FOUR NORTHVILLE high school students gave a colorful account of the parts they played in the Junior United Nations assembly held at Hillsdale college when they spoke at the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday. Wilson Funk Resigns As Recreation Head

The resignation of Wilson Funk, director of Recreation for the Village of Northville since 1949, was announced Monday by R. D. Merriam, chairman of the Northville Recreation committee.

Funk, who became director in 1949 after serving the previous year as assistant, said Wednesday Morning that a delegation had visited him Tuesday evening asking him to reconsider, but that he definitely had made up his mind. He said he had already accepted a position with the H-grade Construction Co. in northwestern Detroit. The firm is engaged in building houses. He will continue to make his home in Northville. He resides with his family at 438 Yerkes St.

To Pick Replacement

Chairman Merriam said in announcing the resignation that the Spring and Summer Fun programs have been outlined, and that a new director will be selected to carry on the recreation activities when the committee meets May 11 in the council chambers at the Village hall.

However, Monday night the Village commission tabled Funk's resignation from the Community building committee, and Acting Mayor John F. Stubenvoll said the action was taken in the hope that Funk would reconsider his intention to resign and could work out difficulties which are reported to have influenced Funk's decision.

Accomplishments Cited

Friends said they regretted the resignation, feeling that the Village would lose a man who has worked hard to build up the recreation program. They pointed to a number of accomplishments, including inauguration of Adult recreation activities comprising ten different subjects; renovation and supervision of the Boy Scout building; and the adult softball program which has proven highly popular.

Police Seek Man on Bad Check Charge

Northville police are seeking a Detroit man, they say, who gave a bad check in payment of a traffic fine here. The secretary of state will be asked to revoke the operator's license of Aloysius J. Sova, of Detroit, and other action will be taken against him if he is found, Chief Joseph E. Denton said Tuesday.

The man is said to have been arrested for making a "U" turn on Main St., and when fined $5 in justice court, is alleged to have given a worthless check for the amount. Officers who called at the Detroit address he gave reported he had moved.

Police this week also are looking for a power mower stolen from a garage in rear of 525 Griswold, and a two-wheel garden tractor stolen from Gordon Williams, 16581 Bradner Rd.

49 Forest Fires Burn 233 Acres

Lansing — Forty-nine fires burned 233 acres of forests and grasslands in Michigan last week, the conservation department reports.

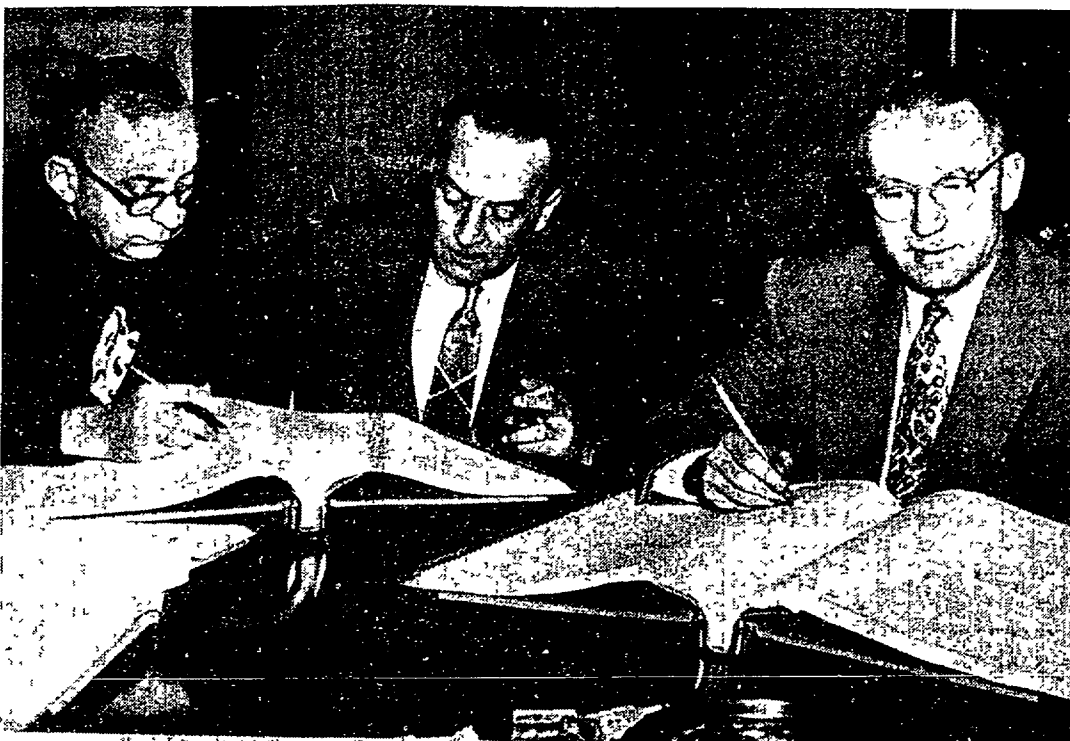

Garden Club to Hold Birthday Meet

Members of the Woman's National Farm and Garden club will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. David Hurd Clark to celebrate the 18th birthday of the Northville group.

In 1936, two garden enthusiasts of this community, Mrs. Joseph Hoehl and Mrs. T. R. Carrington, organized a garden club of 20 members. Mrs. McCollum of Birmingham provided a constitution and by-laws and Mrs. Carrington was elected the president of the group.

This spring, a memorial planting of 40 flowering dogwood trees was made by individual members as part of a project begun last year, dedicated to the memory of two deceased members, Mrs. H. A. Martin and Mrs. William Duguid.

Mrs. Charles Schwein will talk to the group Monday about flower arrangements and suitable containers for the arrangements.

THE BAD NEWS for Northville taxpayers was being prepared by the three men shown above this week as the Northville Board of Review met to complete assessment rolls which will go into effect July 1. However, only one person had appeared by Tuesday night to complain about his assessment. The board will conclude its sessions at the Village hall today. Members are, (left to right) Assessor Edward M. Bogart, Garrett T. Ba y and Levi M. Eaton.

Mad Dog Bites 3 Local Persons

All dog owners are warned by Village Health Commissioner V. George Chabut to keep their pets muzzled and on a leash. He also warns owners to beware of any unusual irritability or signs of illness of their dogs, especially if they should be bitten.

Dr. Chabut's action follows discovery that three persons in Northville and Salem have been bitten by a rabid dog owned by F. Alton Peters of 522 Fairbrook. They are his daughter, Gail, and Warren Atchison and Mrs. Frampton, both of 9847 Six Mile Rd., Salem. All are undergoing Pasteur treatments.

Dr. Chabut has invoked an immediate quarantine on all dogs in the village.

The Peters dog, which was a gift from Mrs. Frampton some time ago, was bitten on Apr. 17 by a small shaggy blond stray dog which was not apprehended at the time. On Apr. 29, when the Peters dog became restless, he was taken back to Mrs. Frampton, and immediately bit her. Because of this, Gail Peters and Warren Atchison took the dog to the Dixboro pound, but in doing so they, too, were bitten, Gail on the first finger of her right hand, and Warren on both thumbs.

The dog was kept under observation until sent to the Pasteur Institute for tests to determine if it was rabid. Treatment started immediately upon learning that the tests were positive. Gail and Warren are being treated by Dr. Chabut. Mrs. Frampton is under the care of Dr. Hammond, of Plymouth.

Northville Construction Far Ahead of Last Year

Building construction in Northville is on the increase, and already is running far ahead of last year, Building Inspector Stanley Waterloo reported to the Village commission Monday night.

A total of $119,600 worth of building permits was issued during the first four months of this year, Waterloo said. This includes six new houses with a valuation of $76,000; commercial building alterations, $23,300; ten house alterations, $8,350; six garages, $5,050; garage and apartment, $2,500, and new commercial construction $3,000.

Two Permits Added

Since the report was made, Waterloo said Wednesday, permits for two additional new houses, totalling $23,000, have been asked. This raises the valuation for the year thus far to $142,600.

The additional construction was approved by the Zoning Board of Appeals, acting on an application by Hillsdale Custom Homes to build a house on Rayson St., and one by Harold Tuck for a two-family dwelling on S. Rogers.

The entire valuation of building construction in the Village during all of 1953 was only $62,925, the inspector reported. However, despite the big increase, Northville is believed lagging behind the growth of adjoining areas, for a variety of reasons.

With building costs continuing to rise, the commission kept pace with sewer and water connection charges in other communities by voting an increase in the cost of sewer connections to $100 from the previous $55, and the water connection charge was jumped to $100 from $40.

To Enforce Ordinance

The commission also decided that it would enforce the Village sidewalk ordinance to the letter this year. Accordingly, it was ordered that 300 feet of sidewalk be constructed on the north side of Randolph St. between High and West streets, unless property owners took action to build the walks themselves within 30 days. If such action is not taken, the work will be done and the owners assessed the cost.

Open House at State Hospital Attracts Many

Nearly 700 residents of Northville and vicinity were visitors to the Northville State hospital Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, as the institution threw open its doors for the Third Annual Open House.

Every year the hospital holds open house in order that interested citizens in the community might have an opportunity to visit the hospital and hear about its care and treatment program. These open house celebrations are held in conjunction with National Mental Health Week, May 2-9. The open house program this year consisted of extended tours of the hospital's facilities and movies of patient activities with commentaries by members of the clinical team. Of special interest to the public was the hospital's intensive treatment building designed to contain all of the treatment facilities which will be used for those patients who are acutely ill. These facilities were specifically designed for all of the different types of psychiatric treatments in use today. This had been the public's first opportunity to inspect this building since it was opened last December.

The public response to the open house was very gratifying to the hospital staff. During the first two days the hospital was open to the public, more than 500 members of the surrounding community took advantage of this opportunity to see Michigan's newest hospital for the mentally ill. Many other visitors toured the hospital Tuesday.

Throughout the year the hospital arranges tours and programs for community groups as part of their feeling of being "part of the community—not apart from it." Dr. Philip N. Brown, medical superintendent, said, "The community is an integral part of our care and treatment program and we want them to know how they can help not only here, but when the patient leaves the hospital. Northville is really their hospital."

Following a tour of the hospital facilities, Lee Shipley, of Northville said: "Michigan should be

Catholics Prepare Annual Celebration

The annual May Day solemnity in Our Lady of Victory's Catholic church will be held Friday night, May 7 at 7:30 o'clock.

All of the school children will participate in the procession into the church and in the singing of the hymns. A living rosary will be formed by 60 of the pupils in the church. The statue of the Blessed Virgin will be crowned by an eighth grade student honored as May queen — Bernadette Jendrisak. Her honor maids will be Martha Muligan, Kathleen Murphy and Mary Esther Loranger. Josephine Flatery, first grade student, will carry the floral crown. Sally Plamondon, sixth grade and Edythe Bozak, seventh grade, will accompany the singing at the organ.

Father Heraty will deliver the sermon and officiate as celebrant at the benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Oil Well Drillers Expand Operations

Two permits were issued for work in Clare county and one each for work in Bay, Genesee, Montcalm, Muskegon, Tuscola and Van Buren counties.

proud of the methods they have at Northville State hospital to take care of the mentally ill." Mrs. Betty Matzen, also of Northville, indicated that many of the people she has been with during the open house felt as John Chedrick, of Northville, does, "It is the most modern and spacious place I have seen. The way patients are fed and taken care of is amazing."

For information or arrangements regarding the hospital's volunteer or tour programs, prospective visitors may call Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, or Abraham Brickner.

NHS Students Tell of Junior UN Assembly

Four Northville High school students who were participants in the Junior United Nations assembly held at Hillsdale college last month gave an interesting account of their experiences when they spoke before the Rotary club Tuesday noon.

The four—Bruce Felker, Gayle Ashburn, Mary Lovewell and Karl Hofmann, exchange student from Germany, told how they "represented" Denmark at the assembly, and took part in discussions on such problems as Morocco, Tunisia, and the Israel-Jordan dispute — just as delegates to the real United Nations assembly have done.

Miss Lovewell related that students from other Michigan and two Ohio schools acted their parts in the same manner that their prototypes at the UN in New York did, even to emulating the Russian delegates. When the "delegate from the Ukraine" broke off a speech praising Russian policies and said she could not go on with such a lying exhibition, other Soviet "delegates" hustled her from the hall. Still other Russian "delegates" staged a walkout, or engaged in various tactics designed to stall proceedings and prevent the assembly from reaching decisions on important issues.

Harry B. Smith, Northville High school instructor, was in charge of the local group. He also introduced the four students at the Rotary luncheon.

Northville Pupil Wins Essay Award

A prize of $25 has been awarded Edythe Bosak, 12, a seventh grade pupil in Our Lady of Victory school, for the best essay entered in Archdiocesan Development fund contest conducted in this area, it was learned Wednesday.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bosak of 43000 Nine Mile Rd., Edythe was awarded the prize by Edward Cardinal Mooney, archbishop of Detroit.

If you have overplanted and want to comply with your wheat acreage allotment, you can plow under the excess acreage for green manure, pasture it off or cut it for hay and silage.

Northville Man to Head GM Club

A Northville resident, Frederick J. Collins, 164 E. Cady St., has been chosen to head the Turning Wheel Toastmasters club of Detroit for the coming year, it was announced Tuesday.

At an annual reunion closing the 1953-54 season, Collins was elected president of the popular social and speaking club, which restricts its membership to the younger executive group of General Motors. Collins is one of the charter members who organized the club six years ago.

Assisting Collins as vice-president and chairman of the membership committee will be Arvid Jouppe, editor of the General Motors Engineering Journal. Otto J. Koski, director of Insurance of Motors Holding Division, was re-elected as secretary.

Following the election, the executive committee appointed Albert F. Welch, assistant department head of the Research Laboratories' technical facilities and service section, as chairman of the educational committee, and Robert J. Jones, of General Motors educational relations section, as the program committee chairman.

The club—launching into its seventh year and still numbering many charter members on its active list—announced that it is now prepared to enlarge its heretofore restricted membership to permit a greater number of General Motors employees to participate in its regular weekly meetings in its regular weekly meetings in October.

$1,017 In Fines Total for April

Village coffers were enriched by $1,017 in traffic and other fines collected during April, Police Chief J. E. Denton reported to the commission Monday evening.

Traffic violations during the month totalled 169, the report stated. Four children were reported missing and were found; an automobile stolen from George C. Parsons, 38515 Joy Rd., was found in the Village parking lot; and six stray dogs were destroyed.

Other entries included: Bicycle stolen and recovered; vandalism cases, 3; burglary, 1; petty larceny, 2; prowler calls, 2; juvenile cases, 3; and persons bitten by dogs, 3.

A Visit With Your Neighbors On the Job

Marvin Guntzville and Friends

He never took a lesson in his life, but Marvin Guntzville, who operates the Guntzville Taxidermy studios at Taft and Ten Mile roads, has gained nationwide fame as a taxidermist.

Starting in 1927, Guntzville developed a hobby into an intensely interesting business. Now he receives orders from all over the nation for all kinds of stuffed animals and birds, and for jackets made of deer hide, trinkets and mementos.

The Guntzville studios are filled with specimens of wildlife. A casual visitor, entering the studios, immediately is startled when he comes face to face with an Alaskan wolf, remarkably lifelike, and a ferocious-looking wildcat. And, as shown in the photograph above, there are owls you expect momentarily to shout "Who-o-o!" at you; brilliantly-colored pheasants, red-tailed hawks, foxes, ducks, squirrels, woodcocks, and even a grizzly bear sent from Alaska to be mounted.

Together with his brother, Harvey, and James Wood, former staff taxidermist at the University of Michigan, Guntzville handles thousands of wildlife specimens a year. Last year sportsmen sent him no less than 3,000 deer hides to process, and the year before it was 5,000. Hunters bring in hundreds of pheasants to be processed, and others bring in hawks, bears, wolves and foxes of various kinds.

Taxidermy, says Guntzville, is an exacting craft, and one that few persons take to. Only those who acquire an interest in it early in life and who like wildlife, ever develop past the stage of hunting and mounting an occasional trophy of their own.

In Guntzville's collection of interesting items is a prize Aztec Indian corn grinder, with stone roller, which is estimated to be 900 years old. His brother, Harvey obtained it in Southern Arizona, and it is valued at nearly $1,000.

"You know, modern engineers aren't so far advanced as they think," Guntzville commented, holding up the hard-lava Aztec item for inspection. "They thought they discovered three-point suspension fairly recently. But look at this—it is fashioned with three legs, proving that the Aztecs knew all about that principle centuries ago."

Last October, while hunting in Montana, Guntzville's horse fell on him when they stumbled unexpectedly into a nest of yellow jackets. He suffered a broken leg, and had to ride nearly five miles before he could obtain aid. Poison from the yellow jacket stings has set up an allergy that has kept the leg in a cast, but Guntzville still manages to keep busy in his studios, despite the injury.

TCP breaks through the Power Barrier

TCP, a Shell-discovered additive blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, neutralizes lead deposits releasing captive power other fuels lock in. It's the greatest gasoline development in 31 years.*

Before you've finished your second tankful,
you'll feel your engine's had a tune-up.

If you're an average motorist, chances are you're losing up to 15%
of the power your engine could deliver!
This power barrier is caused by accumulation of lead deposits in your engine's combustion chambers and on the tips of your spark plugs. Up to 15% of the power you should be getting is literally held captive.

When your engine is working hard, the deposits in your combustion chambers glow red-hot—ignite the fuel charge before the piston reaches the proper firing position. Instead of working for you, power works against you. Moreover, your power drops off just when you need it most, in hill climbing or fast acceleration.

These lead deposits also build up on spark plugs causing them to short circuit and misfire. Gasoline is wasted. Power you paid for is lost!

But now, with TCP, a Shell-discovered additive blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, you set free the captive power locked in by these deposits... actually break through power barrier they build up!

With TCP, the deposits in the combustion chambers are "fireproofed" to stop pre-ignition. Power works for you, not against you. With TCP, lead deposits on spark plugs no longer cause misfiring.
Moreover, with TCP you'll get up to 2½ times longer spark plug life.

Now—up to 15% more power

As a result, Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP gives you all the power you paid for—up to 15% more than you get now. In fact, before you've finished your second tankful you'll feel your engine has had a tune-up!

Shell Premium with TCP is the greatest gasoline development since the discovery of tetraethyl lead... and you can buy it only at your Shell dealer's. Buy a tankful today!

Library Club Visits Colleges

The student library assistants of the Northville high school made two interesting out-of-town trips last week in connection with their future work. Tuesday, Apr. 27, Mary Lou Ware, Penny Neiece, Marilyn Drew, Mary Palmer, Linda Smith, Genevieve McGee and the club's sponsor, Miss Palmer, visited the Kresge Hooker Science library at Wayne university, where the metropolitan library organizations presented a program to interest young people in library service. On Saturday, May 1, 16 members of the club attended the spring meeting of Student Librarian Assistants Assn. of Michigan, the highlight of the meeting being an address by Miss Elizabeth Howard, a Michigan author who writes historical fiction for girls. In the afternoon the high school students took part in a symposium and following this divided into "buzz" groups.

This, the 3rd day of May, 1954

C. N. ELY, Mayor

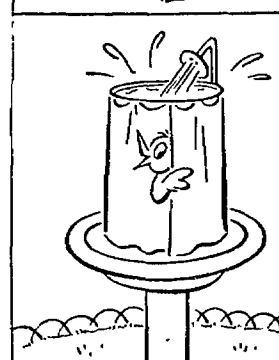

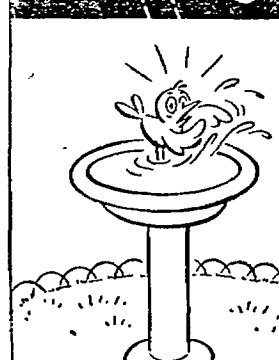

How Well Do You Know Michigan?

Every day and every week we learn of events which contribute in large or small ways to the tapestry of history. This week marks an occasion for paying tribute to our home state, and, in its way, this first observance of Michigan Week will go down as part of the state's history. Outside of state and city anniversaries, Michigan Week signifies the first organized attempt at taking an inventory of our state's assets and informing its people of them. The job would be relatively simple if it were restricted to the matter of reminding Michiganders that their state is the world's largest producer of automobiles and grows a wide diversity of fruits and vegetables, but it extends beyond that.

While there's no denying the importance of Michigan's material wealth, one should never overlook an equally important asset called heritage. Researchers have proved that Americans are incredibly ill-informed about their nation's history. And although no comprehensive poll has ever been taken to discover how well informed the average Michigan resident is about his state's history, we would guess that he knows even less about his state's history than his country's. If that is true, the situation is unfortunate.

But before you adopt a patronizing air, stop and ask yourself how much you know about Michigan's history. When did it begin? Under what circumstances was the Michigan territory founded by white men? Who was Jean Nicolet? What part in Michigan history did General Anthony Wayne, Father Marquette, Lewis Cass and Stevens T. Mason play? How did Michigan obtain the Upper Peninsula? When did Michigan gain statehood? What part in Michigan's economic development did R. E. Olds and Henry Ford play?

If you know the answers to those questions, you're to be complimented. Every Michigan man and woman should know the answers. But more than knowing historical facts, Michiganders should understand the courage, resourcefulness, and vision which went into the development of our state. They should see that opportunity exists today just as it existed 320 years ago when the first white man stepped upon Michigan soil. They should be proud of their land just as the early Michigan pioneer was proud of his.

It probably will interest Northville women to know that Mayor Thomas S. Welsh of St. Clair Shores, who was Northville's "Mayor for a day" yesterday, is a gallant man.

Last week, we're informed, a young St. Clair Shores housewife was engaged in the dubious occupation (dubious to males, that is) of bleaching her hair.

All was going well until something happened, just like the phone that always rings when you're in the bath tub. City water officials decided a water main had to be repaired right then, and accordingly shut off the water.

A frantic call from the lady informed city officials that if the water remained in absentia for two hours, she feared her hair would be gone, too.

Mayor Welsh rose to the occasion manfully. He barked an order. Patrolman William Vaughn mounted his fiery steed (a patrol car) and sped to the rescue with siren screaming—and a five-gallon can of water.

He rinsed the hair. The erstwhile "damsel in distress" called in later to say she'd never had such a successful bleach.

Mayor Welsh leaned back in his mayoral chair contentedly, having done his good turn for the day.

The GREEN THUMB

by Paul Newton

First year gardeners will find that massing of annual plants will bring color effects to their gardens that far surpass the spotty effects obtained by a few perennials placed at intervals along the border. Bedding plants are the low growing and spreading varieties that give a unified rather than an individual effect. Annuals will bring color from June on through.

Petunias provide a wide range of color and if the dead blossoms are cut off to prevent seeds from forming they will produce flowers from June to frost. The F, hybrids will be more uniform in size of plants and blossoms, more uniform in color and heavier in flower production. Ballerina Carmencita, Tango and La Paloma are F, hybrids with fringed edges on the flowers.

Alyssum ideal for border For low growing masses, the alyssums are the answer. Royal Carpet, an all-American winner for 1953, has deep purple flowers and confines well with the Ballerina petunia. It grows four inches high, but spreads to make a solid covering. Snowcloth is a white alyssum with the same low spreading habit of growth.

Pansies, the large-flowered types, are used for bedding and border plants. The large white ones planted in clumps with Royal Carpet alyssum and Ballerina petunias gives a good color effect.

Magic Carpet snap dragon is a new variety with a wide color range of pink, reddish purple, peach and yellow bi-color, rose and pink bi-color. The nine inch plants should be set closely to give a solid display. The spikes are usually about 3 or 4 inches tall. Semi-dwarf varieties of snap dragon grow to a height of fifteen to eighteen inches and can be massed for a larger area.

Verbenas for Semi Shade Verbena plants are low and spreading with a great variety of color. Sparkle is low and compact with scarlet flowers that have a white eye. Crystal is a white variety to combine with

To Be Annual Affair

The King's Daughters luncheon and bazaar, which was held Friday at the Methodist church was a financial success and it is hoped that it will be an annual affair, reports Mrs. E. B. Cavell, co-chairmen of the affair.

In full sun the foliage often turns brown during a dry spell.

Dwarf French Marigolds

Brownie is a new dwarf single French Marigold. It has a ring of mahogany brown petals with a thin gold margin surrounding a crested gold center. The color contrast is good and the 12-inch height is uniform. Naughty Marietta is an older variety but still good for a border plant. Another plant that gives a dash of color among low growing evergreens is the New "St. Johns Fire" variety of salvia, a brilliant scarlet.

A good taller variety, in blue for back ground planting (30 inches), is Blue Bedder, Salvia or Royal Blue Salvia.

Mizpah Circle Visits Home for Aged

The Mizpah Circle of the Methodist church sponsored the April birthday party at the King's Daughters home for the aged on April 28.

Mrs. William Liebetreu gave the invocation and a special program followed the dinner. Two members of the Northville high school band, Gloria Clark and Arlene Jerome delighted the residents of the Home by playing four selections in a flute duet. Mrs. Donald Severance, leader of the Mizpah circle, gave several readings.

Others attending from Northville were, Mrs. W.E. Forney, Mrs. Nelson Schrader, Jr., and Mrs. Eural Clark.

Residents of the Home, not able to attend the program, were visited in their rooms by the students and women from Northville.

Play School Conference at East Lansing

Varsity Baseball Squad Beaten In 3 Contests

Northville High school athletic teams took it on the chin generally last week, only the golf team managing to garner victories.

The Mustang Varsity baseball team, plagued by injuries, inexperience and disciplinary action against a key player, dropped three games last week and wound up at the bottom of the Wayne-Oakland High school league.

Errors and inexperience were blamed by Coach Al Jones as responsible for the defeats. He said that many of his players are freshmen, and naturally are at somewhat of a loss when opposed by more seasoned players. In the game against Keego Harbor Monday, the Mustangs committed no less than eight miscues, the same total as runs scored. A tight defense would probably have resulted in victory, the coach said, since most of the eight runs scored by the Mustangs were earned, while a number of the 11 tallied by Keego Harbor were unearned.

THE BOX SCORE:
Keego 2 2 1 4 0 2 x — 11
Northville 3 0 2 0 0 2 1 — 8
Against Clarkson here Thursday, Northville came behind to lead 4 to 2 at the end of the third inning, but then the defense fell apart, as well as the pitching of Aubrey King and Mark Bell, and the visitors pulled out an 11 to 4 victory.

THE BOX SCORE:
Clarkston 2 0 0 3 0 2 4 — 11
Northville 3 1 0 0 0 0 0 — 4
Against Clarenceville Friday, the roof fell in on the hapless Mustangs early. The visitors tallied three times off Meyer in the first inning, but two of the runs were unearned. Northville scored once in the same stanza, but then the visitors salted away the bacon by tallying seven times before Bell stopped the slaughter. Both teams held scoreless the rest of the way.

THE BOX SCORE:
Clarenceville 3 7 0 0 0 0 0 — 10

Northville Whips Detroiters, 3-0

Northville's entry in the Inter-County Baseball league, which last year advanced to the championship playoffs before bowing to Detroit Auto club, hung a shutout on Detroit Teamsters 247 Sunday afternoon at the Cass Benton Park diamond. The score was 3 to 0. At the same time, the Auto club team, Northville's chief rival, lost to Plymouth.

Steve Folino, Northville player-manager, said his squad will face Wyandotte Chemicals and the following Sunday will play Food Fair Mkt. at Northville. The team also has been entered

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

FISHING TIPS FOR '54!

With the opening of a new fishing season the resolve to get out there and "fool more fish this year" is heard everywhere. With that in mind maybe these few "secrets" wormed out of fellow anglers may help increase your catch this coming spring and summer.

Let's start off with the often under-rated bobber fisherman. How many of you who follow this tried-and-true system realize the importance of the design of the bobber itself? The commonly seen ball-type bobber is the one to avoid! It scares the fish because of its size and visibility—and offers the most resistance to the nibbling fish, thus discouraging him. The "penicil" type is by far the best—shaped from balsa wood. Try it and see the difference in your luck!

Landing Fish Without a Net Panfish anglers rarely carry a net in the boat. They don't need one. But every panfisherman has hooked a big bass or pike, and lost him when the line broke in an effort to lift him over the side. Next time this happens to you play the fish it alongside, slide your thumb in the mouth and get a good grip on the lower lip. It can be lifted from the water without a struggle. Don't try this on a pike! The teeth are too sharp. When the pike is played out bring him alongside, slowly slide the hand toward the back of the head, reach into the pocket behind the gills, then clamp down and swing the fish into the boat. Pike up to 15 pounds can be handled by this method. NEVER put your fingers in a pike's mouth. Teeth lacerations may result in bad infection.

Keeping Fish to Bring Home
There's a right and wrong way to keep your fish in good condition, especially on a prolonged two or three day trip. Always clean your fish properly, removing stomach and kidneys which lie along the backbone, and the gills. Wrap fish individually in paper after wiping off slime. Then place in coolest possible place—a refrigerated container, if possible. Always clean container with baking soda and water after each trip. Open refrigerator frequently for change of air because fish spoil quickly in stale air. Even trout will keep their delicate "fresh-caught" flavor up to three days if treated in this manner. Learning to keep fish properly is a must with every true sportsman. They're hard enough to catch! Let's not waste 'em!

COMMENT on SPORTS

by Pete Fritchie

BASEBALL . . .

WASHINGTON, May 5—The season has been underway only a few weeks and it is too early to make appraisals of clubs in the Majors. But—there are some early indications. And here they are:

The Cardinals haven't gotten the pitching they expected to get. The Giants are stronger this year than last because of better pitching. The Dodgers are very strong. Cincinnati is an improved club and will give all teams in the National trouble this year.

Chicago is playing more spirited ball. Milwaukee playing below later season form right now, probably, will have to go some to take the flag from the Dodgers. The Pirates, sure enough, might have a good ball club in a few years. The Phils are little better than last year.

Over in the American League, Washington has a tough club this year, with solid pitching strength in depth. Detroit is an improved club, and like Boston, is strong this year, with several promising young hurlers.

New York will be hard to beat. The Yankees are not collapsing. Philadelphia's Athletics are playing with greater spirit, apparently, and winning some tight ball games. Cleveland looks weaker, although the Indians will move late.

Baltimore is doing better than most observers expected, because of good pitching from several youngsters and Pilette. The question is, can the Orioles hold up over the stretch? Chicago is strong again but not strong enough to take it all. In the strengthening of several clubs, Cleveland might have lost comparatively this year.

Middleweights In Radio-Telecast Bout

New York (Special) — Chico Varona, Cuban welterweight champion, moves up to meet middleweight Eduardo Lausse of Argentina in a scheduled 10-round bout on the Friday, May 7, Cavalcade of Sports Feature. St. Nick's Arena is the site selected for the meeting of two of the hardest punchers for their weight in the game today and starting at 10 p.m. (EDST) the NBC television and ABC radio microphones will be set up to provide nationwide coverage.

MIDDLEWEIGHTS

Varona started his pro boxing career in 1945 and has scored 32 of his 51 victories via the kayo route. During the past year, seven of his eleven victims failed to go the distance including Sixto Gonzales, who passed the welter title on to Chico in the third round of their championship go. Varona intends to use this match to improve his rating as the eighth ranking contender for world honors.

"KO" Lausse of Buenos Aires joined the professional ranks in 1946. A recent decision over Jesse Turner gives Lausse an overall total of 40 wins in which 32 of his opponents took the full count. "KO" is determined to keep his string of 14 straight victories intact and feels a victory over Varona will place him among the contenders for the middleweight crown.

Jimmy Powers, Don Dunphy and Win Elliot will describe the actions of two boys who pack enough dynamite in both fists to end the bout with one blow.

Wild Life Notes...

LANSING — The call of the wild was too much for one year-old fox that had been kept as a pet from the time it was a puppy, a Traverse City area conservation worker reports.

The fox was raised on the Richard D. Kohler farm near Suttons Bay after Kohler purchased the young fox from a trapper.

Kohler allowed the fox the run of the farm most of the time, but kept it tied occasionally. The animal and Kohler's coon hound became fast friends and passed considerable time together.

Although shy of stranger, the fox was tame and could be handled, Kohler said.

After nearly a year, the animal disappeared and was not seen again by Kohler.

Then in late March, the fox was trapped by Paul Watson of Elberta near the mouth of the Platte River, about thirty miles by air from the Kohler farm.

It was still wearing its collar when found in the trap.

To Check Whitmore Fish

Fish populations will be checked carefully in Big Portage and Whitmore lakes during the next few weeks, the conservation department notes.

The two lakes, located in Jackson and Washtenaw and Livingston counties respectively, will figure heavily in department studies of present game fishing laws.

Fisheries workers set out six trap nets in each of the lakes last week. The nets will be pulled and moved to new locations in the lakes each day for three to five weeks.

All the fish captured in the nets will be fin-clipped and returned to the lakes.

As the work progresses, enough of the fish that were marked early in the study will be captured a second time to provide an estimate of the total number of fish present in the lakes.

The lakes are two of nine in the lower peninsula in use under liberalized fishing regulations on an experimental basis since 1946. Fisheries workers are trying to learn if present fishing laws are adequate or whether they may be relaxed in some way to give the angler more fishing opportunities.

Smelt on the Move

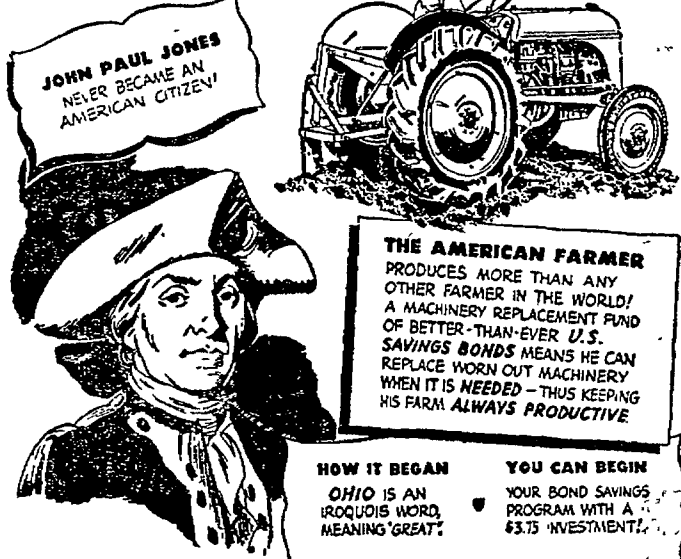

To commercial and sport anglers alike, the prolific smelt represents an important part of Michigan's fishing scene. The little silvery fish was first introduced into Michigan waters by conservation workers in the early years of this century. Since then, populations have increased so that several million pounds have been taken commercially during each recent year. Here a commercial fisherman is scooping up his last haul of the winter through the fast-melting ice of Little Bay de Noc in Lake Michigan.

Michigan Termed Foremost State In Sports Afield

Sportsmen may object to putting it so commercially, but the privilege of sightseeing or using a fishing rod or gun in Michigan accounts for one of Michigan's four principal sources of income.

The matter of lakes and streams in Michigan can well be the envy of many of the nation's warmer and dryer states. Michigan has four times as much water-covered area as any other state. This water-covered area includes 11,037 inland lakes, 36,350 miles of streams, and 3,121 miles of great lake shoreline.

Ties New York

Of the aforementioned streams, approximately half are trout waters. In fact, Michigan ties New York state for having the most miles of trout streams.

With good reason therefore, Michigan usually outranks all other states in the sale of hunting and fishing licenses, and is foremost in all kinds of sports afield. In 1951, for example, Michigan sold 1,055,930 hunting licenses of all kinds and 1,128,242 fishing licenses.

There are few fresh water game fish which Michigan doesn't have in abundance. Back in 1940 a record-breaking 62½ pound muskellunge was caught in Lake St. Clair within sight of Detroit skyline. That muskie is still considered one of the four largest ever caught in the United States.

As for hunting, one has only to drive through the highways of the northern part of Michigan during the opening of the hunting season to realize how popular the sport is.

Michigan has never been indifferent to the hoards of visitors who come here every year, and the state has pioneered in the building of numerous types of tourist facilities. Michigan has more state parks and prepared camp sites available to the public than any other state.

Largest State Park

It also has the largest state park in the nation. Porcupine Mountain State Park, located in the Upper Peninsula's Gogebic and Ontonagon Counties, has 41,925 acres of timbered highlands, Michigan's tallest mountains, vast hardwood forests, and the beautiful Lake of the Clouds.

For the winter sports enthusiast, Michigan can boast 34 ski areas. Every year approximately a quarter million skiers flock to Michigan to try their skill on our ski jumps and runs.

You can give Ishpeming credit for helping popularize ski-jump-one an opportunity to share regularly in Kingdom Work around the world as well as to support his church in its own local Conference responsibilities.

"Last week and next week," indicated the Rev. Mr. Hodgson, "mailings are being made to all of our membership. This is preliminary to 'Loyalty Sunday' which we will observe in our church on Sunday, May 16th. At this time the majority of our members and friends will present their pledges to under-write the annual budget for the ensuing Conference year which runs from June 1, 1954 through May 31, 1955. Following that, each of those members who were not able to be present in church on Loyalty Sunday or failed to send in their pledge card, will be called on at home by one of the visitation teams which will be at work."

The local church will come to the close of this conference year with a real sense of accomplishment. Our membership and attendance have enlarged substantially, the finances have increased nearly seventy-five percent, improvements and repairs have and are being made, and the spiritual atmosphere is heart-warming. The local church accepted more than its quota for World Service and Conference Benevolences, "Advance Specials" for assigned missionary projects, and the Church Extension Fund. These obligations have been met in full and a healthy balance remains for additional Kingdom work.

Brief fellowship period following the service with tea and coffee served.

If you have no church affiliation, you are cordially invited to worship in this friendly church. Visitors are always welcome.

Presbyterian Men Face Building Needs

"How Can The Men's Club Help The Building Program of the Church" is the topic to be discussed at the Monday evening meeting, May 10th of the Presbyterian Men's Club. President Joe Petrock has called the session for 6:00 p.m. and various men will speak on the different phases of the work. Volunteer help will be sought on completing the seven new Sunday School rooms, painting the exterior of the new organ chamber and making furniture for the growing church school.

The restoration program at the First Presbyterian Church is part of the 125th anniversary celebration. Arriving this week from Hagerstown, Maryland will be the new organ console and the restored and enlarged two manuals organ. The men of the church have done considerable work to assist the local contractors with the extensive project which has been under construction since the first of the year.

Ever See around a Corner?

The stunning new windshield you find in every 1954 Buick does a lot more than merely keynote the most modern beauty of the times.

Just take the driver's seat in any one of these tomorrow-styled cars and you'll feel positively eagle-eyed.

That spectacular sweep of glass broadens your point of view to the right and to the left.

It puts more safety in your seeing. It lets you see more of what's coming from the sides—and quicker and easier, too—because the corner posts are pulled way back.

This, you realize, is true panoramic visibility—and makes anything else seem as outdated as long skirts.

But you ought to look into what else goes with the dream-car styling of these great new Buicks.

You ought to look into the whip-like performance of true high-compression V8 that reach new horsepower highs.

You ought to look into the silky new ride, the sweet new handling ease, the utter smoothness and instant response of Twin-Turbine Dynaflo.

Most of all, you ought to look into the sensational new Buick CENTURY that's taking the country by storm—the great new Buick performer that gives you more horsepower per dollar than any other car in America.

We cordially invite you to come in today or the first thing tomorrow—to see and drive one of these great new Buicks—and judge for yourself that here is the beauty and the buy of the year, by far.

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL
by Gene Alleman

WANTED — 7,000 Young People. Attractive pay (starts from $3,200 - $3,600); good working conditions; summers off; steady employment; social acceptance in community; assured opportunity for advancement.

This sort of a help wanted ad could easily describe the serious need in Michigan for qualified school teachers.

FACED with the alarming situation of 7,000 too few trained school teachers today and the obvious need for an additional 2,000 each year for at least the next five years, Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of Public Instruction, is leading a frontal attack.

A committee of 35 members has been appointed to solve this and other educational problems: A special sub-committee of industrial public relations experts, newspaper publishers, educators and representatives from radio and television was assigned to work out a program "to interest bright young people to enter the teaching profession."

ADOPTING TECHNIQUES already proved successful by industry, business, and the armed services, this sub-committee announced its plan which will be carried out through Michigan newspapers, radio and TV, and "sales presentations" to students.

These will be aimed at three groups: the 65,000 students who will graduate from high schools this spring; students already enrolled in the state's colleges; former teachers who might qualify themselves by securing a few more hours of college work.

"LACK OF PROMOTION for the teaching profession has permitted other vocations to skim off much of the cream of graduates," explained Dr. Taylor. He also feels that low salaries paid teachers several years ago were an important factor in student minds when they considered teaching as a life work. "Present pay schedules are about comparable to those in industry," stated the state Superintendent. "Particularly this is true for young ladies, who might have trouble finding jobs that pay as well as school teaching."

Figures indicate that next year teachers' salaries will average about $4,300 for the 10 month school year," stated Dr. Taylor. "While the present pay schedule might not be considered ideal, it represents a trend toward more money for good teachers that is desirable. And it eliminates to a great extent the low salary as a factor against teaching."

SERIOUS NEED does exist. Of the 45,000 teachers busy in Michigan at present, 10 percent leave the profession each year. Some marry, retire, die or change vocations. Census figures show that 60,000 new pupils will be enrolling each year for at least the next five years. They will require 2,000 more classrooms.

These needs emphasize the opportunity for advancement in teaching. There will be many more openings for teachers and school administrators than there are qualified people to fill them.

MANY present teachers do not meet minimum requirements for teaching standards. Some are teaching with "special" certificates because better qualified instructors are simply not available.

"ACCENTUATE THE POSITIVE" will be the theme of the campaign to get more and better teachers for Michigan according to Dr. Taylor. "We are putting our faith in public relations methods to solve this and other school problems and stressing the better aspects of education as a life work."

IN ADDITION to glamorizing the teaching profession, the sub-committee on Educational Public Relations has some other aims. It intends to find ways to acquaint the public with data about school problems so facts will be available before people make up their minds about a controversial subject. It hopes to make the "average citizen" understand the values of present teaching techniques concerning the "three Rs" and other curriculum problems. It seeks to learn why voters in similar districts will not.

MEMBERS OF THIS COMMITTEE as well as the department of public instruction realize the urgency of providing fine education for the youth of Michigan. Keen thinking is needed to meet national and international problems that today's children must face. They feel a strong sense of obligation to provide the best possible training.

CHERRY, BEAN and DAIRY Queens from Michigan in Yankee Stadium?

This question might perplex the casual reader, but it is nonetheless a fact: One of the by-products of the state's first Michigan Week, which will draw to a successful end May 8, provided the opportunity for three lovely Michigan Misses to take a whirlwind trip around New York and Washington.

PERHAPS THE HIGHSPOINT of their trip was the opportunity to appear at Yankee stadium just before a Sunday game with the Detroit Tigers and promote the three products over which they were chosen reigning queens. Lucky young ladies were Dairy Queen Virginia Hamilton, Capac; Bean Queen Marcelline Bender, Saginaw; Cherry Queen Everil Meloche, Suttons Bay. They were accompanied on their trip by Mrs. Joe Wells, editor and publisher of the Coloma Courier.

FINANCED BY FUNDS from each commodity group matched by state department of Agriculture monies, the girls left by train and returned by plane.

Featured attractions of the trip were visits to Rockefeller Center, United Nations Building where they met Ralph Bunche; television and radio appearances; a fine dinner at the famous Toots Shors. They also did the rounds at Washington, D.C. In both cities they were guests of local Michigan Week committees.
