Northville Record subscribers in and near Northville will receive this week a questionnaire designed to obtain a cross section of local opinion about many aspects of village life. The 38 questions to which answers are sought were prepared originally by the Pathfinder and Town Journal, a national magazine devoted to community affairs. To answer them honestly is like giving your doctor a complete history of yourself since birth, including physical blemishes ordinarily kept from sight and not mentioned.

The Record is distributing the questions to broaden the opinion poll which the Northville Optimist club has been taking among its own members. The club's procedure has been to have one or two of its members discuss particular questions on which they may be especially well informed. Then a vote is taken on a "yes" and "no" basis. Some of the answers given by the club members have been of unusual interest.

In sending the questions to a broad list of local people it is realized that in some instances those attempting to answer them will have insufficient knowledge to express an informed opinion. Nevertheless, even though the final tabulation of opinion on a specific matter may be contrary to the actual fact, this is important because steps can then be taken to inform the public correctly.

The object of the questionnaire is to eliminate discussion and understanding of matters that are of importance to every village and city.

Seldom have we agreed with Senator McCarthy's tactics in the past, but now, when the cards are down and he is seemingly in a tough spot with the army, we cannot but sympathize with his demand for the privilege of cross examining those who may testify against him. The right of every man to face his accuser, and to cross examine him in the interest of bringing out the truth, has been an inalienable privilege in America since the Founding Fathers signed the Constitution. Rather, it was so regarded until Senator McCarthy came upon the scene. Since then, unfortunately, the Senator has trampled rough shod over the supposedly inalienable rights of a great many citizens in his quest for Communists. No one can disagree with his objectives, but his methods in achieving them have left much to be desired.

We feel privately that in the Senator's case the old adage "what's sauce for the goose, is sauce for the gander" should prevail. As an accused individual, McCarthy probably deserves no more consideration than he has accorded to witnesses before his committee.

Nevertheless, the coming showdown between McCarthy, Cohn, Shine, et. al. and the army is a matter in which the truth must be brought out. If McCarthy were to have the privilege of cross examination, the same privilege could hardly be withheld from counsel for the army. The Senator has proved himself a master at obscuring the real issue on many occasions in the past. Perhaps his efforts at cross examination now might further confuse the issue in the public's mind. Nevertheless, we would like to see every step taken to learn the truth of the charges and counter-charges in this McCarthy-Army squabble.

If cross examination of witnesses will help, let us permit it. At least, Joe couldn't cry "foul" if the army's charges are accepted as true by the general public.

New Gas Well Spurs Drilling Near Northville

Planning Expert Predicts Phenomenal Growth In Area Will Continue

Phenomenal growth has been the pattern for northwestern Wayne county in the past four years, and probably will be for some years to come, but the Northville area will be passed by unless a number of significant changes occur.

This opinion was given members of the Northville Rotary club Tuesday noon by Paul Reed, planning analyst of the Metropolitan Planning commission. Projecting the past four years of this area's growth 20 years into the future, Reed told the Rotarians that the block of six communities extending from Northville and Plymouth to Redford, known as Area 8, can expect an increase of approximately 200,000 manufacturing employees by 1970. However, he said, most of these will settle in sections other than Northville, primarily because there are few residential areas here that are suitable for development, and because there is considerable opposition to expansion of the village into a city.

Northville In "Strait Jacket"

Tom Carrington, one of Northville's representatives on the regional planning board, said in introducing Reed that Northville itself is in a "strait jacket" so far as growth possibilities are concerned. Discussing this assertion informally after the meeting, he pointed out that much outlying acreage is owned by the Detroit House of Correction, Maybury sanatorium and the Wayne County Training school, and a large portion of the remainder is taken up in small estates whose owners do not want to be taken into an expanded community. On the north side, he said, the village is up against the Novi township boundary, and residents there also resist incorporation into Northville as a city.

Outlining the work of the planning commission, Reed said it had been set up under a state law, and is composed of 25 commissioners representing municipalities, townships and similar areas, and 23 representing business groups.

The mission of the board, he said, is to assist local communities in planning for the future; development of trends affecting the region; increasing the understanding of the planning process.

Supermarket At Walled Lake Burns

Fire caused several thousand dollars worth of damage early Tuesday to the Lakeside Packing Co., a supermarket and slaughter house on Pontiac Trail near W. Maple Rd. at Walled Lake.

Firemen from Commerce township, Novi, Milford and West Bloomfield, who fought the blaze for two hours said it had apparently smoldered in wall insulating material since last Thursday when welder's sparks touched off a small blaze which workmen thought they had completely extinguished.

The most extensive damage was to the front end of the retail department, offices on the second floor and the storeroom. Robert Buffmeyer, owner, stated they hoped to be open for business this week end.

Plymouth Man Is Stabbed By 2 Escaped Convicts

Two escaped convicts who terrorized a Plymouth township household last Friday night and stabbed a father trying to shield his baby daughter, will appear for examination in the court of Justice Leo O. Nye in Livonia at 9:30 next Monday.

The two, Robert Lee Simmons, 28, of Detroit, and James Banks, 40, of Flint, were captured Saturday in Toledo and were arraigned in Justice Nye's court Monday morning after officers returned them from the Ohio city. Both stood mute, and following the customary directed plea of not guilty, were remanded to the Wayne county jail to await their second appearance.

They face charges of armed robbery, and lengthening of their sentences at the Detroit House of Correction.

Stabbed In Back

Donald and Irene Tapp, who live at 44505 Gov. Bradford Rd., told officers that Simmons and Banks forced their way into the Tapp home Friday night, shortly after the two convicts escaped from the city prison. Tapp, who was holding his ten-day-old

Citizens Asked To Ballot On "Rate Your Town"

What is your opinion of Northville?

Members of the Northville Optimist club, who last week conducted a forum on a number of questions taken from a national "Rate Your Town" list, have issued an invitation to residents of Northville to submit their own opinions.

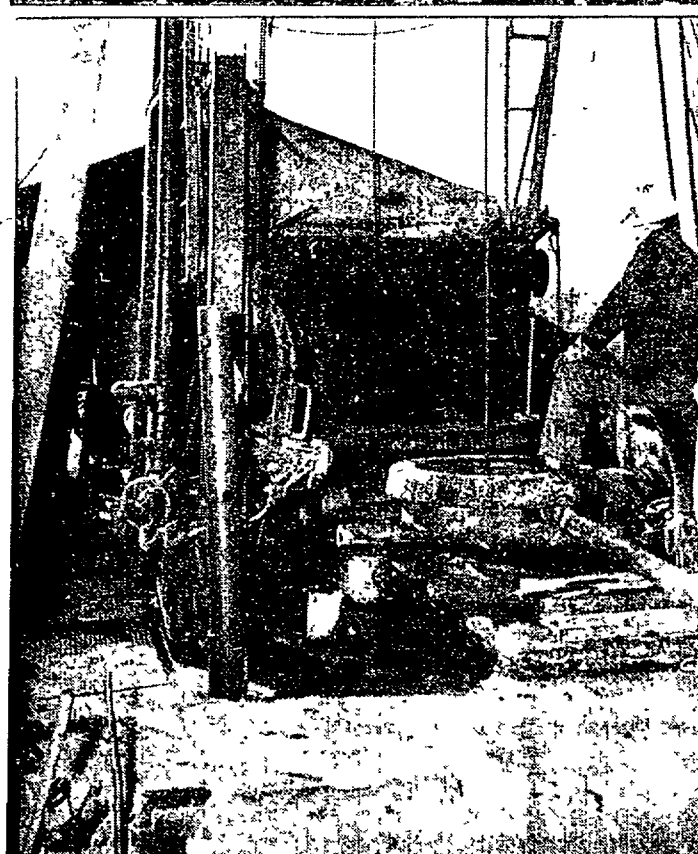

Within the next few days, subscribers to The Record residing in the village and immediate vicinity will receive a card listing 38 questions pertaining to Northville, its government, facilities, schools and activities. The cards are to be returned to the Optimist club and will be evaluated by a committee appointed by Dr. Kenneth Eastland, president of the club. The results will then be announced. They should point out both strong points and weaknesses, and should stimulate action in correcting deficiencies, the club members believe.

The "Rate Your Town" project was recently instituted by Pathfinder magazine, and already has created intense interest in many communities throughout the nation. Realizing that the questions contained in the quiz presented an opportunity to be of service to the Northville community, the Optimist club has devoted two meetings to the subject, with Don Lawrence as program chairman and James E. Littell acting as

11 New Oil Drilling Permits Issued to Michigan Operators

Lansing—Eleven drilling permits were issued to gas and oil operators in Michigan last week, conservation department geologists report.

Two each were issued for wells in Washtenaw, Oakland and Cass counties, and single permits were issued for drilling in Mecosta, Clinton, Allegan, Clare and Wayne counties.

FIRE SUNDAY NIGHT badly damaged the interior of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Konopaski, 317 Yerkes St. The blaze is believed to have started from defective wiring, and in addition to damaging the house, destroyed considerable clothing. The Konopaskis and their two children are staying with Mrs. Konopaski's mother at 302 Yerkes St. until the home is again ready for occupancy.

Wilson Farm In Salem Twp. Is Scene Of Strike

Further evidence that an extensive oil and gas field, possibly of major proportions, exists in the Northville area, was provided Saturday when a new natural gas well was struck in on the farm of Ralph Wilson, 10489 Seven Mile Rd.

The new well, reported as having a pressure of nearly 5,500,000 pounds, is in Salem township, Washtenaw county, about half a mile from the Roy LeMaster well where oil was struck in December. According to L. C. Peterson, superintendent of the William C. Taggart Drilling Co., the

City of Detroit May Get Into Act

The City of Detroit may get into the oil business.

After the Detroit Health Dept. on Tuesday withdrew its objections to drilling for oil and gas at the city-owned Maybury sanatorium at Northville, the city council took up consideration of a proposed lease. The lease was asked by C. W. Collins, of Mt. Clemens, who offered $900 and one-eighth royalty for the mineral rights.

recorded pressure of 5,350,000 pounds indicates the well is "a pretty good one". He said the gas well pressures usually do not go above 8,000,000 pounds, and a well with a pressure exceeding 2,000,000 pounds is generally considered valuable.

Oilmen Intrigued. Additional evidence that oilmen are intrigued with the possibility that a vast new field is opening up here is the report from hotels in the area that more than 50 Texas and Oklahoma oilmen are swarming over the ground. They reported that oil trade papers in the southwest are filled with stories of the new strike at Northville.

Meanwhile, news of the Wilson well brought Taggart, owner of the drilling firm and one of Michigan's foremost wildcaters, hurrying back from a Florida vacation to assume personal charge of operations. His crew dismantled the drilling rig and moved it back to the LeMaster farm to start another well 660 feet from the one brought in last December. This is the minimum legal distance allowed between wells.

LeMaster's well is now producing at the rate of 220 barrels per day. Since he receives a royalty for every barrel produced, he remarked humorously last week that he guessed he could stand the inconvenience of having loaded oil trucks go past his house.

4,224 Feet Deep. Workmen said that the gas in the Wilson well was struck at a depth of 4,224 feet. In December, when the LeMaster well was brought in, oil was struck at a depth of 4,397 feet.

According to Supt. Peterson, operations on the Wilson farm were begun Feb. 8 in an abandoned well of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., which then owned the mineral rights. This well had been drilled to a depth of 3,200 feet. Although sulphur gas was found at 850 feet during drilling operations in 1947, the amount was not sufficient to be thought profitable. The drillers continued down to 3,200 feet, found nothing, and abandoned the effort.

After the gas company had allowed its mineral rights to expire, Taggart leased the land in June, 1953, and began drilling again.

In the same year that Consolidated Gas quit, the U.S. Geological Survey predicted that oil would eventually be discovered in the Northville area. The Wilson farm is located over what is known as the Howell Anticline geological formation.

Has Contract

Wilson, who said he has a contract with Taggart calling for a one-eighth royalty on all oil and gas taken from the well, bought the 80-acre farm in 1918. He has been leasing mineral rights at intervals for the past 20 years.

He formerly worked in the engineering department of the Chrysler plant on Jefferson in Detroit and drove 74 miles to and from work each day.

He lives on the farm with his wife, Luella. Their sons, Wilford and Willard, live on sections of the property that Wilson gave them.

For the last nine years Wilson, who is 61, has been living in semi-retirement, earning money from a dairy farm with 30 head of cattle.

Now he hopes that the new gas well on his property will mean that he and his wife can "take things easy".

Township Tax Receipts Total Over $131,000

Approximately 94% of the 1953 taxes on Northville township property for school, county and township purposes have been collected, Roy M. Terrill, township treasurer, reported Monday.

Out of a total sum due of $165,613.79, Terrill said, $131,469.99 has been paid in. This included $592.43 of delinquent personal taxes and $33,551.37 for 1953 personal taxes; $9,448.51 in delinquent real estate taxes and $122,021.48 in 1953 real estate taxes.

Collections for 1952 taxes were 2 per cent higher, Terrill explained, but the total tax roll for that year was $142,669.39. Thus the collections for 1953 mean more money in the township till, despite the lower percentage.

Funeral Services Held for Rev. Hoot

Funeral services were held Monday for Rev. William F. Hoot, for the past 13 years Presbyterian chaplain for Maybury Sanatorium, and also for the new mental hospital. He was an official of the Presbytery of Detroit, and was well known in Detroit as well as Northville.

The services were conducted at the Olivet Presbyterian Church, Woodward and Fort streets, where he formerly was pastor.

Rev. Hoot was born in Dearborn, and was a graduate of Lake Forest College, in Illinois. Surviving are his wife, Lydia; a daughter, Mrs. James Berry of Dearborn, and a son, Edward, of Royal Oak.

Services Held at Capac, Mich for Mrs. F. Fairchild

Funeral services for Mrs. Florence E. Fairchild, who passed away at Sessions Hospital Mar. 17, were held Saturday, Mar. 20 at the Lynn Methodist Church in Capac, Mich.

Mrs. Fairchild, the daughter of Joseph and Mary Jane Reed Harris, was born 89 years ago in Indiana and had lived in Northville and South Lyon for the past 30 years—15 years of which had been spent with her daughter, Mrs. Edgar Adams on John's Rd., South Lyon.

She is survived by two sons: Joseph Fairchild, Lakeland, Fla.; Guy Fairchild, Flint, Mich.; three daughters, Mrs. Lydia Langley, Danville, Ill.; Miss Edna Fairchild at home, and Mrs. Clair Hosner, Kirby, Ark.; Mrs. Edgar Adams, South Lyon; a sister, Mrs. John Duncan, Mishawaka, Ind., and 15 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

THE VILLAGE --- AT WORK

A Visit With Your Neighbors On the Job

In 1944, when the J. J. Zayti Trucking Co. was first organized, the owners did not foresee that in ten years they would own a fleet of 25 trucks and haul coal and salt for the City of Detroit and contribute to the building of important highways in and around Detroit. This volume of business did not just happen but involved planning and several years of hard work.

Last year the main business of the trucking company was the coal and salt contract with the City of Detroit. This year a contract with the S. J. Graves & Sons Co., hauling sand for seven miles of the Toledo-Detroit expressway, keeps the trucks on the road most of the time.

Mrs. Zayti was born in Canada and has lived in Northville since her marriage in 1942. Mr. Zayti was born in Detroit but has lived around Northville most of his life. Like our Villagers at Work last week, both Jay Zayti and his wife, Margaret, are equally active in the company.

The Zayti's live in an attractive farm home on W. Eight Mile Rd. with their three children, Michael 8, Jimmy 4, and Sherry a year and a half old.

Northville Airman Wins Award In Japan

Being a member of the Air Police may not be generally accepted as a pleasing factor in an Air Force popularity contest, but Airman First Class Jack Ratliff, of Northville, does pretty well in spite of it.

Jack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ratliff of 39883 W. Eight Mile Rd., Northville, has been chosen Airman of the Month at the Iwa Kuni air base in Japan. The award is a signal honor, candidates appearing before a board which judges them for popularity, personality and ability. A severe test is whether the successful candidate is well liked by men under them as well as by the officers. Ordinarily, enlisted men look upon Air Policemen askance, but the Northville airman has proven himself a likable fellow.

Now nearly 21, Jack was graduated from Northville High School in the class of 1951. He is 6 feet, 3 inches tall, and weighs 180 pounds.

Another Stock Market Peak

Recently the stock market reached the high point touched in 1929, the year of the great boom, which just preceded the great bust. Even though unemployment has been rising and though sales in many lines of business have decreased recently, the stock market has continued to rise for several months.

The market reflects the confidence of buyers in business and although buyers' actions are not always an accurate clue to the future economy of the country, it has nevertheless often been an indication of good business.

The great exception was in 1929, when the market boom was followed by a resounding crash. However, there are many reasons why the present situation does not parallel that of 1929.

In the first place, stock-buying is now on a more business-like basis. Buyers are required to put down more money and thus the wild speculation of the 1920's is not such an important factor in the stock market rise.

There are also a number of other safety valves to be found in the economy today. There is social security, unemployment compensation, a huge Federal outlay dwarfing that of 1929, bank deposit insurance and many other basic economic supports.

This is not to say that a depression is not possible, or that a depression could not follow the stock market rise. It is to say that another depression, like that which followed the 1929 stock market boom, is not indicated.

We are willing to go on record with the prediction that a crash of the proportion which followed 1929 is nowhere in sight at this time. A recession, or readjustment, whichever one would call it, is already in progress in this country. It could end in a few months or last as long as another year. We believe good business will follow the readjustment, as do most economists, and see no reason for any alarm.

Despite the great exception, in 1929, there is not necessarily a connection between a stock market high and a major depression.

Too Much Butter

Chairman Clifford Hope of the House Agricultural committee says the butter problem is the toughest farm problem facing Congress. The Republican lawmaker from Kansas, President Eisenhower's home state, will open committee hearings in March on new price support legislation.

Despite Hope's general support of President Eisenhower, he has not gone along with the President or his Secretary of Agriculture on their theories in favor of flexible price supports. Rather, Hope is inclined to favor ninety per cent parity price supports.

He says butter, however, is the big headache. It is not one of the basic six crops though the Department of Agriculture has been consistently supporting it at a high parity rate for years. When the department suggested lowering butter supports some time back, butter-state senators and Congressmen raised such a howl the project had to be called off.

So it seems obvious that political pressure (not mandatory high supports) caused aggravation of the butter problem. Currently there is talk of a straight subsidy to butter producers.

Whatever else is done, butter support is in for revision at this session. It is the number-one problem child of the support program at the moment. The government is buying it in, with the taxpayer's money, while at the same time that is running the price up for the same taxpayer. And there is no hiding the fact that there is a butter glut, the government isn't able to sell all it is buying.

The question is delicate because the dairy section of the country is an important segment of the national economy. It is also generally a Republican section. Lower support levels would not be popular among dairy farmers. Yet many Senators and Congressmen are convinced this must come about, unless a substitute—like a subsidy or production payment plan—is used.

Congress isn't in a mood to let butter keep piling up, especially since some of it is now beginning to deteriorate rapidly, while the housewife gripes about surplus butter and high butter prices, in an election year. Yet dairy-state legislators are not going to let any new legislation curtailing butter supports go through without a fight. Meanwhile, the government is losing money steadily on the butter support operation. Something has to give, and it is going to be the present high-level butter support program, even if it is replaced by another uneconomical support program.

TAX REVISION — "Certainly the most monumental piece of legislation to ever come before Congress." That is the way that Chairman Dan Reed of the House Ways and Means Committee described the sweeping Internal Revenue Code Revision of 1954 which passed the House of Representatives last Thursday by a 339-80 vote.

This Republican tax program adds up to $7 billion in tax relief since Jan. 1, 1954. It is the fruit of 300,000 man hours in preparatory work and the testimony of over 600 witnesses. Tax experts from all over the country contributed to the bill. The tax relief thus afforded is divided $4.7 billion to individuals and $2.3 billion to corporations (it continues corporation taxes for one more year at 52%). Under existing law the corporation tax would drop from 52% to 47%—this extension for one year at the same rate will give the Treasury $1,200,000,000 in revenue.

President Eisenhower pointed out that this tax program is the cornerstone on which rests the Nation's hopes for a stronger and safer national economy. It has the support of sound-thinking fiscal experts. The New York Times lauded it, commenting: "Any further substantial tax reduction at this point could be achieved only by making cuts in expenditures that could jeopardize the Nation's domestic and defense programs, or by returning to the huge deficits of recent years and the multitude of problems they produce." Rep. Howard Smith (Democrat of Virginia) expressed the fear that Congress already this year has granted more tax relief than the Treasury can afford. Senator Byrd (Democrat of Virginia): "We are the victims of protracted fiscal irresponsibility. The time is long overdue to recognize that we shall continue on the highway to insolvency unless we turn around and insist upon pay-as-you-go financing." Democratic attempts to make further cuts by raising personal income tax exemptions have been denounced by responsible officials as pure politics. The same N.Y. Times editorial quoted above said: "This is a bald bid for above said: 'This is a bald bid for political popularity in an election year. It would have the effect of reducing the tax liability of millions of taxpayers in a manner so direct and transparent as to make it little more than a thinly disguised bonus.' The primary purpose of this legislation is to correct inequities in our tax laws. It reduces somewhat the double taxation of dividends; it increases medical exemptions; it permits working mothers to deduct expenses for the care of their children; and permits pensioners to retain more of their income. Briefly, it adjusts our federal tax system so that it will be more in keeping with the accepted principle that taxes should be levied according to ability to pay.

EXCISE TAX—By an overwhelming vote of 411-3, the House on Mar. 10 approved the Excise Reduction Act of 1954. As sent to the Senate, this measure would reduce to 10% all excise tax rates above that level. Many household items are lowered by this bill by the reduction of the excise tax. If passed by the Senate, it will save the taxpayers $912 million a year, effective April 1, 1954.

More Recreation Is Planned for Industrial Workers

Lansing, Mar. 23—Michigan's industrial workers may have more recreational possibilities placed before them if a scheduled meeting of planners pans out as expected.

Ernest V. Blohm, executive secretary of the state Inter-Agency Council for Recreation, has slated a meeting of directors of recreation programs in southern Michigan industrial areas.

Blohm and other officials would like to see the vast recreational possibilities of Michigan more fully explored by industrial workers than at present.

"Literally dozens of festivals, centennials and other programs are available to workmen for single day of week-end vacations," Blohm noted and added that: "It's not necessary to wait for the traditional two weeks per year to go on an outing."

The meeting is slated Mar. 31 at Michigan State College.

Moved by Stubenvoll, supported by Peters, that bills be paid. Carried.

Sketch was presented by Comm. Peters showing how the Athletic Board of the Northville Public Schools wished to have the gymnasium floor painted in the new Community Bldg., and it was moved by Stubenvoll, supported by Allen, that the Village Commission grant approval of the floor being painted as requested with the understanding that this work be done at the school's expense. Carried.

John Miller, of Green Ridge Nurseries, reported that a survey had been made of village trees and it was found that there were 269 elms located on Village property. He stated that he would do the work at a cost of $2.05 per tree, and that it would be necessary to spray the trees twice, once in the dormant stage and later when in foliage, the total cost to the village amounting to a little more than $1,000.00. Moved by Peters, supported by Reed, that Mr. Miller be authorized to proceed with the program. Carried.

Pres. Ely stated that while the date for regular appointments was the first meeting in April, he asked for permission to appoint the finance committee at this time, so that they can get started on the preparation of the budget. His recommendation for the members of the finance committee was John F. Stubenvoll as Chairman, and Comm. Earl Reed as the other member. Moved by Allen, supported by Peters, that these appointments be confirmed. Carried.

It was decided to hold an informal meeting of the entire village commission to go over the budget on Monday Eve., Mar. 22nd, 1954, at 8:00 P.M.

No further business appearing, meeting was adjourned at 10:45 P.M.

NON-MILITARY EXPORTS

United States exports during 1953 reached a total of $157,747,000,000 compared with $15,191,300,000 in 1952. Imports last year, according to the Census Bureau, amounted to $10,873,700,000 compared with $10,717,500,000 in 1952.

Heavy Advance Sale of Automobile License Plates Reported In Lansing

Lansing — The "shop early" campaign, in which Secretary of State staff received complete cooperation of all public information agencies, business groups and associations, resulted in a heavy advance sale of auto license plates and a consequent lessening of last minute rush purchasing.

The public response to the publicity efforts of press, radio, television, outdoor advertising firms, and business associations was most gratifying and enabled us to operate more efficiently and at a labor saving of more than ten thousand dollars.

On Feb. 20, the department had sold 1,764,000 plates as compared with 1,395,000 on the same date in 1953. This early sale increase of 369,000 plates and steady buying in the following days meant that long lines of purchasers formed in but few locations and then usually only in the last few hours before the deadline for using 1953 plates.

By the close of business on

Feb. 27, the department had sold a total of 2,447,028 plates and had collected slightly more than $40,000,000.00 for the highway fund. This compared with sales of 2,068,748 plates during the same period last year and highway fund revenue of $35,000,000.00.

It is estimated that on Monday, Mar. 1, there were some 753,000 vehicles in Michigan yet to be licensed and this business together with the licensing of new vehicles can be handled without rush conditions as owners place their cars and trucks in operation.

Some extremely heavy burdens have been thrown on branches and particularly on Accounting and Registration Sections in Lansing. The tax on the owner to owner sales of used cars has brought the added detail of 63,302 transactions and the verification of $1,163,224.96 in revenue; the issuance of titles has increased by 15,900 per month, while license and title transfers are being received at a monthly increase of 11,500.

Neighborhood Sunshine Sisters held a St. Patrick's Day meeting in Neighborhood Church last Wednesday afternoon. There was a fine attendance and practically every lady arrived, wearing a green garment, bow or carrying a green handkerchief. Believing St. Patrick taught the Golden Rule to his Christian converts in Ireland, the Sunshine group made "The Golden Rule" their devotional topic. A most interesting discussion resulted. A true-life story given by Mrs. Charles A. Armstrong was most impressive. During the social hour a beautifully decorated St. Patrick's Day cake was served with the customary tea. For this occasion the room used was enlivened by shamrock plants and green be-ribboned parcels, gifts of Secret Pals to their Secret Pals, and sent in to the meeting that proper delivery might be made.

The next Sunshine meeting will be held in Neighborhood Church on Wednesday, Mar. 31 at 2 p.m. "The Fool" will be the topic.

During last week-end practically all the children and grandchildren of Mrs. Emerson called at or visited in the family home on Mayfield Ave. About the only exceptions were the Johnson Porters, who, at their farm home near New London, O., had been snowed in for a week, and dared not make the trip. The occasion was Mrs. Ault's birthday. She received a number of lovely gifts and congratulatory cards.

One of the most alarming of recent grass fires was that originating on the Julius Walt property on Farmington Rd. It swept around on vacant acreage between Farmington and Shadyside Ave., narrowly missing some of the homes. Livonia's fire department was called to the rescue. Another fire of the same sort started near the Edwin L. Johnson home on Clarita Ave. last Tuesday. In this case, Detroit Edison employees working nearby were able to give assistance and the blaze was practically extinguished by the time the fire department arrived.

PLAIN ARITHMETIC

The readers of this column will know that I very seldom write against one particular sin and strive to be positive in the approach to the needs of the people. However now and then something must be said about the evils of certain things. I therefore pass on to you this article which was found in the "Imperial Magazine".

"Since you cannot refrain from drinking, why not start a saloon in your home? Be the only customer and you will not have to buy a license. Give your wife $55 to buy a case of whiskey. There are 240 snorts in a case. Buy all of your drinks from your wife at 60¢ a snort and in 12 days, when the case is gone, your wife will have $55 to put in the bank, and will have $55 to start up in business again.

If you live 10 years and continue to buy all your booze from your wife, and then die in your boots from the snakes, your widow will have $27,085.37 on deposit, enough to bury you respectably, bring up your children, pay off the mortgage on the house, marry a decent man, and forget she ever knew you."

Price Drop Spells Trouble for Dairy Farmer

Michigan farmers who have not been able to show a profit from their dairy enterprises in the past years will be in serious trouble after Apr. 1, when the dairy support price drops to 75 per cent of parity.

That is the conclusion of Edwin B. Jones of Michigan State College's agricultural economics department. Jones makes these additional points:

Farmers who are unable or unwilling to improve their operations should seriously consider leaving the dairy business. The support price drop will mean that many farmers will have to make major adjustments.

One way many farmers will be able to reduce their costs of producing milk to use more and better quality roughage and less protein and grain.

Since milk prices will decline rather drastically, while some other farm prices will remain about steady, some farmers can profit by turning to other farm enterprises as a means of increasing income. Milk producers in the Detroit milk shed for example, will have their checks reduced by about $40 per month if they continue to ship the same amount of milk as in 1953.

Replacement of poor quality cows will be especially important in the months to come. Cull cows which were profitable to keep in 1952 and 1953 may need to be sent to market in 1954.

The elections will show whether McCarthy's tactics are still paying off.

Flushed with victory, the Gulf Distributors Women's bowling team has issued a challenge for another match with the Cy Owens men's squad following a 2435 to 2349 beating administered at the Northville Center Recreation alleys recently.

The men haven't asked for the rematch, but the women declare they are not afraid to push their luck, and are ready to make it two straight.

Adult Softball, Church Leagues To Be Formed

Organization of an adult softball league and a church league will be discussed at a special meeting to be held Tuesday evening, Mar. 30, at 7:30 in the scout building, according to Wilson Funk, director of recreational activities.

All men interested in coaching a team, as well as potential players, are requested to be present. All those who either work or live in Northville or Northville township are eligible to play.

Three sponsors have expressed a willingness to support a team, Funk said, and Walled Lake and Farmington teams probably will be invited to play in the league again this year.

Douglas Slessor will have charge of the meeting.

Junior Police To Plan Softball and Camping Program

Members of the Northville Junior Police are requested to attend their first big spring meeting Tuesday, Mar. 30 at 3:45 p.m. at the scout building.

All officers are asked to contact members to be sure they are present for the organization meeting. The boys will join a softball team which will play regular scheduled games through May and early June, and those on the various softball teams will go camping as a unit. A new camping program has been devised whereby 10 to 15 boys will go camping once a month using the new tents purchased by the Junior Police Adult committee.

Planning Expert—

es; with the major task that of providing the structure of regional growth over the next 20-30 years.

The Detroit area, Reed said, is composed of 129 communities, all related economically, with common problems, objectives and methods of operation. Primarily a manufacturing area, these 129 communities are bound together by that same common basis of manufacturing. Therefore, the future of any segment of the whole, is inextricably bound up with the rest.

History of Area 8

Using a large number of maps and charts, Reed traced the history of Area 8 from 1919 to the present. In that year, he said, there were only 12 plants employing more than 100 persons each. In the next ten years, eight more were added, and in the following decade—the depression years—six additional manufacturing plants came into being. Three of these were in northwestern Wayne county.

"In the next ten years," he declared, "there was a literal explosion of new plants—295 of them. Most of these were located down river from Detroit, out Plymouth way, and around Redford."

"In 1940 Area 8 had a total of 1683 manufacturing employees. By 1950 this figure had grown to 9112, and last year it was 19,120. In the same period the population had grown from 29,449 in 1940 to 80,700 in 1953. Homes likewise had increased from 7,200 to 23,294. This was an increase of 58.4 per cent, largest rate of all the development areas."

Population To Rise

By 1970, he said, the population of Area 8 should reach 139,800, and the number of homes 45,100. By the same year, the number of manufacturing employees in the Detroit area should be increased by more than 200,000, with the total population expected to be about 4,000,000.

In the past four years, Reed asserted, more than 50,000 new homes have been built in Detroit. This has fairly well saturated the city itself, so that people are looking to other sections, principally northwestern, for future home sites.

"On the basis of this growth," the speaker said, "the planning commission must now determine the amount and character of growth to be expected, and develop from this knowledge the trends and patterns for future planning."

"A great future lies ahead of northwestern Wayne county," he concluded. "It is of great concern to all of us and to our children to plan ahead with an opportunity to shape the future of this entire area."

es; with the major task that of providing the structure of regional growth over the next 20-30 years.

The Detroit area, Reed said, is composed of 129 communities, all related economically, with common problems, objectives and methods of operation. Primarily a manufacturing area, these 129 communities are bound together by, that same common basis of manufacturing. Therefore, the future of any segment of the whole, is inextricably bound up with the rest.

History of Area 8

Using a large number of maps and charts, Reed traced the history of Area 8 from 1919 to the present. In that year, he said, there were only 12 plants employing more than 100 persons each. In the next ten years, eight more were added, and in the following decade—the depression years—six additional manufacturing plants came into being. Three of these were in northwestern Wayne county.

"In the next ten years," he declared, "there was a literal explosion of new plants—295 of them. Most of these were located down river from Detroit, out Plymouth way, and around Redford. In 1940 Area 8 had a total of 1683 manufacturing employees. By 1950 this figure had grown to 9112, and last year it was 19,120. In the same period the population had grown from 29,449 in 1940 to 80,700 in 1953. Homes likewise had increased from 7,200 to 23,294. This was an increase of 58.4 per cent, largest rate of all the development areas."

Population To Rise

By 1970, he said, the population of Area 8 should reach 139,800, and the number of homes 45,100. By the same year, the number of manufacturing employees in the Detroit area should be increased by more than 200,000, with the total population expected to be about 4,000,000.

In the past four years, Reed asserted, more than 50,000 new homes have been built in Detroit. This has fairly well saturated the city itself, so that people are looking to other sections, principally northward, for future home sites.

"On the basis of this growth," the speaker said, "the planning commission must now determine the amount and character of growth to be expected, and develop from this knowledge the trends and patterns for future planning." "A great future lies ahead of northwestern Wayne county," he concluded. "It is of great concern to all of us and to our children to plan ahead with an opportunity to shape the future of this entire area."

Thomas Campbells Surprised on Silver Anniversary

Saturday, Mar. 20, on the occasion of their silver wedding Thomas Campbell of Wing Court intended celebrating quietly with dinner at Livonia Inn. Upon arriving home after dinner, prior to going to the theatre, they were surprised to find their home filled with friends waiting to shower them with congratulations and beautiful gifts of silver.

A three tiered wedding cake centered a table filled with delicious food. The guests came from Detroit, Plymouth, Grosse Pointe and Northville.

This surprise was planned by Mrs. Albert Shames, assisted by Jean Campbell, daughter of the Campbells, Mrs. Clayton Pethers, Mrs. N. K. Pattison and Mrs. James Farquhar.

at Salem had open house as the culminating activity of the aviation unit. The primary room had an airplane quiz in which all children participated. The activities of an airport was demonstrated as the children had constructed a model airport. Murals, creative stories and poems were exhibited. The primary room showed their movie on the history flight.

The upper room had a movie. They also had a flannel graph story of Amelia Earhart. They gave many interesting reports. Refreshments were served.

Church Services

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The value of humility, patience, and obedience in learning the nature of spiritual reality and in experiencing the divine healing power will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Reality".

The challenging definition of worship given by the prophet Micah (6:6,8) will be included in the readings from the Bible:

"Where with shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? . . . He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following:

"What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love and good deeds. To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done. Outward worship is not of itself sufficient to express loyal and heartfelt gratitude, since he has said: 'If ye love me, keep my commandments'" (4:3).

MICHIGAN MIRROR

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL
by Gene Alleman

Michigan's 1954 primary election campaign is off to a roaring start.

And as usual, all of the primary fireworks are expected in the Republican contest for the gubernatorial nomination.

So far, five candidates have tossed their hats in the ring for the GOP nomination. The field may be reduced by one or possibly two contenders by the time voters go to the polls Aug. 3.

Already there are rumors that this candidate or that candidate plans to drop out of the race if the right "deal" comes along. But publicly they all say "I'm in to the finish."

All five GOP hopefuls are "name" candidates.

They include D. Hale Brake of Stanton, Owen J. Cleary of Ypsilanti, George N. Higgins of Farmington, Eugene C. Keyes of Dearborn and Donald S. Leonard of Detroit.

Brake, 63, has been state treasurer since 1953. Known as Michigan's "Mr. Republican," Brake has wanted to run for governor for years but held off each time in favor of someone else who party leaders believed had better chance of beating Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams. Brake will stay in the race to finish.

Cleary, 54, is completing first term as secretary of state.

Active in Civil Defense during World War II, he rose to rank of brigadier general in Michigan State troops. Cleary served on state Liquor Control Commission with Williams in 1947-48 and was chosen chairman GOP State Central Committee in 1949.

Higgins, 53, has been in state legislature since 1938 except for two years after his unsuccessful bid for Republican nomination for lieutenant governor in 1946. Author of the highly-publicized Business Receipts Tax, which is credited with getting state out of red, Higgins is only non-lawyer among candidates. He's an auto dealer.

Keyes, 63, Dearborn's doctor-dentist-lawyer, has been on state primary ballot every two years since when he first ran for lieutenant governor. He has served as state's No. 2 official—1943-44 and 1946-47—and was unsuccessful GOP primary candidate for governor in 1950 and U. S. Senator in 1952.

Leonard, 50, is making his second bid to carry the Republican banner in final election for governor. He ran second behind Fred M. Alger, Jr., in 1952 primary as best known as former State Police Commissioner. He has been Detroit Police Commissioner since 1953, headed state Civil Defense during World War II.

In many ways, this year's primary looks much like repeat of 1950 when five candidates fought for Republican gubernatorial nomination with Harry F. Kelley getting the nod.

Five-year race this year is something Republican leaders have dreaded for months because each additional candidate lessens chance of complete party unity in final campaign when it is needed.

Many Republicans contend Williams would have been bumped off in 1950 or 1952 if it had not been for multi-candidate GOP primaries in those years which split party into many factions. Wounds inflicted during primary are hard to heal.

Republican candidates have agreed not to attack each other but one or two of them may forget agreement as campaign picks up steam.

One of the reasons Gov. Williams has not announced whether he will run for U.S. senator or governor is this:

As Governor of Michigan, he gets a lot of free radio and television time each week. But he'll be forced to pay for this time the minute he becomes a candidate. It pays for him to wait until the last possible moment to toss his hat in the political arena.

Most people agree the announcement of pay raises for 24,000 state employees was poorly timed. It came just as the Legislature began consideration of appropriation bills which finance committees had labored on for two months.

Few lawmakers were happy about the prospect of juggling figures at the last minute to appropriate funds to cover the cost-of-living wage hike. They felt the Commission could have let them know about it earlier.

Actually, the announcement could easily have come at a much worse time. Originally, the Civil Service Commission planned to say nothing about the pay increase until they were approved. The Commission plans to approve the increases at its next meeting—April 8-9. The Legislature adjourns Apr. 9.

Imagine the howls that would have gone up if the Commission has waited until final day of the Legislature to make it announcement public.

SAFETY PATROL MEMBERS OF WCTS TO BE HONORED

Students and faculty at the Wayne County Training School will honor their safety patrol boys and girls at a recognition program Wed., Mar. 31 at 1:15 p.m. Guest speaker will be Vernon R. Martin, Automobile Club of Michigan Safety Patrol Supervisor.

Those who attended the concert were: Carole Lemmon, Chris Krauter, Jon Nicholls, Carolyn Van Atta, Patricia Robertson, Sharon Palmer, Jackie Simonds, David Stillson, Ann Shoemaker, Evelyn LaRose, David Van Hellmont, David Smith, Carol Krezel, Rosemary Frost, Joanne Lessway, Stephanie Brown, Elsie Sedan, Joann Morse and Blaine Ashby. SCHOOL NEEDS

The National Education Association estimates that $5,184,640,000 is needed for new construction to house today's school enrollment, not including repair, etc.

U-M Will Continue Quality Education, Hatcher Declares

Ann Arbor—Providing top-quality education for those who qualify to receive it will continue to be the goal of the University of Michigan.

This is one of the points which Pres. Harlan Hatcher stressed in his third annual report to the faculty and staff.

Looking ahead to the future, the U-M president sketched the following predictions:

The university will grow in size. Enrollment for next fall is expected to be 18,500, an increase of 1,000 from last fall.

Research will continue to expand, but care must be continually taken that research is kept carefully integrated with teaching.

The faculty will continue to re-evaluate what is taught at the University and the arrangement of the subject matter. Teaching is the university's primary concern and must remain so.

There is hope that the extension of the physical plant will keep pace with the upward trend in enrollment.

There is also hope that the university can keep its top-quality faculty and expand it as needed to meet the increased enrollment.

Commenting on the university's future size, the president pointed out that the U-M has always been among the biggest in the United States. He suggested that it will be wise to keep a careful watch on the enrollment as it moves upward toward the 21,000 mark reached in the post-war "veterans' bulge." Then it will be time to make a decision as to how big the University should become, he added.

2 Village Residents Suffer Broken Legs In Auto Accident

Two members of a Northville area family are recovering in University hospital, Ann Arbor, from broken legs and other injuries sustained Mar. 13 when the car in which they were returning home struck a tree between Six Mile and Northville Rds.

They are Miss Faye Herd, 17, and George Herd, 29, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Herd, 18461 Franklin Rd. Miss Herd had both legs broken in the accident, while her brother suffered a broken leg and a bad gash in the back of the head.

The accident occurred after school hours, members of the family reported. George had gone to Northville High school to get his sister, who had been rehearsing for a high school play. Enroute home, they suddenly saw three drunken men chasing a hat in front of them, George Herd swerved the car to avoid hitting them, and struck the tree instead.

Both were taken to Sessions hospital, and then were transferred to University hospital in the Casterline ambulance.

Hospital authorities said Miss Herd will have to remain there for three months. Her brother, an employee of the Ford plant at Waterford, is expected to be released at an earlier date.

We say this to America...

It took Studebaker, the great independent, to build the FIRST really modern car!

IT HAD to be done—and Studebaker did it! Studebaker—the great independent of the automobile world—once again has set the pattern for car design for years ahead!

Today's new Studebaker—styled by Raymond Loewy—is Studebaker's answer to America's growing demand for lower cost motoring.

The speedlined new Studebaker silhouette is designed to save gasoline sensationally because it's free from power-wasting excess bulk. Studebaker has no "family" of cars to consider when it introduces a new model. Pace-setting Studebaker builds no other cars. Studebaker is completely independent.

That independence is the reason the far-advanced new 1954 Studebaker has swung on the scene so fast.

Drive the car! Get the proof! Get ahead of the parade—and get a '54 Studebaker. Don't settle for an old-fashioned "new" car this year.

Get the out-ahead styling—the stand-out operating economy—of a Studebaker.

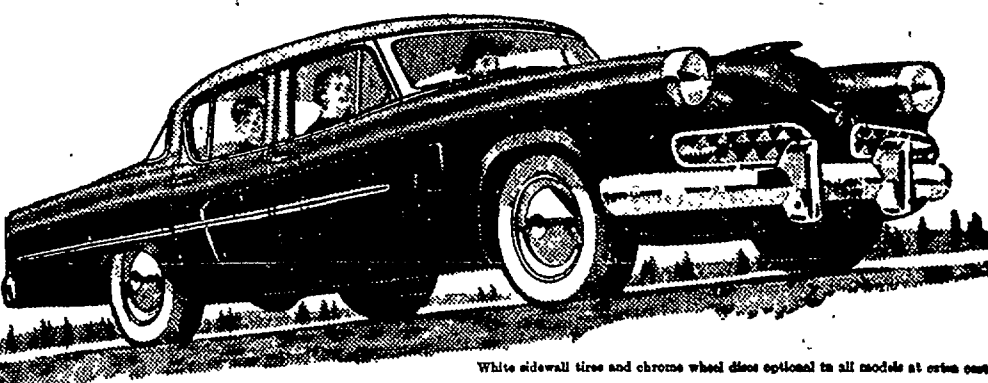

You're sure to get more for Studebaker's modern design when you trade.

Stop in at your nearby Studebaker dealer's showroom today. Examine the car. Go out for a ride. Check Studebaker's big visibility—its low-to-the-ground safety—its deep-down comfort—its superb performance and handling.

Plymouth Man—

daughter Joy in his arms, said he attempted to fight off the two men. Turning to shield the baby, he was stabbed in the back.

Simmons and Banks then ordered Mr. and Mrs. Tapp into a bedroom, and tied Tapp with a rope they had brought. Mrs. Tapp was bound with strips torn from Simmons' prison jacket. For three hours the two convicts remained in the house, taking Tapp's billfold, his wrist watch and some clothing.

Mrs. Tapp said Simmons at first tried to put the baby in her crib, but at the mother's request finally put it beside her, and covered both with blankets. Another child, Terry, 2, slept undisturbed in another bedroom.

Mrs. Tapp said she was frightened at first, but that the intruders apologized for breaking in upon them, saying they only wanted clothes and money so they could make good their escape.

Mother Gets Scared

"They were careful about the baby, so I thought maybe it wouldn't be too bad. Then one of them asked for whiskey and I got scared. I told him we were Methodists and didn't drink. They asked for money, and found $5 I had in my purse, and asked if we had any more. I told him we hadn't cashed my husband's pay check. They found the check, but didn't take it. I was scared again, but they acted all right. They started to put on my husband's clothes and the younger one (Simmons) said: 'You better shut your eyes and turn your head, lady'. So I shut my eyes until I heard them leave the room."

Tapp, lying bound while the two convicts took his clothes and watch, said they apologized for wounding him, and that Banks, who later told officers the stabbing was accidental, that Tapp had backed unexpectedly into the knife, said: "If you behave, you'll get out of this okay."

"After the stabbing, I didn't resist," Tapp related. "I was thinking of my wife and children. They were all right, but I worried all the time and there was nothing I could do. It was terrifying to lie there on my side, with my hands behind my back and realize I couldn't do a thing to help if things went wrong."

Mrs. Tapp worked her bonds loose after the convicts left about 1 a.m.

"I didn't get out of them right away, though," she said, "I thought they might come back and beat us when they found me loose."

She freed her husband and they called Plymouth police and then the sheriff's office.

AUTOMATIC OIL HEAT

Mr. Karl Eggenberger states:—"We burned 890 gallons of oil for total cost of $115.70 from Sept. 27, 1949 to June 6, 1950. The year before we burned $136.46 worth of coal. Very happy to save $20.70 with WINKLER Oil Heat over coal, plus convenience and cleanliness without ashes nor coal to shovel."

"Oil bill of $115.70 for 230 days gives us very low cost of 50 cents per day for automatic oil heat in our large two story home. You can readily see why we are so enthusiastic about our Winkler furnace."
