The week commencing next Sunday, Nov. 8, is American Education Week. It has been observed annually since 1921, when it was established by joint action of the National Education Association and the American Legion "for the purpose of informing the public of the accomplishments and needs of the public schools and to secure the cooperation and support of the public in meeting these needs."

Never more than now, when the world seems hopelessly divided by deeply-rooted principles of human conduct, and the most powerful nations on earth are poised for a war which might easily wipe out our civilization, has there been greater need for assessing the fruits of our educational system.

Admittedly, the American educational system has given us the intelligence to develop an industrial system that has resulted in the highest standard of living ever attained by any people in the world's history. It has constructed great high schools and greater universities which are bringing higher education to more and more young men and women. And it has produced a select group of super-intelligent scientists whose discoveries in medicine, engineering, communication, aviation and other fields have brought progress beyond the dream of mankind only a half-century ago.

But education as we know it does not exist on the other side of the earth—in China, India, Russia and other nations which we regard as backward countries. In such places education is only for the select few. The great mass of hundreds of millions of men and women still live almost as their ancestors did a thousand years ago.

Against this background, with our half of the world enjoying a high standard of living to which our educational system has contributed much, and the other half still on a bare subsistence level that would be intolerable if judged by our standards, it becomes easy to understand the basic cause of today's world unrest. To the peoples of those countries, our economic system and the wealth which it has produced are but another manifestation of the centuries of economic oppression to which they have been subjected by their own leaders.

Nor should this be hard for us to understand if we consider the lack of any educational background against which they can evaluate the reasons why we in the United States appear to have everything which they deem desirable, but are unable to obtain for themselves. The envy and hate for the United States which exist in many parts of the world are merely an outgrowth of today's irresistible upsurge of desire for a greater share of the world's wealth. It gives the Communist leaders a fertile field in which to sow the seeds of discontent which have given them dominance in Asia and the countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Perhaps this is over-simplification of the situation, but we doubt it. If we are correct, then it seems to us that American Education Week this year should be a time for assessing not only the good points of our American educational system, but for striving to discover how it can be strengthened to teach our young men and women to cope with world problems that at the moment appear almost hopeless.

If we were to attempt to put our finger on the one weakness of mankind which contributes most to the world's ills, we would say it is that too few individuals try to understand and be considerate of the viewpoint of those who do not believe as they do. Such understanding and consideration cannot be learned from school text books alone because it is based upon moral rather than material values. Unfortunately, the former are not stressed as much in our schools as the latter. Nor can teachers create understanding of moral values if they lack the cooperation of parents at home.

There is reason for encouragement, however, in the awareness of leading educators toward the problem of developing a higher sense of moral values on the part of children in American schools. The program of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers stress these three points:

1. Emphasize moral and spiritual values . . .
2. Plan various P.T.A. programs on . . . moral and spiritual values . . .
3. Work for effective coordinated planning and integrated services on the part of all community agencies and institutions interested in the physical, mental, social, and spiritual welfare of children and young people.

This call to action reflects a nation-wide upsurge of interest in moral and spiritual education. As adults, we have been slow to realize that we have not been giving and cannot give our boys and girls the answers to many questions which confront them in a rapidly changing world. The very fact that we adults do not know the answers ourselves, increases the importance of helping youth develop the values that will guide them in making the necessary moral decisions for themselves.

Every citizen, parent or not, has a stake in the moral and spiritual development of the children in his community, and in the way his community influences that development. This responsibility is as fundamental to education as is the provision of new buildings and more teachers to keep pace with community growth. In the long run, it may contribute to better understanding of the basic causes for world unrest and tension which exist today, and probably will continue until all men everywhere become educated in spiritual values as well as in the fields of science, which at this point in the world's history constitute both a magnificent promise and a terrible threat of annihilation of civilization.

Commissioners Take Action on Water Problem

The Village Commission Monday night made two moves toward remedying the Northville water situation—both rate-wise and taste-wise.

Commissioner John Stubenvoll was instructed to check with the Ann Arbor engineering firm of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May to determine what their price would be for (1) a review of Village water rates and (2) a comprehensive map of the Village water system.

PRICE LISTED

In a letter to the Commission, the firm offered to do the work for approximately $1,000. However, the letter was worded in such a way that the Commission could not be sure whether the fee covered both phases of the water problem or just one.

Stubenvoll planned to talk to the firm Wednesday afternoon in an attempt to reach an agreement. The Commission thought that first consideration should be given to the rate question.

Commissioners also authorized Street and Water Superintendent Herman Hartner, Jr. to purchase a chlorinator, to be installed at the No. 1 well in an effort to improve the taste of Village water.

PETERS COMPLAINS

This action came after Commissioner Alton Peters complained that the water flowing from taps in his home was "the worst I've ever tasted." He said he'd had similar complaints from other Village residents, who also were disturbed about the rusty color of the water.

The chlorinator, which is of a temporary type, is to be installed later this week. It will be used until the Commission determines whether or not to buy a permanent chlorination system.

Police Answer 139 Calls in October

The Northville Police Department answered 139 calls and collected $914 in fines during the month of October, Police Chief Joe Denton reported to the Village Commission Monday night.

Seven accidents were investigated while 90 motorists were ticketed for traffic violations. A total of 87 summons were issued. Denton reported two cases of grand larceny during the month and the same number of petty larceny cases. Fourteen persons were arrested.

Open House Feature of Education Week

Northville will mark National Education Week Nov. 8-14 with a series of meetings and open houses designed to better acquaint parents with the work community schools are doing.

The week will begin Sunday evening, Nov. 8 at the annual Community School and Church night at the Methodist Church. Members of the school faculty will gather with parents for a pot-luck dinner at 6 p.m. and later hear a talk by Dr. Edmond H. Babbitt, acting president of Adrian College.

SCHOOLS OPEN

Schools will be open all week for parent visitation. On Thursday evening, Nov. 12, from 7-9 p.m. an open house will be held, at which time parents and friends are urged to come and inspect school facilities and meet faculty members.

At 9 p.m. that evening, a social gathering is planned in the grade school lunchroom.

Schools will close at 2 p.m. on the 12th to enable teachers to prepare their rooms for the open house.

BANNER AWARDED

The P.T.A. Banner will be awarded to the room having the

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Aenchbacher and their 12-year old son, Woody, who lost all their belongings in a fire last week, makes a list of some of the things they need. The Aenchbachers are staying temporarily at the Ivan Ely home on North Center St.

Fire Stricken Family Starts From Scratch

The Horace Aenchbacher family came home one day last week and found it gone.

The building was a charred shell, completely burned out. All of the family's belongings were ashes, save a washing machine, bicycle and lawn mower.

"All we had was our car and the clothes on our backs," Mrs. Aenchbacher said.

Today—a week after flames destroyed their home at 47545 Seven Mile Rd.—they have little more.

The house, owned by Bob Hopper, was insured for $2,000, but the furnishings were not, contrary to the report last week. No one was home when the fire broke out and the cause is undetermined.

START FROM SCRATCH

The shattered Aenchbachers faced the job of starting from scratch.

"We didn't know where to begin," Mrs. Aenchbacher said. "For a few days, we couldn't even think. What had taken years to get was completely gone."

However, tragedy has demonstrated one thing to the Aenchbachers—the goodness of people.

The Ivan Elys on North Center St. offered to share their home with the stricken family. Customers at Peanut's Place, where Mrs. Aenchbacher works, and employees and patients at Maybury Sanatorium, Aenchbacher's place of employment, contributed money. So did customers at Gussell's, Brader's and the Northville Bar. The contributions added up to more than $230.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HELP

The King's Daughters bought several complete outfits for the Aenchbacher's 12-year old son, Woody. Mrs. Iva Taylor contributed a stove and another friend gave a kitchen table and cabinet. "Everyone has been just wonderful," Mrs. Aenchbacher says. "I can't find words to express how we feel. I hope they know how grateful we are."

However, the family has a long way to go before getting back on its feet. While they have an apartment in prospect, they have almost no furnishings.

They need all the help Northville can give them in the form of rugs, furniture, dishes, towels or just plain cash.

If you feel you can help, drop your contributions off at the Record office or see Mrs. Aenchbacher at Peanut's.

Foreign Scientists Visit Local Plant

Fifteen European scientists, in the United States to study powder metallurgy, visited the Michigan Metal Products Co. here Tuesday.

The scientists' nation-wide tour is sponsored by the Foreign Operations Administration of the government's Economic Cooperation Administration.

They were guided through Michigan Metal Products plant by John Haller, a member of the Board of Directors.

The group lunched with Haller and other company executives and was shown a movie detailing operations at the Northville plant. The visitors included Pierre Mathy and Cuy-Alain-Gerard Van Lerberghe of Belgium; Roland Carville of France, Aloys Bruchhauser, Dr. Herbert Schulze and Herman Silberstein of Germany; Neri Corsini of Italy; Anthony B. Barkley of The Netherlands, and Gerald R. Bell, Walter Clarke, John Cockburn, Leslie Harrison, Cyril J. Leadbeater, Philip Ridout and Bert Harry Swan of England.

Soap Suds Fly Along Main Street Monday Morning

Monday was washday in downtown Northville.

Dozens of Village merchants turned to with brushes and hot water to wash away the calling cards left by the 1953 crop of spooks and witches.

No one was spared this year.

A casual survey made by the Record Halloween editor while out for a mid-morning cup of cider Friday morning indicated that every store window in town had been thoroughly soaped.

Originality was lacking. Most youngsters were content to simply scrawl with their piece of soap. A few stopped long enough to scribble "Hi", "Ha-Ha" and "Crazy, Man, Crazy". The four-letter word count was low.

A few conscientious merchants cleaned their windows Thursday and Friday only to have them just as clouded again Saturday morning.

They fought a losing battle. A few of the kids didn't even wait until nightfall. One youngster was observed at high noon doing his handiwork on the front of Gussell's Drug Store at the corner of Center and Main streets.

Few of the merchants seemed upset.

"It happens every year and we're used to it," said one in a resigned voice.

Fortunately, Halloween mischief was pretty well confined to window-soaping. While hundreds of youngsters made their trick-or-treat rounds Saturday night, only one case of serious vandalism was reported to Police Chief Joe Denton.

Mrs. George Alexander reported that someone had thrown an apple through the storm door of her home on Spring Drive.

Chief Denton rounded up a whole passel of Halloweeners and found his culprit.

Turned out to be a boy from Plymouth.

The brightest spot of the local Halloween picture was provided by a group of youngsters who aided less fortunate children while making the day's rounds.

The youngsters carried canisters supplied by the Methodist Church and collected a total of $32.91 for UNICEF—United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

Negotiations On Site To Begin; Map First Plans For Bond Issue

The Northville Board of Education Monday night set the wheels in motion toward construction of a new elementary school building.

It authorized a building committee composed of Eural Clark and Nelson C. Schrader, Jr., to begin negotiations on a site for the school.

The Board also voted to proceed with plans for a $300,000 bond issue to finance the project.

It was reported that the amount of the bond issue could change between now and the time it is offered for sale.

The Board instructed Superintendent Russell Amerman to hire Fred Thrun, a Lansing bond attorney, to supervise the bond issue.

SITE OUTLINED

The Board hopes to buy a ten acre piece of land on the north side of town, on the west side of North Center St. between Carlisle and Hill. The site would have a three acre front on N. Center. The land is owned by Manning & Locklin Gravel Co. at the present time.

BUILDING OUTLINED

A rough outline of the building, shown to the Board by Architect Eberle Smith, provides for nine classrooms plus a large multipurpose room which could be used for school programs or a study hall.

However, plans for the building are far from complete.

Each classroom in the building will house approximately 30 students. It will be attended by students in grades one through six.

There was no indication at this time when construction actually would start. There is considerable work to be done in connection with the bond issue, drawing of final plans, letting contracts and so forth.

However, Amerman said the Board had given up hope of having the school ready by next fall.

Walter L. Couse Honored by U of M

Walter L. Couse was honored recently by the College of Engineering of the University of Michigan with a citation "as a distinguished alumnus in recognition of your outstanding achievements and of your contributions to the development of the field of engineering."

Similar citations were presented to 241 distinguished alumni of the College of Engineering as part of the University's observance of its 100th anniversary of engineering instruction. Forty-seven civil engineers, including Mr. Couse, were included in the larger group of distinguished alumni. The citations were presented in ceremonies in Hill Auditorium on Oct. 23, preceding the dedication of the new Mortimer E. Cooley Building on the University's North Campus the following day.

Mr. Couse is president of Walter L. Couse and Co., Detroit, and is past president of the Associated General Contractors of America.

Fire Destroys Miller Barn in Novi Wed.

Fire destroyed a large barn and outbuilding on the farm of Willis Miller at 46489 Grand River near Novi Wednesday afternoon. Four cattle and an undetermined number of pigs died in the flames. Also destroyed were a number of pieces of farm equipment owned by Harold Miller, who operates a farm supply agency next door to the farm.

Cause of the fire, which broke out around noon, was undetermined. The blaze was fought by firemen from Novi, Northville and Walled Lake.

Merchants Parking Fund Climbs to Total of $6,000

A total of $6,000 has been pledged so far to the Retail Merchants Association parking lot fund, Nelson Schrader, Jr., president of the group, revealed this week.

Another $3,600 has been orally pledged by Village merchants and downtown property owners, he reported.

The merchants' group has set a goal of $16,000 to be used to purchase land for off-street parking in the downtown area.

Solicitation letters were mailed to businessmen and property owners in the middle of October, asking for contributions. So far, 15 have responded with cash pledges.

Schrader said personal solicitation of those who thus far have not contributed will begin next week.

He said he felt that the current status of the drive indicated it would reach its goal.

Contributors include the D & C Store, Tewksbury Jewelers, Johnson Gift Shop, George Miller Sales and Service, Northville Electric, Cloverdale Farms Dairy, Northville Driving Club, Ritchie Brothers Laundromat, Carrington Agency, Brader Store, Schrader Furniture, Bloom Insurance Agency and the Northville Record.

OTHER CONTRIBUTORS

In addition, cash pledges have been received from Carl Barton, owner of the property occupied by Tewksbury and the Marlene Shop, and Herman Bakhaus, owner of the Cloverdale Dairy. Bakhaus also has deeded property in the rear of the store for parking space.

The Merchants Association has plans for purchasing sites in the rear of the Spagnuolo, C. F. Smith, Gamble, Sally Bell, Merritt and Depositors State Bank properties and the old DeAuteil property at 118 East Dunlap St., which is now owned by the Northville Record.

It is planned to deed the lots to the Village in return for an agreement to construct an alley, blacktop the surface and install parking meters.

The sites listed above, plus those in the rear of Brader's Department Store and the A & P, which are to be blacktopped by the owners, will provide space for 62 cars.

Carlo Denies He Has Been Indicted

John J. Carlo, executive manager of Northville Downs, this week issued a statement denying allegations made in a story in the Detroit Free Press on Nov. 1.

Mr. Carlo's statement follows: "On Sunday, Nov. 1 an article on the front page of the Detroit Free Press stated that I had been indicted for conspiracy and had withheld this information in a previous questionnaire submitted to a previous racing commissioner, Mr. Bredon.

"This story was incorrect. I have never been indicted for a crime nor have I withheld any information about myself. The reporter for the Free Press now acknowledges that his story was incorrect."

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

Fellow we know tells us he's living dangerously these days. Makes a practice of seeking out sniffs to say "gesundheit" when they sneeze.

Now we know of other fellows that live a bit dangerously too. They're the boys that make such a pitch of the extra trade-in they say they offer. Stands to reason a car is worth so much whether it's dollars or doughnuts and to our certain knowledge there is a base motive of profit in many a transaction. We rather suspect that the offer we'll make when you come in to get your beautiful, powerful, economical '53 Studebaker will more than match the offer you may have already received. Why not come in now and be pleasantly surprised?

While we're waiting for you to hurry over, we'll tell you of a friend of ours who moved some furniture to his newly acquired hunting lodge. The road to the shack wasn't very good and while crossing a rickety bridge over his trout stream, the load on the trailer shifted and part of it fell in the creek. Had a bit of a time rescuing the furniture too. Especially the davenport. When they finally did haul it ashore, our friend swears there were 38 trout under the cushions.

Truthfully, we didn't know that particular trout stream was deep enough to cover the davenport and we forgot to ask him what he did with the trout that exceeded the daily bag limit. He's a nice guy and we'd hate to discover that he ate them illegally, because we're strictly against anything illegal such as murder, robbery, and forgetting to have your car serviced at regular intervals. We suggest you bring the car right over for a complete lubrication and motor tune-up by our expert mechanics.

That's that, but we read the average man has almost seven-typounds of muscle and more than three pounds of brain. A lady friend tells us that with such an average, she now understands why the brains take such a long time to show.

THE VILLAGE --- AT WORK

A Visit With Your Neighbors On the Job

Chances are you've never seen Mrs. Lillian Timm but we'll bet you've heard her voice.

Mrs. Timm is chief operator at the local branch of the Bell Telephone Co.

Mrs. Timm began work with the telephone company when she was 17, having just graduated from Hancock High School in Hancock, Mich., her birthplace. She's been at it ever since, working in Farmington, Big Beaver and Royal Oak before coming to Northville.

Starting as a regular operator, she soon became a service assistant, ironing out technical difficulties of the system. She was an assistant chief operator for five years and an evening chief operator for three more years before becoming chief operator here in January.

Mrs. Timm says of her job, "It gives an operator a great sense of pride to know that she can be of invaluable aid in an emergency."

She added that most people in Northville don't realize the size of the local company branch.

"There are 44 girls who work here, including three service assistants and three senior operators, and during rush hours (at noon and after five) we have 12 girls working at once."

In her 23 years as an operator, Mrs. Timm has handled literally millions of calls, since an operator handles an average of 160 calls an hour.

At the present time, Mr. and Mrs. Timm live in Detroit but they plan to move to Oak Park. They have a son, Raymond; a step-son, Richard, and one grandchild.

These men are recognized as the last volunteer army of the United States. Those eligible are those who served in the Mexican Border for 90 days or more between the dates May 6, 1916 and April 6, 1917.

OFFICE SPACE

Will rent as one large office, or smaller offices, entire second floor of Northville Record Building. Approximately 800 square feet of floor space. Ideal for doctor, dentist, attorney, beauty shop, etc.

Shown by appointment only.

The Woodwind Artists Ensemble will present a concert of chamber music in a Sunday afternoon program on Nov. 8, from 2:30 to 3:30 in the auditorium of Northville State Hospital. This appearance is being held under the auspices of the Detroit Musicians' Benefit Trust Fund and the Northville State Hospital. This unique ensemble group is composed of woodwind instruments. Their concert will offer an interesting range of classical and semi-classical selections. The group is seen here going over the music for the concert. From left to right, Ted Evans will play the French horn, Lare Wardrop the oboe, Albert Luconi the clarinet, Lewis Cooper the bassoon, and Mary Carrick at the piano. This will mark the first appearance of this talented group of woodwind musicians in a benefit performance at Northville.

Dr. Bloomer Tells Exchange Club of Speech Clinic Work

Dr. Harlan Bloomer, director of the University of Michigan Speech Clinic, addressed the Northville Exchange Club Wednesday, Oct. 28.

Dr. Bloomer told of the physical and occupational therapy programs enjoyed at the clinic as well as the social activities for patients which are an important part of the rehabilitation program.

PATIENTS REPORT

Four men who had entirely lost their powers of speech and had regained this facility after treatment at the clinic told briefly of their experiences.

Three of the former patients had been affected by cerebral hemorrhages which had desensitized part of the speech center of the brain. The other man had lost control of his vocal chords after a serious automobile accident.

PRaise TREATMENT

All of them were able to express their thoughts and had high praise for the treatment they received at the clinic.

Dr. Bloomer explained that in the four cases explained, some of the nervous system had been destroyed and the training at the clinic had enabled other existing pathways to take over functions lost when the original nerves had been destroyed.

He said this type of training is relatively new.

The University's Speech Clinic is the only one of its kind in the country.

Mrs. Del W. Hahn's review of the book "Windows for the Crown Prince" will be the feature of the Northville Woman's Club meeting at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 6, at the Northville Library.

Senior Class Will Present "Dear Ruth"

One of the most popular comedy successes in recent years has been chosen by the senior class of Northville High School for its 1953 class play. This is "Dear Ruth", which regaled New York audiences for almost two years, another hit comedy from the pen of Norman Krasna, author of many other audience favorites including "John Loves Mary".

"Dear Ruth" tells of the confusion that ensues when 16-year-old Mariam Wilkens does her part in bolstering the morale of overseas servicemen by writing them long letters on subjects ranging from politics to poetry. But Mariam signs her older sister, Ruth's, name to her prolific correspondence and, never one to complicate matters with only halfway measures, she also encloses photographs of her beautiful sister.

Pandemonium is the order of the day when one of the servicemen on Mariam's "pen pal" list—a flyer with matrimony on his mind—drops in on the Wilkens' household to get better acquainted with "Dear Ruth". The play is scheduled for a 2-performance run at the Wayne County Training School, continuing through Dec. 2-3.

Beam Found for Community Bldg.

The threat of a delay in construction of the Northville Community Building ended this week when a steel beam, needed before the roof can be put over the building, was located in a mill at Youngstown, O.

The 4-foot beam was ordered when contracts for the building were let. However, up until last week, Arrow Steel Co., which was to supply the beam, had failed to deliver one.

With the help of Anicka Bros., architects for the building, the beam was found and ordered early this week.

It will be used over the front of the stage and is expected to arrive in several weeks. Construction will continue as scheduled.

Order to Stop Building at Downs Stays in Force

The Northville Downs Association this week was granted a building permit on cement footings poured on the east side of the track grandstand but ordered to delay further building until plans are submitted to Building Inspector J. Stanley Waterloo.

Waterloo last week served the Downs with an order to cease and desist, which was served after the footings were poured.

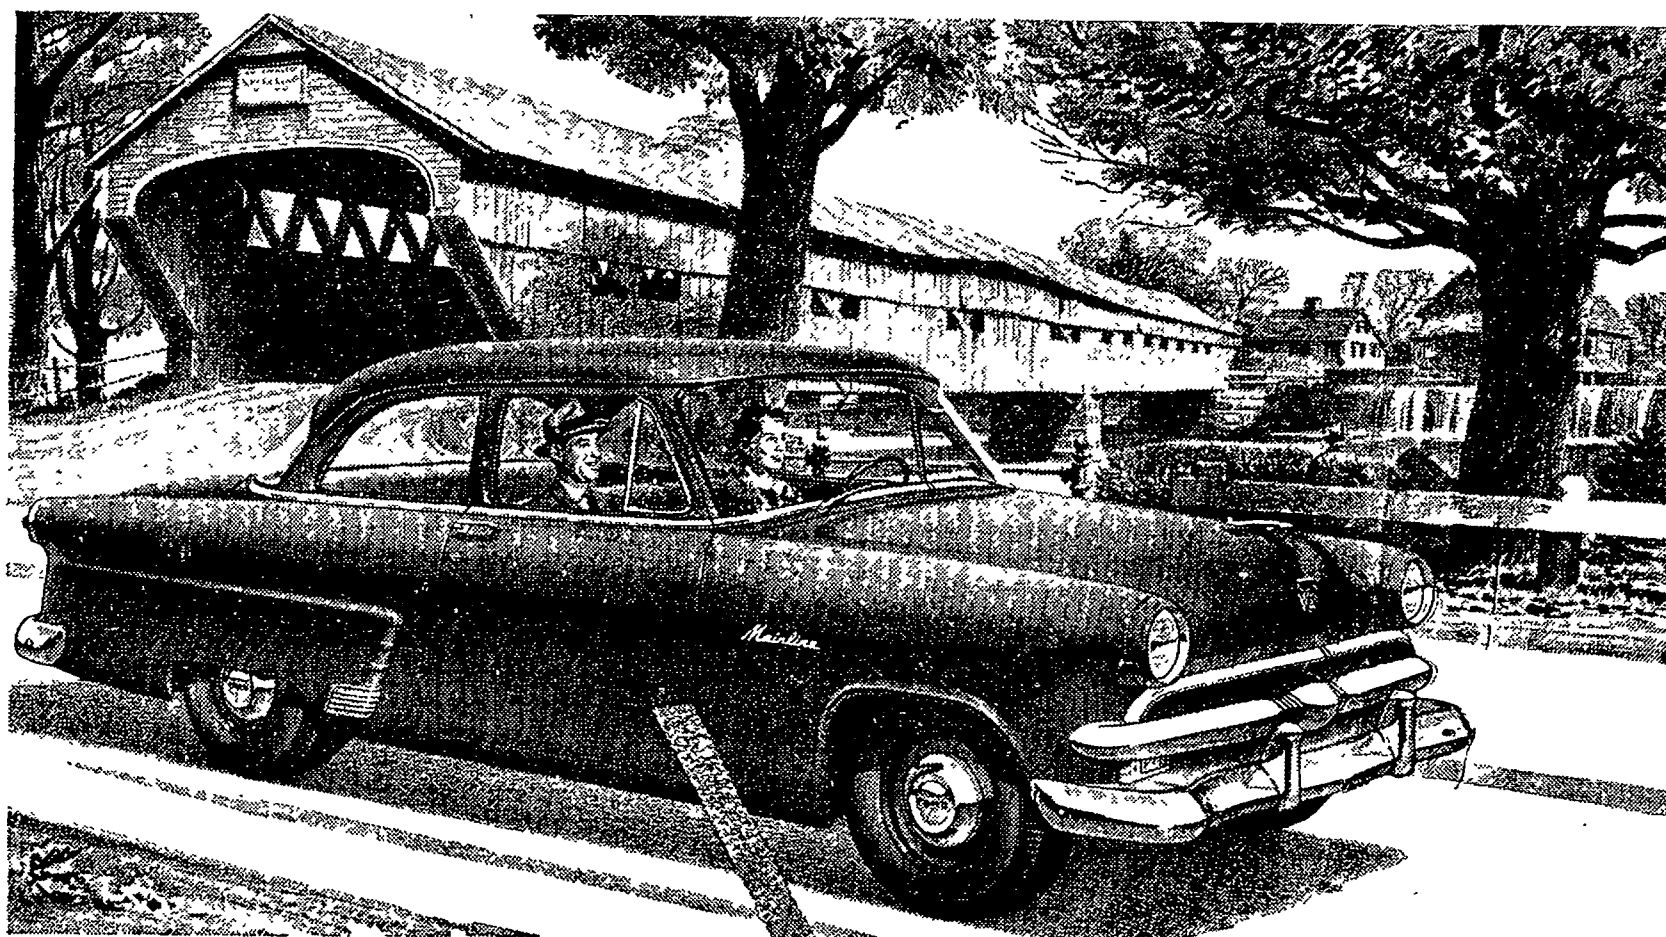

Waterloo told the Village Commission Monday night that the Downs has not decided definitely what type of building will go on the footings. They indicated to him it may be a series of mutual windows on the first floor with office space added above.

Ground Beef Casseroles

One of the grand features of ground beef is that it may be prepared in so many different casserole dishes. Likewise, many of these casseroles are of the quick and easy variety, a wonderful aid to today's busy homemaker.

A ground beef and noodle combination is just such a casserole, says Reba Staggs, home economist. To prepare this dish simply brown the ground chuck and combine it with cooked noodles. Season with tomato sauce, minced green pepper and heat in a moderate oven for about 45 minutes.

Ground beef and rice are another team. Again brown the beef, then combine with cooked rice, sauteed celery and minced onion. Add a can of undiluted condensed mushroom soup and bake in a moderate oven for about 35 minutes.

1st Grade Teachers Hosts at Meeting of 70 Parents

Parents of first grade youngsters at Northville Elementary School were entertained last night, Oct. 27, in the second of a series of parent-teacher-student get-togethers.

More than 70 parents attended the program, which was planned by the four first grade teachers, Miss Margaret Sours, Mrs. Ann Sabo, Mrs. Ruth Carter and Mrs. Elinor Spital.

Highlight of the evening was a film called "Skiway and the Three R's", which showed the parents something of the methods used in teaching the fundamentals in our schools today.

The film was followed by a short explanation by Miss Sours of the books and workbooks used in the first grade.

Then the meeting was thrown open to questions from the parents, many of whom wanted to know "What can parents do to help their child progress in school?"

Parents were asked to fill out a short questionnaire in an effort to find out how they liked the program. The parent's response was overwhelmingly in favor of additional programs of this type during the remainder of the school year.

Refreshments, provided by the teachers, were served by the eight room mothers: Mrs. Stuart Thomson, Mrs. S. R. Cherne, Mrs. D. H. Clark, Mrs. R. G. Nelson, Mrs. Ronald Anderson, Mrs. William Tesh, Jr., Mrs. Charles Carrington and Mrs. C. D. Yahne.

Evening Rites Unite Farmington Couple

Stella Zarzycki became the bride of T. Calvert Reynolds in a candlelight ceremony at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Saturday. The Rev. E. E. Ross officiated at the single ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zarzycki, of Farmington, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Reynolds of Caro.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a waltz-length gown of lace over layers of net and taffeta. The strapless dress was worn with a fitted bolero jacket of matching lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a satin crown etched with seed pearls, and she wore gloves of white lace. White roses formed her bridal bouquet.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Howard Miller, Jr., of Farmington, who was attired in a waltz-length, salmon-colored gown. The dress featured a skirt of net over taffeta and the bodice and fitted jacket were of satin. She carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Attending as his brother's best man was Daniel Reynolds. Seated in the front row were Ross Reynolds and Vlady Regentik.

A reception for 150 was held following the wedding at the Northville American Legion Hall. The couple left that evening for a 10-day honeymoon trip through the Smoky Mountains. For traveling the new Mrs. Reynolds chose a blue suit and a corsage of white roses.

Stella is a Farmington graduate, and her husband, a graduate of Caro High School, is employed as a plumber in Farmington. The couple plan to make their home in Farmington.

Outline Program for Girl Scouts

New ideas to raise the standards of Girl Scouting in Northville and to interest more girls from a broader age group are being presented to the local Girl Scout Council, Scout leaders and Girl Scouts by Mrs. Maxwell S. Austin and Mrs. Eleanor Dethloff, who attended the National Scout convention in Cincinnati during the period Oct. 17-21. They represented the Northville Girl Scout Council at the meeting.

Discussion at the convention centered around methods for obtaining competent leaders, training such leaders in ways to hold the interest of their groups, and handling publicity about Girl Scout activities so it will lend encouragement to individual girls in their efforts to progress toward the higher stations in Scouting.

Two goals for Girl Scouts to aim toward, as outlined at the convention, are attendance at a Senior Girl Scout World Round-up to be held in the United States in 1956, and participation in a "Kits for Korea" project which is now getting under way in several countries. Details for the World Round-up, such as the time and place where it will be held, have not been fully described, but local Girl Scouts will be eligible to attend.

All Girl Scout troops are being asked to prepare as many "Kits for Korea" as possible. These kits will be draw-string bags made by the girls, which will contain needles, thread, soap, wash cloths and other small items. They are to be ready for collection during the period from Feb. 22 to March 12, the Girl Scout birthday, and will be distributed to needy Korean children.

Mrs. Dethloff and Mrs. Austin were especially interested to learn that many men now have active part in the Girl Scout program throughout the country, helping with transportation and developing interesting trips and programs for girls of scout age. In some communities such men are known as the "Do-Dads".

Another Girl Scout project which was outlined at the convention calls for assistance to the American Red Cross in disaster relief, such as emergency feeding, child care, messenger service and mass shelter. An instance in which Girl Scouts gave valuable assistance in disaster relief occurred in Flint last summer, when they won high praise for delivering telegrams for Western Union during the emergency there. The company also presented Flint Girl Scouts with a check for $100 as a token of its appreciation.

Helen Hayes, who has been active in Girl Scouting in New York City for 15 years, attended the Cincinnati convention and addressed the 500 men who were present. She pointed out that "as in the theater, we must understand the role that each person plays in order to play our own role well".

IT'S TRADE-IN TIME FOR A BETTER DEAL

Want the top allowance on your present car—and a great buy in the bargain? Come in and see us for the happy news—now.

It's your money, of course—but we'd like to see you make the most of it.

That's why we publish the price of the big Buick SPECIAL here—to make Point #1: you can buy this great performer for just a few dollars more than the so-called "low-price three."

But Point #2—the smart point—is this:

When you put up those few extra dollars for the Buick pictured here, you're in the driver's seat of a lot more automobile.

You boss extra power—more satisfying power—walloping Buick Fireball 8 power—highest ever found in a Buick SPECIAL.

You get extra room—a lot more comfortable room—real, man-sized, 6-passenger room—as much room as you get in cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

You enjoy extra satisfaction—more solid satisfaction—in the ride of this big, broad, road-steady traveler that's cushioned by coil springs on all four wheels, and engineered with all the other costly features of the Million Dollar Ride.

And, speaking of extras—here you get, at no extra cost, a long list of standard equipment that most other cars at or near the price of this Buick charge you for, as "extras" on the bill of sale.

So, as we said—it's your money—and it's your move.

If you're aiming for the driver's seat of a hard-to-beat buy—for a lot less than you think—come in and see us soon.

It's easy to find a truck that costs more, but nowhere else will you find all the advanced features, all the thrifty power, all the ruggedness and durability you get in a Chevrolet Advance-Design truck. It's the biggest truck bargain your dollars can buy!

Be ahead on operating costs!

Chevrolet trucks bring you big gas savings. Both the mighty Loadmaster engine on heavy-duty models and the rugged Thriftmaster engine on light- and medium-duty models squeeze more miles out of every gallon of gas. In addition, extra ruggedness in all Chevrolet trucks means lower upkeep costs.

Be ahead on trade-in!

You're ahead with low first cost... you're ahead with low operating costs... and you're dollars ahead again when it's time to trade! That's because Chevrolet trucks traditionally command a higher trade-in value. It's another big advantage you get with Chevrolet trucks and Chevrolet trucks alone!

Young, Guiliani Meet in Friday Night TV Bout

Hoping for another crack at Bobo Olson and the middleweight championship, Paddy Young returns to the ring wars in a ten round bout against Sammy Guiliani to be nationally telecast and broadcast Friday night, Nov. 6 on the Cavalcade of Sports.

The bout, on NBC's TV network and ABC's radio network, will start at 10 p.m. New York time.

This will be Young's first fight since he dropped a 15-round decision to Olsen last spring when the two fought it out for the right to meet Randy Turpin. Olson took the world's crown when he met Turpin recently.

Ranked fifth in the middleweight class, Young has met all the good ones and beaten most of them. His record shows 55 fights, with 44 wins, eight losses and three draws. He has scored 21 kayoes.

In Guiliani, Young is meeting a fighter who has copped decisions in four of his last five fights. A busy, two fisted body puncher, Guiliani has had 37 fights, winning 28, losing eight, with one draw. He has scored eight knockouts.

The fight will go out over NBC's television network of over 90 stations and will be broadcast on ABC's radio network of 320 stations.

Marine Privates First Class Don Thomson and Bill Bailey arrived home Saturday night on a furlough from Parris Island, S. C., where they have been stationed for the past 11 weeks. The visit was a surprise to their parents who had not expected them for another week. Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey of Cady St., and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Thomson of Seven Mile Rd. are Don's parents.

At a recent meeting of top-drawer conservation experts in the east, a number of interesting papers were presented revealing the thinking of all states in the U.S.A. relative to fish and game management—and some highly significant trends were in evidence.

For instance, 40 of the 48 states have trout fishing, and Michigan is one of only seven with relatively short season. Yes, with a little more than four months of legalized trout fishing, Michigan is definitely on the short side of the calendar!

Extended Bass Season

Another somewhat startling revelation is that 23 states permit the taking of bass at any time of the year in most waters! Furthermore, 37 states allow the taking of various pan fish species the whole year 'round.

Eighteen states have NO SIZE LIMIT on trout. Nineteen have NO SIZE LIMIT on bass. Forty-three have NO SIZE LIMIT on pan fish—which is certainly a step in the right direction, because people who take undersized pan fish are doing more good than harm in most waters where an overpopulation of these species occur.

Most of the experts on hand at these meetings agreed that the day of "over-regulation" in sports fishing is fast disappearing despite some misguided pressure from certain sportsmen's groups. At last the biologists are having their day—getting some of the things they've always wanted in the way of vastly liberalized fish laws.

Had the size and creel limits on pan fish been removed years ago, they tell us, we would not now be facing the problem of stunted fish in thousands of our lakes, where food supplies are inadequate for such populations. And we may well believe that statement here in Michigan.

How many times have you, Mr. Fisherman, complained bitterly, "There's no decent-sized fish in this lake!"—and gone home disgusted? The fish were old enough to have attained far greater growth, as scale samples have frequently proven. They were stunted by starvation. Removal of enough of the "midgits" would materially help the survivors to grow to a respectable size. And that fact, of course, is in back of the planning right here in Michigan where our fishing regulations are undergoing some changes toward "liberalization".

Our neighboring state of Wisconsin once had a 10-inch limit on black bass. This limit has now been removed because of the abundance of stunted bass in many of their lakes. Such a step may soon be contemplated in many Michigan lakes.

Rams Beat Kats 6-0

Somebody forgot to tell Coach Al Jones "Rams" they were supposed to roll over and play dead in last Thursday night's Rams-Kats junior high school game at Ford Field.

The Kats, coached by Dick Kay, were heavily favored—even by their own coach—to swamp the Rams.

However, the Rams managed a touchdown in the first quarter and then hung on for the remainder of the game to take a 6-0 victory. Norman Tibble scored the Rams' only touchdown on a 25-yard run.

It was the Rams' fifth straight win in the series, which started five years ago.

Mustangs Must Win Next Two For Title

The Northville High School Mustangs, squeezed out of undisputed first place in the Wayne-Oakland County League football, meet Brighton tomorrow night in a game which could make or break their chances for the title.

The battle for the championship, which once looked like a breeze for Northville, has narrowed to the point where any one of three teams could nail down the flag.

Northville and Keego Harbor share first place with 3-1 records. In second place is Clarenceville, a slow starter which now boasts a 2-1-1 record.

Keego and Clarenceville tangled this Friday in a game which should clear the picture somewhat.

MUST WIN BOTH

However, regardless of the outcome of the Keego-Clarenceville game, Northville must win both of its remaining two games to have first place all to itself.

Should both Keego and Northville win tomorrow, they'll enter the climactic season-end at Ford Field Nov. 13 with identical 4-1 records. To the victor belongs the championship.

Northville lost to Holly last Friday night by a score of 7-6 on the visitor's field. It was a tough one to lose.

Not only was Holly's winning touchdown set up on a questionable pass play, but Northville fumbled inside the home team's 25-yard line.

The Holly touchdown came in the fourth quarter, immediately after Northville had taken a 6-0 lead.

Holly returned the kickoff to their own 40 and on the next play pulled a sleeper pass which carried to the Northville 20.

Coaches Al Jones and Dick Kay protested the pass play, but to no avail. They pointed out that it has been standard operating procedure for years in high school football to call a 15-yard unsportsmanlike conduct penalty when a sleeper play is pulled between the 40 yard lines. In this case—as in most cases where the play is called—the Holly receiver was perfectly camouflaged by the players on his own bench.

NOT IN HUDDLE

It appeared that the player entered the game immediately after the kickoff was returned and never entered the Holly huddle. He simply stayed on the sidelines and streaked down the field to take the pass.

The player was spotted by Jones and Kay, who shouted a warning to Ed Nash, playing in the Northville secondary. However, Nash still thought the man was a Holly substitute.

He told Jones later that the man had not come out of the Holly huddle, leading him to believe he was off the field of play.

End Paul Schulz takes a pass from Quarterback Bob Scheffer for Northville's only touchdown in last Friday night's 7-6 loss to Holly. The play covered 40 yards.

The referee said no penalty was in order because HE had seen there were only three men in the Holly backfield immediately behind the line and therefore, it should have been easy for Northville to do the same.

Holly scored from the 20 in five running plays. Earl Garner covered the last two yards. The game-winning extra point was scored by Dick Smith in a run around right end.

NORTHVILLE SCORE

Northville's touchdown came in the third quarter on a beautiful 40-yard pass from Quarterback Bob Scheffer to End Paul Schulz.

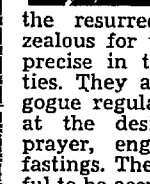

Schulz completely fooled the Holly secondary on the play and Scheffer laid the ball right in his arms. Schulz scampered across the goal line untouched.

Northville drove to within 25 yards of the Holly goal-line twice in the second quarter and once near the end of the game.

The first second quarter drive was aided by a pass interference penalty which gave Northville the ball on the Holly 25. However, four passes gained only five yards and the ball went to Holly.

RELIGIOUS FAILURES

Perhaps you will be surprised to learn that there were different denominations in our Lord's Day. There were the Pharisees, the Sadducees, Herodians, and the Essenes. The most orthodox and pious were the Pharisees. They believed in the one true God. They expressed their faith in the resurrection. They were zealous for the scriptures and precise in their religious duties. They attended the synagogue regularly, were present at the designated hours of prayer, engaged in periodic fastings. They were very careful to be accurate in the paying of their tithes. Outwardly as orthodox, pious, religious people as one ever did see. And yet Jesus Christ never had a good word to say for them but plainly warned "Except your righteousness exceeds the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the Kingdom of Heaven". Now why? Simply because their religion was Christless. They did not need a Saviour in their "Salvation by Works" theology. They were guilty of substituting their own traditions for scriptural precepts. Their history should stand as a warning to all who do not make faith in the death burial and resurrection of Christ as the foundation of their hope of eternal salvation. "For by grace, are you saved through faith... it is the gift of God". Eph. 2:8
