The Parade of Progress which gets under way next Wednesday will be an event of some importance to Northville. As was the case last year, the numerous prizes in cash and merchandise that are to be given away each Friday night to holders of lucky tickets will attract a considerable volume of business from persons who ordinarily do not patronize local stores. This, of course, is the immediate objective of the Retail Merchants Association, whose members have laid in new stocks of merchandise to be priced attractively enough to reward those who come here to shop. As a planned community event, the Parade of Progress undoubtedly will serve its immediate purpose, and at the same time make available many bargains for local residents.

From a broader standpoint, we see in this second annual Parade of Progress confirmation of our belief that Northville merchants are becoming aware of the threat to their business by progressive stores in Plymouth and other neighboring shopping areas. By cooperating in this autumn merchandising event they will, to a degree, recapture trade that is going elsewhere, and perhaps get a few outsiders in the habit of shopping here regularly. And by urging the Village Commission to get busy and provide adequate off-street parking space in the downtown area they can make it easier and more pleasant for those who drive here to shop.

It is not inappropriate, however, to point out that successful merchandising is a day-by-day and week-by-week proposition, rather than a policy to be adopted one month out of the year. Some merchants know this and consistently follow policies that encourage patronage. Their stores are attractive outside and inside. They display their merchandise intelligently and price it competitively with leading stores in other communities. Most advertise regularly to let the public know about new items for sale and outstanding values. It is not surprising that their business is generally much better than that of the merchant who fails to put his best foot forward both in the appearance of his store or the manner in which he conducts his business. Unfortunately, some local merchants could do a better job than they are doing, with profit to themselves and the community.

Nevertheless, the Parade of Progress is indicative of a degree of cooperation among Northville merchants that could lead to the gradual development of a modern shopping center here. It is to be hoped that the Merchants' Association will continue to sponsor events and developments that are constructive for the village as a whole.

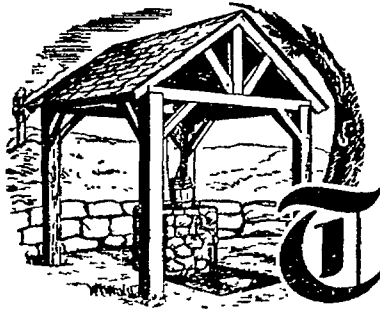

Speaking of "village" reminds us of reports that opposition to the move to make Northville a city is gradually coming round to the belief that this may be a good thing after all. We hear via the grapevine, that the leading opponent in the past to extension of the village's boundaries in Novi township, and the source which it has been feared might seek an injunction to prevent incorporation is now convinced that the benefits of having his property included in the city limits will offset any possible disadvantage. Another who has been outspoken in saying he would like to see Northville remain a village, and who lives outside the village limits, now says if it does become a city he wants his property included.

Hope Springs Eternal—We note from record files of 15 years ago that Fred Van Atta, postmaster at that time, was hopeful then of getting an appropriation through Congress for a new post office here. Now that the local post office has just moved into its new home under a ten-year lease from Nelson Schrader, we presumably can forget about the matter, as have the three unsuccessful bidders who would have liked Uncle Sam as a tenant. One already has sold the property upon which he would have erected a post office building and another is understood to be negotiating for construction of a sizeable commercial building.

Lightning Causes Fire Sunday at Royer Home

The A. R. Royer home on Seven Mile Rd. was struck by lightning during Sunday night's storm, causing considerable damage.

The Northville fire truck was called to the scene about 1 a.m. Monday morning. The fire broke out around the chimney and caused damage to the roof of the newly built home.

"City Group" Planning Renewal of Activity

Activity of the committee which has been working on plans to incorporate Northville as a city probably will be resumed next week, following receipt of an opinion from Village Attorney James E. Littell on who may sign petitions to bring about a vote. This opinion has been promised for a special meeting of the village commission next Monday evening.

The committee suspended operations temporarily about a month ago to obtain legal opinions on some parts of the state law governing incorporation of new cities because it wanted to be certain that each step in its program would be in conformity with the statutes.

Needed Ruling

In particular, the committee wanted a formal ruling from the state attorney general on whether a village lying in two counties could legally be incorporated. This opinion, favorable to those who would have the village become a city with a new and modern charter, was received in Northville Aug. 11.

Littell's opinion is expected to specify whose signatures will be valid on petitions for an election to vote on incorporation. The statute provides for signatures from qualified electors in the area to be affected by the incorporation, but is not explicit in

Grade, High Pupils to Register at Northville Schools

Registration of grade school children any day until Labor Day, and senior and junior high school registration on Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 26 and 27, will be first phase toward the opening of the Northville schools on Tuesday, Sept. 2.

Non-registered children planning to attend the local grade school should be registered by their parents at the principal's office. Office hours are from 9-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. Students in grades seven through 12 will be registered by Elroy V. Ellison, high school principal, in his office on Tuesday and Wednesday from 9-12 a.m. and 1-3 p.m.

The book store will be open during the registration period with Leslie G. Lee in charge. Students in the kindergarten up to the third grade will not need to purchase any materials, said Mr. Pregitzer. The teacher of each grade will distribute the necessary books.

The bus schedule for the school year will be announced next week, said Mr. Pregitzer.

Grade Teachers Meet
The schedule of meetings for the elementary teachers has been announced by Principal Pregitzer: Tuesday, Sept. 2: Meeting with the superintendent followed by a gathering of the new teachers in the grade school with Mr. Pregitzer. The afternoon will be taken up with organizational meetings of the Teacher's Club.

Wednesday, Sept. 3: After morning sessions with Mr. Pregitzer, the elementary teachers will visit the Northville State Hospital.

Thursday, Sept. 4: The staff will meet together in the morning. The intermediate teachers will meet with Miss McClintock of the Zaner-Bloser Co. who will explain the Zaner-Bloser writing program. In the afternoon Miss McClintock will meet with the primary teachers. The intermediate teachers will then meet with Miss Katherine McColly, of Scott-Forsman Co. Miss McColly will give the group insight into the Scott-Forsman reading program.

Tour of State Hospital Planned for Faculty

The faculty of the Northville high and grade school will make a tour of the Northville state hospital on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 3.

The group will meet at 2 p.m. when Dr. Philip N. Brown, medical superintendent of the hospital, who will talk to the teachers about mental health. The tour will follow.

Air Show Tickets At Record Office

For the convenience of Northville residents, reserve seat tickets for all three days of the Aviation Exposition, to be held at Detroit-Wayne Major Airport August 30, 31 and September 1, are on sale at the Northville Record office. Price $3 each.

defining the phrase "affected area."

Thus, in the case of land which it is proposed to include in Novi township, the committee wants guidance on whether signatures must be only those of voters residing in the area to be included, or voters living anywhere in Novi township. In the absence of any previous experience of a village in two counties becoming a city, it might be more difficult to obtain signatures from only the area to be included in the city limits, than from the entire township. Those who believe that under the "affected territory" phraseology signatures may be obtained anywhere in the township argue that the entire township is affected by the inclusion of a portion of its land area and property in the city limits.

To eliminate any possible legal hazard with respect to the favorable opinion by the attorney general not being considered a "formal opinion" because it was signed by an assistant attorney general, Littell has asked State Senator Clarence A. Reid to obtain reassurance on this point.

Paving Approved for Clement Rd.

The Northville Township Board at a special meeting last week voted to cooperate with the Wayne County Road Commission in paving Clement Ave. from Seven Mile Rd. to West Main St. by defraying half the cost from township funds.

Clement was blacktopped many years ago. Total cost of the paving project will be approximately $19,000, of which the township's share will be $9,500.

Exchange Students to Enter Senior Class

To Ursula Hamacher and Jurgen Bonnet, German exchange students who arrived in Northville Friday, Aug. 15, the opening of the Northville High School on Sept. 2 will be the beginning of a new adventure. Ursula and Jurgen will enter the senior class.

Tax Deadline Is Extended 30 Days

Extension of the deadline for paying village taxes without penalty from October 1 to November 1 was voted by the Village Commission at its Monday meeting this week.

This is a customary practice under the state law permitting 30 day extensions of payment dates without penalty, according to A. Russell Clarke, village treasurer.

In practice, tax payments always are accepted without penalty up to the time that the tax roll must be returned to Wayne County about the first week in December, he said.

Novi Amvets Plan Americanism Night

The Amvets, Perry Kenner Post 72 of Novi are sponsoring an Americanism program at the Novi Community hall on Tuesday, Aug. 26 at 8 p.m.

The program for the evening will include a movie entitled "Operation Ballot." Local talent will also perform during the evening.

Two awards of merit will be presented by members of the post to two outstanding citizens of the community of Novi.

Villagers Must Water Newly Planted Trees

An appeal is being made to villagers who have had new trees planted on their property by the village to water these trees frequently.

John Miller, of Green Ridge Nursery, who supervised the planting for the village, states that the trees cannot survive unless they are given sufficient water.

New trees were planted on Cady, Wing, Dubuque and Rogers streets.

Optimists Give to Boys Republic

Announcement of a $100 gift to the Boys Republic by the Northville Optimist Club was made by President Waldo Johnson at a dinner Wednesday evening at Boys Republic, at which members of the club were guests.

The money is to be used to purchase books which school officials say are badly needed. It is part of the proceeds of the Northville Junior Horse Show which the Optimist Club staged last June to raise funds to support youth activities.

Engineer's Resignation Results in Sharp Criticism of Village Officials

Don't be surprised this week if you see Mayor "Con" Langfield or any member of the Village Commission walking down the street reading a little brown book and flanked by an engineer and Village Attorney Jim Littell. Chances are, they'll be going to inspect one of the several construction projects that are under way in the village and boning up on whether it is being done legally under the present village charter.

This new concern with strict adherence to what the "law" (charter) says will be directly attributable to a verbal spanking administered to the commission by Mr. Charles Murphy at its meeting Monday evening. That Murphy's words were heeded by the commission was evident by its subsequent decision to advertise for bids for construction of curb and gutter on the one block length of Carpenter St. between Baseline and Lake, rather than merely authorize the contractor now installing curb and gutter on adjoining streets to do the job at the same unit cost as applies to those streets.

Advertise for Bids

Whereas the recommendation of Mr. Sidney Frid, inspector on the job, and some commissioners, was to have the extra work done under a contract which does not specifically cover this block in Carpenter St., the commission voted to advertise for bids after being told by Littell that to proceed without bids would be a violation of the charter. It prohibits letting any contract for over $300 without advertising for bids.

The original willingness of several members of the commission to go ahead under the present contract was based upon their belief that to do so would save Northville taxpayers several hundred dollars. They explained that the contractor now on the job on adjoining streets had submitted the lowest of several bids for curb and gutter construction. With his equipment already on the ground, they argued, it was quite obvious that his offer to do the work was on a better basis

Traffic Lights at Main and Hutton

Visitors to Northville and local motorists and pedestrians who have occasion to use the street intersection at East Main and Hutton this week found traffic regulated by two new red and green stoplights.

The signals have been on order from the Wayne County Road Commission since the first of the year. They are designed to make it easier for pedestrians crossing to and from the new village parking lot and Krogers, and for cars seeking to enter Main St. from Hutton.

Merchants Plan To Give Many Large Cash-Merchandise Prizes

Final plans shaped up this week for Northville's second annual "Parade of Progress" to start Aug. 27 and run through Sept. 26. Street decorations will be put up next week to give the Village a festive appearance. Simultaneously, local merchants will be unpacking and placing on display new lines of attractively-priced merchandise to meet the demands of the thousands of shoppers who will be attracted by the prizes offered during the Parade of Progress.

The 1952 Parade will differ from the one held last

Community House Committee Meets

The citizens' advisory committee appointed several weeks ago by Mayor Conrad E. Langfield to study the need for a village community building was unable to agree upon any recommendations at its first meeting, Sidney Frid, chairman, told the village commission Monday evening.

"The five members came up with five different answers and decided to give the matter further study before trying to prepare a recommendation," Frid said. "In the meantime, some are on vacation and all are gathering as much information from around the state as possible," he explained. Another meeting is planned in September.

year in one important respect—prizes will include large sums of cash as well as merchandise. The grand prize, which will be awarded Sept. 26, is to be $1,000 in cash, while awards of $250 each will be given away every Friday evening for the preceding three weeks. They will be supplemented by dozens of valuable merchandise prizes which also will be awarded to holders of lucky tickets.

Free Tickets Aug. 27

Members of the Northville Retail Merchants Association will start giving away prize winning tickets for the weekly drawings on Wednesday, Aug. 27, with each 50-cent purchase. These tickets will be collected from all stores prior to the weekly drawing. Every ticket will have a chance at all prizes throughout the four weeks, except as it may be eliminated by winning a prize during one of the earlier drawings.

An event that will be of special interest to the kids will be the release, each Friday evening of 125 gas-filled balloons carrying prize winning tickets. These can be turned in by finders in the same manner that applies to tickets given with merchandise.

As part of the entertainment program during the Parade of Progress the Woman's Farm and Garden Association will hold its thirteenth annual Flower and Vegetable Show, "Autumn's In the Air" in the Methodist Church House from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Sept. 11.

The Northville Rotary Club also is planning a sale and auction to take place at Northville Downs on the final day of the Parade of Progress, Friday, Sept. 26. The sale is to be held during the forenoon and auctions are scheduled for both afternoon and evening.

Other kinds of entertainment are being arranged and will be announced from week to week during the Parade.

Village Commission Plans Extra Meeting

The Village Commission will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Monday, Aug. 25 to receive bids for construction of curb and gutter on Carpenter St.

Also on the agenda for the meeting is an opinion by Village Attorney James E. Littell to clarify certain sections of the state law governing incorporation of villages as cities.

6 Polio Cases In Plymouth-Northville

Dr. V. George Chabut, health commissioner, reported to the village commission Monday evening that there have been six proven cases of polio in Northville and Plymouth this summer. One occurred in Northville, another in Northville township and four in Plymouth, he said.

Elton R. Eaton, publisher of the Plymouth Mail, is reported to be recovering satisfactorily at his summer home in Oscoda after a heart attack suffered Saturday, Aug. 16.

Mr. Eaton is widely known throughout Michigan, and especially in Plymouth and Northville, as an able publisher, legislator and political figure. He at one time owned the Northville Record but sold out here to purchase the Plymouth Mail some twenty years ago.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

Now a fellow we know drops in the garage because he wants our expert mechanics to give the motor of his car a bit of checkup. He tells us of a recent vacation trip out west and of two men, enemies, who stage a running gun fight through the mountains. They go along for quite a while shooting whenever the opportunity offers and neither is seriously hurt. Finally one of the gunmen comes upon the other who is being attacked by a bear. His enemy's gun is empty and the bear keeps coming. The man is at the mercy of his rival. If the bear doesn't kill him, the rival will. But what happens, the man with the loaded gun up and shoots the bear. When, later, someone accuses him of being a good samaritan he denies the charge. "He's no friend of mine, and I wouldn't save him. I just figure that the bear's hide will make a much better rug than his would."

Now we'll go along with that. We think that he should always go and get whatever it is that promises and delivers the most value. That's what makes this 1952 Studebaker of ours such an exception. Value plus. You'll be amazed at how much power you'll discover in such a compact V-8 engine, how much room and how much comfort has been built into this beautiful car. Terrific pickup whenever the light turns green and you start. Most amazing economy in operation, too. It's all possible but, you'll have to drive the '52 Studebaker to get it. Come on in for a demonstration.

Some of these stories we hear seem a little far fetched to us but we take them as they come and that's just the way you get them. They tell us of some lug that applied for a driver's license and as the bureau was very busy he was handed a blank and told to write his name in the following manner—last name first and first name last. "How is that," he asked the cop. "Just like I tell you," says the cop, "backwards." So the fellow carefully writes his name, remE senoi.

Well, we're old that things don't happen like that in our shop. The boys out there know what they're doing and do it rightside up. Right now they're interested in keeping things cool for your motor and chassis of your car and strongly advise a shot of new oil and other lubricants. If you haven't been in lately, better hurry right over and while you're in the garage have them give the motor a fine tuneup. It'll mean wonders for your car and ease and comfort for you. It's so easy to drive a car that is mechanically perfect. It seems a bit silly to put up with one that isn't. Besides, we like to have you drop in, maybe you have a story we can use.

That's that, when we were talking to an elderly gentleman the other day who was more or less provoked when we called him old. "Old age," says he, "is anyone that is fifteen years older than I."

Yours,
BILL and WILL PETZ.

Survey Tells Area Shopping Views

In the August newsletter of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce results of the organization's month-long telephone survey, covering Livonia, Northville and Plymouth, showed that 88 percent of Plymouth's residents, 42 percent of Livonia's consumers and 68 percent of Northville shoppers polled do their shopping in Plymouth.

The Chamber poll found that many of the shoppers who do not shop in Plymouth, buy their goods in Detroit. Larger items, such as furniture, are usually purchased in Detroit, according to the survey.

Of the persons polled on the question: "Are you satisfied with the present shopping hours?", more than 80 percent of the people from the three communities gave an affirmative answer.

Monday night was also suggested as a shopping night by Plymouth and Northville shoppers.

Green Thumb

by Paul Newton

Most gardeners do their landscaping with shrubs purchased from their local florist or nursery man. In so doing, they achieve quickly a "well landscaped" appearance that would take several years to bring about if they were to propagate the same shrubs from cuttings. Considering the quickness with which a bare lot can be transformed into an attractive garden through judicious use of shrubs obtained from a nursery, the comparatively much greater cost is not too important.

However, for the gardener who enjoys doing something out of the ordinary, or for the person to whom cost is of major importance, there is a great deal of satisfaction to be obtained from growing shrubs from cuttings. And now is the time for those who may be interested to get such a project under way.

How to Prepare Cuttings

In preparing cuttings, the soft tip is removed from the end of the stem, which is then cut through a node. (The point where a leaf joins the stem.) These cuttings vary in length for different shrubs. Forsythia cuttings should be about 12 inches long. Most others vary from three to five inches. The lower leaves are stripped off and the stem is allowed to stand in water for 24 hours. Then it should be dipped into a rooting powder, of which there are several that can be purchased through nurseries.

After being dipped in rooting powder, the cuttings should be planted in flats, flower pots or coffee cans with holes punched in the bottom. The rooting material should be two parts sand to one part peat moss. For more extensive plantings a cold frame, or a place in the garden surrounded by boards, is suitable, but the cuttings must be kept moist at all times, and covered to keep off the hot sun.

Cuttings should be planted up to the first leaf, with the soil firmed up around them. It is imperative that they be kept constantly moist and that the foliage be watered several times a day on hot windy days.

Euonymus Easy to Root

One of the easiest plants to root is the euonymus, which grows well without fuss or trouble and has many uses. Winter creeper (euonymus radicans vegetus) grows slowly against a bare brick wall, but forms a compact vine which has blooms and berries resembling those on bittersweet.

Baby winter creeper (euonymus kewensis) is an excellent vine for the rock garden or for covering the base of bird baths or sun dials.

Spreading euonymus bears many white flowers and pink fruits, grows well in dense shade and is hardy in most northern states. Glossy winter creeper is another variety of this plant which is a good evergreen for the northern exposure.

For Western Exposure

Winged euonymus, or e. alatus compactus, is a brilliant red in fall. With its horizontal branches it makes a splendid foundation plant. Placed in front of a west window where the sun can shine through its brilliant foliage, it makes an effect to be remembered.

Another variety, spreading euonymus, is used as a face for shrubs, or under trees where the ground is bare. It will spread three or four feet along the ground, which accounts for its name.

Euonymus is a versatile plant which the average gardener makes no mistake in choosing. Should you already have some, why not try to make some cuttings and enjoy more of it. Most native species tolerate shade. The Japanese winter creeper is hardier and grows better in dry soil or a sandy location. Soil that is too rich causes a vigorous, sappy growth which easily winter kills.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

NON-PARTISAN NEWS LETTER

Are Michigan's "independent voters" too independent for their own good?

At least one political stalwart thinks so and that feeling is growing in circles interested in good government on a non-partisan basis.

"People have crossed party lines so often to vote for the man instead of the party that we are losing our characteristic form of American government," he says. He doesn't want his name used but he would be considered quite an expert by any observer.

"Because of that habit we've had a Democratic governor and a Republican legislature in Michigan these past years . . . and everyone knows the situation isn't healthy."

"There has often been so much political sniping that neither the executive nor the legislative branches have been willing or able to settle down to business. At best, the fact they didn't see eye-to-eye on basic issues has made cooperation difficult and short-lived."

"We've seen the disastrous results on national levels when Herbert Hoover could get no solely needed legislation from a Democratic congress. And four years ago when Harry Truman had a GOP congress. Capitol Hill and the White House worked at cross purposes," he cites.

What's the answer?
Party discipline, says the commentator.
"Parties should have well-defined platforms and stick to them. Each member of that party should support those basic principles under penalty of being read out of the party. It works in England; it'd work here."

This man, incidentally, like the typical Midwestern manufacturer and politician that he is, does not admire England to a fault. He's probably inclined a little the other way but he does concede good points in their political system.

If we had that party discipline we wouldn't have such splits as the Dixiecrats and the Northern Liberals in the Democratic party or the isolation-internationalists or conservative-liberal wings in the GOP," he believes.

"The voter would have to be trained, too, to realize that he gets a better government (and usually a more efficient and economical one) if there is party harmony between the executive and the legislature."

"If the voter were assured that all members of one party were strictly obligated to carry out its platform, there wouldn't be the need to cross party lines to elect the individual he favors personally."

On a national level this would probably mean an eventual realignment of political parties as we now know them. He believes that a more clear-cut distinction would then be made between the conservative and the liberal elements in the country no matter what political label they now bear.

"That would get us back to the traditional two-party system where the entire state or national government—executive and legislative—would be voted in or out of office as a body."

On the Michigan level, the change wouldn't be so marked, he believes, because party platforms have never figured so prominently in campaigns."

There are plenty of issues in Michigan.

Right now the corporation profits tax that Governor Williams has long espoused is indicative of the basic differences of Democratic and Republican views on taxation.

Reapportionment of the legislature—coming up for an electoral decision in the constitutional amendment ballot in November—is another that goes down to the most elemental philosophy of government.

That question is—phrased as simply as possible and therefore not entirely adequate—: Shall the legislature be made up solely on a population basis or shall it be so divided that no one geographical area dominates state government?

But with such a personality expert as Gov. Williams running against Fred M. Alger, himself no mean shakes as a "call-'em-by-their-first-name-er", it's pretty safe to bet an inflated time that the 1952 elections will find most voters more interested in state personalities than in platforms.

The Prohibition party will be on the Michigan ballot this fall.

Although for the record, they maintain they're in the race to win, few of its own members are so naive as to believe that they can actually out-poll the two major parties.

But the Prohibition party may play a more important role this year than it has since the days of prohibition.

The reason is pure mathematics.

The "experts" around the capitol—real or self-styled—think that there will be about 12,000 voters roughly classified as "Prohibition party votes." This 12,000 might well be the decisive margin in as closely a fought campaign as this one already shapes up to be.

If they vote for the Prohibition party, which of the major parties is going to lose those votes? If individuals switch, which party will gain those votes?

Republican leaders, knowing that Prohibitionists are conservative people, hope the individual voter in the small party will hesitate to waste a ballot for a candidate that can't possibly win. Then, the GOP is sure, they'll find the Republican party appeals to their conservatism and add at least the major portion of that 12,000 to the GOP totals.

Gene Rutenbar Serves in Korea

Pvt. Gene Rutenbar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rutenbar of 13580 Westmore, now is serving with the 45th Infantry Division in Korea, Army authorities report.

The 45th Division, which captured "T-Bone Hill" in June, recently took part in the see-saw battle for "Old Baldy," a strategic hill position near Chorwan on the western front.

Summer rains have brought a virtual halt to large operations along the entire Korean front, but patrols still make daily contact with the enemy.

Entering the Army last October, Pvt. Rutenbar was stationed at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, before his present assignment overseas.

In civilian life he was a student at Western Michigan College, Kalamazoo. He was graduated from Northville high school.

New "Early Red" raspberry
lengthens season, boosts yield

A new red raspberry variety, named "Early Red," has been developed at Michigan State College's South Haven Experiment Station, after 20 years of breeding and testing. The "Early Red" starts producing berries early in the season when the crop is small and prices are usually higher. Plants are upright, tall, vigorous, hardy and very productive. The berries have good flavor and a long ripening season. They withstand canning without crumbling and freeze as well as Latham raspberries. For more information, call your County Agricultural Agent.

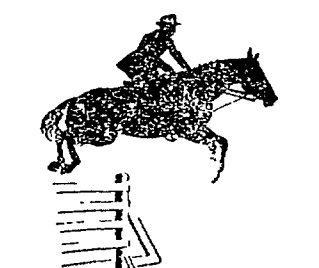

"Daddy Longlegs" guards the nation

This curious-looking device is a "thermistor." It's a speck of metallic oxide imbedded in a glass bead half the size of a grain of rice (or smaller). The bead thermistor controls and measures the flow of electric current in radar sets used to guard the nation's defenses. It's also used in telephone equipment. Developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories and made by Western Electric Company, the bead thermistor is an example of the precision accuracy which has helped give America the finest telephone service in the world.

'When Good Fellows Get Together'...

That the Consumers Power company is a reputable concern manned by executives who are good fellows as well as men of their words was the conclusion of the Village Commission at its Monday meeting.

This friendly decision was the upshot of a not-too-friendly suggestion by Commissioner Alton M. Peters that the company should be made to post a $10,000 bond guaranteeing to put Northville streets back into good condition if it tears them up this fall to lay new gas mains.

After considerable discussion by all members of the commission about how streets have been repaired in the past by Michigan Bell and Consumers even Mr. Peters concurred in the final decision that if the village is vigilant in dealing with the problem of street repairs by the utilities it probably will have little trouble.

Four Couples Repeat Marriage Vows in Saturday, August 16, Ceremonies

Alta Fox Married to Dr. Steininger in Home Service

Candelabra and pink and white gladioli formed the background for the home wedding Saturday afternoon which united Alta Fox and Dr. Wilbur J. Steininger in marriage. The single ring service was read at 4 o'clock by Rev. Rudolph H. Boyce, of Detroit, at the home of the bridegroom's brother, R. H. Steininger in Wayne.

George C. Fox, of Bayard, Nebraska, is the father of the bride, and Dr. Steininger is the son of Mrs. J. S. Steininger of Detroit.

Before the ceremony Mrs. Dorothy Sattelberg, niece of the bridegroom, played several wedding selections on the piano.

For her wedding the bride wore a white silk shantung afternoon dress with a stand-up collar, fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She carried a spray of Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Mildred Ransom, of Dearborn, was her only attendant and she wore a pink nylon afternoon dress.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Steininger wore a peacock blue dress and a corsage of pink roses.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip to northern Michigan for three weeks. For going away the bride chose a pale blue silk shantung dress.

Upon their return Dr. and Mrs. Steininger will make their home at the doctor's quarters at Maybury Sanatorium, where Dr. Steininger is the senior physician and his wife is senior medical technologist.

Lyke-Fisher Pledge Vows In Afternoon Garden Rites

Beverly June Lyke chose the garden of her home for the scene of the wedding in which she became the bride of Charles L. Fisher of Wayland, Michigan. The service took place Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. Rev. Cora Pennell of Salem officiated at the double ring service.

Beverly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald M. Lyke of Salem and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher of Wayland. James Long, Jr., of Birmingham sang "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning." He was accompanied by Lawrence Livingston of Plymouth.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a white tulle gown of tulle and tulle with a matching stole. She carried a nosegay bouquet of white and pink roses.

Janice Faye Lyke attended as her sister's maid of honor and wore a blue tulle over tulle gown. Pink carnations formed her nosegay bouquet. Carole and Joanne Van Aken, of Plymouth, were the bridesmaids and they wore gowns identical in style to the maid-of-honor's. Their nosegay bouquets consisted of bebe mums.

Elwood Fisher, of Wayland, was the best man and Ronald Moore had charge of seating the guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lyke chose a charcoal and white striped nylon dress with black accessories. Mrs. Fisher wore a white nylon dress and each mother was presented with a corsage of red roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home with 125 guests in attendance. After the reception the newlyweds left on a trip to Northern Michigan for a week.

Joan Morel Designs Gown Worn at High Noon Service

Barbara Joan Morel and William Walker Stanford were united in marriage at St. Agatha church, Beech road and Pembroke, at 12 noon Saturday, August 16. Rev. John T. Reid officiated at the double ring ceremony which was read before the altar decorated with white gladioli and mums.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Morel, of Glenmore Avenue, Detroit, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanford of DuBuair Street, Northville.

Bride Designs Gown

Joan entered the church on the arm of her father while the choir sang "O Sanctissima." Her wedding gown, which she designed, was fashioned of alencon lace and nylon net, consisting of a strapless formal topped with a lace jacket. The long sleeves came to points over the wrists and a wing collar offset the jacket which buttoned down to the waist and ended with a small flared peplum. Her finger-up veil of net edged with lace was held in place by a bonnet of net trimmed with rhinestones and seed pearls. A cascade bouquet of red roses completed the ensemble.

Attending the bride were her sisters, Mrs. Donald Heuser and Jeanette Morel. Their gowns were also strapless formal of nylon net and with alencon lace boleros. Net mitts and sweetheart bonnets completed their outfits.

Mrs. Henser's flowers were yellow roses and bronze chrysanthemums, forming a cascade bouquet with yellow ribbon streamers to match her gown. Jeanette carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and chrysanthemums with green ribbon streamers, which matched her gown.

Roommate Attends Bridegroom

Bill was attended by Robert Baker, his college roommate, and his brother, Charles Stanford. Seating the guests were Thomas Stanford, cousin of the bridegroom and Donald Heuser.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Morel chose a floor length gown of lavender chiffon and lace with matching accessories. Mrs. Stanford wore a coral chiffon floor length gown. Each mother wore an orchid corsage.

Reception Held In Northville

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Veterans' Memorial Building, Northville. From there Joan and Bill left on a three week wedding trip which will take them to Niagara Falls, New York City, Tusculum, Alabama and the Smokey Mountains. For traveling the bride wore a suit dress of natural silk shantung, with brown and tan accessories. The corsage from the center of her bridal bouquet completed her ensemble.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Stanford will make their home in Big Rapids, where Bill is attending Ferris Institute.

VFW Auxiliary Installs Officers

Ladies Auxiliary of Post 4012, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held installation of officers at their regular semi-monthly meeting held last evening.

A shift in officers of the post was necessitated by the departure of former auxiliary president Ann Guelzow for her new home in Wisconsin.

Assuming new obligations before the installing officer, Ethel Gagner, senior vice-president of the auxiliary, Department of Michigan, are Stephanie Bird, who was advanced to president from senior vice-president, Betty Kupsky as senior vice-president, and Florence Russell who was elected as the new junior vice-president. Mrs. Kupsky formerly held the office.

A pot-luck supper was held after the installation.

Regular meetings of the Auxiliary are held at the VFW Hall on the first and third Wednesdays of each month, at 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Read to Live in South Lyon After Northern Trip

The nylon lace and net bridal gown worn by Helen Ruth Ault for her marriage to Loren Albert Read on Saturday, Aug. 16, was designed and fashioned by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Norman Gedig, of Detroit.

The double ring ceremony was read in candlelight by the Rev. Elsie Johns in the Clarenceville Methodist church.

Austin D. Ault escorted his daughter to the altar which was decorated with white gladioli and candelabra. The bride's uncle, Albert Owen, of Livonia, sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," "With This Ring" and "The Lord's Prayer" as his vocal selections accompanied by organist Mrs. Paul Arensman. The groom's mother, Mrs. Albert Read, composed a special organ selection for the occasion, which was also played.

Helen's gown was styled with a nylon lace bodice, illusion neckline and long sleeves. The skirt of nylon net over satin extended into a chapel train. Her satin tiara was circled with orange blossoms and held in place a three-quarter length veil. A white orchid centered the bridal bouquet of white gladioli and English ivy.

Has 5 Attendants

Five attendants preceded the bride to the altar. Mrs. George Throne, of Ypsilanti, assisted her sister at matron of honor. Her strapless gown worn with a bolero was fashioned of tulle and net. A matching picture hat and gauntlets and an arm bouquet of fire bronze gladioli completed her attire.

Bridesmaids Lois Read, of South Lyon; Frances Bonar, of Northville and Virginia Oman, of Livonia, were dressed in identical gowns of raspberry, blue and coral, respectively. Junior bridesmaid Ruth Ann Oman, a niece of the bride, who was escorted by ringbearer Brian Kimberly, wore an aqua gown. They carried yellow gladioli and wore picture hats and gauntlets to match their gowns.

Assisting the groom as best man was George Throne of Ypsilanti.

To Live in South Lyon

Before leaving for their wedding trip to the northern peninsula, the new Mrs. Read changed into a champagne colored suit which she wore with black accessories. After Sept. 1, the young couple will be at home at 10085 Rushton Rd., South Lyon.

Helen was graduated from Northville high school with the class of 1949 and has been employed at Michigan Medical Service, Detroit. Loren, a graduate of South Lyon high school in 1947, is a farmer.

Mrs. Meta Myers, the service officer of Ladies Auxiliary, Post 4012 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has a supply of mustering-out pay blanks for discharged Korean War Veterans. She may be reached by calling 578W.

Dear Friends:

I sincerely thank all the folks in and around Northville for the cooperation they have given me, making it possible for me to be in business.

I am closing the door of the White Kitchen Friday evening at 8 o'clock and cannot begin to express my feelings toward leaving.

I have a Farewell Memory Book at the restaurant and I would like to have all my friends drop in and sign it.

Many thanks to the S. L. Braders and Northville Electric Shop for being wonderful neighbors, and also my thanks to the "Singing" Snow Gang and the Police Department for all their help (in spite of all the ribbing concerning my coffee).

Last but not least, I would like to express my appreciation to all my employees that have worked so hard with me to make the White Kitchen just like home.

Thanks for Everything.
(Signed)

EXILING GOD

"Plea for God rejected by the United Nations." "God to have no place in the new world order." "Creator is ruled out of the United Nations set-up." "United Nations plan a God-less world." These are typical of the headlines which appeared in the nations leading newspapers on Nov. 12, 1946. That was the day when the United Nations Organization formally refused so much as to mention God in its constitution. It's high time the leaders of our nation got out their history books and see that happens to nations when they forget God. The road of atheism and all other conceptions of Satan lead to ruin. United States boasts itself as a Christian nation. We print on our coins "In God we trust". We head our legal documents "In the year of our Lord 1948". Is this the truth or is it not? The word says, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord". In times past we have been a nation blessed of God. What the future holds if we continue in this present trend toward godlessness may well be wondered at. We were spared the horrors of War II from coming to our soil. What thanks has God received?

reluctantly voted to go along with the old charter limitation rather than take any action which might be interpreted as stretching the law.

Murphy's Criticism

Mr. Murphy, who came to the meeting merely as an observer, and shortly thereafter became a dominating influence in determining policy, took the commission to task for the dispute over construction of the alley retaining wall east of Center St. which led to the resignation of Mr. Frederick R. Storer as consulting engineer. His point was that when the commission retained Storer to draw plans and supervise construction of the retaining wall it should have investigated his qualifications fully and then abided by his advice. "Instead," he pointed out, "the commission apparently chose to substitute its judgment as laymen for that of an experienced engineer. Then, when the engineer resigned, the commission questioned his competence."

Commission's Defense

The commission's defense, offered principally by Commissioner John F. Stubenvoll, but concurred in generally by others present, was that Mr. Storer had been employed without investigation upon the recommendation of Mr. F. R. Hoheisel, the engineer originally chosen for the job. Mr. Hoheisel suffered a heart attack before the job was completed and was forced to withdraw. Subsequently, in working with Mr. Storer, several differences of opinion developed over changes in specifications with Storer "going along" with the commission's wishes until the final blow-up July 23.

Mr. Stubenvoll and other commissioners claimed that to have built the disputed section of the alley retaining wall as Mr. Storer said it should be done would have been unnecessarily costly, and no better than it now is after being constructed as the commission dictated. He pointed out that although the commission had not followed Mr. Storer's advice, it had been advised in changing the specifications by an engineer on the staff of Gilbert Jerome.

CLIFTON W. PHALEN will become the new president of the Michigan Bell Telephone company on Sept. 1. Phalen, who has been vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, succeeds John A. Greene, named the new president of the Ohio Bell Telephone company.

Mr. Murphy's reply to this was that the commission apparently rated its judgment as laymen higher than that of a professional engineer.

New Gas Pipeline Serves Northville

A new 40-mile-long natural gas pipeline connecting the Oakland and Macomb County areas with the main gas transmission lines of the Michigan Gas Storage company at a point near Laingsburg, northeast of Lansing, has been completed. The Storage company announced today.

The new tube, which is of 24-inch diameter, more than doubles the ability of the Storage Company to deliver natural gas to Consumers Power company for its customers in a populous area including Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Pontiac, Mt. Clemens, Royal Oak, Berkley, Birmingham, East Detroit, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Roseville, St. Clair Shores, Wayne and other communities.

It also reinforces gas service to the Flint area, since its use will relieve other pipeline facilities that now serve both the Pontiac and Flint regions.

Kensington Park's Visitors at Peak

Members of the board of commissioners of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority reviewed progress on construction of buildings and roads and land acquisition at their August meeting Thursday afternoon, Aug. 14, at Warren Valley Golf Club.

Record-breaking attendance at the authority's five parks in Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston, Oakland and Macomb counties during the month of July was reported by Commission Chairman R. Clare Cummings.

Kensington Metropolitan Park's attendance surpassed all previous records with attendance of nearly 40,000 persons during July. A mechanical traffic counter, installed this year, showed 90,600 cars entering the park, and the personal attendance estimate is based on an average of four and one-half occupants per car.

Free swimming lessons were given 589 youngsters during a single week at Martindale and Maple beaches in Kensington Park, and 3,061 persons used the beaches during the same week.

St. Clair Metropolitan Beach showed an estimate attendance of 215,600 persons during July, a 13% increase over July, 1951, and traffic counters registered 49,550 cars during the month. The count includes Greyhound buses which make hourly trips from Detroit and Mt. Clemens and many chartered buses.

Nagy Brothers Get Army Discharges

Large Kindergarten Increases Need For Precaution

Northville children born in 1947—115 registered to date—will be starting school this fall. It will be a larger kindergarten than last year, said C. T. Pregitzer, principal of the Northville Grade School, since only 95 youngsters attended last year.

In Michigan 160,000 have been registered to attend schools for the first time. It will be the biggest kindergarten in the state's history.

The Michigan Department of Health advises parents to see to it that every one of the youngsters is in the best possible health and has had "booster shots" for protection against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough before taking his place in the schoolroom. Close association with many children in school rooms and on the playgrounds greatly increases the chances of exposure to communicable diseases.

The Department reminds parents that the immunization their children received as infants may have "worn off" by the time they are ready to enter school and "boosters" are necessary to assure continued protection.

Those who had their shots as infants require only a single booster to raise their level of protection to where there is no danger of their contracting the illnesses. If, through some oversight, the child has not been immunized as an infant, the complete series of protective treatments should be given.

If the youngster who is to enter school this fall has not had a physical examination within the last six months, he should be taken to the family physician and dentist for a thorough check-up now so that whatever treatment is required to "bring him up to optimum health can be completed before the opening of school.
