Glenn Long's Petition for Rezoning Denied

The Northville-Village Planning Commission at a special meeting Tuesday evening rejected the petition of Glenn Long for a change in zoning of his property on Baseline Rd. from residential to commercial.

Such a change would have permitted Mr. Long to continue conducting his plumbing business from his home at 411 Baseline. The planning commission's action was unanimous. Its decision was reached before a packed meeting in the village hall, at which many residents of the Baseline-Horton Ave. area had come to protest Mr. Long's petition.

Sewer and Paving
Plans Submitted

Plans for storm sewer and paving in Rogers St. and storm sewer in Dubuar, Linden, Randolph and High streets have been submitted to the village commission by George Jerome & Co., consulting engineers, who have done similar work for the village in the past.

The Jerome plan recommends that concrete pavement with integral curbs be placed on Rogers St. on the basis that it would be more economical and more satisfactory than placing curb and gutter and widening and resurfacing the existing roadway.

Due to the great difference in elevation between the east and west sides of the street on Rogers, the Jerome company has planned the curb grade on the west side higher than on the east side. However, the curb grade as planned is still higher than the sidewalk on the east side of Rogers north of Dubuar. The report points out that if the curb grade is placed lower than the east sidewalk there will be an excessive slope from walk to curb on the west side of the street.

New Lighting Plan
for Parking Lot

E. L. Mills, district manager of the Detroit Edison Company, has submitted a lighting plan for the village's parking lot and alley south of Main St. from Center St. to the Presbyterian Church to illuminate the area sufficiently to discourage loitering and thefts from cars.

Cost to the village will be $26.68 for the one 6000 lumen OH lamp at the corner of the alley and parking space near Center St. and six 10,000 lumen lamps staggered along the outside edges of the parking area.

Cost of erection of light poles will be defrayed by the Edison Company.

Thomas R. Carrington, chairman of the planning commission conducted the meeting, with commission members Harry Wagenschultz, Preston Fuller, Charles Murphy, George Zerbel, Ernest Ebert and Joseph Hoehl also present. Only member absent was Carl Ely.

Final Action Expected Shortly

Refusal of the planning commission to grant Mr. Long's request now places the violation squarely in the lap of the village commission, which can either vote to overrule the planning commission or proceed against Mr. Long and compel him to cease violating the ordinance.

Judging from remarks of various members of the commission at previous meetings, it is expected that the commission will move promptly to bring an abatement of the nuisance. Mr. Long admitted to the village commission Monday evening that he has been violating the local zoning ordinance for approximately four years.

Dr. Brown Will Act
as Section Chairman
at Medical Session

Phillip N. Brown, M.D., medical superintendent of the Northville State Hospital on Seven Mile Rd., will take an active role at the 1952 Michigan State Medical Society Annual Session in Detroit, Sept. 22-26.

Dr. Brown will act as section chairman during a scientific discussion period Sept. 26 on nervous and mental diseases. The selection of Michigan's Foremost Family Physician will be another highlight of the activities of the state's M.D.'s as they convene in Detroit for the week-long business and scientific meeting.

Michigan's Foremost Family Physician will be named by the House of Delegates, policy-making body of the Michigan State Medical Society, during their deliberations, Sept. 22 and 23. The doctor of the year will be selected from candidates submitted by individual County Medical Societies.

School Nurse Lists
Toxoid Program

The toxoid and vaccination programs for Northville school children will take place Oct. 1 and 22, and Nov. 12, stated Miss Ruth Knapp, R.N., school nurse. Those children up to ten years of age will receive a booster of toxoid containing whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus antigens, or three doses if they have not had the protection previously.

All age groups may be vaccinated for smallpox. This should be done every five years, said Miss Knapp. Local doctors help with the program and a charge of 50 cents is made for each dose.

"Members of the Parent-Teachers Association and of the Mothers' Club always help make this program a success," said Mrs. Knapp, who stated that letters will be sent home with the pupils for signatures of parents and return to the school.

2nd 'Parade' Drawing
Attracts Large Crowd

A huge, good-natured crowd which surrounded Northville's main four corners intersection scanned their sheets of numbers Friday night as a main prize of $250 in cash and five lesser prizes were given away by the Retail Merchants Association. It was the second weekly drawing in the association's September "Parade of Progress."

Leo Hollis was the winner of the main cash award, which was presented on behalf of the Merchants Association by George Stanford, president of the UAW-CIO Local 186.

Added Attraction

An added attraction at the drawing tomorrow night, Sept.

Equestrian Team
Regains Trophy
at Hunter Trials

The Northville Junior Olympic Equestrian team rallied in the last of three jumping competitions Sunday in the Hunter Trials to bring home the big silver challenge trophy, placing ahead of the Outland team and the Bloomfield Beavers.

The Northville team, composed of Captain Ann Jensen, Frannie Malley, Jo Ann Wallace and Gail Lawrence, alternate, had won the first competition, the team jumping event, but placed last in the relay jumping event for teams.

Going into the third phase of the competition, Miss Jensen, riding last, had to be perfect and she was. She took her big black gelding, Twenty One, over the sixteen obstacles without a fault.

The Northville team had low score of 19 faults Outland was second with 21, and the Bloomfield team had 47.

Other Northville Winners

Other Northville riders had their share of ribbons, too. Patty Haass won a trophy and blue ribbon in the Beginners Horsemanship class, and Mimi McLaughlin placed second in the nine-to-twelve year horsemanship class.

Frannie Malley, riding her grey heavyweight hunter, Rainmaker, claimed the silver trophy and blue ribbon in the Working Hunter Class, winning over a field of nine.

Six horses were entered in the Cross Country Hunting competition, a new class in Michigan horse events, which included eleven solid fences. Frank Duffy of Birmingham, riding Blue Bonnet, took first, with Ann Jensen second and Frannie Malley third. Of interest to spectators as well as contestants was the Olympic (Continued on Back Page)

Discussion of Curb Work
Is Chief Council Topic

"Never a dull moment" aptly describes the Monday evening meeting of the Northville Village Commission, which covered a wide range of subjects — some amicably, and others with considerable acrimony.

Highlights of the evening included the quality of curb and gutter construction just completed in the Village by Ministrelli Brothers, admission by Glenn Long, plumbing contractor, that he has been violating the village zoning ordinance for four years, (story in Col. 2), a second critical letter to the commission from R. L.

Richard concerning the Long violation and caustic criticism of Mr. Richard by Commissioner Claude N. Ely for refusing in his second letter to appear before the commission to answer questions concerning statements in his first letter.

Curb and Gutter Job

Hottest subject on the agenda was the curb and gutter job, which Gilbert T. Jerome, the village's engineering consultant, said on Aug. 21 did not meet specifications and in a second letter written Sept. 5 indicated probably would be satisfactory.

On hand to assure the village commission that everything was going to turn out all right were representatives of the Fendt company, from which Ministrelli Brothers purchased the transit-mix concrete used in the job, an engineer from the Peerless Portland Cement Co. to testify to the quality of the concrete, and Mr. Ministrelli, who professed lack of knowledge about the terms of the contract with the village and whether his firm had lived up to its specifications.

Absent was the key man, Mr. Jerome, whose alternate criticism and acceptance of the quality of the curb and gutter job, had raised all the furore. Mr. Jerome, according to village president Conrad E. Langfield, had promised to attend the meeting, but at the last minute had failed even to telephone him. It had been hoped that Jerome would throw some light on his original reason for specifying that "air entraining" cement be used, so the commission could judge whether the "High-Early" cement that actually was used was as good from all standpoints.

Langfield Takes Lead

Langfield took the lead in trying to learn why the contractor had substituted a different concrete formula than the one his bid was based on. He told Ministrelli that when the village commission awards a contract "we don't expect contractors to change the specifications at will. We awarded you a contract calling for a certain kind of cement and you, without our consent, fill it with another kind of cement."

To this Ministrelli replied that his brother had made arrangements for its purchase from the Fendt Company. "I just understood that a six bag mixture was ordered," he said, "That's about all I know about it."

Replying to another question concerning whether the newly poured concrete was covered with a two-inch layer of dirt or straw and kept wet for a definite period, as specified in the contract, Ministrelli said: "I don't know about that. It was my brother who handled it. The job was more or less in his hands and I couldn't tell you much about it."

Payment Withheld

Langfield recommended that even though seven-day tests indicate that the concrete used may be strong enough to meet the specifications, the commission should delay payment to Ministrelli Brothers until the final 28-day tests have been made. He also recommended, and the commission agreed, to hold up payment of the latest bill from the Jerome Company "until we hear from Mr. Jerome."

Both Mr. Fendt and the engineer from the Peerless Portland Cement Co. testified that the High Early cement used would provide a stronger concrete than the village's specifications called for. Mr. Fendt emphasized, too, that his position in the matter was simply that of a supplier to Ministrelli Brothers, the original contractor, and that he had no reason to have knowledge of the concrete formula that Ministrelli Brothers was supposed to meet. "Our firm merely supplied the concrete specified by the contractor, and is entirely innocent of any intent to substitute (Continued on Back Page)

Rotary Club to Hold
Auction on Sept. 26

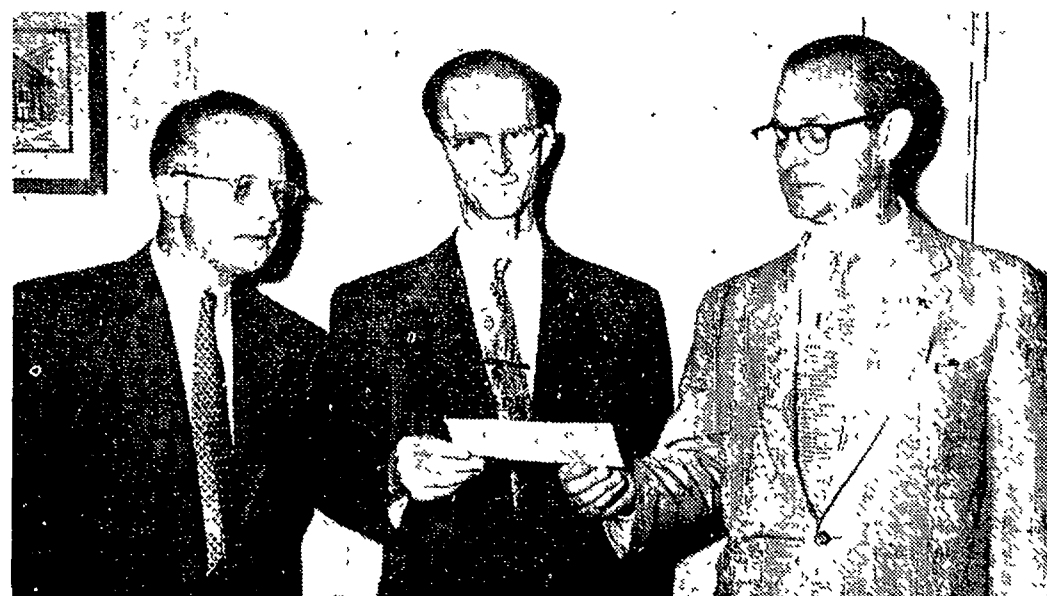

The Northville Rotary Club's auction and rummage sale will take place on Friday, Sept. 26, under the grandstand at Northville Downs, rain or shine.

A large and varied collection of items for sale are being gathered by Rotarians from its membership and other villagers. There's almost everything represented in the long list, including the kitchen sink—two of them, in fact.

Representative of the items to be sold are a leather chaise longue, stoves, washers, chairs, tables and beds. There are baby strollers and a buggy, lamps, sweepers, auto tires and a set of house screens. There's a rowing machine for exercising, a slightly ancient permanent waving machine, a sled and a bird cage. And there's a great amount of clothing.

The private sale will begin at 9 a.m. on Friday, with items to be sold according to their low price tag. The auction will begin at 2 p.m. Friday, with everything going to the highest bidder.

Legacy Provides Student Loan Fund

The $2,000 C. R. Benton Student Loan Fund was activated when a check was turned over to Fund Trustee Donald B. Lawrence (center) for deposit by School Board Trustee Donald B. Severance (right) as Schools Superintendent Russell H. Amerman (left) looks on.

A legacy which had been undiscovered for almost thirty years has been set up by the Northville School Board as a fund for student loans.

The two thousand dollar fund, called the C. R. Benton Student Loan Fund, will aid students who wish to attend college or high school.

The legacy, provided for in the will of Cassius R. Benton in 1922, was not discovered until a piece of property in the original Benton estate was to be sold. Clearance of the title necessitated settlement of the fund, which actually amounted to about $3,000.

Legal details, however, had become so complicated as the estate was depleted over the years that a settlement of $2,000 was arrived at between the school board and the bonding company involved.

Donald B. Lawrence has been named as trustee of the fund, and loans to students draw no interest as long as the student attends school. Applications for loans may be made either to Mr. Lawrence or to the Northville School Board.

Rules governing applications and granting of loans will be printed in next week's Record.

All Aboard for College Town

Family wardrobe trunks and suitcases were taken from the attic last week and packed with white bucks, grey flannels, sweaters, skirts and formal dresses belonging to the Northville college set. Most of the students have already left for their year's work but a few of the returning students will be stowing the family car with their possessions later this month and heading for their chosen college.

Football practice at Kemper Military Academy, Booneville, Mo., cut short Dick Gussell's summer vacation. He left Northville Aug. 30 to begin his football training.

College Family Affair

The Rev. E. E. Rossow family will have three of their children in college this year. Lois, a 1952 graduate from Northville High School, has already registered at St. John's College, Winfield, Kans., while Edwin has returned to Concordia Seminary at St. Louis, Mo., and Karl to Concordia College, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

College is a family proposition in the W. Fred Clark home this year, too, with both Evabelle and Jim in school. The Clarks took Evabelle by car to Chicago, Ill., where she boarded a train for the Eastern New Mexico University, Peralta, New Mexico. Both she and former roommate at Adrian have transferred this year to New Mexico. On the way back home, Jim and his luggage were left at Big Rapids where he will enter Ferris Institute.

Ferris Institute will also be the studying spot for Charles "Clancy" Ely and W. Linwood "Dubby" Miller who will be Jim's roommates. Peter Pletsch has also enrolled at the institute.

Married Couples Return

Howard Meyer left Sunday to register as a freshman at Albion College this year, while Barton Connors, Leonard "Skip" Howard, John Poulos and Bud Cansfield will be returning. At Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, will be Lila Rakestraw.

Another newly wed couple, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brummel, will live on the campus of Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton where Roger will be a junior.

Milroy Johnson, who lives on Novi Rd., but attended Detroit Country Day School, began his classes at the College of Wooster on Sept. 16.

Beatrice Janchick is now a student at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo. More 1952 Northville High School graduates attending out-state colleges are Gail Matzen at Monticello and Nancy Littell at Carlton College. Katie Kampf has returned to Smith for the year.

Sophs., Jrs. Return

Bob Freydl has returned to Adrian College, and Joyce Hawthorn to Alma College. Gail Peters has returned to Western Michigan College at Kalamazoo, and Mary Lou Litsenberger has begun her college career there. Stanley Dahlager has entered the school of pharmacy at Detroit Technological.

Howard Meyer left Sunday to register as a freshman at Albion College this year, while Barton Connors, Leonard "Skip" Howard, John Poulos and Bud Cansfield will be returning. At Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, will be Lila Rakestraw.

Russell Frid, Charlene Waid and Dorothy Benton.

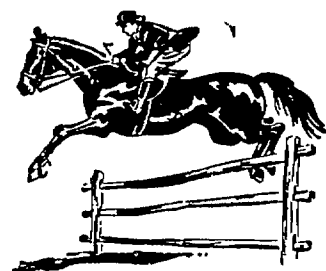

Four 1952 high school graduates, Gay Duerson, Marilyn Funk, Mary Jean Woodruff and CeCe Bloom have journeyed to Ann Arbor where they are enrolled as freshmen at the University of Michigan. Alice Newton and John Rackov are returning to U. of M. and Helen Meaker and Marilyn Sackett have transferred from MSNC and Albion, respectively.

Tom Heslip, Jim Whipple, Bob Kirkey, Tom Bernhardt, Dick Coolman, Marjorie DeJohn, Martha Chappell, Bob Erwin, Corrine Clark, Mary Louise Lee and Peg Price are among the students returning to Michigan State College. Dave Boyd, Dave Lee and Dick Sands are freshmen there.

America Is Everybody's Business:

Here Is Winner in V. F. W. Essay Contest

August 5, 1952

To The Editor:

In a couple of your spring editions you will recall an essay by Walter Newton on the subject "America Is Everybody's Business" which was sponsored by the V. F. W. Auxiliary. Also, comments and an editorial followed.

Today I received my V. F. W. Auxiliary magazine in which the National prize winning essay was printed. (Thalia Hergenroeder of Ravenna, Ohio received the $1000 prize).

I believe we would leave something unfinished if we did not follow through by printing this in the Record. The article is heretofore attached.

I hope many students and parents will read this essay and that next year more High School students will take part in the V. F. W. Auxiliary essay contest when presented. I also trust more Northville Record subscribers will read them.

We must admit the younger generation is doing some fine thinking even if some of us oldersters don't always agree with them.

Sincerely,
(Mrs. A. C.) Bea Carlson
cc V. F. W. Auxiliary

The prize-winning essay by Thalia Hergenroeder:

The old man seated himself at the study desk and thoughtfully dipped his long quill pen into the ornate inkwell. After taking a piece of paper from the drawer, he began to write. Slowly and meticulously he formed the intricate letters, weighing each word with care. This letter must be a sensitive balance of exhortation, zeal, conservatism, and common sense. It must appeal to all classes, all factions of a disunited, sharply discordant people.

The old man was Samuel Adams. On that bleak Boston day in 1772 he began a letter that was to shape the destiny of the world. His words were to be echoed a thousand times in the homes of wealthy merchants and poor farmers. They were to be debated in churches and town meetings and finally, shot out at Lexington and Concord.

Samuel Adams stood before the Boston town meeting and proposed his famous Committee of Correspondence. Suiting action to words, he wrote the letter that incited the colonies against British tyranny. Oh, it didn't happen overnight, for the Americans are a people slow to anger. But once their wrath was aroused, the colonists "plugged away" at a war that seemed impossible to win. Yet victory was theirs!

Freedom—that was Samuel Adams' dream. In 1772 that dream was fresh and new. In 1952 have the colors of that dream become faded and tarnished by time? No, the prospect of freedom is just as thrilling, just as worth fighting for as it ever was. Ask the down-trodden, the oppressed of this world. They'll tell you the value of freedom.

Actually, it doesn't take much concentration to decide the worth of America's ideals. The dream of liberty was implanted in the hearts of the people. They rose up, and freedom was theirs. Courage and hard work have preserved that freedom through the years.

Time and time again, on the beachheads and the hillside of the world, young Americans have died for it. Voters stream to the polls year after year expressing it. Judges preside over jury trials weighing it. Freedom through Democracy—the hope of the world. But have I been painting too rosy a picture, or conveying the idea that everything is perfect here? Condemn me, if I have, for false security is an ever present evil which we must guard against. There are forces that would destroy what we have built here. Ideologies of jealousy and greed reach out from all directions. The citizens of America must keep this nation strong—a bulwark which can hold back the surging evils without and crush the burrowing enemies within.

Therein lies the challenge of America. A duty not just to be fulfilled by the other guy or just by you and me. You see, this challenge must be met by everyone if we are to preserve forever what is ours today.

Merely asserting that everyone must help is not enough. Mapping out a plan of action is a forward step, but that too falls short of our goal. Our aim is to preserve democracy and freedom. We will succeed only when every American understands not only his democratic privileges, but also his democratic responsibilities. Understanding is the first step; then comes fulfillment. And with fulfillment comes the realization of our dream.

Let us then begin our chart; begin to show each groping individual how he fits into the scheme of things—this pattern of democracy.

You there, Mrs. Housewife, did you cast that hard won ballot? Say, Mister, did you know the news page is printed in English too, just like the funnies and the sports section? Why did you falsify your tax returns? Why did you refuse jury duty that time? Young man, why are you faking illness to avoid the draft? Why did you decline to serve on the Council when they asked you?

Each of you shrugs your shoulders and turns away. Do you know your indifference can destroy us if you permit it to?

But these must not be permitted to destroy us! We must convince Mrs. Housewife of her duty to vote. It is the ballot of every citizen that gives us our voice in government.

We must convince the farmer,

South Lyon Phone Exchange Planned

The South Lyon telephone exchange will be changed at 12:01 a.m. on Nov. 12, according to George P. Hartrick, manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. The local number change comes in November and operator toll dialing will come in the next few years, he said.

The new numbers will consist of the central office name "GENEVA" plus five numbers. "So far, the letters on the telephone dials have not been used here," explained Mr. Hartrick. "GENEVA," the exchange name, has been assigned to tie the local office in with the proposed nationwide operator toll dialing plan. We have launched a program of many such number changes in exchanges within our territory.

The new telephone directory which will be delivered early in November will list all the new numbers.

the businessman, the school boy, that it is their duty to keep well-informed. If they keep a wary eye on the world and particularly on their own little corner of it, no one is going to "pull a shady deal" behind their backs. There can be no undermining of democracy from within.

Again, we have to convince every individual that no matter how small or insignificant he may feel, his words have meaning to someone. His ideas will be heard, weighed, and quite likely believed by at least a few of his fellow men. His power must be shown him and knowledge given him, so that he may use that power to build America up, not tear her down.

We must point out the importance of paying taxes to support the workings of democracy at home and abroad. We must convince the busy laborer that it is his privilege to take time from a harrying schedule to accept his jury duty. Someday he too may appreciate that right to a free trial.

Politics is often scoffed at and said to be "dirty and crooked." All right then, show the masses it is time for them to do more than gripe. Let them run their government the way it should be run!

Finally, we must show our young people that if the need arises, they must go out to the far flung battlefields of the world and fight for our dream.

You can see we have quite a selling job before us, but do not be discouraged. Samuel Adams knew only hope that bleak November afternoon as he began the first of his letters for freedom. His task was perhaps more hopeless than ours, yet he kindled the flame that snatched freedom from tyranny. With similar determination and purpose, we can preserve that freedom unto all generations.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE!

A bottle of medicine sitting on the stand beside a sick person will not aid in his recovery! It may have been prescribed by the ablest of doctors. It may be the sure cure, but it is only beneficial when taken by the patient. Friend, allow me to point out a parallel between this example of the many people who hear the Gospel of salvation preached and do nothing about it. They go to church where the Gospel is preached, they enjoy the sermon, but they do not obey the Gospel by repenting of their sins and personally accepting Christ as their Saviour. One must not only hear the Gospel and be convinced that the way set forth is the truth; he must be obedient unto the Gospel (II Thess. 1:8). This is like "taking your medicine" and there is no forgiveness of sins and imputation of a right standing with God unless you do. This obedience of the Gospel requires a definite decision and act of faith on the part of every individual. He first is to repent of his sins by acknowledging his sinfulness and by determining to turn from them; and secondly, to accept Jesus Christ as Saviour by trusting in His work on Calvary and calling upon the name of the Lord for salvation.

Copper Boom May Return to Upper Peninsula

by Gene Alleman

Boom time is returning again to Michigan's Copper Country at the edge of the Porcupine Mountain State Park near Ontonagon.

We've just visited Keweenaw and drove over to examine Ontonagon's revived White Pine mine.

It was our first trip into Keweenaw since V-J Day in 1945. Then we traveled by the chugging Copper Queen boat from Copper Harbor to Isle Royal national park in company with Dave Wilcox of the state conservation department. Memories of that jaunt still linger. It was good to see this scenic bit of Michigan wonderland again.

Copper boom at the White Pine mine, formerly operated by Calumet & Hecla, involves a new process just perfected by the Copper Range Mining company at a cost of many millions and over a period of several years.

Back at the turn of the century Ontonagon county was the scene of 1,000 men working in a galaxy of mines. There were the Minnesota, Michigan, Rockland, Victoria National, Nonesuch, Carp Lake (Porcupine Mountain), Norwick, Mass. Adventure and the White Pine mine.

The White Pine was opened in 1881 and was closed down one year later. Calumet & Hecla, Michigan's biggest copper enterprise, took an option and finally started operations in 1914.

Approximately 18 million pounds of the red metal were produced between 1914 and 1921. This was a relative low grade of copper ore, the highest average yield being 24.76 pounds to the ton of rock.

At a public sale held in Ontonagon in January, 1929, White Pine holdings were picked up by the Copper Range Mining company. The purchase price was $119,000, just enough to pay off $116,000 in bills.

After nine years of experimenting with methods to extract copper profitably from the White Pine type of low grade rock, Copper Range applied to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a loan. Diamond drill cores were submitted to RFC engineers as proof of mining potentials. RFC offered $100 millions on the basis of the ore findings, together with a study of the Copper Range research methods.

The final agreement was $57 millions at 5 percent from the federal government, while the Copper Range company was to put up $13 millions of their own money.

Copper Range is reported to be confident that White Pine will turn out to be a bonanza. The chalcocite rock can be mined in the manner as coal at lower cost than the traditional methods employed in following veins of native copper down deep into the earth. The old Nonesuch mine and much of the Porcupine Mountain State Park have the same potentials. Calumet and Hecla officials do not agree. They say, "Uncle Sam has bought a lemon."

When White Pine is in full operation, estimated now for 1954, approximately a thousand men will be employed. A brand new community is being created out of the bush. A 40-acre trailer park, for example, is now under construction with all modern facilities. Hospital and schools will be available.

A railroad is to be constructed some 20 miles from the Duluth South Shore and Atlantic line at Bergland, to the south on M-64. The state highway will be re-routed to go through the town of White Pine.

The Copper Country near Ontonagon has had its ups and downs for more than a century. The Civil War furnished the first real boom; then mines shut down when prices tumbled. Lumber mills thrived for 20 years, agricultural boom came in this century with promise of good times.

If the White Pine project proves that low grade copper ore can be produced profitably, there is enough ore available in this region to keep mines in operation for a half century or more, it is estimated.

Space does not permit analysis of the potentials for the Upper Peninsula in similar mining of low grade iron ore. It is well known that the region possesses millions of tons of this metal that only awaits the perfecting of research methods already well under way.

Don't sell the iron and copper countries of the Upper Peninsula short!

This was our conclusion after digging a little for information about the 1952 copper boom at Ontonagon and the revived interest in iron mining elsewhere.

Oleomargarine
Michigan dairy leaders are studying the vigorous competition the revived oleomargarine business is giving butter makers.

In 1940, butter eaters used 17 pounds per capita. Then came the war years and butter was scarce. Many housewives turned to oleo from necessity. When it became legal to sell colored oleo and the housewife was spared the laborious chore of kneading coloring into white oleo, the per capita consumption of butter tumbled to nine pounds, little more than half of the pre-war figure.

Twenty years ago, America used 2.3 billion pounds of butter annually; last year it ate 1.4 billion pounds. Oleo meanwhile went from less than 2.5 pounds per capita in 1940 to about seven pounds last year.

Michigan has fared better than the national average because oleo is still a favorite in tenement areas. But you can bet a buffalo nickel that the huge dairy industry of our state isn't going to sit idle and not protect its butter market, a source of economic strength not only to that industry but to all of Michigan.

Taxes

Michigan pays more federal revenue taxes than any state except New York and Illinois. It's sixth in the number of tax returns filed and seventh in population.

Yet the latest Internal Revenue Bureau plan is to lump Michigan with Ohio and make Cleveland the division headquarters. And Michigan doesn't like that one little bit.

Every businessman who deals with Uncle Sam's tax boys—that's everyone from a farmer in Huron County to General Motors in Detroit—fears that Cleveland will be just another sand bar in the channel to Washington. Tax problems will take weeks longer to be cleared up, they fear.

"Michigan taxpayers, who file nearly three million returns and pay approximately 1/12 of the total tax collections in the United States, cannot be serviced efficiently and economically with a District Commissioner in another state," argues John S. Coleman, president of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce, acting as spokesman for all Michigan businessmen.

Business leaders in your community may soon be asking you to add to the protesting telegrams being sent to Treasurer Secretary Snyder.

ne formula for another. The concrete we supplied, even though it was not according to the village engineer's formula, was a premium mix that will test even higher than the 4000 pounds per square inch which the specifications call for."

Mr. Fendt's claim of superior strength for his concrete was supported by the Peerless Cement engineer, who testified that the High Early cement will have approximately 20% to 25% more strength than the air-entraining cement called for in the specifications.

Littell Scores A Point

James E. Littell, village attorney, drew the interesting admission from the Peerless engineer that even though the High Early cement may have greater strength, air-entraining cement has superior qualities in resisting the action of salt which often causes shipping and cracking of concrete. Although Mr. Jerome's absence made it impossible for the commission to question him on the original reason for specifying air-entraining cement, two well-known contractors told the Record this week that High Early cement is generally used where it is desirable that concrete harden quickly, whereas air-entraining cement is highly resistant to salt or lime solutions. It hardens slowly and requires considerably longer to come up to final strength. It is to make the hardening period as gradual as possible that such cement is covered with dirt or straw which is kept moist for several days.

SOUNDS RIGHT

The teacher was giving a lesson on the seasons. She asked, "Frankie, why does your father put up the storm windows in the fall and take them down in the spring?"

"The main reason is that my mother keeps after him until he does."

Gas Guns, Party Lines Affected by New State Laws

Two amendments to state laws add gas or air guns to the definition of firearms and set up rules regulating the emergency use of party telephone lines, according to the Michigan State Police. The laws became effective Sept. 18.

Two amendments to state laws law includes gas or air guns, but not the so-called BB gun. The purchaser of a gas or air gun must be a citizen of the United States, a resident of the State of Michigan for at least six months and be at least 21 years old. The guns must also be registered and permits obtained to carry them, the latter being issued or rejected by the county concealed weapons licensing board.

The amendment to the penal code covering telephones makes it a misdemeanor to refuse to yield or surrender the use of a party line in order to permit the reporting of a fire or summoning police, medical or other aid in cases of emergency. The amendment also provides that telephone directories must carry a notice explaining the offense. Failure to yield party lines in the past has resulted in some tragic consequences, said State Police.

Social Security Benefits Increased

Social security monthly checks mailed Sept. 3 to approximately nine thousand people in the Northwest area of Detroit and Wayne County were the last under the old rates of payment, according to Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest social security office, 14600 Grand River, corner of Hubbell. Payments due to the same people early in October will amount to about $360,000.

As a result of changes made in the social security law in July nearly everyone receiving old-age and survivors insurance benefits will get higher payments. Most retired workers will receive increases ranging from $5 to $8.60. Increases for dependents and survivors will be less than those for retired workers. In most cases, these increases will be about $2 to $5.

"For example," Baltuck says, "a retired insured worker whose August payment was $40, based on earnings received since 1936, will get a September payment of $45; a worker who got $68.50 in the current check will get $77.10 the first week in October."

Baltuck says that it will not be necessary for persons now getting old-age and survivors insurance payments to call or come to the Northwest social security office to get the increases. The checks they will receive early in October will automatically carry the increased amounts.

FALL FISHING NEGLECTED

Fall fishing in Michigan is a woefully neglected sport. Just when the fish really begin to cooperate the fishermen lose interest. How come? Brook and brown trout are really the only fish that enjoy the protection of a closed season come September, but all the rest face little danger from better than a half million fishermen who may go afield but leave their tackle home. Muskogean and many upper peninsula streams where fishing is legal for this mighty warrior all thru November. Do fishermen flock to do battle with this worthy foe? They do not, strangely enough.

Too Much Diversion

Maybe there's just too much Michigan Outdoors. Brisk fall weather in our State apparently calls for gun and dog. Fishing's for hot weather. Our plentiful supply of upland game—partridge and bunnies up north, pheasants in the south—win more attention than fish, and rightfully so. But why not take along your tackle? The early days of the hunting season may produce a warm spell that once again turns your thoughts to rod and reel. It'll be too hot to run the dogs... too muggy to tramp thru the woods. Chances are there's a swell lake nearby—maybe one you've never fished before. Break out the tackle box and enjoy fall fishing in Michigan. And don't neglect those steelheads.

Steelhead Streams

Stop in at Oscoda and meet Johnny Mead. He'll show you where those big, battling rainbow trout congregate in the Au Sable, and you'll find Johnny fishing far into the deer season—and catching plenty, too.

Meet Teddy Kotowich at East Jordan, and fish those deep, clear Jordan river pools where Lake Michigan Steelhead wait for a wiggling flatfish or enticing cluster of night crawlers.

Stand in the shadow of the Tippee Dam on the Manistee and watch the big 'bows jump four feet high just below the spillway while you fish.

You'll come home a firm believer in fall fishing, and you'll find another thrill in Michigan Outdoors!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 10:00 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

LOW COURSE

A visitor at the golf club teed up for the first hole, made a wild swing and completely missed the ball.

"It's a good thing I found out at the start," he said. "This course is at least two inches lower than the one I usually play."
