School System Hires 8 New Teachers

Eight new teachers will be on hand to greet students returning to Northville schools next month, Superintendent Russell Amerman announced this week.

Four of the newcomers will teach in the elementary school with the remainder accepting high school teaching positions.

The new elementary teachers include Mrs. Ruth Carter, Miss Betty Ann Lee, Mrs. Eleanor Spital and Miss Kiyoko Tira, while the new high school staff members are Miss Corrine Clark, Mrs. Rossella Lee, Frederick Stefanski and Mrs. Virginia Bradford.

Another new first grade teacher is Mrs. Spital, a native of Indianapolis, Indiana, and a graduate of George Peabody Teachers College at Nashville, Tenn. Mrs. Spital's husband is a psychologist at the Wayne County Training School.

The new speech correctionist, who will divide her time between Northville and Plymouth schools, is Miss Tira. She is a native of Hawaii and a graduate of the University of Michigan.

In the high school, Mrs. Bradford, who has done substitute teaching for a number of years, will handle eighth and ninth grade English courses.

Miss Clark, a 1953 graduate of Michigan State College and a former Northville High School student, will teach home economics while Mrs. Lee, wife of the school band director, will teach seventh, ninth and tenth grade English.

Northville School Enrollment to Hit New High This Fall

Enrollment in Northville's already crowded school system is expected to climb to a record high this year, school officials reported this week.

C. T. Pregitzer, elementary school principal, said he expected a minimum of 700 and perhaps as many as 750 students to enroll in kindergarten through sixth grade. This compares with a peak enrollment last year of a shade under 700.

High School Principal E. V. Ellison said indications pointed to between 540 and 560 students in grades seven through 12, an increase of about 40 students over last year.

Both principals emphasized that the figures were only estimates since a formal two-day enrollment period for new students has not as yet been held.

However, both said there was no question of a new enrollment record being set.

Ellison said an increase in the number of students from the Novi and Salem areas accounted for part of the enrollment boost.

Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman said the additional students would mean new difficulties for the schools, whose space problem already is acute.

He said the high school was at least three rooms short while the elementary school needed two additional rooms.

Mechanical drawing and driver training classes in the high school will be held in a tunnel leading to the furnace room because of the space shortage while a course in accelerated reading has been switched to the stage of the auditorium. The stage has been made over and will be unavailable for plays or assembly programs.

In the grade school, the teacher's room and the music room have been taken over for classes. Music teachers will be forced to use the lunchroom for part of their class load.

School Registration Plans Announced by Amerman

Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman announced plans this week for four days of both faculty and student activities in preparation for the opening of Northville schools next month.

The schedule opens at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 8, when the elementary and high school staffs assemble for a general faculty meeting at which Mr. Amerman will preside.

Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday, elementary and high school teachers will attend separate meetings to iron out plans for the school year.

Amerman emphasized that students should not report either Tuesday or Wednesday.

On Thursday, Sept. 10 students in grades seven, eight and nine only will report at the regular 8:30 starting time for a full day session.

Buses will make their first runs on the regular schedule that day.

Students enrolled in kindergarten through sixth grade will report for the first time on Friday, Sept. 11.

All students will report for classes at 8:30 a.m. Monday, Sept. 14.

Amerman also announced that registration for students who have not previously enrolled will be held at the elementary school Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 1 and 2 from 8:30 to 4 p.m.

The bookstore, located on the second floor of the high school, also will be open those two days for students in grades four through 12. Students in kindergarten through third grade will obtain books in their rooms after school begins.

Fire Chief Snuffs Apartment Blaze

Quick action by Village Fire Chief Bill McGee prevented what might have been a major disaster Saturday at the Peterson apartments, located in the rear of the Northville Electric Co. store on East Main St.

A group of youngsters ignited a pile of cardboard boxes at the side of the three-unit apartment building. The flames quickly whipped up the tarpaper-covered building and ignited power lines running under the eaves.

McGee was summoned from his job at nearby Miller Garage and with the help of Bruce Turnbull of Northville Electric, he tackled the flames with three small extinguishers.

The fire department arrived about five minutes after the alarm was sounded but they turned right around and headed back to the fire hall. McGee had the fire under control.

Junior Police to Visit Zoo

One of the last Junior Police activities before the vacation is cut short by the opening of school will be a trip to the Detroit Zoo Wednesday, Sept. 9.

Junior Policemen will meet at the Boy Scout Building at 9 a.m. and board a bus for the trip to the zoo. The boys will be accompanied by Sgt. Gil Glasson, advisor for the group, and by Recreation Director Wilson Funk.

The bus will return to Northville in the late afternoon, Sgt. Glasson said.

Murder Defendant Fails in Attempt at Suicide Monday

Mrs. Catherine Flynn, 49-year old Northville housewife held on a first degree murder charge in the rifle slaying of her husband, attempted suicide in her cell at Wayne County jail, authorities reported Monday.

Jail officials said Mrs. Flynn slashed her wrist with the jagged edge of a drinking glass. However, the wound was reported superficial.

Mrs. Flynn, who faces examination on the murder charge in Justice Court here next Monday, confessed that she shot her husband, Warren Walter, Wednesday, Aug. 19, as he sat in the kitchen of their home at 116 North Rogers St.

She said the shooting ended a long series of domestic squabbles over his attention to another woman.

Flynn, struck once below the heart with a .22 caliber slug, died less than 20 minutes after the shooting while being taken to Atchison Memorial Hospital. He was a self-employed cement contractor.

Stands Mute

Mrs. Flynn stood mute Friday when arraigned here before Judge E. M. Bogart on the murder charge, and a plea of not guilty was entered for her.

The slight, middle-aged woman sobbed during most of the proceeding, her face buried in a handkerchief.

She is represented by Meyer Ruben, a Detroit attorney.

In a statement last week to Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Garfield Nichols, Mrs. Flynn admitted buying the gun a few days before the murder and hiding it in a closet at her home.

The day of the murder, she said, there was a violent argument between the couple which ended when she loaded the gun and fired once.

She then ran to Sessions Hospital for help. Finding no doctors available, she then ran to the village hall and summoned Sgt. Gil Glasson.

The Flynn's were parents of two grown children. They had lived in Northville only a few months.

Disaster Relief Meeting Slated

Disaster Relief representatives from Northville, Plymouth and Livonia will gather Sept. 14 in Livonia to iron out many of the problems confronting disaster committees.

It is expected that pictures of the recent GM fire will be shown, and the Civil Defense set-up explained so that chairmen can better organize their local Civil Defense and Disaster Relief groups.

Roy Stone, Disaster chairman in Northville, reported the steps taken in the village for disaster relief at a Red Cross meeting Tuesday night. He said Dr. V. George Chabut, in charge of the medical part of the program, has nine doctors on call. Fred Casteline has 92 vehicles on call to be alerted instantly in case of disaster. Mrs. W. L. Howard, in charge of nurses, has 14 ready to be alerted, and the police department will be instantly available. Mrs. Edith McKenna has charge of canteen, and will work with Mrs. Donald Severance.

Village Cleared of House Trailers

Northville was clear of out-of-town house trailers this week for the first time since before the start of the Downs racing meet, Police Sgt. Gil Glasson reported.

Following instructions from the Village Commission, Glasson told all owners to have their trailers out of Northville by Saturday, Aug. 22.

With one exception the deadline was met by the approximately ten trailer owners still in town. Sgt. Glasson allowed one family to stay until Monday because of sickness.

The Commission had originally ordered all trailers out by Wednesday, Aug. 19. However, the date was changed after a half-dozen trailer owners pleaded they had no place to go.

Patriotic Club Slates Meeting for September 3

The Patriotic Club will meet at the home of Miss Ethel Seeley, 124 East Dunlap St. on Thursday, Sept. 3 at 12:30 p.m. Members are asked to come prepared to sew on cancer pads. Bring sandwiches and table service; beverages will be furnished.

Family Rejoices As Son Heads for Home

The prayers of a former Northville family were answered this week when their 21-year old son, listed as missing in action in Korea returned to freedom at Panmunjom.

Pvt. Jack Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Andrews, who formerly lived on West Main St., was freed Sunday night (Michigan time) after 43 days as a Communist prisoner.

The good news was relayed to the Andrews family at 1 a.m. Monday morning by a Detroit newspaper. A reporter explained that he'd had trouble finding the family since Pvt. Andrews still listed Northville as his home town.

"My wife fainted dead away when she heard the news," the senior Andrews told the Record.

"We'd been watching the television set nearly every night since the prisoner exchange started; hoping we'd hear some word on Jack," he said. "But as it turned out, we missed the first announcement the night the good news came."

Returned Home

Andrews said the family had been visiting at Walled Lake Sunday and returned home late that night.

"The two younger boys were asleep so we decided not to turn on the television set for fear we'd wake them up," he said. "My wife and I had been asleep for more than an hour when word came."

The private's parents received an official telegram from the Defense department Monday informing them that their son had been freed and was being returned to the United States by ship immediately.

Pvt. Andrews, a range finder with the 300th Field Artillery Battalion, was captured July 12 during one of the last battles of the war at Finger Ridge.

Missing In Action

The family received notification that he was missing in action on July 26 — the day the truce was signed.

The family was worried momentarily Monday when they learned that several of the 150 men freed with Andrews were litter cases.

"However, the army said he'd be coming home by ship so we think that means he's not injured," the soldier's father said.

The senior Andrews said he and his wife would be unable to go to the West Coast to meet their son's ship.

Party Planned

"But when he gets home we'll have a party to end all parties," he said. "And all of Northville is invited."

Pvt. Andrews had served 14 months in Korea when he returned home in May of 1952. He then re-enlisted for six years last October and was sent back overseas in November. His father said the private had five more years to serve of his present hitch and hoped to make the Army his career.

"However, maybe he's changed his mind after the time he spent in the prison camp," his father said.

Two other Andrews boys are in the armed service. James is serving with the Air Force in Amarillo, Texas, while William is with the Marines in San Diego, Calif.

Two younger sons, Russell 8, and Michael 5, are with their parents at 10144 Prairie, Detroit. The family moved from Northville several weeks ago.

Bids Asked for Community Building

The $200,000 Northville Community Building will move a step nearer realization on Sept. 8 when bids for its construction are opened at 8 p.m. at the Village Hall and read publicly.

Plans and specifications may be secured at the office of the Ann Arbor architect, W. T. Anicka, or at the Village Hall.

An advertisement for bids appears on another page of this issue of the Record.

3-Man Committee Named to Push Community Bldg.

A three-man committee to "steer" construction of the $200,000 Northville Community Building has been appointed by Village President Conrad E. Langfield and the Commission.

Named to the committee were Recreation Director Wilson Funk, Commissioner Alton Peters, and Lynn Sullivan.

Purpose of the committee is to work with the architect, W. T. Anicka, and the contractor, not yet named, to solve problems as they arise.

To Be Time Saver

"This will take away the need for the architect getting in touch with all the commissioners every time some problem comes up," said Langfield.

The committee has full authority to act in the commission's stead, Langfield indicated, but is expected to keep close touch with the commission as the building develops.

Meanwhile, tearing down of the three old homes on the Community Building site on West Main St. continued.

Efforts by a realtor and by other potential buyers to move one of the houses to another location in town were stymied when a Detroit firm refused to move the house because of its height and size.

Around the Village

The Village Hall began to take on a new gleam this week as Roy Hollis and son, James, of 516 Randolph, began putting on the first of two coats of paint. The job will take about two more weeks, Hollis says.

A carpenter was called in to replace dry-rotted boards and make small repairs.

With curbs and gutters already installed, along with a concrete retaining wall, the alley and parking lot south of East Main St. is now ready for the black-top surface which will make it a fine parking area.

Street Superintendent Herman Hartner, Jr. said Detroit Concrete Products Co. will begin the black-top operation today, Thursday.

The storm sewer project on Rogers, Dubuar, Linden and Elm will start Monday, Hartner said, and curbs and gutters have been finished on Oakland, Novi and Rouge streets.

Mackie Mercury Receives New Cars

Plymouth's newest auto showroom, Mackie Mercury, 402 North Mill St., received its first shipment of new cars this week.

Owned by Howard Mackie, who has lived at Plymouth for 12 years, the agency offers complete Mercury service by a staff of more than 10 men. The agency opened for business a month ago. Mackie Mercury is open evenings.

"Gandy" Is Dandy, But He Needs A New Home

Dr. and Mrs. James Kaler on Beck Rd. have a small problem they'd like some help with.

The "problem" is in the form of an "African-Chinese" goose, name of "Gandy".

Geese, in the general pattern of living, are not usually considered a problem. People just eat them.

"Gandy", however, is different. He's so firmly entrenched in the affection of the family, as animals and birds so often are, that any thought of eating him is out. In fact, it's hard to determine if "Gandy" is bird first and pet second, or the other way around.

This, ordinarily, would be fine. The rub in this case, however, is that "Gandy" isn't very fond of people — except Mrs. Kaler — and is apt to take a small bite out of somebody if somebody clowns around too much in biting range. Mrs. Kaler isn't worried about it. But she feels it would be better for the goose to be somewhere else because of the small children who visit and play around the area.

"The best place for him," she said, "is probably the Children's Zoo, but we thought perhaps some farmer might want him and be willing to keep him around."

Dr. Kaler, who is senior physician in the Children's Unit at Maybury Sanatorium, agrees.

"He's a 'ham', and loves to be the center of attraction," Mrs. Kaler explained, "but we don't want him to be the center of attraction on someone's Thanksgiving table."

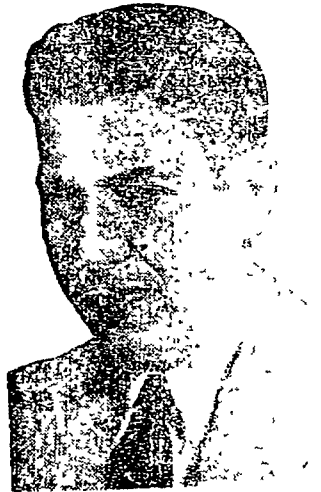

There's no doubt that "Gandy" has a lot of 'ham' in him. He posed gracefully while the Record photographer aimed his camera Tuesday, then walked (Continued on Page 8)

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

Being a bit interested in both fishing and photography we were rather discouraged the other day to read in some statistical column that the federal government used our particular hobbies as a means of collecting millions of dollars in tax money. A bit farther down the column we noted that the tax on beauty preparations and other cosmetics was more than three times as much as the combination of the first two and promptly mentioned the fact to a lady friend of ours. "Criminal, isn't it," she replied, "especially when they fail to guarantee results."

Oh, well, if you want guaranteed results, we suggest you buy yourself a new Studebaker. You invest your money and the result is the finest car on the American road. For rugged power, performance and durability, for sheer beauty and comfort, for amazing economy, the Studebaker is the best answer available. Why not convince yourself with a demonstration drive now? We have a car waiting for you!

Fellow in the garage the other day said he came in to have the car lubricated and avoid winning an argument at home. "A wise man," he told us, "not only lets his wife have the last word, but is terribly happy when she reaches it!"

Be a good idea, too, if you let us have the last word and bring that car of yours in for a thorough check-up and over-all lubrication. There's a lot of summer left—a lot of drives to take, so why not take them in a car that's mechanically perfect. You'll be glad you did.

That's that, but a fellow told us poise is the ability to talk fluently while the other guy reaches for the check.

Tragic Deaths:

Traffic Danger to School Children

Authorities and statisticians say more than two thousand children under 14 will be killed on their way to and from school during the coming terms. Thousands more will be injured, many for life.

But it need not happen to your children if you take the responsibility of getting them off to school with a safe start.

Good training in forming safety habits will pay off best if the kindergarten and first grade age children are taught from the beginning to not only obey the people who become responsible for their safety, but also to obey safety regulations.

The Safety Patrol Corps has cut down greatly on the number of children injured in traffic each year. The school bus system takes most of the children off the streets, particularly those children who live some distance from the schools, and prevent injury in traffic.

But the children who live in the village will mostly have to walk to school. These are the ones in most danger.

For these children, work out the safest route to and from school, taking into consideration not the shortest distance, but the safest crosswalks, and available traffic policemen.

Where there is no policeman, teach the youngsters to stop on the curb, look both ways, and watch for turning traffic before walking across. Teach him to walk on the extreme left edge of the road, always facing traffic, if it is necessary for your child to walk any distance along a road.

Impress your child with the need for obeying all traffic officers, school crossing guards, and mechanical signs and signals.

Don't let him hitch rides on vehicles when riding a bicycle to and from school. Rule out roller skating to school if possible.

An older brother or sister accompanying the smaller child to school should be given responsibility, and his authority should be recognized by the smaller child.

The Icebox Menace

Many communities have gone right to work to eliminate the danger of death by suffocation to children who become accidentally locked in old ice boxes.

The movement to eliminate the danger by removing locks and fastening devices from the death traps was sparked by the tragic deaths of eleven youngsters who were suffocated in the United States recently in a 30-hour period.

Unused and stored in out-of-the-way places, these old boxes provide a perfect "cave," "castle" or "doll house" for childish imaginations.

The simple precaution of removing hinges or latches so they cannot be locked will provide the simple, but safe, means of preventing a tragic death here.

Future public opinion may demand, according to some authorities, that refrigerator doors be made in such a way that pressure from the inside will unlock them.

Letters to the Editor

The Record welcomes letters to the editor about matters of community interest. Anonymous communications will not be published, but in instances where the writer does not wish his or her name to appear, it will be held confidential.

(Sixty-six year old William Barthel, in University Hospital with a broken leg, has good things to say for Northville. His leg was broken at 11 p.m., and the Castlerline ambulance was there at 11:15 p.m. A call for a doctor was unsuccessful, but a call to the police department brought a doctor within five minutes. The letter to the editor follows:

Here's what I've been thinking since I've been flat on my back, with a 200-pound weight tied to my leg and the bed, with nothing to do but think. You go uptown and hear people squawk about the police department, the drunks, bad boys and what not and in the paper you read of Susie went to Salem and Johnnie went to Novi and so on. But here is my idea of Northville.

It's a beautiful little village. Beautiful trees, and everyone you meet is pleasant. And just stop and think where you have ever lived and seen small or large boys salute the chief of police and say, "Hi, Joe," and get a smile in return. That's something. And where did you ever have a policeman put a few pennies in the meter because you didn't have any with you? And a fire department made up of volunteers who leave their work to help some farmer, or anybody else, in trouble. And go into all the stores and see if you ever found a nicer lot of people to do business with from one end of the town to the other. And if you're a stranger in town you go to the Record and they'll help you out. You can just be glad you live in one of the finest little towns in the country.

Look for the good things in the town and see if they don't outweigh the bad. Help people up, not down. They go down fast enough.

William Barthel.

Auto Race Planned Sept. 13 at Fair

General Manager James Hare announced plans this week for a 250-mile stock car race on Sunday, Sept. 13, last day of the Michigan State Fair.

Hare promised that the race would be "the most exciting" in the history of the fair.

He said sufficient inquiries have been received to assure at least 80 starters for the race.

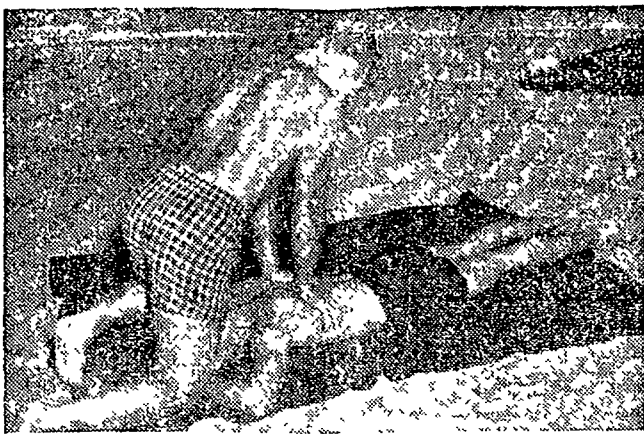

Th racing cars will be stock cars—regular late model passenger cars—except that owners will be allowed to reinforce suspension parts such as wheels, springs and shock absorbers.

However, the engines must be left exactly as they were when they rolled off the assembly line.

Though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

I Cor. 13:3

New Lifesaving Technique Now In Use

NEW ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION TECHNIQUE, the Nielsen "back-pressure arm-lift" method, which has now been adopted as standard by the American Red Cross, the Armed Forces and the National Safety Council, is demonstrated in these scenes from a new motion picture, "Seconds Count," produced by the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company. The 10-minute movie, which portrays a step-by-step demonstration of the Nielsen method, may be obtained without charge for showings by contacting local Aetna representatives or through the company's public education department at Hartford, Conn. The "back-pressure arm-lift" method increases chances of revival since it pulls fresh air into lungs as well as expelling air from them. In administering it, rescuer rocks forward exerting pressure on victim's back (top photo), and then rocks backwards grasping victim's arms (bottom photo), repeating cycle 10 to 12 times a minute.

Record Number of Entries Recorded for Old Car Meet

Four hundred entries—the largest assembly of old cars in modern times—were virtually assured this week for the annual Old Car Festival at Greenfield Village, Sept. 19.

Approximately 340 of the cars will arrive as part of the famous Glidden Tour, a yearly caravan of antique models which this year starts at Cleveland, Ohio.

The festival, which has become a popular annual event at the Village, is the grand finale for the Glidden Tour. There the veteran gas buggies will assemble among the 100 historic buildings which the late Henry Ford acquired from all over the United States and Europe.

During the Sept. 19 program, the entire caravan will parade past the judges' stand, grouped by years, where they will be judged for authenticity of restoration.

Ribbons will be awarded for first, second and third prize. At the end of the day's activities, winners in each category will be reviewed for selection of an

Wild Life Notes...

Federal Aid—

The Michigan Conservation Department will receive nearly $800,000 from the Federal Government during the coming fiscal year to help build fish and game restoration projects in the state.

The state will receive $558,000 for game work under terms of the Pittman-Robertson Act and $215,000 for fish work under the Dingell-Johnson program.

Both acts were set up to collect federal taxes on sales of hunting and fishing equipment to be returned to the states, earmarked for wildlife restoration purposes only. The states must provide one dollar for every three returned by the government.

License Distribution—

The Conservation Department last week started the distribution of more than 1,500,000 hunting and trapping licenses to more than 4,000 authorized dealers throughout the state.

The licenses will be available to hunters by Sept. 15.

Last year, 1,485,000 licenses of all types were mailed of which about 1,186,000 were sold.

Fox Population—

Michigan's fox population appears to be increasing.

Despite a continuation of the fox bounty system, the number of foxes has not dropped and judging from bounties paid during the first six months of this year, their numbers are actually higher than previously.

The conservation department paid 11,345 claims to hunters and trappers during the period—compared to 9,344 claims paid during the first six months of 1952.

Game men have long deplored the bounty system as a means of predator control. The system, they point out, costs the state about $185,000 each year and does not do the job. They favor a system of planned control aimed at individual predators.

Prize Fish—

A Warwick, N. Y. man, Wilbur M. Howell, claims the 1953 record for the largest trout taken from Lake Superior.

Howell hooked a 39½ pound beauty off Grand Marais last week. He used deep sea tackle.

Records in the Conservation Department's fish division office show that a 40-pound trout was taken in Lake Superior last year. However, the unofficial record still is an 88-pound fish taken in 1864.

overall grand prize winner and the presentation of a gold cup.

In the afternoon, contests will be held in cranking, top-raising, tire-changing and back-seat and slow-driving.

The cars will be on display for three days.

Bavarian Cream Glorifies Fruits

Let one of the most beautiful of food creations, a Bavarian cream, give sumptuousness to fruits at dessert time. This classic starts as a custard base into which whipped cream is folded. Then unflavored gelatin captures and molds the light, oh-so-smooth texture.

If you do not wish to use a fancy mold for the Bavarian, chill it in sherbet glasses which can go direct to the table. Or, ball the dessert in a bowl, and spoon portions into individual serving dishes. The fruit garnish for this velvety custard can be fresh, canned or frozen. Shred or crush strawberries, a couple of fruit heightened with a m flavonating, a medley of citrus fruits... all gain glory with this gelatinic delight.

Bavarian Fruit Dessert

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar, divided
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups cold milk
2 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Fruits for garnish

Mix gelatin, 1/4 cup of the sugar and salt in top of double boiler, gradually stir in cold milk. Place over boiling water and scald, stirring constantly. Beat egg yolks slightly. Slowly pour small amount of the hot mixture over egg yolks. Return to double boiler and cook, stirring constantly until mixture coats the spoon about 3 minutes. Remove from heat; add vanilla. Chill until mixture is slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff, gradually beat in remaining 1/4 cup sugar. Fold in gelatin mixture and whipped cream. Turn into a 5-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with fresh, frozen or canned fruits. YIELD: 8 servings

FISHING PREVUE FOR '54

In Chicago a few days ago fishing tackle distributors from all over the nation gathered for the annual prevue of fishing gadgets to be put on the market for the 1954 season. The ingenuity of manufacturers in this business almost defies one's imagination! A Florida real estate man decided to retire a few months ago. While lolling about the house he picked up a few of his wife's plastic hair-curlers, attached a couple of fish hooks, tied on a line and found out they "swam" thru the water with a tantalizing action, hooking many fish. He introduced the lure at the tackle show, got orders for more than a million of 'em. Now he can't retire. He's too busy!

Lady's Special

Lots of ladies like to fish. To them it is most unfortunate that fish go for night crawlers. The slippery, wiggly worms take all the joy out of fishing when it comes time to put the bait on the hook. Next year it'll be different. Timid lady fishermen will be supplied with small tweezers tipped with non-skid rubber which will offer a firm grip on the crawler allowing it to be impaled on the hook untouched by human hands! This is definitely a step forward! Science on the march!

Spinning Advances

Rod manufacturers have long deplored the excessive weight of the average spinning reel. It made long, adjustable handles necessary to effect some sort of balance for easy casting. Next year's reels will, be lightweight. One manufacturer is coming out with a 5-ounce model which may revolutionize spinning rod design — and take a lot of effort out of the sport. True, the reel will only carry 100 yards of 6-pound test line, but that's more than enough for all but salt water fishing.

Glass Rods Improve

The perfection of the hollow glass rods for 1954 will just about doom the future of the bamboo rod industry, according to the experts. Perfectly balanced fly-rods weighing less than 3 ounces will be available with astonishingly fine fly-casting action — rods that will outclass even the finest bamboo models ever built, yet will last a lifetime with no danger of the action ever changing.

Hunting arrows will be made of the same material, beautifully balanced and capable of truer flight than their wooden predecessors. From this peek into the near future we can safely say 1954 looks like a bigger and better year for the sportsman in Michigan Outdoors!

Achievement Night Set for Bible School

The pupils and staff of the Vacation Bible School this week extended a cordial invitation to all parents and friends to attend their Achievement Night program, to be held in the Methodist Church Friday, Aug. 28 at 7:30 p.m.

The children have decided to use their daily offerings to send Bibles to Korea. They have enjoyed their Bible studies and are anxious for children everywhere to know and love Jesus.

Madonna College to Open Sept. 16

Fall classes at Madonna College will open Thursday, Sept. 16. Registration will be held the preceding day beginning at 9 a.m.

New students will report on campus Monday, Sept. 14, for Freshman Days. The three-day initial orientation program will consist of get-acquainted activities, tours of the campus, a series of tests for guidance and placement purposes and a few lectures on curriculum requirements. The orientation program will be continued throughout the first semester by means of weekly lectures.

The reorganized education department will now offer two minors, one in the elementary school curriculum, and the second in human growth and development. The latter, though primarily recommended for teachers, will also be available to students in other fields with the approval of the head of their respective department.

This minor will include such courses, as child growth and development, psychology of the adolescent, human physiology and mental hygiene, all of which can be of great benefit in any position in life.

The English department will render students a new service in its course entitled improvement of reading. This course is especially designed for freshmen who indicate the need for greater efficiency in reading speed or comprehension. Clinical apparatus, such as the tachistoscope and the reading rate accelerator, will be used to aid students.

Two new faculty members have been added to this year's staff. Sister Mary Martina, who will teach in the education department, completed her doctoral studies at Fordham University in the field of educational psychology and guidance. Sister Mary Virginia, with a master's degree from Notre Dame University, will teach mathematics.

Local students will find their transportation problem solved in this new school year. The college has just recently purchased a school bus which will cover routes in the vicinity, the schedule to be arranged according to the needs of registering day students.

The evening division will offer courses in typing, sociology and education. The definite time and date will be announced later.

More information can be obtained by writing to the Registrar, Madonna College, 36800 Schoolcraft, Livonia, Mich., or by calling Plymouth 528.

If you plan to electrify your fence, don't fool with a homemade controller. Play safe on your farm every day of the year, advises David G. Steinicke, safety specialist at Michigan State college.

Doctors Urge Care With Children's Socks; Must Fit

ROCKLAND, MASS.—Foot troubles of a serious nature are on the increase in the United States, especially among women and children. This is attributed to the habit of many women of going without hosiery in the summer and the fact that many children are allowed to wear outgrown hosiery or shoes, according to a recent survey by the National Foot Health Council here.

The survey indicates that nearly all doctors frown on the wearing of shoes at any time without the protection afforded by hosiery. Out of 1,724 doctors questioned, only 24 thought such practice safe. Among the reasons for the doctors insisting on foot protection at all times was that it is impossible to keep the inside of the shoes clean enough to avoid danger of infection.

Dr. Joseph Lelyveld, chairman of the council, said over 1,600 doctors were of the opinion that outgrown hosiery and shoes caused serious foot defects in children. These included in-grown nails, large joints, hammer toes and weak feet.

Children's socks always should be at least a half-inch longer than the foot. The majority of the doctors questioned think hosiery should be changed twice a day whenever possible.

Livonia Appoints Board of Appeals

A five-man building code board of appeals has been created by the city to take appellate action on cases involving disagreements over Livonia's building code.

The board will, in effect, affirm, deny or reverse building code decisions made by the city Bureau of Inspection.

The board consists of individuals who, by occupation, are highly experienced in building problems and procedures.

Chairman Is Architect
Chairman of the board is Gustave Muth, 9910 Melrose, a registered architect.

Serving with him are four other board members: John B. Perkins, 11414 Cranston, an engineer; Ove Hansen, 16524 Middlebelt, an electrical contractor; James W. Orr, 18940 Westmore, a builder, and Chester L. Tuck, 33642 Hampshire, a master plumber.

Appointments to the board were made by Mayor Jesse Ziegler.

The board will meet the second Thursday of each month. All hearings will be public.

The board will take action on all appeals, filed in writing, by individuals wishing to challenge any Bureau of Inspection decision which involves the building code.

Forms for the petitions to the appeals board are furnished without charge by the city. They are obtained at the Bureau of Inspection office in City Hall.

A $10.00 filing fee is charged for an initial appeal. This fee is refunded, however, if the board reverses or denies a Bureau of Inspection decision.

Novi Firemen Get Resuscitator

The Novi Fire Dept. this week announced the delivery of a new resuscitator for use on emergency calls in the area.

It is available by calling the township fire hall—Northville 705.

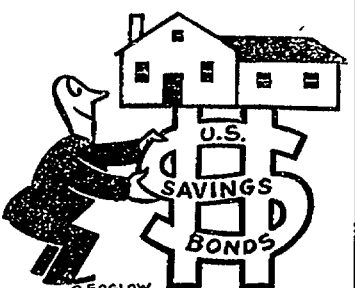

The resuscitator is the same type as one recently acquired by the Northville fire department. Robert Skellenger and Fred Loyne attended the fire college recently to learn how to operate the life-saving device.

Blame Tar Roof for Rapid Spread of GM Blaze

A tar-layered roof was the major cause for the rapid spread of the $50,000,000 blaze that destroyed the General Motors transmission plant in Livonia two weeks ago, Livonia Fire Chief Calvin L. Roberts, said today.

"The layers of tar were built up over a thin metal plate," Roberts explained. "When this plate was subjected to intense heat, it caused the tar to melt and drip throughout the building, spreading the fire as it dripped."

"Highly combustible gases given off by the tar also fed the flames and accelerated the spread of the fire."

"From the exterior of the building, the fire appeared to be spreading along the roof section at a much faster pace than at floor level."

"Firemen could not enter the burning plant because the central portion of the roof collapsed first, pulling the outside walls into the building," he said.

Roberts said an investigation of the fire was conducted jointly by Livonia and state officials, all of whom concurred in the report that was made.

Investigators included Roberts; James L. Hagen, Livonia director of public safety; Lieut. William Newstead of the Livonia police department, and Sgt. Oramel O'Farrell and Detective Glenn Tanner of the state fire marshal's office.

Roberts said the investigating team reached the following conclusions:

1. The fire started in almost the exact center of the manufacturing building in a drip pan directly under a 120-foot conveyor which carried torus covers through a rust-proofing dip tank.

2. The most probable cause of the fire was a spark dropped into the drip pan from a pipe-cutting operation conducted from above with an acetylene torch.

3. The fire might also have been caused by an electric spark or a short from the electrical system.

4. Livonia water pressure was more than adequate. Up to 5 p.m. on the day the fire broke out, the pressure on city mains stood at a normal 45 pounds. After 5 p.m., pressure increased to 62 pounds and remained at that level throughout the night.

Now that beef prices have dipped, we can dig into a big juicy steak more often. Next time you cook one try this: In a saucepan melt vitaminized margarine, then stir into it a bit of dry mustard, a dash of salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Pour into the steak platter or chop plate. When steak is broiled, quickly coat it with the margarine sauce, first on one side then the other. Utterly delicious.

He comes by his dislike for people honestly, Mrs. Kaler says. It probably all goes back to the time when he was a very small gosling. He and two other goslings were bought on Five Mile Rd. by Dr. and Mrs. Kaler and taken home.

Small children visiting the Kaler house fondled the goslings so lovingly that soon there was only one — "Gandy" — and he was pretty broken up.

Since then he likes to chase people if they show fear.

Auto Club Wins Baseball Championship As Northville Splits Crucial Twin Bill

A couple of errors probably cost the Northville baseball team the Inter-County League championship Sunday, but nobody on the team is complaining about them.

The team had its work cut out any way you figured it, and nearly came through against towering odds. Northville had to win both ends of the double header to be champs.

Auto Club Wins

Powerhouse Auto Club emerged from the league with the title, but had to extend itself to the limit. Northville grabbed the first game of the double header at Cass Benton Park, 6 to 4, on a tremendous centerfield home run in the bottom of the ninth inning by Shortstop John Bollitti. Leonard Sullenski scored ahead of him to break a 4-4 tie which had lasted since the fourth inning.

Northville lost to Auto Club in the second game, at Riverside Park in Plymouth the same afternoon, 10 to 8. A home run, plus one more unneeded tally, spelled defeat. But Northville had come from behind in the sixth frame with a six-run spurge which tied the game at 8 to 8. The long home run to center field gave Auto Club the edge in the eighth.

Double Duty

Star hurler George Tracey lasted through the first game, holding Auto Club scoreless after the fourth, then relieved Rudy Zeppa in the eighth of the second game.

The errors which hurt Northville were in the third inning of the second game, when Auto Club went on an eight-run spree. Northville's big chance was in the sixth inning when the bases were still full after Northville had pushed six runs across, but Leonard Sullenski was out on a fielder's choice to end the rally.

Star Play

Probably the outstanding play of the game was a catch by right fielder Robert Hamlin, who raced to the right field line to pick a low, sinking liner almost off the grass with a one-hand stab. Observers agreed that the ball had a "home run" label on it all the way.

Hamlin was picked up from the Monarch team, which plays in Class B of the Detroit Baseball Federation, just in time for the playoffs. He batted over .300 in the playoffs, and was one of the top ten hitters in the DBF.

Auto Club not only won the championship, but signed Northville pitcher George Tracey to hurl for the team during the district and state finals.

A happy note for the Northville team is that the sponsors, Cy Owens Ford and the S. L. Brader Department Store, are providing them with new jackets.

Manager Steve Folino added another happy note with the announcement that the team will be more or less intact for next season, and that several other players, to be released from military duty soon, will join the team.

Gridders Ready for Opening of Season

King Football begins its annual 12-week reign in Northville next Monday when some 70 high school hopefuls report for the opening of pre-season practice sessions at Cass Benton Park.

The squad, including a bumper crop of 19 returning varsity men, will assemble at 9 a.m. for 12 days of morning and afternoon drills under head coach Al Jones, line coach Dick Kay and reserve mentor Ron Schipper.

The team will switch to one practice a day when school opens officially Sept. 14 — just five days before the opening game with Plymouth the following Friday.

Line Weakened

The big problem for the coaching staff as it prepares for the nine-game schedule is bolstering a line weakened by graduation.

However, there are plenty of points on the asset side. "We're a lot better off than we were this time last year," Coach Jones said. "I'd say the outlook is 'fair' right now."

Kay, who will handle the linemen, said "only about two or three line positions are definitely set. The rest are wide open."

The 1953 edition of the Mustangs will be built around returning front-line men like Co-Captains Al Iversen and Bob Burgess, Center Bruce Felker, fullback Lamar Nalley, quarterback Bob Scheffer and tackle Jim Mitchell.

Nalley, a rough and fast 180 pounder, was one of the team's high point men last year while Scheffer called signals on offense and did a good job of backing up the line on defense.

May Shift Scheffer

The coaches are toying with the idea of shifting Scheffer to a halfback spot, paving the way for Gene Rebitzke, who has game experience, to fill in at quarterback.

Iversen, a sharp blocker, is expected to be back at his running guard post while Felker will bolster the center of the line.

Big things are expected this season of Burgess, an outstanding defensive end, if a bad knee gives him no trouble.

High on the list of junior varsity men with varsity potential are Dave Piery, John Fisher, Gary Holman, Jerry Davis, Bill Dietz, Howard and David Banks and Duane Busch.

Offensively the team will operate from the single wing after shifting from the "T".

All Students Welcome

The coaching staff emphasized this week that "any student who wants to play football can do just that."

"We don't cut anyone — they cut themselves," Jones reminded. "We have the equipment and the program for anyone who wants to stick it out."

While the varsity faces nine opponents, including Keego Harbor, newest member of the Wayne-Oakland County League, the Junior Varsity is expected to play at least six games.

One game also has been scheduled for the Junior High team with Plymouth. And later in the season they'll play their traditional inter-squad game, dividing into "Jones' Rams" and "Kay's Kats" for a tussle under the lights at Ford Field. The winner receives a cup.

2-Platoon System Aids High Schools

Assistant Northville High School Coach Dick Kay reminded Village football fans this week that the free substitution rule will remain in effect in Michigan high school football circles this season.

The nation's college coaches last winter voted to revoke the free substitution rule, ending an era of specialists and "two platoons."

However, the rule still covers high school games in the state and Kay, for one, is glad of it.

"I'm in favor of free substitution for several reasons," Kay said. "For one thing, it means less injuries because we can relieve a boy without penalty when he shows signs of getting tired."

"It also means a wider participation by students and that, after all, is the real purpose of the game — to give as many boys as possible a chance to play."

"From a coaching standpoint, the rule also is helpful," Kay said. "It means we can use 'specialists' in spot situations when otherwise they might not play. That makes for better teams and a larger number of participants."

Far more miles per gallon

on the trips YOU take!

On long trips, short trips, all trips, you get far greater gas mileage out of a '53 Chevrolet. It offers important savings in everyday driving over everyday roads!

Out to the golf course. Off for a week-end of fishing. Half across the country on a full-scale vacation. Wherever you go—however you drive—you're going to get there on a lot less gasoline in a fine new Chevrolet.

The truth is, this year's Chevrolet owners are enjoying the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. Plus more power. Faster acceleration. More "steam" for the steep hills.

That's the beauty of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide* models, and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrill-King" engine in gearshift models. They squeeze much more out of regular gasoline—more miles, more pleasure.

Along with this greater gas mileage, you get lower over-all upkeep costs. And Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field. Drop in and let us show you how you'll be better off in every way with a 1953 Chevrolet!

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Michigan Mirror

by Gene Alleman

Do you think politics is dirty? What makes you think the way you do about matters of public importance?

Why do you have the opinions you have about your schools, state government, conservation, foreign aid?

In short, why do you vote the way you do? What influences your actions in your hometown, your union, your trade association?

Where do you get the information that makes you act the way you do — and do you react the way you do because you believe or disbelieve the information you get?

Answers to questions like these are being sought in a study of public information. It's sponsored by the Michigan Press Association, the Michigan School Administrators Association and Michigan State College. The project is being financed by a grant from Kellogg Foundation funds.

"One of the most significant studies in communications ever conducted in the United States," is the description given the project by a world famous educator. Because of the size of the problem, it was decided to consider only one phase at the beginning. Because of the professional stature of school administrators and their natural connection with informing the public, it was decided to set up an experimental study of the relationship between the people and the knowledge they have about their school system.

St. Johns was selected as the site of the first investigation. Tests are now being made. When a method is developed there, studies will be carried out in many other communities.

You and your attitudes have a good chance of being probed by one of these surveys since it is expected to cover a three-year period.

When methods are uncovered to improve the knowledge people have about schools, it is expected they can be applied to other fields of public interest.

Sniping at educators has been carried on for years by newspaper editors who charge that school people hold "closed corporation" meetings and adopt other methods to prevent the public from knowing what is going on in the school system.

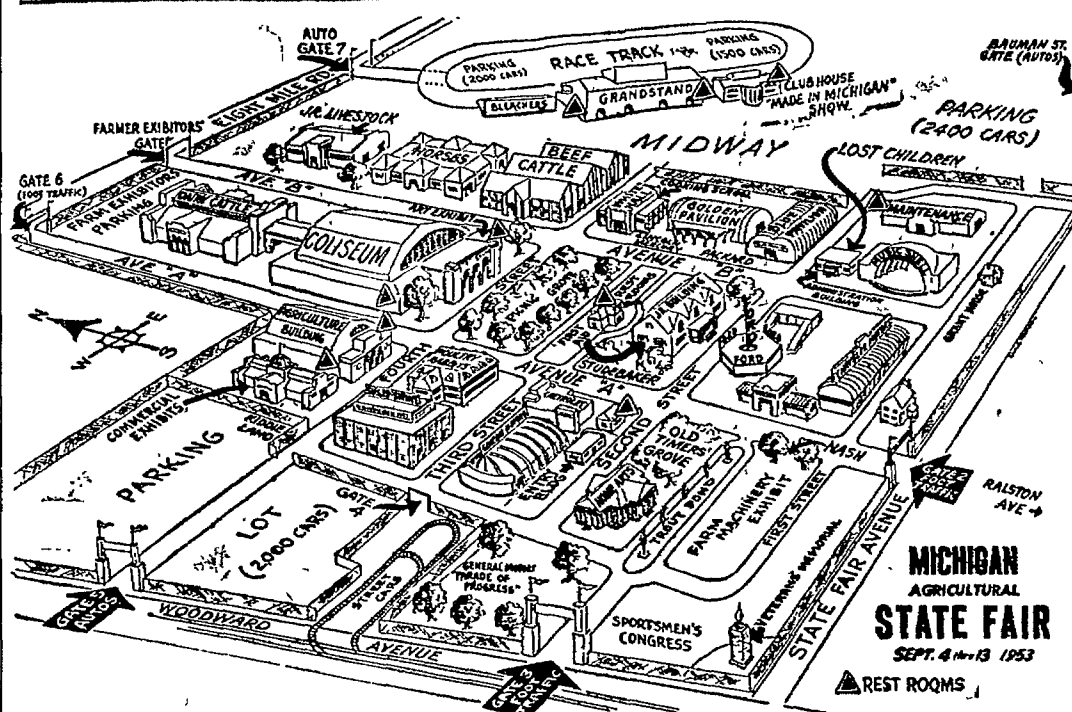

Educators, on the other hand, have directed some blows at editors, too. For years they have claimed that newspapers over-emphasize sensational difficulties in which schools become involved; that they often overlook the solid worthwhile developments.

The "enemy" camps, however, held two friends. They were Otto Haisley, then head of the School Administrators Association and Louis J. Berman, vice-president of the Michigan Press Association.

They decided that a joint meeting of school administrators and editors might create better understanding between the two groups. Such a session was arranged by Mr. Berman with the aid of the Michigan Press Association and Michigan school men. It was held in January, 1952, at Grand Rapids. Several hundred educators and editors were on hand.

So enthusiastic was the reception by both groups, and so great were the results that Dr. Francis Chase, of the Midwest Research

Save This State Fair Map

Visitors to the Michigan State Fair, Sept. 4 through 13, will find this specially prepared map a convenience in getting around the large grounds. General Manager James M. Hare suggests that readers bring it along when visiting this year.

Center of the University of Chicago, a Kellogg Foundation-supported research group, suggested that still greater benefits might come about if the two associations would unite in an investigation to discover these two points.

1. How people get information on schools.

2. What part newspapers play in supplying this information.

"Answers to these questions in education, will probably be applicable to other fields," stated Dr. Chase.

Vital effects will be felt by all agencies dealing with the public if results from this study bring even one half the potential visualized by those working in it.

The survey has been given an imposing title: Michigan Education Communications Study. Prof. Earl McIntyre, assistant head of the journalism department at Michigan State College, is coordinator. He is assisted by a board of daily and weekly newspapermen, some leading high school superintendents, several department heads at MSC and Dr. Chase.

Dire need to impress the public of facts vital to society is realized by educators who watch the skyrocketing birth rate. They know provisions must be made now if tomorrow's school children are to receive sound educations. School men know the public must realize the urgency of this problem if money is to be voted for more schools.

John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, foresees two million more residents in Michigan by 1970. Best available figures show that 1952's college enrollment of 94,000 will more than double in the next 17 years.

"Ten million dollars a year should be spent on a building program starting now," says President Hannah, "rather than letting the problem magnify through delay."

If solutions can be found to the educator's problem through the efforts of the Michigan Educational Communications Study, then those who look for big things to result in the world of public administration will not be disappointed.

Purest Water Bubbles from Northville Springs

The village's most familiar landmark — the old Northville Spring — once was "just a bubble in the ground."

But in 1953 — nobody knows how many years after its discovery — it attracts hundreds of visitors to Northville each week.

Many come laden with jugs and jars to carry home the pure, clear spring water, following a custom set by their fathers and grandfathers in the horse and buggy days.

The spring, located on Northville Rd. near the railroad depot, also qualifies as one of the mysteries of local history.

No one alive today is quite sure when it first was discovered. Nor are they sure of the origin of its water.

Some of the town's oldest residents are unsure of how the spring's fame spread.

Many Theories on Origin However, there are plenty of theories — and even more memories.

Willard Ely, 85-year old, said "about 65 years ago, as I recall, it was just a bubble in the ground down near the railroad tracks."

"Then the fellows from the Globe Furniture factory dug it out and it got to be quite a flowing spring," he said. "They used to come over and fill up their buckets and pails because there was no water around here that tasted so good."

"As long as I can remember, people have been stopping at the spring to pick up water," he said. "They came from all over this section of the state and many of them took it back to their home towns and sold it."

Discovered by Workers
Other old residents say the spring was first discovered by railroad workers when tracks were laid through this area. Water from the spring reportedly was used for years on railroad dining cars.

T. C. Carrington remembers crewmen from the old Flint and Pere Marquette Railroad hopping off at Northville to fill up their water jugs.

"In those days, the water ran out of a goose-neck pipe," he said.

how the spring gained almost nation-wide prominence.

He said the comic strip, "The Nebbs", popular first in the 1920's, had Northville as its setting and made frequent reference to the spring.

"As I remember, the fellow who drew the strip, named Hess, was a friend of the late Frank Neal, who once was the village postmaster and also published the Record for a time," Carrington said. "He visited many times out here and often alluded to Neal in the comic strip."

Carrington said water from the Northville spring and the nearby Silver Springs was for a period picked up in tank cars and taken into Detroit for use in soft drinks.

Nesbitt Co. Bottles It

This recollection is supported by William Beamer, president of the Nesbitt Orange Co. in Detroit, whose firm still does a thriving business selling Silver Springs water.

The firm now has a bottling plant down near the Silver Springs in which it bottles "Silver Springs Water" from the Flowing Springs of Northville.

"We sell about six to ten thousand gallons a month," Beamer said. "It's always been popular in Detroit. People have been using it for years and years."

Nesbitt said the soft drink company has been bottling Northville spring water for some 35 years.

Sold It Years Ago

A group of Northville men, including C. C. Yerkes, F. J. Cochran, and Carl and Phillip Bryan, also were associated with a firm selling Silver Springs water years ago.

The Northville Spring was marked only by its state-wide reputation until 1932, when the Northville Rotary Club built the structure now shielding it.

Since then, two club members have gone to the spring each week as a clean-up team.

There are a number of theories on the spring's origin. Some persons, including Beamer, believe it comes from the same vein as Silver Springs.

The water is variously thought to emerge from somewhere in the west end of the old Griswold farm, from Orchard Lake or from the many gravel banks in the area.

A drawing of the Northville spring has been printed on the masthead of the Northville Record since August, 1947. It also has appeared for years on checks of the Depositors State Bank.

Unless the manufacturer's directions state otherwise, hang the orlon garments to dry dripping wet on a rustproof, unvarnished hanger. Smooth seams and hems during the drying period to make ironing easier or eliminate it altogether. If pressing is necessary, use a rayon (warm) setting.

MSC Hotel Course to Begin 26th Year

Michigan State College's training program — the second oldest in the nation — will begin its second quarter-century of service this fall with the largest student enrollment in its history.

An expected 200 freshmen, almost twice the number who entered in the fall of 1952, will make up about one-half the entire student body of the M.S.C. division of hotel, restaurant and general institutional management.

Today, 600 graduates of the program, conducted in M.S.C.'s unique Kellogg Center, hold positions as managers of hotels, clubs, hospitals, restaurants, industrial food services and allied businesses.

Big Trout Pond to Be Feature of State Fair

The Michigan State Fair will feature "The World's Biggest Trout Pond" during its ten-day operation, Sept. 4 through 13.

For fifty cents you will be allowed 12 minutes to catch all the ten-inch to twenty-inch wild trout you can pull in.

With the blessings of the State Department of Conservation thousands of trout will be sent from the Crystal Spring Trout Farms, Springport, Mich., and will be placed in the 440 feet by 40 feet lagoon, used in former years as a decorative lake in the middle of the fairgrounds.

A 15 foot "shore" will encompass the lagoon.

Yes, you can keep all the trout you catch. As a matter of fact,

Among the Bible citations is he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles."

Correlative passages from "Sci-

Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Jesus presented the ideal of God better than could

NEW DEER LAW ACCEPTED

People are funny! Following the end of last year's deer season and that widely discussed 3-day any deer period many communities in the north were openly against any repetition of a regulation permitting the shooting of does or fawns over a widespread area of Michigan. If the Conservation Department offered any such special season in 1953 "there'd be fireworks." Reports that the deer had "almost disappeared" were commonplace.

A few days ago the Conservation Commission met to set the new 1953 deer regulations. The public was invited. It was well-publicized in advance. A mere handful of people attended, and when the Commission set a one-day any-deer season there was no murmur of protest. The promised "fireworks" fizzled. Tempests of the irate communities had cooled, probably because folks were still seeing quite a few deer cavorting about the premises.

Deer Health Improved
Partly as a result of the reduced herd which went into the 1952-53 winter, and partly because the winter was mild, the health of the Michigan white-tail deer is definitely on the upgrade, according to research game biologists. More multiple births have been recorded in areas where starvation had held down this normal expectancy, and the general appearance of the does indicated adequate food supply.

Reason for "Any-Deer" Law

Following this report some may ask, "Well, if the job has been done in cutting down the herd why must we have another any-deer hunting season?" And game men answer, "Nature will quickly undo all of the good done by last year's thinning. We can't relax to the point where the population of the herd will again exceed the available food supply. Harvesting of buck alone will not control the population at this point. Hence the need for a brief harvest of the herd as a whole."

Open Area Greatly Reduced

With shooting permitted one day only above Highway M-55 the area as compared to last year is cut down about one-third. To this writer the regulation looks safe and sane, and all concerned will watch and weigh results, come December 1st.

Apology:

In a recent article highlighting the Sleeping Bear Sand Dunes we cited Glen Arbor as the originating point of the dune rides. To the folks in Glen Haven where the Dunebmobiles were born and raised this was an affront, and we humbly apologize for the error. However, Glen Arbor's a nice town, too!

Michigan State Police made 6,897 arrests, including 5,951 for traffic offenses, during July, according to the monthly activity report compiled by the department.

Arrests increased 50 per cent over the 4,595 made during June when general police activities suffered a sharp decline due to special details assigned to the Flint tornado disaster and the upper peninsula search for Marquette escapees.

July traffic arrests increased 57 per cent over the 3,798 made during the previous month. Not included in the arrests totals were 946 juvenile offenses, involving delinquent and wayward minors and juvenile traffic law offenders.

Coopers also made 17,706 property inspections and 3,130 liquor inspections. There was a total of 7,664 complaints handled in all matters and 916,432 miles were traveled in connection with all departmental activities.

The East Lansing headquarters received 8,915 sets of fingerprints, 5,238 criminal and 3,677 non-criminal. In processing 593 sets of fingerprints submitted in connection with applications for licenses to carry concealed weapons, 61 applicants were found to have criminal records. Likewise, 2 persons wanted by police as fugitives from justice were identified through fingerprints.

The bureau compiled 2,917 criminal records and furnished 8,271 copies of the records to various agencies.

Housing Project Draws Bluebirds to Northville

Northville's bluebird population increased more than 800 per cent this summer — thanks to a one-man community birdhouse campaign conducted by Harold S. Hartley.

Hartley, who lives at 602 Randolph St., decided to distribute the bird houses after a census last summer turned up only three active bluebird nests in the village.

Early this spring, he placed 51 boxes and then sat back and waited for the birds to make themselves at home.

That they did.
A survey completed recently by Hartley indicated that 26 of the houses had been occupied by bluebirds, ten others by wrens and ten by house sparrows either all or part of the time. Five other boxes were unoccupied.

Hartley reported that the bluebirds laid a total of 196 eggs and raised 130 nestlings.

Unfortunately, unthinking persons stole ten of the boxes — one of them containing a nest with five eggs.

Hartley said that bird experts have found that community birdhouse campaigns result in a marked increase in the bluebird population. Next year he hopes to interest local organizations in placing at least 25 or 50 additional boxes.

104 Birds Banded
Hartley banded 11 of the adult bluebirds and 93 of the nestlings. He asks that any village residents finding a dead bird with a leg band do the following:

Remove the band, flatten it, and then tape it to a piece of paper and send it to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Patuxent Research Refuge, Laurel, Md.

Heaven's "Who's Who"

Celebrities usually take a great deal of pride in having their names listed in "America's Who's Who". The common run of people, like the most of us, never will make it. But do not be dismayed, friend, there is a more important, a more aristocratic Book of Royalty that you can be listed in. I speak of "The Lamb's Book of Life". This is the Lord's record of all the sinners who have repented of their sins, have taken Jesus Christ as their Lord and Saviour, thereby being "born again" by the Holy Spirit. Though there are few names in comparison to the many people who have lived on this earth, yet heaven's register records many names from "every kindred, and tongue, and people and nation". A Red Cross attendant saw the moving lips of a dying soldier and tenderly spoke into the dying man's ear, "What is it, what are you saying?" The dying man with a peaceful smile on his face whispered "The roll is being called up yonder and I am listening for my name." A few minutes of silence and then he exclaimed, "My name is being called. Here! Here!" and so passed into His presence. I wonder when the "roll is called up yonder" will you be there?

'Any Deer' Season Improves Herd

Michigan game men heaved a long sigh of relief last fall when a sizeable hunter army took advantage of the special three-day "any deer" season and skinned some fat off the state's deer herd in the northern lower peninsula, according to the Department of Conservation.

Before that season started, those game men had hoped for a lot of things — good weather, many hunters, a heavy kill — and they were fortunate enough to witness a thoroughly successful special season.

It was a long step forward, and one long needed, conservation men say.

But it was only the first step and now Michigan hunters are to have another special season, Dec. 1, when any deer — buck, doe or fawn — will be legal in the lower peninsula north of M-55.

Don't Want Heavy Kill

Game men don't expect, nor do they want, so heavy a kill as last year. Their request for a one-day season this fall, instead of three days as last fall, is adequate testimony to this.

But they do want to remove the extra animals, so in the coming winter there will be enough natural food in the woods for those that remain as breeding stock for next year's herd.

This, essentially, is the policy of the department under deer herd management; to carry through each winter the largest breeding herd possible, so long as that herd does not further damage food producing growths on the winter range.

What will happen in the lower peninsula on Dec. 1 is anybody's guess. A bad storm could stop hunters cold and slow down the management program. Followed by a hard winter, this could spell death by starvation for some deer in the herd. At the same time it could mean trees and shrubs that provide food for the herd during the winter would be further harmed by overeating.

What game men want is a good hunting day, a good-sized hunter army and enough of a kill to slim down the herd for the coming winter. Last year, all these hopes paid off; this year, if they do again, Michigan could cover another long mile toward good deer herd management.
