for the Record

by G. H. C.

Three hundred and thirty-one years ago the Pilgrims gathered together in a log church on the shore of Massachusetts Bay at Plymouth, Massachusetts to give thanks to God for the many blessings He had bestowed upon them. How meager would the blessings for which they then gave thanks appear to us today!

We were reminded of the multitude of material things for which the average American family should give thanks this year by the words of that outstanding American researcher and inventor Charles F. Kettering in Detroit Monday evening. Speaking to 350 of the leading Detroit industrialists and newspaper men at a testimonial dinner in honor of David J. Wilkie, dean of the country's automotive writers, on the occasion of Wilkie's fiftieth anniversary with the Associated Press, "Boss Kettering" listed the tremendous advances which have occurred even during the past fifty years, just through the development of the automobile. In particular, he pointed out what we so often overlook—the fact that the entire pattern of American life has been changed by this one industrial product.

If we think of the automobile in terms of what it has meant to each of us individually, it takes on additional significance. Without it, Northville would be merely a small trading center for the few persons who could make a living in the nearby area. For the farmer living a few miles away, a trip to town to buy the necessities of life would be an event of major importance. For those who now drive ten to forty miles a day to jobs in distant factories and return to their pleasant homes in the country after their day is done, such ideal living conditions would be impossible. Truly, mankind has made great progress in material things in the years since the Pilgrim Fathers gathered to give thanks for the blessings which in 1621 seemed to them to be bountiful.

We wonder at times, however, if our material progress may have dulled our concept of the great elementary principles upon which this country was founded—freedom of speech and worship, due process of law and equal protection of the law. During this week in which we pause to thank God for the many blessings He has bestowed upon us, it might be well to give some thought to what the great former Chief Justice Learned Hand, of the United States Court of Appeals, had to say about the education of citizens as a preparation for their political duties. It was Judge Hand who wrote the Court's opinion affirming the conviction of the eleven Communist leaders in this country as one of the last acts in his forty-two years on the Federal bench. He said:

"Risk for risk, for myself I had rather take my chance that some traitors will escape detection than spread abroad a spirit of general suspicion and distrust, which accepts rumor and gossip in place of undisputed and unimpaired inquiry."

"I believe that the community is already in the process of dissolution where each man begins to eye his neighbor as a possible enemy, where nonconformity with the accepted creed, political as well as religious, is a mark of disaffection; where denunciation, without specification or backing, takes the place of evidence; where orthodox chokes freedom of dissent; where faith in the eventual supremacy of reason has become so timid that we dare not enter our convictions in the open lists to win or lose."

Judge Hand said that the fears he cited were "a solvent which can eat out the cement that binds the stones together" and that they might in the end "subject

Rotary's Work Spoiled Soon After Completion

A day of work by ten members of the Northville Rotary Club literally went down the drain last Friday.

Either vandals or someone who doesn't think very fast knocked down a barricade, moved a temporary drain pipe and let water running out of the Old Northville Spring on Plymouth Ave. wash away newly-poured concrete.

The Rotary members were at the Spring all day Thursday with picks and shovels constructing a new sump and laying 12-inch tile for better drainage of the water overflow at the popular well. The direction of the drain was changed, and after the new concrete had been laid, a temporary drain pipe was placed to keep water away until the concrete could set.

The water pouring over the new concrete after the drain pipe was knocked away dissolved the cement and washed in down the drain, leaving only sand and gravel.

Dig Out Remains

Rotary members Cy Frid and John Boyce went down to the Spring Friday and dug out the remains of their work. Mr. Frid said that nothing more would be done until probably May or June of next year.

The Rotary Club took an interest in the Spring a few years ago when the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, owner of the property, leased it free to the village, according to A. V. Barber. The club adopted the Spring as a special project and has maintained it since.

Spring Committee

Two club members are appointed each week by Spring Committee Chairman John Manica. These men take care of cleaning up the area, taking away broken glass and keeping the Spring in a general presentable condition.

The Spring has for many years been regarded as one of the village's distinctive landmarks. A replica of it appears on most Depositors State Bank stationery, and it is represented in the banner at the top of this newspaper.

Many Customers

Hundreds of people monthly from all around this area stop to fill jugs and containers with the pure, fresh water which has such a reputation that once a commercial company bottled it for sale. "A jig in every swig," old-timers say.

The trouble last Friday is not new. The club has tried several times to hang a replica of their emblem, a yellow and black circular gear at the Spring to indicate to the public what organization is sponsoring it, but the emblem never stayed up more than a few days.

A wooden one was promptly smashed and a metal emblem was soon bent out of shape. A heavier steel emblem was tried later, but it didn't last any longer than the others.

Members of the club have no complaints, except among themselves. "That's the way people are, sometimes," said Mr. Frid. "Most of them are fine, but there are always a few who hate to see anything nice stay that way."

"We'll just keep cleaning it up every week, and maybe spend some more time on it next spring to do Thursday's job over again."

Penalties Hamper

Penalties hampered both teams throughout the game and stopped potential scoring marches. A rain which threatened all evening began to fall lightly toward the end of the game, but did not really come down until after play had ended.

Almost all of the 30 players on the Rams squad and the 36 on the Rams team got into the game as Coaches Jones and Kay, who aid each other during the varsity season, sent all available talent into the annual match which follows the end of the varsity schedule.

The victory gave the Rams a three to one edge on the Kats in the total victory column. They won 19 to 7 in 1950, and 7 to 0 last season. The Kats won the original game in the series, 19 to 7, in 1949.

Both Coaches Jones and Kay feel that besides giving the boys a chance to play football for their own pleasure, the annual game and its week or so of practice gives the boys a chance to learn the "T" and single wing systems employed by the varsity. By the time they've turned out in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades they begin to have a fair knowledge of what's expected of them if they choose to play football when they reach high school.

Schools to Close

Northville Public Schools will be closed both Thursday and Friday this week for the Thanksgiving Holidays, said Superintendent Russell H. Amerman.

150 More Pledges for Blood Donations Needed by Dec. 5

Pledges for donating blood in the Dec. 5 visit of the Bloodmobile to Northville reached the 200 mark Friday, said Chairman Charles F. Carrington. That mark, while encouraging, is still short of the 350-pledge goal hoped for by the committee.

The Red Cross mobile unit will be at the First Presbyterian Church House from 2 to 8 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 5, instead of the First Methodist Church House, where it has set up headquarters the last three or four visits here.

50% Actually Donate

Mr. Carrington said the Blood Bank committee is seeking the 350 pledges to insure at least a 50 percent actual donation. Red Cross figures show that only about that percentage actually donate blood in a drive. The other half of the persons who signed pledges either can't come at the time the Bloodmobile makes its visit, have colds, forget, or are denied the privilege because of other medical reasons. "Our percentage is higher than that," said Mr. Carrington, "but we're not interested in just attaining a goal. We, and most other villagers, want the largest amount of donations possible."

Local Bank Depleted

The depleted status of the Northville blood bank used for accident victims and operative cases in the hospitals, is reason enough for a large turnout at the Dec. 5 blood bank, Mr. Carrington indicated, but Korea's casualty lists grow longer each month, and the need for plasma, serum, and other blood products becomes stronger.

Anyone interested in donating blood Dec. 5 who has not been contacted by a member of the committee, should telephone Mrs. William Forney at Northville 353-M or Mr. Carrington at 284 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. and get on the pledge list.

The Blood Bank Committee is made up of representatives of several veteran, service and social organizations in the village, all cooperating to get the largest turnout of donors possible.

BPW Gives Party for Hospital Patients

A Thanksgiving party was sponsored for more than one hundred and fifty patients at Northville State Hospital Tuesday evening by the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club.

Mrs. Jane Hill brought a group of entertainers to the party, and refreshments were served for the whole group later in the hospital's cafeteria, said Miss Harriet Miller, of the Occupational Therapy Department.

Seek 200 Volunteer Santas for Hospitalized Youngsters

About two hundred Northville residents will have a chance to play Santa Claus again this year to hospitalized children at Maybury Sanatorium and the Children's Hospital at Farmington.

That amount represents, approximately, the number of letters received from the youngsters by Mrs. V. George Chabut of Sheldon Rd.

Mrs. Chabut has become a sort of "clearing house" for the letters from the youngsters. "I'm really nothing more than that," she says. "The people here in the village are the real Santa Clauses."

Mrs. D. J. Stark has left the north woods and her husband behind—at least temporarily.

She arrived at her Scott Ave. home in Northville on Monday, after shooting a 175-pound buck near Manistee Lake where she and Mr. Stark have a cottage. She got the deer last Sunday, November 16.

Mr. Stark is going to stay up there a while, she says, until he gets a deer, or until he decides waiting is useless and returns to his job as assistant postmaster here.

We've always had more than enough people who want to do something for the children at Christmas. I run out of letters long before the 'Santas' run out."

Good Response Hoped For

"I hope, of course, that everyone will respond this year as they have in the past," she continued. On the whole, she presents the children ask for are small things to help them pass the long hours. Most of them are bed-ridden with tuberculosis or polio. It takes a lot of entertainment to keep them happy and willing to stay in bed where they can rest, and thus recuperate more quickly.

One youngster asked for a crucifix, and another would like a Bible. Others asked for the usual things little girls and boys like—games, dolls, toys, crayons, picture books and books to read.

Letters will be available after Thanksgiving to anyone in the village who would like to be Santa Claus to the children. Mrs. Chabut has them and can be reached by telephoning 131.

The present should be wrapped in colorful Christmas paper and then wrapped again with heavy plain paper to protect them until they reach the hospitals. All boxes should be delivered to the Northville postoffice by Dec. 15, signed "Santa Claus."

Pat and Jon, two of the stars of the Northville State Hospital patient-produced revue, "Funs-a-Poppin", sing "Sentimental Journey" in a dress rehearsal. A public performance of the show will be held at the hospital Friday, Dec. 5.

Northville Hospital Patients Write, Produce Own Revue

A music and comedy revue, written, directed and produced by the patients of Northville State Hospital on Seven Mile Rd., is set for Friday night before an audience composed of patients and hospital staff members was so well done that hospital authorities have decided to stage another performance for the public.

The revue, "Funs-a-Poppin", features serious and comic musical numbers, gag skits and a running commentary by a master of ceremonies and is patterned somewhat along the lines of "Hellzapoppin", the noted Olsen and Johnson show.

Public Performance

The public performance will be in the hospital auditorium at 8 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 5. There will be no admission charge, but donations will be accepted for the Patient's Benefit Fund for the purchase of a television set for use by the patients.

A dress rehearsal last Thursday was covered by a Detroit Free Press photographer and a picture spread was scheduled for the newspaper's ROTO section within two or three weeks.

The revues presented through the Patients Representative Council under supervision of the Occupational Therapy Department. Miss Harriet Miller and Miss Toni Hirst, of the Therapy Department, helped the revue staff organize and stage the show. Harold Bynum is staff sponsor of the Representative Council, which is composed of patients from the various parts of the hospital.

Variety Acts

The show's plot pulls in the variety acts after two showmen meet on the street at the revue's opening and decide to stage a new production. The master of ceremonies then begins lining up the acts. From there on, almost anything is likely to happen.

Comic skits are interspersed with more serious presentations of songs, and the master of ceremonies mixes in with the acts, giving the whole show an informal atmosphere.

The master of ceremonies, Ted, is one of the show's standouts. The slender comedian's quick adlibs and sense of showmanship keep the production moving at a lively pace as he pops up in unexpected places with quick changes of costume.

Probably the high point of the production is Jon's singing of his own lyrics set to the music of "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows." The song is part of a drunk act which is a mixture of radio's John L. C. Savoni, Red Skelton and Jon's own brand of humor.

Snort Teams, Band, Cheerleaders Are Honored at Party

A party honoring the Northville High School football and basketball teams and their coaches this year was held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall on Plymouth Ave. last Friday night, Nov. 21.

More than a hundred and sixty honorees and guests were present at the party, which was organized and given by the parents with the aid of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012.

Also honored and invited to the party as guests were members of the high school band and the school's cheerleaders.

Representing the coaching staff were Athletic Director Harry B. Smith and Coaches Albert Jones and Richard Kay.

Honorees and their dates, and guests and their wives were served refreshments and spent the evening dancing.

Lack of State Aid Payments Forces Schools to Borrow

A $9,999 loan from Depositors State Bank has enabled Northville Schools to remain open during November and meet payroll and other expenses, but another loan may be needed next month to get the school system through December, said Superintendent Russell H. Amerman.

Northville schools, like most others in the state may have to shut its doors unless they can keep borrowing money against future school district taxes.

Reason for the crisis is the State's inability to meet State aid commitments to local school units. Auditor General John B. Martin, according to a Detroit Free Press article early this week, said that the state will fall behind an average of $8,000,000 each month from January until June.

The state will be able to pay the schools and local governmental units the $20,000,000 a quarter due from the sales-tax diversion amendment because this payment is mandatory, he said.

The budget set up last April called for $74,000 in taxes from the Northville school district and $201,000 in State aid.

It is against the $74,000 from the local source that the schools borrowed from the Northville bank. "We're only borrowing what we need to get by on," said Mr. Amerman, "and hoping that the State can come through next month with some of the amount due."

The $9,999 loan is a deliberate figure. A loan of $10,000 or more would have necessitated advertising for bids in newspapers and trade journals, involving time and expense in searching for investors in Tax Anticipation notes.

Permission was granted by the Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing for the loan. Attorney General Martin predicted that the State would be able to pay only one-third of the State aid money in the next six months. "Unless the State is to stop operating," he said, "someone will have to go unpaid from time to time."

A. J. Phillips, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association, said in a bulletin to school members that State aid next year will be $108,333,876, a million dollars less than for this year.

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra will play the second concert of its current season Sunday afternoon, Nov. 30, in the Plymouth High School auditorium at 4 o'clock. The concerts are open to the public with no admittance charge.

The orchestra, now in its seventh season, is conducted by Wayne Dunlap of the University of Michigan School of Music, and is a non-profit organization made up of both professional and amateur musicians of "unusually high calibre", who have been drawn together for their own pleasure in playing good music.

The program at Sunday's concert will include the popular Mozart's overture to the "Marriage of Figaro"; McArthur's arrangement of Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition"; Greig's "Concerto in A Minor" for piano and orchestra, and Liszt's "Les Preludes".

Miss Evelyn Woods, pianist, of Plymouth, will be the soloist in the Greig Concerto.

Exchange Club to Have Annual Party

The annual Exchange Club Christmas party and dinner-dance will be held at the Hawthorne Valley Country Club Saturday night, Nov. 29.

The dinner will be at 7 p.m. with dancing following from 9 to 12 p.m. Ray LaBare's orchestra will provide the music.

The Country Club is located at Merriman and Edward N. Hines Dr. Harry Wagenschütz is general chairman for the party.

In addition to donations by the merchants, business and professional men of the community, the Village Commission voted at its last meeting to give a hundred dollars toward giving the village's business district the proper festive spirit.

Leland V. Smith, chairman of the decorating committee for the Merchants Association, said that donations by private individuals would be welcomed.

Greens cost about $175 this year, and the deer amounted to a little over $200. Labor for hanging the 80 strings of lights downtown and along Plymouth Ave. will amount to about six hundred dollars.

When they return to Northville, they'll live in one of the Boyd apartments above the Pride Cleaners branch on North Center St. Harry has the place all ready.

Reunion Means Good Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving will take on an added meaning this year for Euripides Nicholaides.

That's a fellow better known as "Harry," owner of "Harry's Lunch" on North Center St.

The reason for Harry's special thanks on the holiday given over to thanks-giving is that he's going to New York to meet his sister and her husband, who are arriving Wednesday from the Island of Cyprus in the Mediterranean Sea.

The sister and brother-in-law are Christalla and Charalambos Michaelis. Harry hasn't seen her for 32 years, as long as he's been in the United States. He never met his sister's husband.

Going along with Harry on the motor trip, which will take them to New York via the Pennsylvania Turnpike, is Chris Nicholson, a friend from Southfield Township and, like Harry, a native of Cyprus. They'll meet the Italian Export ship "Valcania" at New York and return to Northville Friday or Saturday.

Harry was anxious to have them arrive this month, for they can still enter the country on the strength of an affidavit of support signed by Harry. That's because Cyprus is governed by England. After next month, they would have been forced to wait for a quota designation before they could have lived in the United States.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

So here is a column we wrote a year ago and we're going to repeat parts of it this year, by popular request (mostly ours).

Now on this Thursday, it will come up Thanksgiving once again and even though we have a brand new president ready to take office, there is still a bit of grumble here and there that taxes are too high, rent too high, food out of sight and many a person goes so far as to say, "What have I to be thankful for?" which in our book is a bit on the silly side, because we firmly believe that each and every one of us have plenty to be thankful for.

Personally we're thankful that a man can make such remarks without political and personal repercussions. That he can make them and then go home to a warm house... with maybe a big turkey on the table. He can make such remarks on the street, in a bar, in a restaurant and we just don't happen to have a concentration camp in this broad, free land of ours, devoted to people that have personal opinions.

...and where else but in these United States, will you find drug stores advertising an aid to help those who must lose weight because they ATE TOO MUCH!

...and then on Sunday, we see Protestants and Jews and Catholics going and coming from their respective places of worship and never is there some person or faction to forbid them their temple of God.

...and in this United States, initiative still counts, in law, in business, in government, and a man can raise himself through his own ambition and personal abilities.

...and in this United States, no man is bigger than the ballot of his neighbors come election day.

Yes, on this Thursday, we are indeed deeply thankful that there is a United States of America and that we have the privilege of being a citizen therein!

Personally, we're a bit thankful that we just happen to be selling and servicing the most beautiful car in the United States, the Studebaker, of course, and it's a good thing for us that you folk still can pick and choose, because that is what is making so many of you our friends and customers. Of course, during the year to come, we hope that many more of you will drop in this Studebaker Mart of ours, because we know, once you've driven the Studebaker with its powerful V-8 engine, its ease of handling and discover how truly economical the car really is, you'll just up and buy one... all it takes is a demonstration.

...we're thankful you're there... and we're here and this is the United States of America.

Yours,

BILL and WILL PETZ.

Interest in Airplanes Inspires Poetry by Ann Yerkes at Lackland Air Base

Her friends call her the poet laureate of the GI brush and scrub bucket. That's 23-year old Women's Air Force Airman Third Class Ann Yerkes, of Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio, Tex. The poet, former airline hostess and poetess-by-hobby turned out her latest effort while at Lackland in basic training, said a member of the public information staff there.

The ode to basic training in the WAF followed the general lines of the popular tune of a couple of years back—"Life Gets Teejus, Don't It?"

Interest in Planes

Not so unusual is the fact that most of Airman Yerkes' poems have had something to do with airplanes or flying.

She was impressed early in her high school days by the huge Willow Run bomber plant and its assembly line not far from her home. Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Yerkes, of Northville.

Watching the B-24 bombers roll off the line inspired the writing of "Conquerors of The Sky". "It was published in the school paper," Ann reports with a little sparkle in her eye and an apologetic grin for the grandiose title of one of her early poems.

Now she says, "I knew I could never make a living at it, so I wrote poetry just for fun."

Was Hostess

Working as an airline hostess for two and a half years for Capital Air Lines, she turned out a couple of satirical poems inspired during her 2,500 hours in the air. "To Fly or Not to Fly" was published in the company newspaper. However, "The Lament of The Airline Hostess" never got any further than being a good laugh-piece for her fellow hostesses in the locker room.

A believer in following impulses, Airman Yerkes investigated enlistment possibilities for the WAF, signed up and found a notice waiting for her to report for shipment when she flew in on a Capital airliner at 3 a.m. one morning not too long ago. She reported the same morning at 9 and was off on another adventure in poetry writing.

She has lived in Barbados, British West Indies, visited in three foreign countries, flown over a good part of the midwestern section of this country, attended 15 different schools.

She's looking for an Air Force job as a flight hostess (just about the same type of work she did as an airline hostess) or in radio and radar maintenance.

Undecided about whether the Air Force will be a career, at least she hopes to find a place for herself and perhaps a skill she can carry on into civilian life successfully.

Memorial to a Holiday

We observe Thanksgiving Day with a holiday and a ritual of the Thanksgiving dinner in recognition of the many blessings we share and in observance of all the things for which we have to be thankful.

This we do in spite of the cares which weigh us down and the obstacles which stand in our paths.

For we know that, despite the gloomiest day and the darkest night, we are truly blessed in our country, that our thankfulness should be without end.

Michigan Mirror: Says Hunting Preserves Game Crop

by Gene Alleman

In the midst of every deer season, there is a group of Michigan hunters who decry the annual migration into the northland. While they have a valid criticism of the needless human deaths that occur from carelessness or accident, they seem to devote most of their denunciation to the "cruelty" of killing poor dumb animals.

Now rises George A. Petrides of the department of fisheries and wild life at Michigan State College.

"Wild game is a crop," he contends; "it should be harvested." In fact, he makes a strong case for the humanitarian aspects of hunting. "Every Spring the breeding pheasants, quail, grouse, turkeys, ducks, geese, rabbits, squirrels and deer begin to raise families," he points out. "These young animals grow up during the warm months when food and weather are kind."

"By the time Autumn comes, the original Spring population of wild game has increased manyfold."

"But what happens to these animals? Are they to live happily through the Winter and in turn all raise more families in the Spring? In order to protect the species, only the hardiest are chosen to live to Spring. The surplus animals are lost to starvation, freezing, predators or disease."

This is a wasteful process, charges Petrides. "Thousands of animals die every year," he points out, "and death by starvation or freezing is a cruel death."

There is nothing cruel about hunting, he contends. "As grains and fruits, timber and beef are harvested as gifts of nature, so the harvest of game is given us. Man lives by nature's laws; he lives or he dies according to whether he wisely uses the gifts, the resources, given him."

"The wise use of the game crop definitely includes the understanding that it should be harvested. As a renewable resource under proper management, the wildlife of America can always be with us and our children and their offspring."

Just how valuable a resource Michigan game is is illustrated by some figures compiled by Charles Shick of MSC's department of conservation.

The value of Michigan's fur crop last year was greater than $2 million. Rye crops that year were worth $138 million.

Seventy-six hundred tons of wild meat went on Michigan tables in '51. Its value was more than $10 million (sugarbeets in '51 totalled $7 million) and it would provide food for a whole year for over 21,000 families of four persons each.

The cash value of fur and meat taken from Michigan woods last year was $12 million, enough to purchase a thousand average-sized homes at today's prices.

Hunting provides another great economic factor in Michigan life... the money spent by hunters and their parties.

There were 700,000 small game hunters, 400,000 deer hunters and 20,000 trappers. To that can be added the great army of tourists, picnickers, naturalists and photographers who simply enjoy seeing wild birds and animals.

Michigan farms can be mighty dangerous.

In the first eight months of this year, 35 people were killed in farm accidents. There were 603 serious mishaps and 14 persons were permanently disabled by them.

A hundred eighty-two were using unsafe methods; 39 didn't use safety devices which were available; 191 were hurrying so they grew careless and 33 were too tired to take proper care.

Farm homes aren't the havens we dream of them is. A hundred fifty-eight serious accidents occurred in rural homes; 270 at farm work.

While Houston and New Orleans have been waging a Deep South battle for the honor of being America's second largest port, Michigan just quietly ups and walks away with the title for the third straight month. It was Detroit that brought the honor to our state. It handled dollar volume of imports and exports second only to New York City.

During the first six months of this year, imports entering this country through the Motor City port were 1,438 per cent greater than in 1933. Export trade, in that same period increased 1,132 per cent.

It's probably no accident that the 21 largest cities in the United States are located on navigable waters.

More Michiganders vacation in Florida than in any other state... except their own. It's been estimated that over 200,000 from Michigan visited Florida last year.

Look for demands upon Michigan Legislature to revise that laws which whack up the cost of railroad grade separation. Typical is a Detroit case where 12 such grade separations are proposed. The five railroads involved would be assessed a total of $2.94 million compared to the public's cost of $16.66 million.

The Detroit Times puts the argument in a nutshell: "The taxpayer can't understand why he should pay huge amounts to keep out of the trains' way. It would seem more logical that the railroads pay the cost of keeping out of the taxpayers' way."

A Michigan survey shows that the average allowance for high school youngsters is $2 to $3 per week. It also shows that inflation-day rates for baby sitting and other teen age chores bring an average income of almost $10.

Michigan's Isle Royale is the only national park which cannot be reached by automobile. The National Parks Service of the U. S. Department of Interior has just announced that 98.5 per cent of all visitors to national parks travel there by auto.

Isle Royale's 2,370 visitors in 1951 came by boat or plane. That number is the smallest of any national park; even Alaska's Mt. McKinley had 8,634. Then comes Big Bend in Texas with 82,956 and after that all parks number visitors in six figures.

Average Age

The average age of a passenger car today is 7.8 years compared with 5.5 years in 1941.

The members of the Past Noble Grand Club met at the hall to sew on cancer pads last Thursday, Nov. 20. Several members of the Independent Club met there also to sew on and donate dresses to the Ruth Alden dress drive for needy children in Detroit.

Degree Captain Doris Darling requests the members of the degree team to be at the hall for practice on Thursday night, Dec. 4. Thelma Cheeseman, Jeanne Clark and Doris Bowers will be hostesses for a lunch and Christmas passing party after practice.

The next meeting of the Novi Rebekah Independent Club will be at the hall on Wednesday, Dec. 3. The work of the day will include cleaning cupboards in the kitchen and finishing dresses for the Ruth Alden Dress Drive in Detroit.

The brothers and sisters of Lakeside I.O.O.F. Lodge at Novi, and Novi Rebekah Lodge congratulate William and Sophia Lessway on the occurrence of their 18th wedding anniversary. The event was celebrated with a party at their home at 27222 Novi Rd. on Sunday, Nov. 23. A group of old friends and relatives were present from California, Detroit and the home family. The couple have two sons and one daughter.

Youth Panel Will Hold Discussion

The Senior Youth Fellowship at the First Presbyterian Church has planned a panel discussion on the topic, "Problems Confronting the Christian Home". It will be held Sunday evening, Nov. 30, at 7:30 in the social room of the church house.

Robert Burgess, president of the group, with secretary Barbara Couse and sponsor Richard W. Kay, will present the problems involved.

Guest leaders for the evening are Mrs. Walter L. Couse, Mr. Harry B. Smith and the Rev. Dr. Harold F. Fredsell. Parents and young people are invited and an opportunity will be given for a general discussion. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the discussion.

Sale of Christmas Seals Underway

A bigger fight against TB in '53 was foreseen by the TB and Health Society of Wayne County as first returns from the sale of the double-barred cross Christmas Seals began to pour in. "Assailing tuberculosis as a 'needless disease,' the No. 1 public health problem," Daniel C. Fisher, seal sale chairman, described Christmas Seal contributions as investments which promise to cut future tax burdens and improve family protection against tuberculosis.

"It is estimated that a single case of tuberculosis costs taxpayers between $14,000 and $15,000," Mr. Fisher stated. "By spreading information on how to guard against TB by pioneering in tuberculosis control programs as the TB and Health Society does, Christmas Seal contributions are an investment in reducing the rate of tuberculosis."

He pointed out that preventing a single case of tuberculosis means the rescue of a family from the hardships caused by the disease and savings of many thousands of dollars.

The pennies and dollars which people pay for their red and green Christmas Seals and use on their holiday mail and packages are also helping those who have already contracted TB in their fight to return to health and to prepare them for a job which will not tax their strength after they leave the hospital.

Some of these same dollars are going to conduct research projects to find drugs and vaccines which will prevent TB as well as cure it after it has attacked.

Much has been accomplished in health education, case-finding and rehabilitation, but TB is an old, old disease and is far from being eliminated, he said.

Each double-barred cross Christmas Seal that you buy is helping in the long, important fight which must continue.

Another Mental Hospital Urged for Seven Mile Road

The State Mental Health Commission has urged that the Legislature locate the proposed new children's psychiatric hospital on Seven Mile Rd., according to an article in The Detroit Free Press by Harold Tyler.

The commission, with the Michigan Society for Mental Health, met with the Legislative Interim Committee Nov. 19 and presented a three-phase program for the consideration of the Legislature when it convenes in January. The other two phases include a four-year $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 program for expansion of facilities for taking care of the state's mental patients and a recommendation that the care of aged persons be left to the responsibility of private persons and other non-State groups.

Dr. Harry E. August, a member of the commission, made a strong plea for setting up the children's mental hospital at Northville.

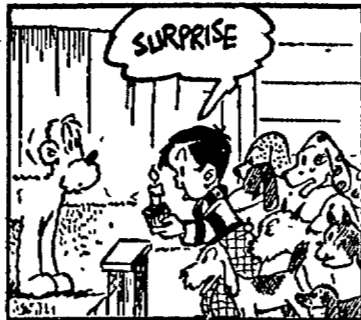

Both the University of Michigan and Wayne University have been exerting pressure to have the hospital built near them so they could use it for research and teaching.

Dr. August pointed out that Wayne will have available the new 150-bed neuro-psychiatric clinic, which will be called the Wayne Psychiatric Institute, whose main purpose will be to train personnel in the field of mental health and to conduct research.

This hospital, to be part of Wayne's medical school, is due to be completed in two years.

He said that the University of Michigan has a clinic where psycho-neurotic children can be studied. Dr. August asserted that the land is already available at Northville and the state's $60,000,000 mental health bond-issue plan contemplated putting the mental hospital there.

Commission Okays Investing of $44,000 in Bonds, Certificate

The $20,000 in cash in the Public Improvement Fund, also known as the Community Building Fund, will be invested in U.S. Treasury Bonds at 2 1/2 per cent. This was decided by a unanimous vote of the Village Commission at its meeting Nov. 17.

The bonds were selected for investment purposes after Commissioner John Stubenvoll suggested that the money should be kept in a semi-liquid state so it could be made available if needed in the near future. The bonds are negotiable at market prices at time of cashing. They will be callable in 1956 and reach maturity in 1959.

The commission also voted to re-invest for one year a $24,000 Certificate of Deposit with Depositors State Bank which came due Nov. 24. The Certificate will earn two percent.

Plymouth-Northville Tilt Will Open Cage Season

Northville High School athletes turned from the football field to the gymnasium for the beginning of basketball drills last week in preparation for the opening game of the season against Plymouth Dec. 5.

Reserves

Reserve coach Stanley Johnston began workouts with twenty boys in the high school's ninth and tenth grades, concentrating on strengthening drills and practice designed to sharpen reflexes for the fast starts and stops demanded on the basketball courts.

Varsity

Varsity coach Dick Kay took charge of his team after invitations had been extended to last year's regulars to report for practice in early evening sessions.

As in the past, all engagements on the 15-game schedule will feature two contests: the reserve game at 7 p.m. and the varsity game following immediately afterward, usually at about 8:30 p.m.

The first game at Plymouth will be highlighted by a dedication of the Rocks' new gymnasium in the recently-constructed wing to the high school, which also houses a swimming pool.

All games will be played on Tuesday and Friday nights, with the exception of the game on Jan. 21, which is a Wednesday.

Evangelist to Lead Baptist Meetings

Elton Crowell, nationally known evangelist, and Billy Shultz, electric accordion artist and former night club entertainer, will appear in a series of evangelistic meetings at the Northville First Baptist Church Nov. 30 through Dec. 7, according to an announcement by the church's pastor, the Rev. Peter Nieuwkoop.

Mr. Crowell has conducted city-wide and county-wide campaigns in several states during the past year, including a tent campaign last summer in Lansing where 30 churches cooperated. He will come to Northville from meetings in Tucson, Ariz.

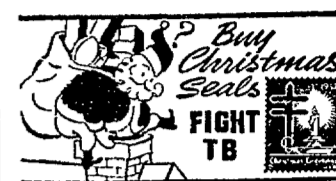

His work as an evangelist has taken him into most of the United States and Canada, said Rev. Nieuwkoop. He has also travelled in Mexico and South American countries and is well acquainted with the problems of missions in those countries.

Mr. Crowell is the author of a book and magazine articles, and has composed gospel songs which he uses in his meetings. He incorporates magic in his programs, and besides directing enthusiastic song services and preaching, said Rev. Nieuwkoop, he plays the violin and musical saw.

Billy Shultz trained from early youth for the concert stage but later became interested in popular music and launched into a career of night club entertaining. He played his accordion in dance bands and was a featured soloist.

Mr. Shultz has been in Europe for several months playing in evangelistic meetings in Germany, Norway, Sweden and Italy.

Friends, Relatives Help Kristy Defina Mark First Birthday

Little Kristine Defina, daughter of the Frank Definas of Stoneleigh Rd., celebrated her first birthday with a party at her home Monday afternoon.

Watching Kristy blow out the single candle besides her sister, Kathy, were her grandmother, Mrs. Alfred Smith, Mrs. Keith Simons and son, Mark, Mrs. Kurt Glaser and son, Kurt, Jr., Mrs. Robert Sinclair and son, Dickie, and Karen Jackson.

The birthday festivities were resumed in the evening when Kristy's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Defina and daughter, Elizabeth, and Lloyd Jackson and daughter, Karen, visited the home.

The Clarence Moores of 212 Wing St. moved Monday to Detroit.

Chappel-Bingley Vows Pledged at Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church of Northville was the scene Thursday evening, Nov. 20 of a quiet ceremony in which Martha Ann Chappel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chappel of North Center St., became the bride of William J. Bingley. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bingley of West Main St.

The Rev. Peter F. Nieuwkoop read the nuptial vows before an altar flanked by baskets of white chrysanthemums, daisies and roses with a background of palms. Miss Jean Nieuwkoop presided at the console playing "I Love You Truly" and the "Bridal Chorus".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an eggshell colored faille street length dress, accented with rhinestones and black accessories. A corsage of white roses completed her ensemble.

Martha Ann asked her sister, Mrs. Earl Croll, to serve as her matron of honor. Mrs. Croll appeared in an ice blue satin dress complemented by accessories similar to those of the bride. Her corsage was of tea roses.

Robert L. Bingley, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and seating the guests were Earl F. Croll and Thomas Moshimer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Chappel was attired in a navy blue faille suit and Mrs. Bingley chose a dress of black taffeta for the occasion. Both mothers were presented with gardenia corsages.

Following the double ring ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Kenneth Chappel, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the reception table.

Both young people are graduates of Northville High School, and Martha attended Michigan State College last year.

Both are presently employed at the Northville State Hospital. Upon return from their honeymoon, the new Mr. and Mrs. William Bingley will be at home to their friends in their apartment on Church St.

Gerrard, Branch Vows Read Nov. 22

The First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth was the setting Saturday afternoon, Nov. 22 for the wedding of Barbara Louise Gerrard to Duane E. Branch. Barbara is the daughter of Mr. Glenn Gerrard of Northville, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Branch of Novi are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. Henry J. Welch, D.D., officiated at the four o'clock ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a light brown suit with complementing accessories and a corsage of yellow and bronze mums.

Mrs. Keith Branch, sister-in-law to the bride, assisted as matron of honor. She chose a grey suit and red accessories for the occasion. Her corsage was of red carnations.

Duane asked his brother, Keith, to serve as best man.

A green suit with black accessories was Mrs. Branch's choice for her son's wedding. A corsage of pink carnations were her flowers.

The couple greeted fifty guests at a reception held that evening in the home of the bridegroom's parents in Novi. The out-of-town guest list included Plymouth, Lansing, Novi and Ann Arbor.

Upon their return from a brief wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will be at home to their friends at 556 Fairground Ave., Plymouth.

The bride, a graduate of Plymouth High School class of 1950, is presently employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company in Plymouth.

Duane, who was discharged from military service in March, is a graduate of Northville High School, class of 1950 and is employed by the C. T. Walker and Son Company, in Ann Arbor.

Teams Canvass Church Members

More than two hundred homes were visited by members of the First Presbyterian Church on the opening Sunday of the Annual Church Canvass Nov. 23. A visitation dinner was served following the morning service and the callers went out to deliver the 1953 offering envelopes and to tell about the work of the church and receive the estimates of giving for the new year.

Directors of the canvass are trustees Ed. C. Welch and Henry A. Grimshaw. Team captains in the 12 zones of the parish are Edward F. Angove, William B. Crump, Robert E. Davis, Earl T. Gibson, Robert L. Hart, Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston, Joseph R. Plunkett, Paul H. Steencken, Hurd H. Sutherland, Earl L. Walker, Ed. C. Welch and Dr. C. Eugene Woodruff.

Novi Girl Scouts Plan Bazaar Dec. 6

Plans are near completion for the Girl Scout Bazaar which is scheduled to begin at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 6, in the new Community Building.

The Brownie troops will collaborate on a bake sale and Mrs. Bassett's senior troop and Mrs. Harwood's intermediate troop will display both Christmas decorations and Christmas gifts for sale. These articles will be hand made by the girls themselves, as accomplishments of their past meetings. A white elephant table is planned as well as refreshments of pie and coffee which will be for sale by committee members of the Brownie troops.

Salute Michigan Explorers on U-M Radio Programs

Two men who discovered the vastness of Michigan's great mineral wealth will be saluted on University of Michigan radio programs produced for use in rural schools in the state.

"Radio Classroom" will dramatize the story of Douglas Houghton's road survey in the 1840's which turned up the enormous copper deposits in the Keweenaw Peninsula. Another story in the weekly radio series will describe the charting of Michigan's iron deposits in the Upper Peninsula by William A. Burt.

Houghton knew of the minerals in Upper Michigan, but it was not known how rich or extensive they were. He could not convince the early state legislators of the need for a geological survey. Instead they settled on a road survey of the area, which Houghton conducted.

The program tells of the expedition and Houghton's fight for careful development of the ore deposits.

During the road survey, Burt found that magnetic compass reading did not agree with those of his sun compass. Large iron deposits were pulling the compass needle off true North. In plotting compass deviations he charted the Teal Lake ore bed near Negaunee and Ishpeming.

"Radio Classroom" includes weekly programs in Michigan history, singing lessons and music appreciation produced by the U-M Broadcasting Service and carried on 22 stations in Michigan for rural school children.

The history shows based on materials in the campus Michigan Historical Collections and the Clements Library are written by William Bender, Jr., script editor.

Seven class mates and friends of Judy Walker had a pajama party at the home of the hostess on East Seven Mile Rd. Friday evening after the senior play.

Mrs. C. Lenieux of Tillbury, Ontario, Canada, is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Spagnuolo of East Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Miller To Make Home in North

A gown of Chantilly lace over old ivory satin was worn by Virginia B. Strickling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elger Strickling of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. as she came down the aisle of the St. Paul Lutheran Church Saturday evening, Nov. 15.

Mr. Strickling gave his daughter in marriage to Richard H. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard and W. Miller of W. Grand River. The double ring ceremony was read at 7:30 p.m. by the Rev. E. E. Rossow. Baskets of white mums were banked before the altar for the candlelight service.

The bride's full skirt was of graduated tiers of nylon net edged with Chantilly lace which extended into a chapel train. The lace was repeated in the fitted bodice and long pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil cascaded from a pearl tiara and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid. Her jewelry was a pair of pearl earrings and a single strand pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

As matron of honor, Mrs. Fred Meisner of Newberry, appeared in a gown of aqua net over taffeta accented by a matching picture hat. Bridesmaids Stella Zarnke of Farmington and Mrs. George Gilroy of Cincinnati, Ohio, came down the aisle in similar gowns of orchid and yellow respectively. Their headpieces were satin ribbons interlaced with baby mums and they carried colonial bouquets of mums.

Flower girl was little Linda Tesch, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Allen Gregg, who is a cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Howard Miller, Jr. was his brother's best man and seating the guests were Earl Strickling, brother of the bride, and Robert Ehler.

At the reception held in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony, Mrs. Strickling received 150 guests wearing a balerina length gown of lavender lace over taffeta. A formal of gold crepe was the choice of Mrs. Miller. Both mothers wore corsages of baby mums.

The out-of-town guests list included Detroit, Wayne, Sault Ste. Marie, Newberry, New York, Ohio, Mt. Clemens, Pontiac, Redford, Farmington, Plymouth, Novi and Northville.

The bride's travel costume was a royal blue velvet dress and gold accessories and she wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple left for a brief honeymoon through northern Michigan en route to Sault Ste. Marie where they will make their home. The bridegroom, who

H. G. Richardsons Hold Open House

About 85 guests inspected the newly completed home of the Harry Richardsons on West Main St. at a housewarming party Saturday evening.

The hosts, Mrs. Richardson, asked Mrs. Charles Murphy and Mrs. Eldon Biery to pour. Barbara Prunty and Dick Biery presided at the punch bowl.

The day was especially festive as it was the date of Mr. Richardson's birthday. Two days prior, the Richardsons celebrated their eleventh wedding anniversary.

Richard is a Northville High graduate and has been with the Air Force for the past year.

Sharon Hill Has Twelfth Birthday

Sharon Hill invited twenty of her seventh grade classmates to a party celebrating her twelfth birthday Wednesday, Nov. 12 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton D. Hill on Beck Rd.

A smorgasbord dinner highlighted the afternoon affair. The hostess chose white and blue as her decorative theme which featured a doll atop the birthday cake with a skirt fashioned of lacy icing.

A sister from Royal Oak was Sharon's out-of-town guest.

Nubby Woven Yarns

The appearance of fine needlepoint is a characteristic of some of the new rugs as the one used here. Nubby yarns combined with a special weaving skill combine to capture the charm of a handcrafted carpet with the beauty of contemporary colors. The ground of this wool carpet is a light beige with a flowing spray in tones of green accented with autumn colors in a berry design.

West Point Park News

Miss L. A. Ault

Death of a brother-in-law called Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Bohlinger and their daughter, Beverly, of Mayfield Ave. to West Branch last week end.

Freda Ault of Shadyside Ave. was the Saturday evening guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haas near Redford.

Laurence Galloway of Pontiac called on Mrs. Walter Rehahn on Mayfield Ave. last Saturday. Mrs. Rehahn's son and grandson, Al and Duane Hardy of Wayne, were also her guests.

Residents between Seven and Eight Mile, near Farmington Rd., now have bus transportation to Farmington. It is hoped many will take advantage of the new system and thus make it a paying proposition.

Mrs. Louis Graham and her daughter, Wanda, of Mayfield Ave. spent last Sunday with friends in Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Judd and their daughters, Barbara and Loretta of Grosse Pointe visited Mrs. Judd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stange, on Mayfield.

Robert Hunter and his daughter, Mary Margaret, of Detroit called at the Forrest Ault home on Hubbard last Sunday evening.

Ernest Asch of W. Seven Mile Rd. and Roger Graham of Mayfield Ave. left Sunday evening for a week's vacation in northern Michigan.

Mrs. Virginia Fulkerson from Dearborn visited with Mrs. Geo. W. Sandau of Hubbard Ave. last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ault visited in Northville Friday evening.

Clive Buckingham, former Norfolk Ave. resident, is visiting in Louisville, Ky. for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Ault of Hubbard Ave. were Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Roberts in Monroe.

Mrs. Al Samas and her daughter, Sharon, of Chicago, were the week end guests of the former's brother, Arthur Muir and his family on Shadyside.

Mrs. Anna Currie of Redford called on the Misses Lora and Freda Ault, Shadyside Ave., on Tuesday morning.

E. W. Stange of Mayfield Ave. called on his sister, Mrs. Ahler, and her family, in Detroit last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cryce of Youngstown, Ohio, were recent overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Owen on Mayfield Ave.

Luncheon guests of Mrs. Albert Owen on Mayfield Ave. Thursday were her three sisters, Mrs. Austin Ault, Mrs. Ralph Voorhies and Mrs. Marion Gedig, and her two nieces, Mrs. George Throne and Mrs. Loren Read.

Mrs. Louis Jennings and her new little daughter, Cynthia Ann, have left Sessions Hospital in Northville and are doing nicely at their home on Norfolk Ave.

Mrs. Homer Coolman and Mrs. Maynard Horton of Shadyside Ave. accompanied their Girl Scout troop on an interesting visit to the Art Museum last Saturday.

Girl Scouts are out selling their new 1953 calendars.

Sailor William Varhol, who has been stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Station visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Varhol of Shadyside Ave. Wednesday, while en route to New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duffy of northern Michigan were Wednesday and Thursday guests of their daughter, Mrs. Herman Schult and her daughters on Shadyside Ave.

Harold McVicar and his son, Harold, Jr., of Shadyside Ave. arrived home Wednesday morning from a week end of deer hunting. Don Bohlinger has arrived home from a successful hunting trip.

Eighty-six year old George Welsh of Mayfield Ave. and his companion, Ernie Linnberg, of Detroit, arrived home Wednesday evening with a fine buck.

Mrs. Cecil Willet of Mayfield Ave. got her buck at the very beginning of her hunting trip and sent it home with a friend. Hoping for more luck, Mr. and Mrs. Willet and the Chaveys, who accompanied them, are remaining in the north until the end of the week.

Leslie Bolyard of Hubbard Ave., his son, Norman, and son-in-law, Robert Young, are spending the week deer hunting near Gaylord. Ira J. Magner of Shadyside Ave., who for the last few weeks has been a patient in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, was transferred to Harper Hospital in Detroit, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Reddy of Shadyside Ave. opened their home again for square dancing last Saturday night. A large group participated.

The Livonia Methodists held a very successful square dance in Farmington Town Hall Friday night of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kauranen of Mayfield Ave. left last week end for a deer hunting vacation in northern Michigan.

Under the sponsorship of the Department of Recreation, Julius Walt of Farmington Rd. is conducting a boy's boxing class.

Bruce, youngest son of the Leslie Bolyards of Hubbard Ave., is one of the most recent inductees into U.S. service. From Ft. Custer he went to Texas.

Mayor Ziegler, Harry S. Wolfe and several other Livonia officials have been in northern Michigan deer hunting this last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Shaulier and daughter, Carol Lee, of Farmington Rd. returned last week end from a vacation trip to Florida.

Mrs. Edna McShane of Northville was an overnight guest last week end of Mrs. Grace Simpson on Mayfield.

Freda Ault visited in Harper Hospital Thursday and during the day called on one of her neighbors, Mrs. Ira Magner, who is now a patient there.

Mrs. Edward Kochanek and her children, and a neighbor, Mrs. McLane, with her son, all from Inkster, were last Sunday guests

Make All Tables Real Decorative Assets to Rooms

By ERTTA HALEY

TAKE A LONG and critical look at all the table tops you have in your home. Do they really do something for the room, in the sense of decoration, or have they become mere catch-alls for all the small accessories that you've just put there?

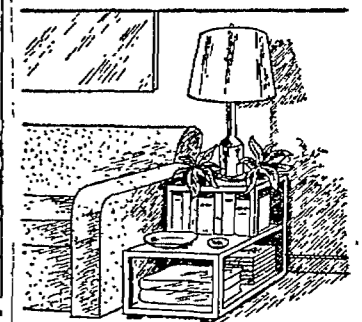

Careful as well as imaginative thought should be given to all tables because they can do so much for the style and harmony of the room. Table size doesn't matter, because small as well as large tables can be assets when they're treated properly.

Naturally the size of the tables should be in keeping with the room or they will violate principles of harmony and balance, but even smaller tables may be used in large rooms provided they're part of a unit in that room, say in a grouping with chairs.

This brings up another very important point in regard to tables. Never treat the table top as just a thing in itself, any more than you would another piece of furniture. Tie the table together with the room and, most particularly, with whatever it's near.

Let Hall Tables Add Interest Plus Utility

Most homes have an entrance hall which brings together the outside door with the living room. It's the most common thing in the world to have a table in the entrance; but it should never just be there taking space.

A table in the hall is there for a definite purpose. It should add a subtle note of welcome to the room to which it's an entrance. In that case you might want a picture above the table or even a rack for letters.

Branches at this season of the year, or flowers when they're in season, arranged thoughtfully in a long vase, reaching to the picture on the wall tie the table and picture together. This, then, is very definitely an asset to the hall, for the picture and branches add warmth and welcome.

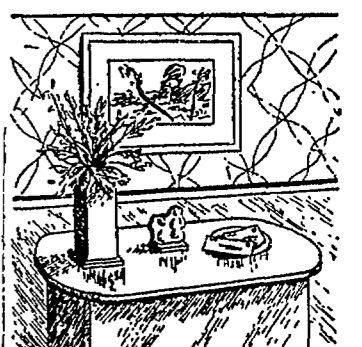

The practical motive of the table in the hall is the fact that it may be used for gloves, keys and mail. For this reason it's best to leave the top clear, except for the vase.

You say you need the table top for books? It just isn't suitable for that. One doesn't sit in the entrance hall for reading purposes. Books should be in living room, library or bedroom where there are comfortable chairs and good lighting for reading.

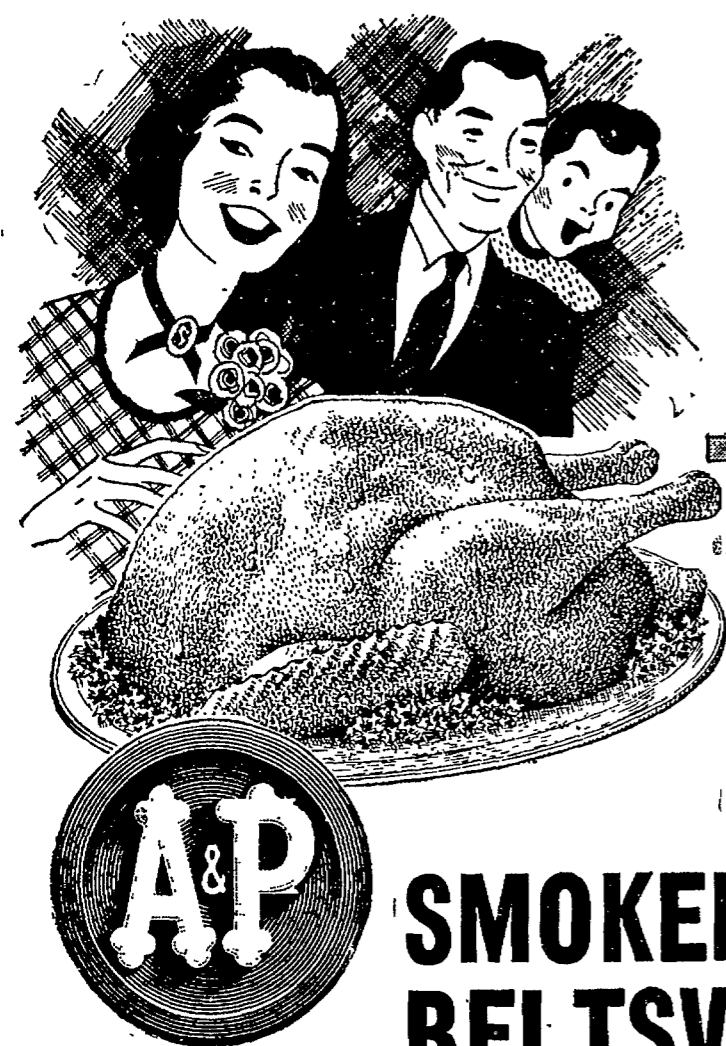

Living Room Tables Have Many Uses

Since the living room is really designed for "living" or family or social life, there are many different kinds of tables which may be used. The accessories on them depend to a large degree on just what your own personal interests are.

Let's think for a moment about those tables which are placed next to couches or chairs. This is done mainly for convenience as well as

Arrangements for table.

Christian Science Churches
Is hypnotism a true remedial agent? This important question is discussed in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, Nov. 30, under the title, "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced".
The Golden Text is from Proverbs (21:12): "God overthroweth the wicked for their wickedness".
Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Col. 2:8): "Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ".

Correlatives passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The planets have no more power over man than over his Maker, since God governs the universe; but man, reflecting God's power, has dominion over all the earth and its hosts." (p. 102) us to a despoism as evil as any that we dread."

"The mutual confidence on which all else depends can be maintained only by an open mind and a brave reliance upon free discussion. I do not say that these will suffice; who knows but we may be on a slope which leads down to aboriginal slavery. But of this I am sure: if we are to escape, we must not yield a foot upon demanding a fair field, and an honest race, to all ideas."

Though some of us may feel that "McCarthyism", to which Judge Hand quite obviously was referring, is the logical fruit of the Democratic Administration's refusal to clean out the Communists who infiltrated into the highest positions in Washington, it is well to realize the nature of the weapon we are using, and the danger that it may backfire to injure the user as well as those at whom it is directed.

Coach Takes Team on Practice Tour Before First Game

Basketball Coach Dick Kay began taking his varsity Mustangs on a round of practice scrimmages with other cage teams in this area last night to sharpen them up before the opening game on the schedule. They play Plymouth in the Rocks' new gymnasium Dec. 5.

They scrimmaged the Bentley team in Livonia last night and will play the Redford Union team tomorrow night. After the layoff for Thanksgiving holidays, they'll practice at home Monday, then hold a practice game at Farmington next Tuesday and at Walled Lake on Wednesday.

Better Practice

Mr. Kay's reason for moving "around the circuit" of local teams is to give his Mustangs practice on the kind of courts they'll be playing on in almost all games away from home.

The Plymouth game court is 50x90 feet, and experience has proven that the Mustangs feel a little lost on a big court after practicing in the tiny Northville gym, which is about 30 feet wide and perhaps 60 feet long.

All the teams the Mustangs will scrimmage against have larger gyms, and all teams the local quintet will meet in games away from home have big, airy courts, except Keego Harbor.

Allen Graham Buried Monday

Funeral services for Allen True Graham, who passed away Nov. 20 at his residence on 48525 West Eight Mile Rd., were conducted Monday afternoon from the Casterline Funeral Home, Rev. Dr. Harold F. Fredsell, officiating. Interment was made in the new Veterans Section, Rural Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Graham was born Nov. 23, 1888 in Decatur, Ind., the son of the late Lafayette and Harriet Graham. He lived in Detroit prior to a year ago when he moved to Northville to make his home with the Foster H. Howells of West Eight Mile Road where he was engaged in farming. He was a member of the Moose Lodge of Detroit. Nellie Graham, his wife, preceeded him in death.

Mr. Graham is survived by three brothers: William of Elkhart, Ind.; Clyde of Tucson, Ariz.; and Daniel of Niles, Mich. Also surviving is a sister-in-law, Mrs. Eleanor Graham of Detroit.

Novice bow and arrow enthusiasts are invited to attend the Open Novice Archery Shoot tonight, Wednesday, at Ford Field, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

The Boy's Club will be open all day Friday, Nov. 28 and Saturday, Nov. 29 for students on Thanksgiving vacation.

Sale of TB Seals Begins in Village

Small displays featuring the double barred cross of the Christmas Seal appeared in Northville business places this week as the annual Christmas Seal Sale got underway here.

The displays furnish envelopes containing Christmas Seals, for which contributions are sought to support the work of the TB and Health Society in Wayne County. The Society's program ranges from health teaching in schools and with adults to aiding tuberculosis victims in their struggle to regain health and live normal lives.

Co-chairmen of the Sale, which will continue until the end of the year, are Mrs. V. George Chabut and Mrs. W. L. Howard.

Novi Cub Scouts Hold Meeting Nov. 14

Pack No. 54 of the Novi Cub Scouts sponsored by the Amvet Auxiliary Perry Kenner Post No. 76, held a meeting at the Novi School Friday, Nov. 14. The program opened with a Flag Ceremony by Den No. 3. The November theme was "Faith of Our Fathers".

Four boys participated in the Bob Cat ceremony and were welcomed into the Pack. These boys were Bill Gregory, Charles Early, Claude Earle and Larry Snow. Boys receiving advancements were Harry Schenimann, Robert Little, Dennis Snow and David LaFond. All dens participated in the skits. Songs were led by Charles Verhaag and the program closed with the repeating of the Law of the Pack. Refreshments were served by the committee people.

Plymouth JCC Invites Local Men

Young men in Northville interested in becoming associated with the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce are invited to attend a meeting of the group Thursday night, Dec. 4, at 7:30 in the private dining room of the Arbor Lill in Plymouth.

VFW to Sponsor Blood Donor Film

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012 will sponsor the showing of a motion picture film, supporting the blood drive in a meeting at their hall on Plymouth Ave. at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 2.

Junior Set to Have Own J-Hop Friday

A Thanksgiving dance in the nature of a Junior J-Hop will be sponsored by the senior Girl Scouts of Troop 8 Friday evening, Nov. 28.

Dancing to the turntable will be from 7:30 to 11:00 p.m. at the Recreation Building.

The dance is being given for the benefit of the Junior High set while the annual J-Hop is in progress at the high school gym.

News From Novi

• Mrs. Luther Rix

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Race were hosts to the members of the South Novi Farm Bureau last Wednesday evening. About 30 were present. At the business meeting the group voted to buy two coffee urns for the community building kitchen and plans were made for the Christmas turkey dinner Dec. 20.

Mrs. Howard Greer entertained at a luncheon last Wednesday, Mrs. Alfred Gow, Mrs. Luther Rix, Mrs. Fran Jennings and Mrs. Russell Race.

The Mothers Club will have a card party Dec. 5 at 8:00 p.m. at the school house. The Mothers Club presented the school children with a Biddy Basket Ball Court.

The Novi school children filled 35 boxes for Junior Red Cross. These boxes go to needy children in all parts of the world.

Thanksgiving weekend guests of Rev. and Mrs. Charles G. Morse will be their daughter, Marjorie Morse and her adopted daughter, Joan Wood Morse and Mrs. Grace Simpson of Kalamazoo. Also present will be their son, C. Legrand Morse and family of Birmingham. On Thanksgiving day they will all have turkey dinner with Mrs. Morse's sister, Dr. Genadine Snow, in Ypsilanti.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles G. Morse spent last Friday and Saturday at Royal Center, Indiana on business.

Mrs. Jerry Fifoot left last Saturday for Germany to be with her husband who is in the service and stationed at Goffening. Mrs. Fifoot, the former Jean Geer, expected to stay three months.

Al Pritchard is home again after spending ten days in the University Hospital at Ann Arbor for observation and treatments.

Mrs. Clyde Johnston is confined to her home for a few days recovering from the injuries of a recent fall.

Rev. and Mrs. William Mairs will have Thanksgiving day dinner with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Mairs.

Many old friends of Herman Goers were saddened to hear of his death in a deer hunting accident in Menominee County last week on Monday. Mr. Goers was a cousin of Mrs. Fred Garlick of Novi.

Mrs. William Mairs, Mrs. Belle Walters, Miss Mary Flint and Rev. Grace Moore, of Novi, attended.

One of the mistakes people are making today is the belief that all churches and preachers are alike. "It makes no difference what church one goes to" is the common belief. To show the fallacy of this belief, allow me to show you the results of a survey conducted among 1,500 ministers.

50% of them didn't believe in a personal devil. Yet that is one of the plainest teachings of Jesus. 80% of them denied the existence of hell. Yet Jesus warned of its existence and that unbelievers should spend eternity there. 73% did not believe that a new spiritual birth was necessary. Yet, Jesus said plainly, "Except a man be born again he cannot see the Kingdom of God". 89% said they did not believe in the Virgin Birth of Christ. Yet, Jesus' whole claim of deity was based upon it. 86% said there was no need for the blood of Jesus to be shed, and yet, the Bible declares that "without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness". God's Word affirms the existence of a devil, a hell, the need of spiritual birth, the truth concerning the virgin birth, and the necessity of the shedding of Christ's blood. Yes, there is a difference! Make sure the church you attend believes and teaches the Historic Faith!

again. Treats were by Sharon White. There will not be a meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 27, because of Thanksgiving vacation.

The intermediate girl scouts of Novi had their regular meeting at the school Nov. 19. We started on more Frosties for the bazaar. Joan Lessway and Marilyn Miller furnished the treat.

There will be a neighborhood meeting of all Girl Scouts and Brownie troop committee people and troop leaders at the Novi school at 8:00 on Monday, Dec. 1. Last minute plans will be made for the Girl Scout Bazaar. All interested parents are cordially invited to attend any of these things which are held the first Monday of each month.

The Girl Scout Bazaar will be held Saturday, Dec. 6, at 11:30 a.m. in the new Community Building.
