Final tabulation of ballots in the Village election this week showed that four candidates for commission jobs ran a neck-and-neck race, and were within eight votes of a tie at the finish. Facknitz had 143, Weston 139, Springer 136 and Frid 135. That Facknitz, who has lived here only three years, made the good showing he did was rather surprising. He was the only candidate to tell the voters definitely in advance where he stood on matters that are of concern to the Village.

Regardless of the result, it was a foregone conclusion that not all the candidates could be elected. Those who were not, must realize that the vote was comparatively close and that there were no outstanding favorites. We commend their public spiritedness in running and hope that their defeat this time will not discourage them from becoming candidates again.

Note to Mrs. C. and other wives who say their husbands eat too much for breakfast. The following came to our desk this week from the Tuberculosis and Health Society, Detroit.

"How's your breakfast budget?"
"You can struggle through the morning on yesterday's left-over energy, but you run up a nutrition debt. Even a hearty lunch doesn't pay it off."
"If you keep on sapping yesterday's energy, you can go permanently in the red."
"Balance your budget with a good breakfast, you'll work better, be keener and sharper, and your muscles won't get so tired, especially at mid-morning."
"A good breakfast might include fruit or fruit juice, cereal with milk, whole wheat or enriched bread, eggs with bacon or sausage and coffee, tea or milk."

Now if that isn't a square deal—or do we mean meal? And how about a few buckwheat pancakes for variety, say six or eight medium size ones, sez we. Also, they should have said "cereal with cream" instead of milk.

Speaking of diet, or the lack of same, the American Bakers Association is concerned because so many persons think the words "rich" and "enriched" have the same meaning. The bakers have spent a lot of money for advertising to get the public to buy bread which has been "enriched" by additional quantities of important B vitamins. A lot of people, however, don't rise to this bait because they think "enriched" means that the bread contains more calories. This just isn't true, according to E. E. Kelley, the Association's president. "Enriched bread," he says, "won't make you any fatter than regular bread, but it will improve the health and vigor of the American people if they'll only eat enough of it."

We hear just as we are going to press that there are plans afoot for a 24-apartment housing project in the Village to be built in three 8-apartment units. Details next week!

Novi School Problems Concern School Boards

Will Novi become larger than Northville in the next ten years?

This may seem like a foolish question, but there are some people now living in Novi who think this may be the case. Already Novi Township is bursting at its seams in some respects. Its growth during the past couple of years has been extremely rapid. There is ambitious talk about building projects in Novi Township that dwarf anything being considered in Northville. If this talk materializes into action . . . ?

Symptomatic of the change that is coming about in Northville's neighbor to the north is the fact that the five Novi Township school districts have an aggregate assessed valuation of $5,000,000. The Northville School District's valuation is only about $7,250,000.

One of the biggest problems these Novi districts face is how to provide schools for their rapidly increasing population. Northville is now taking care of all their high school students and a sizable number of boys and girls in the grades. If the growth in Novi continues, there may come a time in the not too distant future when Northville may not be able to handle Novi pupils as tuition students.

If and when this day comes, the Novi school districts will have to embark on a very costly building program including a high school. It would raise taxes substantially. The other alternative would be to consolidate with the Northville School District and make this the educational center for the Northville-Novu area.

Maybury Land May Be Leased to Oil Drillers

Detroit showed evidence this week of a desire to get in on the ground floor of the Northville oil boom (?). Paul T. Dwyer, corporation counsel, ruled that the city may lease its property to oil drillers under certain conditions.

The opinion was the result of oil drillers trying to secure oil and gas drilling privileges on Maybury Sanatorium's 455-acre property. It could also lead to leasing the 1,600-acre House of Correction farm.

Dwyer ruled that the city has a "clear right" to lease property to the city's "best advantage and benefit", providing use of the property, under an oil drilling lease, would be "in the public interest and would not become a

Five hundred and twenty-four of Northville's 1,132 registered voters (46%) cast ballots at the spring election, last Monday.

They elected Claude N. Ely as village president to succeed Conrad E. Langfield, and put two new men, Earl L. Reed and Ed C. Welch, on the village commission. A. Malcolm Allen, who has served two years on the commission, was returned to office by an outstanding plurality of 343 compared with 189 for Reed, the runner-up, and Welch, who ran third in a field of eight candidates.

OLD TIMERS UNOPPOSED

Mary Alexander, A. Russell Clarke, E. M. Bogart and Jack Stubenvoll, who ran unopposed, garnered an approximately equal number of votes. The election places Mrs. Alexander in office for the tenth consecutive term. Clarke will be serving his seventh term and Bogart his second. Stubenvoll, who has served two four-year terms on the village commission, will complete the unexpired two years of Ely's term of office, which became vacant through his election as village president.

Ely moves into the top spot after 12 years as commissioner. In so doing, he also becomes Commissioner of the Police and Fire Departments.

POSITIONS TO FILL

When the Commission meets next Tuesday evening, Mar. 16, it will have the following positions to fill from its own membership: Commissioner of Public Works (incumbent Ely), Finance Committee (incumbents Stubenvoll and Woodworth), Recreation Committee (incumbent Peters), Assistant Police Commissioner (incumbent Stubenvoll), Fire Commissioner (incumbent Allen), and Community Building Committee (incumbents Peters and Allen). Appointments to these committees are by custom suggested by the village president.

Also up for reappointment for two-year terms will be the following village officials: Police Chief, Joseph Denton, Health Commissioner, V. George Chabut, Superintendent of Public Works, Herman Hartner, Jr., Attorney, Philip Ogilvie, Building Inspector, Stanley Waterloo; Board of Review, Garrett Barry and L. M. Eaton.

The two men elected to the village commission issued post election statements thanking voters for their election. Earl L. Reed said:

"I wish to express my appreciation for the honor and confidence the voters of the Village of Northville have placed in me. That trust is one that I will always cherish and do my utmost to fulfill for the benefit of all the residents of the Village."

Ed Welch's statement said: "I am humbly grateful to my many friends who bestowed this honor upon me."

"I will make every effort to concentrate on problems at hand, to think them through to study them from all angles and to plan ahead. I shall try my best to achieve that which will benefit the community and to refuse to believe that there are any circumstances sufficiently strong to defeat us in our goal to make this community under God in all ways increasingly better."

The Girl Scout Fair to be held at 2 o'clock on Saturday, Mar. 13 in the Presbyterian Church House, celebrates the 42nd anniversary of the founding of the organization. First known as Girl Guides, they were organized on Mar. 12, 1912 by Juliette Low. The present program was adopted in 1913.

Girl Scouts show their achievements by wearing badges, awarded for definite accomplishments in a given field. Last year, Girl Scouts in the Metropolitan Detroit area completed requirements for 28,334 badges. Most of these badges were in the fields of home-making, out-of-doors, arts and crafts, community life, and health and safety.

Detroit Area Girl Scouts were credited with more than 26,000 hours of service to the community. Their projects included assembling more than 10,000 kits for the United Foundation Torch Drive, working with children and older people in hospitals, clinics, and homes, and sending food, clothing and other supplies to children in other countries.

During 1953, 50.5% of the Scouts in the Detroit metropolitan area were under 10 years of age.

Novi to Present Minstrel Show

Although the publicity of the Novi Board of Commerce about its minstrel show, "Never a Dull Moment", tonight and tomorrow night says tickets may be purchased at the door, Al Porritt, producer and director of the show, suggests advance reservations as the only way you can be sure of getting in. The advance ticket sale indicates that both nights will be sellouts, he says.

The cast held their dress rehearsal last night and promises to give their audience a bang-up good minstrel show. William Morris, the interlocutor, has his End Men, Bones Harrawood, Sunshine Watzka, Sno Flake Harnden, Rastus MacDermaid, Snowball Erwin, Smokey Trotter, Mose Crawford and Happ Miller in tip-top condition.

One of the special features of the show will be the "Musical Miners" from Ladywood High School. These four young ladies, Kay Feehan, Ruth Ryan, Toni Bondi and Jackie Ethier have been winning contests all around the Detroit area and certainly have possibilities to be the future "Chordettes" as their style is much like that of the Arthur Godfrey famed singing group.

Other specialties of the two evening productions will be presented by Cecil Rayburn, James Hollis, "Les" Clark, Dirk H. Groenenburg, Leo Campbell, Glenn Schultz, George Bennett, William MacDermaid, and Jerry Trotter. "Piano Moods" will be done by Evelyn Woods, who does the accompanying for the entire program.

The Pick-a-ninney Usherettes will be Carol Wendland, Sharon Edelmann, Sharon Clarke, Judy Wood, Mary Schenimann and Claudia Woods. Mr. Porritt said. Tickets may be purchased at the door on both evenings of the performance and curtain time will be 8:15 p.m.

Hartner Hurt

Last week's snowstorm caused at least one local casualty. Bud Hartner, Superintendent of Public Works, suffered a broken wrist when the the crank handle bucked as he was trying to rev up the Village road scraper. Bud's arm will be in a cast for about six weeks.

Phone Company's Earnings Higher

Detroit, Mar. 10.—The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. had the greatest revenues in its history in 1953 and showed a 12% gain in net earnings over the previous year. Such net earnings amounted to $21,578,159. The consensus of opinion of those at the meeting favored Monday as the second evening to remain open. Stores already are open each Friday until 9 p.m.

The merchants also decided to abandon the effort to raise $16,000 to purchase a considerable area of land in the center of the block bounded by Main, Center, Dunlap and Hutton streets. This land was to have been donated to the Village for parking space and an alley. In lieu of the more ambitious project, the association plans to solicit members for a lesser sum to purchase an alley right-of-way through the same block.

Clifton W. Phalen, president, said that 1953 "was a year of progress that emphasized a better and more improved telephone service is still unfolding." He added, however, that the "price of telephone service today is not enough to assure good service in the future."

The company has an application to raise rates pending before the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Northville Retail Stores Okay Staying Open on Monday Evenings in Future

The Northville Retail Merchants Association has voted for local stores to remain open two evenings each week, provided 80% of the downtown stores will agree. The consensus of opinion of those at the meeting favored Monday as the second evening to remain open. Stores already are open each Friday until 9 p.m.

The merchants also decided to abandon the effort to raise $16,000 to purchase a considerable area of land in the center of the block bounded by Main, Center, Dunlap and Hutton streets. This land was to have been donated to the Village for parking space and an alley. In lieu of the more ambitious project, the association plans to solicit members for a lesser sum to purchase an alley right-of-way through the same block.

The extra evening will create serious employee problems and probably will involve considerable shifting of hours by the stores' present employees.

WHY PLAN FAILED
For some strange reason, the plan of the Retail Merchants Association to raise $16,000 for the purchase of land to be donated to the Village for alleys and parking, bogged down because the stores which it had been thought would benefit most, refused to cooperate. Up and down both sides of Main and Center streets some two dozen local business men definitely pledged themselves to at this time by the plan to keep the stores at Hudson's Northland Center open Monday evenings. Northland Center is to open toward the end of this month. Those merchants present at the meeting agreed almost unanimously that the decision to remain open a second evening each week was a matter of compulsion rather than of individual desire. Only because other towns and cities are doing it, have they agreed to follow suit, they said. The extra evening will create serious employee problems and probably will involve considerable shifting of hours by the stores' present employees.

FOLLOW DETROIT PATTERN
The decision to remain open Monday evenings follows the pattern being set by various large shopping centers in Detroit, and in other cities and towns, according to Nelson Schrader, president of the association. It is prompted

Oil Drillers Are Getting Set to Drill Four More Wells

Oil drillers are readying their equipment to put down four new oil wells to the north and west of Northville in Oakland and Washjenaw counties.

The Albers Co. will drill between 7 and 8 mile roads on the west side of Chubb Rd.

O. K. West is to drill on the McDonald Farm in Section 33 of Novi Township.

C. W. Collins has equipment already moved to the Whipple farm on the south side of 8 Mile Rd. east of Beck.

The W. C. Taggart Co. moved its equipment Tuesday to the Malley Franchfield Farm in Section 32 of Novi Township.

Meanwhile, drilling on the Wilson farm at 10,489 Seven Mile Rd. is understood to have been stopped while attempts are being made to bring in the well as either an oil or a gas producer.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

Whenever we hear someone telling of what a sinner they used to be before they saw the light, we wonder whether they're really repentant or merely boasting.

Like the fellow who brought his car in for a motor tune-up and was telling of the days when he would roar along the highways instead of driving at the safe sane pace he now travels. What he didn't know was that old Pappy Time was catching up with him and the guy with the scythe didn't look so friendly any more.

Well, enough of that chit-chat, let's sell some cars. Studabakers for instance. They have everything you need except social security. These Studabakers that we are most happy to sell and service, are fast, powerful, easy to drive, beautiful to look at, comfortable to ride in and instead of an old age pension, they're so economical that you can enjoy the money you'll save on gas and other operational expenses right now while you're young instead of waiting until you're sixty-five. Come in, we'll demonstrate.

We've been wondering lately whether we ever told you of the chap who owned an Irish setter. Every time the master made himself a late evening sandwich, the dog would drool all over the living room rug, much to our friends' annoyance. Met the guy the other day and asked him what had happened. Did the dog's habit force him to cut out the midnight lunch. "No," he answered, "I just taught him to spit in the fire place."

With the change of seasons practically upon us, we wonder how you've been treating that car of yours. If you haven't given it a tune-up during the last three months, an oil change in the last 1,500 miles or a new lubrication, come right in. The fellows in the service end of this business are waiting to see you.

In these modern time the chances are 10 to 1 that the fellow who slaps you on the back want to make you cough up something.

Yours,
BILL & WILL PETZ

The Newest Educational Theory

The newest theory on education, reportedly, is that which passes all students, whether they make passing grades or not, up to about the eighth or ninth grade level. As described by a teacher recently, the new theory would eliminate the problem of older students in the lower grades—children who stayed in one grade four or five years.

The reason these children are passed in the lower grades, when they do not make passing grades, is to keep them going along with the class and get them out of school. The theory behind this thesis is that there is a certain percentage of problem-children in every class. That is, there is a certain percentage of every class that will not pass and will not make an honest effort to pass.

The reason they are sometimes a bad influence in the lower grades is that they are much older than their fellow students after failing for several years and tend to become leaders merely because of their age. Since most of these students are not going to pass, or be good students, anyhow, the theory is that to pass them until they reach the eighth or ninth grade level would best solve the problem. At that level, they can either drop out of school, be sent to special classes, or dealt with in a variety of ways. It need not be a humiliating experience or need it crush his ego. But, as for passing all students alike, regardless of their grades, we are not inclined to swallow this latest theory.

The Warren Lesson

The Senate has confirmed Earl Warren as Chief Justice of the United States by voice vote and without an audible nay. Of which it might be said: All's well that ends well.

As to Mr. Justice Warren himself and the high office he should so ably fill—yes. But all is not well with a nation and with its Congress when such things can happen as those which delayed for eight weeks the confirmation of the Warren appointment.

Had the Senate, even thus belatedly, been soberly debating the qualities of judicial experience and statesmanship demanded ideally for the nation's top arbiter on constitutionality, the picture would have looked a little less ugly. But it was not. Confirmation was stalled in committee while senators bent to extremist pressure and called for FBI clearance on a distinguished public figure who has stood successfully the glare of both national and local limelight for a quarter of a century. It was delayed on the Senate floor because one committee chairman solemnly placed in the record as egregious a collection of unevaluated, unsupported and scurrilous charges as has yet erupted into this era of irresponsible accusations.

Mr. Warren, because he is a national figure with a host of loyal supporters, has come through unscathed. But what of the little man caught by this turgid whirlwind of suspicion and political opportunism? The very conspicuousness of the Warren episode should point a lesson.

Your Congressman Reports

By Representative CHARLES G. OAKMAN
17th District, Michigan

March 3, 1954 President on the required date—March 1. Congressman Jesse Wolcott of Port Huron heads this group of seven Senators and seven Representatives. One of the important acts of the Committee this year was the establishment of a standby committee to keep pace with current economic conditions.

The McGregor Highway Bill will be up for debate in the House this week and is expected to pass by an overwhelming vote of the House and has given every member strength and courage. When the Reverend Bernard Braskamp, House Chaplain, called on Representative Bentley at the Hospital, he was inspired by Bentley's comment: "Now I don't think those folks who did the shooting knew what they were doing, won't you pray for them?" Rev. Braskamp told me later that he couldn't recall a similar experience in his 43 years in the ministry. At this writing, the Congressman has a battle before him still.

Less than 24 hours after the violent attack, Governor Luis Munoz-Marin of Puerto Rico, flew to Washington to express his country's regrets to President Eisenhower, each of the wounded Congressmen, and to the House Members at an informal reception in the House. It so happened that on the fateful afternoon of the shooting, I had invited several Michigan officials to lunch. Deputy Attorney General Arthur T. Iverson and Detroit Assistant Corporation Counsel Alfred S. Stolinski had come to Washington to testify at open hearings before a House Judiciary Subcommittee on a bill which I introduced last year to amend the Bankruptcy Act. Glenn C. Richards, Detroit Superintendent of Public Works, was testifying before a Senate Subcommittee on Roads, and joined us along with Congressman Ruth Thompson and Congressman Victor Knox. We slipped out to eat after answering two quorum calls on the floor. On the way back, we saw the commotion in the Capitol and only then discovered that fate had spared us from the wild fusillade of gunfire. The White House promptly cancelled a scheduled Congressional reception because of the tragedy and for security reasons. A meeting of the House Rules Committee to consider the St. Lawrence Seaway bill was postponed from last Wednesday out of deference to Congressman Fallon of Maryland and Congressman Davis of Tennessee, two of the shooting victims. As members of the House Public Works Committee, they were to have appeared before the Rules Committee. Public Works Chairman Dondero hopes to arrange an early hearing for a rule on the

A Visit With Your Neighbors On the Job

When the Jones Greenhouse was started as a hobby in 1929, it never occurred to Mrs. Mary Jones that someday it would grow into a full-time business.

Mrs. Jones late husband was an electrical contractor and built the greenhouse as a sideline.

However, after his death in 1938, Mrs. Jones was forced to turn what once had been a hobby into a means of livelihood.

In the intervening years, Mrs. Jones has parlayed natural artistic ability, a love of flowers and plain hard work into a successful business.

Mrs. Jones has gained quite a reputation for her flower arrangements and is known to take great pains to have everything perfect. Mrs. Jones is assisted at the greenhouse by her sister, Mrs. Harry German.

This week's Villager at Work has two daughters, Mrs. Irvyn Marburger, and Mrs. Bill Coulter, and three grandchildren, Kim and Randy Marburger and Garry Coulter. The greenhouse is located at 417 Dubuar.

Saturday Movie To be "Kazan"

The movie for Northville boys and girls this Saturday, Mar. 13 will be "Kazan", featuring Stephen Dunne and Lois Maxwell in a thrilling nature story of a huge sled dog fighting for survival in the frozen wilderness. It is adapted from Curwood's famous novel of the same name. The movie program will also feature news reels and a travelogue.

Showings will be at 2:30 p.m. in the Methodist Church and 7:30 p.m. in the Scout Building.

Wilson Funk points out that a good many boys and girls seem to be taking advantage of a good thing without doing their fair share toward paying. As an example, there were 206 boys and girls who attended the movie last Saturday but they donated only $12.04 toward its cost, or 6 cents apiece. This left a deficit to be made up by the Junior Police which underwrite the movie program.

Looks like the youthful spectators have too many cokes and don't keep enough money to pay their way, says Funk.

Don't be a slave to weather conditions. Dry clothes in an automatic gas dryer and bask in the knowledge that your laundry will dry just right no matter what the weather is like.

A gas dryer is better for your clothes and better for you. Don't haul a heavy clothes basket outside, and pin up and pull down soggy laundry. Don't let the wind, rain, snow and soot get at your clothes. Instead dry them the modern, "always-right" way . . . in a gas clothes dryer.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL
by Gene Alleman

Michigan's 1954 Legislature, now heading into the home stretch, has had its full share of hot issues.

Hardly a week has gone by since Jan. 13 opening date that a highly controversial, subject hasn't popped up.

First it was a bill to change the name of Michigan State College to Michigan State University. Although a non-political issue, it put many lawmakers on the spot. They breathed a sigh of relief when the bill was sent back to committee for "more study."

On the heels of the MSC-MSU controversy came a hot political issue—Fair Employment Practices (FEPC) legislation. Democrats tried to discharge the House State Affairs Committee from further consideration of the bill but Republicans blocked the move.

When shouting died down, everyone thought FEPC was out of the way for another year. Next day, two more FEPC bills were introduced, one in each chamber of the Legislature. Eventually, the Senate bill was reported out to the floor, and the same arguments heard all over again.

As one Capitol observer put it: "It is just like seeing an old movie over again. The only trouble is that I usually like to wait a little while before sitting through a repetitious performance."

Biggest battle was fought over another non-political but highly controversial bill—one that was reported out after most members gave it up for dead.

In an 11th hour move, the House Liquor Committee tossed out the McCune bill which would censor beer, wine and liquor on television. It immediately pushed unemployment legislation into the background and temporarily it took its place in front of the lights.

Tremendous pressure was put on the Liquor Committee to report out the bill. Chairman Edward A. Borgman (R-Grand Rapids) received upward of 1,000 letters a day from persons supporting the bill. Other committee members averaged 500 a day.

When the bill's title appeared on the calendar, House members braced themselves for a flood of mail. The dikes broke!

The McCune bill had support of temperance groups, better known as "drys," and they went all out. It was their first solid issue in several years. If nothing else, the bill gave "drys" a chance to strengthen their organization.

Television stations were slow to move against the bill but once they did, it turned into a battle royal.

Smack in the middle were 100 members of the House.

"If I vote for this bill, I'll lose votes back home," one member moaned. "And if I vote against it, I'll lose votes. I can't win. And this is election year, too!"

Most other members felt the same way.

As a result of the MSC-MSU, FEPC, WCTU-TV controversies, many lawmakers are wondering whether it is wise to allow any subjects except financial matters to be taken up during the short (or even year) sessions.

There is an increasing amount of talk limiting even year sessions to a few key subjects such as appropriations, taxes and certain judicial questions.

Before 1952, only special sessions were held in even years and subjects taken up were limited by the Governor. At first, everyone thought annual sessions would be a very good thing.

But now there are many people wondering.

More and more people at the Capitol are predicting that Gov. Williams will seek a fourth term. Williams, while keeping Republicans guessing on his plans, will find little consolation if he reads about former Michigan governors who tried for a fourth term.

Michigan has had three governors who served three terms: Govs. John S. Barry (1842-46 and 1850-51); Fred M. Warner (1905-11); and Alexander J. Groesbeck (1919-27).

Barry, a Democrat, tried for a fourth term in 1854—the year Michigan elected its first Republican governor—and again in 1860, and lost both times.

Groesbeck went for a fourth term in 1926 and lost in the GOP primary to Gov. Fred W. Green, and again in 1930 but was defeated in the primary by Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker by 4,181 votes.

If he is re-elected, Rep. Andrew Bolt (R-Grand Rapids), is favored to succeed Rep. William S. Bromfield (R-Royal Oak) as speaker pro tem of the House. Bromfield will give up his House seat to run for the state Senate in Oakland County.

Presbyterian Church News

CENTURY OLD RELICS FOUND

In the excavating of the 109-year old sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church some interesting old reminders of the early days have been found. Speaking to the Junior Church on Sunday, the Rev. Dr. Harold F. Fredsell used as an object lesson a kerosene lamp found in the partially excavated undercroft of the church. It was one of a series of lamps used in a special rack for illuminating the church proper. The lamp was found by Edmund P. Yerkes and the principle as to how it was used was explained by Frank L. Thompson of 504 West Dunlap St. As a boy Mr. Thompson attended services at the church more than 75 years ago and remembered the use of the kerosene lamps. Other relics were the remains of an old communion wine jug and a few old dishes used a century ago.

Extensive restorations to the old building include a concrete reinforced floor in the church proper, a permanent choir loft for the children's choir, additional space for the adult choir, and seven new Sunday School rooms. The red brick sanctuary is the oldest protestant church building in the Detroit area.

LIFE SAVING—40 FEET HIGH!

Ever see a man brought back from the "dead"? Here's one who apparently was, and the men who were responsible for saving his life—at the top of a 40-ft. electric pole.
It happened near Hughesville, Md., when Joseph L. Bowen, center, was transferring "hot" electric wires from an old pole to one which had just been installed. When he accidentally touched one of these wires with his bare hand, he "died" on the spot.

Later Bowen was lowered and revived after two hours of patient life saving effort on the part of fellow employees. The incident passed almost unnoticed until their employer—Southern Maryland Electric Cooperative—was notified by its insurance carrier, Employers Mutuals of Wausau, Wis., that these men were to receive the insurance firm's top heroism award. How's Bowen? See lower picture; he's in the middle. He has nothing but a burnt finger, long since healed, to mark his joust with death. Moral: When applying artificial respiration, don't give up even if it appears to be hopeless.

Garden Club Holds "Bird House" Meeting

The Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association met Monday, Mar. 8 in the Northville Public Library. Mrs. F. J. Collins was hostess and her co-hostesses were Mrs. George Alexander, Mrs. Gerald Woodruff and Mrs. Orson Atchinson. As the display of prize bird houses was one of the features of the day, the tea table was attractively decorated with one of the green and white houses in which was a spring-like bouquet of red tulips and pussy willows.

First place winners of the bird house contest were Jerry Geer, wren house; Henry Fisher, bluebird house; Allan Cockin, martin house; Bill Miller, feeder; and Wilford Bell, swallow.

President Mrs. R. D. Merriam announced that the Annual Spring Luncheon of Northville, Rosedale Gardens and Plymouth Garden clubs will be held April 12 at 12:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple in Plymouth. The speaker will be Mr. J. G. Hay and his subject will be "The Cow". The tickets are $2.00 and are on sale until April 7. Northville members may secure theirs from Mrs. N. K. Pattison. Tickets for the Flower Show in Detroit Mar. 27 may also be obtained from Mrs. Pattison for 85 cents.

An invitation from Mrs. H. Handorf was read inviting the club to an exhibit given by the Girl Scouts Saturday, Mar. 13 at 2 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church House.

Mrs. Robert Scott announced a benefit tea for the St. Mary's Hospital Building program. It is to be held in the home of Mrs. Glenn H. Cummings May 26.

Mrs. Paul Schulz, conservation program chairman, introduced James Madigan, the speaker for the afternoon program. His topic was "Conservation".

One of the Garden Club's yearly projects is to send a teacher to the summer school provided by the State Conservation Department in Roscommon, Mich., near Higgins Lake. Mr. Madigan, fourth grade teacher in the Northville schools, represented the club last summer. Mr. Madigan gave a very interesting outline of the week's activities consisting of morning lectures on subjects of geology, forest and plant ecology and animal ecology, and field trips taken afternoons to illustrate the lectures. The classes were shown how the Conservation Department works in cooperation with the farmers of that territory helping them to increase production.

After the program the members visited the display of bird houses which were built by students of the Northville schools, under the direction of Willard Rennard, manual training teacher. The Garden Club sponsors the annual exhibit.

The GREEN THUMB

by Paul Newton

It is about time for March to leave the lion stage and show signs of going out like a lamb. At least we gardeners can bring a little spring indoors by bringing in branches from the flowering shrubs. The branching structure of many shrubs is as interesting as the flowers themselves. The red bud has particularly interesting branching formation.

Forcing Flowering Branches

The branches of forsythia, flowering quince, peach, flowering crab, red maple, and always the pussy willow are easy to force. Gather the branches about the middle of the day when the temperature is above freezing. Then cut ends of the branches are crushed with a hammer and about three inches of their bark removed to facilitate the absorption of water. They should be soaked in a tub of tepid water for several hours and finally placed in a container in which they are to be arranged and kept in a temperature of about 60° until the buds begin to show color.

Pussy willow catkins emerge after only a week and may last three months. Peach branches will blossom in about three or four weeks after being cut. Forsythia requires about two or three weeks. Red maple is an unusual one to force, but will come forth in feathery-like blooms in three weeks. Flowering quince is not unusual in its branching form, but the flowers are colorful.

Effect of Heat

Too much sun or heat is harmful. The blossoms will last longer if not forced too quickly. As soon as the buds show color, bring them into the living room to bloom. Daily spraying with lukewarm water is important, since the flower buds sometimes need a little encouragement to

Playschool Elects Mrs. Charles Hall New President

Mrs. Charles Hall was elected the new president of the Northville Cooperative Playschool at an election of officers for the 1954-55 year held last Monday.

Other officers elected are Mrs. B. Wm. Secord, treasurer; Mrs. Irvin Marburger, membership chairman; Mrs. Fred Davis, membership chairman from Farmington; Mrs. Howard Raaflaub, membership chairman from Plymouth; Mrs. John Stubenvoll, equipment chairman, and Mrs. James Mahoney, P.T.A. representative.

The Playschool is sponsoring a sale Wednesday, Mar. 17 at the Presbyterian Church at 9 a.m. Items to be sold will be beach and picnic equipment, summer sport equipment, novelty jewelry and Easter toys. Proceeds from this sale will go toward the purchase nursery school.

soften the hard bracts which protected them during the winter months. All branches can be bent and forced into a graceful curve.

Kind of Forsythia

Several varieties of forsythia are on the market now—Lynwood Gold is a new variety with large, bright blossoms that are spaced closely together on the stem. Another good one is Spring Glory which has a much lighter yellow blossom. The Japanese Quince is excellent for cutting and forcing. Chaenomeles Lageneria is the tall hybridized one and it can now be purchased in white, shades of pink, apricot and red.

The oriental flowering crab make a beautiful outdoor display in early May. Next to bloom are the lilacs, then comes the beauty bush (kolkwitzia amabilis) and the mock orange.

These shrub borders bring the most for the least effort and furnish an abundance of cut flowers through the spring.

Summer Flowering Shrubs

There are not many shrubs that bloom during the summer, but three of the most common ones are excellent for cutting. The butterfly bush in white, and various shades of pink and purple is really improved by cutting. The chaste tree (vitex agnuscastus) with lavender flower spikes and fragrant green leaves is handsomer than the butterfly bush. The abelia is very good for cutting, although not as colorful as other shrubs. It is very good used as a filler in flower arrangements.

Handy Jim's FIX-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Under-Bed Toy Box
TOY storage is a constant problem in the home with children—particularly following Christmas and birthdays, when the supply is increased. Having a convenient, yet out-of-the-way, storage box gives the child excellent training in putting away his belongings and gives Mother a big lift, too. Under-the-bed storage is excellent, especially when the box has easers for easy removal and a lid to keep out the dust. Such a box, as illustrated, may be constructed in the home workshop of materials carried by lumber yards.

Required are suitable lengths of 8-inch x one-half inch lumber for the back and two sides of the box, a front of 1" x 10" lumber, sufficient Masonite 3/4" Tempered Presdwood for the bottom and top, casters, hinges and bolts and nuts to attach them.

The wider piece of lumber on the front improves the appearance of the box when it is under the bed. Prime and paint the box in a color to match the furnishings of the room.

THE PERSON NEXT DOOR

Miss Manning loved a missionary. Before he left for India, he wrote her and asked her to marry him; if she sent no answer, he would consider it a refusal. She wrote her acceptance at once. Since it was a wet day, her brother offered to take the letter to the Post Office. She never saw her lover again. Later she heard he had married someone else. Twenty-five years later the Manning family moved to a new house; in the moving, an old coat of her brother's was found. When the pockets were turned inside out, there was the letter, yellow and crumpled; it had never reached the man she loved. God has given every believer a letter to the person next door. Is it still in your pocket? Give a copy of the Gospel of John, or a New Testament, or even a tract, telling of God's love in the gift of His Son. Possibly the neighbor does not know that God loves him and that "Christ died for our sins" and that salvation is by grace through faith, without works. The letter that remains in your pocket will do no good. Take it out, give it away with a prayer for God's blessing upon it. —Fr. Now.

Meadowbrook Club Is Renovating

Meadowbrook Country Club is undergoing some extensive renovations in preparation for the 1954 season. The dining room and lounge walls have been redecorated in a light green and the beams refinished in dark brown. New drapes will adorn the windows in these two rooms and the dining room will be completely carpeted.

The most drastic change is in the mixed grill which is being extended several feet to the east and also to the south, taking in part of that end of the porch. The grill is to be refinished with attractive modern tables and chairs.

Harry Langs, formerly connected with the Detroit Athletic Club, will take over duties of manager on April 1st. July 1, 2, 3 and 4th the Club will again entertain the Motor City Open—one of the big golfing events of 1954.

Continued from Front Page) contribute nearly $11,000 in cash, and several pieces of property. However, the management of the most important store in the non-cooperating group, and the one that local merchants had believed stood to profit most from better parking failed to back up the proposal.

Two local stores adjacent to the proposed parking lot area also refused to contribute.

The Retail Merchants Association voted to return all pledge cards and checks already received for the project to their donors, and to then solicit them again for contributions sufficient to go ahead with the alley project alone. The alley right-of-way which the association would like to acquire, either through purchase, gift or by condemnation would start at Hutton St. on the north side of the G. E. Miller Sales and Service building and run west until it intersects the line of the north-and-south alley off Dunlap St. on the north side of the Cy Owens bumping shop. Part of this right-of-way is already owned by the Village, and owners of other portions are said to be willing to deed their property to the Village as a gift. Only one or two pieces of property might have to be condemned the merchants believe.

As a quick, and not necessarily accurate estimate, Schrader told members that it would probably cost about $6,000 to acquire the right-of-way and surface it. The reason for acquiring the alley without the additional parking space, he explained, is to make it unnecessary for large trucks delivering merchandise to local stores to park on Center and Main streets.

That Girl Scouts are as wholehearted in their work as in their play was notably demonstrated at a recent meeting of the local Red Cross Chapter. Mrs. A. M. Lawrence announced to the meeting that she had been authorized to recommend 23 Girl Scouts to the Red Cross as aids in case of disaster. These girls have qualified by hard and unremitting work. They are now able to plan and cook a meal for fifty persons relying on utilities, which might not be available. They can care for and entertain as many as 20 children who, in time of disaster, might be separated from their parents. A communication system, with or without the use of telephone, has also been set up.

The Fair will display a cross-section of all work and play projects of the Scouts and Brownies and show the public how apparently small beginnings can lead to such efforts as that which was gratefully accepted by the Red Cross.

Parents and friends of the Girl Scouts, as well as those interested in community service projects, are expected to attend in large numbers in order to show their appreciation of the efforts of these young girls.

You can make your own brown coloring for chop suey, for soups, gravies and sauces, says Mrs. Norma Kowitz, a Michigan State College home economist. Simply caramelize one-half cup sugar in a frying pan until it is almost burned (it will have lost its sweet caramel flavor at this point) then add a little hot water to dissolve the caramelized sugar. Save what you do not need for later use.

nuisance so as to impair utilization of the property for health purposes."

He recommended, and the City Council informally has agreed, that the Board of Health and the city engineer's office should study the effect of oil drilling operations on the property.

Oil companies have sought for more than a decade to obtain drilling leases in city-owned property in the Northville area. Always before, the corporation counsel's office has ruled that the city cannot lease property for purposes other than those for which the land originally was intended.

Taggart Brothers Cas Co., Big Rapids, has sought a drilling lease with the city for the sanatorium property and the Woodson Oil Co., of Texas, wants to lease the House of Corrections property.

Goodwill Trucks Here March 18

Goodwill Industries is appealing again for discards of clothing, furniture, and other items uncovered by housewives doing their spring cleaning. Such articles will be reconditioned by handicapped men and women who are able to earn a living in this manner, and thus avoid becoming public charges as otherwise might be the case.

Miss Edith Sorenson, at Northville 571, is in charge of routing the Goodwill trucks that will be in Northville and Plymouth on Thursday, Mar. 18. A call to this number will insure a truck stopping to pick up whatever you have that can be restored and made useful again.

HIRES HANDICAPPED
Goodwill Industries is the only organization in the area that hires handicapped employees on a large scale. Housewives have made this possible and are the backbone of the effort. It is their discards that are the raw materials with which Goodwill employees are able to work and earn a living. It is important to over 400 handicapped people that Goodwill be called in to help with this annual clean-up.

IS BIG HELP
Those who have never called Goodwill before will find that it is not only a humanitarian move but is a big help to the home owner to have a reputable, deserving group of people come and carry away the old discards. It makes housecleaning easier.

Wayne U. Offers 6 Scholarships for Nurse Career

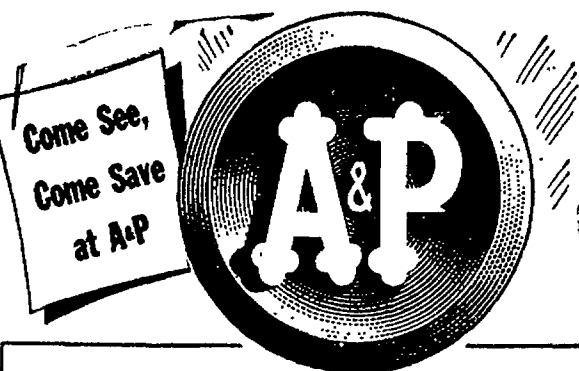

Six competitive scholarships are available to Michigan residents interested in entering the basic degree program of Wayne University's College of Nursing in September, 1954. April 1 is the deadline for submitting applications.

The College of Nursing Alumnae Association Scholarships of $850 each have been increased to two this year and four Helen Newberry Joy Scholarships, also of $850 each, are now being offered.

The $850 covers cost of tuition and fee for eight semesters. The Alumnae Scholarships are open to all Michigan residents, but the Joy Scholarships are limited to applicants from the greater Detroit metropolitan area (Wayne, Macomb, and Oakland counties). Margaret F. Heyse, associate professor of nursing, is in charge of the scholarship program. Although Wayne's program includes preparation for a career in the direct care of patients, it is designed primarily for those interested in careers in teaching, supervision or administration, she said.

High school seniors and students in good standing from junior or senior colleges are eligible to apply for the scholarships. There is no restriction as to age, sex, color, race or creed.

Application forms and requests for further information should be directed to Dean Katharine Faville, Wayne University College of Nursing, Detroit 2, Mich.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
 The healing power of that faith which is rooted in a spiritual understanding of God will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.
 The Lesson-Sermon entitled

"Substance" includes the following passage from the Bible:
 "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. . . . Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear" (Hebrews 11:1,3).
 Among the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following:
 "When we come to have more faith in the truth of being than we have in error, more faith in Spirit than in matter, more faith in living than in dying, more faith in God than in man, then no material suppositions can prevent us from healing the sick and destroying error" (388:14).
 The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations" (135:13).

Fredsell Named to Church Post
 History repeats itself. With the election of the Rev. Dr. Harold F. Fredsell as State Clerk of the Presbytery of Detroit, he follows an early predecessor to the same post, the Rev. James Dubuar of Northville, who served from 1876 to 1884.
 The Rev. Mr. Dubuar was pastor of the local Presbyterian Church for more than 20 years and three of the Northville families are related to this early family.

Babson Discusses "Fair Prices"
 by Roger W. Babson
 Babson Park, Fla., March 10—
 I wonder if you have noticed in the columns of your paper that another tempest is brewing between some manufacturers and the sellers of their merchandise. Cause of the blow: merchandise is being sold below fair-trade prices.

DISCOUNT HOUSES
 Before the war, on the Continent and especially in Southeastern Asia, nobody ever paid the asking price unless he had a hole in his head. At that time, in America, very few ever questioned the list price. Today, in increasing numbers, Americans are shopping for discounts. I am convinced that this movement is largely encouraged by returning soldiers from abroad. After their experiences both in foreign countries and in their cantens here at home, it is very difficult to get them to pay list prices anywhere.

THE MANUFACTURERS' ARGUMENT
 Price-fixing, some manufacturers say, is necessary in order to get the widest possible distribution. The argument here is that if a company's product is being undersold by a price-cutter, the legitimate dealer will give up that line of goods, distribution outlets will shrink, orders drop off, production lag, and workers will be out of a job. For this reason, these companies say the time has come for them to spend money on lawyers, as well as on advertising.

SALE PRICE CUTTING MAY HAVE USES
 It is my belief that price-fixing won't solve our price problems any more than Government regulation. This once seemed an easy solution to the problem. Fair-trading and insistence upon maintaining a price level may help keep the inefficient businessman in business a little longer. In the long run, however, it may only prolong the day of judgment.
 Newton's Law of Action and Reaction is a powerful natural law which cannot be legislated out of existence. Economic periods of adjustment are not just accidents. Such periods usually develop out of excesses practiced during boom conditions. Businessmen become too bullish; they may misjudge the future; they overestimate their markets and the size of the consumer's pocket-book. So when demand slackens, a reaction sets in and somebody cuts prices to move some stuff.

ting. They are ready to spend plenty to curb price-cutting of "fair-traded" merchandise. My sympathies go out to them.
 There is little question that profit margins in some industries are slim. Let's admit it, though—the profit take in other industries is fabulous, and word has gotten around. How? Via consumer economics courses in public schools and colleges, consumers' buying magazines, and by word of mouth.

SOME SIMPLE ECONOMICS
 It is my belief that price-fixing won't solve our price problems any more than Government regulation. This once seemed an easy solution to the problem. Fair-trading and insistence upon maintaining a price level may help keep the inefficient businessman in business a little longer. In the long run, however, it may only prolong the day of judgment.
 Newton's Law of Action and Reaction is a powerful natural law which cannot be legislated out of existence. Economic periods of adjustment are not just accidents. Such periods usually develop out of excesses practiced during boom conditions. Businessmen become too bullish; they may misjudge the future; they overestimate their markets and the size of the consumer's pocket-book. So when demand slackens, a reaction sets in and somebody cuts prices to move some stuff.

PRICE-CUTTING MAY HAVE USES
 This is a perfectly reasonable course of behavior, and it may be good for our economy because it shakes out some of the deadwood, sharpens production efficiency, activates consumer research, improves quality, makes management more cost-conscious, and forces it to reappraise its pricing policies. I forecast that neither legislation, nor a stiff-necked policy, nor court action will outwit the laws of Supply and Demand, Action and Reaction.
 Perhaps the time has come for a reappraisal of profit margins. Don't get me wrong. I believe in the profit system. A profitless volume, like a profitless prosperity, will get us nowhere. What I want to point out, however, is that "Fair-Trade" laws or price-cutting are not the real problems. These are symptoms of our basic difficulty. What needs to be cured is not the symptom, but the problem. Let's get on with solving the problem of more efficient and more honest management.

Theory is all right for the books, but it takes practical expression of ideals to make life better.

Mustangs' Tournament Hopes Blasted In Second Game

The tournament hopes of the Northville Mustangs were blasted by a fighting Walled Lake basketball team in the second game of the tournament series Saturday evening at Walled Lake. The score was 64-55.

The Saturday evening defeat followed a 48-37 victory by the Mustangs over the Holly Broncos Friday evening.

Northville's play is best characterized as "listless" on both evenings.

NORTHVILLE VS. HOLLY

The Northville Mustangs defeated the Holly Broncos for the third time this season Friday evening at Walled Lake. The final score read 48-37 in a dull, listless contest played before a capacity house. Coach Dick Kay used substitutes freely in the last half, running up a 24-5 first half lead with his regulars.

High point men for the Mustangs were Glenn Howarth and Clarence Patterson with ten points each. Earl Garner led the scoring for the evening with 16 points for the losers.

Bruce Felker, Maclyn Burns and Clarence Patterson turned in creditable performances for Coach Kay during the second half after taking over from the regulars.

The win enabled Northville to advance to the District Finals against Walled Lake, which defeated Milford in the second contest of the evening.

NORTHVILLE VS. WALLED LAKE

Northville's playing in the game with Walled Lake Saturday evening was no more spirited than in the previous evening's contest with Holly. The Walled Lake Vikings came out fighting and the final score was Walled Lake 64, Northville 55.

Northville, following the pattern of Friday evening's listless contest was unable to catch the aggressive Vikings who managed a 30-25 half-time lead. At one time during the third period Walled Lake led by 12 points and this proved too much of a lead for the Mustangs to overcome, although they did come within three points in the final period. At this point Northville ran out of gas and Walled Lake coasted to victory.

RA-SEBA TOLD SCRABBLE

PRINCESS Flavine Abdul-Ali-Khan plays the new parlor game which foretold the success of Scrabble. Here's how it happened: Not very long ago two old friends were discussing their hobby of inventing games. One was James Brunot, who was depressed about the lack of response to his game Scrabble. The other was Henri Englebert, who discovered and revived the ancient Egyptian "prediction" game: Ra-Seba. "Let's see what Ra-Seba predicts for the future of Scrabble," suggested Englebert. He laid out the Ra-Seba cards on the beautifully decorated board to play this popular fortune-telling game. The message flashed: "don't judge hastily... before long... success." This information of Scrabble's prospects for the future gave Brunot the extra lift he needed to go on.

High point man for the evening was Glenn Howarth with 22 points. Walled Lake presented a double barreled scoring punch with Mike Ryan and Don Williams each getting 17 points.

Walled Lake will now journey to Pontiac for the Regional Tournament which will begin next Wednesday. This will be followed by quarter-final games a week from Wednesday, and the finals at Lansing March 19 and 20.

The Inter-Lakes League defeated the Milford Redskins of the Wayne-Oakland County League 61-58 Friday night at Walled Lake. This advanced Walled Lake into the district finals against Northville on Saturday.

The game, a rough, exciting contest, was close right down to the wire, although Walled Lake led throughout, taking a 18-13 first period lead. Milford's height advantage was offset by the aggressive tactics of the smaller Walled Lake quintet.

Don Williams, star forward for the Vikings, led the game with two quick buckets when he stole the ball deep in Milford territory. He also led the scoring for the evening getting 23 points while Bob Stallsmith scored 17 for the losers.

LUMBERING "DELUXE"

Throughout the upper peninsula these days lumbering operations are going along at a good clip—but old time "jacks" are rubbing their eyes at what they see in the modern lumber camp. Men are working under conditions undreamed of by the woodsmen of 30 years ago.

Back in the '20s the wages were pretty well standardized at around $30 a month plus "board and room"—with the food generally poorly cooked and sleeping conditions badly overcrowded. Men slept in crude bunks in shacks that offered little protection against the weather. Clothes had to be dried around a central heater, and the "atmosphere" was on the thick side!

Today's Picture

Today's bush-worker can earn as much as $20 a day cutting pulpwood on a piece-work basis. As far as food is concerned he is probably given the best in the world compared to the size of the operation—and the menus are all planned by dietitians who know just how many calories a lumberjack burns per day in this strenuous occupation.

Sleeping accommodations have changed a lot, too. The modern lumber camp in Michigan may provide quarters allocating only two men to a room. All camps provide good laundry and medical service—and where they are in extremely remote areas radio communication keeps them in constant touch with civilization in event of emergencies.

In some camps close to larger communities, the men live at home—but this is an exceptional instance. Future camps are being planned with complete communities, including schools and churches set up deep in the working areas. Wives and children of the men will be moved into the temporary quarters which are thoroughly modernized with plumbing and electricity. Even movie programs will be scheduled—and some will include bowling alleys!

New Methods

Improved living conditions for the "jack" and his family are combined with new cutting methods, too. Workers are trained to fell trees so that they don't break the saplings growing nearby—the source of future timber. Stumps are cut almost at ground level, with power saws—thus salvaging much more valuable timber.

Yes, times have changed with the lumberjack, too! In the old days, he'd come to town on Saturday night and "blow the roll" in a day or two of celebration. Today the Michigan bush-worker is a real business man—sober, industrious and intelligent. Lumbering is a professional pursuit for him, in Michigan Outdoors!
