IS IT MERELY INDIFFERENCE?

Ten years ago this writer found himself rather closely identified with a Boy Scout troop as committee chairman. Never until then did we have any conception of the negative attitude and lack of interest which some parents display toward their children during the formative teen-age years when their character is undergoing intensive development. Instead of being a pal to their sons and daughters, many parents seek to shift responsibility to the few individuals who have volunteered as leaders. They hope, we presume, that supervision at scout meeting once a week will instill the moral values that the child's home life has lacked.

This may be the case in some instances, but we doubt very much if it is more than a delusion for most fathers and mothers who are willing to surrender to a substitute one of the greatest privileges they will experience in a life time. Accordingly, we hope the 300 mothers of Northville Girl Scouts will give heed to the plea this week of the Northville Girl Scout Council for regular assistance in handling the 14 existing Girl Scout troops and the two or three new Brownie troops that may be organized.

The letter which the Council addressed to local mothers points out bluntly that several of the most conscientious Girl Scout leaders are threatening to give up their troops unless they get sufficient regular assistance. It adds that there is no justifiable reason to depend for leadership upon people who have no children in the scout organization, and concludes with the assertion that every mother of a troop member should be able to contribute time to a smaller or greater degree.

Who can disagree with what the Girl Scout Council says? Mothers who are willing to help out this year and spend some time being a pal to their daughters, can contact Mrs. C. M. Goodrich, telephone 1324-W, or Mrs. C. W. McLoughlin, telephone 1265-W, who will gladly welcome them and work out details.

Along the same line of public service, it is appropriate to mention now that an appeal is to be made shortly for volunteer workers in Northville and the surrounding area to solicit contributions for the St. Mary Hospital building fund. This is a worthy project that merits the community's financial support. We hope those who have taken on positions of leadership locally will be able to recruit as many able assistants as the job requires.

HUDSON'S NORTHLAND SHOPPING CENTER

With three local merchants, we had the interesting experience last week of hearing the inside story of what the J. L. Hudson Co. expects to accomplish with its huge Northland shopping center, which will open next spring at Eight Mile Rd. and Northwestern Highway. Northland is to occupy a 409-acre site, with approximately 70 stores that will compete with Hudson. Initially it will have parking space for 7,500 cars; eventually 12,000. It will be the largest suburban shopping center in the world.

Reason for building Northland on Detroit's outskirts is that many shoppers find it difficult to get downtown to patronize the J. L. Hudson store there. This store did about $150,200,000 worth of business last year, making it the world's largest store under one roof. Hudson officials estimate that Northland will do about $30,000,000 worth of business a year. They believe it will cause the downtown Hudson store to lose about $6,000,000 of sales per year. They expect the other $24,000,000 to come from people residing around the west and north perimeter of Detroit.

What will be the effect of Northland upon merchants in neighboring communities such as Farmington, Birmingham, Northville and Plymouth?

Hudson executives answer this by pointing to Greater Detroit's growth since 1940. In this period it has added 650,000 people, equivalent to the population of Dallas, Texas. They also believe that announcement of plans for Northland's construction two years ago has caused a large amount of commercial construction projects on the northwest side of Detroit to be abandoned. Northland, they say, will fill this gap and also act as a stimulant to population growth throughout the area from which it draws its trade. The new people who are attracted to build homes in the area will afford alert local merchants an even greater potential for retail sales than exists now, say the Hudson people, even though many of them will also patronize Northland stores.

Asks Lot Cleared

Police Chief Joseph Denton said this week that parking will not be permitted this Sunday morning, Sept. 27, in the parking lot at the southwest side of Four Corners (Main and Center streets). He said the lot must be clear of cars so necessary repair work can be done.

Car Stolen Here

Police were on the lookout this week for an automobile stolen last week end from the Petz Bros. used car lot on Plymouth Ave. The car, a 1949 blue Ford club coupe, bears 1953 license no. CM-75-96. It apparently was stolen sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning, police said.

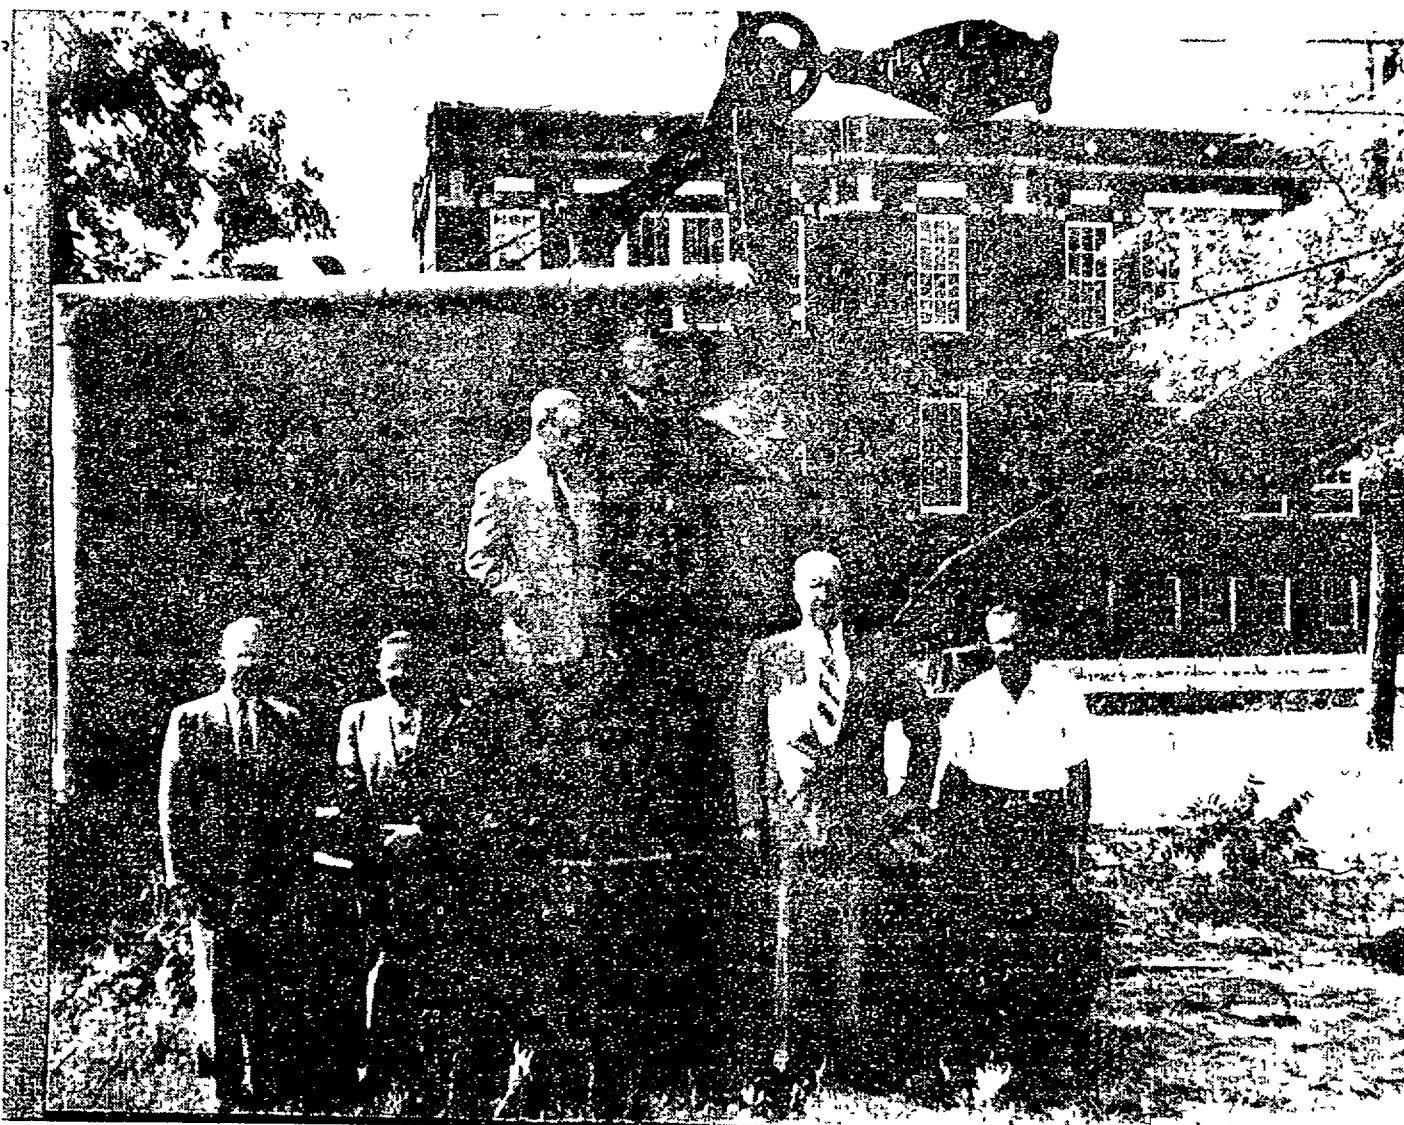

Elected to Red Cross Board

At the 44th annual meeting of the Detroit chapter of the American Red Cross Sept. 17, Mrs. Arthur Carlson, of Fairbrook Ave., was unanimously elected to represent the Wayne County branches of the Board of Directors for a one-year term. This gives Northville personal representation on the board.

B.P.W.

The next meeting of the B.P.W. has been scheduled for Monday, Sept. 28. Following dinner at the Methodist Church at 6:30 there will be a discussion of next year's plans. Miss Ruth Knapp, R.N., will show films of her trip to Europe.

Construction Starts On Community Building

Mayor Conrad E. Langfield stands at the controls of the power shovel as work gets under way on the new Community Building. The City Fathers appeared Friday afternoon for official groundbreaking ceremonies, but workers from the Wallace Construction Co. couldn't wait. They started work bright and early Friday morning and by the time this picture was taken, they were ready to pour footings in one section. Others in the picture, left to right, are Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman, Commissioners Mike Allen, Alton Peters and Claude Ely and Recreation Director Wilson Funk, who also watched work get under way.

Two Public Works Projects Finished; Another Under Way

Two public works projects were completed in the Village this week while another was well under way.

The finished jobs included a new asphalt surface on Rogers St. from West Main to Fairbairn and a 400 foot stretch of sidewalk on the north side of West Main St. from Rogers to the residence of Dr. L. W. Snow.

The Rogers St. work was done by the Wayne County Road Commission and cost the Village only $1,300.

SHARE COSTS

The county had earlier agreed to stand the cost of a 20-foot strip down the center of the street if the Village would share costs on the balance, which amounted to two 3-foot strips on either side of the street.

Crews started work on Rogers last Friday and finished the job Monday.

ANOTHER BARGAIN

The West Main sidewalk work also proved a bargain. Donald Bidwell of Plymouth did the job for only 32 cents a square foot, 14 cents per foot lower than the price offered by another contractor.

Cost of the sidewalk repair was borne by residents living along the stretch.

Meanwhile, Street and Water Superintendent Herman Hartner, Jr., said an extensive storm drain project on North Rogers, Dubuque, Linden, Griswold and High streets would be completed by two weeks from next Monday. Work got under way last week.

Driver Fined

Scott Miller, 1102 Oakley Rd., Walled Lake, was arrested Sunday, Sept. 20, in Northville and charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. Miller paid a fine of $100 and costs before Plymouth Justice Nandino Perlongo on Monday. He also was put on probation for a year.

Weather Holds Key to Building Progress

Northville's long-awaited Community Building began to rise from the ground this week as builders kept a wary eye on that ever-present but unpredictable factor in any construction job—the weather.

Bulldozer and steam shovel operators from the Wallace Construction Co. broke ground early last Friday morning at the lot on West Main St. and the race with winter was on.

They hope to have the $206,000 building completely roughed in by the time snow flies and they weren't wasting any time.

Even the official groundbreaking party, led by Mayor Conrad E. Langfield, had to step lively Friday afternoon to avoid the swinging shovel and the chugging dozer.

FOOTINGS POURED

By Friday afternoon, footings had been poured at the east and south side of the building and by Monday, masons began laying foundation block.

Tuesday afternoon, the shovel had dug out the area for the downstairs shower and dressing room.

Work was proceeding so fast even the sidewalk superintendents were satisfied.

"I haven't seen anybody walk on this job yet," one said. "They all seem to be running."

Herman Wallace, co-owner of the construction firm, was non-committal on whether the building would be ready for interior work by the time bad weather sets in—about eight weeks.

"We're just hoping for good weather," he said. "That's the big factor."

However, Architect Walter Anicka said if the present rate of progress continues, the building's exterior should be roughed in before snow puts an end to most outside work.

First part of the building expected to be completed is the gymnasium. It's hoped to have that section ready for interior work within two months.

The Wallace firm, from Farmington, is headed by two brothers, Herman and Paul. Paul Wallace's sons, Richard and Kenneth, are superintendent and engineer respectively.

The building is expected to be completed April 15.

Stork Makes Six Stops Within Week at Sessions Hospital

The stork was a busy bird in Northville this past week. He made six stops at Sessions Hospital, leaving four girls and two boys.

An eight pound, five ounce girl was born Sept. 20 to Mrs. Walter Schiffer of Ridge Rd. The new arrival has been named Cheryl Lynn.

A boy, Roger Dale, was born Sept. 19 to Mrs. Harold Beyer of Beck Rd. He weighed eight pounds, four ounces.

Mrs. William Rowe of Livonia gave birth to a baby girl, Sandra Louise, Sept. 18 and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ware of Northville announced the birth of their baby girl, Cynthia Jean, on Sept. 17. She weighed eight pounds, four ounces.

Mrs. George Eysie gave birth last week to a nine pound, 12 ounce girl named Rayne Ann, while an eight pound, two ounce boy, James Kelley, was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Watts of Garden City.

Meeting for Scout Leaders

Mrs. Joseph F. Page, chairman of the Northville Girl Scout leaders, has called a meeting of all Girl Scout and Brownie troop leaders for Wednesday, Sept. 30. The meeting, to be held at the Scout Hall, will start promptly at 9 a.m.

Finishes Own Home

What's This? Woman Stone-Mason?

Most women searching for a hobby decide on something feminine.

Crocheting or rug-making, for instance.

But not Mrs. Norris J. Molander of 53653 Nine Mile Rd. She spends her idle hours laying stone.

Perhaps we shouldn't say "idle hours." Because for the past two years, Mrs. Molander has spent up to 10 hours a day working at her hobby and in the process, making her home look like new.

BUILDS BARBEQUE PIT
So far, she's built a new patio and barbecue pit and put a new stone facing on the six room house. At the present time, she's finishing off a one-room addition to the Molander home.

Mrs. Molander hardly knew a trowel from a mortar board two years ago when she decided that a woman could be a stone-mason too.

"Dad had done that kind of work for many years, but I didn't know too much about it," she said. "But I'd seen some of the barbecue pits people had made around here and decided, by golly, I could do that too."

NO REGULAR TRAINING

Mrs. Molander has had no regular training in the trade.

"I just learned as I went along," she said.

The house and patio were done in steelstone, which her husband broke and cut to size. Then Mrs. Molander laid it in place.

"We're pretty busy here on our farm but I still manage to get some stone work done most days," she said. "Some days I work on the house more than 12 hours."

Mrs. Molander, a grandmother, is justifiably proud of her work. "We've been told it would cost $5,000 to duplicate our patio and barbecue pit," she said. "I don't know about that but we're mighty proud of it anyway."

Commission Takes First Step Toward Water Rate Review

The Village Commission made preliminary moves toward a re-evaluation of water rates Monday night after Commissioners agreed that Northville is not getting the price it should for water supplied to home and industrial users.

The Commission instructed Clerk Mary Alexander to contact the Ann Arbor engineering firm of Lewis, Ayres, Norris and May and ask them to send a representative to the next Commission meeting on Oct. 5.

At this meeting, the Commission plans to investigate the cost of making a survey of the Village water situation in an effort to settle on new rates.

The Village water department has lost money during 11 of the past 14 years and showed a profit of only $440 last year.

The rate question was first brought up by Commissioner John Stubenvoll, who said the Village was "grossly underpaid" for water.

SHOULD RAISE RATES

"Other communities are getting much more for their water and as a matter of good business, Northville should do the same," Stubenvoll said.

"We are giving too much service for the money we get," he added.

Stubenvoll said rate should be raised to a point where, if an extensive repair or expansion job comes up, it will not be necessary to raise taxes or float a bond issue to provide necessary funds.

Commissioner Claude Ely pointed out that the time is rapidly approaching when the Village water system is going to have to be revamped extensively. He said the present rate structure does not provide funds for a project of this sort.

Stubenvoll said a survey of water rates made by the Record several months ago pointed up the fact that Northville falls far below surrounding communities in water revenue.

The Record survey showed that Northville's minimum rate of 30 cents per 1,000 gallons is 32% less than Livonia's, 40% less than Farmington's, and 42% lower than the Plymouth rate.

In other words, the big Northville customer using 500,000 gallons over a three month period pays 65% less than if he were buying water from Plymouth, 51% less than if he bought from Farmington and 66% less than he would pay in Livonia.

NO RESERVE

While these rates are to the customer's advantage, the survey indicated, it prevented the water department from setting aside money for additional equipment or growth.

While the Village water department barely broken even in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1953, Farmington earned a net profit of $8,383, equal to 34.8 cents out of each $1,000 of sales. Plymouth's net profit for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1952 was $34,213 or 32 cents out of each $1.00 of water sales.

Northville's net profit last year amounted to only two cents per $1.00 of water sales, or $440.

Coordinating Council Asks All New Voters to Report for Banquet

The Northville Coordinating Council this week appealed to all persons who turned 21 during the past year to register for the annual 21ers Banquet scheduled Oct. 21.

The banquet will honor new voters in the Village. All persons who became of age during the past 12 months are asked to report to Mrs. Sam Geraci on Clement Ave.

Tickets for the dinner will go on sale next week. They cost $2 and can be purchased from representatives in all local organizations.

The Council which met last week, also asked that all groups wishing to have dates entered on this year's calendar report to the following members of the Calendar Committee: Mrs. Louise Cansfield, George Muller and Dick Kay.

Next meeting of the Coordinating Council is Oct. 15.

Village Leases Lot at Four Corners; Parking Plans Made

Plans for improved parking facilities on the lot at the southwest side of the Four Corners were taking shape this week following an announcement that the Village had negotiated a two-year lease on the property.

Village Attorney Philip Ogilvie reported to the Commission Monday night that he had received verbal agreement to the lease from the present owners of the property, M. C. Gussell and Harry Himmelstein.

FORMAL SIGNING

The Commission instructed Ogilvie to go ahead with formal signing of the agreement, which is expected this week.

Meanwhile, Street and Water Superintendent Herman Hartner, Jr. said he and his crew would work this Sunday, grading and leveling the property. Plans also call for a gravel surface in the lot.

Eventually, it is hoped that the lot can be covered with an asphalt surface with parking meters installed.

The property has been used for several years as a Village-run parking lot. However, it was felt that if improvements were to be made, the lease should be negotiated.

METERS ON WAY

It also was reported at the meeting that 65 parking meters are en route to Northville for installation in the new East Main St. parking lot and alley.

The meters will be of the five-cents per hour variety with a two-hour limit.

The one-way parking lot and alley, newly covered with asphalt, have an entrance at the intersection of Hutton and East Main opposite the Kroger Store and an exit on South Center St.

Commission Okays Bond Liquidation

The Village Commission Monday night authorized the Finance Committee to begin liquidation of $179,000 worth of bonds in the Public Improvement Fund to provide money for the Community Building, now under construction.

The Commission acted after Commissioner John Stubenvoll pointed out that a better price could be had for the bonds if the committee were authorized to sell at the most opportune time. The bonds will be sold in lots as the need arises so that a minimum amount of interest money will be sacrificed.

Most of the bonds are U. S. Government Securities.

Homecoming Dinner Scheduled at First Methodist Church

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church will sponsor a Homecoming dinner at the church house, Saturday, Sept. 26 at 6:30 p.m.

Speakers for the evening will be W. Leslie Williams, former minister here who now is located at Central Methodist Church in Flint.

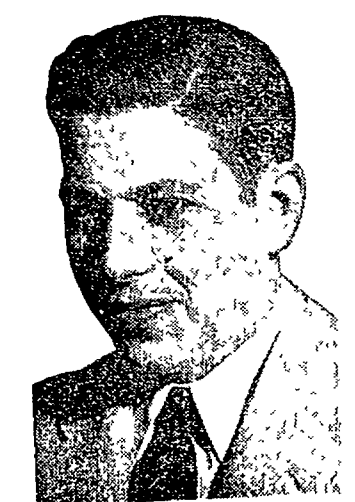

Ticket reservations for the dinner may be called into the church office, 699-J. Special music at the dinner will be furnished by Mrs. Drake Older and Mrs. Leslie Lee. Community singing will be led by Mrs. Ivan Hodgson.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

We wish we could vouch for the variety of this customer of ours, but we'll have to pass it up without waiting to check up on the evidence, which we understand is no longer in evidence anyway. Seems he had a neighbor of his arrested on the strong suspicion that said neighbor stole nine bottles of beer from our customer's refrigerator. The Judge threw the complaint out of court on the grounds you can't make a case out of only nine bottles

Well, maybe he was right, you can't make a case when you're short of the necessary quota, but we must state here and now there's nothing short about making a case for the 1953 Studebaker. When you take its beauty, its economy, its power, its comfort and its general all around roadability you've just a bit more than it really takes to make the finest car on the highway today. Of course, the proof is in the driving and you're invited to drop around for a demonstration at once.

We have a note for nature lovers this week. Up around Tomahawk, Wisconsin, a Milwaukee Road section foreman was having trouble with some Beavers who were damming a small stream, causing a softening of the railway road-bed. So one night he set up a long pole with a red lantern tied at the top on the theory that the red light would keep the Beavers from working. But they really have resourceful beavers in Wisconsin. The animals not only cut down the pole with their sharp teeth, they used the lantern to plug a hole in the dam.

Now these mechanics of ours, while not exactly beavers, are very ingenious when it comes to making a car run a bit better than you really expect. With a touch of fall in the air it's about time you had the car lubricated and give it a bit of new oil. A motor tune-up will give it added zest for those beautiful autumn drives ahead, too. See you Soon.

That is that, but have you discovered how far a nickel will go these days. As a matter of fact you can carry one for weeks before you discover anything it will buy!

Yours,
BILL & WILL PETZ

Safety Rules for Children Listed in Booklet

Northville elementary school children are learning their safety lessons this year from a booklet entitled "So Can You," distributed by the Retail Merchants Association.

The heavily-illustrated 13 page booklet spells out in simple terms the safety rules youngsters should follow on their way to and from school.

It illustrates the operation of traffic lights and reminds youngsters to obey safety patrolmen and traffic officers.

The booklet lists these safety rules:

- When You Are Walking
Cross the street only at the corner, and go straight across.
If a car is coming, wait behind the curb. Don't step into the street until it's safe to cross.
Don't start across unless the light is GREEN.
Look BOTH ways before crossing any street.
Walk quickly — never run — across the street. Be wide-awake all the way across.
Wait for the Patrol Boy or policeman to tell you what to do.
Never go between cars that are parked at the curb.
Don't hitch rides on cars or trucks.
Don't tease automobile drivers, or throw things at cars.
- When You Are Playing
Don't play in the street, or run into the street. Not ever!
Always stay in the yard or on the sidewalk.
Don't cross the street on roller skates or a scooter or a tricycle or in a wagon.
Be careful crossing alleys and driveways, too. Look and listen!
- When Riding A Bicycle
Don't ride a bike in the street until you know how.
Learn to keep your balance, and learn to stop and turn.
Obey all signs, signals and traffic rules.

at three year intervals.

A central file will be set up in Lansing as soon as possible, and all moving violations or accident records will be noted on each driver's file. This is a recommended method to maintain better control of the state's poor drivers.

Safety experts predict better driving and fewer accidents if law is enforced.

Now a mess, the files must be completely reorganized. Mr. Richards says that money was not provided for many years to keep adequate records and none were kept. He estimates that present files contain names of more than 5 million drivers—though he believes Michigan has only three and a half million. "People have died or moved out of the state," he explains, "and their names were not removed."

No "overnight" proposition.
Several years will be required to conform to all provisions of the new law. At present a new filing system is under consideration.
This is no small item in itself.
The system looked upon with favor at this time costs $800,000 over a three year period. It is more economical than it sounds, however, for this equipment could be staffed at much less expense for clerks.

You'll be hearing more about the new licensing law. The change over might be a little painful, but the total result will benefit the people of Michigan in lives saved.

THE SAD PLIGHT of nine high school athletes showed signs of improving after a meeting of Administration Code Committee of the State Legislature in Lansing.
The nine boys were ruled ineligible by the Michigan High School Athletic Association by order of its executive committee. They were found guilty of accepting "gifts" or "prizes". But trifling values were involved. Circumstances showed that the boys did not understand acceptance would bar them from school competition as professionals. Articles were returned by boys unused.

Words of anger and disgust from parents, fans and state legislators were directed at the athletic association which made the stern ruling. Amazement was expressed that the school committee should deal so sharply and with such lack of understanding. Six of the boys from Hatsings had accepted fish rods valued at $2.41; two U.P. boys had received small prizes for winning a local golf tournament.

The same law which the committee so rigidly enforced also provides that appeal can be made to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Dr. Clair L.
Taylor, who holds that position, agreed last week to hold such a hearing.

EDUCATED FISH NOW stock
Michigan's streams! About 5,500 legal-sized trout were planted in northern streams as part of a Conservation Department attempt to teach "home grown" fish to deal with facts of life . . . when and where to feed to avoid natural enemies, and make them better game fish.

Electric shocks were used to teach fish to adapt themselves to safer parts of streams. Training was carried on at the Oden Fish Hatchery under the direction of Psychological Research Associations, Inc.

Improvement was demonstrated for a group of newsmen who agreed that the untutored fish reacted differently from the "graduated" groups. Planted fish are tagged or fin-clipped so that a check can be made on results or training later.

A FREE COPY of a new history book about Michigan will be sent to every recognized library in the state. The volume will be published in the fall of 1954. Author is Dr. F. Clever Bald of the University of Michigan, who compiled the history at the order of the state historical commission. It is designed for 10th grade reading level but should be interesting to adults as well.

Publication of this book will fulfill half the endowment provisions of the late Dr. John M.
Munson, president of Michigan
State Normal College from 1933

to 1948. Dr. Munson willed $104, 000 to the historical commission for the preparation of a history of Michigan and an account of the history of education in the state.
Arrangements for the second book will be made after the history is published, according to Dr. Lewis Beeson, secretary of the Michigan Historical Commission.

PUBLIC ACCESS to welfare records will be permitted under a new law which takes effect Oct.
2. To examine a specific case, the inquiring person must sign up an application blank giving his reasons. Records of all welfare grants, including aid to dependent children, and old age assistance are covered by the law.

People proved less nosy about welfare cases than was claimed by opponents of the law. A major argument against opening the rolls was the citizens, forced to accept such help would lose their "rights of privacy". Important argument in its favor was that open records would discourage chiselers.

Neither claim seemed valid when viewed in the light of experiments in two counties. Ingham and Lenawee opened their rolls a few months early under a previous law which permitted them to do so. Records show there was little public interest. Harold Hough, Lenawee welfare director, said, "No one came to see our books—not even a reporter." The Ingham director, Daryl V. Minnis, said, "We had seven requests to see our rolls, two from newsmen.

The other five were from members of the board of supervisors."

Farmington Twp. Hunting Vote Set

Farmington Township voters will make their decision on a township hunting ban in a special election to be held Monday, Oct. 5.
Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The election was scheduled in connection with legislation approved by the state legislature at its last session which calls for a referendum by township voters to decide whether or not hunting with firearms will be banned in the area.

Interest in the Farmington hunting ban is expected to increase during the next two weeks, despite the fact that only 18 new registrations were added in the special registration period that ended Friday, Sept. 4. However, the township has an unusually high percentage of qualified voters. Township voters will cast their ballots in four regular precinct polling places.

Enclose Laundry Tubs

STORAGE is a "must" in the laundry, but oftentimes it is makeshift and unsatisfactory. Wise homemakers can readily make a combination linen chest and laundry supply cabinet which will serve also to hide unsightly stationary tubs.

As shown in the illustration, the handyman can enclose the tubs, construct a chest of drawers next to them, and create a handy clothes sorting table on top. To do the best job from the standpoint of cost, appearance and long life, he should build a framework of 2 by 2-inch lumber and cover it with smooth Masonite Tempered Presdwood, one-quarter inch thick.

Drawer construction can be simple. Just form the framework of lumber and attach a bottom of Presdwood. Wooden slides attached to the cabinet and sides of the drawers complete that part of the project.

The lumber framework for the enclosures should be no farther than 16" apart. Swinging doors to enclose the tubs may be made, too, as illustrated, or sliding doors of Tempered Presdwood unframed, may be made. They will slide in grooves cut into the cabinet floor and upper framework.

Prime and paint the installation for the best appearance.

Northville Group to Participate in U. of M. Band Day

A total of 6,347 bandmen from 115 Michigan high schools, including Northville, Plymouth, Livonia and Clarenceville will participate in the world's largest massed bands day at the University of Michigan Oct. 3 during half-time of the Michigan-Tulane football game.

The huge aggregation will carry about $1,094,900 worth of musical instruments and wear approximately $335,000 worth of uniforms.

The Northville Band is directed by Leslie G. Lee, while Larry Livingston heads the Plymouth group. George Bentley and Donald L. Dimond will lead the Livonia band while the Clarenceville group will be directed by Joe Markell.

The youngsters will travel an estimated 25,000 miles, equivalent to circling the world, in coming to and going home from the event which is sponsored by the University Bands of which Prof. William D. Revelli is director.

The musicians will have just one rehearsal together the morning of the game. That's no more than that allowed the 29 bands who played in the first annual Band Day in 1949.

A count of the types of instruments that will be used reveals that while there will be 1,133 cornets and 761 clarinets there will be just one E flat clarinet and one baritone saxophone.

Tubing of brass, copper and other metals can be bent without kinking if it is first filled with sand and the ends are plugged.

James Robinson of Walled Lake Wins Promotion in Korea

James Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robinson, 2540 Potter Rd., Walled Lake, recently was promoted to corporal with the I Corps in Korea.

During nearly three years of combat, I Corps twice drove the Communists north of the 38th parallel. Combat units of the corps spearheaded the drive from the Pusan perimeter which smashed to within 40 miles of the Yalu River before the Chinese Reds intervened.

Robinson, a truck driver in Battery C of the 623d Field Artillery Battalion, has been in Korea since October. He holds the Korean and UN Service Ribbons. Before entering the Army in April 1952, Robinson was employed by the Allen Fence Company. He attended Walled Lake High School.

Farmers must use modern insecticides to escape heavy losses in areas invaded by army worms, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says. Water-filled trenches, fire and poisoned bait will prove ineffective, officials believe. Spraying insecticides from the air is said to be especially effective.

High-Flying Mustangs Meet South Lyon In Bid for Second Win

Wild Life Notes...

PHEASANTS—

Southern Michigan's pheasant population may fluctuate year by year but at least one thing looks certain! Sly old Red Fox will have little to say in the matter.

Conservation department biologists have long believed that predation by foxes has little effect on total pheasant numbers, and a recent exhaustive study in New York State bears out this belief.

The New York test was started in 1947 and results have just been announced by the conservation department there.

Fox and pheasant populations were observed on two large areas during the test. Trappers killed four out of five foxes on one of the areas, and held predator numbers at that level throughout the experiment.

On the other area, fox numbers were left untouched, but at the end of the test, both areas had about the same number of pheasants present as there were in 1947.

"No benefit to pheasants was shown from the rigid fox control," a report of the test states.

Foxes do take pheasants when available, but one of the more important reasons for ups and downs in pheasant numbers is the weather. If good weather allows for successful brood production and helps grow abundant pheasant foods, the bird population will be high. If not, hunters can expect some slump in ringneck shooting the following fall.

At present, pheasant numbers in southern Michigan look fairly high and game men say hunters should enjoy and make use of somewhat more of the birds than the estimated 900,000 bagged last year.

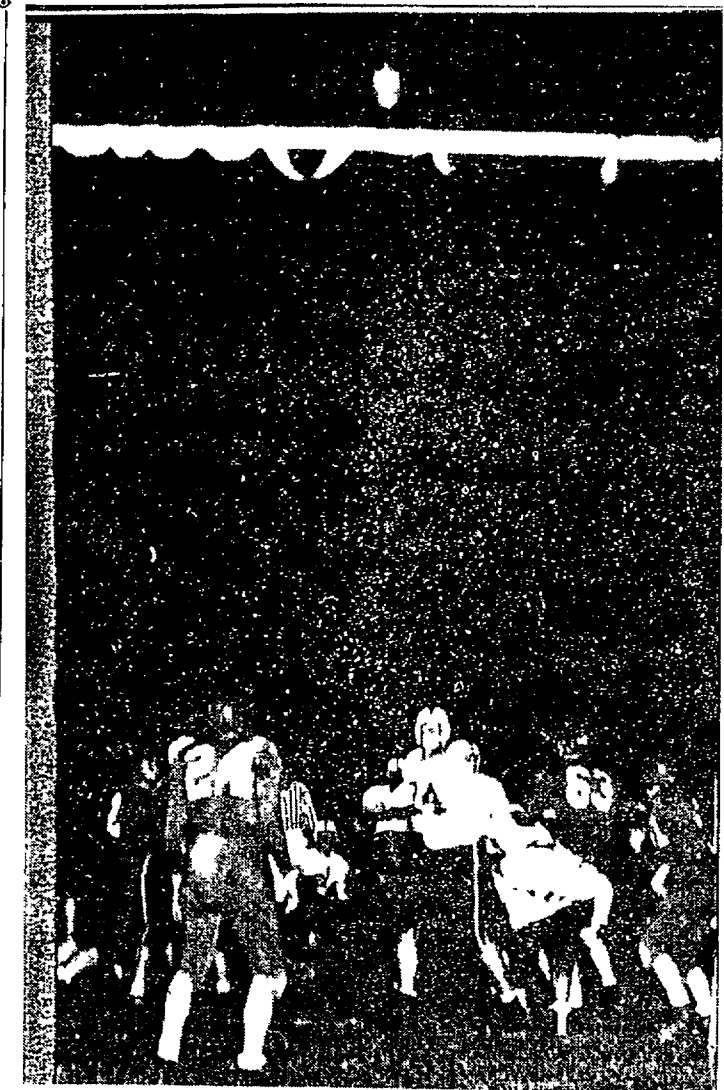

TROUT TESTS—

State Conservation Department fish experts plan to give sleeping potions to frisky trout in a series of tests aimed at reducing costs of trout planting.

Trout are carried in large tank trucks to streams and lakes and in the past they've posed a problem by taking up too much room in the transport tank with their rambunctious antics.

In the tests, sodium amytal will be mixed with water in the transport tank to turn the trout into a "trout Pullman." The drug is expected to quiet the fish so more can be carried on each trip.

California fishery workers pioneered the method and report that in some cases, they are able to carry twice as many fish on long hauls as previously.

Tests indicate that once returned to untreated water, the fish revive and show no after effects from their snooze.

MYSTERY—

Fish experts are still puzzled over the appearance of lake trout in Tamarack Creek, Montcalm County.

"It still has me very much up a tree," admitted Fred A. Westerman, chief of the conservation department's fish division.

Two of the fish were taken from the creek recently and reported by a Grand Rapids newspaperman. Checks established that other anglers also had taken lake trout previous to the reported catch.

Lake trout are native to the Great Lakes, where they are born, live and die. Spawning does not occur in streams and a check of fish division records shows that no lake trout plantings have ever been made on inland lakes of the area where the fish were caught.

Fisheries workers plan to test portions of the creek after trout season closes to see what more can be learned about the situation.

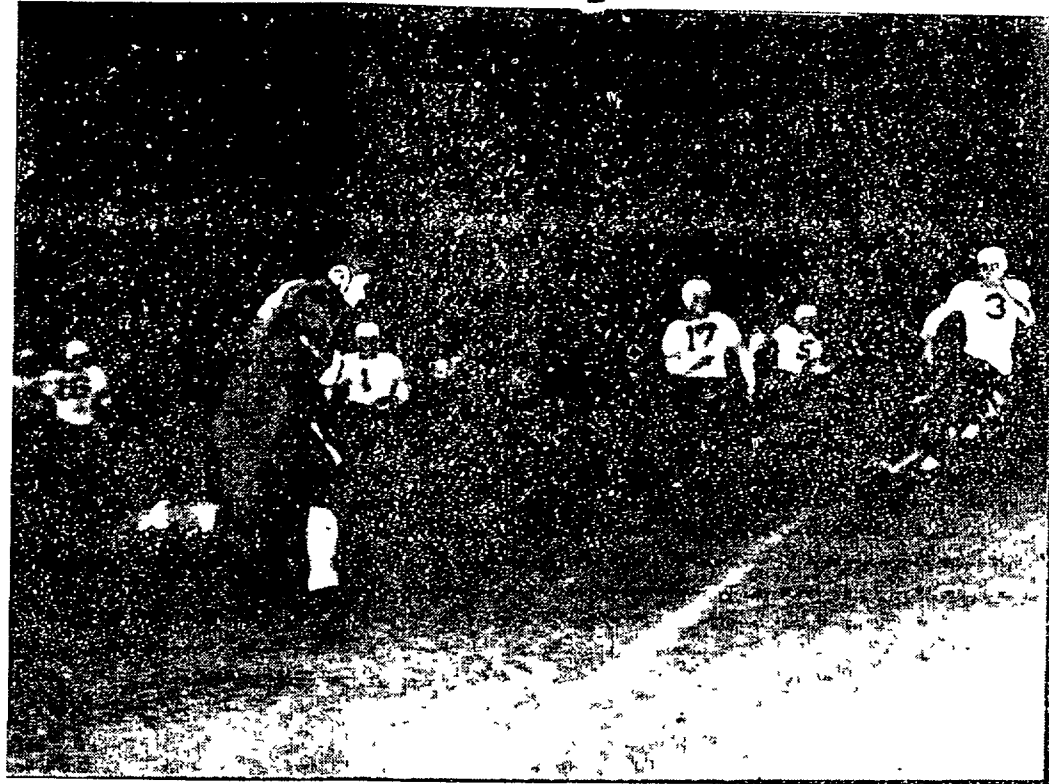

RARE PARTRIDGE—

A Niles man, Neal Edwards, recently reported seeing a chukar partridge while on a bear hunt in northern Iron county of the Upper Peninsula.

Edwards was even able to take pictures of the bird, which was positively identified by Conservation Department biologists.

Chukars are native to the Near Eastern uplands—the dry, rocky or plains areas of Asia and Africa.

Game men are puzzled by the appearance of the birds in Michigan. No state attempts have ever

The cameraman caught this action at Ford Field last Friday night as Northville swamped Plymouth 21-0. At left, Karl Hofmann, who arrived in Northville from Germany less than three weeks ago, demonstrates it hasn't taken him long to catch on to the American game of football as he clicks on the first of three extra point tries. In the center photo, a host of Northville tacklers converge on Plymouth's star half-back and captain, Jerry Kelly. No. 16 is Jim Bonar. The other Northville men (in white jerseys) are Gene Reblitzke, Paul Hamline, Paul Schulz and Lamar Nally. And finally, at right—the coaches' reward, Assistant Coach Dick Kay is carried off the field by a group of triumphant Mustangs. Head Coach Al Jones got the same treatment—for about four yards. At this point, his bearers lost their balance and tumbled to the ground. Jones ended up at the bottom of the heap.

Coach Warns of Slump After Opening 21-0 Win Over Plymouth

The Northville High School Mustangs, with win number one (and the BIG one) under their belts, travel to South Lyon tomorrow night for their final non-league game before starting the Wayne-Oakland County League title chase.

The game starts at 8 p.m. The Mustangs looked good on offense and even better on defense last Friday night as they capitalized on every break to shut out prime rival Plymouth, 21-0, before a capacity crowd at Ford Field.

Plymouth—undefeated last year but green as grass this season—was in contention only during the first quarter. After that it was all Northville, as the local squad romped to its first victory in five years over the neighboring Rocks.

Actually, the score might have been 35-0. Two Northville touchdowns were called back, one on a clipping penalty and another on a little-used rule.

NO COMPLAINTS

But Coach Al Jones and his boys weren't complaining. As one player said "The other games are important, but that was the one we really wanted."

Jones' big worry now is warding off the inevitable let-down after the victory. He warned that South Lyon may be a lot tougher than most people think.

"They still remember some of the bad beatings we've given them," Jones said. "They'd like nothing better than to wallop us and they can do it if we're not 'up'."

Brilliant opening night performances were a dime a dozen at Ford Field last Friday but Jones was especially pleased with the work of end Paul Schulz, who scored Northville's first touchdown by scooping up a fumble and scooting 80 yards.

That tally came in the first quarter. In the third quarter, Schulz reeled off another brilliant run when he went 75 yards for a touchdown with an intercepted pass. However, that one was nullified by a clipping penalty.

Mrs. Iva Laird Bowls Difficult "Pinochle Split"

Mrs. Iva Laird of 40380 Stoneleigh Rd., made her mark in Village bowling circles last Thursday by bowling a "Pinochle Split" at Northville Recreation.

On her first ball, Mrs. Laird toppled the six inside pins, leaving two pins standing on each side of the alley. Her next ball downed the remaining four.

Some bowlers claim a "Pinochle Split" is more difficult to attain than a perfect game.

Other outstanding performances were turned in by Guard Paul Hamline, halfbacks Bob Burgess, Bob Scheffer and Lamar Nally, and sophomore fullback Arland Lovett.

And special mention must be made of Karl (The Toe) Hofmann, a German exchange student who hardly knew a huddle from a halfback until three weeks ago.

He's living with Coach Al Jones and reported for football the day after he arrived in Northville.

PERFECT NIGHT

In his first game, Karl kicked three perfect extra points, rare for any high school boy, and just missed on a 15-yard field goal attempt.

Schulz' romp and Hofmann's first extra point gave the Mustangs a 7-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Northville's second touchdown, in the latter part of the second period, was set up by a pass interception by Eddie Nash on the Northville 33. Then Scheffer threw a long pass to Nally, who made a beautiful catch on the Plymouth 37. After taking a penalty, and missing on a goal line pass, the locals made it to the Rock 23 on a pass from Nally to Scheffer. Lovett plunged 19 yards to the four. Nally circled left end for the score after dropping the ball, and then picking it up. Hofmann converted again, making it 14-0 Northville.

SCORE NULLIFIED

On the next kickoff, the Plymouth receiver fumbled the ball on his own 15 and Scheffer scooped it up and headed for pay dirt. However, the play was called back after the official ruled that it's illegal to score on a ball lost on a kickoff.

It was then Northville's ball on the enemy 15. After two plays failed to gain, Hofmann tried a field goal from the 15 and missed, partly because of a bad pass from center.

Northville lost another touchdown in the third quarter when Schulz' 75-yard run with an intercepted pass was called back because of a clipping penalty.

The final score, in the fourth quarter, was set up when Ifversen intercepted a pass on the Plymouth 36. Burgess romped for 27 yards and two plays later, Lovett plunged over from the seven yard line. Hofmann converted to make the final score 21-0.

In meeting Parker, Nardico going out of his weight class. I has fought most of his battles in the lightweight division in which he ranks fourth. His record shows 46 wins, 32 by the knockout route, with nine losses and four draws.

Parker is strictly a knockout puncher. Of his 23 professional victories, he has won 21 of them by kayoes. He has lost only twice, and has four draws. He has fought five times this year and won them all by knockouts in four rounds or less.

Ken Rowe Waits for Call From Uncle Sam

Young Ken Rowe, who left the Northville sandlots for a career in professional baseball, may be working for a new boss next season—Uncle Sam.

The 19-year old Detroit Tiger farm hand, just back from his first season in the minor leagues, said his immediate future depended on the draft board.

"I'm 1-A right now and I may be called before next season starts," he said. "I'll know one way or the other before spring training starts."

The rangy young right-hander chalked up a 7-9 record with two minor league clubs this season—not bad for a pitcher who little more than a year ago was hurling for Northville High School.

He started the season at Jamestown, N. Y., of the Class D Pony League. In two and one-half months with that club, he won one and lost two.

"All a pitcher at Jamestown had to do was get the ball over the plate," he said. "We usually scored at least 10 runs a game."

Jamestown won the pennant this year by more than 20 games. On June 22, Ken left Jamestown to spend the rest of the season with Jackson, Mississippi, of the Class C Cotton States League—but not before an accident that could have put an end to his career.

In his last game at Jamestown, he was hit on the head by a batted ball.

"My head buzzed for about three days but as it turned out, I was all right," he said. "I still figure I was lucky not to have been seriously hurt."

Ken chalked up a 6-7 record in the tougher Cotton States League and made progress in straightening out his biggest difficulty—control.

"I had plenty of speed but I had trouble in getting the ball over," he explained. "But the manager at Jackson spent a lot of time with me and by the end of the season my control was much better."

Ken says his best effort this year was a three hit victory over Pine Bluffs, Ark.

The youngster, who signed for a "good bonus" in July of 1951, has no idea where he'll play next season if the Army passes him

Corporal Johnny Stark of Northville and fellow soldiers at North Atlantic Treaty Organization Headquarters in Fontainebleau, France, pose with a copy of the Northville Record. Standing (left to right): L/Cpl. B. Sidaway, Barrow-In-Furness, England; Sgt. W. M. Heine, Long Island, N. Y.; Pte. Pierre Boulmer, Paris, France; Pte. M. J. Winyard, Epsom Surrey, England; Cpl.

John Stark, Northville, Mich.; Pte. J. R. Whiteford, Winner, S.D.; Pte. Larry Arens, L. I., N. Y.; Cpl. K. Trench, London, England; Sgt. Frank Turner, Royton, Lancs., England. Front row: M/Sgt. G. N. Ikenaga, San Francisco, Calif.; Adj. Iere Classe, J.H.Y. Bais, Bruxelles, Belgium; S/Sgt. T. L. Davies, Pietmaritzburg, South Africa; Sgt. Arie Van der Dussen, Gouda, Holland.

Corporal John Stark Writes from France: "Northville Record Really Gets Around"

The Record received two letters from far-off Fontainebleau, France, this week which, frankly, pleased us a great deal.

One was from Corporal Johnny Stark, a native of Northville and son of D. J. Stark, assistant Village postmaster.

The corporal has been receiving—and apparently enjoying—his copy of the Record each week. But he's also been working as somewhat of an unofficial goodwill ambassador for the Village, passing his Record among the men of many nations serving at Fontainebleau, headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

That brings us to the second letter. It comes from Corporal Kenneth Trench, who has some observations on his Record-eye view of an American small town.

Corporal Stark's letter follows: Cpl. John W. Stark US 55245664, ALFC Det #1, 8478th AAU, APO #11, % Postmaster New York, New York

Dear Sir: I thought that you might be interested in knowing that here in Fontainebleau, France the Northville Record really gets around. When my Record arrives I read it first then it gets passed around the office until everyone has a look at it, and comments on how things are going in good old Northville, Michigan.

There is one fellow from London, England, by the name of Cpl. Kenneth Trench, who had as a former occupation news reporter for the London Daily Mirror, which he tells us has the largest circulation of any newspaper in the world. Cpl. Trench is forever pulling my leg about the town out in the sticks that I come from, but he is the first one to get hold of my Record when it arrives.

Even the boys from the U.S. Army Element ask each week if the Community Building has had any new developments. This week everyone in the office had many questions to ask about the old village spring, as I had been telling of the abundance of spring water in our village. We watch the prices quoted by the different stores around town and see that the prices are still higher than here by quite a bit, with the exception of some cuts of meat which are lower in Northville. We of the U.S. Element have only three things that are impossible to get, they are: sweet corn, head lettuce and doughnuts. The potatoes are selling for less than 1 cent per pound here in the market. Of course, my wife and I are buying most of our supplies from the Army Commissary, with most of the products coming from the United States, with the exception of milk, butter, bananas, tomatoes and some cheeses, which come from the Netherlands, Africa and Spain.

All in all the boys have agreed unanimously that Northville must be a very nice little town to live in, and I agree wholeheartedly. (Signed) Cpl. Johnny Stark

Cpl. Trench writes:

Hullo Northville,

glad to meet you.

Maybe I'd first better introduce myself. My name is Ken Trench, or rather Cpl. Trench, K. of the British Army. At present serving here in Fontainebleau with one of your town's sons, John Stark, or again rather Cpl. Stark, J. of the U.S. Army.

Yesterday John received his usual copy of the "Northville Record", and as usual, all the office had a look at it during the afternoon. John got quite a kick out of seeing his "local" getting such a wide international readership and decided to write and tell you about it. He then asked me to put down on a bit of paper what I thought of your paper—as I used to be a journalist—so here I am. The first thing that interested me in your paper was the layout. In England we have different ideas on this. We go more for cut-outs, a greater variety of print, all in all a pleasanter layout. I found the "Record" stark (there's a crack there somewhere!)

and simple.

Then John did some explaining to me told me he thought the circulation of your paper was probably only 2,000 or so, that only 12 or 14 people produced it, and that often people would take their news to the paper—that's a new one on me. John talked a lot about 'his' paper, and I decided it meant quite a lot to him, he knew nearly everybody who was mentioned in it, and it seemed to make home a great deal nearer to him.

So I took a different stock of the "Record" after that. I decided it had a different job to do from my idea of newspapers. The "Record" seems more of a communal letter.

In England even the smallest papers we don't have anything similar to "News Around Northville". If Mrs. Smith goes to visit Mrs. Jones on Sunday she doesn't get her name in the paper for it. She has to at least grow a prize sweet pea before that happens. The ads are quite a bit different too. Back home most of the ad space would be taken up by local stores; cars and the suchlike advertise in the big dailies; in our small papers too, classified ads play an important part.

The "Record" has shown me a different side of American life. It shows the true heartbeat of the ordinary American in the "sticks" more than a million movies.

Goodbye Northville, maybe I'll come up and see you sometime, Kenneth Trench

Livonia Couple Married in Candlelight Ceremony

Charlene Hall became the bride of Arthur Harrison in a candlelight service at the Livonia Methodist Church Sept. 19. The Rev. Andrew Michaelson was the officiating minister.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall of Seven Mile Rd. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clold Harrison of Onaway.

The bride's gown was white satin, with a floor length train and fingertip veil. Orange blossoms formed the headdress and her bouquet was fashioned of white roses and stephenium.

Claudette Hall was her sister's attendant. Her gown was of blue satin and she carried blue rosebuds.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hall wore black faille, with a corsage of white carnations.

Charles Bonar served as best man, while James Hamilton and Robert Hall seated the guests.

Mrs. Fred Pollakowski served as pianist during the service and accompanied the two soloists, Mrs. Leda Haddon, cousin of the bride, who sang "At Dawning", and Mr.

Ralph Hamilton who sang "With This Ring I Thee Wed" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church with 100 guests attending. The newlyweds then left for a short trip to northern Michigan.

At Onaway, Mr. and Mrs. Clold Harrison will honor them with a reception get-together for Harrison relatives and friends. Upon their return, the couple will for a short time make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall.

The average farm kitchen requires 20 to 30 tons of water each year; carrying it from an outdoor pump would require about 30 eight-hour days of labor.

Plans for Girl Scout Leader Training Told

The annual Scout Leaders training course will begin Thursday, Oct. 1 and continue for five Tuesday and Thursday sessions through Oct. 15.

The course, costing $1.00, will be held at the Scout Building on Dunlap St. from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will be taught by Mrs. Maxwell Austin and Mrs. Alex Lawrence.

Scout leaders reminded Village women this week that there is a great need for new leaders since at least two new Brownie troops soon will be added to the 14 Girl Scout and Brownie Troops already in existence.

Trainees are asked to bring their own sandwich luncheons. Tea and coffee will be provided.

Two films will be shown during the course, to which all troop committee members, sponsoring groups and interested mothers are invited. At 11 p.m. on Oct. 1, a film strip entitled "The Troop Committee at Work" will be presented, and on Thursday, Oct. 8, a 15 minute movie, "The Story of a Girl Scout Troop" will be featured.

The five sessions will cover such subjects as the following: explanation of Girl Scout policies, suggestions for troop program planning, explanation of ceremonies and rituals and training in outdoor skills, firebuilding and menu-planning.

The meeting scheduled for Oct. 15 is the only one which will not be held at the Scout Building. This will be given at the Alex Lawrence home so that actual outdoor cooking can be done and nature hikes and trail-laying be demonstrated "on location."

At the end of the course, trainees will be duly invested as Girl Scout Leaders and be given their Girl Scout pins.

Support Building Up for Hospital

Dozens of endorsements from civic, fraternal and religious groups have been given the St. Mary Hospital Building Fund Campaign, according to Sterling Eaton, campaign chairman.

E. C. Welch, community appeal chairman, stated that recruiting of volunteer workers has begun, and that the response has been most encouraging. These volunteers will make telephone calls to the people of their communities in order to acquaint them with the plans of the campaign.

Various campaign committees are nearly ready to function. The commerce and industry committee will begin its active solicitation shortly, according to Bruce L. Turnbull, Northville committee chairman.

Likewise, R. M. Atchison, M.D. of Northville, chairman of the professional committee, stated that his group will swing into action in the near future.

Other committees are meeting regularly, and as soon as they are ready, they too will begin their solicitation.

George Clark Attends Hdwe. Convention

George Clark, whose hardware store is located on North Center St., went to East Lansing Wednesday night to appear on a panel discussion of self-serv hardware stores at the annual meeting of the Michigan Retail Hardware Dealers Association.

The group met Wednesday and Thursday at the Kellogg Center on the Michigan State College campus.

The convention will deal primarily with self-serv hardware business. Clark's store was the first of this type to be established in Michigan.

Real Estate Project Planned Near Milford

Plans were announced last week for an extensive real estate development at Dunham Lake, five miles northwest of Milford and two miles west of Highland, on Tipsico Lake Rd.

A group headed by former Governor Murray Van Wagoner of Birmingham has bought a 600-acre tract bordering the lake. The group says it will soon get a long range program under way with the immediate development of 120 acres into half-acre building tracts. Eventually they hope to develop the entire 600 acres in what they term a "million dollar project".

The William Harvey Construction of Birmingham already has a crew of men at work building subdivision roads.

Wisdom in human action begins with what is nearest right under the circumstances, and thence achieves the absolute.

Beef Rings Team With Potatoes

Cuts from the beef chuck are good buys in many markets today. Because it contains just the right proportions of fat and lean, beef chuck is excellent for grinding, says meat expert Reba Staggs. And for flavorful individual ground beef servings, prepare these beef rings. The meat mixture is molded in small ring molds, baked, then cleverly served with a filling of mashed potatoes.

1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1/4 cup water
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 egg
2 to 3 cups mashed potatoes
Combine all ingredients except mashed potatoes. Mix thoroughly. Pack in 8 greased individual ring molds. Bake in a moderate oven (300° F.) for 25 to 30 minutes. Serve filled with mashed potatoes. 6 to 8 servings.

"ETCHINGS"

by Milton Bloomquist
As restless children, digging in the sand.
Upon the beach along the wave—washed shore;
As they of buried Nineveh of yore—
Uncovered now—built with an eager hand;
As Jesus stooped and wrote upon the ground,
In sand, and yet indelible, a word
Of heaven's grace, where penitence is stirred.
And heaven's doom, where mercy is not found;
So we are building in the sands of time,
Along the shore of sure eternity,
Life's edifice, and be it ill or well.
For whether we have wrought a house sublime,
Or whether we have builded foolishly,
The searchings of eternity will tell.

Serve Veal as Paprika Schnitzel

When looking for a different way to serve veal, turn to Paprika Schnitzel. This is a zesty dish made up of paprika-seasoned veal steaks slowly cooked until tender with sliced onion and sour cream.

According to meat expert Reba Staggs, to prepare this veal dish sufficient for six serving, purchase 1 1/2 pounds of veal shoulder steaks. Cut the meat into serving size pieces, then dredge them with seasoned flour.

In the meantime, heat 2 tablespoons of lard or dripping in a heavy frying-pan. Add paprika to the fat until it is quite red. Then to the pan add three sliced onions and cook until transparent. Next, add the meat and brown on all sides. To this add one-half cup of sour cream. Cover the meat closely and let it cook slowly for about 45 minutes or until tender.

Contest Winners

The Union Building and Supply Co., 31245 Eight Mile Rd., this week announced the winners of a drawing held at the store's grand opening last Saturday and Sunday.

A bicycle was won by Eugene Noble of 20328 Parker St., and a wagon by Lloyd Mench of 32224 Eight Mile Rd., Farmington.

IN THE BAG

If your family likes golden brown chunks of meat in their beef stew, then flour the pieces of meat before cooking. This is easily done by placing the seasoned flour in a paper bag, then adding the meat cubes and shaking the bag until the cubes are well coated.

Here's Party Pineapple Fluff Cake

Just is its name denotes this Pineapple Fluff cake is a light and fluffy delight. It's a fitting dessert for dinner or the cake to proudly serve for popular "dessert" entertaining. Points out home economist Reba Staggs, this recipe was developed with the economical shortening, lard, to insure a fine texture and feathery lightness.

PINEAPPLE FLUFF CAKE
3 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder

1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple*
3/4 cup lard
2 cups sugar
4 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup hot water
4 stiffly beaten egg whites

Line three 9-inch cake pans with waxed paper. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and soda. Drain crushed pineapple and measure 1 cup juice. Cream lard and 1 1/4 cups sugar with egg yolk. Add remaining egg yolks and vanilla. Beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with 1 cup pineapple juice and 1/2 cup hot water. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry, and add remaining 1/2 cup sugar. Fold egg white mixture into cake batter. Pour into cake pans and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 25 to 30 minutes.

*Drain and save 1 cup juice to put in cake batter. Use remaining 1 cup drained crushed pineapple for frosting.

Sibbold said he has now obtained about $15,000 in verbal pledges and checks and hopes to obtain $10,000 more to finance the project.

He also reported he has taken options on three properties and hopes to secure a fourth soon. The proposed parking lot will be located on the East Side of Harvey St. between Ann Arbor Trail and Wing St.

Pierce Marsh in U. of M. Hospital After Scaffold Fall

Pierce Marsh of 424 Randolph St. was reported recovering satisfactorily in University Hospital at Ann Arbor this week from head injuries received in a fall.

Marsh was injured two weeks ago when he lost his balance and toppled backward several feet from a scaffold at the Warren Products Co. His head struck a brick wall and he was unconscious for several days.

Marsh was taken to Atchison Hospital in the Casterline ambulance immediately after the accident and then transferred to the University Hospital.

The light that didn't fail

It was 1 o'clock in the morning. To George Stevens, dial telephone switchman, the light on the panel meant that somewhere a telephone was off the hook. An improperly replaced receiver perhaps, or one dislodged by a frisky cat. On the other hand this might be a distress signal. That's what George Stevens thought as he plugged in on the line.

There was no mistaking the weak but urgent voice he heard—a woman calling for help. Quickly Stevens traced the connection to get the telephone number. Then he called another switchman to get the woman's address. Within minutes Stevens had notified the police who sped to the home of the stricken woman in Dearborn. They found an elderly woman helpless on the floor. Later at the hospital she told what had happened. A widow, living alone, she had suffered a severe heart attack that night. Though partially paralyzed, she managed to upset the table on which the telephone stood to summon help.

Police say that Stevens' prompt action "beyond a doubt" saved her life. Michigan Bell awarded him a Vail citation, a tribute to telephone people for outstanding service in emergencies.

Youngsters Enjoy Boat Built By Junior Optimists

Six young sailors prepare to embark on a voyage of exploration on the Mill Pond. Their boat built from a Chris-Craft kit early this summer by the Junior Optimist Club and since then has been available to any youngster who wants to use it. Recreation Director Wilson Funk says it's been in almost constant use this summer. Left to right are Lee Lemon, Ray Hood, Dick Weber, Chris Krauter, Roger Weber and Craig Bell.

SELLING MUCH FOR LITTLE

While walking along the street Charles H. Spurgeon, the famous London preacher, overheard a young stalwart workman swearing fluently and atrociously. Mr. Spurgeon went up to him and touched his arm. "Can you pray as well as you can swear," he asked. The young man laughed with the superior air of one often affected by people who have big chests and little brains. He declared he never indulged in anything so useless as that. "Well, I'll give you this," Mr. Spurgeon said, offering him a coin of considerable size. "If you will promise me never to pray." The young man pocketed the coin with a chuckle. By and by, however, as the day wore on, he felt uneasy. Never to pray? Never? Maybe he would want to pray some day. Maybe he had sold something very precious for very little. Coming home in the evening, he told his wife. She was horrified. "We don't pray," she worried, "but some day we may want to pray." Through a fortunate circumstance she found out who it was that had given the coin, and Mr. Spurgeon was able to lead them to a higher life. Some people may not care very much for religion, but they would hesitate a long time to absolutely and forever sell their right to commune with God. —Sel.
