JULY FOURTH CELEBRATION READIED

for the Record

by G. H. C.

Today — July 1, 1953 — all business in Michigan becomes subject to the new Business Receipts Tax which the Legislature enacted this spring as the easiest way to get the State out of an "impossible" financial situation brought about by lack of foresight in the past. It is supposed to be a temporary measure to remain in force until Mar. 15, 1955. In the meantime, the State's finances are to be made sound and the legislature is to come up with a better tax program — if it can.

All this is well and good, but unless a basic change for the better occurs in human nature during the next 21 months, this new tax is quite likely to be extended indefinitely into the future.

There is no fault to be found with equitable taxation to support the legitimate costs of government, whether on the national, state or local level. Probably the new tax is as fair and equitable as was possible under the circumstances. Protests concerning its impact upon various segments of business should be more concerned, we believe, with the circumstances that have made it necessary than with specific provisions of the law. The magazine "Inside Michigan" this month lists at random some of the reasons why the State's finances are in such sad shape. Among them are:

"Michigan pays more for schools than any other state of its size in the nation. . . . We pay 57% of the entire cost of operating the 4,841 local school districts, each of which also assesses local school taxes for that purpose. . . . Michigan pays more for its welfare load than the entire operating cost of the state administration ($106 million against $96.6 million). . . . Michigan throws millions of dollars into isolated and forgotten towns, providing 77% of their entire income, and creating situations wherein many townships pay all their taxpayers' local property taxes with state funds and throw community beer parties with the unspent balance.

"The townships got $13,915,000 last year, but the state hasn't enough money to hire psychiatrists at Jackson prison to prevent the worst kind of rioting and attacks on inmates by sex deviates. . . . While each of Michigan's 4841 local school districts pays a full set of elected officials, . . . Michigan's jam-packed mental institutions are screaming for help and thousands of psychopaths prowl the streets of our cities because there is no room for them under State care."

"As long as this crazy-quilt pattern of reckless diversion continues, the major state problem will never be solved. Handing out of at least $350 million, and probably this year over $400 million, to townships, school districts and countless local units without regard for need, MUST STOP. Throughout the whole list of local governments anyone can find waste, inefficiency and downright indifference to the needs of the State as a whole. Townships attempt to maintain services which authorities declare should never be attempted on the township level.

"This is the penalty we pay now in Michigan for more than a century of extreme decentralization of government under an outmoded 'territorial' system which is older than the state government itself. This is the result of trying to operate in a modern day with a system designed for the pioneers of 1825. This muddle of confused, overlapping and duplicating local governments, has made any practical administration of it impossible or prohibitively expensive."

To all of which we say "Amen", with the hope that if the facts are brought to the public's attention often enough and forcefully enough, we may eventually witness a reorganization of government that will result in reasonable economies and increased efficiency.

Ball Team Stays in Second by Tripping Wyandotte 4-1

Auto Club and the Northville Baseball team maintained their holds on first and second place in the Inter-County league by winning their games Sunday.

Northville handed Wyandotte its fifth defeat at Akkili Park, 4 to 1, on a fifth inning spurge which netted three runs. The game was Northville's eighth win against one tie.

Auto Club kept its undefeated string intact, turning back Inkster 10 to 4 for the club's ninth victory.

A wild throw to first in an effort to pick off a runner in the sixth inning probably cost Northville pitcher George Tracey his fourth shutout victory. The runner advanced to second and scored on a single for Wyandotte's only run. Tracey struck out 12.

Hartner Gets Triple
Ray Hartner opened the rally in the fifth frame for Northville with a blast that missed being a home run by inches. It hit the top of the shower room and bounced back into the outfield but was good for three bases. A walk and two singles following Hartner's (Continued on Page 7)

Chapman District to Meet July 6

The annual school meeting of Chapman School District No. 7 will be held at 8 p.m. on Monday, July 6, at the school house, according to the district's secretary, Herbert Guntzville. The school is located on Taft Rd. between Nine and Ten Mile roads.

IT'S OKEH, KAY — J. C. Reese, president of Continental Motors and of the Aero Club of Michigan, and William Beech, chairman of the ticket committee for the International Aviation Exposition, receive a report on ticket sales from Kay Hanson, in charge of sales. Judging from the smiles on the faces of the two executives they must be thinking that it's "Okeh, Kay!"

Phone Calls to Livonia Offered for Small Cost

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is willing to give Northville phone subscribers free calling privileges to Livonia if the Village Commission makes a formal request to this effect.

Cost of this extended calling area under the present rate structure would be 75 cents per month for one-party business phones, 50 cents per month for two-party business phones, and 25 cents per month for single-party home phones and rural business phones. Two and four-party home phone subscribers would get the additional calls for no extra charge.

The company's formal statement to the Village Commission reads as follows:

"At the request of the Northville Village Council, Michigan Bell Telephone Company has completed a study to determine whether or not the Northville Exchange extended calling area can be enlarged. Extended area service applies only to adjacent Michigan Bell exchanges. In the case of the Northville exchange the only adjacent exchange not already in the calling area is Livonia. The results of the study as to the advisability of adding the Livonia exchange to the Northville exchange extended area are as follows:

"1. The Northville exchange is now in Rate Group IV. With the addition of the Livonia exchange, the Northville (Continued on Back Page)

New-Style Parking Tickets Are Better

Although it's a little early to draw conclusions, the new parking tickets now being issued by Northville police seem more effective than the old-style ones.

At least, says Chief Joseph Denton, everyone has paid them before their expiration dates.

The new tickets are cardboard tags which are wired to door handles or windshield wipers of cars parked overtime. Wind won't blow them away and rain won't wash them away. Many drivers claimed that happened to the old style tags, which were just slips of paper tucked under the windshield wiper of overparked cars.

Air Exposition, July 9-12, to Trace History of Flight

Today's largest and fastest aircraft, together with those that have made history since man's first powered flight fifty years ago, and a glimpse of what the planes of the future may be like, will be on exhibition in the air and on the ground at Detroit-Wayne Major Airport on July 9, 10, 11 and 12.

The occasion will be the Sixth Annual International Aviation Exposition to be held under auspices of the Aero Club of Michigan in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the first airplane flight by Orville and Wilbur Wright at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, in 1903.

The Exposition is being billed as a "billion dollar show" because of the aggregate cost of the hundreds of military and commercial planes and other equipment which will fly for the public's entertainment or be included in the extensive static ground displays.

Cost of staging the Exposition is estimated at $250,000, which must be obtained from paid admissions and contributions by large corporations and air-minded individuals. Over 300,000 persons are expected to jam the large exhibition area during the four days that the show is in progress.

The Air Force, the Army, Navy and Marine Corps will be represented at this year's show, each branch of the services having at least 30 minutes daily to present flying demonstrations of how it has progressed in aviation and the part it now plays in the nation's defense.

Elements of the Royal Air Force and the Canadian Royal Air Force will also be present. The British participation will take the form of a Coronation Flight of high-speed jets from England to Detroit. Additional long-distance

Billfold Returned to Surprised Owner

Maureen Kelley, of Independence, Mo., has high regard for Northville as an honest community, and a quick-acting one.

Here on a visit with friends at Maybury Sanatorium, she lost her billfold Sunday near the Northville Taxi Co. stand at the four corners and had it returned to her before she realized she had lost it.

Gene Keller, co-owner of the Taxi Co., found the billfold and had to do a considerable amount of phoning before he located the owner.

The Light That Failed Costs 2 Men $110 in Fines

A possible traffic ticket for a burned-out auto tail light developed into more serious trouble for a Ypsilanti man and a Plymouth youth last week.

Patrolman Grant Dale stopped a car driven by Peter E. Coulture, 17, of 848 Sheldon Rd., Plymouth, because of the burned-out tail light, but discovered that Coulture and his companion were apparently drinking while driving.

Patrolman Dale told the men to get out, and found a boxful of beer and Coke bottles in the car.

Coulture pleaded guilty under the drunk motor law and was fined $75 and costs by Justice E. M. Bogart Saturday, with the recommendation that his license be revoked.

Coulture's companion, Norman Wilson, 25, of 9 Ballard St., Ypsilanti, was fined $35 and costs for intoxication and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Day Long Series of Events Planned for Young and Old

Finishing touches were put on plans for Northville's Fourth of July celebration Monday night as representatives of the four organizations staging the program met at the Boy Scout Building.

The all-day, all-evening celebration was set up to appeal to all age groups, but will concentrate mostly on the younger set for daylight activities. Evening activities, however, are designed for participation by everyone.

At the final organizational meeting Monday night were Al Smith, Jr., chairman of the event representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Wilson Funk, recreation director, representing the Recreation Department; George L. Clark, representing the Retail Merchants Association and merchants who contributed $416 for purchase of fireworks, and Edwin Flaherty, manager of the Northville Ford Valve Plant, which is contributing a large share of aid to the Independence Day program.

Boat Rides At 9 A.M.

Leading off the day's activities will be boat and canoe rides on the Ford Mill pond from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. George Kohls will have charge of getting two rowboats, two motorboats and one canoe to the pond, and Miss Yvonne North will run the program all day. Most of the boats will be loaned by village residents for the rides.

Also beginning at 9 a.m. will be pony rides, which will continue until 3 p.m. A ring will be set up near the Ford plant lot. The high grass has been cut low, and will be shorter at the time, the rides begin. The Ford company is paying for the use of four ponies and one gentle, old horse, and experienced attendants will lead the horses to insure the safety of children riding them.

Plenty of Parking

There will be plenty of parking on the company lots adjoining Ford Field, said Mr. Flaherty. Ford employees working that day will park their cars at another location.

Boys and girls will have a chance to fill their pockets with coins at 10 a.m. when the Penny Scramble is scheduled, according to Mr. Funk.

A baseball game between the V.F.W. team and a squad composed of the team's alumni, plus the best players on the 14-years-old and under team, will be played from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at Ford Field.

Softball Game

A fast, five-inning softball game will start off the evening's program at 7 p.m. Playing in the game will be the V.F.W. team and the team leading the league at the time. The V.F.W. squad is currently the league leaders.

At 8 p.m., a 12-ft. Chris Craft boat with a 5½-H.P. outboard motor will be given away by the Recreation Department. Proceeds will go into a fund to buy a small truck for the village's youth program.

Ped-Ford Chorus

A feature of the evening will be a program of songs by the 30-voice Ped-Ford chorus, which will face the crowd from the athletic field and sing four selections before an intermission during which various dignitaries will be presented and honoring ceremonies performed. The chorus will then return to its platform to sing more songs.

The chorus will be followed by the traditional fireworks display which always marks the climax of Independence Day.

Chorus Popular

The popular Ped-Ford Chorus, organized in 1949, mushroomed from an experimental company recreation activity to an official community relations medium almost overnight. Directed by L. H. Fenker, the chorus is composed of employees of Parts & Equipment Division of the Ford Motor Co.

"Perhaps the most significant reason for the success of the chorus," said its director, "is the type of programs it presents. They are designed to entertain rather than impress the general public. Choral classics, spirituals, folk songs and 'just plain barbershop' are blended to insure universal appeal."

Putting Final Touches on July 4 Program

Ironing out final plans for the Fourth of July celebration planned for Northville Saturday at a meeting Monday night were representatives of four organizations participating in the program. Above, l. to r., are: Edwin Flaherty, manager of the Northville Ford Valve Plant on Griswold

St.; George L. Clark, representing the Northville Retail Merchants Association, members of which contributed $416 for fireworks display; Al Smith, Jr., chairman of the program and representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Wilson Funk, Recreation Director.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

Fellow from this newspaper comes in to get this bit of modern prose the other day and told us that a customer of theirs was not satisfied with a classified ad she had put in "situations wanted". "Every time that doggone phone rings," said the lady, "I hope it's a date, but it's always someone offering me a job."

Incidentally, we have to report on a horse show, held recently, in which there were some truly fine animals. One visitor asked a question here and there and finally came upon a horse that he admitted greatly. "Looks like a fine animal," he said. "Sure it," said the groom. "I'll have you know that this horse is worth $20,000."

The visitor paused a moment, then said, "Let's not be silly, how could any horse save that much money."

Perhaps the horse owns a Studebaker because we do know the car is most economical to own and to operate and will save you scads and scads of money, to say nothing of being the most beautiful of all cars on the road. Superbly powerful too, with a tremendous get-away speed. And comfortable. Grandmother never owned a rocking chair that was more comfortable in which to lean back and relax. Of course you'll have to take our word for all this, unless you are of the type of mind that will make us prove it. We'll do that too, just come around for a demonstration.

Oh yes, we should have mentioned the dream car, the '53 Studebaker hard-top convertible, with out of this world beauty, which reminds us, a fellow asked another what color hair his girl had. "Not sure," replied the boy friend, "she's like some modern-day cars... convertible."

Well, to get back to business, we suggest that you get your car into our service department and be sure that it's all ready for the Fourth of July weekend. Have our mechanics put it in perfect shape for the driving that lies ahead. Make sure the motor is perfectly tuned and every moving part thoroughly greased for the hot, hard grind ahead. You'll feel much better and be much safer in a mechanically perfect car.

That's that, but may we suggest that while driving at night, you be a gentleman at all times... and tip your headlights.

YOURS,

BILL and WILL PETZ.

Vicious Lies

(The following editorial appeared last week in The Detroit Free Press and concerns so vital a subject that it is reprinted here for those who did not read it last week, and as a double-reminder to those who did)

The undercover campaign of falsehoods about the Red Cross has become so widespread that the national convention of the organization has been forced to open a campaign against what it calls "these un-American untruths."

All agencies engaged in public activities subject themselves to public scrutiny. That's as it should be. They ask for public support and generous Americans respond like no other people in the world. The people have a right to an accounting.

But there is no fair accounting in the vicious spread of rumors that the Red Cross sells blood in Korea.

Perhaps you have heard that tale, or the "fact" that Red Cross workers "sell" coffee and cigarettes to servicemen. These are prevalent. In fact so widespread that Red Cross officials have been forced to send out a national staff to investigate.

What they found was shocking. Of 24 cases in which returning servicemen were reported to have told of blood sales, 17 signed affidavits that they had deliberately falsified. The others pleaded that they had misunderstood or simply passed on a rumor.

The irresponsibility of such loose talking on the part of servicemen can be rationalized on the basis of the hell many of them have gone through in Korea. Yet many of those who spread the rumors were never near the front lines!

Evidently there is something more to this business than GI gripes. Prominent citizens who serve on the Red Cross board of governors fear that, since the falsehoods have been cropping up all over the Country with such consistency and similarity, they may be subversively inspired.

Whatever the origin, the people of Michigan have abundant evidence that the Red Cross serves them well. Everyone who had anything to do with the Flint tornado disaster — public officials, newsmen and victims alike — all paid tribute to the speedy and effective aid given by Red Cross workers.

As a voluntary agency the Red Cross is too valuable to have its effectiveness diminished by idle, vicious lies.

Local Contributions for Tornado Victims

Mail and visits from local people have brought $3,304.19 into Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, for relief of Flint's tornado victims.

Harold B. Euler of Pontiac, Chapter Chairman, commented that contributions, which came from schools, businesses, clubs and individuals, ranged from $1.00 to $200.00 in size.

"We're holding the fund open for a while longer in case any more contributions come in", Euler said. "We're very grateful — and we're sure those homeless Flint folks are too — to everyone who has donated to the relief fund."

Contributions may be mailed or brought to the county's chapter offices at 53½ West Huron St., Pontiac and 315 West Sixth St., Royal Oak.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

BASS RIVERS IN MICHIGAN
On a recent "Michigan Outdoors" television program Professor Karl Lagler of the School of Natural Resources, University of Michigan, came up with an idea that bears careful consideration on behalf of Michigan anglers—particularly those with a love for black bass. Professor Lagler says we're overlooking a good bet by failing to establish and encourage small-mouth bass in many Michigan rivers.

While a good deal of the sportsmen's money goes toward the rearing and planting of trout in northern streams, our "warm water" hatchery activities are almost at a standstill. Professor Lagler calls this unfair to a very large group of fishermen confined to the lakes and rivers of southern Michigan.

Plenty of Bass Lakes
Thousands of our inland lakes all over Michigan contain large small-mouth black bass. A few rivers have a fair supply, and those who know where those rivers are, and what sections offer good bass fishing just don't talk about it. The sports' too good and the fish not plentiful enough to support a mass attack!
If you've never floated or waded a good bass river in search of the

Flint Tornado Studied by MSC

A scientific study of the human element in the tornado which struck Flint June 8 has been undertaken by two public service agencies of Michigan State College.

The tornado, which took more than 100 lives and injured 500 others, will be the greatest single disaster in America which has ever been subjected to such intensive research, according to R. L. Gorden, special consultant from the Disaster Study Project of the National Opinion Research Center.

The study will have two objectives, according to Dr. Charles P. Loomis, director of the Social Research Service at M.S.C. He said these are "the advancement of scientific knowledge about human behavior under catastrophic conditions, and reconstruction of an accurate picture of the work of people and organizations in alleviating the tornado's effects."

The study will be conducted by the Social Research Service under sponsorship of the M.S.C. Continuing Education Service, of which Dr. Edgar Harden is director. The research findings will be made available to the many directly-concerned groups which make use of the on-campus training programs of the Continuing Education Service.

The American Red Cross, the Michigan State Police, the National Civil Defense Administration, the Salvation Army and others have recognized the need for the survey and have requested the study's findings, Dr. Loomis said.

In any responsible situation to do less than your best is degrading.

Donna Jean Bryan Becomes Bride In Candlelight Rites

Mrs. Bruce Harrison Treweek

Tiny seed pearls studded the Juliet cap which secured her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, carnations and white orchids.

Aqua silk with a nylon net overskirt and matching stole jacket fashioned the gown of the bride's sister, Mary Lee, the maid of honor.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Gilbert Treweek, Jr., of Detroit; Mrs. Robert Schuitman and Jane Fraleigh of Ann Arbor; wore identical gowns in ice pink. All the attendants carried bouquets of carnations and pink rosebuds.

Couple Pledges Marriage Vows Before Bride's Father

Mrs. Allan O. Helland

In a candlelight service at 7:00 o'clock Saturday evening, June 27, in the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Edwin Rossow presented his sister, Esther Elizabeth, in marriage to Allan O. Helland. The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Rossow of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. O. Helland of Denver, Colo., are parents of the bridegroom. The couple exchanged their nuptial vows before the bride's father, Rev. E. E. Rossow who officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Arthur Miller sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Benediction," with Louis Meisner presiding at the organ while tapers flickered in cathedral candleabra among the altar bouquets of white gladioli, daisies and carnations. The fitted bodice of Esther's satin bridal gown fastened with tiny satin buttons to a Peter Pan collar crested with seed pearls. The long fitted sleeves came to points over the wrists and her voluminous skirt swept into a cathedral train. A satin Juliet cap frosted with tiny seed pearls confined her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried an arrangement of white roses centered by a white orchid. As honor attendant, Lois Jean Rossow, sister of the bride, wore a floor length gown of lilac net over silk. The white daisies and pink carnations which composed her cascade bouquet were repeated in the circlet which wreathed her hair. Bridesmaids were Esther's sisters, Mrs. Gerald Klug (Catherine), Mrs. Charles Billmeier (Leila), and Sonja Helland, sister of the bridegroom, who served as junior bridesmaid. Their gowns of yellow, green and blue respectively, were identical to that of the maid of honor and they carried cascade bouquets of white daisies and pink carnations. Esther's brother, Karl, acted as best man at the ceremony, and seating the guests were her brothers-in-law, Charles Billmeier, of Saginaw, and Gerald Klug, of Benton Harbor.

Mrs. Rossow, mother of the bride, chose to wear a two-piece dress of navy silk shantung accented by white accessories for the wedding service and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Helland, wore light blue linen and white accessories. Both mothers wore presented corsages of gardenias.

Approximately 200 guests greeted the couple in the Parish Hall at a reception held immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. LeRoy VanAtta, of South Lyon, and Miss Lelah Rebbert, of Denver, Colo., poured and Donna Jean Schulte was in charge of the guest book which listed friends and relatives from Detroit, Hazel Park, St. Johns, Fowler, Plymouth, South Lyon, Springfield, Ill., Denver, Colo., Saginaw and Benton Harbor.

When the couple left for a two-weeks' wedding trip through the Eastern states, the new Mrs. Helland was wearing a navy print dress with navy accessories accented by the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride was graduated from Northville High School, and the Ft. Wayne School of Nursing, Ind. She had been employed at the Aitchison Memorial Hospital prior to transferring to the Denver General Hospital, Denver, Colo., about a year ago. Her husband was graduated from Denver University last month, with plans to take post graduate work at Wayne University, Detroit. The newlyweds plan to make their home in Northville.

July Bride-to-Be Honored at Shower

Thirty guests were present to play games, watch the guest of honor open her many gifts and enjoy the refreshments served. Dorothy will become the bride of Paul Blaisey of Ypsilanti, on July 11.

Mrs. Adam Wilhelmi

Nancy Anne Sanislow became Mrs. Adam Wilhelmi in a wedding ceremony performed at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Plymouth, Friday morning. Rev. Mooney officiated at the double ring service.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Sanislow, of Seven Mile road, are the parents of the bride and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Wilhelmi, of Plymouth.

Bouquets of white gladioli, blue delphinium and pink roses were used to decorate the altar for the 11 o'clock service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a floor length gown of white chantilly lace and nylon net over satin.

A lace motif outlined the off-the-shoulder yoke and the peplum of chantilly lace flared from the molded bodice. The long lace sleeves ended in points over the wrists. Her fingertip veil of illusion billowed from her tiara. A white orchid surrounded by stephanotis formed her bridal bouquet.

Betty Lou Wilhelmi, of Plymouth, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mary Lou Litsenberger, of Northville, and Barbara Salter, of Battle Creek.

The attendants' gowns were identical in style to the bride's; the honor maid wearing powder blue, Mary Lou in pale pink and Barbara wearing pale orchid. They wore large picture hats of lace. The maid of honor's bouquet consisted of yellow roses, Mary Lou carried pink roses and ivory colored roses formed Barbara's bouquet.

Jack Spanier, of Plymouth, attended as his cousin's best man and seating the guests were Richard Garchow, Robert Lewis and Terry Danol, all of Plymouth.

An aqua lace dress was chosen for the wedding by Mrs. Sanislow and her accessories were white. Mrs. Wilhelmi wore a navy blue and white print sheer dress and her accessories were also white. Each mother was presented with a corsage of gardenias.

A reception was held following the service, on the lawn of the Sanislow home on West Seven Mile road, with 75 guests in attendance. The large wedding cake, which centered the serving table, was topped with the minia-

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That one should always look to God for guidance and protection is emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "God" to be read in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, July 5.

The Golden Text is from 1 Kings (8:23) "Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee, in heaven above, or on earth beneath, who keepest covenant and mercy with thy servants that walk before thee with all their heart."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Ps. 31:19): "Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men!"

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The Scriptures declare all that He made to be good, like Himself, — good in Principle and in idea. Therefore the spiritual universe is good, and reflects God as He is." (p. 286)

Moved by Peters, supported by Woodworth, that bills be paid. Carried.

Leland Smith, representing the Retail Merchants Ass'n., was present to raise objections to the raising of rates by the Michigan Bell Tel. Co. for Northville. A representative of the Telephone Co. present, explained that the petition which his Company has presented to the Michigan Public Service Commission was for a general raise in rates, and that they were in process of making a survey which would be completed by July 6th, when they would have a better picture of the situation as it would effect this area and a report would be made to Village Atty. Ogilvie on the progress made; also a representative of the Telephone Co. would be present at the next regular meeting to answer questions.

Clerk was instructed to contact some exterminator company about getting rid of rats at dump.

Comm. Allen stated there was a traffic problem where Griswold Rd. runs into Main St. which he felt should be looked into, as it was almost impossible to break into the traffic on Main St. when travel is heavy. It was also brought up that the lights at the intersection of Hutton and Main Sts. were not solving the problem there, and Clerk was instructed to ask Wayne Co. Road Comm. to make a further study of this situation and see what can be done to correct it.

The matter of the pulmotor was discussed, and it was moved by Peters, supported by Allen, that Dr. Chabut be authorized to purchase a new one if it can be done at a cost of under $300.00. Carried.

No further business appearing, meeting was adjourned.

Michigan Mirror

by Gene Alleman

Healthiest year in Michigan's history was 1952, announces the state Department of Health.

Some credit for this fine showing belongs to the staff of the state Health department itself, for it has worked hard many years to protect the physical well-being of Michigan's citizens. Now in its 81st year of existence, the department is considered the finest in the country. It was established in 1873, the fifth oldest in the nation.

Credits should be given also to county and city health authorities who reflect in their own operations the help they receive from the state.

Polio was the only serious communicable disease that was epidemic last year. Other facts reported:

More babies were born than in any previous year; about 75,000 which topped the previous high of 1951 by 3,000.

Life expectancy of babies born in 1952 remained at 66 years for boys, 72 for girls.

Deaths from diseases affecting older people increased. Increasing longevity results in part from control of diseases of earlier years.

Michigan's death rate is nine per thousand; well below the national average of 9.6. Only 15 states have a lower death rate.

More than 90 per cent of people of Michigan were served by 51 full-time local health departments.

Most dramatic result of Health Department campaigning is the tremendous reduction of goiter cases in Michigan children. Tests in 1924 showed 47.2 per cent with enlarged thyroid glands. Research proved this was caused by lack of iodine in diets. The department found that iodized salt would correct this deficiency; promoted and is still promoting that consumers use only iodized salt.

Result: Only 1.4 per cent of children in the same area this year examined for goiter showed positive signs.

Biggest health problem remains tuberculosis. Of money spent for public health in Michigan, 80 per cent, about 2 1/2 million, is spent fighting this disease — or caring for those that fall to it.

Newest field to receive attention is "adult health problems"; cancer, heart diseases and diabetes. With a higher percentage of people living to old age, the department feels it should devote more study to these problems.

Collecting of human blood in cooperation with Red Cross is still another project which receives continual attention.

Free distribution of vaccines it manufactures for Michigan people is a prime department service and there are many other important duties the department has assumed. Among them is a free diagnosis service for doctors, services in the fields of public health nursing, nutrition, maternal and child health, industrial health, dentistry, venereal disease control, and the maintaining of birth, death and other vital statistics. The list of service as performed is much, much longer.

The important Kahn test for syphilis was developed during the 1930's by Dr. R. L. Kahn who was then associated with Michigan's Health department.

During the forties Dr. Pearl Kendrick produced an improved whooping cough vaccine widely praised in the medical profession.

Michigan's Department of Health is the nation's only source of anti-hemaphilic globulin, a blood derivative important in stopping hemorrhaging.

Outstanding results like these over the years have resulted in the top reputation now enjoyed by Michigan's department.

General purpose of the Department of Health is to encourage and develop health through local agencies at county or city levels. About 600 people make up the state staff. Their efforts of coordinated with 47 county and 11 city departments operating on a full time basis. Only 13 counties do not have health departments.

Federal aid has been available until this year when the national economy program called for drastic reductions. State and local governments providing $160,000 each and minor reductions in service are planned to make up for the $327,000 that will not be forthcoming from Washington this year.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, a young, personable looking man, has been health commissioner since 1948. His job calls for skilled administration. He must work with state officials, with members of organized medicine, with his department personnel with local departments.

Much credit for the efficiency of the department is given by him and others to the absence of politics in its administration. Since its inception, the agency has usually had a free hand, unhampered by political expediency. This has permitted employment of career type of high professional standards.

Appointed by the governor, confirmed by the legislature, the commissioner works with an advisory group, the state Council of Health. Members of this body are also appointed by the governor. Although the commissioner need consult the council only if he considers it necessary to public safety to cancel public meetings, to take over a local health department he considers functioning improperly or to set certain health regulations, Dr. Heustis says they have other important functions.

The present council consists of one health engineer, a Doctor of Osteopathy, a dentist and two MD's. In discussing general problems and policies with them, Dr. Heustis feels he has a valuable sounding board of public reaction. "I would like to meet more with them than at present," he commented.

No discussion of Michigan's Department of Health would be complete without mention of Clifford C. Young, director from 1919 until his death in 1944. "Cy" was considered the top health administration official in the country. His organizational abilities and his warm personality welded the department into a sufficiently operating unit.

When Cy Young died, Paul de Kruif, prominent medical writer had this to say: "Our state has lost the most valuable of its citizens, and the world is bereft of one of its best battlers in the fight for human life."

exchange customers $3,087 yearly.

"2. The present calling rate from the Northville exchange to the Livonia exchange is 1300 calls monthly at a cost of $2,016 yearly.

"3. The increased cost of adding the Livonia exchange to the Northville exchange extended calling area would be $1,071 yearly.

"4. It has been the experience of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company that additional extended area service for an exchange is not an economical arrangement for that exchange when the calling rate averages less than two calls per month per customer. This would mean an average of 4800 calls per month from the Northville exchange to the Livonia exchange."

Hereford Breeders Visit Local Farms

Roy T. Mitchell's Hickory Lane Farms played host to approximately 450 members of the National Hereford Association at a barbecue luncheon last Wednesday, June 23. The occasion was a field trip for members attending the Association's fourth annual convention at Michigan State College on June 22, 23 and 24, during which they inspected the Hereford herds at Hickory Lane Farms and L. E. Allen's Stony Acres Farm near South Lyon.

After lunch, the group departed by automobile and bus to visit Ed. Fisher's High Point Farms near Rochester.

The Mitchell barbecue lunch was served in a grove on the farm located on the west side of Wixom Rd. and north of 10 Mile Rd. Tables were set for 500 guests who came from almost every one of the 48 states, and included most of the leading Hereford breeders in the United States.

Mr. Mitchell has 105 Herefords as well as a smaller dairy herd of registered Jerseys, on his Hickory Lane Farms which comprise 750 acres just northwest of Northville.

Enough Cemetery Space

The American Cemetery Association, while in convention at Atlantic City, N. J. officially estimated there will be enough cemetery space for at least another 200 years.

They decided that this was one less thing for the people to worry about; also that there was no need for the government to get into the cemetery business. Although there was no need of being concerned about a place to bury your body when you die, there is a need for considering a place where your soul will spend eternity. In John 14:2 Jesus assured us that, "In His Father's House were MANY Mansions (dwelling places), and I am sure that no one will be left out of heaven for the lack of room. However heaven will only be gained by those people who have made arrangements prior to the ending of their earthly life. As it has been stated, "Heaven is a prepared place for prepared people!" Matthew 7:14 tells us that only a few people will enter heaven. This preparation consists of a personal acquaintance with the Lord Jesus Christ through faith in Him. By believing in Jesus Christ, God promises the forgiveness of all our sins and the gift of eternal life. Proof for this statement will be found in your own Bibles — Acts 13:38, 39 and Acts 16:30, 31.
