Village Takes Quick Advantage of Bargain

Tuesday night was bargain night for Northville.

The Village Commission (1) promptly accepted a proposal to resurface the pitted and broken Rogers St. from West Main to Fairbrook for the comparatively tiny cost to the Village of $1,300 and (2) took immediate action on a verbal bid to lay a 400-foot stretch of sidewalk for only 30 cents a square foot.

RESURFACING PROPOSAL

The resurfacing proposal came from the Wayne County Road Commission in a letter read in Commission meeting Tuesday night. The Road Commission said it would lay an asphalt surface on Rogers St. this year if the Village would make an immediate agreement.

Estimated cost of the job, according to the Road Commission, is about $11,500, but Wayne County will stand the cost of a 20-foot strip down the center and split costs with the Village on the balance.

The balance amounts to two 3-foot strips along the curbs the length of the street. The 50-50 deal calls for the Village to pay for one of the 3-foot strips, estimated by the Road Commission at $1,300.

NICE SURPRISE

The proposal came as something of a pleasant shock to the Village Commission, which considered the resurfacing problem three weeks ago after Rogers St. residents had complained of the street's poor condition.

Commissioners agreed at that time that the job would cost too much to be covered by this year's budget, but Village President Conrad E. Langfield said he would contact the Road Commission and find out what the cost would be.

The Road Commission indicated in a conversation with Mr. Langfield that the low cost could be offered because Road Commission equipment is already in this area, working on Seven Mile Rd.

SECOND BARGAIN

The second "bargain" of the night was offered by Donald Bidwell, of Plymouth, through Commissioner John Stubenvoll.

Bidwell said he would lay a new 400-foot stretch of sidewalk on the north side of West Main St. from Rogers to the residence of Dr. L. W. Snow for 30 cents a square foot, 16 cents per foot lower than a price offered earlier by another contractor.

Clerk Mrs. Mary Alexander had sent letters to the residents along the stretch informing them that the new sidewalk will be laid. They had the choice of having the work done themselves or of having the Village do the work and billing the residents. Two residents asked the Village to do the work and two others held off until the Village's price can be determined.

President Conrad E. Langfield instructed Village Attorney Philip R. Ogilvie to confer with Street Superintendent Herman Hartner, Jr. to determine specifications and make a formal agreement with Bidwell for the job, if the residents agreed to the price.

The new sidewalk will be three feet wide and four inches thick. The Village will be responsible for breaking and removing the old concrete, and for grading and filling work.

Bahnmler Wins Golf Tournament

Charles Bahnmler carried off top honors in the Northville Business Men's golf league tournament at Hickory Hills Golf Club Saturday, with a low gross score of 88 and a 58 net. He was awarded a trophy.

Winners of flight competition during regular season play were Bob Morse, first flight; Ed Welch, second flight; and Clayton Graham, third flight.

In an election following the 18-hole tourney, Earl Gibson was named president for the 1954 season, replacing Welch. Bahnmler was elected secretary-treasurer, replacing Ed Rutenbar.

Extend Tax Deadline

The Northville tax deadline was extended to Oct. 20 by a vote of the Village Commission Tuesday night.

Delay Community Building Contract

Commission Will Give Decision Friday

The Village Commission will hold a special meeting Friday night, Sept. 11, to decide which of six bidders will construct the long-awaited Community Building.

After opening bids at a regular meeting Tuesday, the Commission decided to postpone its final decision until Friday.

In the interim, Architect Walter Amick will inspect work done by the bidding contractors and then report back to the Commission with his recommendation.

Base bids for the building started at $205,000 and ended at $231,717. However, three of the bids ranged from $205,000 to $208,700, indicating the job could be done within this price range.

WALLACE LOW BIDDER

The low bidder was Wallace Construction Co. of Farmington at $205,000. Kurtz Building Co. of Ann Arbor bid $206,600 and A. N. Hickson, Inc., Detroit, offered to do the job for $208,700.

Presumably, the Commission will accept the bid of one of these three firms.

Other base bids included one for $224,220 from the R. E. Davis Construction Co., Plymouth; $227,775 from E. H. Wittman Construction Co., Wyandotte, and $231,717 from R. Stewart Construction Co., Detroit.

COMPLETION DATES

Wallace Construction Co. gave a May 15, 1954 completion date while Kurtz said it could finish the job by April of next year. Hickson submitted a completion date of March 15, 1954.

Davis Construction Co. pegged July 1, 1954 as its completion date while the Wittman firm said it could do the job in 210 calendar days. Stewart estimated the job would take until March 15 of next year.

All six firms submitted bid bonds with their bids.

Commissioner John Stubenvoll, chairman of the Commission finance committee, said that if the building costs between $205,000 and $208,000, it will be necessary for the Village to raise an additional $35,000 between now and the completion date of the building.

MAY BORROW FUNDS

He said $20,000 of this would eventually come from next summer's race track revenue. However, he said the village may be forced to borrow money in anticipation of the race receipts.

Besides the cost of constructing the building, the village still must pay architect's fee, Stubenvoll said. He also pointed out that the village still owes $17,500 as its share of the Seven Mile cut-off construction job, putting a further strain on the Village treasury.

The contractors also quoted prices on eight alternate phases of construction, which involved minor changes in the architect's specifications. However, these quotations had little effect on the base bids.

Final construction plans were expected to involve only three of the alternates—omitting asphalt tile in the bleacher section, omitting ceramic tile in areas shown in the schedule and installing marble chip terrazzo with integral six inch cove base and omitting asphalt tile and installing terrazzo in the lounge.

A Detroit firm's bituminous paver made short work of the parking lot and alley south of East Main St. last week as it laid the first course of asphalt on the area. Trucks carrying the heated paving material shuffled back and forth between Detroit and the job to keep the paver going. The trucks disgorged their cargoes by backing up to the paver, then allowing the paver to push them as the asphalt dumped into the paver's hopper.

First Course of Asphalt Paving Laid on Parking Lot and Alley

Kindergarten Notice Correction

Printed notices sent to parents of kindergarten children contain an error in the starting time for the afternoon session.

The afternoon session will begin at 12:40 p.m., rather than 1:20 p.m. as listed in the notice.

The haulers and tamperers and rollers were at work Thursday and Friday of last week as they gave the East Main St. parking lot and alley a new suit—the first coat of smooth, shining bituminous asphalt.

Six trucks, each hauling eight tons of the stone-sand-asphalt material, shuffled back and forth between Northville and Detroit, feeding the bituminous paver.

The dump trucks took turns backing up to the front of the paver, then shifted into neutral to allow the paver to push the trucks slowly as the asphalt slid smoothly into the paver's hopper.

ASPHALT IS 375°

A worm gear distributed the 375-degree asphalt in an eight-foot swath as the paver's tamper and roller smoothed and packed the surfacing material.

"This is just the first course," said Engineer Clarence Jerome, who stood by inspecting the operation. "The finishing course will be laid on top later."

A huge roller followed a half-hour behind the paver, packing and bonding the asphalt into a surface which will support autos and trucks even before the finer top course is laid.

WORKERS ARE FAST

"These workers can finish these jobs quickly," Jerome said, "unless the heat gets too bad. The fellows riding the paver and roller, and the clean-up men behind them have to work between the sun's heat, and the heat rising from the asphalt.

When finished, the job will furnish parking for a large number of shopper's cars, with easy access to Main St.

METERS GOING IN

Parking meters, probably of the one- and two-hour variety, will be installed in the parking lot and alley to help pay for them

Paving of the parking lot and alley south of East Main St. turned out to be a good deal for Charles Altman, manager of the Center Street Grocery.

He asked the bituminous paving contractor to lay asphalt on a 13x24 foot parking space between the store and the alley.

The job cost Altman only $65 since the contractor had some of the paving material left over and the machinery was handy.

Altman said the cement contractor who laid the gutters earlier wanted $250 to pave the strip.

and to forestall congestion of all-day parking.

The alley also provides room for large delivery trucks to deliver stock for the stores along Main, taking the huge traffic-blocking vans off Main St.

The one-way parking lot and alley have an entrance at the intersection of Hutton and East Main streets opposite the Kroger Store, and an exit on South Center St.

Rotary Rummage Sale Set for Friday, Saturday

Northville Rotary Club members were making final collections this week for the club's annual Rummage sale to be held tomorrow and Saturday under the grandstand at Northville Downs.

Fred Anderson, co-chairman of the Rummage Sale publicity committee, said Rotarians distributed handbills and made personal solicitations this week in an attempt to swell the list of goods for sale. "We've had pretty fair cooperation so far but we still need more articles if the sale is to be a success," Anderson said.

He reminded Village residents they can have any item picked up simply by calling a Rotary Club member.

Items needed include kitchen utensils, clothes, furniture, toys, books—anything that might be of use to somebody.

The sale will start at 9 a.m. Friday and Saturday mornings. Proceeds will go to help children who need medical care or funds for educational purposes. Last year, the sale netted nearly $800 for these charities.

School Board Will Meet Monday

The Northville School Board meeting will be held at the Superintendent's office in the grade school Monday, Sept. 14 at 8 p.m. The meeting was moved ahead a week because it fell on Labor Day.

Farmers Add Up Crop Loss From Drought

Northville-area farmers counted thousands of dollars in crop damage this week as a result of one of the worst droughts in Michigan history.

Despite some rain last week, scores of acres of corn and other crops were blackened by the blistering sun.

The weather bureau reported that only .91 inches of rain fell in this area from Aug. 3 to Sept. 3—nearly 1 1/4 inches below normal.

No rain was reported during a 20-day stretch from Aug. 9 to 29.

CORN HARDEST HIT

The corn crop appeared to be the hardest hit. Many farmers reported losses up to 25 per cent while others were forced to fill silos early in an attempt to salvage at least part of their corn crop.

Milan George, who with his father farms 270 acres at 49800 Six Mile Rd., reported that 60 acres of early corn had been seriously damaged, cutting the 1953 yield by 25-30 per cent.

"Our grain and truck crops also have been damaged but corn took the worst beating," George said. Reynold Esch, who operates a dairy farm at 18974 Haggerty Hwy., filled his silo last week because his corn had dried out. He said 35 acres had been severely damaged with damage amounting to more than $400.

He said some of the corn could be used but that it lost a good deal of its food value because it was dried out.

HARVEST SLASHED

The drought caused a 25-30 per cent slash in this year's crop at the Hagop Kazarian truck farm at 10200 Newkirk Rd., the owner estimated.

"Our cucumbers, tomatoes, corn, melons... just about everything burned up," Kazarian said.

The Kazarian farm covers eight acres.

The corn crop also suffered at the Drayton Court farm on Six Mile Rd. However, most of it was expected to be usable.

"My husband fills silos and the farmers around here are after him all the time to get the job done early this year," Mrs. Cort said.

Fruit growers also were affected by the drought. Phillip Anderson of 50255 West Eight Mile Rd. reported that fruit was smaller than usual with apples dropping prematurely.

Boy Hurt In Fall Into Dry Well

It's pretty difficult for two-year-old Ernest Lee Lamerson to summon up a smile.

For instead of spending these late summer days romping with his three sisters at their Milford home, Ernest is flat on his back at Acheson Memorial Hospital.

His right leg is encased in a splint and both legs are in traction, pointing to the ceiling.

The youngster was playing at the home of a family friend in Clarkston Saturday, Aug. 29, when he tumbled into a dry well and suffered a compound fracture of his right leg.

FOUR-WEEK STAY

Doctors say he must remain in the hospital for three or four weeks.

His parents, the Ernest Lamersons of Commerce Lake Rd., visit him every day.

"He's been the best little soldier about it all," his mother said this week. "He's usually in good spirits when we arrive for a visit but it's hard for him when we have to leave."

Mrs. Lamerson said the youngster manages to keep himself occupied with toys most of the time although his movement is restricted by the traction apparatus.

NURSES' FAVORITE

Brown-eyed Ernest has won the hearts of the nurses at the hospital, who call him "Di-Di."

"He's a wonderful little boy and never any trouble," one said. When the Record photographer stopped by last Friday, Ernest wasn't too sure he wanted his picture taken. But he decided it would be all right after the photographer promised an extra picture for his mother. He then posed with his teddy bear, a gift from one of his favorite people—his daddy.

Two Northville Men on Induction List

Two Northville men will be inducted into the Army on Sept. 14. Local Board 102 announced this week.

The Northville inductees are Robert T. Kirkey of Carpenter St. and Rudolph Hoover of Ten Mile Rd.

Four Plymouth men and five from Livonia also are on the induction list. The Plymouth men are George H. Weberlein, Jr., Donald E. Beaver, Ronald J. Beaver and Edson A. Whipple.

The Livonia inductees include James H. Shuffett, James A. McCain, John W. Stull, Sidney G. MacMurtree and Richard A. Crawford.

Ernest Lee Lamerson faces several weeks in traction with a broken leg after falling down an open well near Clarkston, Mich. He is a patient at Acheson Memorial Hospital.

Lady we don't know too well, but who must be a most sensible sort, she bought a new Studebaker, told us of an errand uncle, now spending a couple of days at her home. "A sanctimonious sort of a fellow," she said, "who spends all day bemoaning the fact she is such a sinner." And as an after thought she added, "wouldn't be too bad at that, if he didn't feel he had to spend all night proving it."

Oh well, maybe he's the guy that complained about conventions . . . didn't like the kind of food they gave him to drink.

Come to think of it, we've spent a lot of time telling you how good the Studebaker is; its beauty; its comfort; its power; its economy. It will only take us a couple of minutes to prove it though. Just a bit of a demonstration with YOU behind the wheel. You'll be surprised and pleased and wonder how come you've waited all these years to own the best car on the road today!

Oh well, money talks, but at today's prices it doesn't have enough cents to say much.

Of course, one place you get full value for your dollar is in this shop of ours. The car you thought was down to its last gasp will emerge full of power and vitamins after a session with these expert mechanics of ours. Better bring it in for a thorough check-up and lubrication for the long fall driving ahead.

That's that, but a fellow told us he's forever puzzled by the fact that in story books and in the movies, when a couple get married, their troubles are over.

Mop Away Cleanup Chores

Fall begins the housekeeping new year, brings with it the time for a new set of serious cleanup resolutions and for taking stock of cleaning ways and means. Among the new products on the market is a sponge mop which offers several innovations designed to make day-to-day tidying more efficient and big projects less of a chore.

With a push-pull squeezer that operates from high on the handle to eliminate wet hands and bending to press the mop dry, the new mop's oversize 11" sponge folds in half when compressed, fits into the smallest bucket, yet covers a broad floor area with each stroke. Cushioned on all four sides to prevent scratching, it slips easily into tight kitchen corners, slides under low fixtures and furniture. Working the squeezer with the sponge in the mop cleans the mop quickly.

Basic for floor care, according to O-Cedar cleaning experts, sponge mops are versatile tools that save bending, stretching and elbow grease in a variety of home tasks from the speedy soaking-up of accidental spills to an easy reach into bathtubs and a quick coverage of bathroom tile walls. An extra screw-on refill equips this mop for spreading liquid wax on wood or linoleum floors, and, with the aid of any of the foam cleaners, it can shampoo and rinse rugs and carpets. For walls and ceilings, mirrors and windows, porches or terraces, these new sponge helpers can literally mop-up every surface in the home.

Kenny Hospital Making Move to Farmington

Moving of the Pontiac Sister Kenny Polio Hospital to the west wing of Farmington's Convalescent Branch of Children's Hospital of Michigan will be accomplished by Sept. 15, according to the Sister Kenny Foundation.

A gradual transfer of patients, staff and equipment is being made over a 30-day period. Four weeks of alterations are necessary before the first 28 patients, currently under treatment, can be transferred.

Purpose of the move is to better serve the hard-pressed Metropolitan Detroit area. The Farmington hospital furnishes a more modern and spacious area for the patients, and is more readily available to the dangerous Detroit area than it was in Oakland County.

During critical polio periods the hospital has bedded down as many as 92 patients, although normal capacity is 40 beds, said Dr. John C. Montgomery, head of the hospital's medical advisory board.

The busiest year, 1952, saw 270 polio patients admitted. That topped the previous high of 220, set in 1949. A total of 71,675 individual Kenny treatments for the disease set another new record. The hospital opened in Pontiac in 1948.

Dr. Montgomery also pointed out that hospital records showed that, while patients are admitted from any part of the state, 53 per cent of those treated last year were from the Metropolitan Detroit area, a strong factor in deciding the transfer to Farmington.

The severity of the 1952 epidemic necessitated two emergency grants of Torch Drive funds to the Kenny Foundation for the year's operation.

Hospitalization and treatment are free at the hospital to those patients who cannot pay and it is only one of seven Kenny facilities in the country.

"Sufficient development and tests have been conducted to conclude that the use of this operation in harbors, lakes, or any relatively protected waters is entirely practicable."

Dr. E. George Lawrence, president of L.I.T., said the college will award an honorary doctor's degree in aeronautical engineering with Mrs. Walden, now a resident of California, accepting it for her husband. He said that the posthumous degree would be awarded as soon as arrangements can be made for Mrs. Walden's attendance.

Navy kept secret the circumstances of the accident.

Walden's invention, it appears, may revolutionize the entire aviation industry when it is released for private use. The commercial application of such a type of universal landing gear could bring the airlines closer to cities situated on rivers and harbors to eliminate much of the need for close-in airports.

At the time of Walden's death the former Navy pilot was an engineer with the All American Engineering Co. in Wilmington.

"Hundreds of landing and take-off operations from water, grass, mud, paved runways and snow have been made by ordinary land planes equipped with this landing gear," stated Donald B. Doolittle, chief engineer of All American.

Wally Weber Will Talk at Plymouth U-M Club Dinner

The annual college send-off dinner, sponsored by the Plymouth University of Michigan Club will be held Friday evening, Sept. 11 at 6:30 p.m. at the Smith School.

Walter J. (Wally) Weber of Ann Arbor will be the guest speaker. Weber is the freshman football coach at the University of Michigan. As a speaker he has appeared in nearly 400 cities at more than 1,000 gatherings in the United States and Canada.

All persons living in Plymouth and vicinity who attended the University of Michigan, whose children attend the University, or who are interested in it are invited to become members, and are especially welcome at this first meeting.

For reservations, call Mrs. W. E. Ackerman, 1333-W, or Mrs. Roy Jacobus, 615-W.

Education is the knowledge of how to use the whole of oneself. Many men use but one or two faculties out of the score with which they are endowed.

Getting That Wash Day Smile

Smiles on wash day? Wouldn't the girls of the "gay nineties" be shocked! The only aid they ever had on wash day was the good old rain barrel.

In a long step from the rub and scrub of the "good old days" to present day homemaking. To make homes more saleable, progressive architects and builders are including everything to make life easier for the homemaker. "Utility" rooms have become as bright and sunny as the kitchen, and as fully equipped.

An abundant supply of softened hot and cold water is available at the turn of a tap, with modern automatic water softeners and heaters. Automatic washers, which require nothing more than organization and loading are simple, push-button affairs. Driers have eliminated toting to the backyard. Automatic ironers whip things through in double-quick time. Milady whizzes through her laundry while baking a cake.

Yes—the old rain barrel of yesteryear has been replaced by the modern water softener, the scrub board by the automatic washer, the flat iron by the modern steam iron—all today part of the magic of the modern laundry room. Times have changed for Mrs. Housewife.

14-Mile Road Eyed as Possible Cross Artery

The first official proposal to open up Fourteen Mile road from New Hudson on the west to Gratiot Ave on the east has been introduced by the Birmingham City Commission.

According to the Eccentric, "the Commission has approved a resolution requesting the Oakland County Road Commission to acquire the last remaining right-of-way for Fourteen Mile road along a portion of Birmingham County Club's southern boundary."

The action is proposed to take some of the heavy traffic off Maple road. The Birmingham Eccentric stated that a "study on the advisability of opening Fourteen Mile road . . . began in 1946."

Fourteen Mile road is the northern boundary of Farmington

Township from Inkster road on the east to Haggerty road on the west. There have been repeated rumors for several years that this section of road would be developed into a main east-west artery, but the resolution by the Birmingham City Commission is the first official action.

At the present time, Twelve Mile road in Farmington Township is carrying the bulk of the east-west traffic exclusive of Grand River. During the past two years the volume of traffic on the road has increased tremendously. Although Twelve

State's History Told in Regent Gift to U of M

A recent gift to the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan is providing scholars with a vivid picture of life in this part of the state during the middle 1800's.

The book, titled "The Schmid Letters" contains letters written by Rev. Friedrich Schmid from Ann Arbor to the Mission Institute in Basel, Switzerland.

The book was given to the University by Emerson E. Hutzel of St. Louis, Mo.

Rev. Mr. Schmid was a graduate of the institute who was sent to Michigan as a missionary at the request of Germans living in Washtenaw County. He began his pastorate in Ann Arbor in August, 1833.

FIRST LUTHERAN MINISTER

He was the first Lutheran minister in Michigan. Besides his congregation on Jackson Road near Ann Arbor, Rev. Mr. Schmid has served groups in Detroit, Monroe and other settlements. At one time he had eight congregations, according to F. Clever Bald, assistant director of the Michigan Historical Collections.

His letters tell of his difficult journeys on horseback over almost impassable roads. At Monroe he had to swim his horse across the Raisin River. Meetings were sometimes held in a settler's cabin or in a barn. During the cholera epidemic of 1834, when many persons fled from Detroit to escape the disease, Rev. Mr. Schmid continued to hold services in the city.

WORKED WITH INDIANS

The letters contain evidence of the pastor's great desire to place missionaries among the Indians. He visited various villages, especially in the Saginaw Valley, and when Rev. F. A. Craemer came from Germany with his congregation, looking for a place to settle and teach the Indians, Rev. Mr. Schmid directed him to the Saginaw region. There, on the bank of the Cass River, he founded Frankenthum, the first of the German towns in the area.

Although the letters deal principally with religious matters, there is a great deal of other interesting material in them. There are descriptions of Ann Arbor and an account of conditions in Detroit during the cholera epidemic. Difficulties of travel, the attitude of Michigan people toward the Germans, the condition of Indians in Michigan and other such subjects are mentioned frequently.

The original letters are in the Mission Institute. Transcripts are in the library of Ellen Seminary, St. Louis, Mo. Mr. Hutzel translated and edited the letters. He is a native of Washtenaw County who is now teaching in St. Louis.

A biographical sketch of Rev. Mr. Schmid, included in the book, was written by Miss Julia Kirchhofer of Ann Arbor, a granddaughter of Rev. Mr. Schmid.

Hospital Asks Northville's Help in Making Patient Fair a Success

A gala fair—complete with the traditional carnival games, a beauty contest and even competition in hog calling—will be held Sept. 17 for patients at the Northville State Hospital.

The more than 600 patients will compete for prizes at 15 booths, featuring games such as the milk bottle toss, penny pitch and turtle race.

Volunteers and staff members at the hospital were hard at work this week planning the fair, which will be held in the hospital recreation area.

Employees from Northville serving on the planning committee include Conrad Springer, Mrs. Marie Shames and Charles De-neune. Mrs. Edith Skinner of Walled Lake also is assisting.

ASK DONATIONS

Any groups or individuals in the community wishing to donate small prizes or snack food items are asked to contact any of the above committee members, who will be glad to furnish a list of requested items and discuss any other arrangements.

Persons wishing to help in running or sponsoring a booth are asked to call Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, director of social service at the hospital. Her phone is 1290 days, and Livonia 5792 evenings and week ends.

The hospital staff is asking for contributions of small individualized personal prizes, such as wallets, purses, mechanical pencils, individual cosmetic items, writing paper and stamps, combs, jewelry and hankies, or food and smoking items such as cigarettes, box candy, pipes, tobacco, cakes, lighters, cigarette holders, and tobacco pouches.

OTHER PRIZES NEEDED

The other prize categories include clothing items such as ties, shirts, blouses, stockings for men and women, belts and suspenders and scarfs and notions such as dolls, canes, hats, harmonicas, games and playing cards.

And since no carnival would be complete without a well-stocked refreshment stand, the hospital asks Northville's help in supplying soft drinks, cakes, pies or cookies, candy bars, rolls, potato chips, pop corn and pretzels. The patients will try for prizes at the following booth games: fish pond, roulette wheels, milk bottle toss, baby doll toss, ring toss, nail driving contest, penny pitch, fortune telling booth, break the balloon, turtle race, quick sketch artist, horse race game and weight guessing.

Livonia Has Sharpshooting Policewoman

Mary Isabel Ford, the only woman on the Livonia police force, isn't a "tough cop".

She isn't supposed to be.

Whenever a case comes up involving juveniles or women, Mary gets the assignment.

On these cases, Mary's best weapons are a sense of diplomacy and a reserve of hard common sense.

But if the day ever comes that Mary's confronted by a hardened criminal who won't succumb to persuasive measures—well, she's ready for that, too.

SHARP SHOOTER

She's armed with a .38 Colt pistol, and she can outshoot most of the men on the force.

If you don't believe it, just ask the next police officer you see. He may not admit it, but he doesn't deny it, either.

"I like shooting," explains Mary. "I own a .22 Winchester rifle of my own, and I like to get on a range as often as possible."

Mary hastens to add that "I have yet to take my first shot at a criminal, and I hope I never have to."

"But," she says firmly, "I will if I have to."

ALL AROUND COP

Mary is an all-around policewoman. She acts as desk radio operator, license examiner and secretary to Chief George E. Harmon.

Well versed in criminal law, she also writes up the charges whenever a fellow brings in an offender.

She learned most of that law in a course given by the Detroit police department. She also has taken courses in criminal behavior and criminal interrogation.

Before she entered police work, Mary had two years at Ohio State University.

JOB JUST GREW

What attracted her to the long arm of the law? "I was hired as a police clerk on the Plymouth city force back in 1948," says Mary.

"The job sort of grew. That kept on giving me more and more duties."

"After Livonia became a city, there seemed to be more opportunity on the force here. So I came over in 1951 to take the competitive civil service examination."

Mary got the job. "I wouldn't want to do anything else," she says. "Police work gets in your blood and stays there."

Mary is also secretary of the Livonia Police Officers Association.

tion and a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Livonia Methodist Church.

Grid Coaches, Captains Talk It Over

Mustang Coach Unhappy With Team's Progress

Northville High's Al Jones is no different than most football coaches, be they the high school, college or professional variety.

He can always find the dark side of things. Jones, who's hoping for big things from the Mustangs this season, summed up the first week of pre-season practice in one word—"terrible."

"Maybe it was the heat, but the boys couldn't seem to do anything right," he said. "They weren't blocking, their tackling was ragged and they were poor on signals."

Despite his general disappointment with the squad, Jones did have praise for several players.

"Al Iversen has looked good and so has Lamar Nalley," he said. "Jim Mitchell and Bruce Felker also seem to be coming along."

The Mustang mentor was doubly handicapped during the first week by the loss of more than a half dozen players, due to colds, injuries and the heat.

Only 18 varsity men showed up for a Friday morning scrimmage and Jones was forced to field a defensive lineup of only seven men.

"And even then the offense couldn't seem to get going," he said.

"We hope to have five or six more boys out when school starts, but they won't be much help for a couple of weeks."

Jones has only a little more than a week to prepare his charges for the opener against Plymouth.

"I wish I could say things look good but they don't," he said. "We still have an awful lot of work to do."

Northville Hunter Trials Scheduled for This Week End

Michigan Junior Equestrian teams will compete for the final time this season at the Northville Hunter Trials, to be held this week end at Franfield Farms, 48820 West Eight Mile Rd.

The competition will be the first official modified event featuring Olympic type contests held in Michigan. Teams will perform in the three phases of international competition—dressage, cross-country and jumping.

Also at stake will be the low score jumping championship and the Dressage championship. Riders in these events are separated by only a few percentage points.

OUTSTANDING EVENT
The program's outstanding event will be the two-mile cross country competition where the riders will gallop over the fields and take 14 jumps on the way, all within the time limit of seven minutes.

The event is sponsored by the Northville Optimist Club and already has produced one United States Olympic team candidate, Frank Duffy, of Birmingham, who at present is in training at Fort Riley, Kansas.

THIRD IN STANDINGS
Northville currently stands third in state-wide team standings. In first place is the team from Oakland, with Metamora second, Grant's fourth and Rochester fifth.

Judging the contests will be Col. Harold C. Kirchner of Chicago and Jack P. Callaghan, Jr., of Northville.

The committee in charge of the trials includes J. P. Malley, chairman; Mrs. Franklin Beeks, secretary, and Dr. Waldo T. Johnson and Dr. J. K. Eastland.

The two-day program is as follows: Saturday, starting at 1:30 p.m.: cross country competition for junior equestrian teams, local horsemanship for juniors (any seat), trial horses (open class), local pleasure horses for juniors, jumping competition.

The Sunday morning schedule, starting at 9 a.m., includes: elementary dressage, junior Olympic "Big Jumping Event", horsemanship (hunter seat), working hunters, any weight (senior class), and relay jumping competition.

The afternoon program includes cross country hunting competition (senior class), horsemanship (hunter seat), ladies' working hunters (senior class), horsemanship

In Fiore, Womber is running up against a boy from the Red Hook section of Brooklyn described as a "dangerous foe for any welterweight." His record is 62 fights with 42 wins, 15 defeats, 5 draws and 16 knockouts. He has beaten such top welters as Vic Cardell, Joey Klein and Danny Giovannelli.

RINGNECK HARVEST AHEAD

It's going to be a bumper year for pheasant hunters, according to latest reports from our Michigan Department of Conservation. Rural mail carriers in pheasant territory count the broods they see on their routes, and when possible count the number of chicks in a brood.

This year's count shows a substantial increase—and to prove that this type of count is reliable, the increase over a sizeable portion of the terrain as computed from many different counts ranges right around 33%. Up in the Thumb counties the boost is greatest—ranging up to 36%.

Dog Trainers Active

Dog trainers and handlers in the Thumb say they're putting up lots of young birds—more than last year—in many areas. Carl Frederick of Elkton and Bud Day of Uby working their gun dogs late in the evening have flushed as many as 100 pheasants in a single session.

The young birds vary considerably in size, for the hatching period of this past spring extended over many weeks. Many of the young roosters already are showing color in their plumage.

Big Season Forecast

While we may never again kill a million and a half cock birds as we have in the past, this year's hunting will be a definite improvement. The recovery cycle is on the upgrade and will probably continue so thru 1954, barring a lot of bad hatching weather next spring.

And, as in years gone by, after the first day's shooting, the cagey old roosters (and a lot of young ones that learn fast) will learn to skitter thru cover for 100 yards and more before flying, eluding man and dog in a run for their lives.

Every pheasant hunter has watched in amazement as a big, fat rooster settles from flight into short stubble no more than two or three inches high, completely disappears, then, moments later flares into the sky at the far end of the field. How they flatten themselves in short cover and run like a deer without being seen will always be a fascinating mystery to the average gunner.

More Hunting Dogs Afield
Each year more and more hunters recognize the importance of a good dog, and this year, according to reports, there'll be more pointers, setters, Brittanies, Springers and assorted breeds in the chase. This adds greatly to the pleasure of hunting—and subtracts from the number of crippled birds normally lost each year.

So get set for a big season for pheasant hunting this fall in Michigan Outdoors.

Wild Life Notes...

VIOLATIONS—

A total of 417 persons were arrested during July for conservation law violations, the highest total for any month so far this year.

The violators paid nearly $6,800 in fines and costs and judges throughout the state handed out 17 days in jail sentences.

Fishing without a license caused trouble for 230 persons while 65 others were arrested for having undersized fish and 18 non-residents were found fishing with resident licenses.

Of the total arrests, 357 were made for fish law violations, 45 for game law violations and the remainder for miscellaneous causes.

The previous arrest record was set last May, when 360 persons were nabbed for violating conservation laws.

FIRE DANGER—

The recent sizzling weather in Michigan has done more than melt many pounds of butter, make swimmers out of confirmed landlubbers and cause long-haired dogs no end of misery.

It's also greatly increased the danger of fire in Michigan forests.

Six Stake Races Scheduled for Livonia Track

Six big stake races are on tap at Wolverine Raceway starting this Saturday as this year's meet at the Livonia track moves into its final stages.

On Saturday, the Governor's purse for four and five-year old trotters will highlight Grand Circuit racing for the evening.

A field of 17 declared for the early closing event but late scratches are expected to reduce the number to about 10. The race is composed of two 1-mile dashes.

TWO 1-MILE DASHES
Monday, Sept. 14 the $10,000 Victory Song will open the final week of racing at the Schoolcraft-Middlebelt oval. For three-year old trotters, the event will be raced in two 1-mile dashes.

Tuesday, Sept. 15 the Bombs Away Trot will send two-year old trotters after another $10,000 purse. The event will be trotted in two 1-mile dashes. The field is expected to total 15.

Wednesday, Sept. 16, it's the Ensign Hanover purse for $10,000 for three-year old pacers. It will be paced in two dashes at one mile. A total of 16 are expected to go. Thursday, Sept. 17 will see the Scottish Pence Purse for two-year old pacers at $10,000. It will also be held in two 1-mile dashes.

THE WOLVERINE PACE
Final feature of the 38-night meeting will come on closing night, Saturday, Sept. 19. Named the Wolverine Pace, the event will send 15 pacers after a $10,000 purse in two 1-mile dashes. The evening will also feature Grand Circuit racing.

Wolverine Harness Raceway features nightly racing each evening except Sunday with post-time at 8:30 p.m. DSR, Greyhound, Plymouth and Dearborn coach lines all run service to the track.

An educated man is not necessarily a learned man or a university man, but a man with certain subtle spiritual qualities which make him calm in adversity, happy when alone, just in his dealings, rational and sane in all the affairs of life.

A trout "training" program got under way at the conservation department's Oden fish hatchery recently, designed to teach trout how to provide better sport for fishermen and how to survive longer under stream conditions. Here, two members of the Psychological Research Associates, Inc., prepare electrical equipment in one of the hatchery ponds for use in the experiment. The attempt is to teach fish things they should know for survival in the wilds—when and where to feed so as to avoid predators and other enemies. Joseph L. Bingham is at left, Harvey Adelman at right; both are from East Lansing.

Add Interest to Meals With Variety Meats

You're missing a wonderful opportunity for adding interest to your meals if you overlook tongue, heart, liver and the other variety meats. The same as porterhouse steak, lamb chops or other meat cuts, they're a leading source of body-building protein and vital minerals.

Treat these meats the same as other meat cuts you prepare so often, says meat expert Reba Staggs. For instance, serve smoked tongue with a raisin sauce, a sweet sour or an orange sauce, the same as ham. To prepare tongue simmer it in water to cover, allowing one hour to the pound. Slice and reheat in the fruit sauce.

The same as veal or lamb fricassee, serve heart fricassee. When buying heart consider that a beef heart will make 10-12 servings, lamb heart individual servings, pork one or two servings and veal two servings. Prepare heart for fricassee by slicing across the grain, then dredging the slices with flour, seasoned with 2 teaspoons salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Brown them in lard or drippings. Add ½ cup of sliced onions and brown, then add 1 cup sliced carrots and 1 cup canned tomatoes. Cover and simmer for 1½ to 2½ hours.

In place of beef rolls prepare liver rolls. Have liver sliced at your market about ¼ inch thick. Cut it into pieces 3 by 3 inches. Shape sausage into small rolls and wrap each with liver slice. Fasten with round wooden picks, place them in a baking dish, cover and bake for 45 minutes in a moderate oven. During the last 15 minutes uncover the meat to allow it to brown.

Beef Brisket Served With Onion Sauce

With beef supplies plentiful one cut you'll want to serve often is beef brisket. This cut is prepared by cooking in liquid the same as a beef stew.

According to meat expert Reba Staggs, to prepare this dish simply place the meat in a heavy utensil and completely cover it with water. To provide a tempting variation, add vegetables and seasonings to the meat. For example, add 1 cup diced carrots and ½ cup diced celery, 2 teaspoons salt, 6 peppercorns, 6 whole cloves to the meat. Cover and cook slowly for 3 to 4 hours.

At the end of this time, remove the meat from the broth and place in a shallow baking dish. Spread beaten egg over the meat, sprinkle with dry bread crumbs and brown in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes.

Serve the brisket with a zesty onion sauce prepared by browning 2 tablespoons of sugar in 1 tablespoon of lard. Add to this 2 medium onions, sliced, and cook until tender. Then add 1 tablespoon of flour, 1 cup meat broth, 1 teaspoon vinegar and ½ teaspoon salt. Cook until smooth.

A linen shower in honor of the bride-to-be was sponsored jointly by Katie Kampf and Donna Schulte last night, Wednesday.

Youngsters Enjoy Train-Shaped Cake

A birthday cake shaped like a toy train caught the eye of the youngsters attending a birthday party for Rusty Wynings Saturday, Sept. 5. The 12 guests gathered at the home of Rusty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell P. Wynings of West Main St., to help the four-year old celebrate his birthday.

The boys and girls taking part in the fun were Ricky Davis, Steve Hicks, Mary and Paul Lorenz, Patty and Billy Higgins, Tommy Wimsatt, Larry and Ronnie McCollum and David Smith.

FREEZING VEGETABLES

Most vegetables can be frozen satisfactorily by packing dry. However, asparagus, green and wax beans and green peppers keep better in frozen storage if they are covered with a two percent brine, report foods and nutrition authorities at Michigan State College.

Make the brine by dissolving four teaspoons of salt in one quart of water. Cool it before using. Brine speeds up the rate of freezing, gives a less stringy product and gives protection against fluctuating storage temperatures.

Unsulphured Molasses Scores At Baked Bean Party Supper

For party-happy appetites, treat your guests to old-fashioned baked beans fragrant with sweet unsulphured molasses. The meat topping may be canned luncheon meat or frankfurters. Buns, cheese-broiled, and cabbage slaw complete the hearty fare.

By using dried beans, you will find this a very economical main dish. Though baking time is about five hours, the beans require little watching once in the oven. The unsulphured molasses is the sweet kind that Colonial women spooned over baked beans for traditional Saturday night dinners in New England. For a quickie casserole, canned beans may be used with unsulphured molasses added for step-up in flavor.

Old Fashioned Baked Beans

4 cups (2 pounds) pea beans
2 medium onions, sliced
4 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup catsup

1 cup unsulphured molasses
3 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
2 teaspoons dry mustard

2 cans luncheon meat
Wash beans. Cover generously with cold water; soak overnight. Add onions, salt and if necessary additional water to cover beans; bring to boiling point in covered saucepan. Simmer 1 hour. Drain and save 3 cups bean liquid, add water to make 3 cups if necessary. Mix bean liquid with catsup, unsulphured molasses, vinegar, Tabasco and dry mustard. Place beans in roasting pan; add liquid. Cover. If roasting pan does not have cover use baking sheet. Bake in a slow oven (325°F.) 4 hours. Add boiling water when necessary during baking. Slice luncheon meat; add to beans. Bake 1 hour longer.

YIELD: 12 servings.

Tricks With Tapioca Puddings

Autumn and winter days are busy ones for the homemaker—when she can be especially thankful for the variety of packaged foods that have done so much to lighten the burden of three meals a day. Tapioca pudding, for example, and packaged tapioca puddings in particular. The modern woman can prepare a creamy, delicious tapioca pudding, in any one of three flavors, in a little more than five minutes. Here is the basic recipe, simple and easy to prepare:

Tapioca Cream
1 package prepared chocolate, vanilla or orange-coconut tapioca pudding
2 cups milk

Turn pudding mixture into saucepan. Add milk and mix well. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. (Mixture will be thin. Do not overcook.) Cool, stirring once after 15 or 20 minutes—mixture thickens as it cools. Turn into serving bowl or sherbet glasses. Chill. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

With this as a beginning there is no end to the lovely desserts that can be concocted. Walnuts or almonds, cut or stuffed dates, figs or prunes, available the year 'round, can be used as garnish, or stirred into the pudding itself. And these are just a few of the possible variations limited only by your imagination.

Michigan State College Builds New Dormitories

New dormitories to house 2,700 men students are moving from drawing board to reality at Michigan State College, East Lansing, with the first unit to be ready for occupancy this fall. The new dormitories are designed to meet the pressing needs this year and in the future of a growing enrollment at M. S. C. An eight per cent increase in students — to 15,000 — is anticipated by college officials this year and similar increases are expected in succeeding years. The total project, at an estimated cost of $13,500,000, on a self-liquidating basis at expense to the public. Currently under construction are three residence halls, shown at right in the architect's model above, and a central dining and recreational building, shown at center. The three units at the left are contemplated for the future. Based on two students per room, each of the new residence halls will house 450 students. The four modern brick units currently going up will be completed by June, 1954, starting with the structure in the right foreground which is to be occupied this fall. The units are located on M. S. C.'s "west campus" at the intersection of Harrison road and Michigan avenue.

Says "GG" Has Helped Stop Polio

Gamma Globulin—much of it from blood donated in American Red Cross "bloodmobiles"—has helped 150,000 youngsters ward off polio in epidemic areas this summer.

Dr. Ernest Bauer of Hazel Park, blood program chairman for Oakland County's Red Cross chapter, said many hundreds of other youngsters and adults have been given the paralysis preventative.

The bulk of the youngsters, he said, were in 14 epidemic areas ranging from Alabama to Juneau, Alaska, and from Montana to New York.

"The U.S. Public Health Service," Dr. Bauer said, "distributed enough Gamma Globulin to inoculate 300,000 people, to 53 states and territories before the polio season started in late July. This was not for epidemic use—merely for use when individuals were exposed to the disease."

Dr. Bauer said the public health service reported that polio had stricken 12,214 children and adults through Aug. 15 this year—somewhat under last year's 15,135 in the same period.

Goodwill Pick-Up Set for Village, Plymouth

State Fair Shows Brain Wave Device

You've heard that brain waves can be measured.

Now you will be able to see a brain-wave measuring laboratory at the Michigan State Fair, Sept. 4 through 13.

It is the mobile laboratory owned by the Michigan Epilepsy Center in Detroit.

The testing of brain waves is done on the electroencephalograph, commonly known as the E.E.G., according to Dr. H. B. Ziemer of Lapeer, Mich., who is president of the Michigan Epilepsy Center. The E.E.G. picks up nerve impulses from the head, amplifies and records them on a graph.

There will be no charge to see this mobile laboratory. A technician will explain the operation and use of the E.E.G. and discuss current techniques used by the Michigan Epilepsy Center, a United Fund agency, directed by Dr. Z. Stephen Bohn.

Field Days Point Up Corn Yield

Big yields, not big "show" ears, will be seen in Michigan's first series of Corn Field Days, starting next week and all signs point to a bumper state corn crop to help attract attention.

The all-day programs, modeled after a "pilot" corn field day last year in Ingham county, were arranged by a Michigan State College Extension Services committee. Members are James A. Purfer and Paul J. Rood, soil scientists; Robert G. White, agricultural engineer, and Milton Erdmann and Leyton V. Nelson of the farm crops department.

Southeastern Michigan Corn Field Day will be Thursday, Sept. 17, at the Lloyd Ruesink farm, about five miles northwest of Adrian.

Thumb Area Corn Field Day will be Wednesday, Sept. 23, at the Grover Laurie farm, two miles south and a mile east of Gagetown.

Southwestern Michigan Corn Field Day will be on Tuesday, Sept. 29, at the L. C. Beal farm, about a mile southwest of Three Rivers.

Visitors will see corn populations ranging from 8,000 to 24,000 plants per acre—showing that the big yields come from heavy plantings and half-punt ears; rows as far apart as 72 inches to aid the growth of seedlings of sweet clover and ryegrass; chemical weed control; nitrogen side-dressing including liquids; corn grades and popcorn; the tools needed and the advantages of minimum tillage; corn diseases

Attractive Settings at Little Cost

No matter how casual the occasion nor how simple the fare, no meal need be glum and uninteresting. Decorative touches make all foods taste better, and they can be achieved easily and without great expense. This is especially true now that stainless steel has been taken up by the master craftsmen of the silver world. What once was thought of as "kitchen ware" to be used only for drudgery service now graces any table for casual entertainment. For point of example, here the new William A. Rogers' Surf Maid pattern stainless steel by Onoda, Ltd. embellishes a luncheon setting that will impress any discerning guest. Though exceedingly simple, it is gracefully fluted to give it the mark of the master.

The basic formula for settings such as this is one dramatic art piece plus good design and harmonious color. The stainless steel is "at home" with the shiny Mexican cock. Table mat of deep rose plastic is polka dotted to go with the white of the modern pottery. This is a lasting setting, too, for none of it needs care. The stainless steel will keep its gleaming lustre without polishing. The table mat whisks clean with the swish of a damp cloth.

Says Drab Colors at School Affect Students' Sight

"Schoolroom brown" is menacing the eyesight of American

IF YOU COULD...

Telegram, telephone, or write to God in heaven for information on how to get to heaven, you would get the same answer that you can find right between the covers of your own Bible. Now let me show you what He says so plainly. (Get your Bibles and look up these passages.) (1) All have sinned and therefore all are guilty. (Read Romans 3:10-23 slowly and carefully.) (2) God sent His only begotten Son into the world to bear the guilt of man's sin and this He did when He died upon the cross. (Read John 3:16, I Cor. 15:1-4 and Gal. 3:13) God offers salvation to those who would repent and obey the Gospel. (Read Luke 24:47, Acts 2:38 and Acts 16:31) To repent means to "change your mind" or to "change your attitude" toward yourself and sin and the Saviour. To obey the Gospel means that you believe that Christ is your sin bearer and that you ask him to be your Saviour. Having done this God will save you immediately by forgiving your sins, imparting eternal life to your soul, sending the Holy Spirit to dwell in your body, who will motivate and control you from that time on, and on the books of heaven He will credit you with the perfect righteousness of Jesus Christ.

children and three-dimensional motion pictures are bringing out these sight defects, according to optometric psychologists, as children prepare for school opening.

Drab brown floors, furniture and wall paint usually go with inadequate lighting, and together they breed many of the vision problems of American youth, whose eyesight inadequacies are more common in the eighth grade than in the first, according to these psychologists. This indicates, the experts say, that the visual environment in the schools is causing much of the trouble.

Dr. T. R. Murroughs, associate professor of psychology, Northern Illinois College of Optometry, who will conduct a panel on 3-D movies and their effects on vision at the 57th annual convention of the Michigan Optometric Convention at Hotel Statler on Sept. 20, said the three-dimensional movies have uncovered many visual defects in school children. He also predicts that such films will be prescribed, under controlled conditions, to help establish proper seeing patterns for cross-eyed children.

"A child may not be aware of the fact that he doesn't see as well as other children," Dr. Murroughs said. "When he attends a three-dimensional movie, he may fail to see those depth effects his friends enjoy. This may make him realize that his eyes are not functioning properly and prompt him to see proper attention."

Representatives of the movie and 3-D industries will discuss their findings with Dr. Murroughs during the panel discussion.

Local Dog Wins at Two Shows

Sampson of Knollwood, a 14-month old pointer owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ginst of Twelve Mile Rd., Novi, won prizes at two Michigan dog shows last week end.

"Samie" was chosen best of breed at the Grand Rapids Kennel Club show Saturday and won the same award Sunday at a show sponsored by the Ingham County Kennel Club.

The dog also has won top awards in Detroit, Pontiac and Chicago.

Allen, NBC's top sportscaster, will handle the play-by-play account of the GM TV Game of the Week series, while Nelson will bring the nation's televisioners commentary and color during each game.

The 12-week series starts on September 19 when the Nebraska-Oregon game is telecast from Lincoln. Ten other complete games are included on the schedule with two Saturdays, October 24 and November 7, slated for panoramic telecasts of the highlights of four separate games.

The GM TV Game of the Week schedule, set up by the NCAA, includes games in all sections of the country with no team appearing more than once in the series.

2 Cars Collide at Dead Man's Curve

Latest accident on "Dead Man's Curve" was a head-on collision on Labor Day which sent two persons to Sessions Hospital for treatment of lacerations.

Hurt were Addie Gaston, Detroit, with a lacerated elbow, and Savannah D. Harrison, Monroe, with a cut over her left eye.

WRONG SIDE

They were passengers in a car driven by Georgia Medlock, 13490 Mackay, Detroit, which was traveling east. The driver said she veered to the wrong side of the road to avoid hitting a car driven by Aldrich V. Jonsson, 21541 Wallace Dr., Detroit, which was on the wrong side of the road.

Jonsson claimed he was on the right side and that the Medlock car swung over into his path as he went west.

The sharp curve on Randolph St., east of Taft Rd., claimed the life of a Detroit driver two years ago when his car overturned and ran up an embankment.

The curve, dubbed "Dead Man's Curve" many years ago, is regarded as dangerous because it rises as it turns, blinding east-bound drivers to oncoming traffic.

Set Training School Fire Loss at $20,000

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed one wing of a dairy barn at the Wayne County Training School Sunday afternoon and caused damage in excess of $20,000.

The flames, first discovered in a hay loft, swept quickly through part of the building which is approximately 150 by 60 feet.

Several calves were burned to death but the bulk of the school's herd was outside the building when the fire broke out.

Firemen from the Training School, Detroit House of Correction, Northville, Plymouth Township and Plymouth fought the fire for more than 30 minutes before bringing it under control.

No one was injured. Authorities at the school said they had several theories on how the fire started but had not definitely settled on the cause.

Revival Series at Salem Church

A revival series sponsored by the Salem Federated Church will begin Sunday morning, Sept. 13, with the Rev. Allen Finley conducting both morning and 7:30 p.m. services.

The series will continue until Sept. 20, with the evangelist preaching each night.

The Rev. Finley is from Charlottesville, Va., and is a graduate of Bob Jones University in Greenville, S. C. He was listed in the 1951-52 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

The visiting minister has performed evangelistic work in the Hawaiian Islands and has traveled the Middle East. He will show slides of his overseas work at one of the week's services.

Several factors may cause canned fruit to float in jars. Fruit may float because the syrup is too heavy, because the pack is too loose or because all the air in the fruit tissues was not forced out during the heating and processing.

Research Gives Clue to Cure of Artery Hardening

Spectacular results of extensive research studies carried out in animals are providing an important clue to unlocking many of the hidden secrets of hardening of the arteries, according to a report appearing in the August issue of the American Journal of Clinical Pathology, and an announcement by the Michigan Heart Association.

The research work is being conducted at the Wayne University Department of Medicine and Chemistry in Detroit under a memorial fund grant from the Michigan Heart Association.

"Atherosclerosis, the medical term for hardening of the arteries, attacks blood vessels of the heart and body," said Henry L. Smith, M.D., president of the association. "It is responsible for more deaths and disability than any other human ailment."

Investigations completed to date on test animals placed on a high cholesterol diet (a fat-like substance) have developed livers which are infiltrated with cholesterol, several times higher than normal. At the same time, blood vessels became hardened and also contained more fat, magnesium and calcium.

However, livers of animals placed on the same high-fat diet and injected with a sodium salt commercially known as Versene were apparently protected from cholesterol infiltration. Calcium and magnesium content in the liver was also lowered.

The level of cholesterol in the blood, however, was higher than those animals which received only the high fat diet without the chemical Versene. Hardening in this group was present and the arteries contained, as in the first group more cholesterol, magnesium and calcium. The extent of hardening, however, was not as great as was expected in the presence of extremely high cholesterol levels.

The research team cautioned and emphasized that these studies are still in their experimental stage. Long, continuous, painstaking and repeated tests and follow-up are necessary before final valid conclusions can be drawn. They pointed out that until a complete evaluation is made, Versene is not recommended for the practicing physician.

Pvt. Jack Andrews on Way Home After Month As POW

Private Jack Andrews, who was freed recently after spending more than a month in a Communist prison camp in Korea, was scheduled to arrive in San Francisco yesterday aboard the U.S. Navy Transport General John Pope.

The private's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Andrews, who moved from Northville to Detroit several months ago, received a telegram late last week from the Army notifying them of their son's expected arrival time.

Late yesterday morning, the Andrews family had received no direct word from their son.

Andrews was captured by the Communists July 12 and was freed Aug. 23. He sailed for home Aug. 26 from Inchon, Korea.

In a telegram sent to his family from the ship, Andrews reported he was feeling "pretty good . . .

Right on the job selling to customers from a wholesale catalog is Ray Hood, who is piling up a nice bank account when most boys his age are worrying more about baseball and other lighter pursuits.

Thirteen-Year Old Is Successful Businessman

Don't be surprised if a serious-looking 13-year old, lugging a briefcase nearly half as high as he is, comes knocking on your door one of these days and says:

"Madam, I represent the Kristee Products Company and we handle a complete line of household goods. Now, here's something you might be interested in . . ."

The sales talk will come from pint-sized Ray Hood, who at an age when most boys can think of little but having fun, earns spending money as a door-to-door salesman.

WORK EACH DAY

Ray, who lives with his parents at 520 Grace St., has been on the job about a month. And with him, it's a real job—not just some thing to do between baseball games.

"I usually put in about five hours a day," Ray told the Record this week (after selling a staff member a rubber apron). "I make most of my calls in the afternoon because I think that's the most convenient time for my customers."

CUSTOMERS TUMBLE

Ray's products are listed in the catalog he carries in his briefcase. After he takes an order, he arranges for shipment from the factory and delivers within two weeks.

nothing wrong that being home won't cure."

Andrews will be met on the West Coast by representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

After processing at an Army camp near San Francisco, he will be given a 30-day furlough.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Clip For School Lunch Box

From planning to packing the school lunch box, mothers welcome a short cut to preparing attractive lunches which will rate an A plus in nutrition.

A short cut to meeting the child's requirements for this meal is to follow a basic menu pattern. Whether the lunch is carried, eaten at home or at school it should provide one-third of the daily needs for calories, proteins, vitamins and minerals. If mother packs the food correctly, neither breakfast nor dinner need do double duty for a skimpy lunch.

A simple basic menu pattern is the Type A lunch. Recommended by the National Research Council, it consists of two ounces of protein-rich foods such as meat, eggs or fish; three-quarters cup of vegetables or fruits or both; one or more portions of bread with two teaspoons of butter or margarine and a half pint of milk.

Here is the guide as it looks in the "lunch box of the five to nine-year old: Generous serving of meat loaf between two slices of enriched bread spread with butter or margarine, carrot and cabbage salad, hot cocoa in a vacuum bottle, one large cookie and a banana.

His teen age brother needs almost twice the number of calories daily. An A plus lunch for the 15-year old includes a serving of cheese between slices of enriched bread, bologna or ham on a bun, plus hot corn chowder in the vacuum bottle and milk, purchased at school. A couple of doughnuts and an apple top off the lunch for the on-the-go adolescent.

A few caution signals are run up for mothers. Lunches are apt to be low in thiamine, a B vitamin. Sandwiches made with enriched bread filled with either peanut butter, liver sausage or baked beans will keep the thiamine score high. Vitamin C, or ascorbic acid, also may be low. But tucking in an orange or a fresh tomato will hurdle this trouble spot and keep mother at the head of the class.

Police Answer 158 Calls in August

The Northville Police Department answered 158 calls in August and collected $852 in fines, according to a report submitted to the Village Commission Tuesday night by Chief Joseph Denton.

Police investigated eight accidents, registered 70 traffic violations and issued 64 summons. One case of grand larceny and one case of petty larceny were listed, along with one juvenile and one vandalism case.

The report listed two breaking and entering cases and four prowler cases. Police battled 1,000 in the missing-returned department, recovering one stolen bicycle, one auto and one missing person.

The report listed one uttering and publishing case, and one person was sent to DeHoCo. There was one murder and one attempted suicide. Police listed 14 arrests and 14 court cases.

One person was bitten by a dog and one dog was placed under observation. One dog was sent to the pound, reclaimed and its owner fined. Three dogs were destroyed.

Two windows were found open and unscreened and four doors were found unlocked. Police sent out nine teletype messages in August.

Letter Commends Fire Department

A letter from the City of Livonia thanking the Northville fire department for its help in the recent GM fire on Plymouth Rd. was read in Village Commission meeting Tuesday night.

The letter commended Fire Chief William McGee and his department for its efficiency and willingness to give aid.

Michigan Mirror

by Gene Alleman

BUCK PASSING ON BINGO
and other forms of "charitable" gambling is responsible for one of the dizziest political situations in years. Every government agency finds it wise or necessary to point its finger in another direction. Result: Any one trying to fix responsibility gets groggy running a circle from office to office.

Boiled down, the situation can be simply described. Banning of bingo depends on the prosecutor and sheriff in each county. These officials can order arrests. If they prove their cases, courts have little choice, must find defendants guilty. State law and legal precedence are plain. Bingo and raffles are unlawful according to Supreme Court interpretations.

Ducking out from behind the eight ball are local police officials and prosecutors. Cussed if they do and cussed if they don't, they face the dilemma of angering part of the local population no matter what they do. Since they are elected officials, their job may depend on the keenness with which they analyze hometown sentiment.

If sufficient pressure is brought to bear, local officials forbid such lotteries; otherwise, they tend to overlook them.

"Outs" exist for just about everyone. The Governor, whose office permits him to remove a local official not performing his duty, refuses to become involved. "It's strictly a local issue," he says. The Attorney General cannot yield to requests that he permit "charitable" bingo games. He explains, he "can only interpret the laws as they are written."

State Police have a long standing policy of taking part in local law enforcement only when requested by local officials or when ordered by the governor. It is natural that they should maintain this practice with bingo. And they do.

So lottery is permitted in one part of the state; forbidden in others. Detroit firemen, who hold an annual raffle of automobiles at a field day, were warned by Detroit Police Commissioner Donald Leonard that they would be arrested if they sold tickets this year. They countered by securing an injunction from a Detroit Circuit Judge preventing enforcement of the gambling law in their case. Copies of the injunction were served upon Detroit and State Police Commissioners, prosecutors and the Attorney General. Legal mills grind sufficiently slowly so that tickets were sold and the raffle held before anything could be done... if anyone had wanted to do anything!

Only solution, says the Attorney General's office, is for the Legislature to make new laws which would permit "charitable" gambling; make practical definitions about the other forms of lotteries and games of chance.

Feeling runs high on both sides of this argument. In the minds of some legislators, the harm done is more theoretical than practical. For these reasons, no one should be surprised if the Legislature is "too busy with more pressing matters" to consider the question at all.

Financing schools will be more difficult, too. Mr. Taylor expects about $185 million to be available for school districts this year. That is one million less than last. Michigan's 1,250,000 school children need 45,000 teachers (2,000 more than 1952). Figured on a per student basis, schools must operate on $147 per year, a decrease of $10 as compared to last year.

Residents must be prepared to hear more and more about education problems. This year's increase of 70,000 students is largely made up of children born since the close of World War II. They mark the first part of an increase which is expected to swell each year. The meeting of this challenge is a primary consideration of leading educators. Even now they point out the inadequacies of schools at all levels from kindergarten to college.

A NEW TAX FORM will soon be in the mail. It will be sent to companies and people taking in $20,000 or more a year.

It concerns the first payment of the Business Receipts Tax which was enacted mid the furor of closing days of the last legislative session. The form is simple. It asks for only four figures: How much was taken in? How much can be deducted? How much is the difference? How much is due?

Here's that fabled wild bunny herself, posing reluctantly for a formal portrait in the hands of a conservation department biologist at Rose Lake wildlife experiment station near Lansing. She has just been released from a live trap, the 51st time captured in the last three years. She has helped game men learn a great deal about food and cover habits of cottontails, the extent of their ranges, physical development and the baby bunny production rate, which for Rosie, has been high. Rosie celebrated her fourth birthday this year, and game men say she is now at least a great, great grandmother.

REN are starting school this year than last September," says Clair L. Taylor, superintendent of Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

Youngsters in school relieve mothers of worries during class hours, but the vastly increased number of them add up to a managed headache for school administrators in crowded areas.

Most difficulties are encountered in lower grades of schools in metropolitan districts, those areas adjoining Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Lansing and other cities.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That real substance is Spirit and not matter is shown in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches Sunday, Sept. 13.
The Golden Text is from Psalms (119:89,90): "For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven. Thy faithfulness is unto all generations: thou hast established the earth, and it abideth."
Among the Bible citations is this passage, (1 Cor. 2:9): "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, not matter." (p. 301)

First Lesson—Cleanliness!

Good grooming becomes a game for the kindergarten beginner when big sister takes over the inspection.
First day of school for your wee lad? This is when good grooming becomes important to him. The impression his first teacher makes upon him can affect his whole future, and obviously she will like him better if he looks neat as a pin.
Teaching him this new responsibility of cleanliness will be easier on both you and him if you make it an interesting game rather than a chore. All little folks like to be grown up, so make him feel he has reached big sister's class by letting her help him establish his morning toilet schedule. A slate for checking makes it important to both of them.
Make it easy for him. There's nothing more frustrating than feeling incapable. A step-stool to bring him up to sink height can be kept 'neath the basin when not in use. A low shelf or hooks for brushes, comb and washcloths are easily reached.
Make it fun! A small brush to lather up, or a soft sponge that scrunches with soapuds add inducement for hand scrubbing. Place a mirror low so he can see his shining face, thus giving him pride in his accomplishment.
Once the routine is planted—and pleasantly planted—it becomes a habit—a good habit that will stand a little boy—or a little girl—in good stead for a lifetime.
