

for the

by G. H. C.

The headlines this week feature such things as legal rulings that may make it easier for Northville to become a city, the annual merchants' "Parade of Progress", plans for the new school year, local baseball, and run-of-the-mine news about doings in the village and vicinity. Each is important in its own way to those who happen to be concerned at the moment with the particular activity it is about. And each will be forgotten in time, as new events dim the public's interest in these things that seem important today.

To our mind the two most important stories in this week's Record are the letter from Ingeborg Rothenpieler on Page 2 and the story on this page that two more German students are to be with us during the coming year. They should not be forgotten as quickly. The final paragraph of Ingeborg's letter explains why we think it is the most important news in the paper, and why we are glad two more German students are to arrive this week to live in two Northville homes. It reads:

"Thank you for making me love your country and learning to understand it as well as I do. Thanks for making this year so wonderful. It seems like a dream now and I can hardly believe that I have been away from my home and family a year—which is a long time!"

The lesson for all of us which we read into this German girl's letter is that if the common folks of this and other nations could get to know and understand each other as the four German students who lived here last year got to know and understand us who live in Northville, there would be no more wars. Unfortunately, natural and artificial barriers exist which make it impossible for those who live in other countries to know us as we are, or for us to understand their way of life. Without a common language, and with entirely different racial, economic and religious backgrounds, to say nothing of the inherent frailties of human nature, it is understandable that wars have been fought since the beginning of history.

What can be done to prevent them in the future we don't profess to know. Ingeborg's thanks to the Sullivans for their help in making her understand our country, and her acceptance of the responsibility of trying to make her German compatriots back home understand us, is like a candle in the darkness. While alone it burns dimly, many such candles together can make a bright light that ultimately might illuminate a road to peace that is now darkened by fears and misunderstanding.

We must realize, however, that if international misunderstanding is to be eliminated it is just as important that we try to understand the way of life of other people as it is for them to be sympathetic to our country and its institutions. Perhaps then a start might be made toward relieving the tensions which have been building up for many years throughout the world. The answer isn't clear, but it seems to us that Ingeborg's letter gets down to something that is pretty fundamental—the need for love and understanding among the peoples who inhabit the earth.

Getting back to strictly local affairs, wouldn't it be nice if the question of making Northville a city could be decided strictly on the basis of an objective examination of the facts as they relate to the ultimate good of every resident in the village and Northville and Novi townships. How refreshing it would be if every fact and consideration could be laid out on the table and examined impartially, in the light of what will be best in the long run for the entire community.

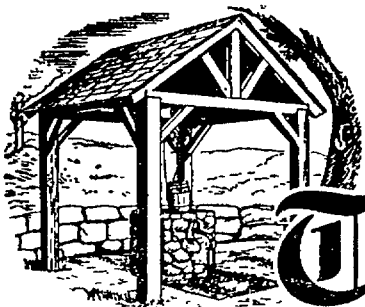

We are not naive enough to anticipate that this will be the case. BUT IT WOULD BE NICE!

Optimist Club Holds Stag Picnic

Members of the Northville Optimist Club held a stag picnic Wednesday evening at the John Wallace School of Horsemanship, 46820 W. 8-Mile Rd. in lieu of the regular weekly meeting at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

This was one of the four August meetings scheduled to be held away from the church house to give the ladies who serve the weekly dinner a vacation.

A golf outing is scheduled for Aug. 28 at the Plymouth Golf Club, with members of the Exchange and Rotary clubs also attending.

1952 "Parade of Progress" Bigger and Better Than Ever

Gala events are again being planned for the people of Northville and surrounding area during the village's second "Parade of Progress" from Aug. 27 through Sept. 26.

Plans now in the making assure this year's event being carried through on an even greater scale than the first "Parade" held last year. This is partly because the Northville Retail Merchants Association is able to draw on last year's experience to stage a better celebration, and also because the local stores are being stocked with an even greater line of merchandise of all kinds, to be offered at prices that will prove most attractive.

The "drawings" that will be staged downtown at 9 o'clock each Friday evening starting Sept. 5 will be, of course, one of the biggest attractions. Last year a Ford car was the grand prize, with many other valuable articles also being distributed free to holders of lucky tickets.

The nature of this year's prizes will be disclosed within a few days when final details have been worked out.

At a meeting Monday evening, Aug. 11, Parade of Progress Chairman Essie Nierder gave an up-to-the-minute report on the progress that has been made in the planning for this yearly event. Chairmen of the various committees made their reports as well. Committee chairman are as follows: prizes, Carl Johnson; advertising and publicity, William Gladstone; budget, Nelson C. Schrader, Jr.; decorations, Bob Lyke; special events, Leland Smith; ticket committee, Harry Sedan.

Completion of the program is being pushed vigorously. Although the entire schedule of events has not been decided, enough was reported to assure a full and complete program for everyone.

Everyone who shops in Northville, except immediate families of participating members of the Retail Merchants Association and associate members, is eligible to win the prizes. Shoppers buying from members of the association will receive a ticket for every 50-cent purchase. The drawings will take place at the "four corners" starting Friday, Sept. 5 and running through Sept. 26. Merchants will start distributing tickets on Aug. 27.

Entertainment for both adults and children is being planned to round out the program for the many thousands of people that are expected to throng to Northville during this second and greater "Parade of Progress."

Registration, Hours for Attendance Listed by Schools

Registration for senior and junior high school students in grades seven through 12 will be conducted Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 26 and 27, from 9-12 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. at the high school office, said Elroy V. Ellison, high school principal.

The two days of registration are for new students who have not been registered and for former students who want to make changes in last spring's schedules made at registration time.

Rural students and former sixth grade students who were registered by the principal last year need not report for registration.

Book Store Hours

Hours for the book store in the high school, conducted by Leslie G. Lee, will be the same as for registration.

School will officially open on Tuesday, Sept. 2 with faculty and club meetings, but only certain grades will be required to attend on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 3-5. A full school schedule for all grades will begin on Monday, Sept. 8.

Schedule

The schedule and events: Tuesday, Sept. 2: General teachers' meeting at 9:30 a.m., with Russell H. Amerman, superintendent of schools, presiding at the grade school. At 1:00 p.m. there will be organizational meeting for Teachers' Club. At 2:30 p.m. all teachers will meet with their building principals for an orientation discussion.

Wednesday, Sept. 3: The grade school faculty will meet with Principal T. G. Pregitzer; the (Continued on Back Page)

NORTHVILLE CAN LEGALLY BECOME CITY

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Two conflicting opinions relative to the legality of Northville becoming a city were issued within the past week by Deputy Attorney General Arthur T. Iverson. The first opinion, dated Aug. 4, held that "an incorporated village lying in more than one county cannot be incorporated into a city lying in more than one county." The second opinion, issued three days later, said, in part: "Since my letter of Aug. 4 there has come to my attention an amendment to Article V, Section 3 of the Michigan constitution . . . together with the provision for representation on the board of supervisors in Act No. 91, Public Acts of 1947 . . . and therefore an incorporated village lying in more than one county can be incorporated into a city." (For complete story see Page 1, Col. 1.)

The two letters are printed below:

FIRST LETTER

August 4, 1952

Hon. Clarence A. Reid
State Senator
910 Lawyers Building
Detroit 26, Michigan

Dear Senator Reid:

You have asked whether it would be legally possible to incorporate into a single city an incorporated village which is now lying in two counties.

You refer to two Attorney General's opinions dated November 16, 1926 and September 25, 1945, respectively, in which it was concluded that territory from two or more counties may not be incorporated into a single city. You call my attention to Act No. 91, Public Acts of 1947, Mich. Stat. Ann. Supp. #5,2106, which provides, among other things, for representation on the board of supervisors in each county where a city lies in more than one county, and you inquire as to whether this provision, being enacted subsequent to our opinions referred to above, would affect our conclusion.

Inasmuch as the basis for our conclusion in these former opinions was the constitutional provision, Article V, Sec. 3, prescribing the plan of representation in the Legislature, which conclusion was also supported by the case of Board of Supervisors of Houghton County V. Secretary of State, 92 Mich. 638, I am of the opinion that the statute you refer to providing for representation on the board of supervisors would in no way affect the situation and our conclusion would remain the same, namely, that an incorporated village lying in more than one county cannot be incorporated into a city lying in more than one county.

Your very truly

FINAL LETTER

August 7, 1952

Hon. Clarence A. Reid
State Senator
910 Lawyers Building
Detroit 26, Michigan

Dear Senator Reid:

Since my letter of August 4 in which I advised you that this office was still of the opinion that an incorporated village lying in more than one county cannot be incorporated into a city, there has come to my attention an amendment to Article V, Section 3 of the Michigan Constitution. Prior to the amendment the constitutional provision prohibited the incorporation of a city in more than one county. The amendment provides:

"but no township or city shall be divided in the formation of a representative district, except that when a city is composed of territory in more than one county, it may be divided at the county line or lines. And provided, that in the case of cities hereafter organized or created or territory annexed to an existing city, the territory thereof shall remain in its present representative district until the next apportionment."

This constitutional amendment, together with the provision for representation on the board of supervisors in Act No. 91, Public Acts of 1947, in my opinion, would overcome the objection to a city lying in more than one county and therefore an incorporated village lying in more than one county could be incorporated into a city.

Yours very truly

Attorney General's Ruling Ends Legal Uncertainty

Contrary to the claims of leaders of the Northville Township Improvement Association that Northville cannot legally incorporate as a city, State Attorney General Frank G. Millard ruled this week that it is now possible for a village lying in two counties to become a city.

This ruling, in the form of a letter to State Senator Clarence A. Reid, is expected to pave the way for circulation of petitions in the village and in Northville and Novi townships asking for an election at which voters can decide whether they wish to adopt a city form of government. Copies were sent to Mr. C. Don Hicks, chairman of the Improvement Association, James E. Littell, village attorney, and the Northville Record.

Very Important Ruling

Downs Completes Biggest Season In Its History

Encouraged by record attendance during the racing season just ended and the largest betting total since Northville Downs opened several years ago, the Downs management is planning an extensive expansion and alteration program to start as quickly as possible this fall.

Full details await determination of whether any governmental regulations will prevent going ahead at this time. Included in the tentative plans is a considerable increase in stall room, additional pari-mutuels facilities and more automobile parking space.

Betting Sets Record

Betting this year set a new record at $12,130,530 compared with $10,463,516 for the 1951 season. With only one "rain-out" during the 54 nights of racing, the daily average for the season was $228,878. Last year, with three "rain-outs" in the 54-day meet, the daily average was approximately $202,000.

Employees were cheered on the final night of racing when the "handle" reached a total that assured them of a bonus of $1.00 for each night worked during the season. This bonus of $53.00, equivalent to between $10,000 and $12,000, augments the approximately $290,000 which the Downs has paid in salaries and wages since it opened last April. Practically all of this sum has gone to residents of Northville and the immediately surrounding territory.

Because of the large number of passes issued, the Downs figure on total attendance this year is not accurate. Paid admissions for the 53 nights, however, totaled $184,013 compared with $179,000 last year.

Purses for the entire season totaled $418,615 against $379,015 for the 1951 race meet.

Legion Honors Lisle Alexander

Lisle Alexander, for many years an officer of the local Lloyd H. Green Post 147 of the American Legion, and presently adjutant of the American Legion Department of Michigan, was honored at the Legion's state convention held in Grand Rapids by being given a life membership in the Northville post. It was the first life membership ever granted by the local post.

Paul Burnham, commander of the local post, made the presentation. He explained that while a few Legion posts have similarly honored members who have made outstanding contributions to Legion progress, such awards are customarily made only in exceptional circumstances. "Mr. Alexander's service as a charter member and officer of the Lloyd H. Green Post for many years, and as a top state executive in recent years, amply qualifies him as the recipient of this high honor", Burnham said.

The award was made as a complete surprise to Alexander at the annual banquet Saturday, Aug. 9. It was witnessed by National Commander Donald Wilson, Department Commander Thomas Roumell, Oscar Hammond, new commander of the 17th District, and Mrs. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. George Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Robbin Cory and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Severance.

Village officials and members of the Committee on City Incorporation told the Record that the importance of the new ruling cannot be overemphasized, not only to Northville, but also to several other Michigan villages which, like Northville, lie in two counties. Until now, they pointed out, leaders of the Improvement Association, including Mr. Hicks and Mr. A. E. Northup, a director, have cited 1926 and 1945 opinions of the state attorney general to the effect that villages located in two counties could not become cities as proof that Northville could not do so.

Enactment in 1947 of Act No. 91 providing for representation on the board of supervisors removed the final barrier to incorporation of a city lying in two counties, according to the most recent opinion by the attorney general. (See Col. 5.)

Legal Guidance Was Needed

It was these claims by opponents of a city form of government, together with their threats of legal action to prevent the matter being brought to a vote, that prompted the Committee on City Incorporation to ask the village commission for legal guidance before proceeding with the circulation of petitions. The commission instructed Village Attorney James E. Littell to ask through State Senator Reid for an up-to-date official opinion by the attorney general. While both letters written during the past week by the attorney general's office probably rate as "unofficial" at the moment, it is expected that they will be put into official form in the near future.

Reversal of Opinion

A meeting of the Committee on City Incorporation Monday evening, Aug. 11, called originally to consider what course of action to follow as a result of the attorney general's adverse opinion written Aug. 4, was transformed into an enthusiastic planning session when those attending were informed that the original opinion had been reversed. The revised opinion, written by Deputy Attorney General Arthur T. Iverson, was given orally to the Northville Record Monday afternoon shortly after a telephone inquiry relative to whether the Aug. 4 letter was to be regarded as final opinion. Within an hour Mr. Iverson called the Record back to say that the original letter had overlooked changes in the law in 1947. He then read the latest opinion holding that city incorporation is legal for Northville.

The City Incorporation Committee will meet again next Tuesday evening to discuss various phases of its future program. In the meantime, Village Attorney Littell will have had an opportunity to report back to the village commission on the attorney general's ruling and to interpret other provisions of the law about which questions have been raised.

Record Office Closed Saturdays

Because of a normal slow-down of business transactions during the summer, the Record office will be closed Saturdays during July and August.

Weekday hours will remain the same: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Two New German Students Arrive

Two more German students will make their homes in Northville for the coming year, replacing in part the four who have just returned to their homes in Germany after spending a year in the homes of local residents.

The new students, Ursula Hamacher and Jurgen Bonnet, will live with the Leland Smiths and the Harry Smiths this fall and winter. They are to arrive in Ann Arbor Friday afternoon, Aug. 15 under the exchange student program of the Ann Arbor Council of Churches. They will be met there by Mr. and Mrs. Leland V. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Smith.

Ursula, who will live with the Leland Smiths, comes from Dueseldorf - Oberkassel. Jurgen's home is Hamburg-Poppenbützel. He will be living in the Harry Smith home.

With a large group of German students, Northville's "adopted" girl and boy docked in New York on Aug. 13 after crossing the Atlantic Ocean on the S. S. Independence, the same ship which, on its trip to Germany, returned Ingrid Haenzel, Ingeborg Rothenpieler, Ludwig Jagla and Charles Wursching to their homes after a year in Northville.

Dr. E. W. Gulden, president of the Ann Arbor Council of Churches, met the group in New York and brought them to Ann Arbor. Executive secretary of the organization, Mrs. Rachel Andersen, met with the students in Genoa before they sailed for the United States, and before returning to Ann Arbor on Oct. 1, she plans to visit some of their families in Germany.

The Northville Rotary Club, which last year sponsored four German youth living in the village under the Rotary International "Youth for Understanding" program, assisted with Northville's part in the 1952-53 program. R. H. Amerman headed the committee to find foster homes for the students.

Local Softball Play-offs Cause for Excitement

Cy Owens Ford team maintained an inside track in the play-offs of the Northville Softball League when they eked out a last inning 3 to 0 victory over VFW Post 4012 in the second of two scheduled games at Ford Field last Tuesday evening. In the first game, VFW had handed Stone's Gamble team their second defeat of the play-offs to eliminate them from the running, the score being 9 to 5.

Too Late For Record

Final results of the play-off series were determined last evening after the Record had gone to press, depending on the outcome of either one or two more games between these same two teams. The Cy Owens club had suffered no losses up to Wednesday night, in this "two-loss knock-out" system of play-offs. Tuesday night's defeat at their hands was the first loss for the VFW in the elimination play-offs. An additional loss for VFW in their first game Wednesday evening would have resulted in their elimination, whereas a victory for VFW would necessitate an additional game against Owens.

Two teams were eliminated in games on Wednesday, Aug. 6, the Mayors losing to Stone's Gamble Store in a 12-inning thriller by an 8 to 7 score, and Bloom's (Walled Lake Door) being on the short end of a 6 to 4 score at the conclusion of their game with VFW Post 4012. The Optimist Club team had been eliminated the previous evening when it suffered its second defeat of the series at the hands of Blooms by a 4 to 3 count.

Stone's vs. Mayors

Stone's had jumped off to an early three-run lead in the first two innings of their long-drawn-out contest with the Mayors, only to lose it temporarily when the Mayors jumped on the offerings of Stone's pitcher Ray Doolin in the third inning for five runs.

Stone's came back in their half of the third for three runs, putting them back in the lead, and added another run in the fourth on Roy Bezaire's triple which scored Doolin. Mayors tied the score up again at 7-all in the sixth when hits and a well executed squeeze play gained the two runs. Then both pitchers bled down and pitched shutout ball until the last of the 12th inning when Stone's pushed over the winning run, Bingley scoring on an error. Batteries for the Mayors were Frank Holman and Lamar Nalley, for Stone's, Ray Doolin pitched with Milan George behind the plate.

Blooms-VFW

Bloom's—Walled Lake Door did not fare so well with a four run lead that they piled up in the first inning of their contest with VFW the same evening, for VFW pitcher Perry Graham shut them out for the remainder of the regulation seven inning game. Meanwhile VFW scored two runs in the third when Bishop walked and stole second, Robinson singled, and both runners scored on long flies to the outfield. VFW broke loose again in the sixth to gain the lead on a four-run outburst which started out when, with the bases loaded, A. Farehart was forced in on a base on balls. Another hit, and an error, resulted in scoring by McArthur. Bishop and Robinson, putting VFW ahead 6 to 4, which was all they needed. Bloom's lost the services of their regular catcher, Hugh McDole, in the fourth inning, when he suffered a broken finger. Jim Normand moved from the pitching mound to replace him and Profit took over the pitching duties for Bloom's at that point. Batteries for VFW were Perry Graham and James LaRue.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

Now with some elections out of the way and with more of them coming, we of course, stay as politically neutral as we possibly can, except in spots. We must, however, insert this bit of deathless prose, or feel that we neglect our duty, not to use it when the doggone thing is so timely. They once have an election in Paducah, Kentucky, according to the newspaper of that town, in which one of the voters felt that something was lacking in the quality of the candidates offered. Instead of making those little X marks the spot things, he wrote across the face of his ballot: "God help Paducah."

Of course in our book, about the only thing that really deserves a vote of confidence is the 1952 Studebaker in both the Commander and the Champion lines. It's the car that promised beauty, durability, smooth performance and lots of economy and delivered on all fronts. Not a broken plank in the entire platform. It's about time that some of you discovered for yourselves how thrilling it really is to drive the Studebaker. All you have to do is come in and let us know. We're glad to have you on our ballot.

This story is a little late, which really isn't our fault, as we never heard it until now, but come to think of it, school is closer than you think and so here goes. The young son of a fellow we know, brought home a report card last term on which the teacher had written, "Your boy is a good student, but he talks too much." Pop signed it, personally with the following note, "you should meet his mother!"

Sometimes we think that we talk too much too. We say come on in! Bring that car! It needs a tune-up! It needs a lubrication and new oil! Do it to protect yourself! Some of you do and some of you don't and who gets hurt... YOU! You and your car. The better conditioned your car is, the more thoroughly protected, the bigger a job it is capable of doing for you personally. If you are planning a trip, or have just returned, let our expert mechanics superbly condition your personal transportation item.

That's that, but they tell us a couple of fellows hold up a dentist the other day. They tell him, "shut your mouth... this won't hurt a bit!"

Yours,

BILL and WILL PETZ.

Letters to the Editor

The following excerpts were taken from a letter written by Ingeborg Rothenpieler during her journey home to Germany. She was an exchange student in Northville during the past year.

Sunday, July 27, 1952

Dear Sullivan.

Although the mail doesn't go out until Cannes, France is reached by the ship, I feel like writing to you. We (the four students) thank you very much for the radiogram received at sea. We then knew that you were thinking of us, and were very glad.

We are in a peculiar position right now: in between two countries which we love. Going back home: in spirit, however, having become more American than German. I am looking back and looking ahead at the same time. We try to visualize you, and what you are doing at the moment, and look ahead to what may be waiting for us at home.

I, and the others, have talked this over. We realize how much we have changed and how much of your thinking we have adopted. I think it is a great responsibility to represent your country like I should and I wonder if I will be able to do it right. People, at least some of them, will be critical and we will have to be very careful and diplomatic. Some of the students say that they are afraid that the people at home may not understand them now, but I am not afraid.

When we left New York harbor on the "Independence," which is larger and faster than the "Ryndam" (the ship we took to America) I thought the last year over: Until then I was not quite sure about coming back, then I promised myself that I would be back.

I wish not to get sentimental so I think it best to tell you a little about the trip thus far. We got to New York on the bus after an all-day and all-night trip, at about 10:00 A.M. and went aboard ship at once. The Tourist Class was made up of most all students from many countries, and you can be sure we had a lot of fun.

Till this morning the weather has been beautiful and I have never seen so much blue, calm sea. As we passed the Azores this noon a storm started. It is now very foggy and raining and the sea looks grey and heavy. The waves are not too high yet but we must hold on when we move about the ship. Thanks to Gussell's sea-sickness tablets it is fine for us four and none of us, so far, has been ill.

We will get to Genoa, Italy, the afternoon of Aug. 2nd; be in Frankfurt, Germany, the 3rd, and go home at once from there. We have opera music every day, movies and dancing. Since so many are students we are now meeting, it is very interesting and lots of fun.

Aug. 1, 1952

We have passed Gibraltar and are in the Mediterranean sailing N.E. We have to figure out Michigan (Northville) time by subtracting 6 hours.

This is the last full day aboard our ship. Tonight the captain gives us a party, and we will have a program afterwards. Tomorrow morning we will stop in Cannes and will board ship nine hours later. Three hours afterwards we will land in Genoa, Italy. We don't know the exact schedule from there, but we are going to Germany by the way of Switzerland.

For the last time I send you greetings from a place where your language is spoken, which is the boat. Once ashore, we will hear only French, Italian and German.

There are so many things I need to talk to you about, but now I can't. I know that you will always understand, and that I am always thinking of you, and America, and wondering what you are doing and that I might be doing it, too. This I know, that you will understand as you have always been very understanding.

Thank you for making me love your country and learning to understand it as well as I now do. Thanks for making this year so wonderful. It seems like a dream now and I can hardly believe that I have been away from my home and family a year—which is a long time!

Love,

Inge

Green Thumb

by Paul Newton

A perfect flower for the average American garden is the day lily. Many improved varieties, plus research on lily diseases, have made it possible for the amateur to grow these plants with little trouble.

It is worth your time to try your hand at growing some from scales and now is the time it can be done. Dig one of your L. regale or L. speciosum bulbs, or purchase any lily bulb of the scale variety. Strip the scales from the outside of the bulb, being careful not to damage the bottom part of each scale. Shake these scales with a fungicide in a paper bag until each scale is completely dusted to insure new plants against disease.

Plant in Cold Frame

Lay the dusted scales concave side up on moist sand in a cold frame. The lath covered sash on the frame will provide needed warmth. Cover the scales with a one inch layer of sphagnum moss and keep moist. On hot days some ventilation may be needed to prevent over-heating. Make sure that every frame is labeled with the variety and date it was planted.

When the tiny bulbets appear on these scales about October, plant them in rows in your cutting garden where they can be kept watered, with the earth soft around them. They should remain there for two years. They should be mulched the first winter with oak leaves that do not mat when wet. Straw can be used if care is taken to prevent it from matting down. The mulch is put on after the ground is frozen to prevent heaving caused by alternate freezing and thawing.

Ready For Planting

After the second season the bulbets are ready to be placed in your permanent border. This is an economical way to increase your lily stock. It is surprising what a showing they will make. Some lilies form small bulbets along the stems just below the soil. When detached and planted, each bulbet will produce a new plant.

The upright flowered types, L. umbellatum varieties and hybrids, increase so rapidly by division of the bulbets on the base of the stem, that digging, separation of the mass of bulbs, and replanting, must be done every two or three years to prevent overcrowding.

Jerk Stem Out

The bulbets which grow on the stem base may be increased in size and number if the stem is jerked out of the bulb when the last flowers are fading. It should be heeled in moist soil for the rest of the summer. This method of increase is rapid and does not give the bulb much of a setback. Four species of lilies bear bulbs

Justice of Peace Assoc. Recommends Minimum Fines For First Violation

Judge Edward M. Bogart announced that he is cooperating with the State Safety Commission in a safety campaign to emphasize two violations which contribute to many serious accidents on our highways and streets. The campaign, under the leadership of Charles M. Ziegler, State Highway Commissioner, will continue through the month of August, and feature two slogans, "Don't Cross the Yellow Line" and "Keep in Line—Don't Cut In."

"The records show that it is the traffic violators who are killing the people—over 1600 of them in Michigan last year," Judge Bogart said.

"When the motorist signs his driver's license, it amounts to a promise to obey the traffic laws—and this means promising not to cross the yellow lines on hills and curves.

"Thus when a traffic violator is brought into my court, and is found guilty of violating the traffic laws regarding passing, he must expect to pay a traffic fine to serve as a forceful reminder that he must obey traffic laws in the future," he added.

The Michigan Justices of the Peace Association has recommended a minimum traffic fine for a first violation or cutting in or of passing on a hill or curve and crossing the yellow line as follows:

- (1) $4 for cutting in when pavement is dry, it is daylight and no other traffic is involved.
- (2) $6 for crossing the yellow line on a hill or curve in daylight, dry pavement and no other traffic involved.

where the leaves are attached to the stem. They are: L. sulphureum, L. sargentiae, L. bulbiferum and L. tigrinum. Pick the leaves off at blooming time or a little later when they begin to drop naturally and plant them in rows an inch deep. This is an easy and rapid method of increasing the bulb-bearing lilies.

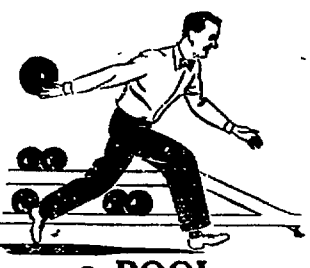

Must Be Married

The woman lion tamer had the animals under perfect control. At her summons the fiercest lion came meekly to her and took a lump of sugar from her mouth. The circus crowd marveled—all except one man. "Anybody could do that," he called repeatedly until the ringmaster scornfully asked: "Would you dare do it?" "Certainly," said the cocky customer, coming into the ring. "I can do it as well as the lion can."

DESCRIPTION EXPERT

In Birmingham, Alabama, they are still laughing at the police station over an incident reported to have happened several months ago. A man, evidently exceedingly upset, approached the sergeant in charge: "Sir, my wife has been missing since early last night." The sergeant began assembling information: "What size is she?" "Uh—about average." "How tall?" "Oh, somewhere around five feet." "Color eyes?" "Uh—neutral, I guess." "Hair?" "Don't know." "Kind of clothes?" "Hat and coat, I guess. She had a dog with her." "What kind?" "Pedigree collie. Stands six hands high, weighs 38 pounds, tri-color with brownish-gray spot above right eye, right rear leg solid white, slightly deaf in left ear, has deep brown collar and answers to name of Prince." "Enough," cried the sergeant. "We'll look for the collie."

Mr. & Mrs. Willard Wilson To Return to New Home

A newly built home on West Seven Mile Rd. is waiting for Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wilson when they return from their wedding trip. The double ring ceremony uniting the young couple was read by the Rev. M. I. Johnson Sunday evening, Aug. 10, at the First Methodist Church, Plymouth.

The new Mrs. Wilson is the former Lucy Clair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Clair, of Plymouth. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson of West Seven Mile Rd.

The altar to which Mr. Clair escorted his daughter was decorated with white gladioli and candelabra.

Lucy's white bridal gown was fashioned of nylon net over satin with accents of Chantilly lace. The lace jacket was styled with a high collar and long sleeves while the floor-length skirt edged in the lace was worn over a hooded skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a net cap adorned with orange blossoms. Her white Bible was centered with a white orchid.

The bride chose blue and pink nylon and lace net gowns for her three attendants. The matron of honor, Mrs. James Moran, of Detroit, the bride's sister, wore a blue gown and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Serving as bridesmaids were Hazel Reinette of New Jersey, aunt of the bride, and cousin of the groom, Madeline Hart of Dearborn. Their gowns of pink were fashioned with a lace jacket and pelerin collar. Each attendant wore an open crowned picture hat and carried bouquets of blue carnations.

Wilford Wilson served his brother as bestman, with Norman Keem of Royal Oak and James Moran of Detroit seating the 200 guests.

The pink and blue color scheme was carried out in the gowns chosen by Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Clair. Mrs. Clair's gown of dusty rose lace was worn with a matching hat, and accented by white accessories and a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Wilson's gown, worn by Mrs. Wilson on her gown of blue Chantilly lace and marquisette.

After a reception in the church parlors, the new Mrs. Wilson changed into a navy blue suit with white accessories for her wedding trip.

Mrs. Wilson was graduated from Redford High School and Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, while the bridegroom is a graduate of Northville High School.

He was also a state representative for two terms, the first agricultural agent for Oakland County and an organizer of the Farmington State Bank.

THIS AND THAT from the Corner Cupboard

To the Bride's Father: During these summer wedding months, fathers of modern brides, who must foot all the bills for elaborate, private weddings, might well wish they were back in Ancient Peru. There, "it was the custom of the Incas to assemble the marriageable young people in the city square for a public wedding held once a year."

Treasure that morning cup of coffee: A coffee tree doesn't yield its first crop until five years after planting and then only at a rate equal to 1½ pounds of roasted coffee each 12 months. Since coffee is more than twice as popular a U.S. beverage today as it was 40 years ago, we hope the planters are setting out more trees.

Don't blame your husband if he gripes: The average lawn is mowed 20 times during the growing season with a total of about 30 inches of growth being cut from each plant . . .

Want pink biscuits? The McCall magazine this month suggests using tomato juice instead of milk in biscuit dough to brighten them up — let me know the outcome, as to color and taste!

Looks like the 20's are invading the fashion world: Long torso dresses, midly blouses, short bobbed hair and the "new fall" blond color. Hope the designers don't get any ideas about shorter shirt lengths. I think we've about reached the happy medium.

And how do you like the stadium helmets they're trying to sell the college gals. When worn with short hair-do, you look just like a boy wearing a stocking cap. They're supposed to be worn at football games, etc.

Maybe he tried to rent a house in Northville: Napoleon once contemplated residence in the United States.

Wyoming was the first state in the U.S. to assure woman's place in politics.

Have you read "The Natural Superiority of Women" by Ashley Montague, printed in the July Ladies Home Journal? There's a good moral and ego builder if I ever read one! Keep the article handy to read whenever the men-folk get on your nerves.

JUVENILE ADVICE
Elmer, aged 13, was puzzled over the girl problem and discussed it with his pal, Joe.

"I've walked to school with her three times," he told Joe, "and carried her books. I bought her an ice cream soda twice. Now do you think I ought to kiss her?"

"Now, you don't need to," Joe decided, after a moment of deep thought. "You've done enough for that girl already."

Northville Scouts Join Campaign to 'Get-Out-The-Vote'

During the month of August, Northville Boy Scouts will join the 30,000 Detroit Area Council Scouts, Explorers and their leaders in the first phase of Scouting's contribution to the nation's "Get-Out-the-Vote" campaign for the national election on Nov. 4.

The Scout units will have the responsibility of placing posters, urging every citizen to register and vote, in every street-level business office and store window throughout the Northville area—to remain in a conspicuous place until national election day, Tuesday, Nov. 4.

The "Get-Out-the-Vote" program has a dual purpose. It is intended to, first, stimulate the voter to exercise his franchise, and secondly, and equally important, to help the Scout toward a keener appreciation and understanding of his responsibilities of citizenship while performing this significant service to his country.

Poster supplies are already in the hands of the unit leaders, and each unit has been assigned its local area.

Local council executive Amos R. Shields, in his statement launching the campaign, assured Freedom Foundation officials of most concentrated and vigorous energies of the 30,000 scouts and leaders in 815 units of the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, during the coming months of this campaign.

Optometrists Urge Pre-School Eye Examinations

Pre-school eye examinations are urged for children, especially those of pre-kindergarten age, by the Michigan Optometric Association.

Dr. A. J. Paradzinski, association president, stated that many parents do not know that their child is visually handicapped until the child finds himself handicapped in school. "If the eye itself is defective, or there is a lesion in the nervous system which directly affects the eyes, the child cannot adapt well to the new environment," said Dr. Paradzinski.

It is this lack of adaptability, he said, that leads to a loss of self-confidence, with the resulting sense of inferiority, a well-known factor in contributing to juvenile delinquency.

While Dr. Paradzinski said that the majority of visual training cases observed by members of the MOA are those dealing with children from seven to ten years of age, he urged as a precaution that all parents of children in both the pre-school and school ages have their children's eyes examined before the opening of school this fall.

RESEARCH PAYS OFF

There's been a lot of talk about farmer-hunter relations in Michigan and there's going to be a lot more. In the heavily populated southern and southeastern parts of the state the hunting army is growing bigger every year. The main target is the pheasant and most of the good pheasant-hunting territory is privately owned by hard-working farmers who aren't too fond of trespassers. Hence the "relations" problem. The State is stepping in as peace-maker, putting itself in the farmer's place in a huge research project at Rose Lake near Lansing.

More Wildlife Per Acre

If the farmer's interested—and many of them are—the Conservation Department can show him how to improve his property easily and most inexpensively so that it will support the maximum amount of game without affecting his crop production. At the Rose Lake Wildlife Experiment Station an intensive study of game populations and good game cover has been going on for several years. The station is built around typical farm land. More than 600 acres is actually under cultivation so this is a research problem that's entirely practical.

Application of Plan

Let's suppose you're an average Michigan farmer. Your farm includes some perfectly flat acreage, a few gullies or drainage ditches here and there, fence rows, and maybe a woodlot or two. Any game on your farm must find protective cover in the weed growth along the ditches or fence rows, or in the woodlot. The Rose Lake Station can show you, with proof in practice, that the simple plan of planting rapidly growing multi-flora rose along the fence rows will produce excellent habitat for pheasant and rabbits the year 'round. The multi-flora hedge will beautify your farm, too.

Other types of bushy vegetation can be recommended for ditch edges and gullies. Such planting not only helps game but holds the soil together and halts erosion. The wooded section of the farm can be improved, too. A certain amount of cutting is essential—and with the proper treatment you'll not only have more abundant wildlife but the woodlot will give you more valuable timber, too.

Altitude Toward Hunters

With more game on your farm you'll be inclined to allow the well-behaved hunter to hunt over your property—and you can be pretty sure that, with the adequate cover you've helped nature provide, there's no danger of killing off all of your wildlife. Plenty of seed stock will always remain—another point that's been proven conclusively at the Rose Lake project where hunting is permitted under a so-many-guns-per-acre regulation.

If you farmers are interested in a plan to improve your farm to encourage more wildlife population, drop a line to the Game Department in Lansing. They're not selling anything. They're giving it away for the everlasting benefit of Michigan Outdoors!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 10:00 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

field Ave., returned home Tuesday night from northern Michigan where she attended the funeral of a brother-in-law and that of the latter's wife, who passed away as the service for her husband was completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Willet and their daughter, Joanne, of Mayfield Ave., left this week-end for a vacation stay at their summer cabin in northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Kelbert, of Hugo Ave., are entertaining guests from San Antonio, Texas.

Over last week-end Mrs. Homer Coolman and her sister, Mrs. Russell Ault, and their families, of Shadyside Ave., entertained a group of relatives from near Ft. Wayne, Ind. Included as guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rosenberger, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Sheets and Barbara and Dean Sheets. On Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ault escorted a party of the Indiana folks on an outing to Belle Isle.

Mrs. Ernest Tallman, of Mayfield Ave., was a guest at a stork shower given Wednesday evening by Mrs. Fred Shelman, Colgate Ave., in honor of Mrs. Anthony Kolodzielegan, of Purdue Ave.

Veterans of Korean War Are Eligible for Flight Training Under GI Bill

Post-Korean veterans who want to learn how to fly after discharge from service will have 75 percent of their flight training costs paid by the government under a new GI Bill signed by the President in mid July. The remaining 25 percent of training costs must be paid out of the veteran's own pocket.

The new GI Bill, called Public Law 550, applies to veterans who served since the outbreak of fighting in Korea in June, 1950, and includes service anywhere with the armed forces.

Five Benefits

The bill provides veterans with five benefits covering education and training and GI loans, administered by the Veterans Administration; and unemployment compensation, mustering out pay and job finding assistance, handled by other agencies.

The VA will make monthly payments directly to veteran-trainees, and not to the schools attended by the veterans. The trainees will have to meet all their own expenses out of the allowance, including tuition.

The VA allowance for flight training will also go to the veterans, but they must turn the money over to the flight school, along with some funds of their own. The VA will pay no money directly to the schools.

Maximum Is 36 Months

Normally, under the law, a post-Korean veteran will get one and one-half days of GI training for each day of service after June, 1950, up to a maximum of 36 months for most veterans. Flight trainees will use up their entitlement at the rate of one day for each $1.25 paid to them by the VA.

Provisions of the new Korean GI Bill should not be confused with the GI Bill for World War II veterans, the VA said. Under the World War II law, the VA paid all training costs directly to the school and also paid the veteran an allowance for subsistence if he was entitled to it. The Korean Bill provides for a single payment directly to the veteran.

The World War II act contained a provision requiring a veteran to show that his flight training would not be used for a vocational or recreational purpose, but the Korean act abolished the provision, allowing the training to be used for any purpose.

Farmington Rd. to be Widened, Repaired

The widening of Farmington Rd. from Eight Mile Rd. north to U. S. 16 in the center of the City of Farmington, Oakland County, was begun by the State Highway Department during the month of July. Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announced.

The completion date for this project is August 31, 1952.

This work was among the 12 state trunkline construction projects and five county road jobs started during July. Work on 11 other trunkline construction projects and seven county road jobs was completed he said.

The Farmington Rd. work consists of 1,632 miles of aggregate base widening and two land bituminous concrete surface. The Cadillac Asphalt Co., Detroit, is the contractor at the contract price of $59,078.

Fresh peas should be cooked rapidly and until just tender so they keep their fresh green color and stay sweet, advise Michigan State College home economists.

BUNDLE FROM HEAVEN . . . A new inflatable rubber lifeboat (above) is now being installed on Navy ships to combat the age-old problem of protection from exposure for survivors cast adrift by a sea disaster. Capable of providing 70-degree protection for 15 survivors in either sub-zero or blistering tropical waters, the new lifeboat will replace all previous similar types of Navy emergency equipment. The boat is shown undergoing recent Navy tests as a Coast Guard helicopter hovers above the scene. The greatest cause of death in sea disasters has always been exposure to the elements.

CALIFORNIA QUAKE . . . Jack Garren, 14, stands knee deep in a great crack left in the ground by repeated earth tremors in Arvin, California, recently. Continued earth shocks have added to the already huge toll in property damage since the original earthquake. Arvin is near Tehachapi which the great quake practically demolished. Property damage has been estimated in the millions of dollars. Eleven persons were reported killed. Numerous minor shocks have been recorded since the disastrous original quake.

TRAFFIC VICTIM . . . Heavy traffic in downtown Los Angeles came to a stop while an unidentified traffic victim who had been nudged by an automobile is comforted by Mrs. Elta Junker, a passerby. As yet the Los Angeles police have not arrived at the scene of the accident. America's 1952 accident rate is breaking records in nearly all parts of the country, the National Safety Council reports. The millionth fatality occurred last year.

SWEET MUSIC . . . A Bondo girl of Orissa, India, plays a bamboo Jew's harp, a primitive instrument of world-wide distribution. It is made of a thick bamboo silver from which is cut a narrow tongue. The player's mouth acts as a resonator in performing on the crude affair.

Ann Arbor — The University of Michigan was the first educational institution in the U. S. to own and operate its own hospital for clinical work by its medical students. You Can Whisper - and Be Heard!

We should like to have you come in for a ride in a Golden Anniversary Cadillac. And when you do, we hope you will just sit back and relax . . . and listen!

And what will you hear?

Well, you'll hear the soft sound of the wind as it slips past the streamlined body . . . and, possibly, the quiet ticking of the electric clock.

But aside from these—you'll hear almost nothing. In fact, you'll find you can actually whisper—and be heard by your fellow-passengers!

We want you to experience this because nothing speaks more eloquently or more convincingly of motor car quality than—silence!

It tells you, first of all, that here is automotive engineering at its superlative best. For such silence of operation can only come when every phase of the car's performance is in perfect harmony.

It speaks of precision—for only the greatest accuracy in design and construction can result in such remarkable freedom from vibration.

It is a testimonial to fine craftsmanship—to quality materials—and to scientific styling.

And, of course, this marvelous quiet foretells many of the pleasures and satisfactions you would enjoy as the car's owner. It promises rest—and relaxation—and peace of mind . . . and a minimum of upkeep expense.

So why not take our suggestion—and come in and drive this beautiful Golden Anniversary creation? Let it tell you its own wonderful story through the things you cannot hear!

NEWS LETTER

"How much does a bushel of eggplant weigh?"

You probably don't know; you undoubtedly don't care.

But if you're in some business where the answer is important you can get it easily by asking the State Library.

One of the agencies hit by the incendiary fire that swept the State Office Building in February of 1951, the library staff has just about completed salvage operations and is doing a landoffice business in a two story building that once housed an insurance office.

Its sad experience when fire and water ruined thousands of books was one of the few times the Library broke into public print. But it's a big operation despite the fact that few of the taxpayers who supply its $350,000 annual budget know anything about it.

There are a half million books. Twenty-thousand of them are irreplaceable volumes that were painstakingly dried and flattened after the fire.

One of the priceless treasures is the original, handwritten document creating Michigan as a state. Signed by Andrew Jackson and John Adams, it came to Lansing from the National Archives in Washington through the efforts of the late Sen. Arthur E. Vandenberg.

A staff of 61, about 25 of them trained librarians, carries out the work of the Library.

They maintain the huge law library in the Capitol, their traditional service for the Supreme Court, Attorney General, Legislature and attorneys.

The basic job is to serve State employees and departments. The Library also supplements local libraries. Do you have to know how the carburetor of a Flat roadster operates? A query to your local librarian will bring books with the whole thing in black and white.

Or are you one of the million Michiganders not served by a local library? The State Library will mail you any book or books you want or need and let you keep it for a month. Postage is the only cost to you.

"Traveling libraries" of 25 to 100 books go out to village libraries and those serving rural areas on a regular grand circuit. Rural schools are served this way.

Mrs. Loleta D. Fyan is not only State Librarian but also secretary of the State Board of Libraries so she and her staff have an extension division that helps local libraries serve their public better.

If you think libraries are hushed voiced, stodgy places, you don't see eye to eye with John G. Lorenz, assistant State librarian. He'll tell you that a library reflects current interests with remarkable fidelity.

"Since the political conventions we get hundreds of queries every week about the candidates, the issues, the workings of political parties of governments," he says. "Requests for historical debates on capital punishment in Michigan still reflect the interest created by the Jackson Prison riots. Juvenile delinquency is a constant topic of research and every new episode of youngsters in trouble bring new requests for information."

"To meet that never-ending need for information," Lorenz recalls, "we set up an information center in the Capitol about a week after the fire. We had the basic reference works and were connected by teletype to the Detroit City Library and those at the University of Michigan and Grand Rapids so we could have the use of their material."

When the new State Office Building is completed, the Library will move into a permanent home. But—alas and alack—"I'm afraid we're going to be terrible crowded," Lorenz predicts.

MIDWEST DROUTH... It's either a feast or a famine in Missouri. This spring brought floods that gave Missourians more water than they had any use for. Now southwestern Missouri is in the throes of a superheated drouth. This cow looks for water in the baked mud of a water hole.

dicts "Our new quarters have less space than we had in the old building and there we were cramped far beyond efficiency."

But future plans envision a separate State Library building in the Capitol development area. That will be a long time in coming but the Library will be right on the job, meanwhile, sending travel books to a bedridden boy way up in the Poreupine Mountain region, helping your librarian expand the services of your own library, digging up some moot and minute point of the law for a Supreme Court Justice.

Come to think of it, they may even have to look up how much a bushel of eggplant weighs. Lorenz had so many things to talk about he never did come up with a pounds and ounces answer.

Michigan will be preserving one of the great old American political traditions this year. The Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, Clarence A. Reid, was born in a log cabin.

Time was when a candidate didn't have a chance unless he could point with pride to a log birthplace. Today there are mighty few men on the political scene who've even seen a log cabin.

Two examples come to mind immediately: The opposing candidates for Governor.

Michigan is probably setting a record for combined bankrolls of gubernatorial aspirants this year. Both incumbent G. Mennen Williams and his GOP opponent, Frederick M. Alger, Jr., are—put it familiarly if not elegantly—mighty well heeled.

Some observers say both are millionaires. Without access to income tax files, it's still apparent that never before in Michigan history have two such huge fortunes been behind rival candidates.

Although more than a week has passed since the primaries, canvassers are just putting the last licks in on their job of certifying the vote.

Paper ballots, especially the king-size ones they use in Wayne County, make both counting and canvassing votes a long and arduous task. Impatient people who chewed fingernails down to the wrists while waiting for election returns, are demanding that voting machines be installed on a statewide basis.

Election officials on all levels of government agree heartily that that would be a swell thing. There's only one rub... the $20 million it would cost.

Red Cross Assigns Jack Hohenberger to Munich, Germany

Munich, Germany — Jack Hohenberger, the son of Mrs. Lottie Hohenberger of 647 Thayer Blvd., has been assigned to Munich, Germany, as an assistant field director for the American Red Cross.

This will be his first overseas tour-of-duty with the Red Cross, according to Robert C. Lewis, Director of Operations of the American Red Cross in Europe and North Africa.

While serving with the organization at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, Hohenberger assisted a number of servicemen who had married European girls while stationed overseas. He helped these couples make the necessary adjustments to the crowded living conditions near a major army camp.

In his present assignment, Hohenberger will be helping a number of servicemen whose American wives have recently joined them overseas, and who have the problem of learning to live in a foreign country. Much of the financial assistance given by Red Cross field directors in Europe is provided to help service families faced with various emergencies.

Eighty-seven major Red Cross offices are now in operation in Europe and North Africa to make the organization's traditional services available to members of the armed forces.

Geography Class
During a geography class the teacher asked:

"Willie, can you name the principal river of Egypt?"

"It's the Nile, Ma'am," Willie said.

"That's right. Now can you tell me the names of some of the smaller tributaries?"

Willie hesitated, then smiled. "The juveniles!"

BUICK'S POWER STEERING?

It's the big NEWS of the year

THERE is a host of things that endear a ROADMASTER to anyone who loves to drive.

There's the might of its Fireball 8 Engine—most powerful ever put in a Buick.

There's the thrift of its Airpower carburetor—a four-barrel automatic that literally brings increased power right out of thin air.

There's its hushed and luxurious silence—its poised and level ride that cost a million dollars to develop—and the infinite smoothness of its Dynaflo Drive.

But the thing that has brought the most cheers for this big and obedient beauty is Buick's version of Power Steering.*

Gone is the tug of turning, parking, maneuvering in small space.

Power Steering takes over the effort of turning the front wheels—makes it a one-hand operation.

Do you have to learn to drive all over again if you have this new Buick feature?

You definitely do not. On the open road, you have that same sure sense of command that you've always had. Coming out of a curve, you can loosen your grip, and the front wheels right themselves just as they do on every Buick.

But you'll notice this: When you suddenly hit loose dirt or sand—or a stretch of rough road—Power Steering smoothly goes into action—helps take up the jerk—makes control of the wheel easier and driving safer.

Wouldn't you like to try out this newest wonder—on a ROADMASTER or a SUPER? You say the word, and we'll do the rest.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster and Super only.

YOU CAN EAT BETTER

the year round

with an ELECTRIC farm freezer

Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Walters farm about 90 acres in St. Clair County. They are general farmers with a milking herd of 12 cows. They also keep 200 to 500 laying hens, and raise 500 broilers a year.

The Walters keep their farm freezer packed with meats, fruits and vegetables, either home-grown or purchased. Mrs. Walters says she doesn't know how they would get along without it. She finds freezing easier than canning, and loves the convenience of always having tasty food at her finger tips.

You, too, can enjoy better meals and extra convenience the year round with a farm freezer. For full information see your Edison Home Service Advisor.

Good wiring is always important. So always ask your Farm Service Advisor for his recommendations.

Superintendent Amerman Announces Teaching Staff for Northville School System

Taft's Morgan Horses Win National Championships

The Morgan horses of G. F. Taft's Springbrook Farms of Northville captured seven blue ribbons and two championships at the National Morgan Horse Show at Northampton, Mass.

The Taft horses were entered in 20 classes and placed in the ribbons in 22 classes in this show of the year for Morgan horse breeders.

The first mare, and the first stallion, sired by the Taft's young stallion "Quizkid", captured the championships in the junior mare and stallion classes which include horses up to three years. "Springbrook Anne", two-years old, was named junior mare champion and "Springbrook Joe Kelly" won the junior stallion championship.

"Quizkid" received the championship stallion trophy last year, awarded by the Great Lakes Morgan Horse Association.

Mr. Taft and son, Bill, did the ring showing assisted by Floyd Appling, manager of Springbrook Farms, and Donald Atwood, of Northville.

The five Taft horses, who have traveled approximately 5000 miles a year to the major shows in the eastern half of the United States, made the 780-mile trip to Northampton in 26 hours. The non-stop trip was made with the horses occupying a semi-trailer van built with pullman-like sleeping quarters.

NOT A CHANCE

One senior had been making the rounds of his home territory to remind the voters that he's been doing a right fine job for them in Washington. Following a speech before a women's group, he was introduced to a new resident.

"Madam," he smiled, "I certainly hope this constituency will return me!"

She shook her head. "I wish you luck, but from the short time I've been in this community I can assure you that these people never return anything!"

The teaching staff of Northville High and Grade Schools has this week been announced by Russell H. Amerman, superintendent of schools. Nine new teachers have signed contracts with the local school board while the duties of several members of the staff have been revised.

Arriving in Northville to attend their first teachers' meeting as part of the Northville staff will be Kenneth Conley, Idalee Cowling, Stanley Johnston, Ronald Schipper, Alvin Skow and Clarence Stafford of the high school and Mrs. Joyce Schipper who will teach in the grade school.

Miss Ann Chizmar will return as kindergarten teacher after a year's absence. She will replace Mrs. Blair Claypool who has moved out of town. Replacing Mrs. O. F. Reng, who is on a leave of absence, will be Mrs. Carrie Dickinson of Napier Rd. Mrs. Dickinson, who previously taught in the Thayer School, will take over a third grade class. She received her degree from Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, in August of this year.

New Teachers

Kenneth Conley, who takes Carl Zwinck's place in the high school science department, received his bachelor of science degree from Michigan State Normal College and his master degree from the University of Michigan. He comes to Northville with his wife and two children after three years in the U. S. Army and four and one-half years of teaching experience in Bronson, Mich.

To take over her duties in the home economics department, Idalee Cowling will arrive from Gulfport, Miss. Her training includes work at Michigan State Normal College, Battle Creek College, Columbia University, University of Chicago and Michigan State College with a bachelor of science, a master's degree as well as a Smith Hughes home economics certificate. Miss Cowling has taught since 1922 in several colleges and in Lawton, Big Rapids, Wayne and Birmingham.

Stanley Johnston, whose home is in Morenci, Mich., has been contracted to teach physical education, junior high school mathematics and coach in the local school. A graduate of Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, he has four and one-half years of army experience and two years of teaching and coaching at the Lake Orion School.

LIVING LONGER

"LOOK" magazine some time ago gave the pictures of nine great leaders in medical science. The heading over the pictures was "YOU'LL LIVE LONGER BECAUSE THESE MEN LIVED". Louis Pasteur of France championed the all important germ theory of disease. Joseph Lister "saved" millions of lives revolutionizing surgery with the vial principles of antiseptics. Wilhelm Roentgen of Germany gave us the X-ray. Frederick Banting of Canada helped discover the insulin treatment for diabetes. Alexander Fleming of England gave us his penicillin that combats infection so marvelously. The world owes so much to all of these men and hundreds more. BUT, when all is said and done, we still must die. True, we may live a bit longer than previous generations; our lives are more comfortable and free from pain and disease; but we still must die. However, there came on into the world nineteen centuries ago one who made it possible for EACH OF US TO HAVE ETERNAL LIFE and that in a state of perfect righteousness, peace and glory! Man's contribution to society is but temporal; Christ's gifts are eternal. Man helps the body, Christ saves the soul. How we praise God for our Saviour and for the privilege of telling others about Him.

Garden City Pupils Come To Northville

Thirty-six former Garden City High School students who were denied attendance at that school this year because of overcrowded conditions were accepted as tuition students at Northville High School this year on approval of the Northville Board of Education.

The students, graduates of the Cooper Elementary School in Nankin township, near Ann Arbor Trail and Middlebelt Rd., had been tuition students at Garden City. The group includes three seniors, eight juniors, nine sophomores and 16 freshmen.

Refused by 5 Schools

They had applied for admittance to high schools in Plymouth, Livonia, Redford, Dearborn and Romulus but were turned down by all on the same ground: too many students of their own.

Cooper School is an eight-grade school which had about a thousand pupils enrolled last year. Its principal, Robert Pregitzer, is the brother of the Northville Grade School principal, T. G. Pregitzer. The district has no high school.

Russell H. Amerman, superintendent of Northville schools, said that the students are responsible for their own transportation, but the purchase or rental of a bus may prove the least expensive and most convenient method of transporting them to and from Northville. "It'll be expensive for them any way they do it," said Mr. Amerman, "but at least they'll have a high school to attend."

The husband did not care for the selection but he said:
"Splendid. The first girl I ever loved was called Euphrosyne."
There was a brief silence. Then:
"Well call her Elizabeth, after my mother," the wife said.

School Tax Rate Drops This Year

The 1952-'53 budget approved for running expenses of the Northville school system by the Board of Education Aug. 4, although about $40,000 more than last year, will cost the individual taxpayer less money.

The school board approved both the $305,473 budget and a tax rate of 15 mills as compared with a tax rate last year of 15.399 mills. Only about $65,000 will be supplied through local taxation, equivalent to 12 of the 15 mills, said Schools Superintendent Russell H. Amerman. The other three mills of the 15 will be applied to the debt service fund. The remainder of the budget, about $240,473, will come from sales tax diversion, tuition and state aid grants.

Use Only 4 of 8 Mills
Northville voters approved an additional six mills per year for five years in an election in April, 1951, but only about four mills will be used in the 1952-'53 school year. "The board has no intention of spending money just because it's available," said Mr. Amerman. "That's what we promised when we asked for the money last year."

Major reason for lowering the tax rate, said Mr. Amerman, is that annexation of the Thayer, DeKay, Hinman and Waterford school districts to the Northville-Nowi district provides a larger tax base. Also, state aid grants are larger this year.

Higher Valuation
The old valuation of the district, before addition of the four new ones, was about $4,500,000. The valuation now is about $6,300,000, making possible a lower tax rate to acquire the same revenue, and even cover the budget increase.

Primary reason for the extra $40,000 in this year's budget is the new salary schedule for teachers, which increases minimum starting salaries and pay scales of experienced teachers. Also, two new teachers have been added to the system this year.

high school faculty will meet with Principal Elroy V. Ellison. Committee meetings and planning and organization groups will meet Wednesday afternoon.

Thursday, Sept. 4: Grades seven, eight and nine will report for a full day of school. Neither elementary grades nor grades 10, 11 or 12 will come to school on Thursday. Teachers will continue with their meetings, gather lists of students, organize their rooms and compile lesson plans.

Friday, Sept. 5: Kindergarten through sixth grade will attend all day. Grades seven through 12 will not report Friday. The faculty will continue with department and other meetings on Friday.

Monday, Sept. 8: School begins for all grades.

Children just reaching school age, said Mr. Amerman, are eligible to enroll in the kindergarten if they will be five years old by Dec. 1, 1952. This ruling has been set by State law.

enough to save his team from elimination in the 7:00 p.m. game against VFW this week, Tuesday. The Veterans had drawn first blood in the third inning when Atchinson, who had singled and advanced to second on Earhart's error, Doolin evened the count an inning later with a resounding homer over the right field fence, and moments later John Gatterer scored another run on Robinson's error to put Stone's team one up. VFW went into high gear in the fifth inning however, scoring four runs in a hitting, bunting and base-stealing exhibition of which Art Ash's beautiful line drive double to deep center field was a principal feature, good for two of the runs. For Stone's Doolin's triple to center field, followed by Loren Bezaire's drive to center added a run, in their half of the fifth, but VFW was able to score twice in each of the sixth and seventh innings to build their total to nine, while Stone's could score only two more in the last of the seventh for a five run total for the game. For VFW, starting pitcher was Orson Atchinson who was credited with the win although relieved by Perry Graham in the fifth inning. James LaRue was behind the plate. Battery for Stone's was Dick Caldwell and Milan George.

The following game between VFW and Cy Owens was quite a pitchers' battle right up to the seventh inning, when Cy Owens' team finally got onto VFW pitcher Perry Graham for the only runs of the ball game. Cole started off getting on first base due to a VFW error, and Becker also got aboard on a close play at first. Les Wick's hit to right scored Cole, McKinney drove in Becker, and Les Wick came in on Schuchard's drive. It turned out that Cy Owens didn't really need all these, for their pitcher, Lloyd Dion, set down the VFW without difficulty in the final half of the seventh. LaRue was catcher for VFW, and Dick Vaughn for Cy Owens.
