Commission Signs Contract to Initiate Seven-Mile Cut-Off

The Village Commission signed a contract with the Wayne County Road Commission Monday night for construction of the Seven Mile cut-off and decided on a method of paying for its $37,500 share.

To make it easier for Northville to raise its share of the cost, the Road Commission agreed to defer payment of $17,500 until Sept. 1, 1954. Immediate problem was to find a way to raise the other $20,000. Northville Township had already offered the first $20,000 of the $57,500.

Trickey Re-Elected to Command Michigan Amvets

An acclamation vote re-elected Charles Trickey, Jr., of Novi, state commander of Michigan Amvets for 1953-54 at the veteran group's 9th annual state convention at Grand Rapids July 17-19.

Originally elected state vice-commander, Trickey was moved to the Amvets' top office at the mid-winter rally in February to replace Commander Alvin M. Keller, who resigned to become program director of the group in Washington, D.C.

Would Legalize Bingo

Highlighting the Amvets program for the coming year was the decision to work with a Washtenaw County group to legalize bingo in Michigan for non-profit organizations.

Although outlawed in Michigan at present, numerous clubs and organizations have held bingo games to augment their treasuries. The games were largely tolerated on the local level because of their non-profit, charity motive, but police officials in many communities have begun to enforce the letter of the law.

Another important decision made by the convention was to back proposed legislation to raise the dependent exemption on income tax returns from $600 to $1,000.

Delegates from the Perry Kenner Amvets Post 76 in Novi to the convention were Fred Solomon, Carroll Baker, Art Poole and Kenneth Rippey. The Novi post was awarded a membership banner for increasing its number of members to 149.

2 More Oxygen Tanks Authorized

The Village Commission authorized purchase or rental of two oxygen tanks to supplement the two which came with the new resuscitator bought by the village.

Each tank carries only a 17-minute supply of oxygen. The two additional ones will now assure a continuous 68-minute supply to drowning or suffocation victims.

Dr. R. M. Atchison, asked informally by the commission if the oxygen charge would remain at full strength over a long period of time, said that storage would have no effect on the tanks' usefulness.

Pay in Advance, Says Wayne Road Commission

Village Clerk Mary Alexander has been playing a kind of guessing game with the Wayne County Road Commission the last two or three weeks.

The Road Commission sent a pair of bills for patch work done on village streets. Mrs. Alexander didn't see any patches, or any work either, and let the Road Commission know that it would get paid when it delivered.

The bill, $192 for work in front of the Northville Restaurant, and at the intersection of Fairbrook Rd. and Eaton Dr., bounced back to Mrs. Alexander.

She brought it up at the Commission meeting Monday night, and Commissioner Claude Ely explained that the Road Commission likes its money in advance before doing the work described.

A barely audible voice asked, "Who wouldn't?" Commissioners grinned, and agreed to pay the bill. The streets in question are county roads.

Village Authorizes Ford Field Deal

Commissioner A. M. Allen and Village Attorney Philip Ogilvie were given authority Monday night to draft a proposal to the Ford Motor Co. for Ford Field and other adjoining property.

Allen, who met with P. C. Holloway, a Ypsilanti plant executive, and Ed Flaherty, manager of the Northville Ford Valve plant, July 15, said the transaction would also involve trading a one-acre piece of land owned by the village near the valve plant. This will probably greatly reduce the money involved in the deal, he said.

Included in the July 15 talk were concessions by Allen: that the village won't change the name of the field, and that the east gate, opening into the Ford parking lot, will be closed.

Northville has used Ford Field, with only a verbal agreement since 1938. The Ford company paid taxes on it until 1946, when the village listed it tax exempt.

The Ford company officials said they would not participate in any kind of three-way deal, and that any other persons interested in parcels would have to deal with the village after it acquires ownership.

Deadline Extended

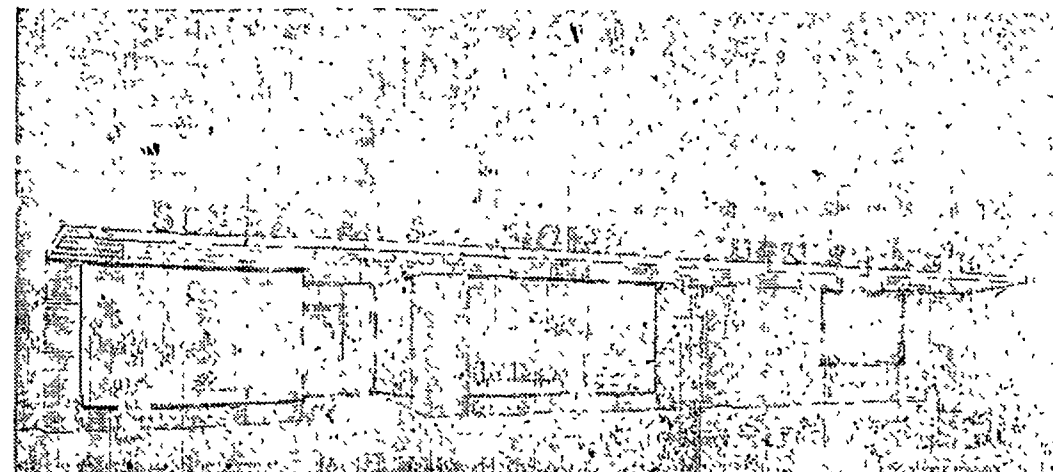

The Village tax deadline was extended to Aug. 20 by the Commission at its meeting Monday night.

Water Odor Hit by Commissioner

Commissioner John Stubenvoll punctuated the end of the Village Commission meeting Monday night with a call for immediate steps to buy whatever equipment is necessary to get rid of water odor in Northville.

Comments from the audience at the meeting indicated that the odor is noticeable in some parts of the village, but absent in others. Tests have been fairly successful in showing the way to solution of the problem, and indicated the purchase of purifying equipment.

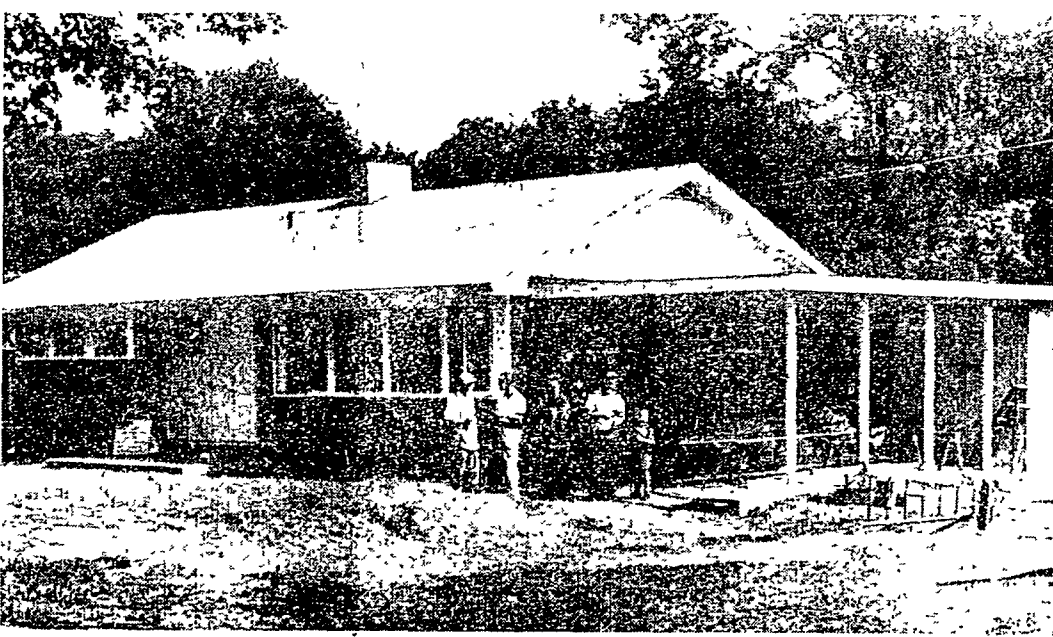

To Remodel Schrader Furniture Store

This is an artist's conception of how the Schrader Furniture Store on North Center St. will look after the front has undergone extensive remodeling. The project will start the first week in August. The inside of the store will also get a complete going-over. Work has already begun.

Center of Building Code Controversy

Above is the Gunnison pre-fabricated home now under construction on Rayson St. between Hutton and Horton which set off the discussion about what and what not is allowed by the Northville Village building code. Village Atty. Philip Ogilvie is now reading all the fine print in the code and will return an opinion to the Village Commission before the Aug. 3 meeting.

Plymouth Drivers Can Now Get Private Parking Spaces

Harried Plymouth businessmen who, along with shoppers, daily fight the "where to park" battle, can now take the bull by the horns.

A new ordinance passed by Plymouth gives the city manager authority to reserve individual stalls in municipal parking lots to "any person, partnership, firm or corporation." The law takes effect July 27.

The license fee for use of one reserved parking stall is set by the ordinance at $75 per fiscal year. The money goes into the parking fund.

$35 Saving

The $75 fee represents a saving of about $35 per year, figured on a nine-hour day, six days a week, and a much larger saving in energy burned up in lost tempers while looking for a parking place. Greatest advantage seems to be on the side of those who must park downtown most of the time.

Village Stymied on Moving Houses

The Village is still trying to get rid of the three houses it owns on the Community Building site at the W. Main-West St. intersection. The only bid submitted to date was the one from Ralph Bidwell, of South Lyon, read in meeting Monday night.

The commission is doubtful, however, if it can accept Mr. Bidwell's bid. He offered to demolish and remove the homes for the material in them, within a 30-day period.

Village Attorney Philip Ogilvie raised the point that a liability bond or a performance bond, or both, might be wise, but doubted that a bonding company would bond an individual undertaking such a wrecking job.

An attempt was made to contact Mr. Bidwell by phone, and until the matter can be settled, the houses will just have to stay where they are. Phone calls by Clerk Mary Alexander to professional wrecking companies drew negative reactions to removing the houses for the materials in them.

Feature Trot Friday to Climax Season at Northville Downs

The 1953 Harness Racing meet at Northville Downs will be climaxed Friday night, July 24, by the Governor's Cup Trot for $10,000, one of the two major Northville events of the season. The other is the Michigan Pacing Derby for $10,000 on Friday, Aug. 7.

The Governor's Cup Trot will bring 12 of the leading trotters of the country to Northville Downs. These are Doctor Truax, Duke of Lullwater, Johnny Brown, Marcia D., Master Scott, Rebel Scott, Risen Sun, Rose Song, Signal F., Silver Faith, Silver Riddle and Waywise.

In the absence of Governor G. Mennen Williams, the cup will be presented to the winner by James M. Hare, Michigan State Fair manager.

This will be the ninth Governor's Cup Trot. The record is 2-02 4/5 made by Proximity in 1948. The Governor's Cup Trot, like all other racing night programs at Northville Downs this season, will be held "rain or shine" regardless of weather conditions.

Building Permits Total $225,425

Forty-eight building permits issued by Building Inspector J. Stanley Waterloo in a report to the Village Commission total $225,425.

These include permits for 11 new homes, $121,500; 21 house alterations, $21,500; seven commercial alterations, $78,875; one demolition, $500; and eight new garages, $5,500.

Insects Come; Forester Looks; Trees Go

Three separate breeds of insects had themselves a banquet on the Chinese elm trees in front of Charlie Carrington's house last week.

Thousands of aphids, hardshelled beetles and a variety of small, six-legged caterpillar skeletonized the leaves on the three elm trees and swarmed over the trunks.

A phone call to Green Ridge Nursery brought John Miller, who has charge of the village forestry program, to the Carrington house at 112 E. Dunlap. Miller couldn't readily identify the caterpillars, but inspection of other trees in the neighborhood showed that the insects were interested only in Carrington's elms.

The ground at the base of the tree trunk was piled a half-inch deep with dead insects. Miller said this was due to the insects' normally short life cycle, but there was speculation that maybe they just gluttoned themselves to death.

Miller said the remaining insects could be killed with a spray, but recommended removal of the elms, which are classed by most communities as "nuisance" trees because of their softness, and their tendency to break up quickly in heavy weather.

Chinese elms, Miller said, "over extend themselves in growth," and become so weak that often a heavy rainstorm will split branches and trunks, leading to rapid decay and danger of falling.

Carrington readily agreed to removal of the trees and replacing them with one of the popular, hardwood varieties.

VFW Still Leads Softball Loop

The Veterans of Foreign Wars continues to lead the Adult Softball league with an undefeated record. The team added number nine Monday night by defeating Clarenceville 8 to 2.

Cy Owens kept its clutch on second position with a 5 to 4 decision over the Optimist Club in the other game Monday night. The Owens team now has seven wins as against two losses.

The Mayor's team, formerly in a tie for fifth, moved up into third place with two victories and now has a 5 and 5 record. The Mayors topped Walled Lake Door last Thursday, 7 to 4, then had a game handed to them Tuesday night on an interference penalty, 10 to 9. The American Legion team was the victim.

In the other game Tuesday, Walled Lake Door registered its first victory of the season, getting to the Bloom's Insurance team 5 to 4.

Order Building Code Study by Attorney

A detailed study of the Northville building code will be made this week and next by Village Attorney Philip Ogilvie to determine if erection of the Gunnison pre-fabricated model home on Rayson St. is in violation of the code, as charged July 6 by Sid Frid, of Grace St.

Specifically, Frid said that the Gunnison home does not contain six-inch rafters and joists as called for by our building code. He was not present at the meeting Monday.

Real purpose of the study by Ogilvie is to discover if the building inspector, J. Stanley Waterloo, has discretionary powers in allowing construction other than specifically stated in the code. Three other Gunnison homes have already been built in the village, and several in the township, according to Harry Duerson, representative in the area for Gunnison.

In Most Codes

Discretion by building inspectors, according to the Gunnison technicians at the Commission meeting Monday night, is found in most building codes. Purpose is to give elasticity to codes which may not be revised or amended over a long period of time, while newer and better methods of construction are developed, surpassing what is called for in an old code.

"We've run across codes," said one of the technicians, William Neiles, "which still call for screw construction rather than nail construction." If a building inspector did not have power to approve new construction methods, he indicated, very little building could be done in some localities.

Over-rule Inspector

"The commission will have to over-rule building inspector Waterloo," stated Commissioner John Stubenvoll. He said that whether the Gunnison house is superior or not, the technical violation still exists, unless study of the code proves otherwise.

Stubenvoll then suggested that, to wrap up the discussion as quickly as possible, a public hearing be held at the next commission meeting Aug. 3, if study of the code by Ogilvie reveals no solution. Duerson said that three other families here are interested in building Gunnison homes, but that nothing can be done until the violation matter is settled.

Deny Suggestion to Extend Deadline on Trailer Permits

A suggestion to allow trailers to remain in Northville in excess of the time allowed in the new trailer ordinance met with quick rejection by the Village Commission Monday night.

The suggestion was made in a letter to the commission from Mrs. A. C. Carlson, who said that horsemen who will have entries in the Wolverine meet do not have satisfactory facilities for trailers near the Livonia track. She suggested that trailers be allowed to remain in Northville for the duration of the meet, Aug. 10 through Sept. 19. The trailer ordinance here allows them to stay for ten days only after racing ends in Northville.

Commissioner Claude Ely returned the first "no" to the suggestion, and other commissioners followed suit.

Commissioner John Stubenvoll thought there was merit in her suggestion, as did other commissioners, that the trailer occupants benefit local business. They emphasize, however, that the commission had recently finished the new trailer ordinance after several months of work, and that it will be useless if they start riddling it with amendments.

Commission to Meet With Architect

A signed contract has been returned to the Village Commission by Walter Anicka, Ann Arbor architect who is drawing plans for the Northville Community building.

He will meet with the commission at its Aug. 3 meeting to go over details of the building and lay out a time schedule for beginning construction at the corner of W. Main and West streets.

Commissioners agreed that since the FHA and VA authorized loans on Gunnison homes, and since cities such as Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Lansing and Ann Arbor approved the homes, that Gunnison construction would probably equal or surpass the Northville building code requirements.

Best Solution

Best overall solution to future difficulties, said Stubenvoll, is to study the new City of Detroit building code expected to be completed this fall or winter. "We can re-write our own code, using whatever applies to us, when the Detroit code is finished," he stated. Neiles said that Detroit engineers are conducting a detailed study of Gunnison homes now, and that information about them will probably be included in the Detroit code.

Stubenvoll said that if a public hearing indicated, an amendment could be made to the present code to approve Gunnison homes. Anyone still wishing to register objections could do so in the 21-day statutory period between passing of an amendment and its effective date.

A sidelight furnished by Neiles was that in the Worcester, Mass., tornado this year, a housing project of Gunnison homes and others was destroyed. "Our houses went down like the others," he said, "but, because of our kind of construction, the houses came apart in panels, rather than splintering and shattering." He said some officials in that area attributed the saving of lives in the tornado to that fact.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

Well, this particular fellow we have in mind came in the showroom the other day to buy a new Studebaker, which he did with speed and delight, not only his, but a bit of ours. He told us that his father-in-law ought to own Studebakers, as the economy of the car should be most appealing, what with his father-in-law having most of the money in the world and a disinclination to part with the stuff. "In fact," he said, "the old man all ready has figured out how to take it with him, it's only how to fire-proof the stuff that has him worried."

A guy like that should relax and part with small samples here and there and enjoy himself while he's up and about. Get out and go places and be the best way of going places is in one of the lovely Studebakers for '53. All the beauty, all the comfort, all the power he can hope to find in this mundane world is packed into that beautiful bundle called the Studebaker. You'll enjoy one, too, and you don't have to have his money. Just a bit of a down payment and there you are, the highways of America open to your every wish. Come in today or tomorrow and let us demonstrate why you should be the proud owner of a fine Studebaker.

Oh, well, sooner or later, you'll come to the decision that the Studebaker is the car for you, and in the meantime we'll have to tell of the conference we had with a married man with troubles. He told us that he was worried, that his wife had developed an inferiority complex.

"That's easy to cure," we told him, "just take her to a psychiatrist."

"Wait a minute," he yelled, "I don't want to cure her, I want to keep her that way!"

Now the only way to cure your car of an inferiority complex is to bring it to the attention of our expert mechanics especially if it's been doing a bit of loafing lately. There's nothing like an expert tune-up to revitalize a sluggish motor and a complete lubrication will give the car the 'get-up-and-go' you've always wanted it to have. Be a good idea to bring it around and have a better driving car for the long summer ahead.

That's that, but a fellow told us a true friend is one that thinks you're a good egg when you're broke.

THE FARMINGTON SURPLUS

It's mighty unusual these days to hear about a government acquiring a surplus out of its general operating budget. In fact, it is more than unusual . . . it is extremely gratifying.

Yet that is what the citizens of the City of Farmington learned last week. With no increase in the tax rate, the city government reported a surplus of over $20,000 from its 1952-53 budget. This entire sum has been earmarked for capital improvements which will benefit all of the citizens of the city.

The acquiring of a surplus which far exceeds any previous record is a tribute to the present government of the city. Revenues have increased considerably due to the rapid growth and development of the community, but with this growth have come additional demands for service which, under normal circumstances, would offset the new revenues. Thus, in spite of a tremendous growth in population, with its increased problems, the city has still been able to acquire a substantial surplus.

This has largely been accomplished by careful management. More efficient purchasing, installation of time-saving equipment, better employee relations, more thorough and efficient operation of the various departments of the government have added up to real savings for the taxpayers. But probably the most important advantage of all is the increased service being rendered. That is what the people pay for and what they have a right to expect.

It is not the responsibility of government to amass a huge surplus, it is to use the taxpayers' money for facilities and services which will be of greatest benefit to the entire community. We feel that the city is making important strides in that direction. The new surplus, earmarked for capital improvements, is living testimony of that fact!

Polio Hospital Moving from Pontiac to Farmington Convalescent Center

Improved facilities for the fight against polio were promised Michigan this week with the announcement that the Sister Kenny Polio Hospital will move from 1075 Telegraph Rd., Pontiac, to the Children's Hospital of Michigan Convalescent Center in Farmington.

Dexter Horton, president of the Sister Kenny Foundation of Michigan, a Torch Drive agency, said that the Kenny Hospital would occupy the west wing of the Convalescent Center.

Alterations Necessary

Two weeks of alterations will be necessary before the first of 20 patients, currently under treatment, can be transferred, Horton said. Other patients and equipment at the present site will be transferred gradually. It is expected that the move will be completed by August 20.

Dr. John C. Montgomery, Detroit pediatrician, and head of the Kenny advisory board, said that in taking over the more modern and spacious wing of Children's in Wayne County, the Kenny facilities would be more available in Metropolitan Detroit and equally convenient for outstate patients.

92 Treated at Peak

During critical polio periods the Pontiac hospital has treated as many as 92 patients, although normal capacity is 40 beds, Dr. Montgomery said. The Farmington hospital will accommodate over 50 patients at normal capacity.

In a recent report to the executive committee of the Kenny Foundation, E. J. Rollings, executive vice-president, said that the hospital's busiest year since it opened in 1948 saw 270 polio patients admitted in 1952.

That topped the previous high of 220, established in 1949 and, in addition, the total of 71,695 individual Kenny treatments for the disease set another new record. "The treatment total includes 1,080 out-patient treatments," Rollings said.

Half From Detroit

He also pointed out that hospital records showed that, while patients are admitted from any part of the state, 53 per cent of those treated last year were from the Metropolitan Detroit area, a strong factor in deciding the transfer to Farmington.

The severity of the epidemic necessitated in 1952 two emergency grants of Torch Drive funds to the Kenny Foundation for the year's operation. The United Foundation allocated $120,820 to the group from the 1951 drive. Additional grants of $10,000 and

Tornado Tracker Ready for Use

A method by which tornadoes can be identified and tracked across the skies, a big step in the eventual elimination of mass casualties by the destructive winds, has been developed.

Dr. H. L. Jones of Oklahoma A and M College has experimented for six years on a mechanical system of tracking the twisters and it can now be brought out of the laboratory and used to warn those in the path of on-rushing tornadoes.

Radiates Charge

Jones claims that tornado storms radiate a certain type of electrical charge that makes them different from other storms. In a progress report recently released, he said he is ready to help set up a nation-wide system when officials authorize it.

Jones adds that it will be up to the states, federal government or private business to finance these tracking stations, which could spot the tornadoes, chart their courses and alert towns in their paths.

$300,000 for Station

He estimates that a station and its equipment would cost about $300,000 and that six men would be needed to man each station. The cost, he says, would be minor compared to the lives and property damage such a system could save.

For the first six months of 1953 tornadoes have taken more than 250 lives.

50 to 100 Stations

Jones rough guesses that it would take from 50 to 100 stations over the country to make the warning system effective. The effective range of a station is decided by one of its instruments, radar, which has a normal radius of 130 miles.

Jones' method is based on his

4 Basic Pieces
He uses four basic pieces of equipment — radar, direction finding apparatus, wave form analyzer (an oscilloscope which transfers the high voltage discharges into visible lines) and a storm-intensity incident azimuth integrator (called a tornado meter).

First, radar locates a heavy storm center. The oscilloscope is used to determine if a tornado wave pattern is in evidence, and in conjunction with the direction-finder to determine the azimuth of the storms of highest intensity. The tornado meter measures the degree of activity.

by Gene Alleman

"Is it safe to eat?" That's a question Michigan people rarely ask themselves unless they are in faraway lands.

People in this country take for granted that food and drink offered for sale here is wholesome and can be consumed without danger of contracting disease. It is natural that we should make this assumption for experience has shown us that such is the case.

This desirable condition didn't just happen. It is the result of the combined efforts of many governmental agencies. An important member of this group is the state Department of Agriculture.

The department's main function is to see that some 120 state laws and 75 regulations are complied with by everyone concerned with supplying food to the public. Seven separate bureaus divide this work and function under administration of the department's director, Charles Figy.

A wide range of activities are covered by these bureaus which include: laboratories, dairy and marketing and enforcement. Other bureaus control the growth of

THE ANGRY ARCHER!

A lot of bow and arrow boys (and girls) are going to be mad again this fall around about October 1st. Prior to last year, in the lower peninsula, they just about had the woods to themselves in their quest for deer in that early part of October. Then the dream world collapsed! The bird hunters got a season starting October 1st, too, and these two species of sportsmen don't always see eye to eye.

Gunfire, running dogs, and deer don't all get along together, according to the archers. With the earlier opening of the bird season coinciding with the opening of the bow and arrow season for deer, the four-legged quarry took fright, became almost too timid to stalk, and greatly reduced the archer's chance at a shot.

The Bird Hunters' Story

The complaints are not mutual. Bird hunters rarely complain of archers—and why should they? No human hunter makes less disturbance in the woods. Archers complain that many bird dogs chase deer—and unfortunately this is true. They further report that the blast of a shotgun will startle a deer two miles away, but no bird hunter ever said the twang of a bow string would flush a partridge more than 50 feet away. So the story is rather one-sided.

Bird hunters, however, are not too enthusiastic about their sport so early in the season. The heavy cover of leaves still on the trees makes it all but impossible to even see a partridge as it rises. And they'll tell you, too, that a pat won't hold to a dog's point half as well in early October as they will when the leaves are gone and heavy frost has killed the brake.

So take hope, you archers! Maybe this year won't find very many bird hunters afield come October 1st. Most of them will wait 'til mid-October for their sport, and you'll have the field to yourselves, for a while at least.

Bowhunting Worth Protecting

While this writer is both a bird hunter and bow-hunter, my vote goes for the best interests of the archer who always seems to get the most from his contact with Michigan Outdoors, despite the fact that his effect on the population of the deer herd is all but negligible. His appreciation of all outdoors seems greater, his sense of good sportsmanship keener, and his fellowship always most enjoyable.

Long live bowhunting in Michigan Outdoors!

plants and trees, animal diseases, care of buildings and grounds. Such matters as public relations, livestock sales, farm coordination and many others are handled by the bureau of agricultural industry.

Constant investigation and check on every phase of food production goes on. Sanitary conditions of the farmer, wholesaler and retail grocer are continually under scrutiny. Much effort is made to guarantee the consumer that his purchases will be full weight, properly labeled and unadulterated.

Close watch is maintained for outbreaks of plant or animal disease, and should any develop, necessary measures are swiftly taken. The Department of Agriculture also provides a grading service to establish officially, the quality of a product introduced on the open market.

About 95% of the people are anxious to cooperate," says Director Figy, who believes that members of the food industry realize the value of the Department's operation. High standards maintained continually make it easier for wheels of the food industry to turn efficiently. This takes constant supervision.

Until 1921, when the Department of Agriculture was organized, Michigan State College was charged with many of the tasks now in the hands of the department. Alex Grosbeck was governor when the Legislature voted to set up the Departments as a regulatory agency. This left to the college the tasks of disseminating information and engaging in agricultural research.

A commission of five members, appointed by the governor, sets the policy for the department. The director is responsible to them; employees are under civil service.

Much work is done "in the field." About 425 people make up the staff of the Department. Of these, only 80 remain in Lansing offices to do office and laboratory work. The balance are inspectors, checking various phases of food production throughout the state.

About 125 are inspectors who are employed on a temporary basis. They make up a rotating group of specialists who work with specific crops. When their work is through, they move to other areas and are replaced by experts in a new field demanding attention. Rotation of this type of inspector is coordinated by the federal government in cooperation with several other states.

Lives and money have been saved by some dramatic experience of the Department. Dreaded anthrax, a disease suddenly fatal to cows as well as humans, was reported in the U. S. last year. Quick work and strict precautions prevented the death of many people in Michigan. Records show that 111 cattle here died, but a preventative program stopped an epidemic in its tracks. Cause of the anthrax is believed to have been traced to bonemeal import-

Students Attend Speech Institute

Mary and Lucien Lovewell, 148 E. Main St., and Sara Burks, 8564 W. Seven Mile Rd., are attending the 5th annual Michigan State College Speech Institute for high school students at East Lansing. The three students attend Northville High School.

The program at East Lansing is divided into three groups: forensics, debate and dramatics. Public speaking, voice and diction, and general speech instruction are included in all three groups, although the bulk of work is concentrated on specific phases. Mary and Lucien are enrolled in the forensics section. Sara is enrolled in the radio section of the Institute.

The entire section attends a three and one-half hour practice session in the morning, and splits into respective groups for further practice in the afternoon.

A recreation schedule has been planned for students' free time before the Institute ends July 24 with a banquet.

ed from another country.

Present battles include an attempt to prevent spread of a Dutch elm disease which made its appearance near Detroit in 1950. Oak wilt, a disease which threatens to kill any oak tree it infests, is being combatted.

Sometimes new laws must be passed to give the Department control of a situation. That was true this year when hog vesicular exanthema, a disease contracted from feeding hogs raw garbage, appeared. Many interested parties wanted laws passed preventing such feed. The Department was consulted for advice and aided in the formulation of a law which was later passed.

Much power is held by the Department, but it is wielded only when necessary. Its agents can condemn livestock to death (but makes cash adjustment); can cut down orchards which constitute a disease threat to a crop area. No tree or plant can be legally moved without the Department's permission; no livestock can be transported without its sanction.

These are precautions that can be taken to protect public welfare and prevent great economic loss from disease. The Department has other responsibilities involving grading of products, conservation, drainage and local agricultural organizations.

Public's faith in the market's food products is the best testimony for the good job that is being performed daily by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Jane Fulkerson Married In Salem Federated Church

Jane Marie Fulkerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Fulkerson of West Six Mile Rd., became the bride of Robert Stanley Barker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barker of South Lyon on Saturday, July 18.

The Rev. Douglas M. Couch solemnized the double ring nuptials in the Salem Federated Church at 7 p.m. before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli, daisies and palms.

Organ music preceding and during the ceremony was presented by J. R. Hertzberg of South Lyon and Mrs. Hertzberg sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

A ballerina length gown of chantilly lace and net over taffeta was the bride's choice for her wedding. A pointed lace collar and brief sleeves accented the fitted lace bodice and a voluminous net and lace skirt billowed over a taffeta underskirt.

A cap of matching lace with a modified brim of shirred net, crested with seed pearls, first worn by the bride's sister, confined her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a white bible adorned with an orchid and ivy arrangement with tiny white rosebuds caught in the knotted satin streamers.

As matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Cole of Northville, sister of the bride, chose to wear a gown of champagne net over aqua taffeta. A stole of matching brown net complemented the strapless molded bodice and her corsage of bronze tea roses and the full skirt fell in graduated tiers to a ballerina length.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Ivan Rogers of Monroeville, O., and Robert Cole of Northville seated the guests.

Mrs. Fulkerson witnessed her daughter's wedding ceremony in a dress of aqua silk shantung with white accessories and Mrs. Barker, mother of the bridegroom, wore a pink linen suit accented by white accessories. Both mothers were presented shoulder corsages of pink rosebuds.

One hundred twenty-five guests were present at a reception after the ceremony at the Veterans' Memorial Hall, Northville. Fay

Dorothy Stueckle Dons Sister's Gown for Evening Rites

Dorothy Stueckle wore her sister's bridal gown of nylon marquisette and chantilly lace when she became the bride of Paul F. Blasey Saturday evening, July 11.

The nuptial vows were repeated before the Rev. E. E. Rossow in the St. Paul's Lutheran Church which was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and shattered mums among the candelabra.

Mrs. Arthur Miller sang "O Perfect Love", "The Lord's Prayer" and the "Benediction" with Louis Meisner at the organ console.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stueckle, Dorothy was given in marriage by her brother, Paul, to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Blasey of Ypsilanti. Insertions of chantilly lace which outlined the drop shoulder yoke of her bridal gown, were repeated in the softly shirred skirt and the band of insertion at the hemline extended into a chapel train of marquisette. A net halo secured her fingertip veil and she carried a white orchid arrangement atop a white prayer book. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

A floor length organid frock of nile green eyelet embroidery was worn by honor matron, Mrs. James Walden of South Lyon, sister of the bride. A band of matching organid circled her hair and her flowers were a cascade bouquet of yellow gladioli and mums. The bride's brother-in-law, James Walden, of South Lyon, attended as best man and the ushers were Arthur Miller of Northville and Walter Karrer of Grand Rapids.

Seventy-five guests greeted the newlyweds at a reception held immediately following the ceremony in the parish hall. For the occasion, Mrs. Blasey, mother of the bridegroom, chose to wear green silk shantung with white accessories and an orchid pinned to her shoulder.

Assisting at the bride's table were Mrs. Greta Lidke of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Walter Karrer of Grand Rapids and Selma Schnute was in charge of the guest book.

For a week's wedding trip through northern Michigan, the bride changed into a travel costume of beige cotton topped by an eyelet bolero and accented by the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Ypsilanti where the bridegroom is employed by the plant department of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

The bride, who received her education in Detroit schools, was associated with Michigan Bell's traffic department. She formerly resided at 115 Walnut St., Northville.

Wedding guests were present from Detroit, Grand Rapids, Indiana, Novi, Ypsilanti and Livonia.

Ensign and Mrs. Jack H. Stephan

June Richardson Becomes Bride of Ensign Stephan

Large baskets of gladioli, chrysanthemums, palms and ivory tapers in cathedral standards flanked the altar of the First Methodist Church Sunday night, July 12, when June Ann Richardson and Ensign Jack H. Stephan exchanged marriage vows.

June's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh G. Richardson of Spring Dr., and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stephan of Detroit are the parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. William Hughes of Milan performed the double ring service at 7:30. Mrs. Bart Connors at the organ accompanied her son, Barton, as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin gown first worn by her sister at her wedding. A high neckline and long, close fitting sleeves accented the molded bodice and the full skirt swept into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of ivory illusion was held in place with a Chantilly lace cap etched with tiny seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses with streamers.

A color scheme of delicate shades of pink and blue was carried out in the attire of the bridal attendants. Mrs. Donald Bray, sister of the bride and matron of honor, was gowned in an ice blue and net and a wreath of daisies circled her hair. She carried a basket of pink daisies.

Mrs. Charles Hilston, a former college roommate of the bride, who attended as bridesmaid, was gowned identically to the matron of honor in shell pink and carried a basket of blue daisies. The junior bridesmaid, Lynda Power, and the flower girl, Marlene Dzienis were gowned in shades of pink and blue and carried baskets of pink and blue daisies. They wore matching wreaths of daisies in their hair.

Hugh Bray, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer. Ensign Charles R. Hilston of Ferndale, a fraternity brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and guests were seated by Donald Bray of Royal Oak and Edwin Rabin of Flint.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Richardson chose a blue tulle dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Stephan wore a deep lavender dress with black accessories and each mother wore a corsage of orchids.

Following the ceremony guests were greeted at a reception in the church house. Ensign and Mrs. Stephan left for a wedding trip to Otsego Lake with the new Mrs. Stephan wearing a light blue summer suit with navy accessories as her travel costume.

June was graduated from Northville High School and Michigan State Normal College. At present she is on the teaching staff in Royal Oak and will resume her duties there this fall.

Jack was graduated from Denby High School and Michigan State Normal College. He was on the Royal Oak teaching staff before entering Naval Officer's Candidate School where he was commissioned. He will report in San Francisco Aug. 1 where he has been assigned staff duty.

Would You Believe It?

If Dishes Were Wishes, They'd Always Be Clean

We can't wish dishes clean, so the next best solution is to follow a simple plan of action as worked out by dishwashing laboratory experts. First in your recipe to save time and motion is... Teamwork. Even dishwashing is more fun when you do it with someone. Comfortable clothing is next for a good job well done. Sleeves up, on with an apron. A tray to carry in stacks of dishes at one time (particularly after a party). Scrape food and grease off plates, sudsing with the new, economical Lux Liquid Detergent (one can will wash 2,000 dishes). Sorting makes for greater efficiency, too. First glassware into the dishpan, then silver, china, and utensils, in that order. Soaking pots and pans clean is accomplished while you dine. Just fill with hot water and pour in a few drops of detergent from the can, to dissolve the grease. Rinsing under the faucet, with a spray, or in a pan of hot water, leaves dishes and glassware sparkling... pots and pans shining clean. Dishwashing is never a picnic, but it can be a lot easier with the systematic efficiency of your new seven point program.

Water Ski Show at St. Clair Beach

More than a dozen national and international water ski champions will put on water ski shows Saturday and Sunday, August 1 and 2, at St. Clair Metropolitan Beach.

Headed by Margaret Williams, America's water ski queen and 1952 national woman champion, the troupe will include five members of the famous skiing Sligh family and seven others from Michigan's water ski capitol, Macatawa Park.

Charles Sligh, Jr., president of the National Water Ski Association, will comment on the hour-long shows to be given at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. each day.

Good View

Bleachers will be set up on the beach affording a good view of the course for all. There is no charge, except the usual beach parking toll.

Dick Sligh, famed as a trick rider and instructor, Charles Sligh III, Patricia Sligh and Bob Sligh complete the family representation.

A six-foot high jump will be used and the tow-boat will speed up to 40 miles an hour. Among the features will be 360 degree turns on the water and over the jump, backward jumps, one ski slalom riding, pyramid formations and doubles, the use of shoe skis (very short and broad) and a whirling disc. Barefoot skiing, one of the most difficult of all feats, will be performed if the water is calm enough.

Most of the skiers have won national and international championships in the past two, and three years and many have performed at Cypress Gardens, Fla. Miss Williams was a headliner at New York's Jones Beach last year and is seen with the Cypress Gardens troupe in "Cinerama".

Smaller scale water ski exhibitions are being given daily at 3:30 p.m. at the beach, Wednesday through Sunday, by Miss Williams and Dick Sligh who are conducting water ski school there this summer. On Saturdays and Sundays they are joined for their shows by Elizabeth Sharp.

Homecoming in South Lyon Set

Several pieces of army equipment are expected for the South Lyon Homecoming parade Saturday, July 25, along with floats, horses and bands.

Each night during the festivities — Thursday, Friday and Saturday — prizes will be given away in the big exhibitors' tent.

Friday and Saturday nights will feature free square dancing for the public. Amateur contests will occur on all three nights, and the queen of the celebration will be crowned on Friday.

Walled Lake Church Plans Fiesta Dinner

Roast turkey and all the trimmings will be served in a gay Mexican setting of sombreros and cacti at the annual Fiesta Dinner sponsored by the ladies of the Reformatory Altar Society at St. William's Church, Walled Lake, on Sunday, July 26.

Serving of the family style dinner will be from 1 to 6 p.m. in the church hall dining room.

An afternoon concert will be presented by St. Vincent's Catholic Pipe Band; and dolls and hand made articles will be for sale at various display booths on the church grounds.

Top Model Plane Judges Expected at 'Aeroneers' Meet

Demonstrating stunt flying at the Northville Aeroneers Model Airplane meet Sunday, July 26, will be Nelson Farley, of Ypsilanti, nationally known champion in stunt flying at national and state meets.

Al Temple, another top performer, who specializes in U-Control speed flying, will also be on hand for demonstrations, and to help local model builders with problems.

Farley will demonstrate U-Control and free flying and show Aeroneer members what to look for when planes don't fly right. The Academy of Model Aeronautics recognizes him as a top judge, stated Alvin Skow, mentor of the local club.

The Suburban Model Airplane contest, to be held at the corner of East Seven Mile and Newburg roads at 11 p.m. Sunday, is expected to attract a large entry list from Northville, Milford, Brighton, Plymouth, South Lyon, Livonia and the Ann Arbor area. Spectators are urged to attend.

Prizes will be model airplane kits and gasoline engines. The Exchange Club of Northville sponsors the Aeroneers.

Zoo Animals on Children's Program

Though the animals won't be on hand in person, an exciting film taken at the Detroit Zoo will be shown and intimate stories about many favorites will be told on the children's program "Friend from the Zoo" on Thursday, July 20 at 2 p.m., in the Lecture Hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts. Keith Kragg, assistant zoological curator of the zoo will conduct the entertainment. Last in the series of summer programs for children is a puppet show on Aug. 6, and while this like all the others is free of charge, tickets should be picked up in advance at the Information Desk in the lobby to insure a seat.

STATE PARKS BUSY

Michigan's three score parks, under the able management of our Conservation Department, are playing host to an all-time record number of visitors this year from just about every state in the union! More than thirteen million people may emerge from summer vacations in 1953, all with a good word to say for these parks.

While this writer is not entirely in sympathy with the idea that the administration of these important points of welcome to Michigan Outdoors has been admirable and able in every respect. Under the fine hand of Arthur C. Elmer, chief of Parks and Recreation, the personnel in charge conduct themselves nobly—and the job of handling such vast numbers of people requires a noble touch!

Facilities Broadened

Naturally the most popular parks are those located on or near water, and during the hot months of July and August great throngs of visitors single them out for attention. Swimming facilities at these parks have been fully developed in most cases, and great care is taken to make the bathing beaches safe for the entire family.

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show can be seen every Thursday over WWJ-TV, Channel 4, in a thrilling full half-hour show—10:00 till 10:30 p.m. DON'T MISS IT!

Half of State Good for Sufferers of Hay Fever

If you suffer from ragweed hay fever, you can expect to find some relief in nearly half of Michigan.

A summary of the ten-year experience (1940-49) of the Michigan Department of Health in counting ragweed pollen in selected locations throughout the state shows that the upper third of the Lower Peninsula and all of the Upper Peninsula have a comparatively short ragweed hay fever season as compared to the southern half of the state.

There was little or no change in the relative distribution of ragweed pollen from year to year in the ten-year study.

The ragweed hay fever "season" in Michigan begins about mid-August when pollen concentration reaches 100 grains per cubic yard of air in a 24-hour period. At this point the average sufferer begins to feel the characteristic symptoms of hay fever. The season usually reaches its peak about the last week in August and the first week in September when pollen counts in the southern part of the state may soar to 4,000 or 5,000 grains per cubic yard of air per day. It lasts until about the third week in September, or until the first killing frost.

Areas with an average season of five days or less are Boyne City, St. Ignace, Sault Ste Marie, Isle Royal, Charlevoix, Houghton, Petoskey, Alpena, Marquette, Rogers City, Cheboygan, Gladwin, Newberry, Mackinac Island, Munising and Ontonagon.

Those sections with the longest seasons over 20 days are Coldwater, Sturgis, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Battle Creek, Lansing, Midland, Mt. Clemens, Flint, Benton Harbor, Jackson, South Haven, Elsie, Hillsdale and Bay City.

Hay fever sufferers can't ex-

Camp sites are fully provided with all essentials, too. Despite the heavy pressure in almost all parks one is impressed with the cleanliness of the property, reflecting not only the diligence of the management, but the cooperation of the public, too.

Many of the parks are equipped with diversified recreational materials such as tennis courts, baseball diamonds, and outdoor grills strategically spotted to take advantage of big shade trees wherever possible.

Free Admission

The facilities available in these State Parks are all free, save for a modest camping fee for overnighters—presenting the biggest bargain in outdoor fun and relaxation ever offered! Visitors sometimes wonder why the State does not help its stricken budget to some extent by charging admission, though it may be only a thin dime! Multiply ten cents by thirteen million and you'll see how the end of the fiscal year could show enough in the cash drawer to help bolster the Department's budget. It costs a lot of money to run the parks. One finds it hard to understand why they should not be at least partially self-supporting, especially when the cost could be almost painless to those who enjoy them most!

The department's monthly activity report shows the Flint detail alone accounted for 27,375 man hours, 15 more than the total of 27,360 spent on traffic patrol for the entire month.

Traffic patrol was 32 per cent under 40,525 man hours in May. Arrests totaled 4,595, including 3,793 for traffic offenses, a drop of 28 per cent under 6,412 the previous month.

There were 5,792 complaints handled in all matters as compared to 6,353 in May, a nine per cent decrease.

The East Lansing headquarters identification bureau received 8,608 sets of fingerprints of which 5,084 were processed as criminal and 3,524 as non-criminal.

In handling 724 sets of fingerprints submitted in connection with applications for licenses to carry concealed weapons, 73 applicants were found to have criminal records. Likewise, through fingerprints, 25 persons wanted by police as fugitives from justice were identified.

Convention for Deaf Held in Detroit

Mrs. E. J. Willis and her staff of volunteers who read to the blind, were in attendance at the Convention for the Deaf held in Detroit July 14 to 19. The theme of the convention was "The Apostrophe of the deaf, for the deaf, by the deaf."

The triple objective discussed and implemented by priest and lay delegates represented about 2,000 persons. Rev. Vincent de Paul Burnier of Julz de Fora, Brazil, the only priest in the world today deaf from birth, was guest of honor. He was ordained in Rome in 1951 and Vatican records reveal only one other similar case 400 years ago.

The silent ones of ICDA were honored at a reception by Mayor Cobo, followed by the convention ball at the Statler Hotel, Friday night.

Blood Bank Tuesday Nets 82 Pints

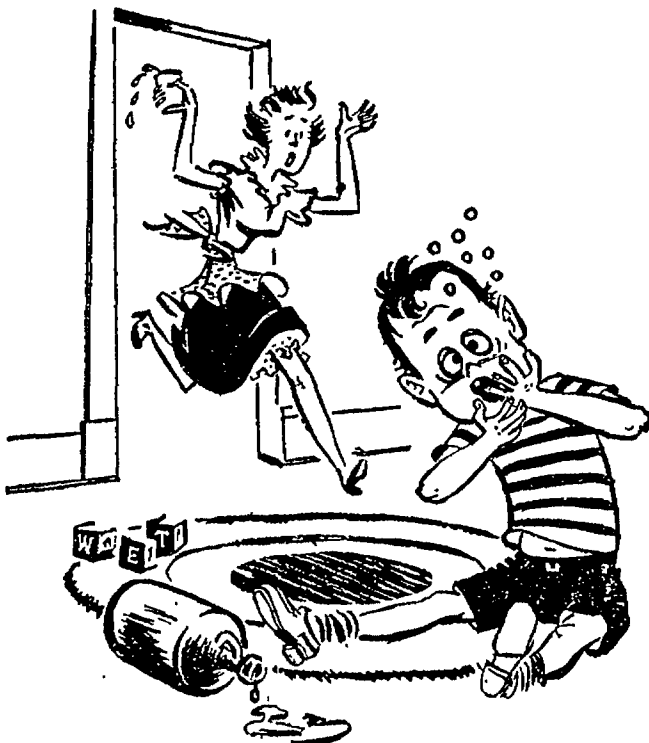

The Ford Day blood bank held at the First Methodist Church House Tuesday netted 82 pints of blood, according to Chairman Mrs. William E. Forney. Most of the donors came from the Northville and Waterford plants, and all of the blood will go into the Ford bank.

Each individual is responsible for himself.

pect to escape entirely from ragweed pollen in Michigan, but can expect some relief in the North where the season is shorter. A map showing the relative distribution of ragweed pollen in Michigan can be obtained by writing the Michigan Department of Health in Lansing.

Kerosene is poisonous. Quickly dilute it by giving several glasses of liquid. Induce vomiting. Call a doctor. Clearly label the kerosene and keep it out of Junior's reach from now on. Learn how to detect hazards, prevent accidents, and give emergency care by joining a Red Cross first aid class.

Storm, Manhunt Reduce State Police Activity

General activities of the Michigan State Police suffered a sharp decline in June due to special details assigned to the Flint tornado disaster and the upper peninsula search for Marquette prison escapees.

At the outset of the Flint disaster June 8, a total of 279 officers were rushed to the scene. At the same time 150 officers were taking part in the upper peninsula manhunt. Only enough men to operate communications facilities were left at the posts and patrol activities were suspended.

The department's monthly activity report shows the Flint detail alone accounted for 27,375 man hours, 15 more than the total of 27,360 spent on traffic patrol for the entire month.

Traffic patrol was 32 per cent under 40,525 man hours in May. Arrests totaled 4,595, including 3,793 for traffic offenses, a drop of 28 per cent under 6,412 the previous month.

Northville Wins Final Ball Game

The Northville baseball team finished regular season competition Sunday with a 3 to 1 victory over Grandale at Cass Benton Park, tallying runs in the third, sixth and eighth innings. Grandale got its lone run in the first.

George Tracey went the distance for Northville, registering ten strikeouts to keep his average at more than ten per game for the season.

Play-offs in the Inter-County League will begin Sunday, with Northville playing River Rouge at Cass Benton at 3:30 p.m. Food Fair and Teamsters will play a game there at 1 p.m. Grandale will play at Wayne, and Faris and Plymouth Sunday. Both games will be at 3:30 p.m.

Auto Club, with a 13 game undefeated season, drew the first bye and will not play Sunday. Northville drew a bye for next Sunday. The tournament will be a lose-two-and-out affair. Sunday's winners will play winners on Aug. 2, and losers will play losers.

Final standings among the nine teams in the playoffs are: Auto Club, 13 and 0; Northville, 11 and 1 (plus 2 ties); Teamsters, 9 and 4; Food Fair, Wayne and River Rouge, 8 and 5; Grandale, 7 and 6; Plymouth, 6 and 6 (one tie), and Faris, 6 and 2 (five ties).

Teams which finished with better than a .500 average qualified for the playoffs.

Do your duty, and leave the rest to heaven.

The program is being sponsored jointly by the local Methodist and Presbyterian churches, both of which support missionary work among the Indians. The public is invited to the program.

Pleasure is nought but virtue's gayer name.

Michigan State to Build New Library

A new design in library construction, which permits thousands of students to be served at all times without standing in line at main desks, will be a feature of Michigan State College's new library building, shown in this architect's drawing. An initial appropriation of $1 million has been earmarked for the library by the Michigan Legislature, with construction to begin when the money is officially made available. The library will be the largest in America yet built on the "divisional reading room" principle, according to M.S.C. Librarian Jackson Towne. This means the breaking up of the "conventional" library into large subject reading rooms with thousands of volumes on open shelves. Under this plan, 15,000 M.S.C. students can be served without the "bottleneck" problem in present library facilities. M.S.C.'s present library was built in 1925 when enrollment was 2,500. The new $4 million building is to contain space for one million volumes, more than 100 faculty rooms for research, 200 cubicles for graduate students and a specially-equipped reading room for blind students. Containing four floors and a basement, the structure will be constructed of steel and concrete with a red brick veneer.

Prolonged Illness Claims Mrs. Renwick; Burial Today

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Whipple Renwick died at her home in New Hudson Monday night, July 20 at 83 years of age.

The body will lay in state at the Phillips Funeral Home, South Lyon, until noon today. Funeral services are to be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, from the New Hudson Methodist Church of which she was a member, with the Rev. James Roberts officiating. Interment will follow at New Hudson Cemetery.

Mrs. Renwick, known by her friends as "Matie", was born Dec. 10, 1870 to the late James and Jane Whipple on west Northville Township. On January 19, 1898 she became the bride of Jay Marquette Renwick and came to the Renwick home on Grand River east of New Hudson. Later the couple moved to their farm on Old Plank Rd. where she spent the remainder of her life.

In 1948, Mrs. Renwick and her husband observed their Golden Wedding anniversary and on July 2, 1952, Mr. Renwick died.

The deceased is survived by a daughter, Oral Stubbs, now of the home, and a son, Clair, of Novi.

American Legion Drive Slated for Flint Disaster Area

A drive for the collection of good, used furniture and household goods is under way by members of the Lloyd H. Green Post 147, American Legion, for distribution in the Flint tornado disaster area.

"Any usable item of household furnishings is desperately needed by families trying to re-establish their homes destroyed in the recent tornado disaster," said Conrad Springer, post commander, who is spearheading the drive.

"Many of them will have to start from scratch," he continued, "and will need everything from living room suites to cooking utensils."

Articles will be taken to a fire hall near the devastated area where firemen and volunteers will make necessary minor repairs. Items will then be put on display in the fire hall for selection by qualified families.

Contributions of smaller articles may be left in the lobby of the Veterans' Memorial Building, suggested Mr. Springer. Arrangements may be made to pick up donations of items such as sofas, beds, tables, etc. by mailing a post card to Conrad Springer, Flint Relief Drive, 325 Lake St., Northville.

Michigan State Fair Looking for Queen

Once again the Michigan State Fair is looking for the queen of all Michigan beauty queens.

Her title will be "Miss Michigan State Fair of 1953" and she will be chosen by well-known judges and crowned by Governor Williams on Wednesday, Sept. 9. The State Fair opens Sept. 4 and runs through Sept. 13.

To qualify for the State Fair contest the candidate must have won a sponsored beauty contest in Michigan since the last State Fair. She must be at least 17 and not over 25 years of age.

Only one queen may be sent by the sponsoring group which pays the queen's expenses. Entry must be made by Wednesday, Aug. 26, on an official entry blank and mailed to the State Fair in Detroit to the attention of Graham T. Overgard.

The various queens will be invited to the opening day parade through downtown Detroit and will be guests of honor to other functions on the Fairgrounds.

Made by Reo Motors, the "Trollabout" do-it-yourself kit can be installed in a few hours by anyone handy with ordinary household tools. Powered by a 13-hp, 4-cycle, air-cooled Reo engine using regular gas, your boat glides along at a brisk clip or throttles down to any easy trolling pace. Performance is claimed to equal that of a 3-hp outboard. The installation, shown in the drawing, uses a novel pulley and belt arrangement which provides for neutral, forward, and reverse drives.

Accidents, Speed of Cars Increasing

The average speed at which cars are being driven in Michigan is increasing along with accidents and casualties, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, who is also a member of the State Safety Commission, reports.

Recent figures reveal it is more important than ever to heed the appeal of the commission's summer "Check Your Speed" campaign, now at the half way mark, he said.

"A check made this month by the State Highway Department at 21 selected locations showed that 18.4 per cent of all passenger cars were being driven in excess of 60 miles per hour," Childs said. "This was a gain of 2.2 over 16.2 per cent a similar check disclosed a year ago. Gains also were clocked in the speed ranges just below this mark."

"Cars are not only being driven faster, but there are more of them and more drivers. For the first five months of this year 67,000,000 miles were driven each day in Michigan as compared to less than 66,000,000 last year. During these summer months it is estimated the figure has jumped to at least 70,000,000. All of this means the hazards are multiplied."

Pointing out that a new all-time high monthly traffic casualty toll was recorded in May, Childs said that 48 per cent of the violations reported in traffic deaths were for speeding or driving too fast for conditions.

During May, the latest month for which figures are available, 5,433 persons were killed or injured in 16,092 accidents, also a new high.

Mr. Harry Richards, Sr. will be the guest speaker at next Sunday's service.

OBITUARY

Rollo Randall Dixon

Mr. Rollo Randall Dixon, who lived at 7901 Pontiac Trail, died July 16, 1953 in University Hospital of Ann Arbor following a short illness. Mr. Dixon was born on Jan. 1, 1880, in Jackson County, O., the son of Eli Dixon and Nancy Sampson Dixon. On Aug. 15, 1899, he married Charity Trotter, and they lived near Belleville until 1910 when they moved to their farm home near Worden, where they lived for 43 years. For over 35 years he was foreman of the Salem Yard Washtenaw Road Commission, after his appointment to this position in April, 1917. Surviving him besides his wife are a son, Daniel J., of Milan; one daughter, Mrs. Thurman (Ruby) Bunn, of South Lyon; two brothers, Walter Dixon, of Ypsilanti, and John Dixon, of Rawsonville, Mich.; two grandchildren, R. B. Bunn and Mrs. Richard Lyke, both of South Lyon, and three great-grandchildren, Martin, Karen and Sandra Bunn. She returned home Monday, July 13 after spending Saturday afternoon and Sunday with her husband who secured a pass at this time.

TOWN BOARD MEETING

A special town board meeting of Salem Township was called for Tuesday, July 14 at the Town Hall. At this meeting the board consulted with County Sheriff Osborne in regards to liquor inspection for the township. The township supervisor Mr. Scheel was authorized at this time to meet with the sheriff and prosecutor to give the matter further study.

In the discussion which followed during the talk of the prepared fire hall, a delegation was on hand to present petitions which had been circulated and signed by voters of Salem Township and which were discussed in this column a few weeks ago. The board voted to disregard these petitions and again voted that they build the two-engine garage as planned at the June 8 meeting. Harlow Ingall made a motion that they print 500 issues of the August, 1953 proposal concerning the fire hall and also of the November, 1952 ballot about the same issue and distribute these reprints among the voters of Salem Township, in order that all voters will know just how the proposal was worded and for what they voted. This motion was passed.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
The knowledge of Truth brings true freedom. This shown in the Lesson-Sermon under that subject to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 26.
The Golden Text is from Psalms (43:2,3): "Thou art the God of my strength: . . . O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me."
Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Jer. 31:34 to 2nd): "And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them saith the Lord."
Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Christian Science brings to light Truth and its supremacy, universal harmony, the entireness of God, good, and the nothingness of evil." (p. 293)

Gerald Taft to Enter 8 Horses in Morgan Show

Gerald F. Taft, of W. Eight Mile Rd., will enter eight of his Morgan horses in the three-day National Morgan Horse Show at Northampton, Mass., July 31, Aug. 1 and 2.

Missing from the Taft entries, however, will be Springbrook Joe Kelly, a young stallion which won the Junior Grand Championship. The horse had to be destroyed after being hit by a car shortly after Christmas.

The young stallion, incorrectly teamed with an older stallion, got away from handlers and ran onto the road. Mr. Taft valued Springbrook Joe Kelly at better than $3,000.

Long History

The Morgan horses traces back to Justin Morgan, a small bay

stallion foaled in Revolutionary days and acquired as a colt by a school teacher, Justin Morgan who gave the horse its name. The little stallion was worked hard all his life on farm and in the woods but found time to set up records for speed and endurance as well. He fathered many sons which in turn possessed and passed on to their sons the qualities of disposition, looks, versatility and endurance.

Morgan horses reached their heights in the 19th century. They were the mounts of General Phil Sheridan "... to Winchester town to save the day," and General Custer. The latter's mount, Comanche was one of the few animals to survive the battle of the Little Big Horn. Entire cavalry regiments in the Civil War were mounted on Morgans; many of them were used by the Pony Express; they were the highest regarded roadsters and driving pairs.

But the advent of the automobile almost eliminated this greatest road horse of American history. As demand dropped breeding programs shrank and the Morgan was sharply reduced in numbers. However, about 25 years ago, horsemen became interested in this only American breed of horses and started to bring them back. Today there are Morgans in every state of the union where their splendid dispositions, easy gaits and proud carriage have made them popular as trail and pleasure mounts as well as show horses.

Drs. Lovewell Attend Convention

Dr. Victoria Lovewell and Dr. P. N. Lovewell, of East Main St., have returned from the 57th annual national convention of the American Osteopathic Association at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

The five-day scientific and medical sessions started July 13 and continued through July 17. Theme of the convention was "The Impact of Environment on Man's Health in a Changing World". Round table and lecture sessions featured nationally known specialists, general practitioners and professors from the six osteopathic medical colleges.

Nurseryman Points Up Necessity of Watering Plants

Thousands of home owners have probably been misled into thinking that the wet spring soaked the ground well enough so that watering of trees and plants is not necessary, the American Association of Nurserymen reports.

Warning that dry spells in June and July in the midwest area have sapped away much of the water, John M. Miller, of the Green Ridge Nurseries on Napier Rd., urges home owners to water their shrubs and trees thoroughly now and throughout the summer.

Light rains are insufficient, Miller states. The soil needs to be soaked by allowing the hose to run until the ground is wet at the roots of all plants. Newly planted shrubs and trees are more easily damaged by drought than those which have been established for several years.

Miller advises home owners to soak plants thoroughly at least once or twice a week, depending on the amount of natural rain. This will not only keep plants growing well, said Miller, but it will also make them flower better this year and next.

New Life Brings Changes

A poor sidewalk sweeper was busily sweeping his sidewalks when a lawyer placed his hand upon his shoulder and said, "My good fellow, do you know that you are heir to a fortune?" "Do you mean me?" said the sweeper.

"I have just received word and I am quite sure that you are the man," said the lawyer. Immediately the sidewalk sweeper dropped his broom and was through with that kind of a life. He now has a new position in life and must live up to his dignity. You know folks, this is just what happens when you become a Christian. You are through with the old life! In II Cor. 5:17 we read, "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." Life will not, it cannot be the same to you who receive the good news that your sins which were many are forgiven and that you are elevated into the family of God and have become joint heirs with Jesus Christ. Somehow the old life loses its attraction and a new way of living is the result. Can you sing, "What a wonderful change in my life has been wrought since Jesus came into my heart?"
