Northville Mustangs Trip South Lyon, 13 to 7, to Post First Football Victory

Northville's Mustangs got even in the percentage department last Friday night by downing the South Lyon Lions 13 to 7 in a football game at Ford Field. They had lost to Plymouth the week before.

Northville scored first but had to tally again in the last quarter to overcome a 7 to 6 deficit which resulted from a 70-yard run and score by South Lyon on an intercepted pass.

The Mustangs' first score came in the second quarter on a three-yard pass in the right flat from Bob Burgess to Don Johnson. Johnson's conversion kick was wide of the uprights.

The tally was actually set up by a 15-yard clipping penalty on South Lyon after Northville had started from the Lions' 23-yard line and stalled after three plays. The penalty gave the Mustangs the ball on the five-yard line and the score came on fourth down.

The Lions came back quickly when Lewis intercepted a Burgess pass on South Lyon's 30-yard marker and headed down the sidelines behind a wall of blockers to run 70 yards for the score. The conversion kick added a point to push the Lions ahead, 7 to 6. The Lions had lost possession of the ball on the third play after the Mustangs kicked off following Northville's touchdown.

A bad punt spelled trouble for South Lyon in the third quarter. The kick travelled only from the Lions' 30 to their 38. On the fourth play in the series of downs, after the Mustangs had moved the ball to the 31-yard stripe, second-string quarterback Joe Girardin kept the ball on a smuggle play to the right. It appeared that he was trapped, but after picking up two blockers, he bumped his way along for a few yards, then broke into the clear to score after a key block lowered the boom on the safety man. The conversion kick was good, lifting the score to 13 to 7.

The Lions never really threatened again, although the Mustangs were backed up in their own territory most of the last quarter.

Penalties and fumbles threaded through the play of both teams, stopping assaults that threatened to get going from time to time.

Northville Coaches Al Jones and Dick Kay substituted freely in their search for good working combinations among the young players.

Miss Adelaide Dwyer, Mrs. Edward H. Parker, Mrs. Carter Newman and Mrs. E. J. Willis were a foursome of college friends lunching at the Whittier last Tuesday, later attending the fashion show at Neighborhood Club at Grosse Pointe.

The Dancing Baileys furnished entertainment for fairgoers at the Grangers Country Fair last Friday, Sept. 26. They presented tap and ballet specialty numbers. The Candy Mountain Kids, a Northville musical trio, sang and played many old favorite songs.

This is "the time of year a fellow can most easily satisfy his gambling instincts, such as buying an unplugged watermelon."

Lady tourist was in for a bit of motor fun-up and tells us of her vacation trip in Yellowstone. Her husband being an avid camera fan hands her the machine to take pictures of some bear on the highway. "What," she asks her husband, "shall I do if the bear swallows me?" And her gallant husband replies, "toss me the camera, dear!"

However, that isn't selling any new Studebakers, which just so happens to be the reason this column exists. Trouble is, we get so carried away by the car itself, we forget that some of you have no idea how wonderful this Studebaker for '52 is really. All it takes, though, is a little driving and once you have experienced that wonderful power, extra stamina, ease of operation and fine riding comfort, you won't want anything other than an economical Studebaker with its amazing new V-8 engine.

Friend of birds is a bit of an antique collector and was telling us the other day of an old horsehair sofa he discovered. "Really very old," he stated, "goes all the way back to great-grandmother's time." "And," he added, "I know now why she wore six petticoats."

Nothing antique about our shop though. The boys out there have every latest device, designed to make your car function at peak efficiency. Some of these gadgets are strictly from wonderful. A wire here, a wire there and our mechanics can make as expert a diagnosis as a medical shark can with his X-ray machines. Drive the old bus in and get it back perfectly tuned for the months ahead.

Not much left to hang around for this week, but we've been reading in the papers about the "Communist line". Why not get factual and drop the 'n' from "line".

New Branch of First Federal Savings Will Open Doors in Redford Oct. 1

First Federal Savings of Detroit opens the doors of its fifth office Wednesday, Oct. 1, at Grand River and McNichols, in Redford. It promises to be an outstanding event for customers, friends and the public. The branch will be managed by Russell M. Maybee with Irvin C. Olson as assistant manager.

According to advance announcements, the opening will take the form of a savings celebration to which all are invited. Everyone who stops into the new office just to say "hello" will be presented with souvenir gifts, including such useful items as a plastic coin bank, a cardboard dime saver and other novelties.

Customers who open savings accounts of $10 or more will be given their choice of a Shaeffer Fineline pen and pencil set or a year's subscription to Reader's Digest. Accounts of $5 or more, especially those opened by children, will be offered a colorful plastic coin bank in the shape of closed on Saturdays.

The celebration is to continue for ten days through Oct. 10. Offices will be open daily from 9:30 to 4:00 Monday thru Thursday; 9:30 till 6:00 Friday, and will be closed on Saturdays.

The building, which was specially designed as a savings institution by Hans Gehrke, Sr., architect, includes many modern features. Its handsome exterior is of limestone and granite. There is a large parking area at the rear of the building which will hold 20 cars.

Inside, counters and tables have been finished in blond quartered oak. Color schemes are green and buff with colorful drapes. Floors are also in two-tone asphalt tile. The ceiling is of travertine acoustic tiles.

Newest types of office machines have been installed to speed financial transactions. Lighting is of the fluorescent type.

At the back of the building are the safe deposit vaults with facilities for 600 boxes which are being rented to customers and the general public. There are also private rooms and a sound-conditioned conference room in this section.

A complete air conditioning system is installed. On the mezzanine are employee facilities including a lunchroom and lounge and the storerooms and file rooms.

In bringing First Federal's services to the northwest section, the association continues a program of growth and expansion that is unequalled in this area. As one of the country's largest savings institutions, First Federal now has assets in excess of 86 million dollars. This represents the savings of more than 55,000 families who have First Federal savings accounts. These accounts are insured to $10,000 for each saver by Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and currently earn at two per cent a year.

The new Redford branch will provide savings service for the entire northwest area, including Redford and suburban communities. The branch will have its own mortgage department, where loan applications will be taken and mortgages will be closed. This should be a great convenience to builders and home buyers in the Northwest area, according to Mr. Maybee. Free parking space behind the new building is one of the convenient features available to customers.

Principal business of First Federal is its savings service thru insured savings accounts, which currently earn 2% a year, and the financing of homes by its mortgage department. The association also makes FHA Title I Home Modernization loans at all offices. In addition, First Federal offers a Christmas Savings club, Vacation Savings club, American Express travelers' checks, First Federal money orders, and will issue and redeem U. S. Defense bonds. Safe deposit facilities are offered at the new local branch and at the downtown headquarters.

A Constitutional Guarantee

YOUR RIGHT TO KNOW...

Thomas Jefferson Said:

"Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter".

October 1 to 8 Is National Newspaper Week

The wonder that is America with all of its personal freedoms and its envied creativeness, has been built on the principle that to know the truth liberates mankind, enabling it to achieve greater objectives.

Fulfillment of this principle, guaranteed by our constitution, is the mission of the Free Press of America, as represented by all newspapers from the big city colossus, with its giant, lightning-speed presses, to the smallest of once-a-week country papers.

Your hometown paper is edited by your neighbors, printed by your neighbors and delivered by your neighbors. It seeks out what you must know about what is going on in the nation and your community.

It tries to present the facts without fear or favor so that you may have the truths on the basis of which you can make your weight felt as a citizen.

Your Right to Know, a Constitutional Guarantee, Is Solidly Based on a Militantly Free Press.

This is National Newspaper Week, an occasion on which we rededicate ourselves to serving - YOUR RIGHT TO KNOW.

The flavor of small town newspapers is different from that of the big town daily. Papers like the Northville Record are concerned first with the people of their towns — their daily activities and accomplishments, their organizations, their children. National coverage is generally left to the "big" papers, with their huge staffs of editors, reporters and their wire services.

The great advantage of the small town paper is that it is near at hand and willing to open its news columns to ALL the citizens of its town. The "big" story is always important, but the "little" story is often as important because it concerns people everyone knows.

One of the purposes of observing National Newspaper Week is to remind every citizen of his opportunity to be heard in his newspaper, to make his weight felt and his presence known among his neighbors.

Michigan Mirror:

'Crack Down' Coming on Motorists

There's a "get tough" era coming to Michigan highways and someone is going to get hurt. It may be you. You may be hurt by a traffic ticket and a stiff penalty. But Michigan editors, who are touching off the "get tough" policy this week, think it's better to get hurt in the pocketbook nerve than to wind up in a hospital or morgue.

Michigan editors—the editor of The Northville Record and 400 other weekly and daily newspapers—have pledged the power of the press to the Michigan Highway Safety Seminar. That is made up of law enforcement officers, school administrators, transportation leaders, courts engineers, businessmen . . . a cross-section of all Michigan interests and activities.

SPEAKING THROUGH THE Michigan Press Association, the editors have set up these objectives . . . any one of which may hurt you: 1. To obtain from public officials and to publicize in their columns the names of all persons who have lost their driver's license.

2. To acquaint the public of a need for a centralized driver's licensing bureau. 3. To enlist the prosecuting attorney, chief of police, sheriff, justices of the peace, judges, mayors and city managers in a

"get tough" program of law traffic enforcement and punishment of offenders. Those three steps can hurt you . . . and they can protect you from hurt. How?

IF YOU'RE A RECKLESS driver and your license is taken away, you're going to be hurt. Your name will be splashed in type in your hometown newspaper; your neighbors will know your disgrace; somebody is going to tip off the officers if you drive without your license.

But if you're the average Michigan motorist, decent and law abiding, that publicity is going to keep some gasoline cowboy from endangering the life of your child.

IF YOU'RE AN EPILEPTIC, A habitual drunkard or in your dotage, you're going to be hurt by a centralized driver's licensing bureau. You won't be able to get a license by telling a hard-luck story or because the sheriff is a good friend of your brother or because some bored clerk in the bureau is too lazy to give you a test.

But if you're the average Michigan motorist, you're going to be mightily happy to know that the driver of that truck hurtling down on you isn't apt to have a seizure and crash head-on into you. You'll be glad to know that a driver's license is positive assurance that some nearsighted driver isn't going to run down your wife because he couldn't see her in the twilight.

IF YOU'RE A HABITUAL traffic violator, if you drive while drunk, if you think it's smart to pilot your jalopy like a super-sonic jet, then the "get tough" policy by police, prosecutors and judges is going to hurt you.

You're going to find that the day of a slap on the wrist for traffic violations is all over. You're going to be rapped with as heavy a fine for endangering lives with your car as if you had threatened them with a gun or stiletto. You're going to spend many a night in jail instead of squaring yourself with the law with a small fine.

YOU'RE GOING TO FIND that Michigan doesn't like killers or maimers whether they do their bloody work in a speeding car or with a blackjack and pistol. But if you're just John Q. Michigan, you're going to be happy that the potential traffic slayer of your three-year-old daughter will be scared and punished into obeying safety laws.

Through Michigan Press Association, embracing all daily and weekly newspapers in the state, editors have pledged the cooperation and the tremendous power of their newspapers to the Highway Safety Seminar.

There are 3,065,447 licensed drivers in Michigan. Only through newspapers can all these motorists be reached. Some will have to be scared; some will have to be threatened; most will have to be educated before Michigan highways are even as safe as a Korean battlefield.

FROM THE HUNDREDS OF suggestions made by the Seminar in its meeting at Michigan State College last spring, the press association committee picked its three targets.

Thirty thousand Michigan drivers lost their licenses last year, the newsmen were told by state law officials. Yet few of the offenders' names were printed because there was no way except by accident that a newspaper could check on such action.

Proper publicity will direct the pressure of public opinion against these dangerous violators, editors believe, and the names of those violators should be exposed to public scrutiny just like that of a man who breaks other laws.

FROM LONG EXPERIENCE, safety officials have learned—and newsmen covering their beats, too, have learned—that only through a centralized licensing bureau can the public be assured that only qualified persons are allowed to drive.

Nine hundred thirty-four persons, 60% of the 1,640 killed on Michigan highways last year, struck after dark. In many cases they died because the oncoming driver had such poor eyesight he just didn't see his victim.

PERSONS WITH SUCH POOR eyesight or with other physical defects that make driving hazardous will be denied the privilege of driving only when one agency is made responsible for the issuing of licenses.

Swift, sure and impartial enforcement of law is the only deterrent to any crime.

When Pennsylvania set a 50-miles-per-hour speed limit and enforced it to the hilt, traffic fatalities were halved in the first year. Michigan can cut down its traffic deaths only by a "get tough" policy so violators are certain their misdeeds will go neither undetected nor unpunished.

THAT'S WHY MICHIGAN editors today are launching this three-pronged attack.

They know someone is going to get hurt. They prefer that the hurt be inflicted on the pocketbook and freedom of violators rather than on the bodies of the 48,418 potential victims of traffic accidents this year.

BIGGEST MUSKIE CAUGHT

Just to prove that all the big ones don't get away, Walter Stanley of 14630 Riverside, Detroit, hooked and landed the year's biggest muskellunge in Michigan virtually within the shadows of the city skyscrapers! Wait was trolling for walleyes in the Detroit River just before dark on September 9th when it happened.

His tackle was conventional for Detroit River pickerel trolling: inboard reel loaded with metal line to take it down in the fast current, terminated with a long stretch of 20 pound test leader, and a small lure known as a "Whammie." This is kind of a midget propeller, orange colored with black dots, about one inch wide. A treble gang of #6 hooks is attached, and on one of the hooks is a piece of white rubber another inch long cut out to resemble a small minnow.

No Net! No Gaff!

Walt Stanley had caught one walleye and was on his last swing across the river when the line seemed to rise to the surface slowly. There was no vicious tug—just a rising of the metal line as the fish took the lure and began to come to the surface. Stanley struck solidly and thought he had a big walleye. It wasn't until 5 minutes later that the muskie came out of water far behind the boat to dispel any such belief, and one look at the size of the fish gave Walt the shakes!

He was alone in the small boat with no net, and no gaff. There were no other fishermen in sight, so he was on his own with the biggest fish he'd ever hooked. Six times before while pickerel trolling he had hooked muskies. Six times before the fish had torn loose—and this seventh fish was the biggest of them all! Gingerly he worked the big fellow alongside the boat, knowing that #6 hooks were never made to hold fish of this size. It took 20 minutes to subdue the giant to the point where Walt felt he could grab him by the gills and haul him aboard.

Bloody Battle

After a long, long time Walter got up. The bottom of the boat was bathed with blood—a lot of it his own. But he had the fish—a muskie that scaled in at an even forty pounds, and was just under four feet long! Stanley was put under a doctor's care, with hands so badly lacerated that he was unable to go back to work for several days—a small price to pay, he says, for the battle he won in Michigan Outdoors!

For this act alone Walter Stanley should be awarded a medal for bravery above and beyond the call of duty! The saw-like gills tore the flesh from his fingers, yet somehow he got the muskie into the boat, straddled it, and hammered the ugly head with a shoe, dodging the snapping jaws with teeth like a crocodile's!

Security Office Lists New Benefits

Any person who has been in work covered by social security continuously since Jan. 1, 1951, and is now 65 years old or over, is now insured and eligible for benefit payments, if he retires, according to Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest office at 14600 Grand River, corner of Hubbell.

The 1950 changes in the social security law make it possible for many persons in the newly covered groups to qualify for retirement benefits for the first time, Mr. Baltuck said. These groups include the self-employed, regular domestic workers, regular farm workers, and others.

To get payments based solely on work brought under the law as of January, 1951, these wage earners and self-employed persons must be covered by social security for at least six calendar quarters—about a year and a half—after 1950. The size of their monthly benefit payment will depend on the average monthly wage from employment or income from self-employment after 1950.

Benefit payments to a retired worker will range from $25 to $85 monthly. Monthly benefits to a retired worker and his wife would range from $37.50 to $127.50 monthly.

Mr. Baltuck pointed out that in cases where a claim is based on self-employment the $85 benefit rate can be reached if the claim is filed before January, 1953.

Anyone anticipating retirement should discuss his status with the staff at the Detroit-Northwest social security office, Mr. Baltuck said. The retirement date might be very important in deciding the amount of future benefits. Informational pamphlets describing the new amendments are available at this office without charge.

Walled Lake Picks New School Site

The purchase of a future site for a high school building was approved by the Walled Lake Consolidated schools board of education, Sept. 8, when it voted unanimously to buy the Ralph Richardson property at South Commerce and Oakley Park roads.

Purchase price of the 40-acre site was $16,000 or $400 per acre. The site was purchased because it met the following requirements:

- (1) Adequate in size and usable without extensive grading costs.
- (2) Accessible by good roads.
- (3) Centrally located in relation to present district boundaries and school population.
- (4) Located in an area of predicted future growth.
- (5) Reasonably priced in relation to other adequate sites.
- (6) Equally accessible from all areas of the school district.

The board has employed the Walter T. Anicka architectural firm of Ann Arbor, Mich., to proceed with plans and specifications for a building to house approximately nine hundred senior high students. A committee of teachers and principals is presently working with the architect in the development of plans.

The Citizens' Advisory committee, composed of representatives of P.T.A.'s and other community organizations, has been consulted and has cooperated in some of the initial planning. The board of education plans to work closely with this organization in additional planning activities.

Studies of costs involved in construction of the building are now in process. When these studies are complete, estimates of costs will be presented to the public with suggestions for financing them through a bond issue.

The average annual increase in school enrollment has been 286 pupils for seven consecutive years. Present enrollment is 3515.

Population studies indicated an annual enrollment increase during the next five years comparable to that of the last seven years, which will mean an additional fifteen hundred pupils in a five year period.

When all the information as to design, costs, etc., have been completed and made available to the public, the board of education will probably submit the proposal in a special election for public approval.

It will require a period of 18 months to construct a building of this kind. If construction began in the spring of 1953, the building would probably be available for use in September, 1954.

DOING OR BELIEVING? In visitation work I run across many different beliefs that people hold as their hope of entering heaven. Perhaps the most popular of these hopes is the belief that if one does the best they can, then when the end comes, they will be received into glory. Now there are two things wrong with such a belief. In the first place, if we will be honest with ourselves, we will admit that none of us have ever done the best we could. In most cases, if we had our lives to live over, we could and would do many things better than we did. We seldom exert our full energy in a good cause. We "have not resisted unto blood, striving against sin" as the Bible tells us. So then the truth of the matter is that we are guilty of not doing our best at all times. Then the second error is that salvation is a gift of God to a sinner who repents and trusts in Jesus and not a reward for a life of well-doing. Titus 3:5 makes this plain by saying, "Not by works or righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Spirit." To this the whole Bible agrees. FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH Peter F. Nieuwkoop, Pastor Morning Worship 11 A.M. Bible School 10 A.M. Evening Worship 7:30 P.M.

Guy Filkins Dies

Death claimed a member of one of Northville's oldest families last week with the death of Guy Chambers Filkins. Mr. Filkins died suddenly at his home in Ann Arbor, Friday. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Central Methodist Church in Detroit and burial took place at Rural Hill Cemetery, Northville.

Mr. Filkins was born in Northville March 16, 1890, the son of Charles and Lucy Filkins. He had lived most of his life here, his father serving as Mayor of Northville and at one time owning the old Northville Foundry.

Previous to his death Mr. Filkins was assistant professor of music theory at the University of Michigan and was a member of the University faculty for the past 20 years. He had served as organist at the Central Methodist Church in Detroit for the past 35 years and was known as the first man to write anthems for three choirs. He received his Bachelors and Masters Degrees in music at U. of M. and was awarded a Doctorate Degree in sacred music at Albion College.

Nine years ago Mr. Filkins was united in marriage with Isabell Hunt, who survives him. Also surviving is one sister, Mrs. Eberle Smith, of Grosse Isle.

FIRE FIRE FIRE

Fire knows no favorites. It attacks rich and poor, young and old, strong and infirm alike. Only one person is safe . . . and that is the careful person. Keep fire away from your home, your loved ones. Be on your guard all the time and you'll be safe all the time. Check your wiring. Watch that accumulation in your basement. Keep paints, oils and other combustible materials under proper care. Don't throw lighted matches into ash trays. Don't smoke in bed. Be awareful. Be careful. Be safe from fire!
