7-Mile Cut-Off Seems Certain This Year

for the Record

by G. H. C.

Agenda for the next Village Commission meeting July 20 will be a full one . . . with the 7-Mile Road cut-off and purchase of the Ford Field property having high priority in public interest. The cut-off will relieve Rogers and Main St. of the heavy gravel trucks hauling from the pits out West 7-Mile Road . . . a welcome improvement that should make life more pleasant for a good many residents who have been bothered by the gravel trucks in the past. It will have no effect, however, on the fewer number of trucks that will be hauling from the pit which Manning & Locklin plan to open at the southwest corner of Center and Baseline.

We were intrigued last summer by the little pieces of colored crepe paper that were to be seen tacked to trees and telephone posts along the roadsides out of the Village. Being quite new to the area, we assumed that some group planning a picnic in the park had marked out the route for drivers coming in from a distance. Then we forgot about it until recently, when we learned that they are used in connection with an extensive oil survey hereabouts. This week the Detroit Free Press reported that Taggart Bros. of Big Rapids are propositioning the City of Detroit for permission to drill an oil well on the Maybury Sanatorium property, which is owned by Detroit. Wish someone who knows the background of the oil survey would write us or call at the office and give us more details . . . how long it has been in progress . . . size of the area surveyed . . . results of any test holes put down in the past . . . what company has been buying up leases on farm land in the area, etc.

Do any readers know the whereabouts of an old-fashioned popcorn wagon . . . the kind that Dobbin hauled down to the corner of Main Street in your home town at dusk . . . and that made the best popcorn you ever ate. If you do, won't you write or telephone Emmett Wirth, 21170 Chubb Road, (phone 935-R12) so he can get in touch with the owner. Emmett wants it for the Northville Junior Optimist Club to use in a business venture that merits your support.

If you get high blood pressure because of your low water pressure, and if Bud Hartner offers to "blow out your pipes", say "yes" as fast as you can. If he repeats for you what he did for the Record last week you'll be able to squirt a stream instead of a dribble from your hose when he gets through. Bud hooks an air compressor to your lead-in water line from the street and puts up to 100 pounds pressure on the accumulation of rust and sediment that clogs it. When it gives way, the water comes through as it should. Thanks Bud, for blowing out our pipes last week.

Friends of G. Edwin (Goldie) Slater, in Northville and Plymouth, believe he will become a Republican candidate for Congress in the 17th Congressional District, at the next election. Mr. Slater is assistant corporation counsel, City of Detroit, and former State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It will be remembered that he delivered the address at the Memorial Day services here a year ago.

Ken Rowe Hurt; Now in Class 'C' League

Ken Rowe, youthful baseball pitcher from Northville, didn't get a very good going-away present.

ent when he was scheduled to leave the Detroit Tigers' Jamestown, N.Y. farm club for another post.

He was laid up for a week after being struck in the head by a batted ball while tending to hurling chores for the Jamestown team. Medical examinations disclosed no serious injury, despite the fact that the ball hit Ken so hard it ricocheted off his head into the outfield.

On July 1, he moved up a notch in the farm system, reporting to the Class "C" Jackson, Miss. team in the Cotton State League after spending the early part of the season with the Class "D" Jamestown, N. Y. team in the Pony League.

Dehoco Chief Asks $60,000 to Buy L. A. Young Farm

Trying to take advantage of a bargain, Detroit House of Correction Supt. Edwin B. Gardiner asked Detroit Common Council Monday for $60,000 with which to buy the 200-acre L. A. Young farm adjoining Dehoco.

Pointing out that it would cost $53,000 to replace the Dehoco barn which burned last September, Gardiner said the Young farm includes two barns, in need of only minor repairs, a house and a tenant cottage.

Gardiner asked quick action so the barns could be used to store the harvest of hay and grain due soon from the Dehoco farm.

Common Council President Louis C. Miriani turned the request over to the city planner for study.

High School Band Plays First Outdoor Concert Tuesday

Outnumbering spectators about three to one, the Northville High School and Community Band played its first outdoor summer concert Tuesday evening on the green behind the Village Hall. Director Leslie G. Lee conducted the band through nine numbers, opening with playing of the National Anthem. Next concerts will be Tuesday, July 21 and Wednesday, July 29.

Meeting Advances Possible Purchase of Ford Field

Chances of Northville acquiring ownership of Ford Field and a considerable additional plot of ground for a nominal cost appeared more certain this week after Village Commissioner A. M. Allen met with Ford Co. officials Wednesday morning to negotiate the purchase.

P. C. Holloway, a top executive of the Ford Ypsilanti plant, and Ed Flaherty, manager of the Ford Valve Plant here, told Mr. Allen to submit in writing an offer from the village for the property.

The village's bargaining position was strengthened when the Ford Co. showed interest in a piece of ground, approximately an acre in area, owned by the village, which adjoins the Valve Plant property. It appears now that a trade, plus an additional cash consideration, may be possible.

Mr. Holloway said there is almost no chance of the village getting the Ford Field property as a gift. Mr. Holloway pointed out that costs of surveying, of plotting the sale through the Ford real estate division, and allied clerical and auditing expenses make "gifts" expensive for the company.

The next move, said Mr. Allen, is for the village to submit an offer for Ford Field, and for arrangement of another negotiation meeting with the Ford Co.

Non-Teaching Staff Given Pay Raise

The maintenance and clerical staffs of Northville schools were voted a $170 pay raise for the 1953-54 school year by the Northville school board July 6.

The raise is the same as is granted automatically to teaching personnel as called for in the new teacher salary which went into effect last fall.

The raise affects nine employees.

3 Northville Men Leave for Service

Three Northville and three Plymouth young men entered service Monday, July 13, in the latest induction call by Board 102.

The three from Northville are Gerald John Graham and Philip J. Hazlett, both volunteers, and Gerald D. Hamlin.

'Aeroneers' Set for Model Plane Meet

Dozens of boys and fathers in this area are trimming up their model airplanes for the first major competition sponsored by the Northville "Aeroneers" Sunday, July 26.

The Suburban Model Airplane Contest is expected to draw entries from Milford, Brighton, Plymouth, South Lyon, Livonia and the Ann Arbor area, as well as Northville, when competition begins at 11 a.m. Site of the contest is the level field at the corner of East Seven Mile Rd. and Newburg Rd.

Included in the competition will be a 1/2-A, A, B and C classes for gasoline powered models. Other events will include rubber-powered, glider and radio controlled models, all in U-Control and free flight contests.

Prizes for winners: Prizes will be model kits and (Continued on Page 6)

Baseball Team Clinches Second

Securely settled in second place in the Inter-County baseball league, Northville will play its last scheduled game Sunday, July 19, against the Grandale Merchants at 3:30 p.m. on the Cass Benton Park diamond.

After winning eight games and tying one, Northville bobbled away two games July 4 and 5, losing on Independence Day to Plymouth, 8 to 4, mostly because of errors, and to Wayne on Sunday, 6 to 4, on five errors.

The squad bounced back last Sunday, however, with an easy 7 to 2 decision over Bodker's at the Nankin Mills ball park. Northville fashioned seven runs on 12 hits and committed two errors. Bodker's was held to six hits for its two runs.

Grandale, the Northville opponent July 19, trounced Plymouth 21 to 2 last Sunday.

Make Donations of Blood Tuesday

Disaster areas in the wake of Michigan's tornadoes, plus the demand for blood to support the gamma globulin polio serum program, have knocked a serious dent in Red Cross blood supplies. So serious is the need for blood in some areas that Red Cross officials have termed the situation "desperate". Especially low is the supply of type "O" blood. Some banks stayed open Sunday to take donations.

Northville's part in helping will be a blood drive on Tuesday, July 21 at the First Methodist Church house which will include Ford workers in the village and all other residents who want to donate.

Everyone is eligible to donate, said Co-Chairman Mrs. William Forney. She and Charles Carrington will be in the lobby of the Depositors State Bank Friday night to accept pledges.

"It will not be necessary to make appointments to give blood

Wells Pitches No-Hit Game

The second no-hit game of the season was recorded in the Adult Softball league as Bill Wells hurled his V.F.W. teammates to their seventh consecutive victory holding the Bloom's Insurance team hitless Thursday night, July 9.

Wells issued one walk in the fourth inning, and two other Bloom's players got on base on V.F.W. errors. The other no-hit (Continued on Page 6)

Teen-Agers to Visit Ford Rotunda, Plant

A special trip to the Ford plant has been planned for teen-agers by the Recreation Department on Tuesday, July 21.

A bus will leave the school playground at 9 a.m. Girls and boys will go on a sightseeing trip through the Ford Rotunda before the visit to the plant, conducted by Mr. Huss, of the Ford Co.

The bus will return to Northville about 4 p.m. Teen-agers may take their lunches with them, or buy it there. There is no charge for the trip.

Consider 2 Ways of Raising $20,000

Although the Village Commission has not yet decided definitely how it will finance Northville's share of the cost of the proposed Seven Mile Road cut-off there appears to be no doubt that construction will start this fall.

To make it easier for Northville to raise its $37,000 share of the cost, the Wayne County Road Commission has agreed to let the sum be paid in two installments, $20,000 this year and $17,000 by September, 1954. The immediate problem, therefore, is to find $20,000 that can be used during the Village's current fiscal year.

Novice Tennis Tournament to Start Friday

A preliminary meeting and practice session before the opening of the Detroit News Novice tennis tournament will be held at 1 p.m. Friday, July 17, at the Cass Benton Park tennis courts.

The Northville Recreation committee is cooperating again this year in sponsoring the tourney locally, but 20 players must compete from Northville to qualify a local winner for the finals at Belle Isle, Wednesday through Sunday, July 29-Aug. 2.

The local tournament is divided into the junior division, for boys and girls under 15 as of Jan. 1, 1953, and the senior division, for all players over 15. Local preliminaries will begin July 17 and 18. Final matches locally will probably be played July 24 and 25.

The Detroit News tournament includes recreation departments and other qualifying groups within a 40-mile radius of Detroit City Hall. The "novice" restriction disqualifies:

1. Players who have reached the quarter finals in any tennis tournament of 32 players or more, or the semi-finals of a tournament of 16 players or less;
2. High school players who have

Two Courses Open

Two courses are being discussed privately by Commission members. One is to forego the construction of storm sewers in the northwest part of the Village and use the $21,000 allotted for this purpose in this year's budget to finance the cut-off.

The other plan contemplates use of the approximately $20,000 that the Village will receive from Northville Downs in August for the cut-off instead of adding it into the community building fund as planned. Proponents of this plan point out that progress on construction of the Community Building probably will be slow enough so the entire $182,000 now in this fund will not have been spent by the time the Village receives its 1954 payment from the Downs. In event the money is needed sooner to complete the building, the Village can borrow whatever amount is necessary on a short-term note to be repaid from funds received from the Downs.

Simultaneous Construction The latter plan, it is explained, would permit simultaneous construction of the cut-off, the Community Building and the storm sewers.

The final $17,000 payment to the Road Commission for the cut-off would be provided for in next year's budget, at the expense of whatever Village public works program might have been planned for 1954.

A third alternative for financing part of the Village's share of the cut-off's cost, it is understood, involved a $22,000 payment by Northville Downs for a small piece of land adjoining the east end of its property. This land is owned by Wayne County and is much desired by the Downs for construction of additional barns.

Downs Offers $22,000 Downs officials, it is learned, suggested that if the Village were to acquire this property from the County, and turn it over to the Downs, as a site for additional barns, they would be willing to pay $22,000 toward the cut-off.

President Conrad E. Langfield, to whom the tentative offer is said to have been made, pointed out that construction of additional barns in the particular area would be detrimental to adjoining residential property. It is not believed that the Downs' proposal has much chance for approval if it comes before the Commission as a definite offer.

Inter-Club Picnic Slated for July 21

The Northville Rotary Club will be host to the Exchange and Optimist clubs again this year at a picnic for members and their families at the Willows in Cass Benton Park.

The picnic will begin at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 21. Rotarians will furnish all the food. Guests need bring only eating utensils.

Parents Swim Day Wed. The Northville Recreation Department has set Wednesday, July 22 as "Parents' Swim Day". Parents of playground boys and girls are invited to attend the afternoon swim beginning at 1 p.m. at Maple Beach, Kensington Metropolitan Park.

New Exchange Officers

AS OTHER PAPERS SEE IT

Northville Mental Unit

Decision of the Legislature to construct a children's psychiatric hospital at the University of Michigan's medical center and place it under the jurisdiction of the Board of Regents apparently has not ended the long and bitter controversy over location of the institution.

The Michigan Mental Health Commission renewed its demand for a similar unit at the Northville State Hospital. The Michigan Probate Judges Association is reported to favor the idea. The Michigan Society for Mental Health continues to insist on the Northville site.

During more than two years that the hospital has been under consideration, the commission has changed its plans and program several times. It would thus seem advisable that Lansing, before giving serious consideration to a children's facility at Northville, obtain from the commission some such pronouncement of policy and proposed procedure as that made by Dr. Raymond W. Waggoner, director of the University's Neuropsychiatric Institute, and published in last Sunday's News.

Specifically, the commission should offer assurance that its projected children's hospital will not duplicate the work with seriously disturbed youngsters which the University will undertake, nor, on the other hand, compete with existing institutions for the mildly disturbed as maintained by the Starr Commonwealth, Ford Republic and numerous church-affiliated groups.

It should indicate how it proposes to operate successfully an open, or "cottage type", institution when this has proved impractical wherever tried. If the commission assumes that a mildly disturbed child is capable of adjusting to a "cottage type" environment, it should be able to show that this can be reconciled with a hospital situation — and an adult mental hospital of which it must become a part however far removed, physically.

The commission should offer some warranty that patients in a children's hospital, as isolated as that at Northville, will receive ancillary services in medicine, education and social adjustment such as are available in Ann Arbor.

The commission should guarantee the staffing of a children's unit, both with professional personnel and cottage parents, despite its known inability to staff its adult hospitals and children centers. It should not continue to plan to work with parents to modify the home environment which, so often, is the cause of the child's emotional imbalance.

There appears to be need of a children's unit at Northville but not of the type visualized by the commission. To fill a gap in the State's mental health system, there is needed a closed institution for the long-term treatment or indefinite custodial care of those who fail to respond to the intensive therapy offered by the University.

IT FLEW, TOO, GIRLS

Elaine Anderson (left) and Janet Hoffman find it difficult to believe that anyone could have flown a Curtiss Pusher, an exact scale model replica of which is shown here. As young present day model plane fliers who hope to compete in the Plymouth Motor Corporation's Seventh International Model Plane Contest, they are amazed at the extreme design changes in the past 50 years. The International will pay tribute to the 50th Anniversary of the Wright brothers' original flight when 500 of the top model plane fliers assemble in Detroit August 19 through 24.

Letters to the Editor

The Record welcomes letters to the editor about matters of community interest. Anonymous communications will not be published, but in instances where the writer does not wish his or her name to appear, it will be held confidential.

To the Editor:

Steel and pre-fabricated homes are quite unrelated. Automobiles and airplanes are, too, as a company not far from here recently discovered. You state this pre-fabricated house is their answer to the crying need throughout the U.S. for low cost residential housing.

Any one of the local contractors can duplicate this house in question at a lower price than asked by Gunnison, and will not violate the local building code in so doing.

The local building code should be enforced and obeyed.

There are five hundred conventional homes constructed to one pre-fabricated. The price of conventional homes have advanced in price, in line with everything else.

Mrs. Kupsky to Show Card Hobby

The hobby show in connection with the GMC picnic Saturday at Walled Lake Park will serve as a kind of preliminary for Mrs. Flovd Kupsky, who is national publicity chairman for the All States Hobby Club.

Mrs. Kupsky will exhibit her collection of 600 cards depicting county courthouses in Michigan and other states. She will also show this exhibit at the national show in Baltimore, Md., July 31, Aug. 1 and 2 if she is able to attend.

Also members of the national group locally are Mrs. Frank Russell, Mrs. Gladys Clark and Ben Haberk, an Eastlawn Sanatorium patient. There is no local or Detroit club affiliated with the All States group, but members are scattered throughout the area.

The group's official magazine, "The Collector-Hobbyist", keeps the 1200 members up to date and offers exchange lists, new hobbies and new collections.

Hillsdale College Figures in Search for Wonder Drug

Science's world-wide search for the next wonder drug moved this week to the campus of Hillsdale College.

From 75-acre Slayton Arboretum — Hillsdale's beautiful outdoor biology laboratory — soil samples which may contain new antibiotic molds were gathered by Dr. Bertram A. Barber to be forwarded for testing at Lederle Laboratories, in Pearl River, N. Y. Dr. Barber has been head of Hillsdale's biology department for 37 years.

Only a few years ago, another tiny sample of earth from Missouri was received by the Pearl River scientists, who processed it just as they had tested thousands of earlier samples in their search for a new antibiotic.

But from this soil an interesting golden mold appeared. Test tube experiments produced startling results. The new mold effectively combatted the growth of staphylococci, streptococci, and a variety of rod-shaped germs called bacilli. The latter property was most significant, for it acted against a wide variety of diseases in humans and animals.

The golden mold, aureomycin, has saved thousands upon thousands of lives since it became available to the public in 1948.

The quest for new antibiotics continues today with the testing of soil samples from every area of the earth. Scientists believe that somewhere, perhaps at Hillsdale, there may be soil with a strain of micro-organisms which will prove more effective in the war against disease than anything now known.

It Never Rains at Northville Downs

The Northville Downs policy of racing in any weather, rain or shine, has helped boost attendance and mutual handle this season, according to a Downs representative.

Bad weather on several nights this meet would ordinarily have cut the handle and attendance, but customers know that "the sun always shines on Northville Downs" and are not discouraged from starting early for the trip to the track.

Treatment of the track with sand, and other precautions, make racing in wet weather both possible and safe, according to Charlie Coons, track superintendent.

The meet will continue nightly, except Sunday, until the final night, Aug. 8.

Expeditors are for the hour; principles for the ages.

Fellow we know dropped in the other day for a bit of this and that, but mostly to talk about how superior his new '53 Studebaker was to anything else on the road. Told us, also, of his two sons, currently employed at a local drug store. Seems the druggist has had a rough time keeping help and the boys were discussing how peeved he would get when told they were leaving for a trip out west. "Sort of hate to tell him," said the oldest, who worked behind the soda fountain, "he's going to be real mad."

Well, that's life and while a good car isn't hard to find these days, you don't always get the best. That is unless you happen to be one of those fortunate persons who now owns one of the finer Studebakers of the '53 season. It just so happens, that here is a car that has everything. Power, worlds of it! Stamina, boy it's rugged! Comfort, like sitting in the easy chair at home! Economy, just look at those savings! It's the beauty of the new car field, too. Superbly streamlined with a continental design that's out of this world. Why not come in and let us demonstrate one this week-end?

A certain lady who is most particular about the upkeep of her car and always brings it in for a periodical check-up and lubrication was telling us of a friend of hers who started suit for divorce. Seems that every time this friend started to win a family argument, the husband shut off his hearing aid.

Now we wouldn't want to make false accusations, but it seems to us that whenever a couple of you, out there, get this far in the column you shut off your own listening apparatus. At least you haven't been in for the regular check-up your car needs and with the weather as warm as it is, that can be dangerous. Your car needs the protection of new greases and oils to stand the heat of the summer ahead with its long week-ends. Your car needs the attention of mechanics, too, to insure a perfectly operating motor at all times. Be seeing you soon, tell you of the fellow who

MSC Unscrambles 'Americane' for Foreign Students

American social customs, slang — and even the corner cafe's lunch menu — are being unscrambled for foreign students at Michigan State College where a course is offered in "English as a foreign language."

In the past seven years, scores of students from 50 foreign nations have received "basic training" in reading the newspaper, how to use the telephone and what an American means when he says, "It's in the bag" or "What's cooking?"

Most of the 103 foreign students at M.S.C. already have received formal English schooling in their native lands, but have little or no experience with American terms and everyday conversation.

Dr. A. T. Cordray, director of the noncredit course, explains that students in the classes are in two general classifications. Those who are in America for schooling and plan to return to their native countries when they graduate, and students who are Displaced persons or immigrants who also want to become American citizens.

"We don't attempt to 'Americanize' the student in the training," Dr. Cordray pointed out. "We do attempt to help him in adjusting to the American way of doing and saying things to make his life more comfortable and to increase his chances for success in school."

Bass Popular With Anglers

Plentiful and popular, bass are longtime favorites of Michigan anglers. Yet many persons have difficulty identifying and finding these well known game fishes, a University of Michigan professor claims.

As an example, there is the smallmouth bass, which, agrees Dr. Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the U-M Department of Fisheries, is "the game fish that swims, fighting the angler inch for inch, pound for pound." He recommends fishing for it after dark, playing live bait such as softshelled crawfish or casting a read-headed plug into shallows among the reeds.

Preferring cool streams and large, clear lakes, the smallmouth black bass requires rock, gravel, or sand shoals for successful spawning. Heavy angling pressure, Dr. Lagler says, has depleted the population, but it is still considered common in many inland and Great Lakes waters.

The smallmouth black bass is distinguished from the largemouth by its upper jaw, which never extends back beyond the level of the eye pupil when the mouth is closed. Its color pattern usually has verticle dusky bars along the body sides. The largemouth species, in comparison, has a long upper jaw which extends behind a vertical line dropped from the posterior margin at the eye.

Readily caught on a variety of plugs, spoons, bass-bugs, flies and live baits, the largemouth bass is considered little less a fighter than the smallmouth, although a larger number are caught. Nonetheless, it is the most popular game fish for Michigan's million license-buying fishermen.

The largemouth also differs from the smallmouth in regard to its habitat — warm, and frequently muddy, water in quiet lakes or sluggish streams. It favors submerged logs and stumps and weed beds as lurking places.

Although it has a statewide distribution in inland and Great Lakes waters, it is more abundant in the Lower Peninsula than the upper, Dr. Lagler says. He points out that the Michigan version of this fish is usually large. A record one weighed in at 11 pounds and 15 ounces, with a 27-inch length, although the average is nearer to 14 inches and a pound and one-half.

Another bass, the warmouth, is particularly distinguished by its toothed tongue. Named for its large mouth, it is essentially confined to inland waters of the southern part of the Lower Peninsula and is usually found in warm, muddy, weed-grown waters of both lakes and sluggish streams. Professor Lagler explains that throughout its life the warmouth is associated with dense beds of aquatic plants and is very similar to the common rock bass or redeye.

Both of these "basses" are quite sunfish-like and are not of great importance as Michigan sport fishes, according to Dr. Lagler, although many are caught. He adds, though, that rock bass and warmouths are quite gamey fish when caught on light tackle.

Chinese Export

China on Exhibit

Examples of Chinese export china, called "Lowestoft" and famous for the quaint ways in which it copied English china, are on exhibition for an indefinite period in the Detroit Institute of Arts.

More than 120 pieces from the most famous of all collections of this ware, the McCann collection, have been loaned to Detroit while other pieces from the collection are currently on exhibition at the Metropolitan in New York and the Boston Museum.

There are many designs and shapes often copied from silver pieces sent as samples. The Chinese workmen copied designs blindly, mistakes and all, though occasionally, confronted by designs which to them were foreign and incomprehensible they were interpreted in the Chinese manner. The women, for instance, were painted with slanting eyes.

Among the pieces made for the American market are a few extremely rare plates and platter, such as the early 19th century examples with the "Fitzhugh" border centered with the United States coat of arms, other pieces with the New York coat of arms, a perfect soup tureen with the characteristic "orange peel" surface, and other pieces with delicately painted ships.

Bean and grain drying equipment in Gremel barn. The fan at lower right is also used to mow-finish hay.

ELECTRICITY
ENDS THREE-YEAR SEARCH FOR EFFICIENT GRAIN and BEAN DRYER

For three years, Harold Gremel, Huron County farmer, searched for a better way to dry his beans and small grains. Then, with some help from Edison Farm Service Advisors, he successfully developed this electrically powered system that enables him to dry six to seven thousand bushels of beans and grain per season. Result: He can harvest when his crops are ready and cut down weather losses. This means higher prices on the market.

Mr. Gremel farms 370 acres of land — 100 in beans, 80 in small grain, 35 in beets — and milks a herd of 13 cows. As do many Michigan farmers, he is each year finding new ways to put electricity to work to lighten his load and give him greater security. For further information on farm electrical equipment, see your Edison Farm Service Advisor.

'Floating' Shelf

ON A VACATION trip by automobile, space usually is at a premium. A midwest vacationer cleverly used the upper portion of his auto trunk for extra suits and coats, leaving the interior free of clutter and with unobscured vision.

Here's what he did: Suitcases were packed in the trunk first, so arranged that they would support evenly a portable shelf. Next he cut a piece of Masonite Presdwood, one-quarter inch thick, to the available width and depth remaining. In that way, the shelf didn't slide around.

He then placed the panel on a table, laying the coats and suits on it, one over another. To keep the clothes free of dust and any rain that might leak into the compartment, he wrapped them in a plastic cloth. The bundle then was tied up loosely with light cord and placed atop the suitcases.

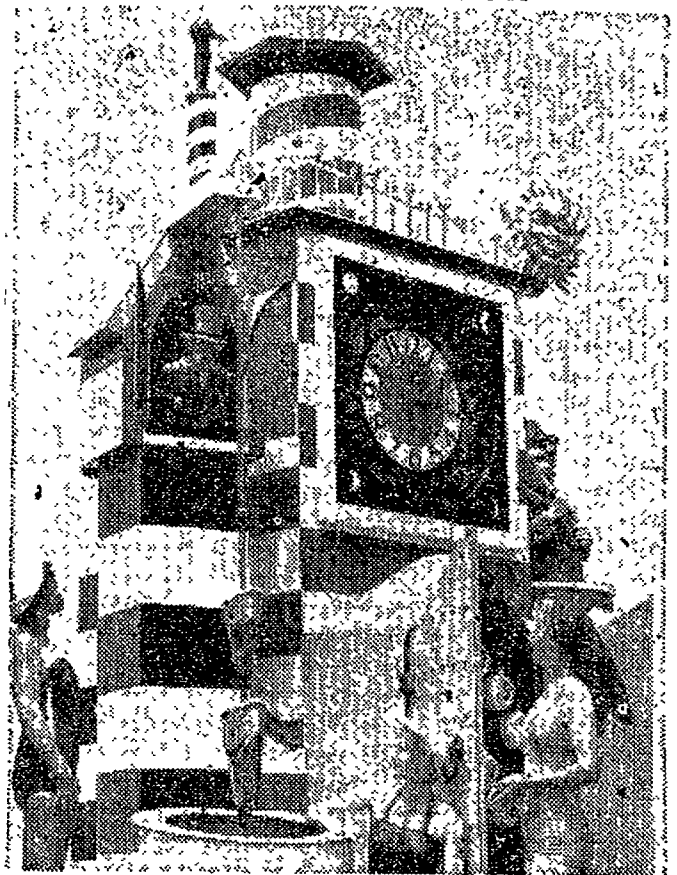

This tourist reports that the clothing made the 2,000-mile trip "in perfect condition." If needed at a stopover, the board would be taken into the room and unpacked; otherwise, it remained in the trunk.

"It's the easiest and best way of carrying extra clothes in a car," he said. "The back seat, riders particularly appreciated the full view they had, as there were no suits and coats hanging over part of the windows."

He who receive a benefit with gratitude, repays the first installment on his debt.

GUINNESS CRAZY CLOCK TO START NATIONWIDE TOUR

The famed, 23 foot high Guinness Crazy Clock is admired by three pretty onlookers at Coney Island's Steeplechase Park where the clock went on exhibition this week prior to a nationwide tour. Every 15 minutes the clock stages a four-minute theatrical performance. A group of animated figures, some life-size, emerge from the clock's works to perform complex maneuvers. The clock is 14 feet long and 6 feet in depth and is considered the most intricate in the world. The clock was first exhibited at the Festival of Britain in 1951, under the sponsorship of the Guinness Co., who are also sponsoring its tour of the U.S.A.

Autumn Bride-Elect

Dorothy M. Wiles

Mrs. Jed Wiles of Howell has announced the engagement of her daughter, Dorothy, to Cpl. George Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Morrison of Novi Rd. The bride-elect is a graduate of Howell High School and is presently employed by Michigan Bell Telephone Company at Howell. Her fiancé, who was graduated from Northville High School, is now stationed at Walters Air Force Base, Mineral Wells, Texas. The couple is planning a fall wedding following George's discharge in October.

Swim Suit Lost? . . . Try the Severance Collection

If Don Severance of Novi Ave. were in the second-hand clothing business instead of being an attorney-at-law, he would have no trouble at all keeping his shelves well stocked.

He would simply ask his son, Don, who graduated from Northville High this June, to invite a group of his teen-age friends to their cottage at Ore Lake for a swim and a party.

It seems that the "kids" just didn't take their things home after a day's picnic at the lake on the last day of school — and the Severances are a bit weary of storing an assortment of swim suits, towels, dresses, make-up kits, badminton racquets and a variety of other items necessary for an outing.

Mrs. Ida B. Cooke has offered to be a clearing house for the miscellany and forgotten articles may be claimed by phoning her at 630.

Annual Picnic Is Concluding Meeting for Garden Club

The concluding meeting of the year for the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association was a very enjoyable picnic held at the "Happy Acres" home of Mrs. William B. Walker, Jr., on East Eight Mile Rd. Monday afternoon, July 13.

There were 31 members and 11 guests present to fill the long tables set on the lawn by Mrs. Walker and her co-hostesses: Mrs. Herbert Brown, Mrs. Samuel Geraci, Mrs. T. J. Knapp, Mrs. G. W. McIntyre and Mrs. Charles H. Walker.

After a bountiful cooperative luncheon, Mrs. R. D. Merriam, president, called the business meeting to order. A new member, Mrs. Robert J. Scott, was introduced and welcomed into the club. Reports were given by Mrs. Merriam and Mrs. Roy Matheson of the annual meeting of the Michigan Division which was held in Clarkston, June 17-18. Others from Northville who attended were Mrs. George Price, Mrs. John Haller, Mrs. George Alexander and Mrs. Orson Atchinson.

It was announced at the Clarkston convocation that the Michigan Division was ahead of others in the organization in its work on the conservation and educational program. Mrs. George Alexander, program chairman, then called for a discussion of garden problems and the past president, Mrs. Roy Matheson, Mrs. Paul Schulz, Mrs. M. L. Hovsrad and Mrs. W. B. Walker were the authorities to answer the many questions.

Serving Ice Cream

Serving ice cream for dessert often in hot weather? It's a good idea to chill the serving dishes in the refrigerator at least an hour ahead of serving time to prevent ice cream from softening too rapidly.

Organdy-Frocked Maids Attend Lila Rakestraw

Tapers flickered before the stained glass windows and on the altar of the Salem Federated Church when Lila Mae Rakestraw exchanged marriage vows with Richard Eugene Miller Saturday evening, July 11.

The Rev. Douglas R. Couch solemnized the double ring nuptials at eight o'clock which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Keith Rakestraw of West Eight Mile Rd. and Mr. Miller, who made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Houston of Milford.

Arrangements of white gladioli and shattered mums interspersed with palms formed the chancel's background. Milan George of Salem sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" with Mrs. Morris Givens presiding at the organ console.

Embroidered lilies-of-the-valley drifted over the billowy organdy, gown Lila chose to wear for her wedding. Tiny matching buttons fastened to a brief peter pan collar and the fitted, embroidered sleeves ended in points over the wrists. A shirred panel of the embroidered organdy crisply covered the colonial-style skirt in an aaron effect and lilies-of-the-valley dotted her chapel length train. Rushing edged the Tudor cap of lace frosted with seed pearls which confined the bride's finger veil. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. And she carried a white bible adorned with white rosebuds, stephanotis and ivy.

Honor maid was Doris Sultz of Detroit, a college sorority sister and roommate of the bride. She appeared in a strapless ballerina length frock of white eyelet organdy and nylon net over sunn yellow taffeta. A stole of matching bodice and she carried a crescent bouquet of lavender gladioli.

Identical gowns of embroidered organdy over lavender and mint green were worn respectively by bridesmaids, Helen Ann Cansfield and Mrs. Murray Lucas (nee Evelyn Westerfield) both of Northville. Their flowers were crescent bouquets of yellow gladioli.

Flower girl was little Margaret Joan Tiffin wearing a party frock fashioned with a bodice of eyelet embroidery and an eyelet apron topped the full skirt of ice-green hue. She carried a white basket of daisies and orchid sweet peas. Jerry Lyke, cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Assisting at the ceremony as best man was Wayne Smith of Dundee, and ushers were Murray Lucas of Northville and Tom Anderson of Brighton.

Mrs. Rakestraw attended her daughter's wedding in a formal gown of turquoise complemented by white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Houston chose a black street-length gown with accents of white beadwork. Her shoulder corsage was of white rosebuds.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception for 160 guests was held in the church parlors. The color theme of yellow, orchid and green set by the bridal attendants was repeated in the floral decorations of the reception table which was centered by a five-tiered wedding cake flanked by lighted tapers. Cutting the cake were the bride's aunts, Mrs. Russell Lyke and Mrs. Harry Lyke, of Northville. Mrs. Jerry Gardner of Northville and Mrs. Donald Tiffin of Plymouth poured, and Miss Yvonne North of Northville presided at the punch bowl. In charge of the guest and gift book was Mrs. James Bennett of Detroit.

When the new Mrs. Miller left for a week's honeymoon to northern Michigan, she was wearing a navy and white checked shantung dress with white accessories and the rosebud corsage taken from her bridal bouquet. The couple will reside at 232 East Lake St., South Lyon, after July 19.

Lila is a graduate of Michigan State Normal College with the class of 1953 and was pledged to Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority. She has contracted to teach in the Lyon Township schools this fall. Her husband is a senior student at Michigan State College where he is affiliated with Phi Delta Pi fraternity, the Stoics and serves as president of the 1953-54 Men's Union.

Legionnaires Hear Heroic Story of WW-II Chaplains

The poignant story of the four chaplains who went down with the USS Dorchester in January of 1944, one of the dramatic instances of sacrifice during World War II, was reviewed by the Rev. Dr. Harold F. Fredsell of the First Presbyterian Church at the monthly meeting of the Lloyd H. Green Post 147, American Legion held Tuesday evening.

The story as told in a new book entitled "Sea of Glory" is of special interest to Rev. Fredsell who was personally acquainted with the Rev. Clark V. Poling, one of the four chaplains who had passed on their life belts to the enlisted men as the ship started to sink. Both Rev. Poling and Rev. Fredsell had been active in New York State Christian Endeavor work some years ago. From 1944 to 1946, Rev. Fredsell served as the Army Chaplain to the Railroad Battalion operating the White Pass and Yukon Railroad during the construction of the Alcan Highway giving him a further appreciation of Rev. Poling's service to the military personnel.

Hard cooked eggs for summer picnics, salads and cold plates should be cooled promptly to prevent overcooking and to help ward off the dark ring that sometimes appears around the yolk. Both the cooling and the shelling can be done at the same time under the cold water faucet.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Minehart

Open House to Mark 25th Wedding Date

An open house Sunday afternoon, July 19, will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Minehart of 8911 Brookline Rd., Plymouth, in observance of the couple's Silver Wedding Anniversary.

Arrangements for the affair are in the hands of their daughters, Mrs. Charles Finney of Northville, and Mrs. Raymond Finney and Geraldine Minehart of Plymouth, who are extending a cordial invitation to all friends and acquaintances of the Mineharts to attend the celebration beginning at three o'clock.

Special guests at the anniversary party will be members of the original bridal party: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartwig of Detroit, Howard Waterman of Northville and Mrs. Helene Church of Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Minehart pledged their marriage vows twenty-five years ago in the St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Saline, Mich., before the Rev. Adolphe Ladder and have since made their home in the Plymouth area.

She was named to the position in the 140-piece band winning over 40 student try-outs. She also holds first chair in the university's Summer Concert Orchestra.

Miss Couse is studying flute while attending the Wayne University Summer Band School, a six-week course offered by the University to outstanding high school musicians.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

When one has a true understanding of life, he is able to overcome much fear. This is brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 19.

The Golden Text is from John (5:26): "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Rom. 8:6): "For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "We must destroy the false belief that life and intelligence are in matter, and plant ourselves upon what is pure and perfect. Paul said, 'Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh.'" (p. 222)

The most important thought I ever had was that of my individual responsibility to God.

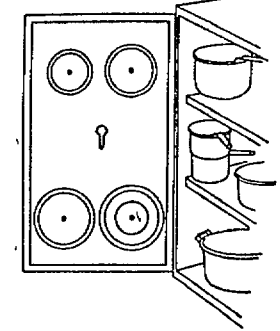

—Daniel Webster

Lids on Cabinet Door

ROUND-KNOBBED lids of cooking utensils may be neatly stored inside a cabinet door where they will be both accessible and occupying otherwise waste space. Here are directions for making this handy storage unit:

Measure the door and obtain a piece of Masonite 1/4" Tempered Presdwood which covers the interior of the door.

or excepting for one-half inch on all sides. If the door is paneled, there will be room between the cabinet door and the Presdwood for the knobs to fit into openings of the shape of large keyholes. If the interior is one plane from one side to another, it will be necessary to install a strip of lumber about one inch thick as a perimeter.

Lay out the round-knobbed lids on the Presdwood so that their positions may be marked. With a bit and brace, bore holes about one-quarter inch larger than the knobs. Underneath each, with a keyhole saw, complete the oversized keyhole, forming a slot into which the neck of the knob will fit. The final step is to fasten the panel to the interior of the door with finishing nails. The panel may be left unfinished or painted.

Handy Household Helps

When You Paint— Know Your Colors

A CARTOON in a past issue of one of our magazines illustrated a great and remarkable truth in the realm of "doing things around the house." The scene was a hardware store, and a properly discouraged husband was leaning on the counter and saying disgustedly to the proprietor:

"She wants a can of green paint—a good green—not too green and not too light and definitely not that horrible shade of green."

The point is that whenever you attempt to do any interior painting on your own, or even if you have a painter in to do the actual work, the main prerequisite to a good job is that you know exactly—and that means precisely—the color and the shade of that color you want. Some colors have over 60 different shades, any 49 of which might be wrong for your particular purpose.

Getting the correct, distinctive painted background is, basically, a matter of choosing the paint you want.

When you go to the hardware store to buy your paint, remember that fine colors cannot be described by fine words. "A beautiful chartreuse" or "a good green" means nothing. First thing you must do is find a sample of the color you want. You may get it out of one of sample color folders available in the store. A scrap of fabric or the colored picture in a magazine of a decorated room may get your idea across.

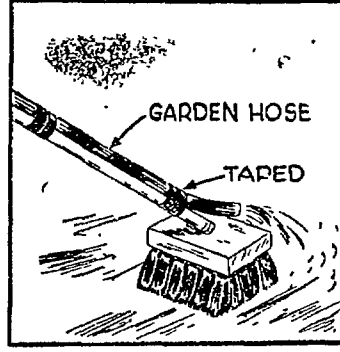

Also, time, money and heart-break can be saved by brushing out a fairly large sample of the color on the wall in advance so that you will have time to inspect it both by daylight and artificial light and decide whether it is, after all, what you want.

Another thing—you needn't be a color expert to know when the hue of a painted sample is flat and uninteresting or otherwise displeasing. Your own taste will serve you pretty accurately. And a competent painter can remedy such a situation by mixing in a small quantity of another color to achieve more character and brilliance. Many fine colors are made up of two or three tinting colors in addition to the base hue.

Gentle Hint Dept.

HERE is a reasonably simple way of cleaning whatever concrete floors you happen to have around your place—the garage, basement, open porch or court. Use a self-lubricating floor brush. This is merely one of those stiff-bristled scrub brushes with a long handle on it; however, taped to the length of the handle is a garden hose, fixed so that the nozzle directs a small flow of water in front of the brush as it is pushed over the floor.

One of the curses that is the lot of the woodworker is the job of trying to remove pencil marks from the wood before finishing. Mention of the fact here is made only in the form of a final pronouncement that there just isn't an easy way to do it. Use an art gum eraser, sponge rubber eraser, fine sandpaper and your own good right arm. Nothing else.

Flowers will stay fresh longer if, immediately after cutting or receiving them from the florist, you trim the stems and immerse up to the blossom in cold water. Leave in a dark cool place for two or three hours. By the way, if you can't spare that much time, remember 15 or 20 minutes is better than not at all.

Slurdy Finish Takes Much Hard Usage

HERE IS an excellent finish that you might want to apply sometime to the working surface of your work bench or to a kitchen work table that has the bare wood kind of top. It is particularly fitting for jobs like this, where you are not concerned with the beauty of the grain but rather with making more durable a wooden surface that is going to see a lot of tough handling.

If you are not working with new wood, the first thing to do is to remove every bit of the finish already on. Get right down to the bare wood. And incidentally, a small, portable electric sander is excellent for this kind of job. Your hardware dealer has these remarkable little machines, which you also can use to wax floors, polish the car and for many other purposes.

When you have the surface thoroughly clean, wipe off all excess dust with a cloth dipped in turpentine. Now you're ready to apply the finish.

It's a very simple mixture—equal parts of raw linseed oil and turpentine. Apply this half-and-half solution liberally to the bare wood; don't be afraid to slosh it on. Let it soak in for a couple of hours and then wipe off any excess liquid.

Let the work dry for 24 hours and repeat the operation. Continue this process for as long as the wood will absorb the mixture. When you're sure the wood won't take any more oil, go to work on it by rubbing briskly with a rough cloth.

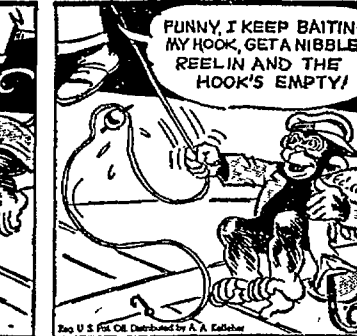

The more you rub, of course, the more lustrous the finish will become. You'll find that the oil will not produce a high gloss like shiny varnish, but it will give you a sturdy, durable finish that will be stain and moisture-resistant under virtually any conditions.

French Polishing

EVER HEAR of French polishing? It is the classic, the most beautiful and lasting, the beautiful and end-all of furniture finishes. It has been used for generations on fine period furniture, grand pianos and so on. As you might expect, it calls for a tremendous expenditure of time and labor. But in case you have a few free months of your hands and want to try it, here's generally the way to go about it:

The prepared surface is stained with water stain only, and now the work begins. Thin white shellac with alcohol to a water-like consistency—about a one-pound cut.

Apply this to the wood with a soft, lintless cloth rolled into a ball, rubbing in rapid, straight strokes with a light pressure. Let the surface dry, then sand it with No. 00 sandpaper, sprinkling the surface with very fine pumice stone before sanding. Now repeat the process again and again.

After the first few coats, add several drops of linseed oil or pure olive oil to the mixture and continue applications as before, but with a rotary motion. Add more oil by degrees with subsequent coats. It's work, but the result will be a superb finish that will last for generations.

What's Behind this Outstanding Growth?

First Federal is a part of the Federal Savings and Loan System, established by Act of Congress in June, 1933. It is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, which insures each saver's funds to $10,000. Both are Government agencies. From organization in the depression year of 1933, this mutual savings association has devoted itself to making saving safe, profitable, and convenient. New branches have been opened in neighborhood locations; more are planned. A useful mail savings plan has made it easy for thousands to save entirely by mail. You may now open an account, add to savings, and withdraw—all by mail. Tens of thousands of thrift banks have been given without charge to people opening new savings accounts—as a practical aid to thrift. A worthwhile earnings rate is paid on savings (currently 2%), and the same rate is paid on your entire account. First Federal service is friendly and helpful; small and large savers are equally welcome.

On behalf of First Federal's Directors and Staff (there are now 160 of us)—I cordially invite you to use our various financial services to the fullest extent.

NOW! Ford Master-Guide the last word in Power Steering!

It's the newest in a long list of Ford advancements that make this Ford the outstanding car for '53!

No other car near Ford's price has ever offered you so much!

Ford was the first in its field to bring you V-8 power. Today, Ford alone of all the low-priced cars offers you the smooth, unsurpassed performance of a V-8 engine. And Ford's Six—the most modern in the industry—with Overdrive, won the Grand Sweepstakes in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run.

Ford first brought to the low-price field a completely automatic transmission that combines the smoothness of a torque converter and the gas-saving "go" of automatic gears. Fordomatic remains the most versatile automatic you can buy.

Ford's new "ride" brings you road-bugging and hump-leveling qualities never before known in low-priced cars. Front end road shock alone has been reduced up to 80%. Easier-acting suspended pedals. Center-Fill Fueling and Full-Circle Visibility are just a few of the many important advancements first introduced by Ford.

And now Ford brings you the newest and finest in power steering... Master-Guide, a system exclusive in Ford's field! It's no wonder, then, that Ford is the "Worth More" car... worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it!

HELPS YOU OUT OF "TIGHT SPOTS!" The tougher the going the more Master-Guide works for you. For example, if you go off the pavement onto a soft shoulder or a rough, rutted road, Master-Guide provides the muscles to keep you on a steady course. At the same time, Master-Guide absorbs the shock that might otherwise be transmitted to the steering wheel. You'll find all handling is easier with Master-Guide and that parking requires only one-fourth the normal effort. Should Master-Guide ever lose its power, the standard steering mechanism will operate just as usual. Thus, Master-Guide provides new ease and stability, with a natural feel and full security, wherever you may drive. Optional on all V-8 models at extra cost.

Air Force Takes Off College Degree Restriction

High school graduates are now eligible to apply for Air Force flying training directly from civilian life for the first time since World War II.

Air Force headquarters in Washington recently announced that a college education is no longer an entrance requirement for aircraft observer training in the aviation cadet program.

Any young man between the ages of 19 and 26½, who is single, a high school graduate and in good physical and mental health, can now apply for aircraft observer training. Applicants may have 20/50 vision if corrected to 20/20 with glasses.

No Obligation

Applicants are under no obligation if they take the qualifying tests. They do not enter the Air Force until they are found fully qualified for Observer training and actually desire to enter the program.

The Aircraft Observer is schooled in navigation, bombardment, radar operation or aircraft performance engineering, and upon completing training becomes a crew member of bombardment, transport, reconnaissance or intercept type aircraft.

The aviation cadet in aircraft observer training receives a commission as second lieutenant in the Air Force reserve approximately 14 months after he enters training.

For complete information or training, contact Aviation Cadet Selection Team, No. 404, Selfridge Air Force Base, Mich. The phone is 6222.

Enrollments in Michigan's colleges and universities will more than double during the next 17 years, according to the Michigan Council of State College Presidents.

A search for gold is under way in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Perhaps not for gold in its mineral form, the search is to discover potential wealth existing in natural resources. The object is to develop the area as an economic community.

Encouraging facts have turned up following investigation. Some of them are discussed in a 188-page report published by the Economic Development Commission.

of Michigan. It reports a survey made by Ebasco Services, Inc., a New York engineering firm specializing in such investigations. Cost of the year long study was $20,000; half contributed by industries and business houses in the Upper Peninsula and half by such companies in the Lower Peninsula. Both groups believe that the economic situation of the U.P. is of vital concern to the whole state.

Advantages and disadvantages of the Upper Peninsula were considered in the survey. Problems were defined. Solutions sought. An accurate evaluation of all contributing factors was attempted.

Basic conclusion is that Michigan's Northern Peninsula has everything it needs to become an economically healthy community. To realize prosperity at the earliest, the report shows, will take planning and hard work. Most of both elements is expected to be supplied by the people living in the U.P.

The Ebasco report recommends that the area's development program be planned under sponsorship of the Upper Peninsula Advisory Committee, a sub-group of

THE OUTBOARD PROBLEM

Few inventions have been as helpful to the outdoor sportsman as the outboard motor—and few have been more roundly cursed by the summer cottager! Many a fisherman, too, enjoying the quiet of a calm summer evening, casting carefully toward a likely weedbed, can have his fun ruined by the annoying whine of an outboard running open, too close for comfort and leaving a wake with waves a foot high.

Like the automobile, the outboard is subject to wide abuse by reckless drivers and marine hot-rodders. Like the automobile the outboard certainly has its place of great usefulness in our way of life, too. Properly operated it should be no cause for complaint.

Unwritten Rules

The driver of a craft powered with an outboard motor has a definite responsibility in its operation. He must respect the rights of others, and he must appreciate the nuisance possibilities that he can create. The average lake is surrounded by cottages and homes in which people are enjoying an escape from the turmoil and noise of city life. The loud buzz of an outboard is an unwelcome intrusion, particularly during the early morning or early evening hours.

Not enough outboard operators have discovered, apparently, that there's more than one throttle position—and that's wide open! Take another five minutes to get to your favorite fishing spot, and try half throttle. The exhaust noise will be greatly reduced.

Of course a rule like this means nothing at all to the young speed demons who frequent hundreds of our Michigan lakes. Their prime interest is in racing up and down the lake, preferably in competition with two or three similarly designed boats. During the middle of the day this can be expected in most lakes, but these youngsters should shy away from fishermen and swimmers if they want to maintain friendly relations around the lake.

The Legal Status

Regardless of warnings there are always a few die-hards who cannot be taught the proper use of an outboard motor without recourse to law—and the State of Michigan has such a law on the books. One may file a formal complaint charging reckless driving of an outboard motor on any lake, and the law will take care of punishment to fit the crime.

However, it behooves all outboard owners to be more considerate in their operation, lest more and more lake property owners unite to outlaw the outboard—an action which, in most cases, would be completely unnecessary.

the Michigan Economic Development Commission, the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, local Chambers of Commerce and service groups.

People of the peninsula constitute both the most serious problem and the most valuable asset. Ebasco investigators consider as unfavorable an attitude of defeatism in some localities, a lack of appreciation of changing market demands and some evidence of undue reliance on outside help.

Consultants were concerned with the steady loss to other areas of aggressive young people. Glamour of jobs in metropolitan centers is seriously draining this vital element of the labor pool thus creating a serious problem.

"The most important single resource of the Upper Peninsula is its people," state Ebasco engineers. Inhabitants are described as adaptable to new methods, possessing excellent attitudes toward their jobs and maintaining a record of high productivity in industrial fields.

THE ROYAL INVITATION

The invitation to the coronation of Queen Elizabeth read as follows: "We greet you well. Whereas we have appointed the second day of June 1953, for the Solemnity of our Coronation, there are therefore to command and you all excuses set apart, that you make your personal attendance upon us at the time above mentioned as to your Quality and Rank appertaineth, there to do and perform such services as shall be required."

What an invitation which in reality is a command which accepts no excuses! But what is this compared to the invitation given in the Gospel, not by an earthly monarch of a limited kingdom, but by the God of heaven and earth and the coming King of Kings and Lord of Lords? The invitation is to accept Him NOW as your personal Lord and Saviour, to place your hope of eternity upon His promises, and to swear allegiance to Him. To all who do this will be granted an entrance into the palace above and we shall live and reign with Him in the new era which is still to come. "No excuses" will ever be accepted for your failure to accept His invitation. Why not send word to God right now that you will accept His gracious invitation?

They are less affected by economic cycles than people in metropolitan centers since they have the opportunity to supplement their income with farms, woodlots, hunting, fishing, and working in the recreation industry part of the year.

In forest products, according to the Ebasco report, lies the greatest field for potential development. Good opportunities also exist for agriculture. Dairy farming and beef raising are economically feasible—soils are favorable to potatoes, strawberries, green beans, carrots, beets and cabbage.

"The Peninsula's tourist and recreational industry is now valued at $50,000,000 a year, but because of the availability of scenic and other factors not yet exploited, it offers unlimited possibilities for development in the future," the report states.

Mining still offers room for development. Copper companies are progressive and iron ore operations continue development programs. Both commercial fishing and sport fishing are expected to hold their own or gain slightly as important factors in U. P. economy.

The report concludes that the greatest needs of business services are in the marketing and promotion fields. Opportunities exist for sales agencies that can market the output of wood, agri-

How to create prosperity in the Upper Peninsula?

Interested people and groups should promote for these improvements.

Expansion of electric power capacity and natural gas is much needed if industry is to expand; construction of the Mackinac bridge, which is expected to increase automobile traffic by 85%.

Other transportation projects include a bridge between American and Canadian Soo areas; better ferry and airlines service.

From a "morale" standpoint Ebasco engineers believe the early establishment of television service is an important requirement. And they recommend publicity to counteract false adverse opinions of U.P. weather conditions.

Favorable state legislation must be encouraged, says the report, and local areas must be stimulated to organize their own development plan.

Training programs for resort operators are worth considering, according to Ebasco, and efforts must be made to place young people in good local jobs.

New industries must be enticed to the area, but not at the expense of enterprise already located there. Ebasco advises that first consideration be given existing business, for their development can be secured most easily and at least expense.

The report warned that securing new industry requires expenditures for direct mail campaigns, out of town trips and visits of prospects. And it listed what an area should be able to offer to attract new business ventures. Among the conditions are a receptive attitude by the community, a sympathetic local government, suitable housing for personnel, adequate labor supply, room for future expansion, business service for routine needs and adequate transportation facilities.

Swim Precautions May Save You

At least 3,580 persons will die this summer as the result of accidental drowning.

But it's a pretty good bet that you will not be one of these victims if you confine your water recreation supervised beaches and boating areas.

A national insurance company's Institute for Safer Living predicts the above water fatality toll, and estimates that more than 90 per cent of these drownings will occur in unsupervised waters. An increasing number of swimming and boating areas having the protection of life guards and water patrols are being made available each year. These areas should be used wherever possible, says the Institute.

However, if you use unprotected waters, whether lake, stream or ocean beach, the following safety rules are especially important:

1. Investigate unfamiliar waters before swimming in them. If indicates that well directed energy will result in an expanding Upper Peninsula. Its recommendations amount to some sizable, though completely possible, orders. Improvements are not likely to appear overnight; but they could begin in an upward spiral as efforts bring results which produce in turn, more efforts and better results.

With the Ebasco report, the people of the Upper Peninsula and the Michigan Economic Development Commission have a means of understanding the job that is to be done. It is up to them to create skill to accomplish the task.

During the next seven years, $44,000,000 worth of new buildings will be needed to take care of a 22,000 increase in enrollments at state universities in Michigan, according to facts compiled by the Michigan Council of State College Presidents.

In 1900 only 4.5 per cent of the college-age population in Michigan attended college. By 1970, the figure is expected to be 32 per cent, the Michigan Council of State College Presidents predicts.
