"Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?"

The Northville Record this week publishes with regret the story of juvenile doings in Northville and our neighboring communities, Plymouth and Walled Lake, over the past week-end. This departure from the long-established policy of this newspaper, which has been to omit mention of some of the more disturbing facts about life in our community, is prompted by the fact that teen-ager escapades have been occurring with increasing frequency and are progressively of a more serious nature.

By strange coincidence, the "teen-ager letter" published on this page, reached our desk just as we were leaving to cover the interrogation of two other 17 year old boys before Justice-of-the-Peace Edmund P. Yerkes on a charge of car theft. We know that the incidents reported in the news columns and the feelings of the boy who wrote the letter are not typical of the actions and feelings of the great majority of boys and girls in Northville and elsewhere. Nevertheless, every parent can learn something from reading the news-story and letter, and we have a suspicion that in a great many instances fond fathers and mothers could profitably examine their own relationships with their children, if only to reassure themselves that they have maintained that feeling of closeness and sympathetic understanding for lack of which most boys and girls get in trouble.

At the risk of being taken to task for preaching, we submit that the proportion of boys and girls who are fundamentally "bad" in 1953 is no greater than it was when their parents were teen-agers. That a greater number fall into questionable habits that get them in trouble is, in our opinion, as much a matter of parents failing to understand and keep abreast with the tempo of teen-ager living as it is the fault of the boys and girls who are today's problem children.

We recall that at about this time last year the Record received a letter from a Northville girl who complained that teen-agers have no place to go to dance, play records and amuse themselves during their leisure hours. This week we heard one of the boys charged with car theft say that many young folks from this area go to barn dances on week-end nights for their amusement.

Barn dances can be a lot of fun. The writer knows because he was brought up in the country and used to go to them when he was in high school. In fact, he even played clarinet in a barn dance orchestra on a couple of occasions. Therefore, he feels he can speak with some authority on barn dances. True, they can be a lot of fun, but there is a lot of opportunity for hell raising of the first order by those who are so inclined. It may not be true of those in this vicinity, and if kids are going to raise hell they'll find some other place to do it if there is no barn dance handy. And those who are inclined to follow the middle road will stay out of trouble, whether they go to barn dances or stay home and play canasta with the old folks.

But it will be nice if the committee that is working out plans for a Northville Community House has made some provision for a real youth center that will give our local boys and girls a place to dance and have fun under reasonable supervision. A youth center is no substitute for wise parental guidance, but it could be a very healthy adjunct which might prove useful under situations such as developed last Saturday night in Northville, Walled Lake and Plymouth.

No Action by Supreme Court

The State Supreme Court failed Tuesday, Mar. 24 to act on the petition of John Burkman, A. E. Northup and the Northville Township Improvement Association for permission to file a writ of mandamus against the Secretary of State to prevent the election on April 6 to determine if Northville is to become a city.

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frank Doty postponed until Friday, Mar. 27 a decision on Burkman's request for an injunction to prevent Novi Township officials from proceeding with the election in that township.

Answer to Plaintiff

Background of the Supreme Court's failure to take action Tuesday was an answer to the plaintiffs' petition by the State Solicitor General in behalf of the Secretary of State. This pointed out that the plaintiffs had delayed their court action until such a late date that the Supreme Court could not decide the mandamus action before the election. He also argued that the plaintiffs can test the validity of the law under which the incorporation is to be voted on as well after the election as before, and that for the court to attempt now to make a decision in the case on its merits would be impossible.

Decision Set for Mar. 27

Judge Doty inquired about the status of the Supreme Court action from the plaintiffs' attorney, Howard Bond, and indicated informally that Burkman will have an adequate remedy at law in quo warranto proceedings after (Continued on Page 8)

Stone Opens New Store in Plymouth

The gala opening of Stone's Gamble Store in Plymouth will be celebrated Friday and Saturday, Mar. 27 and 28 with free gifts for women and children and door prizes for lucky visitors to the modern new store.

The new business, located at 620 South Starkweather, has the most modern type of layout, said owner Roy Stone, who has owned another Gamble store in Northville for almost four years.

The store features a new type of organization designed for speedy service, and the interior is decorated with nine different colors. There are modern rest rooms for men and women.

Free balloons will be given to children who visit the store, and ladies will receive flowers.

"Youth, like parchment, is capable of any inscription".

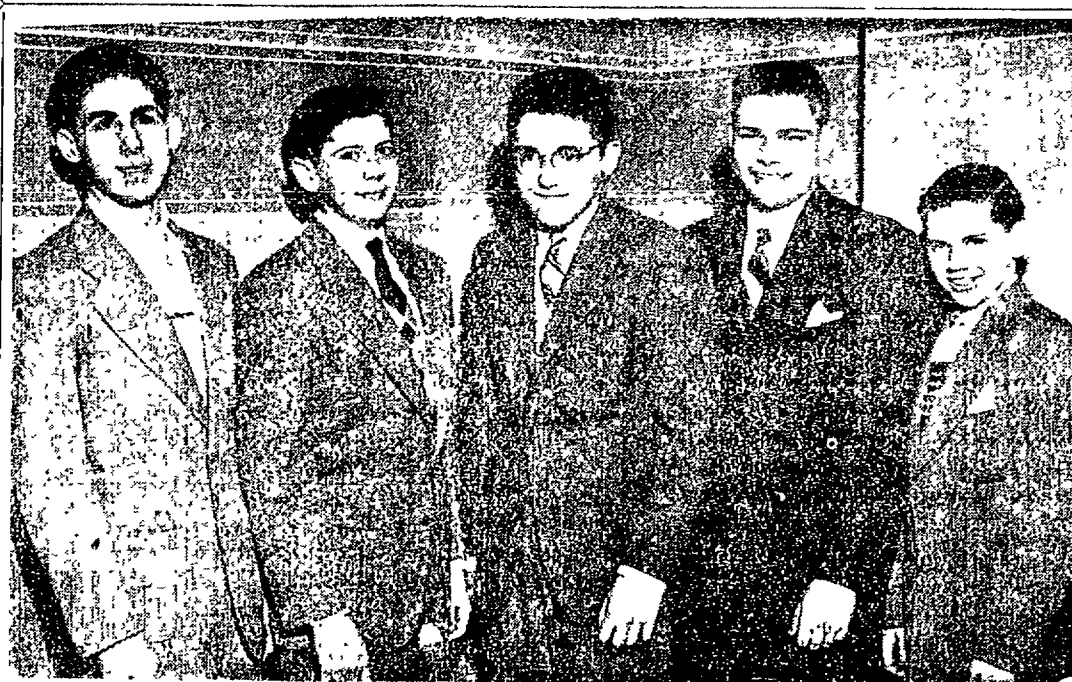

That's an old saying which has been conclusively proved by the success enjoyed by the Junior Police Club of Northville.

Today, 272 Northville boys between six and 12 are enrolled in an organization which began as an experiment several years ago, and which has developed into a sure weapon for instilling a deeper sense of respect for the law and citizenship responsibility in them.

The original idea came from Police Chief Joseph Denton and blossomed into reality one afternoon six years ago in the Chief's office in the Village Hall where it was the custom of the late William H. Cansfield, then publisher of the Northville Record, to drop in for "cracker barrel" sessions.

One of these discussions of local problems brought out the need for some kind of planned activity to supplement the scout-

Novi Groups Pitch In With Help for Foster Family

Warm-hearted neighbors in Novi responded quickly this week to the distress of a neighbor whose home was destroyed by flames, leaving his family of six homeless.

The neighbors will lead off their help campaign with a clean-up bee, then follow with a benefit dance Saturday, April 4 at the Novi Community Hall on Novi Road. Services, including tickets, orchestra and labor, will all be donated.

Recovering, but seriously burned in the fire, is Harry Foster, 33, of 27635 Haggerty Hwy., Farmington Township. Doctors say he faces months of hospitalization and many plastic surgery operations. He is now a patient at Veterans Memorial Hospital in Dearborn.

Jim Rambeau Wins Optimist Club Oratory Contest

James Rambeau took the first step up the ladder to Optimist International's first prize of $1000 Mar. 19 when he won top place in the Northville Optimist Club's Boy's Oratorical contest.

The next step for James is the state contest at Grand Haven, Mich. May 22 and 23. Should he win that contest in oratory, he will move on to Washington, D.C. for the national contest, which offers three top scholarship prizes of $1,000, $750 and $500.

Competing with James in the Northville contest at the Lutheran Church were Joel Soule, who was second; Charles Rogers, third; Elvin Newton, fourth, and Anthony Olivich, fifth. First, second and third place winners were (Continued on Page 8)

Readers: What Is Your Answer?

March 22, 1953

The Editor
The Northville Record
Northville, Mich.

Dear Mr. Cummings:

I sent you this letter because it will be of great interest to many parents of teen-age boys in our town.

I come from a very good family and so do the other boys I will mention in this letter.

Getting to the point, there are several boys in town, all of them my own age, 17, who are very disgusted with the way we are being treated by our parents. We have just come to the decision that if our parents don't start giving us more freedom we are going to leave home and quit school. No, our parents won't know when we are going or where.

The biggest problem seems to be the correct time to come home at night after a date. I, along with the rest of the boys, think it should be left up to the boy as to what time he should be in. What is the harm in being a little late coming home if you are not getting into trouble? All the parents are succeeding in doing by setting a certain hour is risking the life of their son and also the boy is much more apt to get into trouble if the deadline is set. I go with a girl that lives about 15 miles from Northville and I have to drive around 90 and 95 miles an hour to get home at the correct time. I'm not the only one who is doing that; there are plenty of the fellows who drive that fast to make a deadline.

I suppose that most parents will just get a big laugh out of this, but just wait until one of them sees his son being picked up in a basket just because he was trying to make the deadline. I know that most parents think that kids are going to get into trouble if they stay out late but they are wrong in most cases. I never did much in the line of trouble when I was able to stay out late, but with restrictions I like most other boys, feel like really raising good old fashion HELL. The parents of Northville are going to wake up with a bang when a few of the town boys get carried off in baskets or wind up in jail. The parents of Northville can stop this by giving the boys more freedom and the most important thing, NO RESTRICTIONS. The boys who are going to leave home with me if things don't clear up are not the only ones who are going to do it if the parents don't wake up and take off their restrictions.

THIS IS NO LAUGHING MATTER! PARENTS OF NORTHVILLE, SO DON'T JUST SIT BACK AND LAUGH ABOUT IT. IT MAY MEAN THE LIFE OF YOUR SON OR THE FUTURE OF YOUR SON. I WOULDN'T WANT TO SEE MY SON IF I HAD ONE KILLED TRYING TO MAKE A SLEELY DEADLINE, OR BEING TAKEN OFF TO THE JAIL BECAUSE I GUESSED WRONG.

MAYBE I'M YOUR SON, DO YOU WANT ME TO END UP THAT WAY?

SEVENTEEN

"Seventeen"

If you could have known in advance what the lead story in this week's Record was to be I'll bet you would have waited a little while before writing your letter complaining of parental discipline, wouldn't you?

My first reaction was to feel that the possibility of you being picked up in a basket wouldn't be nearly as great a loss to the world as the probability that someone else who is entirely blameless will be picked up in a basket after being hit by you when you're driving 90 miles an hour. That happened to a young chap last Sunday morning at the corner of Plymouth and Beech Roads. He was returning home from a party in Plymouth when another car driven by a boy who had been drinking ignored the stop light and killed him. How would you like to be that boy's parents, or brother? Or how would you like to be the boy who did the killing?

I'm not going to preach to you about how you should live your life but I do want to tell you a story about my own son at your age. There were times when we didn't see eye to eye on some matters. It's the most natural thing in the world that kids don't think their parents know the score. And, unfortunately, there are parents who forget that they, too, thought their own father and mother were old fogies when they were 17.

But what I started to tell you was what my son told his mother after being away from home several years while he was in the merchant marine. Said he in a confidential moment: "Gee Mom, Dad's a lot smarter than he was when I left home".

It reminds me of another remark to his mother when he was about 12 and growing like a weed. After a friendly wrestling match during which he had his arms around my waist, he turned to his mother and said: "Dad's getting a lot slimmer, isn't he?"

The point I'm making is that how you feel about things is pretty much a matter of age and experience.

I wish, my young friend, that you and I could sit down and talk about your problem as man to man across the table. I'm not sure I have all the answers, but I sure would like a chance to talk with you personally to see if we can figure out a partial solution, at least. I'm at the Record office every Tuesday evening and we can talk confidentially if you care to drop in. Or I'll meet you at my home any evening if you'll call me and let me know you are coming.

Sincerely,

Glenn H. Cummings, Editor

P.S. — If you drive home from your girl's home 15 miles away at 90 miles an hour, it takes you 10 minutes. If you drove at 60 miles an hour, how long would it take you? Answer: 15 minutes. Is it worth the risk of killing someone else to save 5 minutes.

Drinking at a teen-ager party that got out of hand in the home of one of the better known and highly respected families in Plymouth last Saturday evening, and theft of a pick-up truck by two 17-year old Northville and Plymouth boys so they could get to the Plymouth party and another being held simultaneously in a Walled Lake residence, highlighted youth activities in the three suburban communities over the past week-end.

Net result of the evening's fun: Two scared boys who have not previously been in trouble have confessed to theft of the truck and are awaiting action by Juvenile Court authorities.

Police Tracing Beer Source

Plymouth police are endeavoring to learn who provided the beer that was obtained from proceeds of a collection taken up at the door and kept outside in a car for those who cared to drink.

Parents of the boys and girls who attended the Plymouth party, all of whom have been identified, are doing some intensive questioning of their offspring entirely on their own, and independent of anything the police may seek to do.

These facts, which may be startling to many fathers and mothers who still believe there is no juvenile problem in Northville, Plymouth and Walled Lake, were disclosed to Justice Edmund P. Yerkes in Novi Township Justice Court Tuesday by the two boys who confessed to theft of the truck so they might "have fun". That they had no intention of keeping the truck or disposing of it for money was also made clear by the fact that their arrest resulted from their efforts to return it to the Don Emery farm on Eight Mile Rd. from which they had stolen it earlier in the evening.

Two Boys Ticketed
Novi police also ticketed two other boys from this neighborhood for speeding while enroute from the party at Walled Lake to the Plymouth affair. As a backdrop to the car theft case in Novi Township Justice Court, Justice Yerkes recalled that only 10 days ago a dozen bottles of liquor had been stolen from the Northville Downs office. He also recalled that about two years ago authorities learned that marihuana was sold to juveniles in Walled Lake.

WAS DON EMERY'S TRUCK
The stolen truck was owned by Don Emery of 41520 E. Eight Mile Rd. and was parked in a field across the road from the Emery house. The two boys had hitchhiked back to Northville from Plymouth and wanted to get to the Walled Lake party, which they had been told about by another boy. From the corner of E. Main St. and Griswold they hiked out to the Emery farm, from which they had just seen a Chevrolet car emerge from the drive. In telling the story of what happened, one boy testified that Mrs. Emery was in the house looking at television.

"I saw the truck wasn't in the drive way so we went back in the field. I figured that if he left it way back there he probably wouldn't have taken the keys out. They were in the ignition so we started it and drove over to Walled Lake.

"When we got there we couldn't find any party and the house where we thought it was being held was dark."

Justice Yerkes: "What did you do then?"

Last Night Out

Boy: "We figured we had the truck so we might as well go back to the party at Plymouth. I figured it was probably my last night out until summer vacation because my report card would be out in a few days. We found the party at — and when we got to the door someone asked us for money to buy beer.

(his boy friend) took — (a Plymouth boy) home so he wouldn't get into trouble. "I went in the house and danced (Continued on Page 8)

State Police Arrest 6,175 in February

The Michigan State Police made 6,175 arrests in February of which 5,383 were for traffic offenses, according to the department's monthly report.

In addition there were 294 juvenile cases, including delinquent and wayward minors and those involved in traffic offenses.

The department handled 4,738 complaints in all matters and conducted 22,205 property inspections and 3,650 liquor inspections. Total travel in all activities was 828,571 miles.

The identification bureau at East Lansing headquarters handled 6,248 sets of fingerprints, 3,914 criminal and 2,334 non-criminal.

Through fingerprints, 15 persons wanted by police as fugitives were identified. In processing 633 sets of fingerprints submitted by persons seeking licenses to carry concealed weapons, 68 of the applicants were found to have criminal records.

9 Junior Policemen Win Kite Contest

A strong southeast wind Saturday helped blow the kites of nine Junior Police members into winning spots in a kite contest, but proved the downfall of eight other contestants.

The eight fell victim to broken strings and had to search for their runaway kites in the northwest section of the village where they came to rest in trees and assorted foliage.

Jerry Jerome took top honors in the first division by flying his kite highest in a 30-minute time period. Mike Eastland won second place and Richard Watkins came in third.

In the second division, Charles Weiss was first to get his kite over 24 feet in five minutes and won first prize. Chris Galzlay placed second and Jay Leavenworth was third.

The third division first prize, for the greatest distance in ten minutes, was won by Fred Mitchell, with Gordon Hubbard and J. Ray Leavenworth placing second and third respectively.

Dads were on hand to help their youngsters in the contest at Ford Field and had so much fun that someone suggested a contest for dads in the future.

The boys were warned before the contest by Mr. Mitchell, of the Detroit Edison Co., to fly their kites out in the open away from wires.

Special mention should go to George Clark of the George Clark Hardware, who furnished kites to all contestants, prizes to winners, and more kites for future contests to the entire Junior Police membership.

IF --

Some six or seven years ago a representative of the Michigan Municipal League was the speaker at a joint meeting of the Exchange and Rotary Clubs. The subject was the advantages of Northville adopting a city form of government.

Three points remain with me: First, that by replacing our out-of-date charter with a modern one, and changing the name from "Village" to "City", would not mean additional expense of government;

Second, that by the elimination of duplicating township and village functions, such as assessment and collection of taxes, registration and voting, there would be considerable savings in money and much more convenience for the taxpayers;

Third, that by becoming a city Northville would be eligible to receive a portion of the money the state takes from Northville Downs.

While I was one of many impressed by the remarks, no one came forward to carry the ball.

Now, after six years, we are to have an opportunity to vote on the question.

From the current edition of the Northville Record I have just learned what Northville has passed up in revenue that it could have had from the race track. The total for the past six years is $330,146.

And these startling facts appear before me:

The Community Building has been before us for six or seven years. Now, by modifying the original plans some of us are hoping that it can be built. If Northville had become a city I feel sure the building would have been completed before now.

Five years ago the Wayne County Road Commission offered to build the 7-Mile Road cut-off if the Village would pay $35,000 as its share. Now, five years later, the cut-off still is only a dream. In ever increasing number and size the gravel trucks are continuing to endanger the lives of our children, rack our nerves with their noise, and congest Main and Rogers Streets. If Northville had been a city, with the money available, the trucks would have been off Main St. two or three years ago.

Every municipality in the country is having parking headaches. Some are doing something about it. The citizens have a right to expect suitable parking space to transact their business. I am sure that as a city, Northville's program would now be much further ahead than it is today.

Yearly progress in street paving has been made, but as a city the program would likely have been more than twice as far along. Work on sewers, water and sidewalks is being delayed for want of cash.

While we are in the business of "tiffing", let us spend the $330,000 in our imagination. Say 10%, or $33,000 could have been used to reduce taxes; $100,000 could have been spent on the Community Building;

$35,000 for the cut-off; $50,000 for off-street parking; $10,000 for water; $10,000 for sewers; $5,000 for sidewalks.

AND STILL HAVE $87,000 LEFT FOR OTHER EXPENSES.

Fellow citizens, ask yourselves this question: "Shall we act now and use the funds that are available to us from racing at Northville Downs to improve our community and reduce our taxes, or shall we continue to pass them up until another $330,000 has gone down the drain?"

Northville could have made good use of the money, that it has passed up to date. It can use the money that will be available in the future.

LET US NOT CONTINUE OUR MISTAKE OF THE PAST.

Choirs to Present Cantata Palm Sunday

The choirs of the First Presbyterian Church, under the direction of William G. Williams, will present a sacred cantata at the church on Palm Sunday evening at 8 p.m. Written by William A. Peace, the oratorio is entitled, "Crucifixion and Ascension".

Soloists who will participate are C. Ray VanValkenburgh, Philip A. Fisher, Earl T. Gibson, Jr. and Edwin R. Langtry.

The Couples Club of the church which is sponsoring the presentation, extends a cordial invitation to residents of the community to attend this musical evening.

Recreation Canoe Available April 1

As a sure sign that spring is here, the Recreation canoe will come out of storage April 1.

The 18-foot aluminum Gruman canoe, complete with paddles and a car top carrier, was bought last year, and saw a variety of use by both children and adults in the village.

It was used by Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, the Boys Club, the Recreation Safety program, and was in two canoe races. Twenty-four adults signed the canoe out for trips, and it was used for duck hunting last fall by two groups of men.

The Girl Scouts have already talked over plans for another canoe trip and Troop N-1 Boy Scouts are looking over the dates available for trips down the Huron early this spring.

It's possible to begin paddling a half hour after leaving Northville, with good camping spots available for overnight trips through the State Department of Conservation.

The canoe is available to groups with adult leaders, and scheduling of the craft is posted at the Scout Building. Recreation Director Wilson Funk has charge of scheduling.

Lots and lots of people come in this Studebaker Sales Em-porium on occasion, so it wasn't too surprising when both a politician and a Minister we know, dropped in the other day. We sort of like the remark the Minister made when the man of politics started a discussion of the two occupations. "Oh yes," said he, "a political party and a church have much in common, especially when it comes to raising money. Many times they'll both serve dinners at which they provide about a dollar's worth of food. The only difference being the politicians demand twenty-dollar a plate while the Church people ask for 75c.

About the same thing can be said about the wonderfully new Studebaker for 1953. So much extra car for the money and when you consider the truly economical operation, you'll find yourself saving dollars hand over fist. If it so happens you haven't seen the '53 models, especially the Starliner "hard-top" convertible, you've missed the most exciting car of the year and should take hasty steps to rectify such a situation. Drop around, sit in one, drive one and you'll end up owning the finest car of your career.

We listened in, with a bit of interest, to a conversation between a man in our shop and the man from the newspaper who picks up this column after we've busted our noggin comprising the thing. Our mechanic wanted a bit of free publicity regarding some promotion or other in which he was interested and the lug from the paper wasn't having any. "Now," said he, "People are only interested in reading things they wouldn't want printed about themselves.

With all this spring at hand (by the time you read this it might be snowing) we'd certainly feel ourselves neglectful of our duty if we failed to remind you — GIVE THAT CAR SOME NEW GREASE AND OIL! After all, that automobile has been through some trying times and its vitamins should be replenished. You feed yourself fresh food daily! How often do you feed your car? Why not give it a complete lubrication and tune-up and enjoy much finer car operation?

Police Emphasize Responsibilities of Driver Licenses

Chief Joseph E. Denton today announced that his department is continuing its efforts to call to the attention of all motorists the serious responsibility that goes with the drivers license, a responsibility which is often a matter of life or death.

In commenting on the seriousness of the situation the Chief said "when two cars crash together this proves that one or both drivers failed to live up to the responsibilities of their licenses. When they received the license they stated that they knew how to drive safely and they promised to drive safely. Records prove that over 80% of the collisions are caused by specific violation—the breaking of the law the motorist had promised not to break."

According to Chief Denton the 150,000 accidents in Michigan last year substantiate the fact that far too many Michigan motorists do not take their licenses seriously. That is why, he said, that the law of enforcement and court officials throughout Michigan are making a concerted effort to take action against motorists who insist on violating the traffic law and ignore the responsibilities that go with the privilege of driving.

In conclusion he added, "Broken laws, broken license promises and broken vehicles and people all go together. He called upon all motorists to live up to their licenses and save lives.

church. Members of this year's class are the Misses Kristin Karg, Kersten Schipper, Sally Lemke, Mary Burne, Rebecca Coolman, Nancy Williams, Ardyce Atwood, Lois Leavenworth, Ann Rice, Elsa Couse, Mary Welch, Suzanne Blackburn, Janet Malott and Betty Strange.

Also included are Tom Smith, Thomas "Tucker" Williams, Michael Richard, Joseph Kritch, Michael Willis, Richard Biery, Nelson C. Schrader, III, Robert Bake and Pieter W. Schipper, Jr.

Events of the Past in Northville

News Items Taken From the Files of the Record

ONE YEAR AGO—

Northville school teachers were assured that they could look forward next year to salary increases that would bring them to the median level of salaries paid by comparable schools in Southeastern Michigan. The situation was the result of several meetings between the Professional Problems Committee of the Northville Teachers Club and the Northville Board of Education.

Robert G. Campbell was promoted to staff sergeant at Carswell Air Force Base, Texas.

The Northville Police Department was to receive an eight-cylinder 1952 Ford patrol car at a cost of $545 plus their present 1951 Ford.

Residents of Thayer School District No. 10 fractional, voted 58 to 31 in favor of being annexed to Northville School District No. 2, fractional, at an election Saturday, March 22.

The Northville postoffice was to be extensively enlarged and modernized under terms of a new ten-year lease negotiated between Nelson C. Schrader, Jr. and the United States Postoffice Department, Leland V. Smith, postmaster, announced.

Mrs. Fred Van Atta was elected president of the Northville Woman's Club at their annual meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dixon of Yerkes street planned to celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary by holding open house March 30.

The Northville Rotary Club officers for the 1952-53 year were announced as: Carl H. Johnson, president; Philip Ogilvie, vice president; Arthur Schnute, treasurer; Edward M. Bogart, re-elected secretary and Clyde Dethloff, sergeant-at-arms.

FIVE YEARS AGO—

At the luncheon of the Northville Rotary Club the basketball squad of Northville High School was honored and awards passed out to the lettermen. Major awards were given Robert German, Mac Pierce, Tom Stalker, Bob Campbell, Dave Pottinger, Jack Stovall, Ed Kazarian, Dick Kremkow, Ed Robinson and Bob Beckel, manager.

Mrs. Samuel Geraci of Clement Road was told that she had been awarded a scholarship for outstanding extension work and understanding women in their home problems. She could attend Michigan State College for one semester to study any subject of her choice.

Bob Cole, whose birdhouse won best-of-show in the Northville birdhouse contest, also won an honorable mention in the Detroit Contest at the Flower Show.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Denton of Randolph Street were to celebrate their 37th wedding anniversary March 28.

New officers elected to the Northville Woman's Club were:

One Year Ago: Mrs. Carl Johnson, of Orchard Drive, poses with the oil painting which won praise from a New York critic. The landscape was entered in an Amateur Oil Painting Competition in New York City.

Mrs. A. W. Hahn, president; Mrs. W. H. Cansfield, vice-president; Mrs. James Congo, recording secretary; Mrs. J. M. Lapham, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. A. Shaw, treasurer.

TEN YEARS AGO—

In a recent court session, Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty ruled that the First Baptist Church of Northville, Kalamazoo College and the Baptist Ministers' Aid Society should each receive one-third of the $13,000 estate of Daniel S. Rodgers, Novi Township farmer, who died in 1913.

Miss Jane Van Atta was awarded a year's scholarship for post graduate work at Michigan State College by the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Company at Hartford, Conn.

Clarence J. Holman was reported missing in action in Africa.

The Northville Mustangs completed a successful season by taking the district championship. The marriage of Marie Becker and Leslie W. Jensen was solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church.

What Should State Citizens Be Called?

Are they Michiganians, Michiganese or Michiganders who claim Michigan, originally Michigama, as home?

Just such problems are faced by Albert H. Marckwardt, University of Michigan professor of English, who for ten years has been conducting research on such words.

He says that the state got its name from Lake Michigan. Originally called Lake of the Illinois because of the Illinois Indians living on its banks, it was named Lake Michigama, or "big water", by French explorers when the tribes moved away.

He points out that the state's citizens originally were called Michiganders. The latter name was used first in 1837 by a New York newspaper editor, who wrote in praise of the beauty of the "fair Michigander" women in comparing them with Kentucky and Ohio residents.

The well-known term Michigander probably was first brought to public notice in an 1848 speech by Abraham Lincoln in the House of Representatives, the professor says. At that time Lincoln was fighting the nomination of Michigan's Gen. Lewis Cass as the Democratic presidential candidate. Lincoln accused the Democrats of "dovetailing on to the great Michigander".

Professor Marckwardt believes that the term "Wolverine" for Michigan first started in the 1830's, along with the "Sucker" of Illinois and the "Badger" of Wisconsin. At the time, it probably was not a complimentary term. The wolverine was known to be stealthy and to possess a voracious appetite, he explains, reputedly just like the French trappers of the area, for whom the nickname was probably adopted.

These and other words peculiar to Michigan currently are being discussed by the professor in a series of broadcasts over the University's radio station, WUOM-FM.

As for his research, the results will be used in a linguistic atlas of the North Central states, which includes Michigan.

Hartley Asks for Bluebird Data

Audubon Club member Harbort S. Hartley has taken on an ornithological project which may give him a fund of information on the bluebird population in this area, if local residents will help.

Mr. Hartley has put up 50 bluebird houses in the area with a view toward determining to what extent the bluebird population can be increased. The project is being conducted on behalf of the Wilson Ornithological Club.

The bird is partial to nesting in holes, says Mr. Hartley, but incapable of making a hole in which to nest. It is therefore dependent upon finding holes left by woodpeckers or natural cavities in trees.

It accommodates itself to the right type of boxes placed in the proper situation, and merits aid, says Mr. Hartley, particularly from orchard owners, since the bluebird diet consists chiefly of cutworms, caterpillars and grasshoppers.

Mr. Hartley says he would appreciate receiving exact information regarding nesting of the birds within a few miles of Northville, whether in natural cavities or home bird boxes. He will also help anyone who wants to build bird boxes with information.

Union Good Friday Services Planned

The First Methodist and the First Presbyterian Churches of Northville will unite in a community Good Friday service at 1:30 p.m., April 3 at the Presbyterian Church.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. Dr. Carl G. Adams, pastor of the Boulevard Temple Methodist Church of Detroit. Special music will be provided by the host church with the chancel choir and the carol choirs participating.

The service will be held under the auspices of the Mizpah Chapter of the Kings' Daughters which has sponsored the annual commemoration for more than twenty five years.

Announce Change in Library Hours

Effective Saturday, April 4, the Northville branch of the Wayne County Library will be closed all day Saturdays, according to an announcement made this week by librarian, Miss Rhea Lyons.

The library will be open Monday through Fridays from 11:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., she explained.

Miracle Fabrics Take Top Honor at Fashion Show

The functional approach... an unstudied casualness... these are the pre-requisites of the latest Spring-into-Summer fashions, according to an advance showing at the style show last Thursday afternoon. The event was arranged and sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Lloyd H. Green Post 147 with costumes provided from the stock of the Freydl Ladies' Store.

Sixteen Northville ladies laid aside housework for the day and became chic models displaying the equally chic fashions with extraordinary charm and poise. Flowers and greenery clustered about an inviting beach umbrella formed the background for Mrs. Paul Burnham, looking very much like a model herself, who provided a fluent, interesting commentary.

Conclusions from the show indicate that spring fabrics run the gamut from sheer to suiting-weight, interestingly textured cottons... "miracle" fibers woven into various weights and the perennial, ever-popular wool suiting. Colors are clear and bright from sky-toned pastels to vibrant hues of persimmon, yellows and always classic navy.

Mrs. Nellie Barry, long aware of the great popularity of sportswear separates, spotlighted crisp, washable cottons; some with complimenting jackets and perk little hats.

Completely avoiding exaggerated influences, Mrs. Barry presented what she likes to call "The American Look". Timeless styling, smart detailing, an adaptability to the local pattern of activity, is interpreted in wonderful, washable "pair-offs" of Orlon combinations, acetate and rayons, and marvelous new lightweight denims. In every style there is a new, relaxed appearance... neither sloppy or starchy. Waists are well-defined... skirts are moderately full with below-the-hips emphasis, permanent pleats, as well as stride-ease slimmess... Shoulder and bodices are soft and natural.

Details line up chalk white piping, or interesting buttons... all keyed to strategic points. Necklines are extremely varied from the high frame to the halter, off-shoulder and low-scoop cut. An old friend, the familiar wing collar puts in an appearance this year with exaggerated points, often accented by the youthful "butterfly" bow.

All-in-all, the latest fashions are geared to a pretty practicality plus an endless adaptability to our local pattern of living. The style show says this is the forecast for Spring, 1953... mark it well... you'll be wearing it soon!

Woman's Club Reelects Mrs. Van Atta President

The Woman's club of Northville concluded another year of activity at a luncheon meeting last Friday with election of officers to serve for 1953-54.

Mrs. Fred VanAtta was reelected to the office of president and continuing as vice president will be Mrs. R. M. Atchison. Serving in their respective offices will be: recording secretary, Mrs. Max Austin; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. R. Widmyer; treasurer, Mrs. H. H. Brown. The board of directors will include Mrs. J. P. Anderson and Mrs. T. G. Hegger serving for the second year with three new members, Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. J. McColl and Mrs. N. C. Schrader, Jr.

Mrs. VanAtta has appointed the following program committee for the ensuing year: Messdames, Carl Bryan, Paul Schulz, Fred Collins, Robert Scott, Robert Wetterstrom, Charles Yahne and Mrs. James Congo.

Preceding the meeting, the group was addressed by Mr. Alex Gregory of the Court of Last Resort of the Detroit police department.

Mr. Gregory demonstrated the use of the Polygraph, commonly called the lie detector which, he explained, has become a regular tool of the police used as frequently in the protection of innocent persons accused of crime as in the detection of guilt. This instrument, he said, has been used widely to test the veracity of persons convicted of crime who claim innocence, and has in several occasions resulted in the exoneration of such persons.

The machine, he explained, records reactions of the blood pressure, heart beat, respiration, and perspiration when the subject is asked questions pertinent to a crime. An expert can usually deduce whether the subject is attempting to tell an untruth by observing these reactions.

Tailoring Shop Has New Address

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Avery moved recently from their apartment on East Main St. and are now settled in their new home at 431 North Center.

Mrs. Avery is more familiar to Villagers as the proprietor of "Mae's Tailoring Shop". She plans to continue her growing business in her new home, specializing in alterations of women's garments.

Public May Attend Declamation Contest

A declamation contest of the Northville High School Forensic Club will be held at 7:45 p.m., tonight, Thursday, in the auditorium of the high school.

Fourteen ninth and tenth graders began preliminary elimination contests this week with six winners composing the intraschool competition tonight.

Coaching the sextet will be Miss Florence Panattoni. The public is welcome to attend this annual competition held to determine which student will represent Northville High School at the District Declamation Contest scheduled to be held at Northville April 14.

Thrift Shop Offers Variety of Items

The Thrift Shop at 120 North Center St. swings into its second week of business with a fascinating assortment of saleable items.

The shop, an annual fund-raising project of the women of the First Presbyterian Church, was originally scheduled to conclude Saturday, Mar. 28, but arrangements have been made for its continuance.

An interesting array of bric-a-brac, household items, books and used clothing as well as jewelry and china, offer an absorbing time of browsing, said Mrs. L. M. Eaton, general chairman of the shop. New items are arriving continually to add to the shopper's selection, she added.

Banquet to Honor Safety Patrols

The Northville Parent-Teachers Association have completed plans for an honor banquet to be held this evening, Mar. 26 in the Methodist Church House.

The banquet has been arranged to honor members of the safety patrol in recognition of their outstanding work in the interest of the safety of the local school children.

Marshall Huff, president of the association, will introduce Northville Chief of Police Joseph Denton, who will serve as toastmaster of the evening. Banquet speakers will include James Madigan, supervisor of the safety patrol group.

Highlighting the evening's program, Mrs. Keith Burton of the grade school music department, will present a group of children in an Easter cantata.

Senior Party Fetes Kay Peterson Friday

Caroline Ratliff and David Severance entertained members of the senior class at the latter's home on Novi ave., Friday evening in celebration of Kay Peterson's 17th birthday. More than forty students attended the affair.

Fishing Contest Planned for April 25

General Electric 'House of Magic' Show Coming to High School April 9

Music is sent across the stage on a light beam—
A man shakes hands with his own shadow—
A toy electric train obeys spoken commands to "Stop," "Go ahead," and "Back up!"

Paper is "exploded" and the flying parts "shadowgraphed"—
An electric bulb is lighted with a match—

These and many other scientific phenomena will be featured in General Electric's "House of Magic" when it is presented at Northville High school April 9 as an assembly program, and an evening program for adults through the Detroit Edison Co. Now in its nineteenth season, the "House of Magic," an entertaining and instructive show, has been enjoyed by more than 15,000,000 people, including 2,500,000 at New York World's Fair.

The name "House of Magic" originally was given to the General Electric Co. laboratories by the many visitors, who were constantly amazed by demonstrations given by scientists. The show of the same name presents scientific phenomena which were discovered by scientists in the laboratory.

Among the most interesting of the show's features is that which makes an aircraft propeller appear to "stand still," although it actually is whirling at the rate of hundreds of revolutions per minute.

This demonstration is performed with the aid of a stroboscopic light which, although it flashes off and on 60 times a second, appears to be steadily on. A miniature propeller is turned at a rate of 1800 revolutions per minute and, because it is synchronized with the flashing of the light, appears to be at a standstill.

Similar stunts are conducted with a disk on which gear teeth are painted. On another there are dots which at one speed seem to move toward the center of the disk, and at another speed appear to move away from the center and fall off the edge of the disk.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 1

Girl Scout Troop 1 met at the Presbyterian Church Wednesday, Mar. 18. We talked over what badges we could get and what badges Mrs. Austin would order. Later we went downstairs and took some books and toys outside for the Goodwill Industries. "Hands Around The World" Ended our meeting.

The Exchange Club committee which will transplant trout from the fish hatchery on Fairbrook Rd to the Rouge River take a look at the transplantees in a pool at the hatchery. The club is sponsoring a fishing contest for youngsters on opening day of trout season this year. Above, left to right, standing are:

Ken Rathburn, George Clark, Essie Nirider, Exchange President D. J. Stark, Orson Atchinson, and Edward A. Edgette, hatchery employee. Kneeling in front, and showing one of the trout to be transplanted, are Oscar Thompson and Hatchery Superintendent E. R. "Cap" Widmyer.

Exchangeites to Transplant Trout, Give Prizes to Kids

A group of Exchange Club members will transplant trout from the Fish Hatchery to the Rouge River this year, as they have other years just before trout season opens, but this time there will be a new twist.

The added features will be a casting tournament for the younger anglers of the village just before trout season opens, and a trout-catching contest scheduled for the opening day of the season.

E. R. "Cap" Widmyer, veteran superintendent of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife's hatchery on Fairbrook Rd., will supervise the Exchangeites as they transplant the fish on a day picked by "Cap" as most favorable. On the "work" committee are Exchangeites Ken Rathburn, Bill Petz, George Miller and Orson Atchinson, with Dr. Hugh Godfrey as chairman. Recreation Director Wilson Funk has charge of the casting instruction and tournament program, and Essie Nirider is serving as overall coordinator.

A large entry is expected in three age groups in the two casting practice sessions before the casting tourney on April 19, and the subsequent "trout derby" April 25.

The first practice day will be Saturday, April 11, at Ford Field for boys and girls only. This session will be instructed by two well-known fly-casting experts from 2 to 4 p.m.

A second practice period is planned for the next day, Sunday, April 12, when four instructors will be on hand to demonstrate and teach the art of laying a fly next to the nose of the rainbows and brooks to be transplanted to the Rouge River. Mothers and daughters and fathers and sons will be welcomed to this session from 2 to 4 p.m.

The casting tournament will be held the following Sunday, April 19, from 3 to 5 p.m. and will be divided into three age classifications: those under 12 years of age; those between 12 and 15, and those 15 through 18.

Then, on April 25, the opening day of open season on trout, will come the big contest. The age groups for this event will be the same as for the casting tournament.

Weights of the fish will be checked at a weighing-in station to be located at the George L. Clark Hardware on North Center St.

The Record will carry more details of both the casting contest and the fishing contest in the near future as they develop.

Recorded Messages for Servicemen

The "Hometown U.S.A." program, designed to link voices of servicemen and women overseas with friends and relatives at home, will be continued indefinitely by the Lloyd H. Green Post of the American Legion, said Commander Conrad Springer this week.

The "link" is in the form of tape recordings which can be made at the Veterans Memorial Hall and mailed to the servicemen. They can hear the messages, have the tapes erased, and send return messages on the same tape.

Mr. Springer said that anyone wanting to send minute-and-a-half messages to servicemen can do so by contacting Mr. Springer and making arrangements for a suitable time. The post is using a tape recorder which belongs to the high school.

The tape is then sent overseas to the serviceman involved, who can take it to a nearby service center where Armed Forces Radio will play the message to him and allow him to tape a return message on the same tape.

BROWNIE TROOP NO. 12

Brownie Troop No. 12 met at the Presbyterian Church Wednesday afternoon, Mar. 19. Our leader discussed how to plant seeds with us and after the lesson each girl planted some. We talked about flying-up into Girl Scouts and then learned the Girl Scout promise.

Art Institute Photo Exhibit to Open

The best in color and black and white photography by photographers from America and abroad will be on view during April at the Detroit Institute of Arts. This is the 20th annual Detroit International Exhibition of Photography.

Exhibition dates for prints are April 7 through 26 in the ground floor galleries.

The tops in color transparencies will be projected in the Institute Study Room at 8 p.m., April 1; 8 p.m., April 8, and 3:30 p.m., April 11.

Only 78 color transparencies were chosen from 900 entries. Artistic insight shown by the photographer counted more than the natural beauty of the subject matter in the selection of transparencies. On the jury of selection were: William Allen, Professor of Fine Arts, Wayne University; Wallace Mitchell, well known painter and Registrar of Cranbrook Academy of Art, and Virginia Harriman of the Art Institute Education Department.

Only 80 prints, all of them black and white, were chosen from 900 entries in the print division.

The standards of judging were unusually high.

"This exhibition contains no borderline pictures," said Gregor S. Afflect, President of the Detroit Photographic Salon Society. "The juries for both transparencies and prints admitted only the very best entries."

JUNIOR POLICE

ing and recreation programs. After many words and ideas had been juggled and examined, the suggestion of a Junior Police Club was made by Chief Denton.

The plan, immediately sanctioned by Mr. Cansfield, was put into effect. Growing enthusiastic, the men called a meeting at the Grade School lunchroom and formed the Northville Junior Police Club, complete with official badges.

The organization caught the fancy of Northville boys right from the start because of its strong, direct appeal, and the boys have been sincere in living up to their code:

"I promise to keep clean, to be courteous and friendly; to respect the rights of others; to assist the old and helpless; to be kind to animals; to cooperate with my parents and my teachers in order to become a better citizen and I will attend a church of my own choice regularly."

Being found guilty of violating any of these rules results in return of the badge and forfeiting of membership in the Club, which to the Junior Police would be regarded as a terrible fate.

As Junior Police, the boys learn that there are reasons for laws and regulations. They acquire a feeling of responsibility for the enforcement of the laws governing them, and a corresponding respect for public authority in their own conduct—good training in good citizenship.

Recreation Director Wilson Funk and Patrolman Gil Glasson lend invaluable assistance to Chief Denton in carrying out the actual program. Meetings are held nearly every Saturday morning in the Boy Scout Building. The organization is made up of captains, lieutenants and patrolmen.

Among the most popular of the diversions offered are the BB gun shoots, in which safety in the handling of guns receives constant attention from the instructors. In the shooting matches, boys are taught proper use and safe methods of handling guns.

Six BB guns were donated to the program by the Daisy Manufacturing Co. in Plymouth, and are kept in constant repair. The company has always furnished a generous supply of shot for the guns.

The point of this program is that the boys are now willing to confine their shooting to supervised matches, which furnish keen competition, and pass up casual shooting on the streets at such handy targets as street lights and windows.

Audubon hikes for the study of bird life are popular with the boys, but "annual" events head their list.

Among these are the Junior Police camp-out held last summer at a Whitmore Lake cottage owned and loaned by a Northville resident. Armed with dozens of eggs and a mountainous supply of food, Chief Denton planned a camp-out that the boys are still talking about. Assisting in the project were Wilson Funk and Scoutmaster Monroe Weston.

Another big day in the lives of the junior-size policemen is the Shrine Circus performance in Detroit. With bus transportation provided by the Boy Scout organization, the boys attended a performance each year as a group. While under the guidance of a local police officer, this year Patrolman Glasson, and several volunteer chaperones, the boys don't miss an act, or a hawk's ware.

Each year-end holiday season finds the Chief busy planning his favorite project—a huge Christmas party for "his boys". The Optimist Club and several anonymous contributors assist in financing the party.

Financing of all these projects has proved the major stumbling block in the program, for it has had no particular sponsorship other than that by interested citizens.

Until last month, any money necessary for club activities, including purchase of badges at $1.16 each, was quietly supplied by Chief Denton. Occasional donations were received, but the major part of cash outlays were made by the Chief.

women decided last month that it was time he was relieved of a growing financial burden. Headed by Mrs. Howard Meyer, a finance committee was formed, which immediately sponsored a bake sale which netted more than $155. This helped, but with 272 boys already in the fold, and more and more boys wanting to join, more funds will be needed to carry on the well-planned program.

The Junior Police do not conflict with other activities involving youths of this age group. Rather, it supports these other activities by creating a better understanding of proper conduct at all times under varying circumstances.

Through intense interest and a genuine love for children, Chief Joseph Denton has found a way to start boys of this community on the right road to good citizenship.

Concluded the Chief, "I believe the Junior Police organization is a benefit to the community in promoting a feeling of definite responsibility of law observance and enforcement in these boys, who are growing up to take their place in the Northville of tomorrow."

A brave man thinks no one his superior who does him an injury; for he has it then in his power to make himself superior to the other by forgiving it.

 ed. Pretty soon the boys came back with the beer. They gave me one bottle."
 Justice Yerkes: "What did your friend do while you were in the house?"
 Boy: "He drove the truck around." (The second boy said he drove over to Michigan Ave. on the Canton Center Road and then drove around Plymouth while waiting for his friend.) "Pretty soon I began to wonder where he was with the truck so I got to drive me around town to find him. We picked up two girls, and I went to take them home. They got in the front seat of the truck with me and (his friend) got in the back."

"I asked _____ to follow me back to Northville so I could have a ride home from Emery's after returning the truck but he drove so fast I couldn't keep up with him and I was stopped by the sheriff for driving so fast."
Looked for Police
 "Then I drove around the Emery house to see if any police were waiting for me to return the truck. It was then that I fell asleep and wrecked the truck on Novi Road between Eight and Nine Mile Roads."
 The second boy's testimony corroborated that of the first one in almost every respect, but was particularly illuminating with respect to his attitude toward the truck stealing episode. In reply to a question by Justice Yerkes as to his knowledge of the seriousness of the offense, he replied:

 "I was just thinking of the fun we were going to have. I didn't think of the trouble. I knew we were doing wrong."
Novi Group

 Novi Oddfellows, the Rebekahs, the Novi Board of Commerce and the union of Novi Equipment Co., where Foster was employed. Dr. Joseph J. Gadbow heads a Farmington group which is also offering financial aid and labor. He said the Fosters will have a better house than the one they had before.
 The fire started Sunday night, after Mrs. Foster had returned from St. Joseph Hospital, Pontac, where the fifth child, Charles, was born last Thursday.

 As the temperature dropped in the evening, Foster tried to make a fire. A piece of flaming paper he was using to ignite an oil burner fell outside, firing oil that had dripped on the floor.
 He rushed to the children's bedroom, where Judy, 8, Sammy, 5, Mary, 6, and Stephen, 3, were sleeping. Despite severe burns on his hands, face and neck, he helped them and Mrs. Foster out the window.
 The baby was still within the house, so Foster broke a window in his bedroom, crawled over the broken glass, took Charles in his arms and fell out the window to the ground.

Oratory Contest

 awarded appropriately engraved cups, and the other two winners were given medals.
 The boys, speaking before an Optimist Club meeting, used "Optimism—The Faith That Leads to Achievement" as the subject of their five minute orations. Optimist George Zerbel was chairman of the activity.
 The purpose of the contest, which has been held annually since 1928, is not to uncover the finest boy orator in North America, but to provide an invaluable self-improvement activity for Junior Optimist Clubs and other boys' groups meeting regularly under the direction of the club's Boys Work committee. Optimists feel that the real value of the contest comes when a large number of boys, being influenced regularly by an Optimist Club, receive fine training in the art of public speaking.

 To be eligible for the contest, boys had to be under 16 as of Dec. 1, 1952.
 Judging the contest were Donald Lawrence, Adrian Willis and Jack Swain. Time keeper was William Milne. Drake Older and Hugh Babbitt were tellers.
City Vote
 the election. He reserved giving a formal opinion until Friday,

Mar. 27 however on the chance that the Supreme Court might take some action by that time.
 Philip Ogilvie, attorney for Dr. L. W. Snow, chairman of the City Incorporation Committee opposed the Burkman injunction proceedings before Judge Doty on the same grounds that the Solicitor General used in opposing the mandamus action before the Supreme Court. Charles Davis, attorney for Novi Township, argued that the plaintiff's action should be against the Secretary of State rather than against Novi Township officials and that the plaintiff would have an adequate legal remedy in quo warranto proceedings after the election is held.
Circular for City
 Meanwhile, the City Incorporation Committee issued a brief circular this week advancing several reasons why residents should vote "Yes" at the election April 6. It read as follows:
VOTE "YES" ON CITY INCORPORATION
 1. Discard inefficient Village administration and make Northville an efficient Home Rule City.
 2. Save tax dollars by eliminating duplicating duties of township and village officials.

3. Get direct representation on Board of Supervisors in both Wayne and Oakland counties.
 4. Get twice as much for our tax dollars in improvements and services.
 Becoming a city means only legal separation from Northville and Novi townships. It will not change the character of our community in the least, except that badly needed improvements to our streets, sewers, water system, etc. can be constructed more quickly by using the additional revenue that will be available.

"HOOK, LINE, AND SINKER"

When a person is too glib, we say they swallow everything "hook, line and sinker". I'm afraid we have too many people that do this when listening to others who would influence them in politics, and religion as well. Beware of those who would like to do your thinking for you and suggest that you do not know enough to judge matters for yourself. Do not follow anyone blindly! There are those who tell us people cannot interpret the Bible for themselves and therefore ministers and churches are given for the purpose of keeping them straight. But did you ever notice what happened when St. Paul went to Berea? (Acts 17) The Bereans judged Paul's preaching and interpretations by the Scriptures, to see whether or not his interpretation was correct. Moreover, the Holy Spirit commended them for it! "These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so." This was also the proper manner of judging the O. T. prophets for Isaiah 8:20 states, "To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them." Let the scripture judge all preaching and interpretations!

Love to the Tune of 44 Nickles

by Julie Hammond

Dearie, On My Castle On The River I'm Waiting Just For You. I'm always Thinking Of You, for You Are My Sunshine. Why Don't You Love Me like you used to when You Belonged To Me?

Have I Told You Lately that I Have a Doggie In The Window? I'll Be Hanging Around 'till there's a Blue Moon. It was wonderful when we had a Full Time Job, Side By Side. It's A Sin, but I'll Keep It A Secret.

Won't You Tell Me You're Mine and Put Your Arms Around Me; then we can Let The Rest Of The World Go By. I Can't Help it if I'm still in love with you and I Wanna Play House With You. I promise I'll Never Slip Around Again Forever And Ever. Anytime I see Harbor Lights I dream of you. It's a Blue Blue World, but it will be an Oh, so Happy Day if you will give me something besides Candy Kisses.

My Favorite Song is "Hold Me, Thrill Me, Kiss Me", so please Be Mine and comfort My Foolish Heart. There's Been A Change In Me since I lived Down Yonder in the Red River Valley, and I'm not The Roving Kind anymore. My Heart Cries For You, My Truly Truly Fair. Let's go Cruising Down The River On A Slow Boat To China on a Dreamer's Holiday. It's Strange, but Even Now I Don't Know How to Speak To An Angel. Won't You Say It With Your Heart and make this The Loveliest Night Of The Year?

Always, Sonny Boy

Typing Students Prepare Easter Seal Envelopes

by Carolyn Miller

We would like to thank Miss Giltner and her typing students for the fine service they have done the Rotary Club, the community and the crippled children by typing the hundreds of envelopes containing Easter Seals which were sent out to the towns people.

We strongly urge you to send your contribution in at once and drop your extra coins into the various canisters placed in the Village. And remember, crippled children aren't always someone else's; your own children or friends may one day need the help of the Michigan Society of Crippled Children.

Here's a Look at Typical Girl at High School

by Julie Hammond

Calling all females! Have you ever wondered what girls in Northville think about different things, or what their favorite pasttime is? I have often thought about it myself and at last decided to do something about it. I took a survey of about 100 high school girls, ranging in age from 12 to 18, to find out as much as I could about each one. Here are some of the results:

First of all, a few statistics: the average girl is 5'4" tall, and weighs 123 pounds. More girls wear size 7 1/2 shoe than any other. Thirty-seven percent have blue eyes, 27% are brown-eyed, and 36% of the girls have eyes of other colors. The majority of the female sex spend their spare time either reading, sleeping, day-dreaming, writing letters, watching television, or just loafing. When they do watch television, "I Love Lucy" is their favorite program, with "Red Buttons", "Arthur Godfrey", "Show of Shows", "Hit Parade" and "Dragnet" as second choices.

Basketball season has just ended and most of the girls chose that as their favorite sport. Riding, baseball and swimming ranked high as second. Most of the girls interviewed come from a family of two children. Ike is the favorite president of the fair sex of N.H.S. Abraham Lincoln is the only other one that came anywhere near him in this category. Along the line of food, chicken and steak are rated highly among the favorites, with hamburgers and spaghetti a close second. Liver is the most detestable. Oysters, fish, cooked vegetables, and spinach follow not far behind. Coke is the best-liked pop.

Things & Stuff

by Catharine Rambeau

A great deal has been done towards the 1953 Palladium, which will contain all the memories of this busy school year.

Friday, Mar. 13, the sophomores sponsored an all evening dance. Rumor goes that they didn't do too well—could it have been the unlucky date?

Members of the Future Teachers Club were busy at their last meeting making plans for a field trip to Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti, which fourteen members of the group plan to make April 22. Also, plans were made for a tea, to be held in May.

The Juniors will be sponsoring the dance which is to be held tomorrow night in the gymnasium.

David Severance was host to a very successful Senior class party held at his home Friday evening, Mar. 20.

The Senior class is well under way with plans for its annual Senior Prom, to be held April 24, with the beautiful "Rhapsody in Blue" for its theme.

Kensington Park Ready for Hikers

Well-marked trails are ready for spring hikes in Kensington Metropolitan Park and Lower Huron Metropolitan Park. These are part of the extensive nature study program of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Hikers may expect to see the first spring flowers early in April, according to William F. Hopkins, the Huron-Clinton Park naturalist. Many are already using the Beach Lake trail in Kensington Park to see migrating Canada geese, baldpate, coot, scaup, red-head and other migrating water fowl, now present in great numbers. Deer and other animals may also be seen now.

Labeling of trees, shrubs and flowers on all trails will be completed by April 1. Additional labels will be added as summer flowers appear.

Detailed descriptions of the six trails in Kensington Park are available at park headquarters and at the Huron-Clinton headquarters, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit 2.

Hepaticas and spring beauties should bloom by April 1, followed closely by trout lilies, marsh marigolds and trillium.

Arrangements are being made now for summer day camping groups to use the Huron-Clinton Parks. They will furnish their own counselors, food and transportation, and the Park naturalist will conduct nature hikes and programs several hours each week.

Arrangements for conducted nature hikes or nature study talks may be made by contacting the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority Detroit office at least one week in advance of the desired date.

Coal was first found in Colorado at Golden, now famous as the home of the Colorado School of Mines, in 1864 just a few years following the discovery of gold in the Leadville area.

What one thing in this world could you do better without? Joanna Wiesmyer would like to abolish her parents' objection to more pets. . . she has two dogs and a horse now. . . Don Thomson would wish away all the excessive chrome on American automobiles. . . That sound good to me. . . but he also wants to shackle all cars at least two inches. . . Says Patty Hix: I want to get rid of my little brother's pea shooter. . . it pains me to think of such a thing. . . The worst things in the world to Julie Hammond. . . are the brown spots on peaches. . . Wearing his Napoleon hat. . . Linwood Fritz wants to do away with all girls. . . so that he can keep his mind on school work. . . Eliminating D and B from the alphabet would be just right for Gerry Graham. . . Jim Lapham answers simply. . . Flies. . . Well, everyone to his own taste. . . Also running for health commissioner is Nancy Dewsbury. . . who wants to annihilate rats. . . she says, "they are nothing but germ carriers". . . Ohhh? . . . Well, you could've fooled me. . . Barbara Bayless wants to doom old shoe strings. . . and the dirt on windows. . . Dearie! I can see that your mind is well organized. . . without a bottle. . . News Notes from the Grade School

by Carolyn Miller

Mrs. Huff's class has an Easter exhibit in the showcase. If you have a chance, be sure to take a look at this colorful display.

A committee of grade school teachers is hard at work studying playground equipment and playground arrangement. The knowledge which they gain will be put into application when the three new pieces of playground equipment, being donated to the school by the Mother's Club, are installed this spring.

Another committee of faculty members is carrying on a program of evaluation of the language and English materials used by grades three through six.

Last fall Catherine McKulley, a reading consultant, conferred with the upper grade teachers about Northville's reading program and materials. Monday of this week she returned for a follow-up visit with individual teachers and classes. After school she held a special meeting with the teachers to discuss problems.

Observation, invention, study, and original thought are expansive and should promote the growth of mortal mind out of itself, out of all that is mortal.

Mrs. Luther Rix — Phone Northville 245-J

In the early morning hours past midnight Sunday, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster, 27409 Haggerty Rd., burned to the ground with all their possessions. The four children of the couple were rescued in their night clothing. The youngest child, only five days old, was taken from the burning building by the father who was very badly burned in so doing, and taken to the Veterans' Hospital. The family is temporarily staying with the Ray Warrens, who live next door. The other children are two girls, six and eight years old, and a boy three years old.

Freda Buckner, fifth grade pupil at Novi School, has been a patient at Atchison Memorial Hospital, with pneumonia.

Eugene Root is still a patient at Mt. Carmel Hospital recovering from burns he sustained several weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rix entertained at a birthday dinner Sunday in honor of their son, Edward Rix of Plymouth. Present other than the guest of honor were Mrs. Edward Rix and their son, David, and Mrs. David O'Leary and son, Randy, of New Hudson.

Mrs. Charles Perry is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Thomas C. O'Dell and family in Clinton until after Easter Sunday.

The Novi Methodist ladies will serve the Board of Commerce dinner Thursday evening, April 2.

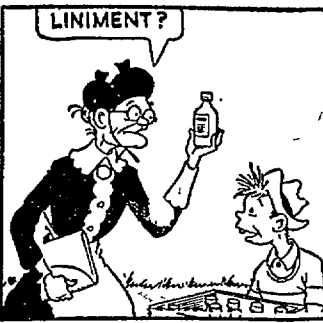

Services at the Methodist Church will begin at 9:45 a.m. on Palm and Easter Sundays. On Palm Sunday, new members will be received into the church. Also Baptismal services will be held.

Mr. and Mrs. George Atkinson were the Sunday dinner guests of the former's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Atkinson in Detroit.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garlick were Mrs. Anna Hallahan and Mr. and Mrs. James Hagle of Pontiac.

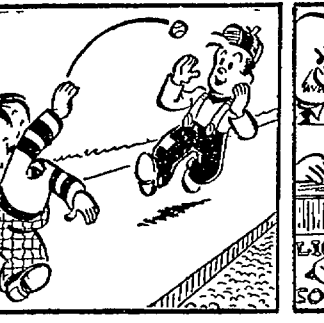

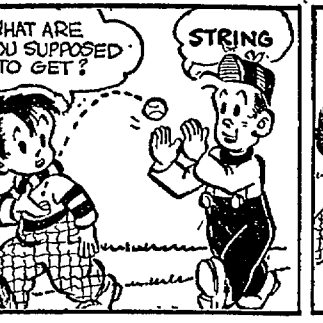

Mrs. Glen C. Salow and her sister, Mrs. Shirley Shepard, and her mother, Mrs. Belle Risner, and their friends, Mrs. Mabel Shaw of Walled Lake, left last week for Florida where they will

Shop Class Still Open for Enrollees

If you have the desire to build knick knacks for use in the house, or refinish some pieces of furniture, now is the time for you to enroll in the shop class sponsored by the Recreation Department.

The class has met three times, and has five meetings to go at the high school shop in the basement of the grade school building.

The advantage of the class is that the shop has all the special machinery needed not usually found in a person's home workshop.

Not only that, but Willard Renard, high school shop teacher, is on hand for instruction in use of the machinery for your hobby project.

Now is the time to join if you are to take advantage of the five remaining sessions.

There is a strength of quiet endurance as significant of courage as the most daring feats of prowess.

Optimists to See 'Hot Rod' Movie

Optimist Club members will see a movie, "The Hot Rodders", at their next meeting tonight, March 26. The movie, obtained by Max Austin, will be of interest to all men who see it. Both the Junior Optimist Club and the Bent 8 Club have been invited to see it. The Boys' Work Fund finances this activity.

Last week Optimists saw a movie made by the Aluminum Company of America, presented through the efforts of Bill Cheetham.

Dog Training Class Has Large Variety

The Dog Training class has attracted a greater variety of breeds than ever before in the six years the class has been sponsored by the Northville Recreation Committee.

Among the types and breeds this year are Weimaraner, French poodle, Samoyed, boxer, dane, dachshunds of different colors, pointers, airedale, collie, terrier, English setter and cocker spaniel.

Visitors are welcome to visit this class any Thursday evening after April 2 to watch the training sessions. Dogs will have had four lessons by that time, and will furnish a good comparison at graduation time the second Thursday in May.

At the end of the class, a competition is held and winners are awarded trophies for their outstanding work. The trainer, William Allen, said that competition in this class will be very keen, and owners are setting the fastest pace of any other class he has instructed this year. Classes are held in the High School gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Michigan Mirror:

Increase In State Taxes Probably In View In 1953, Legislators Think

by Gene Aleman

You will pay more state taxes in 1953. Legislators agree, for the most part with that. The argument continues to be the same: How? How much, for how long, how will it be collected?

Democrats, who have plugged for years to enact a corporate profits tax of some sort, have adopted a "show me a better way" attitude. Representative Walter H. Nill has intended for some time to introduce at this session, a tax on corporation profits.

Republicans, since the legislature's opening day, have sought a solution to the state's $90,000,000 deficit and a means of raising an additional $35,000,000 each year to offset future deficits. They hope to pass a tax that directly affects a large number of people so that once the deficit is reduced, there will be wide pressure to do away with the tax.

For a time they studied the idea of taxing wholesalers; then a proposal for a tax of five mills (half a cent) against payrolls, excepting employees of federal, state and local governments, and non-profit religious and social agencies. This bill would expire automatically in June, 1955. Other suggestions include using part of the money set aside for veteran bonus purposes, taxing cigarettes, and taxing the sale of used cars.

Bills to tax personal and corporate incomes were introduced in both houses. The idea is to charge a percentage—between one and five percent is mentioned—of the amount paid to the federal government. To make the idea more acceptable, the plans call for repeal of the state sales and corporate profit taxes, and specifies that schools and local forms of government will receive about the same amount of money as at present. Dropping the sales tax in favor of an income tax is a measure long favored by some groups as a fairer means of taxing those who have the ability to pay.

It has been predicted that unless the Republicans can come up with a workable solution to tax problems, they will be faced with passing, for lack of something better, a bill akin to the one Gov. Williams has been advocating for at least four years.

Action and decisions should soon become the keynote of the legislative session, since May 22 has been set as adjournment day. This means that all but money bills have already been introduced and the time for counting votes is here.

An increase in the cost of fishing licenses is one bill that will come up for consideration. Rep. Eugene C. Betz (R.-Monroe) introduced a measure to raise the price to $2 for residents and non-residents, eliminate husband-wife single licenses and to require licenses to fish the Great Lakes. A bill to deny hunters the right to sue for damages resulting from injury received while hunting on private property was also put before the House of Representatives.

Republicans have gone on record as favoring a new prison to relieve overcrowding at Jackson, but they make no reference to size, cost of financing. Austin MacCormick, nationally known prison authority who studied the Jackson riots, reported that overcrowding was the largest single cause for the riot, and if it is not remedied, more riots can be expected.

People in Michigan would be saved about $505,000,000, or more than half a billion dollars in 1954 if present efforts to reduce the federal budget by $10 billion are successful. These estimates are figured according to population; this state has 6.05% of the people in the country and would benefit by an equal proportion.

Tourists will spend about $500,000,000 in Michigan this year, said C. C. Wells, secretary manager of West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association. Insufficient facilities to handle peak summer loads are expected to exist for several years. Tourist leaders are attempting to interest manufacturers in a plan to spread vacations over a 12 month period. In this way, fisherman could vacation as early as April, hunters could take time off during winter.

Memories went back to army days for thousands of Michigan men last week with the announcement that Fort Custer, induction center and training station, would be closed June 1. Deactivation of the army post is part of a military economy move which includes six other camps and will save the government $2,000,000 the first year; $40,000,000 each succeeding year. Nearly 1,000 civilian employees will be released and the camp will be staffed by a standby group which can reactivate it within 60 days. Fort Custer will be used each summer for two months for training purposes.

An offer of a new "final resting" place for the body of Michigan's first governor is being considered in Detroit. It came from the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau to provide a solution to a problem facing Detroit officials. They are trying to create more usable space in the congested area of State and Griswold where a tiny park marking the grave exists. Stevens T. Mason, Michigan's "boy" governor who held office when he was only 32, had the vision that made the U.P. part of the state, said the letter. The Upper Peninsula Bureau stated that it would be honored to give a resting place in "God's

'Pops' Concerts to Begin in Mid-June

The Detroit Symphony "Pops" Orchestra will present nine weeks of free concerts at the Detroit Fair Grounds beginning in mid-June, it was announced by John B. Ford, president of the orchestra's board. Mr. Charles T. Fisher, president of the National Bank of Detroit, stated that four and one-half weeks of the summer season will be sponsored by his organization The Detroit Edison Company will sponsor the second half of the season, announced Prentiss Brown, chairman of the board.

Co-sponsoring with both organizations will be the Music Performance Trust Fund administered locally by the Detroit Federation of Musicians (A.F.O.L.) and its president, Eduard Werner. The fund is made up of royalties from American recording companies and used for worthwhile musical projects throughout the country. Twenty-seven concerts in all will be presented three nights a week at 8:30 p.m. in the Fair Grounds Shell. They will be performed by a full symphony complement under the direction of Valter Poole. Directors to Plan Swim Program

Representatives of towns in the Northwest section of Wayne County will gather for a planning meeting for the Summer Swimming program April 8 at the Recreation Scout building on East Dunlap Street.

Recreation directors of the towns will set up the program so that local beaches will be available to all with a minimum of over-crowding. At present, an eight-week every-day program is planned, to end before the polo season begins.

Last year, the Northville program furnished transportation to 6,017 children during the summer. School buses were used by the committee for both the swim program and for trips to the Detroit Zoo and for other special events.

Junior Police to Meet Friday

The Junior Police work committee will meet Friday, March 27, at the Scout Building for a short session beginning at 3:45-p.m. Capt. Ray Hood has planned a project that needs the help of every member of the Junior Police organization. It is hoped that new members as well as the older fellows will attend regular meetings of the group, held the second Saturday of each month.

Recreation Director Levels Play Field

The play field behind the houses west of the fire hall has been leveled by the Northville Recreation director so that youngsters of the community can have a safe place to play baseball and softball this summer.

The field is the only spot available in the center part of the village for such activity. Promotion of baseball in Scout troops and the Junior Police program has made it necessary that the entire field be available for the program.

Softball League Organizing Now

The first organizational meeting of the Northville Recreation Softball league was held in the Village Hall last week under the direction of Douglas Slessor, who will be in charge of the program this summer.

Committees were appointed to improve lighting for the games, most of which are played at night.

A more active schedule has taken first spot for consideration, but an entirely new kind of play-off series at the season's end is in the planning stage.

Newcomers to the village area who want to play softball in the league are requested to contact the Recreation chairman by sending a post card to "Recreation, Village Hall," with their names, addresses and phone numbers, with the name "Softball" on the card.

A team captain will contact each person interested, said Wilson Funk, Recreation Director, and all are welcome to join a team in the league.

Pvt. Tom Bearden at Camp Rucker

CAMP RUCKER, ALA.—Pvt. Tommy Bearden, son of Mrs. Lewvern Bearden, 700 Base Line, Northville, has arrived at Camp Rucker to undergo initial military training.

Inducted into the Army Feb. 18, and processed at Ft. Custer, Mich. he will receive basic training from the 47th "Viking" Infantry division here.

During his course of training, he will follow a rigorous schedule including a wide range of military subjects from military courtesy and field sanitation to machine gun and bazooka familiarization.

After completing eight to 16 weeks of primary training, Bearden will be eligible for reassignment for further infantry or specialized training.

The 47th Division, first permanent assignment for the new soldier, is commanded by Maj. Gen. Robert L. Dulaney. The Division is composed of men from all 48 states and three territories.

Top of the Trail on Tremblant

Two skiers reach the top of the trail at Mont Tremblant, in the Laurentian range of the Province of Quebec. Ahead of them is one of the sport's greatest dividends—a breath-taking view of the magnificent snowscape below the summit. Quebec, which ranks as the big snowfall area on the continent, is famous for its French-Canadian hospitality and excellent cuisine. The ski season lasts through March.

Aviation Exhibit at Ford Museum

A jet plane, a helicopter, aerial torpedoes and guided missiles will highlight a special aviation exhibit opening at the Henry Ford Museum on Thursday, April 2.

Presented by the Museum in cooperation with the United States Navy, the exhibit will be called "Naval Aviation in Review." Largest special exhibit ever staged by the Henry Ford Museum, it will illustrate the history and development of Naval aviation over more than forty years, with emphasis on future trends in aviation design and technique.

Early aircraft engines and other historical material will be furnished by the Museum. The Navy will contribute such recent items as a ram jet engine, Bell Helicopter, a link trainer, "bat" and "loon" missiles, Norden bomb-sight, aerial depth charge and torpedo, and miscellaneous ordnance equipment such as a 1000 pound bomb, a "block buster," and a "Tiny Tim" rocket.

The exhibit will be open to the public in the Museum from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. on weekdays, and until 5:30 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. It will last for approximately three months.

Setting a new record for payment of Michigan hospital and medical bills!

Your Blue Cross-Blue Shield paid $73 million in 1952

With hospital bills up, Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection is now more important than ever! ARE YOU PROTECTED?

This is a report on how hospitals and doctors have conducted a public trust of vital importance for the people of Michigan:

Non-profit Blue Cross - Blue Shield plans for protection against hospital and medical bills were started by Michigan hospitals, doctors and business men as a public service. How well these plans have served the public is shown in the year-end report for 1952.

A total of 73 million dollars was paid out in hospital and medical benefits during 1952. A total of 302 million dollars has been paid out in hospital and medical benefits in 14 years. All this for Michigan members only.

Big protection for many people! 1,017,957 people in Michigan received Blue Cross - Blue Shield benefits last year. Over 3,000 of these received benefits of $1,000 or more for hospital care alone. The average hospital bill covered by Blue Cross has gone up from $51 to $150 in ten years.

Sharp increases in the money-value of Blue Cross - Blue Shield benefits from year to year . . . and increases in the number of people who get these benefits, demonstrate that protection against hospital and medical bills is now more important than ever before.

Nearly 3 million members! The chances are 1 in 3 that you or someone in your family will face a hospital and doctor bill this year. Protect your savings by joining nearly 3 million people who enjoy Michigan's most widely-used health-care protection . . . non-profit Blue Cross - Blue Shield plans.

Blue Cross covers hospital bills! Blue Cross Comprehensive Group Hospital Plan covers a broad range of benefits . . . up to 120 days of care . . . in any of over 200 participating Michigan hospitals. There are also special provisions for benefits in participating hospitals of other Blue Cross Plans or other hospitals anywhere in the world!

Blue Shield covers doctor bills! Blue Shield Medical-Surgical Plan pays liberal amounts to licensed doctors, world-wide, for more than 480 listed medical-surgical procedures. In non-surgical cases it also pays toward the doctor's visits to you in the hospital.

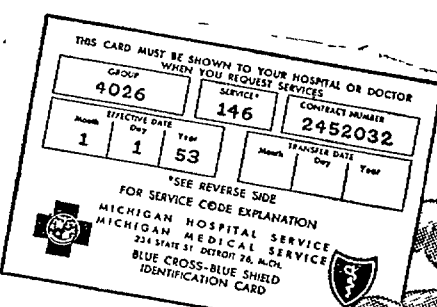

Your whole family is protected! Blue Cross and Blue Shield benefits protect you and every enrolled member of your family.

No red tape when you enter the hospital!

Simply show your Blue Cross - Blue Shield membership card to your doctor and to the hospital admitting clerk. Your health-care benefits are taken care of automatically, without red tape . . . with no embarrassing questions asked. Blue Cross - Blue Shield pay hospitals and doctors directly.

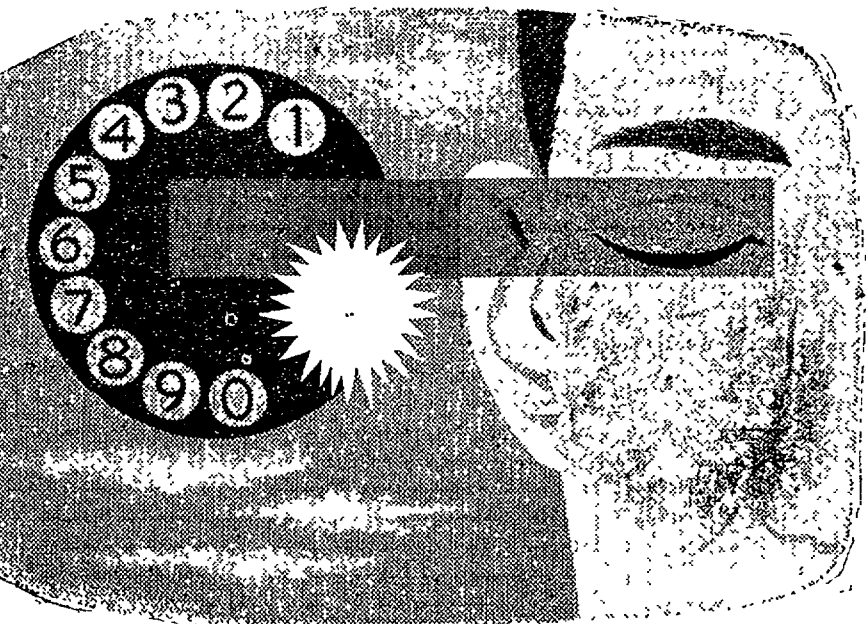

How to get Blue Cross - Blue Shield:

- 1. Ask your employer.
2. Check your Farm Bureau or Grange.
3. Write or call your nearest Blue Cross - Blue Shield office. Check your phone book for phone number and address.

THIS IS YOUR TICKET TO WORRY-FREE RECOVERY!

A membership card is all you need when admitted to a Blue Cross - Blue Shield participating hospital. No red tape!

VISITS IN THE DARK

To few people are the blessings of the telephone more apparent than to the blind. We heard a fine tribute expressed recently by Mr. Horace A. Baumgartner of Detroit, who lost his sight 33 years ago.

Some telephone numbers Mr. Baumgartner remembers, but others he keeps handy on cards in Braille, the "raised dot" alphabet of the blind. He punches the dots on cardboard with a tiny metal rod and reads Braille with his fingers.

Of course, he has memorized the telephone dial.

"The world would be a pretty lonely place for me were it not for the telephone," says Mr. Baumgartner. "The many calls I make and receive each day—welcome visits in the dark—keep my life full and happy. It means a lot to know that you're no further away from your friends and loved ones than the telephone."

We can't say it better than that.
