

As usual, our columns this week are filled with news and views about village affairs — the pros and cons of becoming a city, enforcement of traffic ordinances, successful operation of community centers in neighboring villages, etc.

Is It Nonsense?—We emphasize such things because we are definitely interested in Northville becoming the best place in Michigan to live. Probably some old timers and many others here feel that it already is that kind of place, and that all the fuss about so-called civic improvements is nonsense. Maybe it is. Perhaps we are foolish to wish for progress, according to our definition of the word. Wouldn't it be better, we sometimes wonder, to follow the example of Franklin Village and become "the town that time forgot"?

Back to the Indians—This idea isn't too far fetched. It might even add to the beauty of our village for then we could go back to one charming "general store" and the cider mill over on Baseline Rd. Our corner at Center and Main, with its vacant hole yawning at visitors like a toothless old man, could be graded and beautified. The other stores along Main and Center streets, mostly built at the turn of the century or before, could be torn down and both streets made into boulevards. The township's Gerald Ave. section would still be hidden from the eyes of those who don't like to face reality. Perhaps it might even be feasible to abandon the present village government entirely and become just a part of the township. In this case our taxes would become almost nil and all of us would have a lot more money to spend in the stores of "progressive" cities around us — Plymouth, Farmington, South Lyon.

Big City Competition—We might even drive down to the J. L. Hudson Company's multi-million dollar shopping center at 9 Mile and Greenfield, or to the nearer $5,000,000 Leoni department store center that is to be erected in the next five years, both of which are going to offer pretty stiff competition to those local merchants who may want to stay in business instead of giving the village back to nature.

Let's Go Fishing—Life could be much simpler for us if we were to quit promoting civic improvements that we think would make Northville an even more desirable place to live. Perhaps we could even take a couple days off to go fishing.

Some day we may try the easier course????

Truckers Are Cooperating—Mayor Langfield dropped in Tuesday feeling quite happy that the trucking situation has improved through voluntary cooperation of drivers and gravel pit operators, as well as quick response by the Wayne County Road Commission to the village's request for additional speed limit signs and the new stop light at Fairbrook and Rogers.

We agree with him that the truckers themselves can do a lot to lower the blood pressure of those villagers who don't like them and that, generally speaking, they are a group of responsible business men who haul gravel over our village streets not through preference but by necessity. Self-policing on their part to hold down speeds and excessive engine noise due to defective mufflers while passing through the village would go a long way toward building up goodwill in Northville. And if they were to voluntarily return to the pits via 6-Mile and Beck, thereby eliminating half of their traffic through town, they would really earn the approbation of almost every resident, even those living along the principal truck routes.

Better Public Relations Needed—These things should, of course, be publicized by the drivers and pit operators, in an educational program to let villagers know their problems and what they are doing to solve them. The truckers need a good public relations man more than any other thing.

Enforcement and Cooperation Is Truck Speed Formula

Strict enforcement of local traffic ordinances against both trucks and passenger cars, erection of more speed signs, and a cooperative effort by gravel pit operators and truckers to minimize the objectionable features of hauling gravel through the village, is the answer of the village commission to the complaint by some 60 residents two weeks ago that gravel trucks are a public nuisance which should be forced off village streets.

This was decided by the full village commission Monday evening, after being told by village attorney James E. Littell that the state motor vehicle code makes it impossible

Owen Moves from Downs to MRA

Orlow G. Owen, associated with Northville Downs harness racing since 1944, resigned as operational manager July 17 to assume the same job with the Wolverine Raceway at the MRA.

John J. Carlo, executive manager of Northville Downs, has taken over Owen's duties for the remainder of the Northville meet.

Four years ago, Owen moved up from his position as public address announcer at the Downs to his executive job, which he left only three weeks before the end of the Northville meet Aug. 9.

Mr. Owen will join the new management of the Wolverine Raceway which is preparing to open a 34-night season on Monday, Aug. 11. The new operation is headed by Fred Van Lennep and Don McFarland, who recently purchased the raceway from an Eastern syndicate represented by Alvin Weil.

Pursell, Page Win in Detroit News Tennis Tourney

A Northville girl and a Plymouth boy emerged as victors in preliminary matches of the women's and men's divisions of the Detroit News novice tennis tournament July 18.

Both drew byes for yesterday's semi-final matches at Farwell Park, East Outer Dr. and Sunset Blvd., and were slated to play winners of other matches at 5 p.m. The finals of the tournament will be played at the same park Sunday at 2 p.m.

Winners and Runners-Up—Carl Pursell and Ronald Krump both of Plymouth, placed one-two in the men's division, and Joan Page and June King, both of Northville, were winner and runner-up respectively in the women's division.

The News Novice was started in 1933 and continued through 1941. It was revived this year at the suggestion of William Clay Ford who is serving as a co-sponsor of the meet together with The News and Detroit Parks and Recreation Patrons Tennis Association.

Medals and trophies were presented to better finalists and other awards will be made to Sunday's winners and runners-up.

Competition was limited to those players who have never reached the quarter finals in any tennis tournament and ruled out those who have received high school or college tennis letters.

Only One Alternative

Littell's opinion left the commission with only one alternative—to enforce existing traffic laws impartially against both trucks and passenger car drivers, and to rely upon the public relations sense of the pit operators and responsible truckers to hold down the speed of trucks passing through the village and avoid excessive noise from defective mufflers.

Village president Conrad E. Langfield remarked that trucks have definitely slowed down since the mass complaint two weeks ago. He said he has been assured by the gravel pit operators and by many truckers personally that they will use the village's streets with discretion and try to avoid antagonizing residents living along the principal truck routes.

Beck Road Route—Commissioner Alton Peters pointed out with reference to the alternate route via Beck Road and 6-Mile proposed by the protesting citizens two weeks ago that the larger truck-trailers cannot make the up-hill turn on to 6-Mile Rd. after observing the "stop" sign where Beck intersects. He expressed the opinion, however, that half of the present truck traffic over village streets could be eliminated if empty trucks returning

Post Office Gets New Delivery Truck

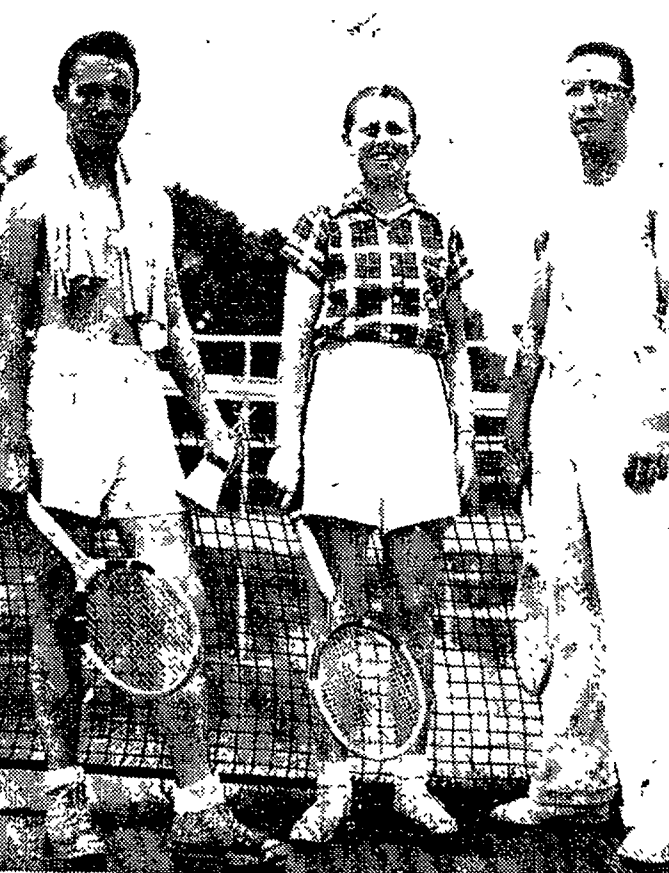

Arthur Schutte, of the Northville post office, lost his lease with the United States Government Post Office Tuesday.

The local post office has been using his truck, the familiar red panel job, for deliveries around the village and rural routes, on a lease agreement with the U. S. Government.

Tuesday the government delivered a new green Dodge half-ton panel to replace Art's truck, so now a red panel delivery truck is on the block for sale.

Carl Pursell (left), of Plymouth, was finalist in preliminary matches of the Detroit News Novice Tennis Tournament held July 18. June King (center), of Northville, was runner-up in the women's division and Ronald Krump was runner-up in the men's division. Joan Page, of Northville, women's winner, was not available after the match for the photograph.

Fenton's Community Center - - Focal Point of Activities

Fenton's Community Center, built in 1937 with $200,000 donated by the Rackham Fund, was intended for adults almost exclusively. Now it takes care of so many youth groups, too, that it is no longer able to meet all community needs.

Fenton Knows Value of Community Center

by Taylor Ball

Fenton's Community Center, built in 1937 with $200,000 donated by the Horace H. and Mary Rackham fund. Originally it was designed for adult use only, but over the years Fenton's need for a youth center has become so great that it now serves the village's boys and girls as much as it does grown-ups.

Says N. H. Chesnut, the Community Center's director: "Our Community Center has served as the nerve center of social, civic and educational activities from the day it was completed. So great has been the need for its facilities that others which are part of the high school, the village hall and the Consumers Power Co. have had to take care of overflow demand which it could not meet."

Fenton, Northville Similar

Fenton's population is approximately 4,500; Northville's is about 3,500. Fenton received its Community Center funds at one time and was able to build when costs were much lower than they are today. The building constructed then would cost about $500,000 now. Mr. Chesnut states this would compare with the $500,000 plus cost of the proposed Northville Community Building when it was to include high school gymnasium, auditorium and cafeteria facilities, new village offices and a village jail as well as strictly "community" areas for meetings, recreation, etc.

The Center is controlled by a Board of Governors responsible to the Rackham Foundation, which has established a trust fund of $135,000. The contribution to the Center each year is about $4,000. Under organization now is a permanent committee composed of representatives from a cross section of the village's civic, service, governmental and school groups which is to study the meeting problems of youth and adult groups and recommend immediate and long range solutions to the village council and Board of Governors of the Center.

Construction of a community building in any small village or city, in Mr. Chesnut's opinion, should be tied in with the school system, unless the community has enough money to pay for both a community center and new school buildings. This was the plan for Northville, too, until the Village Commission got the idea of including new village offices and a jail, and total cost soared to an impractical figure.

Save on Expenses

"It makes sense to me," he stated, "to save part of the expense of a separate community building by adding to existing school facilities and working out an agreement among all groups wanting to use the building." Cost of operating the Fenton Community Center runs around $10,000 annually, including approximately $2,000 for a paid director and $2,500 for janitor services. Its revenues run slightly in excess of expenses and have resulted in a small surplus ($5,000 plus) being built up over

The three-hour film will be shown three times on Sunday, July 27—at 2:00, 5:00 and 8:00 p.m.; once each week night at 7:30 p.m., and twice on Saturday, Aug. 2, at 4:30 and 7:30 p.m.

The movie has had a record run in the Detroit and Ann Arbor areas at advanced admission prices. Patrons are urged by Miss Wilson to take advantage of the Saturday and Sunday showings to avoid the crowds expected during the week.

"What Is the Law?"--Answer To Guide Formation of City

The Northville village commission, Monday evening, directed James E. Littell, village attorney, to seek an official opinion from the state attorney general to clear up ambiguities in the law governing incorporation of the village as a city.

Pending receipt of such an opinion, the committee on city incorporation will refrain from circulation of petitions calling for an election to vote on the matter.

Dr. L. W. Snow, chairman, expressed the hope that the attorney general's ruling will be made promptly so petitions can be circulated in August.

Proposal Called Illegal

The discussion was punctuated by charges by Mr. A. E. Northup, director of the Northville Township Improvement Association, that the entire proposal to incorporate as a city is illegal and a threat by him of court action to invalidate whatever may be done.

At one time in the discussion concerning inclusion of areas not now in the village, Commissioner Claude Ely moved that the City Incorporation Committee be instructed to make the new city boundaries identical with those of the present village. There was no support for the motion, however.

Dr. Snow's Report

Decision to seek advice from the attorney general was made by the village commission after receiving a report from Dr. Snow on what the city incorporation committee has accomplished to date, and an analysis of the existing statute governing creation of home rule cities by the village attorney.

The committee's report stressed the need for expert legal advice on procedure because of the threat of action by residents of Novi township to block inclusion of land in that township that is not now included in the village boundaries.

Legal Ambiguities

It also pointed to the fact that there has been no judicial interpretation of parts of the act relating to incorporation of a village like Northville, whose territory lies in two townships located in different counties (An attorney general ruled several years ago that Milan, Michigan, situated in both Washtenaw and Monroe counties, could not become a city. In an informal verbal opinion given to Dr. Snow and Philip R. Ogilvie, a deputy attorney general held within the past month that a city can be formed even if its territorial boundaries lie in two counties.)

Dr. Snow told the village commission that because of the conflicting opinions and the existing uncertainty as to procedure, the city incorporation committee had decided to ask the commission for further authorization. The committee's report, in part, reads as follows:

Advantages of City

"The first few meetings were given to studying generalities concerning city incorporation, and its advantages over the village form of government. To become a city, the village simply withdraws from the township and assumes the legal duties performed by the township:

1. Assessing for county and school tax.
2. Collecting county and school tax.
3. Registration and conducting county, state and national elections.

Signal Promised for Novi Road, Railroad Crossing

Materials for a flashing-light signal at the C & O Railroad crossing at Novi Rd. have been on order since shortly after receipt of the Michigan Public Service Commission's order dated March 6, 1952, said M. M. Cronk, vice-president and general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co.

The letter was in answer to one written on July 9 by Edward M. Bogart, secretary of the Northville Rotary Club, which spearheaded an attempt by community organizations two years ago to have a flashing-signal installed at the crossing.

The death of Irving B. Gaffield in an auto-train collision June 21, re-kindled interest in the crossing, which the Northville organizations called dangerous because of lack of a warning device and the fact that trees partially obstruct the motorists' view of the tracks.

Mr. Cronk said that the Public Service Commission's order provided for installation of the signal within nine months of the date of the order.

"However," said Mr. Cronk's letter, "as you undoubtedly know there is a shortage of certain essential materials, the procurement of which, particularly steel, promises to be seriously affected by the present steel strike."

"We assure you as soon as these materials are available the installation will be made."

German Students Leave For Home

Northville's four "adopted" German students began the first leg of their journey home today after almost a year of living as Americans.

The students, Ingrid Haenzel, Ingeborg Rothenpieler, Ludwig Jagla and Charles Wursching, boarded buses in Dearborn bound for New York, where they'll sail tomorrow on the S.S. Independence, along with 70 other German students in the "Youth for Understanding" group which came to this country last July.

The program was sponsored by Rotary International in conjunction with the U.S. State Department, after the Clinton Rotary Club conceived the idea two years ago.

Lived With Foster Families—The students lived with Rotary "foster families" while in Northville, attended Northville high school and mingled in young people's activities, gaining an insight into the American way of life through living it.

Their attitude, summed up by Ingeborg: "They're faced with the mixed desires of wanting to stay in this country and wanting to see their families again. They like the democratic system and Northville's friendliness and impartiality."

The four students said farewell to their host, the Northville Rotary Club, at the club's meeting Tuesday noon. President Carl Johnson presented the girls with Elgin American compacts and the boys with pocket secretaries, all engraved with their names and the Rotary emblem, as souvenirs of their stay here.

All exchange students in the area, along with their foster parents, were guests of the Dearborn Rotary Club last night. They were welcomed to the United States last year by the same club.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Cummings:

Due to your request, I am giving my views as a resident of the Township outside the Village and also as a member of the present Township Board.

Our Township is in the unenviable position of being only half a Township and of having over 3,700 acres of tax exempt land in the Township. This is due to Wayne Co. Parkway, Wayne Co. Training School, Detroit House of Correction, Maybury San, and new State Mental Hospital which are all tax exempt.

I feel greatly disturbed over the proposed division of the Township by the changing of the Village of Northville to a city and also increasing their present boundaries. The unfair part of this is that the voters of the Township outside the Village, except that part of the Township which they propose to annex will have no voice in the election. Nevertheless that is the law.

I also feel that it is unfair to propose to annex the State Mental Hospital which is being done for the sole purpose of obtaining revenue in the near future at the Township's expense.

In regard to taxes, the Township rate is $1.07 per M assessed valuation. This is due and payable in December together with School and County tax which last year in the Village was $23.82 per M. The taxpayer will still have the same tax to pay in December less the Township tax of $1.07 per M which in this instance would be $22.75 per M. This will vary due to the School and County needs. Beside that, will also be the Village tax which this year is $16.30 per M. The people living in the portion of the Township which will be annexed will have to pay a Village tax instead of a Township tax which at present is $15.23 per M more plus whatever the School and County tax is and I doubt very much if they wish to be annexed.

The Township tax levy last year was $6,010.78 of which 93% was collected. Out of that amount the Township paid Wayne County $3,506.10 for patients at General Hospital at Eloise. All patients were from the Village. In 1950 the Township paid Wayne County for patients at General Hospital $3,859.15 of whom all but one were from the Village. In the event of Northville becoming a city they will assume that obligation themselves.

Regarding the cash the Township has on hand at present over 90% of that money is from sales tax and intangible tax which is distributed by the County Treasurer to Cities, Villages and Townships on a per capita basis. The Village receives sales tax and intangible tax based on per capita figure and the Township receives the same based on population in Township outside the Village. Tax on assessed valuation has no bearing on these monies whatever.

In view of the above explanation I can't see in all fairness where the Village has any basis for their claim of three quarters of the Township cash on hand.

It seems that the law regarding Villages incorporating into cities, which the State has enacted is very unfair to their Townships.

Roy M. Terrill,
 Township Treasurer

Roy M. Terrill,
 Township Treasurer

Mr. Terrill:
 Like you many persons hold that it is unfair that residents of the whole township should not have a vote on the question of incorporating additional land in the proposed city limits. (Only those in the area to be included can vote.) That, however, is the state law, written to safeguard the interest of villages desiring to incorporate as cities and requiring control over contiguous territory so future growth may be controlled wisely. Later, if a city desires to annex adjoining territory, it must have the consent of residents in such territory.

Proposed annexation of the State Mental Hospital is simply a revenue producing move designed to offset the liability attached to inclusion of the Gerald Ave section which Northville township has permitted to develop along lines that are extremely detrimental to the Village.

In view of the origin of the township's surplus, which comes from its per capita share of the state sales and intangible tax, which the Village has also received in proportion to its own population, we agree that the fairness of having to divide with the city is open to question. However, state law provides for this, and it will be interesting to see what the outcome is.

Speed Laws Came Before Automobiles

There were speed laws before there were automobiles and actually they are intended for protection and not just to form an excuse for making arrests. Justice of the Peace Edward M. Bogart said in commenting on the current state-wide campaign on speed control sponsored by the State Safety Commission.

"Speed laws, and other traffic laws," Judge Bogart stated, "are rules of safety which, if followed, prevent accidents and at the same time make motor travel easier."

First Speed Law

"The first speed law in this country was being enforced long before the motor vehicle was invented. It was passed in 1878 in the city of Newport, Rhode Island, when the citizens demanded action after a child was seriously injured by the hooves of a horse. The measure imposed a fine of five shillings upon horseback riders who galloped their horses within the city limits."

"Today there are more than three million licensed drivers in Michigan. Each of them accepted the responsibility of driving at a reasonable speed when granted a license. Those who disregard this responsibility are risking the loss of their privilege to drive. They are also risking their lives and the lives of others."

Each spring when I see the gardens flamboyant with oriental poppies I vow I shall have some in my garden — but I never do anything about it at the right time. NOW IS THE RIGHT TIME!

Nor should you be concerned about how well they will do in your garden because oriental poppies are among the sturdiest and most persistent growers. They are not fussy, and will thrive equally well in heavy and light, acid or alkaline soils. They will even bloom in partial shade.

How to Plant
 If you are fortunate enough to know a nurseryman who will dig you a large plant with long, fleshy roots, you may have a dozen or so blooming plants next spring. Strip the earth from the roots, and with a sharp knife, cut them into three inch lengths. Plant them perpendicularly, about five in a group, one foot apart, being careful to keep the original top end up. The tops should be covered with about one inch of soil and after planting should be kept well watered. The original plant with about three inches of root remaining may be used also. It will be just as vigorous next spring as though it had not been shorn of most of its root growth. (If preferred, the pieces of root may be planted first in pots of sandy loam and transplanted later to the garden.)

If you have old clumps in your garden and wish to increase your stock, do not hesitate to dig them and re-plant as above. They will come up twice as fine and healthy as they were before.

Among the better species are "Mrs. Perry", an apricot shape, and "Perry's white", a thrilling shimmering white with a blotch of crimson at the base of each petal. "Watermelon", a new deep pink, is also very popular.

Next spring, after your oriental poppies have stopped blooming, don't cover them with annuals so their leaves can't ripen properly.

Red Spider on Evergreens
 Red spider does much damage to evergreens at this time of year. Its presence is to be suspected when juniper and spruce trees turn rusty. Sulphur is a good remedy, but a strong stream from the hose several times each week will often keep the pests away.

Mites Thrive in Summer
 The last two summers have brought hordes of minute insects known as mites. They are tiny eight-legged insects, almost microscopic in size, which suck juices from the leaves of trees, plants and shrubs. Foliage of perennial phlox may look sickly due to this pest, which thrives especially in hot dry weather. Among the new and effective sprays for this pest are Aramite, Avolram and Dowspray 17.

CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

Of course this story might not be true in all details, but a customer tells it to us and we never one to doubt a customer especially a lady customer . . . at least not much. This lady and her husband were taking a bit of vacation and being tired the husband turns the car over to his wife, tells her to drive with the utmost caution and falls asleep. So the ever-loving wife carefully drives their V-8 Studebaker Land Cruiser along the highway, when directly ahead of her a freight train manages to leave the rails and strewn valuable railroad equipment over half a mile of scenery. The lady of course applies the brakes most vigorously and manages to stop just short of a defunct boxcar.

The noise, plus the sudden stop, awakens friend husband, who takes a horrified look at the tangled mess, turns to his wife and speaks as follows: "not bad Honey, not at all bad, even for you. But please tell me one thing: how did you ever manage to do it?"

Well, we've always maintained it's a pretty rugged car, this Studebaker of ours. Amazingly powerful too, with that new V-8 engine, to give you command of the road. You'll enjoy the ease of handling, the extra riding comfort and the many extra miles you'll get for every gallon of gasoline. There's really only one way to convince yourself of the finer qualities of the Studebaker. . . drive it yourself. Come in for a demonstration.

This tale, we'd ordinarily hold until fall, but with elections and all, we might forget it, and stories come too hard to go around forgetting any. A certain football hero was about to be tossed out of school for writing most of his exam off the paper of the youth in the next seat. The coach hears of the matter and dashes around, yelling, "frame-up!" and other such words. He maintains it's just coincidence that the two papers are so much alike, but finally subsidizes when the instructor puts these papers side by side. On the final question the student writes, "I'm sorry I don't know the answer to this." And the star's answer to the same question is . . . "me neither."

It just so happens that we have a lot of right answers around this establishment, all concerning the best method of getting the most out of your car. Why not bring it in for that tune-up . . . that lubrication . . . that change of oil it needs when the weather is so doggone much what it is. Our expert mechanics will give you back a car that sounds, feels and drives much better . . . do it now!

That's that, but they tell us the best way a girl can keep her youth is . . . not to introduce him to her friends.

Yours,
BILL and WILL PETZ.

Carpet Design Contest Popular

American tastes in carpet design are influenced by geography, nationality background, age and emotional experience.

Definite preferences as to color and type of pattern are noted in connection with the Fleishman International Carpet Design Competition sponsored by the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Arthur Fleishman Carpet Company of Detroit which offers $2,100 in prizes for new designs submitted by January 1, 1953.

Tastes Are Varied

The survey shows that tastes are varied enough to give rein to the imagination of artists, homemakers, architects and designers submitting patterns in the competition. Requests for entry forms already have been received from every continent.

The Midwest leans toward neutral tones, the usually staid East demands brighter colors, and the far west and south prefer designs which are casual and give the impression of bringing the outdoors inside.

Though industrialism has an effect on carpet choice, as evidenced by Pittsburgh's heavy buying of reds and wines which do not show soil, Detroit, also highly industrial, buys light carpets three to one.

Fifty percent of the carpets sold in Detroit are grey or light beige, while the remaining 50 percent are light green, cinnamon brown, rose, dark green, cocoa brown and blue, in that order.

The general, country-wide trend is toward quiet colors and subtle patterns which have the relaxing effect needed with the fast tempo of daily life.

Using Detroit, with its large cross-section of nationalities as a proving ground, it's noted that buyers of foreign extraction prefer gay floral patterns, while the second generation tends toward more subdued floor coverings.

Young People's Choice

Younger people pay more attention to interesting textures—deep loops or twists—and tend to choose one-color carpets, while the middle and older group chooses two-tone designs and subtle, sculptured patterns, he said.

The amount of money a person has does not affect his choice of color and design, only the quality of the carpet he buys, as similar patterns may be selected in carpets of various qualities.

Emotional experiences can effect the individual reaction to both color and design.

Some persons see red when exposed to a red carpet while others find it pleasantly stimulating. Though green is generally considered restful, it may prove irritating to one who associates color with unpleasant memories. Similarly, where one person finds blue relaxing, it induces a feeling of melancholy in another.

With the carpet the dominating factor in a room, it is important that all who spend much time there find the color and pattern satisfactory. A pattern that carries the eye along in a swirling rhythm may be pleasant for one member of a family while it makes another dizzy.

The interest shown by artists, homemakers and manufacturers in the 1951 competition when 1200 designs were entered from 47 states and many inquiries came from abroad, induced the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Fleishman Carpet Company to make the 1953 competition international.

Unusual interest is being shown by Chinese, Indian and South American artists, as well as Europeans and Americans. Nearly 50 percent of the response is from outside the U.S., and entries have been received from all 48 states.

Originality, color harmony and practicability are the basis on which designs will be judged in January, 1953, by a panel of top authorities in the fields of art, interior decoration and design and carpet manufacture.

Contest Offers Opportunity

Dr. Edgar P. Richardson, director of Detroit Institute of Arts and chairman of the competition jury, said, "The contest not only offers an unusual opportunity for artists of promise to put talents to use in a practical field, but is also an important step in achieving the museum's function of encouraging excellence of design outside museum walls as well as within them."

Arrangements have been made to put the design winning first prize of $1,000 into immediate production and to manufacture as many others as possible. Top-ranking designs will be displayed in March, 1953, at the Detroit museum and then be sent on an international tour of museums.

Kural Family Gets Michigan Bell's Two Millionth Telephone!

Michigan Bell's two millionth telephone is placed in the farm home of Clifford and Sylvia Pond by installer William R. Muford. With telephone lines reaching out to more and more farms each year, 7 out of 10 rural establishments in Michigan now have telephone service compared with 3 out of 10 in 1915.

There were important goings-on last week at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pond of Holt, a pleasant and prosperous rural community near Lansing.

A telephone was installed in their home, a telephone inscribed with these words:

TWO MILLIONTH TELEPHONE
MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY
MR. AND MRS. CLIFFORD POND
HOLT, MICH., JULY 15, 1952

This telephone is an important new member of the Pond family. It unites Clifford and Sylvia Pond with their three daughters, five grandchildren and Mr. Pond's parents, all living in nearby communities within the same local telephone calling area.

While strengthening family ties, this two millionth telephone stands as a symbol of your telephone company's strength—the kind of strength needed to furnish a service that is essential to everyday life and vital to defense.

Hay Fever Sufferers May Find Relief

Hay fever sufferers can expect to find comparative relief from ragweed pollen in the northern third of Michigan's lower peninsula and in most of the Upper Peninsula.

A summary of the findings during the last five years the survey was conducted shows that 16 cities had an average of five days or less per year during which the pollen count reached 100 grains per cubic yard of air in a 24-hour period.

This is the point at which persons susceptible to hay fever usually show symptoms.

Lowest was Boyne City, which had an average of no days when pollen counts reached 100 grains per day. St. Ignace and Sault Ste. Marie averaged one day; Isle Royal, 2 days; Charlevoix, Houghton and Petoskey, 3 days; Alpena, Marquette and Rogers City, 4 days; Cheboygan, Gladwin, Mackinac Island, Munising, Newberry and Ontonagon, 5 days.

Fifteen other cities had an average season of from 6 to 10 days when pollen counts reached 100; Baldwin, Eagle Harbor, Frankfort, Ironwood and Manistique, 6 days; Crystal Falls, Escanabe, Grayling, Mackinaw City and Watersmeet, 7 days; Gaylord, 8 days; Cadillac and Roscommon, 9 days; and Ludington and Powers, 10 days.

Those having the longest seasons of heavy pollen concentration were Coldwater, 33 days; Sturgis, 30 days; Grand Rapids, 28 days; Saginaw, 27 days; Battle Creek and Lansing, 26 days; Midland and Mt. Clemens, 25 days; Flint, 24 days; Benton Harbor, Jackson and South Haven, 23 days; Eloise and Hillsdale, 22 days; and Bay City, 21 days.

Ragweed begins to pollinate in Michigan about mid-July, but it is not until mid-August that the concentration reaches 100 grains per cubic yard of air per day in any part of the state.

It is estimated that about 95 per cent of hay fever in Michigan is caused by ragweed pollen. Copies of "Ragweed in Michigan," containing a detailed map and table showing average pollen concentrations in 62 locations over the five-year period, is available without charge from the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4.

Christian Science Churches
Christ Jesus taught that freedom comes from understanding truth. This is emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 27.
The Golden Text is from I John (5:6): "It is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth."

The fall campout will be carried out on a Community basis, he said.
Upon recommendation by Executive Arthur Henry and Ted Kuckelman, district chairman, the Executive Board members are looking for new sponsors for Scout troops in the district since the list of eligible youth has become too great for the service facilities now available.

Best Sellers from New York Times List Available at Northville Branch Library

During this hot, hot weather there's only one way to keep cool—if we're unlucky enough to be miles away from a lake—and that's to just sit still and read a good book. And you might as well read a best seller, says Miss Rhea Lyon, librarian at the Northville branch of the Wayne County Library.

Eleven out of the 16 fiction best sellers published recently in a listing in The New York Times Book Review section, can be found in the local library.

The listing was compiled after an analysis based on reports from leading book sellers in 36 cities had been made.

Miss Lyon states that the following books from the list can be borrowed from the Northville branch: "My Cousin Rachel" by du Maurier, "The Caine Mutiny" by Wouk, "The Gown of Glory" by Turnbull, "Lieutenant Hornblower" by Forester, "The Saracen Blade" by Verby, "The Swimming Pool" by Rinehart, "The Son of Adam Wyngate" by O'Hara, "Hidden Flower" by Buck, "Hold Back the Night" by Plank, "The President's Lady" by Stone and "East Side Gaiety" by Slaughter.

The general reading list also included books that are available in the village. They are: "The Sea Around Us" by Carson; "Mr. President" by Hillman; "Adventure in Two Worlds" by Cronin; "Elizabeth, the Queen" by Crawford and "Through Charles's Door" by Kimbrough.

Books from the main library were received on Tuesday of this week, said Miss Lyon. Many of the books in this allotment were for the children and for the mystery story reader, she commented.

Mother-Child Swim Set for Tomorrow

When the bus leaves for Kent Lake tomorrow, Friday, July 25, it will be filled not only with youngsters eager for a swim but the mothers of boys and girls eight years old and under have been invited for the morning.

The bus will leave the Northville High School at 9:30 a.m. and return at 12:30 p.m. after a free swim, said Wilson Funk, recreation director.

Wallace-Hopkins Repeat Marriage Vows

Three hundred guests witnessed the double ring service on Friday evening, July 19, which united Jeanette A. Wallace and John M. Hopkins in marriage. The altar of the Ypsilanti Presbyterian church was banked with white gladioli and palms for the 7:30 o'clock candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. Mr. Raymond Blair.

Before the bride descended the aisle on the arm of her father, George Wallace, "Oh Promise Me" was sung by Mrs. Fred Hopkins, of Detroit. As the young couple knelt at the altar, she sang "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Miss Barbara Stoltz.

Gown Has Cathedral Train
Jeanette's bridal gown was fashioned of nylon tulle with scroll embroidery accenting the bodice. The embroidery extended over the hip-line where the full skirt fell into a long cathedral train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a cap of matching scroll embroidery. The bride carried a cluster bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

White embroidered organza over aqua gowns styled with off-the-shoulder necklines were worn by the bride's five attendants. They carried white daisies arranged in a semi-crescent while their white tulle head-veils were clipped in the back with a cluster of daisies. Arlene Ustin, of Chicago, Ill., former roommate and sorority sister of the bride, assisted Jeanette throughout the ceremony as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Ann Cleary and Nancy Batenow, both of Ypsilanti; Beverly Stout, of Belding, and Mrs. Ralph Smith, of Plymouth.

John asked his twin brother, Fred W. Hopkins, to serve as best man. Another brother, James H. Hopkins, of Plymouth, and Ralph Smith, of Livonia, Gordon Wallace, brother of the bride, and John's cousin, Tom Wilcox, of Ypsilanti, seated the guests.

Reception at McKenny Hall
The formal lounge of the Charles McKenny Hall in Ypsilanti was the scene of the reception following the service. Receiving the guests along with the bride and groom and their attendants were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, 119 Linden Place, Ypsilanti, and the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Hopkins, of 15410 Lakeside Dr., Plymouth.

Mrs. R. R. Rubison served as hostess at the reception with Mrs. Ralph Southard, of Ypsilanti, Mrs. John Wallace, of Plymouth, Mrs. H. B. Hutchinson, of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. G. H. Schrader, of Saginaw, pouring. Miss Ann Bedford, of Ann Arbor, assisted the guests in signing the bride's book.

For her daughter's wedding,

CHILDREN'S PROGRAM

"How a Sculptor Works" is the special, free program for children to be presented in the Detroit Institute of Arts Lecture Hall at 2 p.m. on Thursday, July 31. Franklin Page of the museum staff will speak and demonstrate the materials, tools and techniques of the art of sculpture.

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Miller gathered Sunday, July 20, at their home on Seven Mile Rd. in honor of the Miller's 25th wedding anniversary. The guests arrived from Ann Arbor, Detroit, Hubbard Lake, Ypsilanti, Lansing and Northville.

Mrs. John M. Hopkins

Miss Wallace wore a gown of sage green with orchid accessories and a corsage of orchids. Brown accessories and an orchid corsage accented the beige lace gown chosen by the groom's mother, Mrs. Hopkins.

To Live in Ypsilanti

The new Mrs. Hopkins wore red accessories with her white summer suit for traveling. After a wedding trip through Canada, the newlyweds will make their home in Ypsilanti.

The bride was graduated from Roosevelt High School, Ypsilanti, and from Michigan State College where she was affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta sorority. John, who was graduated from Plymouth High School and was a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity at Michigan State College, is employed by Cummings & Hopkins, advertising agency, Detroit.

Department Plans Thursday Trips to Zoo, Belle Isle

Thursday afternoon is "Trip Day" for many of Northville's younger set. The Recreation Department has planned and supervised trips to the Detroit Zoological Park for the last five Thursdays and today, July 24, a bus load will travel to Belle Isle.

An average of 43 boys and girls took advantage of the first four tours of the zoo while the fifth trip, taken July 17, brought an attendance of 78.

The July 17 trip was a "special trip," said Wilson Funk, recreation director, who along with Gail Peters accompanied the group. After eating their lunch, the group visited the bird house, took the famed miniature train ride around the park, saw the Joe Mendel show and the elephant show before returning to the village.

Glass Collection Seen at Art Institute

The Detroit Institute of Arts' exceptional collection of early American glass, and glassware from the Roman Empire to the present, will be the subject of gallery tours and talks on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 29 and 30, at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. each day.

Mrs. Virginia Harriman of the Institute's Education Department will conduct the tour-talks which are free of charge.

Among the objects chosen for particular attention are plates and bowls from the Roman Empire, 18th century wine goblets from Bavaria and Bohemia, the jewel-like early American glass sugar bowls from a Michigan collection which are a special summer loan exhibition, and modern American Steuben glass.

Last Round of Pre-Nuptial Parties Honor Saturday, July 26, Brides-to-Be

The months previous to her wedding on Saturday, July 26, to Jack Gray have been busy ones for Velma Dayton.

Mrs. Fred Walker, of Baseline Rd., was hostess to fifteen of Velma's friends and relatives at a linen shower while supplies for the party were brought by the guests at the party given in her honor by Mrs. Fred Sterner, Jr.

Sister of the groom-to-be, Mrs. Frederick Thompson, entertained at her home on Newburg Rd., Plymouth. The future Mrs. Gray received a "money tree" from the guests.

The Dayton side of the family also gathered to honor Velma. Mrs. Charles Dayton, of Eleven Mile Rd., asked her guests to bring personal gifts for the bride-to-be.

The ceremony uniting Velma and Jack will be read in the Newburg Methodist Church.

Guests from Northville, Royal Oak, Wyandotte and Highland Park were invited by Mrs. Oscar Hurley, of Wyandotte, to attend the shower Monday, July 21, in honor of Nancy Boyd.

To the Editor

To the Editor:

I note in your last issue of The Northville Record a deci-sion has been reached by the City Incorporation Committee, originally known as a Study Com-mittee and that you state that there is no town or village in Michigan lying in two counties or two townships. This is not true.

The Village of Milan's bound-aries lie partly in Monroe County and partly in Washtenaw County. There is another village in the Northern Peninsula, which name I cannot now remember, and this village has the same identical condition. Several years ago Mr. Thurlow Sanford was mayor of Milan and they con-templated the possibility of changing to a City form of gov-ernment. They investigated the legal angles first and found that a village lying in two counties cannot become a city. There were too many legal factors in-volved to attempt a change so, although they took this matter up with Joe Warner, who was at that time state representative living in Ypsilanti, and incident-ally still is, the matter was dropped. I talked to Mr. Joe Warner, Monday, July 21, and he gave us his opinion that no change to a City form of government which involved adding township territory to a present village li-censed area.

The Northville Township Im-provement Association has been fighting such a proposed change from township to city form of government for several weeks now and we have just obtained an opinion from Mr. Oliver H. Kirk, an attorney of Birming-ham Michigan. You will note that he advises that any attempt to take in any territory lying ad-jacent to a village by changing to a city type of government and without consent of people living in the area involved, would be unconstitutional. As a matter of fact, we believe that the whole proposal of this committee is based on an unconstitutional in-terpretation of the law and we propose to obtain an injunction against any further attempt to such an effort and have the question decided in court.

The Northville Township Im-provement Association does not want to be in a position of mak-ing threats to obtain its aims, but believing that we are in the right, we certainly propose to have this matter decided in court if that is necessary. We think that the whole action of this committee has been made on a secretive basis, and it is strange that no representative was al-lowed on the committee from section, of the township which they propose to take into the proposed city. We also think the action of this committee is detrimental to the merchants of Northville because it has alienated the good will of most every-one living in the township who see an attempt being made to take away township revenue which would be spent for improvement of the township in order to give it to the proposed city. We think that the whole proposal is based on an unconstitutional inter-pretation of the law and that the whole matter should be dropped at once.

We have signed petitions in every area lying in the town-ship and outside the present Vil-lage of Northville which were submitted to the Study Group Committee, now known as the City Incorporation Committee. These petitions are nearly 100% against joining any move to change to a City form of Gov-ernment.

Very truly yours,
Northville Township
Improvement Assn
A. E. Northup,
Director

AEN'W

Mr. Northup.

As you letter says, we were wrong last week in saying that Northville's situation, with ter-ritory in two townships in two different counties, has never been encountered before in Michigan. The "Milan case" to which you refer, is one of the fundamental reasons why the village commission acted cor-rectly, in our opinion, in in-sulting village attorney Littell to obtain an official ruling by the attorney general to clear up ambiguities in the state law.

If you believe the city incor-poration committee is acting il-legally, you certainly are within your rights, in going to court to test the legality of its actions. We repeat our statement of last week that the committee's de-cision to seek legal advice is wise. By so doing, it will be able to proceed as "legally" as it can in the absence of any court de-cision on points that are peculiar to Northville's situation.

In Michigan, approximately 10,000 persons have volunteered as ground observers, but a minimum of 25,000 is needed if a round-the-clock schedule is to be prop-erly maintained. Of the 530 ob-servation posts in the Lower Pe-ninsula, 439 have been set up with supervisors and observers.

The Administration has been maintaining a press agent staff of 3,632 to publicize Federal ac-tivities at an annual cost of $17,134,390.

He Gets the Eye!

Why?

It's because of his bright colors. Nobody looks at a drab clown.

How about your bright summer wash-ables? Is this fierce sun fading them as they dry on the line, killing off their eye-power?

The answer to that is Laundromat clean, clean washing and fluff drying for keep-ing summer clothes brighter, making them last longer.

Goodwill Needs Household Discards

In order to maintain the record breaking level of employment of physically handicapped men and women achieved in the past few months, Goodwill Industries of Detroit is seeking increased contributions of household discards.

Arrangements for a Goodwill Industries pick-up truck may be made by calling TRinity 3-3600 or addressing a card to 6522 Brush, Detroit 2, Michigan. In Northville, contributors may call Mrs. W. E. Forney of 672 Thayer Rd., whose phone number is 353-M to bring a Goodwill Industries truck to their door.

Collections of home discards last spring were the greatest in the entire history of the Goodwill Industries organization. As a result, it was possible to increase the number of handicapped persons on the Goodwill payroll.

With the slackening of housecleaning activities during the summer months, collections of household discards drop off. Eventually this will mean a reduction in Goodwill's work force. To prevent lay-offs of handicapped workers, Goodwill Industries asks that housewives in this area make an effort to send in discards now. Items particularly needed are clothing of all types, shoes, hats, toys, furniture, small appliances and other household articles.

Peas can be shelled shortly before they are to be cooked, but don't allow unshelled peas to stand at room temperature—always refrigerate peas until just before cooking time.

Bovine Disease Becoming Serious Says Foundation

Official disclosure that the disease, bovine leptospirosis, has invaded still another state, brought a warning today from the American Foundation of Animal Health that this problem is now becoming one of the serious new threats to cattle health in this country.

Foundation authorities cited these points for farmers to remember, in guarding against the disease:

Spiral-Shaped Germ
"Leptospirosis is caused by a spiral-shaped germ that gets into the blood stream of cattle through the skin, or through the digestive, respiratory and reproductive tracts. It is spread by contact with infected animals, also by rats.

"Symptoms in some cases may include sudden illness, loss of appetite, fever, depression and abortion. In other cases, however, the only warning may be a thickening and yellowness of the milk, and a drop in milk production.

"As many as 30 percent of the pregnant cows may lose their calves. Death losses average about 5 percent, although 70 percent of the herd may become infected," the Foundation said.

"Cattle that recover can remain carriers for months, and spread the disease to other animals.

"When leptospirosis is suspected it is necessary for the veterinarian to have careful laboratory tests made before a sure diagnosis can be given. Authorities say that early diagnosis and treatment are important both in curbing losses and in getting milk production back to normal."

ELECTRICITY

ENDS THREE-YEAR SEARCH FOR EFFICIENT GRAIN and BEAN DRYER

For three years, Harold Gremel, Huron County farmer, searched for a better way to dry his beans and small grains. Then, with some help from Edison Farm Service Advisors, he successfully developed this electrically powered dryer that enables him to handle six to seven thousand bushels of beans and grain per season. Result: He can harvest when his crops are ready and cut down weather losses. This means higher prices on the market. Mr. Gremel farms 370 acres of land—100 in beans, 80 in small grain, 35 in beets—and milks a herd of 13 cows. As do many Michigan farmers, he is each year finding new ways to put electricity to work to lighten his load and give him greater security. For further information on farm electrical equipment, see your Edison Farm Service Advisor.

Good wiring is always important. So always ask your Farm Service Advisor for his recommendations.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

NON-PARTISAN NEWS LETTER

"Slow" Men working"
"Danger" Road Under Construction!
"Detour" New Bridge Being Built!"

Signs like that are familiar sights throughout the state of Michigan these days.

To the tourist, anxious to rack up 600 miles that day so he can brag to Cousin Lemuel back home, such signs may be irritating. But to State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, they're as gratifying as a bunch of big numbers on a scoreboard are to a baseball player.

THOSE SIGNS ARE THE scoreboard of Brother Ziegler and his fellow Republicans in the Legislature.

They represent over $42 million of state trunkline projects that the Highway Department has awarded since last September for 1952 construction. That's a record never matched in the 47 years the department has existed. In 1950 the total was $25 million, in '51 it was $22 million.

"THIS PROGRAM OF BADLY needed construction was made possible because of the new highway legislation enacted in June, 1951, over the vigorous protest and veto of the Governor," says Ziegler. (And he may be forgiven if a note of gloating creeps into his voice.)

"This legislation provides for an increase in gasoline tax from 3c to 4 1/2c per gallon and increased weight tax on heavy trucks. The petroleum industry has absorbed 1/2c of the increase and further absorption is expected."

BOLSTERED WITH THESE figures, Ziegler will fight vigorously against a reported plan of the CIO to push a referendum which would cut gas tax to 3c by Constitutional amendment.

"The increased highway construction program would cease for lack of funds should the CIO be successful," Ziegler warns. He recalls that the labor group failed to stymie the original increase when the Supreme Court held that petitions for that referendum were invalid.

"Michigan's gasoline tax of 4 1/2c per gallon, as at present, is still approximately 35% below the national average," the commissioner points out emphatically.

"WHY IS THE ROAD TO MY Summer cottage so bumpy while the one to Hurlburt Beach is being repaved?"

That's a common question and the commissioner has a ready answer for it.

"Projects are determined on an emergency basis," he says. "We have got to catch up on the tremendous backlog of work which accumulated because of inadequate revenue in the past."

HEAVY WARTIME TRAFFIC increased normal depreciation. There were material shortages. Revenues were cut because of gas and tire rationing during the war. Costs more than doubled.

Michigan, the auto state, was a pioneer in building roads for auto traffic. Many trunklines were built 20 to 30 years ago and, though they were brilliant examples to the rest of America then, they were not designed for today's transportation and require high, uneconomical maintenance expense. Many are being rebuilt to 1952 standards.

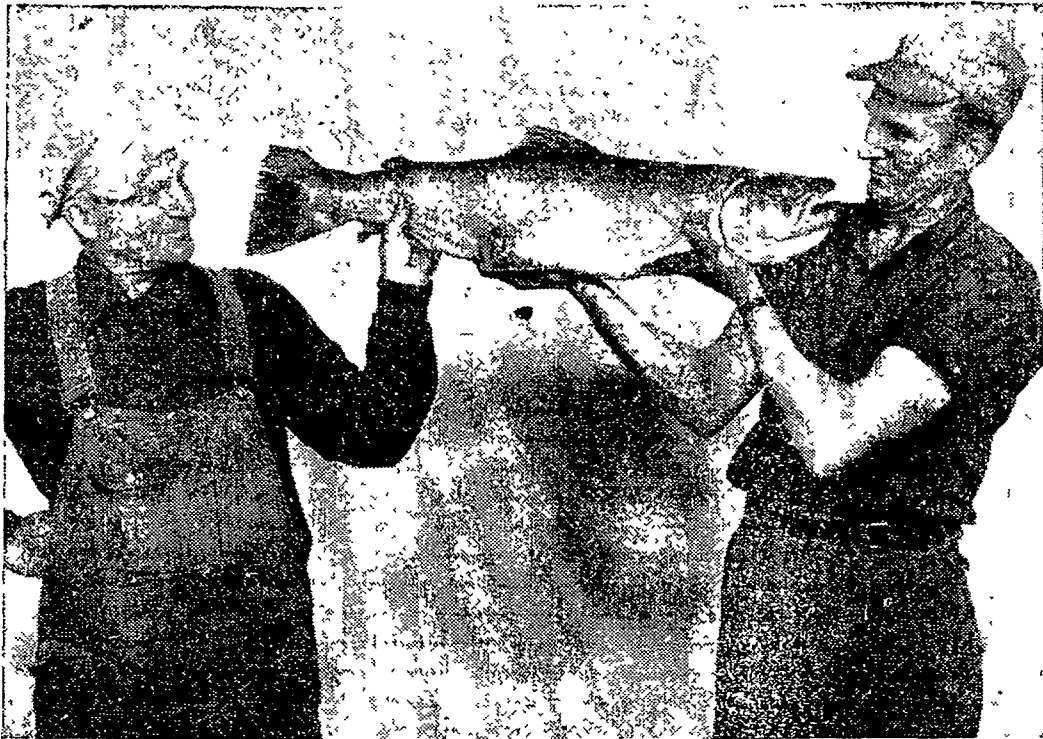

THE STEEL STRIKE MAY cause delay in some current projects.

But the big threat as Ziegler sees it, is cutting gas tax revenues. "Construction programs in the counties, cities and incorporated villages have also been expanded because of these increased revenues," he emphasizes, "and they'll be cut if gasoline taxes should be lowered."

The legislature can override a Governor's veto, they can't override a Constitutional amendment.

So Ziegler is hoping that all future signs saying "Men Work-

Michigan Record Fish

This 17-pound and five-ounce brown trout recently taken in Houghton creek, Ogemaw county, is liable to stand as tops on conservation department record books for a long time. Taken by Harold Crawford (on right) father John on left, the prize breaks the Michigan brown trout record which had held for 12 years. In June, 1940, Burrell C. High, Niles, hooked a 15-pound and six-ounce brown in Dowagiac creek, Berrien county. Conservation officer Robert Van Camp says Crawford's trout was nearly 37 inches long and 19 inches in girth. Fishing late at night, Crawford used worms with a number 10 hook on a telescope casting rod.

"ing" will refer only to highway construction crews and not to circulators of petitions that he fears will take such signs off Michigan trunklines.

CHARLES MEEKING, EDITOR of The Canberra Times of Australia, is sitting in on the Democratic national convention this week.

During a stopover at Lansing, he paid a visiting-fireman call on your reporter. Because an impartial observer can see many things that we Americans may overlook in the heat of our own political convictions, it was natural that he be asked for his views on the coming campaign.

"I AM SURPRISED AT THE complacency of so many people I've talked to about charges of corruption in the administration," he observes. "I've talked to so many, many people who just shrug and say, 'Oh, well. We know the boys in Washington all get their share. What can you expect?'"

That makes him wonder just how effective the Republican campaign will be if General Ike pitches it on an anti-corruption level.

MEEKING IS A VETERAN political observer. Of the GOP convention which he viewed on TV and the current Democratic one he's seeing from the press-box at the amphitheater, he says, "They make me feel right at home."

He was press secretary to Premier Menzies during the latter's successful fight to get into power. American and Australian politics, he opines, are basically alike. The outward form may differ but that's all.

TWO THINGS IMPRESSED him in America where he's travelling under State Department auspices. "I was surprised at how hard you work here. People don't work as hard or as efficiently in Australia. Hence production is low and prices high.

"I was also surprised at all the 'free labor' here. Back home everything is unionized almost 100%."

Australia needs Americans for a shot in the arm. Meeking invites you to come to his country to live and work. Just say "Charley sent me."

Dr. Beck New Head of Education Ass'n.

LANSING—One of the most colorful figures in Michigan education is the lumberjack professor, Dr. E. C. Beck, for 25 years head of the English department in Central Michigan College of Education, who became president of the Michigan Education Association this month. He succeeds Dr. Russell H. Wilson, superintendent of schools in Alpena.

Dr. Beck, widely known as an entertainer and lecturer on the folklore of the Michigan lumberwoods and its spectacular personalities, assumed the M.E.A. presidency while the association's centennial year is still on, in time to participate next Oct. 12, the actual "birthday anniversary" of the M.E.A., at special ceremonies on the site of the formation of the association of educators, Pierce Hall, Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti.

The new M.E.A. president has been active for many years, in school affairs, and has taken part in M.E.A. activities which have helped bring the Michigan public schools to the forefront nationally. He has been a member of the M.E.A. public relations commission since 1943. Earlier, in 1940-41, he served as a member of the finance and membership commission of the association.

Dr. Beck is the author of "Songs of the Michigan Lumberjacks," and "Lore of the Lumber Camps," and is co-author of other books. He is a past president of the Michigan Folklore Society, and a past vice-president of the Michigan Academy.

Novi News

By Mrs. L. Ritz

Dr. Lynn Leavenworth, of East Orange, New Jersey, preached the morning sermon at the Novi Baptist church on Sunday. Dr. Leavenworth, formerly a resident of Novi, is now the director of the American Baptist convention. He and his wife and three daughters are visiting his relatives, a brother, Carl Leavenworth and family, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Leavenworth, of Twelve Mile Rd.

Mrs. Edith McDermont of Livonia called on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garlick Saturday evening and later attended the Novi School Reunion.

After the first day, there were more than a hundred in attendance each day at the Daily Vacation Bible School held at the Baptist Church last week.

Twelve girls, accompanied by their sponsor, Mrs. Graham, attended the House Party at Kalamazoo college last week. Oral McBride, of Detroit, daughter of Charles Holmes of Novi Rd., accompanied them in the capacity of trained nurse.

About sixty were present for the thirteenth annual Novi School Reunion last Saturday evening. Mrs. Fred Garlick had charge of the dining room and Mrs. Wm. Matus and Mrs. Rex La Plante were on the kitchen committee, while three teen-age pupils of the school waited on the guests at the table. Several out-of-town guests were present for the first time.

Several songs were sung during the evening, led by Mr. McBride of Detroit, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Flint. The program started before supper with everyone singing "America, The Beautiful."

Several letters from absent members were read by Miss Flint, the most distant, one from Lucetta Keck Starrett of Seattle, Washington. The invocation was given by the Rev. Chas. G. Morse, which was followed by several short table talks. Speaking were: Ernest Matheson and his sister, Marian Embury of Albion, Florence Holm's Carlson, of Detroit, and president of the reunion, Arthur Flint, also of Detroit, Frank Henderson of Plymouth, the Rev. Grace G. Morse and Rev. Charles G. Morse, of the Novi Baptist church. The officers for the coming year were, Arthur Morris, of Detroit, president, Chas. Holmes, of Novi, vice-president, and Dorothy Snow, also of Novi, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. George Scott of Lansing spent several days last week with her sister, Mrs. Fran Jennings. During the latter part of the week, the sisters visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Poulson, at Flat Rock.

Mrs. Henrietta Hicks of Detroit is spending this week with her daughter, Mrs. Russell Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Taylor and sons, Bobby and Russell, returned Sunday from a week of vacation at the Salow cottage near Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin F. Goppert and daughters Noel and Sue are on their second week of vacation in Texas. They are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Smith at College Station. Mr. Smith formerly lived in Novi.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Kozak and daughter Kim have just returned from a two-week's visit with the former's mother and family at Springfield, Vermont. On the way home they visited Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Gow were hosts at a picnic supper Saturday evening for the members of their pinocle club. First prizes were won by Mrs. Ed Rix, of Plymouth, and Luther Rix, of First St.

Novi Lodge News

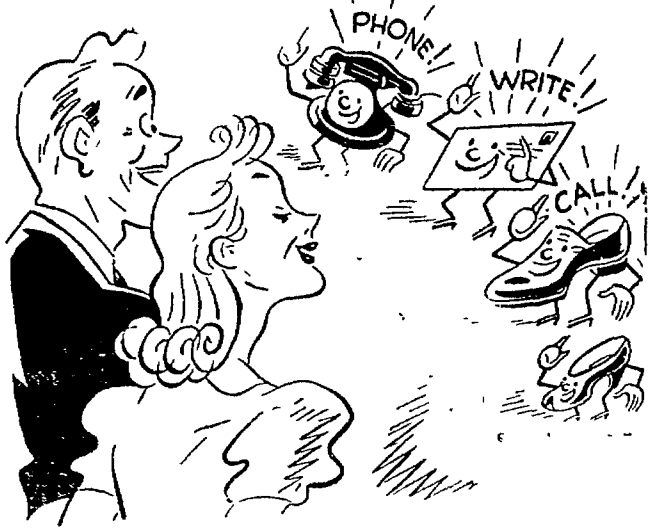

Nineteen members and one guest of the Novi Past Noble Grand Club were entertained at the home of Sister Flossie Eno at Walled Lake for a dinner party last Thursday, July 17. Noble Grand Kathryn Bachert was assistant hostess.

Final arrangements are being made by the committees in charge for the "Auction Sale" which takes place at the Lodge building on this coming Saturday, July 26. The sale starts about 10:30 a.m. with Peter Knowlton of Farmington, auctioneer.

Anyone wishing to donate articles, contact Sister Irene Kohr, telephone Northville 1201-J-1 and pick-up will be provided.

Our sympathy goes to Sister Leah Schram whose mother, Mrs. Mabel Nelson of Highland, passed away on Saturday morning, July 12. Funeral service was held at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home in Milford on Tuesday afternoon, July 16, and burial was in Grand Lawn Cemetery.

THE CARELESS DEPUTY

In the ancient city of Corinth, certain of the Jews made insurrection against the Apostle Paul & brought him before the Deputy Gallio, charging that Paul was persuading men to worship God contrary to the law. Gallio dismissed the case as trivial matters of religion which he apparently had little time for. It says of him that "he cared for none of those things". He simply was not interested. If Gallio had been concerned enough to listen, the Apostle Paul would have told him the way of salvation. Paul would have pointed out his need of a Saviour, the necessity of seeking the forgiveness of sins and the righteousness offered to those who trust in Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour. Gallio lived his own way, but was unsatisfied in the end. He became a thoroughly disillusioned man and died a suicide. Are there not a great many people like him today? People who are kind, amiable, and have a certain amount of interest in the welfare of others, and yet, care not for the message of salvation. One would think at least they would be interested enough to read the New Testament through and become acquainted with its claims. This Gospel which has transformed so many lives is something that is worth investigating.

What's the Law?

4. Providing districts for supervisors.
5. Setting up a primary judicial system.

"The committee determined that these five legal services could be administered at a lower cost than now paid under township jurisdiction and that the effect of transferring these services from township to city would result in greater convenience and service to the citizens of the city.

"It would simplify registration and voting and stop duplication of assessing and collection of taxes by setting up only one agency to handle each of these matters. The city would have a far better primary judicial system and double its representation on the board of supervisors at no additional cost to the taxpayers.

Save Township Tax

"Further, by withdrawing from the township, the individual would save paying township taxes, however small, not for one or two years, but forever. In addition, the city would share in the township assets in proportion that the city's assessed valuation bears to the total township assessed valuation, or 75%.

"The other major group of advantages . . . arising from separation from the township, are the modernizing of the form of local government. This takes the form of preparing a tailor-made home rule charter, which usually provides for reducing the number of elected administrative officials, for giving greater powers to the municipality, for providing for non-partisan elections and nomination by petitions rather than by caucus, for unifying the responsibility for municipal affairs in the elected council, and frequently in the provision for the council-manager form of government.

New Boundaries

"Subsequent meetings of the committee were given to study of new boundaries for consolidation. Various members of the group toured the village and surrounding territory, taking into consideration expansion for new residential and possible light industrial sites, also keeping in mind conditions existing in those tracts to be included and the estimated financial outlay of the tax dollar to furnish city services such as sewers, drainage and water. The boundaries recommended, after a careful study by the committee, are those printed in the Northville Record of June 19, 1952, and as corrected in the July 10, 1952 issue."

Truck Speed

to the pits were to use the 6-Mile-Beck route.

Dr. R. M. Atchison, spokesman for the citizens' group, told the commission "I'm satisfied with what you have tried to do but not with what you have accomplished. I think the commission and the truckers have responded well but the original problem of large numbers of trucks passing over our village streets still remains. They are affecting the desirability of Northville as a place to live and are causing some property to be put up for sale."

Langfield pointed out that the Wayne County Road Commission has moved promptly to erect additional speed signs on the principal streets and to check the weight of loaded trucks entering and leaving town. It also has installed a stop light at the intersection of Rogers and Fairbrook and will shortly put up another one at the intersection of East Main and Hutton, he said.

Littell's legal opinion provided the key to the solution finally adopted. He explained that such streets as Rogers, Main, Center, Randolph, Baseline and Plymouth Ave. are county roads under jurisdiction of the Wayne County Road Commission, and that Northville has no right to establish any speed for traffic over them other than the 25 miles per hour maximum set by the state motor vehicle code. The road commission holds that it may increase, but not lower, this speed limit. Neither can the village lower the weight restrictions on truck loads imposed by the motor vehicle code and the road commission, he said.

Littell told the commission that the Northville police department has full authority to enforce the speed and weight restrictions set by the state law or the county road commission.
