Northville High School Honor Graduates Named

BARBARA PRUNTY
Valedictorian

Barbara Prunty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Prunty of 810 W. Main St., has been named valedictorian of the Class of 1954 of Northville High School. Jean Nieuwkoop, daughter of Rev. Peter and Mrs. Nieuwkoop of 217 N. Wing, has been awarded second honor of salutatorian.

Miss Prunty is a member of the high school band and choir. Her other activities included participation in Forensics, the junior play and Girls Athletic League. She plans to go to college.

Miss Nieuwkoop was president of the Forensics Club, a member of the choir, took part in both junior and senior plays and was chosen as the DAR good citizen. She plays the organ in the Baptist Church of which her father is pastor. She is especially interested in a career of teaching.

There are 73 students in the senior class this year and it will be the first class to hold graduating exercises in the new community building. The exercises will be held June 10.

Commission Seeks To Obtain Alley Property Rights

One final effort to obtain without condemnation two small pieces of property needed to complete an alley in the business district was decided upon by the Northville Village commission at its meeting Monday night. The property sought is owned by James Spagnuolo and Ralph Pickard, and consists of narrow strips behind the stores fronting on the east side of Center St. and the north side of Main St. between Center and Hutton.

President Claude N. Ely appointed Commissioner Earl Reed to work with Phil Ogilvie, village attorney, in attempting to acquire title through purchase without condemnation. This is an informal and unofficial gathering of village officials will be held Monday night at the Village Hall to discuss policies that may have a bearing on this year's budget.

Reed's first assignment as a commission member. Should their efforts fail, the commission indicated it would proceed to condemn the land involved so that traffic congestion and poor drainage in the alley could be rectified.

Commissioner A. Malcolm Allen brought up a condemnation suggestion at the request of the Northville Retail Merchants Assn., which had planned to raise funds from its members to purchase the necessary footage to put the alley through. The funds raised were to be turned over to the Village. Allen said he had been informed by association representatives that condemnation appeared the only feasible course, since only half of the required $16,000 has been pledged.

Survey on Monday Night Store Hours Still Is Incomplete

Decision as to whether Northville's retail stores will remain open Monday evenings has not yet been made, pending completion of a survey now being conducted among store owners, according to Nelson Schrader, president of the Retail Merchants Assn.

Proposal to keep the stores open was initiated as a result of the opening of the new J. L. Hudson Northland Shopping Center. As soon as the survey is completed, the results will be announced, Schrader said. In the meantime, stores will remain open Friday evening as usual.

Novi Inn, Landmark for 25 Years, Is Destroyed by Fire

Northville firemen were called Sunday morning in a vain attempt to save the Novi Inn, located at Novi Rd. and Grand River. The Inn, a landmark in this area for more than a quarter of a century, was destroyed by flames which apparently started in the basement.

Firemen from Commerce, Farmington and Walled Lake assisted the Novi fire department in fighting the blaze. In addition to the Inn, four other buildings were damaged, mostly by smoke and water. Origin of the fire has not been determined.

A two-story structure, the Inn was owned by Benedict Tinkham, who lived in an apartment upstairs. No one was injured, according to fire department reports.

east corner of Center and Dunlap streets and the projected 20-foot alley right-of-way would require a few feet from the rear of the lot.

PTA Carnival Is Set for May 7

Plans are in the making for the annual Northville PTA Carnival which is scheduled for Friday, May 7, at the Northville Grade school and high school.

Representatives of the various clubs and organizations in the village have been contacted and will meet Monday, Mar. 22 at 8 p.m. in the kindergarten room of the grade school, according to Mrs. William Milne, president of the Northville PTA.

Charles Bahnmiller, general chairman, held his first meeting with his committee Mar. 15. James Mahoney, Edward Angove, Richard Ambler, Ed Welch and Jack Reynolds are assisting Bahnmiller on his committee.

The committee and board members are most anxious to have all organizations participate in this community event and if anyone wishes further information they may call Bahnmiller at Northville 48 or Mrs. Milne at 732-M.

Schools to Close All Day Friday

Northville high and grade school students will have a day off Friday—and parents vice versa—when teachers will attend the Wayne Out-County Teachers Institute at Livonia.

The institute will be held at the Bentley High School Friday from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Dr. Andrew Holt, former president of the National Education Association, will be the speaker at the morning session.

Dick Kay, president of the Northville Teachers Club, is organizing the attendance of the Northville group.

Record Appoints G. R. Johnston As Managing Editor

G. R. Johnston has joined the Northville Record as managing editor. He has been engaged in newspaper work in an executive and editorial capacity for many years and brings a wealth of experience to his new job of directing The Record's newspaper activities.

Johnston is a former member of the editorial staffs of the Jackson Citizen Patriot, Jackson Tribune and Pontiac Press. He was in charge of Air Force public relations in World War II. After the war, he was director of the Air Force Public Relations School in Alabama.

Since leaving the service in 1947 he has been editor and publisher of the Gulf Coast Times, in Mississippi, and the Kirsksville Graphic, in Kirsksville, Mo.

Mrs. Johnston and their son, Stephen, 12, will join him in Northville as soon as suitable living accommodations can be found.

Northville Gets Pat On Back As Good Town

Slight Increase In Tax Levy Is Forecast Here

Financial commitments made in 1953 may make necessary a slight increase in Northville's tax levy this year, Commissioner John F. Stuebenvoll told Earl L. Reed and Ed. C. Welch, newly elected members of the Village commission, at its meeting Monday evening.

"Even so, the commission must learn to say 'No', and mean it," for the rest of the 1954-55 fiscal year," he said. He was referring to the requests for special financial outlays which experience has proved to be inevitable and which have often been granted in the past.

Stuebenvoll has been a commission member for eight years and also has served as chairman of the finance committee which draws up the annual operating budget. Reed was appointed by President Claude N. Ely as the second member of the committee. He succeeds Gerald C. Woodworth, who did not run for reelection.

Stuebenvoll explained that Northville is temporarily short of funds because of the cost of constructing the Community Building and the need for making an initial payment of $17,000 to the Wayne County Road Commission for the 7-Mile Rd. cut-off, which is to be started this year. The Community Building will require about $30,000 more to complete than the Village had in its special building fund when the project started. This, and the $17,000 for the cut-off, have made a big dent in the Village's ready cash, and have necessitated transferring $20,000 from the Water Department to the general fund until tax receipts start to roll in next summer.

Another factor that will make finances a "little tighter" this year is the reduction in the number of racing days at Northville Downs this summer to 39 against 48 in 1953. At the $500 per day fee which the Downs pays the Village, this means $4,500 less revenue in 1954 from this source.

"Against this background," Stuebenvoll said, "there will be no appreciable surplus from the 1954 tax levy to provide for capital improvements like paving, curbs, gutters, sewers, etc."

Commission members plan an informal meeting Monday, Mar. 22 at the Village Hall to decide on policy with respect to certain financial outlays. This will serve as a guide to the finance committee's planning and should insure more speedy acceptance of its budget recommendations when they are presented formally, Stuebenvoll said.

Community Center Village Officers Are Sworn In

It was cold and blustery outside, but inside the Village Hall Monday night it was Spring as new village officers and members of the commission were sworn in. The Springlike atmosphere was accentuated by a huge centerpiece of daffodils, narcissus and other Spring posies presented to Com. Earl L. Reed by associates of the Abstract and Title Guaranty Co. of Detroit.

First A. Russell Clarke, new Village treasurer, swore in Clerk Mary Alexander. Mrs. Alexander then swore in Clarke, President Claude N. Ely, Assessor E. M. Bort, and Coms. John Stuebenvoll, A. Malcolm Allen, Ed. C. Welch, and Reed. Mrs. Welch took a flash photograph of her husband, hand upraised, for the family album.

Then the commission took a short recess while friends and well wishers extended congratulations. It was all a warm and friendly proceeding, even if one was among the spectators—with no malice whatever intended—remarked:

"Now they're all sworn in. The swearing AT will come later."

New School To Be Started Soon

Work will be started on the new Northville elementary school on N. Center St. as quickly as plans can be drawn and construction contracts awarded, according to Superintendent of Schools R. H. Amerman.

Eberle M. Smith Associates have been retained as architects by the school board, and are now working on the drawings. This firm handled design and construction of the present Northville elementary school building and the addition erected in 1949.

Community Bldg. Concrete Pouring Well Under Way

Construction of Northville's new Community Center, to cost approximately $210,000, is progressing rapidly, according to Wilson Funk, Northville recreation director and chairman of the building committee.

Pouring of concrete for the gymnasium floor began Tuesday, and it is expected that all of the flooring will be completed this week, with the exception of the lobby, where the ground still is frozen, Funk said. Laying of the wood floor over the concrete will follow at a later date. Approximately 200 yards of concrete will be needed for the floors, Funk said.

Roofers and electricians also were busy Tuesday and Wednesday, and an additional crew was engaged in installation of aluminum ceiling strips and the chrome letters "Northville Community Center" across the front of the building.

A huge limb of a black walnut tree on the east side of the building has been removed, and Funk said he hoped to obtain a truck or two to begin filling in a large depression in the grounds at the northeast corner of the structure.

Installation of the heating system also has been completed, and the heat has been on for a week, drying out the building so that interior work can be started.

A feature of the gymnasium, Funk pointed out, is that window-glass on the east side is "daylight-blue", so that the sun's rays will be filtered and will not cause glare on the gym floor.

Although the contractors have not committed themselves as to when the building will be completed and ready to turn over to the city, tentative assurances are that the completion date will be somewhere during the last two weeks of May. That would permit use of the building for the high school graduation exercises June

Friendly Spirit Cited As Community Asset

Fifty members of the Northville Optimist Club and guests gave their home town a vote of confidence and a pat on the back this week with respect to its schools, stores, medical facilities, library, fire department, and general spirit of friendliness.

Most of those present were so-called "sleepers", who live here and work in Detroit and elsewhere. A fair proportion of the group, however, were strictly local men—doctors, dentists, store owners.

In the course of a two-hour discussion of various aspects of village life, they gave affirmative votes to nine questions, and negative votes to only two.

5 Northville Youths Will be Inducted

Five Northville youths will be inducted into the Armed Forces Mar. 25, according to officials of Michigan Local Board 102 of Plymouth.

All are volunteers. They are: Robert Graham, Robert Westerfield, Annunzio, George Knight and Fred Wehe.

Their service assignments will be announced later.

Still to come up at a subsequent meeting is the question of Northville's possible future growth, and others of equal importance. Basis for Tuesday night's discussion, and one that preceded it, is a list of 40 "soul-searching" questions in a "Rate Your Town" project propounded by a national magazine.

Highlights of Tuesday evening's discussion were the Village's schools and stores. Robert Coolman, president of the School Board, reported that the new elementary school to be built this summer will provide nine new classrooms and will relieve crowding in the grades for only a year or two at the most. He predicted that crowding in the high school may have to be relieved by moving some activities into the grade school and "in another two or three years we'll be in the same spot we are in now."

Coolman told those present that while crowding has not made it necessary to resort to half-day sessions, "we have converted the halls and stage in the high school into classroom space, and our curriculum has been curtailed." He also pointed out that a state survey indicates that the Northville school load by 1960-61 will be twice as great as in 1951. He predicted that by 1960 space twice as great as the schools now have must be provided.

Annexation Not Factor
Coolman denied that recent annexation of other school districts by the Northville school system has been a material factor in crowding local schools as their students generally have been attending Northville schools on a tuition basis for several years. He pointed out also that the annexations have increased the assessed valuation of the Northville school district from $4,500,000 to a present level of $7,250,000. This has enabled the district to keep its ratio of debt to assessed valuation at a very low level, he explained.

He indicated that Novi's growth is creating a school problem that must be met in that township and that a consolidation with the present Northville school district might be the best solution.

Local merchants were advised by an expert in merchandising—Adrian Willis of Nash-Kelvinator Corp.—that they can meet the competition of the J. L. Hudson Company's Northland Shopping Center through friendly service, fair prices and attractively displayed merchandise.

May Be Hurt
"You are going to be hurt for a month or so," he said, "because every woman is going to want to visit Northland and see what it is all about. After their initial curiosity is satisfied, they'll still shop in Northville if local merchants are friendly and can offer comparable merchandise at competitive prices."

Willis admitted that merchants in certain fields, notably women's style lines, and perhaps furniture, will feel Northland's impact more than others. He Insect, Spare That Tree!

Northville's Beautiful Elms To Be Sprayed As Protection Against Dutch Elm Disease

Spraying of all elm trees lining Northville streets and on other village property to protect them against Dutch elm disease was authorized by the village commission at its meeting Monday evening.

Trees which are sprayed with a dormant spray early in the spring, and later with a foliage spray, will be immune to the carrier of the dreaded disease, John Miller told the commission, even though a tree close by becomes infested. The spray is residual in nature and remains potent during the season in which the insect carriers travel, he explained.

The village is to pay $2.05 per tree for each application of spray. The total cost will be slightly over $1,000, according to Miller's count showing 260 elm trees on village property.

The commission also decided to investigate the advisability of an ordinance to regulate the private planting of trees and shrubs to avoid those which are commonly cause time will be involved in getting the spray outfit close to trees located in the rear of homes. Other obstacles to a uniform price will include getting the housewife to take in laundry, move automobiles standing in driveways, etc. Widely varying size of trees to be sprayed for individual owners also would be a consideration making a uniform price difficult.

At the request of the village commission, Miller will work out a price schedule for private spraying and advertise it in The Record to give home owners a chance to schedule their spraying at the same time, the village trees are sprayed.

deemed undesirable. Such an ordinance, it was agreed, should establish a means of compelling owners to destroy trees infested with Dutch elm disease.

Miller told the commission it will not be possible to spray trees owned by homeowners for the same price the village pays be-

Everybody's Happy Now

First Robin Report Stirs Jealousy in Breast of Northville Parakeet

Don is back. And because he is, there is a distinct feeling of relief and joy in the J. R. Humphries household at 745 Novi Ave.

Don, a chartreuse colored parakeet, went AWOL a week ago. It may have been that he was a little jealous of First Robin reports in Northville and wanted to get in on the act, or that a stray scuttler breeze had made him acutely conscious of the approach of Spring.

Anyhow, given the chance, Don vanished abruptly into the "wild blue yonder" a week ago Tuesday. Mrs. Humphries said he had been moody all that morning, and refused to go into his cage. When she put on her coat to go visit her daughter, Mrs. Ross Snow, 133 W. Main St., Don perched on her shoulder and Mrs. Humphries forgot he was there until she got outside.

Then, with a sudden whirling of wings, Don was gone.

Understandably, Mrs. Humphries was filled with anxiety. She had given the bird to her husband last Father's day. Mr. Humphries is now in Florida, but he thinks a great deal of Don, and Mrs. Humphries knew he would be much concerned if he returned to find Don gone.

Mrs. Snow shared her mother's anxiety. Together they looked around the neighborhood, calling or whistling or whatever you do to attract a chartreuse parakeet, but no Don.

"Why don't you put an ad in The Record?" Mrs. Snow suggested finally.

Thursday, looking over the classified column, Mrs. C. N. Dahlager, 839 Grace St., saw a small, two-line ad under the "Lost and Found" heading. She immediately called Mrs. Humphries to report that a tiny bird answering the description had flown into her bird feeding station, and had allowed her to take him inside.

So now Don is back, and Mrs. Humphries is happy. But she says she'll be careful to look on both shoulders whenever she goes outside in the future, for fear Don might get the wanderlust again.

Rolling Down The River

by the PETZ BROS.

What, with the not so good report from here and there, we hope that none of our friends and customers follow in the footsteps of the guy who always ate his breakfast before going to bed to keep from lying awake all night worrying about where his next meal was coming from.

Well, the last time we saw you, you didn't look so hungry to us and we know you are not worrying about where your next car is coming from. Naturally, it's right here in our garage... The brilliant Studebaker for '54. Terrific economical too, for those extra miles and miles of driving. And we know you'll love the smart new colors the Studebaker comes in.

A lady came in the garage the other day for a bit of a tune-up says she has finally discovered the real meaning of a "stitch in time". It's the one her husband gets in his back whenever she suggests the walk needs shoveling.

We wonder how many car owners have noticed those cars from 3 to 4 years old with the fenders practically rolled away from the body. In case you've wondered how come, we can boldly state it wasn't termites... just ordinary road salt that the city sprinkles on icy intersections to keep you from sliding through a red light each winter. And, if you have wondered how to prevent it, there's a thing called undercoating where a thin rubberized coating is sprayed on the underparts of your car. It whips the salt and you keep your fenders. Just bring your car in... we do an outstanding job in applying it.

That's that, but a person who plays by ear would be O.K. if we didn't have to listen the same way.

Yours,

Education By TV

The British Broadcasting Corporation has announced that British students will be given classes in biology, geography and history, via television, in some 500 schools either in 1955 or 1956. The project has already been approved and the only question is how fast the technical problems of the operation can be solved.

The BBC says that if the project is successful, it will be extended to other schools in Britain rapidly, and eventually it will probably be included in all of them. The interesting part about the experiment in Great Britain is that no one has opposed it.

The idea seems to be an excellent one

No Truce In This War

The war of the highways continues and there is little chance of a truce. The war seems to be between the careless drivers and others who have the misfortune to encounter them at the wrong moment. A pretty good example of the senselessness of this war occurred recently near Flint, Mich.

On the eastern outskirts of Flint, one night early last month, two cars crashed headon. The William M. Lemmin family, of Davison, was practically snuffed out in an instant.

Russell L. Bonn, 26, of Lapeer, also was killed, in the other car. In the Lemmin car, or thrown out of it, were found William M. Lemmin, his wife, Carole, and Deborah, a three-months-old baby.

As if this wasn't bad enough, the sheriff's men found out a couple of hours later that there was still another daughter in the Lemmin car. Rushing back to the scene and looking around, they found the body of and there seems to be no reason why it cannot be adopted in the United States eventually. It is true that the United States is a much larger country and that the problems involved would be considerable, but, eventually, there is no reason why educational programs, especially from Washington, cannot be beamed to schoolrooms in all parts of the country.

Certainly Washington could send out instructive lessons in such fields as the British are experimenting in, biology, geography and history, and the advantages of such a program would be that all the children seeing these programs would get equally high-quality instruction.

Dawn Lemmin, a two-year-old daughter, in a snow bank. The only survivor of the five-member family was a four-year-old girl, Janis.

No one can possibly describe the effects of this tragedy on Janis, or her future. Nor can anyone give a sensible solution for the slaughter of lives in such accidents. Yet they continue, day after day, in all parts of the country, and even during the worst fighting in Korea, we continued to kill more people on the highways than the Communists did on the Korean battlefields. The only answer is carefulness, courtesy and slower driving. The words, which are talked so much, become trite—until an accident strikes a friend or a loved one. Keep in mind tragedies such as that in Flint, Mich., early last month and see to it that you are not next on the list—the list which claims more than a hundred lives in the United States every 24 hours.

Letters to Editor

The Record welcomes letters to the editor about matters of community interest. Anonymous communications will not be published, but in instances where the writer does not wish his or her name to appear, it will be held confidential.

Dear Editor:

It is estimated that, at least 100,000,000 people read newspapers in the United States. That's more than attend movies in a week, possibly more than listen to radio or television. So, Northville folk read their weekly newspaper which they are fortunate to have, being so close and yet so far from the metropolitan area. This is Northville.

According to travel agencies, we are Detroit's most picturesque suburb (The Switzerland of Wayne County). Local, statistically-minded folks say that there are 3300 inhabitants, altho the 1950, U.S. Census reports 3221. We cover 15 square miles and we're 900 feet above sea level. There's a vacant theatre, with 800 unused seats and we've got five churches, Baptist, Catholic, Lutheran, Methodist and Presbyterian, all of which could stand increases in attendance (even now, during the Lenten season). Nationally, 35 million people never go to church, 38 million, sometimes go and only 35 million attend every week. (We wonder what the ratio is, locally.)

This is Northville. Ask outsiders, what we're noted for. Invariably, first is the race track. Secondly comes the spring water. But the horses only run 1/6 of the year—the spring runs all the time. The remainder is dormant. That is, except for the sociable folk, who know more about your business than you do yourself. Call it chatter, call it gossip, call it being busy-bodies—it's all summed up by being a small town. (Too busy minding other people's business than minding their own.)

Yet, remember, this is Northville!

Critically yours,
Eustice

THE VILLAGE --- AT WORK

A Visit With Your Neighbors On the Job

It isn't always that we realize our dreams, but in February, 1953, when Otis Tewksbury purchased the jewelry store at 101 E. Main St. in Northville, he did just that. He had always wanted to own a jewelry store in the town where he was born and raised.

During the years he prepared and trained for his future work. He first entered the jewelry business in 1936 and attended watch-making school in 1939-40. This training was interrupted in 1941 when he entered the army. After his discharge four years later he accepted a position in a jewelry store in Boise, Idaho, where he had been stationed during his service in the army. Here, Mr. Tewksbury and his family remained for seven and one-half years until returning to Northville.

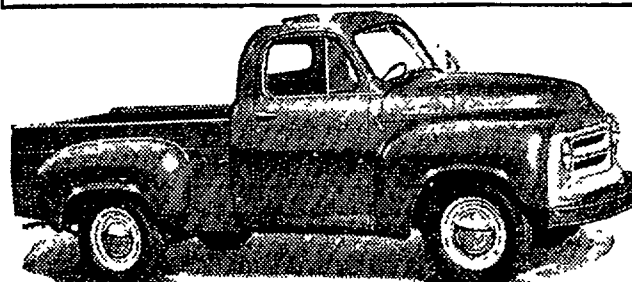

Mr. Tewksbury emphatically stated that the business is a family partnership and Mrs. Tewksbury takes an active part in the business.

Music is Mr. Tewksbury's hobby and he was one of the original members of the Northville High School Band. While in the service he played French horn in the army band, and in two municipal bands and a dance band while residing in Boise.

The Tewksburys all attend the Methodist Church. Mr. Tewksbury is a member of the Masonic Lodge in Northville and his wife belongs to the Eastern Star, Business and Professional Woman's Club and the Ethel Seeley Circle of the Methodist Church. They have three children, Sue Ellen 8, Ray 7 and John 6.

Mrs. Tewksbury was born in Columbus, O., but has lived around this section of the country most of her life.

Pictured here is the popular Studebaker half-ton pick-up. This model has a three-speed synchromesh transmission as standard, with four-speed synchromesh or overdrive transmission optional at extra cost. Nine different body colors, with harmonizing cab interior colors, are offered.

Troop 6—Mrs. Allen's and Mrs. Campbell's Brownie Troop 6 made safety posters, completed Netherlands' flags, and practiced "Song of Stars" for the Scout Fair held last Saturday. They selected Juliette Lowe money, Francis Hyal to be in Dutch costume, and Wanda Partridge to carry their troop flag. At the Fair they sold plants.

Troop 18—During the meeting of Mrs. Cockin's Brownie Troop 18, the girls practiced their Hawaiian song, "Farewell to Thee", which they used at the Scout Fair. Also, they helped to make and wrap cookies which they sold

Northville Rotary Club Helps in Drive for Crippled Children Assistance

More than 2500 Easter Seal appeal letters containing sheets of 1954 Easter Seals were mailed to Northville area citizens this week as the first step of the 1954 campaign to help crippled children go under way.

Sponsored by the Wayne Out-County Chapter, Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the 21st annual appeal officially opened today, Mar. 18, and will continue through Easter Sunday, Apr. 18.

John Miller is chairman for the Northville Rotary campaign. The service club assists the Easter Seal Society in this great task for the benefit of crippled children annually.

After the Tuesday Rotary luncheon meeting, Mr. Miller and his committee, Roy Stone and Dr. Robert Yoder, assisted by attending Rotarians, stuffed the 2500 envelopes for this month-long drive.

Guest speaker at the Rotary meeting was Mrs. Herma Taylor, R.N., executive secretary of the Wayne Out-County Chapter. Mrs. Taylor showed the Chapter's first film "Summer Magic", which shows the summer day camp program made possible by Easter Seal contributions.

"The largest portion of funds contributed in the local area will go to support case findings, transportation to clinics, special equipment and educational assistance," said Mr. Miller.

"Part of the money is also used to sponsor the teen-age group, the Happy Friendship Club, a new series added this year for home-bound handicaps."

Special event scheduled during the month-long drive is a lily parade in Northville on "Crippled Children's Day", Apr. 10. Mrs. Ida B. Cook, of Northville, has been appointed to conduct this special event.

More Maple Syrup

Central Michigan operators of "sugar bushes" could have harvested 28 per cent more maple syrup this February than in February of 1953, if they acted on sap weather forecasts over Michigan State College's radio station, WKAR. That's the estimate of Prof. Putnam W. Robbins, MSC maple syrup specialist, based on the flow of the college maple trees.

Science and Your Health

1 Almost 100% of youth in industrial areas suffer tooth decay!

2 Adults also suffer from gum disease.

3 Brush your teeth to clean away food particles

4 Your dentist guards against tooth decay.

By Science Features

Man's teeth, the hardest structures in the body, are deteriorating at an unprecedented rate. Almost 100 per cent of young people living in industrial areas throughout the world suffer from tooth decay, according to recent statistics compiled by the World Health Organization, while nearly the same number of adults suffer from diseases of the gums as well.

Tooth decay is caused by a variety of germs that are always in the mouth. They feed on starches and sugar and produce acids that eat their way through the hard enamel coating of the tooth and exposes the pulp to infection.

Fluorine, added to drinking water, has been one of the few effective chemical weapons against tooth decay, but only for youngsters. Other research is directed toward finding compounds that can be added to food, to make it distasteful to germs, or one that can be used to protect the teeth against acids.

Scientists have succeeded, however, in preventing or correcting various gum infections, such as gingivitis and "dry socket." The gums, when healthy, are firm, pink and fit snugly around the teeth. In gingivitis cases the tissue draws back from the neck of the tooth leaving spaces in which food particles and tartar can lodge. The gums become irritated, inflamed and bleed easily—a condition which can lead to the loss of many teeth if neglected.

Treatment with antibiotics, in the form of terramycin paste and troches, quickly reduced inflammation and pain in 18 patients, according to a report by two doctors that was published in the Pennsylvania Dental Journal.

A tooth extraction is bad enough, but there is an extremely painful gum condition called "dry socket" that sometimes follows. The New York State Dental Journal recently reported that this condition is caused by infection in a special study 98.2 per cent of the patients who were given terramycin tablets before the extraction were saved from suffering this additional pain.

Research may finally pay off in preventing all oral conditions, but a semi-annual check-up with the dentist is still the best insurance.

"Within the Foreseeable Future"

No Depression Is Seen by NAM Head; Hits "Fear Complex"

Unless a "fear complex" should develop, there is no danger of a depression in the United States "within the foreseeable future," according to Harold C. McClellan, president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

There seems to be no prospect for a serious downturn in business generally for 1954 or the years immediately ahead, Mr. McClellan said, provided that the Government takes these four steps:

1. "Ardently continue" the trend toward a balanced budget;
2. Reduce expenditures as far as possible without impairing our national security;
3. Increase business incentives by a sound tax policy;
4. Assure business a climate favorable to expansion, rather than restriction and uncertainty.

The NAM president warned, however, in a statement prepared for the Joint Committee on the Economic Report, that "it would be a mistake for the American people to place full reliance and responsibility upon the Federal Government to bail us out of a recession if one were to develop."

"That is mainly a job for individual remedies, in an economic climate or framework established by government," he said. "Passing the buck to Washington will not solve the problem."

Mr. McClellan suggested to the Congressional committee that further reduction in government expenditures can be achieved in part "by diminishing international commitments through tightening the criteria for foreign military and economic aid programs with a view toward substantially reducing their cost," and also "by the shifting to state and local governments and to private enterprise of Federal activities which can be more appropriately and more efficiently carried on in that way."

MICHIGAN MIRROR

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL
by Gene Alleman

Supporters of a proposed half-billion dollar bond issue to build new highways in Michigan are singing the blues.

The current Highway Department scandal has just about shattered all hope for approval of the $500 million bond issue this year. Maybe forever.

Sen. Joseph P. Cloon (R-Wakefield and four other senators, including a Democrat, sponsored a Constitutional Amendment resolution in January to place the bond issue question on the ballot in the Nov. 2 election.

The resolution appeared to have a good chance to get through both houses. Preliminary plans were launched to finance a campaign for the resolution if it got on the ballot.

Everyone seemed confident the voters would approve the bond issue which was to be retired from gasoline tax revenues.

Then it happened. Rumors of irregularities on the Highway Department's Grand Rapids right-of-way division were no longer rumors.

At first, supporters of the Cloon resolution told everyone the Western Michigan affair would "blow over".

The Senate Taxation Committee held a public hearing on the proposal. Everyone agreed Michigan's highway system could become the nation's finest for $500 million.

After the hearing, several Taxation Committee members said they were ready to report out the Cloon proposal immediately.

But a couple of days later, the Western Michigan scandal got worse instead of "blowing over", as everyone hoped it would. Warrants were issued against two former right-of-way buyers.

As the investigation grew, chances for approval of the Cloon proposal faded.

A few of the bond issue's supporters still hope it may get on the ballot. But others, including several sponsors of the resolution, admit privately that it probably will die. One Senator put it this way: "I'm afraid the voters would be reluctant to give the Department $500 million after reading in the newspapers about all of these alleged irregularities. 'The highway scandal couldn't have come at a worse time.'"

The size of Michigan's State Police force may be increased by at least 50 troopers by the Legislature. That's the prediction of a member of the House Ways and Means Committee who asked that his name not be used.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs has asked for about 160 new men while Gov. G. Mennen Williams recommended increasing size of the force by at least 100.

An increase of 50 men would raise size of State Police to about 750. Most of the new men would be used to patrol highways.

Michigan's new medium security prison probably will be built at Ionia despite a report recommending six other possible sites. The Legislature must decide whether it will be a 600, 800 or 1,200-inmate institution and also pick a site before adjourning Apr. 9.

Lawmakers from areas named as possible sites may fight to keep it from Ionia but it will be for a lost cause. Key legislators have been told it will cost less to build at Ionia and that will be the biggest factor in reaching decision.

It's official now. More babies were born in Michigan during 1953 than in any previous year. The State Health Department says preliminary figures show more than 181,000 babies were born.

Dan Gerber, president of Gerber Baby Foods, Inc., of Fremont, says there were fewer "first babies born in 1953 than in 1952 but the number of second, third, fourth and fifth babies born in a family continued to increase.

MICHIGAN FEATURE SERIES prepared by MICHIGAN TOURIST COUNCIL ... No. 61

The Conservation Department reports that 1,140,000 hunting licenses, an all-time high, were sold in Michigan last year. Previous high was 1,104,090 licenses sold in 1952.

The new record was set despite a drop of nearly 20,000 in the number of deer licenses sold last fall.

Veteran political observers at the State Capitol were predicting a bright political future for freshman Rep. Richard G. Smith (R-Bay City.)

Many of his colleagues compare him with Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

"Why, he even looks like the governor from a distance," one House member said. "If he were just a little older, he would be the Republican party's best candidate to run against Williams. And he'd beat him, too!"

Smith, who is 31 years old, served in the South Pacific with the First Marine Division during World War II, received a law degree in 1950.

Like Williams, he is tall, athletic appearing, has a so-called "boyish" face, and wears bow ties.

Social Workers Discuss Public Relations Problems

Abraham Brickner was a panel member at a workshop entitled "Selling Social Work", at the 17th Annual Conference of the Michigan Society for Mental Health on Mar. 18, in Detroit. A psychiatric social work supervisor at the Northville State Hospital, Brickner is vice-president of the Detroit Chapter of the American Association of Psychiatric Social Workers.

Appearing as panel guests were Jack Pickering, feature writer of the Detroit Times, and Douglas Campbell, special representative of WXYZ radio and T.V. station. The panel discussion leader was Miss Dorothy Schroeder, assistant professor at the University of Michigan School of Social Work.

The discussion centered on how social workers can provide an interpretive public relations program in order to correct many popular misconceptions as to what social workers do and how they are working to achieve professional goals.

A second social work session in the afternoon was devoted to problems of licensing or registration of social workers in Michigan. Speakers included Barrett Lyons, administrative assistant to the Michigan Department of Social Welfare and Ernest H. Smith, assistant to the General Secretary of the Family Service Association of Cleveland, O.

Oakland County Residents Lag In Blood Donations

President Dwight D. Eisenhower, with high praise for the American Red Cross' day-by-day work, has proclaimed March as Red Cross month throughout the United States. "The services of the Red Cross demonstrate our nation's tradition of neighbor," he said. "They help prepare our people to save lives and mitigate suffering both in time of peace and in time of national emergency. I urge every American during this month to cooperate in furthering the work of this humanitarian organization."

Every 20 seconds - all last year some hospital patient received a blood transfusion from a fellow American through the American Red Cross. But Dr. E. W. Bauer of Hazel Park, Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross blood chairman, reports that Oakland County is lagging dangerously behind its quota. "Although local men and women donated 11,555 pints of blood in 1953 - some 555 over the annual quota of 11,000 pints, our 1954 quota has been raised, and we need more mobiles to meet it."

Novi Auxiliary Police To Augment Civil Defense Unit There

The Novi Civil Defense Auxiliary Police service is seeking new members, according to Henry Turner, in charge of the unit, said this week.

In case of necessity, Turner said, it is planned to have a force trained, manned and organized so that it will be capable of applying security measures to the township as a whole.

Men are needed, Turner said, who will be available to man traffic control points on all main roads leading into the township; to form a moving road patrol; to serve as security guards and to protect public buildings and utility services. Considering that any such extensive program must be on a 24-hour basis, a considerable number of men are needed. For convenience of assembly and speed in operation Mr. Turner suggests that men volunteer for duty close to their homes. A training course for Auxiliary Police will be inaugurated when the first aid classes are terminated.

Those interested are asked to call Northville 180-M11 for information.

Friendly Spirit —

pointed to the nearness of parking facilities to local stores as an additional incentive for local shoppers.

The club agreed quite generally that although some Northville stores have attractive exteriors, the business section does not have a prosperous look.

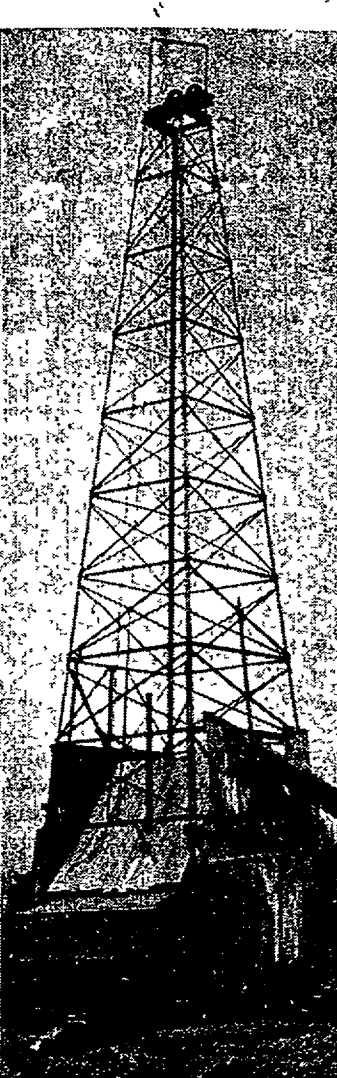

The adequacy of hospital facilities was judged by the club on the assumption that the Northville trading area covers a radius of 20 miles. Such an area includes the west side of Detroit, in which are located New Grace Hospital, Mt. Carmel Hospital and others, and Ann Arbor with its St. Joseph's Hospital. On this basis, the membership voted that there is a modern hospital within the trading area. The two local hospitals were also complimented by doctors present as meeting many local demands adequately.

Fire Rates Low
Del Hahn cited fire insurance rates in Northville and neighboring communities as proof that local rates are low. Detroit's rate is $16 per $1,000 and Northville's rate is $18. Other communities in this area—Walled Lake, Novi and Keego Harbor, have a rate of $28 per $1,000, he said.

Waldo Johnson reported that the public library in Northville has more than 8,000 books on its shelves and upon request can provide any book from the Wayne County Library collection.

In voting that newcomers quickly feel they're part of the town, Optimist Club members stipulated that those who wish to make friends here will be rewarded in direct ratio to the effort they are willing to put forth. They cited the churches as probably the easiest way of making initial friendships that can lead to broader acquaintanceship throughout the village. Local service clubs—Rotary, Exchange and Optimist—also were mentioned as anxious to make newcomers feel at home.

James E. Littell acted as moderator.

OIL MAY FLOW soon from this well on the Charles Nerzler farm, 53229 Eight Mile Rd. At least that is the hope of the drillers, who were reported Wednesday to be at a depth of approximately 700 feet. A new well is expected to be started across the road next week.

Ton of Clothes Expected To Be Collected Here

Northville grade school children will join next week in a nation-wide clothing collection drive designed to help needy children in all parts of the world, according to C. T. Pregitzer, school principal who is in charge of the drive in this area. Nearly a ton of clothing is expected to be collected here.

"The theme of the drive is Children Giving to Children," Pregitzer said. "In war-torn Korea, and in many countries of Europe and the Middle East, there are tens of thousands of homeless children and babies who have nothing but rags to wear. Many of them are orphans, too, and even in our own land of plenty, there are children who look to us to help supply them with their barest clothing needs."

Although there have been no clothing collections in Northville for the past two or three years, the principal said, previous experience shows that between 1600 and 2000 pounds should be collected here. There will be no house-to-house canvassing. Children of the grade school will decide, with the aid of their parents, what clothing they can give, and will deposit the garments in paper bags provided in the school.

The bags will be collected from the various rooms on Mar. 26, and will be shipped to the "Save The Children Federation" at Knoxville, where the garments will be sorted for distribution in all parts of the world.

Novi Minstrel Show Plays To Capacity Houses

Novi's home-talent minstrel show, "Never a Dull Moment", played to capacity houses during its two-night stand last week, and Frank Watz, president of the Novi Board of Commerce, which sponsored the show, announced himself as well pleased. Funds resulting from the performances will be used for improvements around the community, Watz said.

Alfred C. Porritt produced and directed the minstrel, with Walter Tuck acting as entertainment chairman, William Norris as interlocutor and Evelyn Woods as pianist.

Included in the cast were: Dirk Groeneweg, Glenn Schulte, Les Clark, Cecil Rayburn, Bill MacDermaid, Jerry Trotter, Kay Feehan, Ruth Ryan, Toni Bondi, Jackie Ethier, Leo Harwood, Frank Watz, Al Harnden, J. W. Erwin, Jack Crawford, Harold Miller, Leo Campbell, George Bennett, Cecil Rayburn, James Hollis and Mr. McLucas. Usherettes were Carol Wendland, Sharon Edelmann, Sharon Clarke, Judy Wood, Mary Schenimann and Claudia Mairs.

Grand Opening of New Ford Agency Is Set for Friday

Ceremonies will begin at 9 a.m., and visitors will be welcome to inspect the new agency from that time until ten o'clock in the evening. Parking during the event will be free anywhere in town.

Talk On Metalcraft

Miss Artura Verschaeve (left) and Mrs. A. J. Verschaeve, both of Detroit, spoke on metalcraft work and design at the last meeting of the Northville Woman's Club.

Members of the Northville Woman's Club showed marked interest at their meeting last week in a talk on metalcraft by Mrs. A. J. Verschaeve and Miss Artura Verschaeve.

Miss Verschaeve described in detail the steps in making a silver ring and the materials required in metalcraft work. She has studied under Greta Pack at Cass Technical High School, Detroit, and with Arthur Neville Kirk at Wayne University.

Mrs. Verschaeve demonstrated with an electric kiln the enameling of a copper tray with a design made by using glass threads. She has an extensive background in design, having majored in art at both the University of Michigan and Wayne University. She has also studied art at the Wicker School of Fine Arts in Detroit, the Chicago Art Institute, and the Woodstock School of Painting.

Especially interesting to club members was the collection of jewelry and enamelware made by Mrs. Verschaeve and her daughter. It included examples of scrofito, limoges and the difficult-to-make plique-a-jour. Outstanding among the articles shown was a Silver Celtic cross, on which a cloisonne design formed the background for a fiber opal.

A short musical program preceded the meeting. Miss Marion McCarthy played a clarinet solo accompanied by Gloria Clark on the piano. This was followed by a flute duet by Irene Jerome and Gloria Clark.

Mrs. Ruth Chase was chairman of the day.

Girl Scout Fair Is Signal Success

A large and enthusiastic audience joined Saturday in making the Girl Scout Fair a signal success. Held at the Northville Presbyterian Church, the fair was attended by sponsoring groups of the various troops, parents of the participants, and many other friends of the scout movement.

One highly honored and welcome guest was Mrs. Warren B. Cooks, president of the Detroit Metropolitan Council of Girl Scouts.

Presentation of the Colors and the singing of "America the Beautiful" prefaced the welcoming address of Mrs. C. M. Goodrich, president of the Council. In her talk Mrs. Goodrich stressed the need for more leaders and co-leaders. She also paid a signal tribute to Miss Marlene Coykendall, a Senior Scout, who has been made chairman of the Juliette Low Fund and, thus, automatically becomes a member of the Girl Scout Council.

International in theme, the program which followed was performed with precision and accuracy worthy of a professional group. A total of 230 girls from 15 troops, ranging in age from 7 to 17 years, took part. Each act was announced by two girls in the costume of the country to be honored. Entertainment ranged from songs typifying the various countries, through a spirited Irish jig and on to a smashing climax with a hilarious performance by a German band.

Later each troop displayed its accomplishments of the past year and offered for sale handsome items, baked goods, candy and cold drinks.

Lucien Lovewell Second In Legion Oratorical Contest

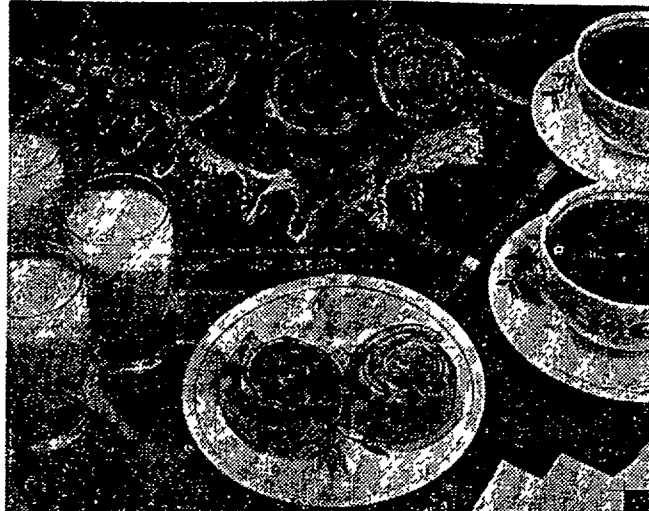

For the second year in a row, a Northville youth has placed second in the Third Zone American Legion Oratorical Contest.

Lucien Lovewell, of Northville, competing with candidates from five congressional districts at Lansing last week, was awarded runner-up honors. The winner represented Lansing Sexton High School.

Lovewell two days previously had won the 17th District contest held at the Veterans' Memorial home here, vying with candidates from Northville, Plymouth and Redford.

Thomas Rowe of Plymouth was second, and Marge Chamberlain of Redford Union High School was third in the district contest. The theme of the contest was "The Constitution of the United States". Grant Wessell, director of Forensics at Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, judged the entries, and Miss Florence Panatoni, speech instructor, coached the Northville contestants.

Sweet Rolls for Dieters? Sure!

Dieters are learning that many foods, frequently thought of as being "forbidden" because of their high calorie content, can now be theirs. Because the new non-caloric sweetener, Sucaryl, can be cooked right in a recipe just like other ingredients, sugar and many unwanted calories can be eliminated.

For instance, today's recipe, Low Calorie Sweet Rolls, has lost just about 40 per cent of the calories these rolls would contain if made with sugar.

Breakfast rolls—especially those made with yeast—are very easy to make. Plan to make them the day before you want to serve them for breakfast because three or four hours of "rising time" are needed for the yeast. But the actual preparation time involved is only a few minutes. And they are such fun to do!

Low Calorie Sweet Rolls

3/4 cup scalded skim milk 1/4 cup warm water (90°F.)
1-1/2 teaspoon Sucaryl solution 1 egg, beaten or 12 tablets, crushed 3-1/2 cups enriched flour
1/4 cup shortening 1 tablespoon melted butter
2 pkgs. active, dry yeast Raisin Filling*

Combine first three ingredients. Cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast on warm water; stir until dissolved. Add to milk mixture; beat smooth. Add egg and 1/2 of the flour; beat smooth. Place cut side down in greased muffin pans or on greased cookie sheet. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk. Bake in hot oven, 400°F. for 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 24.

Each roll contains 83 calories; 2 grams protein; 3 grams fat; 12 grams carbohydrate.
If made with sugar each roll would contain 142 calories.

Mr. Glen Truesdell states:—"From February 2, 1950 to February 7, 1951, we used 1333 gallons of oil as against our previous high pressure burner average of 2000 gallons per year. Last fall was much colder yet our Winkler low-pressure burner saved us 667 gallons which means $89.10 we saved in one year.

At this rate our fuel oil savings will pay for the Winkler burner in less than 4 years.

Besides saving money, our home is more comfortable with even temperatures, and there is no odor of oil. Our Winkler Burner should take care of any possible fuel oil restrictions and give us full heating comfort for years to come.

Northville Debaters Look to New Laurels After Successful Season

Members of the Forensic Club of Northville this week were resting on their laurels and looking for new horizons to conquer following an unusually successful season. Established to meet the speech and drama interests of Northville students, the club at present has 50 members. Officers this year are Jean Nieuwkoop, president; Mary Lovewell, secretary, and Marcia Doeksen, treasurer.

This year, the Northville debate team composed of members of the club, won the Wayne-Oakland County League debate championship with eight wins and no losses. They went on into regional competition to win two and lose one. Debaters who took part in tournament debating this year were Bernhardt Mueller, David Mosher, James Mosher, Donna Frisbie, Barbara Prunty, Mary and Lucien Lovewell. The club supports Optimist, oratorical and spring forensic contests. This year over 50 students are involved in these contests. Their names will be presented later in connection with the contest in which they are involved. An opportunity for acting is also offered by the club through student directed one-act plays. These will be presented as an assembly program in April.

Funds for the club are raised by student sponsored activities and by a yearly donation of $100 from the Optimist Club of Northville.

Molasses Cookies Are Spring Tonic

Instead of sulphur and molasses, make gingerbread cookies as a spring tonic. The sulphur portion went out when a year-long supply of fruits and vegetables was assured. Nor is it necessary to have sulphur in molasses... it gets there only when molasses is a by-product of sugar making. "Unsulphured" molasses is sugar cane juice which has been clarified, concentrated and aged. Its rich aromatic flavor comes from sun-ripened cane.

Unsulphured molasses is an energy food and a very good source of iron. However, credit its taffy flavor for the fact that gingerbread men have been, and continue to be, cookie classics popular with all who eat them.

Gingerbread Men

1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup unsulphured molasses
1 egg
2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cloves
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Cream together shortening, sugar, and unsulphured molasses. Add egg; mix well. Sift together flour, salt, soda, baking powder, and spices. Add to molasses mixture; mix well. Chill in refrigerator 1 1/2 hours. Roll out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Cut with 6-inch gingerbread man cookie cutter. Press in pieces of raisins for eyes, mouth, and buttons. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Cool. Frost if desired.

YIELD: 1 1/2 dozen.

Picture Mounting Board

ARTISTS like to feel that their paintings are not only for contemporary enjoyment but "for the ages." In time, canvas will rot. Of course, it is fragile to begin with and subject to tears and rents.

Many artists nowadays are using a modern building material, Masonite Tempered Presdwood, available in lumber yards, instead of canvas. It's easy to paint on, and its durability is unquestioned.

In addition to being useful for the painting itself, the Tempered Presdwood makes an ideal backing for artistic work executed on paper or canvas. As illustrated, the artist simply attaches the painting on the hardboard with waterproof glue, leaving a properly-proportioned margin around the edges.

Corners of the backing material should be rounded and the exposed edges lightly sanded. To hang a picture or photograph mounted in this manner, use picture wire, attaching it to the back of the hardboard by means of glued-on paper hangers.

Tempered Presdwood sawed into small rectangles or even into special shapes with a coping saw, which cuts curves, is an ideal mounting for the display of snapshots or photo enlargements. Use rubber cement, so that occasional changes of picture may be made.

CENSORSHIP OF COMICS

A Royal Oak legislator, policy, and civic leaders favor the censorship of comic books by state legislation. Others believe that "Freedom of the Press" demands that nothing be censored. Policy who have to cope with the vandalism and juvenile delinquency in our metropolitan areas are quick to condemn certain types of comic books because they have found that they do suggest all sorts of crime to youthful minds. The Bible plainly tells us that "Out of the heart of man proceeds evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, etc." and what a man "thinketh in his heart so is he" it is plain to see that pollution of the heart will result in all sorts of wrong doing. Because of the very nature of a human being he is influenced by what he sees and by what he hears whether he realizes it or not. It is therefore better that his eyes be shielded and his ears fail to hear the suggestions of sin. So, fathers and mothers, may I suggest that you TAKE your children to Sunday School and Church where the Gospel is preached that they may hear what is good and to bring them up in Christian influence in the home, and do not allow the hearts of yourself or children to be polluted.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Victory over human limitations comes as we learn that man's true selfhood is spiritual, not material, and that he lives in Spirit, God, not in matter—this is a leading point in the Lesson-Sermon to be heard at Christian Science services Sunday.

In the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Matter" the following Bible verses will be read from Isaiah:

"Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord" (55:6-8).

The following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will also be read:

"The perfect Mind sends forth perfection, for God is Mind. Imperfect mortal mind sends forth its own resemblances, of which the wise man said, 'All is vanity'" (239:29).

The Golden Text is from Isaiah: "The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever" (40:8).

When Their World Crashed... RED CROSS HEARD THEIR CALLS

Port Huron, Mich. Times-Herald photograph by Ralph Polovich

Upper Right: After the devastating Greek earthquake last August, 3-year-old Stamatis Frangoulis sat on a hospital bed with her name pinned to her dress, as doctors dressed her fractured leg and injured head. Greek Red Cross workers finally located her mother alive, after a month's search, and re-united the pair. The American Red Cross conducted a nation-wide appeal for funds to aid victims.

Lower Right: Fire, which completely ravaged a Chicago, Ill., apartment building, killed seven, injured six, and affected 100 persons, left Michael Cruz, 2 1/2, bewildered and frightened. Here the terrified youngster is being comforted by Mrs. Rodna Nye, Red Cross disaster representative, who established disaster headquarters at the scene of the fire.

Last year the Red Cross aided an average of one person every five minutes among those suffering disaster injury or loss, as sudden death and destruction struck communities across the United States on an average of six times every week. The 1954 Red Cross Campaign for $85,000,000 and 30,000,000 members, now underway, enables everyone to serve his neighbors in distress or need.

Novi Civic Highlights

(As a public service and through the cooperation of this newspaper and local officials, this series of articles on Novi Township government is being presented by the West Road Property Holders Association, Inc.)

Civil Defense Warden Service

The Civil Defense Warden Service might very aptly be termed the backbone of the Civil Defense System. In CD planning, the wardens bring the average resident and his resources to the CD organization and, in war or disaster, the wardens bring the CD organization and its resources to the resident.

The warden is familiar with his neighbors and neighborhood. In case of local disaster his warning not only sets in motion the various relief services such as rescue, fire-fighting, medical aid, etc., but he is qualified to direct stopgap measures while awaiting the arrival of those services. These on-the-spot emergency measures by men properly trained to initiate and direct them may often substantially cut down the loss of life and destruction of property.

Through his knowledge of his locality, the warden can supply his CD organization with data on qualified personnel, necessary equipment, shelter space, etc., which could be called upon in case of extreme emergency. He can facilitate the work of medical or rescue teams at the scene of a disaster by leading them to the more seriously injured or to buildings the occupants of which have not all been accounted for. He knows the children, aged, ill and crippled in his locality and can thus facilitate the work of necessary evacuation.

As in other Civil Defense services, the warden is not to be regarded merely as a man who serves only in time of war. His capabilities, training and knowledge of his locality and the residents, may be called upon in any local disaster whether disaster is of large proportions as one occasioned by flood, tornado or conflagration or whether the disaster is a fire in an isolated farmhouse.

Novi Civil Defense needs wardens. The Chief of the Warden Service is Ken Bassett. Put your capabilities to work. Phone Mr. Bassett at Northville 993-M12 and volunteer as a warden.

CD First Aid Classes

The Novi Civil Defense organization is sponsoring classes in first aid at the Novi Township Hall each Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m.

Starting Mar. 17, Mr. Smith of the Oakland County Red Cross will instruct the class. All those interested are urged to attend.

Township Treasurer

The township treasurer is elected for a two year term. His duties include the collection of all tax monies levied in the township. These levies are composed of counties and local school districts taxes and special assessments. Subject to the approval of the Township Board, he pays all township bills. All monies taken in by the building inspector on building permits are turned over to the treasurer. His books are audited once each year and he is required to submit an annual statement to the township board at the designated annual meeting.

Not the least of his duties is the collection of taxes listed due on the delinquent tax roll. These are taxes not paid by Mar. 1 of the year due. He must properly segregate the amounts due to the county and to the ten school districts in Novi Township. Since not all school districts exact a uniform tax levy this involves considerable work and record maintenance.

Township Clerk

The township clerk gives notice to the members of township board meetings and serves as the recorder of the proceedings. He is charged with the publishing of ordinances, notices of hearings thereon, and notices of elections. He maintains records of the board of review and of voter registration. Along with the township supervisor he prepares jury duty lists. The township clerk must see that there is adherence by those who apply for liquor licenses to the procedural requirements dictated by statute. He signs plats of property in the township, checks on the eligibility of candidates for office, swears in election boards and sets up voting machines.

A complete list of ALL duties of these public officials would occupy much more space than the above. Those duties listed serve to show the general function of the official.

Novi Cracks Down on Sub-Standard Housing

At its March meeting the Novi Township Board unanimously supported a resolution presented by member Bernard Kilson calling for more rigid enforcement of the local laws on housing standards and the citation of those owners who are in violation.

An inspection fee schedule was established under the newly adopted electrical wiring code. Inspection costs for the average house would be approximately $3.50 to $7.00. Under the new ordinance a home owner can still do his own wiring on a home-owners permit but standards of safety are established which also serve as minimum requirements for compliance by electrical contractors.

4-H Girls in CD Program

At a meeting held Mar. 2 at the home of member Sue Tobin, the Novi 4-H girls voted unanimously to help the Novi CD program by preparing bandages for stockpiling by the medical service. This project is to begin in April. Individual members, who meet the age requirements, are volunteering for the first aid courses.

This very active group is under the direction of Mrs. Sally Wimer.

FISH SCIENTISTS REPORT

Michigan's Institute for Fisheries Research reveals some startling progress in their projects completed during the past year. For instance, they report a new pellet form of dry meal food for hatchery fish that not only fulfills every diet need of the growing trout, but actually produces a flavor that is declared superior to that of wild trout! (This form no less an authority than the "home ec" department at Michigan State College.)

The report further states that the new dry pellet food will produce a one pound trout for about 25¢—and that's really cutting the cost of hatchery living compared to past expenses.

River and Stream Report

Michigan's more than 36,000 miles of rivers and streams (half of which contain trout) are undergoing careful study, too. The nation's most ambitious watershed improvement program centers around the Rifle River—and results may set an entirely new pattern in fish management. Added protective cover along the river has proven its value in the Rifle as well as the Pine River.

New Fishing Sites

Thirty six new public fishing sites have been added, bringing the total

Regulations Relaxed

Much to the consternation of "die-hard" fishing groups, laws governing fishing seasons and creel and size limits are being eyed suspiciously by the researchers, who are inclined to believe many of them unnecessary. Man is certainly not to be classed among the important enemies of fish in most instances. Predation and disease, together with starvation are far more deadly than the anglers' lures. Consequently, say the investigating biologists, why legislate against fishing when some lakes actually need more fishermen to help cut down the surplus? Confusing, isn't it? Anyway, Michigan won't be the first state to tell us to fish anywhere anytime we like, for any number of fish we can catch. A good many other states beat us to the punch on that one! And some of them have been following that belief for long enough to prove fishermen's luck is on the upgrade wherever regulations are eased off!

So watch for changes in Michigan fishing laws in the not far distant future!

664,000 Resident Hunting Licenses Were Sold in 1953

Lansing, Mar. 17—Michigan license dealers sold about 664,000 residents hunting licenses during 1953, the conservation department reports.

The total was about 18,000 above 1952. The total of all hunting license sales—including all deer and small game types, both residents and non-resident—will be at least 1,140,000.

Final computations for the year will not be completed until June, but A. L. McNeil, in charge of license sales, estimated the total from returns already received. McNeil said 427,000 resident and 10,870 nonresident firearm deer licenses were sold last year. Also, 27,800 resident and 2370 nonresident bow and arrow deer licenses were sold.

In addition to the 664,000 resident small game license sales, 7200 nonresident permits were sold.

On the side of fishing, sales were very close to those made in 1952.

McNeil says that 843,723 resident license sales have been tallied to date, only slightly below the 1952 sales of 843,788.

In addition, 140,200 temporary non-resident and 163,100 annual non-resident permits were sold during the year.

Trout stamp sales were earlier reported above the 200,000 sale mark, the first time that figure had been reached since the stamps were inaugurated in 1948. At present, total trout stamp sales are listed at close to 205,000.

Wild Life Notes...

RARE DOES—

Game workers now have two reports of fawn does being killed in highway accidents, each of which was carrying twin fawns. Both were killed this month, one just west of Ionia, the other southwest of Hastings. Each expectant mother was 8-9 months old.

Such reports have come only from the southern lower peninsula, where adequate food supplies help deer develop rapidly.

Occasionally fawns in the northern lower peninsula give birth to a single fawn, but the general rule in the north is that does do not become mothers until their second year of life. No case of a twin birth to a fawn mother is on record from the upper or northern lower peninsulas.

"HUNKIES"—

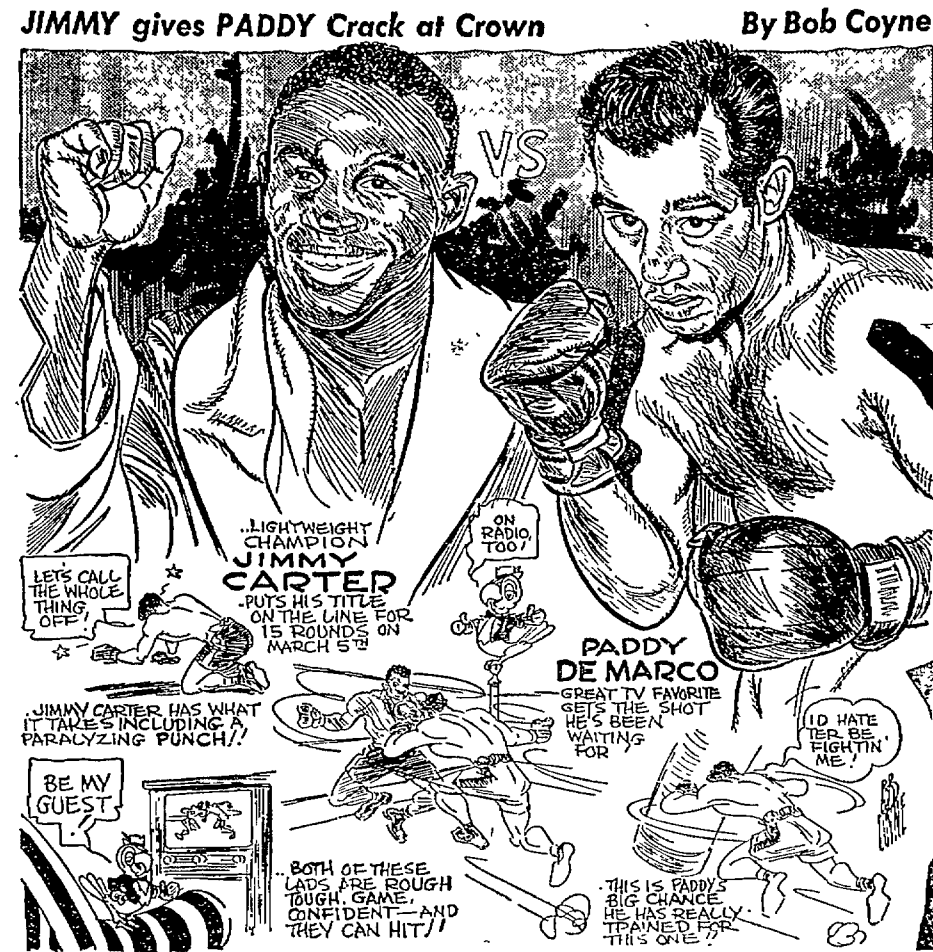

Lansing, Mar. 10—A concentration of 11 Hungarian partridge was reported this week in the farmyard of George Kerstetter, northwest of Charlotte in Eaton County, game men note.

They say this is not a common occurrence, though "Hunkies" have often been seen in southern counties in recent years. One Detroit area observer reported earlier this winter that 25 were feeding in a flock near his home.

In all, from 1930 to 1950, the conservation department released about 10,000 of the partridges in the southern lower peninsula. The birds never seemed able to flourish.

Cadillac

It Speaks a Universal Language!

It's the great 1954 Cadillac—and it speaks not only with great eloquence, but in a language which is known and understood wherever there are roads to travel... and people to behold.

First of all, it speaks of its owner—the minute its beautiful hood comes into view.

"Here is a man," it says—almost as plainly as the words are written here—"who has earned the right to sit at this wheel—by his industry and deportment and enterprise. Be he merchant or lawyer or businessman—or doctor or farmer or financier—the odds are great that he's a credit to his calling and to his fellow men.

"Accept him accordingly—and you'll likely be right in your judgment."

And then, as it comes closer, it speaks its special message for 1954—the story of its own advancement.

Its beautiful silhouette—graceful, free-flowing and dynamic—announces a whole new era in automotive design... "expect me to be copied for years to come!"

And its smooth, silent, easy movement—a true symphony in motion as it glides past and on and away—says with clarity and eloquence that the world's standard for performance has been raised again.

And remember—the wonderful "voice" of a 1954 Cadillac, with its significant message, comes as a bonus to the man who sits at the wheel.

It comes in addition to all the priceless fundamentals which make a Cadillac a Cadillac: unrivalled endurance and dependability—incomparable comfort and handling ease—and unbelievable economy of upkeep and operation.

Better come in—and let a Cadillac speak for you!
