan will be priced at $3.00 for one year and $5.00 for two years.

Until May 1 the Record will accept new subscriptions and extensions of existing subscriptions for one and two years at present rates.

Factors Considered In Setting Up Northville Budget for 1952-53

$107,400 $129,770 $351,000

The budget for the Village of Northville for the 1952-53 fiscal year was arrived at after giving serious consideration to the Village's probable construction of a Community Building, acquisition and surfacing of additional parking lots and paving of Village streets at an accelerated rate, Finance Committee Chairman John F Stubenvoll pointed out in submitting the proposed budget.

It contemplates the use of approximately $182,000 that will be on hand at the end of the coming racing season for starting construction of the Community Building, with additional funds to be obtained through a general obligation

The budget also assumes that additional parking lot sites will be acquired during the year, and that their purchase and surfacing will be financed through a revenue bond issue to be repaid from future parking meter receipts without cost to the taxpayers.

Stubenvoll pointed out that should the Village vote to incorporate as a city, its "take" from pari-mutuel receipts at Northville Downs will greatly augment the $20,000 per year which has been received to date from Northville Downs. Under such circumstances, the entire Village paving program might be completed in five or six years, Stubenvoll

We don't usually go around telling war stories because, by the time we're through, some one up and tells us we're a couple of wars too late, and once an old codger tells us, his pappy tells him the story and the war was the revolution and the story teller supposedly was a general with the initials of G. W.

But we like this one so: a couple of medics in Korea were discussing a G. I. that picks up a couple of bullets here and there and spends plenty of time in a base hospital. On his feet again, one of the medics figures the soldier should be going 'stateside' on leave, but the other tells him the guy is on the way back to the front lines.

"What", yelps one medic, "with all those bullet holes he should be going home, not back in the lines"

"I know", agrees his friend, "but this particular Joe figures he knows the guy that shoots him!"

Come to think of it, with spring all handy, it's time for a complete lubrication, including the rear-end and a wheel pack. That car of yours can stand a little "sulphur and molasses" treatment too in the guise of a motor tune-up. It's taken a rugged beating this winter, so why drive a second rate car, when our expert me-chanics can put it in first class condition, so quickly and so economically.

That's that, except we hereby announce we're not a can-didate for President. We spend much time being pleased with everything that's good about this country of ours, we forget a politician must know everything that's wrong with

You Can't Cheat An Honest Man!

Out of the hundreds of pieces of mail that come to the desk of even a small town editor, there occasionally is one that is so striking that it cannot be forgotten. Such was an editorial which we received three months ago, carrying the title: "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man". It was written by Fred G. Clark and Richard Stanton Rimanoczy, of the American Economic Foundation, who, in our opinion are among the country's top down-to-earth economists.

come to look to the government in Washington to do for them what they should be anxious to do for themselves, that may be desirable when the major political parties stability. start leveling a barrage of election year promises at the American public. It read:

"The greatest asset of swindlers and confidence men is the desire of their victims to benefit themselves by taking advantage of opportunities such as, 'The owner must sell this valuable diamond immediately for whatever he

"Most of the victims of swindlers do not consider themselves dishonest: they are simply being smart and not slamming the door on Lady Luck.

"But when they find that they have been cheated, they howl to high heaven for justice.

"Similarly, the greatest asset of the political leaders who would swindle the citizens out of their constitutional freedoms is the desire of most citizens to benefit themselves by taking advantage of an opportunity to be one of a privileged group that receives special financial help; from the Government.

"Most of these citizens do not consider themselves dishonest, even though they know in their hearts that they are getting something for nothing at the expense of somebody else: the spark of larceny that lurks in most hearts tells them they rightly deserve the special privilege which the political swindler assured them should be

"And once this special privilege is gained, it tends to become in the minds of those enjoying it something that they cannot get along without.

"They will, therefore, support politically the people who promise to keep it coming.

"The real test of a citizen's character comes later when he has to choose between giving up this privilege or giving up some of his freedom in order to keep the special privilege. ....

From now until election day next November, the American public will be deluged by campaign promises made by leaders of both political parties. Many of these promises will be made either directly or indirectly in terms of security for the individual, or special privilege for selected groups.

Unfortunately, millions of younger voters have grown to maturity during an era in which the powers of our national government have grown to unprecedented proportions at the expense of individual freedom and initiative. Most of them have been educated to believe that security is something that can be achieved by Congressional action. The same is true of a great many older men and women who, in their hearts, must know that the dent of the council for two terms Children with speech, heart, vissecurity promised by politicians is only a mirage without of two years each. She is also a ual and hearing impairments are substance.

Until the party platforms have been adopted, there is, of course, no way of separating the wheat from the chaff. Let us hope, however, that they will be worded clearly enough so voters who think for themselves will be able to distinguish their own and the country's best Inflation which robs the people and saps the life blood of the nation, to most Americans, has always been a catastrophe occurring only in backward and distant lands foredoomed by a paucity of natural wealth. We have prided ourselves on the supremacy of the mighty U.S. dollar; entitled to its regal position by vast resources in raw materials and skills, a guaranteed inoculation against the disease of inflation which has toppled the greatest states in history.

THE EMPTY TOMB

How do I know that the Christian religion is the Truth? Has that question ever crossed your mind? I'm sure it has if you have given matter at all. Well, friend, the empty tomb after the third day is God's proof to you that Jesus Christs was all Christs was all that He claimed to be and that all He taught was true. In Matt. 12 read about the Pharisees desiring a sign from Him. He replied no sign would be given except the Sign of Jonah the prophet. Like as Jonah was in the stomach of the whale 3 days and 3 nights so He would be in the heart of the earth 3 days and 3 nights. In this and other passages He foretold His own resurrection. What religion that ever exist-ed can equal this Champion of the Christian faith? The resur-rection of Jesus Christ is one of the surest facts of History and should lead you to serious consideration of the Truth set forth by Christianity. After all, such a miracle should not an, such a infracte should not be passed by without investigation. If you have a Bible handy, would you begin reading the Gospel of John, praying that God would open your tree to His Truth? eves to His Truth?
