SMALL FRY swarm around Ye Olde Fische Ponde at the PTA Carnival in the hope that they will be lucky enough to win a prize. Several helpful mothers saw to it that none went disappointed.

MRS. R. M. ATCHISON, president of the Northville Woman's club, buys a ticket from Harry Sedan, head of the Exchange club, while Edgar Jones, another ticket seller, looks on.

JANE FLATTERY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flattery of W. Nine Mile Rd., and Dick Heslip, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heslip, also of W. Nine Mile, receive yummy cookies from Mrs. James Schiefer as two other mothers watch the proceedings.

WHAT WOULD a carnival be without candied apples? Linda Lemmon, Sharon Johnson, and Mary Margaret Mitchell get ready to taste the delicacies provided by the home economics department. (Record Photos)

Village To Get $6,325.37 As Gas Tax Share

The Village of Northville will receive $6,325.37 as its share of the first quarter bonanza reaped by the state's motor vehicle highway fund. Total collections for the quarter in gasoline, weight and other taxes amounted to $58,737,590.88, of which $1,125,678 went for collection costs.

Wayne county's share was $4,749,330, and that of Oakland, $1,142,775.

Under the 1951 act, all of the state gasoline and weight taxes, the diesel fuel tax and a small amount of miscellaneous fees are deposited in the state motor vehicle highway fund, which was created by the act. After deductions for non-highway uses and collections costs, the rest of the money is divided as follows: 44 per cent to the state highway department for expenditure on state trunkline highways in both rural and urban areas; 37 per cent to the counties for expenditure on county roads, and 19 per cent to the cities and incorporated villages for expenditure on their roads and streets.

Under the above distribution formula, the state highway department will receive $25,349,241.39 as its share of the first quarter of 1954 motor vehicle highway fund collections; the counties will receive $21,066,407.53 and the cities and incorporated villages will receive $10,946,263.33.

PTA Carnival Well Attended

The Northville High and Grade school exhibit rooms were filled to capacity Friday evening for the annual PTA Community Carnival.

Several hundred pupils and students, accompanied by parents, relatives and teachers, swarmed around the various concessions, viewed the exhibits, took part in games or saw a special showing of Walt Disney films.

A minor mystery developed in the award of prizes contributed by Northville businessmen, and officials of the Northville PTA, which sponsored the event, are seeking a woman who registered as Mrs. George Hill, won a prize, but failed to claim it. The only Northville resident with a similar name is Mrs. George Hills, 116 W. Main St., but she said she was out of town, and therefore did not attend.

Others who won prizes are: Suzanne Cowie, Brenda Waterman, James Bertoni, Jolene Ferguson, Frank Mueller, Lynn Gates, John Brennan, Harold Seafoss, David Nash, Robert Larson, Mrs. George Hill, Robert Niemi, Steve Lawrence, Carol Krezel, and Judy Gregersen.

Claude Earl, Seymour Orr, John Walters, Joe Kritch, Dennis Johnston, W. E. McCarthy, Kent Frid, Joyce Alkire, Bobbie Lanning, Carole Tabor, Tad Marshall, Jeff Page, Lillian Krezel, Andrew Orphan, Mrs. Margaret Williams, J.M. Keyes; Mrs. Robert Boyd and Charles Somers, both of whom won bicycles.

The Ethel Seely Circle of the Methodist church will meet on Tuesday, May 18 at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Al Jones, 791 Horton. Mrs. Essie Nirider will be co-hostesses.

Nerreter Gas Well May Be Nation's Biggest

Northville Oil Corp. Formed; Capital $200,000

Formation of the Northville Oil Corp., with an authorized capital stock of $200,000, has been approved by the Michigan Corporation and Securities commission.

Bob Orlick, of Romary Acres, Northville, is president of the new concern.

"Orlick, while not an expert in the oil business, has acquired a fast education on the basic problems concerning the Northville oil field, and has surrounded himself with people who are experienced in the oil business," a spokesman for the firm said Tuesday.

Gerald Brown of Clare is superintendent. Brown formerly spent six years drilling wells for the Sun Oil Co. Jack Mortensen of Mount Pleasant, is geologist. He was formerly geologist for the Sohio Oil Co.

The law firm of Nuel N. Donley of Big Rapids has been retained as legal advisors for problems involved concerning oil law.

Philip R. Ogilvie, prominent Northville attorney, is resident agent and general legal advisor, and will receive inquiries regarding the corporation. Theodore R. Robbins, Detroit attorney, is advising the incorporator on legal problems pertaining to the "corporate structure."

Arrangements are being made to bring in heavy rotary drilling equipment. When this equipment arrives, it will probably be the largest equipment brought into the Northville area thus far.

Among many other reasons, the spokesman said, formation of the corporation is to insure the exploration of about 400 acres of property recently entrusted to Orlick in addition to his own. All of the property is within a prospective drilling distance from the now producing LeMaster oil well rated at 5,500 barrels per day. Orlick holds controlling interest in the corporation and of course, its continuation is dependent upon developments in the oil field.

Northville School Census Is Begun

The annual Northville school census began Wednesday, and canvassers expect to record an increase in the number of children in this area to more than 1350.

This was announced by Russell H. Amerman, superintendent of schools, who said a house-to-house survey is required by law, and that every child and teenager under the age of 20 must be counted.

Supt. Amerman asked that parents be prepared to give information as to the birthdates, addresses, and names of guardians or parents, so that the survey can be completed as soon as possible.

Mrs. Eural Clark will be in charge of the census-taking. She will be assisted by Mrs. Howard Whipple, of W. Seven Mile Rd., and others if needed.

Last year, there were 1,270 children registered in the Village, Amerman said. Of this number, 646 were boys and 624 were girls. The preceding year, the total was 1,127, showing an increase of about 100 each year.

Community Center Dedication Dance Planned for May 31

A dedication dance for the benefit of the new Northville Community center will be held May 31 in the Community hall. Dancing will start at 9:30 and continue until 12:30 and attire will be informal. This will furnish an opportunity for Northville residents to become familiar with their new Community Center.

Music will be furnished by Max Lieb of WJR. Carl Johnson is chairman and tickets may be obtained from him or members of the Rotary club.

5 Northville Girls Are Chosen To Attend Girls' State

Five Northville girls are looking forward to June 15 when they will be spending eight exciting work-full days on the University of Michigan campus. Mary Lovewell, Gayle Ashburn, Leanna Doeksen, Priscilla Blackburn and June King were selected from the Northville high school junior class for their qualities of leadership to attend Girls' State.

This annual national program of the American Legion Auxiliary is designed to instruct the girls of today in the fundamental principles of American government through actual practice. It gives them a "state" of their own, a session governing themselves through democratic procedures. Officials of towns, county, and state are elected; and at the end of the session, two girls out of the 300 will be chosen to attend Girls' Nation in Washington.

"Besides the fun of pajama parties, talent shows, masquerades, newspaper publishing and dormitory life at its best, Michigan is unique in that it can offer, through the facilities of the state university, additional instruction in vocational selection," said Mrs. Paul Burnham, of the Legion Auxiliary committee.

"Civic, social, fraternal and patriotic organizations are invited each year to sponsor the girls. Northville is fortunate in that five such organizations have cooperated with the American Legion Unit No. 147 in this program: The Mother's club, The Woman's club, The Northville Downs, The Northville Optimist club and The Girl's Athletic Assn. of Northville high school.

"It is the hope of the American Legion Auxiliary that the girls in attendance will in the future accept active citizenship in our nation and feel keenly the relationship of home, church, school and government."

Clean-Up Week Has Four More Days

"Clean-Up, Pick-Up and Plant-Up" week has four more days to go and the Northville Garden club members are urging Northville residents to keep up the good work to make the village more beautiful.

Warmer weather should inspire gardeners to dig, shovel and generally follow the proclamation issued by Village President Claude Ely to "accept their responsibility for a clean community."

NINE MORE DRILLING PERMITS ARE ISSUED

Lansing — Nine petroleum drilling permits were issued by the conservation department last week, state geologists report.

Three were issued for work in Ogemaw county and one each for wells in Clare, Tuscola, Bay, Allegan, Montcalm and Newaygo.

FIRES DAMAGE FORESTS

Lansing — Thirty-three reported forest fires damaged 58 acres in Michigan last week, a lower than usual total.

Commission To Get City-Status Proposition Again

On the theory that the temper of Northville voters has changed on the issue of granting city-status to the village, a delegation from the Retail Merchants Assn. next Monday night will petition the Village council to institute action designed to bring the question before the voters next fall.

Carl Johnson, president of the association, said the matter was discussed at great length at a meeting Monday evening Nelson Schrader, George Clark, and Johnson were selected to call upon the commission and present a number of points to be considered.

Too Much Territory

A year ago the issue lost because, Johnson said, like the man who offered to whip anybody in the state, the backers of city-status tried to take in too much territory. This time, he said, it will be suggested to the commission that an attempt be made to incorporate only the present boundaries of the Village, and if any area outside the limits wants to come into it later, the residents always can petition to do so.

Besides greater advantages of various kinds accruing to a city, members of the three-man committee said, an item of considerable value would be the amount of revenue Northville would receive in the 20 percent "kick-back" from taxes on Northville Downs.

Would Benefit

"At present the Village receives nothing from the state as a share in such taxes," said Schrader. "If Northville were a city, it would receive an amount greater than the $15,000 increase in property taxes which was imposed this year to meet expenses. Thus, every property owner would benefit."

Members of the commission already have announced they are in favor of bringing the question once more before the voters.

Adult Education Group Is Formed

Mrs. Samuel Geraci was the representative from Northville at the constitutional assembly meeting of the Adult Education Assn. of Michigan held at the Union building in East Lansing May 7.

Northville was accepted as a charter member of the organization and the constitution was adopted.

Otto Yntema, director of adult education for Western Michigan college, was elected president of the new association, while John B. Holden, chairman of the Michigan Action Committee for Adult Education, was chosen vice-president.

A report of the convention will be given the Northville Coordinating Council at its next meeting May 20.

Livonia To Scrap Its Sewer Proposal

A $2,000,000 Livonia sewer project which was blocked by a court injunction, will be abandoned and a new plan substituted, the Livonia city council announced Tuesday.

At a meeting Monday evening, Mayor Elbert M. Hartom suggested that a plan put into effect by a previous administration, and which led to a bitter election campaign a month ago, be scrapped. Under his suggestion, which was adopted by the council, home owners who already had made payments would be given refunds.

Three members of the previous council, Jack Whitehead, W. W. Edgar and Mrs. Nettie Carey, opposed Hartom's suggestion, but were outvoted, 4 to 3. Their plan had been called "unrealistic and unfair in the methods of assessment."

Huge Pressure Damages Gauge; Value Estimated At More Than 5 Millions

A natural gas well on the farm of Charles H. Nerreter, west of Northville on Chubb Rd., may be the biggest producer in the entire nation, oilmen said Wednesday.

Tremendous pressures that Tuesday damaged a standard gauge with which an attempt was being made to measure the gas flow, forced owners of the well on Wednesday to seek a special gauge from a pipeline company.

Edward Torosian, president of the Ajax Mfg. Co. of Detroit and head of the drilling company which has been working on the Nerreter property for the past two months, estimated that the well's capacity would be anywhere from 15 million to 50 million cubic feet.

He said experts had told him the well might be the biggest producer in the nation if a deal could be made with a large natural gas company for commercial distribution.

$5,000,000 Value

Early estimates of the value of the gas obtainable from the well once pipelines are installed and distribution begun, were between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000. This conceivably would be stretched over a period of ten or twelve years.

Partners in the oil firm of Edward Torosian & Associates as well as the farm owner, were overjoyed at the riches of their strike. They already planned to extend their operations to other points of the 40-acre property.

Meanwhile, other operators rushed work-in an attempt to capitalize on the strike, which experts say almost definitely tabs the Northville-Salem area as the site of a major gas and oil field. Workers on the property of Mrs. Pauline Merritt, across Chubb Rd. from the Nerreter farm, stepped up their efforts.

New Wells Started

Two new wells were started in the vicinity Tuesday, the day after the Nerreter well came in. One of these was on the farm of F. Lyman Joslin, Nine Mile Rd. and Curry, in Lyon township, where the Grandview Drilling Co. began operations.

The other well was started by the Cliff Collins drilling firm on the farm of William Gowans, Eight Mile and Chubb Rds. Both are in the same general area as the Nerreter well, and not far from Napier Rd., first actual oil producer in the field, and described as probably the biggest oil producing well in the state of Michigan.

The LeMaster well came in last February, and set off the rush of activity which has brought oilmen here from all over the nation. Start of the Joslin and Gowans wells Tuesday brought to 18 the number now in the field.

Pressure Great

Keith Krisher, manager of the Nerreter well's drilling operations, told a Record reporter that the gas pressure was so great that small stones and pebbles were being torn loose and expelled with a force sufficient to send them through a board held close to the end of a 200 foot exhaust pipe. He demonstrated by holding a piece of 2x4 over the end of the pipe, and the timber was almost wrenched from his grasp.

So saturated is the air with escaping gas that a uniformed deputy from the Washtenaw county sheriff's office is on duty at the well 24 hours per day, on a three-shift basis, Krisher said that there was imminent danger of a spark setting off the escaping gas, although this was minimized Monday and Tuesday by a fairly strong wind which swept the gas eastward and diffused it.

However, should the wind die down, permitting the gas to develop in a pocket, the danger would be increased, Krisher said. Sightseers, therefore, are being kept at a considerable distance from the well for their own safety. Photographers were forbidden to use flashbulbs in taking pictures, for fear a defective bulb might break and furnish the spark that might set off a conflagration.

Charles Nerreter, who is 53, bought the farm he now owns

Merchants Group To Buy Alley Strip

Purchase of a small piece of the Pickert property in the alley north of the business block from Center eastward was voted by the Retail Merchants Assn. Monday night. The property will be given to the Village to permit widening of the alley so that shoppers will have access to the parking lot.

The association also voted to purchase a 21-inch television set which will be donated to patients of Northville State hospital.

Presentation of the set will be made at a later date.

The Price of Indo-China

The editorial below, reprinted from the Wall Street Journal, points up the pros and cons of military intervention in Indo-China by the United States. Like a large number of independent newspapers, the Wall Street Journal views with grave concern the Eisenhower Administration's abandonment of neutrality in the Indo-China crisis, and the steps which it has taken in the direction of committing American boys to another all-out war.

The Eisenhower Administration, with a series of off-the-record speeches and inspired news stories on the crisis in Indo-China, is trying to accomplish three things.

One is to rally the determination of the Allied Powers to use collectively all the force necessary to hold Indo-China and by this rallying to hearten the French in that discouraging war.

Another is to persuade the Communists by this show of Western strength and unity to settle the struggle to conquer that corner of Asia.

And the third is to condition the American people to the idea that the United States should itself shoulder the burden of saving Indo-China if all else fail.

The questions the Administration thus raises cannot be avoided.

Should the United States use its armed forces in an Allied war in Indo-China? Should the United States, if it comes to that, go to war alone for Indo-China?

Neither of these questions can be answered without deciding first how important Indo-China is to the security of the United States and what will be accomplished by a war there.

Implicit in Vice President Nixon's position—that we should fight alone if necessary—is the belief that Indo-China is not merely an important outpost in the war with Communism, but that it is an absolutely essential outpost. He says, in effect, that Indo-China must be held at any cost whatever.

The United States' strategic interest in Indo-China is that its fall would pose a potential threat to the rest of Southeast Asia, to Indonesia and to the Philippines. That, surely, makes it important. But that does not mean that it is worth any price, up to and including a global atomic war. It is certainly not worth the price the United States would have to pay for it if it had to fight all alone.

United States intervention would make it very likely that the Chinese Communist armies, in their turn, would intervene in force. They came into Korea under like conditions; U.S. forces on China's southern border could seem to the Chinese to pose the same threat to China as did our march to the Yalu.

Chinese intervention could well lead to retaliation on China itself. The logic of Korea, where we were hamstrung in a limited war, suggests that we would not again fight the Chinese in that fashion; we would almost certainly attack their bases, supply routes and troop reinforcements in China. We would be fighting Communist China, a nation of nearly five hundred million people, and fighting it on the vast mainland of Asia. And if the security of Communist China became threatened, we would have small hope that the men in the Kremlin would remain aloof.

These are the risks. Behind these risks is the certainty that war in Indo-China would cost many thousands of American casualties and many billions of dollars. No one can truly say what it might cost to get out of Indo-China once we got in.

Indo-China is important and much should be done to prevent its loss. If the French are willing to fight on, if the other allies show unity and a shared determination—if, in short, there is to be true collective action—then the United States might well consider a greater effort.

But it is foolhardy to say that if the French will not fight on, if other nations are unwilling or unable to act, then the United States must carry the burden alone. Our strategic interest is also the interest of the whole free world, and if the rest of the free world is not interested, the United States cannot alone undertake to save Indo-China.

Indo-China is important, but the price of our involvement, even with the strongest alliances, must be weighed. For at the best our involvement, as President Eisenhower once said, risks tragedy.

The United States has a great strategic interest in Indo-China. But it has an incomparably greater strategic interest in the preservation of its own strength.

Grass Roots Opinion

New Haven, Mo., Leader: "In a recent study made for Pathfinder by the National Research Bureau, Inc., to find out 'Who Really Runs America,' it was found that it is the 51 per cent of Americans who live in cities and towns under 10,000 and on farms, in what Pathfinder terms 'Country-side America.' 'Country-side' strength will be surprising to most. For example, it controls far more than half of the seats of Congress."

Windom, Minn., Reporter: "Perhaps the best answer to those who advocate compulsory government health programs is the remarkable growth of voluntary health insurance. Virtually unknown in the early 1930's, hospital insurance today covers almost three out of five persons in the United States. . . . The huge expansion of health insurance in this country has been 100 per cent voluntary. No American has been compelled by government or any other agency to spend a dollar for health insurance."

Cuero, Texas, Record: "On the strong backs of the nation's production workers depends prosperity for most of us. Also riding along are 12 government employees for every one hundred workers. We know the load is heavy anyway, and the additional luggage is not always necessary."

Capital observers point out that President Eisenhower's concept that "the right to free speech is fundamental" has been ignored by a majority of the Senate Labor Committee in making its report to the senate.

The committee recommendation, for all practical purposes, proposes it is held, a return to the old Wagner Act "course of conduct" rule which permitted the National Labor Relations Board to judge and condemn employer statements on the basis of conduct or actions in years past.

Under this rule, a statement by one employer might be legal while the same words used by another would be illegal. Unpredictable rulings of this kind under the Wagner Act forced employers from exercising their right to freedom of speech and led to the adoption of the present law and to the President's recommendation that the same clause be extended to NLRB election proceedings.

The new free speech amendment also would create additional uncertainty by bringing in the words "express or implied" in connection with threats or promise of benefits. This could mean anything to trial examiners or to the labor board. It is without limit when applied to tracing a "course of conduct."

Adoption of the Senate language would seriously restrict the freedom of speech of employers and might even hinder union leaders.

The Teacher's Hire

A young Lake Orion teacher holding three part-time jobs to supplement his $3,700 salary, says married men like himself cannot afford to teach school. The larger issue is whether the community can afford to have its children taught by an instructor dividing his talents in four directions.

In Benton Harbor, 153 teachers say they won't renew contracts under a pay system limiting those with 15 years' experience and masters' degrees to $5,200. Unless fanatically devoted to the cause of education, only those with a sense of inadequacy would accept so contemptuous a limitation on the value of experience and self-improvement.

Too many school officials have been trying to get cut-rate educators, without regard to the shabby bargains they are driving for their children. Brains are precious in the modern world. Private enterprise pays highly for them. Educational systems must try to keep pace; they can not depend entirely on a sense of dedication in prospective teachers.

Backing for this must come from parents at home. The State today defrays 55 per cent of school costs. A state study committee has recommended that money for increased salaries should be raised locally.

It would be hard to find a parent who doesn't want his children taught by any but those best equipped to guide them. But improved teaching standards will prevail in Michigan only with acceptance of the fact that educational systems get what they pay for. To accept anything less is, in its long effect, cheating the next generation.

Watch The Spenders

When we think of taxes and government spending, the emphasis is on the federal establishment. Washington collects most of the tax money and is the center of most fiscal arguments.

But do not overlook the growing tax problem of state government. In 1942, according to Thurman Sensing of the Southern States Industrial Council, total state taxes were less than $4,000,000,000. Last year they passed $10,500,000,000. It is estimated that in 1954 increases in state and local budgets will offset any decrease in federal spending.

It will do little good if federal tax cuts allow us to keep a few more dollars—and then tax collectors on the lower echelons of government take them away. Waste must be outlawed and efficiency pressed on every government level.

When Michigan first came under the jurisdiction of the United States in 1796, it was in the Territory Northwest of the River Ohio, usually called the Old Northwest. States made from the Old Northwest are Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Babson Discusses Bombs and Births

BABSON PARK, MASS.—As an introduction to this week's column, let me say that I know nothing about A-Bombs or H-Bombs. My present thinking has been due to two things:

Two Important Developments

(1) The Atomic Energy Commission has permitted one of its engineers to visit us in Central Florida and exhibit some of the uranium being produced from phosphate clays. The recovery is very small per ton of clay; but there are billions of tons. This should add to the attractions of the stock of some of our established phosphate companies.

(2) The President has made reference to bombs in a recent speech and at his news conference. This also is significant. What is the reason for this exhibiting of our uranium resources and the constant references to the H-Bomb? Then we also have the pictures of the H-Bomb tests in the Pacific, and the various newspaper and magazine articles released thereon. These developments make me suspicious that important news is in the offing. Something perhaps is going on behind the scenes which none of us realize, and it may be announced before this column gets printed. It may be that the President is trying to prepare us for such an event.

Something More To Think About

The A-Bomb has been expensive to make. It is unofficially reported that such a bomb may cost $50,000. On the other hand, the reverse may be true of the H-Bomb. After the new plant near Augusta is complete, it may be possible to make H-Bombs for $100 each. I don't know, and am only reporting rumors.

Another story going about is that the new H-Bomb will make obsolete a good portion of the famous Oak Ridge Plant in Tennessee. Very revolutionary events are pending. The H-Bomb, owing to its greater destructiveness at less cost, may be of much more importance than the A-Bomb, although the latter is needed to set off the H-Bomb. Furthermore, this H-Bomb may be a factor -- perhaps the deciding factor -- in bringing about World Peace for the next fifty years.

Relocating Our Cities

Two points I am willing to forecast: One is that the H-Bomb will result ultimately in moving the White House Executive Offices, the Senate and House of Representatives, plus the Supreme Court, to the center of the United States. Washington, D.C., is now at its peak of importance. It could begin to decline in population and prestige. Washington real estate may now be a "good sell."

The other point is that the various Departments will someday be located in other cities within a radius of 50 miles. The Defense Department will be at one city; the Treasury Department will be at another city; while the Justice Department will be at another. In other words, the nine Major Departments will be in nine smaller cities located like satellites about the central city where the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial roots of the American Tree are to be transplanted. The only defense against enemy A-Bombs is decentralization. Hence, factories will also be decentralized. The Central West and South will increase in population and prestige. Real estate in such midwestern cities may now be a "good purchase."

Recent FBI Notices

Added to the events mentioned above, we note the remarkable notice sent out by J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, to be on the watch for heavy suitcases. These may carry A-Bombs and their lead insulations.

As a result of all the above, I forecast further important International Conferences which will be aimed to bring about World Peace at least for the life of all living today. These conferences, which started at Geneva on April 26, will discuss China and other Far East problems, as well as Russia. They may even lead to an international discussion of birth control, which is intimately connected with the elimination of war.

MISCHIEF MANOR

Schoolmaster J. B. Preston told the Town Council of Hatfield, England, it should build a house for child vandals to tear to pieces. "We would call my house 'Mischief Manor'" Preston said. It would be left half completed and we would let the children roam through it, leaving a trail of havoc. Then having worked off their surplus energy, they would go home, rid of the lust for destruction. Mr. Preston seems to think that one day's use of surplus energy on the part of the child will rid him of his lust for destruction. There are too many incidents on record of young hoodlums carrying on their depredations for weeks and months before being caught by the police, to really believe that theory. A child should be taught the Holy Scriptures which reveal his responsibility toward his parents and the State and God.

Judges admit that it is a very rare thing for children who have been regular attendants of Sunday School and who have had the godly example of parents before them, to be found guilty of vandalism. Children who are taken to Sunday School regularly have no need of "Mischief manors"—nor will they leave "a trail of havoc" behind them.

A Visit With Your Neighbors On the Job

Lucius Blake

Any way you look at them, through a jeweler's magnifying lens or by the mile, 250,000 watches represents a lot of watches.

That is the number Lucius Blake, Northville jeweler, estimates he has repaired in the 41 years he has been in business. Laid end to end, if a watch can be said to have an end, the number of time pieces he has handled would stretch a distance of approximately two miles.

Years ago, Blake took a watch-making and repairing course in Attica, Ind., and another at the Bromley and Bailey watch making school in Detroit. In those days a watch repairer had to know how to make wheels, pinions, and set jewels in foreign watches, as well as repair American-made timepieces, as there were no parts available in this country for foreign watches. He could still whip up a part for one of these watches if the occasion demanded it for he has all the precision instruments which were used for that purpose. These instruments are as interesting as the watches themselves and include jewel setting and wheel making gadgets, pinion grinding tools, roller tables and movement holders, all packed away as a part of the past. He still makes parts for stop watches though he has two from Ohio right now that he is working on.

Before going into business in Northville 32 years ago, Mr. Blake practiced his trade for seven years in Sand Lake, a little town not far from Pierson, his birthplace. From Sand Lake he went to Detroit and made dental tools for a year and also did watch repairing in a shop on Michigan Ave. for two years.

One of the most interesting in his collection of old watches is a sun dial American made timepiece with a small compass sunk in the center of the face. There also are several foreign-made chain drive watches which were wound with a small key, but these have long disappeared from general use.

Blake's brother, Joe, has assisted in the watch repairing for the past 20 years, and Mrs. Lucius Blake takes an active part in the management of the store.

They have one daughter who lives in Northville—Mrs. Walter Belasco.

The Blakes live at 353 N. Rogers St.

Mrs. E. J. Cobb had the distinction of being the oldest mother present and Mrs. Hazel Hammond Wright the youngest. The youngest daughter was 19 months old Beverly Forsyth. Mrs. West of Bad Axe, mother of Mrs. Clarence Jerome traveled the longest distance to attend the banquet.

Double Planet Visible In May, Says Univ. of Mich. Astronomer

ANN ARBOR—Longer days, a double planet and a heavenly crown—that's May's lineup of stellar attractions, according to Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan associate professor of astronomy.

Prof. Losh explains that at the month's beginning "we will have 14 hours of daylight, extending to 15 by the end of May." This is due to the sun's rising and setting approximately 20 degrees north of the east and west horizon points, with the distance increasing to 30 degrees as the month lengthens.

Venus will shine as May's bright "Evening Star" for about one and a half hours after sunset, moving eastward and passing Jupiter on May 23. Bright, but not as much so as Venus, Jupiter will combine with it to appear as a double planet at the time of passing.

Formerly located near and below the horns of Taurus, Jupiter moves into the constellation of Gemini (The Heavenly Twins) this month, Prof. Losh points out.

Saturn will be seen in May's southeast sky revealed to be surrounded by a shining ring when viewed through even a small telescope. Located 15 degrees east of the star Spica, it is distinguished by its yellowish color in contrast to the star's whiteness.

"In the east, Mars, red in color, will grow brighter throughout the month," Prof. Losh states.

On May 2, a new moon will grace May's sky, passing two degrees above Venus on May 4 and Jupiter the next day. Prof. Losh points out that "by May 16 the moon will be almost nearly full, continuing on its winding path among the planets and passing Mars and Saturn."

Around sunset, May's skies will reveal the Corona Borealis or The Northern Crown. One of the few constellations resembling the subject it is supposed to, the crown has stars arranged in a semi-circle, outlining a crown of sparkling jewels, the professor says.

"Composed of seven fairly bright stars," she adds, Corona's brightest is Gemma, known as "Pearl of the Crown." Prof. Losh continues that it was also known to the Arabs as Alphecca, "the Bright One of the Dish," for they felt the constellation resembled a dish.

During the wintry weather of the last week or two, flower-lovers resorted to many schemes in an effort to save the early spring blossoms. One woman, whose hobby is tulip-raising, spent most of a night moving her electric heat pad back and forth over the flower beds. Needless to say, when morning arrived, all the gay tulips looked brighter and fresher than their owner. A truck from Goodwill Industries, Detroit, spent Monday and Tuesday of this past week making pick-ups in Farmington, Farmington Twp., and that part of Livonia having Farmington telephone numbers. Clothing drives and recent rummage sales cut down the number of calls. For the June pickup call Farmington 1461M—if you live within the West Point Park area.

Plymouth
is your "best buy"
in the lowest-price
field!

Recently a 1954 Plymouth and current models of the other two best-known low-price cars were taken apart by Plymouth engineers and compared, part by part. Standard "stock" models were used. We've listed some typical findings below.

Plymouth is "best buy" in many ways. Here are just a few!

Front Wheel Brakes

Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel to ensure smooth stops without "grabbing." The other two low-price cars have only one.

Seat Springs

Plymouth uses coil seat springs, for longer lasting support. The "other two" have a zigzag platform type. Also, Plymouth's "springs-on-springs" design adds more comfort.

Piston Rings

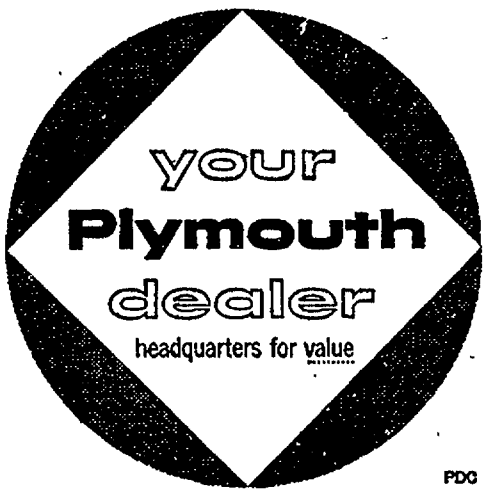

Plymouth has four rings on each piston; the "other two" have three. Result: decreased carbon deposit, more consistent power output. Increased oil economy, too!

Micronic Oil Filter

Standard on most Plymouth models. Keeps abrasive dirt out of the engine, reducing wear and achieving greater oil economy. Extra cost on the other two low-price cars.

And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today... and get the facts!

Ask us for the big illustrated booklet that shows how Plymouth leads in frame construction... engine design... performance... economy... comfort... safety.

Go for a drive in America's "best-buy" low-price car!

Largest medical bill payment ever made for Michigan people!

Blue Cross - Blue Shield pay out more dollars for hospital and doctor care, provide worry-free protection for more people in Michigan than all other kinds of medical bill protection combined.

Your Michigan Blue Cross - Blue Shield paid out $91,299,797 for subscribers in 1953. As of today the total paid out for hospital and doctor bills during the last 15 years is more than $400 million.

The most successful protection against hospital bills

Blue Cross is the most successful idea ever devised for protection against hospital bills. Non-profit, it is the only organization for hospital care officially approved by the American Hospital Association. Over 3,000,000 Michigan people have Blue Cross. Chances are, your neighbor has it. Talk it over with him—and see if he doesn't agree that there is no finer protection at any price!

Hospital Service Protection... the Blue Cross way

Blue Cross differs from other kinds of hospital protection, because it supplies service protection. This is important since you rarely know in advance how much a hospital bill will cost you. So you can't feel really safe with protection that limits you to $10, $15 or some other set amount per day.

When you become a member of a Blue Cross Group it is like becoming the "owner" of a wide range of hospital services in advance of need. Then, when you need hospital services... such as bed and board, expensive extras like oxygen, drugs and medicines, operating room, and others... these services are automatically yours. And this same protection holds for every enrolled member in your family. Blue Cross hospital service benefits are available in more than 200 Blue Cross participating hospitals in Michigan alone.

Doctor Bill Protection... the Blue Shield way

Paying doctor bills is different from paying hospital bills, because in almost every case, your doctor can tell you beforehand what his charge will be. The thing he can't tell you, however, is when you are going to need his services. So, against that need, Blue Shield offers a smart way to safeguard your savings... to take doctor bills in your stride.

Blue Shield offers two basic plans—one, a straight surgical plan, the other, a medical-surgical plan. Under either plan, Blue Shield pays generous, specific amounts directly to your doctor for thousands of surgical procedures, including maternity care. And in non-surgical cases, under the medical-surgical plan, Blue Shield also pays liberal amounts for your doctor's visits to you in the hospital. Often the doctor's full bill is covered.

The cost is low

For only pennies per day, Blue Cross - Blue Shield provide you with the most complete protection against hospital and medical bills it is possible to obtain. To help keep cost low, Blue Cross - Blue Shield do not pay for purely diagnostic treatment—or for procedures which can properly be done in a doctor's office... except emergency treatment as covered in the contracts. You, too, can help keep cost low by using Blue Cross - Blue Shield only when necessary.

There's no red tape!

When you have to use Blue Cross - Blue Shield, there are no claims to make... no long waits for payment. All you do is present your Identification Card to your hospital or doctor... and Blue Cross - Blue Shield pay them directly.

How to get Blue Cross - Blue Shield

Ask your employer or your union representative how you can get low-cost Group Enrollment. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Check your Farm Bureau or Grange. Write or phone your nearest Blue Cross - Blue Shield office.

Your Congressman Reports

By Representative CHARLES G. OAKMAN
17th District, Michigan

DEFENSE APPROPRIATION—

The House has passed and sent to the Senate an appropriation bill of $28.7 billion for defense spending in fiscal 1955. With funds carried over from this and previous years, the new appropriation would give the military services about $42 billion to spend in the fiscal year beginning July 1. Chairman Short of the House Armed Services committee told the membership that the bill "makes us as strong as our economy will allow us to be short of all-out total mobilization."

Representative Alvin M. Bentley—Our brave colleague from Owosso—returned to the floor of the House last Tuesday for the first time since he was seriously wounded in a wild outburst of gunfire by Puerto Rican fanatics on March 1. The members stood in unison and applauded long and long when Al walked in and they repeated the demonstration at the end of a ten minute address made wherein he called himself "a living example of what prayer can do if it is sincere enough." He appealed to the Congressmen to meet all problems in the same non-partisan way they responded to the shooting. He is an inspiration to his colleagues.

CONGRATULATIONS to: Harvey Jahn, 33855 Oakdale, Livonia, who won one of my principal appointments to West Point. Harvey's father was a respected member of the Livonia City council.

Attend U. of M. Annual Conference

Mrs. L. M. Eaton, Kathryn Giltner, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pine of Plymouth, attended the Ninth District Annual Conference of the University of Michigan Alumni Assn. held at the Wyandotte Yacht club, Saturday, May 8. The Ninth District comprises the largest Michigan Alumni representation in the entire country and delegations from all clubs in Southeastern Michigan were in attendance. The principal speaker was Dr. Henry J. Gomberg, Asst. Director of Phoenix Memorial Project at the University of Michigan, who talked on the subject of "Peace-time Uses of Atomic Energy."

A tour of the Michigan Alkali Works of the Wyandotte Chemicals Corp. concluded the all day meeting of the conference.

New Social Laws Will Benefit All

LANSING—A guaranteed $70 per month maximum old age assistance payment and a new program for care of the aged in their home communities head the list of achievements in the field of social welfare during the last legislative session.

Under the old law, the State matched a $35 monthly Federal grant to provide the $70 per month. But under the new law, that amount will be paid regardless of whether the Federal contribution is cut.

The action was taken to assure that those receiving old age assistance in Michigan will have their grants guaranteed by the State.

The new program for care of the aged in their own communities provides that counties may construct homes, with State assistance, for those suffering from senility. Many now are sent to mental hospitals and suffer the stigma of being confined to a mental institution as well as being separated from their families and friends. Senile persons now occupy a large percentage of mental hospital beds, which are more expensive to provide than would be medical care facilities in their home communities.

In that way, the aged could receive proper care at less expense to the taxpayer and at the same time be close to their families and friends. The program resulted from a long study by legislative committees of the best way to care for senile persons.

The Legislature also adopted a new narcotics law which provides that dope addicts shall be considered criminals confined to a prison. Another important step forward in the social field is a tuberculosis case-finding and control program authorized by the Legislature in an attempt to stamp out the disease in Michigan.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL
by Gene Alleman

LIKE TWO FIGHTERS in the opening rounds of a slugging match, Democrat and Republican brass are probing and sparring in a search of each others defense. Both are anxious to discover any weakness of the opponent; each is striving to cover his most vulnerable points.

Campaign machinery has been readied for action and already has started to function. Most people expect campaigning to be rugged. Michigan is considered one of the crucial and key states. What happens here is of national political importance. Neither side will lose the election for lack of aggressive effort.

CERTAIN similarities exist in the hopes and fears of both Republicans and Democrats. Each hopes for dissent within the other party. Each claims that it will be campaigning on a shoe string; that the other has huge financial supports from "vested interests."

Both the Republican spokesmen and Gov. G. Mennen Williams claim credit for all good recent legislation; each claims the other was prodded into constructive action by pressures of the moment.

AN ELEMENT OF TRUTH, as is usually the case in politics, is present in all these claims. But it is hard to separate from fabrication.

John Feikens, chairman of the Republican State Chairman Committee, says the CIO will "try to buy an election in Michigan with a million and a half dollar war chest." John Murray, publicity director for the Democratic State Central Committee, poops this, saying, "We are always hearing about gigantic sums of money unions are pouring into our campaigns, but we never see any of it. I wish someone would tell me where we can get our hands on it."

THE FIVE GOP CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR is considered the most potential source of trouble for Republicans. It is agreed by political observers that bitterness within the party after previous political campaigns, cost the Republicans many, many votes; probably the governor's chair last election.

REPUBLICANS ARE HOPEFUL that the "second" man in the Democratic primary might cause party disunity for their opponents. Blair Moody was no surprise as a senatorial candidate. Patrick V. McNamara, who also wants the job, has been more than a little pointed about charging Williams with "boss rule." He provides a warm issue that could turn into a hot one.

EXTREME CARE is being taken by both parties to reduce chance of a split within their own ranks.

Republican leaders have secured tacit agreement from candidates that they will campaign against Democrats and not each other. All candidates will be treated the same at the GOP convention in Grand Rapids Aug. 20-21, no matter who won the primary Aug. 3. All will be accorded equal time June 15 at a gigantic political rally.

SWEET WORDS have been forthcoming from Gov. Williams regarding McNamara. He referred to him as "an honorable gentleman who has every right to become a candidate in the senator's race."

The governor has said he will not campaign for either McNamara or Moody in the primary. But he also takes the stand that he appointed Moody to the Senate and cannot do anything that could be interpreted as a withdrawal of support. "The governor and the party will bend over backwards trying to be neutral," said a Democratic official.

"A DECISION may be made within 30 days about the location of America's West Point of the Air," said R.B. Miller, chairman of the Battle Creek Air Academy Committee and publisher of the Battle Creek Enquirer & News. Civic leaders in this area have conducted a rigorous campaign for location of the U.S. Air Academy at Fort Custer, a former army camp now standing idle.

MICHIGAN'S bid in behalf of Fort Custer was presented to the Site Selection Commission which visited the fort on April 28.

Miller welcomes all support from anyone for the location of the Air Academy at Fort Custer. Sources in touch with the Site Selection Commission state that while any "pressure tactics" would be sharply resented, its members are interested in public reaction to the location of the site.

"After all," stated the Battle Creek publisher, "Anybody feels happier about coming to a place where he's appreciated and wanted." Miller said that any material sent to him would be immediately forwarded to the Academy Site Selection Commission as further evidence of Michigan's unity in inviting the Academy to come to this state.

WARNING TO CARELESS DRIVERS—State Police officers have been directed to maintain a more rigid enforcement of traffic laws on Michigan's highways. Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, alarmed by the 14 per cent increase in accidents, mostly rural, wants lawbreakers arrested when-

Drama of Industry Presented on TV

DETROIT—A series of three half-hour TV programs, "The Drama of Industry", jointly produced by the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Wayne University History Dept., will be presented on WJL-TV, Channel 4, on Saturday evenings, May 8 through 22, from 6 to 6:30 p.m.

The theme of tracing the historical, biographical and esthetic development of the present industrial age was chosen as particularly appropriate for Detroit. This is the first instance in which two large cultural institutions in Detroit have cooperated on an ambitious television program.

The three episodes, in order of presentation, are: "Wood, Wind and Water", covering the development of the Guild system and crafts industries at the close of the Middle Ages; "Coal, Iron and Steam", dealing with the Industrial Revolution of the 18th and 19th centuries; and "Machine and Modern Man", dealing with problems, industrial and artistic production of the present.

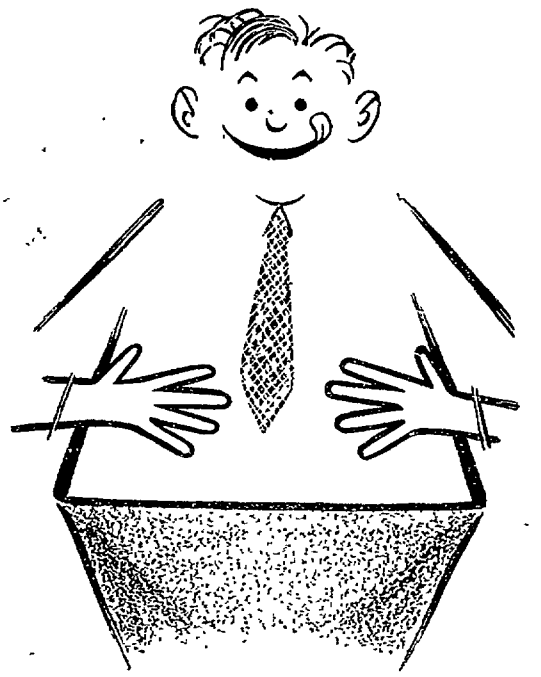

Participating members of the Wayne History Department will be: Dr. Franklin W. Wallin, Dr. George A. Foote and Dr. Raymond C. Miller. Franklin Page of the Institute will be master of ceremonies and a wide variety of articles from the Institute's collection—furniture, textiles, ceramics, sculpture, paintings, prints and drawings, will be used in illustration.

The programs were conceived by a joint committee from the two institutions headed by Prof. Margaret Sterne of Wayne.

From 1890 to 1900, Michigan was the leading state in the production of iron ore. Mining was carried on in the Marquette, the Menominee, and the Gogebic ranges.

ever possible. "Violations are the cause of most accidents, so we are going to redouble our efforts to discourage drivers from violating," said the Commissioner.

THE ACCIDENT INCREASE noted was for the first three months of 1954 as compared with the previous year. Part of the increase is attributed to improved reporting systems and more travel. "Fatalities are down slightly but injuries are higher, said the Commissioner, "but we want to reduce accidents themselves as much as possible."

Northville Airman
On Aircraft Carrier

FAR EAST—The attack aircraft carrier USS Philippine Sea, carrying the planes and personnel of Carrier Air Group 5 has joined the Seventh Fleet and in doing so commenced a tour of duty in this area for both ship and air group.

Aboard the carrier with Air Group 5 is Jerry Freydl, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Freydl of 43025 7 Mile Rd., Northville, Mich.

One of the first ships to enter the Korean conflict, the Philippine Sea assisted in the Inchon invasion and supported UN forces advancing on Seoul.

On her last Korean tour, which ended the day following the signing of the truce, the carrier's aircraft flew over 16 thousand hours in more than 7,000 combat missions, dropping 4,000 tons of bombs and firing over 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition.

Carrier Air Group 5 launched the first carrier-based attack of the Korean fighting, a flight of "Panther" jets which hit enemy forces on July 3, 1950. The pilots of CAG-5 flew more than 18,000 missions before the signing of the truce.

Jerry Freydl Calls
Mother from Manila

Mrs. Frank Freydl was happily surprised on Mother's Day to receive a call from her son, Jerry, who is stationed at Manila in the Philippine Islands. The reception was very clear although coming by radio and telephone.

Jerry, who has been in service since August 1952, is serving in the Naval Air intelligence division of the Fighter Squadron and is aboard the carrier "Philippine Sea". He left San Diego, Calif. Mar 12 and has been in the Hawaiian Islands, Japan, along the Korean coast and just returned to Manila after maneuvers in South China Sea.

Zebra Print Invades Fashion World

Whoever thought of mentioning women and zebras in the same breath? Well, these days are gone forever now that Vanity Fair has revealed its latest spectacular creation—the gorgeous and glamorous zebra print. Beautiful abstract designs in snowy white and midnight black stripes bring the zest and vitality of the animal kingdom to Vanity Fair's own luxurious nylon tricot. There's more to this zebra series than the bras, briefs and pettiskirt shown above. Included are lounging pajamas with tapered trousers, dressing gowns and a delightfully cool and chic peignoir. Incidentally, these zebra beauties wash and dry to smooth perfection without pressing.

For Around The Clock Wear

Light and dark ground prints are making headlines at J. C. Penney's Summer Dress Carnival. Pink and green roosters strut across the black background of a cotton broadcloth frock (right). It's formal enough for an afternoon call and the huge slash pockets make it just as practical for informal wear. A riot of color, too many to count, makes the tropical print broadcloth (left) gay from morning till night. The wide lapels on a belt are sprinkled with rhinestones to catch every bit of color.

A total of $1,075.10 was collected this year in the Easter Seal and Easter Lilly drives, Chairman John Miller said Tuesday.

The figure is approximately 20 percent lower than last year's Miller said. This he attributed to the gradual tightening of money in circulation, and the lack of as strenuous a campaign as that of 1953.

Betty Schomberger - James Wick Wed in Double Ring Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. James Wick

Elizabeth Ann Schomberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin M. Schomberger of Ann Arbor Trail, became the bride of James Carl Wick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wick, of Northville, at a nine o'clock ceremony in Our Lady of Good Counsel church Saturday, May 1.

The Rev. Father Francis Byrne officiated at the double ring ceremony. White snapdragons and carnations filled the gold vases on the altar and lighted tapers glowed in the matching candelabra.

Miss Toni Bondie and Miss Jackie Either, accompanied by Mrs. Felix Cylk on the organ, sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, approached the altar in a floor-length gown of white satin with bouffant overskirt of nylon net. The fitted jacket of Chantilly lace was fashioned with long sleeves fastened by tiny buttons. Her tiered veil of illusion fell gracefully from a small hat adorned with clusters of orange blossoms on either side. She carried a bouquet of forget-me-nots centered with a white orchid and placed on her Mother of Pearl Prayer Book.

The maid of honor, Miss Ethel Simon, cousin of the bride, wore a ballerina-length gown of Dresden blue net over taffeta. She carried a "colonial" bouquet of white carnations and roses. Her headband was of matching blue net.

The bridesmaids, Miss Joyce Schomberger, sister of the bride, and Miss Linda Minock, were dressed in ballerina-length gowns of shell pink and pastel blue with matching head bands. They car-

Michigan's Spring Mushrooms Are Delectable Tidbits for Your Table

Ann Arbor—Hunting for spring morels—regarded the world over as the most delectable and succulent of mushrooms—can be as much fun as trout fishing, according to Alexander H. Smith, professor of botany and biologist in the University of Michigan Herbarium.

In fact, in the South mushroom collecting is known as "dry land fishing!" Safe for the amateur to select and eat, mushrooms are practically without equals as edible fungi and are avidly sought.

No Training Needed
With no special training and no equipment fancier than a clean cloth, basket and knife, you can search out these delicacies in their environments and return home triumphant with a dish of fungi fresh from the field.

Look for morels in the Michigan woods every spring around the first week of May. They also may be found in wet, abandoned meadows and orchards. The time of their appearance will, of course, vary with the weather.

You don't need any secret test to identify the morels. Genus Morchella—extremely delicious—has pits and ridges in the cap as its distinguishing features. The plant stands from two to six inches high, the cap forming the upper half or two thirds and the stem the remainder. The cap is tan to brown, the stem somewhat paler. Both stem and cap are hollow and brittle in texture.

You need to be sure of the age and condition of your specimens! Avoid those that are old, limp and flabby, as they may be partially decomposed by harmful bacteria.

After you have found that ripe, dried bouquet of roses and carnations.

Charles Holman, uncle of the bride, attended James as best man. Ushers were Fred Wick, brother of the bridegroom, and Ralph Schomberger, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Schomberger, mother of the bride, chose an afternoon dress of blue lace with navy and pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Wick was attired in a royal blue dress of lace. She had navy accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Holman, grandmother of the bride, selected an orchid crepe dress with which she wore a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Henning, the bridegroom's grandmother, wore blue and she too wore a white carnation corsage.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party was held at the Mayflower Hotel following the ceremony. In the evening a reception was held in the VFW hall on Lilly Rd., with nearly 300 guests attending. Out-of-town guests were present from Northville, Detroit, Anchorville, Mt. Clemens, South Lyon, Belleville, Farmington, Ypsilanti, Macon, Illinois, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

When the young couple left on a honeymoon through the South, Mrs. Wicks was wearing a dressmaker suit of beige linen with brown accessories. She wore the orchids from her bridal bouquet. After returning to Plymouth the Wicks will reside at 410 Plymouth Ave., Northville.

also be dried and saved for future use. There are many ways of cooking the "sponges," but they are excellent simply fried in butter or served with steak. While morels are safe to eat, it might be well to point out that there is a personal factor in mushroom poisoning. Persons who know they are violently allergic to fungus spores—some hay fever patients—would do well to be very cautious when first testing any kind of mushroom not previously eaten by them. It is best to play safe and eat only small quantities the first time you prepare a new mushroom dish.

Many Northville Homeowners Use FHA Repair, Modification Facilities

The current Congressional investigation of the Federal Housing Administration's Title I repair and modernization program will show that many thousands of home owners in Northville and other communities have used that program to help improve their properties at a reasonable cost with the aid of low, convenient monthly payments, according to Harold C. Church, of the Nowels Lumber & Coal Company, local lumber and building materials dealer and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"FHA's self-supporting Title I program serves the needs of home owners well, at no expense to the taxpayers, except where it has been abused by a small number of irresponsible individuals who have sought exorbitant profits and have made false and misleading promises," Church said.

"The irregularities which Congress is investigating have occurred principally in cases where home owners have signed contracts with unknown operators from out-of-town.

"As early as last September, our National Association began to assist FHA officials in tightening up regulations so that the abuses could be eliminated without preventing retail lumber dealers and legitimate contractors from helping their customers obtain benefits offered by FHA-insured loans for property improvements.

"At the same time, in view of the need for making this highly desirable program available to as many home owners as is economically sound and feasible, our association has been actively supporting the pending Congressional legislation which would increase from three to five years, the period over which Title I

"Best Seller" for 3 good reasons

CAN YOU SEE • STEER • STOP SAFELY?
CHECK YOUR CAR—CHECK ACCIDENTS

Buick now outsells all other cars in its price class and above

You've probably noticed it right in your own neighborhood.

Bright new Buicks appearing here, there, everywhere. And more and more of them in recent weeks.

Know what's happening?

Folks in growing numbers—(and maybe you'll be joining them soon!)—are finding Buick styling, performance and value far too wonderful to pass up.

So Buick is selling at a record pace—outselling all other cars in its price class and above.

Matter of fact, latest figures for the first quarter of 1954 show that, in total national volume, Buick is out-selling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

Look and a ride and a peek at the price tag will be all you'll need to know what's back of this best-selling success.

There's styling in Buick that's the greatest beauty advance in years—the very look of tomorrow—and with the spectacular panoramic windshield that's part and parcel of the dream-car look.

There's performance in Buick as never before—with record-high V8 power, with the sensationally smooth whip of Twin-Turbine Dynaflo,* with the buoyant ride of all-coil-springing, with a new precision of control and handling.

And there's value in Buick that's hard to match—with prices starting near the "low-price three"—prices that buy more Buick beauty and power and thrill and sheer automobile than smart money ever bought before.

How about you?

Are you ready, willing and waiting to be shown that this best seller called Buick is the buy of the year for you, too? Drop in this week, or give us a call, and we'll arrange a demonstration.

DEER INVADE FARMLANDS

Despite efforts to control the Michigan deer herd by the adoption of special seasons permitting the shooting of antlerless animals, something's gone wrong with our planning. Hungry deer in Alpena and Alcona counties are moving out of their browsed-out forest habitat and into the surrounding farms now turning green with budding cherry trees and fresh sprouts of tender leaves on the strawberry plants.

Damage Extensive

As you may have learned in recent news releases from this area, the farmers are up in arms over the situation. The deer damage is costly—running into a loss of thousands of dollars to a single farmer in some instances. The Conservation department has issued permits to the farmers to shoot the trespassing animals. Heavy rifle fire echoes across that part of Michigan every night now, as an effort is made to save the berry and cherry crops from further destruction.

The average Michigan citizen may well be somewhat confused by the situation. Who is at fault in the failure to keep the deer under better control in this area? The blame goes 'round and 'round!

Clubs Accused

Most of the land surrounding the crop-damage farm sectors is owned by hunting clubs. Some of the individual clubs control more than 20,000 acres. In some instances, despite open seasons on antlerless deer on a statewide basis, the membership has voted down the killing of anything but bucks with good racks. Naturally, with only a few deer shot in huge tracts of land the herd has grown rapidly, over-browsed much of their natural food, and in hungry desperation moved to the fertile farm lands adjoining.

Feeding Urged

The clubs have been urging the Conservation Department to adopt a widespread feeding program. But this is definitely against department policy.

Meanwhile the farmers are caught in the middle. A half-million dollar berry crop is perished. Fencing and the fences have to be at least 8 feet high—is economically impractical. Trapping deer is next to impossible. And so the killing by permit must continue, though its effect on the vast numbers in the herd will be negligible. A three-way get-together and possible compromise is now being attempted involving the Department, club representatives and the farmers. The whole thing is a problem that makes deserving headlines in Michigan Outdoors right now.

A great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Ida M. Cook, who makes her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Cavell, of E. Seven Mile Rd., is holding the youngest member of the family gathered together in the above picture. The occasion was the baptism of six-months-old Richard Fred Palmer, Jr. Two members of the family, Great-grandmother Mrs. Fred Palmer of Plymouth and Great-grandmother Mrs. Nettie Phelps of Jackson, were unable to attend this family reunion. The Cavell family is well known in the Northville area. Pictured above standing (left to right) are: Fred Palmer,

A REAL MOCKER—

Lansing — A misplaced mockingbird has just finished 10 days of scrambled operations at Rose Lake wildlife station, miles northeast of here, game workers report.

The gray and white bird, usually found only in more southerly states, camped at the station for over a week, during which he imitated at least 16 other bird types—including the domestic chicken.

Famed for prolonging the songs of others, this bird imitated calls of the robin, bluebird, cardinal, kingfisher, crested flycatcher, whip-poor-will, English sparrow, flicker, tufted titmouse, chipping sparrow, bob-white, starling, towhee, ovenbird, domestic chick-

Refreshments were served at a table centered by a model castle, constructed by Chris Krauter and decorated with spring flowers. Joann Hinman and Michael Janchick poured.

The two room mothers, Mrs. Roland Tabor and Mrs. Paul Beard, were in charge of refreshments. They were assisted by a committee of children consisting of Mary Bell, Carolyn Millington, Marjorie Baker, Carole Tabor, Nancy Beard, Marilyn Modos, Carolyn Van Atta, Pat Robertson, Carole Lemmon, Joann Hinman and Michael Janchick.

The stage committee comprised Fred Mitchell, Gary Morgan, Edward Proctor, Terry Cherne, Larry Putnam, Jon Nicholls and Michael Janchick.

On the welcoming committee were Cynthia Kohn, Shirley Lack and Dollias Williams. Between acts the following musical numbers were presented: guitar duet, Mike Eastland and Carolyn Van Atta; piano solos, Marjorie Baker; piano duets, March and Chorus from "Norma," "The Rustic Dance," both played by Mrs. Bart Connors and her niece, Carole Tabor.

An orchestra selection, "Peg of My Heart," was played by Carole Tabor, Michael Janchick and Joann Hinman. Mrs. Clyde Hinman accompanied them on the piano.

Cheap Turkey
In Prospect for Holidays

Michigan families will be eating much cheaper turkey during the 1954 holiday season than last year if turkey raisers don't cut their production. That's the word from J. M. (Mac) Moore, extension poultryman at Michigan State college.

Moore cites figures compiled by the U.S. Department of Agriculture turkey industry committee which show about 10 per cent more heavy breed turkeys than in 1953. This indicated crop, Moore points out, will be larger than the market can take at prices profitable to growers.

Moved by Stubenvoll, supported by Reed, that bills be carried.

Moved by Allen, supported by Reed, that the expenses of Comm. Stubenvoll and Atty. Ogilvie for attending the Wayne County Regional meeting of the Michigan Municipal meeting at Lincoln Park, Mich., be paid by the Village.

Comm. Reed reported having attended the Civil Defense meeting which was held in Detroit on Apr. 7th, 1954, and that he had passed the information which he acquired on to Civil Defense Director Oscar Hammond.

Comm. Peters reported on the progress being made on the Community Bldg., also that the Community Bldg. committee had decided they did not approve allowing the gymnasium floor to be painted a solid color around the border as had been previously agreed to. It was therefore moved by Comm. Stubenvoll, supported by Comm. Reed, that the motion made on May 15th, 1954 granting approval of the request of the Athletic Board of the Public School to have the gym floor so painted, be rescinded and that the recommendation of the Community Bldg. Committee regarding the floor be adopted.

It was agreed to raise the salary of George L. Young, Electrical Inspector, from $50.00 to $65.00 per month.

Moved by Allen, supported by Peters, that the chlorinator which has been in use by the Village on a rental basis for the past several months, be purchased at a cost of $450.00, and that the rental already paid be applied on the purchase price, as per agreement with Wallace & Tiernan.

Comm. Reed turned over to the Village Commission three deeds from the Spagnuolos to property for alley purposes on the north side of E. Main St.

Comm. Stubenvoll, Chairman of the Finance Committee, then proceeded with the public hearing on the 1954-55 Village budget, presenting the amount appropriated for each department and stating the Commission of each item and the changes proposed. Pres. Ely asked if there was any objection by anyone present to its passage, and there being none, it was moved by Stubenvoll, supported by Reed, that the budget be adopted as presented. Carried. The amount to be spread on the tax roll is $91,130.00, which the Village Assessor is instructed to spread as General Fund expenditures.

Comm. Reed and Welch were appointed to act as entertainment committee for the visiting dignitaries, who will come to Northville on May 6th, 1954, in exchange for our representatives. This is in celebration of Michigan Week.

No further business appearing, meeting was adjourned.

(Signed) Mary Alexander, Clerk

Tomato Plant Growing Is Made Easier By MSC Tests

Michigan gardeners who grow their own tomato plants for transplant purposes or those who grow them for sale will be able to do the job easier now, thanks to research at Michigan State college.

Mrs. Miriam C. Strong, of the MSC botany and plant pathology department has shown that treating tomato seed with certain fungicides will control a disease called "damping off", one of the biggest headaches of plant growers. She found that Cuprocid, Arason, TMTD dust, Crag 658 and 5400 controlled damping off satisfactorily without causing injury to the seedlings.

Before the discovery that fungicide would do the job, it was necessary to steam-sterilize the seedbed soil, flats and tools and be sure the items were not re-contaminated—all this to prevent "damping off".

Mrs. Strong also points out that it's also necessary, even with the tea sandwiches for their Mother's Day tea. Then they made up the invitations to their mothers for the same. They then divided into two groups, one playing games, and the other working on their "Brownie Story" play which they will present later.

Christine Moase, Scribe

Troop 6—Also in anticipation of Mother's Day, the Brownies made pin boxes out of pill boxes ornated with pieces of mirror and colored stones. They played games, and then enjoyed a nibble box brought by Patty Martin.

Varsity Nine Divides With Milford, Holly

Northville High school's Mustangs split two baseball games last week, losing a wild game to Milford 12 to 11, and swamping Holly, 9 to 3.

The bad luck which has plagued the squad all season struck again in the Milford contest. Shortstop Ed Mollema and Leftfielder Larry Meyer bumped heads violently trying to catch a long fly ball. Mollema sustained a broken jaw, and will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season. The jaw was fractured in three places, Coach Al Jones reported.

Milford started off in whirlwind fashion, scoring four times in the first inning. Before the barrage subsided in the fifth, the visitors had tallied 11 times on the hapless Mustangs. Bell relieved Lovett on the mound, and allowed only one run the rest of the distance, but that was enough to win for Milford.

Northville batters found the range after three scoreless innings, tallying three times in the fourth, five in the sixth, and three more times in the final stanza, but the effort fell one run short of forcing the contest into overtime.

THE BOX SCORE:
Northville 0 0 0 3 0 5 3 — 11
Milford 4 1 2 4 0 1 0 — 12

Good relief work by Mack Bell brought a welcome victory to the Mustangs in the Holly game. Stealing a lead from the usual visitor's book, Northville scored four times in the first inning, and while Bell muzzled Holly batters in the last three innings, the Mustangs tallied five insurance runs in the sixth.

THE BOX SCORE:
Holly 0 1 1 1 0 0 0 — 3
Northville 4 0 0 0 5 x — 9

While the varsity baseball team was splitting its weekly series, the Mustang golf squad made a valiant effort to take Class A Berkley into camp, but lost the match by the margin of a single stroke.

Northville Girl In Tennis Meet

BLOOMFIELD HILLS. Jay Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Page, 22949 Novi Road, Northville, has been enrolled as a competitor in the Michigan State Girl's Open Tennis Championships to be held between May 13 and 23 at Kingswood School Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills.

Jay will take part in a singles tournament for girls 15 years old and under May 13 through 16.

Girls from 16 to 18 years of age will play off their singles contest May 20 through 23.

Golf League Will Tee Off May 18

Northville golfers wishing to chase that elusive ball are urged to contact Earl Gibson at 466-J regarding membership in the Northville Golf league as the season starts May 18.

The play will be at Brae Burn golf course, Napier and Six Mile Rd. and will continue for 16 consecutive weeks. If you cannot make the first round, and wish to join, call Earl Gibson and he will make arrangements for you to enter the league.

Are The Yanks Falling Apart?

There is a noticeable feeling of an impending change in the American league, says The Sporting News. Rival managers and players come to Yankee stadium, take a good look at the Yankees and announce with conviction, "There will be no sixth straight pennant! These guys are washed up." In past years, predictions by opposition sources of New York grief were guarded and a case of the wish being father to the thought.

Now, there is a far different situation. The other clubs are convinced that a new deal is in process of development, and there is a great rejoicing.

Ready for Change

There has been more than the normal cheering in the Stadium for visiting clubs. It is conceivable that the customers, like the opposition, are tired of seeing the Yankees win, season after season, and are ready for a change.

One thing is sure, says The Sporting News, this Yankee club is not geared for anything like the winning streak of 18 straight with which the Bombers of 1953 ruined the race as early as June.

Without Mickey Mantle in center every day, Stengel's outfield is not too formidable. Nor is the infield up to the old Bomber standard. Short and second have been harrassing Casey and he has been talking of taking chances.

The Yankees had a lackluster training season, and since the pennant race got underway the weather has been rather unhelpful.

They are confronted with the absolute necessity of playing better ball, or moving out of the picture after having dominated baseball for five straight years, says The Sporting News.

"Break up the Yankees" was at one time the battle cry in the American League. After five flags in a row, can it be that the Yankees are falling apart?

Manager Walter (Smokey) Alston, first-year Dodger manager, made a move at Cincinnati recently that may have been the first of its kind.

With two out, the score tied at 6 to 6 and big Ted Kluszewski the next hitter, Alston ordered Ted purposely passed, thus putting the potential winning run on base, says the Sporting News. The move paid off, incidently, in another unique way. Johnny Temple, the next hitter, with a two-and-two count against him tried to bunt the third strike. He fouled and the third out was an automatic one. (P.S. Temple came up in the eleventh with two out and Big Klu on base by another intentional pass, and lined a low single to right center to win the game.)

Merchants Nine Whips Wyandotte

In an uphill battle which saw the Northville Merchants behind 6 to 0 at the end of the fourth inning, the local entry in the Michigan Inter-County Baseball league whipped Wyandotte Sunday 8 to 7, on the latter's diamond.

Wyandotte garnered four runs in the initial inning, and added two in the second and one more in the eighth. Mgr. Steve Folino used four pitchers in an effort to stem the tide, and in the fifth Northville broke the ice with two tales. In the sixth, Northville added four more runs, and tied the contest with a single tally in the 7th. The winning run was scored in the ninth as Northville hammered out the last of its 14 hits. Wyandotte's hit total was seven.

Northville, now tied with Plymouth, Grandale and Wayne for the league lead with two victories each, plays Food Fair Market of Detroit next Sunday at Cass Benton park. Game time is 3:30 p.m.

Mgr. Folino said Tuesday that Gamble Hardware and C. R. Ely had joined the list of sponsors, but added that more clubs and other organizations also could contribute.

Michigan State Boxer Jed Black To Get Big Test

Just how good is Jed Black, the former Michigan State Ring Ace who has rocketed to Boxing's big leagues in a trifle more than a year and a half?

That is one of the most hotly discussed questions in the fight business today. And the answer will likely be provided at the Olympia Stadium Wednesday, May 19, when Black puts his growing prestige on the line against Carmine Fiore, the Brooklyn Welterweight contender who is celebrated for his paralyzing left hook and his limitless courage.

Better Than Black
Fiore is perhaps the hottest warrior in the welterweight ranks today, hotter even than Black. Although the ex-collegian's undefeated string of 27 straight bouts eclipses Fiore's latest victory run of seven in a row, many experts insist that Fiore has looked better against stronger opposition.

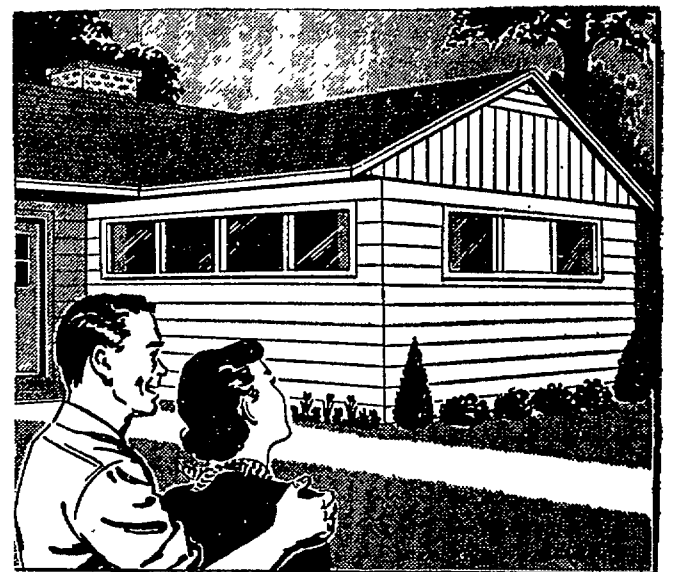

Fiore has a wide bulge in experience in his favor. When Black engaged in his first professional battle in September, 1952, Fiore had already taken part in more than 50 pro duels. The combination of youth and experience in his favor. Although he has fought 66 times, he is only 24 years old.

Critical Match
This match is a critical one for Black, but it is a big one for Fiore, too. The winner will be in line for several lucrative bouts in the busy welterweight division, with a shot at Kid Gavilan's rich title as the final goal. The loser will face an uphill climb back to the heights.

The rivals have clashing, spectacular ring styles that promise a thrilling donnybrook. Black, with 17 kayoes in 30 bouts, is a numbing puncher with either hand. Few young warriors own such an explosive right-hand wallop. Fiore can hurt a rival with his right, but his steaming left hook is his best weapon.

How far away is a helping hand?

Mr. George Cronin of Detroit found out recently. When he arrived home from his nighttime job at 3 A.M., he sat down to read for a while. His wife was visiting in Chicago so he was alone in the house.

When he got up to go to bed he felt a tingling in his arm. Seconds later he collapsed to the floor with a stroke.

Although he was barely conscious, Mr. Cronin knew he must somehow reach the telephone many feet away. With tremendous effort, inch by agonizing inch, he finally made it.

The operator who answered was Rosa Gies. Speaking with great difficulty he mumbled the telephone number of a friend. Miss Gies telephoned the friend who soon was at Mr. Cronin's side. Meanwhile, the operator remained on the line in case she could be of further help.

Mr. Cronin is now well on the way to recovery. After the incident he expressed his gratitude in person to Miss Gies. For her helping hand and his telephone had spared him hours of discomfort.

KNOW YOUR EYES

This is No. 1 in a series of articles published to provide information which will give the reader a better understanding of ocular difficulties and to explain how professional eye care can be beneficial in helping to overcome these difficulties.

Department of Public Information
Wayne County Society of Optometrists
1924 Dime Bldg., Detroit 26

AN ADEQUATE EXAMINATION

At one time, all that was thought necessary in conducting an ocular examination, was the measurements of the patient's visual correction and the prescription for it. In reality, that merely represents an eye test. We now know there are many more conditions which must be investigated in a good eye examination.

1. The patient's eyes must be examined both externally and internally for the presence of disease. Disease may be purely a local affair and treated as such. On the other hand, it may be an involvement of some general or systemic illness and thus referred to the family physician for proper medical attention.

2. The patient's correct refraction should be determined accurately first by means of optical instruments and then checked by questioning.

3. The muscle balance both at a distance from and close to a patient should be taken so as to eliminate any strain resulting from either distance.

4. The ability of the various groups of muscles to co-operate at either distance, for the prosecution of required visual skills must be checked and if found inadequate, taken care of by means of visual training.

5. The eyes must be tested to see if one or both are being used and if the individual has the property of stereopsis or third dimensional vision.

Any single one or combination of the above could be responsible for ocular difficulties, and therefore all must be investigated.

A NORTHVILLE CHOIR will be featured at the Annual Muscial Choir festival sponsored by The Guild of Church Musicians of The Detroit Council of Churches on Sunday, May 16. It is to be held at Central Methodist Church, Woodward at Adams, Detroit, at 4 p.m.

The Bell Ringing choir of the First Presbyterian Church, Northville, is one of the few youth choirs of its kind in the country. Eighteen young people will play from hand-made brass bells imported from London. The hand bells are a product of the White-chapel Bell foundry which was established in 1570. Charles H. Walker of Northville visited the foundry and purchased the bells for the church. This foundry has made all the bells for Westminster Abbey as well as Big Ben, produced in 1858, and the famous American Liberty Bell in the year 1752.

Two groups of hymns will be played by the young people on the hand bells. The Bell Ringing choir is directed by Mrs. Harold F. Fredsell, wife of the pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Novi Methodists To Enlarge Church

Plans to enlarge the Novi Methodist church are nearing completion, and a building fund already has been started.

At a recent meeting of the official church board with the pastor, Rev. J. M. McLucas as chairman, it was decided to set aside a sum of money to start a building fund. It was also decided that the first major project should be an auction sale with Mrs. Walter Tuck in charge. Collections of goods for this sale will begin soon during the week following mile of dollars campaign begun in behalf of the building fund. The project was the inspiration of Mr. Leo Harwood and was quickly adopted by other men in town so that anyone interested may autograph a dollar bill and present it at any Novi business place.

As the Novi Methodist church approaches the 125th Anniversary of its founding it is enjoying larger congregations than anytime in its history. The present building which the church occupies was built in 1875 so that in 1955 the church will have been 80 years in this building.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That man can gain health, happiness, and immortality by relying on the spiritual facts of God and man taught by Christ Jesus will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mortals and Immortals" includes the account from the Bible of how Christ Jesus restored to life the only son of the widow of Nain (Luke 7:11-16).

Explaining the basis of Christ Jesus' healing power, the following passage will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Jesus never asked if disease were acute or chronic, and he never recommended attention to laws of health, never gave drugs, never prayed to know if God were willing that a man should live. He understood man, whose life is God, to be immortal, and knew that man has not two lives, one to be destroyed and the other to be made indestructible" (369:16).
